Mr. C. Wyndham-Quin, of the Tuscan Lodge, was unanimously elected as a joining member, and upon the ballot being taken for the election of Messrs. George Mozart and G. C. Elliot as candidates for advancement to the degree of a Mark Master Mason, it proved to be successful, and they were accordingly admitted and conducted through the very impressive ceremony in accordance with the ancient rites, the work being performed in the most skilful and masterly manner by all concerned.

The election of the Worshipful Master for the ensuing year next engaged the attention of the Brethren assembled, and their choice with one accord fell upon Mr. Geo. A. Keen.

Mr. Charles Cruikshanks has held the office of Treasurer of the Lodge since December, 1899, and the Brethren re-elected him for the coming year. Mr. W. Englefield was re-elected Tyler, Mr. R. J. Corbet and the Rev. W. Cree were elected as members of the Audit Committee, and notice was given that at the next meeting a proposition would be made that Major G. S. Beeching should receive the benefits of advancement to the degree.

It was unanimously agreed that a Pastmasters' Jewel should be presented to Mr. J. E. Hambleton by the Lodge, to mark the appreciation of its members of the work so ably carried out by him during his year of office.

The dinner that followed the proceedings of the day was given at the Hotel Cecil, and the Brethren assembled in goodly numbers. After the removal of the cloth, Mr. Harry Nicholls, the oldest Past Master present, took the chair, Mr. Hambleton being called away on business. A delightful evening was spent, the speeches being interspersed with excellent contributions by Messrs. Alfred Ellis, Chris Hilton, Edward Humphrey, George Mozart, Harry Nicholls, James Powell, Ludwig Simon, Clarence Sounes, Will Sparks, W. H. White, and the Rev. W. Cree.

Messrs. Geo. Mozart and G. C. Elliot responded to the toast of "The Advancees," and in fitting terms expressed the pleasure they each felt in being admitted as members of the fraternity.

The Dramatic Lodge 571, Glasgow, held its usual monthly meeting on Thursday, Nov. 12, W. Bro. Alexander Cameron, R.W.M., occupying the chair. Also present were W. Bro. J. Hill, I.P.M., W. Bro. S. B. Hay, P.M., and Bro. J. Stewart, S.M. The artists were represented by Bros. Sid Bandon, Harry Roxbury, J. Phillips, A. Devonport, and W. Bro. Henry Coutts, W.M. of the Chelsea Lodge, London. Bro. R. T. Mackintosh, of the Coliseum, Glasgow, was recommended for nomination as R.W.M. for the ensuing year, and W. Bro. S. B. Hay, P.M., as secretary. The other office-bearers were then recommended, after which Alexander Sutherland was initiated into Freemasonry. During the afternoon the R.W.M. stated how pleased he was to see the ruler of the Chelsea Lodge, London, present, namely W. Bro. Henry Coutts, and, referring to the Chelsea as a sister Lodge, invited Bro. Coutts to occupy the chair of the Glasgow Dramatic, which honour was accepted, and afterwards gratefully acknowledged by W. Bro. Coutts. Bros. Bandon and Phillips afterwards had the Mark degree conferred on them, W. Bro. Hay performing the ceremony in a magnificent manner.

"OLD MAID'S CORNER."

One-Act Piece, by Maud Thompson, produced on Monday, Nov. 16, at the Theatre Royal, Plymouth.

Miss Letitia .....MISS ADELAIDE GRACE
Miss Sophia .....MISS VIOLA GARLAND
Irene .....MISS RITA JOHNSON
Emma .....MISS RITA NARCELLI
Briggins .....MR. G. P. POLSON
Rev. Mr. Thursfield .....MR. E. H. PATERSON
Dick Thursfield .....MR. WILTON ROSS

The above curtain-raiser was presented for the first time at the Royal, Plymouth, on Monday last, and met with an excellent reception. The plot is admirably conceived, and the dialogue is smart and witty. Irene, a young lady living with two maiden aunts, Miss Letitia and Miss Sophia, has conceived an attachment for Dick Thursfield, which, by reason of her guardians' animosity to the sterner sex, has perforce to be nurtured clandestinely. The ultimate discovery of her secret would in all probability be somewhat disastrous for her, were it not for the broad-minded exposition of her case pleaded by the Rev. Mr. Thursfield, which ultimately obtains her aunts' consent to the match. As the old maids, the Misses Adelaide Grace and Viola Garland are excellent, both costume and style being all that could be desired; Miss Rita Johnson is vivacious and attractive as Irene; and Mr. Wilton Ross makes a manly Dick Thursfield. The smart retorts of the Rev. Mr. Thursfield, played by Mr. E. H. Paterson, are heartily appreciated; and the smaller parts of Emma and Briggins receive careful treatment from Miss Rita Narcelli and Mr. G. P. Polson.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star.

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery; and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the PUBLISHER, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

PLAYERS OF THE PERIOD.

MR. ALFRED S. BARBER.

Mr. Alfred S. Barber is an Anglo-Canadian. He was educated at Haileybury and Keble College, Oxford, and started his professional career with Mr. Ben Greet, playing in the Drury-lane drama, Hearts are Trumps, for two years. Following this he was engaged by Mr. Weedon Grossmith for the production of The Night of the Party, and played Captain Blearey in that successful farce throughout the run at the Avenue Theatre, subsequently appearing as Alderman Hargen, Mr. Sydney Paxton's original part. He also played Captain Archie Drummond in Between the Dances, at the same theatre. Following a tour with The Case of Rebellious Susan and A Woman of no Importance, under Miss Madge McIntosh and Mr. Charles V. France, Mr. Barber was engaged by Mr. Beerbohm Tree to support Miss Maude Jeffries in the original tour of The Eternal City, in which Mr Barber played the Public Prosecutor, and also sang

MR. ALFRED S. BARBER.

Mascagni's Serenade. Deserting comedy for a time for singing parts—he had studied under those well-known teachers Mr. William Shakespeare and Mr. Alderson—he played the parts of Antonio in La Toledad and Bryan Molyneux in Three Little Maids, visiting the principal northern towns. After playing in Mr. Mostyn T. Pigott's comedy, All Fletcher's Fault, at the Avenue Theatre, and touring in this piece with Lord Rosslyn, he was engaged to produce the comic opera, The Island of Pharos, and played the juvenile part in the subsequent tour. This was followed by an engagement to understudy the late Mr. Denis O'Sullivan, when Peggy Machree was produced at Wyndham's Theatre at the end of 1904. In the spring of 1905 Mr. Barber again reverted to comedy, being engaged by Messrs. Dauncey and Leveaux as Hankey Bannister in The Walls of Jericho, a part he played some 500 times all over England, and also in the company which visited the state theatres of Holland in January, 1906. After creating the part of Sir Greville Fanshawe in Mrs. B. M. Croker's comedy Terence, he was engaged by Mr. Lionel Glenister in the spring of 1907, to support Miss Decima Moore in All-of-a-Sudden Peggy, in which he appeared as the spider-hunting Lord Crackenthorpe. His next part was a French one, M. Dupré, in Mr. Michael Morton's charming comedy My Wife, with which he toured in the autumn of 1907. Mr. Barber has just terminated a long and successful engagement in Mr. Henry Arthur Jones's powerful comedy The Hypocrites as Mr. Wilmore, the part originally portrayed by Mr. J. H. Barnes. Mr. Barber is married to Miss Bella Graves, who was once, like her sisters, well known on the London stage, and who may, perhaps, ere long forsake a country life to make her re-appearance behind the footlights. Mr. Barber's recreations are cricket, hockey, rowing, lawn-tennis, billiards, bridge—and acting.

MR. A. S. HOMEWOOD.

When Mr. A. S. Homewood first started his career on the professional stage, after several seasons amongst amateurs, he determined on a fixed policy, namely, to go for répertoire. The first eight years of Mr. Homewood's work, starting early in 1891, have already been outlined in The Era, and included many tours with Miss Isabel Bateman and Ben Greet, as well as sundry summer stock seasons. He recalls with gratification that he had to learn the ropes thoroughly with Miss Bateman. As an instance of this he cites the Green Bushes nights—the repértoire consisted of six or eight plays—when, after appearing in a leading part in the opening farce, he played an Irish peasant and an English soldier in Act I., a Red Indian in Act II., and wound up the evening with an old blacksmith and a white-wigged servant in the last act—five parts in the drama and one in the farce. This, with the assistant stage management, filled up his time and really taught him something. There were many similar positions in which he found himself, but all the time he was slowly and surely rising in salary and position through Shakespeare—in which he owns to have played some forty parts—and old and modern comedy, until he was at last engaged to visit America. This was with Miss Olga Nethersole for the season 1898-99—répertoire again. In the late winter of 1900 Mr Homewood acted at the Comedy Theatre, playing in a new piece by Edna Lyall, In Spite of All, in which Miss Edith Wynne Matthison and himself appeared in the leading parts, these two artists also enacting Lady Teazle and Charles Surface, Rosalind and Orlando in revivals at the same theatre of School for Scandal and As You Like It. Then came quite a new departure; a short tour with Drury-lane drama, Hearts are Trumps, followed by a return to répertoire—Mr. E. S. Willard's this time—and America. With Mr. Willard he remained four years, visiting America again and again, and also playing through a season at the St. James's Theatre in The Cardinal, Tom Pinch, and The Professor's Love Story. Mr. J. M. Barrie then selected him for the name part in that charming little play Pantaloon, and to support Miss Ellen Terry in Alice Sit-by-the-Fire through a tour of the larger towns of the English provinces. At the same time Mr. Homewood was running a company of his own, in conjunction with Mr. Cecil Barth, and gaining more experience. When the tour with Miss Terry was over, repértoire once more claimed him. This time it was for South Africa with Messrs. B. and F. Wheeler. The engagement had not been long in working order, although some half-dozen plays had been produced, when a cabled offer to rejoin Mr. Willard led to Mr. Frank Wheeler kindly releasing Mr. Homewood from his contract after a stay of only seventeen weeks in Africa. One more tour in America followed, bringing the record down to the spring of 1907. All the ensuing summer he was engaged in pastorals—a form of summer work he had formerly been much in touch with but had dropped out of for some time. Exactly a year ago Mr. Homewood left England for the Antipodes as the leading man of Mr. Herbert Flemming's Comedy company, and when last we heard of him he was in New Zealand, having completed a long and successful season at Melbourne, playing such parts as Marcus (Morals of Marcus), John Crewys (Peter's Mother), Thornhill (Olivia), D'Orelli (The Mummy and the Humming Bird), &c. Mr. Homewood says that when he does succeed in getting back to England, he hopes to stay. No doubt if he makes up his mind to it he will, for surely actors of real all-round experience should be at least as welcome in their own country as they are abroad.

[Photo by Warschawski.

MR. A. S. HOMEWOOD.

MISS ELEANOR GILBART.

The début of Miss Eleanor Gilbart was made in the spring of 1894, on the stage of the amateur society attached to the St. Nicholas Club, which was founded by the late Professor Shuttleworth. She was first cast for Pamela Pinchbeck, in Home; but before the performance of that piece a hitch occurred in the rehearsals of another, which was to be played at an earlier date, and Miss Gilbart was asked to take up, at forty-eight hours' notice, Mrs. Nye Count Smythe, an American character part, in Well Matched. No announcement was made that it was Miss Gilbart's "first appearance on any stage," and so easy and natural was she that everybody concluded that she was an experienced performer, an opinion which her rendering of Pamela Pinchbeck, three weeks later, strengthened. She followed up her success by joining the late Miss McLoughlin's School of Dramatic Art. Two years later, at a public examination, she won a first-class certificate for elocution, awarded by the late Mr. Franklin McLeay. About the same time (June, 1896) she obtained, under the name of Ena Graham, her first professional engagement, which was at a special show in a hall at Loughton. On this occasion she received the munificent remuneration of 5s., which is the only detail connected with the event she can recollect, the name of her part, and even of the play, having escaped her memory. Since then she has played dozens of parts, under many and various managers, including Mr. Frederick Harrison, Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Mr. Lionel Rignold, Miss Ada Blanche, Mr. Wilfred Esmond, Miss Louie Freear, Mr. Broughton Black, Mr. Laurence Brough, and Mr. Frank Harding. Some of Miss Gilbart's favourite parts are Mme. Vinard in Trilby, Alicia Green in The Brixton Burglary, Mrs. Rollitt in Woodbarrow Farm, and Miss Foden, in What the Butler Saw. She has on more than one occasion, been asked, at about six o'clock, to play a part the same evening, and has done so without a prompt. She was engaged by Messrs. Alfred Wareing and Michael Sherbrooke for their recent tour of Mollentrave on Women, in which she played with much success the part of Mrs. Martelli.

[Photo by Langfier.

MISS ELEANOR GILBART.

ROBERT BRADBURY commenced life in his native town, Manchester, as a carpenter, got engaged at the theatre as scene-shifter, with Riley, the author of the "Itinerant." A clown falling sick during the run of the pantomime, brought the young carpenter forward, and Bradbury very soon appeared before a London audience at the Surrey, and became the great buffo after Grimaldi. Bradbury is mentioned in the "Life of Grimaldi." It says: "He was engaged at the Wells to fill Joey's place in the pantomime during his absence in the country on a trial." In the interim Bradbury so gained on the good folks of Clerkenwell, that when the renowned Joey returned, the managers told him it would be a dangerous experiment to make any change, and thought it would be as well to let Bradbury finish the season. "Then," exclaimed Grimaldi, "I am ruined."

MISS MAIMIE BRICKWELL'S MARRIAGE.

A cable from Cape Town, South Africa, announces that Miss Maimie Brickwell, who retired from the stage in April last, was on Tuesday, Nov. 17, married to E. C. Wright, Esq., S.A.G.I., of Pretoria. The many friends of the bride will be pleased to hear that the happy couple will return to this country early next year, to permanently reside. Miss Maimie Brickwell sailed for South Africa in the November of 1906, under contract to Messrs. B. and F. Wheeler, to play the leading parts in a répertoire of musical plays, including The White Chrysanthemum, The Dairymaids, The Beauty of Bath, &c. Miss Brickwell is a daughter of Mr. H. T. Brickwell, for many years lessee of the Garrick, Globe, and Court Theatres, and made her first appearance as one of the little schoolgirls in the revival of The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown at the Court Theatre some four years ago. Since then, despite the fact that she aspired to play comedy parts, she drifted into musical comedy, having played leading parts in Mr. George Edwardes's San Toy, Kitty Grey, and Three Little Maids companies on tour with great success. Miss Brickwell was accompanied on her journey to South Africa by her sister Eva, who is under engagement to the same management, and who plays under the nom de théâtre of Eva May.

Photo by Wood.

MISS MAIMIE BRICKWELL.

DEATH OF J. W. BECKWITH.

The Savoy Theatre has sustained a great loss by the death of Mr. J. W. Beckwith, which occurred last Saturday. Mr. Beckwith has been connected with the theatre for about twenty-five years. Originally acting-manager with the late Mr. Michael Gunn in Dublin, he joined Mr. D'Oyly Carte in 1879 as manager of one of his touring companies Some few years later he became treasurer of the Savoy Theatre, and in 1885 he succeeded Mr. George Edwardes as acting-manager there when the latter joined the late Mr. John Hollingshead as half proprietor and manager of the Gaiety. Since then, except for a short time with Mr. W. Greet, Mr. Beckwith had been almost continuously at his old home, the Savoy, for which he had so great an affection that, even though ailing lately, it was impossible to get him to rest for long from his work there. He was in the theatre till Thursday night in last week, when he went home, and the end came quite unexpectedly on Saturday evening.

Mr. Beckwith was one of the best, kindest, and most courteous of men, absolutely devoted to his duty and the interests of his employer. He was loved and respected by all connected with the Savoy, and the old habitués in the audience will miss his kindly smile of welcome. To Mrs. D'Oyly Carte the loss is not only that of a most faithful helper, but of a deeply valued old friend, associated with all the past history of the theatre.

The funeral took place on Thursday at the Kingston, Norbiton, and Coombe Cemetery, when many of his old friends from the Savoy attended. A beautiful floral harp with a broken string was sent by the company and staff of the Savoy Theatre, and a wreath from the D'Oyly Carte Répertoire Company, and one from Mrs. D'Oyly Carte; also wreaths from Miss Coleman and Mr. Owen Smith, of the Savoy Hotel, who were formerly employed in the Savoy Theatre.

THE LATE MR J. W. BECKWITH.

CHILDREN ON THE STAGE. The Act affecting the employment of children on the stage came into force on Saturday, Oct. 1, 1904. Managers, agents, entrepreneurs, and performers wishing to possess a copy of the complete Act in a concise form can do so by forwarding three stamps to the Publisher, The Era Offices, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

"THE ERA" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

A WINTER GARDEN THEATRE.

On Monday the Theatre Royal Winter Garden, Dublin, will be opened. It is proposed to open the premises three times daily. The first period will last from about one o'clock till three. Visitors between these hours can be served with light luncheons, coffee, chocolate, &c., and will, it is understood, be admitted free of any initial charge, not from the theatre, but from a separate entrance in Hawkins-street. Music will be supplied by an orchestra, and the charges for refreshments will be arranged on a moderate scale. The second period will last from about 3.30 till six o'clock or so. On the days when there are no matinées at the theatre there will be a cinematograph display. This performance will take place in the theatre, and the moderate admission charge of one shilling will enable the visitor to witness the animated pictures and partake afterwards of tea or other light refreshments in the winter garden, without extra charge. On matinée days, generally Saturdays, the garden will be open only to patrons of the theatre. The same rule will apply to the evening performances. On both these last-mentioned occasions admission can be had only through the theatre entrance. At night the garden will be simply a promenade, available for the use of the dress circle, and presumably the occupants of the parterre, and both after the matinée and evening performances at the theatre it will be kept open for half an hour after the fall of the curtain, for the service of moderately-priced light refreshments.

The winter garden consists of a large apartment, 124ft. long by 64ft. in width, and is lighted mainly from the roof. It stands on the site of the old gymnasium, which formerly stood alongside the Leinster Hall. Before the opening of the gymnasium, the premises had for a time been used as a waxworks exhibition, run by a son of the celebrated Mme. Tussaud. After the present Theatre Royal Company took over the Leinster Hall, and raised on the site of the old Theatre Royal the present stately building, the portion of the space now devoted to the winter garden was used as a store room. Subsequently it was felt that the cloak rooms, refreshment rooms, &c., for the accommodation of the nine hundred persons who can be seated in the parterre was rather limited, and it was partly out of that consideration that the idea of a winter garden originated. The interior has been beautifully decorated with an artistic trellis-work design, in green and light buff, which gives a most agreeable air of brightness, pleasantly toned down by the emerald hues which form a conspicuous feature in the decorative scheme. A broad flight of stairs, leading from the theatre, gives access to the floor space. At each end of the apartment there is a gallery, for the use only of the orchestra. Underneath are refreshment counters, where the luncheons, &c., will be served. Running along each side of the garden are a row of beautifully decorated pillars, springing into graceful arches overhead. Within these pillars on one side is a third refreshment counter, fitted up with a trellis-work porch after the manner of an old English country inn. Horticultural decorations on an elaborate scale have been provided. Between the arches will be suspended baskets of flowers, ferns, and other plants, and at the base of each pillar there will be ornamental vases, containing ivy and creeping plants, which, no doubt, will in time help still further to beautify the interior. The galleries set apart for the use of the orchestra at each end of the garden will be adorned with palms, &c.

The heating and lighting are arranged on the latest principles. A brilliant electric installation has been provided, and with 500 amber-coloured lights the effect ought to be exceedingly pretty. The heating comes from twenty-four very large radiators. Elaborate ventilation arrangements have been made. The roof lights are ingeniously constructed. They consist of a double layer of glass separated by a wire network, so that should a stone or other missile break the outer glass no inconvenience can be experienced by visitors either through fragments dropping to the floor or by the rain entering at the fracture. The opening of the garden synchronises with the visit of Mr. R. Courtneidge's company, who will present the musical comedy Tom Jones.

RICHARDSON, the great showman, made his bow at Smithfield. His stage and theatrical fittings were at first of a very rude character. The first floor of a public-house was turned into a theatre, and the platform or parade, which was fitted up outside the window, formed an arch over the stalls of the sellers of gingerbread nuts and fried fish, which stood below. The audience had to reach the theatre by means of a ladder, communicating from the platform to the fair. Twenty-one times a day were the unlucky performers called upon to go through their parts. The audiences were not very fastidious, and as long as they had a broad-sword combat and a ghost, the actors were at liberty to play all sorts of tricks with the drama. The length of the performance was indeed usually regulated by the number of people waiting to enter the show. When it was thought that there was a sufficient quantity of visitors outside to form another audience, some one would be sent in to inquire in a loud voice if John Audley was there. This was a signal to the actors to cut the part short; and to abridge a performance is very commonly called to "John Audley" it. This trick was first practised by Shuter at his booth in 1759. Whatever may have been the cause, it is certain that at first, curses, loud, deep, and comprehensive as that of Ernulphus, were heard from Richardson's retreating patrons; but it was not long before he installed himself in popular favour. The performances of Bartlemy were repeated at Edmonton and other places, and at the end of the year our showman found himself the possessor of a good sum of money. With this he built himself two or three caravans ("carrywans" was his pronunciation) in which he could convey his company and properties from one place to another. . . . His show became one of the principal features of many of the fairs of the kingdom—Bartlemy and Greenwich being his headquarters—but it was not until after many years, and many hardships, that he was enabled to give his show that appearance of splendour which we were accustomed to associate with it in our younger days.

SIR JOSHUA REYNOLDS was quite enchanted with Mrs. Dora Jordan, who ran upon the stage as a play-ground, and laughed from sincere wildness of delight. He said, "she vastly exceeded everything that he had seen, and really was what others only affected to be." The friend to whom he thus expressed himself had but just arrived in town, and, struck by his enthusiasm, said to him, "What, sir! greater than your friend, Mrs. Abington?" "Yes, sir," said Sir Joshua, "greater than Mrs. Abington, wherever she challenges comparison." "Well," rejoined his friend, "at all events you must not forget the more extended range of Mrs. Abington—her fine lady." "I do not forget the fine lady of Mrs. Abington; it is never to be forgotten—I spoke of the two actresses where they challenged comparison. But as to more extensive range, I do not know that you can make out your point; for opposed to these fashionable ladies, you have the fashionable men of Mrs. Jordan, and the women who would pass for men, whether Wildairs or Hypolitas in comedy, and the tender and exquisite Viola of Shakespeare, where she combines feeling with sportive effect, and does as much by the music of her melancholy as the music of her laugh."

LONDON & SUBURBAN THEATRES.

KING'S THEATRE, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Play, by Hall Caine, entitled
"THE CHRISTIAN."

The new version of The Christian, played by Mr. Wentworth Croke's chief company, commenced a week's visit to the King's on Monday evening, with every prospect of success, the piece being received with acclamation by a large audience, which devoted earnest attention to the great and serious problem so ably propounded by Mr. Hall Caine. The author, with his usual outspokenness, calls a spade a spade, and his vigorous language put into the mouths of his clerical characters appear as so many sermons delivered from the pulpit. In the new version we think more attention is directed to the social problem, and there is no doubt a good deal to be said in favour of Mr. Hall Caine's propositions. The company engaged may be aptly termed first-class, for each character is capably handled. Mr. Roy Redgrave is a brave and manly Hon. John Storm, ably conducting himself as the high-souled enthusiast, and winning success all through; Horatio Drake is excellently played by Mr. Wilfred Noy; Mr. Herbert Hewetson as the cynical and blasé Lord Robert Ure is capital, no better impersonation being possible; Father Lamplugh, played by Mr. Fewlass Llewellyn, is a typical representation of the sincere and earnest working priest; Mr. John J. Hooker as the sycophantic Archdeacon Wealthy gives a clever and amusing phase of the society clergyman; Mr. Royce Carlton as Lord Storm is good; and the Parson Quayle of Mr. Bruce Lindley deserves praise. The odious Bert is well realised by Mr. Fred Goodyer; Mr. Thomas Barry acts easily as Rosenberg; Mr. Buckley, the theatrical manager, is rendered in good style by Mr. T. Ellis; and Mr. John Blake makes a favourable impression as Paul. Miss Daisy Scudamore, experienced actress as she is, hardly realises our expectations as Glory Quayle, but on the whole she attains success. The Polly Love of Miss Cora Deane is as delicate and finished a piece of acting as could be wished, and the actress must be complimented thereon. Her bearing when parting with her child moved many among the audience to tears. Miss Molly Hayden gives able assistance as Mrs. Callender; Miss Florence Hunt displays power as Black Meg; Mrs. Harriet Russell is a sufficiently repulsive Mother Kent; Miss Stella Campbell is effective as Jennie; and the flighty sisters Betty Belmont and Letty Belmont are pleasantly depicted by Miss Muriel Marsden and Miss Minnie Willett. The scenery by Mr. Ernest Howard is most elaborate.

THE MARLBOROUGH.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Musical Comedy, entitled
"THE GIRLS OF GOTTENBERG."

Mr. George Dance's company in The Girls of Gottenberg has been accorded a very warm reception here this week, and it says much for the ability, versatility, and popularity of Mr. Dance's company that they sustain the great success of the Gaiety production by filling this large house night after night. Foremost among the ladies is Miss Ellaline Thorne as Mitzi, the innkeeper's daughter. She infuses plenty of life into her part, and is very successful in her numerous songs and dances, winning especial favour for her rendering of "Berlin on the Spree." Mr. Bertie Wright's energy as Max Moddelkopf, ex-barber, valet, and masquerading Envoy, is unflagging in a part which affords him numerous opportunities of distinction. Mr. Wright is very successful in his share in two ditties "The birds in the trees" and "Two little sausages." Mr. Tom Shelford causes no end of amusement by his clever delineation of Prince Otto, his song "In Jericho" being encored five or six times. Messrs. Rudd Allen (the General), David Miller (Col. Finkhausen), and Hugh Henson (Albrecht) all give a good account of themselves. Britti Bottl is capably personated by Mr. Howard Cridland, and Mr. Morgan Richards contributes a satisfactory performance as Burgomaster. Miss Annie Grey acts prettily and sings sweetly as Elsa, and Miss Ruby Carter deserves great credit for the smart manner in which she plays the part of Lucile, her dancing being one of the hits of the evening. As Clementine Miss May Marshall is delightfully piquant, and Miss Susie Beardon is a perky Katrina. The Misses Violet Romaine (Captain of the College), M. Allen, Nellie Taylor, and B. Gordon as heads of the Alemannia, Saxonian, and Borussia Corps are well adapted for their respective parts. Mr. Edwin Stanley successfully portrays that of Kannenbier, and Mr. Tom Squire contributes a little amusement as Adolph, the Town Clerk. Other minor parts are capably filled, and the tuneful music is rendered by the Marlborough orchestra in excellent style, under the direction of Mr. Otto Manns, and leadership of Mr. Chas. Elcock. The chorus is strong and the scenes are decidedly artistic.

THE PAVILION.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, in Four Acts, by S. Buchanan-Rogerson, entitled
"THE WOMAN WHO GAMBLES."

After a week of Yiddish performances, this popular East End playhouse has once again reverted to English drama, the selection of the management for the current week being the striking play of The Woman Who Gambles, the action of which takes place in a supposed kingdom on the Adriatic Sea. The story is of an exciting character, and deals largely with the passion of gambling inherent in the Countess Natalie Steinbach, a part that is powerfully played by Miss Laura Walker, who gives evidence of high artistic merit in the scene terminating the third act. Mr. Clifford Rean, who looks well in his uniform, gives a striking portrayal of Count Otto Steinbach, and is seen to great advantage in Act IV; and Mr. Ernest H. Clarke, as the Chief of Police, is excellent throughout. Mr. Norman A. Overton as Baron Cratzlaw is sufficiently villainous; Miss Lily Malvern as Stella and Miss E. Conway as Cora each give a satisfactory representation of their respective parts, and Mr. Arthur Brandhurst fills with dignity the character of George Orloff. A fine rendition of Karl Czartoriski is presented by Mr. Reginald Fox, whose resonant voice is heard throughout the building; and the remaining parts in a long cast are in excellent hands. More than a passing word must be given to the admirable scenery, some of the stage settings being of great beauty. The costumes and uniforms are in correct taste.

THE CORONET THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Play, entitled
"THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL."

Mr. Fred Terry and his clever London company are this week holding the boards (and eke the entranced audience) at the pretty Coronet Theatre, with Baroness Orczy and Montague Barstow's thrilling pl , The Scarlet Pimpernel. Unhappily, Miss Julia Neilson is unable to enact her part of Lady Blakeney, and we miss her charming personality, even though an excellent substitute is found. The daring adventures of the little band of humanitarians, headed by their marvellous, intrepid, and resourceful leader, hold the audience spellbound with wonder and delight, and the picturesque and exquisite scenery, depicting Lord Greville's ball and Sir Percy's Richmond domain, are things of beauty, and a joy for everyone who beholds them. Truly, this play improves on acquaintance, and will bear seeing many times. Mr. Fred Terry seems to improve every time we see him, and he has what is termed "fitted into the skin of the part," as Sir Percy Blakeney, leader of the dauntless little band of blockaderunners, who flouted the red Republic of France. His elegance and courtliness, his air of authority, his elegant indifference and apathy, succeeded by brief periods of tense activity, appear to be natural characteristics of the man, so deftly and subtly are they suggested. Miss Miriam Lewes is a fine actress, and excels in the more tragic episodes of the play, her best scene being where she discovers the identity of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" with her husband. Mr. A. E. Anson is excellent as the elegant and gracious Prince of Wales; Messrs. Alfred Kendrick and Malcolm Cherry do good service as the fellow conspirators, Sir Andrew Ffoulkes and Lord Anthony Dewhurst. Mr. Horace Hodges repeats his excellent assumption of scheming baseness as Chauvelin, the French envoy, and acts with quiet consistency and strength. Of the others, who comprise a long cast, we may mention especially Mr. R. Easten Pickering as the excitable young Vicomte de Tournai, Mr. D. J. Williams as the landlord of "The Fisherman's Rest," Mr. J. Carter-Edwards, who gives a very telling performance as Brogard, landlord of the "Lion d'Or," Miss Claire Pauncefort as the Comtesse de Tournai, and Mr. Frederick Groves as Lord Grenville, though where all are so good it is difficult to individualise. Mr. John R. Turnbull, assisted by Mr. Goodwin Nock, stage-manages under the direction of Mr. Fred Terry, and Mr. Arthur Garrett assists the indefatigible Mr. Eade Montefiore, resident-manager for Mr. Robert Arthur, at the front of the house.

CRYSTAL PALACE THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Musical Comedy entitled
"THE BELLE OF MAYFAIR."

Mr. J. Bannister Howard's company with The Belle of Mayfair is paying a welcome return visit here, and playing to good business nightly, with a largely augmented orchestra and full chorus. Mr. Stephen Hall makes a good deal out of the part of the Earl of Mount Highgate, the haughty father of the hero, and Mr. Sydney Burt's Sir John Chaldicott is in sharp contrast, with his "elegant perversions" and parvenu airs. Although there is no song associated with this character there is no lack of merriment, especially in the scenes with Lady Chaldicott, admirably played by Miss Denny Fitzherbert. Mr. Stanley Ravenscroft as the Hon. Raymond Finchley looks, acts, and sings well, as should become a young hero of romance. Mr. Michael Raven is gifted with a mellow voice, which enables him to secure plenty of applause in the part of Hugh Meredith. The Comte de Perrier is convincingly Continental as portrayed by Mr. A. Batting; and Mr. Tom Lyle gives a clever little sketch of the Bishop of Brighton. Miss Nellie Barnwell, who is no stranger to Crystal Palace audiences, gives a pretty rendering of Julia Chaldicott, the heroine, singing and acting with much taste and skill. Miss Dora Lyons as Pincott, Julia's maid, looks charming, and her dancing is of the kind to make one wish for more. As Lady Rosaline Rockesley, "the Gibson Girl," Miss Grace Mackay, has many opportunities, none of which were neglected, and many encores fell to her share. Miss Patricia Weldon gave a very refined and sympathetic rendering of the Princess Ehrenbreitstein, singing her songs with archness and point, and Miss Madeline Keats as the Countess of Highgate well filled the part. The piece abounds in concerted songs and all in Mr. Leslie Stuart's best style, and the success of these was secured by a talented and well-selected company of ladies and gentlemen, quite equal to the demands made upon them.

THE SHAKESPEARE.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Musical Play, in Two Acts, entitled
"THE DAIRYMAIDS."

After many weeks of popular dramas, a return was made here on Monday to lighter fare, and no better choice could have been made than that of the successful musical play, The Dairymaids, which achieved such a success at the Apollo and Queen's Theatres. It has lost none of its charm and freshness, and, in the hands of Mr. Robert Courtneidge's talented company, is as pleasing and diverting an entertainment as could possibly be desired. The scenery is of a very high standard, and the dresses are worthy of special mention; but apart from the staging there are a swing and a "go" about the whole production which make an enthusiastic reception certain. At the end of the first act this was unreservedly accorded from every part of the house, and again when the curtain fell at the close. Miss Mabel Young, a stately Lady Brudenell, acts the part with much charm; Miss Clare Marsden, a bewitching and vivacious Peggy, scores a decided hit. Her songs, cleverly rendered, are received with keen enjoyment, especially one in which three clever youngsters are introduced with a burlesque of the "Salome" dance and the matinée hat. This provoked roars of laughter, and is one of the most effective numbers in the play. Another good performance is that of Miss Clarice Lockstone, whose bright and engaging performance of Winifred gained her many admirers. For her pretty song, "Boy Blue," an encore was demanded. Miss Hazel Saqui, a prepossessing Helen Brudenell, makes the most of her opportunities; Miss Madge Avery is sufficiently prim and austere as Miss Pyechase; and minor parts are capably sustained by Miss Louie Lockner, Miss Dorothy Grassdorf, Miss Lily Cameron, Miss Flora Hayden, Miss Mabel Bradley, Miss Kate Bartlett, Miss Kathleen Sayer, and Miss Irene Raye. On the shoulders of Mr. Johnny Osborne falls the arduous rôle of Joe Mivens, and it is sufficient to say that his irresistible, droll, and quaint antics keep the audience in a continued state of merriment. An excellent foil to him is found in Miss Gladys Silvani, whose Eliza stamps her as a comedienne of considerable ability. Mr. J. A. Warden, a breezy and natural Dr. O'Byrne, R.N., contributes a performance of which it would be difficult to speak too highly. Mr. Nelson Keys is an energetic Lieut. Sam Brudenell; and Mr. A. Wykes Ashdowne does well as Lieut. Frank Meredith, R.N. In the second act their clever acting, when disguised as girls, causes much laughter. Mr. Harry Cottell as Tim Capus, Mr. Boris Bellew as Lieut. Brereton, and Mr. Fred Foster as Togers, also render good support. The chorus is pleasing and tuneful, and the augmented orchestra is under the capable direction of Mr. Albert Bartlett.

NEW LYRIC, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, entitled
"THE SILVER KING."

This fine old drama is packing the Lyric nightly, and the excellent company engaged meets with a most enthusiastic welcome. Wilfred Denver is played by Mr. Fred D. Davies, a most worthy successor to the late Mr. Wilson Barrett; Miss Edyth Goodall's sweet expression is well suited to the character of Denver's wife Nellie; Mr. Edward J. George gives an exceedingly good performance as the worthy old Daniel Jaikes; Denver's two children are prettily played by Miss Flossie Hale Daviss and Master Eric Dene, the first-named doing particularly well; Mr. George Belmore draws a humorous picture of Henry Corket; another clever study is that of Mr. Arthur Wright in the part of Elijah Coombe; Mr. E. Stanton-Sharp makes a polished villain of Captain Herbert Skinner; Mr. Fred May does well as Cripps; Geoffrey Ware is capably played by Mr. Arthur H. Rooke; and Mr. B. Stidwell is good as Samuel Baxter.

THE WEST LONDON.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, in Four Acts, by Henry Merriman, entitled
"THE MASTER CRIMINAL."

After the long spell of animated pictures it was pleasing to find the legitimate drama once again in possession of the boards of this historical Marylebone playhouse, and Mr. William Bailey's patrons were decidedly appreciative. Miss Winifred Chalmers's company is headed by that powerful and painstaking actor Mr. Henry L. Osmond, whose rendering of Telford Lestage is a thoroughly convincing and well-thought-out one. Mr. Edward Avinal enacts Philip Manners in manly fashion; Mr. Russell Yorke portrays James Dawney satisfactorily; Mr. J. C. Carlyle as the Scotland Yard man, Ben Blandy, is always alert and vigorous, his whole bearing being quite in keeping with the character played; and Mr. Charles Tolcher as Gentleman Jim and Mr. Harry Cooke as Tommy Dale are two comedians of amusing versatility. Miss Violet Lytton sustains the rôle of Mabel Manners in a gentle, womanly way that wins all hearts; Miss Frances Carlyle does well as Mrs. Manners; Miss Mabel Tremere is decidedly bright and cheery as lively Peggy Perks; Miss Frances Trevelyan is full of pleasing intelligence and promising ability as little Wilfred Manners; and Miss Winifred Chalmers sustains the important rôle of Cecile, alias Lady Trevennes, with conspicuous skill. The play is well mounted and staged, and Mr. H. Elmore-Frith is the pushing business manager.

THE CROWN, PECKHAM.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Farce, by Charles Marlowe, entitled
"WHEN KNIGHTS WERE BOLD."

Mr. Cecil Paget is rejoicing in the sight of crowded audiences, who are nightly assembling to give a cordial greeting to the popular When Knights were Bold, from Wyndham's Theatre. Mr. James Welch's company all take their respective rôles with much ability. Mr. Henry J. Ford, who plays Mr. Welch's original part of Sir Guy De Vere, is a capital comedian, and depicts the varying moods of the character with much cleverness. Miss Bruce Joy looks very handsome as Lady Rowena, and gives a clear cut portrait of the high-spirited girl. Miss Phyllis Back is a fascinating dark-haired Jewess heiress as Sarah Isaacson, and her father, the Hebrew financier, Isaac Isaacson, is well played by Mr. Vernon Sansbury. Mr. William Lockhart is good as the pompous Rev. Peter Pottleberry, D.D., and Mr. Cecil Clayton as the would-be humorous dude, the Hon. Charles Widdicombe, and afterwards as the old-fashioned jester, makes a distinct hit. Miss Violet Graham, Miss Gretchen Yates, and Miss Adrienne Yates, make up the bevy of pretty girls who are guests at "The Towers," and the three domestics—Whittle, Barker, and Alice Barker—are excellently rendered by Mr. Talbot Homewood, Mr. Reginald Hunter, and Miss Bessie Walters. Miss Ethel Royale is a stately Hon. Mrs. Waldegrave. Mr. George Rowlands as the boastful Sir Brian Ballymote and Mr. Herbert Ranson as the Herald ably complete the admirable cast. The scenery and the various "dream" effects are all that could be desired. The lever de rideau is an amusing duologue, The Wrong Side of the Road, which is merrily rattled through by Miss Phyllis Back and Mr. Cecil Clayton. Mr. E. H. Bull is the general-manager of the company for Mr. James Welch.

THE KENNINGTON.

On Monday, the Drama, by Edward Milton Royle, entitled
"A WHITE MAN."

A White Man, a romance of the American West, by Edwin Milton Royle, is responsible for a full house every night this week at Mr. Robert Arthur's Kennington Theatre, where the loud and prolonged ovations which mark the termination of each act fully testify to the delight of the audience and to the excellence of the production. Mr. Herbert Sleath, who, with the American artists, played for two seasons at Wallack's Theatre, New York, and afterwards with the English artists in the company during the run at the Lyric, is admirable as Capt. James Wynnegate, V.C.; as the Earl of Kerhill Mr. Harold Weston is seen to advantage; Mr. A. G. Poulton is excellent in the part of Sir John Applegate; the character of Malcolm Petrie is ably sustained by Mr. Herbert Vyvyan; Mr. Harold Richardson as the Dean of Trentham makes a good impression; the part of Big Bill is played in fine style by Mr. R. A. Brandon; Mr. Menifee Johnstone puts plenty of dash into the character of Cash Hawkins; and as Tab-y-wana, an Indian chief, Mr. A. S. Aspland makes a decided hit. Mr. Alfred Plumpton as Baco White, an interpreter, and Mr. A. W. Jack Ellis as Bud Hardy, both deserve special mention; while Messrs. Cecil Yapp, S. J. Warmington, and Richard F. Symons do full justice to the parts of Shorty, Andy, and Crouchey respectively. The highest praise is due to Miss Ellis Jefferys for her charming impersonation of the Countess of Kerhill; in the rôle of the Dowager, Miss Emma Gwynne gives an excellent account of herself, as also does Miss Enid Sass as Lady Mabel Wynnegate. Particularly pleasing is the acting of Miss Dorothy Dix in the part of Nat-u-Rich. The scenery and stage effects are superb, and the costumes exquisite.

GRAND, FULHAM.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Comedy, entitled
"LADY FREDERICK."

One of the excellent Hutchison companies is performing at Fulham, in Mr. Somerset Maugham's successful comedy, Lady Frederick. The piece is well staged and the dresses are admirable. The rôle of Lady Frederick is taken by Miss Mabel Love, who is building up a considerable reputation in these light comedy parts. Her acting is thoroughly bright and piquant, and she is equal to the occasion when it demands power and passion. Her brogue may or may not be faultlessly correct; but it cannot be denied that it is particularly charming. Mr. Robert Minster as Paradine Foulides is a great success, and is responsible for a highly finished and powerful performance that was much appreciated. Mr. Patrick Quill plays Sir Gerald in a bright and lively manner; and Captain Gerald Gambier makes an excellent representative of Admiral Carlisle. Mr. E. F. Meads, with his handsome face and quiet manner, makes an attractive figure in the part of the ingenuous Lord Mereston, and plays as well as he looks. Mr. Edward Bonfield makes the most of the part of the objectionable Capt. Montgomery; Miss Elsie Irving does well as Lady Mereston; and Miss Lynn Fontanne plays with the necessary spirit of youthfulness as Rose Carlisle; Miss Beatrice Grosvenor acts with effect as Madame Claude; and Miss Rita Ward is an eminently satisfactory maid. The other parts of the servants are well played. Lady Frederick is preceded by a good sample of a curtain-raiser, in the shape of The Peacemaker, by E. M. Bryant, in which Miss Rita Ward, Miss Lynn Fontanne, Miss Beatrice Grosvenor, and Messrs. Patrick Quill and Edward Bonfield take part.

THEATRE ROYAL, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, entitled
"TWO LANCASHIRE LASSES IN LONDON."

Messrs. Hardie and Von Leer's company is presenting this week Two Lancashire Lasses in London, which is proving very attractive, good business being done. The story, which is of a stirring nature, is well acted, and the numerous points of pathos and humour are brought into judicious contrast. The mounting of the play is excellent, and the scene representing Jago Court is noteworthy. Mr. Herbert Pearson as the unfortunate inventor, John Edmunds, maintains a strong hold on the audience, and achieves distinction; as Constance and Nellie, the sisters from Lancashire, Miss Rosslyn Vayne offers a very good performance in the former part, while Miss Alice Defoe contributes an effective rendering of the latter. Mr. E. Rayson Cousins stands out prominently as the Rev. Frank Selby, and soon gets on good terms with the audience; Mr. Fred Morgan is quite satisfactory as the speculator, Jonas Deane, playing the part in a capable manner; Samuel Hallett is humorously essayed by Mr. Chris Mason, who obtains distinction; Miss E. Shaw is also diverting as Jane Adelaide Bloomfield; Mr. R. E. Bevans makes a forcible villain; Mr. Dick Winslow scores well as Dr. Gay; Jim Price and Ratty Grabbitt are suitably represented by Mr. Jack Miller and Mr. W. Walmsley respectively; and Mr. Ronald Clive makes the most of Jellaby. Miss Marguerite Trevosper as Bessie Edmunds supplies a good delineation, and instils the necessary amount of emotion into the character; and Miss Marie Corri as Lucy merits commendation.

DALSTON THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama entitled
"ALONE IN LONDON."

The incidents in Alone in London, now being presented at the Dalston Theatre, are of an interesting nature, and, the piece being remarkably well played, the attention of the audience is riveted from first to last. A character almost continually on the stage is Redcliffe, a double-dyed villain, who ill-treats his wife, has no objection to commit bigamy, or, in fact, to vary his career of ill-doing by any crime whatsoever. This character is played by Mr. Percy Rhodes with such efficiency that, although he is such a bad lot, one cannot fail to admire his histrionic abilities. Nan, the ill-fated wife, finds a sympathetic representative in Miss Theresa Osborne, who "has the audience with her" throughout the entire performance. Tom Chickweed, a true friend to Nan, is a part extremely well played by Miss Mary Stafford Smith; Mrs. Maloney, a spirited Irishwoman, has a realistic representative in Mrs. Nellie Lauraine. Another clever impersonation is that of Mr. Percy Bell as Spriggins, a thief and a bit of a philosopher, whose quaint mode of carrying out villainous details makes his performance highly entertaining. Liz Jenkinson is played with zeal by Miss Gertie Douglas; and Mr. Lonnen Meadows as Charlie Johnson fully establishes himself a favourite. Miss Elsie Clarke plays intelligently as Little Paul; and Mr. Harry McClelland is quietly dignified as Mr. Burnaby; Mr. Blundell Fenton is Walter Burnaby, his son; and Miss Rose Grey admirably sustains Ruth Clifton, an heiress.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama,
"THE PRINCE AND THE BEGGAR MAID."

The management here have secured Messrs. Paumier and Howard's company in the above fine play as the attraction this week, and an enthusiastic reception has been given by delighted audiences. Miss Annie Saker is simple and natural in the character of Monica, Princess of Illyria. She is admirably supported by Mr. Herbert Ford as the Prince and Mr. D. Lewin Mannering as the faithful soldier and friend, Captain Hector. Mr. Ivan Cleveland and Mr. Graeme Campbell are well cast as Prince Hildred and Prince Michael, the latter being an arduous part, acted most consistently throughout. A good study of the dumb Nathan, Mr. J. E. Gardner, and Mr. Francis Hawley as the Bishop of Illyria plays this subtle character in a dignified manner. Miss Dido Drake is a fascinating, pathetic little figure as the Beggar Maid, and Miss Isla Garnet Vayne makes a very charming Viola. Mr. Kendal Chambers does well as Lieut. Karl Stromberg.

THE BROADWAY.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama entitled
"WHEN LONDON SLEEPS."

Mr. Lester Collingwood's company is appearing here this week in Charles Darrell's phenomenally successful play When London Sleeps, which is proving very attractive. The admirably chosen company work smoothly together, the result being an excellent entertainment, greatly appreciated by the patrons of this handsome theatre.

The character of Rodney Haynes is played with skill and power by Mr. Harry Wren. David Engleheart has a manly and pleasing representative in Mr. Edward E. Ashby, who is a prime favourite with the audience. Mr. Ernest C. Edwards plays Furnaby Fuller with dignity and impressiveness. Mr. F. E. Thomas is a capital Bob Jones, and his "missis" is humorously enacted by Miss Bella Power, their daughter Carrie having a charming representative in Miss Mona Hall. Queenie Carruthers is in the capable hands of Miss Mabel Scudamore, who makes her very attractive by her womanly and sympathetic acting. Miss Lilla Wilde looks and acts Hilda Carrode admirably; Miss Christine is a bright and pleasing Maudie; Little Lila is very prettily and naturally played by Miss Ida Lovett; and Miss Helen Holmes is good as Adele. Mr. Douglas Campbell scores heavily as Sammy Blythe; Mr. Harry Emmerson is very good as Mark Blackwood; Mr. Fred Bernardo wins well-earned applause for his excellent portrait of Police-Constable Stone; Mr. Otto Clayton is good as Stephano; and other parts are well filled by Messrs. C. Clements, F. C. Pick, Fred Walters, and George Paul. Last, but by no means least, we must specially commend the Hon. Bertie Broomhead, an artistic and clever performance by Mr. Frank Howard, the acting-manager of the company. Mr. Bertram Iles, the resident acting-manager, looks well after the comfort of the patrons of the theatre.

THEATRE ROYAL, STRATFORD.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, in Four Acts,
"SEXTON BLAKE."

The glamour attached to the stage representation of characters made famous in works of fiction is being strikingly illustrated at the Stratford Theatre Royal this week, where Sexton Blake, a detective play founded on a series of stories obviously suggested by the success of Sherlock Holmes, is being performed. "House Full" is the order nightly, and this popular melodrama theatre—so ably managed by Mr. Sam Fredericks—is apparently assured of a highly successful week's business. An exceptionally strong cast has been engaged, and the deeply interesting story is done adequate justice to. Mr. Horace Benton as the cool, calculating, deducting detective, Sexton Blake, plays with an ease and fluency which carries conviction with every line he utters, and he looks the part well. Mr. Brian Daly's acting as Farmer Blackburn is very natural, and has the true ring of sincerity; while Roger Blackburn has a virile and vigorous exponent in Mr. Wm. Felton. Mr. Charles East handles the rôle of the villainous Randolph Lovell with a realistic touch and much latent strength; and Mr. John M. East supplies a grim and well-defined sketch of Simon Faggas. Mr. Algerhon Syms is an earnest and dignified Parson Grey; and Mr. Stephen Nicholls makes the most of his opportunities as Squire Lovell. Mr. Billy Ross as Tinker, the free-and-easy and, at times, rather obtrusive "Buttons," is very amusing and entertaining; and Mr. Herbert Ravenscroft smartly enacts Inspector Widgeon. Miss Bertha Francis plays with sympathy and charm as Marjorie Lovell; and Miss East Robertson depicts the adventuress Philadelphia Kate with much tact and expression. Miss Lena Delphine plays brightly as Euphemia Patticake; and Miss Annie Travers is a very able exponent of Sally Brill. Other parts are all played with intelligence and care. Owing to the success of the piece a special matinée is to be given to-day (Saturday).

BOROUGH THEATRE, STRATFORD.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Musical Play,
"MISS HOOK OF HOLLAND."

Mr. George Dance's company in Miss Hook of Holland, which is paying a return visit, is the attraction here this week, and the good business ensuing is well emphasising the strong penchant local playgoers have for musical compositions. Its bright and tuneful music is as alluring as ever, and the pretty and picturesque dresses and scenery are most pleasing to the eye. Mr. Dance's company is of all-round excellence, and the large and well-trained chorus render the concerted numbers with distinction. Mr. Arthur Reynolds as Mr. Hook is a clever actor with a keen sense of humour, and his performance is highly effective; Mr. Frederick Hobbs makes a handsome and military Captain Adrian Paap, and is very successful vocally; Mr. Powis Pindar acts and sings in manly and pleasing style as Bandmaster Van Vuyt; Mr. Percy Davidson is a brisk and alert Ludwig Schnapps; and Mr. Lionel Scott is an admirable Lieutenant de Coop. Mr. Fred Lyne as Simon Slinks is delightfully droll, and his performance is an outstanding feature. In the title-part Miss Marie Wilson acts very gracefully and charmingly, albeit her singing is scarcely powerful enough for the part; Miss Mabel Sealby is deliciously quaint and piquant as the little Dutch maid, Mina, and the success of her songs is undoubted; Miss Queenie Preston makes a very prepossessing Gretchen; and Freda and Clara Voos are well represented by Miss Amy Preston and Miss Maudy Jennings respectively. The augmented orchestra is this week under the direction of Mr. Sydney Shaw, who secures an excellent ensemble.

BRITANNIA THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, by Fred Darcey, entitled
"THE NEW WORLD."

The drama submitted at the great theatre is entitled The New World, and it is packed with incidents that are familiar in plays having America for their locale. It is well acted by Mr. Montgomery's company, and is smartly and effectively staged, the dresses adding considerably to its picturesqueness. The hero, Jack Hawley, is capably represented by Mr. Harry Tresham, who scores a success; Mr. H. Ryland Leigh is to be congratulated on his really good interpretation of the scoundrel, Jim Rawlings. An excellent performance of Joe Williams is given by Mr. Conrad C. Clerke, an actor of ability. A good character study of a Mexican greaser, the confederate of the villain, comes from Mr. C. Alan Hineson; Mr. John D. Hennessey is again seen in a character that suits his personality—Colonel Bigor Clayton. The humorous portion of the drama receives capable treatment at the hands of Mr. H. G. Brandon, who is responsible for an amusing impersonation of an actor of the old school—Brutus Brown; Mr. Herbert Young, who is a typical quack doctor, and Mr. Ivan Gore as Pete Sweet, a nigger. Miss Edna Lester plays well as Samantha Clayton; Miss Ethyle Gordon Murray makes the most of her opportunities; and an undoubted success is achieved by Miss Florence Barnes as Jennie Williams. A word of praise must be bestowed on Mr. Brandon for the effective manner in which the dramas are produced week by week.

ARTILLERY THEATRE, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, Nov. 16, the Drama, entitled
"WOMAN AND WINE."

This week the powerful play of Woman and Wine is occupying the boards of the Artillery Theatre. Written by Mr. Arthur Shirley and Ben Landeck, the story is of a soul-stirring nature, and is filled to the brim with attractive incidents and emotional situations. The production is on a large scale, and is excellently presented by Miss Mary Austin and Mr. E. Vivian Edmonds. The two scenes, Le Bal Masque and The Flower Market, are noteworthy. Mr. E. Vivian Edmonds provides a powerful study of the student, Dick Seymour, and works upon the feelings of the audience with artistic ability; Mr. R. Foulis in the unsympathetic part of Alphonse Beaudet infuses dramatic effect, and is successful; Mr. W. Manning undertakes the part of Professor Sauter in a capable manner; Mr. J. Milne Taylor does ample justice to the character of Hugh Seymour; an amusing portrayal of Charles Sauter is supplied by Mr. Harry Harrop; Mr. Frank Thomas is favourably placed as Mark Parkins; Miss C. St. Elmo assays the rôle of Marcel Ragadout, the woman who didn't care, in a pronounced manner, and is effective; Miss Violet Sims depicts the part of Mary Andrews pathetically; Miss Octavia de Noel gives a forcible rendering of the jealous La Colombe; Miss Ethel Vinroy deserves praise for her characterisation of Janet Marlow; and the remaining members of a long cast lend admirable assistance.

THE WEST LONDON THEATRE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—The announcement that the West London Theatre will be offered at auction on Wednesday has been referred to by some papers, and a sketch of its history, not by any means accurate, given. Presuming that you may take some notice of it, I send you particulars as under, and, having been associated with this house, directly or indirectly, for fifty years, you may rely upon their authenticity. The theatre was built by my father, the late John Loveridge, and was opened on Dec. 12, 1842, under the name of the Royal Marylebone Theatre, by John Douglas the elder, who afterwards built and conducted the Standard Theatre. It retained this name until 1868, when, by Royal permission, it was entitled the Royal Alfred, and was reopened in the presence of H.R.H. the late Duke of Edinburgh. Its original name, the Royal Marylebone, was resumed in 1873 under the second management of Mr. J. A. Cave, who altogether successfully conducted it for twenty years, and who is now having a well-deserved rest as an inmate of the Charterhouse. In 1893 the house was purchased by Mr. Wm. Bailey, and opened by him as the West London, although not then aware that this was the name given to a smaller house on the same site some years before the erection of the present building. This small theatre was named successively The Portman, The Pavilion, The West London, and finally, in 1837, The Royal Marylebone. Most of the leading actors of the second half of the last century have appeared here, including Macready, Wallack, Anderson, Vandenhoff, Chas. Mathews, Irving, Toole, Ben Webster, Keeley, Buckstone, Paul Bedford, Emery, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Nisbett, Mme. Celeste, Mrs. Mowatt, Fanny Vining, Amy Sedgwick, &c.—Yours faithfully,

G. A. LOVERIDGE.

3, Alma-square, St. John's Wood, N.W.
Nov. 12, 1908.

MR. CHARLES FRY'S MATINEES.

Mr. Charles Fry revived Shakespeare's Tempest at a matinée at the Court Theatre last Saturday. The play was presented in excellent style, the elocution being especially commendable. Miss Nellie Innes assumed the part of Ariel at short notice, owing to the illness of Miss Dora Keith, and played it with airy grace and ease, her singing of "Where the bee sucks" being charming. Miss Olive Kennett was a sympathetic and sweet Miranda; and Mr. Hughes Jones was a manly and spirited Ferdinand. Mr. Patrick Munro embodied Prospero with befitting dignity and with fine delivery of the verse; and Mr. Fry made Caliban a savage and grotesque monster, acting very graphically and picturesquely. Mr. C. Francis was a droll Trinculo; and Mr. T. M. Cottam as Stephano was humorous and effective. Mr. F. Haldane as Gonzalo, Mr. H. A. Rourke as Alonso, Mr. Jules Corthesy as Sebastian, and Mr. J. K. Maclean as Antonio all did good work. Miss Minifred Hamilton made a magnificent Juno, and Miss Dorothy Hammett as Iris and Miss Aida Humphris as Ceres were both acceptable. The dance was arranged by Miss Lily Sturman. The whole performance was careful, intelligent, and artistic.

"THE ERA" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION.

Minutes of the Council meeting, held at 353, Strand, on Tuesday, Nov. 17. There were present Mr. Clarence Derwent (in the chair), Mr. Henry W. Mote (honorary solicitor), Messrs. Fred Grove, Fewlass Llewellyn, Frank J. Arlton, Jackson Wilcox, Franklyn Walford, Cecil Raleigh, Misses Marion Lind, Lucy Sibley, and Mr. Hubert Blount (secretary).

A letter was read from the secretary of the Play-Actors with reference to the suggested prohibition of Sunday performances by the Lord Chamberlain, saying that, as far as they are concerned, they would rather the A.A. took no further steps in the matter. A letter was read from Mr. F. Bateman with regard to the proposed theatrical association stores, and instructions were given to the secretary to write to Mr. Bateman saying that the Council regretted that they would be unable to assist the scheme financially, but that they wish it every success.

The minutes of the previous Council meeting were read and confirmed.

The hon. solicitor reported having secured £2 compensation claimed by a member from a railway company.

The suggested letter, as drafted by Mr. Cecil Raleigh, to be sent to the Lord Chamberlain, was discussed at great length, and the question of sending same being put to the vote, three members voted for and three members against, and the chairman gave his casting vote against the sending of the letter. The question of publication of the correspondence of the Lord Chamberlain was then discussed, and it was decided to publish the first letter sent to the Lord Chamberlain and his reply, which were as follows:—

"My Lord,—During the last few years several semi-literary societies have been formed for the purpose of presenting plays of a literary rather than of a commercial character, and of affording to young and unknown actors and actresses appearing therein opportunities that would not occur to them in the ordinary pursuit of their calling.

"These societies are maintained by the subscriptions of their members, the performances that they organise are of a private nature, admission to them being attained by ticket only. No money is taken at the doors. But the performances are usually given in licensed theatres, and frequently on Sunday evenings. It is posible, therefore, that they will be affected by your lordship's recently-published regulation regarding Sunday performances.

"As a number of our members have arranged to appear in the plays to be given under these conditions during the coming winter, I am directed by the Council of the Actors' Association to respectfully inquire whether your lordship would be so very good as to give the Council, for the guidance of the members, some indication of your view with regard to the Sunday performances of such societies as I have mentioned, more especially in connection with the possible representation at private Sunday performances of plays that have not been submitted for, or have actually been refused, your lordship's licence.

"The matter being of considerable importance to many of our members, the Council trust that your lordship will excuse their importunity in directly addressing you.

I am, my Lord,
Your obedient humble servant,
(Signed) HUBERT BLOUNT, Secretary."

His reply:—

"Sir,—The Lord Chamberlain desires me to acknowledge your letter of the 2nd inst., in reply, to express his regret that he is unable to give you any opinion on the question you raise.

"The matter appears to him to be one as to which it would be best for you to seek the advice of your solicitors.—Yours faithfully,

"(Signed) DOUGLAS DAWSON, Comptroller."

The hon. solicitor advises as follows:—

The hon. solicitor is of opinion that the authority of the Lord Chamberlain is practically absolute for the theatres licensed by him. Although the Act which gives to the Lord Chamberlain his powers does not almost exactly specify everything that the Lord Chamberlain may do, it endows him with a discretion from which there is no appeal. He is also of opinion that it is almost impossible to imagine a condition which the Lord Chamberlain could not impose upon an applicant before granting a licence, and that the mere indication of the Lord Chamberlain's wish conveyed to the holders of his licences would put an end to private performances upon a Sunday in the theatres licensed by him. The hon. solicitor cannot help us in any way to anticipate what view, or what action, the Lord Chamberlain will take with regard to Sunday performances mentioned in our letter. The hon. solicitor is of opinion that it is eminently advisable that a more definite opinion should be expressed by the Lord Chamberlain. The Council having received the before-mentioned letter of the Play-Actors, decided not to proceed with this question for the present.

Miss Sibley made a finance report, and made several recommendations to the secretary.

Mr. Manville Morton, proposed by J. Knox Orde and seconded by Charles Boult, was nominated for election.

Miss Mary Hope, proposed by William Dobell, seconded by Madge Merryweather; Miss Eva Neil, proposed by Langford Reede, seconded by Cecil Yapp; and Miss Julie Golay, proposed by Italia Conti, seconded by Fewlass Llewellyn, were elected.

The resignations of Mr. Jack Rowland and Dr. W. Warburton Wingate were announced.

The question of the registration of agents was discussed, and Mr. Raleigh gave his views in support.

A member interviewed the Council with reference to the conduct of another member, and the secretary received instructions to ask the person complained of to appear before the Council on Tuesday next.

It was decided to eliminate all names in the publication of the solicitor's report in future, excepting where cases are sub judice, and in such cases to publish names only after permission has been obtained.

The Council passed a unanimous vote of condolence with Mrs. Topham on the loss of her husband.

The Council passed a unanimous vote of congratulation to Sir Anderson Critchett on his elevation to a baronetcy.

TOM CRAVEN'S "MIXTURE."

"In placing before you these pages," says Mr. Tom Craven to his readers in his preface to his little book of recitations and monologues, called the "Tom Craven Mixture," which has just been published by Samuel French, Ltd., "I have grave misgivings as to the sentence you will pass upon me. My previous effort in a similar direction, 'The Dear Reader "Gag Book,"' has done five years' hard labour, and looks like being committed for trial again and again. This time I may get off with a nominal fine and a warning. I have administered the following doses of doggerel myself on all sorts and conditions of patients, who have swallowed them, and are now seeking a 'Rest Cure.' They have laughed at my sentiment and shed copious tears over my comic 'offences.' If they have been favourably received when delivered by me, how much better will their reception be when spoken by your honied tongues?" There are no less than twenty-one items in the collection. They show the genial humour, the ready wit, the bright invention, and the power of facile composition possessed by the author, whose "Mixture" is likely to be as popular as his "Gag Book."

A TRIO OF NOVELTIES.

Three new one-act plays formed the programme at the matinée given by Mr. and Miss Creagh-Henry at the Queen's Gate Hall on Tuesday, when a full and friendly audience took evident pleasure in the proceedings. The first essay, which was from the pen of May Creagh-Henry, was

"DIOGENES AND THE DAMSEL."

Diogenes .....Mr. S. Creagh-Henry
The Damsel .....Miss Creagh-Henry

Humorous satire of a pungent character is found in the little piece, which consists simply of a dialogue between a young lady, who falls asleep in her garden, and the ancient philosopher named, who appears to her in a dream. The conversation that follows is of the kind made familiar in Pygmalion and Galatea and other pieces, and comprises a succession of "cross-talk" in which Alexander the Great is confused with Alexander the Actor, and the ancient and modern are agreeably mixed. The trifle was divertingly acted, Mr. Creagh-Henry, realistically made-up, being a drolly sententious Diogenes, and Miss Creagh-Henry acting and speaking in agreeable light comedy fashion as the Damsel.

Pathos plays an important part in the second piece, which was also by Miss Creagh-Henry, and entitled

"LIZ."

Liz .....Miss Creagh-Henry
Jim Dodson / Gerald Howard .....Mr. Creagh-Henry

The laws of probability are greatly strained in the drametta, which, however, is interestingly written. Liz, an artist's model, has fallen in love with a philosophising painter, who has treated her kindly. She has an admirer in Jim Dodson, a coster, who gives way to drink, but vows to sign the pledge on condition that Liz promises to marry him. The girl remembers that the artist has said that it is better to secure the happiness of others rather than that of oneself, and consents. Scarcely, however, is the picture finished than the artist asks Liz to be his wife, whereupon she tells him of her promise to Jim Dodson, and of her reason for it. The artist commends her for her self-sacrifice, and destroys his picture—which is that of a nun—declaring it does not represent his highest ideal. Miss Creagh-Henry gave a telling and sympathetic rendering of Liz, and made a picture of sweet simplicity in the dress of the nun; and Mr. Creagh-Henry represented the coster and the artist with equal care and effect.

The final playlet was by Mr. Creagh-Henry, and was called

"A PASTORAL POSTPONED."

Lady Julia Lavender .....Miss Creagh-Henry
Colonel Cavanagh .....Mr. Creagh-Henry

Humour of a mild sort is extracted from the above piece, and is gleaned from the attempts of two aristocratic personages to study the play of As You Like It, which is in preparation for a fashionable parden-party, but is abandoned owing to the failure of the principals to attend rehearsal. Mr. Creagh-Henry, who played an Irish officer, but very soon dropped all trace of the brogue, was amusing, and Miss Creagh-Henry made an elegant personage of the lackadaisical Lady Julia, who cannot understand why the character of Rosalind may not be omitted from As You Like It, and spoke her lines in a manner that emphasised their point. Mr. and Miss Creagh-Henry are both clever performers, and the audience, composed mostly of ladies, gave frequent evidence of their enjoyment of the playlets, which, though hardly fitted for the regular stage, would be sure of acceptance in the drawing-room.

AMUSEMENTS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

JOHANNESBURG, Oct. 21.—His Majesty's Theatre.—Lessees, B. F. Wheeler, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. W. F. Woodman.—The success of The Girl Behind the Counter as played by the Edwardes-Wheeler Gaiety company does not show signs of finishing, and it can be safely said there are very few playgoers on the Rand who have not seen this winning little lady. Miss Maud Aston, in the title-rôle, has made a distinct success.

Standard Theatre.—Lessee, Mr. Leonard Rayne; Manager, Mr. Grant Fallowes.—That clever naval play, The Flag Lieutenant, still meets with every encouragement. Extra interest has been added to the piece on two nights this week owing to Admiral Sir Percy Scott and four hundred blue-jackets being present to witness the production. Mr. Leonard Rayne as Flag-Lieutenant Lascelles was as good as ever, and Miss Freda Godfrey still gives a fine representation of Lady Hermione Wynne.

Empire.—Proprietors, Empire Theatres, Ltd., South Africa; Manager, Mr. Sydney Hyman.—La Belle Tortajada, an old favourite on the Rand, is the star here, and she meets with every encouragement. Lawson and Namon, pot-pourri entertainers, are an amusing pair, the male partner being a smart trick cyclist, whilst the lady gives a clever exhibition of ball-punching. Miss Daisy Yates, comedienne and dancer, renders all her numbers in a catchy style. Others here are the Dixie Trio, Clara and Pastor, Morris Cronin and Troupe, Rose and Challoner, Amber Austa, Louis Zetland, and Will Haines.

DURBAN, Oct. 23.—His Majesty's Theatre.—Lessees, Empire Theatres, South Africa, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Aubrey Hyman.—A good programme is being presented at this popular house of entertainment this week, most of the artists being warmly received. Undoubtedly the most prominent turn is Mlle. Liane D'Eve, who receives quite an ovation for her charming turn; Miss Marie Reeve is a dainty little lady with a style entirely her own; Miss May Audrey entirely wins the hearts of her audience, her song "Take me on the Flip-Flap" catching the public taste. An exceptionally clever xylophone performance is that given by the Musical Johnstons; the Blessings, acrobats, execute some daring feats. A welcome turn is Miss Dorothy Drew, who is the possessor of a well-cultured voice, and Willie Walker, Scotch comedian, takes well.

Scott's Theatre, Pietermaritzburg, is occupied this week by the Godwin Williams comedy company, under the personal direction of Mr. Godwin Williams, in The Private Secretary. Mr. Godwin Williams himself enacts the rôle of the Rev. Robert Spalding, and causes endless hilarity.

ACTORS' UNION.

The weekly committee meeting of the Actors' Union took place on the 12th inst., at 49, Bedford-street, and the following were present:—Mr. Paul Lovett (chairman), Mr. H. Naylor Grimson, Mr. J. W. Braithwaite, Mr. Gerald Mirrielees, Mr. A. Maitland Stapley, Mr. H. Tripp Edgar, Mr. D. Lewin Mannering, Mr. Leslie Arthur, and Mr. Kenneth Blackmore (secretary).

Letters were received from the following:—Messrs. Edward Chester, George H. Child, George P. Lester, and F. Rawson Buckley.

The minutes of the last meeting were confirmed.

The secretary reported that Mr. Leonard Calvert regretted having to decline the seat offered him on the committee, owing to his being unable to attend the meetings. The question of inviting other members was held over until the 19th inst.

Mr. McGregor, of the Bon-accord Hotel, Market-street, was appointed agent for Aberdeen.

The secretary was instructed to place the particulars of an insanitary theatre in the hands of the sanitary authorities of the town.

The secretary was instructed to inform a member that advance managers were ineligible for membership of the Union.

The secretary was instructed to approach the L.C.C. with regard to the licensing of agents.

A new member was elected.

DEATH OF MR. CORY-THOMAS.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Lambert Cory-Thomas, which took place at Eastbourne on Saturday last. Mr. Cory-Thomas's first experience of the footlights was when at school in Germany and France, where Molière's comedies (without scenery and other accessories) were given. Returning to England, he shortly commenced professionally under Mr. Wilson Barrett's régime, playing small parts and understudying on tour. After two or three short stock seasons he joined Miss Fortescue for Leucippe, in Pygmalion and Galatea, and the late Miss Lingard for the Colonel, in Sister Mary, and the Comte De Varville, in Camille. A thirty-three weeks' tour with Miss Melnotte and Frank Wyatt's Barrister was followed by a long tour of Bootles' Baby, in which Mr. Cory-Thomas played the military hero, Bootle, no less than 935 times. He was then general-manager at the Prince of Wales's Theatre, Birmingham, for six months, but returned again to the footlights to take up Mr. Charles Warner's part in A Million of Money (another military part). Mr. Fred Kerr's part in Mr. Pinero's comedy The Amazon followed. He then joined Mr. Tapping for Captain Redwood in Jim the Penman, and the American, in The Idler. At the Adelphi in The Fatal Card he had a small part, and understudied Mr. Abingdon. Leaving London, he played another military part, the hero, in The Trumpet Call, after which dramas and comedies on alternate nights on a South African tour gave him plenty of study. On his return to England he business-managed a tour of the late Robert Buchanan's Wanderer from Venus. After a short tour as George D'Alroy in Caste, he played the Irish major in The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown. In 1898 Mr. Cory-Thomas appeared as Jediah in The Daughters of Babylon. He then returned to the military hero in The Trumpet Call. At the Olympic he embodied Archibald Carlyle in East Lynne. This was followed by three tours with Miss Ada Blanche's Telephone Girl company as the Russian Prince. In Lady Huntworth's Experiment he played the part of Capt. Dorvaston. He was then engaged by Mr. Bourchier for the season at the Garrick, playing and understudying in Mr. Pinero's Iris and Mr. Anthony Hope's Pilkerton's Peerage. During the indisposition of Mr. H. B. Warner he played Jack Pilkerton. He also acted for two years in America with Miss Maxine Elliott, Miss Virginia Harned, and Mrs. Fiske. Mr. Cory-Thomas was an athlete, sprint runner, jumper, and walker; when a member of the London Athletic Club he only occupied 5hrs. 5min. in a thirty miles race. His last regular engagement was as Sir Brian Ballymote with Mr. James Welch's When Knights Were Bold company. He appeared with Mr. Edmund Waller in a sketch at Manchester for a week, and his throat being already weak, lost his voice entirely, and last August had to cancel all engagements and become an inmate of the King Edward VII. Sanatorium at Midhurst, Sussex. On the 5th of this month he went to Eastbourne, but on the 13th inst. he was found to be in the last stage of consumption, and died at 9.30 p.m. on Saturday. The funeral took place at Ocklynge Cemetery, Eastbourne, on Wednesday.

[Photo by Medrington.

THE LATE MR. L. CORY-THOMAS

A THEATRICAL EMPLOYEES' CLUB.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

Sir,—At the meeting at Terry's last Sunday evening the speakers dwelt upon the unity of the theatrical employee. In response to the invitation of the chairman, I made a few remarks in favour of the proposal, and suggested the formation of a Theatrical Employees' Club and Institute, which I thought would be of advantage in relation to the proposed share-out club. Had I not been ruled out of order by the chairman I might have explained more fully, as we seldom have meetings, and even when we do it is a difficult matter to get an audience. If you will allow me to ventilate the subject through your valuable columns a large number of my fellow workers would feel grateful. The suggestion is that a penny a week subscription should be started; representatives in theatres and music halls should collect same, and that you, sir, should be asked to kindly act or appoint a treasurer. When the funds are sufficient to start a convenient room, a meeting of the subscribers could be convened and the necessary officials appointed. While we have been considering this question for years, other sections of the profession have already founded their club. So why not the theatrical worker?

I also would appeal to my fellow-workers who are in good daily occupations and are in night work to remember their less fortunate brethren, who, perhaps, may have been tramping about all day with no luck. True, there is a room at an inn where one can wait till wanted, but comment is needless as to the utility of that. They only lean on rushes who trust to the support of others, so I would say, don't wait for someone to give us something, but start on our own, and show that we are in earnest. Then, I feel sure, our efforts would not go unaided in our endeavours to help ourselves and to make our lives brighter and our surroundings more pleasant.—Yours faithfully,

CHARLES A. KEEBLE.

Battersea.

A Copy of "The Era" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

"A REFORMED RAKE."

Comedy, in Three Acts, by Pelham Hardwicke and Walter E. Grogan, played for the first time in London at the Coronet on Friday, Nov. 13.

Harry Jasper .....Mr. Edward Compton
Mr. Thornton .....Mr. Henry Crocker
Adolphus Thornton .....Mr. Ivan Leslie
Frederick Adderley .....Mr. Henry Worrall
Andrew Wylie .....Mr. Wallace Johnston
Matthew .....Mr. Philip Gordon
Binks .....Mr. J. W. Austin
Markham .....Mr. Neville Clifford
Mrs. Constance Thornton
Miss Constance Merton
Joyce Thornton .....Miss Kathleen Leigh
Miss Arabella Mountstuart
Miss Viola Compton

On the occasion of Mr. Edward Compton's benefit on Friday, Nov. 13, the new comedy, A Reformed Rake, by Pelham Hardwick and Walter E. Grogan, was given, this being Mr. Edward Compton's 105th performance of the part of Harry Jasper. The piece was produced at Edinburgh on Feb. 27, 1902. It is a story of the good old days, the period being 1820:

"Whose style still breathed a faint and fine perfume
Of old-world courtliness and old-world bloom;
When speech was elegant and talk was fit,
For slang had not been canonised as wit."

Some of the scenes are very fresh, naïve, and convincing, and the faults are, after all, only trivial ones. It is a pretty and picturesque play, redolent of the period of gallantry and reckless dissipation. The story concerns the reformed rake's desire to justify his father's old friend's trust in him by guarding the honour of his house, and putting to flight his enemies. Cleverly welded with this material is Jasper's love at first sight for Thornton's pretty daughter, Joyce. Jasper's original idea was pour passer le temps as tutor to a green young enthusiast surrounded by musty old fogeys and eccentric servants, whom he could afterwards hold up to ridicule in the Press. Mr. Thornton's reception of him and trust in him, however, coupled with the fact that it is quite a conventional household governed by a shrewd and kindly city merchant, cause Harry Jasper to change his mind, and enter heart and soul into the business of setting "the house in order." He sets about his duties in most unconventional fashion, and earns the goodwill of his pupil, Dolly Thornton, by affecting to treat him as a man, and he earns more than the goodwill of portly Mistress Joyce by his handsome good humour and bonhomie. There are rifts within the lute which must be repaired, however. Firstly, old Thornton is unmistakably in the power of a rascally moneylender, Andrew Wylie, and, secondly, Frederick Adderley, an unregenerate reprobate, is making hot love to old Thornton's pretty young wife. Gradually, step by step, Harry Jasper traces the identity of Wylie and Adderley with "Jones and Company," a firm of defaulting Leeds bankers, and he also contrives to break off the engagement between Dolly and one Arabella Mountstaurt, alias Georgiana Gentilt, a lady of doubtful reputation, whom Adderley has jilted and consoled by engaging her to Dolly under false pretences as to his age and his means. The price Harry Jasper contemplates paying for "the whistle" is the sacrifice of his love for Joy. But after much machiavellian intrigue and complicated strategy, the bill is destroyed, Jasper's own debt to Wylie is paid off by Thornton, the letters which Mrs. Constance Thornton had written to Adderley are put in the fire, and he is summarily dismissed; while, to crown all, old Thornton smiles on the union of hearts of Harry Jasper and his daughter Joy, and the curtain is rung down to the tune of prospective wedding bells.

Mr. Edward Compton simply revels in the part of the reformed rake, Harry Jasper, and as the "agreeable rattle" and man-about-town turned tutor, lover, and guardian angel of the Thornton ménage, he has excellent scope for his versatility and power of gripping the audience with his winsome personality. Miss Kathleen Leigh as the fair, dimity Mistress Joyce Thornton most charmingly depicts the youthful innocence and espièglerie, and the fresh young beauty of the girl of the period. Mr. Henry Crocker, who stage-manages, contributes a sound, sterling performance of the honest, straightforward city merchant, Mr. Thornton. Mr. Henry Worrall plays the part of the unreformed rake, Frederick Adderley, with tact and circumspection, and brings the natural charm as well as the villainy of the man into strong prominence. Mr. Wallace Johnston gives a most quaint and unique embodiment of the moneylender, Andrew Wylie, a part which must tax his powers to the utmost to render as consistently as he does. Mr. Ivan Leslie cleverly creates the correct impression as the green young enthusiast, Dolly Thornton. Mr. Philip Gordon is very good as the time-serving butler, Matthew. Miss Constance Merton is well suited by the small part of the pretty doll-like Mrs. Constance Thornton. Miss Viola Compton creates a favourable impression in her brief appearance as Miss Arabella Mountstuart, the lady from Vauxhall. Altogether, it is a refreshing and exhilarating study of "ye goode olde tymes."

TRINITY COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

On Tuesday afternoon Sir Frederick Bridge gave a recital to inaugurate the fine new (four manual) organ erected by Messrs. H. S. Vincent and Co. Sir Frederick Bridge, who is organist of Westminster Abbey and Chairman of the Board of Trinity College of Music, greatly amused the large audience by saying at the commencement of his recital that "he was out of practice, but would do his best." What Sir Frederick's best is all the world knows. The programme was well selected to show off the many fine qualities of the new organ. Schumann's delicate and refined "Three Sketches" were followed by a Fugue in G major by the unsurpassed composer for the organ, J. S. Bach. Sir F. Bridge also played the Andante, Introduction and Fugue from his own Sonata. Sir Frederick Bridge has long been known as a talented composer in addition to his splendid abilities as organist. An oratorio, "Mount Moriah," a cantata "Boadicea," church music, the sonata given on Tuesday, as well as other works testify his ability, and we congratulate the Trinity College on having such an accomplished musician as chairman of their Board. Other works given in the programme were a beautifully rendered Largo, perhaps the finest movement in Dvorák's "New World" Symphony, a charming Elegy and "Chant du Berger" (Merkel), and Lully's lively Rigaudon. Sir F. Bridge at the close of his recital had a most enthusiastic reception, and the tone and quality of the new organ were much admired. Two songs were included in the programme, the vocalist, Mr. Horace Witty, greatly distinguishing himself by his excellent singing of "O that we two were maying" and F. H. Cowen's "Border Ballad." Mr. Leonard Gordon was the accompanist.

Miss Beatrice Felsted is engaged by Messrs. Ashton and Mitchell's Royal Agency to sing her two new sacred songs by Wynyard Ryde, entitled "Peace be still" and "Far from my heavenly home," at the Palace Pier, Brighton. Mr. Hamilton Weller will accompany on the organ. The Horse Guards Band (Blue), by kind permission, will also appear. Miss Felsted will be heard at the Albert Hall early in the spring before resuming her long tour through the provinces.

"WINTER SPORT."

A Play, in One Act, by "D. Brandon," Produced at the Court Theatre on Wednesday Afternoon, Nov. 18.

Rex Gascoigne .....Mr. Patrick Kirwan
Harold Johnson .....Mr. Gerald Venning
Jessie Pickering .....Miss Isabel Fladgate

The authoress of Winter Sport is the lady who, under the name of "D. Brandon," organised the matinée held on Wednesday at the Court in aid of the funds of the Hospital for Sick Children, Ormond-street. And as the playlet under review was produced with a benevolent object, and as, moreover, Charity covereth a multitude of indiscretions, we feel somehow that we ought not to be too critical, or even critical at all. Therefore we will content ourselves with saying that Winter Sport is extremely amateurish, and that it betrays an ultra-feminine mind. There are, however, indications in the play that the authoress has ideas, but we find it rather difficult to encourage her in continuing to write for the theatre. In the title itself she has a very happy notion, as, in the piece under review "winter sport" means flirtation in Switzerland. Rex Gascoigne and Harold Johnson are discussing in the reading-room of the Hotel Schishorn, at Landplatz, the pseudo love-making which is being indulged in by the guests at the hotel, and Johnson warns his companion as to his attentions to one Jessie Pickering. A ring has been found which bears the inscription, "To my future wife," and not one of the young ladies will admit that it is hers. However, the initial letters of the four stones in the mounting of the ring gives Gascoigne the clue as to the owner—a lady whose Christian name might be Jess. Miss Pickering admits that it was presented to her by her fiancé in England, and Gascoigne undertakes to get it from the elderly woman who discovered it by telling her that it was returned to him by a lady who jilted him. Gascoigne now asks Jessie whether she likes him better than her fiancé, and the girl, believing, of course, that he has serious intentions towards her, writes a letter to her sweetheart, breaking off the engagement and returning the ring to him. Then Gascoigne shows what a despicable cad he is—after flirting with the girl himself, and inducing her to break off her engagement—by finally telling her that he is married! And, of course, this mean-spirited hypocrite only wanted to teach the girl a lesson! His humbugging pretension to affection towards Jessie Pickering was actuated, forsooth, by his desire to point a moral! We might venture to tell the authoress of the piece that it would be difficult to find Gascoigne's counterpart outside of her imagination. As to the acting, all we need remark is that Mr. Gerald Venning, in the insignificant rôle of Harold Johnson, was the only one who had a consistent part to play, and he did it full justice.

Miss Isabel Fladgate showed greater ability in the rôle of Priscilla in Mr. Patrick Kirwan's Georgian duologue of that name than she displayed as Jessie Pickering in Winter Sport. Mr. Kirwan's study of Ralph was quite unconvincing. The afternoon's entertainment concluded with Mr. Kirwan's adaptation from an incident in Thackeray's "Pendennis," entitled The Fotheringay, in which the author and Messrs. Wm. J. Stack, John Cabourn, Gerald Saffery, and Miss Rose Temple took part.

GUILDHALL SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

Mr. Gabriel G. Cleather on Wednesday afternoon gave a lecture on "The Drum and Its Capabilities." Mr. Cleather, in illustrating his lecture, had four kettle-drums on the platform, the accompaniment on the organ being played by the talented pupil of Dr. Jordan, Mr. F. J. Massey. In introducing the lecturer, Dr. Cummings said he was sorry not to see a larger audience, and hoped the concert hall would be full at the next lecture. In commencing his lecture Mr. Cleather asked why the drum was treated with such neglect. Even at the Guildhall School, where every branch of music is taught, there is no special teaching of the drum nor are any prizes or scholarships given for that instrument. The lecturer wished some rich man would come forward and found one. Mr. Cleather said, amidst applause from the audience, that he would offer £20 towards that object if others would join him in the good cause. In speaking of the drum, the lecturer said the side-drum, much used in the Army, was not to be confounded with the kettle-drum, which is considered by musicians as the most perfect; nor is the title "drummer" correct, as it should be tympanist. Dr. Richter says the drum is a most difficult instrument to write for in an orchestra. The drum is usually considered noisy, but that is not entirely true, while one great advantage was that much of the practice for that instrument could be done silently. Mr. Cleather spoke of the importance of rhythm in musical study, and said in many cases the drum might precede other studies. As an illustration of the different modes of playing triplets Mr. Cleather gave same fine examples first in Brahms's "Requiem" (second movement) and then in Meyerbeer's "Fourth Fackel-Tanz." The lecturer, to show the power of the drum, gave a long roll, softly at first, but ending with the full strength of the largest kettle-drum on the platform. Mr. Cleather said, however, the chief beauty of the drum was in piano passages, and, assisted by Mr. Massey on the organ, he gave a fine example in Schumann's "Four-Pedal Piano Sketches." The lecturer also spoke of the difficulty of keeping the drum in tune, saying in some cases it would not remain so more than five minutes. An excellent performance of Mendelssohn's beautiful "Funeral March" by Mr. Massey and Mr. Cleather concluded the lecture.

On Wednesday evening the concert commenced with a piano solo, "En Courant" (Godard), ably played by Miss Edith Soole. Miss Lottie Minns was hardly equal to the dramatic air "Lord of our chosen race," from Sullivan's Ivanhoe; nor had Miss Elsie M. Hart experience enough for Gounod's song "There is a green hill," although both young ladies sang with care and intelligence. An undoubted success was Miss Winifred Johnson's violin solo of Sarasate's "Zigeunerweisen," which was capitally executed; while of almost equal merit was Miss Margery Holden's playing of Beethoven's violin solo "Romance" and "Guitare" (Lolo), both students being loudly applauded. Miss Jessie Willis displayed a delicate and expressive touch in her piano solo "Impromptu" in A flat (Chopin); and Miss Dorothy Holden, evidently an advanced student, gave quite a brilliant performance of Saint-Saëns's difficult "Etude en forme de Valse," Op. 52, No. 6. Mr. W. H. Cooper used his good bass voice with much effect in "It is enough" ("Elijah"); while Miss Bertha Brown sang "Ah! Rendimi" (Rossi) with considerable skill. Verdi's aria "Pace, pace, mio Dio," from La Forza del Destino, was a fairly successful though ambitious attempt for Miss Ettie Spice; but Mr. Harold Batt, who has a somewhat small voice, should not as yet sing such a work as Blumenthal's popular air "The Message," at one time so enchantingly sung by Sims Reeves. The concert ended with a recitation "Awkward Questions," by a clever pupil of Mr. L. Cairns James, Miss May Farnell. Miss Jenny Hyman was the accompanist.

On Monday evening Mr. E. R. Abbott's company presented Sapho, from the pen of Miss Ada Abbott, at the Victoria Opera House, Burnley. Miss Abbott sustains the title-rôle cleverly; and Mr. V. W. Carlyle is good as Jean. Other parts are capitally portrayed by Mr. C. Tring as Flamant, Mr. Fred Stephens as Uncle Classaire, and Mr. A. Britton as Jones.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

Sir Charles Wyndham's second presidency at an annual dinner of the Eccentric Club, at the Hotel Cecil, will be marked on Sunday next, by a new departure at these artistic functions. Mr. Charles Urban is an enthusiastic member of the Club, and will contribute to the after-dinner concert a liberal selection from "Urbanora's" brilliant and almost limitless repertory. "The Eccentric Club March," composed by Mr. Norfolk Megone, and comprising some original effects, will be performed by the orchestra, under the composer's direction. An attractive entertainment has been prepared to follow the dinner.

Mr. Beerbohm Tree has added to the importance of the cast for the new fairy play Pinkie and the Fairies, which he will produce at His Majesty's Theatre on Dec. 19, by the engagement of Miss Ellen Terry. Other principal parts will be played by Miss Marie Lohr, Miss Viola Tree, Miss Alice Beet, Mr. Frederick Volpe, Miss Stella Campbell, Miss Iris Hawkins, and Master Philip Tonge.

Lady Bancroft, we are glad to hear, has quite recovered from her recent severe attack of bronchitis. Last week was a "lucky one" for Lady Bancroft, for it was on Nov. 11, 1865, that T. W. Robertson's comedy Society was produced at the Prince of Wales's, with Miss Marie Wilton as Maud Hetherington and Mr. Bancroft as Sidney Daryl. As Sir Squire Bancroft said in his "Narrative," the production of Society "had a marked influence on his future theatrical life."

Mr. George Alexander has received the King's command to assist at the festivities consequent on the Queen's Birthday at Sandringham on Dec. 1. The play selected is The Builder of Bridges, now running so prosperously at the St. James's.

Mr. Cyril Maude's command performance of The Flag Lieutenant at Sandringham on the King's birthday was completely successful, and there was a hearty demonstration of applause, led by His Majesty, at the close. The performance was attended by the King and Queen, Queen Maud of Norway, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Victoria, and the whole of the Sandringham house-party. Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Maude, Mr. C. Aubrey Smith, Mr. Arthur Holmes-Gore, Miss Lilian Braithwaite, and one of the part authors, Mr. Leo Trevor, who also played a small part in the production, were afterwards presented to the King. The company travelled back to town at five o'clock in the morning, and arrived in time to give a matinée followed by an evening performance at the Playhouse.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Alfred Standen (Alfred), for many years assistant stage manager at the Gaiety Theatre. The funeral took place on the 13th inst. at Tooting. The respect in which the deceased was held was evidenced by the numerous wreaths, which included one from Mr. George Edwardes. Others who sent floral tokens of sympathy were:—Mr. J. A. E. Malone, Mr. A. E. Dodson, Mr. C. H. Cannon, Mr. E. W. Royce, Mr. Harold Lonsdale, Mr. George Gregory, Mr. Frank Hector, Miss Kitty Mason, Miss Jean Aylwin, Miss May De Sousa, and Miss Mabel Russell, Electrical Staff and Rowing Club, Gaiety Theatre, Members of The Girls of Gottenberg Company, Staff of Property Department, Gaiety Theatre, Some of his Friends, Gaiety Theatre, Principal Gentlemen, Gaiety Theatre, Carl Kiebert, and the Gaiety Orchestra, Chorus Boys, Gaiety Theatre, Ladies of the Gaiety Theatre, the Dressers, Gaiety Theatre, the Working Staff, Daly's Theatre, and Housekeeper's Staff, Gaiety Theatre.

Mr. Martin Harvey duly fulfilled his "command" performance given by the King in honour of the King and Queen of Sweden in the Waterloo Chamber at Windsor on Wednesday, and the care with which the production had been prepared was evidenced by the smoothness of the rendering. The King and Queen were present with their Majesties of Sweden in places of honour, and other royalties in attendance included the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duchess of Albany, Princess Victoria, Prince Arthur of Connaught, Princess Patricia of Connaught, the Duke and Duchess of Argyll, Prince and Princess Christian, and Princess Henry of Battenberg. The Premier was also among the guests.

Mr. Harvey and his company were entertained at supper in the Presence Chamber, after which they returned to town by special train. The full cast on the eventful occasion consisted of Messrs. Martin Harvey, William Haviland, Albert E. Raynor, George Cooke, Alfred Mansfield, Charles J. Cameron, Bernard Sloane, J. Barber, Fred Wright, sen., Philip Hewland, Leslie Palmer, Percy Foster, Denholm Muir, H. Watson, R. Allen, and D. Holm, and Misses Maud Hoffman, Mary Rorke, Maud Rivers, Bessie Elder, Marjorie Field, Ethel Patrick, and Madge Fabian.

For the last two weeks of his season at the Adelphi Mr. Harvey will revive The Corsican Brothers, which goes into the bill on Monday next. Mr. William Haviland and Miss Maud Hoffman will resume the parts they played in the command performance at Windsor. The Conspiracy will be played in front of The Corsican Brothers, with Mr. Martin Harvey and Mr. Charles Glenney in their original rôles. Mr. Harvey has decided upon the title of Slander for the adaptation of Echegaray's play which he will produce at the Theatre Royal, Birmingham, on Dec. 9. On that occasion he will be supported by Mr. William Haviland, Ben Webster, Miss Mary Rorke, and Miss N. de Silva.

Miss Lena Ashwell will be surrounded by many of the artists associated with her in her recent successes at Kingsway Theatre on her production there, on Tuesday, of the new play by H. Herman Chilton, entitled Grit. The popular actress will be supported by Messrs. C. M. Hallard, Norman McKinnel, Dennis Eadie, W. Lemmon Warde, H. Athol Forde, Charles Francis, Ernest Cosham, and Patrick Grey; and Misses Frances Ivor, Kate Rorke, Margaret Murray, Nannie Bennett, Mercia Vancelle, and Olivia. The play, which is in four acts, will be produced by Mr. Norman McKinnel.

Miss Genevieve Ward will appear as Lady Macbeth in the Sleep-walking scene at the Ristori matinée at His Majesty's on Monday, Nov. 30, and will wear the identical costume worn by Adelaide Ristori in the same part at Drury Lane Theatre many years ago. The historical dress is one of the treasures of Mme. Ristori's family, and is being sent over from Italy specially for the occasion.

Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison are in close vicinity to the West End this week with two of their brilliant successes—Brewster's Millions, with Mr. Percy Hutchison as Monty Brewster, being at the Grand, Croydon, and Lady Frederick, with Miss Mabel Love in the title-rôle, at the Fulham Theatre. Both companies are receiving excellent support from the respective patrons at Croydon and Fulham, and the wonderful stage effects produced by the mechanical and electrical appliances (all of which are travelled by Mr. Hutchison) have called forth rapturous applause during the Brewster Yacht scene. Lady Frederick has also received appreciative recognition, Miss Mabel Love being favoured with many calls at the termination of each act.

Mr. Cyril Maude and the London Playhouse company paid a flying matinée visit to the Brighton Alhambra on Tuesday, and gave performances of Toddles and French as He is Spoke, which were enthusiastically appreciated by the large audience. Mr. Maude as Toddles and as Peter, "the interpreter," gave masterly portrayals, and received excellent support from his company.

Mr. Cairns James, the well-known professor of elocution, lectured to the London section of the Incorporated Society of Musicians on Saturday night. Mr. Cairns James maintained that modulation or inflexion in speech was founded on a wholly musical basis. Numbers of people would say they were not musical, but whether they knew it or not they were accustomed to use musical effects in the ordinary inflexions of the voice. All speech was musical, although in many cases it did not seem to be so. The ordinary individual who made use of the upward inflexion in asking a question was actually producing a musical variation of tone.

A great deal, he continued could be learned from the close observation of children's speech. Children employed speech naturally, and used a most astonishing amount of modulation or inflexion. Music appropriate to the sentiments of a speech was easily heard and appreciated by the audience. According to the inflexions of the voice so the speaker suggested the thoughts to his audience, and if he insisted on not using proper inflexions, he could not hope to make the audience feel that what he said had any conviction in it whatever.

At Her Majesty's Theatre, Dundee, on Wednesday afternoon, a special matinée was given, in aid of the unemployed fund of the town, by kind permission of Mr. Robert Arthur. The programme was a peculiarly attractive one, and the theatre was crowded, the audience including Lord Provost Urquhart and the magistrates of Dundee, the Right Hon. Winston Churchill, and Mr. Wilkie, the members of Parliament for the city. Mr. Charles Frohman's company presented an act of The Hypocrites, which occupies the boards of the theatre this week, followed by Frankfort Moore's one-act comedy, Kitty Clive, undertaken by three of Dundee's amateurs. Next followed two of the finest scenes in Lytton's The Lady of Lyons, in which their many friends were interested to see Mr. and Mrs. Louis Karpe, in company with Miss McDiarmid, a local favourite. The programme was also reinforced by songs by Miss Joan Keddie and Mr. W. S. Hamilton, while the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. H. Everitt Loseby, rendered several selections.

A "comedy in capsules" was a feature of the afternoon, and proved to be a monologue written by Miss Grete Hahn, of The Hypocrites company, and a promising actress. The monologue is spoken by a would-be actress who has just received an engagement. The young lady is all excitement; she wonders what her part may be; and she begins impersonating some likely stage characters—a Cockney slavey, an American girl, an Irish colleen, a French maid, a German serving-girl, and a love-sick Spanish beauty. The characters are cleverly sketched, and were interpreted by the clever authoress herself in brilliant style, which won enthusiastic applause.

An interesting programme is announced by Miss Horniman for her Christmas season at the Gaiety, Manchester. There will be a matinée each day of Alice in Wonderland, and the evening bill will be occupied by Beaumont and Fletcher's Knight of the Burning Pestle. Mr. William Greet's company will perform Alice in Wonderland, which will be essentially the same as that given at the Lyric Theatre a year ago. The Knight of the Burning Pestle will be played by Miss Horniman's company, with notable additions for some of the more important parts. The piece, which was originally produced in 1613, abounds in genial fun, and the narrative of the adventures of Ralph, the grocer-'prentice knight, is pregnant with satire of surprising modernity.

The aristocratic alliances formed by members of the theatrical profession were added to on Thursday, when Miss Ethel Kendall, whose professional name is Eileen Orme, was married to the Hon. Maurice Nelson Hood, eldest son of Viscount Bridport, and a lieutenant in the Royal Naval Reserve. The bride is a cousin of Miss Denise Orme, who some months ago became the wife of Captain Yarde-Buller, and was herself a member of Mr. George Edwardes's company at Daly's, where, as one of the chorus, she appeared in The Merry Widow. The wedding took place in St. Martin's Church, Trafalgar-square, and after the ceremony luncheon was served at the Carlton Hotel. Miss Denise Orme was herself present at the wedding, with her husband. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hood left for the south coast in a motor-car.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell will begin a series of matinées at the New Theatre on Friday, Nov. 27. Mr. W. B. Yeats's legendary verse-play, Deirdre, which she produced last week at Dublin, and Hugo von Hofmannsthals' original tragedy in one act, Electra, founded on the old Greek story, and translated into English by Mr. Arthur Symons, will be in the bill.

Miss Dorothea Baird will make her first West End apearance as Iolanthe in King René's Daughter this afternoon at the Shaftesbury. The adaptation is that of G. W. Wills, and was produced at the Lyceum in May, 1880, under the title of Iolanthe. Another version of Heinrich Hertz's piece was made by Sir Theodore Martin. The Lyons Mail, before which King René's Daughter will be played for the rest of its run, is doing sufficiently well to justify Mr. H. B. Irving keeping the piece in the bill for the whole of his tenancy, which ends with January.

At the Grove, Hanwell, on Sunday, the Gaiety Theatre (Strand) Football team played their second League match, their opponents being the King's, Hammersmith. The latter team played well throughout, but were powerless against the Gaiety's forward line, who put in some effective work, being greatly assisted by their backs, Messrs. Wood and Fraser, and scoring a decided victory by 10 goals to one. This splendid result places the winning team in a very favourable position for the League Cup.

The souvenir to be presented by Miss Evelyn Millard to every visitor to the Garrick Theatre on Monday, Nov. 30, the occasion of the hundredth performance of Idols, will take the form of an artistically bound copy of Mr. W. J. Locke's book, from which Mr. Roy Horniman adapted the powerful drama. On the Wedgewood-blue cover will be found a medallion of Miss Millard, and the letterpress will be interspersed with photographs of the company and scenes from the play.

It is pleasant to record the success achieved by the management of the Hasting Gaiety Theatre. When, three years ago, Mr. H. W. Rowland, general-manager, and Mr. C. E. Scutt, resident-manager, were respectively appointed, the company's finances were at a low ebb, but at the annual meeting on the 11th inst., the balance-sheet showed receipts of close upon £11,500 for the past year, an increase of £2,993 on the gross takings of three years ago. A dividend of three per cent. was announced. The report and balance-sheet were adopted.

The celebrated French actress, Mme. Favart, who died on Nov. 11, became a member of the Comédie Française in 1848, when only fifteen. Her first appearance there was made in Scribe's Valerie, and she remained there till 1881, when she resigned, owing to a disagreement. She appeared in most of the plays in the répertoire of the Theatre of Molière, and sustained leading parts in Dumas fils' Fils Naturel, in Girardin's Le Supplice d'une Femme, and in La joie fait peur. She won great success in Pailleron's Faux Ménages, and her fine acting with Delaunay in Alfred de Musset's comedies, particularly La Nuit d'Octobre and On ne Badine pas avec l'Amour was an exquisite treat to the playgoers of her prime. In her thirty-three years' stay at the Comédie Française Mme. Favart played 165 parts. The funeral of the deceased actress took place on the 13th inst.

"The Prince and the Beggar Maid," Mr. Walter Howard's latest Lyceum success, achieved a record at the Broadway Theatre, New Cross on Saturday last, when more people paid for admission than on any one night in the previous annals of that theatre. The play has met with extraordinary success, both in the suburbs and in the provinces, and, together with Her Love Against the World and The Midnight Wedding, from the pen of the same author, proves that Mr. Howard is able to cater for the public with unerring instinct.

Mr. Tom Craven will produce another play from his prolific pen, at the Theatre Royal, Margate, on Monday. It is a melodrama of an elaborate character, and bears the attractive title of When a Lass Loves.

Mr. Allan Wilkie's Shakespearean company is to occupy the King's Hall, Ilkley, the week after Christmas, for a six nights' engagement. The Ilkley Urban District Council are responsible for the visit, and, as this is the first company engaged by them on shares, the event will be of much interest.

A special matinée in aid of the building fund of the Royal National Orthopædic Hospital will be given at the St. James's Theatre, on Thursday, Dec. 3. A brilliant programme will include Madame Albani, Mr. George Alexander, Mr. Louis Bradfield, Miss Lily Elsie, Miss Gertrude Elliott, Madame Liza Lehmann, Mr. G. P. Huntley, Miss Winifred Emery, Mlle. Lydia Kyasht, Mr. Cyril Maude, Miss Evelyn Millard, Mrs. Cecil Raleigh, Miss Ada Reeve, Sir Charles Santley, and Miss Marie Tempest. A special souvenir programme is being prepared for the occasion.

During the four years Mr. Fred J. Reece has been the acting-manager of the Royal Court Theatre, Warrington, he has established himself thoroughly in the hearts of the patrons of the theatre, and evidence of his popularity was forthcoming at a supper given in his honour on his severing his connection, consequent upon change of proprietorship, with the theatre. Mr. G. D. Bradbury (manager of the Palace and Hippodrome) presided over a large company, including the whole of the staff of the Royal Court Theatre, Mr. S. Smiley (new assistant-manager), Mr. Tubby Edlin, and Mr. Richards, of the Theatre Royal. Opportunity was taken to present Mr. Reece with an illuminated address, expressive of a feeling "beyond ordinary respect," and a purse from the staff of the theatre and friends. In making the presentation, Mr. Richards spoke highly of Mr. Reece's abilities, and said he had won respect from all with whom he had come in contact.

Mr. Reece, in reply, said that events such as that did not occur in the annals of every man's history, but when they did, the remembrance of them must stand out like landmarks. He would not forget that evening, and he thanked all present for honouring him as they had done. He wanted to take the opportunity of saying that during the period he had been in Warrington he had been most comfortable and happy. During that time he had enjoyed the confidence of his proprietors, Messrs. Johnson and Potter. Mr. Reece said he would like to inform the staff that if it suited their own arrangements they would all be retained by the new proprietor, and he was sure they would serve Mr. Beecham as diligently as they served the old management.

Mr. Mayor-Cooke reaches his 100th performance of Captain Rudolph, in The Midnight Wedding, at Brixton on Monday. This is the second Lyceum success, by Walter Howard, with which Mr. Mayor-Cooke has been associated, he having created the part of Prince Ulric, in Her Love Against the World.

After three weeks' record business in the Black Country, Mr. Allen Wilkie returns to the Lancashire district for a month's run on Monday. A novel and magnificent set for the first act of the Merchant of Venice is shortly to be added to the scenic accessories of Mr. Wilkie's productions.

Miss Marie Tempest, Sir Charles Santley, and Mr. Ben Davies will sing at the Ristori Matinée at His Majesty's on Nov. 30.

Mr. J. Ernest Courtney, who for the past sixteen years has been connected with the Press, is returning to the stage, and will devote himself to the duties of business or acting-management.

The School Tenor Prize at the Guildhall School of Music has been won by Reginald T. Crawford, a pupil of Mr. Albert Reakes. The Alliston Fencing Prize was gained by Ethelmay Barwell Holbrook, pupil of Mr. Mortlake Mann.

The Marlborough Theatre will next week be occupied by Mr. Wentworth Croke's principal company in the new version of The Christian, by Hall Caine, which enjoyed such success at the Lyceum and Shaftesbury Theatres. New scenery and effects are carried.

A four-act play by Mr. Gerald Lawrence, entitled Into the Light, will be produced for the first time in London at the Court Theatre on Monday, Nov. 30. The music for this play has been composed by Mr. Lawrence, who will also play a principal part.

Mr. Stewart D. Wright, the energetic manager ahead for Mr. John Clyde and company in Hall Caine's great play, The Manxman, has just relinquished this engagement after a most successful tour of eighty-four towns in Scotland. Considering the scarcity of money and bad trade in the provinces, such a record speaks volumes in favour of so capable a pilot.

Mr. Harry P. Towers, who was associated with Messrs. Vedrenne and Barker during their management of the Court and Savoy Theatres, has been appointed acting-manager at the Savoy.

Eminent artists will take part in a concert which is to be given on Friday afternoon, the 27th inst., at Queen's Hall, in aid of St. George's Hospital and the Central London Ophthalmic Hospital. The concert is under the patronage of the Prince and Princess of Wales, and among those who have promised to contribute are Mme. Donalda, Mme. Kirkby Lunn, Miss Marie Tempest, Miss Cecilia Loftus, Mr. John McCormack, Sir Charles Santley, Mr. Maurice Farkoa, M. Jean Gerardy, and Mr. Malcolm Scott.

An imposing list of leading artists has been secured for a special matinée in aid of the Infants' Hospital, Vincent-square, Westminster, which will be given on Thursday, Nov. 26, at the Playhouse, under the immediate patronage of Queen Alexandra and other distinguished people. Sir Charles Wyndham, Miss Mary Moore, and Mr. Robert Lorraine will play a scene from Still Waters Run Deep, Mr. Cyril Maude and the Playhouse company will be seen in the one-act play French as he is Spoke, Mr. Henry Ainley, Mr. Leslie Faber, and Miss Lilian Braithwaite will appear in a new one-act play by Ella Hepworth-Dixon called The Rosalba, and Miss Winifred Emery, Miss Dorothy Fane, and Mr. Aubrey Smith will also present a new one-act play called St. Martin's Summer, by Cosmo Hamilton. Miss Marie Tempest, Mr. Forbes Robertson, Miss Ruth Vincent, and Miss Marie Dainton will also take part in the attractive programme.

Miss Jeannie Holmes, who has scored a great success as the Society Suffragette in the new musical comedy The Flower Girl, will probably appear in a principal part in one of the London pantomimes this Christmas.

The Lyric Opera House, Hammersmith, was packed from floor to ceiling on Tuesday last with a distinguished audience, including several ex-Mayors, Aldermen, and Councillors of Hammersmith. Mr. Wentworth Croke, the proprietor, had given his entire theatre free for that night to the West London Philanthropic Society to witness the performance of The Silver King, played by Messrs. G. M. Polini and Austin Melford's company. The whole of the receipts, which were secured at double the usual prices, were handed over to the society, who received a handsome and record cheque to add to their funds.

In the Dublin Court of King's Bench on the 11th inst. the case of the Provost and Fellows of Trinity College v. Madame Henrietta de Selby was concluded. The matter at issue was an alleged lease in respect of portion of the Queen's Theatre premises, of which plaintiffs as the landlords sought to recover possession, the lease, as they alleged, having expired. The motion was refused with costs.

"Tess of the D'Urbervilles," made into an opera by Frederick D'Erlanger, from a libretto by Signor Illica, was produced at Milan on Saturday at the Teatro dal Verme, and achieved a great success. Mr D'Erlanger is an English composer and has four operas to his credit, viz., Jéhan de Santré, Inez Mendo (which has been performed at Covent Garden), Noel (which has been accepted by the Opera Comique, Paris), and Tess.

Bernard Shaw's Arms and the Man has been made into an operetta under the title of The Brave Soldier, with text by Herr Jacobsohn, and music by Oscar Strauss. It was produced with success at Vienna on Saturday, the composer and artists being repeatedly called before the curtain.

A Shakespeare Service to be held at the Southwark Cathedral is to be a feature of next year's birthday celebrations, and will take place on April 23. The poet resided for many years and wrote some of his finest works within a few hundred yards of St. Saviour's Church, by which name the cathedral was then known. The committee appointed to consider what form the service shall take includes Mr. Henry Arthur Jones, Mr. A. W. Pinero, and Mr. Sidney Lee.

A short time ago Viscountess Galway wrote King Harry's Revel, an historical play, which was produced in the East Gardens at Serlby Hall. The aristocratic authoress has just completed two little plays, entitled My Lady's Garden and His Wedded Wife, and intends to produce them in her small theatre at Serlby Hall on the afternoon of Dec. 16.

"The Man from Mexico," a farcical comedy, by H. A. Du Souchet, which enjoys a record of over 2,000 performances in America and Australia, where it has been described as "the funniest farce that ever happened," will have its first London production at the Coronet Theatre on Monday. The piece is in the hands of Mr. Robert Arthur and Mr. George Willoughby's company, which includes Mr. Stanley Cooke, the well-known impersonator of Charley's Aunt.

The farce will be preceded by His Living Image, an original little Dutch play (with music), written by Stanley Cooke, who is also responsible for the lyrics. The little piece contains some quaint musical numbers composed by Arthur Wood. Special scenery from the brush of Philip Howden, and Dutch costumes made from designs of those actually worn by the inhabitants of the Island of Marken, Holland, in which place the action occurs, will be provided. The three parts of which the cast is composed will be sustained by Mr. Lytton Grey, Mr. Fred Lewis, and Miss Amy Francis.

Mr. Granville Barker, we regret to learn, is lying ill at Dublin, suffering from an attack of typhoid fever. On receipt of the sad news his wife, Miss Lillah McCarthy, at once proceeded to the Irish capital.

Messrs. Herbert Skardon and H. Sherwood Martin's Way of the World company has been meeting with extraordinary success during the past few months, and managers who have not booked it will do well to see the piece, which is, with one or two exceptions, booked right up to 1911. It is at the Star, Liverpool, next week, and thence proceeds to Greenwich, Dalston, Woolwich, Aldershot, and other dramatic centres.

Mr. William Lockhart, who is just concluding an eighteen months' engagement with Mr. James Welch, celebrated this week his twentieth anniversary in connection with theatrical life. It is, indeed, just a score of years since Mr. Lockhart started to build the ill-fated Metropolitan Theatre in Denver, Colorado.

"Beau Brocade," the highwayman, the latest dramatic work by the famous authors of The Scarlet Pimpernel, is paying a return visit to the Devonshire Park Theatre, Eastbourne, on Monday, the engangement of Mr. Reginald Dance and his company continuing throughout the week. Originally produced at this theatre on May 4, the cordial reception it then met with has been repeated at every London and provincial house since visited. The company is much the same as in the initial production, and besides Mr. Reginald Dance as the hero-highwayman and Miss Ruth Mackay as the heroine, includes Mr. Dalziel Heron, Mr. Edward Irwin, Mr. Stanley Lathbury, Mr. Frank Powell, Mr. Asheton Tonge, Mr. F. C. Darch, and Miss May Brooke. Mr. E. Cecil Price is the business manager.

The Annual Children's Booklet of the pantomime at Drury Lane Theatre will this year take a novel form. The subject, Dick Whittington, has been humorously treated by Miss Winnie Burnand, who has written the story and designed the illustrations for the volume. In addition to this there will be a packet of picture postcards further illustrating the well known nursery legend of the industrious apprentice who was thrice Lord Mayor of London. This pretty souvenir may be obtained by any child in London who forwards an application on a post card addressed to the Manager, Drury Lane Theatre.

Mr. Charles Frohman has obtained from Mr. W. Somerset Maugham a new play destined to follow the same brilliant author's Mrs. Dot, when it shall have run its lengthy course at the Comedy. The novelty is a light comedy in three acts, at present named Penelope, and the scenes are laid in London. Miss Marie Tempest will have the part of a young wife.

Miss Florence Imeson, the talented young comedienne whose career we reviewed in our issue of Feb. 19 last, has been engaged by Mr. T. B. Davis to play principal girl to Miss Ada Reeve's principal boy at the Shakespeare, Liverpool, this Christmas. Miss Imeson has just concluded a successful tour under Mr. Milton Bode's management, playing Miss Edna May's part in The Belle of Mayfair.

A musical festival will be held next spring in Liverpool under the auspices of the Musical League. In accordance with the objects of the League, the programme will include works consisting partly of new compositions, both English and foreign, and partly of older works of musical interest.

The autumn conference of the Girls' School Musical Union will be held, by permission of Sir Hubert Parry, this afternoon at the Royal College of Music. The objects of the society are to further the progress of music in secondary schools for girls throughout the British Empire, to provide teachers with the stimulus of social intercourse among professionals, and to offer facilities for the introduction of new ideas and the consideration of methods. Mrs. Moberly Bell will occupy the chair this afternoon, when a lecture will be given by Mrs. Rosa Newmarch on "Russian Music."

Miss Mouillot will make a welcome revival at the Court at Christmas, when Little Lord Fauntleroy will be presented, by arrangement with Mr. Will Dennis, who himself will play the part of the Earl of Dorincourt. The reproduction will take place on the afternoon of Boxing Day. Meanwhile Isaac's Wife, the new three-act play in which Mr. F. D. Bone is collaborating with Mr. W. Teignmouth Shore, will be produced at the Court on Dec. 6. The cast will include Miss Lucy Wilson, Mr. Charles Rock, Mr. Holmes Gore, Mr. H. Stephenson, Mr. Basil Mercer, and Miss Margaret Yarde.

Mr. Harcourt M. Beryl, son of Mr. H. Cecil Beryl, who was associated with his father as acting-manager and treasurer of the Theatre Royal, Brighton, for some years, and who since the latter left the Brighton theatre has been touring with Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison's Mrs. Dot company as business-manager in advance, has been selected by Mr. Robert Arthur as his acting-manager for his pantomime season at the Theatre Royal, Glasgow. It is interesting to know that Mr. Arthur is Mr. Harcourt M. Beryl's godfather, and that the Glasgow engagement will take him back to the scene of his boyhood days and of his father's triumphs in pantomime.

"The Flag Lieutenant" company paid a wonderfully successful visit to the Theatre Royal, Brighton, last week, playing to the packed houses usually associated with musical comedy. On the Thursday afternoon the house compared with some of the flying matinées of London successes to Brighton, a result which must have been very gratifying to Mr. Lyn Harding, who occupied a box on that occasion. Return dates have been arranged for all the towns already visited, and by next autumn a third company will be on the road.

"For Wife and Kingdom," a romantic drama, in four acts, by Ward Bailey, was produced for copyright purposes at the Grand Theatre, Brighton, on Thursday, Nov. 19. "Ward Bailey," it may be added, is the pen-name of the son of the proprietor of the West London.

Mr. Cecil Brooking, at the conclusion of The Hypocrites tour, has been engaged to play for two weeks in Mr. Cyril Harcourt's The Reformers.

On Sunday last the Broadway Theatre, New Cross, were defeated at football by the Stoke Newington Palace by six goals to nil. For the losers, Martin, the goalkeeper, played a capital game, but unfortunately had to retire in the second half through an injury to his shoulder. To-morrow Broadway meet Grand, Fulham, at Garrett-lane, Tooting, and a good game is anticipated.

At St. Nicholas' Cathedral, Newcastle-on-Tyne, on Wednesday last, Miss Daisy Lindon Travers, daughter of Mr. Lindon Travers, was married to Mr. Theodore W. Holzapfel, merchant, of Newcastle-on-Tyne. After the ceremony a reception was held by the bride's father and mother in the Old Assembly Rooms, at which about 120 guests assembled. The presents were very beautiful, and numbered 119.

Mr. Fowler Thatcher, who has successfully played principal comedy parts in fifteen pantomimes at the Crystal Palace, the Grand, Croydon, Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester, &c., is not yet definitely fixed for this year. Last year he settled his pantomime engagement on the Friday evening, travelled on the Saturday, and on the Monday played the Page, and Clown in the harlequinade. Mr. Thatcher has just finished twenty weeks' "Stoll" tour in one of the two comedy parts in Arthur Jefferson's Home from the Honeymoon company.

His Majesty the King, hearing of Mrs. F. M. Paget's serious illness, has honoured Mr. Paget with a letter from Windsor Castle, in which he commands Lord Knollys to ask Mr. Paget to express to his wife his sincere sympathy. We are happy to report that, although at one time Mrs. Paget's life was despaired of, the crisis has passed, and there are hopes of eventual recovery.

Mr. Julian Rutt has just completed the words and music of a coon serenade, entitled "Loo, Loo, come and bill and coo." It was sung for the first time on Thursday evening at the Theatre Royal, Colchester, by Miss Nellie Hodson, and met with great success.

The benefit matinée to Miss Dolores Drummond, announced for yesterday at the Playhouse, had, we regret to say, to be indefinitely postponed, owing to the fact that the booking was not sufficiently great to justify the performance being proceeded with. Miss Drummond's fifty-two years of service to the stage have been marked by such sterling work that it is incredible that the public should have been so lacking in support. The veteran actress expresses her thanks to her brother and sister artists, and especially to Mr. Lionel Brough, who had so readily come forward to assist at the matinée.

Imminent engagements for the Fulham football teams are as follow:—Fulham v. Leeds City, at Fulham this afternoon (kick-off 2.45). The home side consists of Skene, Lindsay, Charlton, Collins, Parsonage, Suart, Millington, Dalrymple, Harrison, Brown, Lipsham. South Eastern League: Fulham Reserves v. Portsmouth Reserves, at Portsmouth to-day. Southern Charity Cup: Fulham v. Luton, at Fulham, Nov. 25. Kick-off 2.45.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Lydia Thompson's Popularity.

"My friend, Mr. Fred Grove Palmer," says Rooty Tooty in the Sporting Times, "writes to remind me of an incident connected with Lydia Thompson's first appearance at the Strand Theatre, in William Brough's clever burlesque The Field of the Cloth of Gold. Lydia was playing Lord Darnley, and her first line was:—

"'Have I done right in coming to this place?'

"This was greeted with such a shout of 'Yes' that the progress of the piece was delayed for what seemed many minutes. The meaning of the couplet was almost forgotten by the time the next line—

"'Where I shall meet King Henry face to face' was spoken."

Toole and the Boy.

"NUMBERLESS occasions of idle hours spent in Toole's company I could recall," says Mr. Comyns Carr in "Some Eminent Victorians," "but they must all be shorn of the presence of the comedian himself, whose incomparable temperament as a humorist gave them point and zest. One day I remember, a day of an early spring, he had a fancy that we should journey towards Hampstead, and accordingly we drove till we reached the well-known tea-gardens of the Spaniard's Inn on the road towards Highgate. The gardens were deserted, and a bleak wind was blowing through the empty bowers, inhabited on that morning only by a little boy, who, with a small, and, as it seemed to us, inadequate little broom, was dusting the seats in preparation for the influx of visitors that would come later in the season.

"THIS small boy was of almost forbidding mien and decidedly surly in manner, but these external evidences of discouragement seemed only to fire Toole in his desire to make his better acquaintance. He complimented the urchin upon his dexterous use of the broom, a compliment to which the surly boy vouchsafed no audible reply. Toole, entirely undaunted, persisted in his overtures of friendship. 'That's right, my lad,' he cried, 'use your broom, and when you go to bed at night hang it up by the side of your bed.' This injunction, so entirely unsolicited, seemed to rouse the boy's ire, and his dormant powers of speech suddenly returning, he inquired of Toole, in tones that were almost indignant, 'Why should I?' 'Because,' answered Toole, with a persuasive manner that seemed to convey a convincing argument, 'if by chance you should wake in the night, there's your little broom.'

"The boy, to do him justice, seemed by no means appeased by this obvious explanation, and reverted again to his aimless occupation of dusting the vacant seats of the untenanted bowers of the tea-gardens. Whereupon Toole, still undefeated, attacked the citadel from another quarter. 'When is your birthday?' he inquired, and the boy, entirely taken off his guard, replied, 'Tomorrow,' and then, again entrenching himself safely behind his bastion of surly reserve, demanded in trenchant tones, 'What's that got to do with you?' 'Oh, nothing, nothing,' replied Toole, 'only I thought I'd like to know if there was anything in particular you'd like for a birthday present.'

"THE boy, at first obdurately silent, at last yielded under pressure, and confessed that the dream of his life was to possess a bicycle. 'Why not?' said Toole. 'There's nobody going to give me no bicycle,' replied the boy, although his mood was now obviously melting under the infectious influence of the comedian's good-humour, and as we went towards the gate to get into our carriage the boy followed us, as though under some kind of spell induced by Toole's suggestion, 'that you never knew who might send you the present you wanted.'

"IT chanced that just at the entrance of the tea-gardens two bicycles were leaning against a hedge, and their two owners, flushed with exercise, were seated in jerseys beneath a tree quaffing a pot of ale. 'Why,' cried Toole, in tones of wondering amazement, as though he saw before him the fulfilment of his own prophecy, 'there is your bicycle!' The boy was bewitched. Without halt or pause he seized one of the vacant machines, and before interference was possible had mounted it and was riding down the road to Highgate, the owner, roused from his refreshment, starting in pursuit. In a moment he returned, drawing his machine with one hand and holding the boy by the collar with the other. 'This is your fault,' he cried indignantly to Toole, 'you encouraged him.' 'Well,' replied Toole, with the blandest of smiles, 'you can't blame the boy, he was only trying if it fitted him.' The poor little fellow, now almost in tears, looked ruefully at us as we drove away. But there is a pretty ending to the story, for I happen to know that on the next day, which was his birthday, Toole sent him a little bicycle for his own."

Irving's Addition.

"ONE incident," says Mr. W. H. Pollock in his "Impressions" of the late actor, "is a proof of Irving's readiness to hear and to profit by reasoned objections. Many actors, when they have to depict emotion without speech assigned by the author, find it a help to murmur to themselves words illustrating the feeling by which they are to be animated. Sometimes, instead of murmuring, they speak unconsciously so loud as to be audible in front. I am pretty sure that Irving did not habitually resort to this device for soothing the way of by-play, but he used it during the war of wits with Beatrice in the masked scene, and, by an oversight, fell upon employing an entirely modern phrase to express his discomfiture. The words caught my ear on the first night with a momentary impress of uneasy surprise; but I regarded the matter as an accident and gave it no further thought.

"FOR one reason and another it was some time before I paid another visit to the theatre, and, meanwhile, I heard from Clifford Harrison, an admirer of Irving and a keen Shakespearean student, that, on the night of his visit, the same words had been audibly spoken and had disturbed his sense of the fitness of things. Upon this hint I spoke, hurrying my next visit to the Lyceum on purpose to do so. Irving was genuinely surprised and distressed by what I told him. 'Do I say that really?' he asked. 'Quite wrong of course, quite wrong and out of place. Must be seen to at once.' The piece had then been running so long that I suppose he would have found it very difficult to drop altogether the habit of the aside which was no aside; but from that moment he brought its phraseology into consonance with the surrounding text."

Tennyson on the Drama.

MR. HALL CAINE, in "My Story," quotes a letter from the late Lord Tennyson on the failure of The Promise of May. The poet wrote:—

"'I should feel myself very ungrateful if I did not write my thanks for your kind and sympathetic letter.

"'I meant Edgar to be a shallow enough theorist. I never could have thought that he would have been taken for an "ordinary free-thinker."

"'The British drama must be in a low state indeed if, as certain dramatic critics have lately told us, none of the great moral and social questions of the time ought to be touched upon in a modern play.

"'A. TENNYSON.'"

O.P. CLUB DINNER.

Miss Hilda Trevelyan and Mr. Gerald du Maurier were the honoured guests of the O.P. Club at its ninth annual dinner held on Sunday evening at the Criterion Restaurant. Mr. Max Pemberton, the president of the club, presided over a very large gathering of members and friends, amongst whom were Miss Lilian McCarthy, Mrs. Gerald du Maurier, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hentschel, Miss Helena Millais, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Desprez, Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Parker, Mr. Sydney Valentine, Miss Marie Dainton, Mr. Alfred Robbins, Mr. Harry Randall, Miss May Baskerville, Miss Irene Goulston, Miss Beatrice Lindley, Mr. W. H. Berry, and Mr. T. McDonald Rendle.

The CHAIRMAN proposed the toast of "The Drama." He expressed the opinion that the drama of to-day owed much to its exponents—the actors and actresses—who were in the main true servants of their art, and who showed themselves to be fully conscious of the great traditions that governed the stage-presentation of dramatic works.

MISS HILDA TREVELYAN, replying to the toast, said: I understand, ladies and gentlemen, that you want me to tell you to-night what is to be the future of the drama. The future of the drama, ladies and gentlemen, lies in the hands of woman. Do you know what we women are going to do in the drama? We are going to throw off the mask. Heaven help you, O men! Up to now you men have so amused us in the drama—there has been such a pathetic side to your misunderstanding of us—that we haven't had the heart to undeceive you. It seemed such a shame to take away your rattles. The things you make us do in drama, so that you should do better things! The holes you pushed us into, so that you should lift us out! And we've pretended it was all just so, because, O, gentlemen, you are our one joke. It is said we haven't much sense of humour, because we don't laugh at your jokes. Gentlemen, our joke is such a good one that we have no time to bother with yours. Every woman knows that. Well, we have decided to tell the truth about woman in the drama. Of course you will put the police on us, but we don't care. We are to begin with Shakespeare—to tell the truth about his women. Incidentally this will include telling the truth about men. That is why you will put the police on us. The first play is to be The Taming of the Shrew, and I am to be Katherine. I'm to give a new reading—with the hidden meaning. For it's quite true that there is a cryptogram in Shakespeare's plays, which tells, among other things, who was the real author of them. Kate wasn't a shrew. Women are never shrews. No! She was the gentlest little thing—quite the average woman—and when she heard that a roaring blade had come to Padua, swearing that he feared no woman, she took his measure at once. She saw immediately that he was just the kind of man that any girl can turn round her finger. All you have to do is to make them think they are the master, and when she fooled him in this way at their first meeting, he roared out that he would marry her on Sunday, which was the day she had already fixed on. From first to last he played into her hands. She had a bet with Bianca that she would make him carry her in his arms out of the house. Then she said to him, "You mustn't carry me out of the house." He hadn't thought of it, but he immediately roared "I will"; and he did. He was as simple as that. Then when they got to their home and he wouldn't give her any food! She took his behaviour pretty well, didn't she? But the scene takes on a new meaning when I tell you that, unknown to him, she had half a chicken and a bottle of wine in her dressing bag. And then her clothes! The gowns and things he would not let her wear, and tore to pieces, because she liked them. Gentlemen, the explanation is that she didn't like them. They weren't new; they were some last year things she had stuffed into her trunks, saying to her father, "I'll pretend to dear Petruchio that I am fond of them, then he will destroy them; then he will be so proud of having shown himself my master that he will buy me a new trousseau." You remember when they were returning to Padua, they met a young man, and Petruchio said, "What a pretty girl!" Kate didn't contradict him, she only said, "Don't make me embrace her." Then Petruchio at once roared, "By heaven you shall!" and she did. She had planned it that way as soon as she saw the boy. He was an old lover of hers, and she wanted to be nice to him for the last time. That is how we are to give the play at the Duke of York's; and if you re-read it carefully you will find that we shall be able to do it without altering a line. Of course, Kate never told Petruchio the truth about the affair. Sometimes she meant to, but when she saw him so proud of himself she couldn't. And Shakespeare never knew the truth about it either. He thought—he really did—that it was a story of the triumph of man. Of course Ann Hathaway knew, but she wouldn't hurt her husband. And when he read out the last scene to her, she just stroked his hair, and smiled and said, "My divine William"—with an emphasis on the divine. She was the first to call Shakespeare "The divine William." Every woman knows why.

MR. GERALD DU MAURIER, responding to the same toast, said that nowadays acting, as at some trading stores, was a question of department. Supposing an actor made an enormous success as a crippled Welsh dentist, that was the end of him. He might play some other part very creditably, but would be told by the critics that he had struggled hopelessly with a rôle not in his line. It was a lamentable thing that the actor or actress should be expected to paint one picture year in year out, or rather one year in and two or three years out. If he was a specialist he got a job once in two or three years; if he was a general practitioner he probably never got a job at all.

Mr. F. D. BONE, the vice-president of the club, in proposing "The Ladies," said that in the dramatic world the sexes met on equal terms. Woman, whether as dramatist, actress, or playgoer, was welcome in the fascinating life of the playhouse, for she introduced into its general spirit her three most characteristic virtues—patience, mercy, and tolerance.

Miss LILLAH MCCARTHY, in responding, said women had a distinct grievance as far as the theatre was concerned. The census returns showed that they were in a vast majority over men, yet the cast of the average play contained, as a rule, about six men to one woman. The dramatist who would remedy this evil would earn the thanks of all actresses.

MR. SIDNEY DARK proposed the health of the chairman, to which Mr. MAX PEMBERTON responded in an amusing speech, and read a short letter of compliment which he had just received from Mr. J. M. Barrie.

The entertainment was contributed to very agreeably by Miss Marie Dainton, with clever burlesques and imitations, Miss May Baskerville, Mr. Arthur Grover, Miss Irene Goulston, Miss Beatrice Lindley, Mr. W. H. Berry, Mr. Whitworth Mitton, Mr. Wilson James, Mr. John Wightman, and Miss Ruby Wilson. Mr. Sinclair Mantell and Mr. Herman Finck were the accompanists.

"HAVANA," at the Gaiety, reaches its 200th performance to-night.

THE Liverpool Haymarket, in Beau-street, which for some years has had ups and downs, is to be reopened by Mr. Frank Emery, to whom a licence was granted on Tuesday. Mr. Emery was well known to Liverpool playgoers in the early eighties, when he held the lease of the Prince of Wales's Theatre.

DEATH OF LYDIA THOMPSON.

Miss Lydia Thompson, who died on Wednesday at the age of seventy-two, was a link with a past generation of playgoers. At the height of her fame she was a popular idol. In some of the European capitals she was serenaded by torch-light; the bootblacks of Cincinnati subscribed their dimes and presented her with a silver wreath; and the thrashing which she administered to a Chicago editor who had written lightly of her troupe of "blondes" was one of the sensations of the seventies. Miss Thompson in her prime was the essence of graceful gaiety and light frivolity, and was one of the "shining lights" of the palmy days of British burlesque.

She made her professional début as a principal in the ballet at Her Majesty's Theatre, in 1852. The following year (Dec. 26) Lydia Thompson began her career in that line of dramatic business in which afterwards she took the lead in London in acting Little Silverhair, in the Christmas piece produced at the Haymarket Theatre, entitled Little Silverhair; or, Harlequin and the Three Bears. In 1854 she took part in a "pretty dance" in the production at the St. James's Theatre, under the management of Mrs. Seymour, of the drama by Tom Taylor and Charles Reade entitled The King's Rival, in which Toole appeared as Samuel Pepys; and in the same year she played Little Bo-Peep in the Christmas piece of that title produced at the Haymarket. In the winter of 1856 she paid a visit to Germany, where she successfully appeared as a dancer in many of the principal theatres. In 1859 (Nov. 16), Miss Thompson was again at the St. James's, assuming various disguises in a piece by Leicester Buckingham entitled Cupid's Ladder; and afterwards, still at the St. James's, she enacted Cygnetta, in a fairy spectacle entitled Swan and Edgar. At the same theatre, the following year, in a "ballet-cum-burlesque" entitled My Name is Norval, she played the part of Young Norval. On Monday, April 9, 1860, Miss Thompson appeared at the Lyceum Theatre in a burlesque, originally played by members of the Savage Club for a charitable purpose, entitled The Forty Thieves; and subsequently, Nov. 5, 1860, as Fanchette, in The Pets of the Parterre, written by Stirling Coyne. In 1861, Aug. 19, first performance at the same theatre of Falconer's play Woman; or, Love Against the World, she acted the character of Norah; and in an afterpiece, by the same author, entitled The Fetches, the part of Mary Brady. But Miss Lydia Thompson is best remembered as a sparkling and extremely clever actress in burlesque, in which for many years few excelled her on the London stage. Perhaps the best examples of her excellence in this department of the histrionic art have been witnessed in such pieces as Der Freischütz, H. J. Byron; The Field of the Cloth of Gold, W. Brough; and Blue Beard. Miss Lydia Thompson met with well-deserved success on the American stage. It was in October, 1868, that she made her début at Wood's Theatre and Museum, New York, in F. C. Burnand's burlesque, entitled Ixion; or, the Man at the Wheel. Although her intention was to remain in America only six months, she stayed there for about six years. She made her reappearance on the London stage at the Charing Cross Theatre, afterwards called the Folly, and, subsequently, Toole's. Her husband, Mr. Alexander Henderson, had become the lessee of this house, and on Sept. 19, 1874, Miss Thompson appeared as Selim in H. B. Farnie's burlesque, Blue Beard, the other principals being Lionel Brough, Blue Beard; Mr. Willie Edouin, who made his first appearance in this country, the Heathen Chinee; Mrs. Edouin (the late Alice Atherton), Blue Beard's "buttons"; Mr. Alfred Bishop, Ibrahim; Miss Kathleen Irwin, Fatima; and Miss Topsy Venn, Hassan. On Nov. 11, 1876, she appeared in the title-rôle of Farnie's burlesque Robinson Crusoe. Miss Thompson was afterwards seen at the Globe, the Royalty, the Criterion, the Crystal Palace, and in the leading provincial theatres. She was the Morgiana in the famous amateur burlesque at the Gaiety in 1877. It was in the year 1871 that Miss Thompson raised the large sum of £1,000 in New Orleans by her personal exertions at a benefit for the succour of the French actors and actresses in Paris starved out by the Commune. For this she was made a life honorary member of the Parisian Actors' Benevolent Fund.

[Photo by London Stereoscopic Co.

THE LATE MISS LYDIA THOMPSON.

In 1895 she was engaged for a small part in An Artist's Model at Daly's. On May 2, 1899, she had a benefit at the Lyceum Theatre, when The First Night, the third act of London Assurance, and the second act of The Wedding March were given, Miss Thompson playing the Marchioness of Market Harborough in the last-named selection, and reciting an expressive address written by Mr. W. S. Gilbert, and Sir Henry Irving saying a few kindly words of his "old friend and comrade." Her last appearance was made on Feb. 11, 1904, at the Imperial Theatre in Mr. John Davidson's adaptation of Ruy Blas, entitled A Queen's Romance. The funeral will take place at Kensal Green Cemetery at half-past twelve on Monday.

AT the morning performance of The Belle of Brittany at the Queen's Theatre on Saturday an elderly lady—dressed girlishly—asked the attendant if it was necessary to remove her hat. The attendant, thinking the lady was well over the age limit, replied, "No, madam; the rule does not apply to ladies over fifty." "You are most insulting!" exclaimed the lady; "of course I shall remove my hat."

MR. WALTER DEAN, the acting-manager and treasurer of the Grand, Swansea, will in January next take the road for seven months, as busines-manager for Mr. E. Oswald Brooks's company, who will tour with The New Housemaid.

CHARITY MATINEE AT THE NEW.

It was unfortunate for the cause that Miss Olive Christian Malvery has so much at heart that the matinée in aid of her Shelter for Homeless Women, for which she was responsible at the New on Tuesday, was so poorly attended. Into the cause of this meagre support it is not necessary to inquire, but even the excuse of charity did not justify the presentation of two plays from the pen of Miss Catherine Lewis, plays which should never be seen outside a schoolroom. It appears that under the title of "England's Throne," Miss Lewis has written a history of England in dramatic form, and the series dealing with the Wars of the Roses, from the death of Henry V. to the coronation of Henry VII., comprises no fewer than fifty-four short playlets. We can understand the extreme usefulness of these works in training a class at a girls' college, but their value for the stage is nil. The Love Story of King Edward the Fourth, an historical episode in two scenes, which was given without scenery, is quite correct in its historical data, and there is some chance for the "players" in the meeting of the King and Elizabeth Woodville, but its representation on Tuesday was amateurish, the only noticeable point about the acting being the imitation—possibly unintentional—by one of the young actors of Mr. Tree. Edward the Fourth's Marriage, and Rupture with Warwick, the Kingmaker, formed the sequel to the above playlet.

Something more dramatic and interesting came with the production of Miss Catherine Lewis's one-act comedy,

"NELL GWYNNE, THE PLAYER."

Nell Gwynne ..... MISS JEAN AYLWIN
Charles II. ..... MR. CHARLES QUARTERMAINE
Duchess of Portsmouth ..... MISS EDYTH OLIVE
Call Boy ..... MR. BASIL OSBORNE

Charles the Second comes behind the scenes of Old Drury, where Nell Gwynne is playing, and is followed by the Duchess of Portsmouth, who watches with jealous eye the growing passion of the "merry monarch" for the "orange girl." Nell in her amour makes a distinction. She is content to love Charles; the Duchess owns her passion for the King, who is in the heyday of his infatuation for the actress. The Duchess is eventually snubbed most unmistakably, and Nell goes off in her rival's chair to sup with the King at Whitehall. Miss Jean Aylwin, who looked pretty as a picture, gave the saucy speeches of Nell with much effect, and infused some pathos into Nell's account of the self-sacrifice of a link-boy, her first love. Miss Edyth Olive struggled bravely with the unsatisfactory part of the Duchess; and Mr. Charles Quartermaine made a courtly gallant of the reckless Charles.

To the "incidentals" Mrs. Tree contributed a recitation of "Lorraine, Lorraine Loree," and added Scott's poem of "Lochinvar," being very heartily received, Mr. Henry Ainley recited a short poem by James Whitcomb Riley, "Just as mother makes it"; but this was much too short, and, the audience demanding more, the popular actor gave a pathetic poem, entitled "Don't cry, little girl," with a touching simplicity that reached all hearts. He then responded again to the applause by reciting as a poem the German song, "The Millwheel," otherwise "In Sheltered Vale," playing the well-known melody as his own accompaniment to an admirable delivery of the verses. Miss Maude Smithers also accompanied herself, and showed marked ability in her recitations, "Queen Mab" and in "Little Urchin" stories. Miss Dinorben obliged with "Ma cœur s'ouvre a ta voix," from Saint-Saëns's Samson et Dalila, and "Love is meant to make us glad"; and a lady with a charming contralto voice and an excellent style gave "The sweetest flower that blows" and other songs. Miss Jessie Bristol, a young pianist of much ability, scored by her rendering of Liszt's "Ballade in B minor" and Paderewski's "Variation in A major." Mr. Arthur L'Estrange accompanied artistically and played a couple of solos; and there were other soloists whose names were not on the programme. Mr. Edmund Waller stage-managed. At the conclusion of the entertainment, on behalf of Miss Olive Christian Malvery, a lady officer of the Salvation Army, and one prominently associated in its rescue work, said a few words concerning Miss Malvery's endeavour to found and endow a 2d. night shelter, which will give 200 women a clean resting-place. The speaker told harrowing tales of the cold and hunger and disease endured by women and children uncared for—the flotsam and jetsam of the richest city in the world. Miss Ada Reeve and Miss Marie George, who were announced on the programme, were unable to appear.

£61 14s. was earned as a result of the matinée. Of this, the Shelter receives £34 13s.. Miss Lewis's expenses were £27 1s. She will meet the deficit of £7 15s. 6½d. herself.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The students' Chamber Concert at Queen's Hall on Wednesday afternoon, as usual, attracted a large audience. Several new compositions by students were given, but the most important was an Elegy, for twenty-four violins and organ, by Mr. F. Corder, performed by Professors and students of the Royal Academy of Music, in memory of Master Victor Harris, a clever pupil who died this year, aged thirteen years. Mr. Corder's Elegy proved a distinct success; it is well written and very impressive in effect, while the solemn tones of the organ introduced towards the close are most cleverly managed, and aid in giving a rich and full sound to the Elegy. In the Coda the "Dresden Amen" is combined with the first subject. Mr. Corder, in the programme, modestly says the Elegy "may suggest thoughts of earthly strife and heavenly rest—or it may not. Much depends upon the listener." Under the direction of the composer, the Professors, Messrs. Josef Blahá, Philip Cathie, Spencer Dyke, Alfred Gibson, W. Frye Parker, Hans Wessely, and Louis Zimmermann, with the students, gave an excellent performance of the Elegy. The Trio (MS.) in E for violin, violoncello, and pianoforte, by Miss Ethel F. Woodland, played by Miss Irene Richardson Le Brun, Mr. John Mundy, and Miss Elsie Jones, is a cleverly-written, even if somewhat colourless, work. The best movement was the Finale Allegro Vivace. The Five Preludes for piano, by Miss Olive Turner, also proved a worthy and talented composition by a student; they were admirably played by Miss Kathleen Thomson, and much applauded by the audience. In two new songs, "Strew on her roses" and "A Song of March," Miss Alma Goatley, the composer, displays talent, although the sombre and slightly morbid character of the first and better song was depressing. Miss Dorothy Webb was the vocalist. Miss Gertrude Inglis used her pleasing voice with a fair amount of success in Puccini's song "Si, Mi, chiamano Mimi," from La Bohème, and Mr. Barry Coney was equally effective in his song "Young Dietrich" (George Henschel); while Miss Elsie Owen received warm applause for her fine performance of Vieuxtemps's violin solo Fantasia Appassionata. Allegro ma non troppo and Andante con moto (Elégie), from Dvorák's Quartet in E flat for two violins, viola, and 'cello, was ably rendered by Mr. Henry O. Parsons, Miss Elsie Owen, Mr. Edwin Quaife, and Mr. John Mundy. In Max Bruch's "Ave Maria," Mr. John Mundy produced a full, rich, and expressive tone from his violoncello, and Miss Eugénie Ritte may be heartily commended for her careful singing of Rossini's "Non più mesta." Sir A. C. Mackenzie's lively air, "The Pedlar's Song," was capitally sung by Mr. Robert Veevers. Other clever students were Miss Evelyn Dawkin, heard in Five Studies—pianoforte, by Poldini; and Miss Dot Lyons, who gave a harp solo of John Thomas's "Winter."

THE ARGONAUTS.

The Argonauts' Society gave an entertainment on Friday afternoon, the 13th inst., at the Rehearsal Theatre, Maiden-lane. A novelty in the programme was a tragedy acted in "dumb show." This was

"JEALOUSY,"

A new wordless Play, by Marc Aubry, with music by Lucien de Flagny.

Pierrot ..... MR. QUENTIN AYRAULT
Le Beau Léandre ..... MR. ERIK STIRLING
Sylvette ..... MISS SHEBA BROZIL

It must be confessed that the audience did not give evidence of any great appreciation of Mr. Aubry's piece, and we are afraid that they would have been lacking in judgment had they done so. However, we will give the story of the piece. Sylvette, a milliner, is busily engaged in preparing a meal in honour of her lover, Le Beau Léandre. She is thinking how she first met him at a fair and how he caused her to forget her former lover, Pierrot. She is interrupted in the midst of her reflections by the sound of the Angelus, which reminds her of an errand she has forgotten, and she departs. Pierrot, in high spirits, enters and discovers the meal laid for two. His suspicions are aroused, but hearing the approaching footsteps of Sylvette, and hoping to surprise her, he conceals himself. Sylvette enters and lights the lamp; Pierrot steals behind her and kisses her. She imagines that it is Léandre, and is horrified to find in his place Pierrot. Getting no explanation of her strange attitude, Pierrot turns and sees the picture of Léandre; everything is now clear to him. She protests her innocence, but Pierrot, suspecting her deceit, discovers the cloak of the soldier in the cupboard. Beside himself with rage, he seizes the knife and is about to kill her when Léandre enters. The soldier threatens Sylvette, but Pierrot interposes himself between them. Léandre enraged, draws his sword; Pierrot seizes the knife, at the sight of which Léandre collapses. Pierrot breaks the sword in two and turns Léandre out of the house. Sylvette, furious, refuses to fly with Pierrot, and taking off the locket he gave her throws it at his feet, bidding him go alone. Pierrot conceals the knife and tells Sylvette he is willing to go, but begs for one kiss. She, glad to be rid of him, consents, and as she approaches he stabs her. Horrified at his deed, he falls insensible across her dead body. The playlet, which was produced under the supervision of Mme. Cavalazzi, failed to bring glory to any of its interpreters.

Another one-act play was

"THE BLACK DEVIL."

The Sicilian tragic episode, by Carlo Broggi, translated and produced by Herbert Dansey.

Toto ..... MR. LAUDERDALE MAITLAND
Don Luigi ..... MR. HERBERT DANSEY
Police Officer ..... MR. A. THOMPSON
Tresa ..... MISS JANET ALEXANDER

In this we had a much more satisfactory production. "The Black Devil" is one Toto, a reckless, but manly village dare-devil who has found Tresa, whom he loves very dearly, refuge in his cottage. Tresa has compromised herself with a rich young landlord, Don Luigi, at a time when she believed in his promise to marry her. Accordingly she was dishonoured in the eyes of the villagers, and her family turned from her. To Toto's cottage there arrives Don Luigi, who announces to Tresa his approaching marriage, and endeavours to mollify her by the offer of money, which she indignantly refuses. As Luigi is passing from the cottage, Tresa calls to Toto to shoot, and the Black Devil obeys her with fatal result to the Don. The curtain falls on a scene in which Toto and Tresa are joined in a loving embrace. Mr. Lauderdale Maitland acted magnificently as the Black Devil, and in speaking of the wrongs of the poor and their oppression by the rich reached a high degree of tragic intensity. Miss Janet Alexander was also eminently successful in the rôle of Tresa, and Mr. Herbert Dansey furnished an appropriate characterisation of the heartless Don Luigi.

The other item was

"THE RENEWAL."

A Comedy, in One Act, from the Italian,
By Ben Phillips.

Donna Paola Monteforte.. MISS MAUD MAGRATH
Maria ..... MISS MAIMIE STUART
Gaspare ..... MR. ALEXANDER
Count Malatesta ..... MR. HERBERT DANSEY
Umberto ..... MR. QUENTIN AYRAULT

Donna Paola Monteforte and Count Malatesta had loved each other in long days gone by, but had quarrelled over the way in which the minuet should be danced, and had not seen each other for more than a score of years. They meet again, the count a widower with a son who falls in love with Donna Paola's niece. History repeats itself, for the two young people also quarrel over the steps of the minuet as their elders had done. However, everything ends happily in a dance, and we learn that there is going to be a double wedding. The performances of the different characters were quite adequate.

Madame Menzies and Little Olivia also contributed to the afternoon's entertainment by song and dance respectively.

BANDMANN'S THEATRE, BOMBAY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The Ellis Opera Company has occupied the boards here during the last fortnight in a well-selected répertoire of the latest London successes, The Girl Behind the Counter, Amasis, Blue Moon, The Belle of Mayfair, &c. The company, which tours twenty-five artists strong, has covered the whole of the various stations in India, and has earned an enviable name as one of, if not the most, compact little show that has toured India. Certainly no pains has been spared in mounting the various pieces.

Mr. Fred Ellis is personally a host in himself, always keeping the house in a roar of laughter with a succession of topical jokes, which rarely fail to reach their mark.

On Wednesday the garden of the theatre was invaded by a huge army of locusts, they being attracted by the brilliant arc lights. During one of Mr. Ellis's scenes he was continually being interrupted by one of the unwelcome insects, which had got inside the theatre. It was captured at last, and the audience were given an exhibition of jumping by it, accompanied by a host of witty remarks by the exhibitor. It was a tremendous hit, and the whole audience roared with laughter.

Mr. Rooney, a pleasant tenor, and W. P. Morgan, baritone, were always strong in their respective parts, whilst the old favourites, Messrs. Chas. Osborne and Pat Sullivan, were again accorded a warm and hearty welcome to Bombay. Mr. Osborne has made a great success in his portrayals of foreign characters, especially the German, whilst the songs and dances of Mr. Sullivan livened up the various shows. Coming to the ladies, Miss Lizzie Primmer is a really talented little lady, and one the company must indeed be proud of. In each and every part she played the audiences were captivated, and numerous encores were demanded each evening. Miss Doreen O'Connor made some specially brilliant performances, notably in The Blue Moon and The Gay Parisienne. She is an artist who always gets right into the Bombay theatre-goer's heart, and he always welcomes "Doreen" in a manner peculiarly his own.

"THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT," for actor and composer, by Albert A. Strong, LL.B. (Lond.). Price 3s. 6d., post free 3s. 10d. Published at The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

A VOICE TRIAL.

The following description is taken from Mr. C. H. Dudley Ward's intense and deeply-felt stage story "View Thy Trespass," just published by John Ouseley:—

"At last Mary was outside the stage door. There were a good many girls waiting. Mary eyed them for a moment, then thinking that they might not be going to the trial she decided to go boldly up to the door and enquire. There was a grey-haired, red-faced, bleary-eyed porter there, reading a dirty copy of the Daily Mail.

"'I want to go to the voice trial,' she said.

"'All right, miss. Just wait outside for a minute, you're a bit early yet,' answered the porter, looking up from his paper, but keeping his forefinger on the line he was reading.

"Mary stood outside with the other girls. She looked at them sharply, analysing them, examining their dresses, wondering who they were. They all carried rolls of music, and she noticed that none of the rolls were tied up, and as hers was, she occupied herself in taking off the string. Just as she had finished, the red-faced porter said to the girl nearest to the door, 'You can go in now.'

"Immediately there was a move in the little crowd for the door. Mary hung back a bit, so that she could have someone to follow. They went along a narrow passage and through another door, and found themselves on the stage. Mary was all eyes and ears. She was struck with the deserted look of the stage. The walls at the sides and the back were of yellow brick, not even plastered or painted. This was unexpected, although Mary had never given the matter a moment's thought, and would have been puzzled had she been asked to describe what she imagined a stage to be like from behind. There was some scenery leaning up against the back wall and a few baskets in one of the corners. High up over her head was lots more scenery hanging by ropes and packed close together—great pieces of canvas one behind the other.

"The curtain was up, so that she could see the auditorium, which, with its rows of empty seats and the decorations of the circles and boxes protected from dust by sheets, had a most forlorn appearance. On the stage, near the footlights, was a piano, and near it two men were talking. When all the girls had trooped in one of them took a step forward.

"'Now then, ladies, we will start. Who is the first?' Then, as nobody moved, each one desiring to avoid being first, he said, pointing to a big fair girl, 'Now, then, miss, hurry up! What's your name?'

"'Florence Langfier.'

"'What are you? Got a song? Right! Now start, please.'

"This girl sang rather well, and when she had finished her song the man nodded his head and said, 'Just run over a scale.'

"Mary listened, noting everything.

"'Ah, ha, ha, ha, ha,' sang the girl, running up the scale.

"'Langfier,' said the man, writing in a book. 'What address?'

"The girl gave it.

"'Now, next, please,' said the man, and the next girl came out and went through her song. Mary noticed that he did not ask everyone to sing a scale, and hoped he would not ask her. The thing seemed to be simple enough to her now, so she presently slipped closer to the end of the row of girls, so that her turn might come sooner.

"'What name?' said the man at last.

"'Mary Chaffers,' she replied, in her Cockney voice.

"'What are you?'

"'Soprano,' she replied, boldly handing over her song.

"'Killarney,' he read out. 'Thank the Lord, we've had five "Violets" already, and although this is not exactly new, it's a bit of a change.'

"Mary sang it through with credit. Her voice was not big, and could not be considered good, but she did sing in tune, which was more than most of the girls could do.

"'Now, then, a scale, please.'

"Mary gave a sigh. She was afraid of this, but pulling herself together she started, imitating as well as she could the big fair girl who had sung first.

"'That will do,' said the man, as she began to scream at the top notes, and Mary retired after giving him her address.

"'You're in luck,' said one of the girls.

"'Why?' she asked.

"'It generally means you will be engaged when he asks you to sing a scale.'

"'Does it! When will he let me know?'

"'Oh, you'll get a letter if he wants you,' and she advanced to sing her bit.

"Mary went home well pleased with herself."

THE LAW AND THE LIBRETTOS.

At Bloomsbury County Court, before Judge Bacon, the case of Cramer and Co. v. Otho Stuart was heard. The plaintiffs, Messrs. J. B. Cramer and Co., of Oxford-street, sought to recover from Mr. Otho Stuart, theatre proprietor, the sum of £21 17s. 6d. for 1,500 librettos of "Hoffmann's Tales," supplied by them to the defendant's order in April, 1907.

Mr. McCaskie was counsel for the plaintiffs and Mr. Bucknill for the defendants.

The defence was a denial of liability, the order, it being alleged, being given on behalf of a person other than the defendant.

The case for the plaintiffs was that they received an order for 1,500 librettos over the telephone by Mr. Leyel, the manager for Mr. Otho Stuart. Accounts were sent in, and the defendant denied liability.

Judge Bacon said that, in the ordinary way, Mr. Leyel giving orders as Mr. Otho Stuart's manager would bind him. The plaintiffs had put forward their claim, but it had been repudiated by the defendant, and that repudiation had been supported by evidence. In face of the testimony of Mr. Otho Stuart and Mr. Leyel, the plaintiffs had failed to substantiate their claim, and he gave judgment for the defendant, with costs.

Mr. Editor.—Sir,—Your notice in The Era, dated Nov. 14, 1908, re Lyric Theatre, Liverpool, should have read, Renée, as an instrumentalist, found great favour.—Yours faithfully, Mlle. Renee.

Price 3s. 6d. Post free 3s. 10d.

THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT FOR ACTOR AND COMPOSER.

By ALBERT A. STRONG, LL.B. (Lond.).

Chapter I.
COPYRIGHT AS OPPOSED TO PERFORMING RIGHT.

Chapter II.
PERFORMING RIGHT.

Chapter III.
INFRINGEMENT AND REMEDIES.

Chapter IV.
MUSICAL COPYRIGHT.

Chapter V.
INTERNATIONAL AND COLONIAL COPYRIGHT.

Mr. A. A. Strong has published a book on "The Law of Copyright for Actor and Composer," which should be in the hands of everyone who is obliged to know about this perplexing subject. Dramatic copyright in England is in a particularly unsatisfactory state, and it is much to be hoped that ere long some more rational method of securing protection for a play may be devised than the slovenly and sometimes costly "production for copyright purposes," which is at present required.—St. James's Gazette.

Published at "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

THE POETRY OF RACINE

When David painted his vast "Apotheosis of Homer," writes Mr. G. L. Strachey in the New Quarterly, he represented, grouped round the central throne, all the great poets of the ancient and modern worlds, with a single exception—Shakespeare. After some persuasion, he relented so far as to introduce into his picture a part of that offensive personage; and English visitors at the Louvre can now see, to their disgust or their amusement, the truncated image of rather less than half of the author of King Lear just appearing at the extreme edge of the enormous canvas. French taste, let us hope, has changed since the days of David; Shakespeare would doubtless now be advanced—though perhaps chiefly from a sense of duty—to the very steps of the central throne. But if an English popular painter were to choose a similar subject, how would he treat the master who stands acknowledged as the most characteristic representative of the literature of France? Would Racine find a place in the picture at all? Or, if he did, would more of him be visible than the last curl of his full-bottomed wig, whisking away into the outer darkness? There is something inexplicable about the intensity of national tastes and the violence of national differences. If, as in the good old days, I could boldly believe a Frenchman to be an inferior creature, while he, as simply, wrote me down a savage, there would be an easy end of the matter. But alas! nous avons changé tout cela. Now we are each of us obliged to recognise that the other has a full share of intelligence, ability, and taste; that the accident of our having been born on different sides of the Channel is no ground for supposing either that I am a brute or that he is a ninny. But, in that case, how does it happen that while on one side of that "span of waters" Racine is despised and Shakespeare is worshipped, on the other Shakespeare is tolerated and Racine is adored? The question is perplexing, and it has lately been illustrated in a singular way. Mr. J. C. Bailey, in his recent volume of essays entitled "The Claims of French Poetry," has discussed the qualities of Racine at some length, has placed him, not without contumely, among the second rank of writers, and has drawn the conclusion that, though indeed the merits of French poetry are many and great, it is not among the pages of Racine that they are to be found. Within a few months of the appearance of Mr. Bailey's book, the distinguished French writer and brilliant critic M. Lemaître published a series of lectures on Racine, in which the highest note of unqualified panegyric is sounded uninterruptedly from beginning to end. The contrast is remarkable, and the conflicting criticisms seem to represent, on the whole, the views of the cultivated classes in the two countries. And it is worthy of note that neither of these critics pays any heed, either explicitly or by implication, to the opinions of the other. They are totally at variance, but they argue along lines so different and so remote that they never come into collision. Mr. Bailey, with the utmost sang-froid, sweeps on one side the whole of the literary tradition of France. It is as if a French critic were to assert that Shakespeare, the Elizabethans, and the romantic poets of the nineteenth century were all negligible, and that England's really valuable contribution to the poetry of the world was to be found among the writings of Dryden and Pope. M. Lemaître, on the other hand, seems sublimely unconscious that any such views as Mr. Bailey's could possibly exist. Nothing shows more clearly Racine's supreme dominion over his countrymen than the fact that M. Lemaître never questions it for a moment, and tacitly assumes on every page of his book that his only duty is to illustrate and amplify a greatness already recognised by all. Indeed, after reading M. Lemaître's book, one begins to understand more clearly why it is that English critics find it difficult to appreciate to the full the literature of France. It is no paradox to say that that country is as insular as our own. When we find so eminent a critic as M. Lemaître observing that Racine "a vraiment 'achevé' et porté à son point suprême de perfection la tragédie, cette étonnante forme d'art, et qui est bien de chez nous: car on la trouve peu chez les Anglais," is it surprising that we should hastily jump to the conclusion that the canons and the principles of a criticism of this kind will not repay, and perhaps do not deserve, any careful consideration? Certainly they are not calculated to spare the susceptibilities of Englishmen. And, after all, this is only natural; a French critic addresses a French audience; like a Rabbi in a synagogue, he has no need to argue and no wish to convert. Perhaps, too, whether he willed or no, he could do very little to the purpose; for the difficulties which beset an Englishman in his endeavours to appreciate a writer such as Racine are precisely of the kind which a Frenchman is least able either to dispel or even to understand. The object of this article is, first, to face these difficulties, with the aid of Mr. Bailey's essay, which sums up in an able and interesting way the average English view of the matter; and, in the second place, to communicate to the English reader a sense of the true significance and the immense value of Racine's work. Whether the attempt succeed or fail, some important general questions of literary doctrine will have been discussed; and, in addition, at least an effort will have been made to vindicate a great reputation. For to a lover of Racine, the fact that English critics of Mr. Bailey's calibre can write of him as they do brings a feeling not only of entire disagreement, but of almost personal distress. Strange as it may seem to those who have been accustomed to think of that great artist merely as a type of the frigid pomposity of an antiquated age, his music, to ears that are attuned to hear it, comes fraught with a poignancy of loveliness whose peculiar quality is shared by no other poetry in the world. To have grown familiar with the voice of Racine, to have realised once and for all its intensity, its beauty, and its depth, is to have learnt a new happiness, and to have discovered something exquisite and splendid, significant beyond the boundaries of art. For such benefits as these who would not be grateful? Who would not seek to make them known to others, that they too may enjoy, and render thanks?

M. Lemaître, starting out, like a native of the mountains, from a point which can only be reached by English explorers after a long journey and a severe climb, devotes by far the greater part of his book to a series of brilliant psychological studies of Racine's characters. He leaves on one side almost altogether the questions connected both with Racine's dramatic construction and with his style; and these are the very questions by which English readers are most perplexed, and which they are most anxious to discuss. His style in particular—using the word in its widest sense—forms the subject of the principal part of Mr. Bailey's essay; it is upon this count that the real force of Mr. Bailey's impeachment depends; and indeed it is obvious that no poet can be admired or understood by those who quarrel with the whole fabric of his writing and condemn the very principles of his art.

Miss Nellie Sheldon, the daughter of Nellie Wilson, is delighting the audiences at Hastings with her smart turn.

Three Dublin photographers have ordered 9,000 picture post-cards of Miss Winifred Hare, who is principal boy this coming Yule at the Royal in that city. Miss Hare is a great favourite in the Irish capital, and on the occasion of her last visit the local stationers could not supply the demand for her picture. Hence the record orders now.

ADELPHI RECOLLECTIONS.

In "My Musical Life and Recollections," the late Jules Rivière writes:—"Business became slack at the Adelphi in 1865, and Benjamin Webster, who was always a man of resource, cast about for novelties. With this object in view, he went to Paris, where he bought the English rights of La Belle Hélène, which had just created a great stir in the French capital. This complete change of programme was one that gave me immense satisfaction, for I was beginning to get a little tired of writing what is called illustrative music of a stormy or melancholy kind, for blood-and-thunder or pathetic dramas; and it seemed to me that Offenbach's lively and graceful strains would be as welcome to the patrons of the theatre as they were to me—a surmise that events fully justified. Whilst Webster, therefore, was busy engaging a fresh set of artists for the operetta, I increased my orchestra, and engaged a good chorus, and the work of replacing melodrama by French comic opera was proceeded with. In spite of numerous rehearsals, as the first performance drew near, I could see that the choruses, which worked well enough when the pianoforte accompanist was with them, would be singing out of time if left to themselves, and at my suggestion, therefore, Webster adopted the French plan of having a prompter's box for the chorus master erected in the centre of the stage, and in front of the conductor's desk. This had to be hurriedly constructed to be in time for the inaugural performance, but a perfect ensemble was the result, and I rejoiced accordingly.

"Signor Lago, who was then a very young man, was the chorus master I have just referred to. I had chosen him for the post out of my orchestra, because he was a brilliant pianoforte player, and a very capable all-round musician. The circumstances under which I made the acquaintance of Signor Lago, who has since made a name for himself, are perhaps worth relating. He had visited Lafleur's shop in Green-street, for the purpose of buying a flute for one of his pupils, and as he was unable to speak English, the shopman appealed to me to interpret what the customer said. In the conversation that ensued, I learnt that Lago had just come from Madrid in search of an engagement, and upon ascertaining that he was a good pianist and an efficient violin player, I resolved, if possible, to give him a position in the Adelphi orchestra. It so happened, however, that a principal viola was the only vacancy I then had, and though Lago had to own to never having played the instrument (which, as musicians will know, is simply a change of key with the violin), upon his readily expressing his willingness to master the little difficulty at once, terms were soon arranged, even to the sale of the viola, which, I suggested, he should pay for by weekly instalments, his exchequer at the time being a very modest one. After a fortnight's practice Lago was principal viola in my orchestra, to our mutual satisfaction, I know. He proved so assiduous a worker, in fact, that when I came to compose the music for the Octoroon I gave him a viola solo, accompanied by stringed instruments, that proved a great success. Lago, in short, was a general favourite at the Adelphi, and during his engagement he was testimonialised by the artists and chorus singers for the assistance he had rendered them during the run of La Belle Hélène. The compliment was well deserved, and it was this probably (for the matter was fully reported in the theatrical papers),) that led to Signor Lago being noticed by Frederick Gye, who offered the young musician the post of second prompter at the Italian opera at Covent Garden, an engagement he was glad to accept. Lago, however, was not a man to remain long in a secondary position, and when the principal suggestore had to be replaced, it was my young protégé and friend who was promoted to the post, which is an important one. And so Lago went on, year after year, improving his position in England, and filling in his time in the winter with engagements in St. Petersburg, returning to London only for the season. Subsequently he travelled with Madam Patti, and, at a comparatively recent date, in partnership with his countryman, the Spanish tenor, Gayarré, Signor Lago was at the head of affairs for a season at Covent Garden, with very good results. Since then he has been impresario alternately in St. Petersburg and London, gaining the esteem and friendship of artists everywhere. His more recent exploits only call for passing mention from me, for it will be fresh in the public mind that it was to Signor Lago the musical world in London was indebted, in 1890, for his introduction in our midst of the sisters Ravogli, in Glück's opera, Orfeo. It was also to his enterprise in 1891 we owed the first production in England at the Shaftesbury of Mascagni's opera, Cavalleria Rusticana, that has since attained unprecedented popularity. Lago's unfortunate season at the Olympic, in 1892, though it ended in disaster for him, will also be pleasantly remembered by musical amateurs owing to the novelty recorded in connection with it. I refer to the production of Tschaikowsky's Eugène Onégin. This clever and talented musician has for years been honoured by the patronage of Queen Victoria, who, besides summoning him two years ago to Windsor for a performance of Cavalleria Rusticana, was graciously pleased to take the Royal box for the entire series of performances, during his two last seasons of opera.

"Of Jullien junior, who flourished (if he can be said to have flourished at all) at about the time that Lago was beginning to make a name in London, there is not the same record of success to chronicle, and yet he enjoyed the advantage, and not an inconsiderable one, of being the son of a gifted father. I well remember when he returned to London, after serving his time as kettle-drummer in the band of a regiment of French Lancers, his conceiving the idea of following in the footsteps of his father, an idea that was fostered, naturally enough, by Madam Jullien. For a time young Jullien, who replaced Antony Lamotte at the Argyll Rooms, succeeded well enough, for it is not a difficult matter to conduct dance music in a capable manner. But it was altogether different when he was appointed conductor of a large orchestra at Her Majesty's, the theatre having been taken by Mr. Bignell for a series of promenade concerts, to be carried out on the same lines as those rendered popular by the great Jullien. A large orchestra and first-rate singers were engaged, and money was spent lavishly on decorations, but the discovery was soon made that this graceful conductor of dance music was not equal to his new position, and the scheme resulted in pecuniary loss.

"Promenade concerts were fast growing in popularity in London about this time, for we had Alfred Mellon at Covent Garden in 1865, with Carlotta Patti as his leading soprano. Signor Bottesini, the great contrabassist, was also an attraction; and Levy was attracting notice as solo cornet in the orchestra. One of the features of these concerts was a grand selection from Faust, arranged by Mellon, and played nightly with immense success by the orchestra and the band of the Coldstream Guards. Mellon had in his orchestra a Frenchman named Cordier, who assumed the name of Ali Ben Mustapha, and who, dressed as a Turk, played some wonderful solos on the saxophone. He soon became the lion of the season. Young Jullien, of course, set about getting a rival Turk to play saxophone solos, and one of his clarinette players, a man named Tyler, was speedily converted into an Orientalist, and in a few days the Turkish-attired Tyler blossomed forth into Ali Ben Jenkins. The public, however, wearied of the joke, and young Jullien's first series of promenade concerts was his last. He went to America, and, as far as I know, has not since been heard of."

A JAPANESE PLAY.

"Kyoto court-life of the twelfth century, painted for posterity in the famous, interminable pages of 'Genji Monogatari,' one of the oldest achievements of the lady-novelist, has," writes Mr. Osman Edwards in "Japanese Plays and Playfellows," "found less tedious and equally faithful presentment in such dramatic miniatures as 'Aoi no Uye,' Prince Genji's long-suffering wife. Jealousy is the keynote of this lyrical play—that insatiable, self-torturing jealousy which is the hardest of demons to expel. Again I noticed a piece of curious, silent symbolism. The poor, demoniac wife, who gives her name to the play, does not appear, either as a person or figure: in her stead a long strip of folded brocade, suggesting a bed of sickness, lies immediately behind the footlights. Thus, though sub-conscious of her entity, the spectator is compelled to focus all attention on the apparition, which takes double form. First comes the spirit of the Princess Rokijo, who takes vengeance on her false lover (Genji is the Don Juan of Japan) by haunting the helpless Aoi in the shape of a pale wailing woman. A miko, or Shinto priestess, is summoned to exorcise the intruder. In vain she rubs her green rosary, muttering fervid prayers: the spirit wails more loudly, more intolerably, and only yields at last to the fiercer spells and rougher wrestling of soul with soul on the part of a mountain-priest. But his victory is short-lived, for a terrible phantom, the Devil of Jealousy, wearing the famous Hanja mask, replaces Rokujo. Inch by inch the priest falls back, as the grinning demon with gilt horns and pointed ears slowly unveiled from a shroudlike hood glides forward to smite him with menacing crutch. To and fro the battle rages beside the prostrate Aoi no Uye; neither holy man nor devil will give way; the screaming and shrill fifing of the musicians rise to frenzied pitch; adjuration succeeds adjuration, until the evil spirit is finally driven away. Nothing can exceed the realism of this scene, so masterfully played that the hardiest agnostic must be indeed fancy-proof if he cannot feel something of the awe inspired into believers by this terrific duel. Moreover, this is exactly the sort of incident which exhibits to the full extent of their potency the peculiar characteristics of No drama. What human face, however disguised and distorted, could rival the malignant horror of a Japanese mask? What mincing and gibing Mephistopheles could compare for a moment with the devilish ingenuity and suspense of this posture-pantomime, with its endless feints and threats and sallies and retreats? And now the anguish of battle is enhanced by the 'barbaric yawp' and sharp, intermittent drum-taps, which excite without distracting the spell-bound audience! So abrupt and discreet is the interjected cry of the immobile musicians that one might easily take it for the defiant or hortative outburst of an invisible spirit attracted to the ghostly combat. Indeed, all that is wild and primitive in these enfants sauvages of Melpomene is chastened into harmony by the innate sobriety of Japanese art. The creative instinct works within small limits by small means, but with these means it contrives to project on its tiny stage a vital suggestion of the largest issues. The gods become marionettes for an hour, without wholly losing their godhead.

"Good-humoured drollery, of which the gods come in for a fair share, is no more alien to the Japanese than it was to the Greek temperament. And if one had to guess which divinity or divinities are regarded with more affection than awe by such light-hearted worshippers, one would certainly name the Rokujizo, or six Jizo. While Buddha and Kwannon, Tenjin and Inari, dwell in small or stately temples, augustly apart, the six Jizo sit sociably in a row by the roadside or on the outskirts of a shrine, protected (if protected at all) from the weather by a plain wooden shed. For they belong to the class of open-air minor deities familiarly known as 'wet gods.' Yet they play a large part in the emotional life of the people. Patrons of travellers, women, and children, they bear the semblance of a shaven priest with benevolent countenance, whose neck is generally encircled with a child's bib of coloured wool, while his hand holds an emblematic jewel, a lotus, a pilgrim's staff, an incense-box, a rosary, or sometimes an infant. In most villages and near many schools will you find the six Jizo, for the country people, loving their children, cherish the children's patron-saint with particular attachment. The amusing kiogen named 'Rokujizo' seemed to please the younger members of our audience infinitely more than the romantic and spectral dramas which preceded it. A pious farmer, anxious to attest his gratitude for a good harvest, resolves to put up six Jizo effigies in his fields, and, seeking a sculptor to carry out his design, falls in with a knavish fellow who boasts that he can carve statues more quickly than anyone else in the world, and promises that the six shall be finished by the following day. The bargain is concluded. Then the pseudo-sculptor persuades three confederates to personate Jizo, entrusting them with the jewel, the staff, and the other symbols. As soon as they are well posed as living statuary he brings the farmer to admire them, and, pretending that the other three are at the opposite end of the field, sends the extemporised gods by a short cut to anticipate the buyer's arrival. He, however, though duly impressed, desires to see the first three again, and then again the second three, until the impersonators tired with running backwards and forwards, forget what pose and what emblem to assume, entirely destroying all illusion by their ridiculous perplexity. The farmer discovers the trick, and administers a sound drubbing to the fraudulent artist, while the Jizo make their escape. The humour of this naturally depends on the 'business' of the performers, since no pretence is made to literary merit in the dialogue, which is couched in colloquial Japanese of the same period as the lyrical dramas themselves—that is, from the fourteenth to the sixteenth century.

"The most important, if not the most interesting, item in the programme was a little historic play in two scenes, entitled 'Funa Benkei; or, Benkei at Sea.' No figure in Japanese annals is so popular as Benkei, the devil youth (Oniwaka), credited with eight feet of stature, unless it be Yoshitsune, the valiant boy, who vanquished the giant in single combat on Gojo Bridge in Kyoto, and thus acquired a loyal and invincible henchman."

"ALL AT SEA."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

Sir,—My attention has been drawn to the letter from Mr. Edward A. Paulton, of New York, in your issue of the 14th inst., wherein that gentleman lays claim to the title of a one-act musical comedy, which has been licensed by the Lord Chamberlain, and copyrighted by me at the Alexandraa Theatre, Birmingham, bearing the name of All at Sea.

Whilst being most tenacious of my rights, I am the first to retire from an untenable position, and I beg to assure Mr. Paulton that, as the author of the book and lyrics of the piece tentatively entitled by the name to which he has the prior claim, I will see that his territory is not encroached upon. I have no desire to qualify for the reputation of a wolf among the lambs—not excepting those of New York.—Yours faithfully,

EDWARD FOSTER.

Grand Theatre, Birmingham,
Nov. 16, 1908.

A Copy of "The Era" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps.

ON THE ROAD, NOV. 23.

An Abandoned Woman.—T. R., Glossop.
An Unwedded Wife.—T. R., Woolwich.
Aschr, Oscar.—Grand T., Croydon.
Assassin, The.—Prince's T., Portsmouth.
At Duty's Call.—Metropole T., Glasgow.
Beau Brocade.—T. R., Glasgow.
Beloved Vagabond.—Crystal Palace, S.E.
Belle of New York.—Grand T., Southampton.
Benson, Mr. and Mrs. F. R.—T. R., Manchester.
Benson, The F. R. (N.).—Grand T., Walsall.
Benson, The F. R. (S.).—Warminster and Andover.
Bondman, The (Croke).—Queen's T., Manchester.
Bourchier, Arthur.—P.O.W., Birmingham.
Boyne, Leonard, Mr.—Grand T., Derby.
Breed of the Treshams.—T. R., Mansfield.
Brewster's Millions.—T. R., Plymouth.
Broken Heart, A.—T. R., Leigh.
Bulmer, Mr.—Paisley T., Paisley.
Carl Rosa Opera Co.—T. R., Belfast.
Charley's Aunt (No. 1).—New T., Cambridge and Oxford.
Charley's Aunt (No. 2).—Harrow and St. Albans.
Christian, The (Croke N.).—T. R., Nottingham.
Christian, The (Croke, S.).—Marlboro' T., Holloway, N.
Christian, The (Croke, No. 3).—Falmouth and Brixham.
Claudian.—New Gaiety T., Leith.
Coal King, The.—Aquarium T., Yarmouth.
Compton Comedy Co.—T. R., Portsmouth.
Conscience of a Judge.—Gaiety T., Methil.
Convict's Daughter.—T. R., Leicester.
Country Girl in London.—P.O.W., Mexbro'.
Dairymaids (Courtneidge) (No. 1).—Prince's T. Bristol.
Dairymaids (Courtneidge)(S.).—T. R., Bournemouth.
Dairymaids (Macdonald's).—Seacombe.
Dare-Devil Dorothy.—T. R., Smethwick.
Diana of Dobson's (N.).—O. H., Huddersfield.
Diana of Dobson's (S.).—O. H., Leicester.
Dorothy.—Theatre Royal, Edinburgh.
Eve of Her Wedding.—Queen's T., Liverpool.
Face at the Window.—Hippodrome, Barry.
Fatal Wedding.—Junction T., Manchester.
Flag Lieutenant.—T. R., Bath.
Flower Girl.—P.O.W., Nuneaton.
Florodora.—T. R., Dewsbury.
For Love and the King.—Royalty T., Barrow.
From Shop Girl to Duchess.—Elephant and Castle Theatre.
Gay Deceivers, The.—Alexandra T., Widnes.
Gay Gordons (Miss Ash).—Royalty T., Chester.
Gay Gordons (Miss Dare).—Borough T., Stratford.
Gay Gordons (Terriss and Hicks).—New T. R., Cardiff.
Girl's Cross Roads.—O. H., Coventry.
Girls of Gottenberg.—Court T., Liverpool.
Girl with the Angel Face.—Grand T., Nottingham.
Glossop-Harris, Miss F.—Lyceum T., Stafford.
Great Awakening.—Grand T., Glasgow.
Great White Chief, The.—Queen's T., Farnboro'.
Guilty Gold.—T. R., Stratford, E.
Her Love Against the World.—Alex. T., Sheffield.
Her Marriage Vow.—T. R., Barnsley.
Her Nameless Child.—Pardoe's T., Middleton.
His House in Order.—O. H., Burnley.
Home, Sweet Home.—T. R., Consett.
Honeymoon, The.—Cambridge T., Spennymoor.
Horniman's, Miss.—Gaiety T., Manchester.
Hughes, Annie.—Shakespare T., Liverpool.
Hypocrites, The (N.)—O. H., Southport.
Irene Wycherley.—Theatre Royal, York.
Jack Straw.—King's T., Hammersmith.
Junius Booth.—Grand T., Rawtenstall.
Kendal, Mr. and Mrs.—T. R., Bradford.
Kiss of Judas.—Imperial T., Bordesley.
La Comedie Anglaise.—Newry and Dundalk.
Lady Frederick.—Grand T., Swansea.
Lady Frederick (Potter).—Lyceum T., Edinburgh.
Leah Kleschna.—Empire T., West Bromwich.
Little Breadwinner.—T. R., Ashton.
London with the Lid Off.—Todmorden.
Love of the Princess.—Metropole T., Birmingham.
Lucky 'Liza.—T. R., West Bromwich.
Man and Wife.—T. R., Seaham Harbour.
Man to Man.—P. O. W., Salford.
Manxman, The.—Carlton T., Saltley.
Merry Widow (S.).—T. R., Hanley.
Merry Widow.—Tyne T., Newcastle.
Midnight Mail.—New Hall, Bargoed.
Mollison, William.—T. R., Dublin.
Moody-Manners Opera (A.).—T. R., Hanley
Moody-Manners (B.).—T. R., Exeter.
Moore, Miss Decima.—O. H., Northampton.
Mrs. Pondersbury's Past.—O. H., Kidderminster.
Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.—King's Th., Glasgow.
My Mimosa Maid.—T. R., Birmingham.
Mystery of Edwin Drood (H. M. Version).—Wolverhampton.
New East Lynne.—Lyceum T., Govan.
Nihilist, The.—T. R., North Shields.
Norman V. Norman.—T. R., Hull.
Old Folks at Home.—O. H., Wakefield.
Old Home, The.—Prince's T., Blackburn.
Otto the Outcast.—O. H., Perth.
Peter's Mother.—Castle T., Stockton.
Power of the King.—O. H., St. Helens.
Power of the Cross.—T. R., Hyde.
Prince of Pilsen.—Broadway T., Deptford.
Prodigal Parson.—St. James's T., Long Eaton.
Prodigal Son (Croke).—O. H., Cheltenham.
Prodigal Son (Day).—Rotunda T., Liverpool.
Queen's Evidence.—Prince's T., Llandudno.
Rollicking Rory.—O. H., Blackpool.
Royal Divorce.—H. M. T., Dundee.
Sailor's Wedding.—Alexandra T., Hull.
Second to None.—Metropole T., Birmingham.
Send Him Victorious.—County T., Bedford.
Sergeant Brue.—Lyceum T., Crewe.
Sherlock Holmes.—King's T., Sunderland.
Sign of the Cross.—Empire T., Oldham.
Silver King.—Grand T., Brighton.
Soldier of France.—Gaiety T., Burnley.
Soldier's Honour.—T. R., Merthyr.
Starr, Harry.—Opera House, Perth.
Still Alarm.—Theatre Royal, Bristol.
Straight from the Shoulder.—T. R., Aston.
Sunday.—Theatre Royal, Birkenhead.
Sutton and Raynor's Repertoire.—Queen's T., Manchester.
Terry, Edward.—Grand T., Leeds.
Terry, Fred.—Kennington Theatre, S.E.
Thief, The (N.).—H. M. T., Barrow.
Thief, The (S.).—Oxford and Cambridge.
Tom Jones.—County T., Reading.
Tom Jones.—T. R., Dublin.
Two Lancashire Lasses in London.—Folkestone.
Two Little Drummer Boys.—T. R., Sheffield.
Two Little Vagabonds (N.).—Grand T., Fulham.
Two Little Vagabonds (S.).—T. R., Chesterfield.
Tyrant, The.—Lyric T., Hammersmith.
Vedrenne-Barker.—T. R., Newcastle.
Village Blacksmith.—T. R., Rotherham.
Warner, Grace.—Weston-super-Mare.
Warning to Women.—T. R., West Stanley
Way of the World.—Star T., Liverpool.
What a Woman Did.—Pontypridd.
When It Was Dark.—T. R, Leeds
When Knights Were Bold.—Prince's, Manchester.
When Knights Were Bold.—Shakespeare T., Clapham.
When Knights Were Bold.—Worksop.
When London Sleeps—Gaiety T., Hastings.
When Other Lips.—Greenwich Theatre, S.E.
White Man, A (N.).—T. R., Brighton.
Who is She?—T. R., Halifax.
Why Men Love Women.—Alexandra T., Birmingh'm.
Wilkie, Allan, and Co.—Grand T., Nelson.
With Edged Tools.—P.O.W., Grimsby.
Woman Pays, The.—T. R., Edmonton.
Woman Who Gambles.—T. R., Cardiff.
Worst Woman in London.—Oldham.
Wrecker of Men.—O. H., Weymouth.
You Never Can Tell.—Lyceum T., Newport.
£1,000 Reward.—T. R., Aldershot.
10.30 Down Express.—T. R., Stratford, E.

Fairs, shows, wakes. Seventy thousand showmen of the United Kingdom required to send for the Showmen's Year Book for 1908. Edited by the Rev. T. Horne. Entirely re-arranged, corrected, and enlarged. 100 pages. Price 1s. Principal contents:—The Passion for Pageantry, Constitution and Rules of the "Showmen's Guilds," Lists of Fairs, Local Feasts and Wakes, Synopsis of Bye-laws, &c., &c. Invaluable to all who follow the fair. Address, the Publisher of The Era, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, London, W.C. Telephones: 4747 and 1433 Central.

A Copy of "The Era" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London Subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

"THE ERA" NEWSPAPER.

Notice to Contributors.

All communications intended for publication should be sent to "THE EDITOR," and be accompanied by the Writer's Name and Address, not necessarily for insertion, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The Editor will not undertake to be responsible for any rejected MSS., nor to return any Contribution unaccompanied by a stamped and directed envelope.

Notice to Subscribers.

"The Era" is sold by all Newsagents in all the leading English, Irish, and Scotch towns, every Saturday Morning. Price Sixpence.

TERMS, POSTAGE FREE.

Home Subscriptions.		Foreign Subscriptions.
One Year	£1 6 0	One Year	£1 12 0
Six Months	0 13 0	Six Months	0 16 0
Three Months ..	0 6 6	Three Months	0 8 0

Cash must accompany order.

Notice to Advertisers.

Advertisements should reach the Office early in the week, and not later than Thursday, 7 p.m. Remittances, payable to "THE ERA," LTD., and crossed Lloyd's Bank.

Communications.

Business Communications should be addressed to The MANAGER,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, LONDON, W.C.
(two doors off Wellington-street).
Telegrams, "The Era, London." Telephones, 4747 and 1433. Central.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

[We cannot undertake to answer the inquiries of correspondents by post. In all letters names and addresses must be given as a guarantee of good faith. Initials only or pseudonyms will be used in the replies if so desired.]

GEORGE.—The price for the Tivoli gallery at the Saturday matinées is sixpence.

DERRICK.—The first Saturday morning performance at the Oxford was on Saturday, May 14, 1870.

CHICAGO.—We have not heard of the title over here, and it is not in our list of plays in The Era Annual.

THESPIS (Sunderland).—There are readings from Dickens published in numerous books of recitations and in books for schools. There are also condensed versions of "Christmas Carol," "The Chimes," and other of his stories. Consult a good bookseller in your town. He could give you all the information you require. For plays adapted from Dickens write to French's, Southampton-street, Strand, W.C.

OLD TIMER.—Milton's Masque of Comus was performed at Theatre Royal, Covent Garden, in March, 1842, under the direction of Mme. Vestris, who played the part of Sabrina; Miss Rainforth (the original Arline in The Bohemian Girl*) was the Spirit; Mrs. Walter Lacy the Lady; and Mr. John Cooper was seen in the title part.*

BERT HUGHES.—You should have the piece produced at a place of dramatic entertainment duly licensed for stage plays, then register both the copyright and the performing rights at Stationers' Hall. If you write to the Registrar, Stationers' Hall, London, E.C., for the necessary forms, he will send them. The fee is 5s. for each registration.

CAMERON (Paris).—Write to the London office of the New York Dramatic Mirror, care of Pall Mall American Exchange, London, W.; or to the London representative of the New York Dramatic News, Mr. Max Eliot, 3, Queen's-gate Terrace, London, S.W.; or to the New York Clipper London office, 14, Leicester-street, Leicester-square, W.C.

A LAMBERT JUGGLER.—Herbert Campbell sang the song Naughty, naughty, naughty!

ARTHUR LYON (Bristol).—His Excellency was produced at the Lyric on Oct. 27, 1894. It has not been presented at the Savoy.

FREDERICK CHARCOT.—The only way you can protect your act is by registering it at Stationers' Hall, both the copyright and the performing right. For this purpose write to the Registrar at Stationers' Hall, and ask him to forward the necessary forms. These should be duly filled up, and 5s. sent in respect of each.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE WEEK.

We wish Many Happy Returns of the Day to the following Ladies and Gentlemen:—

Wallace Davidson—Saturday, Nov. 21.
Percy Baverstock—Sunday, Nov. 22.
George Battle—Sunday, Nov. 22.
George Leglere—Sunday, Nov. 22.
Sir Gilbert Parker—Monday, Nov. 23
C. Blyth-Pratt—Monday, Nov. 23.
Edith Finlay—Monday, Nov. 23.
Thomas Thorne—Monday, Nov. 23.
G. H. Asquin—Monday, Nov. 23.
Marie Loftus—Tuesday, Nov. 24.
Mabel Scudamore—Tuesday, Nov. 24.
Nellie Wilson—Tuesday, Nov. 24.
G. W. Anson—Wednesday, Nov. 25.
W. W. Walton—Wednesday, Nov. 25.
H. F. Maltby—Wednesday, Nov. 25.
Wyn Weaver—Wednesday, Nov. 25.
Louie Freear—Thursday, Nov. 26.
Vesta Victoria—Thursday, Nov. 26.
Jesse Sparrow—Thursday, Nov. 26.
John F. Lambe—Thursday, Nov. 26.
Acton Bond—Friday, Nov. 27.
Lottie Stratton—Friday, Nov. 27.

DEATHS OF THE MONTH

Oct. 1. John Weston.
" 3. Arthur Forrest, aged 50.
" 3. Francis Daniel Wallace Percival.
" 4. Alfred Benone.
" 5. Minnie Blake.
" 5. Isaac Snape (Harry Lester), aged 48.
" 11. Lila Doyle (Gould).
" 15. John Melville, aged 20.
" 18. William Congo.
" 19. Mrs. T. P. Haynes (Rosie Lewis)
" 19. Joseph Potter, aged 64.
" 21. Harry Warner (Pratt).
" 22. Mrs. J H. Darnley.
" 23. Herbert Flemming, aged 52.
" 25. Robert Sivado (Brown).
" 25. Tom Wade, aged 47.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

INDISPENSABLE! Rayne's "Pocket Date Book." Contents: Map (19in. by 10in.), showing the distance betwixt the various music halls at a glance. Will tell if one hall is within the barring radius of the other, thus saving fears, worry, and anxiety. All about artists' luggage, list of clubs, information about stamping contracts, foreign money table, London music halls and theatres, their telephone numbers, list of brougham proprietors, list and address of photographers, size of theatrical printing paper, names and addresses of theatrical railway managers, &c. Price 1s., post free. The proceeds from the sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the dramatic and musical professions, the Actors' Benevolent Fund and the Music Hall Home Fund. "THE ERA" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, & DEATHS.

The charge for inserting in "The Era" an announcement of a Birth, a Marriage, or a Death, or an "In Memoriam" notice, not exceeding twenty-four words, is One Shilling and Sixpence.

As a guarantee of good faith, the name and address of the sender must accompany each notice.

BIRTHS.

FORSTER.—On Thursday, Nov. 12, at 79, Clopton-lane, Stratford-on-Avon, the wife of R. Halford Forster (Miss Mildred Howard-Jones), of a daughter.

MCNEIL.—On Nov. 13, at "Pentilley," Fortescue-road, Bournemouth, to David and Grace McNeil, a son.

MARRIAGES.

BAYLY—JOHNSON.—On Nov. 13, 1908, at St. Saviour's, Pimlico, Frank G. Bayly to Katie Johnson.

HOOD—KENDALL.—Nov. 19, at St. Martin's Church, Trafalgar-square, the Hon. Maurice Nelson Hood, eldest son of Viscount Bridport, to Ethel Kendall (Eileen Orme).

WRIGHT—BRICKWELL.—Nov. 17, at the Roman Catholic Cathedral, Cape Town, Edward C. Wright, eldest son of E. C. Wright, of Dublin, to Annie (Maimie) Brickwell, eldest daughter of H. T. Brickwell, of London.

DEATHS.

BECKWITH.—Nov. 14, J. W. Beckwith, theatrical business-manager.

CORY-THOMAS.—Nov. 14, at 71, Langney-road, Eastbourne, Lambert Cory-Thomas. Deeply mourned by his sorrowing wife. R.I.P.

FAVART.—Nov. 11, Mme. Favart, of the Comédie-Française, aged 75.

KEATS.—Nov. 17, at 33, Mackeson-road, Hampstead, Sydney Carl Keats, aged 24, dearly-loved brother of Gladys and Madeline Keats.

KENNEDY.—Nov. 12, at Cavan, Ireland, Gertrude Lovel, aged 40, of 18, Madeira-park, Tunbridge Wells, widow of the late H. A. Kennedy.

LANNER.—Nov. 15, of heart failure, at 40, Northside, Clapham Common, Mme. Katti Lanner, première danseuse and instructress, aged 80.

LICHTENSTEIN.—Nov. 15, at Bruges, Belgium, at the residence of her mother, Ethel Catherine Martin Lichtenstein, wife of Frederick William Moritz Ross Lichtenstein (Frederick Rosse).

PALMER.—On the 15th inst., at her residence, 7, Middle Market-road, Great Yarmouth, Harriett Ann Palmer (Mrs. A. P. Boswell), professionally known as Miss Florence Hayes; aged 52 years. Deeply lamented by all who knew her.

LYDIA THOMPSON (Mrs. Alex. Henderson).—Nov. 17, at 48, Westminster-mansions, Great Smith-street, Westminster, after a short illness. Funeral at Kensal Green on Monday, 23rd inst., at 12.30.

SIMMONS.—Nov. 9, at the Eagle Inn, Churchgate, Loughborough, William Arthur Simmons (professionally known as Little Simmy).

WEIGHT.—On Saturday, Nov. 14, at Stamford, Lincs., Hannah Louisa, the dearly loved wife of Charles Weight, senior, aged 56 years. Never forgotten by her sorrowing husband and children.

IN MEMORIAM.

BASSANO.—In loving memory of Nance (Nancie James), who was taken from us Nov. 21, 1904. God bless you.—FRANK and ENID.

PREECE.—In loving remembrance of dear Edie, who passed away at Malta, Nov. 24, 1899. Eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Terriss (Emily Stevens), and sister of Josephine and Winifred Preece.

READ.—In ever-loving memory of our dear father, Henry Read, late joint partner of Messrs. H. and T. Read and F. Bailey, World's Fair, Royal Agricultural Hall, London, who passed away Nov. 21, 1898, who is more than missed by his loving wife and family.

EARLY DELIVERY.

SPECIAL NEWSPAPER EXPRESS SERVICES now running on the London and North-Western, Great Northern, Midland, and Great Central Railways, carry The Era to the following important cities and towns at the times named. Newsvendors and subscribers obtain their papers at a much earlier hour than was previously possible:—

	a.m.
RUGBY	4.30
COVENTRY	4.54
BIRMINGHAM	5.20
CREWE	6. 5
MANCHESTER	6.50
LIVERPOOL	7. 0
CHESTER	9. 3
DONCASTER	6.10
YORK	7. 0
HULL	8.20
DARLINGTON	8.58
SCARBOROUGH	10. 5
NEWCASTLE	10.10
LEEDS (Central)	6.58
HUDDERSFIELD	7.37
BRADFORD (Exchange)	7.47
HARROGATE	7.50
HALIFAX	8.17
BURNLEY	9.28
LEICESTER	4.36
NOTTINGHAM	5.10
DERBY	5.35

"THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT," for actor and composer, by Albert A. Strong, LL.B. (Lond.). Price 3s. 6d., post free 3s. 10d. Published at The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

THE AWARDS. The three interim Awards and the final Award, corrected and revised by George Ranken Askwith, Esq., the official arbitrator appointed in the Music Hall Dispute, may be had in pamphlet form at "THE ERA" Offices. Copy, including postage, three-half-pence. Address: The Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

A. BLACKFORD.
the BEST HOUSE in LONDON.
For LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S High Grade BOOTS and SHOES.
The FINEST ENGLISH and FOREIGN MAKES At Cutting Prices,
3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN, W.C.
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

DRESS CLOTHES LENT.—BLACKFORD has for SALE or HIRE the Finest of CLOTHES for Theatres, Balls, Parties, Weddings, Dinners, Funerals, &c. Clothes sent to any part of England. Perfect Fit guaranteed. 3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN (one door from Market), and 31, WELLINGTON-STREET, STRAND.
Telegraphic Address, "Misfits, London."
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

Sore Throats
CURED IN A FEW HOURS.
"YOU CANNOT DO BETTER than GARGLE with 'CONDY,'"
SIR MORELL MACKENZIE, M.D.
(The Eminent Throat Specialist).
A great many Eminent Physicians strongly recommend Condy's Remedial Fluid as the absolutely best remedy for Cuts, Burns, Wounds and Sores. (See Medical Reports in Book on Bottle).
Condy's Remedial Fluid sold by all Chemists at 1/1½.
CAUTION.—Insist on having "CONDY'S."
Condy's Fluid Works, Goswell Road, London.

"ON THE ROAD" AND OFF.

If you are one of those "stage lights" who are, happily, exempt from the diet difficulties of touring, you are yet not free from the food question.

The exhaustion of continually playing to crowded houses may well prevent your proper digestion of the best of food.

Late hours and the seventy-seven other stage cares may, any of them, rob you of your vitality and food enjoyment.

That is when you get run down, listless, lethargic. When you have to fight "all you know how" not to be guilty of "letting it down;" when a draught sets you shivering and makes you dread the "focus." When, in fact, you need Hall's Wine.

Your troubles cannot be much worse if you ARE "on the road," with all that entails in tedious railway changes and the uncertainty of strange quarters and stranger cooking!

But, whatever the irregularity, doubtfulness, or non-enjoyment of your food, whatever the strain, draught, or other discomfiture to which you are exposed, you may rely on Hall's Wine to imbue you with the sound nutriment, warmth, and serenity which it alone gives.

You know how Hall's Wine does it—multiplies the millions of vital corpuscles in your blood by means of the best blood nourishment that has ever yet been compounded.

Rebuilds your frayed and wasting tissues, exhilarates your circulation, and carries succour and sustenance to every starving nerve, muscle, and membrane in your body.

Hall's Wine gives you the irresistible circulation that sweeps out colds, catarrh, bronchial troubles, dyspepsia, insomnia, and all disorders arising from a run-down or stagnant condition of the blood.

And keeps them out!

Hall's Wine recruits, refreshes, and reinstates, tranquilises, braces, and permanently animates. No headiness, no reaction of any kind, but simply quick, lasting, comforting, serene strength—strength of voice, of mind, and of body.

Just get a bottle of Hall's Wine to-day. You will feel better from the first glass and still better from every succeeding glass you take.

DEBILITY
Debility is a general weakening of the vital nervous and physical powers. Anæmia and Consumption often follow in its train. Don't wait, take Hall's Wine, the Marvellous Restorative. You will benefit from the first wineglassful.
Hall's Wine is sold by Grocers and Chemists with Wine licenses and Wine Merchants everywhere.
Large Bottles, 3/-
Smaller Size, 1/9
Proprietors: STEPHEN SMITH & Co., LTD., 68, Bow, London, E.
HALL'S WINE

Admitted by the Profession to be the most Valuable Remedy ever discovered.
DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
CHLORODYNE
The Original and Only Genuine, is the best-known remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS.
IT ACTS LIKE A CHARM IN DIARRHŒA, CHOLERA, AND DYSENTERY, and Effectually cuts short all attacks of Spasms.
The only palliative in NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, TOOTHACHE.
None genuine without the words "Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" on the stamp.
Convincing Medical Testimony accompanies each bottle.
Of all Chemists, 1/1½, 2/9, and 4/6.

TEETH!! TEETH!!
A COMPLETE SET ONE POUND.
Single teeth from 2s. 6d. each. Painless Gas Extraction, 3s. 6d. American Crown and Bridge Work at equally reasonable prices. American Bridge Work is very suitable for those on the stage, being fixed in the mouth and made absolutely unmovable Our Speciality—Dainty Teeth for Actresses.
THE PEOPLE'S TEETH ASSOCIATION,
138, STRAND, LONDON, W.C.
Also at 177, WESTMINSTER BRIDGE-RD., S.E

BE SLENDER!!
Madame DANAË'S new and original system
RESTORES THE SPREADING FIGURE
TO THE SLENDERNESS OF YOUTH
Without the aid of Drugs, Dieting, and Exercises.
SPECIAL TERMS TO THE PROFESSION.
Hours 11 to 4, excepting Saturdays.
60, NEW BOND STREET
Telephone Gerrard 3797.

NOW IN PREPARATION.
FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
A World-wide Circulation, therefore an Excellent Medium for Advertisers.
1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
Advertisements should be Forwarded at once to the Office, 5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For Scale of Charges see Leader Page.

BUREAU DE CHANGE
SPECIALLY RECOMMENDED HANDS and CO., 16, STRAND, CHARING-CROSS RAILWAY STATION, LONDON, W.C.

"I'll swear upon that bottle."—TEMPEST, Act ii.; Scene ii.
WHITBREAD'S
BOTTLED BEERS
maintain their popularity because they are brought into condition by MATURING IN BOTTLE;
the Natural method,
without the aid of carbonating or other artificial process.
The largest Beer Bottlers in the World.
APPLY TO CHIEF OFFICES,
BRITANNIA ST., KING'S CROSS, LONDON, W.C.
(Telephones: Nos. 2510 and 2511 North. Telegraphic Address, "Beerseller, London.")
FOR NAME OF NEAREST AGENT.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.
For Sustaining the Voice.
Invaluable for ACTORS and SINGERS.
Indispensable for PUBLIC SPEAKERS
GENTLEMEN,—For sudden affections of the Bronchial Organs I use and most cheerfully recommend "Brown's Troches." They are regarded as most eligible, convenient, and indispensable by numerous artists of my acquaintance, BOTH IN EUROPE AND AMERICA. They seem to act specially on the organs of the voice, and produce a clear enunciation.—Yours truly (Signed), MARIE ROSE MAPLESON.
SOLD EVERYWHERE AT 1/1½ PER BOX.

DINNEFORD'S MAGNESIA.
The Best Remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion.
A Safe and most effective Aperient for regular use.

INDIGESTION
Is the primary cause of most of the ills to which we are subject. WHELPTON'S VEGETABLE PURIFYING PILLS arouse the stomach to action, Headache flies away, Biliousness, Kidney Disorders, and Skin Complaints disappear.
Ask for WHELPTON'S PURIFYING PILLS,
And remember there is NO PILL "JUST AS GOOD."
By post, 14 stamps.
WHELPTON & SON, 4, Crane Court, London, E.C.

Messrs. PYKE, PYKE, and HOWLAND, ESTATE AGENTS and SURVEYORS, have a FUND
AT THEIR DISPOSAL TO LEND
on MORTGAGES, REVERSIONS, and also WITHOUT SECURITY.
Offices—47, CHARING-CROSS-ROAD, W.C.
Telephone: No. 2164 City.
Telegrams: "Charentons," London.

EVANS' ANTISEPTIC THROAT PASTILLES
THE SINGER'S FRIEND

These wonderfully efficacious Throat Pastilles are made to a Formula of the Liverpool Throat Hospital, and act like a charm in keeping the voice and throat in perfect condition for prolonged vocal exercise.
Madame Luisa Tetrazzini says:—"I thank you for the boxes of Evans' Pastilles sent me, which I find excellent and efficacious."
Can be obtained of all Chemists at 1/- and 4.6 per box. Send for sample, enclosing 1d. stamp to cover postage, to Sole Manufacturers, Evans Sons, Lescher & Webb, Ltd., Hanover Street, Liverpool. Ask for "EVANS'" Pastilles, and see you get them. Beware of numerous imitations.

DELICIOUS COFFEE.
RED WHITE & BLUE
For Breakfast & after Dinner.

BIRKBECK BANK.
ESTABLISHED 1851.
SOUTHAMPTON BUILDINGS, HIGH HOLBORN, W.C.
2½ PER CENT. INTEREST allowed on Deposits repayable on demand.
2 PER CENT. INTEREST on Drawing Accounts with Cheque Book.
All general Banking Business transacted.
ALMANACK, with full particulars, POST FREE.
C. F. RAVENSCROFT, Secretary.

ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS, SICKNESS, EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY, BURGLARY & FIDELITY GUARANTEE RISKS, Insured against by the RAILWAY PASSENGERS' ASSURANCE CO.
Capital (fully subscribed), £1,000,000.
Claims paid, £5,460,000
64, CORNHILL, LONDON.
A. VIAN, Secretary.

The NEW Velvet Grip
STOCKING SUPPORTERS.
The only "GRIP" that "GRIPS" SECURELY without injury to the HOSE.
No. 45. Cotton Frilled, 1 Grip, New Clip Top..... 1/- pair
" 75. Cotton Frilled, 2 Grips, New Clip Top ..... 1/6 pair
" 10. Frilled Silk Elastic, 1 Grip, Safety Pin Top 1/6 pair
" 40. Frilled Silk Elastic, 2 Grips, New Clip Top 2/6 pair
Postage 1d. pair extra.

If unable to procure from your Draper, apply to the VELVET GRIP MANUFACTORY, Hackney Road Works, London, N.E.

LONDON THEATRES.

GAIETY THEATRE.
Manager, Mr. George Edwardes.
Every Evening at 8,
Matinée every Saturday at 2.
Mr. George Edwardes's New Production,
"HAVANA,"
a Musical Play,
Box Office Open Daily, 10 to 10.

ST. JAMES'S.
"THE BUILDER OF BRIDGES."
A New Play, by Alfred Sutro.
EVERY EVENING, at 8.30 sharp.
MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER and
MISS IRENE VANBRUGH.
Matinée, Every Saturday, at 2.30 (except Sat., Dec. 5). Special Wednesday Matinée, Dec. 2.
ST. JAMES'S. Box Office, 10 to 10. Tel., 3903 Ger.

DALY'S THEATRE,
LEICESTER-SQUARE.
Every Evening at 8.15.
Matinée Every Saturday at 2.30.
A New Play, with Music,
entitled
"THE MERRY WIDOW"
("Die lustige witwe").
Produced by Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.

LYCEUM THEATRE.
Nightly at 8.
Hall Caine and Louis N. Parker's Great Drama,
"PETE,"
MATHESON LANG as PETE.
HUTIN BRITTON as KATE.
Matinées, Wednesdays and Saturdays, at 2.30.
Box-Office, 10 to 10. Stalls, 5s. and 3s. Dress Circle, 4s. and 2s. 6d. Tel., 7,617 and 7,618, Gerrard.

ADELPHI.
—Mr. MARTIN HARVEY'S Autumn Season.
To-day at 2.30 and 8.
Last two Performances,
"THE ONLY WAY."
Nov. 23, "THE CORSICAN BROTHERS."
Last 2 weeks of the Season.

KINGSWAY THEATRE,
GREAT QUEEN-STREET.
Proprietress, Miss Lena Ashwell.
On TUESDAY NEXT, Nov. 24, at 8.45, will be Produced
A New Play, entitled
"GRIT."
By H. Herman Chilton.
MISS LENA ASHWELL
AND THE KINGSWAY THEATRE CO.
All seats may be booked.
'Phone, 4032, Gerrard (two lines).

SHAFTESBURY. THE LYONS MAIL.
Every Evening
at 8.45,
Mr. H. B. IRVING. Miss DOROTHEA BAIRD.
"The Sergeant of Hussars," at 8.15.
Box-office 10 till 10. Telephone, 6,867, Gerrard.
Matinées, Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2.15.

DUKE OF YORK'S THEATRE.
Sole Lessee and Manager, Charles Frohman.
Every Evening, at 8.30.
CHARLES FROHMAN
presents
"WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS,"
A Comedy, in Four Acts,
J. M. Barrie.
Matinée Every Thursday and Saturday, at 2.30.

COMEDY THEATRE.
PANTON STREET, HAYMARKET.
Sole Lessee and Manager, Arthur Chudleigh.
Every Evening, at 8.35.
CHARLES FROHMAN & ARTHUR CHUDLEIGH present
MISS MARIE TEMPEST
in a New Play, in Three Acts, entitled
"MRS. DOT."
by W. Somerset Maugham.
Matinées, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 2.30.

ROYAL COURT THEATRE,
SLOANE-SQUARE S.W.
Proprietor, Mr. J. H. LEIGH; Lessee Miss MOUILLOT. Now Booking in Advance for SPECIAL PRODUCTIONS, AMATEUR PERFORMANCES, and SHORT RUNS.
Applications invited from First-class Touring Companies.
Vacant dates and particulars of the Dramatic Productions Club on application.

KING'S THEATRE, W.
Telephone, 119 HAMMERSMITH.
Owner and Resident-Manager, J. B. Mulholland.
This week, "The Christian."
Next week, "JACK STRAW."
For Dates at Marlborough and King's Theatres, address Mr. Mulholland, King's Theatre, Hammersmith. Entire Pantomime Production, "Red Riding Hood" (equally suitable Babes), to Let.

MARLBOROUGH THEATRE.
Managing-Directors,
Mr. Ernest Stevens and Mr. R. C. Buchanan.
Nov. 23,
"THE CHRISTIAN."
Address all communications re dates to Mr. J. B. Mulholland, King's Theatre, Hammersmith, W. All other communications to Messrs. Stevens and Buchanan, Marlborough T., N. 'Phone 131 North.

ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE,
KINGSTON-ON-THAMES.
Nov. 23, "A WHITE MAN."
All communications to be addressed to
Mr. Peter Davey, Managing-Director.
Telephone, No. 58, Kingston-on-Thames. Telegrams, "Theatre, Kingston-on-Thames."

SHAKESPEARE THEATRE, S.W.
MONDAY, Nov. 23, for six nights,
MR. JAMES WELCH'S COMPANY, in
"WHEN KNIGHTS WERE BOLD."
All communications re Dates for:—
Opera House, Coventry.
Opera House and New Hippo., Burton-on-Trent.
Opera House and New Hippo., Crewe.
To H. G. Dudley-Bennett,
Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham, London, S.W.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

HAMMERSMITH PALACE.
Manager, LEWIS VINCENT.
One Performance Nightly.
Monday, Nov. 23, 1908: Lew Lake in "My Pal Jerry," Shirley and Ransome Bros. Ford, The Timsons, Bert Coote's Yankee Doodle Girls, Three Comedy Chanters, Walter Stanley, Lieut. Travis, Ella Lorraine, Sisters Eugeneo, Will 'E Stopit, The Edisonograph, Major and Mac, Ida Barr, Ella Shields. Open 7.30; commence 7.45. 'Phone, 106 Hammersmith.

QUEEN'S PALACE OF VARIETIES,
HIGH-STREET, POPLAR. Tel. 714 East.
Proprietors, Messrs. F. and M. ABRAHAMS.
Joint Managers, M. Abrahams and C. Hector.
Twice Nightly, at 6.30 and 9.10. Matinée Thursday. W. Fulbrook and Co in "Astronomy," Agnes Asher, McIntosh and Royal, Bert Brantford, Evelyn Taylor, Chas. Craston, Maggie Rimmer, Bioscope, Stavordale Quintette, Athas and Collins.
Bill matter must be sent in fourteen days before opening, in accordance with Clause 18, same to be sent to Manager, Queen's. Artists please note rehearsal must be attended Mondays, 1.0 o'clock, according to contract.

ROYAL STANDARD MUSIC HALL
(facing Victoria Station).—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. T. S. DICKIE. One House Nightly. Monday, Nov. 23, Geo. Mozart in "On and Off," Ernest Rees, Aiston's White Stars, Spry and Monti, Belle Braham, Nelly Farrell, Edna Latoane, Stewart and Morgan, Three Behans, John Marx, King of Strong Men, Dorothy Gould, Herbert and Rennie, Edisonograph. Rehearsal Monday, 1 o'clock. Open 7.30 (Saturday 7 o'clock), commence 7.40 (Saturday 7.15). Tele. 503, Westminster. Assist.-Manager, Mr. MAURICE VOLNY.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

ALHAMBRA.
MDLLE. BRITTA in "PAQUITA,"
"THE APACHE DANCE,"
By M. VOLBERT and MLLE. SYLVE.
ART FILMS, Reproducing Dramatice Performances by Renowned French Artists.
TEN JI TROUPE. HENRY HELME.
MULLER, CHUNN, and MULLER. LEONARD RUSSELL. "TWO FLAGS." Divertissement, ERNESTO, JURY'S IMPERIAL PICTURES, &c.
Alfred Moul, Managing Director.

EMPIRE (Leicester-square).
"A DAY IN PARIS."
By Lieut.-Col. N. Newnham-Davis.
The APACHE DANCE is the Talk of London.
LYDIA KYASHT, FRED FARREN, B. COLLIER, MR. HYMACK, "AFTER THE OPERA."
The Great Le Pages, Cornalla and Eddie, Pichel and Scali, Miss Barley's Dogs.
Evenings at 8. Manager, Mr. H. J. HITCHINS.
LIFEBOAT MATINEE, Tuesday next.

PALACE.
MAURICE FARKOA, BERNARDI, BERT LEVY, MARIE DAINTON, PALACE GIRLS, THE LATEST TOPICAL PICTURES on URBANORA BIOSCOPE, &c.
Matinée, Full Programme, Saturdays, at 2.0.
Managing-Director, Mr. ALFRED BUTT.

OXFORD.
Houdini, Victoria Monks, Jack Marx, Dale and O'Malley, Hammon and Wyatt, Harry Randall, Will Evans, Phil Ray, O'Gorman Bros., Carlton, "The Hankihomey Showman," Sam Mayo, Zona Vevey, Florrie Forde, Duncan and Godfrey, Helen Trix, Daisy Dormer, Harry Leybourne, Max Gruber's Performing Elephant, Horse, and Pony, Frank Leon, Ruffell's Bioscope. Open 7.15. Sat. Matinées 2.15. Manager, Mr. Blyth Pratt.

TIVOLI
Fragson, Winifred Ward, Harry Tate and Co., Charles Whittle, Madeline Rossiter, Sanford and Lyons, Aida Martine, The Borellis, Victoria Monks, Harry Randall, Phil Ray, Bioscope, G. H. Elliott, Radford and Valentine, Dan Crawley, Venie Clements, and Carter Livesey and Co., in "Would-be Actors." Open 7.30; Sat. Matinées, 2.15.

MIDDLESEX.
Nov. 23, 1908.
James Willard and Co., in "The Ace of Hearts," Herbert Rule, Mark Leslie, Kimberley Boys, Bros. Sullo, H. C. Lovell and Co., Spry and Monti, Kathleen Cogan, Nellie Farrell, Ted Saunders, Olive West, Elliott Trio, Clementine, Phil Rees' Stable Lads, and Graydon picture programme.

METROPOLITAN.
At 6.45 and 9.10.
Chas. Worland and Co., Madoline Rees, H. Lane and Violet Lloyd, Yolande Noble, Jack Marks, The Five Whiteleys, Venie Clements, Ruby and Laws, Helen Trix, Fred Land, Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope, Martin Henderson, Ben Hur, the Patrician Athlete.

CHELSEA PALACE.
At 6.40 and 9.10.
Malcolm Scott, the Woman Who Knows, Arthur Aldridge, Sibb and Sibb, Amy Clevere, Roma and Romani, Sam Spira, Mabel Thorne, Ruby and Laws, Arthur Pearl,
and
The Haward Sextette, in a Dancing Scena.

THE NEW BEDFORD
PALACE OF VARIETIES, LTD.
Twice Nightly, at 6.10 and 9.0.
Monday, Nov. 23. Leonard Mortimer and Co., in "Captain Cash," Marion Armitage, Matthews and Brown, Eva Lumley Trio, Lew Peterman, Madge Ainsley, Carr and Cooney, The Doreen Girls, Connie Morrie, Fyne and Fane, The Bioscope, May Henderson.
Artists are notified that they must send their full Bill Matter in two clear weeks before opening. Rehearsal, 1 o'clock Mondays. All must attend. Artists not complying with the above rules are subject to having their Contracts cancelled at option of Management.

EMPIRE, Camberwell Green.
Managing-Director, Jesse Sparrow; Manager, Percy Ford; Acting-Manager, Gus Danter.
Maurice Hoffman and Co., in "The Rolling Stone," Billie Barlow, Stewart and Morgan, Harry Conlin, Irene and Morton, Frank Gee, Johnson and De Vere, Harry Frisky, The Kimberley Boys, Mark Leslie, Jeape's Animated Graphic, and W. D. MacKenzie's Co. in Musical Scena, "Moments with the Masters."

CRYSTAL PALACE.
New Departures.
Theatre, "BELOVED VAGABOND," 7.45. Matinée Wednesday, 3. Variety Shows Twice Daily. Attractive Programme. National Cat Club Show, Wednesday and Thursday next. Opening of Monster Skating Rink Saturday next.

MASKELYNE AND DEVANT'S
MYSTERIES.
ST. GEORGE'S HALL, W.
DAILY, at 3 and 8.
What the Press say of Mr. Maskelyne's New Ghosts that appear in the Witches' Scenes of "Macbeth.
The

WITCHES of MACBETH.
Introducing New Illusions.
Produced by Mr. J. N. Maskelyne.
The TIMES.
They are presented in full light and within a few feet from the audience, with most realistic effects, the ghost appearing to come out of space.
The DAILY TELEGRAPH.
Startlingly different in form and speech from anything hitherto seen on the stage. A wonderful innovation.
The STANDARD.
The ghosts appear and disappear in strong light close to the audience, apparently growing out of nothing and melting again into nothingness. It is one of the most mysterious illusions that even the master of mysteries has produced.
The GLOBE.
There is no need to "mask" the eerie forms, as is often done on the ordinary stage, or to hide their theatrical unrealities in semi-darkness. Here they are presented in full light, within a few feet of the audience, and they appear to come out of space.
PALL MALL GAZETTE.
No doubt in the course of the run of this novel and attractive item in the programme, theatre managers will find their way to St. George's Hall, with the possible result that future revivals of "Macbeth" will profit from Mr Maskelyne's very practical illustration of what the art of illusion can do to add to the impressiveness of Shakespearian performances.
SUNDAY TIMES.
It is a compliment, of course, to Mr. Maskelyne to say that his presentation of the witches' scenes is really too impressive; he has succeeded too well. Children who are taken to see it will most assuredly be frightened by it.

GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS. GHOSTS.

The programme also includes:—The Philosopher's Diamond; A Comedy of Marvels. Mr. Louis Nikola, with New Experiments in Sleight of Hand; Essmann, the famous Juggler; Mr. Nelson Jackson, Humourist, at the Piano; the Technopathists (Mr. and Mrs. Marriott), New Silent Thought Readers.—Seats 1s. to 5s. Children half-price. 'Phone, 1,545 Mayfair.

COLONIAL THEATRES.

AUSTRALIA.
MELBOURNE, SYDNEY, BRISBANE,
WELLINGTON, N.Z.
Mr. J. C. Williamson,
Manager of the Leading Australasian Theatres,
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, MELBOURNE;
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, SYDNEY;
THEATRE ROYAL, SYDNEY;
HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE, BRISBANE.
London Representative,
J. A. E. Malone, Daly's Theatre.

AUSTRALIA.
MR. HARRY RICKARDS,
Sole Proprietor and Manager,
GRAND OPERA HOUSE, MELBOURNE,
PRINCE OF WALES' HOTEL, MELBOURNE,
TIVOLI THEATRE, SYDNEY,
TIVOLI HOTEL, SYDNEY,
TIVOLI THEATRE, ADELAIDE,
PALACE THEATRE AND GARDENS, PERTH.
Address all communications, Head Office, Tivoli Theatre, Sydney. Cable Address, "Tivolian, Sydney. General-Manager, John C. Leete.

AUSTRALIA.
THE HERBERT FLEMMING COMEDY CO.
Under the Sole Direction of
Miss BEATRICE DAY.
All arrangements complete for 1908.
Australian address,
c/o Blake and Riggall, 120 William-st., Melbourne.
London Representative
R. Golding Bright, 20, Green-st., Leicester-sq.

NEW ZEALAND.
FULLER'S THEATRICAL CIRCUIT.
Props. JOHN FULLER AND SONS.
AUCKLAND OPERA HOUSE, capacity 1,400.
WELLINGTON THEATRE R., capacity 1,200.
CHRISTCHURCH OPERA H., capacity 1,500.
DUNEDIN, HIS MAJESTY'S, capacity 1,600.
Open treat, Share or Certainty, any Attractions. Season, all the year round. Average pop. 60,000. Tastes, Cosmopolitan.
Australian Tours also arranged.
Head Office, Wellington.

THE ABERDEEN DIRECT LINE
offers Special Low Rates
to Theatrical or Concert Companies going on Tour in
SOUTH AFRICA.
Full information can be obtained from
JOHN T. RENNIE, SON, AND CO.,
4, East India-avenue, E.C.

INDIA AND THE FAR EAST.
BANDMANN'S EASTERN CIRCUIT.
Maurice E. Bandmann
Controls the only Circuit of Theatres in the East.
Proprietor and Joint-Proprietor of the Albany Hotel, Calcutta,
Empire Theatre,
Empire Rink and Hippodrome,
Calcutta.
Empire Buildings, Calcutta,
Theatre Royal, Calcutta,
Bandmann's Theatre, Bombay,
Empire Theatre, Malta,
Maurice E. Bandmann
Holds for the West Indies, Mediterranean, India, and the Far East
the Sole and Exclusive Rights of all
Mr. George Edwardes's
and the Gaiety Theatre Company's Plays,
the Gilbert and Sullivan Operas,
and all other Leading London Productions.
Companies Touring,
The Bandmann Opera Co.,
The Bandmann Comedy Co.,
Mrs. Bandmann Palmer and Shakespearean Co.,
The Ellis Opera Co.,
The London Frivolity Co.,
Alfred West's "Our Navy,"
The Lordon Bioscope Co.,
The Marvellous Grossi.
Required, Companies, Artists, Novelties, and
Attractions of all Descriptions.
Rent, Share, or Certainty.
Manager in London:
Jas. Bury.
Coms., "Sherbourne," Wendover-road, Bromley, Kent. Tele. address, "Rameses, London."

INDIA, CALCUTTA.
EMPIRE THEATRE.
Sole Proprietors,
Maurice E. Bandmann and A. Stephen.
Will open in November; the premier theatre of the East, a perfectly and most elegantly equipped four-tier house, built on the cantilever principle; absolutely up to date. Stage capable of any production. Holding capacity at ordinary prices more than any other theatre in India or the Far East.
A Few Advantages of this Theatre:
No columns to obscure the view; not situated in a side lane; not a corrugated iron roof, but an up-to-date patent concrete roof, 12in. thick; not lit by gas, but modern installation of electricity throughout. Line of sight and acoustics perfect. Audience not cramped up but a 2ft. space allowed to each seat.
THEATRE ROYAL, CALCUTTA
Sole Proprietors,
Maurice E. Bandmann and A. Stephen.
Holds at ordinary prices £250.
The largest stage in the East.
At both theatres resident scenic artist, full band, and permanent staff.
Required, attractions; rent, share, or certainty.
Address, THEATRE ROYAL, CALCUTTA.
Cables, "Svengali, Calcutta."

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

ALDERSHOT.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Only Vacant Dramatic Dates, Dec. 7 and Jan. 18. The third Grand Variety Season will commence Feb. 1, 1909.
Add., Clarence Sounes, Woodlawn, Blackheath, S.E.

BARROW.—ROYALTY THEATRE and OPERA HOUSE; JARROW, THEATRE ROYAL; CONSETT, NEW THEATRE; SPENNYMOOR, CAMBRIDGE THEATRE. Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson. Vacant Dates:—Jarrow, Dec. 14 and 28; Barrow, Nov. 30, Dec. 7, Feb. 8, on, with exceptions; Consett, Dec. 7, and on, with exceptions; Spennymoor, Jan. 18, March 15, 22.
Apply, re dates, Hugh Robertson, T. R., JARROW

BLACKPOOL.
HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE,
WINTER GARDENS,
THE PRINCIPAL THEATRE.
Holds MORE MONEY at ORDINARY PRICES, and has better average business throughout the Year than any Theatre in the Town.
The Most Comfortable, Elegant, and Best-Equipped Theatre. Large and Well Electric Lighted Stage and First-class Orchestra.
All visitors to the Theatre have Free Admission to the Winter Gardens, Floral Hall, Empress Ballroom, and Pavilion Entertainments; thus Companies visiting Her Majesty's Opera House have this additional attraction, which no other Theatre can offer. Only best No. 1 Companies Booked.
For Dates, address, Jno. R. Huddlestone, Manager, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

BOLTON. — THEATRE ROYAL.
Vacant Dates in 1909 for really First-class Attractions. Will be Closed June and July for extensive alterations, enlargement, and bringing thoroughly up to date. All communications, J. F. Elliston, Managing-Director.

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

BLYTH-BY-SEA.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Lessee, A. C. MOODY.
Monday, Nov. 23, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draycott's Répertoire Co.
Professional Houses of Call.
Adelphi Hotel, opposite Stage Door, Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Waterloo Hotel, facing Tyne Theatre, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Proprietors, Messrs. Evans, Beadling, and Moody.
Special intimation.—Mr. Moody will be in attendance at the Adelphi Hotel every Sunday Evening after 6 o'clock, where he will be pleased to meet his patrons and friends.

CAMBRIDGE.—NEW THEATRE (Ltd.).
Man.-Director, Mr. W. B. Redfern, J.P., D.L.
A theatre among the most beautiful in England.—Sunday Times.
All Autumn Dates Filled.
Now Booking Spring, 1909, and onwards.
Silence a polite negative.

CORK. — OPERA HOUSE.
Vacant dates,
Nov. 30,
Jan. 4,
March 1, 8,
and onwards,
with various exceptions.
Applications to R. J. Bell, Manager.

DOUGLAS. — GRAND THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre in the Isle of Man.
A few Dates Open for the Season of 1909.
First-class Attractions only.
Add., Jas. Buck, Sec., 30, Brown-st., Manchester.

EPSOM PUBLIC HALL.—To Let for Theatrical Touring Companies, Variety Entertainments, and Concerts; recently re-decorated; Proscenium and Drop; Dressing Rooms; Electric Light; Tariff on application. Lemmon.

GLASGOW CORPORATION HALLS.
(located in ten different parts of the City).
Available for Dramatic and Concert Purposes.
Apply, Walter Freer, Responsible Manager, City Hall, Glasgow.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE, LTD.
Established 1884.
Managing-Director, Joseph H. Curry.
Open all the Year Round.
Telegraphic add., "Curry, Grimsby." Tel. No. 240.

HANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.
The Staffordshire Potteries
for all
Dramatic Purposes
must be considered as one large town.
Accommodation for 3,700 People.
Electric Trams and Trains after Performance to all ends of the District.
Vacant Dates,
Feb. 15,
March 15, 29,
April 5,
and onwards with exceptions,
For First-class Companies only.
Chas. E. Elphinstone, Managing-Director.

HASLINGDEN PUBLIC HALL.
Newly Redecorated, Open for Daily and Weekly Lettings. Seating for 1,200, 16 miles from Manchester. Population 19,000. Size of Platform 50ft. by 12ft, Extended Platform 44ft. by 8ft. For Terms, &c., apply to Town Clerk, Haslingden.

HULL. — GRAND THEATRE.
Under the Management of William Morton.
The forward Bookings include:—
Martin Harvey; George Edwardes' Companies, in "The Merry Widow" (2 visits), "The Waltz Dream," "The Dollar Princess"; Moody-Manners Opera Co.; Sir John Hare, in "A Pair of Spectacles," "Caste," and "The Gay Lord Quex"; Mr. Percy Hutchison and Miss Emma Hutchison's Cos., in "Lady Frederick" and "Brewster's Millions"; Miss Ellen Terry and Co., in "Captain Brassbound's Conversion"; Miss Ada Reeve and a full London Company, in "Butterflies"; Miss Marie Studholme, in "My Mimosa Maid"; Mr. Forbes Robertson, Gertrude Elliott and Co., Mr. Oscar Ashe, Miss Lily Brayton and Co., in "The Taming of the Shrew," "The Two Pins," and "Othello," "The Christian," "Belle of New York," "Tom Jones"; Zena Dare, in "The Gay Gordons"; Messrs. Smith and Carpenter's Co., in "Pete"; George Alexander's "The Thief"; Christmas Pantomime, "The Fair One with the Golden Locks," by Stanley Rogers.
Applications for Dates, also for the Theatre Royal, Hull, and the Alexandra,
Please address, Wm. Morton.

LEYLAND PUBLIC HALL,
LANCASHIRE. Stage, 30ft. by 20ft. Proscenium. Seats 800. Balcony. District population, 8,000. Small stock scenery. No sharing.
Vacant Dates for Companies or Entertainers.
Apply, Managing-Director, Park House, Leyland.

LOUGHTON. — LOPPING HALL.
On Monday, Nov. 30, at 8 p.m., will be presented, for the first time,
an Original Comic Opera,
by
R. T. NICHOLSON and A. WIMPERIS, entitled
"THE MARBLE PALLAS; or, THE MANNIKINS."
Admission, 1 guinea.

NOTTINGHAM.—GRAND THEATRE.
For Vacant Dates,
Address,
Cranbourn-mansions,
Cranbourn-street, London.

OLDHAM.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
Will be Opened next Xmas.
Vacant March 8, 22, April 5, 19.
No. 1 Companies only entertained.
A Stage that will be capable of producing the biggest Attractions Touring.
One of the finest Theatres in the Provinces.
Address, E. Dottridge, EMPIRE THEATRE.

OXFORD. — NEW THEATRE.
Managers of First-class Companies are invited to apply for Dates to
Mr. C. C. Dorrill,
Managing-Director,
Silence a polite negative.

PORTSMOUTH. — NEW THEATRE ROYAL.
Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton.
Open throughout the year.
First-class Companies.
Weekly Matinées.

SHEERNESS. — Correspondent Required to Supply Theatrical and Music Hall Reports weekly. Address, Dramaticus, c/o "The Era," 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

SOUTH SHIELDS. — THEATRE ROYAL.
Lessees and Managers, J. and F. Coulson.
Now Booking Autumn, 1909.
All communications as above.

SUDBURY. — Correspondent Required to supply Theatrical Reports Weekly. Address, Dramaticus, c/o "The Era," 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WEYMOUTH. — ROYAL VICTORIA JUBILEE HALL (Central position). Large Stage, fitted complete (take 18ft. Scenery), Stock Scenery, good Dressing-rooms, seat up to 1,100 (can be curtained off to seat less), Theatricals, Concerts, Exhibitions, Circuses, &c.; population 23,000; rental only. Apply, J. J. Roberts, Managing Secretary.

FUNDS, &c.

ROYAL GENERAL THEATRICAL FUND.
FOR MEMBERS BECOMING INCAPACITATED EITHER BY OLD AGE OR INFIRMITY.
Hon. Treasurer, Edward Terry, Esq., J.P.,
Charles J. Davies, Secretary, Savoy House, Strand.

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND.
8, ADAM-STREET, STRAND.
C. I. Coltson, Secretary.

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND.
The ANNUAL DINNER of the Actors' Benevolent Fund will be held at the HOTEL METROPOLE on SUNDAY, Dec. 13.
CYRIL MAUDE, Esq., in the Chair.
Donations will be most gratefully received by Cyril Maude, Esq., The Playhouse, W.C., and Mr. C. I. Coltson, the Secretary of the Fund, from whom Dinner Tickets (One Guinea) may be obtained.
A selection of music under the direction of Mr. J. H. Maunder will be given.
Offices: 8, Adam-street, Strand, W.C.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION.
Telegrams, "Actoris, London."
Telephone, 1753 Gerrard.
353, STRAND, W.C.
Subscriptions, 4s. 6d. Quarterly, or 15s. Annually.
Entrance Fee, 5s.

MUSIC HALL SICK FUND.
Founded in 1867.
Committee Meetings second Wednesday in the month at 2 p.m.
Sick Payments—£1 for 5d. per week, £1 10s. for 9d. per week. £10 paid to nearest relative on death of member. President, Mr. FRED KARNO. Hon. Auditors, Messrs. H. B. High and W. Brisco; Trustees, Messrs. H. Jennings, Jesse Sparrow, and Douglas White; Vice-President, Mr. W. J. Wainratta; Treasurer, Mr. Frank Heath; Secretary, Mr. R. T. Baines. Address all communications, the Crown Hotel, Charing Cross-road, W.C.

TOURING MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION LTD.,
AND THE MANAGERS' CLUB,
SAVOY-MANSIONS, STRAND, W.C.
For particulars of Membership, apply to The Secretary. Telegraphic address, "Playwright, London." Telephone, 8458 Gerrard.

ACADEMIES AND SCHOOLS.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF MUSIC,
TENTERDEN-STREET, W.
Instituted 1822 Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1830.
The Academy offers to Pupils of both sexes an opportunity of receiving a thorough education in Music in all its branches, the Drama, and Dramatic Elocution under the most eminent Professors.
For terms and all other information, apply to
F. W. RENAUT, Secretary.

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC
(Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1883).
Prince Consort-road, South Kensington, S.W.
Patron: HIS MAJESTY THE KING.
President, H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G.
Director, Sir C. Hubert H. Parry, Bart., C.V.O., D.C.L., M.A., Mus. Doc.
Hon. Sec., Charles Morley, Esq.
Syllabus and Official Entry Forms may be obtained from FRANK POWNALL, Registrar.

GUILDHALL SCHOOL OF MUSIC.
The only School in London for OPERATIC and THEATRICAL
TRAINING which possesses a completely equipped Theatre.
Public Performances periodically given.
Stagecraft, Elocution, Fencing, Gesture, and Deportment Taught by Eminent Professors.
New Pupils can enter at any time.
FEES MODERATE. Prospectus on application to H. SAXE-WYNDHAM, Sec., Victoria-embankment, E.C Tel No. 1943 Holborn.

TRINITY COLLEGE OF MUSIC
(Inst. 1872).
Chairman of Board:—
Sir FREDERICK BRIDGE, M.V.O.
Director of Studies:—
G. E. BAMBRIDGE, F.T.C.L.
Director of Examinations, C. W. PEARCE, Mus.D.
Students are received at any time. Day and evening tuition. Also by correspondence.
Prospectus of the Teaching Department and Examination Syllabuses post free on application.
By order, SHELLEY FISHER, Secretary.
Mandeville Place, London, W.

TILLER SCHOOLS OF DANCING,
143, CHARING CROSS-RD., LONDON, W.C.
Autumn Term.
Every kind of Dancing Taught.
French and Italian, Orthodox Ballet, Graceful Dances, and Deportment, by Mme. Sismondi.
Special Solo Lessons by Mme. Stichel by arrangement (Maitress de Ballet of the Opera and Chatelet Theatre, Paris).
English, American, Fancy and Special Dances taught and arranged by competent teachers.
Classes for Beginners:—
Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, 11 to 2.
Special Department for the Production, Teaching, and Rehearsing of Acts, Sketches, or Scenes, for Amateurs and Professionals, under the direction of Billy McClain.
Terms and Particulars on Application.
All lessons (private or otherwise) under the personal supervision of John Tiller.

STEDMAN'S SCHOOLS OF SINGING,
VOICE PRODUCTION and STAGE DANCING.
Famous for thirty-one years for successful high-class Tuition, known all over the world. Three months' day or evening tuition, 1 guinea. Entire satisfaction guaranteed to each pupil. Head Offices, 58, BERNERS-STREET, OXFORD-STREET, W. School of Dancing, 9, ARGYLL-PLACE, W. (quite close to Oxford-circus Tubes). 'Phone, 8194 Central, 6655 Gerrard.

SCALE OF CHARGES FOR PROVINCIAL THEATRES
AND
PROVINCIAL MUSIC HALLS.
Five Lines, TWO and SIXPENCE.
Thirteen Insertions (Including a Copy of "The Era" Weekly), THIRTY SHILLINGS.
For Each Additional Line, Sixpence.
Address, the Publisher,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4747, Central.

WILL MR. W. G. CAREY,
Australian Actor,
or any Friend knowing his Address,
PLEASE COMMUNICATE with the Manager of "The Era," who has something to communicate to Mr. Carey's advantage.

NOW IN PREPARATION.
FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
A World-wide Circulation, therefore an Excellent Medium for Advertisers.
1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
Advertisements
should be Forwarded at once to the Office,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For Scale of Charges see Leader Page.

YOUR AILMENT IS NATURE'S REPROOF.

To overcome that ailment, you require Nature's Assistance.

ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT.'

is Nature's Own Remedy.

No Family Should Ever Be Without It.
Caution.—Examine the capsule, and see that it is marked ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT,' otherwise you have the sincerest form of flattery—IMITATION.

Sold by Chemists, &c., Everywhere.

THEATRICAL SHOE AND HOSIERY MANUFACTURERS.
MAKERS TO THE PRINCIPAL LONDON THEATRES.

Louis Heel Dancing Shoes a Speciality.
Sixty Art Shades of Linen Back Satin, Specially Woven for the Manufacture of Dancing Shoes, kept in Stock.
This Satin has a Fine Lustre, and is almost as Strong as Leather.

Large Stock of Pure and Spun Silk Tights, Worsted and Cotton Tights, Opera Hose, Stockings, &c.
A Special Study made of Symmetrical Paddings.
The most Up-to-Date Stock of Stage Requisites and Sundries.
Everything of the Best and at Store Prices.
H. and M. RAYNE,
115, 117, and 119, WATERLOO-ROAD, LONDON, S.E.
(Opposite Electric Tram Terminus).
Tel., 7,978 Central.
And at 49, Charing Cross-rd., W.C., nr. Hippodrome.

1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
EARLY APPLICATION should be made for space in the 1909 issue of "THE ERA" ANNUAL, which is now in active preparation.
A world-wide circulation, therefore THE BEST MEDIUM for Advertisements of every description.

FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
Circulates in every town in the world where there is a place of amusement. It is therefore the best medium for those who require world-wide publicity.

Scale of Charges
For Professional Advertisements.

FULL PAGE	£4	4	0
HALF PAGE	2	2	0
QUARTER PAGE	1	1	0

A few Special Positions at present vacant.
Blocks supplied if required.

Address the Publisher,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK ST., COVENT GARDEN, W.C.

'Phones 4747 and 1433 Central.

TO OUR READERS.
A SINGLE COPY OF "THE ERA."
Post-free to any Address in the United Kingdom for SIX STAMPS.
Telegraphic Address, "The Era," London.
Address, THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

THE ERA

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1908.

THEATRES AND WATER-RATES.

On Dec. 9 last a deputation of London managers, under the auspices of the Theatrical Managers' Association, waited on the committee of the Metropolitan Water Board to protest against the system of water-rating theatres. Before that date managers of theatres had paid so much a year for each water hydrant on their premises, and on their consumption of water as estimated by meter, or by a percentage on agreed yearly value. Under the law which came into force on April 1 last it was arranged to rate theatres like ordinary buildings—i.e., 5 per cent. on the rateable value. The managers naturally objected to this, and claimed to be treated as manufacturers and charged for the amount of water used in carrying on their business.

As Sir CHARLES WYNDHAM put it, "there is nothing domestic about a theatre. The water used is mainly used by the public. A theatre is generally used only for about three hours in the evening, the same at one matinée, occasionally for rehearsals, and not at all on Sunday. In a private house water is used all day, every day, for baths, kitchen, scullery, and all domestic purposes. In a theatre the use is comparatively trivial. Four thousand pounds a year is probably an average rateable value for a London theatre; some are, of course, rated higher than this. At 5 per cent. this would make a charge for water of £200 a year, or, with an abatement of 30 per cent., which it is understood might be made, £140 a year. There are also sundry extra charges made for hydrants, &c. In two theatres which at present measure the water used by meter, the amount used, at a charge of 1s. per 1000 gallons, comes to about £32 and £40 a year.

The case of a theatre is not even "on all fours" with that of business premises, on the rating of which a 30 per cent. reduction is allowed to be made. In the case of business premises, there are usually a number of clerks or other employees in the building during the day, using water in various ways. In a theatre the consumption of water is very small.

What the managers asked last December was to be charged by meter for the water they actually used, as is done in the case of water consumed for "trade purposes," and they were willing to guarantee a minimum consumption.

The result of the deputation in December last was not satisfactory to the suppliants; and any plan for the solution of the problem must be hailed with hearty welcome by all readers of The Era. The thoughtful and well-informed article by Mr. E. BAILEY-DENTON, which we published on the 7th inst., is worthy of the most careful consideration. The average value of a London theatre, says Mr. BAILEY-DENTON, may be taken at £100,000, rated at £5,000 per annum, whilst the consumption of water during that period is only 700,000 gallons. The rate payable to the Metropolitan Water Board averages £200 a year, which sum is equivalent to a charge of 5s. 6d. per 1,000 gallons. Under the old system, with an average payment of 10d. per 1,000 gallons, as was customary, the payment would have been £30; therefore there has been an increase of 566 per cent. over and above what was contributed before, and this payment is made upon a commodity of life which is practically not utilised.

Mr. BAILEY-DENTON, after reviewing all the proposed remedies, comes to what he calls the "only practical and certain one"—i.e., the sinking of private wells or boreholes. There is, and always will be, a copious supply of water in the chalk beneath our feet, and it is in our power to raise it economically.

The cost of sinking boreholes into the chalk, together with the necessary machinery, may, in round and average figures, be taken at £800 for a theatre. This could, Mr. BAILEY-DENTON thinks, be paid out of net income or by a loan on the sinking fund principle spread over a number of years. The method of raising the pure water by the use of ordinary river water, which is employed by the London Hydraulic Power Company, would be applicable to the elevation of water for use in a theatre.

"A thousand gallons of 'Power' water," says Mr. DENTON, "will raise 4,000 gallons of ordinary water from the standing water level in the chalk to the summits of high buildings, and the charge for it is 1s. 6d. Taking Sir CHARLES WYNDHAM'S figures, therefore, with an annual consumption of 700,000 gallons, the total payment to the Hydraulic Company would be about £13, a saving of £187 with the existing 20 per cent. rebate, and of £165 with a 30 per cent. rebate."

There is a fascination in the idea of escaping for ever from the toils of the Water Board which must appeal to everyone who realises the present unjust system of rating theatres and music-halls. The improvement of theatrical property by the sinking of such wells would be great; and it is only fair that the cost should be, at any rate, divided between the lessees and the owners of the theatres, who would benefit in perpetuity by the existence of such wells. It seems quite hopeless to expect any real reform of the Water Board's charges. All that can be done in the way of appeal and argument has been tried; but the Board shows the impenetrability to ideas which is characteristic of almost all official bodies. The only thing left for theatrical proprietors and managers to do is to render themselves independent of the Water Board altogether. The experiment could most reasonably be tried by some manager who is the owner of the theatre with which he is connected; and then, if the result was satisfactory, his example might safely be followed by his brother-managers. We hope to see the sinking of "private wells or boreholes" commenced in various quarters before long, so that the plan so eloquently advocated by Mr. BAILEY-DENTON may be put prosperously into practice.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star.

"ON Sept. 30, 1826," says Haydon in his biography, "I met Jack Bannister by accident in Chenies Street, Bedford Square. His face was as fresh, his eye as keen, and his voice as musical as ever. I had not seen him for years. He held out his hand just as he used to do on the stage, with the same frank, native truth. As he spoke, the tones of his favourite Walter pierced my heart. It was extraordinary the effect. 'Bannister,' said I, 'your voice recalls my early days.'—'Ah,' said he, 'I had some touches, had I not?' He told me a story of Lord Egremont. Bannister bought at Sir Joshua's sale the Virgin and Child. He sent it to a sale at a room for £250. Lord E. told the seller he would give £200. It was agreed to. Lord Egremont afterwards said to Bailey, 'I have bought Reynolds' Virgin and Child.' 'Ah,' said Bailey, 'it was Bannister's picture. You gave £250.' He said nothing, but the same day wrote to Bannister he was ashamed to have offered less, and sent him a cheque for the £50 owing. I said to Bannister, as Napoleon said to Talma, 'We are talking history; I shall put this down.'—'Shall ye though?' said he, as his face flushed. 'That I will,' said I; and he hobbled off with a sort of wriggling enjoyment."

CHARLES BANNISTER had a fine voice, a fine taste, and a copious recollection of traits and tones. His song became an imitation, sometimes serious, oftener burlesque, of the principal singers of the period. In both he was excellent. Garrick once took Giordini, the famous violinist, to hear his imitations of Tenducci and Champneys. The violinist declared the imitation perfect; sarcastically remarking, however, that "it had one fault—the voice of the mimic was better than that of the originals." He was a capital wit, and always in difficulties. A pleasantry of his told both. At the time when all the world were talking of the death of Sir Theodosius Boughton in 1781, who was poisoned by laurel-water, "Pooh," said Charles, "don't tell me of your laurel leaves. I fear none but a bay-leaf." (bailiff). His wit was so redundant that he could afford to throw it away on his son. But Jack was a seedling of the same stock, and knew how to throw back the pleasantry fresh pointed. Once when he had caused his father some slight irritation the offence was marked by "Jack, I'll cut you off with a shilling." "I wish, father," said Jack, "you would give it to me now." His father, delighted at the kindred spirit, gave him much more than he had asked.

"MACBETH" AT MASKELYNE'S.

Agreeable little playlets have for many years formed the medium for presenting the startling surprises associated with the Home of Mystery, but Messrs. Maskelyne and Devant have now taken it upon themselves to show how much may be gained by the introduction into a ready-made play of the magic art in which they deal. A Message from Mars and a few other pieces have owed much of their success to the ingenious effects supplied by Mr. Maskelyne, and the wonder is that more advantage is not taken on the regular stage of his invaluable aid. An evidence of the effect of his ingenuity in a play of Shakespeare was given at the St. George's Hall on Friday, the 13th, when he produced a combination of Scene 5 Act 3, and Scene 1 Act 4 of Macbeth, under the title of

"THE WITCHES OF 'MACBETH.'"

Macbeth	MR. GORDON BAILEY
Lennox	MR. E. S. ELTON
First Witch	MR. J. N. MASKELYNE
Second Witch	MR. CHAS. GLENROSE
Third Witch	MR. E. MOREHEN
Hecate	MISS CASSIE BRUCE

The scenes lend themselves admirably to illusionary purposes, and the result was a most awesome and imposing display, in which all the weird effects possible were obtained. The setting is that of The Blasted Heath, with the Witches' Cave conveniently at hand, though the posts which support the cave impede the view of the "ghosts" said to be produced on an entirely new principle. Hecate makes her charge to the three beldames and disappears, soaring away into the air in true Mother Shipton style. The old cronies prepare their infernal stew with much elaboration, and then Macbeth appears to learn his fate. Amid the raging of the storm, Macbeth sees the grim array of spectres of the past and the visions of the future rise from the depths of the earth, each in succession appearing from nowhere, and melting as mysteriously into space. The storm effects could scarcely have been better managed, the vivid flashes of lightning, the resonant claps of thunder, and the moaning of the wind being appallingly realistic. The acting of the excerpt was of the highest order. That fine young Shakespearean Mr. Gordon Bailey bore the burden of the title-rôle, and acquitted himself in excellent fashion. The power and intensity of Macbeth's anguish was artistically expressed, and though there was perhaps a tendency to force the pace, Mr. Bailey's performance was so admirable as to induce a keen desire to see him in the other portions of the rôle. Mr. Maskelyne himself headed the trio of witches, who presented a terror-inspiring appearance, either concocting their malicious spells or dancing round in ferocious glee. Mr. Chas. Glenrose and Mr. E. Morehen were equally forbidding as the Second and Third Witch respectively, while Mr. E. S. Elton was a vigorously expressive Lennox. The designing Hecate was a comely maiden as personified by Miss Cassie Bruce, whose dramatic talents were invaluable in the part. Her cultivated singing was very enjoyable, and indeed the song in which an accompaniment is furnished by invisible voices proved weirdly beautiful. The piece is mounted with an elaboration superior even to that to which Mr. Maskelyne has accustomed us, and will undoubtedly form one of the most appetising dishes in the menu at Maskelyne's for many months to come.

The well-stocked programme has been embellished by the addition of the performance of M. Louis Nikola, a master of sleight-of-hand, who does some bewildering feats of conjuring, keeping up a running fire of humorous comments that amuses all. Mr. Nelson Jackson's cheery "Society Snapshots" at the piano keep the audience thoroughly entertained, and an encore is responded to by an apropos song of "Macbeth," quaintly written and as quaintly rendered. Essman continues to give dexterous and diverting feats as the juggling waiter; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marriott amaze again with their experiments in "Technopathy"; and the comedy of marvels, The Philosopher's Diamond, brings to a conclusion a unique entertainment that amuses large audiences twice daily.

"THE EMPTY CRADLE."

A new Domestic Drama, in Four Acts, by St. Clair Forbes, produced at the New Royal, Bilston, on Monday, Nov. 16.

Kenneth Bloodworth	MR. CLAUD H. SEATON
Carnaby Bloodworth	MR. ST. CLAIR FORBES
Sir Carnaby Bloodworth	MR. D. URQUHART
James Boswell	MR. FRED WELLS
Hon. St. Clair Selby	MR. KENNETH SCOTT
Misery	MR. WALLACE BLACK
Mary Barton	MISS FLORENCE TRELVOIR
Sarah Puddicombe	MISS CONNIE MEADOWS
Martha Boswell	MRS. TOM WILSON
Ida Boswell	MISS NANCE BATTERSBY

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Ida Boswell, a gipsy girl, is being wooed by Kenneth Bloodworth, the scapegrace son of Sir Carnaby Bloodworth, but the girl has already succumbed to the more polished and attractive manner of his brother Carnaby, who, having won her trust only to betray it, casts her off. Kenneth learns of her disgrace, but offers her and her unborn child the shelter of his name. The offer is refused, and Kenneth is sent away in despair. When her child is a few months old Ida demands of his father that he shall do his duty towards his offspring. This Carnaby is in no way inclined to do, but seeks a means of being rid of it for ever, and enlists the help of the unscrupulous housekeeper Mary Barton. The mother is rendered unconscious and the child taken away to be put to death and afterwards buried by Mary Barton in the adjoining coppice. When the mother regains consciousness and enquires for the child Carnaby declares that he has sent it away to be brought up in more suitable surroundings. A poor cripple called Misery and the Hon. St. Clair Selby have caught a glimpse of Mary Barton carrying a spade in the coppice, and when they hear that Ida's child has disappeared they become suspicious, and watch the movements of both Mary and her accomplice. These suspicions are also communicated to Kenneth, who has become a clergyman. Mary is at last driven into a corner, and endeavours to set matters right. She confesses to having been the mistress of Sir Carnaby Bloodworth, and declares that Misery, the cripple, is Sir Carnaby's rightful son and heir, and the one known as Carnaby Bloodworth is her son. Ida Boswell's child, which Mary had not killed, is restored, and Kenneth at last wins his reward in the consent of Ida to become his wife.

Although the plot is laid upon somewhat orthodox lines, it is keenly interesting and full of vigorous movement. Mr. D. Urquhart did capable work as Sir Carnaby Bloodworth; Mr. St. Clair Forbes depicts cleverly the unprincipled character of Carnaby Bloodworth; and Mr. Claude H. Seaton made a manly vigorous Kenneth Bloodworth. Miss Nance Battersby was a decided success as Ida Boswell, the gipsy girl, her acting being easy and natural. She was especially effective in Act III., where Ida grieves over the empty cradle. Mr. Fred Wells and Mrs. Tom Wilson were very successful as James and Martha Boswell. The cripple Misery was well portrayed by Mr. Wallace Black; and Miss Florence Trelvoir made the most of the part of Mary Barton. Miss Connie Meadows was amusing and original as the servant Sarah Puddicombe; and Mr. Kenneth Scott was successful as the Hon. St. Clair Selby. The piece went very well on Monday, and if the verdict of the audience on that occasion is any criterion, then The Empty Cradle should add to the list of touring successes.

THE DRAMA IN BERLIN.

"ERDE."

Comedy, in Three Acts, by Karl Schoenherr, Produced at the Hebbel Theatre, Nov. 12.

Grutz	HERR HERZFELD
Hannes	HERR LICHO
Mena	FRAULEIN BERTENS
Trine	FRAULEIN MAYER
Eishofbauer	HERR WLACH
Totenweib	FRAULEIN RICHARD
Totengräber	HERR BERG
Tischler	HERR LICHTENBERG
Arzt	HERR BEYERLE
Oberknecht	HERR KARSTEN
Rossknecht	HERR PRAGER
Konrad	HERR MUELLER

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, THURSDAY, Nov. 19.—The author is a man of parts, and winner of the Schiller Prize for excellence in literary work. He is, therefore, entitled to respect, and his latest production was followed with much attention. While, however, its reception was cordial, it did not create the impression that many anticipated. The reason is, to my thinking, not far to seek; there is far too much dallying with the subject of death, which, however playfully handled, is never a tasteful one to the average theatre-goer. A few words will suffice for the plot, which is extremely meagre. The old farmer-peasant Grutz clings to life with a tenacity that is astonishing in a man of over three-score, and which causes great inconvenience to everyone. His son Hannes, instead of becoming master of the little farm, grows grey in the capacity of farm hand, without the wherewithal to marry. Mena, the particularly rough and brutal housekeeper, sees her hopes of catching the heir frustrated, and the old man—who is more than a bit of a tyrant—grins at them all. Being given up finally after a bick from a horse, and even after he has been measured (in the presence of the audience) for his coffin, he revives, and hobbles downstairs as well as ever, to everybody's disgust and his own grim amusement. The play was admirably acted, Fräulein Bertens playing the rôle of Mena splendidly.

THE Deutsches has made a hit with Nestroy's burlesque, Revolution in Krähwinkel, a work more than fifty years old, but brimful of laughable moments. The scene is laid during the revolutionary period of 1848 in a tiny corner of the Fatherland known as Krähwinkel (crowcorner). All the characters are more or less caricatures, as is Nestroy's custom, but the fun is undeniable, despite the almost utter absence of plot. Costumes and scenery were accurate and delightful, as they always are under Herr Reinhardt's régime, and the acting was about as faultless as it could be.

AT the Friedrich Wilhelm Städtisches Seine Hoheit three-act comedy by MM. von Schlicht and Turszniski, was produced last week with satisfactory results. It is rather a poor work, considering it emanates from so experienced an author as Baron Schlicht (pseudonym for Count Wolf Baudissin), but it makes up in easy jokes what it lacks in action. His Highness is a princeling named Hans Albrecht von Totzau-Kremmingen, the heir to the throne of that mythical little State. Having gone the pace in the capital as a cavalry officer, the Prince is sent by his father to a remote station and exchanged into an infantry regiment. After anticipated improvement in morals, Hans Albrecht is to return and marry Princess Olga, the bride selected for him by the State. His Highness, nevertheless, falls deeply in love with his colonel's daughter, pretty Countess Dagmar, and will have no other. After some show of opposition the reigning Prince relents, and all ends happily. This is the whole plot, which is the reverse of exciting as will be readily comprehended. The acting, too, might easily have been brisker.

THREE one-act plays were produced for the first time here at the Neues on Saturday last. The only serious one is Ahasner, by the Dutch dramatist Heijermans, and is an early work. It is the tragic story of a Russian Jew who in the days of persecution kills his son because he denies his religion. The power of one of the scenes is undeniable, but the whole does not come up to the author's later works. The second piece, Besuch, by Adolf Grabowsky, is a confused "dream" play, saved only from failure by the introduction of some humorous scenes. In the third piece the audience let themselves go, and laughed heartily. It is from the French, and excellently translated, under the title of Silberfischchen, by Sigmund Lautenburg. An inexperienced young lawyer puts an end to a lawsuit by bringing about a reconciliation of the parties. Considering the fact that his father-in-law and another advocate have lived and flourished upon the proceeds of the said suit for the space of fifteen years, the indignation of the firm may be imagined. The young partner, seeing his error, now endeavours, with the experienced elder rogues to aid him, to make the clients fall out once more, and in the course of time succeeds. All three pieces were capitally acted and staged.

A CLEVERLY-WRITTEN mythological play in four acts, entitled Auteros, met with a cordial reception at the Fredrich Wilhelm Städtisches last Tuesday. The author, Erich Korn, was called and warmly applauded.

AT the New Drill Hall, Durham, on Monday and Tuesday, Miss Inez Howard's company, presented The Midnight Wedding. Mr. F. W. Freeman sustained the part of Paul Valmar, sword-master of the Royal Hussars, excellently; Mr. W. J. Rea gave a well-studied reading of Lieut. Von Strelsburg; Mr. C. H. Matthews was a capital Captain Von Scarsbruck; Mr. W. H. Baker gave a performance of Prince Leopold, marked by admirable self-restraint; Messrs. W. Charlton, A. Richards, and W. Glaze showed some excellent humour as Sergeant Max, Corporal Otto, and Private Bobbo; Mr. J. Winter was good as Father Gerard; Miss Ethel Savill, in the dual rôle of Princess Astrea and Lieut. Helsburg displayed much skill and versatility. Considerable fun was caused by Miss Elsie Dene as Kathie; Miss Ruth Wingrove was good as Satanella. The production was well staged, and Mr. H. Gordon proved an efficient musician.

ONE morning a letter was brought to David Garrick at Southampton-street, introducing Tate Wilkinson, who wished to go on the stage. Garrick received him kindly, listened to his declamation, which was poor enough, and comforted the aspirant by telling him that his shyness was a very good sign of success. This young fellow had hung about the green-room in Covent Garden, and for all his shyness was a pert, forward, impudent gamin, whose precocious talents of mimicry had been overpraised by friends. He offered to "take off" some of the well-known actors, to show the manager his gifts. "Nay, now," said Garrick, in his peculiar mixture of hesitation and repetition, which made his "talk" a favourite subject of imitation. "Nay, now, sir, you must take care of this; for I used to call myself the first at this business." But the young fellow knew the manager's weak place. He began, leading off with Foote. The likeness amused the manager immensely, and the performance was repeated. "Hey, now! now—what—all," went on Mr. Garrick. "How—really this—this—is—why, well, well, well, do call on me on Monday, and you may depend on my doing all I can for you." . . . On the Monday the youth came again, and was welcomed warmly. He was told that inquiries had been made about his widowed mother, and that he was to be put on the books at thirty shillings a week—a fortune indeed.

THE DRAMA IN PARIS.

"DIX MINUTES D'AUTO,"

Farce, in Three Acts, by MM. Georges Berr and P. Decourcelle, produced at the Nouveautés on Nov. 13.

Jacqueline	MLLE. BLANCHE TOUTAIN
Mme. Bosson	MME. ROSINE MAUREL
Brigitte	MLLE. SANDRY
Gilberte Chalandrin	MLLE. HERROUET
Mme. Mathias	MME. JENNY ROSE
Potiche	M. GERMAIN
Laloucagne	M. DECORT
Tournenville	M. BARON FILS
Duverdier	M. LANDRIN
Tranquille	M. ARDOT
Margan	M. HARDOUX
Maxime	M. LENOIR

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, THURSDAY, Nov. 19.—The idea of this farce is funny enough, but it has been worked out so badly as to become tedious in parts. A chemist, called Folletourte, has bequeathed his immense fortune to his friend Laloucagne, provided the latter consents to marry Folletourte's widow, Jacqueline. Laloucagne by no means objects to this clause, inasmuch as Jacqueline is young and remarkably pretty. At curtain-rise we are in Laloucagne's brilliantly-lighted salon. He and Jacqueline have been married that morning, and the young couple are receiving congratulations not only from friends and relations, but also from the lodgers in the house, whose landlord Laloucagne has become. Among the latter is Gilberte Chalandrin, a demi-mondaine who has a liaison with Tournenville, a doctor, and with the idiotic creature Duverdier. But a letter is brought to Laloucagne by the family lawyer, a communication from the late M. Folletourte, who had deposited it with the lawyer, to be handed to his successor on his wedding day at the stroke of ten p.m. In that letter the deceased gentleman calls his successor a fool for having thought that he would have inherited a fortune and a pretty wife unless there had been a screw loose somewhere, and in plain terms he tells Laloucagne that his wife is not a virtuous woman. The horror-stricken man cannot read further, for Potiche, in an excess of zeal, snatches the letter from Laloucagne's hands and starts burning it at the lighted candle. Who is Potiche? He is Laloucagne's half-brother. That gentleman's father had made love to his cook, and Potiche is the result. Potiche is also Laloucagne's valet and confidential friend, and when his master rushes forward to save the document from the flames it is too late. The part referring to Jacqueline's guilt has been burnt, and the maddened husband does not know which way to turn. During the next two acts Laloucagne is seen feverishly hunting for the missing proofs. He suspects every man he meets, especially Tournenville and Duverdier, the demi-mondaine's lovers, and at last he discovers the truth. Jacqueline, it appears, had gone with her late husband, M. Folletourte, to the "Bal des Quat'z' Arts," her husband disguised as a Doge. Towards three in the morning her husband told her it was time to go home. She followed him into the motor-car, and, to her surprise, he began to make violent love, and gave her very strong proofs of his affection. Feeling sleepy, she retired to her room, and the next morning she discovered to her dismay that a stranger, disguised and masked like her husband, had taken advantage of her. Folletourte knew the pretty story, and, as he did not believe in his innocence, he wanted his successor to become acquainted with it. But it turns out that this enterprising stranger was no other than Laloucagne, who had gone that night to the "Bal des Quat'z' Arts" and had fallen in love with the masked lady; and, as he wore the same costume as that lady's husband, he successfully carried out the scheme. If the farce flagged at all, it was not through any shortcomings on the part of the exponents. They worked with a will, and gave as much life as they could to the shadowy personages in the piece.

RIPPLES of laughter greeted L'Enfant de ma Sœur, the three-act vaudeville by MM. Mouezy-Eon and Robert Francheville, brought out at the Théâtre Déjazet. The smartly-written farce met with a tremendous success. Achille Gabarron, a young law-student anxious to pass his examination, asks Napoléon Premie, a waiter who has seen better days, to impersonate him before the examiners. For Gabarron has not attended to his work, and he promises £50 to Napoléon if he helps him over the difficulty. Gabarron has lost his heart to the daughter of Maçon-Parthenay, a professor at the Paris University. The latter has never seen Gabarron, but he knows that the youth has a millionaire uncle, and he, therefore, is anxious that his daughter should become Mme. Gabarron. The waiter's examination is shriekingly funny, and so are the other scenes, which baffle description. Part of the success of the piece is attributable to the splendid cast, which comprised MM. Max-André, Vilder, Wagman, and Lecomte, and Mmes. Rolle, Maïa, and de Massel.

THERE is trouble between M. Maurice Maeterlinck and the Opéra management. As I have informed you already, the Opéra had accepted M. Maeterlinck's Mona Vanna, for which M. Février has written the music. M. Maeterlinck insisted on the title-rôle being sung by Mme. Georgette Leblanc. MM. Messager and Broussan, however, decided otherwise, and gave the part to Mlle. Bréval. The great Belgian author, a peaceful man, would willingly have let events take their course; but he had to reckon with Mme. Leblanc, who, rightly or wrongly, considered that she alone could impersonate the heroine. When M. Maeterlinck heard that the work had been actually put into rehearsal, he sent a lawyer's letter to the Opéra forbidding them to produce it. MM. Messager and Broussan, on their part, took counsel's opinion. In fact, they consulted M. Millerand, the ex-Minister, who assured them that they were legally justified in ignoring M. Maeterlinck's prohibition, because M. Février, the musician, had allowed the production. According to M. Millerand, the musician is, where operas are concerned, the chief collaborator, and he can over-rule his partner's decision. There the matter stands at present, but everybody here deplores the attitude taken up by M. Maeterlinck.

RICHARD ESTCOURT, born at Tewkesbury in 1668, and educated in the Latin school there, stole from home at the age of fifteen to join a travelling company of comedians at Worcester, and, to avoid detection, made his first appearance in women's clothes as Roxana, in Alexander the Great. He was discovered, however, pursued, brought home, carried to London, and bound prentice to an apothecary in Hatton Garden. He escaped again, wandered about England, went to Ireland, and there obtained credit as an actor; then returned to London, and appeared at Drury-lane, where his skill as a mimic enabled him to perform each part in the manner of the actor who had obtained chief credit by it. His power of mimicry made him very diverting in society; and as he had natural politeness with a sprightly wit, his company was sought and paid for at the entertainments of the great. "Dick Estcourt" was a great favourite with the Duke of Marlborough, and when men of wit and rank joined in establishing the Beefsteak Club, they made Estcourt their providore, with a small gold gridiron for badge, hung round his neck by a green ribbon.

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. "THE ERA" is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London post. Address, the PUBLISHER, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

VARIETY GOSSIP.

Mr. Alfred Butt, we regret to hear, is suffering from throat trouble, which keeps him in bed. We trust that the indisposition is only ephemeral. Mr. Jack Edgar the manager of the Metropolitan, is also on the sick list, and is confined to his room.

Miss Marie Lloyd, on Friday, the 13th, was entertained to luncheon by Miss Marie Fitzgerald, a popular Press representative of New York, on the eve of her departure for America. The merry little function was quite impromptu, and the small party spent a most enjoyable time. Miss Marie Lloyd is now on tour until Christmas.

Mr. Ernest Shand's appearance at a recent charity matinée at the Hackney Empire has resulted in his expulsion from the Variety Artists' Federation. The executive committee announces that no resignations will be accepted until the settlement of the dispute with the agents.

Mr. John Lawson has been elected vice-president of the Kennington Conservative and Unionist Association, his colleagues being Alderman Capt. C. W. Andrews, J.P., and Councillor Budge. Mr. Lawson is a staunch supporter of all Conservative interests in the South-Western districts.

Mr. Harry Randall has been absent from the Tivoli through indisposition, and another absentee from the Tivoli during the week has been Mr. Harry Tate, who has been unable to fit the time in consequence of his numerous engagements. Mr. Joseph Wilson has been fortunate in securing the services as deputies of Mr. George Mozart and Bull and Hemsley.

Dan Leno, jun., has been engaged by Mr. Frank Wheeler to play leading comedy parts in his juvenile opera company for a tour of six months through South Africa. He will sail to-day by s.s. Kenilworth Castle.

Mr. George Robey has been secured by the management of the Theatre Royal Glasgow, for the production of Cinderella, the first of the pantomimes. Mr. Robey, who will replace Mr. Harry Lauder, is already developing a braw accent, and it will be a "bricht nicht" for the Glaswegians on Dec. 3, the date fixed for the production.

Mme. Katti Lanner, whose obituary notice will be found in another column, is to be buried to-day at 11.30 at the South Metropolitan Cemetery, Norwood. Previous to the interment—at 10 o'clock—Mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church, Clapham Common. Several wreaths have already arrived at the residence of the deceased lady, North Side, Clapham Common, one being from Mme. Cavalazzi-Mapleson, the famous mime, whose fine artistic work at the Empire will be well within the recollection of our readers. Another floral trophy is from Herr Rudolph Knoll, ballet master at Hamburg.

The deceased ballet mistress retired from her post at the Empire at the conclusion of the run of Sir Roger de Coverley on Saturday, Sept. 28, 1907. The production of The Belle of the Ball on the following Monday was under the direction of Mr. Fred Farren. Mme. Lanner did much for the art she adorned and loved, and of which she was so artistic an exponent, and besides her work as an arranger she wrote several admired ballets. That she maintained a high standard of dancing may be judged best by the excellence of the fine corps at the Empire. At the advanced age of seventy-six she naturally felt the need of rest, and she carried with her into her retirement the respect and esteem of her directors and the love of her pupils.

Mr. Alfred Moul announces that he has secured from Messrs. Pathé Frères the exclusive London rights for the Alhambra of the representation of a new series of cinematograph pictures. Each of the series will be a complete drama, comedy or opera—acted by such eminent artists as Sarah Bernhardt, Réjane, Coquelin, Le Bargy, Lambert, and Severin.

Mr. Auguste Van Biene, on Wednesday, the anniversary of his discovery by Sir Michael Costa forty years ago, received a cable from Mr. Percy Williams to play in New York for $1,000 a week. He also received a batch of contracts from Mr. Oswald Stoll for 1912.

After his discovery by the famous conductor of the Covent Garden Italian Opera, M. Van Biene vowed that on this anniversary of his deliverance from poverty and starvation he would play again in the streets. The money he collected on Wednesday—15s. 2d. in all—with a five-pound note from the musician's own pocket, has gone to the Variety Artists Benevolent Fund.

M. Van Biene, in a shabby black frock coat, a flowing black tie, and slouch hat, took with him on his pilgrimage of remembrance the original old 'cello he played in the gutter on that bleak November day when Sir Michael gave him his first chance.

With reference to the recent decision of the Theatres Committee of the London County Council in respect of the Hippodrome and the Coliseum, Mr. Oswald Stoll points out that this is the second occasion on which the committee have made a recommendation in favour of the Hippodrome, and hopes that the Council at their full meeting on the 27th prox. will accept the committee's suggestion.

"It is," he says, "common knowledge that the Hippodrome was erected under a provisional licence which contained no restriction, and that, but for the delay of a few weeks between November, 1899, and January, 1900, in the building operations, the Hippodrome would have been opened with that unrestricted licence in operation." New variety houses, Mr. Stoll argues, should be placed upon the same footing as theatres, where no intoxicants are permited to be sold in the auditorium, and the conditions of sale and consumption are entirely free from objection.

The result of the Music Hall and Theatrical Football League matches on Sunday brings the Holborn Empire and Stoke Newington teams to the top of the list with the Tivoli, each having scored six points. The Gaiety comes next, with two points, but as yet they have only played two games. The matches are exciting considerable interest, and the competition for the possession of Mr. Harry Tate's cup threatens to be very keen.

For the Empire Theatre Lifeboat Matinée on Tuesday a strong programme has been arranged. Miss Ada Reeve, Miss May de Sousa, Mr. Charles Hawtrey, Mr. Robert Michaelis, Miss Valli Valli, Mr. Sydney Valentine, Mr. Hymack, Miss Kate Cutler, Mr. Harry Fragson, Mr. George Graves and Miss Maud Boyd, Mr. W. H. Berry and Miss Kitty Hanson have all promised to appear in special features from their respective répertoires. Miss Beatrice Collier and Mr. Fred Farren will give the amazing "Danse des Apaches," Miss Phyllis Bedells will appear in her now famous skipping-rope dance, and Mlle. Lydia Kyasht will perform her "Danse Russe"—all from the Empire ballet A Day in Paris. Mr. G. P. Huntley, Miss Julia Sanderson, Miss Maudi Darrell, and Mr. Gordon Cleather have also to be added to the list of entertainers. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, and the Duke of Argyll head a long list of distinguished patrons of the matinée.

The Birkenhead Hippodrome (occupying the site of the Metropole) has been purchased by Messrs W. Sley and Walter De Frece, who will shortly open it as a variety house. The building, which is entirely new, has a big holding capacity.

At the Leeds Grand Theatre on Monday evening last Mr. Henri Jaxon took his place as musical-director in succession to the late Signor Romilli, and received a cordial welcome.

In order to be present at the opening of the Rochdale, the Jackson Family (proprietors) had to postpone their engagement at the Grand, Birmingham, which they were able to do by the kind permission of the Moss-Stoll directorate.

The Torquay Town Council are inviting tenders for the supply of a first-class military band consisting of seventeen performers (sixteen men and conductor), to play in the Princess Gardens for a period of ten weeks commencing Monday, July 5. Tenders should reach Fredk S. Hex, Town Clerk, not later than Dec. 3 next.

The general-manager of the Kursaal, Harrogate (Mr. Julian Clifford) requires a secretary and assistant-manager for the Kursaal and Spa Rooms. He must be between 30 and 45. The salary is £150 per annum. Applications must be made to Mr. J. Turner Taylor, Town Clerk, Harrogate. Further particulars may be found in our advertisement columns.

Mr. John Henry Cooke will reopen his circus at Fountainbridge, Edinburgh, for the season on Saturday with a talented company, which includes many old favourites. Mr. Cooke, whose alert, upright figure is well known in Edinburgh, has provided the public for many years with a bright, wholesome entertainment. He is regarded by all classes with a respect which borders on affection, and the veteran equestrian always gives of his best to his audiences. Mr. W. C. Burn, the energetic manager of last season, will be at his old post.

Mr. Charles R. Craig, so well known and respected under the Macnaghten régime in London, having been both at the Foresters' and Surrey, has been appointed by Mr. F. R. Griffiths, of the New Bioscope Trading Company, as the acting-manager of the Empire, Wharf-street, Leicester, where he is now installed, and, to all appearance, with every success.

Mr. Tom McHugh, mine host of the Antelope, Hanley, agent for the Actors' Union, the V.A.F., and M.H.A.R.A., presided on Tuesday at a farewell dinner given to Captain F. Shaw, manager of King's, Hanley, on his leaving for similar duties in South Staffordshire. The captain has made a host of friends in the Potteries, and his departure is much regretted. The dinner was at the Angel Restaurant.

Messrs. Plews and Sons, Ltd., the owners of the Eden Theatre, Bishop Auckland, and Messrs. R. Addison, Ltd., the lessees, have decided to accede to the request of numerous patrons, and use the house for variety entertainments on the two performances a night principle. At the conclusion of the existing contracts, therefore, the theatre will be turned over to variety. The booking of the artists will be placed entirely in the hands of a London agent.

Mr. R. H. Eldrid, Mr. Julian Clifford's popular and able lieutenant at the Kursaal, Harrogate, has been offered, and accepted, the management of the Pavilion, Colwyn Bay. What is Harrogate's loss will be Colwyn Bay's gain. Mr. Eldrid is to be accorded a benefit at the Kursaal on Saturday next, when a host of talent is billed to appear Among them are Mr. F. W. Godley, baritone, Miss May Procter, Mr. Donal Speedy, Scotch comedian, Mr. John Bridge, violinist, Dr. Lynn, the well-known illusionist, and Miss Mignonne Eldrid, in speciality dances, &c.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Pavilion Theatre, Glasgow, it was resolved, on the motion of Mr. Jas. Duff, the chairman of the company, to pay a dividend for the half-year ended Oct. 31 at the rate of fifty per cent. per annum (free of income-tax) on the paid-up capital, making, with the dividend already paid, forty per cent. per annum, free of income-tax. Mr. F. A. Lumley was re-elected a director, and Messrs. Moores, Carson, and Watson, C.A., were re-elected as auditors.

Mr. George Harrop's remarks on Tuesday evening, the 10th, with reference to the Variety Artists' Federation, on the occasion of the presentation of the Blackpool Palace matinée cheque for £566 to the Chief Constable for the poor children's clothing fund, have provoked a reply from Mr. Edwin Adeler in defence of the Federation's attitude towards artists and charity performances.

Writing from the Pavilion Theatre, Liverpool, Mr. Adeler says:—"Permit me to point out that Mr. Harrop has made a slight error. The peppercorn percentage of 6d. in the £ demanded by the Federation is handed over in its entirety to the Variety Artists' Benevolent Fund, one of the most admirably administered charities in this country. Having regard to the fact that artists invariably gladly give their services to all sorts of charities in which they can have no possible interest, I feel that Mr. Harrop will agree, on reflection, that the Federation's rule is a perfectly reasonable one."

On Saturday the directorate of the Empire, Sheffield, again lent their magnificent theatre company and staff for the augmentation of the funds of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. The special matinée was honoured by the presence of the Lord and Lady Mayoress of Sheffield, the Master Cutler, and other notabilities of the town and district, and the prices were trebled, so no doubt the sum realised will be a handsome one.

Mr. Alan Dunbar, the popular manager, worked hard in the good cause, and the band and staff acted with characteristic Empire esprit de corps. The augmented band, conducted by the talented chef d'orchestre, Mr. H. Renton-Gardner, played several classical and operatic selections, and the special turns included Mr. Mendel, the blind pianist; Mr. and Mrs. Theo Gilmer's pupils, in society and other dances; Mr. Albert Toft's refined and artistic living statuary, "Makers of History"; Mr. H. Kent Marples, in "Studies from Dickens; Miss Nellie Revell, Mr. Charles Turner, &c., &c. A warm vote of thanks was returned to the Moss' Empires Co., to Mr. Alan D. Dunbar, the artists, the staff, and the orchestra for their valuable help and services.

The promoters of the Lifeboat matinée (the tenth in aid of the Fund) at the Bradford Empire on Tuesday have every reason for thankfulness. The total receipts of £105 were £10 higher than on any previous occasion, and the success was all the more remarkable as the artists engaged during the current week at the house for the most part were V.A.F.'s, and did not appear; nor was the enthusiasm of the audience lessened by the fact that two of the turns announced to appear did not do so. No explanation was given for the absence of one of them, Dion Wade, but in the case of the Gothams—just prior to their leaving Leeds for Bradford their band parts were hidden or removed, by someone.

Miss Jessie Preston is bidding a temporary good-bye to England, and sails for America on Wednesday next by the s.s. Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The Montpelier Palace, Walworth, which has had a chequered career of late years, is now closed owing to L.C.C. requirements. All contracts signed by Mr. F. A. Fullagar are declared to be null and void.

The Meymotts (Jack and Ada) having completed their highly-successful tour with Mr Harry Rickards, are now on their way to England, and will arrive on Saturday, Dec. 19. They start the Stoll tour on the Monday following at Cardiff.

Miss May Audrey arrived on Saturday last by the Armadale Castle. She met with great success during her six weeks' stay in Johannesburg and five weeks in Durban. On her return she found the Gibbons tour awaiting her. This takes her up to 1911. She returns to town on Monday to the Canterbury and Coliseum.

Mr. Arthur Were has been elected secretary of the Terriers' Association, and the initiation ceremony and investiture took place on Sunday last. All communications respecting the Association should be forwarded to the Secretary, 69, Kennington-road, S.E.

Mlle. Ghita Corri, who only last week returned from Spain, where she has been presenting her popular song-scena, "Character Types," exclusively in French and Italian, is this week at the Palace, Reading, giving the same act in English. Next month she leaves for the Continent again to fulfil engagements in Paris and Bordeaux, returning, however, to this country early in the New Year.

Miss Florrie Forde returned to town after a most successful ten weeks' tour, finishing up at Plymouth, where she was presented with a most beautiful bouquet from Mr. David Bliss. Opening at the Oxford and Croydon on Monday night, she met with a most flattering reception. At the former hall she was presented with another beautiful bouquet from Mr. David Day, of the firm of Francis, Day, and Hunter. Her latest song rage, "Oh, oh, Antonio," immediately caught on, and was sung at both halls with great gusto.

Undoubtedly this is the great pantomime song of the year. Miss Forde is noted for chorus songs, and has produced a few of the finest during the last few years, viz., "Has anyone seen a German band?" "Down at the Old Bull and Bush," "She's a lassie from Lancashire," and last, but not least, "Oh, oh, Antonio."

Miss Bessie Butt, who has been making a big success with her song, "Sunshine Soo," at the London Coliseum, goes to the Royal County Theatre, Kingston, for pantomime. Mr. Peter Davey saw this clever little lady at the Hippodrome, Eastbourne, during the summer, and at once secured her for his principal boy. This will be Miss Butt's fourth consecutive year in the pantomime of "Cinderella," she having played the title-rôle for three seasons.

We regret to have to record the sudden death of Mr. "Teddy" Mosedale, which occurred a day or two since at the Lord John Russell, Queensbury-street, North London, of which hostelry he was proprietor. Mr. Mosedale, who was seventy years of age, was a good comedian, and few could excel him at dancing, so nimble and light on his feet was he, even at an advanced age. His song, "The Basher King," a parody of "The Masher King," one of Charles Godfrey's successes, was quite a hit in the early eighties.

The deceased gentleman was one of the earlier coster comedians, and did something in the agency business. His daughter, Amy, became associated as partner with Miss Maud Leach, a daughter of Gus Leach, for a long time the chairman of the Middlesex, and afterwards a proprietor of the Hoxton Varieties. The two ladies were known professionally as the Sisters Lyster (Maud and Amy). Amy Lyster afterwards blossomed into a successful burlesque actress. She was married to George Fairburn, comedian and mimic.

In aid of their Pantomime Fund for poor children the Playgoers' Club organised an evening concert, which was successfully carried out at His Majesty's Theatre on Sunday night. An interesting musical programme was provided, in which Miss Perceval Allen, Miss Gleeson-White, Miss Myra Hess (pianoforte), Miss Marie Wadia, Miss Maria Vinent (from the Palace), Mr. Walter Hyde, Mr. Robert Radford, Mr. Harrison Brockbank, and Mr. Marcus Thompson took part. Others who undertook to contribute to the programme were Miss May de Sousa, Mr. Lawrence Rea, Mr. Roy Collier, and Mr. Lionel Brough.

With Mr. Arthur W. Payne as conductor, the London Symphony Orchestra supplied some of the accompaniments and performed an excellent selection of instrumental pieces. The pianoforte accompaniments were undertaken by Mr. F. A. Sewell and Mr. Cyril Towsey. Well-known actresses who sold souvenir programmes were kept busy by the demands for autographs, and seemed successful in securing large sums for the children. The secretary announced that £200 had been added to the fund by the concert.

Mme. Albani is the principal singer on Sunday at the evening concert at the Coliseum under the egis of the Amalgamated Musicians' Union. The Imperial Military Band of 100 performers is another attraction.

Great strides are being made in the preparations for the opening at Christmas of the Edmonton Empire, of which Mr. Harry Bawn is chairman and director. The plastic decorative work is now in hand, and everything is shaping satisfactorily. This latest suburban pleasure palace is to have tip-up seats in every part.

The Mozart-Wilson family and Amati Orchestra, forming an excellent vaudeville amalgamation, are now in the tenth year of tour. Music of a delightful kind and dance are most artistically presented. Mr. Mozart Wilson, the head of the combination, and its pianist and director, is recuperating in Ireland after a severe attack of influenza.

A Toy City and Fun Fair will be open at Earl's Court twice daily from Dec. 10, 1908, until Feb. 6, 1909. The attractions will consist of a grand circus, a fairy pantomime, and a variety show, all free. Up-to-date side shows, stalls, and games may apply to Arthur Coomber, manager, "The Toy City," Earl's Court.

The latest quotations for music hall shares are as follow:—Alhambra, 1 7-16; Canterbury, ½; Empire (15s. paid), 1½; Empire (10s. paid), 1¼; London Pavilion Ord., 4½; London Pavilion Pref., 5½; Metropolitan, 15s.; Moss' Empires, 5½; Moss' Empires 5 per cent. Pref., 4½; Oxford, 6½; Palace, 1; Tivoli, 5½; Variety Consolidated Theatres, 12s.

The columns of this journal are likely to be responsible for the introduction of the greatest novelty likely to be seen in pantomimes this coming season. The effects that can be produced by the aid of the "Bubble Fountain" can be imagined, but not described. Pantomime producers should see one of these fountains working at Feldman's, music publishers, Arthur-street, Oxford-street. Last week the Invicta Works shipped to New Zealand a machine capable of producing 50,000 bubbles per minute.

Max Darewski, the famous boy composer, has signed to appear at Karno's Hippodrome, Exeter, for one week, through Tom Pacey's agency.

Mr. R. G. Knowles finishes to-night at the Holborn Empire a successful English tour arranged by Tom Pacey, who is already fixing dates for this famous artist for 1909 and 1910.

Mr. Albert Marsh will produce at the Canterbury on Monday a thrilling story of the goldfields, called Chums Till Death. There is strong human interest in this playlet, and every value will be given to it by an exceptionally powerful cast. The scenery is by Mr. Alfred Terraine, and the music by Mr. W. T. Gliddon.

Mr. Will Bennet, who, until recently, was Mr. Oswald Stoll's Press manager, has been secured by Mr. Robert Arthur to do similar work for his theatrical productions. Mr. Bennet now represents in newspaper-land the Earl's Court "Rinkeries," the Chicago Film Exchange, and several star artists.

Mr. William Johnson, secretary of the N.A.T.E., wishes to thank the V.A.F.'s who have kindly volunteered their services for the sixth annual concert of the theatrical employees, which is to take place at His Majesty's Theatre on Sunday, Nov. 29. Mr. Johnson would be pleased to hear from a few more lady turns who will volunteer their services.

By arrangement with the proprietors of the Margate Hippodrome, Mr. Eric Williams is reciting Mr. G. R. Sims's "Lifeboat," in costume, at both performances to-night (Saturday), when a collection will be made on behalf of the widows of the poor fellows just lost at sea off the Margate coast.

No fewer than 249 applications for space for Salome dances have been received by the management of Fun City, to be held in the Olympia Annexe. As only one entertainment of a kind is allowed, the manager will organise a Salome competition one week before the opening of the display on Dec. 7, when Miss Maud Allan will be asked to act as judge. The winner will be given, free of cost, an allotment of space worth £100.

Dr. Walford Bodie finished another record week at the Palace, Bristol. Despite the fact of it being his sixth visit, he played to packed houses nightly, finishing on Saturday night amidst scenes of wildest enthusiasm. In the second house the Doctor was inundated with floral offerings from many of his old cures. Before concluding his demonstration, the Captain of the City of Bristol Marine Ambulance Corps, accompanied by three other officers, walked on the stage, and, in a neat speech, thanked Dr. Bodie on behalf of the citizens of Bristol for the great good he had done.

Five years ago the doctor had given them £25—the first subscription towards the purchase of a new ambulance brougham. At a later visit he handed them another handsome cheque, and during the present visit had repeated his great kindness. Their excellent friend, Dr. Bodie, had already been decorated with the badge of the corps, and he would have the pleasure of pinning another decoration on to his breast The captain did this amid cheers again and again renewed. Dr. Bodie will star at the Coliseum, Glasgow, next week.

At the close of the ordinary business on Thursday at the Brighton Town Council meeting the Mayor read a letter from the promoters of the Brighton Kursaal, Messrs. Joseph Lyons and William Forbes, in which they said:—"As, unfortunately, it is now too late to settle the little differences that have arisen between us with regard to the form in which the Bill for the promotion of the summer and winter palace at Brighton shall be presented to Parliament, we have determined not to proceed with the scheme during the forthcoming session. They had been influenced in coming to this decision by the opposition to the scheme, which they did not desire to force unless it met with the general approval of the inhabitants."

The principal subject of difference that has arisen related to the site. At first the promoters wanted a fifty years' lease, at the expiration of which the site and buildings on it were to revert to the corporation. Last month the promoters considered that if would facilitate matters in Parliament if, instead of the lease, they were granted the freehold, but with a "reverter" to the corporation, as before, after the expiration of fifty years. The corporation have taken counsel's opinion on the point, and were to have met on Tuesday next to receive the opinion and give their decision, but the promoters' letter now renders this course unnecessary.

Mme. Albani, who is to appear on the variety stage, is of Canadian birth. Marie Louise Cecile Emma Lajeunesse was born at Chambly, about fifteen miles south-east of Montreal, on Nov. 1, 1852. She began music at the age of four, and has been at it ever since. She made her first appearance in public when she was eight years old at Montreal. So successful was she that she had to give three concerts, and on each night the stage was strewn with flowers thrown at her feet. Later Miss Lajeunesse went to Paris, where she studied singing for a year under the celebrated tenor, Gilbert Louis Duprez. Thence to Milan, where she became a pupil of the renowned teacher, Francesco Lamperti, a prince of singing-teachers.

Mlle. Albani—as she then was—made her first appearance in opera at the Opera House, Messina, in 1870, as Amina in La Somnambula. Her success was instantaneous, and it was not long before she was engaged for the Royal Italian Opera season. In the character of Amina she also made her first appearance in England on the stage of Covent Garden Theatre, under the late Mr. Frederick Gye's management, on April 2, 1872. In 1878 she was married to Mr. Ernest Gye, eldest son of her impresario, and thenceforth took up her abode in England.

To Mr. Percy Ford, the acting-manager of the Camberwell Empire, a benefit was accorded on Tuesday evening, when a programme of some seventy turns was announced. Midway in the proceedings the curtain rose on the beneficiaire, surrounded by the members of the committee. Mr. Jesse Sparrow, introducing Mr. Ford to the audience, eulogised his work, both before and behind the stage, adding that his services were greatly appreciated by the staff and management. In conclusion, Mr. Sparrow made a presentation to the beneficiaire of a cheque on behalf of himself and friends. Mr. Bert Chapman, of the Lava Skating Rink, also made a handsome gift to Mr. Ford. Mr. Ford effectively voiced his thanks. Notwithstanding the friction in the variety world with the V.A.F., the latter's chairman, Mr. Joe O'Gorman, was on the stage during the presentation.

The fine programme put forward was contributed by the following artists:—Kitty Alma, Chas. Bignell, John G. Brandon and company, Happy Harry Brown, Burnetti, the Cliffs, Master Clark, the Danbys, Tots Davis, Marie Elsie, Alf Fry, Hans and Lux, Hamilton Hill, Horace Herman, Herald Comedy Four, Jeapes's Animated Graphic, Charles Lilburn, Adele Levey and Frank Lilliput, Little Ikey Moe, Molly Maguire, Peggy Pryde, Bob Pender and company, the Pems, Lew Peterman, Leedham Stanley, Sisters Slater, Dan Thomas, Voldam Bros., Azella Wilson, Ford and Maxwell, and Mitchell and Mace. Messrs. Richard Cass and W. Nutt stage-managed.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Sley will celebrate their silver wedding on Saturday next, Nov. 28. It is a happy coincidence that twenty-five years since Mr. Sley commenced business as a variety agent.

The second general meeting of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild takes place at the Oxford on Wednesday next at two o'clock sharp. All friends of the profession are cordially invited, and members are especially requested to attend. The meeting will be opened by Mrs. H. Maud Gamble (Lady Mayoress of Chelsea).

Carta and Mirtziana, in their new creation, have made a most gratifying success at the Apollo, Paris, where they were immediately re-engaged after their first night. Their new act is being fast booked up for England.

The Achmed Ibrahim Troupe made their first appearance at the London Hippodrome on Monday, and secured a warm reception.

Mr. James Brady, the well-known eccentric vocal joker, will in future be known under the name of J. B. Good, the change of name being found necessary in consequence of the existence of several other James Bradys.

Miss Kitty Colyer, already an established favourite at the Oxford and other West End music halls, made her initial bow on Monday to a London Pavilion audience, scoring an instantaneous success. Miss Colyer, with her particularly delightful and happy way of rendering her songs, greatly pleased the packed house, and the wonderful speciality dance with which she concluded her performance was received with enthusiasm.

The 585th meeting of the Executive Committee of the M.H.A.R.A. was held at the offices on Wednesday afternoon, with Mr. Arthur Rigby (hon. treasurer) in the chair, and there were present Messrs. James E. Donegan, Jeff Vendome, Bernard Stavordale, Fred W. Mill (V.P.), G. B. Sinclair, H. Herald, John Alexander, W. H. Atlas, Ryder Slone, Lieut. Albini, and C. Douglas Stuart (secretary). It was decided that next week's meeting be held at twelve noon, to enable members to attend the general meeting of the Music-hall Ladies' Guild.

The secretary announced that the Isle of Wight Railway had now come into line with the other companies regarding the three-quarter fare concession. The G.E.R. have agreed to issue single tickets, and the S.E.R. is now the only company insisting upon all members travelling securing their tickets at the same time.

Mr. Oswald Stoll's generosity in allowing collections to be taken at the doors of the Leicester Palace Theatre after the performances has proved a most gratifying success. The collections are made owing to the great distress at present prevalent in the town, and although it is only the second week over 500 families (300 each week) have had substantial meals, &c., on the Sunday. The recipients are selected from the most deserving cases by the local Distress Committee.

On behalf of the Committee of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, 61, New Oxford-st, W.C., Miss Melinda May (secretary) wishes to thank Mrs. George Jennings (collection 10s.), Miss Fanny St. Clair (St. Clair and Howard) (collection £1 2s. 8½d.), Miss Maggie Bowman (collection 2s. 6d.), Mr. Ernest Korrie (collection 2s. 6d.), the Three Rubys (collection 2s. 6d.), the Misses McNeill, Edinburgh (parcel of clothing), Mrs. Bradgate (ladies' boots), Miss Belle Elmore (parcel of hats), Mrs. V. Cowper (gentlemen's underclothing), Miss Nellie Wallace (subscribing and collecting 7/6 towards helping a poor sufferer into a home for consumptives), Mr. Edward Luke (Southsea) (gift and collecting 5s.), and Miss McNeill (2s. 6d. for the same good cause).

Miss May would be glad to hear from proprietors and managers who have vacancies for caretakers or cleaners, having several women and men on her books with excellent references. She hopes with the approach of Christmas and its attendant extra work that occupation can be found for the willing and deserving, also sewing work in the pantomime wardrobes. Friends of the charity are heartily welcome to the tea and reception, held every Wednesday four to five o'clock. Mr. Henry George Hibbert gave 7s. 6d. towards fund for consumptive patient, not 1s. 6d., as stated last week.

Mr. Richard Cass, the well-known South London variety and dramatic agent, has suffered a severe bereavement by the death of his father, Mr. James Poulton Cass, at the age of 63, which sad event occurred on the 12th at his residence, Glen Rothay, 9, Mundania-road, Camberwell. The deceased gentleman was a singer of repute, and for many years had been greatly interested in the South London Choral Association, of which he was a prominent member.

For forty-nine years he had been connected with Messrs. Lloyd, Attree, and Smith, of Wood-street, E.C. The funeral on Tuesday at Forest Hill Cemetery was largely attended, the firm being represented by Mr. G. Smith, one of the partners, and Mr. F. Rourke, an old colleague of deceased, and others. The choice and numerous wreaths included those sent by the widow, sons, and daughters, Messrs. Lloyd and Smith, town and country travellers, colleagues at Wood-street, South London Choral Association, and many others.

Strange it is that when the glamour of pantomime is over the land, little or nothing is heard of the workers to whose genius a great part of the effect is due—namely, the composers of the music. For a long time past these gifted people have been hard at work, and none more so than Mr. Henry W. May, the brilliant conductor of Shepherd's Bush Empire, to whom so many pieces in the past have owed their success. This season he is responsible for the music of the following Milton Bode productions—to wit, Cinderella, at the New Theatre, Cardiff; Aladdin at the Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton; and Jack the Giant-killer at the Opera House, Leicester.

"Barmaids" is the title of a farcical episode that scored an immediate success in Melbourne at the Opera House, where it was produced on Saturday, Oct. 3, by those clever people, Mr. Harry Lowther and Miss Hulo Hodgson. The gentleman's impersonation of the butler, a benevolent marplot, is one of the funniest sketches that has been seen by the Cornstalks for some time. The situations, too, are most humorous, and the uncontrolable laughter of a crowded audience on the first night augurs well for an enthusiastic reception from the playgoers of Sydney, where it is to be given by the above-mentioned pair, who form one of the chief attractions in Mr. Harry Rickards's brilliant speciality company.

Mr. Manager Harvey came before the curtain during the interval at the Palace, Bow, E., on Saturday night, and, in the course of a few remarks, told his audience that a representative of "our leading London music hall paper" [The Era] had visited the hall during the week, and had expressed his pleasure at the orderliness and attentive conduct of the Palace patrons in appreciating the high-class fare provided there. He referred to Mr. Albert Wyndham's Prince Arthur and other especially refined items, including Mr. Malcolm Cumming's company in A Tooth for a Wife. Mr. Harvey concluded by assuring his patrons that the management would continue their endeavours in the future as in the past to place before them the pick of the variety market.

SONGS, WRITERS, AND SINGERS.

Miss Florrie Forde on Monday last at the Oxford introduced to a thronged house her tremendous hit "Oh! oh! Antonio!" and created something like a furore. Never was the talented artist's powerful voice heard to greater advantage, and the song was joined in by the entire audience Mr. C. W. Murphy, the composer, who was present, received many congratulations. Practically every pantomime in Great Britain has secured this tried success—a success that sent the Isle of Man crazy when Miss Forde first introduced it there in the summer. Messrs. Francis and Day are the publishers.

Mr. G. H. Elliott at the Tivoli, at Hammersmith, and at the Metropolitan has during the week swept all before him with that tuneful number "Sue, Sue, Sue, I'm very much in love with you." The genial artist has been inundated with requests from pantomime artists to be allowed to "break it in" at variety palaces before Christmas, and has in certain instances granted the requests. Messrs. Francis and Day have in this song one of the foregone conclusions of the year in the way of a success.

Mr. R. G. Knowles, who will soon be leaving these shores, is going great guns at the Holborn Empire with his amusing song "L. S. D." and Messrs. Francis and Day, the publishers, have had a great number of applications from prominent artists for rights for pantomime.

Miss Madge Temple has this week set all Liverpool humming "Come, be my rainbow," which suits her rich and cultured voice to a nicety. The song, which lends itself to spectacular effects, will be featured in many Christmas productions. It is published by Mr. David Day's firm.

Miss Winifred Hare, who at Christmas will be setting susceptible Irish hearts aflame in Dublin, has during the week at Hanley been received nightly with acclamation for her artistic rendition of Hermann E. Darewski's "It's better than being a Carnegie." The principal boys who know the value of a rousing chorus have long since noted this popular item in Messrs Francis and Day's catalogue.

Mr. George Lashwood at Southport has nightly had again and again to come before the curtain, so persistent and vociferous has been the applause evoked by "Hang out the front door key," which Messrs. Francis and Day publish. His old favourite "In the Twi-twi-twilight" still retains its wonderful hold on the affection of the masses.

Messrs. Francis and Day's number entitled "Every fellow's in love with a girl" will be found to be a big surprise packet at many foremost theatres on Boxing Night, and the number of artists applying for rights in the song is daily increasing.

Mr. David Day's firm has just secured for publication Miss Kitty Colyer's great successes, "My little Snow House," by Will Hyde, and "Oh! Dolly, are you coming out to-night?" The charming artist's speciality dance has evoked thunders of applause during the week at the London Pavilion and at Croydon.

The first large edition of Messrs. Francis and Day's humorous sarcastic husband-and-wife duet "'Do you remember?'—'How can I forget!'" in "Sixpenny Pop." form, has been bespoken by the music trade. There has been a great inquiry for the duet from low comedians and dames.

The talented Miss Kitty Colyer is climbing to the top of the tree with quite extraordinary rapidity. Her latest successful songs, "My little snowhouse," written and composed by Will Hyde; "Oh, Dolly!" by Will Hyde and T. Robson; and "What's the use of popping round," by Will Hyde and Will Haines, have all been secured for publication by Messrs. Francis, Day, and Hunter, and bid fair to become the most popular songs of the day.

"Put me among the boys" is being featured with phenomenal success by winsome Miss Lena Verdi this week at the Ealing Hippodrome, and no doubt this clever comedienne and eccentric dancer will make it her pièce de résistance in her forthcoming special engagement in the pantomime at the Borough Theatre, Stratford.

Illustrated song vocalists will be pleased to hear that they can now obtain from Messrs. Fullager and Co. a set of coloured lantern slides for Messrs. Sheard's pretty rustic ballad "Jennie! don't swing on the gate."

Miss Fanny Sinclair, of Howard and Sinclair, selected "Jennie! don't swing on the gate" and "Little Silver Moonbeam" on a recent visit to Messrs. Sheard's establishment for immediate production.

Handel, the Australian tenor, writes Messrs. Sheard that he is very pleased with the set of slides they sold him for "When the sunrise paints the distant hills with rose," and that he cannot speak too highly of the song, which always gains him encores from all kinds of audiences.

Currie and Beatie introduced "Little Silver Moonbeam" on their Scotch tour on Monday last. The song proved a great success with them, the audience singing the chorus, which is decidedly catchy and pleasing.

Mr. J. W. Hill (tenor) and Mr. W. B. Robinson (baritone) write Messrs. Sheard that they have lately been singing the fine duet "The Merry Vagabonds" with great success, and that it never fails to secure an encore.

The new rustic ballad "Jennie! don't swing on the gate," is the work of Messrs. Philip Wingate and H. W. Petrie, who a few years since gained so much popularity with their child's song "I don't want to play in your yard." Messrs. Sheard have also just published Petrie's latest "kid" song, "I have lots of fun that you don't," which should become popular very quickly.

Miss Yolande Noble's music hall and theatrical rights in her popular number "Who'd like to pay for my holiday?" lapse on Dec. 16. It therefore becomes entirely unrestricted for pantomimes, &c., from that date.

"A New Year's Version" is now printed with Messrs. Sheard's song, "Hurrah for the Old Age Pension!" The two first editions were in the future tense, but this "New Year's Version" is in the present. Singers can therefore continue to sing the song for as long as they like after the Act comes into force.

It will be welcome news to scores of bass and baritone singers to hear that Messrs. Sheard and Co. have just printed the orchestral band parts to their celebrated bass song "Asleep in the Deep" in F as well as in D.

Miss Annie Purcell makes her reappearance in town at the Coliseum next Monday, and will introduce an entirely novel song-scena entitled "My Girl from Italy." Artists in search of a novelty would be well advised to hear what Miss Purcell considers another "Zuyder Zee." The song is published by Messrs. B. Feldman and Co.

(Continued on page 28.)

DEATH OF KATTI LANNER.

In connection with the ballets produced at the Empire Theatre, the name of Katti Lanner will always be associated, and the news of her death, which occurred on Sunday, at her residence, 40, North-side, Clapham Common, in her seventy-eighth year, will be heard with regret in both theatrical and variety circles, in which the deceased ballet mistress was highly esteemed and respected. For years she was a familiar figure at the Empire on first nights, invariably appearing with the chef d'orchestre, to take the honour of a call at the conclusion of the brilliant productions for which the younger Leicester-square home of ballet has been famous for the last twenty years. She made her first bow to the public as a maîtresse de ballet on the opening night of the Empire as a variety theatre, being responsible for the choreographic arrangements of Sports of England and Dilara. During her twenty years' association with the house she was responsible for forty productions founded on poetic, classical, melodramatic, and modern themes. In these the deceased lady's ingenuity, resource, and appreciation of mise-en-scène found endless opportunities, and it was with considerable regret that the London public heard of her retirement a short time since, and the compliment paid to her at the time had all the significance of an affectionate farewell of one who in her day had done much, by her teaching and example, to raise the standard of the art and status of the ballerina.

Katti, or Katharina Lanner, who was born in Vienna on Aug. 15, 1831, must have had the love of dancing inculcated in her earliest years; for her father Joseph Franz Karl Lanner may be considered the founder of our present dance music. His galops, quadrilles, polkas, and marches, but especially his waltzes and ländler, bear traces of the frank, genial disposition which made him so beloved. All his works are penetrated with the warm, national life of Vienna. He dedicated many of his waltzes to crowned heads and distinguished persons. Thus the Victoria-Walzer was dedicated to the late Queen, and the Troubadour-Walzer to Donizetti. As a mark of distinction he was appointed capellmeister of the Bürger Regiment.

The deceased dancer commenced her training at an early age, and was confided to the care of the Viennese Imperial Court ballet master, Campilli. She commenced her public career when she made her first appearance at the Court opera in Vienna in 1845, when she was barely fourteen years of age, in a pas-de-deux with Frédéric Zoli. A two years' engagement followed at the Imperial Opera, Vienna. After a brief interval Katti determined to seek fortune in Germany, and at a State fête held in Munich she was publicly complimented by King Max of Bavaria. During the four succeeding years she took up her residence in Hamburg, being appointed there Mistress of the Ballet, in which capacity she invented several ballet scenarios. Flying visits to Scandinavia and Russia, together with a twelve months' engagement at the Grand Theatre, Bordeaux, followed; while at the San Carlos Theatre, Portugal, where she fulfilled two different engagements, the King himself on the occasion of one of her benefits not only congratulated her personally, but presented her with a magnificent diamond necklet. Her first visit to England, made at the invitation of Mr. Mapleson, took place in 1871, when she appeared in Gisella, during the Italian opera season. Carlotta Grisi, one of the greatest dancers of any time, had made a great triumph in this graceful work by Adolphe Adam in the forties, and referrring long afterwards to the event, Madame Lanner declared, "I may say that the task before me at the time—namely, to win success—was not exactly a light one, inasmuch as I had to follow such favourites as Taglioni, Cerito, Carlotta Grisi, and Lucille Grahn, whose triumphs were still fresh in the minds of the public, which is ever jealous and conservative concerning its favourites. It is, however, at the same time always willing to extend a welcome hand to any newcomer whom it may consider worthy of notice. That I made a success, then, at Drury-lane, must be attributed largely to this sentiment." Of course, this was Madame Lanner's modesty, for her first London season, during which she produced several of her own ballets, was completely satisfactory. After a triumphal tour through the States she returned to London, where she rejoined Mr. Mapleson at Drury-lane for the 1875 opera season. As Elena in Robert le Diable she made a great hit.

[Photo by Lambert, Weston, and Son.

THE LATE MADAME KATTI LANNER.

In 1876 Mr. Mapleson founded the National Training School for Dancing, with which Mme. Lanner's name will be for ever connected. With the end of this year her brilliant career in character on the stage ended. Henceforth, she devoted herself to the labours of direction of ballet, combining therewith the duties at her school. For Mr. Mapleson, for Carl Rosa, for Sir Augustus Harris, first in pantomime, and then for his Italian opera season, and at Drury-lane and Covent Garden, with their great terpsichorean spectacles; for the Crystal Palace management, for the Alexandra Palace management, for the Empire management—for these and many more of lesser importance quite beyond enumeration, she carried on her unrivalled work.

In 1905, when the Empire reopened after important structural alterations had been effected, the following tribute was paid to the deceased lady:—"In connection with the ballets produced at this theatre, the name of Katti Lanner will always be associated, she having from the earliest days of the premier variety theatre of the world assisted in the perfection of these productions, bringing her unexampled experience to bear upon some of the most beautiful spectacles Europe has ever seen."

"THE LAST HALT."

Episode in One Act, Produced at the Queen's, Poplar, on Monday, Nov. 16.

Captain Marakoff ..... Mr. Harry Gilbey
Lieutenant Kosky ..... Mr. S. H. Long
Prince Paul Lerkoff .. Mr. Wilfred H. Benson
Rebecca Marstein ..... Miss Mabel Wynn

This sketch adds one more to the many dramatic pictures of Russian tyranny. An officer named Paul Lerkoff, more humane than his companions, saves a prisoner, Rebecca Marstein, from the persecution of his brother officers, who are maltreating the Jewish women. Paul then discovers that Rebecca is his mother, and plans to become British Ambassador and take her with him to England; but the shock of finding her long-lost son kills the poor creature, and she makes a "last halt" in his arms. Mr. Wilfred H. Benson played Paul Lerkoff with earnestness and feeling, and Miss Mabel Wynn enacted the unhappy Rebecca with skill and power. The rest of the characters were in good hands.

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER,

142, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.

"OH! OH! ANTONIO!"

Miss FLORRIE FORDE'S LATEST SENSATION.

THE SONG OF THE YEAR.

OH! OH! ANTONIO!

The following will Positively be Featured in the Principal Pantomime Productions in the Kingdom:—

"SHE SELLS SEA SHELLS."
"HANG OUT THE FRONT DOOR KEY."
"I'M AFRAID TO COME HOME IN THE DARK."
"COME, BE MY RAINBOW."
"MANDY'S WEDDING."
"ARE YOU THE LITTLE GIRL I MET THE OTHER EVENING."
"SUE, SUE, SUE."
"EVERY FELLOW'S IN LOVE WITH A GIRL."
"BOMBADIER."
"WHO SAID HE DON'T LIKE GIRLS."
"SHADOWLAND."
"IN THE LAND OF THE KANGAROO."
"L.S.D."

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER.

THE AGENCY QUESTION AND THE V.A.F.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

Sir,—The ninth week of this dispute unfortunately finds both parties in the above contest still at variance, with no outward sign of any settlement. That the Agency Question needed attention is acknowledged by both parties, and the want of a uniform "office copy" was universally admitted. Much has been written and said on the matter, yet the most important point seems to have been lost sight of, viz., the draft of office copy as submitted to the general meeting of the V.A.F. on Sunday, Sept. 6. In plain English it meant as follows:—

A maximum of 10 per cent. commission on work done.
No re-engagement clause;
And a three months' bar on direct booking,
Thereby giving freedom of agency.

All the agents, with the exception of Mr. Granville (Fortune and Granville) present at the conference were unanimous as to the abolition of the re-engagement clause, but in order to safeguard the agents' interests (and rightly so) the three months' bar on direct booking was inserted in the "proposed" office copy. For example, an act is booked for Monday next at the Varieties, Leeds, by Day's Agency; it makes good, and on the Tuesday and subsequent mornings the act interviews the management for its return date, Day's Agency in the meantime having no possible chance of negotiating the return, not from laxity of their office arrangements, but because they are unable to personate Sir Boyle Roche's famous bird. Now, with the three months' bar on direct booking, the agent is safeguarded to a certain extent; but it also acts in a far better manner for the artist, as he is able to go to any one of the seventy agents and ask him to negotiate the return date, and thus make the original agent more alive to his business of attending to his clients' wants.

The situation at present is a deadlock, and the business is in a very uncertain condition. That the managers are taking sides with the agents is certain. "'Tis true, 'tis pity, and pity 'tis 'tis true." This is not to be wondered at, yet the managers should remember that a Federation is absolutely necessary both in the interests of the industry, the proprietors, and the artists. It is necessary to deal collectively; it is necessary that such an organisation should exist to protect managers from suicidal barring clauses; it is necessary that the artists themselves should have a society capable of looking after and redressing just grievances Revenons à nos moutons. The V.A.F. officially declare that nothing will satisfy but 5 per cent. on work done, no deduction of commission, no re-engagement clauses (this to be prospective and retrospective), and the payment of all legal costs incurred by the V.A.F. to date. The Agents' Association require 10 per cent. and a three months' re-engagement clause, and deduction of commission. Both sides are determined not to budge. So be it. But who are suffering? Not those acts who are fairly well booked—they are signed and bound to office copies, to pay 10 per cent. on this and all re-engagements. Whatever happens they are on a something-to-nothing chance. If by a process of wearing down the Federation gains the day, they win. If the agents gain the day (by the disruption of the V.A.F.) the acts quoted above lose nothing, as their then condition remains in statu quo ante. We venture to state that were a ballot taken of the entire membership of the V.A.F.—some 3,750—and were that ballot secret, the aspect of the present situation would be changed to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned. It will be said the "votes of confidence," &c., have been carried unanimously. That is not doubted. It is easier to vote with the many—it saves a lot of argument—but the voter at the same time exercises the Jesuitical reservation and acts accordingly. Yet the way out is perfectly constitutional, yet needs courage. Rule 37 of the Book of Constitutions "Referendum": Any member or members declaring their disapproval of any resolution passed at a general meeting can, upon presentation to the Executive Committee of a petition signed by 100 members in good standing, demand that a ballot of the entire Federation shall be taken on the resolution."

Therefore, if the members of the V.A.F. are dissatisfied with the present deadlock, let them proceed constitutionally. Both sides want their own way; let neither have it; but as a compromise revert back to the office copy as submitted to the general meeting on Sept. 6, 1908, viz.:

10 per cent. for work done, no re-engagement clause, and a three months' bar on direct booking.

Both sides would then be unable to claim a victory. As a step to finality and uniformity the above solution has its advantages. And, after all, let us analyse the numerical strength of those who voted for the 5 per cent.—800 odd—and yet these are to bind the hands of the rest. True, the remainder seem indifferent to their fate; but does this indifference mean that they are V.A.F.'s only as far as their subscriptions go, and that their loyalty is non est? We know that any solution other than the "official solution" will be entirely unacceptable to the powers that be on the V.A.F. executive; yet even they must realise that the situation is fraught with many, many dangers, and if, in the furtherance of this movement they are inspired by any thoughts of malice towards individuals, they must remember that this is a situation which will have far-reaching effects on "the smaller fry." It is good to be loyal and true, and none are more true than "the smaller fry"; they who do the real hard enthusiastic work; they who unfortunately are often valorous to the verge of foolhardiness, and all because of their loyalty. It is good to be loyal, but how hard, especially when the hunger blears your eyes and your throat seems incapable of movement. The emergency fund is absolutely incapable of repaying the moral and financial damage of contracts that could have been accepted had the trouble been taken in hand after the fourth or fifth week of the dispute. Take example from the labour world as recently seen in the great Cotton Lock-out. Both sides refused arbitration; both sides were equally determined not to budge; and after a trial of strength sweet reasonableness at last prevailed. No shouting of victory, but both sides satisfied. There is a bigger danger ahead—a reactionary movement—and that means ruin!—Yours faithfully,

JANUS.

London.
Nov. 20, 1908.

At the Empire Theatre of Varieties, Burnley, May Mars is appearing with her beautiful song scena, "In the shadows of the Pyramids"; John Lloyd's Gondolier Glee singers, including Miss Helen Bourne, lady tenor, meet with a flattering reception; and Shenton and Chicks, in a pot-pourri of song are most acceptable; Grapho and Jackson, In a Restaurant, are very funny; and Dancit is applauded for clever footwork; Botello and Virginia pay a welcome return visit in gymnastics; and the Morans, with quick electrical scenic effects, are clever musicians. The picture by the Theatroscope is The Rural Postman.

A comic song by Wagner, consisting of twelve verses, both words and music being written by the composer, is announced to be put up for auction in Berlin shortly. The song was dedicated to the landlord of a Leipzig hotel.

"The Era" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

SONGS, WRITERS, AND SINGERS.

(Continued from page 25.)

So great is the demand for the new Irish song "Connemara" that it is quite impossible to satisfy all comers, much as Messrs. Feldman would like, and to save further disappointment it would be wise for ambitious artists to secure this sure success without delay.

"A Tiny Seed of Love," immortalised by that charming and versatile artist Miss Maude Mortimer, will bring fame and fortune to the Feldman house. Never have they had anything approaching the success of what they term the song of a lifetime.

When Boxing Night arrives and the success of pantomime songs is being chronicled, the dark horse of the year will unquestionably be Charles R. Whittle's "I want you to see my girl," which up to three weeks ago was an unknown quantity. From all parts of the country Messrs. Feldman and Co. are daily inundated with requests for permission for pantomime rights, and, needless to say, are very elated over their good fortune.

The National Music Publishing Company have lost no time in placing their latest winner, entitled "Put me upon an Island where the girls are few," having already reserved it for Jack Pleasants, Harry Grey, Barney Armstrong, Pete Birmingham, Will Letters, and a host of others, for several of the leading pantomimes.

The National Music Publishing Company will be well represented in the Glasgow pantomimes this year, Robert Arthur having already secured several of their numbers, amongst which are the 100-guinea song, "When the leaves are tinged with gold," and George Lashwood's great success, "If it's a lady."

The National Music Publishing Company, among the songs they have made free for pantomime, and which have been placed with the leading managers and producers all over the United Kingdom, are Lowenwirth and Cohan's chorus song, "My little Eva"; Victoria Monks' two winners, "I wish I had a pal like you" and "Call round any old time"; Will Godwin's latest hit, "When I've a hundred pounds," and George Lashwood's novelty song, "Nicolo, Nicolo, play on your piccolo."

"Kate, Kate, won't you roller skate?" is a very appropriate title, as undoubtedly roller-skating is the present rage. The National Music Publishing Company have already received at least fifty-six applications for this song, and have placed it with a great many pantomime managers and producers.

Miss Ella Shields is scoring a success at the Holborn with her coon song, "Do you want any coal?" This is a capital number for pantomime, and forms one of a trio of excellent principal girl songs which the Von Tilzer Music Company are exploiting this season, the others being "In a little wooden house in Norway" and "Keepsakes."

Mr. Harry Ford is featuring as his principal song on his provincial tour, "Your mustn't do that, naughty boy," which bids fair to eclipse his "I wonder." The publishers, the Von Tilzer Company, are receiving demands from the music dealers right along Mr. Ford's tour. Another success published by the same firm is Sam Mayo's "The wind blew hard from the north-south-west."

Mr. Arthur Lennard has just accepted for early production from the Von Tilzer Music Company a new song, entitled "Is there no message from England?" The publishers will give out a few permissions as soon as the song is issued.

Will Evans is just now exploiting one of the funniest, simplest, catchiest songs heard for a long time. It is entitled "A B C," and the refrain consists of the alphabet from A to Z, ingeniously arranged to form a positively irresistible chorus. The ditty has some really comic verses and most amusing patter, and is equally suitable for dame or any other comedy character in pantomime. Comedians who are on the look-out for a ready-made winner cannot do better than secure a copy from the Star Music Co.

There seems no longer any doubt that the popular principal boy song in forthcoming pantomimes will be the Star Music Co.'s top-liner, "I don't care if there's a girl there." Through the courtesy of Mr. Charles Whittle a few other permits have been granted, and the result has been a complete, overwhelming, and instantaneous success. During the week Mr. Fred Barnes wired: "Am simply storming them with 'I don't care if there's a girl there,' five and six curtains each house." Practically the same news was received from L. W. Haines, Arthur Sutcliffe, Harry Simms, Maude Esmond, and others.

The Star Music Co. have had scores of applications from principal boys and girls for permission to sing the catchy chorus number, "Have you got another girl at home like Mary" in various pantomime productions. Others in great demand are "Ayesha, my sweet Egyptian," "Don't put your umbrella up before it starts to rain," "My pretty little piece of Dresden china," "Won't you waltz the 'Merry Widow' waltz with me?" "Carolina Brown, of Chinatown," and "Molly Maloney."

Messrs. Francis, Day, and Hunter have this week purchased Miss Kitty Colyer's "My little snow house" and her tuneful chorus song, "Oh, Dolly!"

"MY LANCASHIRE WIFE."

A Comedy Sketch, produced at the Middlesex Music Hall on Monday, Nov. 16.

The Husband .....Mr. Albert Brasque
The Wife .....Miss Cora Duncan

My Lancashire Wife is the title of a quiet little comedy sketch which we saw for the first time on Monday evening at the Middlesex. It is presented by Miss Cora Duncan and Mr. Albert Brasque. The playlet consists of a conversation between a Lancashire mill-owner and his wife. Only a few years previously the position in life of both of them was of a most insignificant and humble character, the man holding a mean appointment and the girl being a mill hand. The husband has succeeded in educating himself to a certain extent, and has acquired a little of the culture necessary to the social existence of a man in good financial circumstances. His great anxiety now centres round the behaviour of his wife, who speaks in the broadest Lancashire dialect, and whose ignorance in matters of common knowledge is as profound as her lack of what is usually considered proper etiquette at the table. But she is in heart and mind a good woman, and is able to retort that some of their aristocratic acquaintances are not all that they should be. Her criticism of two of them finds confirmation in a newspaper reference to an approaching divorce suit, and the husband, to whose notice it first comes, decides that after all his Lancashire wife's homely ways are infinitely preferable to the moral code of some members of the "upper ten." Miss Cora Duncan gives a characteristic and amusing study of a Lancashire woman, and Mr. Albert Brasque furnishes a consistent and admirable portraiture of the husband. The little piece has been well received. It is distinctly refined and altogether pleasing.

MESSRS. FELDMAN'S PANTOMIME SONGS.

Messrs. B. Feldman and Co., the well-known music publishers, of Arthur-street, New Oxford-street, have some very delightful songs for the pantomime season. Mr. Bert Feldman tells us that he has never known such a busy season, and he is quite enthusiastic concerning the "numbers" his firm is now publishing.

What may be considered Messrs. Feldman's magnum opus for this year is a song, entitled "If I should plant a tiny seed of love in the garden of your heart." It is written by Mr. Ballard Macdonald, and the music is by Mr. James W. Tate. Mr. Feldman describes it as "the sensation of my career." The first verse of the song—which, by the way, was originally "produced" by Miss Maude Mortimer and immediately caught on—runs thus:—

Busy little honey bees were buzzing to and fro,
Humming in the summer air,
Gathering the honey and the little drops of dew,
That lay within the blossoms fair;
A youth and a maid thro' a garden stray'd,
And the youth seem'd out of sorts,
So the maid with a smile just to tease him said,
I'll give a penny for your thoughts;
I was wondering said he:

CHORUS.

If I should plant a tiny seed of love,
In the garden of your heart,
Would it grow to be a great big love some day,
Or would it die and fade away?
Would you care for it and tend it ev'ry day,
Till the time when all must part,
If I should plant a tiny seed of love,
In the garden of your heart?

Another capital song issued by the same enterprising firm is called, "I want you to see my girl." It has been written and composed by Messrs. Harry Castling and Fred Godfrey, and has been "featured" by Mr. Charles Whittle. The ditty is characterised by a haunting refrain, and the chorus is as follows:—

"I want you to see my girl,
What a girl, what a girl, what a pearl!
I want you to see her eyes,
Oh! her eyes, dreamy eyes, mesmerise!
I want you to see my girl,
She would set all your hearts in a whirl,
Put your hats and jackets on, and come along, come along
I want you to see my girl!"

A song that Mr. Feldman anticipates will be rendered by every "principal boy" in the approaching pantomime season is "A white man," written by Messrs. Arthur Wimperis and Walter Davidson, with music by the latter gentleman. The melody is a most pleasing one, and is bound to become very popular. In this topics and people of the day are introduced. Thus we get references to Tommy Atkins, "Jack, the Handyman," Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Free Trade, King Edward, and Mr. Lewis Waller. This is the opening verse:

There's a brand-new drama,
With a dusky charmer,
That is making quite a hit;
It's all about the Wild and Woolly West,
And the hero's at his best—
He is played by Lewis Waller—
He's a bold Vaquero,
He's a cowboy hero,
And he's got a title too;
But he chucks his earldom, all to wed his Indian girl,
For he's a white man through and through!

CHORUS.

He's "The White Man," yes, and he's the right man too,
And Waller in the part is quite sublime;
Though he loves a lady
Who in colour's rather shady,
He's a white man all the time.

Still another enormous Feldman success is "Connemara," which has for a sub-title, "In the dear old Emerald Isle," the work of Messrs. Mellor, Lawrance, and Gifford. We give the chorus:—

Come, come back to Connemara,
To your own acushla dear,
Won't you come, come back to Connemara?
I'm so lonely here.
Since you went away from Connemara,
I have miss'd your loving smile,
And begorra, it's true,
There's a welcome for you
In the dear old Emerald Isle.

Other songs which are bound to win for the firm no small fame are "The bubble and the sunbeam," by the authors of "A Tiny Seed," "Peggy, the pride of the mill," and "It's good-bye to Maudie" and "Come round on Sunday."

"THE AFRICANDER MAID."

The interest which is always felt in South African history, and the affection of the British public for a beautiful woman and a well-trained horse, have been skilfully exploited by Miss Adele Fillis, in her new sketch, The Africander Maid, an incident of the Zulu war, which has been presented at the Middlesex Music Hall this week. Miss Fillis comes of a famous equestrian stock, and her pony, Zarif, is indeed a most obedient and intelligent animal. The sketch opens with the murder of an English officer by three Zulus, emissaries from a tribe which has succeeded, by strategy, in cutting him off from his friends at a neighbouring fort. As he is dying, an Africander maid rides up on a grey pony, and undertakes to convey to the fort certain very important despatches. The maid's sweetheart, a lieutenant in the British Army, is at the fort in question. On her way thither she is shot at and wounded by the Zulus, and falls fainting on the veldt. Her pony takes her hat in his mouth, goes to a neighbouring stream, and brings her water. He also repels the attacks of some marauding Zulus by rushing at them as they approach, and lies down sympathetically by his mistress's side. Then, going to the body of a dead Zulu, the pony takes from it a Union Jack, which the savage has secured as a trophy, and waves it in the air, thereby attracting the attention of the occupants of the fort, the maid's sweetheart arriving to her rescue with a party of British soldiers, who carry her off on a stretcher. The effect of the sketch is increased by two well-painted scenes, realistically reproducing South African scenery, and the introduction of three Zulu chiefs greatly assists the illusion. Miss Adele Fillis, who rides in masculine fashion, in a picturesque costume, depicts very expressively the emotions which sway the Africander maid, her acting in the second scene being very pathetic. She rides, of course, with absolute ease and grace, and her pony, Zarif, quite justifies the allusion to him in the dialogue as having "more sense in his head than most men." Miss Fillis is well supported, and The Africander Maid is a decided success.

Miss Daisie Morell has been secured by Mr. J. H. Savile to play principal boy in his Christmas production of Puss in Boots at the Paisley Theatre.

Our Leeds correspondent in his notice last week of the City Varieties omitted to mention Folay and Francis, comedians, who did exceedingly well.

The Awards. The three interim Awards and the final Award, corrected and revised by George Ranken Askwith, Esq., the official arbitrator appointed in the Music Hall Dispute, may be had in pamphlet form at "The Era" Offices. Copy, including postage, three-half-pence. Address, The Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

MUSIC-HALL CELEBRITIES.

MISS RAIE WALTERS.

Miss Raie Walters, the clever comedienne, better-known as "The Fishing Girl," was born in 1889. Since the early days of childhood she has always displayed a strong feeling for the stage, and when but eleven years of age obtained an engagement in the chorus of the pantomime at the old Lyceum. After the pantomime was at an end, her ambition for the stage was greater than ever, and she was so infatuated with all the actresses that she resolved to be an actress, too. She begged her parents to put her on the stage, but they only laughed at her and said when she grew older they would gratify her request. That, however, did not satisfy the embryo artist, and one day, whilst on a visit to her grandparents, whom she invariably amused with singing and dancing, she asked them to try and get her on the stage. Her "grandad" complied, and secured several engagements at concerts, and was so delighted with her success that he took her to an agent. Miss Walters's first appearance at a music hall was made at the Washington, Battersea. She was engaged for one week, but made such a success that they kept her on for another. Messrs. Hyman and Hyman, who booked her, were so gratified with her turn that they booked her for several other small halls. "Since then," says the young artist, "I have had a great struggle to get on, and have met with many disappointments in common with most artists—one week's work and a good many out, and it is only by dint of perseverance I have succeeded. I may also mention that I have never had a lesson in my life, either in singing, dancing, or the working of my songs, neither have I had the assistance of anyone who has any influence in the profession, with the exception of my present agent, Mr. Ernest De Vere. I owe my success to my own ability, and

Photo by Perkoff.
MISS RAIE WALTERS.

I am most happy to say I am rapidly climbing the ladder." Miss Walters's success may be gauged by the fact that she is now able to say with pardonable pride, "No vacancies."

ACTION BY ARTISTS.

Otto and Olga, the music hall artists, who were represented by Mr. C. J. Doughty, sued Signor Rino Pepi, managing-director of the Middlesbrough Hippodrome, at the Middlesbrough County Court on Monday, for £18, in respect of a contract to perform at the Hippodrome for the week beginning Aug. 3 last. On that date the hall, a new one, was not completed, and in consequence the plaintiffs could not perform there.

His Honour (Judge Templer) eventually gave judgment for the defendants, with costs, but gave leave to appeal.

Mr. Doughty, in opening the case, handed in a form of contract which was not stamped. A consultation ensued, and the case did not proceed until Mr. Doughty gave a personal undertaking to be responsible for the penalty for non-stamping.

Mr. Doughty said that the contract was entered into in May, 1907. He read from the contract the words: "In the event of the hall closing for any purpose whatever, it is distinctly understood that this agreement shall be immediately cancelled," and said that the point was whether those words were sufficient for Mr. Pepi to get out of the contract.

Mr. Mundall, who appeared for the defence, said that his most important point was as to the general law. The plaintiffs knew at the time of the contract that it was for a new building which might or might not be completed. It was not the management's fault in any way, and he submitted that the terms of the engagement must be taken to imply "contingent to its being ready for use." There was another clause which read: "The engagement to be void if the performance be stopped for any cause over which the management have no control," and he said that in this case they had no control.

Signor Pepi next gave evidence as to contracting with the plaintiffs through Will Oliver, their agent. He informed the agent by letter that the Hippodrome was not completed, and he did not tell him whether or not it would be finished. He told him that, roughly speaking, it would be open about August Bank Holiday. In July he found that it could not be opened by then, and he informed Mr. Oliver of that by letter, and he said he would be pleased to give plaintiffs another date.

In cross-examination Signor Pepi said that he expected that the hall would be finished by August Bank Holiday until July this year.

The agent, Mr. Will Oliver, then gave evidence, in which he said that the contract was made at Carlisle. The contract was made along with others, and Signor Pepi said that he thought the Hippodrome would be finished, but if it was not they would have to take another date.

Mr. Doughty, in replying, said that the contract was clearly signed for Aug. 3, and expressed a clear agreement to take the artists for the week whether the hall was opened or not. He pointed out that from May 1907, to July, 1908, the two artists had been kept by the "barring" clause out of Middlesbrough and Stockton entirely, and that was a serious limitation of their opportunities of earning their living.

Mr. W. F. Frame, the genuine Scot, who has just set Norfolk folk on the "Hooch aye" with his "Hielan' Rory," will appear at the New Cross Empire on Monday, Nov. 30.

The management of the Earl's Court "Rinkeries," besides holding gymkhanas every Wednesday, will hold a beauty show, in which one thousand ladies will compete, on Dec. 9, 10, and 11. As a Christmas attraction, a skating horse—the only one of its kind in the world—will be brought from Norway to perform in the Empress Hall.

PRICE & REYNOLDS'
PANTOMIME SONGS.

"MAIDIE AND HER LITTLE TEDDY BEAR."
"RUN AWAY FROM OLD MAN GOBLIN."
"LITTLE MONEY SPIDER."
"BEAUTIFUL BRITTANY." "JEREMIAH."
"SHARE MY PAGODA." "FUNNIOSITIES."
"JESSIE THE FLOWER O' INVERNESS."
"MISS CARNATION." "MR. GOLLYWOG."
"IF I WERE A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT."
"MY WORD! IF I CATCH YOU BENDING."

CALL OR WRITE.
Professional Copies, Threepence each.
PRICE & REYNOLDS, 41, BERNERS STREET, LONDON, W.

"MY FANCY" AT SHEERNESS.

A HIGH STANDARD OF MERIT.

The art of step-dancing has reached perfection in the person of "My Fancy," the famous danseuse, who is delighting audiences at the Hippodrome this week. If you can imagine a succession of speedy and difficult movements executed in breathless haste, but yet well ordered and in perfect time and rhythm, then you have an idea of the art of which "My Fancy" is so able an exponent. Her dancing is unlike that which is at present taking London by storm. She executes no dream waltzes, no gliding, fantastic movements; there are no wave-like ripples of the arms, no poetic motions. The key-words of "My Fancy's" dancing are rhythm and vigour. With her body perfectly rigid and her arms practically motionless, she trips out fleet and airy measures, and great applause is hers. For here we have the art of step-dancing pure and simple, without any tendency to the over-worked, flogged-to-death legmania. "My Fancy's" performance is something more refined. After all, is not expert fleetness of foot a poetic attainment; is not the never-faltering rhythm danced out by toe and heel something which deserves a position amongst the high arts? But as a sand danseuse "My Fancy" is still more expert. With a medley of minute movements, with a never-flagging vigour, she taps out the rhythms of the measure, and is, of course, recalled by the fascinated audience.—The Guardian and East Kent Advertiser, Nov. 7, 1908.

"AT BREAK OF DAY."

A Dramatic Sketch, produced at the Hammersmith Palace, on Monday, Nov. 16.

Sir Charles Meridith.....Mr. Fred S. Peake
Roland Murray .....Mr. Edwin Morton
Carson .....Mr. Wallace Bosco
Margaret Murray .....Miss Dora Davis

This is a costume sketch, and the scene is Sir Charles Meridith's study, where he and three guests sit playing at cards. The game has not far progressed when one of the most youthful of the party, Roland Murray, springs up and calls his host a cheat. Sir Charles insists on a duel there and then, although Murray is the worse for drink. Of course the sober man has the better of the encounter, and the other players leave Murray bleeding in an armchair. The wounded man continues to threaten Meridith, and as he tries to drag himself out of the room Sir Charles shoots him dead. Murray's mother comes to seek her son, and Meridith tells her he is in the house, and will never gamble or drink again. The mother expresses her thanks, and pays Sir Charles £150 to clear the supposed debts of her son, the baronet then retiring to prepare for flight abroad. Mrs. Murray discovers her son's dead body, and swears to kill Sir Charles. He returns, and in a duel "at break of day" she effects her purpose by aid of the Murray thrust, known only to her late husband, herself, and her dead son. All the above artists do well in their respective parts.

VARIETY THEATRES HAVE COME TO STAY!
That we all know.
We also know the time has come when
WELL WRITTEN,
SKILFULLY PREPARED PLAYLETS CAREFULLY ACTED
and
BEAUTIFULLY MOUNTED, will be
BOOKED BY MANAGERS IN PREFERENCE
To the Mediocre type of Sketch so frequently seen upon the Variety Stage.

"THE PLAY'S THE THING!"
Therefore, first get your play. Having got it, bring LONG EXPERIENCE AND SOUND JUDGMENT
To bear upon the
PRODUCTION AND CAST OF CHARACTERS.
And the result will be an innovation
WELCOMED BY MANAGERS
and
THEATRE-GOERS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

DIRECTORS and MANAGERS
Should not Fail to See
"CHUMS TILL DEATH."
THE CANTERBURY THEATRE OF VARIETIES.
Week Commencing November 23rd.

Telegrams, "Playlet, London." 'Phone, 909 P.O., Croydon.
ALBERT MARSH, St. Margaret's, Birchanger Road, South N

THE EMPIRE.

That sprightly ballet A Day in Paris is drawing full houses to the Empire Theatre, and Mr. H. J. Hitchins has his hands full to provide for the crowds who throng the portals of the popular establishment in Leicester-square. Mr. Fred Farren's Jacques Bonnair is as admirable as it was on the production of the ballet; and Mlle. Lydia Kyasht repeats her pretty and vivacious performance of the parts of La Gloire de Paris and L'Arc-en-Ciel. The variety portion of the programme includes the names of those extravagantly absurd drolls and acrobats Pichel and Scall, who create roars of laughter by their ridiculous doings with china plates and tin dishes. The broad fun of their turn is keenly appreciated. A strong attraction is the entertainment provided by the Great Le Pages, whose jumping is something extraordinary. After the lady of the trio has taken up her position in a big barrel placed on a chair, the two gentlemen jump into it also; and the barrel is held on high by the female artist while one of the males leaps through it with the aid of a long pole. The lightness of foot of the Le Pages is proved in various ways. They hop on and off a number of eggs placed in a basket upon a table; upon the sharp edge of a short sword; on a handbell standing on the lady's head; and on the sword when held by her upon an apple on her hand, cutting the apple exactly through without injuring the lady's palm. The Le Pages conclude their entertainment by playing "God save the King" on handbells which are arranged on tables, the jumpers striking them in their passage over the pieces of furniture. A quaint and diverting exhibition is the "Bulldogs' Music Hall," in which, by the aid of some realistic "dummies" and mechanical contrivances a semblance of a canine orchestra is supplied. Miss Mary Bailey and her dogs are called at the conclusion of the show. Miss Josephine La Barte, attired in attractive evening dress, accompanies herself on the piano while she renders, with telling spirit and energy, two "taking" Irish songs. Miss La Barte secures her success by the archness of her expression and by her crisp, smart delivery of her ditties. She is loudly applauded, and gets a call at the conclusion of her turn. Mr. Hymack has developed his amazing manœuvres with cuffs, ties, and other articles of attire with the aid of a thread of "story," a fashionable youth being the victim of the power of hypnotism possessed by a friend, who, by the aid of the "'fluence," makes Hymack rant passages from Shakespeare and entertain his own valet as a personal friend. The absurdities of "Mr. Blenkinsop" in his mesmerised state are very diverting, and Mr. Hymack's profusion of adornments, his mysterious methods of making them appear and disappear, and his sudden appearance in a complete grey suit and white hat are very startling indeed. Hymack's entertainment is certainly unique; and the scenery and accessories are very liberally and ingeniously supplied. Amongst the pictures shown by the Bioscope are representations of daring feats of horsemanship by Italian cavalry and views of the recent Motor Exhibition at Olympia. That thrilling dramatic episode After the Opera is admirably enacted by Mr. Robert Pateman, Mr. Vernon Steel, Miss Evelyn d'Alroy, and their supporters. The selections played by the excellent band, under the direction of Mr. Cuthbert Clarke, are as well chosen as ever, and are rendered with the musical feeling, spirit, and accuracy of attack for which the Empire orchestra is famous. Mr. Spencer Barry's stage direction secures a smooth succession of items; and Mr. A. Aldin's superintendence of affairs in front is unimpeachable.

THE ALHAMBRA.

Mlle. Britta, the new dancer at the Alhambra, has become a great favourite, and her impersonation of Paquita, with its passionate outburst in the second scene with her series of charming solos, appeals to the lovers of the ballet that nightly foregather to enjoy Mr. Alfred Moul's excellent programme of varieties. Since our last visit the bill has been enriched with several new attractions. Of surpassing merit are the finely-built and charmingly graceful Sisters Athletas, a trio of Parisian girls who display their fine proportions in maize-coloured costumes that set off their dark beauty to perfection. They are making their first appearance in this country, and are nightly proving what a complete misnomer is the phrase "weak woman" by their feats with weights of considerable avoirdupois. One Hebe with a smile of ineffable calm and just a suspicion of big biceps toys with a huge dumbbell which she drops on to her shapely arms. A pair of them back to back—the rearmost head downward—succeed in raising the same dumbbell from the floor; and another trick in which two are concerned is when one of the sisters, standing on the knees and neck of another, raises the heavy weight aloft, the "bearer" taking it quite easy. One of the sisters lifts a few mere men as if they were trifles light as air, and the show never lacks prettiness or grace, two qualities that are often absent from such exhibitions.

Hoop juggling and hoop rolling are not new to this country, but there is a most agreeable spice of novelty in the show sponsored by Messrs. Muller, Chunn, and Muller, who accomplish more in the manipulation of their circlets than has been seen on any variety stage here. The trio twist them round legs, arms, and neck, and the rapid throwing of the hoops to each other is very smart. The stage absolutely swarms with hoops, which are often spun with quite a puzzling break. A pretty show, and one that affords immense delight, the trio of artists being called and recalled a number of times. Ernesto, juggler and instrumentalist plays a concertino solo, and balances a lighted lamp on his head while going up a staircase, and throws and catches plates most deftly.

The Apache dance comes from Paris, and is a capital exempar of the manner of the canaille—with a poetical gloss, bien entendu. M. Volbert brings out by many artistic touches the brute realities of the gutter "freebooter," a term that may be literally applied, and his partner Mlle. Sylvo ably assists him in the remarkable dance which takes place where the boon companions drink, quarrel fiercely, and "make it up." The item is a great success.

The Ten-Ji Troupe of magicians are from that wonderful country, Japan, and have nothing to learn from European necromancers. The most surprising of their tricks is the immediate creation of fountains from the edges of swords or from the heads of the members of the combination. Mr. Leonard Russell opens the programme, which still retains the fascinating ballet The Two Flags. Mr. Henry Helme also sings.

At the Palace Theatre and Hippodrome, Burnley, a return visit is being paid by Fred Karno's comedians, in The Football Match, which proves as funny as ever; Frank Cass, vocal comedian, is immediately successful with "How long will you be"; and a pretty spectacular turn is provided by the Vocal Chameleon. Harry Bancroft, actor-vocalist, has a good reception; and Baker and Balfe, with xylophones, are very pleasing. The sketch presented by Bowman and Marton is a good one; and Emmie Ames sings charmingly. The Adventures of a Watch are shown by Raymond's Bio-Tableaux.

"THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT," for actor and composer, by Albert A. Strong, LL.B. (Lond.). Price 3s. 6d., post free 3s. 10d. Published at The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

FELDMAN

. . THE . .

PANTOMIME MASCOT

FORECASTS

BOXING NIGHT TRIUMPHS.

CHARLES R. WHITTLE'S

"I WANT YOU TO SEE MY GIRL."

GEORGE LASHWOOD'S

"A WHITE MAN."

MISS MAUDE MORTIMER'S

"A TINY SEED OF LOVE."

"CONNEMARA."

"IT'S GOOD-BYE TO MAUDIE."

"THE BUBBLE AND THE SUNBEAM."

"I LIKE YOUR OLD FRENCH BONNET."

"PEGGY, THE PRIDE OF THE MILL."

"SHINE LITTLE MOONFLOWER."

MISS FLORRIE FORDE'S

"GIRLS, STUDY YOUR COOKERY BOOK."

PHIL RAY'S

"TRAMCAR."

"IT'S NOT SO MUCH THE WALTZ DREAM AS HER DREAMY, DREAMY EYES."

"WHAT YOU'VE GOT LOOK AFTER."

GREAT TOPICAL DUET FOR COMEDIANS,

"ICE CREAM! BAKED CHESTNUTS!"

"COME ROUND ON SUNDAY."

"GRETNA GREEN."

B. FELDMAN & CO.,

2 & 3, ARTHUR STREET, NEW OXFORD STREET, LONDON, W.C.

Telegrams, "Humtriv, London." Telephone, No. 4447 Gerrard.

MARIE LOFTUS
AT THE IPSWICH HIPPODROME.

VISIT OF MARIE LOFTUS.

For over half an hour the audience at the first-house performance at the Ipswich Hippodrome, on Monday night, heard Marie Loftus, an artist who has achieved a popularity not even excelled by Marie Lloyd. In fact, the programme described her as England's greatest comedienne; whether this be so or not, it is certain that no one has ever given greater pleasure at this house of entertainment, and at the conclusion of an exacting turn Miss Loftus was cheered to the echo. It cannot be said that the lady is endowed with strong vocal powers, but it's "just her way" that makes for success. In a wonderful directoire creation, she opened with a typical comedienne's song, "Hullo, I've been looking for you," following with two others relative of the visit of country lasses to the metropolis. The first of these, "And she lithped when she said, 'Yeth, yeth,'" was provocative of much laughter, and the second, "How ashamed I was," given in West Country dialect, was even funnier. Good and versatile as Miss Loftus was in all these three items, she excelled herself in her latest burlesque of "Singers—Past and Present." By a series of quick-changes, imitations of a lady in crinoline, a shy "young" lady of forty summers, an Irish singer, a coon singer, and Scotch comedian, were given in verse, and her clever sketch concluded with a particularly smart burlesque melodrama, in which Miss Loftus played both the heroine and the villain, whilst attired as half-lady and half-gentleman. By rapid turns she effected a wonderfully smart illusion, and her business throughout was extremely funny.—East Anglian Daily Times, Nov. 17.

MARIE LOFTUS AT THE HIPPODROME.

The Hippodrome management are to be congratulated upon their enterprise in engaging Marie Loftus for a brief stay in Lowestoft. Coming to the town with such a great reputation, it was not surprising that she was accorded a welcome of the heartiest description from a crowded house. Her vivacity was indeed boundless, whilst her art was perfect. Selecting from her following latest successes, "The Directoire Girl," "The Country Girl," "The Irish Girl," "The Wee Scotch Girl," and "Singers—Past and Present," and introducing the latest crazes, the directoire and scabbard dresses, Marie took last night's house by storm, being awarded an unprecedented ovation for her final submission. Besides demonstrating her skill to thoroughly entertain the audience, Marie Loftus proved a remarkably quick change artist, and expressions of approval continually burst from the audience. She was recalled many times ere the house considered it had paid sufficient tribute to her talents.—Eastern Evening News.

It is doubtful whether any artist who has visited Lowestoft has made such a great success as that achieved by Miss Marie Loftus, who has been appearing at the Hippodrome. Her engagement at Lowestoft was originally made for three nights only, and she was to have appeared at Yarmouth for the remainder of the week. Our neighbours will have to wait, however, for Marie has been scoring so immensely, and has established herself such a favourite, that the Hippodrome management are obliged to retain her services for the remaining three nights. For considerably more than half an hour nightly she has been enrapturing the thousands of Hippodrome patrons, and even then the audience has clamoured for more. The cream of her acting is seen in "Singers—Past and Present," in which she impersonates the serio of the crinoline period, and passes by easy stages to an exceedingly clever travesty of the style of kilted comedian so popular on the music-hall stage to-day. This sketch alone is a delightful satire, given in delightful fashion.—Eastern Daily Press.

Marie Loftus stars the bill at the Hippodrome this week, and that her visit is welcome could be readily gauged from the enthusiastic reception she was accorded by two capital houses last evening. Marie Loftus has a way with her, and her versatility and vivacity does the rest. She is a variety artist from the tips of her toes to the latest creation she affects in hats, and no one knows better how to secure popularity. Her songs last evening went well, but her greatest success was her effort, "Singers—Past and Present." In this she was particularly droll, whilst her make-up was of the funniest possible description. She was recalled times out of number, and when the curtain finally fell upon the turn the comedienne had scored a big success.—Lowestoft Press.

ROCHDALE HIPPODROME OPENED.

The New Hippodrome, Rochdale, which has been built on the site of the old Circus of Varieties, was opened on Monday evening before an enthusiastic audience. Seating accommodation has been provided for about 2,500, and from every seat there is an unobstructed view of the stage. The scheme of colouring is cream and gold, with red draperies and upholstering. The proscenium is 32 feet in width and 24 feet in height, the dressing-rooms have been constructed on the American system, and the lighting is by electricity. Up-to-date accommodation has been provided throughout, and the desire of the proprietors to supply a comfortable and cosy place of entertainment appears to have been accomplished.

At the opening the full company of artists joined in the singing of the "National Anthem," Madame Bale taking the solo. Miss Jenny Lynwood, comedienne, had the honour of contributing the first turn, her songs being greatly appreciated. The Jackson Family provided the pièce de résistance. Their exceptional musical talents were demonstrated by a clever and refined performance on various musical instruments. George Leyton fairly brought down the house in his military scena Lucknow, ten local veterans accompanying him on the stage. The other artists appearing included Mysticas; Pat Lynch, dancer; the Calcotts, in Rags and Tatters; the Garricks; Fame and Fortune, speciality comedians; and the Hippodrome pictures.

During an interval Mr. Jackson thanked the audience for their support, saying that their intention was to provide a wholesome entertainment. As proprietors, they would be only too pleased to lend the use of the hall to raise money for charitable purposes. Mr. Albert Ball, J.P., of Nottingham, who presided at the stone-laying, responded with a felicitous speech. The proprietors are the Jackson Family, the business-manager is Mr. John Jackson, and the resident-manager Mr. James Jackson, sen.

FRANK AYLMER'S THANKS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—Will you allow me through the columns of The Era to sincerely thank W. H. Wallis, F. V. St. Clair, and all kind friends who have forwarded their donations towards the list you so kindly started on my behalf.

I am still confined to bed (seventeen weeks now), and it will be many more weeks before I shall be up; then an artificial appliance has to be made and fitted on me before I shall be able to walk about.—Yours truly,

FRANK AYLMER.

Mercers' Hospital, Dublin,
Nov. 16, 1908.

THE SHOWMAN WORLD.

Fairs Ahead.

The Fairs ahead for next week are:—Crowle, on the Great Central; Newark, on the Midland and Great Northern; Pickering, on the North-Eastern; Richmond (Yorks), on the North-Eastern; Ripon, on the North-Eastern; York, on the Great Central, North-Eastern, Great Northern, London and North-Western, Great Eastern, and Midland; Chesterfield, on the Midland; Frome, on the Great Western; Ilminster, on the Great Western; Hartlepool, on the North-Eastern; Gloucester, on the Midland and Great Western, Ludford, on the Great Western; Milborne St. Andrews, on the Midland and London and South-Western; Inverness, on the Highland; Aberystwyth, on the Cambrian and Manchester and Milford; and Mountain Ash, on the Great Western and Taff Vale Railways.

Ulverston Hirings.

The principal concerns and fairground novelties were provided by M. Hoadley, who exhibited steam galloping horses and rifle gallery; J. H. East, with galloping horses; Holland, with swings, shooters, and throwing games; Helm, with bicycle track; Casey, with park swings and shooter. The other entertainers were Messrs. Rostron, Wilson, Taylor, Broughton, Freer, and Towers, with variety games, stalls, &c.

Bulwell Feast.

On the Corporation ground were the following concerns:—J. Proctor's palace of light and up-to-date filmograph; Hall and Procter's motor-car set, and the No. 2 machine, the razzle-dazzle; juvenile roundabouts, houp-la frames, and other varieties were provided by Messrs. Barnes, Chapman, and C. Warwick. There were shows, machines, and other novelties on private pitches, altogether making an attractive and successful Fair.

James Leo, the Mystery Man.

This expert showman, occultist, and esoteric magician, has been exclusively secured by Messrs. P. Collins and Son. Leo's latest experiment in white magic is a most bewildering variation of the difficult experiment known as the "suspended lady." Leo's adaptation, entitled "Lilla, the Suspended Maiden," is being given as a separate turn on the stage of No. 2, Wonderland. We had the pleasure of seeing this mysterious experiment at Rotherham Fair, and we could not help noticing the particularly deft performance and the inexplicable way in which it was enacted, completely baffling and amazing the audience. "Lilla" is brought on to the stage and is placed under hypnotic influence by Professor Leo. The maiden reclines upon a couch; further hypnotic passes are worked by the Professor upon his unconscious subject, and then without any visible support, in answer to the waving of the professor's hands the body rises from the couch and is seen suspended in mid-air. The usual tests are applied, demonstrating that no concealed mechanical appliances whatever can be supporting "Lilla." The particular feature of this performance is the fact that it is done on the open stage in the full glare of half a dozen powerful arc lights. There is no mysterious dark curtain, no attempt to blind and perplex the eyes and mind of the audience, and to all intents and purposes it is done with the ordinary appliances of a lady's boudoir. We congratulate Professor Leo and his charming assistant "Lilla" on an extremely interesting experiment in up-to-date magic. We also congratulate Mr. Patrick Ross Collins on his enterprise in giving such splendid and novel turns between the pictures.

CONSUL. THE ALMOST MAN. TRAINED BY FRANK C. BOSTOCK.

NO VACANT DATES.

Morpeth November Hirings.

For this Northern fixture the following caterers attended:—H. Millar, with galloping horse set, rifle saloon, and throwing games; G. W. Newsome, with variety games and coker sheets; and Franklin, with roll-up boards, stalls, &c.

The Roundabout Proprietors' and Showmen's Union.

An important meeting of this trade society takes place on Tuesday next at their headquarters, the Black Lion Hotel, Salford, Manchester. Members of the Union will find time of meeting and other important matters in our advertising column.

The Organising Chaplain in Manchester.

The Rev. T. Horne hopes to be in Manchester for a day or two, beginning on Monday next week, his intention being to get an emergency committee of the Guild together on the Tuesday evening after the meeting of the Roundabout Proprietors' and Showmen's Union. In trying to arrange a meeting then he is entirely guided by the fact that a number of the principal members of the Guild Committee are likely to be in Manchester for the meeting of the Union. Notices will be sent to committee men in and around Manchester. The Chaplain hopes that committee men reading this notice will try to meet him at the Black Lion Hotel on the evening of Tuesday next. The business before the emergency committee will be—(1) Parliamentary opposition to the Movable Dwellings Bill, and (2) to consider and adopt the annual report.

THE FIGHT FOR MITCHAM FAIR.

APPLICATION FOR LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD INQUIRY.

As indicated in our reference to this matter last week, another important victory has been won by the sturdy local champions of the Fair. This time it is the solid vote of the people in their highest court of authority (a properly-called Parish Meeting) that has utterly condemned the methods of their would-be masters—the Parish Meeting summoned for the express object of voicing the indignation of the ratepayers, whose money to the extent of £400 is now sunk in a scheme to abolish the people's old Charter Fair.

Now the People Know.

Let us get away from all the plausibilities and the casuistical niceties of the endeavour to prove that black is white, or that both together make no colour at all. He would be a clever lawyer, indeed, who could convince the average man that £950 actually paid in exchange for a given article (in this instance the "Fair Franchise") can be said to be not used for that purpose, but to obtain another object—confessedly a much less expensive one—the so-called improvement of a small portion of the people's common.

Now the people of Mitcham know exactly where they are and what financial interest they have in the movement to abolish their old-time fair and holidays. The significance of the Parish Meeting lies in the fact that now that the ratepayers know where their £400 has gone they emphatically disapprove of the vote of their representatives in 1905.

The Parish Meeting.

The Vestry Hall at Mitcham was crowded to its utmost capacity on Friday, Nov. 13. Among those present were Messrs. C. H. Dant (in the chair), T. W. Aldwinckle, G. J. Dale, W. M. Bland, F. L. Baker, T. L. Davey, W. H. Parslow, E. J. Mizen, J. M Leather, J. D. Drewett, Dr. de Caux, the Rev. T. Horne (chaplain), and Messrs. F. H. Pedgrift, of The Era, Alfred Ball, J. Manders, and Swales Forrest, representing the Showmen's Guild.

The Chairman (Councillor C. H. Dant) called upon the clerk to the Council to read the minutes of the previous meeting. After these were approved the clerk read the legal notice convening the meeting.

Councillor Dant indicated the serious nature of the two specific resolutions before them, and clearly indicated that both matters should be, as far as he was able to apportion the time, fully and fairly dealt with.

The first resolution concerning work for the unemployed of Mitcham was moved in a masterly speech by Councillor F. L. Baker, was duly seconded, and carried with acclamation. The second resolution (the one that concerns our readers particularly) was moved by Councillor W. M. Bland, a gentleman who has won the enthusiastic admiration of the working people of Mitcham for his fearless advocacy of their right to know how their money is spent, and also, with that right, some voice in the matter as to the objects upon which public money shall be spent. In the pursuit of this most laudable object he faced his constituents and the whole body of ratepayers at the Parish Meeting, and called attention to the resolution passed by the Mitcham Parish Council on Oct. 13, 1905, which was as follows:—

"That the sum of Four Hundred Pounds (£400) be contributed by the Council towards the expenses of the Mitcham Common Conservators, in view of that body acquiring the rights of the fair held annually on the Upper Mitcham Green, the acquirement of such right enabling the Conservators to improve the aspect of such Green."

He moved:—

"That the President of the Local Government Board be earnestly requested to hold an enquiry into the legality of the Council's action in thus voting £400 of the ratepayers' money and into the circumstances surrounding the whole transaction."

In the course of an exhaustive review of the history of the grant of £400 by the Parish Council, he quoted extracts from the minute book of the Council, from letters sent in acknowledgment of the grant by the late chairman of the Board of Conservators, and also from the newspaper reports of their Council meetings, and other transactions. The sum total of these researches, he said, went to prove his position, the position denied by his opponents, that £400 of the ratepayers' money was voted to the Conservators in order that Mitcham Fair should be abolished. (Shame.)

Some of Mr. Councillor Bland's statements were challenged by members of the Council on the platform and in the hall, the objectors wanting to prove that the money was voted not to abolish the fair, but to improve the Fair Green. Mr. Bland quoted from the official acknowledgment sent to the clerk of the late chairman of the Board of Conservators ample proof that the £400 and other moneys subscribed were actually accepted by him and used by him for that very purpose, to purchase the fair rights, and, amidst great applause, obtained from the clerk the opinion that the Parish Council had no power to vote money to purchase fair rights. In concluding his speech he drove home again his principal point. "We have," he said, "the word of the clerk to the Council that the Council could not vote money to buy up fair rights." That opinion of their clerk only made the matter a greater mystery than ever. But they knew that the money was voted, and he could say what for, because he held in his hand a receipt for the money—(applause)—and anyone could see it. It was headed "Mitcham Fair Franchise," and was from the late Mr. Foss. It stated: "I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter received on the 11th inst., and on behalf of my colleagues and myself I have pleasure in tendering thanks to the Parish Council of Mitcham for the liberal contribution they have offered. I sincerely trust that this contribution, with others we have in view, will be the means of effectually stopping the holding of the fair at Mitcham." There they had it plain enough, and he confidently moved his resolution. He ridiculed the idea that the money was voted to improve the Fair Green. (Cheers.)

Dr. de Caux seconded, and praised Mr. Bland for the enthusiastic manner in which he had kept the matter before the public, although he had received much abuse. He noticed that the Councillors who voted the £400 did not attend that night. He quoted from the 1905 issues of the Mitcham Herald to show that the Conservators asked the Council to support them financially in their effort to purchase the fair franchise, and the money was voted for that purpose. He contended that the ratepayers had been robbed, and that their consent had never been obtained for it. He quoted the Mitcham Herald of a later date to show that, although it had been denied at the Parish Council meeting, the Rural District Council contributed £100 towards the purchase of the fair rights. He had not the faintest idea where the £400 was, and he did not think the Conservators had.

Councillor Aldwinckle said he was not a member of the Council which voted the £400. (A Voice: "Then you sit down." Loud laughter.) He had investigated the matter, and he was convinced, after looking at the minutes, that the matter was quite regular. He asked them to pause before they voted for the resolution, because if they did not they would make themselves ridiculous in the eyes of the Local Government Board. (Disorder.) The accounts of the Parish Council had been passed by the Local Government Board auditor, and they were asking that authority to inquire into the action of their own officials. (This remark was greeted with great disorder and cries of "West Ham.") When he was again able to make himself heard Mr. Aldwinckle said that in a few weeks the rights of the Fair would belong to the Conservators; they never had belonged to the people of Mitcham. ("Rot" and disorder.) The money went to improve the aspect of the Green. The Fair rights cost £950, and a total of £1,250 was to be spent, £300 of which was to go in making the Green into a recreation ground.

Councillor Dale said, as one of the old Councillors, he was not afraid to attend, and although he voted the money, he supported the resolution because he welcomed the inquiry. He was sick of hearing about it, because he told them emphatically that the money was not voted to the purchase of the Fair rights, but for the improvement of the Green. (Dissent and interruption.)

Councillor De Caux quoted the Herald to show that Mr. Dale was reported as saying that, as one who knew something about the Fair, he was overjoyed that something was to be done to stop it. (Loud laughter and booing.)

Councillor Dale said he did not care a snap of the finger for newspaper reports. He strongly supported the resolution. He did not care a jot whether they returned him or not at the next election. He considered that an entirely wrong construction had been put on the resolution.

Councillor Baker, in supporting Mr. Bland's resolution, warned the ratepayers of the serious nature of the matter before them. It was the constitutional aspect that most interested him. He boldly asserted that the democratic principle in local government was at stake. Were the people to rule in parish matters, or were some interested groups of residents to govern the whole mass of the people? That was the real question. (Cheers.) He had strenuously opposed the abolition of the Fair, because the people wanted their Fair to remain. This scheme to purchase the Fair Rights and to extinguish the Fair under the pretence that it was to improve the old Fair Green, was, in his opinion, a scheme to get behind the people, and to abolish the Fair in spite of them. It was the scheme of the minority to use the money of the majority to do things that the majority did not want. (Cheers) As one of the people, he wanted the Fair. Yet his money and their money had been given "to do away" with it without their consent. Now was their proper opportunity as ratepayers to seek to right the wrong, and to teach their would-be masters that the will of the people must prevail. (Great applause.)

The Chairman as a Ratepayer Protests.

Councillor Dant, in a well-reasoned short speech, claimed to exercise his right as a ratepayer to speak in support of the resolution. He was a ratepayer at the time when the money was voted, money spent in securing a property that their own clerk informed them their Council possessed no powers to spend money upon. Surely, he insisted, that was a fit matter for a Local Government Board inquiry. (Cheers.)

He asked them to dismiss from their minds any anticipations of revelations like those at West Ham and other places. He was absolutely certain that no one handled the money for his own benefit. He should vote for the resolution because he strongly held the opinion that the payment was an illegal one. He had gone thoroughly into the matter, and, amongst other things, there was the fact that Councillor Leather at the actual time did not vote for the grant of £400, because he felt it was an illegal payment. They had a perfect right, in these circumstances, to go to the Local Government Board, and ask for the whole matter to be investigated. (Cheers.) He was quite certain, despite all that Councillor Aldwinckle had told them, that they would not appear ridiculous; but that all right-thinking men would agree that they were well within their rights in the action they were taking. (Great applause).

The motion was then submitted and carried, amidst cheers again and again renewed, only two persons voting against it.

The chairman was accorded a hearty vote of thanks, and the proceedings terminated.

Death of a Well-known Midland Showman.

We regret to record the death of Mr. J. Wright, the well-known Midland and Yorkshire caterer of fairground amusements. He was buried at Warston-road Cemetery, Birmingham. A great number of Yorkshire showpeople attended the funeral, which was marked by many expressions of public sympathy and esteem. We tender our sincere condolences to the family thus bereaved. Mr. Wright's chief enterprises were roundabouts, swings, shooting galleries, and throwing games.

Doncaster Hirings.

The shows and concerns of this fair included Tuby and Sons' (the local caterers) superb cinematograph theatre, their grand set of motor cars, their four-abreast galloping horses, and range of park swings; Farrer and Tyler's grand electric coliseum (the No. 1 concern); the Westwood family and Colonial giant children; and Ling's fine art gallery; the other entertainers providing swings, shooters, throwing games, and varieties were Messrs. Pullen, Rutter, Fossett, Lever, Illingworth, Walser, Norman, Appleton, Smith, and Lewis.

"LADY LETMERE'S JEWELLERY."

A REMARKABLE GAUMONT FILM.

This week we have the opportunity of dealing with what we must necessarily describe as one of the most important film subjects which has ever been placed on the market up to the present date. Many far-seeing business men in the cinematograph trade have said that the time must come when the authors and owners of copyrights, which have been so frequently plundered for cinematograph stories, would find out for themselves that there was a fruitful source of profit in this industry.

The Gaumont Company, with their characteristic enterprise, have been the first to carry this idea to fruition by co-operating with Mr. Geo. R. Sims in the production of a high-class series of authorised cinematograph films.

Before we proceed with the description of the picture itself, we would draw attention to the very important business aspect of this new departure. Messrs. Gaumont have been more than once the pioneers of new improvements and new methods of business which the trade generally has had the advantage of during the last few years, and we cannot help seeing that here again is a case in which they are, to use a common expression, "showing the way."

Among the original features of the film are the following:—

Actors and actresses of note have been employed throughout, and before the commencement of the picture we are introduced to the leading characters, as a special portrait study, in which their names, together with the parts they play, are stated. The picture closes with a portrait of the author, Mr. Geo. R. Sims, and in this way the Gaumont Co. for the first time produce in a film subject an entire play, in which the audience actually made the acquaintance of the author's presence and personality, as well as that of the actors and actresses.

We are given to understand that, owing to the special nature of this important film, and the conditions imposed by Mr. Sims, the Gaumont Co. are unable to offer it for sale in the ordinary way, and it will be necessary to keep it for hire purposes only. The length of the subject is 1,105 feet, and we can state that we have never sat through a quarter of an hour of such a thoroughly interesting and delightful cinematograph display. Certainly if our leading authors are going to assist and co-operate with our best manufacturers in producing film subjects of this nature, a new vista opens out for the cinematograph never previously contemplated, and one which leaves us gasping at its possibilities and potentialities

Lady Letmere's Jewellery is a highly interesting and ingenious story written by Mr. Geo. R. Sims. The plot is highly original, and one which will hold the audience throughout. It shows how a well-known society beauty, Lady Letmere, in a moment of temptation, robs her hostess, the Countess Ravenhurst, of her beautiful pearl necklace. In what we may term the following chapter we are introduced to Spence Gray, the solicitor of Lord Letmere, into whose dealings a strong light is thrown by the fact that no sooner has his distinguished client, Lord Letmere, left him, than an unfortunate widow comes upon the scene begging for the return of her trust funds, which Spence Gray has speculated with and lost.

In the next scene we return again to Lady Letmere's boudoir, where we see her ladyship returning after an evening at the theatre with her husband, and, after her jewels are removed by her maid, retiring for the night. An instant later, the maid, who has been in collusion with burglars gives the signal, the house is entered, and the jewels stolen, not, however, before Lady Letmere gets the alarm. She returns to find the jewels missing, calls her husband, who immediately seizes a gun and rushes out on to the lawn of his fine old country mansion, where we see him fire at the burglars, one of them being wounded.

They are seen to make good their escape, and Lord Letmere returns to his wife's boudoir with the intention of immediately telephoning to the police. Lady Letmere, however, restrains him with the dramatic words, "The police must never know. I stole Countess Ravenhurst's necklace, and it is amongst the jewels which the burglars have taken. My honour is at stake." By sub-titles and other devices the story is made absolutely clear throughout the whole film, and the anguish of mind both of Lord and Lady Letmere is vividly portrayed. The agony of Lady Letmere in having to make such a confession, and the horror of her husband on hearing such an astounding avowal of dishonesty, are as keenly felt by the audience as though the actors and actresses were before them on the stage.

Meanwhile we follow the picture and see the burglars continuing their escape. One of them being wounded and also being in great fear of further pursuit, they decide to bury the treasure in the wood, an act which we see them carry out. By the coincidence of fate, Spence Gray, the defaulting solicitor, rendered desperate by his rash speculations, has decided to take his life After writing a hurried note, which is thrown upon the screen, informing us that he sees no way of repaying the widow her money which he has lost, he leaves his office, revolver in hand, and turns into a lonely wood, where, sinking upon his knees, he is about to blow out his brains. At the crucial moment, he hears the sound of approaching footsteps, and hastily secreting himself behind a bush, is just in time to witness the scene of the two burglars hiding their haul in the shape of Lady Letmere's jewellery, which includes the celebrated necklace. No sooner have the burglars made their escape than Spence Gray rushes upon the scene, and brings the jewels to light. He abandons immediately all idea of suicide, for it is obvious that the jewels are worth many thousands of pounds. He returns to his office, and there meditates on the best way of realising the fortune which has come into his hands and making restitution to the widow. While thus engaged, Lord Letmere, whose first thought after the previous scene has been to consult his solicitor and get the best advice possible as to how he should act under the painful circumstances of his own heavy loss, and the still more agonising discovery of his wife's dishonesty, comes in. Spence Gray receives him cordially, listens to the whole story with a great show of distress, and finally undertakes to obtain the jewels and return them to Lord Letmere within a short period. The conditions are: No questions to be asked, and a reward of £10,000 is to be paid, the jewels to be delivered into Lord Letmere's hands within three days. His lordship imagines that the solicitor will make use of private sources of information or employ private detectives to recover the jewels. He little dreams that the jewels are at the very moment reposing in the drawer of the lawyer's desk, within a few inches of his own hands.

The rest of the story is soon told. At the appointed time, Spence Gray arrives at Lord Letmere's house and returns the jewels, receiving a cheque for £10,000, the reward in question. Lord Letmere immediately insists that his wife shall make restitution of the stolen necklace to the Countess Ravenhurst, and we see this latter article come into the hands of the Countess with an anonymous note praying for forgiveness from a penitent sinner.

Lady Letmere receives a brief sermon from his lordship on the evils of covetousness, and she shows that her narrow escape from publicity has taught her a lesson.

We see Spence Gray hurriedly depart in a cab to cash Lord Letmere's cheque, and equally hurriedly arrive in the "nick of time"—just as the brokers are removing the unfortunate widow's last belongings—to save the situation. The picture finishes up with the satisfaction of seeing Spence Gray hand the £10,000 in Bank of England notes to the widow. Thus all wrongs are righted, and the story, which is of unusual interest, finishes with the satisfactory feeling of everything having been put right, except, perhaps, for Lord Letmere, who has had to pay £10,000 for his wife's folly.

It is hardly necessary to state that the fullest precautions for protecting the copyrights, both dramatic and photographic, of this film have been taken, and it is the full intention both of the author and the publishers to take every care to prevent infringements at all costs.

Stockton November Hirings.

The leading amusements at this fair are provided by Messrs. William Murphy, Relph and Pedley, Paine, Harry Carris, Arthur Newsome, J. Robinson, Baker, and others.

Stories of Showman Life.

Owing to the great pressure upon his time by the necessity of the Parliamentary work, the Rev. T. Horne, chaplain and organiser of the Showmen's Guild, has been unable to finish his promised book of "Short Stories" earlier. We are glad to be able to announce that the matter is now in the printer's hands, and that the first edition of the book will be out in a few days. It will be published at The Era offices, and will be issued at the popular price of sixpence. This first selection of "Short Stories" contains twenty-one of Mr. Horne's much appreciated sketches of show life.

Lord Mayor's Rival Show.

There were very animated scenes in West London on Monday last, a cavalcade consisting of a huge herd of elephants—one of which greatly exceeded the size of the now defunct "Jumbo," the elephantine wonder of his period—and a herd of camels, while native attendants, in their quaint costumes, were mounted on the backs of the elephants and camels, accompanied by others, walking, in charge, and followed by a great number of huge pantechnicons of special jungle scenery and effects, and other specimens of the animal kingdom brought up the rear of a most interesting procession. Its destination was Islington, and it formed the first portion of a new feature which will be seen in the coming World's Fair, opening at the Royal Agricultural Hall, Islington, for its thirtieth consecutive year. Mr. T. E. Read, the lessee, has arranged for large premises wherein this vast collection will take up their quarters pro tem., till Thursday, Dec. 24, when the World's Fair will open on the largest and most up-to-date scale ever seen.

FILM GOSSIP.

Showmen and Managers throughout the United Kingdom, and in every English-speaking country, will find in this column particulars of some of the best and newest Films in the Market. Many of these Films we have seen ourselves, and can confidently recommend showmen to add them to their list of attractions.

Pathé Frères.

THE BRIGADIER'S STRIPES.—Drama and comedy are intermixed in this film in a most interesting manner. Gendarme Cope wishes ardently to see in the near future the stripes of a brigadier on his sleeve. Meanwhile he lives happily with his two children and his wife, Gertie. The latter has just given a beggar in the street a meat sandwich, which the poor man is thinking of enjoying squatting down in a field, but a tramp, who happens to be a dangerous character, deprives the old man of his piece of bread, which he commences eating with all the signs of ravenous hunger. The gendarmes and Cope have been warned of this, and they go in search of the thief, whom they discover between two stacks of hay. Before surrendering, the villain wounds Cope with a scythe, but as he is marched off Gertie recognises him as the man who has been the despicable hero of an adventure the secret of which the poor woman keeps locked in her breast. That man had made love to her long ago, and after laughing at her, had left her. This is the first time she has met him face to face since, and in spite of the righteous anger which his presence calls forth she has pity on him, and goes stealthily to his cell to give him a file wherewith he will be able to escape. What Gertie has not foreseen is that her husband recognises the tool as his own, and looks at it with great foreboding. One look at his downcast wife throws on the enigma a very vivid light. Gertie at last tells the whole story and she shows to Gendarme Cope the letter in which the scoundrel explained that he had to go away. Little John, frightened by his father's attitude, throws himself on his knees, like his distracted mother, and begs for her forgiveness. But, as the whole thing happened before they were married, and Gertie has been a good and faithful wife, Gendarme Cope, after a terrible struggle with himself, folds his wife and son in his arms, in a touching impulse of pity and kindness. Presently, several gendarmes arrive, and announce to Cope that, for his gallant conduct while arresting the dangerous tramp who has wounded him so severely, he has been promoted to the post of brigadier, and the long-coveted stripes are now his. This piece, enacted by excellent artists, Arquillière, of the Vaudeville Theatre, specially, is excellently arranged, very simple, and easily understood. It surely marks one more step towards artistic cinematography. Its well-defined characters, skilfully placed in their picturesque surroundings, recall to the mind some of Richepin's or Maupassant's beautiful sketches of the humble.

THE MARTYRDOM OF LOUIS XVII.—Messrs. Pathé have produced in this an interesting historical film. The first pictures have been taken at Versailles and represent in the pretty scenery of Trianon the Royal Family enjoying a happy security. What a strange contrast it is to the sombre days of the Revolution which is so close at hand!—the people in revolt against the Government, on the point of assaulting the Palace of Versailles and clamouring for the head of the King—the Royal Family conveyed to the Feuillants—the gruesome vision through the iron bars of the Temple of the head of young and unfortunate Princess of Lamballe—the touching parting of Queen Marie-Antoinette from her son, and at last, in the house of Simon the cobbler, the martyrdom of the innocent child who dies in one of the dungeons of the Temple, a victim to consumption, and in his mind the horrible vision of the scaffold.

VENICE IN A GONDOLA.—Here we are treated to a series of scenes, including the famous marble palaces along the Grand Canal, the Casa d'Oro, one of the most magnificent palaces of the Grand Canal, the Rialto Bridge, the end of the Grand Canal, the Madonna della salute, the Royal Palace, the Piazzetta and its two columns, the Palace of the Doges, and the prisons.

AN UNWILLING SERVANT.—Thus is the story told. The two lovers are disturbed by the unexpected arrival of the husband. What will they do? She has a brilliant idea; she dresses up her lover as a servant, and introduces him to her husband as such. Having found that Arthur is likely to prove a good servant, Mr. Hubby tells him to make ready to accompany him at once to Birmingham, where he has to go on business. The unwilling servant is obliged to comply, although he is enraged at the idea, and he wires to his wife: "Obliged to go to Birmingham; important business. Taking first train down." "There is something fishy about this," says Mrs. Arthur, and without delay she drives to the station, where she finds her husband disguised as a servant. But her amazement is greater still when she understands that he does not want to relinquish his new job. Well, Mrs. Arthur will get at the bottom of all this, and in so doing she boards the same train as her husband, and sits down in a first-class carriage with the master, after giving the servant a most ironical little laugh. Arthur is in a rage in his third-class carriage, in which his duties as a servant oblige him to travel. But this is nothing compared to his feelings when at the hotel he has to serve his wife and new master at table, while Mrs. Arthur seems to be amusing herself immensely. This is too much for him; he writes a few words on a scrap of paper: "Crime discovered. Let us flee," and takes it to the police-station, stating that he has found it in his master's pocket. Mr. Hubby is so bewildered at first that he lets the police arrest him, while Mr. Arthur takes his wife away and explains to her that he has been playing the part of a detective all along. The last picture shows the two couples reconciled and happy.

THE FISHERMAN'S HATE.—On account of his love for a girl, a fisherman tries to get rid of the man she has chosen as her future husband. In the long silence of the night, while out on the sea fishing, he perpetrates his crime by pushing his rival overboard, having as sole witness of his black deed the mighty ocean. So he thinks, but he is mistaken, for the young woman is at that moment sweeping the sea with her powerful glasses. She follows anxiously every phase of the drama, and then, as she sees that her lover is going under, she throws herself into the water, and swims vigorously to his rescue. The one helping the other, they both reach the coast at last, and in the meantime the would-be murderer spreads the news of the accidental death of his rival, but suddenly there appears before him the very man he was so eager to rid himself of, who is ready to make it even with him now.

A MYSTERIOUS THIEF.—A thief, by means of a hitherto unknown process, reduces his body into an effigy, which, according to circumstances, passes through the chinks in the doors, or rolls itself up into a tiny ball of paper. Having entered a bank in this way, the strange person pays his respects to the safe, and, thanks to magnetic passes, he succeeds in taking away with him the whole contents of same. Two policemen are sent after the bold burglar. The chase which ensues is most thrilling and exciting, but the invisible man makes his pursuers aware of his presence each time he takes it into his head to give them a thrashing. After a long struggle the two policemen wake up at the police-station. They have just both had the same dream, in which, fighting in a hand to hand struggle, they thought they had caught the daring house-breaker at last. Messrs. Pathé may be congratulated on a clever trick film.

Mr. Alfred Moul has secured from Messrs. Pathé Frères the exclusive London rights for the Alhambra of a series of novel and interesting moving pictures. Each of the series will be a complete drama, comedy, or opera—acted by such eminent artists as Sarah Bernhardt, Réjane, Coquelin, Le Bargy, Lambert, and Severin, to mention only a few who have given their services. The records by the cinematograph of the work of these great players are most vivid and lifelike, and a private exhibition at the Alhambra took place yesterday afternoon.

Gaumont Company.

LADY LETTMER'S NECKLACE, an interesting production by the Gaumont Company, is fully dealt with in another column.

Edison Manufacturing Co., Ltd.

THE ARMY OF TWO is the title of an historical film dealing with an incident in the American Revolution. During a wave of patriotism the old lighthouse-keeper teaches the girls to play fife and drum and to shoot straight, little knowing that it would ever be necessary to put their knowledge to use. Five years after, whilst walking along the cliffs, the enemy put in an appearance, and watching a landing party, the girls find the lighthouse defenceless, so prepare for attack. Attempting to scale the cliff, the opposing party are repulsed. Planting the "Stars and Stripes" the girls play "Yankee Doodle" on fife and drum, and after further attack the enemy retire. An officer, however, gains the top of the cliff, but is wounded and then taken prisoner. He is nursed by one of the girls, and falls in love with her. His offers of marriage, however, are refused until he swears allegiance to the enemy's flag, which he does, and so all are happy.

A FOOTBALL WARRIOR.—Our picture tells the story of Strongheart, an all-round good fellow, son of an Indian chief, student in an Eastern College, who becomes the idol of the football team. Whilst going through a course of preparation for the game, a horse runs away with its rider—who is the belle of the college—and our hero displays his courage by rescuing the girl from the dangerous position. The admiration she shows and the gratitude she expresses to our hero causes an intense rivalry between her lover and Strongheart. During the progress of the great game of the year with another college, Strongheart is forced to retire owing to a treacherous blow from his rival. Carried to the training quarters he is nursed by the heroine, who keeps him informed of the progress of the game as she stands at the window. The game is going against the home team, so with one great effort Strongheart rushes on to the field and scores a point, and thus saves the game. Carried once more to the training quarters, the doctor finds a knife thrust under his arm. Strongheart refuses to give information as to the culprit, but—with Indian stoicism—bides his time, and at the supreme moment, when facing his rival for the woman he loves, he gains a victory.

Nordisk Films Company.

THE FALSE SUPERINTENDENT.—One fine morning Mayor Juel gets a telegram saying that his superintendent is coming the same day on inspection. He gives instructions to have everything ready, so that he can invite the superintendent for dinner, but as he needs a servant, the jailer proposes to set Willy free, the only prisoner in jail, and let him act as a servant. The Mayor finds this to be a good idea; Willy is washed, dressed in evening clothes, and instructed as to his duties as servant. Unfortunately a very important telegram calls the Mayor away from the house, and Willy remains alone in the room. The superintendent arrives, Willy takes his card and his overclothing, and then leads him to the jail, which he himself lately was occupying. Then he locks the door on the surprised gentlemen and hurries back to the entry. There he dons the superintendent's clothes, takes his visiting card and introduces himself as superintendent to the lady of the house, who had never before seen her husband's superior officer. Willy now dines with the invited guests, and some very comical acts are played, and the amusement culminates as the false superintendent falls under the table very much the worse for liquor. Fortunately the Mayor comes home and clears up the mistake. The real superintendent is released, and is noble enough to take his adventure from a comical point of view.

THE TWO VIOLINS.—Sandro and Filippo are scholars of the famous old violin maker, Thadeo. Each of them is making a violin, and when that is finished they have served their apprenticeship. The violins are to be judged by the Town Council of Cremona, in the presence of the citizens of the town, and he who has made the best violin is honoured with a golden chain, and is hailed all over the town as master. Old Thadeo has promised to give his daughter Giannia to the winner of the prize. This promise is the best stimulus to the two scholars, as they are both in love with the beautiful Giannia. Filippo is the more talented of the two; his soul is noble and beautiful, but his body is sickly and deformed. Sandro's artistic merits are much less, but he is stately and good-looking. Only for one short, happy moment the poor misshapen Filippo believes that Giannia returns his feelings towards her, but as soon as he has confessed his great love to her, he understands at once that she does not love him, but was only admiring his art, and pitying his poor, misshapen body. She also tells him that she loves Sandro, and Filippo's sorrow is beyond description. He soon, however, pulls himself together. He knows his violin to be the better of the two, and in order to make Giannia happy, he changes the violins on the evening before the contest, so that Sandro would be playing Filippo's instrument, and thus be enabled to win the prize as well as the bride. But, unfortunately, Sandro himself spoils Filippo's generous doings. Without knowing that the instruments were changed already, he sneaks in during the night in order to acquire Filippo's work and take advantage of his skill, but he now only obtains his own violin back again. The day for the contest arrives. Sandro is standing in front of the judges, and is now going to play the violin, which he believes to be Filippo's. But now it dawns upon him how villainously he has behaved, and he confesses his crime; but when Filippo declares that he has done the same, though out of other motives, the contest goes on with the expected result that Filippo gains the prize. On their return to the house Thadeo fulfils his promise to give his daughter's hand to Filippo. But Filippo takes the golden chain, hangs it round Sandro's neck and says: "I give you the victory and the love. My love is now my violin."

Now ready. Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906. Effect on theatres and music halls. By Albert A. Strong, LL.B., solicitor. Price 6d. Published at The Era Offices, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

Visit of the King and Queen of Sweden.

A fine portrayal of the Royal journey to the Guildh all has been obtained by our operators, who were stationed at Oxford Circus and Guildhall.

A unique motion picture secured from the best possible positions.

ORDER AT ONCE.

Our Indian Empire.

Owing to the great success that attended our first series of this production we have now prepared a

SECOND SERIES.

Beautiful Photographic quality, and full of interesting views of travels and of the great cities of this vast section of our great Empire.

Write now for particulars. Enquiries dealt with in rotation.

NOW READY.

Telegrams—Chronophone, London. Telephone—2430 Gerrard.

THE GAUMONT FILM HIRING SERVICE,

The Cinematograph Specialists,

CHRONO HOUSE, 5 & 6, SHERWOOD STREET, and 18, DENMAN STREET, PICCADILLY CIRCUS, LONDON, W.

Tel.: Bioscope, Glasgow. Glasgow Office—142, TRONGATE. Phone: 787 Tron.

AND AT

PARIS, BERLIN, BARCELONA, BRUSSELS, MILAN, MOSCOW, & NEW YORK.

KINEMATOGRAPH REGULATIONS

RESPECTING THE USE OF THE

KINEMATOGRAPH

IN

THEATRES & HALLS,

ALSO THE

REGULATIONS

RESPECTING THE USE OF

LIMELIGHT

CAN BE HAD,

Price ONE PENNY (by post 1½d.)

FROM

"THE ERA" OFFICES,

5, TAVISTOOK-STREET, W.C.

Telephones No. 4747 and 1433 Central.

Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London.

All those who handle the Cinematograph or Limelight should possess a copy of these Regulations.

KINEMATOGRAPH COPYRIGHT.

THE LAW AFFECTING THE SAME.

BY

WILLIAM JAGO, F.I.C., F.C.S.,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW,

Price SIXPENCE.

Address, THE PUBLISHER.

"THE ERA" OFFICES,

5, TAVISTOOK-ST., LONDON, W.C.

Telephones: Nos. 4747 and 1433 Central.

Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the PUBLISHER, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

EDISON FILMS

NOW READY FOR SHIPMENT FROM THE FACTORY, ORANGE, N.J., U.S.A.

THE ARMY OF TWO.

An Incident of the American Revolution, showing how an attacking force was repulsed, on the Connecticut shore, by two sisters. As girls they had been taught to play the fife and drum, as well as use firearms, which enabled them at a critical time to serve their country well. The attacking commander is wounded and taken prisoner. Being nursed by one of the girls he falls in love, but can only win her by joining her country's forces, which he does.

No. 6339. Code, "Vendicanza." Length, 975ft.

A FOOTBALL WARRIOR.

"Peace hath her victories no less renown'd than war," and the victories of peace call for heroism as great as that of war. Our picture tells the story of "Strongheart," an Indian college student, who is the idol of the football team. Being a rival with a fellow member of the team for a girl's affections, two attempts are made on his life, but they fail, and finally "Strongheart" wins both his life and the girl he loves.

No. 6390. Code, "Vendicar." Approximate Length, 900ft.

LATEST SUBJECTS.

No. 6381 TEN PICKANINNIES.
No. 6382 SANDY McPHERSON'S QUIET FISHING TRIP.
No. 6383 THE LOVER'S GUIDE.
No. 6384 A VOICE FROM THE DEAD.
No. 6385 THE BRIDGE OF SIGHS.
No. 6386 EX-CONVICT NO. 900.
No. 6387 MINSTREL MISHAPS.
No. 6388 A FOOL FOR LUCK.

EDISON KINETOSCOPES.

UNDERWRITER'S MODEL Latest Type B (One Pin Movement), price £47 5s.

(WILL IMPROVE YOUR EXHIBITION 50 PER CENT).

Improved Take-up, Rheostat, Automatic Shutter, Revolving Shutter, Arc Lamp, Adjustable Stand, Metal Cabinet, Film Guard, Film Protector, Motion Picture Lens, Metal Slide Carrier, Film Rewinder, Steel Faced Fibre Gears, Star Wheel, Cam, Cam Pin, Shaft, &c.

EDISON IMPROVED EXHIBITION MODEL (One Pin Movement), price £32 11s.

EDISON UNIVERSAL MODEL, price £15 15s.

EDISON MANUFACTURING CO., Ltd.,

Edison Works, 200, Victoria Rd., Willesden, London, N.W.

LONDON VARIETY THEATRES.

THE METROPOLITAN.

Much romance attaches to the career of Auguste Van Biene, the actor-musician, who is presenting, with extraordinary success, his pathetic playlet, The Master Musician, to crowded houses at the Metropolitan. Forty years ago a penniless youth, with scarcely any knowledge of our language, Van Biene came from Holland, and set foot in London, the Mecca of the artist. He brought his beloved 'cello and an academic reputation, but, unknown and friendless, he could not get an engagement. By a lucky chance, when playing in the street for bread, he had as listener Sir Michael Costa, the composer and musical director of Covent Garden, who recognised at once the ability of the "poor player," and becoming interested, placed him in Covent Garden orchestra. The chief character in the above-named piece deals with a poor old maestro, Heinrich Klein, who earns a bare subsistence by his talents as a composer and 'cellist. His staunchest friend is the little lodging-house slavey, who shares her breakfast and appropriates coal and wood belonging to the old cat of a landlady, in order that the poor old man should have some warmth. He can only reward this devotion by playing to her the melodies that he hopes to publish when brighter days shall dawn. His rescue from poverty is accomplished by a rich young lady pupil, who turns out to be his niece. He will spend the remainder of his days in comfort, but the little slavey will not be left behind, but will commence a brighter existence away from the sordid surroundings of the lodging-house. Mr. Van Biene plays a solo of his own composition with great expression and a rare facility of technique, and hushes the house to silence when he renders the simple phrases of "Home, sweet home." The success of the sketch is quite remarkable

Early in the evening Miss Lilian Elfreda shows her talent for mimicry by giving counterfeit presentments of Marie Kendal, Marie Lloyd, Kate Carney, and other lady variety stars; Miss Esme Gordon has the house entirely with her when she warbles of "Mary"; and another heroine, "Sue," is the theme of a coon love song, given by that bright, sweet-voiced, and agile artist Mr. G. H. Elliott, who is acclaimed with the enthusiasm that is only accorded to the greatest favourites. The "chocolate-coloured coon," as Mr. Elliott styles himself, has been extremely fortunate in reaching at an early age the top rung of the ladder, and instances are very rare of so youthful an artist having, as it were, music hall audiences at his feet.

The Romps are a troupe of talented girls in their teens, who in their burlesque of opera give snatches of Carmen, La Tosca, and La Bohème. They possess good voices, but some of the "harmonising" effects might be improved. One of them is heard to advantage in that popular ballad of the halls, "Love me, and the world is mine," and the turn has a swing and go about it that are irresistible. Mr. Ian Colquhoun is by no means well suited with his latest song, and Mr Bert Errol, the latest female impersonator, announces that he will give a "slight idea" of Miss Ruth Vincent singing "Little Princess, look up," from Amasis. In the circumstances our sympathies are with the charming lady mentioned, whose singing of the melody was one of the chief successes of the Fenn-Faraday musical play. Mr. Errol has a talent for burlesque, nevertheless, and his appearance is so deceptive that he exhibits his trousers amid the laughter of the gallery. Mr. Allis and Miss Cassati are responsible for a lively quart d'heure; and Miss Millie Hylton, looking superb in a lovely confection of grey, sings of the "Nell Brinkley Girl," who has ousted the "Gibson Girl" from her pride of place.

The Houseboat is a lively concoction, which forms a vehicle for the antics and practical fun of John Leopold and his clever company of comedians. The name of Leopold is always a guarantee for excellent humour, and audiences at the Met. have any amount of excuses for mirth during the progress of events on "the houseboat." Jack Lorrimer, the versatile Scottish entertainer, justifies that title; and interesting films are shown by Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope. We were sorry to hear from Mr. Leslie Gooch, the courteous acting-manager here, of the severe indisposition of the popular manager, Mr. Jack Edgar.

THE SOUTH LONDON.

Old favourites are to be found in the programme with which Mr. William Payne is entertaining the usual large audiences at the South London. One of the most welcome appears in the farcical absurdity The Schoolmaster's Mistake, an adaptation to the requirements of the variety theatre of a comedy which has enjoyed many years of continued popularity. The little piece forms the medium for the advent of yet another theatrical notability to the music-hall stage in Mr. John Beauchamp, who, as the schoolmaster of the title, repeats an impersonation of which he was the creator. His acting, as the strict yet kindly Dr. Sampson, is as genial and amusing as of yore, and the artistic skill and elocution of the actor are justly admired. Mr. Bunker, the "new boy," has a quaintly amusing exponent in Mr. Willie Atom, whose small stature lends additional effect to the funny situations of which he is the central figure, and each of his lines is accompanied by a hearty laugh. Mr. Eric Lugg, the son of the well-known musical comedy actor, has a particularly good appearance, and proves himself a comedian of excellent promise as the bullying Blogg; and Mr. Murray Moore does sterling work as the ferocious French tutor. The anxieties and perturbation of Mrs. Bunker are cleverly suggested by Miss Gertrude Aylward, and Miss Mather plays prettily as the flirtatious Daisy. All the best and most humorous features of the original are preserved, and laughter is abundant during the representation.

Pleasant memories are also revived by The King's Counsel, a sketch which has furnished much entertainment to music-hall audiences. Sentiment and humour are nicely blended in the piece, in which the efforts of a lawyer to save a coster girl's lover from being convicted of murder are attractively told. Mr. Wm. Lee plays effectively throughout as the irascible but philanthropic K.C., and is ably assisted by a lady whose name does not appear in the bill. A hearty welcome is extended to Mr. Charles Bignell, a favourite of long-standing, who sings with all his customary vigour and effect. In his song the phrase "A bit too strong" is humorously applied to several topics, notably to that of a sausage, out of which an enterprising hen has succeeded in hatching a puppy dog. Miss Jessie Preston cuts a comely figure in the tartan plaid of a Highlander to sing of "Dear Loch Lomond," a ballad of an agreeably tuneful character. A travestie of a popular dancer is supplied in her skit on "Salome," in which the eccentricities of the comedienne are employed to much purpose and arouse unlimited mirth.

A new departure is made by Mr. Dan Thomas, whose pantomime dame has long been a familiar figure. He still wears feminine habiliments, but it is as "The Duchess of Seven Dials," a "fallen star," who sings of her former successes, and despite her age and infirmity is still able to execute a dance. Mr. Thomas also impersonates an Irish jaunting-car keeper who drives on in the vehicle peculiar to the Green Isle, and sings of Mollie Malone, who presently appears and joins the comedian in an exhilarating dance. Miss Eleanor Lorraine renders high-class ballads in a melodious and cultivated mezzo-soprano, and scores a complete triumph; Miss Kitty Upton is a refined singer of chorus songs; and Dale and O'Malley divert the house with their cross-talk. Mr. Martin Henderson, the blind musician, succeeds in playing Suppé's "Light Cavalry" on a concertina, and also manages to play a duet on that instrument in combination with the piano—one hand to each—a feat which wins him loud applause. The Five Whiteleys win warm eulogy for their marvellous acrobatic and tightrope performance; and Ruffell's Bioscope includes in its exhibit capital pictures of Yachting on the Solent.

ISLINGTON EMPIRE.

A well varied and bright programme is being presented at this popular hall, and business is accordingly very good. Fred Karno's company is appearing in the well-known creation The Mumming Birds, in which certain well-known types of music hall performers are amusingly burlesqued, the laughter being continuous, a result for which two members of the troupe, playing the rôles of a boy and a swell, are in no small degree responsible. Haig and Novel, in a refined comedy turn, do well, the gentleman being an expert tumbler and the lady a clever dancer. Bert Coote's Yankee Doodle Girls submit a bright turn, consisting of singing and dancing, and are well received.

W. T. Thompson and company in a comedietta, Watch the Chalk, gain a good reception, the show playing smartly. Harold Hughman, in imitations, proves himself to be particularly good, and gains a well-deserved call. Miss Ethel Beech, in a song and dance, does well Rapoli, the conjurer, scores as big a success as ever, his feats being amazing and very deftly performed. Needless to say, his reception was very complimentary. Madoline Rees displayed a good voice to advantage in a ballad, being much applauded. Tiny and Bentley, in comedy business make a good impression, the act meeting with great favour. The Brilliants, xylophonists, prove themselves to be skilful performers, a selection from the "Poet and Peasant" overture being rendered with good effect, the compliment of a call being accorded them.

J. F. Preston and company are at the bottom of the bill in Max Goldberg's racing episode A Ride to Win, which is admirably adapted for music hall audiences. The production is on an elaborate scale, comprising three scenes and three racehorses, the conclusion being reached with a realistic steeplechase at Sandown Park. Mr. Preston himself as the bookmaker is the backbone of the show, and acts with power and effect. He is capitally supported by the remaining members of the company, Mesdames Mabelle F. Barlow, Ethel Rainforth, and Messrs. W. H. Barlow, Horace Custin and F. C. Bailey. The sketch went with the greatest success, several curtains being accorded at the end. The Bioscope is good this week, and Mr. Petersen's capable orchestra contribute to the pleasure of the evening. Mr. B. Adams, the manager, is very courteous in front of the house.

SHOREDITCH OLYMPIA.

Excellent fare is being provided this week for the patrons of this elegant and well-conducted hall. Topmost on the bill is Mr. Will Evans, who appears in his merry concoctions with marked success. Entering in his usual boisterous manner, he squeezes every atom of fun out of his mirth-provoking song "A B C," and as the chorus of this is supposed to be the chief feature, he makes good and amusing use of his assistants. Later he appears with equal success as "The Villain of the Piece," and creates laughter at every turn. His efforts are much appreciated.

Ara, Zebra, and Vora show considerable skill in their performance "Indian Pastimes." Remarkable acrobatic feats are accomplished by all three, including the rather difficult task of turning somersaults whilst skipping. Their contribution is rewarded with the loud applause it deserves. Martin Conway, a quaint comedian, supplies an amusing rendering of his latest success; the Five Grebneiffs show remarkable ability as Continental dancers, most of their dances showing agility and grace of movement. Miss Cassie Walmer is a clever comedienne and dancer; her first song, "Always add a little to the little bit you've got," goes with a swing, and the chorus is quickly taken up by the audience. In her second number, of a coon type, she shows how various types of people, including an English girl, an American, a coster, a member of the upper classes, and a Jew would sing "Good-bye Ebenezer."

A Daughter of Pleasure, as enacted by Mr. J. G. Grahame and Miss Zerlina Harrington, is a fascinating and exciting playlet, of which we have already given the story. Mr. Grahame carefully enacts the part of the man easily cajoled by a fascinating woman, and Miss Harrington cleverly performs her task as the Parisienne. Mr. Chas. Carr, a rising young comedian, sings with taste "My Prairie Flower," and dances with ease and skill; the U.S.A. Boys give pleasure with their fine dancing, and Miss Irene Meldon renders admirable service with her song, "My little wild rose, I'm leaving you." In her second contribution, a song and dance, she deserves high praise for her neat steps Billy McClain and his happy blacks appear in a Southern scena with marked success; their capers amusing to a high degree, and their singing and dancing worthy of special mention.

The Family Name, as performed by Mr. Fred Eustace and company, is a decided acquisition to the bill. It proves beyond a doubt that a marriage of convenience is rarely to be desired. The various members of Mr. Eustace's company make the most of their respective parts and secure an interpretation of much interest. The management of the hall is left in the capable hands of Mr. H. H. Ketteman, and an energetic acting-manager is Mr. Albert Victor Adams

SHEPHERD'S BUSH EMPIRE.

The big attraction at this fine hall this week is the "Master Mystery," presented by Mr. and Mrs. Tomson. It will be remembered that this turn caused considerable sensation when it was first introduced to London some few months ago at the Alhambra. It must be admitted that the "Master Mystery" really deserves its name, for one can scarcely imagine anything more inexplicable. Mrs. Tomson enters an empty cabinet, which is put together on the stage, attired entirely in black garments. A curtain is drawn across the front of the cabinet, which is otherwise open to the audience. There is a slight pause, it is drawn back again, and Mrs. Tomson has produced, apparently from nowhere, a white parrot. The business is repeated, and a large spray of real and fragrant flowers is produced. The curtain is drawn again, there is a slightly longer pause, and Mrs. Tomson appears attired entirely in white. A very simple, but very wonderful, show.

It should be mentioned that a committee of ladies, selected from the audience, is responsible for the truth of the assertion that the lady enters the cabinet wearing nothing but black, and that a committee of gentlemen, likewise obtained from the audience, has free access to the cabinet and its surroundings. A quaint comedy juggling turn is provided by Frank Sylvo; and the Sisters Morgan achieve much popularity as duettists and dancers. Little Zola is as funny as ever, going very well; and Lionette Roberty and her transformation dancers contribute quite a charming turn. Big Ben Brown and Little George Le Clerq appear in the famous old farce Black Justice, every line almost of which gets a shout of laughter. Lupino Lane, the boy comedian, does very well, both as a singer and as a dancer, his eccentric dancing being remarkably good. The Lupino Brothers, in a turn which is entitled The Musician and His Pupil, quickly find the favour of the audience; and, as usual, the American Bioscope proves one of the most popular items in the whole programme.

The humorous sketch Casey's Court winds up an excellent entertainment. Casey's Court is quite a unique item, and the roars of laughter it draws forth are of the heartiest. The clever youngsters who take part in it deserve very high praise; as also does Mr. Will Murray, who plays the rôle of Mrs. Casey. Mr. E. P. Morgan is as courteous as ever as the acting-manager, and he is ably assisted by Mr. Herbert Mack.

WOOLWICH HIPPODROME.

Visitors to this spacious house of entertainment continue to be well provided for, and the efforts of the management to provide delectable fare for their patrons are well repaid, as agreeably with what has become an invariable custom, full houses are the order of the evening, while the comfort of all is well looked after by the courteous manager, Mr. Herbert H. Laidman. The leading feature in the bill for the current week is Lew Lake's company in a sketch, entitled Five Years Later, written by Fred Omar, which offers excellent opportunities for those two noteworthy comedians—Lew Lake and Bob Morris—as Nobbler and Jerry respectively, to provide fun in their own particular style, and they take every advantage of the chances supplied them. Other members of the cast are Mr. Harry Lavers, Miss Kitty Wilmore, Mr. Dave Bentley, and Mr. Ernest Webb, who lend valuable assistance. The sketch is presented in three scenes, the final one representing a "Fancy Dress Ball," having a lavish setting. The sketch is well received.

Tom Leamore is accorded a hearty welcome, his song describing the tribulations of a life insurance agent producing hearty laughter, while his characterisation of a "seedy" swell gains well-merited applause. The Selbinis are seen to great advantage in their trick cycling act, and several novelties are introduced, and some daring feats successfully accomplished, and they receive a flattering reception. Mr. Chas. Penrose keeps the audience amused in a laughing song, and he is also the possessor of a very mobile countenance, which he uses to good advantage. Miss Alice Hollander is gifted with an excellent deep contralto voice which she displays in an artistic and effective manner, and in Tosti's well-known song "Good-bye." puts forth strong claims to popular favour. Doyle and Gibson, in patter, song, and dance, are in their happiest vein, and are diverting and score well. The Raymond Trio supply a good turn and show ability in banjo and mandoline playing, which is well received, their dancing also meeting with approval. The burlesque conjuring of Walton and Lester, who are described as the "world's worst wizards," provokes roars of laughter. The Bioscope, with an interesting film, depicting the people and birds of the island of St. Kilda, brings the performance to a fitting conclusion.

COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON.

An exceptionally strong company, the second combination of varieties since the riverside playhouse was temporarily turned into a music-hall, has been appearing at the Royal County Theatre this week, and at each of the two houses large audiences have been seen. So far the experiment of the theatre management has been a success, but regular patrons are hoping that a variety programme will not permanently displace drama, comedy, or opera. The opinion of the management on this subject will be found in another column.

The chief attraction at the theatre this week is Sahib Gustav Fasola, whose marvellous illusions take the audience by surprise and fairly hold them spellbound. The Sahib's tricks are all executed with a skill that defies the closest examination. Wisper, the clever comedy juggler, is also in the bill, and Tom Fancourt and Jennie Rubie give an amusing sketch, entitled The Huntsman and the Waiter. Miss Fifi Gordon and her troupe appear in the new song scene, My Tiny Firefly, and in a pleasing Dutch operetta. In addition appear Mr. Arthur Melrose, humorist and sifflеur; Miss Beattie Bloom, comedienne; the Sisters Jerome in the sketch, Auntie's Maid; and the programme concludes with an exhibition of animated pictures by the Graphic Cinematograph Company. The programme on Monday night was witnessed by Dr. W. E. St, L. Finny, the new Mayor of Kingston, and several members of the Kingston Corporation.

"THE G.P.O."

Mr. Fred Karno has certainly scored another success with the above burlesque, which was produced at the Paragon on Monday. The story has been jointly concocted by Messrs. Fred Karno, Fred Kitchen, and Frank Calvert, and is greatly assisted by some catchy music by Mr. W. Powell. The scene is the outside of a post office, with a board which is inscribed: "Hands Wanted." Several "out-of-works" apply for the berths, amongst them being Perkins, who is engaged as temporary postman. He opens the second scene, the interior of the office, with a tuneful number entitled "The girl at No. 62," assisted by four colleagues. The Postmaster is called away on urgent business, and as the next in charge is unable, through pressure of business in his own department, to take the responsibility, an able substitute is found in Perkins. The keys of the safe are passed over to him, together with £20 petty cash. His first outlay being £2 each way on Cocksure II. and £1 for drink, he is then £15 to the good. A little pathos is infused into the story when a poor outcast child is deposited amongst the parcels by its mother, who is forced to that resource owing to the fact that the father of the child refuses to give any assistance. Perkins discovers he youngster, and, placing it safely, proceeds to admit the male parent, who is on burgling intent. Perkins opens the safe and invites the robber to help himself, and whilst he is doing so the key is turned and the thief locked inside. The Postmaster returns with the police, the former upbraiding his deputy for acting dishonestly, but a capital finale is reached, and explanations made, the would-be burglar being arrested, and Perkins being allowed to take possession of the deserted child. All honours are due to Mr. Fred Kitchen for his droll rendering of Perkins. Almost the whole time Mr. Kitchen was on the stage—and he was seldom absent—there was a continual ripple of laughter, which frequently broke into a roar. Great assistance was rendered by Messrs. Albert Bruno, Herbert Landeck, W. H. Morgan, and Miss Jessie Grammonds. The sketch is one of the best Mr. Karno has ever produced.

"POOR ARTHUR."

Farcical Comedy, Produced at the Richmond Hippodrome on Monday, Nov. 16.

Poor Arthur	MR. A. RODNEY
Ralph	MR. R. HARGREAVES
Mrs. Gillibrand	MISS E. CRUIKSHANK
Mrs. Hummingtop	MISS M. FLYNN
Daisy	MISS ESTELLE
Rosa	MISS N. SHEFFIELD.

"The latest farcical comedy"—we quote from the programme—Poor Arthur is merely a tabloid version of The Arabian Nights, originally produced at the Comedy Theatre. As there is no attempt made to disguise the piece, it seems perhaps a pity it does not bear its original title. The usual methods are adopted, and many of the lines are from the original text. All the familiar characters are here—the Caliph, the Gutta Percha Girl, the mother-in-law, Mrs. Gillibrand—and Poor Arthur was favourably received, and created considerable amusement. Whether it will suit the tastes of the variety audience remains to be seen. Mr. A. Rodney was a boisterous Arthur, and worked hard to win a favourable verdict; Mr. R. Hargreaves did fairly well as Arthur; excellent was the Mrs. Gillibrand of Miss E. Cruikshank; and Miss Estelle was a bright, vivacious Daisy. Miss N. Sheffield as Rosa, the Gutta Percha Girl, caused roars of laughter; and Miss M. Flynn was charming as Mrs. Hummingtop. The comedy will improve with rehearsal.

INVENTIONS.

[The particulars furnished below of recent applications for patents are taken from the official records. Correspondence is invited with our readers on all matters relating to new ideas and inventions, with a view to affording them advice and assistance. Letters should be addressed to the Manager, Inventions Department, "The Era," 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, London.]

Inventors and others who have no business representative are invited to communicate with the Manager of the Inventions Dept. as above.

APPLICATIONS.

23,336.—Frank Mitchell, of London. Improvements in and relating to mechanism for dealing playing-cards and the like.

23,342.—John Henry Matthews, of London. Improvements in portable apparatus for use in playing clock golf.

23,370.—William Heath, of London. Improved display cabinet.

23,371.—George Murch, of London. Improvements in machines for dealing playing-cards.

23,409.—George Page, of Crawley. New indoor game.

23,411.—Patrick Collins, of Walsall. Improvement relating to roundabouts.

23,434.—Alexander Bryson Bartholomew, of Glasgow. New game.

23,539.—William Samuel Pile Holmes, of London. New game and means for playing the same.

23,557.—John William Chapman, of London. Improved form of dumb-bell.

23,563.—James Davenport, of London. Improvements in games.

23,640.—Lincoln Jefferies, of Birmingham. Improvements in targets for use in air-rifle and other shooting practice.

23,707.—Sidney Thomas Oldridge, of London. Improvements in or relating to card games.

23,811.—Alfred Duskes and Duskes, Kinématographen und Film-Fabriken, G.M.B.H., of London. New or improved means for guiding the films in cinematographic apparatus.

23,842.—Edward Tilston, of London. Improvements in puzzles and games.

23,845.—Obe Millsum, of Swindon. Improvements in bird cages for show and travelling purposes and combination of show-cage and travelling-case.

COMPLETE SPECIFICATIONS ACCEPTED.

27,928.—Newell. Means for advertising or exhibiting announcements, pictures, or the like.

1,568.—Dugard. Apparatus or appliance for displaying images of natural and other objects on screens.

13,602.—Showell. Panic or emergency door push-bars and latches.

14,514.—Deagan. Musical bells.

21,604.—Mechanical toy.

ABRIDGMENTS OF SPECIFICATIONS.

14,166.—Tents. Shrewsbury, R. W., of London.

A roof frame is constructed of light radial rods (b), supported by peripheral uprights (a), and inserted in sockets in or hinged to a central apex ring (c), which is drawn downwards by opposite chains or ropes (f f1) by a central weight, or by a central vertical cord attached to a ground peg, the central pole being dispensed with. Spreading apart of the uprights (a) by the downward pull on the apex ring is prevented by diagonal chains (a3) between the uprights, or by stays between the lower ends of the roof-rods, or by the canvas (d) of the roof. A ventilating aperture in the apex of the roof is covered by a conical canvas or like cap (k) on a frame (l) on a spindle, which is inserted in a socket (c1) in the apex ring, and is provided with an eye (l1) for the attachment of a ceiling canvas (m), which is mainly intended for use in hot climates. The canvas wall sections are attached to the uprights, and are sceured under the overhanging roof-edge (d1) by hooks and eyes. A horizontal triangular awning with triangular side flaps is supported in front of the tent on two light rods, which are connected to the front uprights (a), and are inserted in pockets in the front edge of the canvas awning. Roof extensions (h) are secured under the roof-edge (d1), and are extended by guy ropes. The uprights may be pointed to enter the ground, and may be inserted through holes in the corners of a ground sheet. The roof-covering may be secured to the lower ends of the roof-rods (b) by pockets or loops, or may fit loosely on the roof-bars.

14,313.—Gymnastic apparatus, swings. Goesmann, F., of Osnabrück, Germany.

A gymnastic apparatus for home use consists of a horizontal bar and means for fixing it in doorways or the like. Laths (b), backed with rubber,

&c., pads, are drilled with holes (c) to receive studs (d) on tubular rings (e), Fig. 3, for holding the bar (h), the bar and laths being secured to the door-frame, &c., by means of hooked clamps (f), Fig. 1. The tubular rings may be dispensed with and the bar held in place by means of the hooked clamps alone, as shown in Fig. 8, the hooked ends of the clamps being engaged in the holes (c). The bar may be used to support a swing.

5,504.—Kinématographs, lenses. Ives, R. A., of London.

In using projection lenses working without stop, and collecting a convergent beam from a lantern condenser, a sufficiently wide angle of picture is obtained by bringing the light to a focus sooner, either by separating the back from the front member a distance equal to at least half the focal length of the front member, or by making the power of the back member large compared with that of the front combination. Fig. 6 shows a lens in which the separation is about two-thirds the focal length of the front member (a), and both members (a, b) are achromatic with their plane surfaces (r1, r6) outwards. In Fig. 7 a lens is shown consisting of a reversed Petzval (c, d), with one or more positive achromatic combinations (e, f) having their plane faces (r10, r13) towards the film interposed between it and the film. The achromatic lenses consist of dense flint and hard crown glasses. Particulars of the lenses used are given.

NOVEL ADVERTISING.—Any real novelty in the world of advertising is pretty sure to reap success. A little device that Mr. R. S. Brooke-Hitching is causing a flutter with in theatrical circles in the provinces is a programme sealing slip that requires to be broken before the contents of the programme can be ascertained. Suitable advertising matter is displayed upon the gummed slip. Mr. Brooke-Hitching informs us that the sealing slip is provisionally protected, and that he is open to offers for sale. We shall be pleased to put any reader of The Era into communication with him.

TO STAGE MACHINISTS AND ELECTRICIANS. — The Manager will be pleased to receive particulars of any new stage appliances or ideas for same for illustration in this column.

Can You Invent?—Do you wish to know of prizes offered to inventors valued at £10,000, £5,300, £5,000, £4,000, £1,000, £400, £300, £200, £100, and £50? If so, then get a copy of Patents and Designs, a newspaper called into existence by Mr. Lloyd George's Patents and Designs Act, 1907, which lately came into operation. Patents and Designs, price 2d., can be had at all bookstalls, newsagents', and at the Publishing Office, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

Roller Skating at Liverpool.

THE Tournament Hall at Edge-lane, Liverpool, is regularly patronised by enormous numbers of skaters, three sessions being held daily. The rink retains its high social level, only the better class of people attending. Lately roller skating has become popular with the theatrical profession, and frequently well-known actors and actress engaged in and near Liverpool are to be seen enjoying the exhilirating pastime. Last week the members of Mr. Fred Terry's Scarlet Pimpernel company visited the rink.

Carmarthen Fair.

CARMARTHEN November Pleasure Fair, on Saturday, was somewhat marred by inclement weather during the morning, but about mid-day the weather cleared, and pretty good business was done during the remainder of the day. The chief attractions were Messrs. H. Studt and Son's grand electric motor-cars, Jarvis's helter-skelter, and Messrs. Haggar and Son's electric Bioscope. The "Houp-la" stalls of Messrs. Haggar, J. North, Booth, and D. Boswell were well patronised, as well as Dai Evans, J. North, Booth, and Boswell's cokernut shies, aquariums, and shooting galleries. Vi Letta, the champion lady boxer, and her consort, were also in evidence, and attracted good audiences. The fair was continued on Monday evening, being visited by large numbers of townspeople.

Loughborough Fair.

OUR Loughborough correspondent writes: "Our annual has again taken place, drawing, as usual, large crowds of pleasure-seekers. This year's fair is in all respects quite equal to the previous one. There is in one respect a notable and gratifying advance, and that is the outside appearance and the inside comfort and perfection of the shows. Amongst the larger concerns were Arthur Twigdon's Royal Elysium, exhibiting an excellent range of animated pictures, Charles Thurston's similar concern, with a very imposing showfront and an excellent selection of up-to-date films. In addition to the show Mr. Thurston exhibits motor cars and other attractions.

"THE redoubtable Collins is, as usual, to the fore in providing for the public. The elaborately-decorated show front, splendid pictures, and variety turns make his exhibition undoubtedly a 'wonderland.' In addition to the big show Mr. Collins exhibited a Gordon Bennett motor car set and the cake-walk machine. The last machine being quite new, it took on immensely.

"PROCTER'S bioscope was another great attraction, a superb collection of films, and the chronomegaphone, giving selections of Harry Lauder in picture and song, is a very special feature. Procter's razzle-dazzle was well patronised, and there was the usual quantity of shooting galleries, variety stalls, throwing games, &c. All well patronised, everything passing off with the greatest éclat."

KINEMATOGRAPH regulations respecting the use of the kinematograph in theatres and halls, also the regulations respecting the use of limelight, can be had, price 1d. (by post 1½d.), from The Era Offices, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C. All those who handle the kinematograph or limelight should possess a copy of these regulations.

STORIES OF SHOWMAN LIFE.

TOLD BY THE CHAPLAIN.

[Copyright.]

A SHOW GIRL'S LETTER FROM SCHOOL.

"I want to go back to Daddie,
To the dear old home on wheels,
To see once more my Daddie,
Where the show-front organ peals.

The days pass slowly here away,
Away from the life most dear;
I long to be back there day by day,
In the land that's bright and clear.

I fancy I can hear the drum
I've heard since I was born;
That seems to me a loving chum
Now I am left forlorn.

I try to do my duty here,
'Cause Daddie says I must;
But I shed many a silent tear,
Though I know 'tis right and just.

I know the showman's child must learn,
Same as other children do;
Then some day I shall take my turn
At the dear old pay-box, too.

I've never known a mother's care,
But Daddie's been all to me,
And never let me miss my share
Of a mother's love, not he.

An angel brought me home one day
To that place of love and peace,
And left me for a while to stay
Till life for me should cease.

He took my mother back with him,
And left us here alone;
My Daddie dear, with eyes so dim,
Has told me not to moan.

So I must be a brave, true girl,
And help him all I can;
He calls me his sweet little pearl,
Does my own dear old man.

Sweet Christmas-time will soon be here,
Then I'll home to Daddie go,
To spend with him that time of cheer,
For God has will'd it so.

A merry Christmas I hope 'twill be,
To Daddie dear and all.
Peace and Goodwill I wish to thee
My friends whate'er befall."

ROLLER SKATING IN BELFAST.

On Monday last the new roller skating rink at Cliftonville, Belfast, was opened to the public. The large and commodious building will be conducted on the same lines as those adopted at Liverpool, Sunderland, Llandudno, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Leeds, and Dublin, and, judging by the attendance at the opening, the roller skate has come to stay. The American syndicate, of which Mr. C. P. Crawford and his partner, Mr. F. A. Wilkins, are at the head, have already captured the British public in large centres of population, and there is every reason to believe that the Belfast enterprise will be no less successful than the others so fortunately embarked upon. The floor space available for skating purposes has an area of 30,000 square feet, and the rink is some 300ft. long by 120ft. wide. The finely arched roof is well equipped with ventilating appliances, and a noteworthy feature in connection with the structure is the number of emergency exits, which at a moment's notice can be thrown open in case of any alarm of fire, although this contingency is exceedingly remote. The flooring is of maple, the wood having been imported from America at great cost, and the surface is capable of being polished like glass. Indeed, the difference between the wood laid down and ice is really negligible so far as skating is concerned, and by the aid of a patent electric sandpaper machine the floor can be rendered delightfully smooth. The Samuel Winslow steel ball-bearing roller skates will be used exclusively, while a staff of thoroughly capable instructors has been engaged to teach patrons the higher accomplishments of the art. The scene at the opening was extremely gay and picturesque, and to the strains of a first-rate military band the visitors promenaded or skated, as they felt inclined. The attendance numbered about 8,000, and of this number fully 1,000 were on the floor at one time, amongst them being several very fine skaters, whose graceful movements were viewed with admiration by the spectators. The Lord Mayor (Sir Robert Anderson, J.P.) arrived at nine o'clock, and graced the proceedings with his patronage. Mr. Simmons, the well-known American champion fancy skater, gave an exhibition which demonstrated to everyone present the ease and grace with which the patent skates can be used. His performance on stilts 4ft. in height was very clever, while the comedy and fancy acts were amusing and interesting. Colonel Frederick T. Cummins is local manager, and Mr. John F. Farrell, who has had charge of the construction of the building, is to be congratulated upon the outcome of his work, and the manner in which the effective decorations were planned for the opening night could not have been improved upon. A military band will be in attendance, and the rink will be illuminated each evening with charming electrical effects.

South Shields Fair.

A GREAT array of up-to-date machine novelties visited this fair. These were provided by Relph and Pedley, J. Murphy, Hoadley, Williams, Grey, Thwaites, and Glendinning.

Notes from Wales.

A GREAT number of the best shows and entertainments of the Welsh round were present at Aberdare Fair. The cinematograph theatres were the concerns of Messrs. Wadbroke, Dooner, Haggar, and Studt. Frank Gess and a school of boxers gave expert demonstrations in fistiana. The machines, three in number, consisting of motor cars, galloping horses, and the Brooklyn cakewalk, were by Mr. John Studt. The other entertainers with all the fun of the fair were Messrs. Scott, Freeman, Wright, Butlin, Samouda, and others.

SID WHITE'S amalgamation continues its successful tour of the Welsh towns, and is concluding a two weeks' visit to Tylorstown. The bioscope entertainment and the fairground varieties continue to attract crowds of ready patrons.

News from the North.

AT Alnwick were Walter Murphy's fairground concerns, and the machines, shooters, and other novelties of Messrs. Baker and Son, Toogood, Miller, and Mrs. Knight.

IN connection with the annual conference of Conservative Associations at Cardiff, a demonstration was held in the pavilion at Mountain Ash on Tuesday, at which the principal speaker was Mr. Bonar Law. The building, which was filled with an audience numbering 8,000, is at present leased to a menagerie company, and the vast concourse of people was surrounded by the caged animals lately housed at Earl's Court. Throughout the evening the speeches delivered from the balcony were punctuated from time to time by the cries of the lions and tigers, whose cages were shrouded with tarpaulins.

CAINE ON COLLINS.

"I did not know Wilkie Collins long," says Mr. Hall Caine in "My Story," "but I knew him well. He had written saying that I should be welcome to call upon him, but must be prepared to find him suffering the domestic agonies of moving from one place of abode to another.

"'If you don't object to a room without a carpet or a curtain, I can declare myself still possessed of a table and two chairs, pen and ink, cigars, and brandy-and-water, and I should be delighted to see you.'

"I found him in the heart of London, for he was then living in Gloucester Place. The house was large and rather dingy. The walls were panelled, the stairs were of stone, the hall was cold, the whole house cheerless. The door had been answered by a man-servant, whose nervousness and diffidence told a long story in advance of the habits of close retirement observed by the master I had come to see. On the walls of the room that I was shown into hung pictures of the greatest interest. There was an etching of Dickens, that I had never seen anywhere else, showing a healthier and handsomer face than the one familiar to the public, without any signs either of the days of 'Hungerford Market' or of the death's hand that lay heavy on it at the last. Then there was a portrait of Collins himself in the earliest years of his manhood, boyish, even girlish, almost childlike in its simple expression, and with the forehead that belonged to Collins alone—round, protrusive, and overhanging heavily. There was another portrait of the author by Millais, and a photograph by Sarony of New York, representing Collins when the boyish face was half-hidden by an abundant beard, and the youthful head had grown leonine.

"I had first seen Wilkie some years before, when he was pointed out to me by Rossetti. It was on one of our melancholy drives for fresh air and exercise, through the streets and parks of London, usually with the windows of the carriage up, and the poet thrust back into the corner of the carriage, behind the folds of his Inverness cape and under the shadow of his broad-brimmed hat, pulled low over his face. The hidden eyes that missed nothing saw a figure that they recognised walking past us on the footpath.

"'That must be Wilkie Collins,' said Rossetti; and I looked and saw a small, elderly man, grey-haired and grey-bearded, large-eyed and lion-headed, round-shouldered and stooping heavily. That was my first glimpse of Collins, and swift as it was it left its vivid impression, so that when he came into the room to welcome me I remembered in a moment that I had seen him before.

"But he had grown feebler in the interval, paler in the face, and more flabby. His eyes at that time were large and protuberant, and they had the vague and dreamy look that is sometimes seen in the eyes of the blind. Perhaps I should come near to giving the right impression if I were to add that the expression of Collins's eyes at this period of his life was that of a man to whom chloroform had just been administered. They fixed my attention instantly, and Collins saw that it was so. Perhaps he suspected that I read their strange look by the light of my experience with Rossetti; perhaps he was loath to trust me then as he trusted me later; but before we had been talking long, he interrupted the conversation, and said:

"'I see that you can't keep your eyes off my eyes, and I ought to say that I've got gout in them, and that it is doing its best to blind me.'

"I found him a good and animated talker, never spontaneous but always vigorous and right. His voice was full and of even quality; a good voice, not at all a great one. In manner he was quiet, a little nervous, and not prone to much gesture. He sat, while he talked, with his head half down, and his eyes usually on the table; but he looked into one's face from time to time, and then his gaze was steady and encouraging, and one never felt for a moment that his eye was upon one.

"Indeed, without being the most 'magnetic' of men, Collins was a man to set one at one's ease, to get the best out of one, to send away with a comfortable feeling towards oneself; and yet a man with a proper sense of personal dignity. You never knew it for dignity, and that was exactly where its strength lay. The same large grasp of fact and command of detail which one found in the novels one found in the novelist. If his conversation was not luminous and large, if his outlook on life was not wide, if his horizon was not far away, neither were they little and narrow and near. His insight was sure, his memory unfailing, and his invention strong.

"'At that first meeting we talked on many subjects. I remember that I wanted information on the copyright law, for the plot of one of my novels had been taken by some dramatic thief, and I had a mind to fight him. Collins was very full, very precise, and very emphatic on that subject, having paid bitterly for special knowledge over two of his own stories, 'The Woman in White' and 'The New Magdalen.' He was quite sure that I had not a leg to stand on, though of course he joined his wail with mine over the iniquitous law that recognised a copyright in words and none in ideas.

"Then we talked of French writers, and he said something that I cannot remember of how he met with Victor Hugo, whose plays, no less than his novels, he admired. But the older Dumas among French novelists was clearly the god of his idolatry, and 'The Three Musketeers' was his ideal of a great story. He has been many times in the way of meeting Dumas, but had never done so. Then he talked of Scott, whom he valued beyond words of appraisement, thinking 'The Bride of Lammermoor' the greatest of all prose tragedies. Something he said, too, of Dickens, but only in the character of a near and dear friend, with a perceptible sinking of the soft voice and a noticeable melting of the gentle eyes. Charles Reade was also mentioned in relation to a memoir that had then been lately published, and the impression left with me was that the rougher side of Reade's character had never been seen by Collins except as the whole world saw it in the squabbles of the newspapers.

"I seem to have dwelt too long on this first interview, but, indeed, it was the type of many interviews that followed it. I consulted him on schemes for novels, and discussed with him the structure of several of my stories. He was always kindly, always alert, always enthusiastic, always capable of entering into the hopes and aims of a younger literary colleague.

"His letters were as full of pith as his conversation. Nothing appeared in them more frequently than his boyish delight in his work. It was not done easily, but with great and often grievous labour—labour of conception, of construction, and of repeated writing and re-writing—and yet he held to it, clung to it, and when torn from it by sickness, he returned to it in health with the fiercest eagerness of the literary aspirant. Never was authorship less of a trade to any author, though he was a competent business man, and knew how to make the most of his market. To write stories was a passion to him, and he was as much a slave to it when he was beginning the story which he left unfinished at his death as he had been five-and-twenty years earlier, before fame had come to him or fortune was within his grasp."

THE AWARDS. The three interim Awards and the final Award, corrected and revised by George Ranken Askwith Esq., the official arbitrator appointed in the Music Hall Dispute, may be had in pamphlet form at "THE ERA" Offices. Copy, including postage, three-half-pence. Address, The Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

REVISED SCALE OF CHARGES FOR

ARTISTS WANTING ENGAGEMENTS, MANAGERS WANTING ARTISTS,

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

This Scale does not apply to "Trade" Advertisements in these Columns.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION (Post Free).

	UNITED KINGDOM.	FOREIGN.
One Quarter .... 6s. 6d.		8s.
Half Year ..... 13s. 0d.		16s.
One Year ..... 26s. 0d.		32s.

The Offices of "The Era" are
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For the convenience of Advertisers, Replies to Advertisements are received. They can remain until called for, or be forwarded by Post if postage be arranged.

NO STAMPS.

Advertisers and subscribers are politely requested to forward Cheques or Postal Orders in payment of their Advertisements and Subscriptions, crossed "Lloyd's Bank, Ltd." Remittances should be made payable to "The Era," Limited, and addressed,

THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4747 or 1433 Central.

IN case of the non-delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers with the time of delivery marked upon them.

COMPANIES WANTED.
TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

MILTON BODE AND EDWARD COMPTON'S THEATRES.
WANTED, First-Class Companies, for THEATRE ROYAL, BRIGHTON.
Dec. 7, 14, Feb. 15, 22, March 8, 15, 22, 29, on
DALSTON THEATRE, LONDON N.E.
Jan 25, March 8, 22, April 5, May 10, 17, 24, on.
COUNTY THEATRE, READING.
Feb. 15, March 1, 8, April 5, 12, 19, May 3, on.
OPERA HOUSE, LEICESTER.
April 5, 12, 26, May 10, 17, 24, 31, Aug. 2, 9, on.
ROYALTY THEATRE, CHESTER.
Varieties, Twice Nightly, 7 and 9 p.m.
GRAND THEATRE, WOLVERHAMPTON.
Feb. 1, March 1, 8, April 5, 12, May 3, 10, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, HUDDERSFIELD.
Feb. 8, 15, 22, March 22, April 5, 26, May 17, 24, on.
OPERA HOUSE, NORTHAMPTON.
March 29, April 5, Sept. 6, 13, 20, 27, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEICESTER.
April 12, 19, May 17, 24, 31, June 7, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEAMINGTON.
Nov. 30, Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 1, 8, 15, on.
Address, MILTON BODE, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED First-class Attractions, for COUNTY THEATRE, BEDFORD,
Dec. 7, Jan. 11, 18, 25, Feb. 1, 15, onwards.
GRAND THEATRE, LUTON.
Jan. 4, 18, 25, Feb. 8, March 8, onwards.
THEATRE ROYAL, CANTERBURY.
Nov. 30, Dec. 7, 14, Jan. 4, 25 (3 nights only), and Xmas. Add., E. G. FALCON, County T., Bedford.

THREE PROGRESSIVE THEATRES.
WANTED, First-class Companies, for DEVONSHIRE PARK T., EASTBOURNE,
Nov. 30 (3 nights).
Dec. 7, Jan. 18, onwards
GAIETY THEATRE, HASTINGS,
Dec. 3 (3 nights), March 1, 8, 15.
PLEASURE GARDENS T., FOLKESTONE.
Dec. 7, Feb. 1, 8, March 1, 8, 15.
Apply for all above, ROWLAND, T., Folkestone.

METROPOLE, GLASGOW, Ltd.
WANTED, Pay-box Attractions, March, 1910, onwards.
Coms., ARTHUR JEFFERSON.

WANTED, First-class Attraction, for Dec. 14,
H. M. Theatre, Dundee.
Apply, Mr. ROBERT ARTHUR, 24A, Regent-st., S.W.

THEATRE ROYAL, MARGATE.
WANTED, good strong Attractions, Jan. 4 and onwards, with exceptions.
Apply, W. W. KEENE.

NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
WANTED, Strong Attraction for Dec. 7.
Dec. 7,
Unexpectedly Vacant.
Wire immediately,
"Hustler,' Birkenhead.

OPERA HOUSE, KIDDERMINSTER.
WANTED, Select and Attractive Companies only, theatre elegantly equipped, holding capacity £100, Vacant 3 nights, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 1909; March 1, 15, 22, and Easter. Bookings include "Merry Widow," "Dairymaids," "Prince of Pilsen," "Prodigal Son," "The Christian," &c. All coms., J. P. MOORE, King's Hall, Birmingham.

WANTED, Wanted, for CASTLE T., STOCKTON-ON-TEES.
A First-class Attraction, week commencing Dec. 7.
Also three nights, Dec. 22, 23, 24.
Communications to
J. CHAS. IMESON, Theatre Royal, Middlesbrough.

HARROGATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
WANTED, First-class Company, for Dec. 3, 4, 5 (three nights), Harrogate.
Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK.

PIER THEATRE, EASTBOURNE.
WANTED, First-class Companies, Dec. 7, 14 (?),
Jan. 11, and various dates onwards.
Apply, G. HAYES.

WANTED, First-class Companies, Nov. 30, Eastbourne (3), Hastings (3); Dec. 7, D.P.T., Eastbourne; Dec. 7, P.G.T., Folkestone. Apply, ROWLAND, Theatre, Folkestone.

THEATRE ROYAL, PLYMOUTH.
WANTED, Strong Musical Attractions for Feb. 15, March 22, April 5, May 10, 17, 24, and 31. First-class Companies only.

WANTED, for the Prince of Wales's Theatre, Salford, First-class Companies, for Nov. 30 (through breach), Dec. 21, Jan. 4 and 11. Address, E. B. GOULDEN.

ROYALTY THEATRE, MORECAMBE.
WANTED, Musical Comedy, April 12.
Note.—The Conference of the National Teachers' Union is held in Morecambe during Easter.
Also Vacant, July, Aug.
Address, CHAS. M. JULIAN, General-Manager.

COLISEUM, ABERYSTWYTH.
WANTED, Companies, Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 2, 7, 8, 9, onwards, with exceptions.
Wire, PHILLIPS.

WANTED, Companies, Dec. 7, on, Share or small Certainty; also Pantomime or strong Attraction for Christmas. JAMES ELPHINSTONE, Lyceum Theatre, Stafford.

WANTED, for Theatre Royal, York, First-class Company, Dec. 14; Pantomime, Jan. 11; also Company for three nights, Feb. 1, 2, 3. Apply, WADDINGTON and SONS, Stonegate, York.

WANTED, for Londesborough Theatre, Scarboro', Comedy Companies, Jan. 25, Feb. 8, 15, and 22. Apply, WADDINGTON and SONS, Stonegate, York.

LYCEUM, NEWPORT.
WANTED, owing to alteration of arrangements, best Attractions only for Jan. 4, 18, and 25, and May 3. Particulars to SIDNEY COOPER.

GRAND THEATRE, LANCASTER.
WANTED, First-class Drama, Dec. 10, three nights.
STANLEY ROGERS, Theatre Royal, North Shields.

WANTED, Companies, three nights, Nov. 26 27, 28, Dec. 14 (3 or 6), Jan. 18 (?), 21 (?) and 25, Feb. 8, March 22, April 5, on. W. B. POTTS Opera House, Dunfermline.

WANTED, First-class Company, Dec. 7.
Wire,
W. B. POTTS, Opera House, Dunfermline.

COMPANIES WANTED.

WANTED, First-class Companies,

ROYAL ARTILLERY THEATRE, WOOLWICH.
Vacant Dec 7, 21, Jan. 11, onward with exceptions.
Re dates,
ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre Royal, Worcester.

THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
Vacant April 5, June 14, onward with exceptions.

THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
Vacant Dec. 28, April 12, 19, onward with exceptions.

THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME, BARRY DOCK.
Vacant May 31, June 7, 21, onward with exceptions.

KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH.
Vacant Nov. 26, Dec. 8, 14, onward with exceptions.
(First three nights best for Musical Pieces; last three nights Drama.)

Pantomime "ALADDIN," Feb. 8, 1909, onward.
Pantomime "CINDERELLA," Feb. 8, onward.
Pantomime "PUSS IN BOOTS," Feb. 8, onward.

ARTHUR CARLTON,
Theatre Royal, Worcester.

Telegrams: "Carlton, Worcester."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, MIDDLESBROUGH.
Seating capacity 3,500.
Acknowledged to be one of the largest, best-equipped, and most handsome Theatres in Great Britain.
The Premier and Central Theatre of the District
Now Booking Spring and Autumn, 1909.

WANTED, First-class Attractions only.
We are prepared to guarantee Really Big Star Attractions.
All communications, JNO. ED. JOWSEY, Grand Opera House, Middlesbrough.
Telegrams, "Magnet."
'Phones 413, 426, 500.

THEATRE ROYAL, LINCOLN.
WANTED, good Companies, Dec. 7 and Jan. 4.

THEATRE ROYAL, LOUGHBOROUGH.
Vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 7, and Jan. 4.

NEW GAIETY THEATRE, WORKSOP.
Vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 7 and 14, and Xmas.
Last three days only.

TOWN HALL, RUGBY.
Vacant Xmas, Jan. 4 and 25.

DUMFRIES AND HAWICK.
Now running twice nightly only.

OPERA HOUSE, LONDONDERRY.
Vacant Jan. 11 and 18.

THE SPA, WHITBY.
Now Booking Autumn, 1909.
W. PAYNE SEDDON,
Theatre Royal, Loughborough.

SCOTLAND'S PROVINCIAL THEATRES.
Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, for the following towns:—
Leith,
Ayr,
Greenock,
Motherwell,
Falkirk,
Coatbridge,
Dec 7, 14, 21, 28 (New Year week),
Jan. 4, 11.
Apply, R. C BUCHANAN, 102, Bath-street, Glasgow.

QUEEN'S THEATRE, FARNWORTH, BOLTON.
WANTED, Powerful Attractions, for following Prime Season Dates, Dec. 28, Jan. 25, Feb. 1.
Must be Big Atractions for these weeks.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE, WIDNES.
WANTED, Strong Attraction, for Dec. 14,
Dec. 14,
also various dates onward.
Address, THOS. SWINTON.

WANTED, for Variety Theatres, First-class Pantomimes, to play twice nightly. Dates in Feb. and March. Address, with full particulars, T. ALLAN EDWARDES, Palace, Derby.

THEATRE ROYAL, CROOK.
WANTED, Companies, March 29, Easter, April 19, May 10.
WALLACE DAVIDSON, Victoria Hall, Huddersfield.

WEYMOUTH.—NEW PAVILION THEATRE.
The Only Theatre in the Town. Erected by the Corporation at a cost of nearly £20,000. Seating, Decorating, and Furnishing by Messrs. Dean and Sons, Birmingham. Stage dimensions, stage to flies 21ft., stage to grid 43ft. 6in. Weymouth being the headquarters of the Channel Fleet, good Business can always be relied upon.
WANTED, First-class Companies, Spring and Autumn, 1909. All communications,
WALTER R. WALLIS, Municipal Offices, Weymouth.

WANTED, Big Attraction, Dec. 14, Grand, Chorley.
Address, SANTE, Theatre, Radcliffe.

PAVILION, ABERTILLERY.
PAVILION, ABERTILLERY.
WANTED, Strong Attraction, for Dec. 14.
Terms and full particulars to
E. PRYCE, Pavilion, Abertillery.

THEATRE ROYAL, COLCHESTER.
WANTED, good Musical Attractions, Jan. 4, March 1, 15, Easter. Apply, F. GRAHAM MACDONA, Lessee and Manager.

WANTED, Company, Dec. 14, owing to cancelling.
Address,
A. M. LOADER, Court Theatre, Warrington.

WANTED, for Nov. 30,
First-class Drama Co.
Address, ELLISTON, Bolton.

QUEEN'S THEATRE, PEMBROKE DOCK.
WANTED, Wanted, Companies,
Vacant through obliging,
Nov. 30, Nov. 30.
Also Dec. 26, seven nights.
Address, NORMAN H. BARGER.

SELWYN THEATRE, WISBECH.
WANTED, Good Company, either for Dec. 3, 4, or 5, or 10, 11, and 12. Xmas still vacant.
GATES.

THEATRE ROYAL, WEDNESBURY.
WANTED, good Dramas or strong Attractions, Dec. 7, 14, Jan. 11, 25 (?), onwards. Address, H. BATTERSBY.

WANTED, for Theatre Royal, Barnstaple, Companies, for two nights, Musical or Comedy preferred. Apply, H. ASHTON, Strand, Barnstaple.

WANTED, No. 1 Musical and Pantomimic Attractions, immediate and future dates. Now playing to crowded houses nightly King's Theatre, Kilmarnock, Lessee and Manager, J. CUMMINGS.

COURT THEATRE, BACUP.
Lessee, DENMAN WOOD.
WANTED, Drama, Musical Com., Variety, Good Combination, or Bioscope, Nov. 30, Dec. 7, Dec. 14, 21 (five nights), Jan. 4. Wire, Nov. 30, DENMAN WOOD, Court Theatre, Bacup. Later dates, letters.

COMPANIES WANTED.

Booked by
MOSS' EMPIRES, LIMITED.

BORDESLEY PALACE THEATRE,
GRAND THEATRE, NOTTINGHAM,
BROADWAY THEATRE, NEW CROSS,
and
GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW.

WANTED, No. 1 Attractions only.

BROADWAY THEATRE, NEW CROSS.
Vacant Dates, April 25, May 10, May 17, 24, 31.

BORDESLEY PALACE THEATRE.
Vacant Dates, April 5, May 24, June 7, 14, 21, 28.

GRAND THEATRE, NOTTINGHAM.
Vacant, March 22, May 3, 10, 17.

GRAND, GLASGOW.
Vacant, April 12, 19, May 10, 24, 31.

Address,
with full particulars, terms, &c.
where can be seen, to
Moss' EMPIRES, LIMITED,
Cranbourn-mansions, Cranbourn-street,
London, W.C.
Envelopes marked "Theatres."

ROYALTY THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, BARROW-IN-FURNESS.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. HUGH ROBERTSON.
The Premier Theatre in the Furness District, with a holding capacity of £90 at ordinary prices.
WANTED, really First-class London Successes, for Nov. 30, also Dec. 7, and Feb. 8, on, with exceptions.
Season's Bookings include among others: J. W. Turner's Grand Opera Company (return), Mr. Wentworth Croke's "The Bondman," "Amasis," Mr. Charles Frohman's "Raffles," Mr. George Dance's Company in "Miss Hook of Holland," Mr. Wilfred Cotton's Company in "Butterflies," Mr. Seymour Hicks' Company in "The Gay Gordons," and Mr. George Edwardes's Company in "The Merry Widow," &c.
All applications for dates to
HUGH ROBERTSON,
Theatre Royal, Jarrow-on-Tyne.

WANTED, for Empire, Greenock, Dramatic and Musical Comedy Attractions, also Pantomimes, twice nightly, January, February, and March dates. Sharing terms.

WANTED, a Travelling Panto., for London Theatre, Xmas, two or three weeks, on sharing terms; also Good Halls, suitable for Picture Shows and Variety. GRAHAM'S Agency, 15A, Electric-avenue, Brixton.

PUBLIC HALL THEATRE, RUNCORN.
WANTED, Class Attraction, for Xmas, 4 or 7 nights, also Nov. 30, Dec. 8 (5 nights), Dec. 14, Jan. dates to 23rd, with exceptions. EDGAR LEE.

TOWN HALL THEATRE, AYLESBURY.
WANTED, Attractions, Monday, Nov. 30, and Dec. 14, Jan. 4, and on, one or two nights only, good business for recognised Attractions. CHARLES E. ARTHUR, 72, Blandford-st., Baker-st., London.

WANTED, Companies, Albert Hall, Jarrow, good Combinations or Picture Shows, from Dec. 7; Shares or Rental; good business to good Companies. Apply, MANAGER.

EMPIRE MUSIC HALL, WREXHAM.
WANTED, First-class Comedy Pantomimes, for Dec. 21 and 28. J. J. SCOTT, Proprietor.

THEATRES WANTED.

"THE BEGGAR GIRL'S WEDDING."
WALTER MELVILLE'S NEW PRODUCTION
WANTED, April 5, Aug. 9.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"THE GIRL WHO WRECKED HIS HOME."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Dec. 14, Jan. 4.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"THE GIRL WHO TOOK THE WRONG TURNING."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Wanted, Theatres, Dec. 14, 21.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"THE SOLDIER'S WEDDING."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, April 12.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"A GIRL'S CROSS ROADS."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 25 (seven nights).
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

FREDERICK MELVILLE'S COMPANIES.
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 7, 21, Jan. 4, 11, 18, Feb. 8.
FREDERICK MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE WORST WOMAN IN LONDON."
WANTED, Wanted, Theatres, Dec. 14, 21, Jan. 4.
TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"AS MIDNIGHT CHIMES."
WANTED, Wanted, Theatres, Feb. 15, 22, March 22, 29.
TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE FEMALE SWINDLER."
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 26 (seven nights).
TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE GIRL WHO LOST HER CHARACTER."
WANTED, Dec. 21, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, April 5, Aug. 2.
DOUGLAS BRUCE, Osborne Theatre, Manchester.

"DRIVEN FROM HOME."
WANTED, Dec. 28, Jan. 4, 11, 18.
ANDREW MELVILLE, Met. T., Birmingham.

"THE DIVER'S LUCK."
WANTED, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, March 1.
ANDREW EMM, Metropole T., Birmingham.

"THE EDUCATION OF ELIZABETH," from the Haymarket and Apollo Theatres.
WANTED, Dec. 7, between Lincoln and Ipswich.
Address, C. H. BOWMAKER, Grand Theatre, Hull.

"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
WANTED, Wanted, Wanted, for this Phenomenal Success, Weeks of Jan. 11 and 25.
Wire or write to
W. W. KELLY,
New Theatre Royal, Birkenhead.

"THE NEW EAST LYNNE."
WANTED, weeks of Dec. 28 and Jan. 4, for this Remarkable Success, which in a fortnight at Dublin played to £1,400, and at Belfast turned hundreds away nightly.
Wire or write to W. W. KELLY,
New Theatre Royal, Birkenhead.

"DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY."
WANTED, Jan. 4, 11, March 22 (?), April 12.
All communications, J. W. CORDINER, Nov. 23, Theatre Royal, Smethwick.

"SILVER KING."
POLINI and MELFORD'S COMPANY.
WANTED, Dates, as follows: Dec. 26 (7 nights), April 19, May 3.
Now Booking Autumn, 1909.
Address, POLINI, 93, Penge-road, London, S.E.

"I DEFY THE WORLD."
By Arthur Shirley and E. Hill-Mitchelson.
WANTED, Good Theatres, Jan. 11, 25, March 29, April 12.
Address, CHAS. M. JULIAN, R. T., Morecambe.

"TODDLES."
WANTED, Jan. 4 and 11, Midlands or North, MURRAY KING, Devonshire P. T., Eastbourne.

M. RUSSELL ROSSE'S TOURS.
WANTED, for Repertory, Dec. 26 (7 or 13 nights). RUSSELL ROSSE, Managers' Club, Savoy-mansions, W.C.

"THE GREAT WHITE CHIEF."
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 28, 1908, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, March 8, 15, 22. Forty People on Stage. L. Carson is Cast. All coms., L. CARSON, Queen's T., Farnworth.

THEATRES WANTED.

MORTON POWELL ENTERPRISES.
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
"MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD."
Dec. 21, 28, Jan. 4, 11, 18.
Morton Powell, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"WHEN IT WAS DARK."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Dec. 7, 14, Jan. 18, Feb. 1, 8, 15.
Morton Powell, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"THE WOMAN WHO GAMBLES."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Dec. 21 (3 nights), Jan. 4, 11, 18, 25.
Morton Powell, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"GREED OF GOLD."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Dec. 21 (3 nights), Jan. 11, 25, Feb. 8.
Morton Powell, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"HONOUR THY FATHER."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Jan. 4, 11, 18, 25.
Morton Powell, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"THE LITTLE OUTCAST."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
March 1, 8, 15, on.
Morton Powell, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

ALFRED B. CROSS'S TOUR.
"THE MANXMAN."
"THE MANXMAN,"
By Hall Caine and Wilson Barrett.

WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 7, 21, and 28. Nov. 23, Carlton T., Saltley.
Mr. A. B. Cross as Pete. Miss Watersford as Kate.

MR. AND MRS. CHALMERS MACKEY'S CO.
"ROLLICKING RORY."
"ROLLICKING RORY."
WANTED, Jan. 18 (North), Feb. 1, 8, 15, March 1.
Grand, Falkirk; next, Opera House, Blackpool.

WANTED, Known, "Was She to Blame?" by Mrs F. G. Kimberley. Grand Production at the Junction, Manchester, Easter; all Holiday Dates booked up to Whit, 1910; no vacant dates in 1909. Write for 1910 to Kimberley, Green and Hinton, Scotlands, Wolverhampton.

FRANK J. PITT'S COMPANY.
"A VICTIM OF VILLAINY."
"A VICTIM OF VILLAINY."
A Powerful Domestic Drama, in four Acts,
By Walter Howe.
WANTED, Jan. 25, Feb. 1, 22, March 1, 8, 29, April 26, May 3, 17, on.
Splendid plants of pictorials by David Allens and Moody roBs.

Nov. 23, Theatre Royal, Aldershot.

E. OSMOND BROOKS'S No. 1 COMPANY, in "THE NEW HOUSEMAID."
Funniest Farcical Comedy of Twentieth Century.

WANTED, Feb. 8 (between Scotland and Shrewsbury), March 1, 8 (follow Gaiety, Dublin), March 29 (follow Leamington), April 5, and Easter
E. O. Brooks, Lessee and Manager,
Grand Theatre, Swansea.

WANTED, for Mark Blow's Latest Success, "At Roaring Camp," Jan. 18, 25 (to precede Alex., Sheffield), Feb. 15, March 22, 29.
Mark Blow, Theatre Royal, Worthing.

WANTED, "Under Two Flags," Jan. 18, Feb. 8, 22, March 22, 29.
Mark Blow, Theatre Royal, Worthing

WANTED, "At Cripple Creek," Jan. 18, 25, Feb. 8, 22, March 29.
Mark Blow, Theatre Royal, Worthing.

"WHY MEN LOVE WOMEN,"
"WHY MEN LOVE WOMEN,"
By Walter Howard.

WANTED, Good Theatre, for Christmas Week, Good Theatre, for Christmas Week.
Also Jan. 11 and 18.

Ellen Snow,
To-day, Alex., Hull; next, Alex., Birmingham.

WANTED, Jan. 18, 25, Feb. 1, 8, April 19, 26, for "The Cingalee."
Haidane Crichton, Artillery Theatre, Woolwich.

"LUCKY 'LIZA."
WANTED, Dec. 14, between Birmingham and Liverpool.
Dickie Clark, T. R., West Bromwich.

"THE FLOWER GIRL."
A Genuine Musical Comedy.
MR. CHARLES M. BESTIC'S COMPANY.
WANTED, Dates, Spring and Autumn, 1909.
Wire, F. Martin Morris, Theatre Royal, Glasgow. Letters to Prince of Wales's Theatre, Nuneaton.

"THE CRIMES OF PARIS."
MRS. FRANK BATEMAN and GEORGE CONQUEST'S COMPANY.
WANTED, Feb. 1, Aug. 9, Sept. 6, 20, 27, Oct. 4, 11, Nov. 1 and 22.
Apply, E. Dottridge, Empire, Oldham.

ROSE MONCRIEFF'S CO.
"THE BELLS OF OLD YORK,"
By Rass Challis.
WANTED, Good Theatres, Feb. 1, 15, April 5, 12 (Wales), May 10 (between Aberdare and Llanelly), June 14 (to follow Stratford). Address, Brixton Theatre, London, S.W.

"THE 10.30 DOWN EXPRESS."
and "GUILTY GOLD."
WANTED, Jan. 4, 18, 25 (Midlands).
Horace Stanley,
Globe Theatre, Walmer.
Next, T. R., Stratford, E. (seventh visit).

"THE CRIMES OF PARIS."
WANTED, Feb. 1, Aug. 8 and 30.
Address, E. Dottridge, Empire, Oldham.

"THE MIDNIGHT MAIL."
WANTED, March 1, Aug 2.
Address, E. Dottridge, Empire, Oldham.

The Play of Many Merits.
"A WOMAN WORTH WINNING."
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 28, Jan. 4, 11, Feb. 8 various, for this Box-office Success.
Apply, A. B. Mackay,
To-day, M. T., Ashington; next, S. T., Hetton.

WANTED.—Managers with Vacant Dates in February and March will hear of something to their advantage by communicating with J. F. Elliston, Bolton.

MESSRS. ARMADALE AND WARREN'S CO.
"THE FACE AT THE WINDOW."
"THE FACE AT THE WINDOW."
WANTED, Theatres, Christmas, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, 15, May 17, 24, 31, onwards, for the above Attraction. Address, Armadale and Warren, Theatre Royal, Barry Dock.

MR. AND MRS. F. G. KIMBERLEY'S COS.
"A SOLDIER'S HONOUR."
WANTED, Dec. 21, Dec. 21, Dec. 21.
Refer to Jackson Withers, Esq., re piece at Merthyr.
"BOUND TO WIN."
Wanted, Dec. 21, 28, for this great Sporting Play. New Scenery, Properties, &c., Racehorses Toured.
"TWO LITTLE DRUMMER BOYS."
Vacant March 22, April 5, 12, only vacant dates until Aug. 2. Wire for all plays, Kimberley, Scotlands, Wolverhampton.

"WHO IS SHE?"
WANTED, Dec. 7, 14, Feb. 1, 22.
"THE KING AND UNKNOWN WOMAN,"
New Production, Jan. 25, Feb. 1, and March 22.
E. Hill-Mitchelson,
Theatre Royal, Halifax.

'THE GREAT AWAKENING."
WANTED, good Theatres, Dec. 26 (seven nights, South), and Easter week (South).
Maud Hildyard, Grand T., Glasgow.

WANTED, Jan. 4, on (owing to continued success of up-to-date version), for "Dandy Fifth." Wire, Corri, Hippo., Sheerness; next, A. T., Woolwich.

WANTED, Nov. 30, Xmas, New Year vacant. "Beneath the Stars." Strong Co., magnificent Pictorials; everything sound. Coleman Davies, Theatre, Fleetwood.

THEATRES WANTED.

Miss HILDA BEVERLEY,
In
"A DESTROYER OF MEN."

Present Bookings include:—
Star, Swansea; T. R., Bristol; Alexandra, Birmingham; Alexandra, Sheffield; Gaiety, Burnley; Metropole, Gateshead; T. R., Seaham Harbour; Eden, Bishop Auckland; Grand, Brighton, Southend-on-Sea, &c., &c., &c.

WANTED, Good Theatre, August Bank Holiday, 1909.

Wanted, Aug. 9, Sept. 27, Nov. 1, 8 and on, with exceptions.
Miss Hilda Beverley, Opera House, Coventry.

MISS MARY NEIL,
in her Great Successes,
"FROM SHOP GIRL TO DUCHESS,"
by Charles Darrell,
and
"HER LUCK IN LONDON,"
by Charles Darrell.
WANTED, Theatres.—Only vacant dates for either play: Dec. 28, Jan. 4, 11, 18, Feb. 1 and 8, March 29, April 5, May 10 and 24.
Coms. to George Kirk,
Elephant and Castle, S.E.

HARDIE and VON LEER'S COYS.
WANTED Wanted, Theatres,
"TWO LITTLE VAGABONDS,"
Vacant Jan. 11, Feb. 1.
"TWO LANCASHIRE LASSES IN LONDON."
Vacant Feb. 1, 8, 15, April 19, 26.
"THE SAILOR'S WEDDING."
Vacant Jan. 4, Feb. 8, 22.
"THE GIRL I LOVE,"
Vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 7, Jan. 4.
E. P. Clift, 110, St. Martin's-lane, W.C.
Wires, "Vagancy, London." Tel. No. 7504 Gerrard.

ARMITAGE and LEIGH'S COMPANIES.
Only One Company of Each Play—the Best.
The Triumph of the Artistic.
Wilson Barrett's last and greatest play.
"LUCKY DURHAM"
(fourth year of continuous tour).
WANTED, Nov. 30 (N), Dec. 28, and few onwards,
Charles Frohman's Greatest Success,
"LEAH KLESCHNA."
Ran one year London, third year of tour.
Vacant Dec. 21 (S), Jan. 4, Feb. 8, 15, March 29, April 12,
Henry Seton's Merriman's Greatest Work,
"WITH EDGED TOOLS,"
Adapted from the Great Novel, which has been read by over 2,000,000 people. Passed the 200th performance, and recognised as one of the best plays sent out. Vacant Nov. 30 (N.), Dec. 28, Jan. 4 Feb. 1, Mar. 15. All communications, H. Armitage, Manager for Sir Charles Wyndham, New Theatre, St. Martin's-lane, London, W.C.

"THE GIRL WHO WENT ASTRAY."
"THE GIRL WHO WENT ASTRAY."
"THE GIRL WHO WENT ASTRAY."
The Drama that Booms itself.
Receipts for four weeks exceed £1,000.
Receipts for four weeks exceed £1,000.
Cast of Recognised Artists.
Each member with not less than 10 years' experience.
Magnificent printing. Beautifully mounted.
WANTED, Easter (Only 1909 Holiday Date Vacant). Fred Bulmer, Theatre, Paisley.

WANTED, for "The Woman Pays," Jan. 18, April 5, Nov. 1, 8, 15, 22, 1909.
Frank M. Thorne, T. R., Edmonton, N.

THE GIPSIES AND THEIR JESTER.
WANTED, Pier Pavilions, Winter Gardens, &c. The Directors of the Leas Pavilion, Folkestone, have re-engaged them for seventeen weeks next summer. Their returns showed another 40 per cent. advance over their previous season, which was 50 per cent. over any preceding year.
Only Vacancies Next summer:
Week commencing Monday, April 19, 26, May 3, 10, 17, June 7, 14, 21, 28, Sept. 20, onward.
Mr. D'Arcy Clayton,
23, Brockman-road, Folkestone.

BOSWELL'S STAGE CIRCUS.
BOSWELL'S STAGE CIRCUS.
WANTED, through misunderstanding, a Good Theatre or Hall, for Xmas, Share or Rental, A Sure Draw.
James Kiddie, Tuesday night, said: "Boswell, this will be a record week. I am delighted. So are my patrons. Your Circus is excellent in every respect. It is funnier than even a Pantomime. Return visits confirmed."

Wire or write,
Boswell, Grand Theatre, Chorley.

WANTED, immediate Dates, South of England, for Glennie's Royal Marionettes; 20min. to 2 hours. Wire, Glennie's Marionettes, Rotting dean, Sussex.

ARTISTS WANTED.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LEONARD RAYNE'S COMPANY.

WANTED, Wanted, Lady, to sail Dec. 12.
Must be young,
of good appearance,
and capable of playing
Leading Parts in Répertoire.
Apply (letters only), giving references, particulars, and terms, also enclosing recent photographs, with stamped directed envelope for return of the latter, to George Rayne,
Portugal House, Portugal-street, London, W.C.

MRS. BANDMANN-PALMER'S TOUR.
WANTED, for India, experienced Actor, to combine Stage Management, capable of assisting in producing series of Shakespearean plays; also experienced young Actor and young Actress, well versed in Répertoire work. Address, 36 Gloucester-road, Kew, Surrey. No interviews except by appointment.

"DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY."
WANTED, for Above, to rehearse Nov. 25, at Smethwick, pretty young Juvenile Actress for Ruth;
height not less than 5ft. 5in.;
must have good Singing Voice (Contralto or Soprano), and possess fashionable wardrobe.
State age, exact height, and send two last references (which will be applied for), photos., and lowest terms, to J. W. Cordiner, T. R., Wolverhampton; next, T. R., Smethwick.

WANTED, for Powerful Dramatic Sketch, New Production, Dec. 7, London, Recognised Leading Man (à la Frank Cooper); must be 5ft. 11in. Juvenile Lady; must be young and pretty, capable of intense emotion.
Responsible Man for Character part; Carpenter capable of small part. Letters only, with full particulars, references, photos, and terms, to J. G. Grahame and Horn Conyers,
9, Manor-gardens, Holloway, N.

G. CARLTON WALLACE'S CO'S.
WANTED, First-class Artists, in all Lines, for Spring Tour. Send full particulars and recent photo. No interviews unless by appointment. Address, 107, Esmond-rd., Bedford Park, W.

PAUMIER AND HOWARD'S TOUR.
WANTED, a First-class Heavy Man, also a Leading Lady, for Satanella, in "The Midnight Wedding." Apply, Brixton Theatre, S.W.

WANTED, Ladies and Gentlemen of experience and reliability, for Dramatic Stock Season, at the Haymarket Theatre, Liverpool. Address, with lowest terms, &c., Frank Emery, Man.

WANTED, for Monday next, Nov. 23, smart Lady and Gentleman, for Responsibles, for Stock. H. Lewis write. Manager, Theatre, Greyhound Hotel, Cheadle, Staffs.

WANTED, Kate, Brown, Sir Victor, and Chorus, for "Dandy Fifth."
Clarence Corri, Artillery Theatre, Woolwich.

WANTED, First-class Heavy Actor (tall, emotional), also Conscientious Young Actor, for small part and assistant stage-management, probably London. Photographs, references, and fullest particulars to Z., c/o Deane and Russell, 32, Regent-st., W.

ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Tall, Gentlemanly Actor, for the Parson, also for Doctor; Long Fit-up Tour, open Dec. 23. Terms, references, Rushbury, Lesmahagow.

WANTED, for a West-End Trial Show, First-class Bass Baritone, 6ft.; must be good Actor. Apply, 4 till 5, 1, Kenbury-mansions, Camberwell.

WANTED, Good Baritone Chorus Gentleman, also Boy Chorister. Lowest terms, Arthur Carlton, Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, Dramatic Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Sons' Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the Publisher, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, by young experienced Dramatic Leading and Heavy Lady, Engagement, Sketch in Halls; invest small sum if necessary. Address, Box 5,166, "The Era."

WANTED, by Dora Blanche, Child's part in Drama, to look 11 or 12 years old, Boy preferred. 30, Rylett-road, Shepherd's Bush, W.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS WANTED.

FRED J. LITTLE'S
MUSICAL, DRAMATIC, AND VARIETY AGENCY,
4, Arthur-street, New Oxford-street, London W.C.
Telegraphic Address, "Wontiod, London."
'Phone 1626 Gerrard.
Representative, Corliss Claflin.

WANTED, Pantomime Artists, Comedians for Dames, Pages, Atkins, Principal Boys, Principal Girls, Chorus Ladies and Gentlemen, and big Specialities.
All communications as above.

Pantomime.
WANTED, for Pantomime, Xmas next, two First-class Comedians, for the Policemen in "Aladdin," also a well-known Comedian, for Will Atkins, in "Robinson Crusoe."
Terms, full particulars, to Ernest Dottridge, Empire, Oldham.

WANTED, good Pantomime Comedian. Send names and addresses, last two references, age, height, lowest terms. Arthur Carlton, Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, for Provincial London Pantomime, First-class Comedian; also for London Production, Child Actress, must be very small. Apply immediately, C. St. John Denton, 34, Maidenlane, Strand.

WANTED, Pantomime Artists all descriptions, for Fit-up Pantomime; long tour. Photo., lowest terms, to Hargreaves, Town Hall, Dawley, Salop.

Chorus Ladies
WANTED, for Pantomime.
Call 12 o'clock, Tuesday,
Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham Junction.

WANTED, Acrobatic Troupe Lady Dancers, Fairy Queen, Palace Speciality, Chorus Ladies, for Tour. Call, Weathersby's Agency, 3, Bedford-street, W.C.

WANTED, for Panto., and Long Engagement to follow, young, pretty Acrobatic and Step Dancer. Apply (practice dress), Saturday and Wednesday, at 10 o'clock. Browning, 4, Pimlico-road, S.W.

WANTED, Artists Engaged for JAMES KIDDIE'S PANTOMIMES,
"ALADDIN,"
"CINDERELLA,"
"DICK WHITTINGTON,"
to send present addresses, so that Parts may be forwarded.
James Kiddie, Alexandra Theatre, Widnes.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, by Crissie Cross, smart Singer and Dandy Dancer, at Liberty for Panto., Principal or Second Girl. Address, c/o 7, Loughborough-road, Brixton, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Ada Twibell, Disengaged Panto., Principal Boy. Offers invited.
39, Gateley-road, Brixton, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Babs Lloyd, Star Artist, vacant for Pantomime. This. Public Hall, Barnsley; next, Nov. 30, Grand T., Manchester.

WANTED, Engagement, Miss Connie Irwin, Panto., Principal Girl or Fairy Queen. Last year enormous success "Forty Thieves," Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Dundee. 12, Rugby-road, Dublin.

WANTED, Known, Miss Louie Hurman, at Liberty for Panto., Principal Boy, last year Alex., Sheffield. Perm., 7, Canonbury-avenue, Highbury, London, N.

WANTED, Known, Edna Cragge, an Ideal Principal Boy, an Artist, Vocalist, and Dancer. Last year, Robin Hood, Carlton T., Birmingham. 1a, Arlesford-road, Clapham, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Lillie Hales, Queen of the Wooden Shoe. Vacant Panto., Second Girl. This, King's, Hanley; next, Grand, Manchester.

WANTED, by Young Girl, 16, Pantomime Chorus, or Child Part in Drama; not experienced, but capable. Now travelling. Ward's Variety Co., Post Office, Cramlington.

WANTED, by Jimmy Edgar, Knockabout Pocket Comedian, Panto; last season with E. Graham Falcon, Esq.: also Ida Verne, Character Sketch Artists and Vocalist, Second Girl or Boy. Joint or Single. C/o "The Era."

WANTED, Panto, Bu-Val, Happy Dutchman (Concertina), Dame preferred.
Starring, Empire, Wigan.

WANTED, by Bert Warner, good Posturer and Pantomimist, Engagement in Panto., Animal Part preferred. Coms., 113, Herbert-road, Manor Park, E.

WANTED, Known, Jack Foley, at Liberty for Panto., Dame.
Perm., 7, Canonbury-avenue, Highbury, London, N.

WANTED, Engagement, by First-class Pantomimist and Knockabout Comedian; used to Animal Parts, Leaps, &c. M. D., 31, Trinity-square, Brixton.

WANTED, by Leo, Panto.; Play any Comedy Parts or Speciality; Play Clown and produce Harlequinade as I produced at Drury Lane. Address, Leo Gilbert, Palace, Exeter.

WANTED, Panto., by Cambo, the Musical Monkey. Address, this week, Hippodrome, Margate; next, Hippodrome, Dover.

WANTED, by Harry Kirk, Panto. Engagement. Will Atkins, Baron, Billy Crusoe (tall); Facial Speciality, Vocalist and Patter. This, Pav., Liverpool; next, King's, Manchester.

WANTED, Dates, for the Most Wonderful Trampoline Act on the Stage. Special Scene Act for Pantomime. Success with any class of Audience. Acrobatic Dog Prince, with brains. The Pets, 54, Upper Sutton-street, Aston, Birmingham.

WANTED Known, World-famed Young Colossus. 19 years of age, 35st. weight; at Liberty Nov. 30 for Panto. Offers. Pook, c/o "The Era."

WANTED, Pantomime, by Nash and Noel.
This, City V., Leeds; next, Pavilion, Glasgow.

WANTED, Known, Blarney and Kennard, Vacant Panto.; thoroughly experienced, Parts and Speciality. 33, Stafford-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Pantomime, The Altons, Demon Contortionists; also Tella and Gardelle, Gymnasts; two distinct Specialities. 6, Victoria Park-road, London.

WANTED, Pantomime Parts and Speciality, by Malone and Conley. Comedians and Comedy Boxers; five years with F. J. Little. Wire, 163, Scholefield-street, Birmingham.

WANTED, Known, Read and Wright, Vacant Panto., Second Boy and Dames, or Principal Comedian. A Sure Success. Perm. add., 4, Royley-street, Old-street, E.C.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Known, The Dandy Droits, Versatile Vocalists and Dancers, Vacant for Panto. with their New and Original Speciality Dutch Scena, entitled "Tulip Time." Pretty Stage Effects with 1000 Tulips. Wire or write, 18, Herndon-road, Wandsworth, S.W.

WANTED.—Returned from Continent, after Enormous Success, and Free for Panto., or otherwise. An exceptionally Clever and Attractive Troupe of Six Smart, Fine Girls (not children), Acrobatic, Spanish, or any Kind of Dancing and Singing. Can be seen in London. Address for appointment. Manager, 24, Rochester-square, London, N.W.

THE FOUR DELAWARES,
in their most Novel Knockabout Act.
"REVELS IN A BILLIARD SALOON."
WANTED, Pantomime, Parts and Specialities, four people. Enormous Success this week, Zoo, Glasgow; next, 33, Wynford-st., Eccles New-road, Salford, Manchester.

WANTED, Pantomime, the Greatest Sensation of the Century,
Le Diabelo, Looping the Devil's Wheel,
Three Successful Seasons Looping the Loop and this Act with Arthur Gibbons, Esq.
Address, 37, Chipley-street, New Cross, London.

WANTED, Engagement, by H. Quinette, for Palace Scene in Pantomime or on Variety Stage, with Pony and Troupe of ten Performing Dogs. Address, Quinette, Bryntirion Farm, Rhyl.

SCENIC ARTISTS WANTED.

Scenic Artists.
WANTED, two for Touching-up; must be quick and capable. If suitable, long engagement. Write, enclosing references and lowest salary, to "Scenic," London Exhibitions, Ltd., Earl's Court.

SCENIC ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Contracts, for Painting Scenery, First-class Work guaranteed. Cecil E. Hicks, Painting Room, Princess's Theatre, Oxford-street, London, W.

WANTED, Scenery Contracts, Productions. Our Paint Frames, 40 by 24; Theatres completely fitted with Scenery, Ropes, Blocks, Cleats, &c. Estimates and Designs submitted free. Scenery bought and exchanged. Fred Wilkins and Bro., Ltd., 54, Whitechapel, Liverpool. Telegrams "Theatrical."

WANTED, Contracts for every description of Scenery, Pantomime, Stock, &c.
Scenic Studio, Gaiety, Blyth.

WANTED, Contracts for High-class Effective Scenery, very lowest prices; Scenery repainted or adapted. W. B. Robinson, 170, King's-road, S.W

WANTED, Contracts for Scenery; Effective, Artistic Work, Good Joinery, Moderate Prices. Large Studio and Workshop. Charles Sayer, Scenic Artist, 2, Clarendon-road, Croydon.

WANTED, Wanted, Known,
W. Bernasconi, Scenic Artist,
53, St. James's-place, Liverpool.

WANTED, Known, K. J. McLennan, Scenic Artist, can arrange Engagement for First-class Theatre, or accept Contracts. Prince of Wales' Theatre, Birmingham.

WANTED, by Philip Small, Scenic Artist, Engagement or Contract; Town or Provinces. Address, 26, Elgin-terrace, Maida Vale, London.

WANTED, Engagement, by Fred Stafford, Scenic Artists. First-class references and designs. 24, Shearer-road, Portsmouth.

MISCELLANEOUS.

EMPIRE, EDMONTON.
WANTED, Known, the above Theatre will Open about Christmas. All applications to be addressed to Managing-Director, 18, Adam-street, Strand, W.C.
Please state qualifications and references to save unnecessary delay.

WANTED, an experienced Dramatic Author who understands French, to collaborate with Advertiser.
Address,
Box 5,164, "The Era."

WANTED, a First-class Author, to write up Advertiser's idea for Sketch.
Only one capable of writing a really clever and witty dialogue need apply.

T., 121, Constantine-road, Hampstead.

JAZON and NIGHTINGALE'S ENTERPRISES.
WANTED, to Open Dec. 7, Resident Acting-Manager (young), Shorthand-Typist preferred. State age, salary (lowest), references in first letter. Society or other guarantee required. T. R., West Bromwich.

WANTED, a thoroughly Experienced Business-Manager, to take entire charge of Musical and Dramatic Business. Apply, Fred Karno, 28, Vaughan-road, Camberwell, S.E.

WANTED, a First-class Manager, also two Advance Agents for Pantomime. Particulars, refs., &c., to Edith St. Clare, Hippodrome, Oldham.

WANTED, Two Young Acting-Managers; must find guarantees. Write, giving full particulars in first place, to Pringle's Picture Palace, Glasgow.

WANTED, Smart Organiser of Minstrel Troupe on New Lines. Send copy refs. and state salary.
W. Yates Gregory, Theatre Royal, Shrewsbury.

WEST BROMWICH HIPPODROME.
WANTED, First-class Billposter, not afraid of work. Apply to Will Collins, Hippodrome, West Bromwich.

WANTED, Good Advertising Canvasser. Last two references.
Arthur Carlton, Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, a Competent Man, to take entire charge of Bars in a Suburban Music Hall. Previous experience necessary. Apply, with particulars, by letter only (no callers) to Wilmot Edson, 24, Cranbourn-street, W.C.

WANTED, Maid, Personal, and Experienced, for an Actress; must be of fair education, neat in appearance, under thirty, and Protestant, must speak English and German (or French), to travel in Germany immediately.
Call, Scala Theatre,
Stage Door, to-day 3 to 5 and Sunday 10 to 12.

WANTED, for Panto., Open at Once, First-class Wardrobe Mistress. Send copy of references and state lowest salary, to Manager, Theatre Royal, Merthyr.

WANTED, Re-engagement as Resident or Assistant-Manager; experienced Dramatic and Variety, Advertising Bars, &c. Harry Pease, 25a, Queen-street, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Situation, by smart, experienced Stage and General Manager; combine both; used to Lightning Programme; twice nightly L., 13n, Gladstone-street, Abertillery.

WANTED, by Advance Agent or Manager, a Shop, for India and East; good Shows only; 30 years' experience here; cheap. Address, Babington and Co., Post-master, Bombay.

WANTED, Known, Lady Expert Shorthand Typist desires Re-engagement; thoroughly experienced Theatre Work, &c.; highest refs. Miss Hearnden, Hazelmere, Chadfield-road, Dumfield, Derby.

WANTED, by Practical Property Master and Carpenter, Engagement, permanent or good Touring Co. Wire or write, E. Limcar, 15, Manor-street, Bradford.

WANTED, Known, Amy Samwells, First-class Wardrobe Mistress, Costumier and Renovator, Disengaged through disappointment. Address, 8a, Electric-avenue, Brixton, London.

WANTED, Engagement, by Lady's Maid and Wardrobe Mistress; good refs., last four years. Dis. early Dec. Duke, 28, St. Paul's-road, Kennington.

MUSICIANS WANTED.

WANTED, one more Conductor, for Pantomime Tour. Those not receiving replies to last enquiry please write in again.
Address, J. F. Elliston, Bolton.

WANTED, steady and reliable Musical-Director (Violinist); must be used to First-class Variety Business (twice nightly). Apply, stating age, and with latest references, to H. F. Miller, Hippodrome, Stoke.

WANTED, Violin, Conductor; good, steady and reliable; used to Variety, Drama, and Pantomime. References, lowest permanency (resident), Williams, Gaiety, Dundee.

HARRY ROXBURY'S PRODUCTIONS.
WANTED, First-class Musical Conductor-Pianist, able to arrange, open immediately, sobriety indispensable, long engagement to reliable man. Terms, refs., photos., &c., Harry Roxbury, Empire, Edinburgh.

WANTED, First-class Leader and Solo Violin, to sail Nov. 26, and remain on the White Star Line Mediterranean Service until April.
Chas. W. Black, 14, Castle-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, First-class Leader and Solo Violin, Pianist and 'Cellist, for Hotel in Jamaica. Engagement from Dec. 8 until April, 1909.
Terms and conditions from Charles Wm. Black, 14, Castle-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, First Violin immediately, used to Variety; must be First-class Player, or useless. Wire lowest terms, Edwardes, Palace, Derby.

WANTED, for Tivoli, Dublin (twice nightly), competent Leader, and Double Drummer with Effects. Send references, terms, &c., Musical-Dir.

WANTED, an experienced Solo Cornet.
Apply, with latest references, to Mus.-Dir., H. M. Theatre, Aberdeen.

WANTED, at Once, Lady Cornet and Drums, with Tympani if possible. Send lowest terms and refs. to Musical-Director, Hippodrome, Mechanics' Hall, Dumfries.

WANTED, Solo Cornet, must be First-class Player, open Nov. 30. Age and refs.
Frederic Braham, Regent Theatre, Salford.

WANTED, Solo Cornet, for Pitching, in London (West End). Terms Shares. Bandmaster, 15, Shroton-street, Lisson-grove, London, N.W.

WANTED, Clarionet, Cornet, Horn, Euphonium, for Pitching.
77, Carlisle-street, Edgware-road.

WANTED, for the Royal Carl Rosa Opera Company, First-rate Bassoon Player, thoroughly experienced in Grand Opera, and possess a Flat pitch instrument; also a thoroughly experienced Bass Chorister.
Apply to Walter Van Noorden, Theatre R., Belfast.

WANTED, First-class Trombonist, for Musical Show, now on tour; must be good Sight-reader, and able to play a second instrument, either reed or string (all the three preferable). Reply, with full particulars of age, height, &c., to Moran, 44, Grafton-street, Manchester.

WANTED, good 'Cello, to Open Nov. 30, permanency. Apply, with age, terms, and references, Chas. Elphinstone, Theatre R., Hanley.

WANTED, immediately, for Important Concert Party, fully booked now and onwards, young and attractive Lady Pianist; must read and accompany well; one with voice preferred. Apply, personally, 12 o'clock Saturday, Blackmore's, 11, Garrick-street.

WANTED, Pianist, Violin, Clarionet, Long Run, Fridays till Mondays, four nights, commence once. Lowest terms, Mr. Phillips, Public Baths, Barking.

DUNDEE PALACE THEATRE VARIETIES.
WANTED, Pianist, to open Nov. 30.
Terms to Musical-Director.

PARAGON THEATRE OF VARIETIES,
LONDON, E.
WANTED, Double Drummer, with all Effects, to open Monday, Nov. 30; must be well up in Variety business.
Terms and references to Conductor.

WANTED, Season 1909, Seaside, six months, commencing Easter, Tympanist, Drums, and all Effects; experienced Concert Work; also Pianist and Accompanist, combine Viola; both combine Librarian. Box 5,177, "The Era."

WANTED, Mandolinist, smart Young Lady, immediately, quick reader and memoriser; long Engagement. Letters, Box 5,176, "The Era."

WANTED, the following First-class Musicians: Leader (Solo Violin and Conductor), Pianist, 'Cellist and Bass, for Booth Line, Jan. 1, permanency to suitable Musicians; Répétiteur and 'Cellist, for Mauretania, Jan. to April; Leader (Solo Violin), Répétiteur, Pianist, 'Cellist, and Contrabassist, for Cunard Line, Jan., 1909.

Audition necessary in London or Liverpool before engagement.
Applicants state age and give two references as to character and ability, to
Chas. Wm. Black,
14, Castle-street, Liverpool.

W. HAMILTON'S EXCURSIONS.
WANTED, to open Dec. 21, at Birmingham, Violin, Trombone, and Double Drummer, with all effects; must have good appearance, wear evening dress, and be absolutely steady and reliable. Lowest terms and references, Coliseum, Leeds.

WANTED, for Dumfries shortly, for large Ladies' Orchestra; Full Strings, Flutes, Clarionets, Oboe, Bassoons, Cornets, Trombone, Drums with Tympani. Send lowest terms, refs., &c., to Musical-Director, Hippodrome, Mechanics' Hall, Dumfries.

FUN CITY DRILL HALL, BATH.
Dec. 24, 1908, to Jan. 16, 1909.
The first Show of its kind ever held in Bath.
WANTED, Ladies' Band, Shooter, Fish Pond, Ring Board, Games, Cocoanuts, Novelty Side-shows. Apply Carl Fredericks, 4, Brunswick-street, Bath.

WANTED, experienced Lady Orchestral Players immediately; must be Sight-readers. Apply, Dare, 151a, Windmill-road, Brentford.

WANTED.—Musicians "Out of Shop" and Bandmasters requiring Instrumentalists will do well to try an advertisement in the "Wanted" Columns of "The Era." One Shilling expended on Twenty Words (each additional Six Words Sixpence) is likely to bring successful results, as explained in the following letters from grateful Advertisers:—

FROM A MUSICIAN:—
To the Manager of "The Era" Advert. Dept.,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.
Re Advertisement
"'WANTED, ENGAGEMENT BY CORNET.'
"Thanks for inserting above in the last number of your paper. I have obtained a comfortable shop. Had seventeen replies. You need not put in the second insertion.
"Yours truly, 'A Grateful Musician.'"

FROM A BANDMASTER."
"Re Advertisement, 'WANTED, DRUMMER.'
"Please do not insert my advt. for the second insertion, as I am pleased to say I have had twenty replies, and secured a Drummer.
"Yours truly, Philip Germann, Bandmaster,
"Littlehampton."

WANTED, Musicians who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls, or from any Newsagent in the United Kingdom, to kindly communicate with the Publisher, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Engagement, by Michael Connelly, Musical Director (Violin), large and valuable library. Pantomimes, Dramas, &c., composed and arranged. Victoria Theatre Ramsgate.

WANTED, Engagement, by Musical-Director, same capacity, in Restaurant, Theatre, or Music Hall, 18 years' practical experience, Brilliant Violinist; extensive and up-to-date Library. Apply, Box 5,159, "The Era."

WANTED, by Conductor, Appointment, good Music Hall or Theatre, 20 years' London experience best Orchestras. CONDUCTOR, 20, Sutherland-terrace, Pimlico, London.

WANTED, immediate Re-engagement as Leader or First Violin, Theatres, Restaurants; London suburbs. OSCAR CREMER, 10, Caithness-road, Mitcham, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement as Leader or First Violin, at Liberty, owing to Theatre closing. Address, JOSEPH HARGREAVES, Royal Palace Theatre, Ramsgate.

WANTED, Engagement, by Leader, good Violinist, used to Variety business, and reliable, Lancashire district preferred. Address, VIOLINIST, 11, Gilpin-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Engagement, as Leader or First Violin; experienced Variety and Dramatic. Address, A. PARISI, 31, Grafton-road, Worthing.

WANTED, Known, Edythe Reeve, Violinist, Now at Liberty to accept Engagements, any Business. 60 Kimberley-gardens, Green-lanes, Harringay, N.

WANTED, Known, Hetty Austin, Violinist, just finished five months' engagement; Ada Austin, Pianist and Accompanist. 152, Herbert-road, Plumstead, S.E.

WANTED, by Second Violin, Engagement, Only moderate wage desired. Box 5,161, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, as First Violin; can combine First Cornet if required. F. ASBURY, Eastchurch, Sheerness.

WANTED, Known, Jennie Murdoch, experienced Violinist, Disengaged Nov. 29. Exhibition, 75-76, Pearl-buildings, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Engagement, good reliable Violinist, thoroughly experienced; excellent references. T. REEVE, 11, Kenilworth-villas, Ruckholt-road, Leyton, London.

WANTED, Known, at Liberty, Second Violin, any Business. C. DAVENPORT, 2, Gardners-square, Bengeworth, Evesham, Worcs.

WANTED, Engagement, as First Violin, Variety Business, Dances; or would deputise, &c. VIOLINIST, 6, Bryan-place, Caledonian-road, London, N.

WANTED, Engagement, good Solo Cornet, highest references, now at Liberty. C. THOMAS, 71, Eswyn-road, Tooting, S.W.

WANTED Engagement as Cornet; experienced and reliable. Theatre or Music Hall. BENNETT, 9, Belhaven-street, Grove-road, E.

WANTED, an Engagement, by a Solo Cornet; thoroughly experienced, any Business; Open at Once. NUTTALL, 45, Mount-street, Derby.

WANTED, Known, Cornettist, good; excellent references; at Lib. any time; 15 years' experience; abstainer. JOHANNIDES, Shady-grove, Alsager, near Crewe.

WANTED, by Clarionet, Combine Violin, would play in return of work, just finished 16½ years in Navy. H. S., 20, Hetton-st., Hammersmith.

WANTED, Engagement, reliable Double Bass; experienced Grand Opera, Musical Comedies, Standard Overtures, &c.; 5 years' good reference. C. CHUPPT, 7, Brighton-road, Aldershot, Hants.

WANTED, Known, Bassoonist, at Liberty Nov. 28, for Oratorios, Musical Comedies, Theatre, or any Business. C. E. SHAW, 7, Winifred-street, Blackpool.

WANTED, Known, Bassoonist, Open for Engagements, Military or Orchestral; age 27; A.M.U.; good references; sober and reliable. Address, 7, Sutton-st., Holloway Head, Birmingham.

WANTED, Engagement, String Bass, any district; used to Variety; refs. J. REEVES, 9, Melling-st., Plumstead Common, Kent.

WANTED, Engagement, Bassoon, Pantomime, Variety, or any other business. Excel. refs. Address, Box 5,173, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by Lady Double Bass, well experienced, orchestral or variety business. Box 5,178, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, as Trombone, thoroughly experienced, steady and reliable; refs.; any business. S. SMITH, 7, Cross-street, Hove, Brighton.

WANTED, Engagement, as Trombone or Euphonium; thoroughly experienced. Address, J. J. HUTCHINSON, 1, Greek-st., Nottingham.

WANTED, Engagement, Trombonist; experienced and reliable; Theatre or Music Hall; could join at once. PEEL, 20, Warley-street, Parkinson-lane, Halifax.

WANTED, by Euphonium, Engagement, in any Band; willing to work; good references. J. WILLIAMS, Oxford View, Junction-road, Cowley, Oxford.

WANTED, by experienced Euphonium, Engagement; can open at once; any business; excellent refs. CHARLES GRICE, c/o Post Office, Worcester.

WANTED, Engagement, permanency, First Horn, 6 years' experience in Orchestral work, commence at once. Write, FRENCH HORN, 86, Richmond-road, Dalston, N.E.

WANTED, Engagement, by Smart Young 'Cellist; Soloist; experienced in Hotel work. 'CELLIST, Grand Central Hotel, Leeds.

WANTED, Known, Miss Ethel Litolff, experienced 'Cellist, Dis. Nov. 29; completed long engagement. Address, Exhibition, 75-76, Pearl-buildings, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Known, Miss Lilian Sexton, Violoncellist, is at Liberty for Engagements or Deputising; Experienced. Address, 11, Kelross-road, Highbury, N.

WANTED, Known, Viola, Double Second Clar., Military Band. Disengaged. F. DAY, 105, Hydethorpe-road, Balham, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement, by Flute and Piccolo Player; experienced, steady, reliable, any business; excellent refs. FLAUTIST, 15, Trebernerd-road, Brixton, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement, by Flautist, well experienced in any business. Box 5,163, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by experienced Flute and Piccolo, competent of any business, reliable, excellent references. THOMAS HURN, 21, Gerald-street, Swansea.

WANTED, Engagement, by Pianist, thoroughly experienced in Variety and Dramatic business. L. MAJOR HORNSEY, 9, Temperance-terrace, Ushaw Moor, Durham.

WANTED, Engagement, Lady Pianist, good Accompanist, and Sight-reader, or Ladies' Orchestra. Well recommended. M. SCULLEY, 12, Stockwell Park-road.

WANTED, Engagement, experienced Tympanist, Double Drums and Effects, Glockenspiel, Xylophone; highest refs.; can open at once. Address, G. PAUL, 2, Wood-street, Oxford.

WANTED, Engagement, Double Drums, used to Variety work. H. GRAR, 249, Eversleigh-road, Battersea.

WANTED, Engagement as First-class Drums, own Tymps, Glockenspiel, E Flat Tubular Bells. NEVILL, 163, St. Leonard's-road, Windsor.

WANTED, Engagement, Drums and Tympani, any Business; excellent refs. E. CALVERT, 42, Alfred street, Bury.

WANTED, Engagement, by Double Drummer, own Tymp. and all Effects; used to all Business; good refs. J. E. CLEGG, 58, Greek-street, Soho-square, London only.

WANTED, Engagements, Red Bohemian Ladies' Orchestra, any number. Apply, MADAME OLIVER, Ashmoor, Leigh-on-Sea.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Known, First-class Orchestra, is open to Re-engagement, Hotels, Restaurants, &c., &c., any number; good Répertoire. Terms moderate, Box 5,175, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Algernon Clarke's Orchestras and Ladies' Bands, Exhibitions, Concerts, Dinners, Dances. Uniforms and Music for Sale or Hire. 28, Lonsdale-road, Barnes. Telephone 109 Putney.

WANTED, by Miss Winnie Watson's Ladies' Poppy Orchestra and Vocalists, from Franco-British, Palace Pier, Brighton, Edinburgh Exhib. 14, Gladstone-terrace, Brighton.

WANTED, Engagement, small Brass Band (or any number), all reliable, at Liberty Nov. 23 and on; terminating fifth season Fossett's Circus. RICHARDS, c/o Mrs. F. Ferris, Defford, Worcester.

CIRCUS ARTISTS WANTED.

HENGLER'S,
HENGLER'S,
GLASGOW.
GLASGOW.

WANTED, Wanted, Wanted, a Good Comedy Act, to open Saturday, Nov. 28, for one month or longer.

Address, with full particulars, Mr. HENGLER, Grand Cirque, Glasgow.

WANTED, for Hanneford's Circus, World's Fair, Royal Agricultural Hall, London, good useful Circus Artists in all Lines, for the Season, to communicate at once to Sir EDWARD HANNEFORD, 27, Third-avenue, Consbrook-avenue, Strandtown, Belfast.

WANTED, Equestrians, males and females, also Great Attractions, for Continent; great vacancies. Appointment only. GUISE, 25, Bonham-road, Brixton. Silence polite negative.

WANTED, Acrobats, Three-bar, Wire, Aerial, and all Latest Novelties (Artists doing Double Acts preferred, for Easter Monday, April 12, Whit Monday, May 31, and August Bank Holiday. Send sample lithos. (if any) and lowest terms to WILDERS, Agents, Gt. Francis-st., Birmingham.

WANTED, for London, Dec. 7, onward, Acrobats, Gymnasts, Comedy Jugglers, Eccentrics, Cyclists, and First-class Specialities; also any Dumb-shows, suitable for Ring or Stage. Absolute lowest terms and vacant dates to SAM L. BURY'S Agency, 35, Park-hill, Clapham Park, S.W. Artists unwilling to pay 10% need not apply.

WANTED, Easter, Whitsuntide, Aug. Bank Holiday Fêtes. Star Lofty and Ground Acts. Lithos., Memos., T. GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

WANTED, an Acrobatic Troupe (Males), four or five in number, Winter Season Engagement, London. Apply, Box 5,171, "The Era."

WANTED, Circus Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls, to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C

CIRCUS ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Circus Proprietors and Hippodrome Managers, to Know that THE ROYAL OHMYS, the great Acrobatic Bareback Riders, have returned to England after eight months' engagement in Denmark and Sweden. Opened last Monday at Gilbert's Grand Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth, and made the greatest success ever known at that Circus; after first performance was re-engaged by Mr. Gilbert till end of January. THE ROYAL OHMYS, Royal Riders to the Crown Prince of Denmark, will be at Liberty Feb. 2, with six good Acts and five Horses. For particulars address, THE ROYAL OHMYS, Gilbert's Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, by Paun Bujor, the late Buffalo Bill's Rough Rider, who presents his thoroughbred Mare in her Novelty Act, Racing Tricks. Apply, Maerdy, Glam., South Wales.

WANTED, Known, Ada Webb's Water Wonders, still scoring. This, King's Theatre, Kilmarnock; next, Town Hall, Falkirk.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

HARMONIC ASSOCIATION.

WANTED, Known, these Concerts ceased Oct. 31, 1908. Artists please note, and cancel dates WM. BIGGAM, Sec., 397, Paisley-road West, Glasgow.

WORCESTER PALACE OF VARIETIES.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, Twice Nightly; also WORCESTER EMPIRE, (twice nightly). Wanted, Artists doing Double Turns, used to Picture Shows. No wires, please. ARTHUR CARLTON, Palace, Worcester.

KING'S THEATRE, EDINBURGH.

WANTED, First-class Variety Star Artists, all Lines. Nothing too Big. A. MASCARD, Manager.

KING'S, KILMARNOCK.
Lessee and Manager, J. CUMMINGS.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines. Big Star Attractions. Nothing too Big.

BRITANNIA, GLASGOW.

WANTED, Variety Artists in all Lines, Dec. 7 and onwards. Hall small, so terms must be in proportion. Apply to A. E. PICKARD, Sole Proprietor and Manager.

WANTED, Star Variety Artists, Immediate and Future Dates. Bookings and lowest terms first letter. Fête and Galas, Season, 1909. Sensational and Big Novelties. Send lithos., terms, and permanent address, EDGAR STEBBINGS, 23, Egerton-street, Manchester. Telegrams, "Stebbing, Manchester." 'Phone 261.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, all Lines, Novelties, Specialities, &c., Nov. 30, onwards. Hall small, so no fancy prices. Lowest terms, particulars, LOUDEN, Hippodrome, Airdrie, N.B.

WANTED, Monday, Nov. 30, and onwards, Variety Artists, all Lines, good Specialities. Particulars, KITCHINGMAN, Aquarium, Scarborough.

WANTED, Variety Artists in all Lines, Acts with Drawing Powers (Nothing too Big), Nov. 23, onwards. CLAGGERS, Gaiety, Blyth.

HARROGATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists (nothing too big), for Monday next and onwards, Harrogate, York, and Scarborough. Apply WILLIAM PEACOCK. Silence a polite negative.

WANTED, Variety Artists all Lines, Big Top for Nov. 30, for Midlands and North. No Act too big. Artists all Lines for all dates, address CLIQUOT, 46, Brunswick-street, Manchester.

WANTED, Variety Artists in all Lines, immediate dates, Star Sensational Act. Wire for Monday, Share or Salary. MANAGER, Hippodrome, Gainsborough.

PAVILION, NORTHWICH.
Proprietress, Mrs. FLETCHER.
General-Manager, Mr. TOWYN THOMAS.
Assistant-Manager, Mr. REGINALD FLETCHER.

WANTED, Artists, Dec. 14, onwards. Call for Monday next, A. W. Thompson and Co., Comedy Sketch, "Missing 300." Fred Ford, Ivy Dane, Bert Rayburn, Miss Bell Russell's Dramatic Co. in "The Convict's Revenge," Alf Brookes, Ruffell's Bioscope. Rehearsal 1 sharp. Gen.-Man., TOWYN THOMAS.

WANTED, Star Artists all Lines, for Immediate and Future Dates. WILLIAM MOULD, Central Palace, North Shields.

VICTORIA T., STANLEY, CO. DURHAM.

WANTED, Star Artists for immediate and Future Dates. T. C. RAWES, Proprietor.

WANTED, Artists, Double Turns (Lady and Gent.), doing Singles, Dec. 14, 21, 28, Jan. 4, 11. Single turns also the latter dates. CHARLES A. JAMES, Waxworks and Varieties, Dublin.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

Want of luck generally means want of pluck.
PACEY'S AGENCY,
186, Brixton-road, London, S.W..
TOM PACEY, Sole Proprietor.

WANTED, Artists of all Kinds. None too Big for this Firm. Artists of all Grades treated fairly. I charge 10 per cent. No objectionable Re-engagement clause. Pay only for work done. PACEY'S AGENCY can book everywhere. Never mind what you hear. Pacey is barred nowhere. But still, remember, the man without an enemy is a nonentity. If you want dates, send your full list of bookings and price, PACEY'S AGENCY. Sole Proprietor, TOM PACEY, 186, Brixton-road, London. 'Phone, 87 Brixton. Telegrams, "Pacey's, London." Telegrams, "Pacey's, London." 186, Brixton-road, London, S.W.

GEORGE SMYTHSON'S AGENCY.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, Good Acts known to me please send full list of Bookings (including Engagements played throughout 1908), must have list of Bookings, or useless writing. Kindly remember I know your real market value, so no "tricks on travellers," but actual lowest London and Provincial terms in each instance. Good Novel Acts not known to me state when and where can be seen. No Acts submitted unless seen and approved. Silence a polite negative pro tem.

Permanent address, 38, Craster-road, Brixton Hill, London, S.W. Week commencing Nov. 23 address, 40, Scarboro'-street, West Hartlepool.

FRED DURHAM'S AGENCY.

WANTED, Artists, in all Lines, Nov. 30, on 1a, Loughboro'-rd., Brixton. 'Phone 15 Brixton

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, from now onwards, Apply, Mr. J. J. SCOTT, Empire, Wrexham.

DREW BAYLEY'S AGENCY,
170, Saltmarket, Glasgow.

WANTED, Artists in every Line, big and small. Artists coming North will do well to write me for immediate and later dates.

VERNO'S AGENCY.
16, Elizabeth-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, now and on. Telegrams, "Merriment." Telephone 2075 Royal.

WANTED, all Star Artists and Big Acts for Leading Music Halls, also Knockabout Comedians, Fitzwarren, Principal Girl for Pantomime. Photos., bookings, terms, &c., YATES, Agent, Gaiety, Dundee.

WANTED, Artists of all Description, for immediate Dates. Bigger the Better. J. CAMERON and Co., Variety Agents, All Saints' chambers, 46, Sydney-street, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Barnard's Agency, Shaw-street, Liverpool. 'Phone 2349 Royal. Artists in all Lines. Please send vacancies and bookings. Want Big Turns and Specialities.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines. If not known, send photographs, ANDREW MELVILLE, Metropole T., Birmingham.

GEO. GILBERT'S PALACE, EXETER.
Twice Nightly.

WANTED, First-class Artists, in all Lines, Nov. 30, onward. Apply, lowest terms, &c., GEO. ZALVA, General-Manager.

WANTED, Artists wishing to do a Trial Show at Empire, Shoreditch, Nov. 30, write to SAM HART, Agent, 7, Lancaster-house, Rushcroft-road, Brixton, London.

WANTED, all Clients to Send full Bookings. Important. FRANK LYNNE'S Agency, 77, Angell-road, Brixton, S.W. 'Phone 1,303, Brixton.

WANTED, Artists holding Contracts for Hippodrome, Spennymoor, to Note, the above Hall is Closed. KEEBLE'S Agency, Alexandra Theatre, Pontefract.

WANTED, Nov. 30, onwards, Stars, Novelties. Specialities, Artists in all Lines, Doubles doing Singles, &c., for Londonderry, Hawick, Dumfries, and other towns. Absolute lowest in all cases, and fullest particulars, DALY, Opera House, Londonderry.

WILL SLEY,
WILL SLEY,
WILL SLEY,
180, Oxford-road, Manchester.

WANTED, for Dec., Jan., and on, Star Turns, Comedians, Serios, Gymnasts, Acrobats, Bar Performers, and Any New and Novel Acts, also Comedy Sketches.

Those not willing to pay usual 10% commission save stamps.

Telegraphic address, "Variety, Manchester." Telephone, 09144.

WANTED, good cheap Turns for Hippodrome, Dumfries, Nov. 30 and onwards; must be good. Address, KEYFORD, Hippodrome, Dumfries.

MUNROE'S AGENCY. MUNROE'S AGENCY.

WANTED, Star Turns, to send full particulars. V.A.F. Office Copy. WALTER F. MUNROE (Lauder's Agent), Nov. 23, Hippodrome, Exeter.

WANTED, Big Star Turns, Greatest Acts in the Business. Something to follow Ella's Lions, Tokio Troupe. Communications, TOM DIACOFF, Alexandra Theatre, Pontefract.

WANTED, First-class Talent, all Lines, Immediate and Future Dates, for every Town of Note.

Artists please Note. This Agency is not on the "Endorsed" List, therefore 10 per cent. must be paid. JAMES FIONI'S Agency, 21, Norton-street, Liverpool. Telegrams, "Fioni, Liverpool." Telephone, 1686 Royal.

DEETRICH VAUDEVILLE BUREAU CO., 31, Islington, Liverpool. Gen-Manager, WM. LUND. 'Phone 1269 Royal. Wires, "Deetrich, Islington, Liverpool."

WANTED, Known, Always Vacancies for First-class Acts. Communicate with full list of bookings and rock-bottom terms, &c.

WANTED, Dec. 21, Jan. 4, 11, 18, onward, Animal Acts (not Dogs), Acrobats, Jugglers, Gymnasts, Hand Acts, Sensational Dramatic Sketches, nothing too big in Lines named. Please note.—I have nothing to offer for any other Line of Business. MARTINO'S Agency, 125, Barcroft-st., Grimsby.

HARRY WARD AND CO.,
ENGLISH AND CONTINENTAL VARIETY AGENCY,
24, Buckingham-st., Strand. Tel. 6474 Gerrard.

WANTED, Immediately, Big Star Variety Acts, Tops, Bottoms, for immediate and future bookings; also Artists, in all Lines. Send full list of vacancies, &c., where can be seen working. Letters only.
Notice to whom it may concern.—That Mr. A. Hampel is no longer connected with above firm.

WANTED, for Empire, Greenock, twice nightly, Star Acts. Nothing too Big. Salary or sharing terms; also Pantomimes and Combinations.

WANTED, Sensational Acts, Dumb Shows, Wild Animal Acts, Anything with Drawing Power, for Portsmouth "Arcadia." LESLIE, "Arcadia," Park-crescent-place, Brighton.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Artists of Note. Wanted, Wanted, Wanted,

DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY I can book you
DALTON'S AGENCY Immediate Dates,
DALTON'S AGENCY and
DALTON'S AGENCY Dates onward.
DALTON'S AGENCY No Guessing.
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY Send full list
DALTON'S AGENCY and very lowest
DALTON'S AGENCY (this essential),
DALTON'S AGENCY and permanent addresses,
DALTON'S AGENCY also
DALTON'S AGENCY weekly apartments
DALTON'S AGENCY address.
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY 29, Mauldeth-road West,
DALTON'S AGENCY Withington,
DALTON'S AGENCY Manchester.
DALTON'S AGENCY ? —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —
DALTON'S AGENCY — —

I said "Agency."

N.B.—State where never played.

WANTED, Nov. 30, on, Star and Top of the Bill Acts. I can fix you. Brinn write. Full Bookings, GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

W. HAMILTON'S EXCURSIONS.

WANTED, commencing Dec. 21, at Birmingham, Big Comedy Act; must be absolutely free from vulgarity. Address, Coliseum, Leeds.

WANTED, for Nov. 30, onward, Star Acts in all Lines. Star Acts in all Lines. Full up for smaller items. CADLE'S Agency, 105 and 106, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Special Dumb Shows of all Descriptions, from December and onwards. Apply, with full particulars and absolute lowest terms to HUGH JAY DIDCOT, LTD., 6, John-st., Adelphi, W.C.

PALACE THEATRE, GRIMSBY.
PALACE THEATRE, GRIMSBY.
PALACE THEATRE, GRIMSBY.

WANTED, Wanted, Wanted, Specialities, Spectacular Shows, Tops and Bottoms, for Dec. and onwards.

State when last in Grimsby, full particulars, and lowest terms, to MANAGER, Palace Theatre, Grimsby.

NEW LEIGH GRAND THEATRE AND HIPPODROME,
Grand Opening, Dec. 14, 1908.

WANTED, Star Specialities, all Lines, First-class, Dec. 14, and onwards. Quote absolute lowest terms, and where Act can be seen. Communications, WILLIAM BENSON, Man.-Dir., Hippodrome, Leigh.

ALBERT THEATRE, BRIGHOUSE.
QUEEN'S THEATRE, CASTLEFORD.

WANTED, the Greatest Attractions on the Road. Nothing too Big. Always Vacancies for Star Novelties, Star Dumb Acts, Star Comedians, Star Comediennes, Star Specialities. Share or salary. Artists of every Description. Artists who have written before write again. Everything booked direct. No agents. Will make a journey to see any Novelty. Full particulars, lithos., &c., BEANLAND and EMERSON, Albert Theatre, Brighouse.

PAVILION, ABERTILLERY.
PAVILION, ABERTILLERY.
PALACE, EBBW VALE.
PALACE, EBBW VALE.

WANTED, the Greatest Attractions that money can procure. Apply, with full particulars, to LEO FRITZ'S Variety Agency, Cecil House, 41, Charing Cross-road, W.C. Telephone 982 Gerrard. Telegrams, "Evelyncia, London."

WANTED, for the Joseph Poole's Myriorama, Big Attractions, to commence Dec. 24, at Bristol; also big Comedy and Sensational Acts, for Jan. 4, 11, 18, 25, and Feb. 1. Nothing too big; must be good. Add., POOLE, Drill Hall, Tiverton.

TEMPERANCE HALL, MERTHYR.

WANTED, the Greatest Attractions in the Profession, immediate and future Dates. Nothing too Big. State absolute lowest, and where acts can be seen. Apply, ISRAEL PRICE.

WANTED, for Palace Theatre, Reading, Tops and Bottoms of Bills, Several Dates, this and next year. Letters only, STANHOPE and Co., Ltd., 12, Buckingham-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Nov. 30, Dec. 14, 21, and 28, Animal Acts; in fact, anything that will Draw. Mark "Variety" when replying. W. YATES GREGORY, Theatre Royal and Hippo., Shrewsbury.

WANTED, Vocalists (good), Ladies and Gentlemen, for three nights, fit-up, Towns, for Picture Show. Only First-class Vocalists entertained. State lowest salary. All fares paid after joining. SECRETARY, Churchgate House, Stockport.

WANTED, Bass and Soprano, for small parts in Sketch, near Sheffield, for Nov. 30. JOHN LLOYD, Empire, Burnley.

WANTED, Gent., must be small; sing good Sentimental Song, for New Original Music Hall Show; good salary; £50 will be required (returnable), under your own control. Letters first to W. F., 109, Angell-road, Brixton.

WANTED, for "The Collar Stud," special week, Lancaster. Rehearse there Sunday, Man to speak six lines. Wire, BARTLETT, 63, Ham Park-road, West Ham.

WANTED, for Panto. and Long Engagement to follow, young, pretty Acrobatic and Step Dancers. Apply (practice dress), Saturday and Wednesday, at 1 o'clock. BROWNING, 4, Pimlico-road, S.W.

WANTED, at Once, Smart Midget Woman; must be well formed and perfect in proportion. Reply by letter, enclosing photo., to GEORGE AUGER, Empire, Edinburgh; next, E., Newcastle

STALYBRIDGE HIPPODROME.

WANTED, Comedians, Specialities, &c., Dec. 7, 14, 21, and later, Big Attractions, to follow Dr. Bodie, Harry Roxbury's Companies, &c., on Share or Certainty. JAMES FIONI'S Agency, 21, Norton-street, Liverpool. Telegrams, "Fioni, Liverpool." Telephone, 1686 Royal.

WANTED, Good Funny Comedian, for Castleford, Monday next; must be new to the town. Wire absolute lowest, BEANLAND and EMERSON, Albert Theatre, Brighouse.

WANTED, Clever Boys and Girls, small, over 14, able to Sing and Dance, for well-known Troupe. Apply HARRIS, 2, Malmesbury-road, Bow. Letters only. Photos. (if any) will be returned

WANTED, to join at Once, a Smart Youth, slight build, to assist Lady Illusionist. Send particulars, NAVEEDA, 32, Cavendish-street, Manchester.

WANTED, small Coloured Boy, between twelve and fourteen years of age, must dance well, a good home and long engagement for a suitable boy. Full particulars to HARRY STELLING, Apollo Theatre, Vienna, Austria.

WANTED, Bicycle Polo Team, to communicate with MANAGER, South Parade Pier, Southsea.

WANTED, smart Trick Cyclist, to play Bicycle Polo. Address all particulars, Box 5,174, "The Era."

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Boy, for Apprentice, age 16, to learn Trick Cycling. Photo, G. R., Hippodrome, Ton-y-Pandy, Wales.

WANTED, good Bioscope Operator, with own Apparatus, to join Gentleman in Refined Entertainment. Also good Conjurer, young. Write Box 5,160, c/o "Era."

WANTED, Bioscope Operator who understands Electric Arc working, about 50 ampères. Lowest wages, qualifications, LESLIE, Arcadia, Park Crescent-place, Brighton.

WANTED, for Electrical Dance Act, smart Lantern Operator, Electrician, both currents. MAUDE MURRAY, 23, Mall-road, Hammersmith.

WANTED, Music Hall Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Sons' Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Known.—Proprietors, Managers, Agents, please note. Mlle. Lumière's Electrical Fairy Grotto Dances, Vac. Dec. 14, also Panto. Wire or write, share or certainty, Nov. 23, return, Empire, Dudley; Nov. 30, return, Albert Hall, Southport; Dec. 7, return, Hippo., Wigan.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, the Greatest Mystery of Modern Times, Lilith, in her beautiful Palace of Roses, at Liberty Monday next, also Nov. 30. For a Sure Draw, wire, LILIAN WARREN, Tivoli, Dublin; after Saturday, 32, Cavendish-street, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Miss Rosaline Thorne, Contralto and Descriptive Vocalist. Illustrated Songs, Big Répertoire. 32, North-side, Clapham, S.W.

WANTED, Miss Beatrice Felstead, Concert or Illustrated Songs, vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 7, March 15, on. Specially engaged this week. ASHTON and MITCHELL, Royal Agency, Palace Pier, Brighton.

WANTED, by Connie Mascot, the Comedienne with a Voice, Monday and 30th. Sure success. Wire, Palace, Cork, or CLAXTON.

WANTED, by Little Dolly Brough, Refined Comedienne and Clog Dancer, Monday, wire, wire. Great success this week, Victoria Hall, York. Vac. Panto.

WANTED, 23rd and 30th, by Marie Colmore, the New Low Comedy Star. Wire, 17, Waterford-road Fulham.

WANTED, Known, Rubie and Elsie Redfern, Premier Lady Banjoists, Drawing-room Act with Piano, Singing, Dancing, &c., vacant Nov. 23 and 30. 60, Denmark-rd., Manchester.

WANTED, by Two Beatrices, Duettists and Expert Dancers, Dec. 7, 14, 21, 28, to follow Merthyr Tydfil and precede Northampton. Offers invited.

WANTED, Nov. 30, Dec. 28, Jean Macduff (the Lady Lauder); Peggy Lyndon's Musical Act, Sure Success. Wire, MELVILLE, Rathbone Gardens, Portobello.

WANTED, Known, Chief among which must be classed the Musical Silvo, than whom there is no more popular entertainer. His whole turn is a model of musical excellence.—Bath Herald, Oct. 20, 1908. Musical Silvo at Liberty Nov. 30. Address, Hippodrome, Ton-y-Pandy, S. Wales.

WANTED, next week, and Nov. 30, Xmas, on, Bu-Val, Happy Dutchman (Concertina). This, Starring, Empire, Wigan.

WANTED, Known, Will Dell, Irish Entertainer and Dancer, at Liberty Monday next. Wire, Central Palace, North Shields.

WANTED, a few immediate dates, George Battle, Actor-Vocalist. Write or wire, 2, King John-street, Spennymoor.

WANTED, Nov. 30 and Dec. 6, by Mark Daly, the Funny Scot. Wire offers, 82, Brook-street, Kennington, S.E.

WANTED, Known, Harry Hurry, Comedian, Speciality, Vac. Monday; also Panto. Offers, Regent Theatre, Salford. Last year, Marlborough Theatre, London.

WANTED, Nov. 30, Dec. 7, also Panto., by Jack W. Veitch, Versatile Comedian and High-class Dancer. Wire, Waterloo Rooms, Glasgow.

WANTED, Known, Pat O'Connor, Comedian and Dancer, Liberty Monday, 23rd, and 30th. Offers invited. Wire, 7, Poplar-street, Hulme, Manchester.

WANTED, Nov. 30, onwards, Paul Cavalli, two distinct Specialities, 6-sheet and D.C. lithos. Nov. 23, Starring at the Paragon Music Hall, London, E.

WANTED, Nov. 30 and Dec. 7, North or Scotland, also Dec. 21, by Li-Chang-Hi and Assistant, Chinese Illusionists. Next week, Hippodrome, Dumfries, N.B. D.C. Lithos.

WANTED, Proprietors and Managers to Know, Mr. G. Louden, Proprietor Hippo., Airdrie, has trebled his receipts this week. Why? Li-Chang-Hi, the Star Attraction.

WANTED, Monday next, onwards, by Tom Levine, Double Table Acrobatic Equilibrist. Wire, 2, Pembroke-street, Aberdare, South Wales.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 14, 21, by Kyoto, Japanese Contortionist, Conjurer, Juggler, and Dog; May Geraldine, Comedienne and Dancer. Monday, Queen's Theatre, Castleford.

WANTED, immediate dates, by Stylo, Wonderful Hoop Juggling Effects; and Beatrice Bonnie, Artistic Comedienne. Nov. 23, Hippodrome, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Monday next, by Henshall and Forster. Terrific success Foresters' this week. Sketch, "Bouncing a Burglar," good single, Serio. Wire, 27, Merchant-street, Bow, E.

WANTED, Nov. 30, on, Clark and Clare, "The Tramp and Girl"; Comedy, Harmony, and Good Singing. Also two Good Singles. Managers who require Clever and Reliable Artists communicate. 60, Lysons-road, Aldershot.

WANTED, next week, by Fern and Fawn, in Shriekingly Funny Episode, "The Conqueror," Singles, Comedian, Soubrette. Big Hit Oxford. Wire, 1, Romney-street, Middlesbrough.

WANTED, Nov. 30, by Ryder Davis, Comedian; Eva Ward, Comedienne; one or both, any distance; suit any Show. This, Hippo., Wakefield; 23rd, Empire, Hull.

WANTED, Nov. 23 and 30, by Wisper, Original Comic Juggler; also Beattie Bloom, serio, with own Songs. Wire, County Theatre, Kingston-on-Thames.

WANTED, Monday next, also 30th, by the Two Le Bruns, Edgar (Equilibrist), Edie (the Incomparable Girl Juggler and Vocal Gem). A Unique and Novel Speciality. Wire, Opera House, Workington.

WANTED, Monday next, also Nov. 30, on, by Chant and Chant, Bright, Refined, and Vocal Comedy Duo. Wire, Post Office, Rhymney (Mon.).

WANTED, Nov. 30, Dec. 7 and 14, by the Cumming Trio, in Burlesque Act, "Tooth for a Wife." C/o "The Era."

WANTED, Known.—What a Draw Four Cecilians are! Storming Palace, Bath, this. Make inquiries. Next, Hip., Macclesfield. Vacant Dec. Don't want the earth.

WANTED, Known, Ringling Trio, Acrobatic Comedy Act on Stilts, &c., Vacant Monday next, Nov. 30, Dec. 6. Wire, 43, King-st., Southport.

WANTED, Monday next, by The Four Delawares, Comedians, Vocalists, Dancers, and Comedy Billiardists, in most Novel Act. Wire, Hippo., Glasgow.

WANTED, Nov. 30, by Herman and Evelyn, smart and refined Wire Act; also Cosselly, in his great Acrobatic Table Act. For one or both Acts, for a sure success, write Empire, Hull; next, King's Hall, Birmingham.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, by The Florias, Comedy Wire and Equilibristic Speciality Act, vacant Dec. 7 and 14. Write or wire, Hippodrome, Middlesbro'.

WANTED, Nov. 30, on, La Dor Troupe, six in number, Male and Female Acrobats, with three distinct Speciality Acts. Theatre, Grantham.

WANTED, Four Dorians, Premier Gymnasts. Continued success this King's Theatre, Kilmarnock; next, Town Hall, Falkirk.

WANTED, by Bros. Almo, Smart Comedy Three-Bar Experts, Engagements, from Nov. 30. Workington Star, Oct. 23, 1908.—Queen's Opera House. This is certainly one of the finest turns ever seen here, and those who miss it miss a big treat. Address, Hippodrome, Blyth, Northumberland.

WANTED, 23rd and 30th, by Atlas and Vulcana Troupe (five), Great Star Attraction. Wire, 17, Waterford-road, Fulham.

WANTED, Monday, also 30th, by Bessie Travis, England's Premier Lady Ventriloquist, in New Act (two people). Wire, Palace, West Hartlepool.

WANTED, Jan. 4, 25, by Hulbert (Ventriloquist) and De Lil (Illusionist); two smart Acts. Offers invited. Monday, Palace, Cork.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 14, and 28, by Geo. Gulliver, Ventriloquist; First-class Original Act. Address, Albert Theatre, Brighouse.

WANTED, Nov. 30, GiHin, Unique Ventriloquial Humorist. Hippo., Hulme; next week, Tivoli, Dublin.

WANTED, Monday next, by Leo, the Popular Ventriloquist. Original Act. Wire, Palace, North Shields.

WANTED, Known, Valvo, Ventriloquist, Vacant Dec. 7 and 14. A Draw Guaranteed. This week, Queen's, Gateshead; next, Grand, Blackpool.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, ROYAL IMPERIAL ENTERTAINERS, last three years Pier Gardens, Cleethorpes. Originators of a Class Troup at Same. Will open at Cleethorpes coming summer.

WANTED, Known, Munroe's Black and White Comedy Team, vacant Dec. 7, 14, 21, 1908. Address, Nov. 23, ZALVA'S Hippodrome, Exeter.

WANTED, Agents and Managers to Know, PICITT and LIZETTE conclude their fourth Continental Tour Dec. 3, and open Dec. 7 at Hippodrome, Nottingham. PICITT and LIZETTE, Illusionists and Pantomimists, in their great Magical Extravaganza, "THE CRAZY COOK."

A Big Animal Act. A Big Illusion Act. A Big Dumb Comedy Act. All in one. 50 Birds and Animals. 50 Original Illusions worked like Lightning. The most Realistic Kitchen Set ever Staged.

The talk of Paris last month. Conclude this week, Palais De Cristal, Marseille. Last Act on the Programme, following a strong Bill, with a fifteen minutes Entr'acte before our Turn. The only Act to wait for; and packed audiences wait fifteen minutes nightly to see it. "THE CRAZY COOK." "THE CRAZY COOK."

We carry everything, including Scenery, good Lithos. If you want a big and absolutely original Novelty, book "The Crazy Cook." We have Jan. 11 vacant (owing to Maidstone fire), to follow London Coliseum, also Feb. 1, 8, 15, 22, and a few odd dates later. Address, until Nov. 26, Les Nouveautes Theatre, Toulouse; then, till Dec. 3, Bouffes-Bordelais, Bordeaux.

WANTED, Monday next, Alex., Pontefract, also Dec. 7, by Tom Kelso and Co., Screaming Absurdity, "The Silly Servant." Wire, Hippo., Wigan; after Saturday, 286, Kingsland-rd., London, N.E.

WANTED, by Miss Ella's Educated Lion Show (most elaborate props. and fit-up in the profession), Dec. 7 (between Yarmouth and Scarborough), Dec. 28, Jan. 18 (for Midlands). Address week, Nov. 23, Hippo., Lowestoft.

WANTED, to thank the following Proprietors for kind offers for Monday next:—Rosen and Bliss, for Dundee; J. Cummings, Esq., Kilmarnock; Beanland and Emerson, Brighouse; Tom Diacoff, Esq., Pontefract. Still at Liberty. Leoni Clarke's Cats, Opera House, Burton-on-Trent. Also Vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 7.

WANTED, Known, Judge's Cockatoos, Vacant Nov. 23, Dec. 7 and 28. Wire, 47, St. John's-park, Upper Holloway, London, N

WANTED, Nov. 23, onwards, Swift Duo, Novelty Cyclists. Wire, Hippodrome, Bury St. Edmunds; after Sat., 89, Bristol-st., Hulme, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Le Diabelo, Looping the Devil's Wheel, vacant Monday and Dec. 7; Share or Certainty. 37, Chipley-street, New Cross, London.

WANTED, Known, Francis Gramaldie, Short Comedian and Violinist; height 4ft. 6in.; at Liberty shortly for Sketches, Drama, or join a Partner. Offers invited. Write, 335, Hyde-road, Ardwick, Manchester.

WANTED, by good All-round Knockabout Comedian, Engagement with Troupe or Sketch, or Character Old Man part (Miser). GODDALL, 26, Richard-street, West Hartlepool.

WANTED, by Bert Warner, good Posturer and Knockabout, at Liberty to join good Sketch or Troupe. Coms., 113, Herbert-road, Manor Park.

WANTED, Known, Young Man, Good All-round Tumbler wishes to join Tumbling Troupe or Comedy Act. Address, WALTER STEWART, c/o McCaig, 96, Crail-street, Parkhead, Glasgow.

WANTED, Known, Fanning's Royal Court Mannikins, at Liberty Xmas and New Year, through disappointment, three Pantomimes. HARRY FANNING, P.O., Edinburgh.

WANTED, Known, Prof. Lenton's Bioscope Entertainments; Change of Pictures Nightly or Weekly; Machines, Films, and Accessories Bought, Sold, or Hired Out to any amount. 2, Capener's-yard, Knightsbridge, S.W.

WANTED, Engagements, with Gaumont's Chronophone (Singing Pictures). For terms, apply COHEN, 63, Whitechapel-road, London, E.

WANTED, by experienced Operator, with Latest Machine and Bottles, complete outfit, for gas; can open at once. Wire, OPERATOR, G.P.O., Manchester.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, The Public put Pennies in the Slots, but I take Sovereigns from the Cash Boxes.

The above was the recent remark of an operator of "The Magical Mills Machines." "The Marvellous Mills Machines." "The Money-making Mills Machines."

Send to Sole Agents for Illustrated Catalogue,

MINERVA AUTOMATIC CO., 14, Charterhouse-buildings, London, E.C.

WANTED, Known, .22 Cartridges, "B," "H," "D," "P" brands. Winchester Repeaters. Globes, Targets, Water Balls. GREENE, 74, Falmouth-road, London, S.E.

WANTED, Known, all over the Kingdom, is the best house for Hooplar prizes, large variety of new lines, Fancy Goods, Perfumery, Toilet Soap, Chocolate and Confectionery, Boxes, &c.; also suitable Novelties for Market and Fair Workers. Write for sample and list. KENNEDY'S Wholesale Depot, 28, Houndsditch, E.C.

WANTED, Known, Hooplar Packets, Fancy Boxes Confectionery, from 7s. per gross to 10s. gross. A. BUNN, 16, Dagnall-place, Brady-street, Whitechapel-road

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, Important.—That the Next Meeting of the BRITISH ROUNDABOUT PROPRIETORS' AND SHOWMEN'S UNION will be Held at Headquarters, The Black Lion Hotel, Salford, on Tuesday, Nov. 24, at 3.30 p.m., for the transaction of Important Business. Signed T. HURST, Secretary.

Established 1899.

WANTED, Known, Tom Norman (Silver King, registered), Showman's Auctioneer, Expert and Authority, Valuer, Commission and Variety Agent. If you want to Buy or Sell anything connected with the business (privately or publicly), send to TOM NORMAN, Auction Dept., "The Era" Office

CAKE WALK. Regd. Trade Mark. CAKE WALK. WANTED, Known, TAYLOR, PLINSTON, BROS., and Co., Sole Makers and Patentees of the Only Cake-Walk Riding Machine in the World, Royal Letters Patent, No. 17402, Jy. 30, 1907, and No. 25150, Nov. 13, 1907. Improvements Protected, No. 2649, Feb. 6, 1908. In the Chancery Court, Jy. 3, 1908, Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady Granted an Injunction against defendants for infringement of our Patent No. 17402. This Machine is a Triumph of Engineering Skill for Simplicity, Lightness, and Durability. It is a Record Money-maker. Write or call on the Sole Makers and Patentees, Farncombe-street, and 94-98, Bermondsey-wall, London, S.E. CAKE WALK. Regd. Trade Mark. CAKE WALK.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, that I have arranged with Mr. Fred Ginnett about his Patent Rights for "Haunted Castles," and have acquired the Licence and Sole Right of Building these Money-making Amusement Devices. Prospective Buyers are advised to write in early, as the demand is sure to be large. All infringers of the patent rights and users of Unlicensed Castles will be severely dealt with. P. COLLINS, Gondola Works, Walsall.

WANTED, Showmen to Save Money by sending for Leete's Catalogue of Specially-prepared Paints, Colours, Varnishes, Brushes, &c., and every requisite for decorating Caravans, Roundabouts, Swings, &c. Cheapest house in the trade. A. LEETE and Co., 129, London-road, Southwark, S.E.

WANTED, Known, J. Shambrook, the Showmen's Decorator's address is 60, Sixth-avenue, Bush Hill Park, Enfield, N. Gilding, Scrolling, and Lettering of every description. Distance no object.

DUDLEY TRADES EXHIBITION, January, 1909. WANTED, Side-shows, Illusions, Shooting Range, Fish-pond, or any Novelty. Apply MARSTON, Priory-street, Dudley.

WANTED, Big Side-shows, Stalls, &c., for Big Carnival in Drill Hall, Dumfries, New Year. Address, WILLIAMS, Hippodrome, Dumfries.

FUN CITY, OLYMPIA ANNEXE,

Ten Weeks, Commencing Dec. 10.

A Few Small Spaces Reserved for Novelties.

WANTED, Freaks, Giants, Midgets, and Sensational Acts.

Apply, Mr. C. B. COCHRAN, 14, Gt. Swan-alley, Moorgate-st., London, E.C.

WANTED, to open Monday, First-class Novelties for First-class Positions, Shares or Rental. Wire, SHOWMAN, 21, Edward-st., Brighton.

WANTED, Dudley Trades Exhibition, Jan. 18 to 30, 1909, Cinématograph Pictures as Side Show, every fifteen minutes, room 26ft. by 14ft., 3 to 5 and 6 to 10 p.m. Apply, MARSTON, 4, Priory-street, Dudley.

WANTED, First-class Marionette Show, from Dec. 25 to Jan. 9. Applications, with particulars, to MANAGER, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

Palmistry.

WANTED, Lady Palmist, on half cash takings, established two years; permanency. Box 5,168, "The Era."

WANTED, Photographer, Tattooer, Wire Worker, &c.; main road; large shop; share or rent. MANAGER, 104, High-street, Walthamstow.

WANTED, immediately, good Auctioneer; must have thorough knowledge of Secondhand Jewellery. Apply, 14, Grove-mansions, The Grove, Hammersmith, W.

WANTED, good Auctioneer, for large Travelling Auction Mart, with good firm, on wages; must be steady, and a good worker. Idle men no room for. Box 5,181, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Rollo, King of the Air, Sensational Trapeze and Slack Rope Performer. Monday next, Collins's Fun City, Gill-st., Liverpool.

WANTED, Known, the World-famed Continental Fat Boy is at Liberty from Nov. 30, on. Offers invited. POOK, c/o "The Era."

WANTED, by Miss Genevieve Gwen, Scientific Palmist and Physiognomist, Christmas Engagement; salary preferred. Address, 65, Coningham-road, Shepherd's Bush, London.

WANTED, to Hire, on Rental or Shares, immediate, a large variety of up-to-date Automatics, &c., suitable for Admission Free Exhibition; also Space to Let for Novelties for Side Shows, Photos., Darts, Tattooist, &c.; no other in town. Wire, 21, Edward-street, Brighton, Sussex.

WANTED, Space in Trades Exhibition, for Distorting Mirrors, Stereo Peep Show, Automatic Machines. Box 5,179, "The Era" Office.

WANTED, to Let, on Shares or Rental, Large Shop, good position for Admission Free Automatic Exhibition, Space also for Photos., Darts, Shooting, Tattooist, &c., no opposition, Electric and Gas; also Wanted, to open at once, First-class Novelties. 21, Edward-street, Brighton, Sussex.

WANTED, to Let, large Shop, 60ft. by 20ft., 15ft. high, with Gallery round, main thoroughfare, centre of Bedminster.

Large population; suit Auctioneers or Small Shows. Apply, CLEVERDON and SON, Bedminster, Bristol.

WANTED, to Let, Shop, main road, North London, for Bioscope Exhibition. Share or rent. 510, Kingsland-road, London.

FUN CITY, DRILL HALL, BATH, Dec. 24, 1908, to Jan. 16, 1909. The Largest Hall in the Town, 125ft. by 80ft. Thickly Populated Neighbourhood. All Trams (Electric) Pass the Door. The First Show of its Kind ever Held in Bath. WANTED, to Let, Spaces for Side-shows, Sketching, Photography, Monograms, Pens, Candy, Fairy Floss, Shooting Gallery, Fish Pond, Ring Board, Fancy Goods, Toys, Sharpener, Toffee Making, &c., &c. Apply, with full particulars, CARL FREDERICKS, 4, Brunswick-street, Bath.

WANTED, Known, to all Roundabout Proprietors, Showmen, Stallholders, and others, that I open Rochdale Cattle Market for the Christmas Fair, commencing Dec. 18, to Dec. 26, 1908. N.B.—I still have that large plot of land that I had last Easter, behind the Victoria Baths, Rusholme, Manchester, to hold a Great Easter Fair for 1909. All applications to WM. MITCHELL, SEN., 53, Hindhill-street, Heywood.

ARCADIA DRILL HALL, PORTSMOUTH. WANTED, to Let, Spaces for Stalls, Games, Novelties. Open Dec. 5, 8th year. LESLIE, "Arcadia," Park-crescent-place, Brighton.

WANTED, to Let, Spaces for New Year's Carnival in Drill Hall, Dumfries. Gigantic Attractions, Skating, &c. Address, DIRECTOR, Hippodrome, Dumfries.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE BIGGEST THING IN WALES. THE BIGGEST THING IN WALES. THE BIGGEST THING IN WALES. WORLD'S FAIR, WORLD'S FAIR, WORLD'S FAIR, CARDIFF. CARDIFF. CARDIFF.

In the Magnificent ANDREW'S HALL. ANDREW'S HALL. ANDREW'S HALL. Opens Christmas Eve. FOUR WEEKS CERTAIN.

Absolutely the finest position in the town.

Brilliantly Illuminated.

Nearly 200ft. by 100ft.

THE SNIP OF THE SEASON. THE SNIP OF THE SEASON.

Big Attractions Already Booked. Big Attractions Already Booked.

WANTED, Wanted, Known, FEW SPACES AVAILABLE for up-to-date Side Shows, Games, and Stalls. Freaks and Automatics. APPLY AT ONCE. ONLY FEW SPACES AVAILABLE.

F. G. ROLLASON, 10, Throgmorton-avenue, London, E.C.

NEAR THE HAYMARKET. NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

Just an opportunity that can occur when you are not in a hurry.

WANTED, Showmen to Know, Messrs. Relph and Pedley have leased the building known as Ginnett's Circus and Olympia, also the plot of land adjoining, right in the hub of Newcastle, where they intend to hold their ANNUAL FUN CITY AND CARNIVAL, commencing on or about Dec. 5, and will continue through the Winter Season.

Spaces can now be arranged; Rental or Sharing terms, for Novel Riding Devices, and Attractions of a Modern Kind; also a First-class Display of good Money-taking Automatic Machines.

All applications to Messrs. RELPH and PEDLEY, Autodrome, Market-place, Darlington, until Nov. 27; then, Olympia, London.

WANTED, Wanted, Known, PLEASURE BEACH, BLACKPOOL. Greatest Combination of Open-air Attractions in the Country. For concessions for Real Novelties for Summer Season, 1909, address, PROPRIETORS, Pleasure Beach, Blackpool.

WANTED, to Sell, Set of Porkers (8 loads), Set of Motor Cars (10 loads), Set of Steam Yachts (4 loads); all Savage's make. Also one Cake-Walk Machine. All in First-class Condition and Good Money-takers. Don't want all the money down from responsible buyers, but parties only requiring cheap information please save stamps. P. COLLINS, Gondola Works, Walsall.

WANTED, Known, Auction Mart for Sale, four loads, newly decorated, good condition, ready for road; part stock if wanted. Owner has other business interests. Splendid chance for one or two smart young gentlemen. All information given. MART, 199, Highfield-road, South Shore, Blackpool.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Bazaar and Rifle Range, 100 Electric Lights, open front, with or without machines. Box 5,165, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, 6 horse power Portable Engine, also Dynamo, cheap. Apply, M. RICHARDSON, Olympia, Sunderland.

WANTED, to Sell, small Road Tractor, with Dynamo for lighting, or hauling 6 tons. PAYNE, Brewery-street, Wandsworth-road, S.W.

WANTED, to Sell, Gold-mounted Photos., Husbands, Wives, Babies, X-rays, latest sensation, marvellous value, your profits doubled. MEURICE, Argyle-square.

WANTED, to Sell, Love Letters, Palmistry, Fair and Dark, Comic Cards, Eyes, Marriage, Liars', Lunatics' Licences. MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square.

WANTED to Sell, Automatic Machines, New and Secondhand, Card Delivery, Mother Shiptons, marvellous money-takers, enormous profits. MEURICE, Argyle-square.

Special offer.

WANTED, to Sell, Mutoscopes, as new, from £2 15s., or instalments. Reels, from 7/6; or on hire from 4d. per week (New Pictures every week). Electric Banjos placed out on commission. Large Stock of New Music. BIO-AUTOMATICS, LTD., 11 and 13, Princeton-street, Holborn.

WANTED, Known.—For Sale, cheap, Punch Ball, £5; Rosenfield Illustrated Song Machine, Edison Phonograph, and all Kinds of Slot Machines suitable for Vaudevilles. Cash or instalments. NOVELTY AMUSEMENT CO., 33, High-st., Kingsland.

WANTED, to Sell, Guess Your Weight Weighing Machines, and other Novelties in Slots. WORMALD, 123, Blythe-road, West Kensington, London. Estab. 1887.

WANTED, to Sell Large Distorting Mirrors; or will Let same on Hire. Box 5,180, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Flare Lamps for all Purposes; the Original and Best are Stacey's Stars. ADVANCE Co., Showman's Stores, 510, Kingsland-road, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Seventeen Gross Penny Puzzles, suitable competitions, opening new show. First £4 clears. Samples 2d. TOYS, 103, Gauden-road, Clapham, London.

WANTED, Buy, Rent, Share, good Waxworks. Spacious premises, London; also Let Rights Shooting Gallery, Houp-la, Games. Box 5,106, c/o "Era."

WANTED, to Purchase, Fish Pond, complete, for working, in good condition and cheap for cash. Particulars to WATSON, 26, Newport-rd., Middlesbrough.

WANTED, a Partner, to Act or with Picture Machine, good handy Booth, 60 by 30. Apply, C. W. L., Manager, Theatre (Portable), Cheadle, Staffs.

WANTED, Showmen who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any Railway Bookstall to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED TO SELL.

WANTED, to Sell, Harp, by Grosjean and Williams's Serial No. 337, perfect tone, double action. Accept £50, worth double. Railway fare allowed to purchaser. Address, MANAGER, Hippodrome, Oxford-street, Manchester.

WANTED, to Sell, Latest and Best Stage Illusions and Conjuring Apparatus. A few Assured Successes. List. LESTER, Aylesbury. Telephone 69.

WANTED, to Sell, Handsome New Fur-lined Overcoat. Bargain. No dealers. W. H. T., 4, Wyatt Park-rd., Streatham Hill, S.W.

WANTED TO SELL.

WANTED, to Sell, that splendidly fitted Variety House known as VICTORIA HALL, MATLOCK. Beautifully situated in large garden; area 15,000 square yards. Part purchase-money can remain as mortgage Apply, Box 5,046, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Complete Pantomime, Scenery, Dresses, MSS., Music, and fully booked Tour from Christmas; £250 cash, and £250 deposited as a guarantee that expenses can be met. Exceptional opportunity for Lady or Gentleman desirous of entering into management. Pantomime will be rehearsed, produced, and started on tour. No agents. Competent Manager already engaged. Principals with necessary capital only need apply, by letter, to E. SOUTHWELL, 30, Gubyon-avenue, Herne Hill, London, S.E.

WANTED, to Sell, First-class Bioscope, all appliances, electric and lime. Cost £60; accept £25. HUGHES, 69, Randolph-street, Jarrow.

WANTED, to Sell, Films, cheap, and Films for Hire, up-to-date. THE BENDON TRADING CO., 75, Jamaica-st., Glasgow.

WANTED, to Sell, Films, as new, Robbing Mail, 340ft.; Unfair Exchange, 90ft.; Making Musical Instruments, 100ft.; 1d. foot. List. LESLIE, Arcadia, Brighton.

WANTED, to Sell, Films, Jim's Apprenticeships, Redskins' Attack on Coach, Haunted Hotel, splendid condition, 1½d. per foot. OPERATOR, 69, Randolph-street, Jarrow.

WANTED, to Sell.—Opportunity occurs of buying 250 shares in London Syndicate (Ltd.), holding the Biggest Success now Playing. Box 5,169, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Midget Pony Novelties. Piebald, 27in.; Brown, 28in.; Skewbalds, 31in.; Pure White Stallion, 36in. Mr. CLARK, Ash bank, Aberdeen.

WANTED, to Sell, Irish Terrier, Fore and Hind Legs, 6 other Tricks; also good Yorkshire, Cards, 6 other Tricks. DICKEN, 35, Limehouse-causeway.

WANTED, to Sell, Champion Trick and High-leaping Lurcher Dog, 18 months old. JOHNSON, 6, Middleton-road, Dalston, London.

WANTED, to Sell, new Stage Illusions, also quantity new Conjuring Apparatus, cheap. Great Milk Churn Escape. 131, Knollys-road, London, S.W.

WANTED, to Sell, Frock Frills, Lace, Plain with Ruche, 3s. 11d. per dozen; Accordion Pleated, 5s. 6d. Samples free. KING, 2, Dysart-road, Grantham.

WANTED, to Sell, Boy, Girl Knee Figure, quantity Conjuring Apparatus, Tables (set), Illusion, Wigs, extra cheap; stamped envelope. 134, Fairfax-road, Harringay, N.

WANTED, to Sell, Cramer Portable Piano, 5 octaves, listed £21, good condition. Seen by appointment. £10 cash. F. W. B., 45, Mysore-road, Clapham.

WANTED, to Sell, a Portable Ring Fence, in 18 Sections, beautifully padded on top, strong, and as good as new. No reasonable offer refused. Address, JOHN SHEDDEN, 169, Belgrave-gate, Leicester.

WANTED, to Sell, the Entire Production of the "Prince of Pilsen." One of the Finest Productions on the Road. Can be seen playing from the 23rd until the 28th inst. at the Broadway Theatre, London. For particulars, apply, BARON H. HARRISS, Theatre Royal, Hanley.

"THE BELLE OF MAYFAIR." WANTED, to Sell, Complete Production of the above. Can be seen to-night at the Crystal Palace Theatre. Address, J. B. HOWARD, 15, Clifford's-inn, Fleet-street.

WANTED, to Sell or Let, a Powerful Drama, by well-known Author, never performed, strong leading part, and good comedy. Address, A. B., 1, Westmorland-st., New Cavendish-st., W.

WANTED, to Sell, two New Plays, "Babes," Panto., and Parts, Stock Dramas, Sketches, Duos. HAL COLLIER, Empire, Wrexham.

WANTED TO BUY.

WANTED, to Buy, 10,000ft. of Films, Good Comic and Dramatic; must be in very good condition, must be good and cheap. THE DAYTON FAMILY, this week, Palace, Blackpool; Nov. 23, Theatre Royal, Macclesfield. P.S.—Send complete list of films you can offer us.

WANTED, to Buy, about 2,000ft. good Stock Film, cash; no wasters. G. EDWARDS, 6, Alexandra-road, Bedford.

WANTED, Cheap for Cash, Second-hand Cinematograph Films; also Mechanical Blondin Donkey Skin. No rubbish. S., Woodside, Medstead, Alton, Hants.

WANTED, Secondhand, Sheet Iron Box, for Bioscope. A. C. MARVIN, 16, Church-street, Birkenhead.

WANTED, to Buy, First-class Serpentine Dress, must be in good condition. Particulars to PRIMROSE and WEST, Drill Hall, Tiverton.

WANTED, Scenery, for Repainting, 12 Cloths, 26ft. to 30ft. by 16ft. to 18ft.; also 6 Sets, 16ft.

State condition, lowest, and where seen, to E. TILNEY, Pavilion, Abertillery.

WANTED, to Buy, or Hire, V's and Brackets, to cover about 40ft., or any kind of Seating, must be cheap. Address, A. COMLEY, 74, Clare-road, Cardiff.

To Stage Carpenters and Others. WANTED made, Six Wood Box Rollers, each from 26ft. to 31ft. Stating price, MANAGER, Theatre, Treharris.

WANTED, to Buy at once, a Crystal Swimming Tank, must be in perfect order, for cash. SID JONES, 18, Husler-street, Leeds.

WANTED, to Buy, Ladies' and Gentlemen's Cast-off Clothing, for abroad, at highest possible prices. Trial parcel solicited. Bankers: Lloyd's Bank, Limited. MME. MARION, 23, Bridge-street, Southampton.

WANTED, to Buy, Strong Domestic Drama or Melodrama. Write, with particulars first instance, to Box 5,172, "The Era."

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

WANTED, to Let, through Change of Management, the New Hippo., Spennymoor, recently beautifully fitted, large stage, best position in the North. Only people prepared to put six months' rent down need apply. BLOOM, Haughton, Darlington.

WANTED, to Let, Dates in Oct. and onwards, Byculiah Athenæum, Enfield, any kind entertainment Scenery, Electric lighting. MANAGER.

WANTED, to Let, Royalty, Morecambe, Nov. 30, Dec. 7 and 14. Moderate rental. Address, C. M. JULIAN.

WANTED, to Let, on Yearly Tenancy, Theatre, Fully Licensed Bars. Apply, Box 5,075, "The Era."

WANTED, to Let, Gothic Hall, Highley; seat about 300; dressing-rooms, stage 23ft. by 9ft., with scenery; electric light, including footlights. Terms, MANAGER, Highley, Salop.

WANTED, to Let, for Rehearsals, &c., Large Room, 45ft. by 30ft., smooth pine floor; good piano, accommodation, and ventilation; 1s. 6d. per hour with electric light, 1s. without; two entrances. Bay Malton Hotel, 160, Great Portland-street, W. 'Phone 2,948 Mayfair.

WANTED, to Let, for Rehearsals, large lofty Hall, Stage, Piano, Dressing-rooms. Apply to MANAGER, Ranger Hall, Chenies-street, Tottenham Court-road, W.C.

WANTED, to Let, Hall or Large Rooms, rehearsals with piano, 1s. per hour. Clapham Assembly Rooms, facing Clapham-road Station.

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

WANTED, to Let, Office for Agency, splendid position; rehearsal room on premises. Moderate rent. References. COTTLE, 229, Camberwell-road, S.E.

WANTED, by a Lady, to share Flat with one or two Professionals; W. or W.C. preferred. Moderate terms. Box 5,167, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Films for Hire, 15s. per 1,000ft. per week. Send for new lists. Films for sale, from ½d. foot. CROSS, Gloucester House, Grays, Essex.

WANTED, to Let, from Jan. 4, 1909, full Rights of Advertising Curtain, Empire Variety Theatre, Greenock. Particulars from MANAGER.

TO "CINDERELLA" PANTO. PRODUCERS. WANTED, Known, "Cinderella" Ponies, of all Colours and Sizes, and Coaches and Harness on Hire. FRASER, HAY, and Co., Jackson's-row, Manchester.

WANTED, to Let Out on Hire, for Pantomime, four Black Small Ponies, used to Stage and trained to walk up and down stairs. Can be seen working next week, Grand Theatre, Chorley, Boswell's Stage Cirque.

WANTED, to Let, Four of the Smallest "Cinderella" Ponies in England, patent leather harness to match. ASTLEY, Brook House Farm, Chigwell.

WANTED, Hall, seating accommodation not less than 400, electric light. Full particulars and lowest terms for long period. Write, BUSINESS, 34, Lebanon-park-mansions, Twickenham.

To Proprietors and Managers. WANTED, Advertising Curtains and Programmes any part of the country. FAWLEY, Globe Advertising Co, Sheffield. Established 1896.

PARTNERS WANTED.

WANTED, Partner, Lady or Gentleman, with £200, for Variety Hall and Picture Show, running successfully for over a year; money required for further improvements. Strict investigation accorded those who mean business. G. HENDERSON, c/o Robinson, 73, Dee-street, Aberdeen.

WANTED, a Harpist, to join Violinist, to read Music; good Hotel business. Apply, L., Villa Paterno, Kenwyn-rd., Torquay, Devon.

WANTED, Known, Amateur Gentleman seeks Berth with Music Hall Artist (Lady or Gentleman) with view to Partnership.

Box 5,162, "The Era."

WANTED, by well-known Trapeze Artists, as Partner, a good Knockabout Comedian, with Knowledge of Double Trapeze; or would be willing to join one with act booked. No Amateurs. "TRAPEZE," Hippodrome, Hamilton, N.B.

WANTED, Partner, permanent Picture Hall, seats 800, central, Nottingham, £35, equal shares, good prospects. S., 13, Lammas-street, Nottingham.

WANTED, by Youth, to join good Troupe or Partner, with bookings, to Acrobat and Expert Post Horn. J. NORMAN, Earl's Court Post Office.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING. Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, F. G. Wright, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Electrical Engineer, and Theatrical Blacksmith. 66 and 68, Kennington-road, S.E.

WANTED, Known, C. Kinch, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Theatrical and General Blacksmith. 17, St. Mary-square, Kennington-road, London, S.E. Large Hall for Practice.

WANTED, Known, for Ventriloquial and Marionette Figures and Specialities, LE MARE and SON, 28, Coupland-st., Oxford-rd., Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Tip-up Chairs and Seating of Every Description supplied on the shortest notice at prices that will suit all. LEWIS and DEAKIN, Empire Works, 12½, Cleveland-street, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Known, to Theatre and Music Hall Managers, the Cheapest, Simples, and Most Effective Patent Electric Lime for Stage Purposes on the Market. For quotations, apply to J. WEBSTER, 10, Randallwell-street, Bradford.

WANTED, Orders for Captive Advertising Balloons, Indiarubber Toy Balloons printed with Advertisements, Paper Montgolfier Balloons, Gas or Hot-air Passenger Balloons, Parachutes, Airships. C. G. SPENCER and SONS, 56A, Highbury-grove, London, N.

WANTED, Known, that we do the very best Postcards from Your Photos. at Prices which will surprise you. Memos. also. Send for samples. SENIOR and Co., Cotham Hill, Bristol.

WANTED, Known, Authors' MSS., Typewritten copies, 6d. per 1,000 words; Plays 2d. per page. Accuracy guaranteed. BUREAU, 64, Basinghall-street, London. 'Phone, 7522 Wall.

WANTED, Known, Cottle's Bureau, 229, Camberwell-road, S.E. Band Parts, 3s. 6d.; Composing, &c., Band Books, 4s. 7d. Lists. Rehearsal Room, 1s. hour.

WANTED, Known, Band Parts (14), 6s. 6d.; any Song; experienced Composer, Arranger to Principal Stars. PICKERING, 2, Norbiton-house, Camden-street.

WANTED, Panto. Artists, to write for Copy of Great Topical Song, by Cayley Calvert (twelve verses). Specimen Chorus:— Well, I'd black her boots for nothing if I'd my way, It's a shame to take the money, that's what I say; When my blacking-brush I shoot up a twenty-button boot, It's a shame to take the money, that's what I say. DENHAM HARRISON, 62, Salford-rd., Streatham Hill, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Tights, Paddings, and Animal Dresses made to measure on the premises. C. ANDREWS, 23, Betterton-street, Drury-lane.

WANTED, Known, James Brady, the well-known Eccentric Comedian, wishes to announce that from this date onwards he will be known under the name of J. B. Good, the change being necessary owing to the existence of several other James Brady's.

WANTED, Will Sharman to write Joe Elwell immediately. 7, Rosebery-buildings, Pendell-street, Bermondsey.

A Small Recognition to Mr. E. Hanneford, Proprietor of the Great Canadian Circus, from the Members of his Company, for the Season of 1908 in Ireland. Mrs. Block, Miss Victoria Biddell, Miss Lizzie Freeman, Miss Allie Alloy, Miss Maybee, Miss Emma Scott, Messrs. Charlie Beckett, The Four Zolas, Du Calion, W. Foy, The Joels, MacCusker, J. Foster, James Freeman, George Wilson, Wolfies, W. P. Cattle, The Leopold Oriste Family, The Rajah Troupe, Poodles, Alfred Bishop, Leader, Gus Jones, Cornettist, and Members of the Band.

WANTED, Known, the above Artists have had the pleasure of Performing for a Season that has been a Record, both for duration (32 weeks) and packed houses, and all heartily thank "Old Ned," as he is familiarly called, for a most Comfortable Engagement, and wish him and his family every success.

WANTED, Burg, Haud, and Wise, to please communicate with H. BRAMMALL, Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham Junction.

WANTED, Known.—Last Glasgow, Nov. 15, Frister and Rossman hand-sewing machine, canvas wrapper, &c. Grateful information. TOWNLEY LAWRENCE, Prince of Wales, Nuneaton.

WANTED, Known, Anyone Desiring Peter Adair's "Practical Guide to Health," Photo., and Autograph, please remit 6d. to Land's End Hotel, Land's End, Cornwall, till Tuesday next. Peter's best wishes to R. G. Knowles, Esq.

LONDON, PROVINCIAL & CONTINENTAL VAUDEVILLE COMBINATION.

TELEPHONES: 1568 Gerrard. 1569 Gerrard. 3182 Gerrard. 3183 Gerrard.

CO-MANAGING DIRECTORS - - - - - - - WALTER GIBBONS and THOMAS BARRASFORD.

OFFICES: ADELPHI TERRACE HOUSE, ROBERT STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

TELEGRAMS: "Randvoll, London." "Barrasford, London."

THE PALLADIUM, LONDON

(late Hengler's Circus), will be open August Bank Holiday, 1909.

THE ALHAMBRA, PARIS.
C. Prelle, Minars, Daunton Troupe, La Rola, Radford Duo, Pictures, De Marce, Cattaneos, Bernard Gertner Duo, H. De Serris.

HIPPODROME, BIRMINGHAM.
Helen Martin, Hinton and Wooton, Lawrence Barclay, Hanid Alexander, May M. Duprez, Geo. S. Melvin, Three Cumerfords, Mike Nono, Pictures.

HIPPODROME, BRIGHTON.
Hayes and Merritt, H. La Martine, Cruickshanks, Summersons, Montefiore and Co., Harry Vardon, Albertus and Miller, Three Silcotts, Hall and Hall, Munstadt's Colibris.

HIPPODROME, SHEFFIELD.
Hilgert-Arkas Co., Billie Burford, Panamas, Fred Hastings, Nora Stockelle, Lowenwirth and Cohan, Keen and Waller, Pictures, Nightingale and Stigant, J. Peterman's "Singing Servants" Co.

HIPPODROME, LEEDS.
Sammy Shields, Jack and Evelyn, Princess Trixie, Harry Taft, Henri Bekker, Dave O'Toole, Pictures, Leonard and Vereker, Dolly Harmer, Brothers Bradshaw, Four Rios.

PAVILION, NEWCASTLE.
Arthur Prince, C. Sloman, Lanos and Montes, Rastus and Banks, Rosie Reval, Billy Williams, Pictures, H. Pollock and Co.

HIPPODROME, ST. HELENS.
Levans, Russell, Howe and Hardie, Hello, Phillips and Merrit, Leo Trainor, Mi Naromi, Bioscope, Max Millan Trio.

HIPPODROME, EALING.
T. E. Finglas, Geo. Collins, L. W. Harris, Lily Eyton, Jenny Hartley, Nora Guy, Pictures, Chanti, Radford and Valentine, Jordon and Harvey, Pete and Juno.

EMPRESS, BRIXTON.
Chas. Whittle, The U.S.A. Boys, Victoria Monks, Sisters Pine, Florrie Forde, Dorothy Gould, Union Jack Boys, Imperial Opera Duo, Mitchell and Mace, Sylvia Cavalho and Co., Roma and Romani, Hilarity Quartette, The Leonards, Wilton Trio, Conti and Co., Pictures.

PALACE, HAMMERSMITH.
Bros. Ford, Ella Lorraine, Three Comedy Chanters, Walter Stanley, Yankee Doodle Girls, Ida Barr, Shirley and Ransome, Major and Mac, Ella Shields, Supriskis, Lieut. Travis, Will E. Stoppit, Lew Lake and Co.

THE WEEK'S CALLS

THE EMPIRE, HOLBORN.
Geo. French, Wilson Hallett, Harry Champion, Madoline Rees, Gertie Gitana, Edie King, Pictures, Billy McClain and Co., Selbini Troupe, Warsaw Bros., Barlee and Smith, Fred Karno and Co. in "G.P.O.," Maningos, Lyons and Callum.

HIPPODROME, WILLESDEN.
Larry Lewis, Fred Elton, Jas. Fawn, Violet Stockelle, Mabel Green, Pictures, The Elduns, Horace Olgar's Cats and Dogs, Stein Eretto, Lew Lake and Co. in "Five Years Later."

OLYMPIA, SHOREDITCH.
Tom Stuart, Chas. Cardow, Arthur Reece, Twin Andersons, Annie Braddon, Adele Lincoln, Pictures, Carl Hertz, Poole and Maguire, Honores and Le Prince, Bros. Ashley, Bonhair Troupe.

EMPIRE, CROYDON.
Arthur Melrose, David Poole, Phil Ray, Mandie Francis, Two Brilliants, Nellie Lunelle, Pictures, Terry and Bentley, Johnny Fuller, Five Grebneiffs, Fred and Arthur Conquest.

ISLINGTON EMPIRE.
Arthur Pier, Maud Esmond, Cassie Walmer, Tiger Lily, Pictures, Texas Hattie, Warsaw Bros., Maxwell and Francis, The Romps, Fred Karno and Co. in "G.P.O."

HIPPODROME, BALHAM.
Tom Woottwell, Cyrus Dare, Florrie Forde, Pictures, Barton and Franklyn, Haig and Novel, Harry Grattan and Co., Shirley and Ransome, R. A. Roberts, Cole and Rags.

HIPPODROME, PUTNEY.
Chas. Penrose, Geo. French, Geo. Mozart, Raie Walters, Edna Latonne, Stone and Tracey, Haley's "Girls of the Garden," Pictures, The Carlyles, Fred Eustace and Co. in "The Family Name," Alick Lauder and Co.

HIPPODROME, POPLAR.
Will Johnson, Frank Fox, Dancit, Harry Champion, Daisy Dormer, Alice Pierce, Pictures, Dale and O'Malley, Geo. Blunt and Co., Ara, Zebra, and Vora, Sinclair and Whiteford, Lee and Kingston.

HIPPODROME, ROTHERHITHE.
Harry Thurston, Will Evans, Sisters Julian, Georgina Leno, Jenny Alexander, Irene Meldon, Pictures, Dennis and Morris, Graham and Harrington, Alexandra Dallas and Co. in "Beggar Maid."

ILFORD HIPPODROME
(IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION).

THE LONDON CASINO

will be open at the end of November, 1909.

THE ALHAMBRA, BRUSSELS.
Carl Lynn, Ted E. Box, Ray Maskell, Will Van Allen, Garganis, Hanvarr and Lee, Vandinoff, Carl Rosini, Lafaille Troupe, Wright and Lawson, Tafanos, Piccolino.

EMPIRE, COVENTRY.
Primrose Four, Lafayette, Beattie and Babs, Pictures.

HIPPODROME, LIVERPOOL.
Geo Rapley, Grace Langley, Dan Filmer, Dusty Rhodes, Ferris and May, Hackenschmidt, Heeley and Meely, Pictures, Rosie Archer, Paulton and Doley.

HIPPODROME, RICHMOND.
Columbia Trio, Four Aces, Dick Tubb, Jessie Buckle, Victor Kerr, "The Brownies," Les Barrois, Max Waldon, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, Pictures, Master Garrett and Co.

EMPIRE, SWINDON.
Musical Comedy and Dramatic Season.
Bill matter for this hall to be sent direct to Mr. Manners, Empire, Swindon.

HIPPODROME, NOTTINGHAM.
Blake and Amber, Nellie Cotter, Williams and Warden, Vere and Neildon, Cecile and Francois, S. Glenville, Pictures, Harmony Four, Maid and Moon, Troba.

KING'S THEATRE, SOUTHSEA.
Ausonias, Chas. Norton, Calbas, C. D. Reekie, Courtiers, Kelly and Agnes, Pictures, Jan Rudenyi and Co., Extra Turn

HIPPODROME, WOOLWICH.
Martin Conway, Steve McCarthy, Carson Hicks, Edie Anderson, Georgina Middleton, Victoria Monks, Marie Kendal, Pictures, Bert Woodward, Sinclair and Whiteford.

GRAND, CLAPHAM JUNCTION.
Fred Land, Billy French, Clive Watts, Nellie Norah, San Remo Girls, Pictures, Lazern, Linden's Vaudevilles, Walton and Lester, Mrs. Lewis Waller, Chas. Austin and Co.

BRITANNIA, HOXTON.
Twice Nightly Drama.

PALACE, ISLINGTON.
Pictures Twice Nightly.

KILBURN EMPIRE
(IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION).

All communications, bill matter, &c., for London Halls to be sent to Mr. Walter Gibbons at above address. Those for Continental and Provincial Halls to Mr. T. Barrasford at above address.

INTERVIEWS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY BAND PARTS ARE REQUIRED FOR AT LEAST 14 DIFFERENT INSTRUMENTS. OFFICE HOURS: 10 to 5 p.m.

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER'S SONG SUCCESSES.

Hear
MISS FLORRIE FORDE
sing
"OH! OH! ANTONIO!"
(Murphy and Lipton),
At the OXFORD, LONDON, next week.

"VESUVIUS"
(Douglas Townshend and H. E. Haines).
Sung by Horace Mills in "The Hon'ble Phil" at the Hicks Theatre.

Hear
G. H. ELLIOTT,
the Famous Chocolate-coloured Coon, sing
"SUE, SUE, SUE"
at the TIVOLI, LONDON, next week.

Hear the Great
GEORGE LASHWOOD,
in His Greatest Success,
"HANG OUT THE FRONT DOOR KEY."

"L. S. D."
(Wilmott and Darewski),
Sung by R. G. Knowles.

"THE IDOL OF THE GIRLS"
(Murray, Hilbury, and Lyle),
and "NO GIRL'S A FAIRY"
(Leigh and Lyle),
Sung by Miss Vesta Tilley.

"SO, WHAT'S THE USE?"
(Fred Day), and
"I DON'T WANT NUTHIN' BUT YOU"
(Jas. Brachman).
Sung by Miss Helen Trix.

"WE'VE ALL BEEN DOING A BIT"
(T. W. Connor).
Sung by Dan Crawley.

"TAKE ME ON THE FLIP-FLAP"
(Wilmott and Darewski),
Sung by Miss Ella Retford.

"LET ME BUT HOPE."
(Percy Edgar and H. E. Pether),
Sung by Miss Ethel Hayden.

"SHE SELLS SEA SHELLS" (Gifford and Sullivan), and "I'M HERE—IF I'M WANTED."
(F. Leo).
Sung by Wilkie Bard.

"FAR AWAY IN AUSTRALIA"
(Wilmott and Darewski).
Sung by Miss Annie Bradden.

"A HEART FULL OF LOVE AND A POCKET FULL OF MONEY."
(Lester Barrett and H. E. Darewski)
Sung by Miss Carlotta Levey and Miss Florrie Forde.

"MY CASTLE IN SPAIN"
(Mellor, Gifford, and Lawrance).
Sung by Miss Lil Hawthorne.

Professionals and Entertainment Managers visiting America are cordially invited to avail themselves of the use of the offices of our New York Agency: T. B. HARMS and FRANCIS, DAY, and HUNTER, 1431 and 1433, Broadway, New York.

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER,
142, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.

Telephone, 5425 Gerrard.
Telegraphic address, "Arpeggio, London."

PROFESSIONAL APARTMENTS.

Three Lines, ONE SHILLING.
Thirteen Insertions, TWELVE SHILLINGS.
Address, PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

BRIGHTON.—Seven Stars, Ship-street, opposite G.P.O. The professional house, Sunday Reunions. Always a hearty welcome. Luncheons, &c., at pop. prices. DE COSTA, Proprietor.

BRIGHTON.—Com. sitting-room, piano, one or two bedrooms; also large combined; highly recommended; open for Panto. Mrs. Bridgman, 29, St. Nicholas-road.

GLASGOW.—Buchanan-street Station Hotel. Recommended. Terms, 35s. Near Empire, Pavilion, Zoo, Royal, Royalty, and Grand.

HULL.—Mrs. Lonsdale, 5, Grimston-street; a home from home; good cooking; piano; highly recommended by V.A.F.'s; 2 minutes Grand and Alexandra Theatres.

LANCASTER.—Farmer's Arms Hotel. Private Sitting-room and Bedrooms; bath; piano; only Professionals taken. B. Fisher.

LANCASTER.—White Cross Hotel. Splendid Rooms. Bath, billiards, pianos. Full board from 23s. R. C. Fitton, Proprietor.

LONDON, N.W.—Sitting and bedrooms, (communicating), also Comb. Vacant; 5 mins. West London and Met.; piano. 26, Aberdeen-place.

LONDON, S.E.—Waterloo. 5 min. Charing Cross. Furnished Apartments, combined rooms. 12, Tenison-street, S.E.

LONDON, S.E.—240, Kennington Park-road (facing Park). Bed and Sitting Rooms; 3 pianos, gas; combined, from 6s. 1d. fare to town.

LONDON, S.E.—Two combined rooms, also bedroom. Terms moderate. Opposite tube. Mrs. Lawson, 54, Newnham-terrace, Hercules-road, Kennington-road.

LONDON, S.W.—Furnished apartments. bath (h. and c.), very comfortable bed and sitting rooms; piano. 66, Gresham-road, Brixton.

LONDON, S.W.—South Kensington. Apartments, Board Optional, Good Cooking, Bath, Electric Light, near 'Buses, Close Stations. Mrs. Pratt, 11 Fawcett-street, Redcliffe-gardens.

LONDON, W.C.—21, Guilford-street, Russell-square. Apartments, superior house, with electric light and 'phone; board, if required.

LONDON, W.C.—Bed, bed-sitting rooms, and apartments, furnished. Percy House, 14 and 15, Percy-st., Tottenham Court-road; good cooking and attendance; electric light; bath. 'phone.

LONDON, W.C.—4, Percy-street, Tottenham Court-road; newly-furnished apartments; bed-sitting rooms; electric light; bath (hot and cold); very central.

LONDON, W.C.—Double and single Bedrooms, Breakfast, Bath (hot and cold), Board if Required. Terms Moderate. 12, Coram-street, Russell Square.

MANCHESTER.—Bed-sitting and combined rooms; pianos, bath, &c.; moderate; near halls. Mrs. Prince, 37 Rumford-st., Oxford-st.

MANCHESTER.—426, Stretford-road. First-class sitting and bedroom; good cooking and fires; tram to door; every convenience.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.—Apartments. Bedroom and Sitting-room, or combined. Barton, 93, Westmoreland-road.

WOLVERHAMPTON. — Comfortable Apartments, Bedroom and Sitting-room also combined. At liberty. Moderate Charges. Mrs. Macnally, 5, Thornley-street, five minutes from Theatre and Empire.

TOM PACEY,

THE FAMOUS BOOKER
OF STAR LINES.

BOOKS ARTISTS
FOR THE
STOLL, GIBBONS, BARRASFORD, AND MACNAGHTEN TOURS.
ALSO SYNDICATE HALLS, AUSTRALIA, AMERICA, AND AFRICA, in fact, everywhere.

Postal Address:—
186, BRIXTON ROAD, LONDON, S.W.
Telegraphic Address:—
"PACEY'S LONDON."
'Phone:—87, BRIXTON.

Price 1s., post free.

SHOWMAN'S YEAR BOOK, 1908.

Edited by the Rev. T. HORNE.

Entirely Re-arranged, Corrected and Enlarged. 100 pages.

Issued at "THE ERA" Publishing Offices, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

Telephones: 4,747 and 1,433 Central.
Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

HOME SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND LITTLE BOYS. Healthy situation, close to Common. Detached house. Entire charge if desired. Mrs. RUDGE, Inverness, 103, Balham Park-road, Wandsworth Common, S.W.

ENTERTAINERS.

WILL BENTLEY, Original, Humorous, Refined. 73, Oakley-square, N.W. 'Phone 307 North.

HARRY BROOKS, Refined Humorist. For Concerts, Dinners, &c. 45, Fairfoot-road, Bow, E.

EDGAR H. BRYAN, Baritone, for Oratorios, Concerts, Dinners, &c. 37, Highlever-road, N. Kensington, W.

ALGERNON CLARKE'S ORCHESTRAS and LADIES' BANDS. Concerts, dinners, dances. Illustrated circulars. Terms, 28, Lonsdale-rd., Barnes. 'Phone, 109, Putney.

MR. HARRY COLLMAN, Accompanist and Coach (Musical Arrangements). Address, 22, Clifton-villas, Maida Hill, W.

EDITH COOPER and STANLEY GODDARD, Entertainers. This, Aberdeen; next, Glasgow. Perm., 42, Dagnall-park, S. Norwood.

MASTER FRED CROOK, Famous Boy Soprano. 5, Stanley-st., Queen's-rd., Lavender Hill, S.W.

MR. and MRS. WILTON DAVIS, Baritone, Light Comedian, and Accompanist. 42, Linton-street, Islington, N.

STUART DEBNAM, Refined Humorist. Churchfield-avenue, North Finchley, N.

MR. ROBERT DENNANT (Baritone) has removed to 91, Finsbury Park-road, N. 'Phone, 3050 North.

MR. HAROLD W. GREATHEAD, Humorous and Dramatic Recitals, Monologues, Character Sketches. Open for Concerts, Dinners, &c. 7, Brackley-terrace, Chiswick.

HOWARD'S UNRIVALLED ANIMATED PICTURES, Up-to-Date Fireproof Machine. Terms, J. C. HOWARD, 26, Southampton-street, Strand.

HILDA HUDSON, "Versatility," Soprano and Comedienne. 122, High-road, Peckham, S.E. 'Phone, 1433 Hop.

BEAUFORT H. IRVING, Songs and Monologues from Mr. Albert Chevalier's Répertoire. Open for Masonic Banquets, Concerts. 16, Nightingale-mansions, Clapham Common.

ARTHUR KENNEDY, the Scottish Humorist. Open for Bohemians, Smokers, &c., town or country. 16, Oppidans-rd., Primrose Hill, N.W.

DICK LOYD, Baritone, 21, Denman-street, Piccadilly. Also Light Comedy Duets with HILDA HUDSON.

MR. R. VERNON PIERSON, Flute and Piccolo Soloist. "The Era" says: Largely known as the Paderewski of the Flute. 3, Kensington Park-road, W.

MR. DUDLEY STOW, Bass-Baritone. Concerts, Dinners, &c. 9, Hilldrop-road, N.

SULLIVANS, THE TWO, Banjo and Mandoline, Vocalist and Bone Soloist. Concerts, Dinners, &c. 47, Palmerston-rd., Plumstead.

MR. ALFRED THOMAS, A Very Clever Humorist.—The Era. Perm. address, 68, Truro-road, Wood Green, N.

MISS FANNY WENTWORTH, Musical Sketches and Original Songs at Piano. Late Palace, London Pavilion, Tivoli. 12, Belgrave-road, Abbey-road, N.W.

MR. D'ARCY WOOLLVEN, Baritone. Concerts, Masonic Banquets, &c. Pendevan, Woodside-avenue, North Finchley. 'Phone, 580 Central

MISS BERTHA ZANDER, Silver Medal, R.A.M., Contralto, Concerts, Dinners, &c. 77, Ringstead-road, Catford.

CALL FOR PANTOMIME.
LONDON AND PROVINCIAL PANTOMIMES CO., LTD.,
"CINDERELLA."
The LADIES and GENTLEMAN engaged for the above Pantomime are requested to assemble on the STAGE of the GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW, on MONDAY, Nov. 30th. Chorus 11 a.m. Principals 12 o'clock. No excuses.
STANLEY ROGERS, Gen.-Manager.

WILL MISS MABEL NELSON (Variety Artist) kindly forward address? L. H., Box 5,170, "The Era." Important.

TELEPHONE CALL OFFICE.

"THE ERA" BUILDINGS.

FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF ADVERTISERS AND MEMBERS OF THE AMUSEMENT PROFESSIONS A PUBLIC TELEPHONE CALL OFFICE . . . HAS NOW BEEN INSTALLED AT "THE ERA" OFFICES, 5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, W.C.

TELEPHONE CALL OFFICE.

MOSS' EMPIRES, LTD. & STOLL COMPANIES SUBSEQUENT

(Moss, Stoll, Thornton & Allen Theatres, Amalgamated)

Chairman: SIR EDWARD MOSS

WORKING IN CONJUNCTION

Capital £2,086,000.

Managing Director: OSWALD STOLL.

(Including Coliseum Syndicate, Ltd.)

Chairman: OSWALD STOLL

Assistant Director and Chief of Staff: FRANK ALLEN.

Department Superintendents: W. S. GORDON MICHIE & ALAN W. YOUNG.

Co-Operative Offices: CRANBOURN MANSIONS CRANBOURN STREET, LONDON, W. C.

INTERVIEWS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY.

CALLS FOR MONDAY, NOV. 23, 1908.

Telephone: 1050 & 1051 GERRARD. Wires: "TWIGSOME, LONDON."

THE LONDON HIPPODROME

"The Sands o' Dee," Carl Reinsch, Achmed Ibrahim Troupe, Four Holloways, Alexandre and Hughes, Three Meteors, Frank L. Gregory Troupe, Antigua Pep's Spanish Band, Four Keetons, Fratellinis, Pathégraph, Horace Goldin and Jean Fransioli.

EMPIRE PALACE, EDINBURGH.

Rehearsal at 1.30 for :—

Elliott Savonas, Sisters Morgan, Naughton and Gold, Hartley Wonders, Ray Wallace, Hayes and Wynne, Maggie Walsh, Three Sisters Grovini, Bioscope, Harry Roxbury and Co. in "The Prince of Monte Carlo."

EMPIRE THEATRE, GLASGOW.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

Bioscope, Johnny Walker, Prince Milner Trio, Ted and May Hopkins, Syd May, Mabel Bardine and Co., "The Water Cure," Chas. Santon, Marie Clissold, Lottie Lennox.

COLISEUM, GLASGOW.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

Dr. Bodie, Sidney Lee, Three Delaries, Watson's Dogs, Chas. Fisher and Co., James Stewart, Jack Smiles, Bioscope, Lilian Dundas and Co. in "Nance Arden."

GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

Miss Maud Hildyard and Co. in "The Great Awakening."

ARDWICK THEATRE, MANCHESTER.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Joseph Hart's "Futurity Winner," Wyndham and Kitty, Rauschle, Stratton Mills and Co., Tom Parker, Lily Langtry, Rohda Bros., the Brewsters, Bioscope, Howard and Harris.

HIPPODROME, MANCHESTER.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

"The Volcano," Florence, Athlones, John Macaulay, Nellie Wallace, George Bastow, Bros. Egbert, Mena Denvil, Bioscope, Bransby Williams.

EMPIRE PALACE, LEEDS.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Laurence Irving, Mabel Hackney and Co. in "009, West," Three Cape Girls, Rich and Rich, Strolling Players, Cumberlands, Reichen's Dogs, J. P. Ling, Bioscope, Elsie Roby, Colonel Bordeverry.

EMPIRE PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

La Scala Opera Co., Winifred Hare, Cliff Ryland, Florence and Lillian, Goggin and Davis, The Master Mystery, Arthur Kenny, Ernest Clifford, Bioscope, The Renads in "The Swiss Express."

BORDESLEY PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Hardie and Von Leer's Co. in "The Kiss of Judas."

GRAND, BIRMINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

George Formby, Dacey and Lewis, Terry and Lambert, Dumond Trio, Bessie Slaughter, Pete and Minnie Lee, Fred Wilkinson, Kisbey, Adey Spencer, Bioscope, "Casey's Court."

PALACE, LEICESTER.

Rehearsal at 2.30 for :—

Bella and Bijou, Ralph and Nellie Howard, George Newburn, Fred Earle, Kitts and Windrum, Delomes, Thora, Leonie Dixon, Bioscope, L'Incognita.

EMPIRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

George Auger and Co., Bertha Winder, Chas. Vincent, Victor Travers, Humpsty Bumpsti, Ross and Lewis, Henry Coutts and Co., Mayvilles, Bioscope, Mendel.

EMPIRE PALACE, LIVERPOOL.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Marie Lloyd, Lyric Quartette, G. W. Hunter, Daisy James, Carina Sisters, Les Marsumas, Tom Jones, Bioscope, the Boissets in "The Bricklayers," Albert Christian, Kate Cohen.

OLYMPIA, LIVERPOOL.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Bioscope, Horace White, Carney and Armstrong, W. J. Churchill, Leo Tell, Lord, Murray, and Lord, Ike and Will Scott, Alf Maynall, Wee Mona Vivian, Fisher White's Co. in "A Royal Heart."

EMPIRE, HACKNEY.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Courtice and Louie Pounds, Harris Coonie, Harry Luck, Tom Child, Campbell and Barber, Jackson Family, Lily Burnand, Edie Endon, Bioscope, George Leyton and Co. in "The Last Muster."

EMPIRE, HOLLOWAY.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Fred Karno's "The Casuals," Gus Le Clerq, Robertys, Morris Harvey, Witty Watty Walton, Harrison Bros., Sisters Grosvenor, Lottie Govell, Bioscope, Maud Rochez's Monkeys.

EMPIRE, NEW CROSS.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Zeynardt's Liliputians, J. P. Carroll, Dennis Drew and Boys, Griffiths Bros., Imperial Russian Troupe, Vanando, George Brooks, Lizzie Daniels, Bioscope, Fred Edwards and Co. in "Kleptomaniacs."

BROADWAY THEATRE, NEW CROSS.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Baron H. Harris's Co. in "Prince of Pilsen."

THE LONDON COLISEUM

Rehearsal at 10 a.m. for :—

Miss Cecilia Loftus, Miss Evie Greene, Talbot and Pearce, Robb Gilmore, Miss Marquiss, Gwennie Llewellyn, Menotti, Annie Purcell, La Danseuse, Boyd and Gilfain, Bioscope, Whit Cunliffe.

EMPIRE, STRATFORD.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Gus Elen, Sybil St. Elmo, Dion Wade, Stella Girls, Donaldson Bros. and Co., Harry Herbert, Nora Emerald, Nettie Starr, Bioscope, Tom Foy and Co.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BRADFORD.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Ella Retford, Callahan and St. George, Les Voces, Herbert Shelley, Brown and Le Clerq Co., the Maples, Tennyson and Wallis, Bioscope, Lukushimas.

EMPIRE, SWANSEA.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Herbert Darnley's "Brigands of Tarragona," Enzer, Walter King, May Edouin, Bonnie Goodwin's Piccaninnies, Arthur Astill, Kitty Clinton, Bioscope, Ten Zerbinis.

EMPIRE, CARDIFF.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Fred Ginnett's "Dick Turpin," Little Keeno, Burnetti, the Kirbys, Bessie Butt, Frank Sylvo, Bioscope, Lancashire Singers, Queenie Leighton.

PHILHARMONIC HALL, CARDIFF.

Until Further Notice.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Fred D. Jones, Bert Williams, Hetty Hocking, Bioscope, &c.

EMPIRE, NEWPORT.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Machnow, Tom E. Conover, Victor Newman, Eight of Hearts, Rhoda Paul, Bi Bo Bi, E. J. Sheldon, Bioscope, Hermann Melot.

EMPIRE, NOTTINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Frank Gotch and Co., Musical Courtiers, Millie Payne, Wood, Wells, and Wilkins, Harry Bedford, Nell Emerald, Ida Kathrina, George Young, Bioscope, "That Brute Simmons."

EMPIRE PALACE, SHEFFIELD.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Neil Kenyon, Fred Lincoln, Blanche Vincent, Mason and Bart, Phil and Nettie Peters, Bros. Redmond, Marion Scott, Bioscope, Charlene and Charlene, Bros. Horne.

PALACE THEATRE, HULL.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Mike S. Whallen, New York Nippers, Spry and Austin, Gus Garrick, Lauder's Chronomegaphone, Harry Rogers and Co., Marie Empress, Nellie Martell, Bioscope, Laurie and Beatty.

EMPIRE, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

John Lawson (himself) and Co. in Repertoire, Alf Holt, Sisters Lee, J. W. Hall, Pat Rafferty, Adams and Ward, Marie Santoi and Co., Les Martineks, Walter Wade, Bioscope, Dunedin Troupe.

The following are booked in conjunction with the above:

EMPIRE THEATRE, DUBLIN.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

"The Belle of the Orient," Ethel Dove, Madge Osmond, Crown Trio, Frank Mortimer, Lilian Rigby, Bert Terrell, Pictures, Will and Alice Vokes.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BELFAST.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Frank Lister's Co. in "No. 99," Chas. Stevens, La Belle Nello, Ella Dean, Eight Sunrays, Fred Dunstone, Pictures, J. W. Rowley.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, WALSALL.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

Fred Karno's "Football Match," Harry Lawson, R. H. Douglass, Kioto, Bennie Barrow, Bioscope, Joe Almasio.

IMPERIAL HALL, WALSALL.

Company as booked.

THE PALACE, CAMBERWELL.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

G. H. Elliott, the Poluskis, Geo. Antill, Dora Daley, Carlotta Levey, Bob Hanlon Troupe, Ten San Tan Girls, Sinclair and Parr, Stavordale Quintette, Pictures, Mark Melford and Co.

EMPIRE, SUNDERLAND.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Clark and Hamilton, Fred Keeton, Eadie and Ramsden, Walter Munroe, Norman and Leonard Trio, Caicedo, Madge Temple, Illustrated Song, Bioscope, Lil Hawthorne

EMPIRE, PALACE, SOUTH SHIELDS.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Lydia Yeamans, Maud Vera, Jeannie Mackay, Tom Lloyd, Percy Honri, Three Rochesters, Pictures, Delevines.

IMPORTANT NOTICES.

RE APPLICATIONS FOR ENGAGEMENTS.

All applications by either Artists or their Agents must be made to the Head Office. Lowest terms must be stated, and distinction made between salaries required for larger and smaller towns. Vacant dates should be stated. If a list of existing bookings be sent, it will render selection easier.

Artists employing Agents should accredit one only at one time, as the friction arising when several Agents are employed at the same time, all expecting the one booking to go through each of them, often renders it expedient to avoid that booking altogether rather than give undeserved offence to several Agents.

New Acts seeking Engagements, or turns not rebooked (possibly because they have played a series of dates without introducing new business), will facilitate matters by having their acts seen by our District Managers. Their Districts and Postal Addresses are as follow :—

EDINBURGH, GLASGOW, NEWCASTLE, AND DISTRICT.
MR. S. GETHING, Empire Theatre, Glasgow.

BIRMINGHAM, NOTTINGHAM, LEICESTER, AND DISTRICT.
MR. HATTON WHARTON, Empire Theatre, Nottingham.

SOUTH WALES DISTRICT.
MR. ALBERT MITCHELL, Empire Theatre, Cardiff.

LEEDS, SHEFFIELD, HULL, BRADFORD, AND DISTRICT.
MR. T. GERALD MORTON, Empire Palace, Leeds.

LIVERPOOL, MANCHESTER, AND DISTRICT.
MR. ALBERT BULMER, The Empire, Liverpool.

LONDON DISTRICT.
MR. J. CHRISTIE, Empire Theatre, Shepherd's Bush, W.

N.B.—Mr. OSWALD STOLL or Mr. FRANK ALLEN can be seen by appointment on all matters arising out of the above, and for the discussion of entirely new Numbers.

All Artists or Agents who communicate with our District Representatives must have made definite applications, in accordance with above directions, to the Head Office, at the same time, or just previously.

Artists are requested to note that the Alexandra Theatre, Stoke Newington, comes within the area absolutely barred by us. Artists and Agents are requested to note that the Standard Theatre, Shoreditch, and the Terriss Theatre, Rotherhithe, also come within the area absolutely barred by us.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ARTISTS.

Artists must have at least Fourteen Band Parts for English Orchestrations, and Seventeen Band Parts for Foreign Orchestrations. Matter of Bill, Blocks, and Specimens of Pictorials FOR ALL THE ABOVE THEATRES must be sent to Co-operative Offices, at above address, THREE WEEKS before Opening, failing which Artists will run the risk of having their Engagements cancelled.

IMPORTANT.—Artists must forward Copies of Songs to the STAGE DEPARTMENT, ABOVE ADDRESS, TWO WEEKS previous to opening, with Assignments for same, which will be returned. Artists are requested to note carefully that the clause in their contracts relating to rehearsals will in future be strictly enforced. Artists' Scenery, Properties, &c., MUST be fireproofed in accordance with the regulations of the Licensing Authorities.

ARTISTS WILL CLEARLY UNDERSTAND THAT THEIR BUSINESS MUST BE FREE FROM ALL VULGARITY.

No order or contract for goods or services must be accepted for any of the foregoing theatres except upon receipt of an Official Form, issued from the Co-operative Offices, London, and signed by either Mr. Oswald Stoll, Mr. Frank Allen, or the Chief Accountant, otherwise the Company concerned will not be responsible for same, and will refuse payment. In special cases, where goods are required at once, suppliers must look to the individual placing the order, who will be personally liable, unless an official confirmatory order, signed as above, is received within forty-eight hours. Invoices must be sent to the Theatre, but monthly statements should be sent to the Co-operative Offices. The individual Company on whose behalf orders are signed is solely responsible for payment. The Management will not hold themselves responsible in the event of loss of or damage to any MSS., Songs, &c., submitted for consideration.

The Greatest Aggregation of Variety Theatres in the World

THE STAR MUSIC Co.

By far the Greatest Success since "Zuyder Zee" swept the country is Charles Whittle's

HIT OF HITS

I DON'T CARE IF THERE'S A GIRL THERE

UNDOUBTEDLY THE SUCCESS OF THE YEAR.

Already secured for Pantomime by Ada Reeve, Hetty King, May Mars, George Lashwood, Whit Cunliffe, Mark Sheridan and Twenty-four other Star Artists.

Our other Great Winners for Panto. include:

"HAVE YOU GOT ANOTHER GIRL LIKE MARY?"
"WON'T YOU WALTZ THE MERRY WIDOW WALTZ?"
"CAROLINA BROWN OF CHINATOWN."
"AYESHA, MY SWEET EGYPTIAN."
"MY PRETTY PIECE OF DRESDEN CHINA."
"DON'T PUT YOUR UMBRELLA UP BEFORE IT STARTS TO RAIN."
HARRY BEDFORD'S "SALOME," etc., etc.
"MOLLY MALONEY" (JUMP ON MY JAUNTING CAR).

COME & HEAR THESE BIG WINNERS.

Send for our GREAT PANTOMIME BOOK. Postage 6d. Mention theatre and part.

9, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.
(FACING GARRICK THEATRE.)

Phone 8446 Gerrard. Tels., "Songonia, London."

JOSEPH WILLIAMS (LIMITED)

BILL OF FARE.

"TWO LITTLE SABOTS."
(Lionel Elliott.) Dutch Song and Dance. Splendid Number.

"YPSILANTI."
(Pélissier.) The Song of the Season (Boy or Girl). Don't miss this!

"HAPPY DAYS."
(Strelezki.) For Principal Girl or Fairy Queen. A Certain Winner.

"IN THE SPRINGTIME."
(Pélissier.) A Capital Topical Song. One of the very best.

"Pro." Copies of the above supplied, post free, 6d. each (with card), or three selected for 1s.

ALSO APPLY FOR

PANTOMIME SONG BOOK (40 pages).
Post free 6d. (with card).

Dept. 6. London: JOSEPH WILLIAMS (Ltd.), 32, Great Portland St., W.

VON TILZER MUSIC CO., LTD.

PANTOMIME SONGS.

"LET'S HAVE A SONG ABOUT THE BOYS."
"SATURDAY AFTERNOON."
"PUT ME A GIRL INSIDE."
"I'M WAIT-WAIT-WAITING." (All I want is the Man.)
Principal Girl and Dame Song.
"IN A LITTLE WOODEN HOUSE IN NORWAY."
"WHAT A TERRIBLE THING THAT WOULD BE."
TOPICAL SONG already secured by Dan Rolyat for the Adelphi and for Twenty-five other Principal Pantomimes.
"KEEPSAKES." FOR FAIRY QUEEN AND PRINCIPAL GIRL.
"I W-I-L-L—I W-O-N-T." WHIT CUNLIFFE'S COMEDY CHORUS SUCCESS.
Secured by John Hart, Esq., for all his pantomimes—and others.

Postage for our Budget for Principal Boy, Principal Girl, Comedian, 6d. each.

Write for our Slide Song List.

CALL OR WRITE,

Von Tilzer Music Co., Ltd., 100, Charing Cross Rd., London, W.C.

THE MACNAGHTEN VAUDEVILLE CIRCUIT.

Proprietor and Director General:
Mr. FRANK MACNAGHTEN.

SPECIAL AND IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Artists engaged will please note that rehearsals at ALL Halls take place at 12 o'clock noon each Monday.

No excuses whatever for non-attendance will be entertained.

All billing matter and notification of appearance, accompanied by samples of pictorial printing, must be sent to the London Offices, Oakley House, Bloomsbury-street, W.C., fourteen clear days prior to opening, or contract may be cancelled at the option of the Management.

All Scene and Property Plots of Sketches, Scenas, &c., must be sent to Foresters' fourteen clear days before opening.

All Artists carrying scenery must have same fire-proofed, in accordance with L.C.C. regulations, otherwise it will not be allowed in the Halls.

Artists please note that when stage staff are required on Sunday, according to the "award," their time must be reckoned from that given in "call."

In cases of emergency after office hours, Mr. Baugh may be consulted at the Foresters' Theatre, Cambridge-road, E.

Telephone 5954 Avenue.
Telegraphic address, "Stageyness, London."

CALLS

FOR WEEK COMMENCING

MONDAY, NOV. 23, 1908.

PALACE, BRADFORD.
Singing Competititon, Harrigan and Holt, Edith Chantler, Four Garricks, Pop Dearley, Cambodian Troupe, August and September, Harry Pleon, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Hayes and Watson.

PALACE, BLACKBURN.
Foreman and Fannan, Dan Merrett, Sisters Darnton, Archie Pitt, Nat Clifford, The Bensons, Two Kays, Carl and Mary Ohm, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, HALIFAX.
Ross and Grayson, Marion Fletcher, Jim Cheetham, Bowman and Morton, Three Temples, Tom Yorke, Bromley and Fontein, Raymond's Bio-tableaux; Gaudsmidt Bros.

PALACE, W. HARTLEPOOL.
Chris Richards, Floradoras, The Smythsons, Marguerite Ismay, Harry Simms, Clark and Hayden, Alice Maydue, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lucas, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, SOUTHAMPTON.
Gunner Moir, The Davenports, Sisters Brenton, Phern and Phern, Olga Audre and Co., Ellis and Watts, Happy Attwood, Haley's Juveniles, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PAVILION, LEICESTER.
Julian Ross, Pictures, Leccardo Bros., Devereux Dogs, Lil Hartley, Beal and Broadway, Red Triangle, Kirk and Saraski, "Star Football."

THEATRE ROYAL, ROTHERHAM.
"The Village Blacksmith."

THEATRE ROYAL, CHESTERFIELD.
"Two Little Vagabonds."

THEATRE ROYAL, LEEDS.
"When it was Dark."

THEATRE ROYAL, ATTERCLIFFE.
Picture Entertainment.

KING'S, NOTTINGHAM.
Picture Entertainment.

PALACE THEATRE, BATH.
Will Douglas' Bakers, Three Prestons, Flo Inman, Steve Bartle, The Simms, Cissie Curlette, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Astley's Circus.

PALACE THEATRE, LINCOLN.
Bernard Mervyn and Co., Francis Earle, Johnny Dwyer, Cliff and Kean, The Evalos, Mr. E., The Donatos, Leo and Roland, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, CARDIFF.
The Avolos, Clifton and Gibson, Flo Burnett, The Armtes, Stidder and Dunbar, Walter Clyde, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, W. Benson and Co.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, WARRINGTON.
Lyona Trio, Frank Cass, Woodhouse and Wells, Cissie Esdaile, Chas. Banks and Don, Ford and Barras, Gracie Hunt, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Elray.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, BURNLEY.
Vonetta, Chas. Lewis, Dora Barrington, Taree, Babusio Bros., Minnie Kirby, Bernardo, Clown Barker, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Kurkamp.

PIER PAVILION, SOUTHPORT.
Matinée Monday.
Mdlle. Orbasany, Gladys Witton, Frank F. Street, Leslie, Lyn, and Willie, Lillie Luraine, Harry Cotton, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Kinnard, Albert Letine, Viviana.

PALACE, BOW.
Matinée, every Monday.
Ernest Rees, Fred Moule and Co., Bains and Reed, Madam Eldee, Raymond, Alice Hughes, Marion Armitage, The Melbournes, La Belle Mail, Leslie Bell and Co., Hilda Mascott.

FORESTERS'.
Matinées Monday and Thursday.
Burns and Bentley, Keith and Meraon, Fanley, Renée, and Fanley, Raymond, Leslie's, Cadets, Les Zélovas, Gold and Sterling, Sweet Innisfail, Mack Olive, Vera Crackles, Karo and Co., Violet Clare.

SADLER'S WELLS.
Matinée, every Monday.
Tom Collins, Fred Maxwell and Co., Herbert Rule, Nat Watkins, Sisters Edwards, Raymond's, The Cromwells, Pender Troupe, Reid and Power, Freda Fern, Moon and Morris, Eva Roslyn.

PALACE, BATTERSEA.
Matinée, Monday, at 2.30 o'clock.
Bernard and Weston, Albert Wyndham and Co., Albert St. Clair, Raymond, The Gascoignes, Dolly Elsworthy and Co., Burglar and the Beetle, Norman Osborne, Sisters Bronsen, Lily Ray, Josephine Crook.

SURREY THEATRE.
All Artists engaged for Surrey Theatre must bring 14 Band Parts.
Matinée every Monday.
The Sivronis, Ethel Scheffer, Harry Champion, Ted Karno and Co., Sisters Du Cane, Raymond, Russell Carr, Arthur Rigby and Co., Zetta Russell, First Stop London, Barrington.

FRANCIS & DAY'S PANTOMIME SONGS.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"OH! OH! ANTONIO!"
Miss FLORRIE FORDE'S LATEST SENSATION.
Sung also by Miss EDITH FINK.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"HANG OUT THE FRONT DOOR KEY."
GEORGE LASHWOOD'S LATEST CHORUS SONG.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"SHADOWLAND." A Charming Number for Cinderella or Fairy Queen.
"SUE, SUE, SUE." G. H. ELLIOTT'S GREATEST SUCCESS.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"I'M AFRAID TO COME HOME IN THE DARK."
Sung by Miss HETTY KING and R. G. KNOWLES.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"BOMBADIER." A GREAT PANTOMIME MARCH NUMBER.
"L. S. D." R. G. KNOWLES'S LATEST FURORE.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"COME, BE MY RAINBOW."
(FOR RAINBOW AND LIGHTING EFFECTS.)
Which will be featured by Miss MADGE TEMPLE at the London Coliseum.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"MY GIRL'S A YORKSHIRE GIRL."
A GREAT CHORUS SONG, Sung by Miss FLORRIE GALLIMORE.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"MANDY'S WEDDING."
THE GREAT SUMMER SUCCESS. SOLO AND CHORUS.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"EVERY FELLOW'S IN LOVE WITH A GIRL."
SOMETHING NEW FOR PRINCIPAL BOYS

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:
"WHO SAID HE DON'T LIKE GIRLS?"
Sung by HARRY SIMMS.

When you have heard the above you will have no difficulty in deciding which are THE BIG HITS FOR THE COMING PANTOMIMES.

PANTOMIME BOOKS NOW READY:
No. 1. PRINCIPAL BOY.
No. 2. PRINCIPAL GIRL.
No. 3. LOW COMEDIAN AND DAME.
No. 4. FREE SONGS FOR ALL LINES.
SUPPLIED FOR PANTO. USE ONLY. COST OF DISPATCH, SIXPENCE EACH BOOK.

FRANCIS, DAY, & HUNTER,

142, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.
Telephone, 5425, Gerrard. Telegraphic Addresses: "Arpeggio, London," and "Playtime, New York."

M. WITMARK & SONS

Take pleasure in presenting another bunch of Novelties for

PICKERS OF PANTOMIME PLUMS.

Keep your mind alert and your eyes open for

"TAKE ME SOME PLACE WITH YOU, JOHNNY." One of those songs that "Happen."
A FIRST NIGHT HIT, as Sung by Miss MARGARET COOPER, Palace, London.

The sure-fire Pantomime hit will be

"WAY DOWN IN COLON TOWN."
For novelty, melody, and originality this charming number has never been equalled.
If you have not heard it make haste and do so.

An Egyptian Ideal. "CLEOPATRA."
Words by CHARLES WILMOTT. Music by HARRY WELMON.
Sung with great success by Miss ETHEL RA-LESLIE.

Three absolutely new and novel March Songs. The current New York Song Success.
"BONNIE MY HIGHLAND LASSIE."
"DO AS THE SOLDIERS DO."
"THE GIRLS WHO MAKE LONDON GAY."

The Comedy Song of the year,
"BILLY BROWN."
Sung by FRAGSON, Tivoli, London, Every Evening.

"DON'T FORGET TO WRITE ME EVERY DAY."
"EVERYBODY KNOWS IT'S THERE,"
with extra verses by Mr. EDGAR BATEMAN.

Two Beautiful Harmonising Ballads.
"WAKE LITTLE ROBIN" and "BY THE OLD WOOD FIRE."

Two Charming Duets.
"KISS, KISS, KISS" and "YOU'VE MADE A HIT WITH ME."

Four Great Songs for Fairy Queen or Principal Girl.
"AS LONG AS THE WORLD ROLLS ON." "I'D LIVE OR I WOULD DIE FOR YOU."
"ALL FOR LOVE OF YOU." "TAKE ME WITH YOU IN YOUR DREAMS."

Send for Complete List of Pantomime Songs.

Our Pantomime Books are now ready, and will be sent only to bona fide Pantomime Artists on receipt of 1/-

JUST PUBLISHED.
"THE WITMARK AID TO ENTERTAINERS."
Everyone interested in stage, club, and home amusements should send for this encyclopædia of information relating to all and every kind of entertaining.
Sent post paid on receipt of two penny stamps.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

ALL APPLICATIONS for professional copies must be accompanied by recent programmes and seven penny stamps to ensure attention. No postcard applications considered.

Address all Communications to the Firm

M. WITMARK & SONS

186 & 188, Shaftesbury Avenue, LONDON, W.C.
58, Rue du Faubourg Montmartre, PARIS.

Telegraphic Address, NUBECULA, London.
Telephone, 1430 Gerrard.

CHARLES WARREN—Manager

For continuation of Song Advts., see page 40.

Telegraphic Address:
"PHONOFILM," London.

Telephones:
No. 3037 Central. 3239 Gerrard.

PATHÉ FRÈRES, LONDON.

31-33, CHARING CROSS ROAD, W.C.

THE LARGEST FILM MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

ACTUAL OUTPUT OF FILMS PER DAY, 80 MILES.

THIS WEEK'S NOVELTIES.

THE MARTYRDOM OF LOUIS XVII.

Code Word, "FOC."

The first picture of this subject has been taken at Versailles, and represents in the pretty scenery of Trianon, the Royal Family enjoying a happy security. Not long after, however, the people of France, having revolted against the Government, are storming the palace, and clamouring for the surrender of the King. The Royal Family is then conveyed to the Feuillants. Queen Marie-Antoinette has to part from her son, the young Louis XVII., who is taken to the house of Simon the Cobbler, and eventually dies in a dungeon of the Temple prison with, in his mind, the horrible vision of the scaffold.

676ft. The Subject, £11 5s. 4d. Colouring £6 15s. 0d.

THE BRIGADIER'S STRIPES (A Dramatic Comedy by Brada).

Code Word, "FORAIN."

Gendarme Cope wishes to see the stripes of a brigadier on his sleeve. Meanwhile, he lives happily with his two children, and his wife Gertie. The gendarmes, having been warned of the presence of a man known as a dangerous character in the neighbourhood, they go in search of the thief, who wounds Gendarme Cope before he is arrested. Gertie recognises him as the man who, long ago, before she even knew her husband, deserted her after promising to marry her. In spite of this, however, she has pity on him, and she drops into his cell a file wherewith he will be able to escape. Cope, recognising the tool as his own, is very suspicious, and his wife's attitude enlightens him. At last he yields to her entreaties and those of his small son, and forgives her. At the same time he learns through some of his friends that he has been granted the coveted stripes for wounds received at the hands of the despicable individual. This little piece has been enacted by excellent artists, such as Arquillière, of the Vaudeville Theatre, Paris, &c.

797ft. The Subject, £12 12s. 4d. Toning, £1 10s.

MR. GIDDY WISHES TO ENJOY HIMSELF.

Code Word, "FAROUCHE."

Mr. Giddy wishes to enjoy himself. Will he succeed? It is doubtful, for he seems to have a run of bad luck. At last he goes and courts a young and pretty shrimper, who pushes him into a bucket full of water, which is likely to put an end to his adventurous mood.

412ft. The Subject, £8 17s. 4d.

AN UNWILLING SERVANT.

Code Word, "FESTON."

Two lovers are disturbed by the unexpected arrival of the husband, and the lady introduces her friend as their future servant. Mr. Hubby goes on a journey the same day, and he takes with him Mr. Arthur, who has to wire to his own wife that he has been called away on business. She does not believe it, and boards the same train in order to get at the bottom of all this. Arthur is in a rage when he is ordered to serve his wife and new master at table, and it is only by means of a trick of his that he can go away with his wife, saying to himself the while, "Everyone in his own home is the best policy after all."

626ft. The Subject, £10 8s. 8d.

THE FISHERMAN'S HATE.

Code Word, "FICELLE."

Two fishermen are in love with the same girl. While out at sea the rejected suitor throws the other overboard, with, as sole witness, the mighty ocean. So he thinks, but the girl is at that moment sweeping the sea with her glasses. When she sees her lover going under she throws herself into the water, and swims to his rescue. The two reach the coast at last, and in the meantime the would-be-murderer spreads the news of the accidental death of his victim, who suddenly appears before him, ready to make it even with him, and the punishment will be terrible.

528ft. The Subject, £8 16s. 0d. Toning, £1 0s. 0d.

VENICE IN A GONDOLA.

Code Word, "FLEURISTE."

Titles of Pictures:—Famous Marble Palaces along the Grand Canal—The Casa d'Or, one of the most magnificent palaces of the Grand Canal—The Rialto Bridge—End of the Grand Canal—The Madona della Salute—The Royal Palace—The Piazzetta and Its Two Columns—The Palace of the Doges—The Prisons.

412ft. The Subject, £6 17s. 4d. Toning, £1 0s. 0d.

THE SHEPHERDESS.

Code Word, "EXIGU."

This is the story of a humble girl who has married a young gentleman's son. She is very unhappy in her new home, for her new relations are spiteful and unkind to her. After the death of her husband she is turned out, and returns to her birthplace; her parents forgive her for having left them, and she resumes in the open-air the work that she should never have left.

725ft. The Subject, £12 1s. 8d.

SAVED BY A DOG.

Code Word, "FRIANDISE."

An old beggar woman steals the child of people who have not given her the money she was begging for. The parents are very desperate, for there is no clue whatever. Yet Rita, their collie dog, sets out and finds the dwelling-place of the old woman. It comes back, and manages to make itself understood by its master, who goes out with the dog, and soon comes back with his little child in his arms.

510ft. The Subject, £8 10s. 0d. Toning 6s.

IN ZULULAND.

Code Word, "FLEURON."

Titles of Pictures:—Village Life—Preparing the Millet, which forms an important part of the villagers' food—Black Beauties—Warriors—The Village Queen.

428ft. The Subject, £7 2s. 8d.

A MYSTERIOUS THIEF.

Code Word, "EXIGEANT."

Two policemen are dreaming that by means of a hitherto unknown process a thief can reduce his body to an effigy, which, according to circumstances, passes through the chinks in the doors, or rolls itself up into a tiny ball. Having entered a banking house in this way, he pays his respects to the safe. There ensues an exciting chase, which causes the policemen to wake up at the police-station, where they are on duty.

595ft. The Subject, £9 18s. 4d.

Pathé's Films

UNEQUALLED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

PATHÉ FRÈRES AHEAD OF ALL OTHER FIRMS.

LAST WEEK'S NOVELTIES.

ARTHUR AND FRANK.

Code Word, "FETE."

Arthur and Frank are two friends out for a lark. They meet two couples in the street, who are on their way to a fashionable restaurant, and they make a wager they will kidnap the two ladies. Whilst the strangers are having their lunch, the two scoundrels come in, and perform all sorts of acrobatic turns, after which they go away with the two ladies, while the husbands are indulging in a nap. Very amusing.

297ft. The Subject, £4 19s. 0d. Toning, 14s.

HEAD-DRESSES IN BRITTANY.

Code Word, "EVADER."

This film is a new number added to previous subjects on Brittany, such as Clog Making, Buckwheat, Pilgrimages in Brittany, &c., and it is well worth being included in any programme. It depicts most picturesquely the elaborate head-dresses of the peasant girls of that part of France, and the various processes used for ironing them.

379ft. The Subject, £8 6s. 4d.

IN LAPLAND.

Code Word, "FLAMANT."

This country is not very well-known by holiday-makers, and it may be interesting for some people to have projected on the screen pictures of places where the reindeer pasture in liberty in herds of several hundred heads at a time. The shepherd's camp is also an unusual sight in its primeval and seemingly-comfortless surroundings.

460ft. The Subject, £7 13s. 4d.

SWEET DREAMS AND NIGHTMARES.

Code Word, "FILAGE."

Near the lake, among picturesque surroundings, a young princess falls asleep. In her dreams she sees the Spirits of the Lake come forth from the depths of the water, to carry her away to their grottoes, where dwarfs and goblins mean to burn her alive. The princess wakes up to fall asleep again a moment later. This time it is the Water Fairy who pays her a visit. She walks with her in a park full of flowers, and a Prince Charming whispers sweet things in her ears. On leaving Dreamland, however, she is greeted by an old marquis, whose company she does not appreciate at all.

314ft. The Subject, £5 4s. 8d. Colouring, £3 6s. 0d.

PATHÉ'S FILMS ARE EXCLUSIVELY EXHIBITED AT THE LONDON HIPPODROME, and have met with Great Success at THE PATHÉ BUILDING, FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION.

WORKS AND STUDIOS.

VINCENNES.
JOINVILLE LE PONT.
MONTREUIL s/BOIS.

BRANCHES.

BRUSSELS.	VIENNA.	ALEXANDRIA.	SHANGHAI.
NEW YORK.	MILAN.	BUENOS AYRES.	TOKIO.
BERLIN.	AMSTERDAM.	RIO DE JANEIRO.	SYDNEY.
MOSCOW.	CALCUTTA.	MEXICO.	BARCELONA

SINGAPORE.

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

Telephone: 6473 Central.

FILMS FOR HIRE

FILMS FOR HIRE

Our Speciality is

LONG PICTURE SHOWS.

All Our Customers are Doing Well. The Pick of ALL Manufacturers' Films.

We do not push any Firm's Films in particular; but we buy the CHOICE of the WORLD'S PRODUCTIONS.

You may leave your Billing to us.

WE ARE SHOWMEN.

YOUR SUCCESS IS OURS.

DO NOT RUSH TO THE WASTE BUTT TO SAVE 5/- —IT IS NOT POLICY.

How can you expect the same result from an Inferior Programme as you would a First Class one?

You would not expect the same result from a £2 a week Comedian as you would a £60 one. This class of saving is PENNY WISE and POUND FOOLISH.

Repeating Our Motto:

THE BEST IS NOT TOO GOOD FOR YOU.

Please Note

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE address:
65, Thornton Street, Westgate Road.

LONDON address:
1 TO 5, CECIL COURT, W.C.

Telegrams: "Newbio, London."

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

RUFFELL'S PICTURES

Hold your Audience.

RUFFELL'S PICTURES
Hold their Own.

RUFFELL'S PICTURES
Hold the Name.

Try "Ruffell's" in your Billing, and the result will be a Success and a Draw.
Place your Date with us, the Reliable

STAR PICTURE EXHIBITORS.

We collect and use nothing but the very best Films of the highest photographic quality of all the leading British and Continental Manufacturers, besides Original Subjects of our own, hence our standard of efficiency is always TIP-TOP.

Complete Weekly Changes.
Terms Moderate.

RUFFELL'S IMPERIAL BIOSCOPE SYNDICATE, LTD.,
12, LITTLE NEWPORT-STREET, W.C.
(Opposite the Hippodrome.)
New Second-Hand List now Ready.

FILMS FOR HIRE.

SPECIAL HIRE DEPARTMENTS

FIRST-CLASS FILMS ONLY.

For Lantern and Cinematograph Work

Apply to—

R. R. BEARD,

MANUFACTURER,

10, TRAFALGAR ROAD, OLD KENT ROAD, LONDON, S.E.

Repairs of any description promptly attended to. Condensers, Lenses, Carbons, and Limes of the best quality.

Lists Gratis.

The No. 1 "Empire"

THE IDEAL MACHINE FOR THE SHOWMAN.

A machine at a figure that commands attention. An example of mechanical ingenuity combined with sound commercial ideas. It contains all the most important EMPIRE improvements and principles which are indispensable to the first-class exhibitor.

EMPIRE List Free.

Price, complete in case, with Cinematograph and Lantern Lens,

£18 18;

With Patent Cut-off Shutter, as illustrated,

£21.

W. BUTCHER & SONS, Ltd.,
Farringdon Avenue,
LONDON. E.C.

MOVING PICTURE Machines & Lanterns

You can make money by ENTERTAINING THE PUBLIC.

Nothing affords better opportunities for men with small capital

We furnish Everything, including full instructions, and we allow Large Discounts to Professional Exhibitors.

There is an immense field in Churches, Public Schools, and General Public Gatherings.

We have the largest Lantern and Cinematograph Catalogue in the World, viz.—Our Catalogue de Luxe, 336 pages, 2/6 post free, which sum may be deducted from first purchase of £1.

RILEY BRS. LD, 17, Colonnade Studio, BRADFORD

FIVE HUNDRED REPLIES

IN ANSWER to
ONE ADVERTISEMENT in the

WANTED COLUMNS

of

"THE ERA."

Mr. ALBERT HENGLER writing from the
HIPPODROME, GLASGOW, says:—

MY ADVERTISEMENT IN THE LAST ISSUE
OF YOUR PAPER
BROUGHT ME CLOSE
ON 500 REPLIES

AN EXCELLENT RESULT.

Particulars of
THE PUBLISHER.

"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

TO SHOWMEN, ENTREPRENEURS, AND CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW EXPLOITERS.

A CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW.

ALFRED WEST'S

"OUR NAVY."

ONE THOUSAND POUNDS

FOR

TWENTY-FIVE SHILLINGS.

TO THE PUBLISHER, "THE ERA."

Sir,—
It may possibly interest you to learn that a Quarter-Column Advertisement in "The Era" (One Insertion) resulted in over £1,000 Bookings for an Entertainment with which I was connected some little time ago. The Entertainment was entitled and the Bookings were effected within a week.

ALFRED WEST'S "OUR NAVY,"

Yours faithfully,
H. GOLDSMITH-WHITTON,
Late Manager, West's "Our Navy," Ltd. &c.
London, May 19, 1908.

THE THEATRES MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

Directors,
Mr. GEORGE ALEXANDER, Chairman.
Mr. J. F. ELLISTON, Vice-Chairman.
Mr. H. BEERBOHM TREE.
MR. J. MACREADY CHUTE.
Mr. JOHN HART.
Mr. FREDERICK MOUILLOT.
Mr. F. W. WYNDHAM.
Secretary,
Mr. E. W. BUCKLEY.

This Company being purely mutual, the whole of the Profits are apportioned amongst the Members, and, after building up substantial reserves and the Payment of Dividends upon the paid-up Capital, more than 50 per cent. of the total premiums paid has been apportioned amongst the Policy-holders, the actual cost of the Insurance thus being less than one-half of the premiums paid.

For Particulars apply to
E. W. BUCKLEY, Secretary,
The Theatres Mutual Insurance Co., Ltd.,
6, Bowlalley-lane, Hull.
Telegraphic Address, "Lynx, Hull."
Telephones: National, 417: Corporation, 517.

MONTPELIER PALACE, WALWORTH.

Owing to L.C.C. REQUIREMENTS

I am obliged to give up the lease at this hall. All contracts signed by me are therefore hereby cancelled. F. A. FULLAGAR.

AT EARL'S COURT.

A TOY CITY AND FUN FAIR

WILL BE OPEN FROM

DECEMBER 10, 1908,

UNTIL

FEBRUARY 6, 1909.

TWICE DAILY.
A GRAND CIRCUS.
FREE.

TWICE DAILY.
A FAIRY PANTOMIME.
FREE.

TWICE DAILY.
A GRAND VARIETY SHOW.
FREE.

Twelve Hours' Continual Enjoyment FREE, FREE, FREE.

A Small Amount of Space still left for first-class Up-to-date SIDE SHOWS, STALLS, and GAMES.

All Applications to ARTHUR COOMBER, Manager, Earl's Court Road Entrance.

All Tubes lead direct to "The TOY CITY," EARL'S COURT EXHIBITION.

INDISPENSABLE!

RAYNE'S

POCKET DATE BOOK.

Price ONE SHILLING.

Five Shillings' worth of information for One Shilling. Purchaers of this work will not only be making a good investment, but will also be adding to the funds of two deserving charities. The above work, got up in a convenient size for the waistcoat pocket, should be in the possession of every actor, every music hall artist, and every entertainer, in fact.

CONTENTS.

Map (19in. by 10in.), showing the distance betwixt the various Music Halls at a glance. Will tell if one Hall is within the barring radius of the other, thus saving fears, worry, and anxiety.

All About Artists' Luggage.
Lists of Clubs.
Information about stamping Contracts.
Foreign Money Tables.
London Music Halls and Theatres, Their Telephone Numbers.
List of Brougham Proprietors.
List and Address of Photographers.
Size of Theatrical Printing Paper.
Names and Addresses of Theatrical Railway Managers, &c., &c.

RAYNE'S

POCKET DATE BOOK.

THE BOOK WILL BE SOLD AT ONE SHILLING
Post Free.

The proceeds from the sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the Dramatic and Musical Professions,

THE ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND
AND
THE MUSIC HALL HOME FUND.

Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Garrick Theatre, writes: "I thank you for the little book, which I am sure will be very useful."

Mr. George Scott (Manager), Alhambra, W.C., writes: "Many thanks for the little book to hand, which will prove of valuable assistance to me."

Mr. Seymour Hicks, Aldwych Theatre, writes: "I thank you for the Telephone Book, which I find most useful."

Send 12 Stamps to the Publisher.

"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK STREET, W.C.

'Phones: 4747 and 1433 Central.
Telegraphic Address: "The Era, London."

Children On the Stage.

THE ACT

AFFECTING THE

EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN ON THE STAGE

CAME INTO FORCE ON

SATURDAY, OCT. 1, 1904.

MANAGERS, AGENTS, ENTREPRENEURS,
AND PERFORMERS
WISHING TO POSSESS A COPY of the

COMPLETE ACT

— IN A CONCISE FORM — can do so by forwarding

THREE STAMPS

TO

THE PUBLISHER,

"THE ERA" OFFICES,
5, TAVISTOCK STREET, STRAND, W.C.

Telegraphic address: "THE ERA, LONDON."
'Phones 4747 and 1433 Central.

SPENCER BROS., Ltd.,
Aeronauts to the Crystal Palace, &c.
45a, Aberdeen Park, Highbury, N.
Terms upon Application.

C. G. SPENCER & SONS,
Airship, Balloon, and Parachute Manufacturers,
55A, Highbury Grove, London, N.
Price List, one Stamp.
Telegrams, "Aeronaut, London."
'Phone. 1893 Dalston.

SCENERY.
Best Work and Materials only.
Bazaars Fitted.
Models. Estimates.
WALMSLEY'S, Rivers-street Studios, Portsmouth.

ROLLER SKATING ALL THE RAGE IN EVERY PROMINENT AMERICAN CITY.

Convert your OPERA HOUSE or MUSIC HALL into a ROLLER RINK, and derive full benefit from the investment in your building. A Roller Rink can be successfully operated in any good size hall, and skating will not interfere with its use for other purposes.

RICHARDSON CUSHION FRAME, ANTI-JAR BALL BEARING . . . . . ROLLER SKATES

should be your equipment; used exclusively in all of the largest and most successful Rinks in America, and by all the leading skaters of the world.

(Cable Address: "Levant.") RICHARDSON BALL BEARING SKATE CO., 501, Wells Street, CHICAGO, U.S.A.

EUROPEAN BRANCH: NEW BRIGHTON, CHESHIRE. Fred W. Nall, Manager.

MUSIC PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENTS.

CHARLES SHEARD & CO.'S

PANTO WINNERS! PANTO HITS!

Every Artiste, Author, or Manager should examine them. There are a lot of "down the course" .. songs offered this year, but THESE are the only REAL CERTAIN SURE WINNERS. ..

PRINCIPAL BOY–
"I CAN'T GET AWAY FROM THE GIRLS."
"MY LIMELIGHT LOU."

PRINCIPAL GIRL–
"HOLD ME TIGHTER, MR. LIGHTER."
"WHO'D LIKE TO PAY FOR MY HOLIDAY."

BOY or GIRL (very effective)–
"JENNIE, DON'T SWING ON THE GATE."

COMEDIAN–
"GIRLS, GIRLS, NOTHING ELSE BUT GIRLS."

CHORUS SONGS (beautifully harmonised)–
* "LITTLE SILVER MOONBEAM."
(Great for staging purposes. The best since "Pansy Faces.")
* "WHEN THE SUNRISE PAINTS THE DISTANT HILLS WITH ROSE."
* "SWEET BELLS OF HOME."

Band Parts can be had of those marked *, price 1/- per set.

PLEASE ENCLOSE SIX STAMPS FOR POSTAGE. These are the only songs that "stand out" on their merits. They are bound to keep you in the front rank if you are there already, or, if not, are certain to place you there right away.

CHARLES SHEARD & CO., 196, SHAFTESBURY AVENUE, W.C.

FOR PANTOMIME HITS. National MUSIC PUBLISHING COMPANY.

COMEDIANS LOOK! This is a Sensational Knock-out for Panto.

"PUT ME UPON AN ISLAND WHERE THE GIRLS ARE FEW."

We only received this song on Monday, and it is ALREADY RESERVED for JACK PLEASANTS, HARRY GREY, BARNEY ARMSTRONG, PETE BIRMINGHAM, WILL LETTERS, and a host of others. Be Wise! Get it at once. It will make all the other Girl Songs go back to the woods.

Have we reserved this tremendous winner for you?

"MY LITTLE EVA." Lowenwirth & Cohan's Knock-out Chorus Song.

NO PANTO. COMPLETE WITHOUT IT.

THE 100 GUINEA SONG:–

"WHEN THE LEAVES ARE TINGED WITH GOLD."

(Sung with Terrific Success by FRED ELTON.)
Placed with Robert Arthur and all the Leading Pantos.

"IF IT'S A LADY." (GEORGE LASHWOOD'S Latest).
This is also placed with Robert Arthur and a host of others.

"I WISH I HAD A PAL LIKE YOU," "NICOLO, NICOLO, PLAY ON YOUR PICCOLO,' "CALL ROUND ANY OLD TIME," "WHEN I'VE A HUNDRED POUNDS," "KATE, WON'T YOU ROLLER SKATE?" and a host of others.

We can give you March Songs, Ballads, Coon Songs, Comedy Songs, in fact, any style song you want. Call round any old time and hear them played over. If not in town, send SIXPENCE FOR BUNDLE OF PROFESSIONAL COPIES.

THE NATIONAL MUSIC PUBLISHING COMPANY
132, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.
KARL F. HOOPER, J. CHAS. MOORE.

METZLER'S

PANTOMIME SONGS, &C.

LUCY AND I	MAUD ASHTON
SANSY PANSY SOO	ERNEST BUCALOSSI
LOOKING FOR A GIRL LIKE YOU	ERNEST VOUSDEN
HEATHER TIME	JULIAN CLIFFORD
PEG AWAY	FREDERICK BEVAN
VENETIAN LOVE SONG	ETHEL BENINGFIELD
BOATING	KENNEDY RUSSELL

DANCES.

THE HUSTLER (Two-Step)	KARL KAPS
VALSE DE NUIT	PAUL RUBENS
VALSE D'AMOUR	HAROLD GRIMSTON
VISION (Valse Lente) E. WORSLEY	SOLANDRE E. GEORGE

Professional Copies at 6d. each.

METZLER & CO.,
42, Great Marlborough Street, London, W.

THE SONG OF THE YEAR.

"ESKIMO LOVE SONG."

Words by NEWMAN HARDY. Music by HOWARD FISHER.

SING IT IN YOUR - PANTOMIME. -

In Two Keys, F, G.
PROFESSIONAL COPIES FREE.
BAND PARTS, 6d.

LEONARD & CO., 311, Oxford Street, W.

BOROUGH OF TORQUAY.

THE TORQUAY TOWN COUNCIL

INVITE TENDERS

for the supply of a

FIRST-CLASS MILITARY BAND

consisting of seventeen performers (sixteen men and conductor), to play in the Princess Gardens for a period of ten weeks commencing Monday, July 5th, 1909, five hours per week-day, except on a few special occasions, when six hours will be required.

Tenders, endorsed "Military Band," together with copies of three recent testimonials, and containing list of the instruments to be played by each member of the band, should reach the undersigned not later than Thursday, December 3rd, 1908.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

FREDK. S. HEX, Town Clerk.
Town Hall, Torquay,
November 19th, 1908.

BOOM YOUR ACT.

Pat. No. 24393/06.

AERIAL ADVERTISING.

We supply Complete Outfits for £5 5s., and give tuition and all necessary particulars free.

You can boom your act to the whole town better than all the bill-posting, and at one tenth the cost.

Remember "Votes for Women" banner floating over the Houses of Parliament.

BROOKE & GILLMAN,
318, KING STREET, HAMMERSMITH, LONDON, W

KITES BALLOONS AEROPLANES, &c.

PHOTOS

with Individuality, with Style, and with Distinction

MEAN SUCCESS.

MODERN PHOTOGRAPHIC WORK FOR ARTISTES.

The well-known establishment of THE Hana STUDIOS, Ltd., place at your service a thorough knowledge and experience of artistes' requirements.

WE CAN PLEASE YOU AND OUR PRICES WILL SATISFY YOU TOO.

We gladly answer any inquiries.

THE HANA STUDIOS, Ltd.,
22, Bedford-street, Strand.

TOURING and WARDROBE HAMPERS,
TOURING and WARDROBE HAMPERS,

Turn Baskets,
Theatrical Properties, Hobby Horses, and Animals in Wicker and Cane-work.

A. COOK and CO.,
late of 25, Waterloo-road, S.E.,

Removed to more Central Premises,
39, GERRARD-ST., SHAFTESBURY-AVENUE, W.

OCCIPITAL CASSOWARY, 2 Malayan Bears, 1 pair Giant Capybaras, 2 Emus, 14 pairs Demoiselle Cranes, 1 White Persian Greyhound, 1 Milky Owl, 1 King Vulture, 1 Viscacha, 8 Kanagaroo Rats, 1 Wallaby, 7 small Ponies, 1 larger Black Arab Pony, 16 Lemurs, &c.
ALBERT EDWARD JAMRACH (late Charles Jamrach), 180, St. George's-street East.

STAFFORD & CO., LTD.,

NETHERFIELD, NOTTS.

Write for Catalogue of

PANTOMIME PRINTING.

WILLSONS
Supply STREAMER LETTERS, Mammoth Posters, Day Bills, in First-class Style, and the General Run of Show Printing, Streamers—the largest Assortment in the United Kingdom— Day Bills, &c., at our Usual Low Rates.

NEW-WALK PRINTING WORKS, LEICESTER.

ADMISSION TICKETS In ROLLS or PACKETS for Checking the Drawings.
Printed & Numbered to suit all requirements.
THE GLASGOW NUMERICAL TICKET AND CHECK BOOK PRINTING CO., Write Dept. "E" for Prices.
31, Finnieston Street, GLASGOW.

MOODY BROTHERS, Theatrical Printers, Birmingham, for PICTORIALS. New Machinery to print 60 by 40. Write for Illustrated Catalogues, containing illustrations of all Mackenzie's Pictorials, which we have lately bought; also Cullifford's Catalogue for Bargains. 'Phone, 1206 Central. Tel., "Moody's, Birmingham."

TROEDEL & CO.
THEATRICAL PRINTERS,
MELBOURNE, VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA
COMPANIES TOURING THE COMMONWEALTH AND NEW ZEALAND CAN GET ALL PICTORIAL PRINTING THEY REQUIRE SPECIALLY PREPARED AT ABOVE ADDRESS AND SAVE ALL EXPENSES OF FREIGHT AND HEAVY DUTIES.

THE WEST LONDON THEATRE,

Marylebone.

A going concern, with possession, if desired, ready for Christmas Entertainments, close to Edgware-road Stations on the Metropolitan and Bakerloo Railways. Accommodation for about 1800 persons. Reputed longest stage in the kingdom. £3000 expended on improvements. Let at £1100 per annum. Term, 13 years unexpired.

Messrs. EDWIN FOX and BOUSFIELD will Sell by Auction, at the Mart, on Wednesday next, Nov. 25, at two o'clock, by order of the Mortgagee, the above Leasehold Property.

Particulars of Messrs. Metcalfe and Sharpe, Solicitors, 40, Chancery-lane, W.C., and at the Auctioneers' office, 99, Gresham-street, Bank, E.C.

THEATRICAL, MUSICAL, AND EQUESTRIAN OBITUARY FOR 1908. See THE ERA ANNUAL 1909.

KURSAAL, HARROGATE

THE GENERAL MANAGER (Mr. Julian Clifford) requires a Secretary and Assistant-Manager for the Kursaal and Spa Rooms. Age between 30 and 45. Salary £150 per annum. Must be smart business man, of good address, accustomed to the management of a Concert Hall Bar, Café, and staff, and with some knowledge of entertainment advertising. Shorthand and Typing essential. A form of application will be forwarded on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope, which must be returned to me not later than Nov. 30, 1908, accompanied by not more than two copies of recent testimonials, and endorsed "Secretary."

Canvassing directly or indirectly will be considered a disqualification.

J. TURNER TAYLOR,
Nov., 1908. Town Clerk, Harrogate.

THE T. M. HARTON CO.

PITTSBURG, Pa. U.S.A.,

Builders of the Famous

FIGURE 8 RAILWAY,

WANT CONCESSIONS AND CONTRACTS.

GEO. A. LAZEAR,
Sole Representative,
21, VERNON ST., BROUGHTON, MANCHESTER

WINSLOW'S Skates

THE BEST ICE AND ROLLER SKATES.

Winslow's Rink Skates are used exclusively in Tournament Hall, Liverpool; Exhibition Hall, Newcastle; American Roller Rinks, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Leeds, Dublin, and 15 others, including London Olympia, to be opened soon, all under the management of C. P. Crawford, Esq. Experience has taught all Rink Managers that the best is none too good. Winslow's Skates have been the standard of the world for more than fifty years.

We are prepared to make immediate deliveries from our London Office, 8, Long Lane, Aldersgate Street, E.C., where we at all times carry a large and complete stock of Skates. Send for New Catalogues and full information.

THE SAMUEL WINSLOW SKATE MFG. CO. (Of WORCESTER, MASS., U.S.A.)
LONDON OFFICE: 8, Long Lane, Aldersgate Street, E.C. 'Phone, 5947 Central.

T. CRAVEN & SONS

The largest Professional Hamper Establishment in the world

The best by test, test the best

Illustrated Catalogue FREE of Stock Sizes Post free

19 MARSDEN COURT FENNEL ST

MANCHESTER

BRANCH 8 Queen St BELFAST.

MR. ERNEST CH. GITTINS, Business Man., Oscar Asche and Lily Brayton Co., Croydon. Next, King's T., Hammersmith.

MR. W. T. GLIDDON, Author and Composer of "The Flower Girl." Songs and Sketches ready. 30, Aytoun-road, Stockwell.

MR. DOUGLAS GORDON, Returned to England. Disengaged. Add., 198, Wymering-mansions, Elgin-avenue, W.

MR. RICHARD A. GREENE, Lead, "Two Little Vagabonds," No. 1. Good offers invited. Dec. 7, T. R., Wolverhampton.

MR. HERBERT GREVILLE. Disengaged. 9, Adelaide-road, London, N.W.

MR. HARRY A. GRIBBEN, Rehearsing Pantomime. Princess's Theatre, Glasgow.

MR. FRED GROVE, Disengaged in Dec. 50, Gresham-road, Brixton, S.W

MR. & Mrs. F. R. GWYN-RICHARDSON (Miss Grace Harlington), Xmas, "Second to None," term. second "Treshams" Tour. Bath.

MR. A. H. HALLATT, Helgar and S.-M., "Her Love Against the World." Nov. 30, T. R., Middlesbro' (six nights).

MR. A. C. HARDIE, concludes Engagement with H. Sleath, Esq., Dec. 7. Disengaged. Grand, Fulham, 30th.

MR. W. HENRY HARGREAVES, MISS MAY DALLAS. At Liberty Dec. 7, T. R., Huddersfield.

MR. FREDERICK HARKER, Archibald Carlyle, "The New East Lynne." His Majesty's Theatre, Aberdeen.

MR. CHARLES HARLEY, concluded "The Hypocrites" tour. Dis. Add., Actors' Association, 353, Strand.

MR. MURRAY HATHORN, Disengaged. Address, Fairfield Villa, Quedgeley, Gloster.

MR. FRANCIS HAWLEY, General Manager, "The Prince and the Beggar Maid," Pavilion Theatre, E.

MR. T. P. HAYNES. Address all communications, Royalty Theatre, Dean-street, W.

MR. JERROLD HEATHER, Disengaged. Palace Theatre, Bordesley, Birmingham.

MR. H. E. HERBERT, Starring with Mr. W. H. Hallatt's Co. Disengaged Dec. 7. Nov. 30, Brixton Theatre, S.W.

MR. ARTHUR E. HOLLAND, Special Char. and Comedy, Shakespeare, &c. Nov. 30, King's Lynn; Dec. 3, R., Grantham.

MR. COTTON HOLMES, Davy, "Sunday," Mr. Louis Calvert's Co. Nov. 30, Theatre Royal, Barnsley.

MR. A. S. HOMEWOOD, Touring Australia and New Zealand. Glenhaven, Cloudesley-road, St. Leonard's-on-Sea.

MR. FRANK HOWARD, Disengaged Spring. Thanks T. E. Ward, offer, "Second to None." P. O. W., Nuneaton.

MR. and MRS. WILSON HOWARD (Miss Carlotta Anson). Eden Theatre, Bishop Auckland.

MR. and MRS. REGINALD A. HUNT, R. A. H., Stage-Manager, "The Bondman." Florence Hunt, Black Meg, "The Christian" (S.).

MR. JAMES HUSSEY, Lively and S. M., "Sunday" Co. Nov. 30, Theatre Royal, Barnsley.

MR. RALPH W. HUTTON, Disengaged Dec. 21. Sir Peter Wycherley. Nov. 30, Grand Theatre, Derby.

MR. A. B. IMESON. Disengaged end of Mr. Frohman's "The Hypocrites" Tour. 16, Albert-st, Regent's Park.

MR. POWELL JAMES, Business-Manager, "Leah Kleschna" Co. Address, Star Theatre, Liverpool.

MR. WILFRED JESSOP, Arthur Dicey "Message from Mars" Co. This, Grand, Mansfield. Vacant Dec. 7.

MR. S. MAJOR JONES. Stage-Manager, Lyceum Theatre, W.C.

MR. F. JOYNSEN - POWELL. Address, 29, Oxberry-avenue, Hurlingham, S.W.

MR. OGILVY KEITH. Address, 15, Cornfield-terrace, Eastbourne.

MR. CLAUDE KING. Disengaged. 50, Ashburnham-mansions, Chelsea.

MR. J. POOLE KIRKWOOD, Stage-Man. for Mr. Edward Terry. Nov. 30, Prince's T., Manchester. Disengaged Dec. 12.

MR. HENRY KITTS, At Liberty Dec. 14 and onwards. Address, King's Theatre, Hammersmith.

MR. and MRS. FRED KNIGHT (Miss Louie Tinsley), L.T., Panto., Plymouth; F. K., Dis. 21, Rattray-road, Brixton, S.W.

MR. RICHARD HENRY LACE. Address, 353, Strand, London, W.C. Perm. add., 19, Parkfield-drive, Liscard.

MR. FRANK LACY, James Blenkinsop, "Mrs. Dot" Co. Nov. 30, Grand Theatre, Swansea.

MR. JAMES R. LA FANE. Manager, Stage-Director, Mr. Mouillot's "Tom Jones" Co. Oxford and Cambridge.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES LANGLEY, Disengaged. 72 Camden-street, N.W.

MR. A. D. LAYLAND, Juv., Char., Thanks T. E. Ward, Esq., for offer re-eng. Dis. This, Jarrow; next, T. R., North Shields.

MR. MARK LESTER, Comedian. On Tour, "The Gay Deceivers." Panto., T. R., Brighton. 23, Waldemar-mans., Fulham.

MR. D. LEWIN-MANNERING, Capt. Hector, in "The Prince and the Beggar Maid" (S.) Co. Nov. 30, Pavilion T., Mile End.

MR. H. LAWRENCE LEYTON. Address, 10, St. Andrew's-mansions, West Kensington.

MR. GEORGE H. LIOT, Address, 67, Curzon-street, Mayfair.

MR. FRANK LISTER, "No. 99." Empire, Dublin.

MR. and MRS. FRANK LISTON (Maud Warburton), Leading Bus. and Mangt. 30th, Crown, Eccles; or Managers' Club.

MR. and MRS. SAM LIVESEY. (Miss Maggie Edwards.) "The Village Blacksmith." G. T., Nottingham.

MR. FEWLASS LLEWELLYN, at Liberty Dec. 14. 28, Chelverton-road, Putney, S.W.

MR. CHAS. F. LLOYD, Dis., Char., Intense, or Comedy, Old Men. Address, 17, Renfrew-road, S.E.

MR. WILLIAM LOCKHART. Address, T. F. Chatham.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM LOWE. Mr. L., Justice Hare, "New East Lynne" Co. Address, 7, Bridson-st, Liverpool.

MR. HENRY LUDLOW, Gen. Ivanoff, "The Broken Melody." T. R., Hull. Permanent, A.A.

MR. WILLIAM LUGG, Disengaged. 7, Swift-street, Fulham, S.W.

MR. GEORGE LYTTLETON, Disengaged. Heavies, Character, &c. Radcliffe; next, 22, Osborne-terrace, S.W.

MR. and MRS. A. B. MACKAY, "A Woman Worth Winning" Co. Nov. 30, Queen's Theatre, Keighley.

MR. and MRS. CHALMERS MACKEY, Own Tour, "Rollicking Rory." En route, or "Ashdale," Poulton-le-Fylde.

MR. and MRS. DREW MACKINTOSH (Miss Annie Stalman). Disengaged Dec. 5. G. T., Hastings (3), D. P. T., Eastbourne (3).

MR. JERROLD MANVILLE, Disengaged for Panto, Baron or Friar Tuck. 105, Allison-road, Harringay, N.

MR. PERCY MARSHALL, Disengaged till Dec. 21. Address, 16, Mill-lane, Hampstead, N.W.

MR. H. SHERWOOD MARTIN, Theatre Royal, Manchester. Next, Empire, Oldham.

MR. CYPRIAN H. MATTHEWS, Concluded Tour, re-engaged Spring, "Midnight Wedding" Co. 19, Prince's-avenue, Liverpool.

MR. MAYOR - COOKE, Rudolph, "Midnight Wedding." O. H., Northampton.

MR. ERIC G. MERRIE, 4th Year General-Manager for Miss Ida Molesworth and Mr. Mark Blow. Globe Theatre, Deal.

MR. GEORGE MILLER, Address, 409, Edgware-road, W.

MR. G. M. MONTANINI. All communications, Clarence Theatre, Pontypridd.

MR. G. MORETON - WILLIAMS, Disengaged Dec. 5, Heavy Lead. Nov. 30, T. R., Glossop.

MR. HERBERT MORGAN, Heavy Lead, in Mr. W. Melville's latest success, "Beggar Girl's Wedding." P. G. T., Folkestone.

MR. LEONARD MUDIE, As Hippolytus, Special Matinées. Dec. 1 and 2, Gaiety Theatre, Manchester.

MR. ARTHUR B. MURRAY, Comedy, Character. Disengaged. 73, Mysore-road, Clapham Common, S.W.

MR. KENYON MUSGRAVE. Address, Court Theatre.

MR. ALFRED NORTHWAY, "The Prodigal Parson" Tour. Nov. 30, Hippodrome, Todmorden.

MR. and MRS. JERROLD ORD (Miss Cissie Bellamy) invites good offers. Carlton Theatre, Saltley, Birmingham.

MR. ERNEST OWTTRIM, At Liberty, Nov. 30. 49, Dalston-lane, N.E.

MR. GUS OXLEY Address, Empire, Greenock.

MR. LEONARD PAGDEN, Disengaged. 28, Dinsmore-road, Balham, S.W.

MR. EDWIN PALMER, as Father Martin, in "Sins of Society" Co. Next, Tyne, Newcastle; at Lib., Char., Bus., Dec. 7.

MR. DOUGLAS PAYNE. Disengaged. Business or Stage Management. 1, Elmfield-road, Bromley, Kent.

MR. WILFRED E. PAYNE, Ross Christian, in "Pete." At Lib. Dec. 14. Address, Lyceum T., W.C.

MR. HERBERT PEARSON, Leading Business. At Liberty Dec. 7. Address, Elephant and Castle Theatre, S.E.

MR. F. W. PEDGRIFT. Baritone, M. de St. Brioche, "The Merry Widow" Tour. Nov. 30, Cambridge and Leamington.

MR. EDWARD S. PETLEY, "The Flag Lieutenant" Co. Next week, Grand, Southampton.

MR. and MRS. FRANK E. PETLEY, Dis. 7th Dec. This, County T., Kingston; next, G. T., Fulham.

MR. WILLIAM PRINGLE, At Liberty. 13, Gordon street, W.C. Tel. 7248, Central.

MR. RULE PYOTT, Disengaged Dec. 6. Nov. 30, Theatre Royal, Hull.

MR. ARTHUR S. RADCLIFF, Dick Darville, "The Dandy Fifth." Nov. 30, T. R., Aldershot; Dec. 7, T. R., West Bromwich

MR. W. E. RICHARDSON, Disengaged now and for Xmas. Address, 114, Latchmere-road, Lavender Hill, S.W.

MR. ARTHUR RICKETTS, termination of tour. Disengaged for Panto. or otherwise. Address, A. A., 353, Strand, W.C.

MR. HARRY H. RIGNOLD Disengaged, Panto., Tour, or Sketch. Address, 260, King's-road, Kingston-on-Thames.

MR. CHAS. ROAD - NIGHT, on Tour. Playing Wittle in "When Knights Were Bold." Address, c/o "The Era."

MR. LEONARD ROBSON, Lead and General-Manager, Mrs. Lewis Waller. 44, Lamb's Conduit-st., W.C.

MR. BASSETT ROE, At Liberty. Mr. and Mrs. Kendal's Co., Broadway Theatre, New Cross.

MR. STANLEY ROGERS. Address all Communications, Theatre Royal, North Shields.

MR. & MRS. CALVERT ROUTLEDGE (Mary Jocelyn), His Majesty's Theatre, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. BAY RUSSELL, engaged by George Dance, Esq., "Havana." Address, Solent Cliffs, Bournemouth.

MR. JAMES SALTER, Principal Comedian. Nov. 30, Sadlers' Wells. Perm. add., 14, Upper Tooting-road, S.W.

MR. WILLIE SCOTT, Offers invited for Pantomime. Address, Prince's Theatre, Bradford.

MR. ARCHIE SELWYN Special Re-engagement with M. Auguste Van Biene. Nov. 30, T. R., Hull.

MR. TOM E. SINCLAIR, Prin. Comedian. Nov. 30, Brixton Theatre, S.W. Pantomime, Theatre Royal, Brighton.

MR. JAMES SKEA, Character-Actor, "Sunday" Tour. Towser, Sketches for sale. Theatre Royal, Barnsley.

MR. E. STANTON - SHARP. Nov. 30, Dalston Theatre, N.E.

MR. JAMES STILLWELL. All arrangements complete. Address Gaiety Theatre, Dundee.

MR. CHARLES STIRLING, Leading and Heavy Business. Nov. 30 Grand Theatre, Brighton.

MR. GEORGE STONE, Resident-Manager (fifteenth year). Royalty T. and Opera House, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. STORY - GOFTON Concludes third consecutive tour with Miss Ellen Terry Dec. 3. At Lib. Add., c/o "Era."

MR. WALLACE STRANACK, Business Manager for G. P. Huntley. The Hicks Theatre, W.

MR. HENRY SWINERD, MR. J. W. CORDINER. Nov. 30, Grand Theatre, Walsall.

MR. GEORGE TAWDE, Charlie Gayfly, "When It Was Dark." Empire Theatre, Blaina.

MR. ALFRED A. TAYLOR. Resident Manager, Batley Theatre, Batley.

MR. HODGSON TAYLOR, Hardie and Von Leer's "The Sailor's Wedding" Co. Theatre Royal, Leeds.

MR. MALCOLM TEARLE. 2nd year with the L. Rayne Dramatic Co., South Africa.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD THANE (Louise Hampton). E. T. Disengaged. 15, Mount Pleasant-lane, Upper Clapton, N.E.

MR. E. W. THOMAS, Curtis Bedford, in "Raffles." Dis. Dec. 12. Mr. Leonard Boyne's Co. Nov. 30, T. R., Coventry.

MR. RAYMOND THOMAS, At Liberty for Heavy Lead or Character. Address, 19, Heygate Avenue, Southend-on-Sea.

MR. TRUEMAN TOWERS, Christmas arrangements complete. Mr. George Edwardes's Co., Prince's, Bristol.

MR. LLOYD TOWNROW, at Liberty for special weeks until Dec. 18. Comedy, Char., Stage Management. 19, Acre-lane, Brixton.

MR. and MRS. HOWARD L. TRACY. H. L. T. thanks R. Rosse, Esq., for offer of another week. Vacation. 25, Dollar-st., Cirencester.

MR. GEORGE TRAILL, Disengaged Dec. 7, "Breed of Treshams." Theatre Royal, Bath.

MR. CHARLES VANE, Jack Straw, Paradine Fouldes, James Blenkinsop, "Silver King," T. R., Calcutta.

MR. and MRS. CHAS. B. VAUGHAN (Miss M. Lewes). Mr. Vaughan at Liberty. 12, Mentone-mansions, Fulham, S.W.

MR. PERCY H. VERNON. Talleyrand, "A Royal Divorce" Co. Metropole Theatre, Glasgow.

MR. FREDERICK VICTOR, Bill Stephens, "The Sands of Dee." The Hippodrome, London.

MR. A. N. VINCE, Advance Manager. Engaged by George Dance, Esq. 6, Ranelagh-gardens, Hurlingham, S.W.

MR. BUCHANAN WAKE, Archibald Speedy, "The Gay Gordons." Marlborough Theatre.

MR. ALBERT WARD, as the Prodigal Son, and Stage-Manager, Mr. George D. Day's Co. Nov. 30. T. R., Rochdale.

MR. HYLTON WARDE, Spec. Engaged by Crofton and Salisbury, Prin. Comedian, Tour, S.A. 17, Doris-road, Norwich, or A.A.

MR. W. LEMMON WARDE, Kingsway Theatre.

MR. FRANK WEATHERSBY, Theatrical Agency. 3, Bedford-st., Strand. 'Phone, 3781 Central. Tel., "Frivolous, London."

MR. WYN WEAVER. 134, Great Portland-street, W.

MR. CHARLES WEIR, at Liberty. 45, Powis-square, Bayswater, W.

MR. C. A. WHITE, at Lib. Dec. 7, Character, Comedy, or Stage-Management. Address, Opera House, Cheltenham.

MR. WILL WHITE, F.O.S., General Manager, Alhambra, Belfast.

MR. & MRS. TOWNSEND WHITLING (Miss Violet Ley), Crystal Palace.

MR. LEONARD WILLIAMS, Lead, "Second to None." Theatre Royal, North Shields.

MR. BREMBER WILLS and FLORENCE WYNN, H. F. Maltby's Plays. At Liberty Dec. 13. A.A.

MR. and MRS. DICK WINSLOW Commencing 5th year of comfortable engagement with Hardie and Von Leer's Cos.

MR. GRAHAM WOODS, Lead, Mr. E. Hill Mitchelson's "Who is She" Co. Address, T. R., Dewsbury.

MR. STEWART D. WRIGHT, Business-Manager, at Liberty. Immediate offers to 34, Buccleuch-street, Glasgow.

MR. DUNCAN YARROW, Archie Goring (original part), "Into the Light." Court Theatre, S.W.

APPLICATIONS FOR POSITIONS on the FRONT PAGE of "The Era" should be addressed to the PUBLISHER.

"THE ERA" IN PARIS.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

THE ANGLO-PARISIAN AGENCY.

58, FAUBOURG MONTMARTRE,
(CHARLES D. WARREN.)

SINGLE COPIES ON SALE.
SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED.
ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED.

Apply or Address

ANGLO-PARISIAN AGENCY,
58, FAUBOURG MONTMARTRE,
CHARLES D. WARREN

THE WORLD'S THEATRE DECORATORS & FURNISHERS

A. R. DEAN & SONS

BIRMINGHAM.

THEATRE DECORATORS, THEATRE FURNISHERS, THEATRE CABINET MAKERS, THEATRE UPHOLSTERERS, FIBROUS PLASTER MANUFACTURERS, HOTEL CONTRACTORS and CONTRACTORS TO H.M.'s GOVERNMENT.

A. R. DEAN & SONS
Have had upwards of 30 years' experience in this class of work.

A. R. DEAN & SONS'
Managers have had great practical knowledge in Theatre Fittings.

NO THEATRE TOO LARGE. NO THEATRE TOO SMALL. NO THEATRE TOO FAR AWAY

England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, France, Belgium, Italy, and Spain have all placed Contracts with A. R. DEAN & SONS. Managers will at all times wait on Architects, Proprietors, and Managers, free of all cost. Distance no object. The Largest Theatre, the Smallest Booth, all have prompt attention.

A. R. DEAN & SONS

For every description of TIP-UP CHAIR, from 4/6.
For every description of RUNNING SEATING, from 1/- per Seat.
For every description of FLOOR COVERING, from 1/- per Yard.
For every description of DRAPERIES, from £2 per Box.
For every description of TABLEAU CURTAINS, from £25 per Pair.
For any and everything you may require in the Complete Fitting of Theatres Halls, Hotels, and Restaurants, &c.

CONTRACTS BOOKED AND IN HAND FOR THIS YEAR, 1908.

1. NEW HIPPODROME, DOVER. Complete Reseating and Refurnishing.
2. NEW QUEEN'S THEATRE, LEEDS. Complete Seating, New Pit, with upwards of 600 New Design Tip-up Chairs.
3. NEW METROPOLE THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM. Complete Reseating Pit with Patent Tip-up Seats.
4. ROTUNDA CONCERT HALL, DUBLIN. Complete Reseating with our Portable Tip-up Chairs.
5. NEW ST. GEORGE'S THEATRE, KENDAL. Complete Redecorations, New Fibrous Plaster, and Entire Reseating with Tip-up Chairs and Seats.
6. NEW TOWN HALL, ILKLEY. Complete Furnishing and Seating, upwards of 700 New Portable Tip-up Chairs.
7. NEW TOWN HALL, NEAR MANCHESTER. 200 Morocco Tip-up Chairs (Trade).
8. BEAR HOTEL, SMETHWICK, BIRMINGHAM. Whole Decorations, Fibrous Plaster, Mahogany Bath Fittings and Fitments, and complete Seating and Furnishing.
9. NEW WING OF QUEEN'S HOSPITAL, BIRMINGHAM. Oak Bedroom Suites, &c., &c., &c.
10. CLARENCE THEATRE, PONTYPRIDD, S. WALES. Reseating.
11. NEW EMPIRE PALACE, BARNSLEY. Complete Furnishing, including 700 Tip-up Chairs.
12. NEW INFIRMARY, SELLY OAK. Oak Bedroom Suites.
13. MONYHULL ASYLUM. Oak Bedroom Suites.
14. FRED KARNO'S MAGNIFICENT PRODUCTION OF "MUMMING BIRDS." Tableau Curtain and Box Draperies, and Equipment, complete.
15. PIER PAVILION, HASTINGS. Reseating with Tip-up Chairs, &c.
16. BIJOU THEATRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE. Tip-up Chairs and Complete Seating.
17. THE KURSAAL, BEXHILL-ON-SEA. Complete Reseating, Tip-up Chairs, &c.
18. PARKHURST THEATRE, HOLLOWAY, N. 600 Tip-up Chairs, Seating and Furnishings.
19. BARRASFORD'S NEW HIPPODROME, BIRKENHEAD. Tip-up Chairs, Seating, and Magnificent Silk Plush Embroidered Tableau Curtains, &c.
20. THEATRE ROYAL, SCARBOROUGH. Complete Reseating.
21. ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON-ON-THAMES. Entirely refurnishing throughout.
22. NEW ALEXANDRA THEATRE, PONTEFRACT. The whole of the Magnificent Plastic work and Decorations, also Entirely Furnishing with Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableau Curtains and Draperies, &c.
23. NEW HIPPODROME, MIDDLESBROUGH. Complete Furnishing throughout, whole of Carpets, Tableau and Box Curtains and Draperies, upwards of 1000 Tip-up Chairs and Patent Pit Seating; also the whole of the magnificent Fibrous Plaster and Artistic Decorations, at a cost of several thousands of pounds, &c., &c.
24. OXFORD BILLIARD SALOON, DUBLIN. Settees and Tip-up Chairs, &c.
25. NEW HIPPODROME, ROTHERHAM. Whole of Wilton Pile Carpets, and also Silk Plush Tableau Curtains and Box Draperies, Furnishings, &c.
26. THE PAVILION, GORLESTON-ON-SEA. New Tip-up Chairs, Divided Seating, &c.
27. ALFRESCO ENTERTAINERS, SCARBORO' 400 Tip-up Seats, &c.
28. THE PAVILION, CHORLTON-CUM-HARDY 200 Tip-up Chairs, Seating, &c.
29. ST. GEORGE'S HALL, BELFAST. Complete Furnishing and Tip-up Chairs, Seating, &c.
30. PIER PAVILION, SOUTHAMPTON. Magnificent Tableau Curtains and Draperies in Silk Plush, &c.
31. THE HIPPODROME, OLDHAM. Tip-up Chairs, &c.
32. THEATRE ROYAL, DEWSBURY. Complete Refurnishing, New Tip-up Chairs, Curtains, Draperies, and Wilton Carpets, &c.
33. NEW THEATRE, HOUGHTON-LE-SPRINGS. Complete Furnishing throughout, Tip-up Chairs, Patent Pit, Running Seating, Carpets, Curtains, Tableau, &c.
34. NEW CENTRAL HALL, COLNE. 400 New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
35. VICTORIA OPERA HOUSE, BURNLEY. Complete Refurnishing, &c.
36. NEW CASTLE THEATRE, STOCKTON-ON-TEES. Magnificent Tableau Curtains, and Box Draperies and Curtains, and General Furnishings, &c.
37. NEW HIPPODROME, DEVONPORT. Complete Furnishing throughout, Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableau and Box Curtains and Draperies, &c.
38. THE HIPPODROME, BOSCOMBE. The whole of the Magnificent New Plastic work and Decoration, also Complete Refurnishings throughout, Magnificent Wilton Carpets, Silk Plush Tableau Curtains and Box Draperies, &c., upwards of 1000 New Design Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, &c., at a cost of several thousands of pounds.
39. BARRASFORD'S NEW PALACE HIPPODROME, OLDHAM. The whole of the Complete Furnishings throughout, comprising Wilton Carpets, Magnificent Tableau and Box Curtains and Draperies, Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, and General Furnishings.
40. NEW PAVILION, FOR COUNCIL OF WEYMOUTH. Whole of Magnificent Fibrous Plaster and Decorations, &c., &c.
41. NEW HIPPODROME, GREENOCK. Complete Refurnishing, &c., &c.
42. THE NEW GEM PALACE, GT. YARMOUTH. Entire Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, &c.
43. THE NEW PALACE GORLESTON-ON-SEA. Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, &c.
44. NEW MARINE PAVILION (for Rhyl Corporation). Entire Furnishings, including 700 Tip-up Chairs and seating for 2,000 people.
45. TYNE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE Tip-up Chairs and Handsome Wilton Pile Carpets.
46. THEATRE ROYAL, RICHMOND. Magnificent New Tableau Curtains and Border, Upholstery, Seatings, &c., &c.
47. DR. WALFORD BODIE'S NEW HIPPODROME AND OPERA HOUSE, FERNDALE. Entire Furnishing throughout, Carpets, Curtains, Chairs, Seatings, &c.
48. NEW OPERA HOUSE, SINGAPORE. New Tableau Curtains, Draperies, &c.
49. NEW PAVILION COUNCIL OF WEYMOUTH. Upwards of 1,000 Tip-up Chairs and Entire Furnishings.
50. THEATRE ROYAL, MACCLESFIELD. Patent Tip-up Pit Seating.
51. NEW ELECTRIC EXHIBITION HALL, PLATT PARK, MANCHESTER. Tip-up Chairs.
52. NEW ELECTRIC THEATRE, PECKHAM. 600 New Tip-up Chairs and Complete Furnishing.
53. BRIXTON THEATRE, LONDON. New Seating, &c.
54. NEW CORN EXCHANGE, BASINGSTOKE. Patent Portable Tip-up Chairs.
55. NEW GAIETY THEATRE, WORKSOP. Tip-up Chairs, &c.
56. NEW GRAND THEATRE, LANCASTER. Handsome Tableau Curtains, Box Curtains and Draperies, O. Rail and Curtains, Settees, and Box Chairs, and Whole of Magnificent Wilton Carpets, &c.
57. NEW PICTURE HALL, NELSON, LANCS. Tip-up Chairs, &c.
58. THE KING'S HALL, BIRMINGHAM. New Tip-up Chairs, Carpets, Curtains, &c.
59. NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BLYTHE-BY-SEA. New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
60. NEW PALACE THEATRE, DARLINGTON. New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
61. GRAND THEATRE, WOLVERHAMPTON. Entire Pit Reseated in Railway Rep.
62. NEW TEMPERANCE HALL, LYE. New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
63. L. AND N.-W. RAILWAY INSTITUTE, BANGOR. Seating, &c.
64. EXCHANGE PAVILION, KIRKCALDY. New Chairs, Seating, &c.
65. SPREAD EAGLE ASSEMBLY HALL, WANDSWORTH, LONDON. New Tip-up Chairs and Complete Furnishing.
66. NATIONAL HALL, HORNSEY, N. New Tip-up Chairs, Furnishing, &c.
67. THE FOREGATE HALL, WORCESTER. New Tip-up Chairs and Automatic Tip-up Seating throughout.
68. LOCHGELLY PUBLIC HALL AND OPERA HOUSE, N.B. General Furnishings.
69. NEW THEATRE, OXFORD. Mahogany Counters and Bar Fitments throughout.
70. PALACE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE. New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
71. THE VICTORIA HALL, WALTHAMSTOW. Complete Redecorations and Entirely Refurnishing throughout, at a Cost of upwards of a Thousand Pounds.
72. NEW HIPPODROME, ASTON. Complete Furnishings throughout, Whole of Carpets, Tableaux Curtains and Draperies, Tip-up Chairs, Seating, &c., &c.
73. NEW HIPPODROME, BLACKBURN. The Whole of the Magnificent Plastic Work and Decorations; also entirely Furnishing with Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableaux Curtains, and Draperies, &c.
74. NEW HIPPODROME, ACCRINGTON. Complete Furnishings throughout, with Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableau Curtains and Draperies, &c.
75. BROADHEAD'S NEW PAVILION, ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE. Complete Furnishing, Tip-up Chairs, 2,000ft. of Seatings, 1,000ft. Cork Carpet, &c., &c.
76. NEW EMBEE HALL, PRESTON. New Tip-up Chairs in Velvet and Pegamoid.
77. NEW OFFICES, PHŒNIX INSURANCE CO., BIRMINGHAM. Whole of Mahogany Fittings, Counters, Desks, &c.
78. NEW HIPPODROME, DUNDEE. The Whole of the Magnificent New Furnishings throughout, Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Tableaux Curtains, Draperies, Carpets, &c. throughout at a Cost of several thousands of pounds.

A. R. DEAN & SONS still retain the services of Mr. A. F. WINDIBANK as Manager of Department, who has superintended the Furnishing of 1,500 Theatres and Halls; Mr. C. BARDELL, N.S., Manager of Decoration Department; Mr. L. BECK, Manager and Director of Works.

Telephone: Showrooms, 224 Birmingham. Telephone: Factory, 3834 Birmingham.
Telegrams: Carpets, Birmingham.

A. R. DEAN & SONS,
Corporation Street, BIRMINGHAM.

On their Garments not a Blemish,
But Fresher than before.—THE TEMPEST.

'Phone: 1911 Gerrard. Telegrams: "Cleaning, London."

SPECIAL NOTE.

At the cost of many Thousands of Pounds, we have installed an entirely New Plant for Spirit or Dry Cleaning, which has proved an IMMENSE SUCCESS.

AUTUMN TOURS & PANTOMIME

By Special Arrangement TOURING MANAGERS can have their Wardrobes Cleaned between Shows by the CHEMICAL CLEANING & DYEING CO.

(T. HARRIS, Manager),

Original Theatrical Cleaners and Dyers,

6, ARGYLL STREET, REGENT STREET, W.

UP-TO-DATE TESTIMONIALS.

Lyric Theatre. November 26th, 1908.—Dear Sir,—The cleaning of the dresses for the Windsor Command performance was in every way satisfactory, and I should like to thank you for personally looking after it. Yours faithfully, CHARLES LATROBE, Stage Manager.

Daly's Theatre, Cranbourn Street. November 21st, 1908.—Dear Mr. Harris,—I am writing to tell you that I was very pleased indeed with the pink dress that was cleaned; also with the prompt way it was sent in. Yours faithfully, F. FIELD.

BARGAINS IN FURS.

MARVELLOUS OFFER.—Single Furs at Wholesale Prices. Buy Direct at First Cost from the Manufacturers.

The Set, 10/11 Sent Post Free,

Money willingly refunded without any quibbling if not more than satisfied.

W. 350.—This really charming set of REAL RUSSIAN SABLE HARE FURS, light or dark, consisting of handsome Necklet, 84in. long, which can be worn as a stole or throw-over, with 8 bushy tails and 2 life-like heads, and large Granny Muff, with head and tails to match; exact as sketch (which, by the way, does not adequately denote the true value and appearance), to all readers sending P.O. 10/11

Separately—
Stole, 6/11,
Muff, 5/6.
Also in White.

W. 350

W. 212. Dainty REAL MARMOT NECKLET, made from Picked Skins, trimmed 6 bushy tails, lined satin, 68in. long, AND NEW-SHAPED MUFF, with head and tail to match.

The Set together, 21/-

Separately—
Necklet, 14/6,
Muff, 10/6.

W. 212

The Set, 21/- Sent Post Free.

Illustrated Catalogue sent free on application.

WELLWORTH MANUFACTURING CO.,
Dept. R, 104 & 105, CHEAPSIDE, LONDON.

The Leading American Theatrical Weekly.

THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR.

HARRISON GREY FISKE, Editor and President.

121, WEST FORTY-SECOND-STREET, NEW YORK, N.Y., U.S.A.

All the American Theatrical News.

For Sale in London at PALL MALL AMERICAN EXCHANGE; Carlton-street; Regent-street; Daw's S.S. Agency, Green St., Leicester-square, W.C.; and Murray's Exchange, 3, Northumberland-avenue, W.C.

"THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN THEATRICAL PROFESSION."
ON SALE WHEREVER THERE IS A PLACE OF AMUSEMENT.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS.

ISSUED WEEKLY with from 24 to 28 Pages, handsomely Illustrated, with Reports from over 1,000 Cities and Towns in the United States and the Foreign Stage, covered by Special Correspondents.
Has the exclusive patronage of Messrs. CHARLES FROHMAN, KLAW and ERLANGER, LIEBLER and CO., WILLIAM GILLETTE, NIXON and ZIMMERMAN, GEORGE EDWARDES, NAT C. GOODWIN, HENRY W. SAVAGE, and, in fact, every prominent Theatrical Manager.
Foreign Subscription, ONE POUND A YEAR. Advertising Rates, One Shilling per Line.
London Office, Clarence House, King William-street, E.C. JOHN PARKER, Manager.
Communications may be addressed to MAX ELIOT, Special London Correspondent, 3, Queen's Gate Terrace, S.W.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS,
BROADWAY THEATRE BUILDINGS, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

L'ECHO DRAMATIQUE

Is the most important and best-informed Theatrical Review in Paris.—Special London Chronicle.

ORGANISES ITS GREAT DRAMATIC AND LITERARY ANNUAL COMPETITION.

For all particulars apply:
The Editor of "L'ECHO DRAMATIQUE," 37, RUE DE TREVISE, PARIS.

Yearly Subscription, 4 francs.

In every Issue the "ECHO DRAMATIQUE" publishes in extenso a New One Act Play, by the best Authors, as a Supplement.

Depot in London:
At Messrs. BARRIERE and CO., 17, Green Street, Leicester Square, W.C.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

EARLY TRAINS.

The Railway Companies are despatching many morning trains earlier than hitherto. This will enable subscribers and advertisers in the provincial towns to get copies of "The Era" in time for the breakfast table. Advertisers are requested to forward their advertisements as early in the week as possible, and not later than 7 p.m. on Thursday.

Address:
THE PUBLISHER, The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock Street, W.C.

PROVINCIAL THEATRICALS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

[Provincial correspondents are requested to forward with their next week's reports a full list of the theatres and music-halls in their respective towns; also the names of the present lessees and managers, for insertion in "The Era" Annual, 1909.]

ABERDEEN.—HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Adair Nelson.—The Walls of Jericho increases in popularity with every visit. It is admirably played this week. Mr. Alfred Goddard most skilfully represents the part of Jack Probisher; and Miss Nancy Beresford gives a highly artistic portraiture of Lady Althea. Miss Elsie Ross makes a charming Lady Lucy; and Miss Ormonde Wynne is gracious and dignified as Lady Westerby. Mr. Russell Barry throws an infinite amount of geniality into his portraiture of Hankey Bannister; Mr. Ben Lewin's Marquis could hardly be improved on; and Mr. Henderson Bland shows much ability as Harry Dallas. The play is finely staged.

PALACE THEATRE. — Lessees, The United County Theatres, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Walter Gilbert.—A fine series of representations of Greater London is given by Mr. Rousbey's company. The views are all admirable, and their interest is greatly increased by the skilful manner in which they are shown. Miss Rose Elliott had a most enthusiastic reception. She is, in fact, deservedly one of the most popular artists who come North. Messrs. Charles Majilton and company appear in a capital sketch The Trippers; and among other members of a thoroughly good company are Miss Alice Blandford, a splendid soprano; Mr. George Prince, the "crazy comic"; Mr. Fred Tenby, comedian; George and Nellie Cosman, comedians; and Pearce and Ward, in an amusing burlesque boxing act.

ALHAMBRA MUSIC HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. John Sinclair.—General-Manager, Mr. George B. Lee.—Mr. Wallace Muirhead, a fine tenor, delights the house this week; the Whimsical Wilberts appear in a most amusing comedy act, The Rehearsal, which introduces Little Madge, a graceful and clever juvenile comedienne and dancer; and the Sisters Werner show themselves to be about as expert Highland dancers as any on the stage; Mr. Muirhead acts admirably as soloist to the illustrated songs. Mr. W. C. Kennedy's display of cinematograph films is in every way excellent.

EMPIRE MUSIC HALL.—Manager, Messrs. R. Calder and J. Montague.—Miss Marie Rose sings with all her customary grace and skill; Mr. Archie Murray is really clever as a coon comedian; Mr. Robert Williams is highly popular as a humorist; and Gilroy and Gross provide a most enjoyable eccentric turn. An amusing sketch is also, as usual, played by the Empire Sketch Company. Many of the pictures shown are new.

ABERTILLERY.—METROPOLE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. J. Seaborn.—The Woman from Russia is played to good houses in excellent style by Adria Hill and Robert Ayrton's able company. The title-rôle is excellently portrayed by Miss Adria Hill, who receives high appreciation from the audience. Mr. Robert Ayrton invests his part of Frank Haldane with great dramatic force; Miss Edith Tempest makes a capital Edith Haldane, Frank's sister; and Ezra Caroni, a Jew, is sustained by Mr. G. Mortimer Hancock in amusing style; effective comedy is provided by capable artists. The scenery and effects are decidedly good. The same company produce Under Two Flags the latter end of the week.

PAVILION.—Lessees, E. and H. Tilney; Manager, Mr. E. Pryce.—A programme full of amusement is being presented to good houses. The Denwertz Troupe are a smart set of acrobats, and perform very successfully some clever feats; Lillie Soutter amuses in song and patter; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilde are very successful in their hand-shadow scena; Ivy Aberdare is seen to advantage in song and dance; Bert and Dora provide plenty of fun as comedy artists; L. B. Athol is a very natural actor-vocalist; and Harry Hilton performs several mystifying conjuring tricks to the appreciation of the audience; the Bioscope shows some excellent films.

ACCRINGTON.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, and Manager, Mr. J. B. Ormerod; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. E. Barnes.—Messrs. H. Armitage and Arthur Leigh's company in the late Mr. Wilson Barrett's play Lucky Durham is drawing crowded and enthusiastic audiences. Mr. S. Herbert Humber as John Durham acts in finished style; Lord Mountfallon is portrayed convincingly by Mr. T. Renaud Lockwood; and Mr. Arthur Leigh revels in the part of the Hon. Reginald Steighton; Mr. William Heilbron and Mr. J. H. Gerald, in the respective parts of Mr. Vallerton and Mr. Arthur Walcombe, are excellent; and Mr. W. F. Clitherow as the money-lender, Ben Verstein, gives a satisfactory presentation; Miss Alice E. Belmore as Helen Vallerton acquits herself in a manner worthy of the highest praise, her expressive voice and charm of manner fitting her admirably for the part; Miss Beatrice Sinclair makes a capable exponent of the rôle of Mrs. Durham, and Miss Florence Dulhunty plays Margaret with care; Miss Rosabel Dodd is a creditable Lady Mountfallon, and Miss Elsie Mayne a pleasing Miss Premore.

ALDERSHOT.—ROYAL AND HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Clarence Sounes; Resident-Manager, Mr. Jack Gladwin.—Mr. Frank J. Pitt's company is here in £1,000 Reward. Mr. J. Wilton gives a good conception of the villainous Gilbert Lisle; Mr. Edward De Vere is clever as Fighting Jepps; Mr. Wilson Roberts as Fred Ingleford does well; and Dick Springthorpe has a lively impersonator in Mr. Joe English with songs and dance. Mr. Frank J. Pitt gives a capital portrayal of Vincent Rainsford; and Mr. F. Dallas is also capable as Inspector Gilbert. Miss Marjorie Seymour uses a powerful voice to advantage as Meg; Miss Kathryne Eckart as Mme. Sanson does well; Miss Minnie Goepel as Kitty is suitably placed, and Miss Alice Clarke is the landlady of the Flying Scud. The drama is capitally staged.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill, jun.—The return of Mr. Campbell's company with The Little Breadwinner has been welcomed by good audiences. The title-rôle, Meg, is admirably played by little Winnie Crisp, a winsome girl, who displays the power of emotion as well as comic ability; Mr. Reginald Brown as Richard Lawrence well depicts the varied phases of the man whose lot has fallen in "stony" places; Mr. Sidney Lynn's Charles Prior is a very able character study; Miss May Richardson as Margaret, the distressed and wronged wife, portrays the part with moving pathos; Mr. Alfred Maurice depicts with skill the villainy and hypocrisy of Joseph Prior; Mr. H. P. Peppin is good as Lord William; Miss Clara Hunt is amusing and self-assertive as the worthy Bridget; Miss Millie Ford as Kate Cherry, Miss Lissa Young as Bobby, and some minor parts are suitably interpreted.

EMPIRE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Son; Resident-Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Leech.—The chief feature of the week is found in the wonderfully expert performances of the Spanish Juanitos acrobats, five in number, who astound the audience with new daring flights; the Three Sisters Tree, appearing in a refined hunting act, attract with their nimble stepping and fine dressing; as comedians, Barfoot and Carson, comic singers and cross-talkers are amusing; Edwin Garth may claim to have devised something clever in his song and patter; a dramatic scena, written and composed by Will Letters, called The Protector, is also interesting; Sylvia, Dutch and buck dancer and acrobatic artist; George Acre, character vocalist; Miss Ada Colley, prima donna; and Little Tichbourne, a comical little fellow, in song and dance, fill in with some attractive "specialities." The Bioscope illustrates A Pierrot's Drunkenness and Broken Hearts.

PICTUREDROME.—Lessees, Messrs. Welsker Bros.—The pictures, as usual, are full of character and incident. First, a dramatic episode is illustrated, The Gold Prospectors, in colours. Feminine Hate is also an effective set, and March Winds, Amateur Balancer, The Tramps Cyclomania, Miss Pimpernel's Gown, Flick and Flock. Another French motor race series displays some picturesque scenery. The Sisters Pardoe, tuneful duettists, and Leyton, a youthful ventriloquist, add successful turns.

ATTERCLIFFE. — THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr F. Macnaghten; Resident-Manageress, Miss Ethel J. Hope.—The drawing power of "picture entertainments" here is evidenced by the large audiences at every house. The series this week include, amongst others, Poverty and Probity, A Bewitched Tricycle, Queen's Love, A Day of Robbery, and The Sheep Stealer. Mr. Charles Verner's "chorus songs" are very popular.

PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Bert Dent; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Harry Sanders.—Topping this week's "bill" is Mr George Marriott's well-balanced company in a dramatic playlet founded on Charles Dickens's "Oliver Twist," the characters being taken by Mr. George Marriott (Fagin), Mr. Fred Conway (Bill Sikes), Mr. John A. Stimson (Artful Dodger), Miss R. Dane (Oliver Twist), Miss Maude Fergusson (Rose Maylie), and Miss Edith Finlay (Nancy). A clever and novel performance is given by Les Henris, gymnastic equilibrists, the heaviest share falling to the lady member. Other turns are given by Miss Frances Hanlon, vocalist and dancer; Mr. Jack Hayton, quaint character comedian; Angelina, smart lady juggler; Poole and Poole (lady and gentleman), pedestal dancers; Mr. Harry Goodburn, light comedian; Lydmore Bros., comedians and expert dancers; and Mr. Clayton's pictures, The Coiners. The success of last week's Beauty Show has induced Mr Dent to run a competition this week for the "Ugliest Woman" for a substantial prize, and the competition is proving a big draw.

BACUP.—NEW COURT THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Denman-Wood.—Walter Melville's play, The Soldier's Wedding, forms a strong attraction here this week. Mr. Wingold Lawrence gives a natural impersonation of Jack Brown; David Munroe is cleverly undertaken by Mr. Frederick Biron; Mr. Beresford Whitcomb gives a true military rendering of the part of Colonel James Graham; Mr. Gerald Jordan as Charles Courteney portrays the character with good effect; and he has an able accomplice in Miss Marie Macaulay as Julie de Beauvrirre. Mr. Fred Yarnold submits a lifelike impersonation of Nathaniel Lee; Mr. John Chippendale causes endless amusement as Tommy Spratt; and Little Albert is a precocious Teddy Munroe. Miss Dorothy Richardson as Nancy Lee is a charming and graceful heroine; Miss Mattie Everett a humorous Lizzie Walker; and Peggy Munroe is pathetically presented by Miss Mabel Love.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS. — ROYALTY THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Stone.—Mr. C. Watson Mill's company, in For Love and the King, is here. He himself, as Jarval does conspicuously good work; and Mr. John Burton is a clever Michael; Mr. Henry Earlesmere is a successful Vladimir; and Mr. Alfred Hiltiard as Prince Uros and Mr. Geoffrey Chate as Duke Fenand do well. Miss Joan Ellis as Natila and Miss Frances Tierney as Edith Meredith give dramatic representations; and Miss Rosalind Tate is a clever Princess Athene.

HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Lessees and Managers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Routledge.—Mr. George Alexander's company, in The Thief, is here. Mr. Stephen T. Ewart makes an exceptionally clever Richard Chelford; and Mr. Gerald Ames portrays Raymond Leyton capitally; Harry Leyton is well presented by Mr. Alfred Lugg; and Miss May Congdon as Marise Chelford, and Miss Mary Dibley as Isabel Leyton play with much charm. Mr. Cyril Cattley is a capable Mr. Protheroe. The curtain-raiser is Too Happy by Half.

TIVOLI.—Lessee and Manager, Signor Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. Edgar G. Laban.—The chief item on the bill here this week is Chung Ling Soo, on a return visit. Morny Cash, Miss Violet Kay, Burley and Burley, Fred Spencer, and Vernon's Bioscope are other attractions.

NEW HIPPODROME.—Owners and Managers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Routledge; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ralph D. Fenton.—A capital pictorial entertainment is provided here this week, interspersed with recitations by Mr. Tom Bland, and songs by Mr. Tom Chorley.

BARRY DOCK. — THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur Brogden.—Messrs. Armadale and Warren presented on Monday The Face at the Window. Mr. Scott Leighton admirably sustained the part of Paul Gouffet; the rôle of the Wolf was played with success by Mr. Hogan Armadale; and the comedy parts in the hands of Mr. Bert Ellis and Miss Ruth Glyn left nothing to be desired.

BATH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Egbert Lewis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lewis A. Long.—The Flag Lieutenant is securing hearty approval here. Mr. Lyn Harding and Mr. Sidney Cooper, who produce the piece, have done so in lavish style, and have cast the play with care; Mr. Langhorne Burton gives a breezy and devil-may-care rendering of Richard Lascelles; Mr. H. Montagu Love as Major Thesiger does exceedingly well; Mr. George Mallett as Vice-Admiral Wynne upholds his reputation; Mr. Edward S. Petley portrays the ship's surgeon, Walter Crutchley, cleverly; Mr. Hugh Wakefield and Mr. Lyonel Watts are effective as Horatio Hood and Dormer Lee; Miss Florence Jackson as seen to considerable advantage as Mrs. Cameron; and a more charming Lady Hermione Wynne than Miss Marjorie Chard it would be difficult to conceive. Miss Viva Birkett, who hails from the West Country, makes a delightful Viola Hood; Mr. W. J. Yeldham and Miss Stella Leigh as the gossiping Gough-Bogles make the most of their chances; as does Miss Evelyn Robson as Lady Dugdale.

PALACE THEATRE. — Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Chas. Schuberth.—Ashley's Stage Circus is the leading draw in this week's programme; Will Douglas's Five Jolly Bakers, in their acrobatic and Risley act, come in for an immense ovation; as also does Steve Bartle, a clever concertina-player. Cissie Carlette, with her demure style and amusing songs; the Simms, in a song and dance turn; the Three Prestons, who create hilarity in The Liftman's Rise; Flo Inman, comedienne and dancer; and Raymond's Bio-tableaux, are also attractions.

BEDFORD.—ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. R. Graham Falcon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter R. Wilson.—Herbert Skardon's drama, Send Him Victorious, is being played by Mr. Montague Beaudyn's company. Mr. Wm. Allington is entirely satisfactory as the hero; Mr. Jerrold E. Reed is an excellent Col. Heinrich Kauffman; Miss Marie Robson an admirable Countess Kara; Miss Isabelle Hunt a sympathetic Ethel Hardinge; and the humorous element is supplied by Miss Cecilia Crawford as Gretchen and Mr. Arthur Tomlin as Geordie.

BELFAST. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; Acting-Manager, Mr. James M. McCann.—The Royal Carl Rosa Opera Company commenced on Monday the second and last week of their engagement here, when Lohengrin was produced with a large measure of success. In the title-rôle Mr. Hanns Robert achieved a triumph with his artistic impersonation, his fine voice being heard to the utmost advantage; as Elsa Miss Elizabeth Burgess gained an unqualified success, her vocal numbers being a keen source of delight; Mme. Marie Alexander must be congratulated on her finished interpretation of Ortrud; and other principal rôles were capably sustained by Messrs. Dillon, Shallard, and Arthur Winckworth. Mr. Eugene Goossens conducted with his accustomed ability. On Tuesday evening Don Giovanni was produced, with Mr. Charles Victor in the title-rôle, and during the week Maritana, Esmeralda, Carmen, Faust, and Il Trovatore have also been performed.

PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Freece; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. A. Salmond.—Mr. George Gray and Company, Ltd., top the bill and produce with much success The Fighting Parson. The title-rôle is admirably enacted by Mr. Gray, and his support is thoroughly adequate; the Five X-Rays appear in their unique speciality act, entitled Fun in a Gymnasium, which has been accorded a hearty reception; and Mr. James Brady's comic songs have been much enjoyed; Miss Mina Green is a charming comedienne, and more than a passing word of praise is due the Markies for their capital quick-change musical act. Mr. Will Driscoll, comedian; Mr. Harry Zetta, comedian and dancer; and the Palace pictures complete.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Will Sley and Fred Willmott; Resident-Manager, Mr. Henry T. Downs.—The leading attraction here is supplied in Makers of History, comprising artistic living statuary, including Lord Beaconsfield, Mr. W. E. Gladstone, Sir Henry Irving, &c., introduced with great success by Mr. C. L. Delph; Mr. Harry Roxbury presents Edward M. Heanley and company, who produce their powerful piece, What Women Do; and Mr. Albert Le Fre, a smart comedian, appears to much advantage in his speciality act; Mr. Tony Black is a capital Scotch comedian; and Coverdale submits his clever and amusing act; the Three Laurels, in their speciality act; Zenary Bros., novel acrobats; Mr. Fred Arthur, entertainer; Floretti and Elly, barrel and spade jumping act; and the Hipposcope complete.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager, Mr. John A. Walker.—Mr. Fred Kitchen and Mr. Frank Lester provide the leading attraction here with their American sketch, No. 99, which is replete with exciting incidents, and has been most successful; Mr. J. W. Rowley, the evergreen comedian, has been accorded a terrific reception, and the Eight Sunrays are undoubtedly good vocalists and capital dancers; Miss Ella Dean renders several songs in a satisfactory manner; and the remarkable equipoise feats of La Belle Nello have aroused much enthusiasm; Mr. Fred Dimstone, comedian; Mr. Charles Stevens, character vocalist; and the Bioscope complete the programme.

NEW ALHAMBRA THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Will White.—The following films have been exhibited:—Mary Queen of Scots, A Race for Millions, The Trombone Player, Playmates, The Patriot, &c.; Moneta and Ford, acrobats, and McAskell, the comic conjuror, who has been very successful, also appear.

ST. GEORGE'S HALL.—General-Manager, Mr. Robert Wilson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred L. Arthur.—Among many excellent films may be mentioned A Tale of the Sea, Father's Lesson, Rival Cyclists, and On the Riviera; also appearing are Mr. Joe Best, vocalist and dancer; and Mr. Will Batey, character comedian. By kind invitation of the management, the children of the Belfast Workhouse attended the performance on Tuesday last.

CLIFTONVILLE HALL.—General-Manager, Colonel Frederick T. Cummins.—Enormous success has attended the opening of the new skating rink here, thousands having patronised the building. Many novelties have been introduced.

BILSTON.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. John M. Dawson; Business-Manager, Mr. S. Hadskiss Dawson.—Mr. Stuart Lomath and Mrs. Frank Bateman's company is here this week with No Wedding Bells for Her. Miss Lizzie Montague thrills the house with her vivid and realistic impersonation of the unscrupulous and vindictive actress, Lola Delaspierre; Mr. H. Ansleigh makes a typical stage villain as Abney Stone, a city wastrel; Mr. Stuart Lomath is again excellent as the clergyman, Frank Hatherleigh; and the remaining parts are all admirably filled. For Wednesday and two following nights Sapho forms the attraction.

BIRKENHEAD. — NEW THEATRE ROYAL. — Sole Lessee, Mr. W. W. Kelly; Acting-Manager, Mr. Reginald Grant; Secretary, Miss Isabel Morris.—Considerable interest centres in the return visit of Mr. Louis Calvert's company, under the direction of Mr. T. Norman Walter, in the successful play Sunday. Large audiences have been simply entranced by the finely natural and unaffected rendering of the title-rôle by Miss Ethel WARD, a performance received with the utmost enthusiasm; Colonel Brinthorpe is well embodied by Mr. Pennington Gush; Mr. T. Norman Walter is a splendid Tom Oxley; and the "Boys" are admirably represented by Mr. James Skea, Mr. A. Colion Holmes, Mr. James Hussey, and Mr. Alec Alves. Miss Helen G. Edwins is well suited as Mrs. Naresby; Miss Lila Barclay played with care the small part of a nun; and Mr. George Marriott, jun., acquitted himself with ability in the thankless rôle of Arthur Brinthorpe. The production has well maintained its favourable reputation in this town.

ARGYLE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. D. J. Clarke. — Mr. George Lashwood, the popular comedian, is fulfilling one of many successful engagements here; Mr. Tom E. Finglass, a clever coon vocalist; Mr. Jack Pleasants, comedian; and Millar Bros., horizontal bar performers, are leading attractions. Miss Beatrice Harris, an exceptionally clever comedienne, is a decided acquisition. A strong company also includes Flo Burns and James Danvers, variety entertainers; Pip Powell and Kate Vesey, duologue artists; Julian Mack, female impersonator; Miss Edith Fink, a smart comedienne; and Miss Gertrude Martini, descriptive vocalist. Brown's Royal Bioscope also adds variety to the programme. Mr. Ernest Denney is musical director.

BIRMINGHAM.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Tom B. Davis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Philip Rodway.—My Mimosa Maid, with Miss Marie Studholme's pretty talents and wiles to give proper importance to the rôle, is keeping up the run of the season well. Miss Studholme's artless way of acting, her pretty looks and costumes, and her mellifluous singing have all been noted and applauded with enthusiasm. Mr. Frank Curzon's company includes Mr. Chas. McNaughton as the sweep who becomes a millionaire, Victor Guilbert, the part being played with a power of humour and fine tact. Mr. Chas. Paton does the brother's part well; Master Archie McCaig as the sweep's assistant makes a most amusing figure; Mr. Arthur Jackson essays the waiter's rôle in a smart fashion; Miss Eva Sandford is well applauded for the good part she takes as Popitte; and the efforts of Mr. Percy Carr, Miss Ruby Gray, Mr. Jno. H. Goldsworthy, and Miss May Garstang are successful.

TO REMIND THE PROFESSION!

The Only "BODEGA" Addresses in BIRMINGHAM are:—
Café Royal, 62, New-street
(late of Temple-street), opposite Theatre Royal.
All Theatrical Papers Taken. Billiards, &c.
Also at High-street,
and Great Hampton-street. [ADVT.]

PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Rodgers, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. F. Graham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry Johnston.—Mr. Arthur Bourchier and Miss Violet Vanbrugh and company are here, and this time their visit is extended to a fortnight, satisfaction naturally being great thereat. On Monday John Glayde's Honour, by arrangement with Mr. George Alexander, showed Mr. Bourchier in the self-renunciating rôle of John Glayde, which he made one of intense power and interest. Miss Vanbrugh's acting as Muriel was quite a triumph of the histrionic art, putting the best possible complexion on the rôle; Miss Henrietta showed fine emotional qualities in her brief opportunities as the Princess; Mr. Chas. Bryant gave a strong portrayal of Trevor Lerode; Mr. Arthur Whitby made a hit with the character of Chris Branley; and the support all round was perfect. A performance of Sixes and Sevens followed, in which both Mr. Bourchier and Miss Vanbrugh appeared.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Lester Collingwood; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. T. Guest.—The drama Why Men Love Women has attracted fascinated audiences for Miss Ellen Snow and her company, Miss Snow's personation of the heroine Violet Livingstone being quite a clever as well as a most charming piece of acting. She is well supported, Mr. Oliver Rogers proving a popular and spirited hero as Gerald Fielding; Mr. Lionel Gadsden, in the unpopular rôle Captain Staniloff, realises all its possibilities; Mr. N. Carter Slaughter gives a capital reading of Lieut. Tommy Fitzherbert; Mr. Ernest Griffen brings out the rôle of the Maharajah of Baloro into full prominence; Miss Florence Nelson plays Muriel Zoluski in a creditable style; Mr. Harwood Roberts makes the character of Orlando Figgins one of fine humour; and the rest of the characters come out well.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager Mr. Andrew Melville; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Hindle Taylor.—Mr. T. Edward Ward's company are playing The Love of the Princess here, and enthusiastic as well as large audiences have testified to the acceptability of the play. Mr. Wilson Coleman as the resuscitated Prince shows a fine voice and vigorous style as well as a manly presence, and his efforts are applauded heartily; Miss Maisie Hanbury as the Princess acts in a way that brings the character home to the hearts of all; Mr. Ernest E. Imeson plays the exacting rôle of the traitor, Count Nichola, with fine skill; Mr. E. H. Dobell is excellent as Josef; Mr. Beckett Bould is to be commended as Lieut Orlans; and Messrs. Graham Winsford, W. F. Stirling, Francis Serle, Edgar Morgan, and the Misses Nelly Garside and Helen Elmar play important rôles with every success.

CARLTON THEATRE, SALTLEY.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. James Alexander.—Mr. Alfred B. Cross and company are proving the popularity of The Manxman in a most unmistakable manner, large audiences applauding the former's splendid realisation of the unsophisticated but noble-hearted Pete with pleased energy. Miss Minnie Waterford makes the part of Kate a very telling one in all its phases; Mr. Harold B. Lewis gives a clever performance as Philip Christian; Mr. Fred Charles puts in many effective touches as Ross Christian; Mr. Fred Mace's delineation of Cæsar Cregan is evidently well studied; Miss Nancy Mitchell is a bright and capable Nancy; and the remainder of the characters are in exceedingly good hands.

THEATRE ROYAL, ASTON.—Lessee, Mr. Charles Barnard; General-Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Lake.—Mr. R. A. Roberts's play, Straight from the Shoulder, is making a fine success here, with the author's own company. Mr. Henry Herne is now the falsely-accused hero, Dr. Bedford, and his really fine acting of the part inspires loud applause and cheers; Mr. Leonard Clarke still plays the "rotter," Gleeson, and the storm of groans and hisses that greet him are fine testimony to his effectiveness; Miss Beatrice Burdette repeats her fine portrayal of the heroine, Millicent; Mr. Fred Beck lends admirable humour as Jim Green; and the other more notable characters are played by Mr. Geo. H. Child, Mr. George Fisher, Miss Frances Bruce, Miss Edie Casson, and Miss Beatrice Moore.

PALACE THEATRE, BORDESLEY.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Goodwin Woodward.—Mr. Herbert Leonard's clever and already popular play, renamed The Girl I Love (formerly The Kiss of Judas), is repeating its success here. Messrs. Hardie and Von Leer's company still includes that strong actor of the villain's rôle Mr. J. H. Darnley, the exultant and unscrupulous Brandon being realised fully; Mr. E. Howard Templeton embodies the hero Dunree with complete success; the author's acting as Jake Long creates a very pleasant sensation; Miss Katherine Clarke's beautiful embodiment of Nancy Nollid continues to charm; Miss Ida Millais has taken up the rôle of Dorothy with gratifying results; Miss Laura Dyson's pretty engaging looks and clever, vivacious acting as Daisy are a pleasant diversion to the play; the rôle of Little Jack has many pretty passages, prettily played by Miss Bertha Hanbury; and the cast otherwise is without a flaw.

GRAND THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Edward Foster.—The long programme submitted here this week is headed by George Formby, whose Lancashire ditties cause roars of laughter; the Dumond Trio are a smart set of Parisian musicians, and are loudly applauded; Casey's Court comes in for a good share of applause; Pete and Minnie Lee have a bright comedy sketch; the rich contralto voice of Bessie Slaughter is heard to advantage; plenty of laughter is caused by Terry and Lambert; and other prominent turns are those of Fred Wilkinson, Will Dacey and Nelly Lewis-Kisby, and Adey Spencer.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. A. W. Matcham.—Miss Winifred Hare has had a big reception here, her songs being vociferously encored. The La Scala Opera Company, with Mrs. Arthur Rousby, Miss Alice Rena, and Messrs. Edward Arthur and Leslie Austin in the cast, present Cavalleria Rusticana, which was received with loud applause. Florence and Lilian are clever instrumentalists; C. and F. Renad's company in their world-renowned sketch The Swiss Express are a big attraction; the Tompsons present their illusion "The Master Mystery," which mystifies their audience; and other popular turns are those of Cliff Ryland, Goggins and Davis, Ernest Clifford, and Arthur Kenny.

HIPPODROME.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Harry Lyons.—May Moore Duprez is pleasing large audiences here with her jolly Dutch songs and mannerisms; Joe Peterman's company is responsible for an excellent sketch, The Pawnbroker; the Hectors have a juggling act which is both neat and clever; as also is the comedy acrobatic act of the Three Comforts; Helen Martin's singing and Hanid Alexander's piano playing are features of the entertainment; and Lawrence Barclay, Mike Mono, George Melvin, and Hinton and Wooton are in the bill.

GAIETY THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Albert Bushell.—Joe Elvin is here, and his sketch, The King of the Castle, is a laughter-maker. Paul Kramar's troupe of head-balancers are very clever, and Martha Kramar's feats of strength are remarkable; the Sisters Lytton sing and dance well; the Four Jumels present their musical turn, which is loudly applauded; and Stella Stahl, Charlie Deane Fred Herbert, and Jack Lorrimer, whose Scotch songs are well encored, conclude the programme.

KING'S HALL.—Lessees, Messrs. Moore and Kennedy.—Some excellent pictures are shown here, The Brigands of Calabria and Nick Carter being especially good. Hermann and Evelyn, George Castrey, and Cosetti are prominent artists, while Sacco continues his fast, to-day being his forty-eighth day.

CURZON HALL.—Lessee, Mr. Waller Jeffs.—Motoring Over the Alps is a fine series of pictures presented here; Ford and Hanson have a humorous musical act which is well applauded; and the illustrated songs rendered by Dulcie Saunderson are a feature of the entertainment.

BISHOP AUCKLAND. — EDEN THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. R. Addison, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. Huntley.—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Levy and J. E. Cardwell's company is here this week in the musical comedy A Merry Maid. Mr. Vivian Wakeman as Larry O'Hooligan is remarkably clever, and his celebrity turns are especially noticeable; Mr. Neil Hardy (the Hon. Cecil Toft), Mr. Howard Lawrence (Thady Clancey), and Mr. H. Leander (Von Swank) are excellent, the latter's pipe solo being well received; Master Wee George Wood as Bertie Vere de Vere was very diverting, his songs being capital; Miss Fanny Adamson is very good as Angela Vere de Vere, and Miss May Gibson plays the title-rôle charmingly and sings well. Miss Ray Watson as Flossie Trixie is very good, and the same might be said of Mr, W. S. Hutchinson as Biddy O'Hooligan. The scenic efforts are unique and the chorus is strong.

BLACKPOOL.—HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE.—General-Manager, Mr. J. R. Huddlestone.—Another visit is being paid here this week by Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Mackey and company, with Rollicking Rory. Mr. Mackey continues to carry all before him in the title-rôle; whilst Mrs. Mackey is charming as ever as Mrs. Ashleigh. Mme. Constance Bellamy plays Peggy O'More, and sings several popular ballads in her usual pleasing manner. Other parts are in efficient hands, the singing of Mr. Charles Homer and Miss Nana Flensberg being warmly applauded.

GRAND THEATRE.—Owner, Mr. T. Sergenson; Responsible Tenant and Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry Hunter.—Another good programme is provided for the patrons here this week. The place of honour is occupied by Mr. Arthur Dandoe and company, with a musical burletta entitled The Phonograph Belle. Other good turns are contributed by the Three Orleans, wooden shoe dancers; Dan Kennedy, comedian; Dalton and Dalton, comedians and dancers; Valvo, ventriloquist; Clark and Glenney, in a sketch; Ray Ford, comedienne; Elton and Elma, gymnasts; and Sisters Florence, duettists and dancers.

PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. Geo. H. Harrop Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Waller. — The two shows-a-night system has been adopted here this week, and so far has met with complete success Without any very great stars, the bill is one of all-round excellence. The New Macs, comedians; My Fancy, the supreme dancer; Marcel and Boris equilibrists; Howard and Collinson, a pair of screamingly-funny comedians; Roze and Calvert in a comedy act; Sisters Darrell, duettists and dancers; Resna Trio, Continental artists; Albert Mackelvin, Scotch monologist; and Margaret Radcliffe, comedienne, all meet with the most cordial reception.

BLYTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager Mr. Arthur C. Moody. — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draycott have paid a successful visit with their répertoire company in a round of popular dramas. In The Shaughraun Mr. Draycott gave a pleasing performance as Conn, and was ably supported by Mrs. Draycott and the company. The Octoroon, The Colleen Bawn, The Ticket-of-Leave Man, and The Stolen Birthright have also been included in the bill.

GAIETY.—Lessees, Messrs. Claggers.—Coverdale and Huxley's Juveniles, in a musical scena, Hive and Mora, in comedy, Tourance, gymnast, J. Scanlan, comedian, and the Osrani Trio submit good turns.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Tom Doyle.—The Almos Bros. and the Four Sisters Gilby are the chief attractions here, in addition to the pictures.

BOLTON. — THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing Director, Mr. J. F. Elliston; Acting-Manager, Mr John Moncur.—A long looked for engagement is this week being filled by the eminent actress, Miss Ellen Terry, who is appearing in Captain Brassbound's Conversion. Miss Terry's natural and charming impersonation of the part of Lady Cicely Waynflete won repeated recalls; Mr. James Carew gave an artistic performance as Captain Brassbound; Mr. George Fitzgerald was dignified as Sir Howard Hallam; Mr. Story-Gofton was good as the Rev. Leslie Rankin; and Mr. Max Montesole's Felix Drinkwater was a fine piece of character; Mr. Frank Powell as Captain Kearney, U.S.N., Mr. Sydney Travers as Sidi, Mr. H. Hay Cameron as the Cadi, and Mr. David Hallam as Marzo ably filled their respective parts.

GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. F. Elliston; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry Kenyon.—A strong attraction here is Van Biene, the actor-musician, who is renewing his acquaintance with Bolton, and appearing as Heinrich Klein, in the one-act playlet, The Master Musician; he is assisted by Miss May Mannering as Jenny, a New York slavey. Other turns in the programme are Miss Minnie Fenton, Scotch comedienne; Rich Taylor, whistling ventriloquist; Bert Harrow, comedian; Vernon and Voyce, singing comedians; H. O. Wills, "the Water Rat"; Sid Doody and Edie Wright, Australian comiques; Halma, Scottish society entertainer; W. B. Raby, comedian; Luigi Salvino, boy instrumentalist; Conway and Leland, "the Merry Monopedes"; and Vernon's Imperial Bioscope.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Thomas Hargreaves; General-Manager, Mr. Thomas Hargreaves, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. R. Harrison.—A strong bill here is headed by Mr. Jackson's Eight Lancashire Lads, excellent singers and dancers. Also contributing to the programme are Sheila McNeil, Scotch comedy artist; Phil Bransby, coster comedian; J. H. McCann, comedian and acrobatic roller-skate dancer; Martinett and Wallace, American musical comedians; Victoria Dagmar and Clown, in an artistic gymnastic display; Shrillo, operatic whistler; Wally, in his great juggling act; and the Bioscope.

TEMPERANCE HALL.—The New Century Picture Company are this week presenting another good series of pictures. Excellent turns in musical and comedy sketch are supplied by The Players.

BRADFORD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. T. F. Doyle; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Richardson.—Mr. and Mrs. Kendal (who are supported by an admirable company) appeared here on Monday, in The Elder Miss Blossom. The reception accorded the popular artists was very cordial. Mrs. Kendal's gracious bearing and naturalness as Dorothy Blossom quite won her audience; and Mr. Kendal submitted a clever and convincing performance of Andrew Quick, F.R.S. The cheery Christopher Blossom was capitally played by Mr. W. M. Rutherford; Mr. Bassett Roe filled the part of Major Twentyman humorously; as the Rev. Arthur Leacroft, Mr. T. Holding was good; Mr. Metcalfe Wood's Withers was a most diverting performance; and Miss Jessica Thorne brightly and with winsome grace represented Sophia Blossom. On Tuesday evening The Whirlpool was presented, with Mr. Kendal as Elijah D. Tillottson and Mrs. Kendal as Miss Constance Livingstone, and again a large audience cordially greeted the performance. The two plays constitute the bill for the week.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Councillor F. Laidler; Acting-Manager, Mr. N. Hepworth.—Mr. Walter Melville presented The Beggar Girl's Wedding here on Monday. It was finely staged, and its representation by a capable company elicited hearty approbation. Mr. Otto Minster handles the exacting part of the hero, Jack Cunningham, with consummate skill; as Bessie Webster Miss Vashti Wynne wins sympathy; in his rendering of the part of Gilbert Lindsay, Mr. Herbert Morgan is distinctly effective; and Miss Olive Warne as Maud Villiers aids him finely. A good character sketch of Fagin is supplied by Mr. Harry Playfair; and as the Dodger Mr. Horce Renny does well. Miss Doris Whyte gracefully fills the part of Miss Cunningham; and as Norman March Mr. E. G. Batley is excellent.

THE EMPIRE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Percival Craig.—Callahan and St. George contribute a delightful entertainment here, comprising vocalism, instrumental music, and humour; Ella Retford is a great singer and dancer; some sensational work is done by the Lukushimas Troupe of Japanese acrobats; Fred Whiteley, crippled police hero, contributes his cornet solos with success; the solos and duets by Les Voces are very enjoyable; Black-faced Justice is a screaming absurdity by Brown and Le Clerq; Herbert Shelley's protean play Dan the Outlaw is clever and intensely dramatic; a pleasing turn is done by the Maples in How to Treat a Burglar; Tennyson and Wallis, comedians, are clever; and some excellent pictures are shown by the Bioscope.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. F. Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. Harrison.—Pop Dearley is a capital comedian and dancer; Edith Chantler, a girl soprano, has a good voice, and sings with taste; the Royal Cambodian Troupe from Southern Asia, with their weird native dancing and conjuring furnish a distinct novelty; with their potpourri of songs and dances the Four Garricks are entertaining; Harrigan and Holt are capital comedians; Hayes and Watson dance cleverly; Harry Pleon, comedian, with his burlesque scena, P.C. Pudden, assisted by Celia Kent, is intensely funny; much fun is created by the eccentrics, August, September, and May; and Raymond's Bio-Tableaux are again an interesting feature of the evening's amusement.

BRIGHOUSE. — ALBERT THEATRE. — Lessees, Messrs. Beanland and Emerson; Manager, Mr. Chas. H. Beanland.—Novelties follow in quick succession here, and this week Jean Seul, the great Indian mystery, is attracting good houses with his wonderful entertainment; the Bros. Corcoran, in a musical speciality, Sons of Toil, introduce some excellent music and marvellous quick-change business; Gulliver, a ventriloquist, causes much merriment; Ryde and Beeman are very funny acrobatic grotesques; Syd Herman is well received for his scena, The Hebrew Fugitive; a novel cycle balancing act is presented by the Woodwards, who do some clever feats; Tom Griffiths possesses a fine bass voice, and sings "The Raft" and "Rocked in the cradle of the deep," with beautiful illustrations; Harry Bent mimics several London star artists, including Eugene Stratton, Harry Lauder, J. W. Rowley, Gus Elen, &c.; the Animated Pictures, by the Loyal Dominion Company, conclude a fine programme.

BRIGHTON. — GRAND THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Gates; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ben Court.—Messrs. G. M. Polini and Austin Melford's company is here this week with The Silver King. Mr. Fred D. Daviss submits a very fine portrayal of Wilfred Denver; Miss Edyth Goodall imparts great charm and expression to her impersonation of Nellie Denver; Mr. Edward J. George repeats his excellent and well-known representation of Daniel Jaikes; Mr. E. Stanton-Sharp is admirably suited as "the Spider"; Mr. George Belmore makes an entertaining Henry Corket; Mr. Arthur Wright's Elijah Coombe is a good character study; Mr. Fred May as Cripps, Mr. Arthur H. Rooke as Geoffrey Ware, and Mr. E. Stidwell as Samuel Baxter merit praise. The two Denver children have pleasing exponents in Miss Flossie Hale Daviss and Master Eric Dene.

ALHAMBRA.—General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. Ernest Lepard.—Peggy Pryde is as versatile and attractive a comedienne as ever, and is enthusiastically received; Dean Tribune and company are very amusing in the absurdity, The Cheerful Idiot; the Boccacios contribute an excellent vocal and instrumental act; Les Rallis give a novel turn, including a clever imitation of an ape; Tom Fancourt and Jennie Rubie are popular comedy artists; Boden and Dell sing and dance themselves into favour; Dolly Golden is a clever dancer; Mike Cray, accompanied by his well-trained dog, proves diverting with his comedy juggling; Maudie Ford is a dainty comedienne; and the Alhambrascope pictures are interesting and amusing.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. Barrasford and Smith; Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Resident-Manager, Mr. B. J. Brown.—Munstedt's Liliputian circus, introducing the Colibris Midgets, with their remarkable feats and acts, is warmly appreciated; the Three Sisters Silcott are smart vocalists and dancers; Hayes and Merritt are wonderful bounding trampolinists; Cruikshank is "a fellow of infinite jest and variety"; Herbert La Martine is an eccentric dancer; Ernest Montefiore and company achieve much success in the dramatic and musical sketch, The Little Colonel; Alburtus and Millar appear in A Scene at the Fairgrounds; the Summersons are entertaining in the comedy act, His Better Half; Harry Vardon is a capital ventriloquist; the Haydons are diverting in the burlesque, Bertie and the Barmaid; and the Barrascope pictures are excellent.

WEST PIER.—Secretary, Mr. A. W. Scholey.—Miss Jennie Lee and company opened here on Monday with Jo. Miss Jennie Lee, who met with a very cordial reception, give an artistic enactment of the title-rôle; Miss Kathleen Russell made a stately Lady Dedlock; Miss Calypso Valetta was a pleasing Esther; Mr. F. G. Bayley did well as the unctuous Mr. Chadband; Mr. J. S. Day's Mr. Tulkinghorn; Mr. C. A. Collins's Mr. Bucket, John Braithwaite's Mr. Snagsby, and Miss Rose Vernon's Mrs. Snagsby were ably portrayed; and the remaining characters were effectively represented. The play was admirably staged.

COURT THEATRE.—Lessee and Manageress, Mrs. M. Barrasford; General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. Fred Bauer.—The exhibitions of animated pictures here this week are very attractive. A very exciting story is conveyed in A Nobleman's Pleasure; The Miners is a story of love and heroism; Building of a Bridge is interesting; The Romance of a Lady Clerk proves very stirring; and much amusement is afforded by Lady or the Lions, Polly's Excursion, Oscar is Kidnapped, and His First Frock Coat.

BRISTOL.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. James Macready Chute.—Mr. Robert Courtneidge's company is here with the farcical musical play The Dairymaids. The scenery, costumes, and accessories are highly commendable, and the play is performed by a very competent company. Miss Phyllis Dare is very pleasing in all respects as Peggy, acting, singing, and dancing well; Miss Gladys Ivery deserves much commendation for her pretty performance of Winifred; Mr. Charley Harvey and Miss Lottie Sargent are capital in their respective parts of Joe Miven and Eliza, they working admirably together; Miss Edith Blanche is a stately Lady Brudenell; Mr. E. Statham Staples and Mr. Fred Leslie, jun., are amusing as Sam Brudenell and Frank Meredith; Mr. Percy Marshall makes a fine part of Dr. O'Bryne; and Miss Rose Edouin Lewis is sufficiently prim and precise as Miss Penelope Pyechase. All the remaining parts are very satisfactorily taken, the chorus is strong and tuneful, and the augmented orchestra is ably conducted by Mr. Arthur Wood. There was a packed house in all parts on Monday evening, the attendance being well maintained during the week, and on that evening an artistic souvenir was given to all persons in the reserved seats and those entering through the early doors to the upper circle.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. C. Alty.—Messrs. Glenville and Osmond's company are successfully presenting the interesting drama The Still Alarm, the play being well staged. Mr. Matthew H. Glenville acts excellently as Jack Manley; Miss Beatrice Shirley is in every way pleasing as Elinor Fordham; Mr. Gerald Kennedy displays considerable power as John Bird; Miss Mabel Veriton is a kindly and motherly Mrs. Manley; Mr. Fred Osmond makes a capital part of Doc Wilber; Miss Hetty Zillwood acts in excellent style as Carrie Wilber; and Mr. Tom Beazley does well as Willie Manley. Acceptable variety turns are contributed by Miss Zillwood and the Lyric Comedy Four. The Central Fire Station, with the two trained horses, and the Burning House scenes are exceptionally realistic.

PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Livermore; Treasurer, Mr. F. J. V. Welchman.—Mark Sheridan, comedian, heads the programme, his songs and patter obtaining much appreciation. Paul Vandy, juggler, &c., does an expert act; the Four Figaros provide a pleasing musical and dancing act entitled Ten Minutes on the Continent; Bertha Norwood, comedienne and dancer, presents a refined and attractive turn; Cissie Thompson, comedienne, is entertaining; Vasey and Ramsey amuse with smart dancing and patter; Lambert and Hands are successful in a vocal scena; and Woolmer Young, vocal comedian, has some good songs. The performance concludes with animated pictures.

EMPIRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. B. Pearce Lucas; Resident-Manager, Mr. Sid Macaire.—Jake Friedman and company are successful in the Dutch operetta Happy Holland. The scenery is appropriate, representing a fishing village near Rotterdam; there are about thirty performers, and many pretty songs and dances are introduced. The De Breans do a good turn as comedy shadowgraphists and jugglers; the Verno Reed Trio amuse with their comedy act What Buttons Did; the Atilla Brothers do a fine gladiatorial act; Maude Beaumont is a pleasing burlesque actress; Queenie Essex, vocal comedienne, does an excellent turn; Bert Welch amuses as a ventriloquist and mimic; Will Musgrove, comedian, is appreciated; and Nora Noble is a smart comedienne and dancer. Interesting animated pictures conclude the entertainment.

BROUGHTON.—VICTORIA THEATRE, LTD.—Manager and Licensee, Mr. J. Fred Watson.—Her Forbidden Marriage, by Frederick Melville, is full of sensational surprises, keeping a full house on tenterhooks all through the five acts. Mr. Henry Lonsdale plays well in the strong part of George Maddison; Miss Geraldine Le Sage is equal to the demands of the onerous rôle of Lucy. The villainous Charles Devereux is played in good style by Mr. Louis Hector; Mr. H. Gomer May effectively portrays Sir George Lancaster; Mr. Vincent Loraine as Joe Lambkin, Mr. Fred De Vere as Timothy Tuttut, and Miss Kitty Merrick as Patty Lovejoy furnish plenty of fun. Mr. C. Davidson (Geoffrey), Mr. Henry Milton (John William), Mr. Conrad Stratford, Mr. James Raymond, Mr. W. Brooks, Mr. George Elsworthy, Mr. Leslie Nutter, Miss Grace Lester, Little Lucy, and Miss Agnes Imlay also do well in their respective studies.

BURNLEY.—VICTORIA OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. C. Horner.—His House in Order, capitally performed by Mr. Herbert Ralland's company, is here. Mr. J. Herbert Beaumont is a clever exponent of the rôle of Hilary Jesson, and Miss Kitty Cavendish does some fine acting as Nina. Mr. W. Henry Hargreaves is an excellent Filmer Jesson; Mr. Langford Brown as Sir Daniel Ridgeley is convincing; Pryce Ridgeley is well represented by Mr. Dudley Stuart; Geraldine is interestingly performed by Miss Victoria Wray; and other performances deserving of praise are those of Major Maurewarde by Mr. Randolph Read, Lady Ridgeley by Miss Avis Graham, and Derek Jesson by Miss Peggy Rae.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. C. Horner.—Miss Violet King is a violinist and pianist of undoubted ability; Miss Ena Compton wins favour with "What you've got, look after"; Mr. Eric Johns, character tenor, is heard to advantage; Rell and Butt in Fun in the Garden introduce good patter and acrobatics; Gale and Morris are very good in a musical duologue; warm recognition is accorded to Mme. Roma's Six Imre Juggling Girls; and E. D. Nicholls and company appear in a burlesque drama The Dreadful Detective, which causes much laughter.

PALACE THEATRE AND HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. Julius Simpson.—Vonetta, a wonderfully versatile lady, gives an interesting performance of illusions and dances. A novel turn is that of Taree, Australian musical bushman, whose performances on a sixpenny mouth-organ evoke applause; Clown Barker's well-trained dogs are most enjoyable; Kurkamp, singing conductor, delights with his songs; the Two Babusio Brothers are clever hand-to-head balancers; Chas. Lewis, a novelty ventriloquist, shows capital control of face; Bernardo, juggler, creates roars of laughter with well-studied fun; a pretty musical scene is presented by Miss Dora Barrington and Miss Netta Grey; and Minnie Kirby, comedienne, is good. Raymond's Bio-Tableaux conclude with a good picture.

BURTON-ON-TRENT.—NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Bennett; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. de Hague Body.—Mr. Leoni Clark tops the bill with his wonderful performing cats, rabbits, monkeys, rats, canaries, &c.; the Two Le Bruns give a clever and refined juggling speciality; some clever and novel work is submitted by the Dunlops, trick cyclists; Sam Shipley is a good character comedian; Lilian Sivado, in a graceful gymnastic performance, is well received; much fun is caused by the Two Daniels, negro comedians and stilt dancers; Miss Beattie Bloom does well; and Mint and Mint, speciality artists, meet with a cordial reception.

BURY (Lancs.).—THEATRE ROYAL AND PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Assistant-Acting-Manager, Mr. H. H. Potter.—With an excellent cast and magnificent scenery Walter Melville opened here on Monday with The Girl Who Wrecked His Home. Miss Louise Hampton has a part which suits her splendidly in Bertha Marshall; and Mr. Fred Goddard is a manly Jack Marshall. Josh Crockett is cleverly enacted by Mr. Will Clement;; and Miss Georgie de Lara does well as Val Raymond. Mr. Barry Levers is a creditable Leonard Kenyon.

CIRCUS OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Assistant-Acting-Manager, Mr. H. H. Potter.—As a singer of tuneful songs, Miss Jennie Johns is most successful, and is proving a big draw; the high pedestal dancing of the Lannons is popular; and excellent comedy is supplied by Julia Kent and Alex Keith. Her Good Name, a dramatic sketch, presented by Miss Diana Hope's company, is admirably acted; W. G. Webber pleases with several songs; clever trapeze work is submitted by Mlle. Azella; and the Bros. Milford, comedians, Three Bros. Huxter, tumblers, and the Ottograph Pictures are other attractions in a good bill.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. S. Garner.—This week's bill is proving popular, Joe Peterman's Singing Servants being the principal item. Other capital turns are given by Will and Archie Frohman, musical duettists; Evelyn and Norrie, in a sketch, Set a Thief ——; Cyclamina, trick cyclist; Mark Merry, comedian; Percy Farrimond, the singing collier—a great success; Will Harvey, comedian; the Wedburns, comedians and dancers; and the Bioscope Pictures.

BURY ST. EDMUNDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—General-Manager, Mr. Auguste M. Peuleve.—Mr. H. F. Maltby's company on Monday presented The Youngest of Three to a brilliant audience. Mr. Maltby assumes the rôle of George Wendover with great success; as Gerald Wendover, Mr. Arthur Claremont displays good acting; a capital Philip Radford is found in Mr. Wyn Weaver; Mr. Brember Wills and Mr. N. H. Tracy giving satisfactory aid as John and Joshua Pyne; Miss Mara Maltby's winsome acting as Lucy Dulley fully justifies her reception; the parts of Anne and Florence Dulley and Jane being ably played by Miss Maddocks, Miss F. Wyn, and Miss Kathleen St. George. Fraud and Sir George of Almack's are also billed.

ROYAL HIPPODROME. — The programme here includes Eily Florence, a comedienne of refinement; Edward Mortimer, lightning artist and entertainer; George Hope, the singing collier; Josephine Ellis, a pretty singer and dancer; and the Swift Duo, clever trick cyclists.

BUXTON. — OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, The Buxton Gardens Co., Ltd.; Secretary and Manager, Mr. Arthur Willoughby.—For the first three nights of this week we had Mr. Robert Macdonald's capable company in The Dairymaids. Miss Dorothy Belmore was particularly good as Lady Brudenell, and Mr. Sam Lysons scored as Sam Brudenell; Mr. Frank Manger capably played Lieut. Meredith, and stage-managed, and Mr. Frank Barclay was most efficient as Dr O'Bryne; Mr. Edwin Dodds was very amusing as Joe Mivens and Miss Isa Bowman was a delightful Peggy. The remaining parts were admirably handled, and the play well staged.

CAMBRIDGE. — NEW THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. W. B. Redfern, J.P., D.L. — Mr. Brandon Thomas's company, with the ever-welcome Charley's Aunt, opened on Monday, and the farce proved as amusing as ever. Mr. G. A. Seager as Lord Fancourt Babberley had a gratifying reception; Mr. Ray Byford was most successful as Stephen Spettigue; Mr. Hastings Lynn, Mr. Basil Lynton, Mr. Theo, Mr. Causland Steward, and Mr. Sydney Compton gave great assistance; Miss Vere Gerald was excellent as Donna Lucia; Miss Evelyn Gray made a delightful study of Ella Delahay; Miss Olivia Glynn and Miss G. Denbigh Russell interpreted their parts in a natural way.

CARDIFF.—NEW THEATRE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Robert Redford.—We are favoured with a welcome return visit of the breezy musical play The Gay Gordons, with Mr. Seymour Hicks and Miss Marie Ash in the cast. Mr. Hicks as Angus Graeme is as cheerful and as enthusiastic in his work as ever, and his clever portrayal won him a host of admirers; Miss Marie Ash's bewitching manner, captivating personality, and delightful acting and singing as Peggy Quainton delights all; Miss Coralie Blythe ably fills the rôle of Victoria Siddons; Miss Maud Milton capably delineates Janet McLeod, and Mary McLeod is faithfully represented by Miss Doris Macintyre; as Nervy Nat Mr. Johnnie Danvers is exceedingly smart and humorous; Miss Sidney Fairbrother as Charlotte submits a rendering of exceptional skill; and Mr. George Carroll as Edmund Siddons completes a remarkable trio of comedians; Mr. W. Lugg (Andrew Quainton) and Mr. Lawrence Caird (Corp. Smith) give praiseworthy expositions. The beautifully-gowned chorus ladies and the charming scenic effects have been universally admired.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. L. Dring.—A welcome return visit is being paid by Fred Ginnett's company in his well-known equestrian sketch, Dick Turpin's Ride to York. Quite deserving of the tumultuous applause evoked are the Lancashire Singers, conducted by Thos. Grundy, the part songs rendered by this company blending with delightful effect. Queenie Leighton is an old Cardiff favourite, and her latest up-to-date songs increase her popularity; a couple of smart comedy artists are the Kirbys, who are decidedly entertaining with their burlesque performance; one of the most pleasing items of the evening is Bessie Butt, in a sweet song and charming dance; Burnette, quick-change character musician, is exceptionally talented in his line; Frank Sylvo is a quaint and clever comedy juggler; and Little About six weeks ago I was suffering with

PIMPLES

ALL OVER MY FACE.

I was also suffering with SCURF IN THE HAIR. Being rather alarmed, I asked a friend's advice, and he recommended me to take "Clarke's Blood Mixture." I purchased a 2/9 bottle, and within a week I found marked improvement. The pimples and the scurf is entirely gone. I cannot tell you how thankful I am at having taken "Clarke's Blood Mixture," and I shall recommend it to everybody, as I think it only right that such a remedy should be known.—(Signed), JOHN HENRY JONES, known as "Little Johnny," Llandudno's Popular Comedian, Thorndale, Llandudno, Feb. 24, 1908.

VANISHED LIKE MAGIC,

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE,

the World-famed Blood Purifier, is an invaluable Remedy for all Skin and Blood Diseases, such as Eczema, Scrofula, Scurvy, Bad Legs, Ulcers, Abscesses, Boils, Pimples, Sores and Eruptions of all kinds, Glandular Swellings, Blood Poison, Rheumatism, Gout, &c. It has over Forty Years' reputation, and thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it.
2/9 per Bottle, and in Cases containing Six Times the quantity, 11/-. Of all Chemists and Stores, or post-free on receipt of price direct from the Proprietors: THE LINCOLN AND MIDLAND COUNTIES DRUG CO., LINCOLN.

MR. JOHN HENRY JONES, (from a photo.)

Keeno, boy comedian and dancer, and the American Bioscope complete.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Under the Management of Mr. Rollo Balmain.—A drama of exceptional interest is The Woman who Gambles, presented at the Royal this week by Mr. Morton Powell's company. The piece is finely staged and elaborately costumed, the uniforms being quite striking. Mr. N. A. Overton plays Baron Cratzlaw in a vigorous manner; as the woman who gambles, Countess Steinbach, Miss Laura Walker's rendering of a difficult part is all that could be desired; Mr. Clifford Kean as Count Otto Steinbach makes a manly hero; and Karl Ctzartoriski is capitally impersonated by Mr. Reginald Fox. Quite an important part is allotted to Miss E. Conway, who gives an effective rendering of Cora Gouldhart. The comedy is in the hands of Miss Brenda May (Zanette) and Mr. V. T. Raymond (Hon. Bertie Bray), who considerably enliven the piece. All the other parts are well played.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur Burton.—A capital sketch, entitled The Last Halt, is the pièce de résistance this week, and is effectively presented by Mr. Wilfred H. Benson's company; Mr. Benson as Prince Lerkoff and Miss Mabel Wynn as Rebecca Marstein undertake the important rôles with success. The marvellous acrobats, the Avolos, submit their clever performance with their usual skill; Clifton and Gibson, two gifted comedians, do well; Flo Burnett receives a flattering ovation for her capital vocalism; and others who contribute excellent turns are Stidder and Dunbar, musical comedy artists; Walter Clyde, vocalist; and the Arnotes, "South Carolina Sunbeams."

CARLISLE.—H.M. THEATRE.—Lessees, Mr. Thos Courtice and Mrs. R. Stewart M'Kim; Manager, Mr. Thos Courtice.—Miss Horniman's company from the Gaiety Theatre, Manchester, paid a flying visit on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hermann Suderman's play, The Vale of Content, was the piece produced, and the performance gave the greatest delight to a full and appreciative audience. Miss Darragh as Elizabeth displayed emotional gifts, and her powerful and judicious acting was generally admired; as the blind girl, Helene, Miss Hilda Branch easily gained the sympathy and support of the house; Miss Penelope Wheeler's Bettina and Miss Ada King's Frau Orb were also sound performances. In the principal rôle Mr. Jules Shaw was impressive and distinctly effective, his fine delivery and refined acting being big factors in the success of the performance. Mr. Edward Lauder as Doctor Orb contributed an excellent study, and Mr. Henry Austin played with good effect as Wiedemann; Mr. Basil Dean in a small part was also conspicuously successful. The minor rôles were well filled. This week the Carlisle Philharmonic Society occupy the boards in the successful opera Dorothy.

THE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Signor Rino Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. F. Morgan.—The Leslie Bros., in their clever act, entitled Music Mad, top the bill this week, and meet with unqualified approval; Bosanquet, "the Human Violin," gives a unique and highly successful turn; Florence Jaymen caricatures coon songs in eccentric style; and De Ora shows remarkable skill and daring on the trapeze. One of the most popular turns is contributed by Bert Danson, a clever comedian; Adeline Zoull and company produce a comedy sketch, which is brightly played, and thoroughly delights the audience; Leslie Talmage, a smart and up-to-date conjurer, is a favourite; and some capital pictures by the Pepiscope complete.

CASTLEFORD.—ROYAL.—Sole Proprietor and Licensee, Mr. Chas. Gadsby; Business-Manager, Councillor Hy. Masterman, J.P.—We are having a second visit from Mr. Tom H. Taylor's company with The Female Swindler. Miss Violet Ellicott as Lu Valroy displays much ability; Mr. Jerrold Heather gives a capital study of the cool criminal investigator, John Coulson; Mr. Stanley Radcliffe scores a success as Geoffrey Warden; Miss Beatrice Hone is a charming May Andrews; Harold Travers is well played by Mr. Guy P. Ellis; Mr. John Hitchens as Billy Binks is responsible for many funny situations; Miss Bella Moody does some excellent work as Mary Ann Mee; Abraham Mikestein is admirably delineated by Mr. Fred Rignol; and Mr. A. Kenyon Gray is an admirable James Oliver.

QUEEN'S THEATRE OF VARIETIES. — Proprietors, Messrs. Chas. Beanland and W. H. Emerson; General-Manager, Mr. Will. H. Emerson.—A capital sketch, The Dummy, by the Gregson Comedy Trio, heads the bill; Wishart thoroughly mystifies his audience by escaping from a giant bottle; the Four Musical Watsons, in vocal and instrumental efforts, meet with approbation; the Laurie Brothers as society acrobats show wonderful strength and skill; George Roland scores heavily with a couple of songs; Kyoto as a contortionist and juggler works hard, and Dan Hendy as an eccentric acrobatic comedian is very popular; May Geraldine sings in capital style and dances gracefully, and the animated pictures of the Loyal Dominion Company are as popular as ever.

CHATHAM. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietors, Messrs. C. and L. B. Barnard; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lionel Barnard.—Mr. Robert Courtneidge's company is here again in The Dairymaids. The Misses Mabel Younge and Madge Avery are still appearing successfully as Lady Brudenell and Miss Pyechase respectively, and Mr. Johnny Osborne is repeating his amusing representation of Joe Mivens. Among the newcomers Miss Clare Marsden is quite a favourite as Peggy and Miss Clarice Lockstone does particularly well as Winifred; Mr. J. A. Warden makes an efficient Dr. O'Byrne, Messrs. Nelson Keys and Wykes Ashdowne sustain their respective rôles with plenty of energy and go, and Miss Gladys Silvani is in every respect an excellent Eliza.

BARNARD'S PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. L. B. Barnard.—Harold Nuttall's company, including Mr. Martyn Roland, is scoring a hit with a well-staged version of The Ghost of Jerry Bundler. Gerard's skilful display of muscular power is capitally relieved by the antics of his comedy man; Lupino Lane is enthusiastically applauded; and others appearing are Chris Baker, comedian; Lambert and Butler, neat dancers; the Sprees in a scena, Twickenham Ferry; and Chas. Russell, vocalist. Lacey's Erascope has fresh films, including A Virtuous Young Man.

GAIETY THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Capt. H. E. Davis; Manager, Mr. F. Warden-Reed.—Here we have Little Gladys Nelson, a taking little mimic; Harry Bickley's songs and patter are well worth hearing; May Brilliant scores with "Mandy"; the Three Romas present in an artistic manner some novel feats of strength; Carl and Carr give satisfaction in their comedy episode, A Drawing-Room Interlude; the Edisonograph has a smartly worked film, A Living Reflection; and Jessie Lee, vocalist and dancer; Philip Levard, conjurer; and Gracie Lawn, comedienne and dancer; all do well in their respective lines.

CHELTENHAM.—OPERA HOUSE.—General-Manager, Mr. H. Oswald Redford.—Mr. Wentworth Croke's company appeared here in The Prodigal Son on Monday. Mr. Hugh Montgomery as Magnus played with powerful style and fine elocution; Oscar was successfully realised by Mr. Gordon Macintosh; Miss Valerie Crespin acted with emotional intensity as Thora, doubling the part with a pretty and dainty impersonation of Elin; Helga Neilson was represented with cynical emphasis by Miss Mildred Cottell; Mr. Charles Cooper looked and acted well as the Governor; Miss Barbara Gott was very pleasing as Anna; Mr. Philip Renouf as Oscar Neilson was well placed; and Miss Marie Harcourt as Margaret did well. Mr. E. Christopher was a manly Sheriff; Mr. Ernest Rivarz played Dr. Olsen with effect; Mr. Charles A. Maynard was successful in the rôle of Neils Filsen; and Mr. G. Dickson Kenwin was sufficiently sinister as the Director of the Casino. Mr. G. W. Hewetson as the Pastor and Mr. Arthur Hall as Eric Arnasson did well.

CHESTER. — ROYALTY THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Resident-Manager, Mr. C. B. Fountaine.—Mr. Seymour Hicks's company is drawing good houses this week with The Gay Gordons. Mr. Frank Lincoln as Angus Græme plays with verve and wit; Mr. Tom Graves as Nervy Nat convulses the audience with his quaint antics; and the Edward Siddons of Mr. Edward Nainby is grotesquely amusing. The Andrew Quainton of Mr. Edward Beecher is worthy of special mention; Miss Madge Vincent as Victoria Siddons acts with charming vivacity; and Charlotte Siddons is amusingly portrayed by Miss Ida Laurie. The Mary McLeod of Miss Gladys Deane is rendered with emotion and power; and Miss Nellie Lonnen captivates all by her spirited acting and singing.

CHORLEY (Lancs.).—GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. G. T. Santé; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Santé. — Boswell's Royal Stage Circus here this week is an exceedingly pleasant change, and was on Monday evening welcomed by a capital house. The following artists also appeared :—Kame Yasuda, in a brilliant acrobatic and juggling turn; the Bros. Austin, capital exponents of chair tumbling; Comical Walter, an entertaining clown; Charlie, in a clever feet equilibrist act; and last, but not least, the Five M.P.'s (Musical Palmers), with delightful musical entertainment.

COATBRIDGE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, The Coatbridge Theatre Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. John Commins.—A variety company appearing twice nightly occupies the boards here this week. Heading the bill is Miss Dinah Morris's company in A Village in Dahomey, in which Mr. Sam Morris as Col. Martin Muggs creates a huge success, and Miss Morris as Dinah proves a great attraction; Miss Bessie Morris gives a clever impersonation of the Captain of Brigade, and Mr. Moore admirably enacts the Stranger from Russia. Mr. R. C. Note, a popular vocal comedian, receives much applause; Miss Frances Drew as a ballad vocalist would be hard to beat; Mr. George Reeves, eccentric comedian, keeps the house in roars of laughter; Miss Chummie La Mara brings the house down in her latest hit, "Harrigan"; Miss Alice Gray, descriptive vocalist, is well received; Messrs. Hearne and Palmer, eccentric acrobats, cut some queer antics; Miss Nellie Elliene as a serio comedienne is much applauded; Signor Bandoni gives an admirable exposition of the One-Man Band; Burt provides an enjoyable entertainment with the Service rifle; and last, but not least, Mr. N. C. Bostock is a great favourite.

COLCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. Chas. Macdona; Lessee and Manager, Mr. F. Graham Macdona.—Mr. Dudley Bennett and Mr. J. C. Wray's company is presenting Miss Hook of Holland here this week to good houses. Mr. Edmund Russell as Mr. Hook furnished a droll picture, and created great fun; Mr. Fred Dark depicted the eccentric Simon Slinks to a nicety; Mr. J. B. Fox, an artist of imposing stature and good voice, appeared to great advantage as Captain Adrian Paap; Mr. Adrian Burgon was a suitable Bandmaster; and Mr. Robert Corrag was nicely placed as Ludwig. Miss Ethel James made a most becoming Sally; and her popularity was shared by Miss Muff Carew as Mina. Miss Molly Trœvor was good as Gretchen; and the choruses worked in a very harmonious manner under the able direction of Mr. Harry Richardson.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Colchester Hippodrome Co.; Directors, Messrs. Fredk. Mouillot and Walter de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. Ben de Frece.—The premier turn this week is Edward Crosland's Melody Makers, in a musical, vocal, and dancing scena, entitled The Burglar's Dream. The combination comprises a quintet of very capable pianists and vocalists, together with a capital sand and eccentric dancer. Le Clarr's Troupe of Fox-terriers is welcomed by the lover of animal turns; Lillian O'Brien possesses a tuneful voice and sings attractive chorus songs, the words of which are thrown upon the screen; Charles Ashdown creates a deal of laughter with his eccentricities; Vere and Royal are a hard-working comedy duo; Frankie Manners is a capable burlesque artist; and the films are loudly applauded.

CONSETT.—NEW THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Lloyd Clarance.—Home, Sweet Home, is presented here this week by Mr. Frank Lindo and company. As Stephen Armitage Mr. Lindo is agreeably prominent; Mr. Lawrence Doyle submits some fine acting as David Armitage; and Mr. Norton Shields is excellent as the Duke of Ancaster. As Lucas Lyle Mr. J. Heremann has a difficult part, but he sustains it with ease and effect. The fun introduced by Mr. Geo. Rogers and Miss Maud Cudd as the Hon. Percy and Sybil Fay respectively is appreciated; Miss Marion Wakeford sustains the part of Joan (Armitage's daughter) very well indeed, and Miss Jackaway as Dora is praiseworthy.

CORK.—PALACE THEATRE, LTD.—Manager, Mr. Thomas F. O'Brien.—The entertainment here this week is of exceptional merit. Charles T. Aldrich presents a humorous and entertaining turn as "the Tramp Juggler," which is very laughable; Captain Roberts, assisted by two ladies and two youths, presents a musical athletic and balancing act which is most original and difficult; the Two Sarony Sisters are clever American acrobatic song and dance performers; Mons. de Lil is a clever illusionist; Sid Bandon, comedian, contributes two emotional songs with success; Oak and Elms, knockabout comedians, are very amusing; Professor Hulbert's ventriloquism causes immense amusement; Guy Ryder, a clever siffleur, renders difficult operatic selections and imitates birds; the Four Netherlands in The Tale of the Stockings contribute good songs and dances; and the Palascope continues to amuse.

COVENTRY.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. W. Bennett.—A Girl's Cross Roads is at the above house this week. Miss Hilda Beverley plays most realistically the difficult part of Barbara Wade; John Meadows is admirably presented by Mr. Charles Franmore; and Miss Nita Langford sustains the part of Nellie Meadows admirably.

HIPPODROME THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. S. T. Newsome; Resident-Manager, Mr. G. E. Wright.—A very good programme is provided this week. King and Benson, vocal comedy entertainers, head the list in Just for Fun; Sims and Sims give some musical selections on various instruments; Gladys Mavius has a dashing style; Paul Edwards and Louie Dacie give a comedy duologue entitled Man versus Woman; Rex Fox gives a marvellous ventriloquial and musical act on a slack wire; and other artists are Arthur Holland, character vocalist, Maud Jester, and Baby Sophie.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Kay Draco.—The great Lafayette was announced to appear all this week, but owing to the death of his father he had to cancel his engagement on Monday morning. This was a great disappointment to the many people who had booked seats in advance, but the enterprising manager put on for his patrons a very good programme. Velanche's Football "Boys," a clever troupe of dogs, give a very novel entertainment; the Olmars are good acrobats; Thomas and Taylor appear in a comedy act entitled The Guard and His Passengers; the Primrose Quartet render some glees very finely; and the Ramlo Troupe of comedy gymnasts, Annie Lang, serio and dancer, and Beattie and Babs, two juvenile performers, are also on the bill.

CREWE.—OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. G. Dudley Bennett; Resident-Manager, Mr. Chas. Howard.—Mr. Harry Benet's company is here in Sergeant Brue. Mr. Denis Lyndon scores a success in the title-rôle; Mr. Lister Morrah admirably sustains the part of Michael Brue; Mr. Harry Benet as Crookie Scrubbs earns well-merited applause for his clever work; Mr. T. G. Warren is a capable Mr. Crank; and Mr. E. B. Davies a commendable Gerald Treherne. Miss Ray Anderson gives a natural performance as Lady Bickenhall; Miss Daisie Dale is a charming Aurora; and Miss Mabel Davis a bright and attractive Mabel.

CROYDON. — GRAND THEATRE. — Manager, Mr. Roland Daniel; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Ernest Archer.—There is great satisfaction amongst Croydon playgoers this week at the visit of Mr. Oscar Asche and Miss Lily Brayton in The Taming of the Shrew. Miss Brayton is a consummate actress, and as Katharina she has a great part that calls her best powers into play, and Mr. Asche submits a fine, scholarly performance as Petruchio that gives unmitigated pleasure; Mr. Herbert Grimwood's efforts are rightly directed as Baptista; Mr. J. Fritz Russell gives a consistent performance as Vincentio; Mr. G. Kay Souper exactly fits the rôle of Lucentio; Mr Caleb Porter is great in his business as Gremio; Mr. R. Ian Penny hits off to a nicety the rôle of Hortensio; Messrs. Tripp Edgar and R. F. Anson do well as Tranio and Biondello; Mr. Henry Kitts makes a whimsical Grumio; and Miss Muriel Ashwynne is an enchanting Bianca. Minor rôles are adequately rendered by Messrs. Arthur Trantom, Reginald Davis, Gordin Harker, and Misses Constance Robertson and Caroline Bayley. The incidental music is admirably rendered by the augmented orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Christopher Wilson; and the excellent scenery is a noteworthy feature. During the week Othello and The Two Pins are being also staged.

HIPPODROME AND THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Mr. Harry Osmond.—A capital series of animated pictures are being exhibited here this week, and include A Dash for Liberty, The Runaway Horse, Her Great Mistake, Her First Bike Ride, The Stray Dog, The Pretty Typist, and The Phlegmatic Gentleman.

EMPIRE PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Walter Gibbons and Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Eustace Jay.—Fred and Arthur Conquest score in their farcical sketch Something for Nothing; Phil Ray causes much laughter; David Poole is an ingenious ventriloquist; Clive Watts is uncommonly good in song and dance; the Brilliants, xylophonists, are applauded; Maude Francis is a commendable juvenile vocalist and dancer; the Five Grebneiffs are Continental dancers of great skill; Terry and Bentley, comedy duo, win encomiums; Nellie Lunelle is an exhilarating comedienne and dancer; Johnny Fuller gives a marvellous turn as a cat on the wire; and Ruffell's animated pictures are up to the mark.

DARWEN.—PUBLIC HALL, PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Lessees, Messrs. Thomson, Leivers, and Bennett; Manager, Mr. J. E. Thomson; Assistant-Manager, Mr. J. Kerrigan.—Charles Field, juggler, tops the bill here this week; the Sisters Ford give a capital character duo; Edmunda is a clever ventriloquist; Hart and Hart are excellent dancers; and the pictures on the Bioscope are enjoyed.

DERBY.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietor and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Charles Denley.—Mr. Leonard Boyne's company is here this week with Raffles. In the title-rôle Mr. Boyne acquits himself in a manner that might be expected of so experienced and gifted an actor; Mr. Harold West does exceedingly well as Harry Manders; Mr. Buckstone Clair gives an admirable reading of the character of Crawshay; and in the capable hands of Mr. E. W. Thomas Curtis Bedford is accounted for in a way which leaves nothing to be desired. As the Earl of Amersteth Mr. Arthur Willoughby submits a dignified presentment; and Mr. Cecil Brymer plays amusingly as Viscount Crowley. The Gwendoline Conran of Miss Hilda Moore is exceptionally charming; and Miss Lilian Hallows is in every way successful as Mrs. Vidal. Miss Blanka Stewart makes a capital Lady Melrose, and Miss Beatrice Fitzgerald and Miss Dorothy Gordon as Lady Ethel and Marie, the French maid, respectively also merit special mention.

PALACE.—Lessee and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes.—An entertaining programme here this week is headed by Kennedy's Kiddies, whose singing and dancing meet with all-round approval. Les Belles Americaines are clever vocalists and dancers; Arthur Boyne, comedian, causes much amusement; Ailsa Douglas, a pleasing vocalist, is deserving of praise; the Wambas perform some skilful feats on the trapeze; Diamond and Hart are smart patter comedians; and Lily and Albert are a commendable comedy duo. The Bioscope concludes.

DEVONPORT.—THEATRE METROPOLE.—Manager, Mr. G. S. King.—This week's programme is quite a change, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Walter's company in the pantomime Babes in the Wood. Very good business has been done, the company being large and well-balanced, and the scenic effects and properties all that could be desired.

HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. Herbert Taylor.—The pièce de résistance is Captain Felix Bedini's Gordon Highlanders, whose smartly-performed evolutions and gymnastic feats evoke the heartiest applause. Mr. E. H. Bostock's baboons are watched with extreme interest; Helm and Cozens provide plenty of fun in The Doctor and the Patient; and Cestria's comedy jugglery and acrobatic dancing are excellent. Jock Campbell, comedian; Estrella, a graceful dancer; the Sisters Allen, accomplished comediennes; and George Ridgwell are other attractions.

DONCASTER.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. J. W. Chapman.—Robin Hood has lost none of its attractiveness. Mr. Ethelbert Edwards is a fine, breezy Robin Hood; Mr. J. N. Briant's presentment of Richard is dignified; Prince John is cleverly conceived by Mr. H. Elliott Ball; and the efforts of Mr. Ernest Gray as Fitz Alwynne are appreciated. Mr. John Herdman is thoroughly conversant with the rôle of Much, the miller; Mr. F. Clive Ross deserves recognition as John Little; Mr. Bruce Winston's Friar Tuck is simply inimitable; Miss Irene Malvesyn is a queenly Eleanor of Acquitaine; Miss Laurie Flockton as Adela is chic; and Miss Gertrude De Burgh as Alison's wife secures warm admiration. Beauty, charm, and grace distinguish Miss Lilian Stennis as Lady Marion.

DUBLIN.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mrs. Michael Gunn; General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. Charles Hyland.—Mr. William Mollison and his excellent company commenced a week's engagement here on Monday, when Macbeth was presented to a crowded audience. Mr. William Mollison rendered the title-rôle in a masterly manner. Miss Evelyn McNay distinguished the character of Lady Macbeth by her clever acting; Banquo had a good representative in Mr. Harold Neville; Mr. W. A. Mackersy played with much acceptance as Duncan; and Mr. Fred Ellis acted with studied effect as the Physican. The three Witches were played with success by Misses Edith Blair-Staples, Josephine Woodward, and Gladys Brandon Gower. Mr. Henry Deas as Malcolm and Mr. Lewis Newton as Donaldbain were also satisfactory in their respective parts, and Miss Freda Wright was effective in the rôle of the Gentlewoman. On Tuesday Hamlet was successfully played. The Bonnie Briar Bush, David Garrick, Richard III., and The Merchant of Venice were also announced.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Parrington.—The attraction here this week is the popular comic opera, Tom Jones, which is delighting large audiences. In the title-rôle Mr. Harry Welcham achieves distinct success by a clever and artistic performance; Miss Florence Smithson submits a charming portrayal of Sophia, her vocal numbers being much admired; Mr. Dan Rolyat as Benjamin Partridge is untiring in his efforts to amuse; Miss Isabelle Dillon as Honour is all that could be desired; Mr. Ambrose Manning gives a humorous impersonation of Squire Western; Miss Alice Oppitz is strikingly effective as Lady Bellaston; Mr. J. Macmillan is highly diverting in the rôle of Gregory; and Mr. Walter Rignold as Grizelle and Mr. Lionel Braham as Dobbin are good. The choruses and orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Edwin Thornton, are excellent.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. W. S. Pearce; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. Hereford Jones.—The pictures here this week include :—The Night of Terror, The Quiet Hotel, Billy's on Fire, The Sailor's Joke, The Baronet Cowboy, Sherlock Holmes, The Twin Brothers' Joke, and Around New York in Fifteen Minutes. The variety artists appearing are Bill E. Calvert, coon comedian and expert dancer; Pallette and his clever dog, Max; and Bob Pearson, humorist and guide. Good houses are the rule.

EMPIRE. — General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager and Secretary, Mr. George H. Marsh.—The big attraction here this week is the charming musical comedy sketch entitled The Belle of the Orient, presented by Joe Peterman and company. Will and Alice Vokes in their dancing absurdity are a smart pair; as speciality vocalists the Crown Trio are eminently successful; Frank Mortimer, comedian, meets with a warm reception; Ethel Dove, comedienne, sings and dances with animation; as a male impersonator Madge Osmond makes a decided hit; Bert Terrell, Dutch vocal comedian, is high in favour; Lilian Rigby in her dancing and musical speciality submits a pleasing turn; and Films, Ltd., depicting Honesty Rewarded, Wanted : A Nice Young Man, and Training a Fighting Bull, complete the bill.

TIVOLI.—General-Manager, Mr. Charles M. Jones; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. A. Murphy.—A capital programme is headed by the Eight 'Varsity Girls, whose vocal and dancing scena, A Musical Evening, wins great appreciation. The Lutinas in their gymnastic act are a distinct success; as a character vocalist Chris Masters is capital; Thorpe and Coe, duologue artists, contribute an acceptable turn; Maude Kaye, comedienne, is much admired; Curwen and Belle in their novel conception, The International Club, are highly amusing; the Three Cunards score successfully in a smart dancing act; as a ventriloquist Gillen provides an entertaining turn; Max Merlin impersonates the "human crocodile"; and the Bioscope, depicting His First Experience in Chemistry, concludes.

WORLD'S FAIR AND MUSIC HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. C. A. James.—The programme consists of Dandie and Danby, comedians and patterers; Charles Reed, light comedian; Jolly Jack Murray, quaint comedian; Miss Amy Bayne, ballad vocalist; Tony Regan, comedian; the Morrisons, vocal duettists; and the Cinematograph.

DUNDEE.—HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Manager, Mr. Louis Karpe.—A Royal Divorce still retains its drawing power, as was shown by its reception at this house on Monday. Miss Margaret Watson played with emotional power as Josephine; Miss Maude Lacy was a delightfully bright and graceful Stephanie; Miss Winnie Tempest a dignified Marie Louise, and Miss Ethel Love was exceptionally good as the little King of Rome. Mr. Keith Fraser gave a realistic impersonation of the great Napoleon; Mr. Percy H. Vernon as Talleyrand cleverly portrayed the character; Mr. Stanley Harrison appeared to much advantage as the Marquis de Beaumont; Mr. Walter T. Clifford made a handsome and dashing General Augereau; Mr. Harold S. Standing was a dignified Marshal Murat; and Mr. Geo. Hudson as the drunken innkeeper proved very humorous. Mr. J. L. Barry, who is well known here, is the energetic and courteous manager for Mr. W. W. Kelly.

PALACE THEATRE. — Lessees, the United County Theatres, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. S McIntosh.—Guyer and Valli, in an exceptionally clever comedy act, and the Three Sisters Sprightly, in their bright, brisk, up-to-date turn, occupy places of honour on this week's bill, and both turns are thoroughly enjoyed. Tony Iveson, "the Ragman at the Piano," has a rousing reception from his many admirers; and the Mezzetis, in their laughable tit-bit, The New Recruit, show marvellous dexterity on the horizontal bars. Hal Forde and Charles Rowen, comedians; Rene, the girl juggler; Roy Beavis, in his clever conjuring act; and the Bioscope complete.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. R. A. P. Williams; General-Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—Topping the bill here are the Musical Johnstones, who contribute a very enjoyable turn. Mr. James Stillwell and Mrs. R. A. P. Williams create a furore in a one-act play, Dream Faces, which receives capital treatment at the hands of these accomplished artists; Ada Cerito is a delightful comedienne; the Brothers Curran, in their boxing act, introduce smart acrobatics; the Ramsey Trio create laughter in their absurdity Birdie's Welcome; the Three Sisters Thurban, vocalists and instrumentalists, provide capital entertainment; Lina Leslie is a dainty comedienne; Elsie Earle delights everyone with her picturesque song-scena A Garden of Flowers; and Lotto, Lilo, and Otto, trick cyclists, give a clever exhibition.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. R. A. P. Williams; General-Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—A very fine film, Ingomar the Barbarian, depicts in fourteen beautiful scenes the play by Mrs Lovell. Among the humorous films The Ardent Follower evokes much merriment; and Clever Poodle is another funny picture. The variety part of the programme is taken by Campbell's Scottish Lads and Lassies, a troupe of juvenile performers, who interest and amuse with singing and dancing.

NEWMAN'S PICTURE PALACE.—Mr. Fred Newman's house maintains its popularity, and continues to attract large crowds. This week in addition to up-to-date pictures on the Bioscope a very pleasant entertainment is provided by the Musical Morrells.

EASTBOURNE. — PIER PAVILION THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. George Hayes.—Under the direction of Mr. Charles H. Williams a company is appearing in Dear Old Charlie. In the title-rôle Mr. George Lestocq gives a capital performance in a quietly effective manner; Mr. C. Douglas Cox, full of buoyant spirit, is a happy Gabriel Peploe; Mr. R. S. Trelawney contributes clever work and is an excellent Thomas Dumphie; Mr. Duncan Young gives satisfaction as Fishbourne; and Mr. Stanley Arthur is an efficient Purkitt. Miss Enid G. Ford is a bright, animated, and attractive Agnes; Miss Leonora Braham as Mrs. Fishbourne is natural and very capable; and Miss Viola Holland helps ably as Reeve. The Cause precedes, and in this commendably fine work is done by Miss Braham as the mother and Mr. Cyril Vernon as the son.

DEVONSHIRE PARK THEATRE.—Sole Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Murray King and Clark.—Mr. Reginald Dance and his company are paying a return visit here with Beau Brocade. Miss Ruth Mackay repeats her pretty, romantic, and engaging performance as Lady Patience; Miss May Brooke is again an eminently satisfactory Betty; Mr. Reginald Dance is a very able and praiseworthy Beau Brocade; Mr. Frank Powell is a characteristic and penetrating Sir Humphrey Challoner; Mr. Frank Darch succeeds admirably as Earl Stretton; Mr. Dalziel Heron, keen and incisive in all his work, repeats a capital contribution as Stitch; Mr. Edwin Irwin as Jock Miggs is again one of the successes of the evening; Mr. Stanley Lathbury and Mr. Albert Thomas provide plenty of fun as Mittachip and Duffy; Mr. H. Asheton Tonge does good service as Jeremiah Inch; and other parts are well played.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Sidney W. Winter; District-Manager, Mr. George Egbert; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Holloway.—At the head of the bill here is a very human and thrilling dramatic episode, entitled The Light in the Window, finely and cleverly played by Mr. Fred Wynn and company, Mr. Wynn displaying great power and feeling as the convict. The Two Errols are remarkably smart and clever tumblers and jumpers; the Three Langfords are excellent in a well-varied dancing act; Mr. Reg. Beauchamp works ably and cleverly as a comedian; Mr. Fred S. Howard is a smart caricaturist and patterer; Miss Nelly Neil is a good singer, dancer, and bâton swinger; Mr. Will Nosam is a refined and tuneful coon impersonator; Miss Mabel Leroy is a graceful comedienne; and new pictures are shown.

ECCLES.—CROWN THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs W. H. Broadhead and Son; Manager, Mr. Albert Rogers.—Edwin Adeler is funny; Percy Curry, the original candy man, is responsible for humour; George Griffin gives a good account of himself; Ajax and George are clever gymnasts; Pueblo and Cropp, versatile artists, amuse; and Ada Jenner, the lady barber; Burke, Andrus, and Frisco, in the spectacular absurdity, Trafalgar Square; Maurin's fountains; and Romeo and Juliet, on the Bioscope, are other attractions.

EDINBURGH.—ROYAL LYCEUM THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Howard and Wyndham, Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Minshull; Acting-Manager, Mr. Wm. M. Downie. — Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company brings Mr. W. Somerset Maugham's entertaining comedy Lady Frederick to Edinburgh this week. The piece is admirably cast, and is performed with care and completeness. Mrs. Brown Potter, in the title-rôle, acts in her customary forceful style, and obtains a distinct success in her adroit handling of the dressing-room scene. Mr. Philip Cunningham's wide experience is of the greatest service in the part of Paradine Fouldes, which he plays in an easy, natural style, with a touch of feeling; Mr. Cecil Bevan is appropriately brusque as Captain Montgomerie; and an intelligent impersonation of the youthful Lord Moreton is given by Mr. Herbert Garthorne. A clever sketch of Mme. Claude, the dressmaker, is presented by Miss Phyllis Manners; and excellent work is done by Miss Medeline Du Val, Mr. C. T. Doe, and Mr. W. Barnett Parker. The piece was cordially received on the opening night, and the actors were frequently recalled. The play is preceded by Miss Ella Bryant's bright little comedy, The Peacemaker.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Wm. Whitehead.—Lovers of musical comedy cannot fail to be delighted with the performance of Dorothy, which is being played here this week under the direction of Moss' Empires, Ltd. As Geoffrey Wilder Mr. John Coates is excellent, and his songs are repeatedly encored; Mr. C. Hayden Coffin gives an artistic representation of Harry Sherwood, his fine singing being greatly appreciated; Mr. Arthur Williams keeps the house in a continual roar of merriment with his droll rendering of Lurcher; and Miss Ruth Davenport makes a charming Dorothy Bantam, and sings very sweetly and tastefully. Miss Hebe Bliss as Lydia Hawthorne is also very successful; Mr. Colin Coop portrays the jovial Squire Bantam; while a capital study of Mrs. Privet is given by Miss Emily Spiller. The other parts, including Miss Aimée Roberts as Phillis Tuppitt, Mr. Fred J. Vigay as John Tuppitt, and Mr. Tim Ryley as Tom Strutt, are all carefully played.

KING'S THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Amand Mascard.—A programme of more than average interest is crowding this house nightly. Miss Margaret Cooper, the charming entertainer, who has again received a Royal command, arouses much enthusiasm by her dainty and humorous rendering of songs at the piano, and the brilliant singer is recalled again and again. Mr. T. E. Dunville, with a budget of new songs and amusing patter, acts with genuine humour, and the theatre rings with laughter while he holds the stage; Mr. Brinn, a performer of surprising strength, gives a wonderful entertainment in his sketch, entitled Pastimes on a Battleship. His concluding feat, in which he supports a chair on which a man is seated, who fires a quick-firing gun, is an extraordinary exhibition of muscular power and nerve. Miss Nellie Merton and Mr. George Rydon are very successful in their sketch, in which some clever dancing is introduced; Mr. J. K. McFarlane, a Scotch comedian with a quiet, effective manner, is decidedly amusing, and earns a special call; Mr. Cull Pitt is an entertaining conjurer; and other contributors to the programme are Miss Gracie Grahame, a smart comedienne; Miss Alice Danby; and the Bioscope, with several beautiful films.

EMPIRE PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. Aynsley Cook.—The musical mélange, entitled The Prince of Monte Carlo, and carried through in lively fashion by Harry Roxbury and company, bulks largely on this week's programme, and proves extremely diverting; and another strong and extended musical turn is provided by the Elliott-Savonas, in their latest creation, The Palace of Orpheus. Naughton and Gold contribute some well-seasoned patter and smart dancing; Eddie Hayes and Mona Wynne sing and dance in a remarkably vigorous style; the Hartley Wonders perform some marvellous jumping feats very cleverly; the Three Sisters Grovini uphold their renown as lightning tumblers and acrobats; the Sisters Morgan are commendable duettists and dancers; Miss Maggie Walsh greatly pleases the audience with her singing; and imitations of music-hall notables are given by Miss Ray Wallace most successfully in a quite delightful manner. Bioscope pictures round off the bill.

COOKE'S CIRCUS. — Proprietor, Mr. John Henry Cooke; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. C. Burns.—Mr. Cooke had provided an extremely interesting programme for the opening of his equestrian season last Saturday evening. The circus has been entirely redecorated during the recess, and additional lights have been introduced, with the result that the house presents a splendid combination of colour and brightness. There was an outburst of enthusiasm when Mr. Cooke made his appearance in the ring, and the popular equestrian, in a neat little speech of acknowledgment, mentioned that the present season marks the thirty-third year of his management in Edinburgh, where he has always found the most generous support. Miss Ernestine Rosa Cooke evoked loud applause in her act, introducing her cake-walking horse, "Kentucky Beau," a performance noteworthy for the high degree of skill shown by the fair trainer; dashing feats of horsemanship were given by Mlle. Marietta, Mr. Frank Stephenson, and Groves, and the Two Barelles keep the fun going with unflagging vigour; and with an admirable roller-skating performance by the Ashley Team, and a series of pictures shown by the Orient Life-Motion Picture Co., the programme lacks no element of piquancy, freshness, and excellence. Mr. W. C. Burns's many friends were glad to see him once more in the management of the house, a position he filled so well last season.

EXETER. — THEATRE ROYAL.—Chairman and Managing-Director, Mr. Edward J. Domville, J.P.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy M. Dunsford.—The Moody-Manners Opera Company opened here on Monday with Madame Butterfly, with Mme. Fanny Moody in the title-rôle. Needless to say, she scored a great success on her first visit to this town, and was called before the curtain again and again for her magnificent singing and acting. Mr. Charles Carter became a great favourite as Pinkerton; Mr. Charles Moorhouse was distinctly good as Sharples; and Miss M. Dennis was an excellent Suzuki. The chorus is a well-balanced one, and the orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Cuthbert Hawley, does well. Cavalleria Rusticana, Pagliacci, Faust, Lohengrin, Carmen, and Maritana are also in the repertory.

GILBERT'S PALACE OF VARIETIES, VICTORIA HALL.—Manager, Mr. George Zalva.—Mr. Walter George's entertainers, The Smart Set, top the bill this week, and are loudly applauded for their refined entertainment. Mr. Fred Horsfall is a clever mimic and double-voiced vocalist; as a ventriloquist King Leo is decidedly good; Clown Loe introduces some dogs, who do some very clever things; Zenora is a hand equilibrist of no mean order; Hinson Brothers are a pair of comedians and dancers above the average; Munroe's Comedy Team provides plenty of humour and harmony; Miss Fanny Humber makes herself a favourite with her musical and dancing speciality; and the Palacescope pictures are interesting.

FALKIRK.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace W. Ebbutt.—Mr. Lawrence Brough and company are this week appearing in two of Sir Francis Burnand's plays, The Lady of Ostend and The Saucy Sally. The former was played on Monday. Mr. Lawrence Brough as Le Baron has much to do with the success of the production, and his impersonation of the Frenchman who is for ever complicating the marital relationships of others never fails to make the desired hit. Mr. Aubrey Cheshire makes an admirable Dick Whortles; Mr. Wm. Macready a striking and amusing Toby Knockitt; Miss Maud Buchanan in the title-rôle acts with much grace and power; and Miss Betty Park makes a charming Dorothy Whortles. At the Rising of the Moon figures as a curtain-raiser.

FOLKESTONE. — PLEASURE GARDENS THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland.—The attraction for this week is Hardie and Von Leer's company in the dramatic success, Two Lancashire Lasses in London, which was played to excellent houses. John Edmonds (the inventor) was in the capable hands of Mr. John Pearson; and in the low comedy part of Samuel Hallett (from Lancashire) Mr. Chris. Mason excelled himself. The evil genius, Mr. Jonas Deane, was cleverly enacted by Mr. Fred Morgan, who was ably supported by the two burglars, Messrs. Jack Miller and W. Walmsley. Mr. Dick Winslow was the kind-hearted doctor to the life; the two Lancashire lasses were sympathetically played by Miss Rosslyn Vayne and Miss Alice Defoe. As Jane Bloomfield Miss E. Shaw frequently aroused the enthusiasm of the audience.

GAINSBOROUGH.—KING'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. H. Stead.—For the last three nights last week we had Fabbro's electric singing animated pictures. These were excellently produced, and in the entertainment were also included the Columbian Trio, singers and dancers; Miss Bessie Farrell, comedienne; Mr. Cecil Bradley as the Vagabond, &c.

EMPIRE HIPPODROME.—Directors, the Gainsborough Empire Syndicate.—The principal turn of this week's bill is supplied by Judge's cockatoos, which give their clever exhibition of bird training. The Gondolier Glee Singers, Swift Duo (trick cyclists), Fred Watson, and pictures are also in the bill.

GATESHEAD. — KING'S THEATRE. — Lessees, United County Theatres, Ltd.; Resident-Manager and Licensee, Mr. Harold Arnold.—Leading the way this week are Albert Bellman and Lottie Moore, in some artistic vaudeville; Venturini, a Continental illusionist, has some novelties; Ryan and Hall are grotesque acrobats; Mlle. de Rose, the lady Foli, assisted by a dainty young soprano, Hilda Claremont, form one of the hits of the bill; J. H. Hawtrey is an actor-vocalist of more than average ability; Allsopp and Bekwith are amusing; the Two Clares, in the song-scena Troubles of a Motor-car find favour; and Edith St. Clair and Vernon's pictures complete the entertainment.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. F. W. Bolam; General-Manager, Mr. R. G. Elder; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ernest Dixon.—Mr. James Bell is presenting The Idol of Paris here. Miss Annie Bell makes the most of the opportunities afforded in the part of Flare Flare; Mr. Leonard Aardale is a satisfactory Victor Cashelle; and Mr. Wilson Howard effectively portrays Philip D'Esterre. Other parts are in good hands.

GLASGOW.—KING'S, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Business-Manager, Mr. H. Macfarlane.—A crowded house on Monday welcomed Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, and the wit and wisdom of the character as so graphically portrayed by Mrs. Madge Carr-Cook were accorded enthusiastic plaudits of a delighted audience; Miss Rita Carlyle as the eccentric Miss Hazy and Mr. Frederick Forrest as Stubbins contribute two clever studies of character; Miss Mabel Durrant as the grim Mrs. Eichorn, and Miss Violet Vivian as the stout Dutch lady Mrs. Schultz gave well contrasted parts; a pathetic and touching performance was the Lovey Mary of Miss Christine Rayner; Mr. Gerald Henson and Miss Mary Deverell made an attractive pair of lovers; Mr. Arthur Vezin was very good as Billy Wiggs; and the young members of the cast all acted with genuine humour and appreciation of their parts; Mr. Walter M. Cameron gave due effect to the part of the erring Mr. Wiggs. The setting of the play is most picturesque in its homely fidelity.

ROYALTY, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Carpenter.—The D'Oyly Carte Répertoire company enter on their autumn engagement here this week, and on Monday night opened with the Mikado to a full house. Mr. Chas. R. Walenn's interpretation of the part of Koko was well received; and as Nanki Poo Mr. Stafford Moss's singing was good; that old favourite, Mr. Fred Billington, fully sustained his already high reputation as Pooh-Bah; and Miss Clara Dow made a fascinating Yum-Yum; as the Mikado, Mr. Leicester Tunks was highly successful; and Miss Ethel Morrison made an excellent Katisha. The other parts of Pitti-Sing, Peep-Bo, Pish-Tush, and Go-To were capably rendered by Miss Beatrice Meredith, Miss Mabel Graham, Mr. Sydney Granville, and Mr. Fred Drawater. The Mikado was repeated during the week, and the programme also included The Gondoliers, Patience, and H.M.S. Pinafore.

GRAND.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; District Manager; Mr. B. G. Maclachlan; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. Christie Grant.—Miss Maud Hildyard is appearing here this week in The Great Awakening. The rôle of Lola Selby is very ably played by Miss Hildyard; as Molly Merton Miss Elsie Capel acts with grace and simplicity; and Mr. Manning Sproston is a gentlemanly Captain Lambert; James Selby is portrayed with weird effect by Mr. Wallis Clark; Mr. Cecil Gray cleverly doubles the roles of Sir Henry Merton and Jack; and Mr. Herbert Robinson gives a polished delineation of Guy Rogan; Mr. David Curtis fills the part of Richard Wilson with credit; and in the character of Billy Brass and Selina Worts Mr. Tracy Barrow and Miss Cissie Podmore well sustain the comic relief.

PRINCESS'S.—Proprietor, Mr. Rich. Waldon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Hugh Murdoch.—Miss Ida Molesworth and Mr. Mark Blow's company opened here on Monday in From Slave to Princess. Mr. Austen Milroy's acting throughout as Prince Julian is excellent, and his efforts are warmly applauded. He is well seconded by Miss Dorothy Lart, who, as Vera, is admirable; Mr. A. Elwin as Michael Bardoni grasps every point of the part as Lieut. Alexis; Mr. Dermot Fitzgibbon makes the character stand out prominently; a powerful performance is supplied by Miss Agnes Verity as Princess Claudia; Patrick O'Brien is made amusing by Mr. Harry Benson, and he and Miss Kitty Sinclair as Amelia cause much laughter.

METROPOLE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. Gordon Jefferson.—Mr. John Gerant and company are here playing At Duty's Call, in which Mr. Gerard gives a strong delineation of Harold Alison; and Mr. Charles Calvert supplies good impersonation of the hero, Captain George Alison; Miss Beatrice Western is pleasing as the heroine Dora; and Miss Eva Belle as the Maid Mary gives a lively impersonation; Salema is finely played by Miss Ada Roscoe; Mr. Ernest St. John presents a stately picture of General Gordon; Mr. Forester Harvey as Terry O'Halloron is funny; Mr. Frank P. Morton as Jack Spencer gives an exciting display of boxing, with Mr. Calvert as his opponent.

LYCEUM.—Proprietor, Mr. Rich. Waldon; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. H. Oakden.—Here this week is the New East Lynne, presented by Mr. W. W. Kelly's company. Miss Beth Elliott as Lady Isabel gives an affecting impersonation of the character; and the part of Archibald Carlyle is capitally filled by Mr. Frederick Harker; Mr. Richard Nugent as Murty O'Flynn provides much amusement, and is ably seconded by Mr. Byron Pedley. Other notable members of the cast are Messrs. W. H. Garbois, M. Talbot, Lawrence Stevenson, and Misses Sophy Shenton, Josephine Gwynne, and Guinivere Shilton.

EMPIRE.—District-Manager, Mr. S. Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Manners.—Another capital programme includes the name of Lottie Lennox, who is very popular; Syd May is decidedly successful in his wrestling skit; Mabel Bardine and company present Nell of the Halls, a dramatic playlet by Marion Russell, and are cordially received; Chas. Steuart's company is responsible for a capital turn in The Water Cure; in this Miss Nellie Bowman appears with much success. Ted and May Hopkins, Welsh humorists, are very amusing, and their little comedy act, Wedding Bells, is pleasing; Chas. Stanton, double-voiced vocalist, takes well and is much appreciated; the Prince Milner Trio are clever hoop manipulators, and their wire-walking display proves of equal interest; Marie Clissold has a sweet voice, and sings well; Johnny Walker is a comedian of ability and takes well; the match between Gotch and Hackenschmidt is finely depicted on the Bioscope.

ZOO-HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Councillor E. H. Bostock; Assistant-Manager, Mr. E. H. A. Bostock.—Lady Mansel and juveniles top the bill here this week, and present an amusing turn; Sandy M'Nab is assisted by Miss Bessie Arthur in a side-splitting sketch called The Egyptian Mummy, Sandy impersonating one of the defunct Pharaohs; Dorothy Dundas sings pleasingly; she has a good soprano voice. Lettie and Florence, duettists and dancers, please both the eye and the ear. Maxey and Pete do some surprising feats of trick cycling; beautifully illustrated songs are sung by the Haverleys; Bert Weston, with witty jokes and topical songs, does well; Kloof and Ramsay discourse sweet music from odd instruments; Roxborough and Wright present a humorous sketch called My Little One; and the Bioscope winds up a pleasing entertainment.

PAVILION, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Evan Good.—R. G. Knowles is in excellent form here; Frank Elliston and company cause roars of laughter in the farce Aunt Matilda; a clever little girl is Baby Vi Davis, who contributes three diversified songs; Dave Carter, Irish tenor, sings with much credit; Mooney and Holbein contribute a quaint turn, and are enthusiastically received; Nash and Noel are a smart couple of "cross-talkers" and neat dancers; Don and Mabel give a Scotch vocal scena, Sandy's Return, which is well received; and Ted Cowan is a clever comedian.

PALACE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Rich. Waldon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry McKelvie.—Arthur Roberts heads the bill here and creates undounded fun in the farcical sketch Till Sunday; Miss Ruby Celeste and Mr. Wm. Rokeby give able support. George D'Albert is a great favourite, and his clever topical songs go well; Marie Collins secures a good share of appreciation; the painting and ventriloquial turn of Professor Thornbury is exceedingly smart; a neat, clever, and daring trapeze act is that of the Sisters Geretti; Ruby Bijou is a smart dancer, her bare-foot dance being particularly clever; the operatic duets of Webb and Branston are excellently sung; and new Bioscope pictures conclude an attractive programme.

COLISEUM.—District-Manager, Mr. S. Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. Harry Burdette.—Dr. Walford Bodie's performance here is both instructive and amusing. His bloodless-surgery experiments with the assistance of electricity are truly wonderful, and his hypnotic display is simply side-splitting. Lilian Dundas and company appear in a playlet of the pathetic order, entitled Nance Arden; Lilian Dundas sustains the title-part with great success and is well supported. The Three Delaries give a clever performance on trapeze and rings; a good vocal turn is done by the Chas. Fisher Pocket Opera company, who render some excerpts from Il Trovatore in excellent style; Watson's Royal fox terriers are introduced by Ida Kessanly, and play an exciting football match; Jack Smiles, comedian and dancer, is well received, his dancing being specially enjoyed; James Stewart, the tramp at the piano, wins favour; and the conjuring performance by Sydney Lee fully merits the appreciation of it shown. Some fine pictures are shown by the Bioscope.

GAIETY, LTD.—Manager, Mr. Harry Bowerman.—The Three Pirmans' thre-bar act proves them to be athletes of merit; Maxford and O'Neill create much amusement by their eccentricities and cross-talk; the Sisters Belmoir sing "catchy" duets in fine style, and conclude a good turn with a clever skipping-rope dance; the Twin Sisters M'Lean are well received, and their top-boot dancing is much appreciated; Marquis and Mignonette provide a refined comedy act which causes great merriment; and a series of animated pictures conclude an interesting and attractive entertainment.

PANOPTICON.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. A. E. Pickard.—Ring and Clear are extremely clever and amusing, and do well here; Douglas and Clarke's efforts are crowned with success; and Ethel Dancy is a delightful ballad vocalist; and Marion Blake is a clever comedienne. The Bioscope, with the Irish Fairy film, The Leprechaun, completes an entertaining programme.

GLOSSOP.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Sydney Spenser.—Mr. Harry Foxwell's powerful company, under the direction of Teddy Myles, was here the first three nights of the week with the drama An Abandoned Woman. Miss Nellie Thorne-Hallam in the title-rôle scores a well-merited success; Mr. Frederick Healey presents Sir Marmaduke Seaton in dignified style; the rôle of Captain Herbert Seaton is in the capable hands of Mr. Herbert M. King, who gives a manly portrayal; Mr. Wm. Fraser-Brunner as Philippe Malvoisin, the unprincipled Frenchman, is a great success; the irrepressible Paddy Boyle is rendered by Mr. Myles himself in characteristic style; and Mr. Arthur Curzon as Robert Saunders and Mr. Victor Garnett Vayne as Sammy Sharp are all that could be desired. Of Eleanor Deane Miss Lily Annesley gives a sympathetic study; little Frances Maddocks is a pathetic Mona Deane; and Miss Queenie Fraser-Brunner adds the necessary spice of humour as Sally Sloper. A Message from Mars was billed for Thursday.

GLOUCESTER. — PALACE.—Owners, Messrs. Poole's Theatres, Ltd.; Director, Mr. C. W. Poole.—Miss Marguerite Broadfoote makes a first appearance and a decided hit here. Tiny Arnold is also a favourite; Henry and Tyler have a sensational trick cyclist act; Miss Lallie Brooke is an excellent protean performer; Arthur Royce, comedian at the piano, goes well; the Paul Hesse Trio, in acrobatic wire act, are good; Johnson and Best, in A Queer Customer, are applauded; Joe Dale, chorus vocalist, is well assisted by the audience; and Nell Brough, comedienne and sifflleuse, is smart. The Palacescope concludes.

KING'S HALL.—Lessees, Poole's Theatres, Ltd.—Manager, Mr. R. T. Rea.—The picture show here increases in favour.

GOOLE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. Fred Greaves.—Animated pictures were presented here on Monday to a packed house by the Franco-British Filmograph Co. A capital variety turn is provided by Miss Lillie Le Main, a clever comedienne and dancer, whose singing and dancing are loudly applauded.

GREAT YARMOUTH.—ROYAL AQUARIUM.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. W. Nightingale; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. H. Nightingale.—Mr. A. Clifton Alderson's company is appearing in The Coal King this week. In the title-rôle Mr. Ulick Burke is excellent; Mr. A. Clifton Alderson makes a manly hero, and acts well; Mr. Leslie Vyner excellently depicts the villain, Walter Hartford; Mr. Sam Roberts is very humorous as Jim Williams; Miss Hinton also sustains a good comedy part; Mr. Frank Dalton gives a clever character study of Dick Shirley; and Miss Winifred Love displays ability as Grace Shirley.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. George Gilbert.—A crowded house on Monday greeted the excellent turns presented here this week. Leonard Darrell, the Canadian log-roller, is repeating his success of last week; the Three Ohmys, bareback equestrians, give as good an exhibition of horsemanship as anyone could wish; Miss Lily introduces a highly-trained performing horse; Les Currys appear to advantage in a musical speciality; Harry Wright is successful with his songs; Nelly Gannon is a pleasing comedienne; Sira is a very clever one-legged acrobat; Arian and Ostara are daring Gymnasts; Doodles and Bishop are as funny as ever; and the push-ball match in the arena lake is very popular.

THE GEM.—Proprietors, the Great Yarmouth Amusement Centre, Ltd.; Resident-Director, Mr. C. B. Cochran.—An excellent series of comic and dramatic pictures are being shown this week. The illustrated song "Not because your hair is curly" is very popular.

GREENOCK. — ALEXANDRA THEATRE, LTD. — Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Directors and Managers, Messrs. A. B. and J. J. Wright.—Her Road to Ruin is being produced by Mr. Fredk. Melville's company. The play is admirably staged, and the cast is an exceptionally strong one. Miss Beatrice Edwards appears to great advantage as Jess Willoughby, the girl who went "the road to ruin"; Mr. Henry Wolston acquits himself with distinction in the rôle of Frank Temple, the heroic young curate; Mr. Alex. Bradley plays with excellent effect the unpopular part of Philip Hardy; May Willoughby is charmingly enacted by Miss Alice Bowes; Mr. V. R. C. Moors submits a clever study of the poor journalist, Tom Wells; Miss Nellie Bonser lends herself admirably to the part of Mary Dawson, the girl from Lancashire; the comedy parts of Billy Boots and Jeanie Crackling are capably taken by Mr. Harry Talbot and Miss Marie Wright; and others of the cast are successful.

EMPIRE.—Lessees, the Greenock Empire Syndicate; Responsible-Manager, Mr. Edward McCormick; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. J. Colquhoun.—Wild, Willie, and West, who top the bill here this week, prove very amusing in their acrobatic scena The Bounding Navvies; a combination of vocalists, who style themselves "This" Quartette, win wide popularity with harmony and fun combined; Miss Lily Lonsdale, soprano, renders her numbers with true musical talent; Ernie Myers, comedian, meets with well-merited applause; Jules Kiaro is a clever equilibrist; Billy Hobbs, coon impersonator and dancer, is good; and pictures by the Bioscope make up a capital entertainment.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Harry L. Skivington.—Mr. and Mrs. Berzac present several performing ponies and an unridable mule. The animals are well trained, and their various tricks afford great amusement. O'Malley and Brown create continuous laughter with their sketch You're Still a Friend of Mine; Fraser and Haley are pleasing vocalists; Bugler Carr executes some difficult feats, which have been enthusiastically received; the Brothers St. Clair are popular trick-cyclists; Argo excels as a mimic of animal sounds; and some capital pictures by the Dromoscope complete.

TOWN HALL.—Proprietors, the Greenock Corporation.—Bennell's B. B. Picture Company commenced their second week on Monday. The pictures, which are both instructive and amusing, are keenly appreciated by large audiences, and the instrumental selections by Mr. Willie Hayward are also a feature of the entertainment.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. H. Curry; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. W. North.—The very interesting dramatised version of H. S. Merriman's novel "With Edged Tools" is being presented by Messrs. Armitage and Leigh's company. Mr. William F. Grant portrays the fine English character of Jack Meredith with impressive force; Mr. Chas. Hartopp admirably realises Guy Oscard; Mr. J. A. Rosier makes a dignified Sir John Meredith; Mr. Campbell Goldsmid accomplishes sound acting in the difficult part of the scheming Victor Durnovo; Miss Phyllis Relph as Jocelyn Gordon achieves complete success in the emotional scenes that fall to her lot; Miss Marie Leonhard is equally good as the frivolous Millicent Cheyne; and Miss Isabel Grey as Lady Cantourne, Miss Violet Thorold as Lady Herries, Miss Frances Wolveston as Marie, and Mr. J. Pockett as Maurice Gordon also contribute good work.

THE PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. G. Rhodes Parry.—Dave Samuels's mixture of Scottish and Hebrew comedy is both entertaining and original; the King's College Boys' solo and harmonised items are alike excellent; Mlle. Yetta is a clever performer on the wire; Miss Mamie Morris is a pleasing vocalist and dances prettily; Orpheus, a talented musician, performs on a variety of instruments; the Whittakers appear in a laughable burlesque, Dick Whittington and His Cat; and Harry Levaine, an eccentric comedian, retains his popularity.

GUERNSEY. — THEATRE ST. JULIAN'S. — Lessee, Mr. Ed. Marris; Acting-Manager, Mr. Stanley Hope.—The boards are occupied this week by Mr. T. Morton Powell's company in Greed of Gold. Mr. H. C. Ward capitally sustains Harry Hood; Mr. W. Gunning is Arthur Erroll; Mr. Sid Bryant divertingly represents Culey Snig; and the arduous rôle of Tom Welstead is cleverly depicted by Mr. James Jarrett. Miss J. D. Hicks (Mrs. Maxwell), Miss Turner (Dora), Miss Hughes (Cecil), and Miss M. W. Knight (Patty) are all successful.

HALIFAX.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling. — Mr. E. Hill-Mitchelson's company is here this week with Who is She? Mr. Graham Woods gives an intelligent rendering of King Vladimir; Mr. E. Hill-Mitchelson's acting as the scheming Prince is finished; Mr. Sinclair Holden is successful as Captain Gower; Mr. Arthur McCulloch's Sergeant Metroff is a soldierly interpretation; Mr. J. Russell Bogue's Chang-Lee a good character study; and Miss Violet Carlyle is a decided success as the heroine. Miss Mary Collier is a sprightly Sarette, Miss Muriel Inglis an impressive Keta, and Miss Alice Barber is resourceful as the Countess.

GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. S. Winks.—Pictures are pleasing big houses this week. Cosgrove and Burns, two humorous artists, and the Sisters Vera, two clever juveniles, are also in the bill.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Reg. H. Foster.—The Gaudsmidt Bros. are making their first appearance in England at the Palace this week. They are a couple of clever and agile tumblers and balancers, assisted by two highly-trained acrobatic dogs. Their turn is smart and well received. Marion Fletcher, a charming young ballad singer, has a capital voice; the Three Royal Tempels, vocalists, are another good turn; Bowman and Morton appear in a comedy duologue, She Loved a Policeman; Bromley and Fontein score a success in The Man Behind the Music Stand; as a boy whistler and bird mimic, Jim Cheetham is entertaining; Ross and Grayson introduce some extraordinary piano playing; and Tom Yorke, character comedian, and the Pictures, conclude.

HAMILTON, N.B.—HIPPODROME.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Bostock; Resident-Manager, Mr. René Clayton.—Wilton Heriot and company are exceptionally good in a protean comedy sketch, An Anglo-American Alliance; La Belle Greta is excellent in spirited Spanish dances; the Hyde and Cody Trio are clever and amusing in an acrobatic comedy turn; Harry Brayne and Bert Lloyd evoke laughter in their sketch, The Tree of Truth; and Damerell and Rutland are warmly applauded in their sketch, Clever Mr. Fugg. Harry Ford, comedian; Stanley and Vandyke, in a musical comedy sketch, A Broken Promise, and Arthur Stacey, comedian and dancer, together with the Bioscope, complete the bill.

HANLEY.—ROYAL.—Proprietors, Hanley Theatres and Circus Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. G. Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Douglas Elphinstone.—The Merry Widow is here, played by Mr. George Edwardes' company. Miss Clara Evelyn, who plays the Merry Widow, is extremely fascinating; Mr. Basil S. Foster plays Danillo ably; Mr. Lionel Victor is good as Baron Popoff; Mr. Haigh Jackson as Jolidon is excellent; Mr. Tom Redmond is decidedly funny as Nisch; Mr. Albert Kavanagh as Cascada is commendable; Mr. Lennox Coombs is a smart Brioche; Mr. Grafton Williams is capital as Novikovitch; Mr. J. S. Durant makes a good Khadja; Mr. Ernest Spalding is a quaint waiter; Miss Mary Grey as Natalie sings and acts finely; and Miss Dora Langham sings and dances charmingly; Miss Nora Barry, Miss Suzanne Selborne, and Miss Mary Morison are well cast. Mr. Douglas Millar is general-manager, and Mr. Harrison Frewin is a most capable musical-director.

GRAND.—Proprietors, Hanley Theatres and Circus Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. G. Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Arthur Rand.—Freddie French and company are here, in a farce called Votes; and Florence St. Schuberth, burlesque actress; Bert Lytton, who sings a catchy ditty; Milner and Storey, who make a tremendous hit; Arthur Saxon Trio, in a marvellous act; Regan and Ryan, comedians with really smart business; Tom Edwards, who makes his original ventriloquial show; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finden, in a screaming farce, A Mare's Nest; Lily Esplin, comedienne; the Saletos, in a decidedly clever head and hand balancing act; and Fred Bronte, comedian. The Bioscope is interesting.

HARROGATE.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Peacock; Acting-Manager, Mr. Eric Fielding-Smith.—Conn and Conrad, who top the bill, are a clever and amusing pair; Mostol contributes a pleasing musical act; and Lauri Wylie, with his living marionette, proves a great favourite; Walter Ellis and company appear to advantage in a sketch, The Sleepwalker; Vandinoff is a very clever lightning artist; and Edie Tennis and Gertie Laun are pleasing duettists in really tuneful songs; Fremel and Fremel are eccentrics; and Jessica Brooke completes the bill.

ST. JAMES'S HALL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Sydney Carter; General-Manager, Mr. F. D. Sunderland; Resident-Manager, Mr. Fred Parker.—Several very interesting films are on view here this week, notably the Eucharistic Congress Procession from the Westminster Cathedral, Our Indian Empire is an instructive series, and there are several comic "screamers." Master Gordon Illingworth is a clever boy comedian.

HARTLEPOOL.—EMPRESS.—Lessee and General Manager, Mr. Albert Mathams.—Another series of pictures is this week being shown to well-filled houses.

HASTINGS. — GAIETY THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. H. W. Rowland; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles E. Scutt.—Messrs. Glenister and Wood-Ingram's company attracted excellent houses on its visit last week in the amusing comedy Jack Straw, the centre of attraction being Miss Florence St. John, who submitted an admirably rendered embodiment of the vulgar and rich Mrs. Parker-Jennings. The comedy was preceded by A Long Journey. This week we have the first visit to Hastings of Mr. Lester Collingwood's company in the realistic play When London Sleeps, written up to date. It is staged with every attention to detail under the management of Mr. Fred Bernard, who also gives an effective impersonation of Police-constable Stone, A42. Miss Mabel Scudamore obtains well-deserved applause for her attractive performance as Queenie Carruthers; Miss Lilla Wilde acts cleverly as Hilda Carode; Miss Bella Power is very humorous as the Signorina; Miss Mona Hall is charmingly vivacious as Carrie Jones; Mr. Edward E. Ashley as David Engleheart gives a popular presentment; Mr. James Hare plays forcefully as Captain Rodney Haynes; Mr. Ernest C. Edwardes acts well as Mr. Furnaby Fuller; and Bob Jones has a good exponent in Mr. F. E. Thomas. The comedy provided by Mr. Douglas Campbell as Sammy Blyth and Mr. Frank Howard as the Hon. Bertie is clever.

HIPPODROME.—General-Manager, Mr. H. Vivian Fisher; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Walter Norman.—Mr. E. W. Selman, a humorous comedian, opens the programme. An amusing sketch is given by Miss Maude Cliffe and Miss Eveline Vanstan; a clever male impersonator is seen in Miss Georgie Mansell; the Bioscope provides some interesting Alhambra pictures; Billy Ross and company are successful in their Irish comedy act, The Hot Member; the Yokels introduce a laughable musical sketch, Ye Village Revels; Mr. J. H. Milburn is a burlesque actor and comedian of marked ability; Slyvene goes through an extraordinary series of feats as an equilibrist, assisted by Mlle. Florence; and some clever mimetic sketches of music hall celebrities are shown by Miss Lill Elfreda.

PIER PAVILION.—General-Manager, Mr. J. D. Hunter.—Mr. Joseph Poole's pictorial productions are attracting good audiences. London Cameron and Maude Durham, Johnny O'Rourke, the Sisters Eileen and Maynie, Steve Cooke, the Seddons, the Tissots, Miss Frederica's performing terriers, and Mr. Bert G. Berry as guide add much to the evening's enjoyment.

PUBLIC HALL.—Lessees, The People's Picture Palace Co.; Managing-Director, Mr. F. R. Griffiths; Local Manager, Mr. Harry W. James.—The animated pictures exhibited here this week are proving very interesting to large audiences.

ST. LEONARDS PIER PAVILION.—General-Manager, Mr. Elvey Thomas.—Ibsen's interesting play The Master Builder is being produced here by Mr. Leigh Lovel and Miss Octavia Kenmore's company. It held the boards for the first three matinées of the week only. In the title-rôle Mr. Leigh Lovel was excellent; a good sketch of Dr. Herdal was given by Mr. Vernon West; a capital character study of the architect was submitted by Mr. Claud W. Sykes; Mr. E. Stanley Yorkes acquitted himself admirably as Ragnar Brovik; for a quiet study of Aline Solness Miss Katherine Maynard was responsible; and as Hilda Wangel Miss Octavia Kenmore played with grace and finish, and Miss Gladys Morris was dainty and charming as Kaia Fosli.

HEREFORD.—GARRICK THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Harry Barnsley.—Mr. Ian Maclaren's company occupy the Garrick this week with a round of Shakespearean plays, presented with the scholarly insight and good taste for which their work is celebrated. Monday night was devoted to The Merchant of Venice. Mr. Ian Maclaren's appearance, his command of passionate expression, and his long practice in Shakespeare served to make his Shylock one of the most interesting; Mr. J. V. Bryant, a handsome Gratiano, submitted a fine piece of work; Mr. George Relph scored in the character of Bassanio, being both powerful and realistic; Mr. Stafford Dawson gave a very amusing reading of Launcelot Gobbo; Mr. Matthew Boulton was remarkably good as the Prince of Morocco; and Mr. Guy Cunningham was admirable in his portrayal of the much-enduring Antonio. Miss Muriel Dole was a delightful and engaging Portia, speaking her lines with due regard for effect and finish. The play is well dressed and mounted, Mr. Stafford Dawson being a highly efficient stage-manager.

HORWICH.—PRINCES' THEATRE.—Lessees, The Horwich Theatre Co.; Manager, Mr. R. H. White.—Mr. Harry Tilbury is paying a return visit this week with The Blind Foundling. Mr. Victor Rea plays Gerald Dalton with feeling; Mr. Fred Owen as Parson Ray makes an ideal curate; Mr. Horatio Sinclair's Mark Redman is painted sufficiently black; Jasper Waterford is safe in the hands of Mr. Edward Brown; Jaikes Romano is played well by Mr. Geo Walkley; and Mr. Tilbury as Dick Dobbins has a part that suits him to perfection. Miss Annie Newall plays Viola Waterford, the curate's lover, with great feeling; Miss Arline T. George as Winnie Dobbins helps to keep the comedy going; and little Phyllis as Fairy, the blind foundling, is delightful, her efforts being very natural. Miss Belle Tilbury as Isabel does full justice to the part.

HUDDERSFIELD.—HIPPODROME, LTD.—Resident-Manager, Mr. N. M. Robinson.—Houses packed from floor to roof are nightly cheering the one and only Vesta Tilley, whose second visit if possible has been marked by even greater enthusiasm than the first. The famous male impersonator expressed her appreciation in a graceful and aptly-worded little speech on Monday night. Others appearing are Arthur Croxon; Miss Mildred Bryan; Miss Barbara Babington, comedienne; Mulvey and Miriam, comedy entertainers; the Two Cabiacs, acrobats; and some interesting films on the Bioscope.

HULL.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Mortons, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. W. F. Morton.—The Education of Elizabeth is the pièce de résistance at the Grand this week, and Roy Horniman's play has created a good impression. Miss Winifred Ingham fills the title-rôle with distinction; as Harry Fairfax Mr. Bert Morley plays with success; Mr. E. E. Norris scores heavily as Reggie; Mr. Whelby is well delineated by Mr. Fred Castleman; the Lucy Middleton of Miss T. Russell Spiers is an effective piece of work. A Brother's Portrait precedes The Education of Elizabeth.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. W. Morton; General-Manager, Mr. Tom Bogue.—Mr. N. V. Norman's company opened here on Monday with Stanley Graham's Under the Red Robe. Gil de Berault was a fine picture presented by Mr. Norman, the various nuances of the character being finely brought out; Miss Beatrice Wilson was a delightful Renie; the Richelieu of Mr. Alf. Gray was a piece of good work; and Miss Malcolm Barnett shone in the rôle allotted to her. The Adventure of Lady Ursula is also billed.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Morton's, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Geo. Morton.—The Sailor's Wedding has proved a centre of attraction at this popular house this week. Mr. C. W. Standing played the part of Lieut. Drake with fine finish; Mr. Hodgson Taylor was an acceptable Giovanni Ferici; the Mary Bellini of Miss Dulcie Greatwich being a good performance also. Mr. Cecil Klein did his best as Sir Victor Lascelles, and pleased the house; the Ninette of Miss C. Bartram was a good piece of acting; and Mr. Walter Pemberton was a lively enough son of the sea. The remaining rôles were well filled.

THE HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Alfred Graham; Manager, Mr. Tom Lunn.—Effie White in her very pretty kaleidoscope dances, and Miss Violet Hope in effective classical dances, are the leading items here this week. The Tintos introduce a clever speciality; the Louisana Trio, coloured coon dancers, Robins and Collier, Harry Nelson, Minnie Warner, and Maddison Bros. complete a good company.

THE EMPIRE.—Lessee, Mr. Harry Slingsby.—Appearing here are the Four Regals, Bros. Idento, Sim Maree, Minnie D'Auban, Eva Ward, Ryder Davis, and the Neilsens.

THE CIRCUS.—Manager, Mr. E. Emerson.—The run of the animated pictures here, under the management of Mr. May, is drawing to a close. K. Scott Barrie is specially engaged this week.

ILKESTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. L. F. A. Rogers.—The Diver's Luck, is being presented by Mr. Andrew Emm's company. Miss Dora Pass as Helen Wyngate presents a careful study of the part; the rôle of Martin Faber loses nothing in the hands of Mr. Harry Cullenford; Mr. Fred A. Marston gains favour as Barney Bawn, and is capitally worked up to by Miss Pearl Noyle as Peggy Mahoney; and Mr. William J. Miller has been aptly chosen for the part of Tom Hall.

IPSWICH.—LYCEUM.—Mr. George Edwardes company with The Merry Widow is here the latter part of the week.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—The Ten Loonies are paying a return visit, and are as amusing as ever; the Three Orros perform some marvellous and graceful feats on their silver chains; Haydee's Marionettes, in the miniature vaudeville theatre, are cleverly manipulated; Frank and Free have some amusing patter and a very novel dance; Stacey and Williams have a duologue illustrative of family squabbles; Charles Williams claims to be the champion all-round jumper; Madge Allen dances and sings well; and Delafoire gives a turn with the xylophone. The Bioscope concludes.

JARROW.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson.—Mr. T. Edward Ward's company is here with Second to None. Mr. T. Balfour makes an interesting Sir Reginald; Mr. F. F. Loyd plays with force the part of Captain Philip Mannering; Mr. Layland is quite at home as Lieut. Archer Ballater; Mr. J. G. Maine gives a good account of Sergt. Jack Horseman; Mr. Williams as Harry Wilding is all that can be desired; Mr. Halling carefully handles the rôle of Frank Wilding; Miss Ward plays Nell Greystone successfully; and Miss Carrie Yandell is good as Norah; Mr. Allan Carruthers as Private Flutter and Mr. Geo. H. Davis as Joe Ruggles keep the audience in good humour.

ROYAL ALBERT HALL.—Lessee and Manager, Dr. Seaton.—This place of amusement is drawing good audiences with a change of pictures. Miss May Lewis, comedienne; Mr. J. E. Waldow, clog and top-boot dancer; and Jack Shepherd, handcuff expert, assisted by Miss Ruby Vesta, supply the variety.

KETTERING.—AVENUE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Payne.—The attraction this week is Mr. E. H. Knight's company in The Lighthouse Robbery. The hero, Tom Manley, is admirably portrayed by Mr. Broughton; Mr. Percy Beresford makes a capital villain, and is well supported by Mr. Wm. Annesley as William Farren. Mr. Arthur Beaufort contributes some excellent comedy as Sam Kidder; Miss Hilda Baynton gives a charming rendition of Rose Prescott; and Miss Lillian Bales is deserving of praise for her acting as Ruth Manley.

LANCASTER.—GRAND THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Stanley Rogers; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. C. Howitt.—Mr. George Robertson's company appeared the first three nights this week in A Message from Mars. The part of Horace Parker was taken in capital style by Mr. Gordon Starkey; the Messenger was impressively represented by Mr. Lionel Yaldwyn; and Mr. Percy Tyler did well as the Tramp. Miss Edith King played artistically as Minnie Templer; and the other parts were well impersonated. Turn Him Out was the farce.

HIPPODROME.—Miss May Mars, a very pleasing vocalist, heads the bill here; Messrs. Muir and Bartlett appear in a clever comedy sketch, The Collar Stud; Mr. J. A. Wilson, comedian, and his dog "Towser," are once more with us, and are as popular as ever; Crosby and Walker, comedians, are also paying a return visit; George Lawrence, comedian; Cleland, comedy juggler; Bessie Lind, comedienne; and the Hippograph, depicting The White Suit, complete the bill.

LEAMINGTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Manager, Mr. George Anthony.—The management here are this week providing their patrons with a vaudeville programme, and the excellent houses show that the change is most acceptable. A good all-round bill is headed by Mephisto, whose remarkable performance of original illusions is loudly applauded. Lisbon and Barker appear in a clever act entitled Extemporising, which evokes roars of laughter; Vestor, termed "master musician," is quite a host in himself. Bert Bowden, quaint comedian, provides much amusement; and amongst other turns are Renee Grahame, a charming vocalist; Aake and Alexander, entertaining comedy artists; and Cliffe Rock, an excellent baritone. The Premier Imperial pictures add interest to the programme.

LEEDS.—GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. Wynn Miller.—Mr. Edward Terry was accorded a most enthusiastic reception here on Monday when he opened a week's visit after a long absence. Fiander's Widow was the play, and Mr. Terry's conception of the character of Farmer Sharpe will rank among his best efforts. The name-part is a really clever study by Miss Edith Coleman; whilst Mr. William Dexter, Mr. Edmund Hollick, and Miss Sophie Lingwood, amongst others in a strong cast, may be mentioned for exceedingly good work. The Telephone was presented as curtain-raiser, and was well received. Sweet Lavender and The Magistrate are also billed.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; General-Manager, Mr. R. Ernest Liston.—Sensational dramatic fare continues here, Mr. Morton Powell's company this week presenting When It Was Dark. A strong central figure is that of the clergyman hero, the Rev. Basil Gortre, and in this character Mr. Wilfred Lyndon achieves success; Mr. Haldane Dalton is a strong and effective figure as the millionaire villain, Schwabe; and Miss Ethel Griffies interprets the part of Gertrude Hunt in a style which leaves little to be desired. Mr. J. Armitage, Mr. Charles Brandon, and Miss Marie Barrett are also prominent with good work.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. F. W. Wood; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Bush.—At this hall the Seven Perezoffs indulge in a clever and novel juggling exhibition, which arouses enthusiasm; Lillian is a dancer and expert cyclist of merit, and wins prolonged applause; Belrose and De Velin are delightful duettists; Tom Gott is a humorist of merit; and that clever pair Barrett and Knowles are also high in popular favour. Of the rest, the Stowe Brothers and C. E. Stelling are very prominent.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—District-Manager, Mr. T. Gerald Morton; Resident-Manager, Mr. Alex. Galley.—Very welcome is the visit of that talented couple Mr. Laurence Irving and Miss Mabel Hackney, and their contribution, a duologue entitled 009 West, is a much-enjoyed feature of the programme. Colonel Bordeverry is doing a sensational shooting exhibition; the Strolling Players are strong favourites with a neat vocal turn; Rich and Rich and J. P. Ling subscribe capital humorous entertainment; acrobatic feats and clever trick-cycling are the specialities of the Cumberlands; Elsie Robey is vastly amusing at the piano; and the Three Cape Girls, in a big-boot dance, and Reicheu's dogs are also very popular turns.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. Thos. Barrasford.—That wonderful mare "Princess Trixie" is the star attraction here, and her remarkable exhibition is arousing the liveliest interest; Jack and Evelyn live up to their reputation as comedy entertainers; a laughable farce, Poor Arthur, by Fred Sinclair's company, goes well; and Henri Bekker once again pleases with a mystifying turn. Harry Taft and Dave O'Toole are popular in different styles; and good entertainment is also subscribed by Lennard and Vereker, the Brothers Bradshaw, the Four Rios, and Dolly Harmer.

CITY VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. F. W. Wood; General-Manager, Mr. J. C. Whiteman; Acting-Manager, Mr. S. Jones.—Tom and Marie Motramo lead here, and once again score heavily with vocal comedy; Fred Curran is very popular with vocal efforts; Chas. J. Johnson, comedian, also does well; there is an entertaining novelty by Walker and Lake; and Steel and Laing, Tom Joy, and Beatty and Blanche also contribute much-enjoyed items.

LEICESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Business-Manager, Mr. E. R. Beaumont.—The popular domestic drama The Convict's Daughter is being presented here this week by Mr. Frank Bertram's company on a return visit. Mr. Bertram displays great versatility and cleverness in his delineation of Weary Willie, Michael Grahame, Convict 99, and "A Mystery"; Miss Lillian Deane as Edith gains the sympathies of the audience with a portrayal of special merit; Mr. Escott Robson is thoroughly effective as the evil genius Jasper Thorne; Mr. Walter Graham is a success as Harold Trevelyan; Miss Grace Emery as Betty Hyne and Mr. Willie Black as Patrick O'Laragan are very good in the comedy parts, creating plenty of merriment; Miss Nellie Waddington is capital as Marian Thorne; and Mr. William Burgess as Frederick Neville is also to be complimented. The scenic effects are well worked.

PALACE THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; District-Manager, Mr. Hatton Wharton; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. Finch-Hatton; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. S. Buccleuch.—Topping this week's excellent programme are Bella and Bijou, the diverting and extremely smart comedy duo, who create roars of merriment, especially with The Suffragette. At the other end is L'Incognita, whose remarkable powers as a soprano vocalist earn for her a fine reception. George Newburn gives lifelike imitations of various stars, and scores a well-deserved success; Thora is seen and heard to considerable advantage in a delightful ventriloquial sketch, The Lady and the Page; Charles Kitts and Rhoda Windrum score their usual success in their mirth-provoking and well-worked military contretemps, The Cuckoo; Fred Earle, a first-class comedian, maintains his popularity in a couple of funny songs; the Delomes dance in a manner rarely seen in Leicester; Leonie Dixon is an entertaining comedienne and speciality dancer; Ralph and Nellie Howard are also to be complimented on their comedy musical act Military Mad; and the Bioscope depicts the dramatic episode The Old Schoolmaster.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Proprietor and Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. Joe Lawrence.—The popular sketch artist, Miss Carlotta De Yonson, and her company, star here this week, producing The Red Triangle, founded on the adventures of Sexton Blake. The plot is well conceived, and keeps the attention of the audience throughout interested. Miss Carlotta De Yonson as Lilla Gray, Mr. C. Douglas Carlile as Sexton Blake, Mr. Charles A. Carlile as Foster, and Master Lee Gilbert as Tinker, are all good. A smart aquatic display is given by Kirk and Sarasaki, the lady acrobats under water; Captain Devereaux returns, and scores a well-deserved success with his clever and novel dog sensation, Canine Streets of London; Beal and Broadway are capital vocalists and smart dancers; Julian Ross is a popular light comedian; Lil Hartley, descriptive vocalist and comedienne, is also entertaining; Walter H. Pallister's Bioscope is a special feature with the Star Football pictures, The Stone Quarry, and The Village Marathon Race.

THE EMPIRE.—Lessees, the New Bioscope Trading Company; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. R. Craig.—A liberal complement of moving pictures here this week includes such interesting films as A Free Pardon, Niagara Falls in Winter, An Attractive Catch, A Motherless Child, The Tramp's Daughter, and Paper Tearing. Harry King, light comedian and chorus singer, is starring here; and Sam Herbert, vocalist and bone soloist, also appears.

TEMPERANCE HALL.—Manager, Mr. Geo. Stanyon.—Mr. Will Catlin's Royal Pierrots are meeting with well-deserved success here. This week they are introducing for the first time in Leicester a new musical comedietta, by W. Catlin, entitled The Military Dandies, which occupies the second part of the programme. The dresses are smart, like the show; and Will Ambro, Will Catlin, Sid Frere, Harry Glynn, Chas. Paulson, Jackson Browne, George Houghton, and Tom Catlin introduce songs and dances with gratifying success.

LEIGH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Cragg; Manager, Mr. W. Heath.—Mr. Harry Foxwell's company is on a welcome return visit here with A Broken Heart. Mr. Harry Foxwell submits a masterly impersonation of John Barnard; Mr. Geo. Newall displays ability in the rôle of Stephen Railton; Mr. Edward Rawlinson is an admirable Gash Gills; Miss Sheila Walsh a charming Mary Barnard; Miss Eileen Bamford a winsome Grace Fanshawe; and the humour of the play is well looked after by Mr. Will Lindsay as Tony Tibbets and Miss Dora Hargreaves as Sally Tavner.

LEITH.—NEW GAIETY THEATRE.—Licensee and Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Manager, Mr John Darlison.—A visit from Mr. William Maclaren, with his production of Claudian, has been one of the chief attractions of the season. The title-rôle is impressively acted by Mr. Maclaren, and Miss Lily C. Bandmann invests the part of Almida with due effect. The Holy Clement is well represented by Mr. George Roberts; Mr. Bernard Elliott fittingly portrays the Tetrarch Thariogalus; Mr. Douglas Earle as Agazil does sterling work; and Mr. C. T. Chaloner misses none of the humour of Beloe. Miss Ruth Trafford is quite commendable as Edessa, and Mlle. Stella Dorin's cymbal dance lends charm to a very realistic scene; while the many remaining characters are adequately interpreted, and the play is carefully mounted in all its details.

LINCOLN.—ROYAL.—Sole Lessees, Messrs. Payne Seddon and Ernest Pope; Resident-Manager, Mr. Ernest Pope.—Miss Lena Ashwell's company, in Diana of Dobson's, scored a triumph on Monday, and business has been big. As Diana Miss Violet Vorley presents a very thorough piece of work, always absorbing and convincing; Mr. Briscoe Owen's Bretherton is a cleverly worked-out study; and Miss Hilda Francks creates much amusement as the designing Aunt. Mr. Philips Sanders as Grimlay and Mr. George Wyley as Fellows are very effective. A Fire of Straw precedes.

PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. R. R. Black.—The White Hand of a Woman, strongly played by Bernard Mervyn and company, is the top line this week, and makes a great impression; Leo and Roland present a very good equilibristic act; and Johnny Dwyer enhances his big reputation as a local favourite, as do the Donatos. The Evalos here are amusing, and Mr. E. has a novelty act of merit. Cliff and Kean, Francis Earle, and Raymond's Bio-Tableaux also please.

LIVERPOOL.—ROYAL COURT THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur Lawrence.—An excellent presentation of The Girls of Gottenberg, has been given here during the week, delighted and large audiences revelling in the eccentricities of Mr. Edmund Payne, who, as Max, was in fine form. Happy Fanny Fields, with her lively, merry style, had a flattering reception, and earned encores for her songs; another entirely acceptable character was that of Clementine, represented by Miss Maisie Gay; Mr. Leslie Holland acted and sang with sound judgment in the part of Prince Otto; Miss Thelma Raye made a pleasing Elsa; and Miss Florence Phillips as Lucille danced in a manner that earned for her rounds of applause. The staging, dresses, and chorus were all excellent.

SHAKESPEARE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wentworth Croke; Manager and Secretary, Mr. John Gaffney.—The Mollusc paid another visit here this week, Miss Annie Hughes repeating her delightful picture of Mrs. Baxter; Miss Lillias Waldegrave distinguished herself as Miss Roberts; and the parts of Mr. Baxter and Tom Kemp were worthily undertaken by Messrs. Alick Chumley and Athol Stewart. The curtain-raiser was A Bit of Old Chelsea, in which Miss Annie Hughes and Messrs. Chumley, C. A. White, and F. Hartley took part.

ROTUNDA THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery.—Here this week we have had The Prodigal Son, presented by Mr. George D. Day's company. Mr. Albert Ward played the part of Oscar Stephensson with much effect; Magnus found an able exponent in Mr. H. J. Crane; thanks were due to Miss Pauline Emeric for her exceedingly able impersonations of Thora and Elin; Miss Pearla Gardner agreeably presented Helga; and good work also came from Messrs. Jackson Hayes (Stephen), James English (Oscar Neilsen), Norman Liddell (Director of Casino), Miss Florence Lovell (Anna), and Miss Kate Osborne (Margaret Neilsen).

STAR THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Harris Fineberg.—The Way of the World has proved a strong attraction here this week, Messrs. Herbert Skardon and H. Sherwood Martin's company having presented it. A matinée was given on Thursday. Commendation was earned by Mr. Herbert Skardon for his able Cecil Hardy, a part which met with general acceptance; Miss Sidney Crowe delighted everybody with her charming picture of Lady Adela Hardy, the audience frequently showing their appreciation by applauding loudly; Mr. Victor Gorden made a powerful Captain Fred Slade; Mr. Clarence Temple was well placed as Matthew Malyon; Mr. D'Arcy Kelway amused greatly with his Joe Sparrow; and others worthy of mention were Messrs. Pat Quin (Sir John Hardy), Augustus Hammond (Horatio Bluff), Miss Marie Fontaine (Kate Montague), Miss Violet Vivienne (Pollie Belle), and Miss Edith Wynne (Waitress).

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Cole.—Large audiences have visited this place during the week to hear Marie Lloyd, who, among her latest songs, brought "The Directoire Girl"; the Boisset Troupe of comedians again amused with The Bricklayers; G. W. Hunter was accorded a hearty reception for his songs and stories; Daisy James proved a favourite, her songs being received with much satisfaction; the Carina Sisters went through a clever and refined musical mélange; uproarious laughter followed the funny business of Les Marsumas; Tom Jones, the popular Welsh comedian, was as welcome as ever; the Lyric Quartet, with their harmonised picture songs, were an excellent turn; and Wee Mona Vivian, juvenile vocalist, mimic, and dancer, also appeared.

LYRIC.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Henry C. Arnold.—A rousing reception has during the week been given to the ever-welcome Wilkie Bard, who brought his latest; Coram, an exceedingly able ventriloquist, put in another six nights, presenting a new and novel act; the dancing by the Great Northern Troupe pleased immensely, and the applause was great; a clever and much appreciated entertainment of mimicry, dance, and song was given by Claude Fieldman's Troupe of juveniles; Jack Crawley had a novel turn, "Lights Out"; as a comedienne, Emmie Ames afforded general satisfaction; an amusing duologue, entitled "Miss Summerson's Baby," was given by Mr. and Mrs. Shelley; some exceedingly expert work as gymnasts was shown by Ariel and Astarte; and Harry Bancroft sang several numbers in pleasing style. On Thursday next Mr. Arnold will celebrate his eleventh year as lessee and manager by taking a benefit.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Walter Hassan.—A farewell visit of the celebrated wrestler, Hackenschmidt, has proved a strong attraction here this week, and large crowds have assembled in the popular Hippodrome to witness his bouts with local men; roars of laughter were aroused by the antics of Heeley and Meely, with their merry scena, Two Lucky Tramps; Paulton and Daley proved exceedingly diverting as cycling comedians; merriment also followed the work of the smart musical couple, Ferris and May, whose "spasm," entitled Two's Company, Three's ——, was particularly good; Dusty Rhodes met with a cordial welcome; Grace Langley sang and danced to everybody's satisfaction; and appreciated contributions also came from Dan Filmer, comedian and dancer; Rosie Archer, a smart and accomplished mimic at the piano; and George Rapley, comedian.

ROYAL PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank O'Toole.—Here this week the able dramatic stock company gave The Red Signal, the principal parts in which were taken by Messrs. Sydney Grant (Sir Otto Darkwood), David G. Noble (Jack Darkwood), Robb Wilton (Sammy Say), Cecil Ravenswood (Peter Sorrel), Miss Florence Palmer (May Sorrel), and Miss Lilian Radbourne (Florence Culver). Mr. Anthony Brown's Bioscope showed the latest films.

WESTMINSTER.—Lessee, Mr. Fred E. Weisker; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Montgomery.—In addition to the bioscope pictures shown here, the following artists appeared during the week:—George Mantle, eccentric comedian; Alexander Lyner, vocalist; the Orchids, a comedy couple, with song, patter, and dance; and the Sisters Belmont, vocalists and dancers.

OLYMPIA.—District-Manager, Mr. Albert Bulmer; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ernest Wighton.—Foremost here this week has been Mr. Fisher White's company, in a clever dramatic sketch, entitled A Royal Heart, Mr. Scott Craven filling the leading rôle; W. J. Churchill proved as amusing as ever; Leo Tell gave a smart exhibition of mimicry; a laughable gymnastic comedy mélange, The Intruder, was presented by the lively trio, Lord, Murray, and Lord; Ike and Will Scott, with their singing dancing, and patter, pleased generally; a neat turn as ventriloquist and pianist was given by Horace White; Carney and Armstrong afforded real enjoyment; Alf. Maynall as a comedian did well; and credit was due to Wee Mona Vivian, juvenile vocalist, mimic, and dancer. A fine Bioscope film, showing the Gotch v. Hackenschmidt American wrestling match, was watched with keen interest.

PAVILION.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Manager, Mr. Henry Hearn.—Here this week the famous Reano Band has delighted big audiences, the applause bestowed upon the capable combination of instrumentalists being great; Chris Van Bern as a comedian aroused much laughter; an especially funny turn, entitled After the Matinée, came from the Four Pawles; Agnes Molteno and company received a cordial reception for their charming tableaux; Cumminger and Colonna gave a capital exhibition of dancing; the Miners' Quartet were well received; Douglas and Gordon were a merry couple who kept their audience in a good humour; and also in the list were Arthur Albert, comedian; and Miss Helen Charles, vocalist, &c.

LLANDUDNO.—PIER PAVILION.—Secretary, Mr. Sam Hughes.—Poole's Myriorama is on its annual visit, and is as well attended as ever. Some ex cellent pictures are shown, and bioscopical interludes are much appreciated. The performance on the Myriophone well merits the unstinted applause which results; the educated dog and its owner are clever in a musical turn; and the Snow Family are a good skating item. An excellent orchestra adds to a first-class programme.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. Ritson.—Queen's Evidence has played here for three nights to crowded houses. Mr. W. A. Buckstone as Sir Frederick is good; Mr. John Levey as Walter Wynford is well placed; Mr. Percy Braithwaite capitally portrayed a dual part; Mr. Edwin Turner is excellent as Matthew Thornton; Mr. Carl Vallender is above the average as a Jew; Miss Mabel Hall is a typical Arthur; and Miss Ada Hender as Kate Medland gives a good impersonation of a difficult part. The scenic effects are excellent.

LOUGHBOROUGH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. Payne Seddon and George Robertson; Resident Business-Manager, Mr. W. Payne Seddon.—Miss Ethel Van Praagh and Mr. J. Edward Whitty's company in An Unwedded Wife has been occupying the boards at this theatre, their efforts being well received. Miss Ethel Van Praagh as Marion, the unwedded wife, held the house in breathless silence by her emotional acting; Mr. George Daiper as Frank Hawthorne played admirably; Mr. Charles Sterling as Philip Blackstone made a capital villain; Mr. J. A. Grove was fully equal to the rôle of Martin Hallett; and Mr. Will Casey as Napoleon B. Boomer was most successful; Little Doris as Reggie played remarkably well; Mr. J. Edward Whitty as P.C. O'Runyin created hilarity by his clever acting. The scenery and appointments were excellent.

MACCLESFIELD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. W. K. Gatley.—Mr. O. M. Dayton's variety company occupy the boards here this week. The Dayton Family give a remarkable performance, and elicit well-deserved applause; the Four Elwyns are effective in their song-scena, "The Miners"; Matt Wilkinson and company are successful in their sketch, The Registry Office; the Four Cecilians give a clever act, in which some skilful dancing is seen; Fred Doran, a refined comedian, is well received; Violet Beatrice scores with her songs; and the Three Milfords execute capital feats. Capital films are shown on the Bioscope.

MAESTEG.—TOWN HALL THEATRE.—Lessees, Poole's Theatres Co., Ltd.; Manager, Mr. G. F. Knowles.—Mr. Fred C. Somerfield's company opened a three nights' engagement here on Monday in Geoffrey Langdon's Wife. The Jack Stiling of Mr. Wilson Summers was an effective performance; Mr. Paul Beckett played with expression as Felix Beverly; Mr. Wilfred Cheetham did well as Geoffrey Langdon; Mr. Robert Sheills was an excellent Colonel Miles; Mr. Arthur Lowry an effective Arthur Belairs; and Miss Mary Lovett gave a good delineation of Mary Geoffrey. The Hon. Mrs. Sands was cleverly portrayed by Miss Marion West.

MAIDENHEAD.—THE PAVILION.—Proprietor, Mr. George Gude.—The animated pictures this week, which are most amusing, include The Obstinate Umbrella, Algie Goes Yachting, and The Blackleg. Scott and Murphy supply acceptable turns with singing and eccentric dancing.

TOWN HALL.—Secretary, the Town Clerk.—Charley's Aunt visited here on Friday, Nov. 21, and a good house proved that she still retains her attractiveness.

MAIDSTONE.—PALACE.—Manager, Mr. S. Baskerville.—Selbo, a clever club juggler, is well received; the Alberto Troupe of lady equilibrists do some novel feats of strength; Leonard Teel, with a Suffragette song, is popular; and the bill also includes Vendome and Chase, international dancers; the Seymons, equilibrists and jugglers; Miss Lily Arthur, popular comedienne and dancer; Jack Collinson and Selina Seaforth and company, and the Palascope.

MANCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, The United Theatres, Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Edmondstone Shirra.—Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Benson and their Shakespearean company are here this week in an excellently-arranged répertoire of plays. The Taming of the Shrew was given on Monday, Mr. Benson playing Petruchio and Mrs. Benson Katharina, both in capital style, and with adequate assistance from the remainder of the cast, among whom Miss Olive Noble as Bianca played nicely and Messrs. George R. Weir and Baliol Holloway as Grumio and Lucentio gave distinguished impersonations. On Tuesday a performance of the new play Don Quixote was submitted. This is not in the spirit of Cervantes, but it affords opportunities for work of an individual kind, which Mr. Benson made the most of in the melancholy title-part. Mr. George A. Weir's Sancho Panza most nearly approximated to the original conception, and was deservedly appreciated. Wednesday's matinée of The Merchant of Venice was successfully done, and the evening performance of Twelfth Night left nothing to be desired. On Thursday Miss Genevieve Ward made an interesting and welcome reappearance as Volumnia in Coriolanus; on Friday a fine performance of The School for Scandal was well attended; and a matinée of Henry V. on Saturday precedes the last production of the week, Richard III., in which Miss Ward is to appear as Queen Margaret. The company and their productions are excellent.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietors, The United Theatres Co, Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Lee.—Mr. James Welch and his company are a big attraction here this week in Charles Marlowe's phenomenally successful farce When Knights Were Bold. The piece has been seen in Manchester before, but its novelty and humour are none the less striking and enjoyable. Mr. Welch's performance as Sir Guy de Vere is roaringly funny, and effective work is done also by Mr. Arthur Grenville as Isaacson, Mr. Cecil Kinnaird as Sir Brian Ballymote, Miss Audrey Ford as Lady Rowena, and quite a number of other clever people in the cast. The piece is preceded by a one-act play, The Changeling, in which Miss Helen Palgrave, Mr. J. H. Carson, and Mr. George Tully appear successfully.

GRAND JUNCTION THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. G Hewitt.—The Fatal Wedding, played last week at the Royal Osborne Theatre, is the attraction here.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietress, Miss A. E. F Horniman; Manager, Mr. B. Iden Payne.—Windmills; or, The Amateur Socialist, by W. Kingsley Tarply, was played here on Monday by Miss Horniman's company. It is distinctly entertaining, and one may be equally amused by both sides of the question without committing one's passing opinion to either. Mr. Henry Austin as Sir Hubert, the experimenting aristocrat, has the big chance of the play, and he certainly makes the best of it. Very good also are Miss Ada King as Lady Pennefeather, Miss Hilda Bruce Potter as Evelyn Rivers, Mr. Basil Dean as young Stephen, and Mr. Jules Shaw as Mr Moberley; while as Sergeant Fell and Inspector Bott Messrs. Edward Landor and Charles Bibby are highly amusing. Among others, Miss Penelope Wheeler as Cora Moberley and Miss Darragh as Lady Mabel Wriothesley display great tact and experience, and Mr. Lewis Casson makes the most of the part of the Hon. Philip Wykeham. The comedy is preceded by Charles McEvoy's grim play, in one act, His Helpmate, in which Miss Mona Limerick is especially successful.

ROYAL OSBORNE THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr J. Mason.—Mr. Douglas Bruce's company is paying a return visit here with The Girl Who Lost Her Character. Mr. Harold Macartney as Jack England and Mr. R. Ferris as the villainous Capt. Caversham have much to do with the smart development of the story, as also have Miss Violet E. Lawson in the title-part, Miss Lydia Manning-ton as the questionable Marian Franklyn, and Miss S. Hare as Rose Seymour; while light rôles are capitally filled by Mr. G. H. Asquin, Mr. John Wilson, and Miss Mamie Thorpe. The play is entirely to the taste of patrons, and the scenery and effects are excellent.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Dry.—A good programme here is headed by the Six Brothers Luck in their Demon of the Cellar, and Caban's French Circus is also a prominent and excellent turn; Herr Karoly Czynski is an expert musician, and Arthur Bearle, comedian, is very amusing. Other good turns include those of Beau and Belle, in a song-scena, Past and Present; Fred Athalan, in a balancing act; Victor Courtney, the "Boots" at the piano; Mark Henton, the mirthful one; and Carl Howard, in comedy magic.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Hall.—Joseph Hart's Futurity Winner is the top turn here, and the wonderful illusion of the race is something worthy to be seen. Howard and Harris, the tramp comedian and the clever lady, are also markedly successful; while capital business is added by Stratton Mills and company, in Ananias II.; Happy Tom Parker, comedian and dancer; Lively Lily Langtry, the volatile comedienne; Wyndham and Kitty, sensational wire artists; Rauschle, celebrity impersonator; Rohda Brothers, in their popular gymnastic act; and the Brewsters, acrobatic and speciality dancers. The Bioscope is highly entertaining, as usual.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Manager, Mr. Nelson Barry.—Bransby Williams, a past-master in the art of character portraying, meets with a deserved big reception here this week. Highly amusing and clever are the Brothers Egbert in their famous Happy Dustmen act; and Nellie Wallace is successful, as usual, as an eccentric comedienne. John Macauley is excellent as a character vocalist; Florence imitates Happy Fanny Fields with skill; and good items are offered by the Athlones, society athletes, and Mina Denvil, vocal comedienne. Happy Tom Parker, a capital comedian and dancer, appeared as deputy for George Bastow, who, we regret to hear, is seriously ill. That wonderful production, The Volcano, is also in the bill.

PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter de Frece; Manager, Mr. A. J. Cartor.—That sterling comedian Edwin Boyde is here this week, and causes no end of amusement; Frank C. Bostock presents Consul, the "almost man," to an interested audience; the Tokio Troupe of Japs go through a remarkable performance; and Ritter and Foster, American duo, are exceedingly clever dancers. Other pleasing items are offered by Mlle. Renée, instrumentalist, and Leah Arden, vocal comedienne; whilst smart deputies appeared for Crosby and Walker, patter comedians; Lillie Lassah, comedienne, and Jose Collins, comedienne, who did not appear on the occasion of our visit. Pictures complete.

TIVOLI.—Managing-Director, Mr. Charles A. Wilkes; Manager, Mr. Arthur B. Wilkes.—Leslie and Stevens sing delightfully in their neat act Love Levels All; Alf Gibson scores, as usual, with quaint style and songs; Tom Moore, character comedian and vocalist, is appreciated; charming Lily Black sings nicely; and Maud Prenton is a comedienne with a chic style. Dolly and Madge McCalla are very pleasing singers and dancers; J. Warren-Foster, vocalist, sings well; the Alaskas are smart in a comedy acrobatic act; and others who please are Lily Dyer, the bâton girl, and Probyn and Bates, in comedy skit, The Dude and the Soubrette.

KING'S, LONGSIGHT.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. James R. Trippett.—Thompson Carruthers' company is here this week in The Master Card, a sensational card-manipulating novelty, with Dunningarto in the cast. Satani is smart in a scena of magical surprises; the veteran comedian Charles Coborn is entertaining, as usual; and Kendrick and Laura are capital in a neat interlude. Monty Walker, swell comedian, takes well; the Sages are smart comedy artists and dancers; Langslow is a rifle expert on the wire; and other good turns are given by Will Walton, comedian; Harry Kirk, comedian; Joe Conway, pocket comedian; and George Hall, whistler.

QUEEN'S PARK HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. W. Meek.—A great treat is provided here this week in Messrs. Sutton and Raynor's production of Moths, presented in first-rate style by an all-round excellent company. Mr. Raynor's impersonation of Lord Jura is nothing short of excellent, and Miss Dorothy West-Symes as Vere Herbert is very pleasing; Mr. Cecil Wynne plays Prince Zouroff with skill; Miss Henrietta Schrier is a powerful Duchess de Sonnaz; and Miss Lisa Coleman as the impulsive and vivacious American plays with vim; whilst good work is added by Miss Frances Waring, Mr. Leonard Laurence, Mr. C. Lodge-Percy, and Mr. Chas. R. Bickell.

HULME HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. Thomas Baker.—Mr George Dance's company top the bill here in the successful musical comedy sketch The Burglar's Ball, in which Mr. Rolando Martin, Miss Madge Soutter, and Miss Florence Hylton are particularly good. Harrison Brockbank sings in his usual excellent manner, and is well received; Randolph King, the one-man programme, makes a hit; Smith and Johnson, coloured duo, are capital; and Devon and Earle are exceedingly good dancers. Others who provide good turns are the Three Krakes, in funny act; W. G. Wesley, comedian; Sam Thompson, Scotch character comedian; Jimmy Shields, clever one-legged comedian and dancer; Dolly Ross, comedienne; and Geo. Edney, vocal comedian.

MANSFIELD.—GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Capt. Clayton; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Mark Lorne.—Mr. Frank Bertram's company in The Breed of the Treshams is playing to good houses. Mr. Sydney Bland impersonates the character of Lieut. Reresby with power; Batty is skilfully portrayed by Miss Grace Harlington; Miss Mildred Hodson makes a graceful Margaret, Mr. Alfred Holles a spirited Viscount Dorsington, and Mr. W. R. Wining a satisfactory Clement Hungerford; Mr. G. Trail distinguishes himself as Sir Henry Curwen; and Mr. Howard Brenan is an admirable Francis Tresham.

MERTHYR TYDFIL.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessees, the South Wales Entertainments, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Albert Jackson.—A Soldier's Honour is presented by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kimberley's company. Mr. Elan Meredith successfully undertakes the part of Captain Deane; Mr. T. Arthur Ellis is good as Captain Gerald Temple; and Richard Thornton is convincing work as Cora Lee; Jemima Eliza is capitally played by Miss Edie Macklin; and Miss Mabel Rose is excellent as Doreen Illingworth.

TEMPERANCE HALL.—Manager, Mr. Israel Price.—Heading a fine programme is Smaun Sing-Hpoo, from Burmah, who is an expert ring performer; Lambert and Glover are very amusing in farcical duologues; Richard Fineberg presents excellent character-studies from famous plays; the Days give a pleasing exhibition of mental telepathy; and other popular items are contributed by Charles Leighton, society entertainer; the Paolias, in a refined athletic act; the Mays, burlesque artists; Morrisey, musical equilibrist; and animated pictures.

METHIL.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietors, the Methil Theatre Co., Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Sydney Arnold.—The Conscience of a Judge is presented here this week by Mrs. Sam Duckworth's company. Mr. Stanley Bedwell plays the rôle of Herbert Granstone in a telling manner; as Sir Edward Mervin, the villain of the piece, Mr. Frank Eaglesfield gives a good character study; Cecil Bently is carefully played by Mr. Martin Pedlar; Mr. Cecil Renton is well suited to the part of Geoffrey Granstone; as Horatio Winters Mr. Frank Eden supplies the comic element, ably supported by Mr. Dalton Boser as John Summers and Miss Bessie Frank as Mary Wilson. Miss Eva Moss as Jessica Draycott meets with much appreciation; Miss Mabel Coleman makes the most of her part of Ethel Vaughan; and Miss Elsie Isaacs as Little Kitty is very pathetic. The minor parts are in capable hands.

MEXBOROUGH.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. H. Melton.—Mr. Alfred Northway and Mr. W. V. Garrod are this week presenting A Country Girl in London. Mr. Garrod imparts distinction to the character of Frank Gordon; the unscrupulous Godfrey Clinton is played with force and ability by Mr. G. Moreton-Williams; Mr. J. S. Sheridan is very impressive as John Hamilton; the ne'er-do-well, Job Smithers, has an able exponent in Mr. Clifford Marle; and Mr. E. W. Avery is genuinely funny as Heinrich Oppenheim. Miss Bertha Kingston is graceful and accomplished as Marjorie, a country girl; Miss Josephine Colona cleverly typifies the wayward Gwendoline; and Miss Lesley Adair is an interesting Adelaide Puddeyphat.

NEW PICTURE HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. Will Hunter; Manager, Mr. E. H. Jones.—A leading feature in this week's programme is The Castle Ghost, and other good films are:—Piracy in the days of Nelson, The Gipsy's Daughter, A Difficult Flirtation, &c.

MIDDLESBROUGH.—OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Jno. Ed. Jowsey; Manager and Licensee, Mr. W. Ker Chatto.—Mr. F. W. Bolam's company is this week presenting The Sins of Society to large audiences. The production is mounted in a costly manner, and the company is both numerous and talented. Miss Grace Leslie gives a pleasing interpretation of the rôle of Lady Marion, the victim and dupe of the unscrupulous Noel Ferrars, who is ably represented by Mr. C. F. Collings; Mr. E. Hassell-Vaughan does full justice to the part of Sir Dorian March, and Miss Janet Hodson as Caroline, Miss Dorothy Giles as Lady Ashley, and Miss Mabel Murray as the Hon. Mrs. Murgatroyd are all that can be desired. A notable figure is Mr. Blake Adams as James Hogg, and his ardent courtship of Lady Goldbury, capitally taken by Miss Pattie Browne, gives a light and agreeable touch to the performance.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Chas. Imeson.—His Wife No Longer is staged here this week by Mr. Stephen Pritt's company. Mr. Clavering Craig gives a very natural portrayal of Anthony Merivale, and Miss Rosa Mervyn submits a charming impersonation of Mrs. Merivale; Miss Frances Ferina is delightful as Marion Jefferies, and Messrs. E. P. Neville, D. McFarlane, and D. Donaldson, and Miss Nellie Lawson acquit themselves creditably.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Brill; Manager, Mr. Charles G. Rembges.—Ernest Shand is paying a visit here this week, and keeps the house convulsed with laughter; Mr. E. C. Gittins' company of operatic artists score a great success in a condensed version of The Daughter of the Regiment; Harry Blake is very amusing, as is also Josh Dixon; Doughty and company are good in a comedy, and other turns are provided by Jessie Merrilees and Minnie Dare, comedienne and dancer.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Signor Rino Pepi; Manager, Mr. E. C. Nicholls.—Some artistic poses are submitted here this week by Mlle. Irma Lorraine. Miss Maud Mortimer sings some catchy songs, and Harry Edson introduces two wonderfully trained dogs; the Smarte Bros. do some clever acrobatic tricks; Alf Chester causes much laughter; Baker and De Salis are very funny with their cross-talk, and the Florias are clever equilibrists.

OXFORD PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. Alf Graham; Manager, Mr. Ormesby Trench.—Jack Neil, eccentric Scotch comedian, maintains his reputation here; excellent singing and dancing is rendered by Corman's Juveniles in their vocal scena, The Waif, and also by Ted Curtis and his piccanninies; C. H. Charlton is a first-class conjurer, and J. C. Scatter, Tyneside comedian, is very popular.

MOTHERWELL.—NEW CENTURY THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Manager, Mr. Arthur Hales.—A dramatic version of Convict 99 is being presented here this week. Mr. Frank Beresford admirably sustains the title-rôle; the unscrupulous character of Ralph Vickers is realistically portrayed by Mr. Benson North; Mr. G. Warris Lindon submits a careful study of the elderly business man; and excellent low comedy work is furnished by Mr. P. J. Gullian as Jimmy. The emotional acting of Miss Dorothy Milne in the rôle of Geraldine Lucas calls for special mention; Maggie Mason has an apt exponent in Miss Jeannie Richards; and mention should be made of Miss Mabel North as Mrs. Smedley.

NELSON.—GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietress, Mrs. T. Greenwood Croft; Business-Manager, Mr. Geo. E. Mudd.—Mr. Allan Wilkie, supported by a talented company, is paying a welcome return visit here this week, during which a number of Shakespeare's works are being presented. On Monday The Merchant of Venice attracted a capital house; the following night The Sleigh Bells and David Garrick were produced; on Wednesday Hamlet, Thursday Macbeth, Friday Julius Cæsar, and Saturday Othello. The principals were Mr. Wilkie, Mr. Alexander Marsh, an old favourite here, and Miss Haidee Gunn. Mr. Wilkie's portraiture of Shylock proved him to be a tragedian of a high order, and his power and truth in portraying the tragedy of the part completely gripped the audience; as Bassanio Mr. Marsh fully maintained his reputation; and Mr. John Paley's Antonio was well conceived and faithfully acted; Mr. Ian Fleming gave a capital account of himself in the character of Launcelot Gobbo; and Gratiano, as presented by Mr. Frank Royde, and Lorenzo, by Mr. Ernest Digge, met with much approval; Miss Haidee Gunn, who appeared, owing to the indisposition of Miss Carrie Baillie, created a very favourable impression in the rôle of Portia, and she is a talented actress, and has been the leading lady with Mr. Edward Compton; Nerissa was effectively played by Miss Mildred Surrey; and Miss Hunter Watts made a charming Jessica.

NEW BRIGHTON.—WINTER GARDENS.—Lessees and Managers, Messrs. H. E. Jones and A. Douglass.—A bright and sparkling programme is again submitted to the frequenters of the Winter Gardens. The Cheers are responsible for a dainty little scena, entitled Dick Whittington, in which they introduce their very clever performing cats. Another excellent turn is given by Miss Anileda and her two eccentric French artists, who cause roars of laughter; Mlle. Benita has a fine soprano voice; Mr. J. H. Carney in quick-change and stilt dance is a big favourite; and Mr. Noel Sylvester proves that it is possible to hold an audience deeply interested with a recitation. The animated pictures are very fine.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. Teale Lingham.—Great interest is evinced this week in the performances of Bernard Shaw's plays by the Vedrenne-Barker company, and on Monday evening Man and Superman was presented before a large audience. The principal rôle of Jack Tanner, in the absence of Mr. Granville Barker, was undertaken with great success by Mr. Frederick Lloyd, who was quite equal to the difficulties of this unconventional character; Octavius Robinson was handled in masterly style by Mr. David Powell; and the simple-minded old Roebuck Ramsden received adequate treatment in the hands of Mr. Michael Sherbrooke. Miss Frances Dillon made a delightful Ann Whitefield; and Miss Auriol Lee gave a convincing study of Violet Robinson. Other characters were ably played by Mr. Richard Haigh, Mr. Hubert Harben, Miss Helen Rous, and Miss Wetherall.

TYNE THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Lessees, Messrs. Howard and Wyndham; Manager, Mr. Fred C. Sutcliffe.—Mr. George Edwardes' company is paying a welcome return visit with The Merry Widow, and was enthusiastically received on Monday by a large audience. Miss Constance Drever gives a charming and artistic rendering of Sonia, and delights the house with her exquisite singing and dancing; the rôle of the irresponsible Prince Danilo is admirably enacted by Mr. Leonard Mackay, who sings and dances in excellent style; as Baron Popoff Mr. Eric Thorne proves himself as great a favourite as ever, and is well supported by Mr. W. H. Rawlins, who is very amusing as Nisch; while Mr. W. Talleur Andrews sings and acts the rôle of the perfidious lover, Vicomte Camille de Jolidon, to perfection. Miss Ethel Cadman vocalises with much power as Natalie; and Mr. Theodore Leonard ably plays the part of General Novakovitch. Miss Sylvia May as Alga, Miss Kathleen Courtney as Sylvaine, Mr. Norman Greene as M. de St. Brioche, and Mr. Somers Bellamy as Marquis de Cascada, all do well in their respective parts. The principals are supported by augmented orchestra and chorus.

PALACE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. T. W. Rowe.—Mr. Walter Melville's company appeared here on Monday evening before a large audience in The Girl Who Took the Wrong Turning. Miss Jessie Belmore as Sophie Coventry, in the title-rôle, was excellent; and Miss Zoe Davis as Lucy Coventry displayed rare dramatic power. Mr. Ronald Adair as Willie Mason invested the hero of the piece with all necessary dash and fire; Mr. Sidney Sarl was admirably suited to the part of Bill Slater; and Mr. Frank R. Robertson made a capable Jack Fenton. Other rôles were in capable hands.

GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. F. W. Bolam.—In Holy Russia, by Mrs. J. Rice Cassidy, was presented here on Monday before a large audience. A strikingly dramatic performance is given by the authoress, who is admirably supported by a strong company. For Thursday and Friday evenings The World and the Woman was announced.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Resident-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; Manager, Mr. W. Parham Wells.—An amusing up-to-date travesty on pantomime, entitled Jack the Giant Killer, is presented here this week by George Anger and company. Mr. Anger, who is 8ft. in height, is described as the tallest actor on earth, and quite justifies this distinction; Mendel, the blind musician, contributes a musical turn of exceptional merit, which wins hearty applause; Humpti Bumsti, an eccentric acrobatic act by Pipifax and Paulo, is also greatly appreciated; whilst Victor Travers, a comedian of the legmania type, proves extremely amusing. Charles Vincent, comedian; Henry Coutts, in a clever protean act; Bertha Winder, step dancer; Ross and Lewis, American entertainers; and the Mayvilles, lilliputian novelty artists, all contribute acceptable turns.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thos. Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Will H. Boardman.—Arthur Prince, the inimitable ventriloquial entertainer, heads an all-round interesting bill here this week; and other artists appearing are Rastus and Banks, the Three Krags, Billy Williams, Rosie Reval, Chas. Sloman, Lanos and Montes, and Henry Pollock and company.

ROLLER SKATING EXHIBITION HALL, St. Mary's-place.—Manager, Mr. Fred B. Crowe.—The round of festivities which is making this one of the most popular resorts is continued this week, a Cinderella being announced for Thursday.

NEWPORT.—LYCEUM.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Sidney Cooper.—You Never Can Tell is being played here under the direction of Messrs. Taylor, Platt, and Trevor Lowe. In the rôle of Mrs. Clandon Miss Katharine Stuart gives a performance that is full of grace, without overdrawn emotion; Miss Gwladys Morris is convincing as Gloria Clandon; and Miss Clara Earle makes a bright Dolly Clandon; while as Fergus Crampton Mr. J. Edward Price acts with vigour. Mr. Chas. Daly plays in restrained style the part of Finch McComas; and as Valentine Mr. Leslie Hamer is seen to advantage in the rôle of a humorous lover. Mr. Trevor Lowe makes a hit as the waiter; Mr. Geo. Howard is well suited to the part of Bohun; and the character of the parlourmaid is well sustained by Miss Ivy Fenton.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll.—Machnow, the great Russian giant, astonishes crowded houses here; Eight of Hearts are a bevy of American beauties, who dance delightfully; Bi-Bo-Bi extract tuneful melody from all kinds of instruments; and Rhoda Paul is justly popular in her latest successes. Herman Melot succeeds in mystifying the audience with his tricks; Victor Newman gives wonderful representations of scenes between Cardinal Wolsey and Cromwell, and other subjects; and in light comedy Tom E. Conover causes shouts of laughter. E. J. Sheldon, a study in black and white, and the Bioscope, complete the bill.

NEWRY.—TOWN HALL.—Proprietors, Newry Urban Council.—Mr. William L. Dobell's company on Tuesday produced Edward Thane's The Love That Lasts For Ever before a big house. Miss Marion Carter as Ida Ross was excellent; Mr. Dobell as Alphonso D'Arcy was responsible for much humour; Mr. W. H. Pointon as Professor Morley and Mr. Charles Charles as Gordon Morley were exceptionally good; Mr. Thompson Whiett as Josiah Selby was a villain from head to foot; Mr. Jack Saple gave a capital representation of Alfred Boby; Mr. Horace Morton-Wright made a truculent figure of Wily Jackson, a burglar from birth; and Miss Phylis Locke (Elsie Beresford), Miss Lilian Fenn (Clara Jenkins, a lady barber), and Miss Madge Merryweather (Mother Moocher) were specially effective.

NORTH SHIELDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Stanley Rogers; Acting-Manager, Mr. Horace Lee.—The boards here this week are occupied by Messrs. O. Silverstone and H. Wright's company with The Nihilist, which has been well received. As Ivan Nowasky Mr. Joseph Millane acts with much power; Mr. Cowell Clark is much appreciated as Karl Orloff; Mr. William Carriden scores as Prince Alexander; and Mr. O. Silverstone plays Pietree Petroff in good style; Miss Florence Kelsey is seen to advantage as Princess Olga; Miss Edna Clare creates an excellent impression as Alexina Orloff. Mr. Henry Wright as Robbie Smart and Miss Jessica Fond as Katrina Tindoff are responsible for the comedy element, and their efforts cause much hearty laughter.

CENTRAL PALACE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Wm. Mould.—Mr. Charles Dixton's sketch company, topping the bill here this week, has had a hearty reception; Mlle. De Roche, an accomplished vocalist, renders her songs in good style; and a hearty reception has been bestowed upon Mr. T. W. Barrett, who is an old favourite; Mons. A. Massona is an expert juggler; Messrs. Elliott and Warne in their speciality act display much talent; Messrs. Liddell and Bell are clever; and some interesting films are shown by the Mouldoscope.

NORTHWICH.—CENTRAL THEATRE.—Proprietress, Mrs. S. Golden.—This theatre re-opened on Monday with Mr. Evelyn Adell's company in His Sister's Honour. Sir Richard Redvers is skilfully played by Mr. Walter Wilson; Dr. Godfrey is well undertaken by Mr. Edwin Clarke; Frank Stanley is masterfully portrayed by Mr. Evelyn Adell; Mr. Harry Carlton in the humorous part of Timothy Timid causes much merriment, and is very ably seconded by Miss Maudie Vincent as Maria; Miss Ethel Ashleigh does well as Ivy Merton; and Miss Flora Leslie gives a fine emotional depiction of Dora Stanley.

THE PAVILION.—Proprietress, Mrs. Fletcher; Manager, Mr. Towyn Thomas.—Another good programme is placed before the patrons of this place of amusement this week. Mr. A. W. Thompson's company present a sketch with undoubted ability; Miss Ivy Dane is a pleasing singer; Mr. Frank Ford an exceedingly clever dancer; Mr. Bert Rayburn is quaintly humorous; Mr. Alf. Brookes is bright and breezy, and hits the mark; Miss Belle Russell's company in a sketch is highly successful; and the pictures shown by Ruffell's Bioscope are as good as ever.

NORWICH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Fred Morgan.—Mr. Harry Battersby's company occupies the boards here this week in the drama, The King of Crime. Mr. F. B. Woulfe gives a masterly representation of the character of Ronjarre, and Miss Mildred Eversleigh evokes much sympathy as the blind wife. The other characters are ably filled.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. E. H. Bostock and F. W. Fitt; Manager, Mr. Councillor F. W. Fitt.—Heading the bill and creating a sensation is Tarro Myaki, a champion ju-jitsu wrestler, whose feats are watched with keen interest; challenges are thrown out and prizes offered. Ernie Mayne has a capital reception; Ada Parker is a pleasing comedienne and dancer; Bliss and Bliss cause much merriment with their patter; Miss Fallowfield is very acceptable; and Cline and Clarke, black and white comedy duo, are expert sand and buck dancers; Charley, the French protean artist, is interesting; the Gallimore Trio entertaining; and the Hippo Bio. pictures good.

NOTTINGHAM.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Howard Finney.—Mr. Wentworth Croke's company presents the new version of The Christian. Mr. Henry Renouf as the Hon. John Storm secures the heartiest appreciation for his manly assumption of this exacting rôle; Miss Doris Gilham looks and acts the part of Glory to perfection; the unctuous Archdeacon Wealthy is ably portrayed by Mr. C. T. Turpin; and the supercilious man about town, Lord Robert Ure, finds a good exponent in Mr. George R. Montford; very quietly but with genuine success, Mr. Oswald Marshall represents Drake; and the Mrs. Callander of Miss Sinna St. Clair evidences careful preparation and study; Miss Margaret Brodie, subdued as Polly Love, and Miss May Dudley, boisterous as Black Meg, add no little to the general success; whilst Miss Mima Renouf and Mr. W. S. Carter are a capital pair as Mother Kent and her son Bert. The remaining clerical parts are well taken care of by Messrs. Edwin Ling, Arthur Maskell, and John Goghlan, whilst the rollicking sisters Belmont, in the persons of Misses Bettie Seymour and Lydia Bland, are real, live personages.

GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Harry Upton.—The Girl with the Angel Face makes excellent fare for patrons here. Mr. H. Naylor Grimson plays Sir John Wentworth with great determination and force, also doubling the part of Thomas Wentworth; Mr. Austin Mortimer makes a sufficiently villainous character of Stephen Arkwright; and Mr. Dobell Lyle earns hearty encomiums as the Rev. Gordon Cross; Miss Florrie Green capitally enacts the name part, both in her seeming innocence and revengefulness; Miss Phyllis Dailley sounds a sympathetic note in her assumption of Ena Wentworth; and Miss W. Delevanti acts with natural charm as Nellie; Miss Mildred Carr helps to lighten the play by her humorous interpretation of Mollie Maitland; and Mr. Fred G. Evison adds to the comedy by his excellent work as the cunning old reprobate, Jasper Death. The minor characters are all well placed.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. Albert C. Duncan.—The champion wrestler, Frank Gotch, is appearing here in the guise of an actor, displaying his enormous strength and agility to admiring audiences; the Musical Courtiers, including Mlle. Louise van Dalle and Messrs. G. H. St. Just and T. H. Wood, create the greatest enthusiasm by their vocal and instrumental operatic selections; F. W. Purcell's company in the comedietta, That Brute Simmons, compel laughter; and Wood, Wells, and Wilkins supply a large share of humour in the sketch The Piano Tuner; Millie Payne is entirely successful in her songs; and Nell Emerald dances smartly; George Young gives an interesting item on the concertina, and is capably assisted by Madam Louise; Ida Kathrena, the human doll, and Harry Bedford, comedian, complete the programme.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. V. Carnell.—Chief interest centres in the Harmony Four, whose eccentric methods seem to grow at each visit, rousing the most uproarious laughter; Troba shows remarkable skill and strength in his juggling feats; Winfield Blake and Maude Amber prove an excellent couple of patterers; and a musical novelty is introduced by Maid and the Moon; Cecile François and company present an amusing scena; and the musical entertainment of Vere and Nelldon is good; Shaun Glenville and company appear in a sketch; Williams and Warden supply comical cross-talking; Nora Brooklyn sings a song, and pictures are shown on the Barrascope.

KING'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. O. Waller.—Animated pictures still keep their hold on visitors here, this being the 128th consecutive week. The illustrated songs of Mr. Ernie Williams are also an attraction.

NUNEATON.—PRINCE OF WALES'S.—Proprietors, Theatre and Entertainments Co.; Managing-Director, Mr. A. F. Cross; Acting-Manager, Mr. Joseph Coyle.—Mr. Charles M. Bestic's company is here with The Flower Girl, and on Monday evening received an enthusiastic welcome. Mr. Martin Adeson contributes largely to the success as the humorous Joe Wheeler; Mr. Alfred Donohoe as Johnny Wheeler proves himself a capable comedian; Mr. Norman Bowyer takes the part of Reginald Rackit in a manner which does him credit, his excellent dancing and general eccentricities bringing forth much applause; as Alphonse and Lizette de Racquet Mr. Henry Adnes and Miss Florence Wilton create rare amusement; Miss Jeannie Holmes as Miss Greenhill gives a splendid portrayal of a suffragette; Mr. Robert H. Howard, who takes the part of the Hon. Billy Greenhill is much appreciated; and Miss Dorothy Firmin as Lily, the flower girl, captivates the audience by her fine singing.

OLDBURY.—PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. Jas. Tyrer.—The chief feature on this week's programme are the Nicholsons, who, in their comedy act, score immensely; the Sisters Vero are a charming couple, and perform well; Harry Royde is an excellent comedian; Miss Josie Watson is a clever comedienne. The pictures are the latest and best.

OLDHAM.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Hulme.—The Sign of the Cross, played by Mr. William Greet's principal company, opened here on Monday. Mr. Cyril Austin Lee, as Marcus Superbus, is excellent; Miss Constance Little, as Mercia, earns much applause; Miss Edith Drayson feelingly enacts the character of Stephanus; Mr. Walter Fleet as Favius and Mr. Clifton Yates as Titus are both well placed; Mr. Chas. Aldred as Tigellinus ably portrays the character; Mr. Frank Wood is droll as Glabrio; and Philodemus is amusing as played by Mr. Harry Jones. Messrs. H. Thurston Harris and G. W. Ruff are capital as Servilius and Stabo; Mr. C. Yorke is an imperious Nero, Poppea being well acted by Miss Beryl Hamilton; and Miss Lily Ward makes a capable Berenice.

COLOSSEUM THEATRE.—General Manager, Mr. Wm. Eastwood.—Mr. Tom H. Taylor's company on Monday opened here on a return visit with The Worst Woman in London. Miss Edith Blande again scored a success by her acting of the name-part; Miss Dorothy Haigh played Ruth Milford in a sympathetic manner; Mr. Geo. Gaisford was a manly Jack; and Mr. Arthur Felton a smart Vincent Lyle. Mr. F. Vernon Travers made a capital James Milford; and Mr. James E. Manning as Philip Armstrong played artistically. Mr. Willie Scott as Bob Goldfinch caused hearty laughter in association with Miss Poly Marsh as Matilda Parker; Miss Mysie Monte was an effective Jane Nogood; and Mr. H. W. Monte as satisfactory Hugh Drayton.

ROYAL THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Kilrow.—Charcot and his automatic man head the bill here, and present a most mystifying performance; Harry Tate's company, in Motoring, cause loud laughter; Chas. Parker's Six Æolians in song and dance earn repeated recalls; Clasen's Art Bronzes pose well in a fine exhibition; Florence Esdaile is heartily received; the Musical Schafers present a smart musical comedy act; J. C. C. Cunliffe is capital in good songs; Adah Payne is a smart vocalist; and the Dottoscope concludes.

HIPPODROME.—General-Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Nuttall.—The Waldrons, in The Silly Burglar, are humorous; Irve Hayman and Little Marie Montague present Xmas Eve; Gladys and Alber are good in their comedy act; and Denby and Dent, in their cross talk, Kit Keen, dancer, the Marco Duo, on the bars, D. W. Watson, in his horn and cornet solos, and the Dottoscope, complete the bill.

PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietors, the Palace, Oldham, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. F. Thorne.—Edouard José is the particular star here, in the dramatic sketch The Strike, which is very popular; Horace Wheatley, the ever-popular, scores with his smart songs and dances; Radie Furman is a smart dancer; Vay's Juveniles have a good reception in Life in the Slums; La Freya is interesting in her speciality; Willie Gardner dances cleverly on skates; and Elsa Joel sings with good effect. Ernest Powell at the piano is good; and Yates and Willis are amusing in A Nice Quiet Morning. The Palace Pictures are popular.

CENTRAL HALL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Lester King.—This week's animated pictures draw well, and include The Face on the Bar-room Floor, Opium Smoker's Dream, War Episode, Living Reflections, Gnomes, Gipsy Life in Europe, Considerate Cabby, Evils of Spiritualism, and Eggs With Care The illustrated song "Farewell, Lily Bell," by Mr F. Walker, was well applauded.

OXFORD.—NEW THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. C. C. Dorrill; Assistant-Manager, Mr. G. T. Lucas.—Mr. George Alexander's company is giving finished performances of The Thief, which was cordially welcomed on its first appearance here. Mr. Rupert Lister played with quiet, incisive power as Richard Chelford, his acting in the great scene in Act II. being keenly appreciated; Mr. Cyril Harcourt was uncommonly good as Raymond Leyton; while his son, Harry, was played in very convincing fashion by Mr. Owen Nares; and Mr. Luke Forster was an excellent Mr. Protheroe. Miss Marie Polini gave a superb performance as Marise Chelford, her acting holding the house spell-bound; and Miss Jean Cadell was a handsome and interesting Isabel Leyton. The Thief was preceded by the curtain-raiser Too Happy by Half, cleverly interpreted by Messrs. C. King, O. Nares, B. Stevens, and Miss Eileen Kerin.

EAST OXFORD THEATRE.—Lessees, East Oxford Theatre Co., Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Frank Stuart.—Amasis is attracting crowded and enthusiastic houses. Nothing could surpass the inimitable performance of Mr. W. H. Denny as Amasis (Pharaoh of Egypt), who is accorded a hearty reception for his excellent impersonation and singing; while Mr. Edward McKeown also sings delightfully and proves himself a capable artist as Prince Anhotep. Mr. Frank Attree sustains Ptolemy with much success; and Mr. Walter D. Brodie has a fund of quaint humour as Sebak. Mr. Arthur Stroud gives a very effective rendering of Cheiro; Mr. J. Hawkes is successful as Nebeuchairi; and Mr. Frank Wood makes a majestic Psamtik (Captain of the Guard). Miss Elsie Don is graceful and captiviting as Natis, and sings and acts charmingly; and Miss Mabel Burnage shows experience and undoubted ability with her stately and admirable rendering of Princess Amasis. Miss Mabel Lovett is the principal dancer. The chorus gives proof of excellent training and ability, all the numbers being spiritedly rendered.

PAISLEY.—PAISLEY THEATRE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. H. Savile.—Mr. Fred Bulmer's company is playing here the drama, The Girl Who Went Astray. Captain Frank Julian is impersonated with skill by Mr. John B. Shinton; Rupert Murdock is forcibly presented by Mr. Fred Lloyd; Mr. Evan Roland and Mr. Tod Squires each score in the respective rôles of Adolphus Boomer and James Yellowsocks; a capital Sergt. John Harvey is supplied by Mr. Edgar P. Melrose; Mr. R. Ashton ably takes the part of Dr. George Wilson; Gussie Seymour is capitally enacted by Mr. Edwin Williams; and Mr. A. Mainwaring as General Sir Hugh Finnigan is admirable. Miss Gwynne Warren gives a powerful rendering of Madge Harvey; a life-like portrayal of Violet Harvey is submitted by Miss Ada M. Ryder; Miss Sybil Haughton essays with success the part of Eleanor Merton; and Molly Smart is excellently accounted for by Miss Mary Dalby. Miss Freda Fredericks as Flo Fortesque, Miss Mabel Sinclair as the Nurse, and Mr. A. Wardroper as P.C. Johnson render valuable aid.

HIPPODROME.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Bostock; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. Stead.—Harriet Vernon is prominent here this week in her latest successful songs, being greatly appreciated; the Brothers Deas are excellent dancers, who provide a most acceptable turn; Frances Letty, always a strong draw, comes provided with several new chorus songs; Cedar and Elgar contribute a lively turn in their Ye Dayes of Olde comedy act; Little Zola is a comedian of novel methods, and is well received; an amusing sketch is Do You Want to Buy Any Coke? performed by Howard and St. Clair; the Burnells provide hearty laughter with their comedy sketch Playmates; Louis Kerno is particularly good as a vocal comedian, coon impersonator, and dancer; and the Bioscope forms a pleasing feature of the evening's entertainment.

PENTRE.—TIVOLI PALACE AND HIPPODROME, LTD.—District-Manager, Mr. Walter Bynorth; Resident-Manager, Mr. James Gunn.—Topping the bill this week are the Maisons, in their novelty comedy musical acts; the Mantelloni are smart lady tumblers and acrobats; the Four Goldings are a clever Spanish troupe; Dot Hardy is admired as a character comedienne; Edie Colville is a refined vocalist and dancer; Wheeler and Wilson in their acrobatic feats are deservedly applauded; the Sisters Herbert, toy ducttists and dancers, claim a fair share of praise; and the Tivoliscope concludes.

WORKMEN'S HALL.—Manager, Mr. Charles Charlton.—The up-to-date pictures of Will Stone continue to be a great attraction here; Alpho is a ventriloquist of talent, and his discourse with the doll "Tommy" is much appreciated; Mack, the mimic, was through illness unable to appear, and Mr. Charlton, the manager, occupied his place in a series of songs rendered in a capital tenor voice; and Constance Louise, in her illustrated songs, is deservedly applauded.

DRILL HALL.—Leon Vint and his celebrated Globe Choir is here this week, and the clairvoyant act of Mme. Vint is much enjoyed by large audiences.

PERTH.—THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. H. Savile; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Aldridge.—Mr. Harry Starr's company pays a return visit here this week, presenting Otto the Outcast and Carl, the Clockmaker. In the former piece Mr. Starr, in the title-rôle, gave an admirable performance; Mr. Will Hee was excellent as Roderique D'Estalier, alias Vidocq; Mr. Walter Kenion as Daddy Bruneau was good; and the part of the Marquis Marcella de Laporte was in the capable hands of Mr. Edwin Firth. As Lara Miss Katie Norris was very successful; and Miss Emmeline Roselle displayed ability as Susette.

PETERBOROUGH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Mr. A. Darville Vernon.—There was a large and delighted audience on Monday to witness the performance of The Merry Widow by Mr. George Edwardes's company. Miss Mysie Devine, in the title-rôle, sang and acted in a captivating manner; Miss Ada Thomas, a charming Natalie, used her excellent voice with good effect; Mr. Frank Greene's gay and spontaneous acting as the Prince won all hearts; Mr. Edward D'Arcy scored a big success as Baron Popoff; and as Jolidon Mr. Ripley Evans sang and acted with dramatic effect; Mr. F. Pedgrift gave a fine portrayal of M. de St. Brioche, his acting being marked with an earnestness which won hearty approval; Mr. Fred Fowler was a popular Nisch; and Mr. William Allison did well as Cascada; Miss Violet Hobson was an excellent Sylvanie; and Miss Daphne Glenne was well placed as Olga.

NEW HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Fred Karno and A. H. Edwards; Manager, Mr. Frank Gallagher.—This week's bill is composed of the following excellent turns:—V. L. Granville in a protean play, entitled 'Twixt Dawn and Daylight; Walter Curtis, the merriment merchant; Lee and Bentley, duologue artists; Florence Smithers, supported by Owen Dacroy and company in Our Mary Jane; Stevens and Bert, comedians and dancers; Aggie Nolan, comedienne; and Ruhart.

JOHN BULL

LOOKING WELL.

John Bull looks as well as anyone and jovial too. So broad, so sturdy, and so strong. Folks say, "How well you look!" Poor John is really ill like so many of us, and dare not say so—people would not believe him.

Looks belie people. Only those who are ill know how much suffering there is. How we wish our heads didn't ache! Or we wish food was enjoyable and would digest—wish we hadn't the pain, the flatulence, and the acidity that follows eating.

Why "wish" only? Take a short course of Mother Seigel's Syrup. There is renewed hope and renewed health in every drop of it. It will so tone up and strengthen the digestion that life itself becomes a new joy.

Mother Seigel's Syrup is now also prepared in TABLET FORM and sold under the name of Mother Seigel's Syrup Tablets. Price 2s. 9d. One size only.

"For so long as I remember, Mother Seigel's Syrup has been used by the various members of my family, from time to time, for indigestion and allied complaints, always with excellent results. As for myself, it has kept me fit and well for more than twelve years past."—SAMUEL R. EVANS, B.A., 41, Rosebery Road, Redfield, Bristol. Jan. 8th, 1908.

MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP.

PLYMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Mr. J. Langdon Lee.—Brewster's Millions forms a capital attraction here. Mr. Percy Hutchison impersonates Brewster, and shrieks of laughter are created by his cleverness and smartness; Miss Cicely Stuckey is particularly fascinating as Peggy Grey; Miss Lilias Earle, beautifully gowned, as Mrs. Dan de Mille makes an admirable woman of the world; Mr. Cyril Rawson does excellently as Charlie Harrison; Mr. Frank Hill is amusing in a quiet way as Butler Rawles; and Mr. Robert Forsyth works hard as Mr. Grant.

PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. Jack Field.—Alec Hurley and company are here with their well-known sketch The Costers' Beano, and the production is thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Hurley's vocal contributions, given in his original and characteristic style, come in for hearty approbation. Olga and Elgar are refined lady musicians; another musical contribution is that submitted by Slippere, the blind pianist; the Two Lillies are graceful and accomplished dancers; Rowland Hill, comedian; Daisie Morell, comedienne; the Betsons in a comedy sketch, The Tramps' Holiday; and Vernon's pictures complete.

PONTEFRACT.—ALEXANDRA THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Tom Diacoff.—Amongst the chief items of an attractive bill are Chas. M. Daly's company in a farcical sketch; Professor McCann's Troupe of exceptionally well-trained dogs; Fields and Lewis in a burlesque melodrama; Gravetta and Parr with clay modelling; the Five Bombays with a "goey" dancing and harmony turn; Lytton and Bland in a speciality act, A Lesson in Love; Rex and Ford, cross-talk comedians; T. C. Jaques, also a comedian; Arnelli, in an effective musical act; and Idy Evilo on the trapeze. The pictures are again an attractive feature of the entertainment.

PONTYPRIDD.—ROYAL CLARENCE THEATRE.—Owners and Proprietors, Messrs. Trenchard and Jones; Manager, Mr. Charles Trenchard.—The attraction at the above is Messrs. F. Marriott-Watson and Sanderson Moffat's company in What a Woman Did. Rafaelle Duroc is capably portrayed by F. Marriot-Watson; Conrad de L'Orme is ably delineated by Mr. Sanderson Moffat; Mr. Reginald Kloof appears to advantage as Black Pitou; Fritz von Hoegithiem is successfully sustained by Mr. Riton Morgan; Mr. Owen Edwin scores as Perfect Peter Pippin; Miss Florence E. Florence displays considerable histrionic ability as Elise de L'Orme; La Papillon is admirably assumed by Miss Phyllis Hamilton; Nanette is excellently played by Miss Norah Waylett; and Miss Flo Norman is decidedly good as Fanchon.

PORTSMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Bell.—Mr. Edward Compton and his company opened here on Monday in David Garnick. Mr. Compton was at his best in the name-part, and did his artistic conception of the rôle full justice. Miss Kathleen Leigh made a delightful and charming Violet; Mr. Henry Crocker was excellent as Alderman Gresham; Mr. Henry Worrall ably impersonated the Hon. Tom Tallyhaut; Messrs. Philip Gordon as Rumbelow, Mr. W. Johnson as Sowerberry, and Mr. Ivan Leslie as Simpkins gave first-rate assistance in their respective rôles; Miss Marie Hassell made a successful Mrs. Rumbelow; and Selina was ably taken by Miss Constance Merton. During the week will be submitted The Rivals, The School for Scandal, and A Reformed Rake.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. E. Agate.—The Assassin is being presented here by Mr. Augustine Knight and a strong company, Mr. Knight playing Prince Demetri with well-merited success. As Ivan Ipanoff Mr. H. Bonhote Wilson acted vigorously and well; the rôle of Duke Carl was capitally sustained by Mr. Edwin Lever; Mr. Edwin Jenner was extremely good as Captain O'Neil; and Mr. Edward Fryer capably sustained the rôle of General Nicol. The Countess Wanda is very cleverly depicted by Miss Ella Vane; Miss Eva Trevenna played Nita sympathetically; and in the part of Connie Jonathan Miss Hettie Senior was excellent. Mr. Edward Swinton as Baron Alphonse, Mr. Tom Taylor as Peter, and Miss Marie E. Robertson as Katrina were amusing.

KING'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Claude Marner; Director of Entertainments, Mr. Thomas Barrasford.—The Hungarian actor-violinist Jan Rudenyi delights all here with masterly touch and finish; C. D. Reckie, comedian and raconteur, does well; the Three Rubys, speciality artists, give a capital show; Charles Norton in a mimetic monologue, Pros. at the Races, is very good, and takes well; a miniature comedy-drama, An Extra Turn, by Paul Mill and Godfrey Baynes, proves very attractive; Kelly and Agnes in comedy duo do capable work; the Three Calbas with funniosities of an acrobatic turn on a billiard table give satisfaction; Nell Cotter is a popular songstress; the Three Ansonias are exceedingly clever in their acrobatic contribution; the Courtiers are an accomplished troupe of vaudeville entertainers; and the animated pictures fill the bill.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Captain Warren Wright; Secretary, Mr. W. Pratt.—Mr. Charles Baldwin and company are here with Bank Clerks, and score tremendously; Sisters Condor musical sketch artists, are well to the fore; Ed. E. Ford, Australian sundowner, is greeted with much applause for his capital impersonations and tuneful singing; May Martin, dainty comedienne, is cordially received; the Elité Harmony Boys appear in a capable vocal act, Messmates Ashore, are meritorious, and gain encores; Robbie Roy, comedian, is diverting with his droll items; Tate and Tate in an eccentric speciality number show much ability; the Narrow Bros. in a comedy cycling act are laughter provoking; and Payne's Bioscope, with new pictures, conclude an excellent programme.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Harris; Acting-Manager, Col. Roberts, V.D.—Mr. W. Louis Bradford and his excellent company of musical comedians contribute some delightful numbers here; Stylo's hoop juggling is remarkably clever; Mr. C. and Miss Maud Courtney, American song and patter artists, are entertaining, well deserving the many plaudits they received; Tom Costello, versatile comedian, is as popular as ever; Jimson's well-trained and intelligent dogs gave much satisfaction; the Gotham Quartet of comedians and vocalists are applauded for their versatile entertainment; and Beatrice Bonnie, Wyze and Adna, and the Hippo. Pictures complete.

PRESTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, the Executors of the late W. Johnson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Stephen Pritt.—Plenty of variety is furnished by Mr. Fred Karno's company in His Majesty's Guests. Mr. George Hestor causes much merriment as Sergeant Lightning; Mr. E. Freshwater has one or two taking songs as Lord Easem; Mr. Charles Usher is a capital Mr. Miffen; and Mr. C. Griffiths is successful as Harry; Mr. C. Richardson is a clever knockabout as Bunker; and Mr. Sid Kearns a humorous Mr. Minks; Miss Aggie Morris a good Lady Maud Easem; Miss Edith Ager a capital Dolly; and Miss Kitty Brunton a quaint Miss Manley; Mr. Tom Manardo as Selina performs some sprightly acrobatic feats. The rest of the cast is in capable hands.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Sawyer and Woodruff.—Mr. Joseph Bebb's company in A Lion's Heart is having a good reception here. Mr. Henry Bedford gives a powerful portrayal of Rizardo, and Miss Ada Oakley is equally successful as Louise in the prologue, and afterwards as Marion Lorimore; Mr. Leonard Booker is a manly Dick Lorimore; and Miss Madge Beresford an engaging Bessie; Mr. Edgar J. Coyne is good as Jack Bealey; Mr. A. Helsby displays the requisite villainy as Col. Robert de Villefoi, in which he is well supported by Mr. Stephen Scanlan as Gaspard Dobre; Little Elsie May is decidedly clever as Gilbert; Miss Kitty Rose is an excellent Mme. le Cheminart; Miss Beatrice Holmes is good as Sister Gertrude. The remaining characters are carefully played, and the mounting of the drama is very good.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Son; Resident-Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank E. Burdett.—Lockhart's elephants, as shown by Captain G. Taylor, give a performance that is little short of wonderful; Lavelle Bros., acrobatic comedians, provide a smart turn; Jack Waller is a refined artist in a pleasing turn—comedy, music, and pathos; the Three Coopers, comedy and harmonising vocalists, are a capital turn; Braund and Davis (Teddy and Bert) are a good team of dancers; Cecilia Gold is a dainty burlesque artist with some capital songs and a good style; Ben Jackson is an exceedingly clever banjoist, and was well received; Ada Fawn, comedienne, won loud applause for her excellent rendition of her various songs, and proved a very popular turn; the Bouncing Dillons (Hilda and Willie) give a very clever turn, and in addition provide much laughter by a bouncing competition, which is open to everybody over sixteen years of age. Western Justice, on the Bioscope, concludes a capital programme.

RADCLIFFE. — GRAND OPERA HOUSE. — Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Sante; Acting-Manager, Mr. James Boothman.—Mr. Geoffrey Fulton's company, in A Girl Redeemed from Sin, is paying a welcome return visit here this week. Mr. Jo Monkhouse gives an able representation of Will May; Mr. Philip Orr is good as Robert Denham; and Mr. George Lyttleton creditably presents the villainous Ernest Sylvester. Mr. John E. Tomlinson as Nancy's father is natural; and the humorous element is ably filled in by Mr. Willie Reid as Jim Jakes. Miss Olive Fulton, in the title-rôle, acts with sympathy; and Miss Ada Oxley as Peggy creates laughter.

RAMSGATE.—ROYAL PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Lord George Sanger; Resident-Manager, Mr. Dan Forrest.—Large and delighted audiences are witnessing representations of the "Afloat and Ashore" series of animated pictures toured by Mr. Ernest Mansell. In vivid manner the films depict life in the King's service on land and sea, and there are also humorous pictures. During the shows there are turns of a wonderful character by Herculein, strong man; and the illustrated songs of Miss Maud Evelyn and the vocal contributions and dances by Harry Hardy add considerably to the attractiveness of the entertainments.

ROYAL VICTORIA THEATRE.—Sole Lessee and Manager, Mr. Jules Richeux.—Mr. Arthur Newstead, the well-known English pianist, gave an enjoyable recital on Saturday. The programme was of a classical character, and the ability Mr. Newstead displayed as the executant of a number of difficult compositions earned for him hearty applause from a most appreciative audience. The concert was also contributed to by Miss Menda de Morgan (a sweet mezzo-soprano) and Mr. Armstrong Dash (a talented violinist).

MARINA THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. W. J. Atack.—The Marina has been well patronised during the week, and a capital programme has been staged twice nightly. A sensational dramatic story, The Outlaw, has been well received, and audiences are delighted with a miniature circus. MacFord is a popular comedian appearing this week; and the juvenile vocalists and dancers Tiny and Mite receive a hearty welcome.

RAWTENSTALL.—GRAND THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Fred Granville; General Business-Manager, Mr. A. R. Feather.—Mr. Junius Booth and company are here in Monte Cristo, a new version of Dumas' stirring romance. Mr. Booth, in the title-rôle, acts with great power and skill; as Mercedes Miss Cecilia Dare shows much talent, playing with womanly feeling and tenderness; Mr. H. Bannister is an excellent Danglars; and as De Morcerf Mr. John Howden displays ability. As M. Noirtier Mr. Conrad Heywood gives a faithful representation of the character, and Mr. C. W. Crowe's Villefort is an effective portrayal. Mr. Ralph Leon is a fine Albert Morcerf; and Mr. Herbert Colley as Caderousse is a typical bibulous innkeeper. Miss Alice West is successful as La Caronte; Mr. F. Martin's portrayal of the part of Abbé Faria is most successful; and the whole of the minor characters are admirably sustained. The staging of the piece is decidedly good.

READING.—ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Proprietors and Managers, Mr. Milton Bode and Mr. Edward Compton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Benton.—The popular comic opera Tom Jones is on the boards here this week. Mr. Cyril Thompson makes a great success of the title-rôle; he plays the part in a manly and breezy manner, and his singing is exceedingly good. Miss Alice Moffatt is a very fascinating representative of Sophia, and possesses great musical ability. The artistic singing of the two principals contributes very greatly to the success of the performance. Miss Florrie Saunders plays the part of Honour (Sophia's maid) with much chic and vivacity; Miss Olivia Eltone plays effectively as Lady Bellaston; Mr. Fred Seymour is a typical representative of Squire Western; Mr. A. H. Magilton acts characteristically as Blifil; Mr. A. J. Nicholls plays well as Mr. Alworthy; Mr. George Elton is exceedingly diverting as Benjamin Partridge; the Squire's three servants are very humorously impersonated by Messrs. Michael Dwyer, Cyril Lane, and Harry Courtin. All the other parts are well filled, and the concerted music is capitally rendered by a full chorus. Mr. Ernest K. Irving is a very capable musical director.

THE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Geo. Howard Watson; Acting-Manager, Mr P. E. Draco.—Mysticus, the human chameleon, is the star attraction this week, and provides a very clever and novel turn. The Bros. Durant do a variety of clever acrobatic and contortionist feats; the Collins' Troupe of seven attractive lady artists, including Miss Ethel Beech, give a good show; the Sisters Jerome (three in number) give some coon songs and dances with good effect; Violet Rose is a successful comedienne; Ada Gatley is well received in her pot-pourri speciality; A. G. Spry and Phil Parsons are two very amusing comedians; the comedy sketch entitled Poor Master is presented by Edward Cranston and Mrs. Bennett's company, and creates much amusement; and some good pictures are shown on the Bioscope.

ROCHDALE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, the Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. W. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. S. Burton.—Married to the Wrong Man is in possession of the boards here. Mr. Oswald Cray is a powerful Jack Gladwin; Mr. H. Lane Bayliff cleverly portrays the rôle of Captain Deering; Mr. Ray Raymond is effective as Sergeant Manners, and Mr. Charles Vivian acts with success the part of Jasper Skinner; Mr. Paige Lawrence deserves a good word as the light-hearted Archie; and Mr. Sid Claydon amuses in the part of Timothy Clinker; Miss Mary Pemberton acts with womanly feeling as Rose O'Connor; and Miss Gertrude Boswell sustains with ability the part of Ruth.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Thomas Hargreaves; General-Manager, Mr. Frank Hargreaves.—The Two Anartos, at the head of the bill here this week, are most amusing; Pyck, Tholl, and Taylor, in The Dancing Master, create roars of laughter; the Pardoes, in Uncle and the Cannibal, are clever; and other artists appearing include Lottie Holland; Sisters Cora, duettists and dancers, and sketch artists; Joan Deering, vocalist-violinist; Horace Monto, in musical sketch, Tommy Atkins at Play; and the Empire Bioscope Pictures.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, The Jackson Family; Business-Manager, John Jackson; Resident-Manager, James Jackson, sen.—A capital programme is submitted here this week. Loie Fuller's Ballet of Light is a charming spectacle; Tally-Ho Trio submit some amusing and refined vocalism; Tom E. Hughes, comedian, finds favour in his character song and patter; one of the best turns is contributed by Sergeant Brennan, whose wonderful dexterity as a diabolist wins hearty appreciation. Mr. Ladé Henderson, vocalist; Six Lancashire Lasses, vocalists and clog dancers; Baddow, ventriloquist; Hughes and Elliott, vocalists and dancers; and the Hippodrome pictures complete.

ROTHERHAM.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. Holbery Hardy.—Messrs. Dottridge, Longden, and Livesey's company is here this week with The Village Blacksmith. Mr. Sam Livesey gives a very fine rendition of the title-rôle, and Miss Lily Leicester as Harry Strong speaks her lines prettily. Mr. Albert Sinclair as Captain Leo, the villain, receives the execration his effective portrayal deserves, and is cleverly seconded by Mr. Edwin Maydew as Lucas Marier. Mr. Thomas E. Marshall scores as Jeremiah Parkins; Mr. Fred Haming is both amusing and clever as Billy Twigg; Miss Edith Giddens is smart as Martha Mopps; Mrs. T. C. Livesey does well as Sal Parkins; Miss Cassie Le Grande is seen to advantage as Ruth Parkins; and Miss Maggie Edwards gives a finished portrayal of the part of Kate Strong. The wrestling match in the last act creates great excitement.

HIPPODROME, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. T. Edgar Fox; Resident-Manager, Mr. Claude Shayler.—An excellent bill is being presented at this house. Miss Dolly Elsworthy and company head the list with The Orange Girl. Miss Elsworthy is a sprightly Nell Gwyn; Mr. John Richter is very smart as Charles II.; Mr. Arthur Steele scores as the Duke of Buckingham; Mr. A. Howard is worthy of mention as Dick Harnden; Miss Mary Wilson is a pleasing Lady Castlemaine; and Miss Annie Ward excels as Mother Gwyn. Gicardo is a youthful but clever juggler; the Carney Bros. have a capital vocal scena in Brothers; and Miss Marie Jones gives a smart turn as quick-change artist. The Three Bordellas are a brilliant troupe of gymnasts; Miss Marie Nielson excels as comedienne and dancer; and Miss Nellie Towers is a pleasing vocalist.

SALFORD.—PRINCE OF WALES'S.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. B. Goulden; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Goulden.—Messrs. Edward Lloyd and Frank Adair had a good reception by a full house on Monday, when they presented the famous old drama Man to Man. Mr. Frank Adair as the unworthy son made a great impression; Ethel Maythorne was ably impersonated by Miss Louie Adair; Mr. Edward Lloyd cleverly sustained the part of George Gordon; Mr. H. Holland capably played Matthew Ellerton; and Mr. Wilfred Beckwith as the mad parson was also successful. The comedy business was well done by Mr. H. Bruce Williams as Samuel Plumtree and Mr. Clifford Bown as Bill Burkley. Miss P. Oakley as Ned Doyle and Miss Evelyn Warde as Gipsy Madge also deserve special mention.

REGENT THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—Managing-Director Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Herbert Raymond; Secretary, Mr. J. C. Patterson.—Jock Whiteford, Scotch comedian, very smartly heads an excellent programme this week; Jane Lane is a good pianist, and does some very amusing business. The other turns include Walter Wallis, eccentric comedian; the Westwoods, comedy and expert cyclists; Kahn and Kahn, illusionists; Fred Holland (the Surrey cricketer), baritone; Rose Hamilton, versatile comedienne; Drum and Major, comedy artists; Dunning, clever ventriloquist; Selby and Myers, comedians and dancers; and Parker and Parr, Welsh vocal comedy entertainers.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead; General-Manager, Mr. H. Winstanley; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. Geo. F. Statter.—Mr. W. H. Hallatt's company is (twice nightly) presenting Two Little Sailor Boys. Mr. H. E. Herbert gives an excellent impersonation of Commander Tregarthen; Mr. Horace Booth as the villainous Lieut. Redstone plays well; Mr. C. W. Spencer makes a good Admiral Grey; and Mr. H. M. Clifford is well placed as Captain Tom Yorke. Miss Blanche Steele raises the ire of the gods and makes a decided hit with Lola Grey; Mildred Grey is charmingly portrayed by Miss Muriel Dean; Miss Effie Crawford and Miss Ivy Millais as Cyril Grey and Tom Yorke ably sustain the title-rôles; Jim Royston is a clever piece of work by Mr. Sidney Fiennes; very enjoyable comedy is contributed to by Mr. Tom Sinclair as Ben Baxter, Mr. Fred Acton as Jack Jolly, and Miss Lizzie Chambers as Lucy Wilson. Good staging, uniforms, and dresses.

OPERA HOUSE AND ASSEMBLY ROOMS, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Lester King.—A Jilted Woman's Revenge, Tale of the Revolution, Fido's Taking Way; Fantastical Airship, Fight for Honour, Polly's Excursion, His Wedding Morn, Night Alarm, Percy's Moustache, &c., are the new pictures given twice nightly this week to crowded houses. Mr. Lester King also pleases with his song (illustrated) "Daddy is the sweetheart for me."

SEACOMBE.—IRVING THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. James Kiernan.—Mr. Robert Macdonald's company is making a hit here this week with The Dairymaids, packed houses being the rule. Miss Carrie Lacey is eminently adapted to her part of Lady Brudenell, which she plays capitally; Lieut. Sam Brudenell R.N., and Lieut. Frank Meredith, R.N., are well handled by Mr. Richard Telford and Mr. J. Scott Melville respectively; Mr. Bernard Vaughan is an ideal exponent of Dr. O'Byrne, R.N., his "brogue" being both unctuous and natural; Mr. Dan easily earns premier honours in the comic line for his cleverly-humorous portrayal of Joe Mivens, A.B., his by-play being irresistible. The scenes in which he figures with his sweetheart, Eliza (Miss Edie Martin) cause continuous merriment. Winifred and Ellen are prettily played by the Misses Vera Crichton and Doris Dickens; Miss Lucy Edwin is austerity personified as Miss Penelope Pychase; Miss Madge Christopher and Miss Alathea Allardyce do well in their respective parts of Lady Hyde and Mrs. Cheyne; and Miss Empsie Bowman receives ovations for her rendering of the various numbers allotted to Peggy. The scenery leaves nothing to be desired, and both chorus and orchestra work together excellently under the direction of Mr. H. H. Shaw.

SEAHAM HARBOUR.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. A. C. Harrison; Manager, Mr. Harry D. Lyle.—Man and Wife, as presented by Messrs. Van Biene and Traynor's company, is proving a draw here this week. Mr. John F. Traynor gives an imposing personation of Paul Revere; Captain D'Esparre's rascality is faithfully depicted by Mr. Edward M. Hamilton; Jean finds a sympathetic exponent in Mr. George Overs; a dignified Colonel Latour is supplied by Mr. George Rammell; a convincing study of Sergeant Jacques is given by Mr. Ambrose Horton; as Bimbo and Bambo Mr. E. Hall-Eldon and Mr. Geo. Vinning give the lighter vein prominence; a thoroughly capable Marcelle is found in Miss Kate Hallam, who wins hearty praise; Miss Millie Doris as Rosette is sprightly and pleasing; and as Ruth Revere Miss Violet Temple is all that could be desired. The scenery is very fine.

SHEFFIELD. — LYCEUM THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart.—The farewell visit of Sir John Hare has been the theme of general conversation among lovers of the acted drama, and there was a large audience on Monday, when the eminent comedian appeared as the genial philanthropist Benjamin Goldfinch in the delightful play A Pair of Spectacles. Sir John kept the house in high good humour by the exercise of his finished art, and he was called before the curtain at the end of each act. The support accorded him was admirable, the ensemble being perfect with such artists as Miss Ada Ferrars, Miss Mona Oram, Miss B. Thomas, Mr. Ivor Dawson, Mr. W. T. Lovell, and Mr. Bertram Steer. The scenery and appointments were in perfect taste. Afterwards Sir John Hare appeared in his famous impersonation of Lord Kilclere in the one-act piece A Quiet Rubber, at the close of which there was a scene of extraordinary enthusiasm. The Gay Lord Quex was performed on Tuesday and Wednesday, and Caste was also billed.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager and Treasurer, Mr. J. E. B. Beaumont; Assistant-Manager, Mr. A. Henfrey-Aldred.—Mr. F. G. Kimberley's company opened on Monday to a good house in Walter Howard's popular military play Two Little Drummer Boys. Leading parts were carefully represented by Misses Maudie Douglas, Meg English, Patricia Connaughton, M. Ainslie, Violet Ingram; and Messrs. Will Percy, Edward Bikker, O. Douglass, Harry Scott, W. Geoff Sutherland, &c. The playing of the boys' band was applauded, and the performance was thoroughly appreciated.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. William D. Forsdike; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. W. Ramsay.—Her Love Against the World, Walter Howard's Lyceum success, was played for the first time in Sheffield on Monday to a crowded house by Messrs. W. H. Hallatt and Walter Howard's principal company. Mr. Fred Emery's gallant appearance and manly style of acting made him a fitting representative of the Earl of Strathmere; Miss Grace Heywood was a graceful and impressive Princess of Idalia; the part of Shulah was acted with her customary ability by the Alexandra favourite Miss Nellie Fletcher; Miss Rossie St. John was an interesting young Lord Lionel; Mr. Louis Gilbert submitted a fine reading of the character of Ulric, Prince of Ravensburg; Mr. W. H. Hallatt was good as Prince Othmar; and other characters were played by Mr. Victor Rowland, Mr. C. R. Hann, Mr. John Chesson, Mr. Arthur Hillyer, Mr. A. J. Moss, Mr. H. B. Lewis, Mr. John Mill, Miss Julie De Esco, Miss Gertie Reid, and Miss Hettie Ferguson. The scenery was much admired, and the military costumes were magnificent.

EMPIRE PALACE THEATRE.—The Moss Empires Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Alan D. Dunbar.—The special star this week is the original and amusing exponent of pawky Scottish humour Mr. Neil Kenyon, who is a great favourite. The Brothers Horne again cause hearty laughter in their comic boxing sketch, and other successful entertainers are Mason and Bart, in a smart gymnastic act; Charlene and Charlene, novelty artists; Miss Marion Scott, serio comedienne; Miss Blanch Vincent, vocalist; the Bros. Redmond, comedians; and the Peters, Phil and Nettie, in a comedy sketch. The band selection and the Bioscope pictures are also much-applauded items.

THE HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Resident-Manager, Mr. P. D. Elbourne.—Messrs. Lowenworth and Cohen, the talented Hebrew comedians and vocalists, reappeared on Monday and met with a hearty welcome; the Hilgest-Arcas company did a clever and elegant acrobatic act; Miss Norah Stockell, a graceful burlesque actress, and Miss Billie Burford, a pretty vocalist, were well received. Mr. Joe Peterman's company caused much amusement in a musical skit on the old-fashioned melodrama entitled The Singing Servant; Keen and Waller were loudly applauded; and the others engaged were the Panamas, in a pleasing pot-pourri entertainment; Mr. Fred Hastings, a funny female impersonator; and Messrs. Nightingale and Stigant. A pathetic film drama of the Pathé Frères firm, The Postman, was much enjoyed.

GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. A. W. Turpin.—The Raymond Bio-Tableaux still delight the habitués of this house with such fine animated picture plays as The Deserter, The Ma-in-Law, &c. The variety company includes Messrs. Metz and Metz, speciality artists, and Miss Le Roy, comedienne, &c.

CENTRAL THEATRE.—Lessees, the Jasper Redfern Co., Ltd.—The newcomers this week are Captain Kettle, the amusing comedy conjurer; Mr. George Bernard, vocal comedian; and the talented Sisters Henderson, vocalists and dancers.

THE PAVILION.—Manager, Mr. C. R. Wordsworth.—Moving pictures by all the leading firms continue to please large audiences.

SHREWSBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Director, Mr. W. Yates Gregory; General-Manager, Mr. Thos. Baugh; Licensee and Resident-Manager, Mr. W. C. Dornton.—Mr. Morton Powell's talented company is here this week with The Mystery of Edwin Drood, nicely mounted and artistically played. In the heavy and difficult rôle of John Jasper, Mr. Bartlett Garth acts throughout with marked ability; Mrs. Morton Powell makes a pleasing and successful Rosa Bud; Mr. G. Ridgway Thorne merits considerable praise as Edwin Drood; Mr. J. Henry Twyford makes a manly and thoroughly capable Neville Landless; Mr. Richard Harris as Septimus Chrisparkle plays in a creditable manner the part of the sympathetic Canon; Mr. David Phillips makes a capital Durdles; Mr. Geo. J. Clayton merits encomiums as Chief Constable of Cloisterham; Mr. Wm. R. Berry acts in a praiseworthy manner as Constable of Cloisterham; Mr. Albert S. Goldburn and Mr. Arthur S. Gosport are a couple of picturesque characters as opium smokers (Celestials); Miss Jennie Risley in the character-part of Deputy is deserving of considerable commendation; Miss Dora Eastlake is dignified in deportment and diction as Helena Landless; Miss Addie Adair as the old hag Princess Puffer makes up finely and acts capably; and Miss Dot Russell is a capital servant as Mary Jane.

SMETHWICK. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietor, Mr. C. Barnard; Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson.—Mr. Henry Swinerd's company is paying a welcome return visit with Dare-Devil Dorothy, and the principal members of the company are having capital receptions. Miss Dorothy Desmonde acts well and sings sweetly in the title-rôle; Miss Nellie Valentine acquits herself admirably as the sister Ruth; Mis Nellie Harcourt as Judith is as vivacious and winsome as ever; Mr. Walter Ashley is a capital Captain George Fielding; Mr. Walter B. Nugent gives a clever study of the villain, Captain Edward Dudley; Mr. Edward Aldworth shows ability as Hawkins; Mr. Dean Cliffe makes the most of his rôle as Featherstone Haugh; and Mr. Will Brereton is as good a comedian as one wishes to see and hear; Miss Florence Corri as Rosy Ann and Miss Daisy Holbrook as Polly are clever acrobatic and speciality dancers. Under the direction of Mr. J. W. Cordiner and musical conductorship of Mr. George Encyl Lewis the piece goes with increased swing.

SOUTHAMPTON. — GRAND THEATRE. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Fredk. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. Arthur Weston.—The Belle of New York is being presented by Mr. J. Bannister Howard's company. Mr. Frank Lawton's whistling is quite a feature of the representation.

PALACE. — Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. Trussell.—Gunner Moir, the British heavy-weight boxer, receives an enthusiastic welcome, and the cinematograph views of the Moir v. Burns fight are entertaining. Haley's Juveniles are wonderfully clever, particularly Dot and Spot, two smart youngsters; Miss Olga Audre and company appear in The Crimson Stain; and others who entertain are Phern and Pherne, musical artists; Ellis and Watts, comedians; the Davenports, illusionists; Harry Attwood, comedian; and the Sisters Brenton, vocalists, &c.

HIPPODROME.—Joint Managing-Directors, Messrs. Fredk. Mouillot and W. de Frece; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Yardley.—Garland and Douglas, with their successful Trip to Coon Town, take the house by storm, and win endless applause; Maidie Scott is as popular as ever; and Marriott Edgar scores his usual big success. Grahame's Juveniles, the Borghetti Troupe of acrobats, Luxe's troupe of dogs, the Falcons (equilibrists), and the Bros. Lawrence, dancers, all score big hits.

EMPIRE.—Manager, Mr. Auguste Denton.—The Walturdaw pictures continue to attract good houses twice nightly. The steadiness of the pictures is remarkable, and the entertainment from first to last is a capital one.

SOUTHPORT.—OPERA HOUSE, WINTER GARDENS.—Proprietors, The Southport Opera House and Winter Gardens Co., Ltd.; Secretary and General-Manager, Mr. R. Singleton.—Under the direction of Mr. Silvanus Dauncey an excellent interpretation of Mr. Henry Arthur Jones's well-known play The Hypocrites is being presented this week by Mr. Charles Frohman's well selected and capable company. Mr. H. Lawrence Leyton submits a characteristic and well studied impersonation of the Rev. Edgar Linnell; Mr. Alfred S. Barber is distinctly successful in the part of Mr. Wilmore; the rôle of Lennard Wilmore was very well played by Mr. King Fordham; one of the best character-sketches was that of Mr. Charles Harley as the lawyer Mr. Viveash; Mr. Cecil Brooking is prominent and clever as the Rev. Everard Daubeney; Sir John Plugenet had a meritorious representative in Mr. Sydney Hamilton; Dr. Blaney was well played by Mr. Hanworth Browning; Miss Amy Ravenscroft depicted Mrs. Wilmore with great credit and force; Miss Gladys Purnell and Miss Gladys Harvey as Helen Plugenet and Rachel Neve respectively were both commendable portraitures; whilst Miss Florence Steventon, Miss Grete Hahn, and Miss Violet Harley did well in the parts of Mrs. Blaney, Mrs. Linnell, and Patty.

SOUTH SHIELDS. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Lessees and Managers, Messrs. John and Fred Coulson.—Mr. Frederick Mouillot's company is here, in A Message from Mars. Mr. Wallace Widdicombe as Horace Parker gives a striking impersonation; the physique and splendid delivery of Mr. William H. Brougham amply fit him for the rôle of the Messenger; Mr. Norman Clark as the Tramp deserves praise. Other important parts are undertaken by Miss Rose Helene (Minnie Templer), Miss Flora Hastings (Miss Parker), and Mr. Robert Grey (Arthur Dicey).

EMPIRE PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietors, the South Shields Empire Palace, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. F. Thompson.—Miss Lydia Yeamans, in her wonderful impersonations, is as charming and versatile as ever; she is assisted by F. J. Titus, at the piano. Tom Lloyd, eccentric comedian, has a big reception; clever dancing is done by the Delevines in their sketch, Flipp and Flopp; and some excellent concertina-playing is contributed by Percy Honri. Other good items are supplied by the Three Rochesters, society entertainers; Jeannie Mackay, ballad vocalist; and Maud Vera, comedienne and dancer. The Bioscope is interesting.

TIVOLI, LAYGATE CIRCUS.—Proprietor, Councillor J. K. Hall.—The Five Musical Tritons' vocal and instrumental performance is of a pleasing character; a good impression is created by Gertie Gordon, a clever comedienne and dancer; Madame Le Clair, with her illustrated choral songs, is well received; Charles Coll, a versatile comedian, pays a welcome return visit; and the Tivoloscope shows another excellent series of films.

SPENNYMOOR.—CAMBRIDGE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Hugh Robertson; General-Manager, Mr. Lloyd Clarance; Resident-Manager, Mr. David Collins.—A visit is being paid to the above theatre this week by Mr. Gilbert's Payne's comedians in a musical comedy oddity, The Honeymoon. As Nathaniel Noodle Mr Payne is exceptionally funny; Mr. Edward Ray gives a commendable performance as Archie; the Colonel Brown of Mr. H. F. Housden is effective; Jack Armstrong is well sustained by Mr Leslie Erle; Miss Hettie Lind as Madge Armstrong gives a good performance; Miss Lizzie Palmer sings and dances well; and the speciality dances by the Godfrey Girls meet with appreciation.

STALYBRIDGE.—GRAND HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. James Fioni; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. A. Jackson.—Mr. Harry Roxbury and company present a couple of amusing sketches, The Prince of Monte Carlo and The Cowboy Millionaire, in each of which Mr. Tubby Edlin takes a leading comedy part. Very acceptable turns are also supplied by Lily Currie, a pretty singer of chorus ballads; Yettmah, Japanese impressionist and magician; Edwards and Ward, comedians; the McAleaveys, champion jumpers; the Katos, the Lilliputian kidgets; Bass and Davis, cross-talk comedians, and others.

ST. HELENS.—THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. A. McLeod Loader; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. E. Johnson.—The Power of the King is produced this week by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kimberley and Messrs. Travis Green and Arthur Hinton's company. Mr. Travis Green appears as the Crown Prince Oscar, and plays the villain with much power, while Mr. Gerald Blake makes a very commendable hero of Captain Rupert Landgrave; possessed of a fine appearance, Mr. Charles Whitlock looks and acts the King to life; General Stanovie and Lady Florina take a great part in the wrong-doing, and are suitably portrayed by Mr. P. Morton Wright and Miss Georgina V. France; as Lady Anastasia Miss Dorothy Clifton presents an excellent piece of acting combined with a charming appearance; Miss Ruby Sutherland as Phillipi is a lovable little boy. The dresses are costly and handsome.

H

STOCKPORT.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Charles Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Wm. Revill.—The Catch of the Season, presented here for the first time by Mr. Dudley Bennett and Mr. T. C. Wray's company has thoroughly entertained large audiences throughout the week. Mr. Wm. Greene impersonates the character of the Duke of St. Jermyn with natural ease and ability; Isaac Isaacstein is amusingly portrayed by Mr. H. C. Berry; Miss Alice Hamilton makes a stately Lady Chrystal; Miss Gladys Guy acts and sings delightfully as Angela; Miss Grace Hampton is very pleasing as Lady Caterham; and Master Ernest Grata proves himself a clever juvenile as Bucket.

EMPIRE. — Proprietors, The Stockport Empire Theatre Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Black.—The Four Eugenes, ariel gymnasts, who occupy the chief position on the bill this week, accomplish many clever feats; Mozzetto and Page, jugglers, are exceptionally smart; Mr. and Mrs. Woodley Hulse, in an interesting playlet A Shilling Toy, command well-deserved appreciation; the Wakeman Quintette, in musical comedy sketch, are entertaining; Oliver Conroy is a comical comedian; Edwards and Edwards in their musical speciality are very pleasing; Rousby and Rene in Fine Feathers meet with favour; and much appreciation is bestowed upon Victor and Louis, The Golfer and the Caddie.

STOCKTON-ON-TEES.—CASTLE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Chas. Imeson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Cecil Imeson.—Miss Emma and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company in the successful comedy Peter's Mother is drawing large audiences here. Miss Violet Ley as Lady Mary Crewys acquits herself with consummate ability, and is very impressive throughout. Mr. Eille Norwood as the Q.C. is well suited to his part; as Lady Belstone Miss Mary Griffiths does well; Miss Josephine Rae as the spinster sister (Miss Crewys) is very amusing; Sir Timothy Crewys is in the able hands of Mr. Townsend Whitling; Mr. Vivian Gilbert gives a fine study of Peter; Mr. Edward Jophson makes a typical Dr. Blundell; Mr. Walter Russell as Canon Birch is good; and Miss Hilda Sims is a taking Sarah. The amusing curtain-raiser, Turtle Doves, is well received.

GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. John Batty; Manager, Mr. Walter Batty.—Mr. M. Montgomery's stock company is playing here this week an exciting drama, Two Little Heroes, and is drawing good houses. Payne's Bio-photoscope shows some very funny films.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Harry Burns; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. Stainton.—Arthur Watson and Flo Stanley are here this week in a musical and comedy sketch, The Cruise of H.M.S. Victory, their singing and dancing being loudly applauded. The Three Hodginis in a revolving ladder act are daring; Marie Blythe is a favourite vocalist; Florence and Rose Showell, duettists, sing well; Harley and Hardon, comedians and dancers, have good patter and dance well; Clivetto is a clever juggler; Madge Goodall, comedienne and dancer, takes well; and the Bioscope shows some excellent films.

STOKE-ON-TRENT.—HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; General-Manager, Mr. H. F. Miller; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. Moroney.—Eugene Stratton is undoubtedly one of the most popular artists ever presented here, and on Monday his singing and dancing were much applauded; F. V. St. Clair is another old friend who is always well received, and his up-to-date allusions to current events are most popular; the Musical Keiths give a pleasing instrumental show; the act of the Forsyths in The Tramp in the Nursery is most amusing; the Toreadors, in their burlesque of a bullfight are very funny; Chiko, contortionist, Cara Magda, gymnast, Phyllis Seymour, soubrette and dancer, and the Pictures are all pleasing.

STOURBRIDGE. — ALHAMBRA THEATRE. — General-Manager, Mr. Douglas C. Phelps.—Dainty Lady Dorothy paid her first visit here this week, and met with a cordial reception from a full house. The title-rôle was exceptionally well played by Miss Eva Darrell, who looked the part and sang her numbers well; Mr. Edgar Dereve proved himself an excellent comedian, and his scenes with Dorothy were much enjoyed; Mr. W. H. Montgomery possesses a good voice, and ably portrayed Lord Arnold. The remaining members of the company rendered efficient support, the dancing being particularly good.

SUNDERLAND.—KING'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. S. F. Davidson; General-Manager, Mr. A. Telford; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. Reach.—Mr. Hamilton Stewart and company are here with Sherlock Holmes. Mr. Hamilton Stewart is an ideal delineator of the title-rôle; Mr. Robert Gilbert plays the part of Prof. Moriarty exceptionally well; Mr. Arthur Sheldon gives an effective portrayal of Dr. Watson; and an equal share of praise is due to Mr. Walter A. Cheltenham for his John Forman; Mr. Douglas Murray as Sydney Prince, Mr. Mark D. Draper as James Larrabee, and Mr. Louis Alexander as Alfred Bassick all go through their respective parts in excellent style. Master Thos. Russell pleases by his smartness as Billy; Alice Faulkner is admirably sustained by Miss Betty Fairfax, and the Madge Larrabee of Miss Edith Vogue is highly creditable; Miss Elsie Goulding is also good as Theresa.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. Richard Thornton; Manager, Mr. Hy. Esden.—Messrs. Sydney Rennef and G. M. Copping's company in Love Rules the World met with the warm approbation of a large audience at this theatre on Monday. Miss Conyers Radcliffe plays Maud Carruthers cleverly; Harold Kingston is in the capable hands of Mr. Richard Vane; Flo Morton and Stephen Blight are capably delineated by Miss Constance Medwyn and Mr. Stephen Langton; Mr. Sydney Rennef is responsible for an interesting rendering of Jim Dixey. A delightful vein of comedy runs through the piece, and Miss Kitty Russell (Kitty Snowdrop) and Mr. Walter Dale (Billy Binks) are most diverting.

EMPIRE THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr Richard Thornton; Resident-Manager, Mr. Harry Esden.—At the head of an excellent bill this week is Lil Hawthorne, who greatly adds to her popularity in the three songs which she sings. They are tuneful, well sung, and cleverly presented. Caicedo gives a remarkably fine performance, consisting of a series of thrilling feats on the wire; Madge Temple's act is a capital feature, and both in style and in her songs she is decidedly fetching. Her burlesque on the matinée hat is specially good. One of the successes of the evening is Fred Keeton, with humorous songs; some clever acrobatic business is shown in James Eadie and Cissy Ramsden's comedy duo; the Norman and Leonard Trio present a smart musical act; Walter Munroe pleases with a revival of his old songs and dancing, and Sydney Stern uses a fine voice with powerful effect.

PALACE THEATRE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Lennox Barry.—Most noticeable in a very good programme this week are Frank Long, Omoyo San, and company in their great ju-jitsu act, which is both interesting and edifying. Frank Seely entertains with comic songs; Bob Hamilton is welcome with his Scotch patter; and Gertie Lewis, male impersonator and dancer, the Fordyces, vocalists and dancers, Little Frankie, "the Highland Laddie," and Johnnie Holland and company, in the farcical absurdity The Boatbuilder, all give excellent turns.

SWANSEA.—THE GRAND.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. E. Oswald Brooks; Acting-Manager and Treasurer, Mr. Walter Dean.—Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company is presenting Lady Frederick, with Miss Mabel Love in the title-rôle. Miss Love, in a delightful part, is able to make full use of her many charms. She is cleverly supported by Mr. Robert Minster as Paradine Fouldes; Lord Mereston is admirably played by Mr. E. F. Meads; Miss Elsie Irving is a capital Lady Mereston. Lady Frederick is preceded by an amusing certain-raiser, The Peacemaker.

THE STAR.—Manager, Mr. William Coutts; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. J. Powell.—Messrs. Travis Green and Arthur Hinton's company is seen to considerable advantage at the Star in Home, Sweet Home. Stephen Armitage is played with enthusiasm by Mr. Arthur Hinton; and the David Armitage of Mr. Fred C. Kay is worthy of notice. Mr. David Beattie, as the objectionable Lucas Lyle is also good; Miss Lydia Andre's portrayal of Joan stamps her as a particularly fine artist; another excellently played part is that of Dora, in which Little Hilda Vokes excels

THE EMPIRE, LTD.—Manager, Mr. P. C. Rowe; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. H. Lennon.—An exceptionally strong bill is headed by The Brigands of Tarragona, and the excellent way it is performed by Herbert Darnley's company places it in the front rank of music-hall sketches. The Ten Zerbinis' musical act is a notable one; May Edouin contributes pleasing numbers in an original and clever style; and Bonnie Goodwin's Piccaninnies, who are assisted by Miss Lily Vine, contribute a telling dancing turn; Enzer, who has the assistance of Miss Clarice Enzer, provides a thrilling sword display and ju-jitsu; Walter King with his humourism is a gigantic success; and Arthur Astill makes a decided hit as a whistling expert. An enjoyable song and dance by Kitty Clinton, and the Bioscope conclude.

THE PALACE.—Manager, Mr. William Coutts; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. J. Powell.—The Bioscopic Academy is again excellently filled by such stirring films as The Dowry Hunters, The Kind-Hearted Shoeblack, Sold by His Parents, &c., the vocal part of the entertainment being entrusted to Madame Ben Thomas and Mr. Joe Dennis, who are both in fine voice.

SWINDON.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Proprietors, The Wiltshire Entertainments Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Alfred Manners.—Mr. G. Carlton Wallace's company in The Lancashire Lad is appearing here this week. David Elmore, the Lancashire Lad, is in the capable hands of Mr Alec. Alexander; Mr. T. G. Vane is effective as Max Carlton; the acting of Mr. Wilton Read as Jem Wincote is good, and Mr. Bob Anderson causes much fun as John Willie Wardle, the village carpenter. Miss Stanley Burt displays much feeling as Jessie Wincote; Miss Nell Oliver presents a forceful rendering of the part of Lorna Wincote; Miss Jennie Hallworth makes a pleasing Jane Alice Clitheroe, and the Mother Wardle of Miss Molly Monaghan is realistic. The smaller characters are well taken.

TON-Y-PANDY.—ROYAL.—Proprietors, Messrs. Carlton and Duckworth; General-Manager, Mr. Sam Duckworth; Acting-Manager, Mr. R. Barrie.—An important engagement is that of Mr. Reginald Dance's highly capable company in Raffles. The mounting and scenery are all that can be desired. In the name-part Mr Lewis Edgard is a thorough success; as Curtis Bedford Mr. C. Kean displays great ability; Mr. Arthur Bell assumes the rôle of Bunny very creditably; the Crawshay of Mr Oswald Griffiths is praiseworthy; and Lord Crawley and Lord Amersteth are safely entrusted to Messrs. P. Alexander and Rivers Bertram. Miss F. Titheradge wins much favour as Gwendoline Conran; while as Mrs Vidal Miss Brenda Gibson scores heavily. Lady Melrose and Lady Ethel are suitably assigned to Misses Kittie Lofting and Winnie Radcliffe; Miss Eva Bevington makes the most of the part of Marie.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Will Stone.—The Two Rangers top the bill with a truly clever and unique cycle act; Musical Silvo is cheered to the echo; Liddon and Hayward provide plenty of humour in The Midnight Express; Halbert is an elastic comedian; Violet Ashcroft and Will Verne add greatly to the evening's success. Wilbur Wright and His Aeroplane is the chief picture.

TORQUAY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Managing-Director, Mr. W. H. Mortimer; Secretary, Mr. Arthur Pearse.—Mr. Chas. H. Lester's company is occupying the boards here this week, and opened on Monday with The Bank of England. Mr. Lester as Sherlock Holmes played in the cool and calculating style typical of the great detective. Mr. A. Evremond made an amusing Tommy Sprouts, and Mr. Chris. Felton provoked much merriment as the Hon. Bertie Burlington; Miss Fernandez made a characteristic American widow of Mrs. Beane, and Miss Lydie Hart is well placed as Margaret Dane. The Sylvia Barraclough of Miss Dorothy Riddell is decidedly good, and Mr. Harry T. Wood is responsible for a clever representation of Eric Dane; Mr. R. Bosco is entrusted with the unthankful rôle of Stephen Hartley, and gives a very creditable performance. The Sorrows of Satan and A Life for a Life are also in the bill.

TREHERBERT.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Poole, Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. H. Stephens.—Good business is being done by Messrs. Fred Little and Fred Darcy's company in The Executioner's Daughter. As the executioner Mr. John B. Murray fully upholds his reputation; Mr. S. Leigh Courtney is well suited as Felix Marius; Mr. Walter Clarke scores heavily as Paul Rovel; Mr. Frank Ayrton causes roars of laughter in the part of Tom Holmes; Miss Enid Edoni is a striking and artistic Annette; Miss Nellie Howitt makes a powerful Felice; Miss Madge Seymour is droll as Sally King; Little Prudence Ayrton in the part of Christine shows marked ability for one so young. For the last three nights Geoffrey Langdon's Wife is announced.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS.—OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee Mr. Weldon Dale.—Hippodrome Season.—Zena Pana's clever musical sketch at the piano entitled "After the Matinée" is highly appreciated, and so is Fred Clements in his latest success "Things I have noticed." The Tossing Austens give a skilful juggling and dancing scena; and an amusing duologue, The Turtle Doves, is smartly performed by Kenway and Emery; while Little Victoria is a promising child comedienne. The Johnstown Flood, a clever stage illusion, is the sensation of the week.

TYLDESLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. W. Brierley.—A novel attraction in the Royal British Stage Circus is meeting with success this week. Mr. Robert Yelding proves himself a clever and daring bareback rider; Jako gives a gymnastic display of a high order; Miss Addalla is a talented contortionist; and some wonderful feats on the wire are performed by Miss Lena Scott. Uno Bros., comedy jugglers and acrobats; Miss Rolla, rolling globe artist; Leo Berto, with his midget pony, Prince; Gilleno and Shadow, clowns, also provide acceptable turns.

WAKEFIELD. — OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Sherwood and Co.—Mr. J. A. Campbell's company in the drama, The Old Folks at Home, is here this week. Mr. Frank Liston gives a clever portrayal as Lord Kenilworth; Mr. Aidin Lovett fills with distinction the rôle of Andrew Ross; Mr. Henry Nelson submits a good rendering of Christopher Robin; Mr. Frank Caffrey as Ben Jolly enlivens the play considerably; Mr. Vernon Procter is capable as Hugh Lovell; Miss Maud Warburton wins high appreciation for her sympathetic and able rendition as Dorothy Robin; Miss Kate Froud achieves considerable success as Patricia Bathurst; and Miss Clara Santley wins favour as Martha.

HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. Sydney Tolfree.—The Kurios, pantomimic artists, contribute an amusing and novel turn; Shenton and Chicks are clever dancers; Miss Flo Melville, comedienne, gives an enjoyable turn; Cullen and Carthy and Little Cluley keep the house in good humour; Rosa Tilley, comedienne, sings well; Kavados, juggler, has a capital reception; and the Hull Newsboy Trio provide an acceptable turn.

WARRINGTON. — ROYAL COURT.—Proprietor, Mr. J. Beecham; Manager, Mr. A. M. Loader; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. Smiley.—Mr. Carlton Wallace's company are reappearing here this week in the stirring play, The Love that Women Desire, and good business is again the order. Mr. J. O. Stewart as Squire Abingdon infuses into the rôle plenty of dramatic force, and he is ably assisted in the heavier parts by Mr. Morris Maud as Richard Abingdon and Miss Jessie Elvin as Madge Abingdon, the latter submitting a really clever sketch of a woman possessed of a remorseless nature. Mr. Sydney Leyton is a manly Philip Carnaby; and the humorous element is capitally sustained by Mr. John Hignett as Dennis O'Rourke, Mr. J. W. Wilkinson as P.C. Sowerbury, and Miss May Neilson as Patty. A graceful portrayal of Sybil Thornton is that of Miss Aimee Grattan Clyndes. The minor parts are adequately represented, and the staging is very effective.

ROYAL THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. W. Johnson; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Waters.—Animated pictures of a delightful nature form the chief attraction here this week.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; General-Manager, Mr. G. D. Bradbury.—Another capital entertainment is provided here this week, a striking feature being its versatility. Ford and Barras supply an acceptable turn, and their singing and dancing are responsible for vigorous applause; Frank Cass is a delightful character-vocalist, and the song "Saints and sinners" is an excellent composition; Elroy, the armless wonder, causes astonishment with his marvellous feats of painting; the Lyons Trio are capable pantomimists; Charles Banks scores well with a good selection of songs; and Gracie Hunt is a charming comedienne. Woodhouse and Wells score well in a knockabout turn; and Cissie Esdaile is a chic comedienne. Charles Banks sings capitally, and is well assisted by his dog "Woof." The pictures are good.

WEDNESBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. Harry Battersby; Acting-Manager, Mr. Tom Kuner.—Messrs. Battersby and Forbes's company, in the new and interesting drama The Empty Cradle, is proving an excellent attraction here this week. Mr. Claude H. Seaton as Kenneth Bloodworth and Mr. St. Clair Forbes as Carnaby Bloodworth prove admirable characters; and artistic interpretation of Sir Carnaby Bloodworth is given by Mr. D. Urquhart; and as the gipsy (Jas. Boswell) Mr. Fred Wells makes a popular figure. Miss Nancy Battersby highly distinguishes herself in the rôle of Ida Boswell, the gipsy, hearty appreciation being also accorded to Miss Florence Treivoir in her representation of Mary Barton. As Sarah Puddicombe Miss Connie Meadows does full justice to the part; and the rendering of Martha is capably handled by Mrs. Tom Wilson.

WEST BROMWICH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Mr. Richard Nightingale.—The management of this popular place of amusement has made a change from ordinary drama this week, having secured Mr. Dickie Clare's company of comedians, who are producing the musical farcical absurdity, Lucky 'Liza. The change is appreciated, and there have been enthusiastic audiences. Mr. Dickie Clare himself fills no fewer than three rôles—a New Yorker, a Judge, and a French waiter—with great ability; and Miss Madge Brownie is a success as Eliza Bird (Lucky 'Liza); while the other parts are capably sustained. Some very clever dances are given by the Astor Trio; and the Chronoscope depicts the latest pictures.

NEW HIPPODROME. — Resident-Manager, Mr. Archie Ainsleigh.—The management has been fortunate enough to have secured Messrs. H. Armitage and Arthur Leigh's company, which, by arrangement with Charles Frohman, is producing Leah Kleschna. In the title-rôle Miss Bessie Rignold is exceptionally good; and Mr. Wm. Clayton as Kleschna has a part which he fills with much power. Mr. Hamilton Drane is very clever as Paul Sylvaine; Mr. Algernon J. Hicks as Raoul Berton and Mr. Gilbert Heron as Schram are deserving of special mention for their praiseworthy efforts. The play is excellently staged.

WEST HARTLEPOOL.—PALACE. — Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. A. E. Dobney.—Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, in Original Scenes from Dickens, have been seen here on previous occasions, and their popularity is as great as ever. On the present occasion they introduced Dick Swiveller and the little Marchioness, and their performance is an exceptional treat. The Florodoras are also popular favourites in their musical comedy; Chris. Richards, in eccentric comedy, is original; Alice Maydue is excellent in coster character; Marguerite Ismay and her White Coons sing in delightful harmony; fun is rampant during the musical comedy duologue of Clark and Hayden; and Harry Simms, light comedian, provides an agreeable item. Raymond's Bio-Tableaux are enjoyable.

WESTON-SUPER-MARE. — KNIGHTSTONE PAVILION AND OPERA HOUSE. — Manager, Mr. W. Payne.—Miss Grace Warner's répertoire company is paying a very successful visit here this week, and on Monday Lady Audley's Secret was staged. Miss Grace Warner gave a powerfully dramatic impersonation of Lady Audley; Mr. T. C. Carroll's interpretation of Sir Michael was thoroughly artistic; Mr. George Gordon made the most of Robert Audley; and Mr. Fred Wilson was exceptionally good as George Talboys. Mr. A. B. Lyons, Mr. C. Morton, and Mr. Roy Rhind were all praiseworthy in their respective characters. Miss K. Stewart showed much ability as Alicia, Miss K. Cranston was good as Mrs. Jopper, Miss A. M. Corri excelled as Phœbe Marks, and Miss M. Lewis's Hetty must be commended. Miss Nora Bretton as Prunetta and Miss Violet Palfrey are entitled to eulogy.

WHITEHAVEN.—MARKET HALL.—Lessees, The Edison Picture Co.; Manager, Mr. Victor Branford.—The new pictures shown here this week include The Greaser's Gauntlet, Love at First Sight, The Mohawk's Revenge, The Old Actor, and The False Coiners. A pleasing feature is the Edison Zenophone, with illustrated songs.

WIDNES.—ALEXANDRA.—Proprietor, Mr. James Kiddie.—This week Mr. Frank Stanmore's company is here with The Gay Deceivers. Mr. Stanmore plays the part of Lord Reggie ably; Mr. Mark Lester proves himself a good comedian by his work as Joseph; Miss Dorothy Chard, a sweet and winning heroine, fairly brings down the house with her tuneful vocalisation; Mr. Douglas Phillips as Lieut. Dewar looks the part and uses a good baritone voice well; Mr. Francis Chamier does sound work as Major Kurrie; the peculiarities of the fiery Colonel Dewar are nicely accentuated by Mr. Arthur Dennis; Mr. Leslie Hawkins does well in the part of a nondescript burglar; Miss Kate Chard is an able Mrs. Dewar; Miss Dora Lane a charming Winnie Winter; and as Rosie Miss Hettie Gale is responsible for comedy work.

WIGAN. — ROYAL COURT THEATRE.—Proprietors, the Wigan Entertainments Co.—Florodora is paying a welcome return visit here. Mr. Gus Danby figures conspicuously in the well-known part of Tweedlepunch; Frank Abercoed finds an able exponent in Mr. M. D. Pitt; Miss Lilie Blythe gives an excellent portrayal of Lady Holyrood; and Miss Daisy Lake is a vivacious Dolores. Miss Louie Danby is a dainty Angela; while the Misses Daisy Wickendon, Nellie Laurie, Mercia Russell, and May Gould deserve special mention for their dancing.

THE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, The Wigan Entertainments Co.—The Cragga, the well-known acrobats, in their comedy sketch Billy are accorded a big reception. Miss Florrie Gallimore, the favourite comedienne, contributes some very acceptable songs in her most captivating style; the Lyric Mummers are excellent vocalists, and their songs are highly applauded; J. H. Ellis makes a decided hit with his parody on "Love me and the world is mine"; the Society Quartette supply a vocal and dancing turn of considerable merit; Harry Taylor, comedian, sings a couple of songs acceptably; and the sketch by Whimsical Walker and company is thoroughly enjoyed. Mason, the Yorkshire mimic, and the Musical Jacksons conclude an excellent programme.

THE EMPIRE PALACE.—Lessees, the New Bioscope Trading Co.; District-Manager, Mr. Gerald Hunt; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. C. Woon.—The programme of living pictures is a very enjoyable one, some of the chief being Maria Martin; or, the Murder in the Red Barn, Tommy's Trip to Morocco, Snatched from a Terrible Death, His Sweetheart's Birthday, A Double Suicide, Don Juan, and The Harmless Lunatic. Joe Leonard, vocalist and dancer; and Willie Hicks, descriptive vocalist, are also very acceptable turns.

WOLVERHAMPTON.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Charles Barnard; Resident-Manager, Mr. Gerald Spencer.—Lovers of pure drama are afforded a treat this week in the visit of Messrs. Alfred Paumier and Walter Howard's company with The Prince and the Beggar Maid. The drama is certainly one of the best seen here for some time, and large and enthusiastic audiences are the rule. Miss Ethel Bracewell is to be congratulated on her portrayal of the Princess; Mr. Alfred Brandon as Prince Hildred gives an interesting performance; and Mr. Ernest Cox's assumption of Prince Olaf is full of fire and vigour. Mr. Melville Bickford displays dignity and pathos as the hunchback, Prince Michael; Captain Hector has an excellent representative in Mr. W. S. Mills; Mr. Kenneth Black is to be commended as the Bishop of Illyria; Mr. W. S. Hardy is good as the brusque Colonel Wellenberg; and Mr. A. E. Shuttleworth is a boyish and amusing Lieut. Karl. Miss Jessica Black is a girlish and graceful Viola; and Miss Gertrude Branscombe a pathetic Camiola.

EMPIRE PALACE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. Frank Weston.—The programme here this week is well up to its usual excellence. The Seven Xentrix (five ladies and two gentlemen) present a rollicking vocal and dancing scena, which is brimful of dash and go; Dora Lyric sings chorus songs which soon catch on; H. R. Friscari performs wonderful tricks with silk hats; the Jackley Trio present a refined drawing-room act; and the bill includes Ryder Slone, character comedian; Stevens and Rennior, eccentric dancers; and Archie Glen, comedian.

WORCESTER. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. Le Warde.—Melodrama is the bill of fare this week, and popular parts of the house are showing generous approval of Messrs. Arthur Shirley and Ben Landeck's production, entitled Women and Wine. Mr. E. Vivian Edmonds as Dick Seymour is responsible for a powerful impersonation; Miss C. St. Elmo achieves success as Marcel Rigadout, and was at her best in the sensational duel scene with La Colombe (Miss Octavia de Noel); the part of Caliban was cleverly depicted by Mr. Edwin T. Kirby; Mr. J. Milne-Taylor made the part of Hugh Seymour highly attractive; and Mr. R. Foulis was an adequate exponent of the desperado Alphonse Beaudet. Some clever dancing was introduced by the Lottie Stone troupe.

WORKSOP.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. S. Goodman.—The Prodigal Parson occupied the boards of the Gaiety last week-end, and gave entire satisfaction. The Rev. Tom Godley, the principal character, was taken with success by Mr. Logan Darra, who gave a capital delineation of the manly exponent of religion; as his wronged and persecuted wife, Miss Violet Hammersley revealed histrionic merits above the ordinary; Enoch Juggins, the villain of the piece, was invested with due callousness by Mr. Alfred Northway; Phil Drive, the handy man at the vicarage, was in the capable hands of Mr. Owen Redmonde, who created roars of laughter. The remainder of the caste was in capable hands, and the piece, especially the Carnival scene, was well staged.

WORTHING.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Herr C. Adolf Seebold.—A welcome return to the drama is made here this week by the appearance of Miss Ida Molesworth and Mr. Mark Blow's company at Roaring Camp. Mr. Mark Blow gives a clever display as Will Gordon; Mr. Chas. Johnson capably enacts the character of Tom Barnes, as does Mr. C. Scott that of Paddy McGinty. Good work is put in by Mr. Roy Jackson as Gonzales; Mr. Reg. Harley West ably enacts the character of the Hon. Wm. Beaufort; Master Arthur Foster is satisfactory as Tommy; Miss Fay Garnet Vayne is an excellent Nell Curtis; and Miss Constance Elgin did well as Jovita de Sutro.

WREXHAM.—EMPIRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Jno. J. Scott.—This week Henriette and Selina, society entertainers, have pleased the patrons here; the Vandevilles present highly-amusing sketches; the Two Perkins are clever patterers; and Miss Louie King sings and dances in a taking manner. The pictures this week are also very entertaining.

YORK.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, Messrs. Waddington.—The Monckton-Hoffe company has appeared during the week with much artistic success in Irene Wycherley. In the name-part Miss Maude Henderson gave a fine portrayal of a charming character; Mr. Ralph Hutton as Sir Peter undertook a difficult rôle with consummate skill, and gave evidence of careful study; Philip Wycherley is a disagreeable part, but ample justice was done to it by Mr. Charles Garry, an actor of sound methods; Miss Grace Illingworth was a lively Carrie Hardinge; and Miss Evelyn Cecil and Miss Muriel Carmel had little to do except look charming, a duty in which they were in every way successful. Petticoat Perfidy, in which Miss Grace Illingworth, Miss B. Mervyn, and Miss E. Cecil appear, is a capital curtain-raiser.

OPERA HOUSE AND EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Peacock; Acting-Manager, Mr. Sidney Brook.—Mr. John Humphries and his company are appearing with great success in the sketch, Ancient Britons; Jay Laurier is undoubtedly a first-rate comedian; Herbert Clifton gives a neat and finished performance; Josie Delaine is delightful both in song and dance; the Five Vernons are successful instrumentalists; the Bros. Brooks introduce amusing patter; and Kitty, Kennedy Allen, the Sisters Brand, and the Bioscope complete the bill.

EARLY DELIVERY.

Special newspaper express services now running on the London and North-Western, Great Northern, Midland, and Great Central Railways carry The Era to the following important cities and towns at the times named. Newsvendors and subscribers obtain their papers at a much earlier hour than was previously possible:—Rugby, 4.30 a.m.; Coventry, 4.54 a.m.; Birmingham, 5.20 a.m.; Crewe, 6.5 a.m.; Manchester, 6.50 a.m.; Liverpool, 7 a.m.; Chester, 9.3 a.m.; Doncaster, 6.10 a.m.; York, 7 a.m.; Hull, 8.20 a.m.; Darlington, 8.58 a.m.; Scarborough, 10.5 a.m.; Newcastle, 10.10 a.m.; Leeds (Central), 6.58 a.m.; Huddersfield, 7.37 a.m.; Bradford (Exchange), 7.47 a.m.; Harrogate, 7.50 a.m.; Halifax, 8.17 a.m.; Burnley, 9.28 a.m.; Leicester, 4.36 a.m.; Nottingham, 5.10 a.m.; Derby, 5.35 a.m.

CHILDREN ON THE STAGE. The Act affecting the employment of children on the stage came into force on Saturday, Oct. 1, 1904. Managers, agents, entrepreneurs, and performers wishing to possess a copy of the complete Act in a concise form can do so by forwarding three stamps to the Publisher, The Era Offices, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

THE NATIONAL THEATRE.

"It is, I think," says Mr. Comyns Carr in his "Reminiscences," "impossible for anyone who has been closely associated with the modern theatre not to be impressed with the need of some worthier support of the drama than is afforded by the fickle and shifting taste of the public; and the career of Irving, both as an actor and a manager, only goes to emphasise a truth that had been repeatedly enforced by the fortunes of his predecessors. We pride ourselves in this country upon what is achieved by individual enterprise, but we do not always remember at what a cost such achievements are won. The harvest is ours, but the labourers who have reaped and stored it are too often but miserably rewarded. Charles Kean, at the close of his long struggle at the Princess's, confessed that he left the theatre a poorer man than when he entered it; Phelps's fortunes at Sadler's Wells left him nothing to boast of; and Henry Irving, though he enjoyed at the zenith of his career a popularity greater than was accorded to either of his predecessors, had good reason before its close to realise that the motley public of a great capital is not to be counted upon for the enduring support of the more serious form of dramatic enterprise.

"It is strange that there should be so much reluctance in the English mind to entertain the idea of a National Theatre. In regard to other forms of art, the need of public support is recognised and accepted. The treasures of sculpture and painting accumulated in the British Museum, the National Gallery, and the South Kensington Museum owe their existence, in part at least, to the expenditure of the money of the people, and when the Royal Academy failed to initiate any comprehensive system of art teaching, it was undertaken by the nation. On every ground of public policy the claims of the drama might be urged with even greater plausibility. Its appeal as an educational force is even greater and more immediate, and as a humanising influence it is capable of reaching that larger class who are not yet prepared to appreciate the masterpieces of ancient art. Of the countless thousands who can enjoy Molière's incomparable humour, how many are there who would pause before Leonardo's "Monna Lisa" in the Louvre? How many again in our own country, of those who are familiar with the tragedies of Shakespeare, ever find their way into the British Museum or the National Gallery?

"And yet the prejudice against the public support of the theatre endures, and can only, I think, be broken down by the demands of the democracy. If a national theatre is to be established in England, it must realise that it has a national mission. The Théâtre Français was established at a time when means of communication were difficult, and when, therefore, it was only possible to cater for the public of the metropolis But under modern conditions a national theatre might, in a fuller and larger sense, serve the interests of the country as a whole. The great provincial cities might share the fruits of its labours; and when this is realised, I cannot but think that, even though the Government may remain apathetic, the needful support for such an institution will not be wanting."

A COPY OF "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. "THE ERA" is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London post. Address, the PUBLISHER, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

EARLY APPLICATION

should be made for space in the

1909 ISSUE

of

"THE ERA" ANNUAL,

which is now in active preparation. A world-wide circulation, therefore

THE BEST MEDIUM

for Advertisements of every description.

FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION

Circulates in every Town in the World where there is a Place of Amusement. It is therefore the Best Medium for those who require World-wide Publicity.

SCALE OF CHARGES FOR PROFESSIONAL ADVTS.

FULL PAGE	£4	4	0
HALF-PAGE	2	2	0
QUARTER-PAGE	1	1	0

A few Special Positions at present vacant. Blocks supplied if required.

Address the Publisher,

"The Era" Buildings,
5, Tavistock Street,
Covent Garden, W.C.

'Phones 4747 & 1433 Central.

PANTOMIME GOSSIP.

Messrs. Smith and Carpenter, who produce their second pantomime at the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday, Dec. 23, have decided to charge the same prices as those at present in force for drama at that theatre, but with reduced prices for children at matinées. Founded on the famous old fairy tale of "Little Red Riding Hood," the aim of Mr. Ernest Carpenter, the producer, has been to place on the stage a fairy pantomime specially suitable for children.

The title-rôle will be played by Miss Marjorie Carpenter, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. Ernest Carpenter. The little lady, who is at present at school, is an exceptionally talented dancer, and has been trained for the stage from her babyhood The Prince will be played by Miss Dorothy Craske, of whose success in last year's Lyceum pantomime it is hardly necessary to remind our readers. The principal comedian is Mr. Julian Rose, who will play the part of Baron Levinski. He is a famous American actor who has appeared in England for about three weeks only last spring, at the Coliseum and the Pavilion. Two other principal parts in the pantomime will be played by Messrs. Foreman and Fannan, two of the funniest comedians on the music-hall stage. Mons. Espinosa, whose brilliant dancing was such a feature of Robinson Crusoe last year, will have a still more prominent part this time. He will play the Wolf, and will change in succession into a Scarecrow, Punch, and a Serpent, in each part having a characteristic dance.

The principal girl will be Miss Frances Cameron, an American who has not yet appeared in England, but who has made a great reputation in the States by playing the leading parts in The Merry Widow and other musical comedies. A most important part in the production is taken by the Good Fairy, who will be played by Miss Eva Kelland, an artist specially engaged because of her good singing and dancing. The Dame Trot will be Mr. J. D. Hunter, an enormous favourite in several towns where he has been running his own pantomime, and who now makes his first appearance in the West-end.

The chief scenes in Little Red Riding Hood will be The Village, with a beautiful representation of the crowning of the May Queen, The Woods in Summer, with a wonderful Flower Ballet, changing in sight of the audience to the same Woods in Winter, with skaters, sleighs, and everything complete. A feature of Part II. will be the great Toyland scene, in which the stage will be completely filled with toys of all sorts, both new and old-fashioned, many of them mechanical figures in full movement, with remarkable dances. The last scene will consist of a great Fancy Dress Ball, in which about 250 people will be on the stage in all sorts of fancy costumes, and some remarkable effects of colour and lighting will be obtained, the whole being backed up by a wonderful display of fairy fountains, for which many tons of water will be used each night.

The stage direction is in the hands of Mr. Ernest Carpenter, who has produced the whole series of remarkable successes at the Lyceum, and the "book" is written by that gentleman and his wife.

There will be a harlequinade at matinées, presided over by Mr. Harry Gardner, the clever clown, the one who officiated last year.

The two "ugly" sisters in the Adelphi pantomime, Cinderella, will be played by Miss Mabel Russell, who for some time played Mitzi at the Gaiety, in The Girls of Gottenberg, and Miss Marie Rignold. Rehearsals of the piece are now in progress.

At the King's, Hammersmith, this Christmas, the subject of Mr. Mulholland's seventh annual is The Babes in the Wood, by Fred Bowyer. The company is a particularly strong one, including as it does Miss Marie Dainton as principal girl, Miss Winnie Browne as principal boy, Mr. George Mozart as the Baron, Hall and Earle as the Robbers, and Mr. James A. Watts as the Dame. The Babes are Miss Vera Sanders and Miss Elsie Forster, while a special comedy part has been written in for Miss Gwennie Harcourt. Other engagements are those of Miss Miriam Grainger, Miss Olive West, Miss Madge Bell, Mr. Alec Godfrey, Mr. Rudolph Kloss, Mr. Reg. Edwards, and Mr. John Sandbrook. The scenery has been specially painted by Mr. T. J. Dowling, and the costumes promise to outdo anything previously attempted at this theatre, renowned though it is for the gorgeousness of its productions. The chorus numbers one hundred, and some particularly striking scenic effects are promised. Miss Ina Alston is arranging the various ballets, and Mr. B. J. Paterson is responsible for the music. The whole will be produced by Mr. Jos. R. Tate, and the initial performance will be on the afternoon of Boxing Day.

Mr. Robert Arthur's Kennington pantomime, Red Riding Hood, is now in active preparation. All the principal parts have been allotted, and the cast will be as follows: Boy Blue, Miss Lulu Valli; Miss Muffit, Miss Queenie Essex; Jack and Jill, the Sisters Wood; the Squire, Ernest Thiel; Mother Hubbard, Leonard Thiel; Johnnie Stout and Jimmie Green, the Poluskis; Rupert, Tiny Tim; Wolf, Mr. Harry Benson.

Entirely new scenery has been prepared, and the principal feature of this will be a Daily Mail Ideal Home scene. A surprise is being prepared in the Forest scene, the nature of which Mr. H. B. Brandreth, the acting-manager at Kennington, wisely decides not to indicate in advance. Mr. Dix has written a bright and lively book on the old nursery theme; and Mr. Julian Wilson has composed some pretty melodies. A strong point in the company will be Victor's troupe of children, who are a very clever and ingenious lot.

The scenery has been expressly painted by Messrs. Stafford Hall and McKie. The pantomime opens on the Wolf's Lair, and changes to the Village of Kennington, nigh to the Cross of that name, and proceeds through various other scenes of ancient local interest to the School scene, where the children, under the examination of the Squire, display their surprising abilities. Another big scene will be the Forest of Wandsworth. In this scene Mr. Frank Dix, the author, has made a bold bid for novelty, which it is hoped will come as a delightful surprise. From this to the Squire's Grounds the audience will be conveyed through a gorgeous succession of realistic pantomime scenes until their arrival at the final scene, namely Vauxhall Gardens.

Mr. Robert Arthur's fifth pantomime at the Fulham Theatre is now in preparation, the subject this year being "Cinderella." The book is by Stanley Rogers, who will supervise the production. A special feature will be a ballet arranged by Bertram Valentine; the scenery will be done by Mr. Glover, Edmund Grimani, and others; the dresses by Messrs. H. and M. Rayne and Miss Adela Jackson, and the ponies will come from Messrs. Hales'. The music is composed and arranged by Harry Richardson, George M. Saker, and Julian Rutt. As regards the cast, Miss Agnes Tandy has been engaged to play the principal boy, and Miss Nora Wadeley will be the Cinderella. Miss Emily Stevens and Miss Alice Inman are down to play Elerin and Araminta, the elder sisters, Miss Dolly Hook is the second boy, and Miss Mabel Rose is the Fairy Godmother. The Baron and Baroness are to be played by Messrs. Freddie French and Ted Young, who will no doubt be given plenty of opportunities for creating mirth. Mr. L. W. Harris, Mr. Arthur White, and Mr. Harry Carlisle will also be found in the cast. The dances will be given by Miss Lottie Stone's troupe of dancers, Mr. Charles Radnight is to fill the responsible post of stage-manager, and Mr. Julian Rutt is to act as conductor. The opening performance is underlined for Dec. 26.

Miss Dorothy Firmin, Kennington's charming Cinderella of last Christmas, has been engaged by Mr. Robert Arthur to play principal girl (Alice) in Dick Whittington, at the Coronet this year.

Mr. Bannister Howard is at present extremely busy making preparations for Robinson Crusoe, which is likely to be one of the best pantomimes ever seen at the Crystal Palace Theatre. Splendid scenery, beautiful dresses, and an excellent company are to be expected, and seats for the pantomime are already being booked. Miss Lillie Lassah, a former popular principal boy at the Palace, will be Robinson Crusoe, Miss Venie Clements Polly Primrose, Mr. Bert Edwards Will Atkins, Mr. Henry Zeitz Friday, Mr. G. Harvey White Mrs Crusoe, and Mr. Scott Russell the Cannibal Chief.

The pantomime at the Dalston Theatre will be Red Riding Hood. It will be produced on Christmas Eve. A feature of the production will be an old-fashioned harlequinade, and Mr. Tom Green will be clown.

"Humpty Dumpty" will be the pantomime at the Broadway, New Cross, and will be produced by Mr. Fred Warden. A strong company is being secured for the production. Mr. Fred Eastman will play the King, and Mr. Stratton Mills Dame. Miss Edna Morgan will be principal boy, and Miss Hanid Alexander second girl. The Tiller Troupe of dancers will add to the attractions of the pantomime, which will be produced on the afternoon of Boxing Day.

Mr. Rich. Waldon will produce the twenty-ninth pantomime at the Royal Princess's, Glasgow, on Thursday, Dec. 10. The title is Diccory Dock, and the libretto is by the author of the last two successes here, Mr. J. James Hewson. Miss Flora Cromer will be principal boy and Miss Ella Retford principal girl. Mr. Harry A. Gribben will be the Squire, Mr. Ainsley Burton the Dame, and Mr. Peter Bermingham a Page Boy. Messrs. Walker and Lake have special parts, Mr. Syd Walker as a Professor and Mr. Cliff Lake as his assistant. Misses Edith Haley and Maggie Fraser are the second boy and girl, and the Sisters Bartholomew also have boy and girl parts. Mr. Walter Dale and Messrs. Stevens and Brett are also in the cast. Miss Fanny Boulton is arranging the dances, and Mr. Waldon promises something striking in scenic display. The company includes quite a lot of former pantomime favourites at the Princess's, Miss Ella Retford having been there two years ago, while Misses Haley and Fraser and Messrs. Walker, Lake, and Bermingham were all in last year's record success.

The Theatre Royal, Birmingham, is producing its own pantomime this time, the subject being Dick Whittington, with Miss Sybil Arundale as the hero. Tom Foy is to be idle Jack, and Messrs. Drew and Alders, Harry Lupino, Nipper Lupino Lane, Wee Wallace, Fred Whittaker (as the Cat), Arthur Reynolds, John Power, Eric Campbell, and the Misses Ethel Legrette, Clara Reid, Ada Whittaker, and Violet Baynton are engaged.

At the Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, Mr. J. F. Graham will be playing Boy Blue, with Miss Hetty King in the title-rôle. Miss Gladys Ivery is to play principal girl, Miss Rita Everard and the Eight Stella Girls are engaged, and also Messrs Tom E. Murray, Horace Mills, G. H. Elliott, Jay Laurier, and the Lyric Quartette.

Mr. Lester Collingwood's pantomime at the Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham, will be on the subject of Red Riding Hood, for which he has engaged the following strong and extensive cast:—Miss Ellaline Thorne (principal boy), Miss Dolly Denton (principal girl), Miss Ivey Roze (second boy), Miss Joyce Stevens (second girl), Messrs. Stephens and Rennior (comedians), Mr. Albert Schafer (Dame), Musical Schafers (specialities), Mr. Frank Blythe (Baron), Mr. Frank Bolger (Wolf), Mr. Geo. Penn, "the man with the violin" (Simple Simon), Miss Maudie Olmar (title-rôle), the Three Tivoli Girls, and the Molasso Troupe (specialities).

Manchester is to have only one fixed pantomime this year, namely, Goody Two Shoes, at the Theatre Royal. Miss May Beatty and Miss Hilda Dugdale are to be the principal boy and girl respectively; while the principal comedians engaged are Mr. Mark Sheridan, the Bros. Egbert (the Happy Dustmen), and Mr. Harry Conlin.

The Edinburgh Theatre Royal will be the only regular theatre in the city to provide a pantomime this season. The house will remain closed for rehearsal after a performance on Monday next of The Two Gentlemen of Verona by the local branch of the British Empire Shakespeare Society, and will reopen on Thursday, Dec. 10, with the pantomime, which will follow the fortunes of Dick Whittington. Several popular players have been engaged, notably Mr. Will Evans, in whose hands the chief comedy part is certain to be an impersonation full of choice humour. Miss Jane Eyre, of whose quality Edinburgh playgoers had a glimpse last year, when she so ably and cleverly filled a prominent character at a brief notice at the beginning of the pantomime, will assume the name-part; and the principal girl will be played by a charming young actress in the person of Miss Ethel Erskine. The spectacle will be stage-managed by Mr. John Lloyd, who has many pantomime triumphs in the past to his credit.

CHARITY MATINEE AT THE NEW.

Sir,—I have only just seen your account of the above matinée, and should be glad if you would correct in your next issue an error made by your critic. "Ma cœur s'ouvre à ta voix" and "Love is meant to make us glad" were not sung by me, but by another lady. I sang, first (a) "Forethought," (b) "Could I forget"; second, "The sweetest flower that blows," which you were kind enough to mention favourably. The mistake was probably due to the fact that there were additional artists whose names were not on the programme. Thanking you in anticipation.—Yours faithfully,

EDITH M. DINORBEN.

37, Cornwall-road, Bayswater, W., Nov. 25.

The original Apollo Theatre company, including Dan Rolyat and Miss Florence Smithson, in Tom Jones, will visit the Kennington Theatre next week.

Miss Beatrice Felsted sang two sacred songs, "Peace be still" and "Far from my Heavenly Home," by Wynyard Ryde, R.A.M. (copies of which have been accepted by H.M. the Queen), at the Palace Pier, Brighton, last Sunday, being specially engaged by Messrs. Ashton and Mitchell's Royal Agency, and she will be heard early in the spring at the Albert Hall. Miss Felsted has declined an offer of twelve months in America to enable her to fulfil her engagements, which carry her up to May, 1909.

PLAYERS OF THE PERIOD.

MISS KITTY CAVENDISH.

Miss Cavendish's dramatic birthday took place in The Shop Girl. She began humbly in a chorus small part and understudy, which led within a year to her playing the nom-rôle. Following an engagement under the same management, in The Gay Parisienne, to play Nora Honeycomb, she again succeeded, in due course, to the title-rôle. Her next part was that of Dorothy Travers in The French Maid, in which she made a notable success. Miss Cavendish then adventured into comedy, and played for some months in Niobe, A Bad Lot, &c. Enlisting then under the banner of Mr. C. P. Levilly, she enjoyed a happy and comfortable engagement lasting about seven years. Engaged first as understudy for Miss Stella Gastelle in the name-part of La Poupée, she sustained the rôle for three tours while that lady was playing in other operas. In Mr. Levilly's numerous ventures she had the opportunity of creating various parts, amongst them, Lady Harriet in Lolah, Leschia in Amorelle—in which she was the original Jeannette when it was first produced by the late Mr Willie Edouin—Cissie Wix in Jack and Jill, &c. Meanwhile Miss Cavendish appeared frequently in pantomime, principally Dick in Dick Whittington with Mr. J. H. Savile, and under his pleasant management did three other seasons, playing variously principal boy and girl. She has also been principal girl with Mr. J. F. Elliston, and has acted a season with Mr Robert Courtneidge in a special part. Four stock seasons at Douglas, I.O.M., are also to be included in her career, her more important parts embracing the title-rôle of Niobe, Georgina Tidman in Dandy Dick, Lady Harding The Idler, Stella Captain Swift, Rosa Colombier The Arabian Nights, Mrs. Crosse The Late Lamented, Lady Jessica Nepean The Liars, Mrs. Ralston Jim the Penman, Lady Isabel East Lynne, Rosamund Sowing the Wind, [Photo by Foulsham and Banfield.

MISS KITTY CAVENDISH.

Stella de Gex His Excellency the Governor, Mrs. Dane in Mrs. Dane's Defence, and many others. Miss Cavendish is at present playing Nina in His House in Order.

WINTER GARDEN OPENING.

After the first act of the performance at the New Winter Gardens, Dublin, on Monday, Mr. Mouillot, managing director of the Dublin Theatre Company, Ltd., appeared on the stage and was enthusiastically received. In the course of his speech he said:—"I feel a proud and happy man tonight, as I have realised an achievement which I set out upon twelve years ago. I have been instrumental in giving to my native city the finest theatre in the world. With its adjunct, the Winter Garden, this theatre is the finest in the world. Paris, Berlin, London, New York, Buenos Aires, St. Petersburg—no capital city that I have visited has such a unique theatre. Ladies, the Winter Garden has been designed chiefly for you. We want you to use it as you would your club, to make it your home in the city. It will open daily at twelve noon and remain open till two o'clock for light luncheons. Our theatre orchestra will play, and you will have selections on the auxetophone, a very wonderful improvement on the gramophone, invented by an Irishman, the Hon. Edward Parsons, also the inventor of the turbine. At 3.30 each day there will be a cinematograph performance in the theatre by the London Cinematograph Company, of which I am a director, so that I shall be able to see that you get good pictures. There will be about an hour of pictures, and the tea will be waiting for you in the Winter Gardens. You will be able to hear Tetrazzini, Melba, and Caruso on the auxetophone. All this at the modest price of 1s. No alcoholic refreshments will be sold in the day time. During the evening, between the acts, you will be able to accompany your husband into the Winter Gardens; he won't be able to go and 'see a fellow about that dog' he is so fond of talking about, and if he does, why you can see a girl about a cat. You will remember at the opening of this theatre we advertised very largely for some time previously, and I thought everyone knew that the glories of the Old Royal were going to be revived. Well, about seven o'clock I took a car at the Shelbourne. 'Where to?' says the Jarvey. 'Theatre Royal,' says I, proudly. 'Go along,' says he; 'it's the Gaiety you mane. The Theatre Royal's been burnt this twenty years.' That brings me by an easy stage to the Gaiety, and our purchase of it. We intend to run it on the same lines as this theatre. We shall close in May, and make some extensive alterations, and reopen in August. I can tell you there can be no monopoly under me. I will get you the very best I can get for both theatres. When you have seen our Winter Gardens I am sure you will join me in thanking my co-directors for supporting my ideas for your comfort; Mr. Ashworth, for the admirable way in which he has carried out our ideas; Mr. Martin, who seems to build everything; Mr. Moore, for his assistance in selecting the plants; Mr. Parrington, for his general supervision; and all our staff, who are as good workers as ever I met. Ladies and gentlemen of Dublin, you can be assured as long as I have life and strength they are devoted to your services. The Winter Gardens are now open."

Probably the most intensely dramatic offering ever included in a New York variety programme is the "tabloid" version of The Bells, in which drama the well-known tragedian Mr. Thomas E. Shea has been appearing at the popular-price houses for a number of years. Condensed as it is, it consumes much more than the average space of time allotted to sketches or the regular vaudeville turns, none of the blood-curdling effects being omitted. If this sort of thing goes on the line of demarcation between the theatres and the music halls will become so thin as to be almost invisible.

AMERICAN AMUSEMENTS.

(From our New York Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Miss Ethel Barrymore began her annual engagement in this city at the Hudson Theatre on the 9th inst., appearing as Lady Frederick in Mr. W. Somerset Maugham's three-act comedy of that name, which proved to be not only a very delightful play, but a most suitable vehicle for Miss Barrymore. This was shown by her apt delivery of the witty lines and the give-and-take repartee of the first act, and the easy and natural manner in which she handled the humorous situations that follow. Miss Barrymore was repeatedly recalled at the end of each act, and the play was received with enthusiastic approval by a crowded house. Miss Jessie Millward made a welcome reappearance on the local stage in the character of Lady Mereston, and gave an excellent portrayal. Mr. Bruce McRae was capital as Paradine Fouldes; and Messrs. Arthur Elliott, Norman Tharp, Charles Hammond, and Orlando Daly rendered good service in prominent rôles. With Miss Barrymore in New York, the Barrymore-Drew family is well represented in current theatricals. Her uncle, Mr. John Drew, is appearing in Jack Straw at the Empire Theatre; Miss Louise Drew, his daughter and Miss Barrymore's cousin, is a member of Miss Billie Burke's company in Love Watches at the Lyceum; and another cousin, Miss Georgie Drew Mendum, is playing a comedy part in Vid Wireless at the Liberty Theatre.

"Blue Grass," a racing drama, in three acts, by Paul Armstrong, has scored a decided success at the Majestic Theatre. Blue Grass is the name of a racehorse owned by Colonel Taylor, of Kentucky. The first act is laid at the Colonel's home near Lexington, and deals with the problem of how he can entertain his guests in view of the fact that he has spent his last dollar in preparing for the race that is to be run on the morrow. Wilfred Warren, a young Northerner, whom Miss Virginia, the Colonel's daughter, has met in Washington and taken a fancy to, is among the supper party, and he gives the aged negro servitor, known as "Old Folks," the sum of twenty dollars for helping to repair his automobile. The money is passed on to Melissa, the cook, who is thus enabled to set forth a right good supper. Ultimately, however, this good-natured act of young Warren's causes an estrangement between him and Virginia. The two scenes of the second act show the club house at Louisville, where the race is to be run, and the paddock. A New York bookmaker named Kelly has cast covetous eyes on the dam of Blue Grass, a valuable brood mare known as My Lady, and, having obtained a provisional bill of sale, he employs foul means to make Blue Grass lose the race, in order that the Colonel may be ruined; but his trick fails, and the thorough-bred wins. Virginia and her father, and Judge Young, the Colonel's friend, whose son is riding the racer, witness the race from the paddock, and from their lips the audience learns that Blue Grass has been left at the post, that the jockey has nevertheless dashed after the flying field, and is rapidly gaining, and finally that Blue Grass has swept down the home stretch with a splendid burst of speed and won by a nose. This means that the Colonel's home and his family pride have been saved, and all would be well were it not for the efforts of the scheming Kelly to obtain possession of My Lady. He turns up at the farm whilst the race is being run, and deceives the old negro by showing him the provisional bill of fare, which the darkey cannot read. But young Warren happens along, reads the document aright, and defies Kelly to take the mare. Then a telegram comes to say that Blue Grass has won. The final scene shows the home-coming and the adjustment of the misunderstanding between Virginia and young Warren that arose when the Colonel found out that he had entertained his guests on the young man's money. The latter, with the aid of Old Folks, manages to set himself right in the Colonel's eyes, and the love affair ends happily. The best moments of the play are those in which the Colonel's daughter describes the progress of the race and the victory of Blue Grass, and again when the faithful old negro talks to My Lady as she puts her head through the stable door, and recalls how she once won a great race twenty years ago. Mr. George Marion's stage-management was as praiseworthy as his impersonation of the negro. Miss Olive Wyndham as Virigina Taylor gave a faithful representation of a Kentucky girl in love with a Northerner, and her spirited description of the race had a most exciting effect on the audience.

"Unto Others" is the name of a new psychological play which Mr. W. J. Hurlbut, author of The Fighting Hope, has just completed for Miss Olga Nethersole. It is an American play, with its scenes laid on the "east side" of New York. This means a new departure for Miss Nethersole, who will produce the play during her forthcoming American tour.

The line of demarcation between the theatres and the music halls has never been the vexed question in America that it has in England, but it is only recently that playlets of an ultra-serious character have been put on at the variety houses on this side, and it remains to be seen whether or not the theatre managers will raise any objection. No longer relying exclusively on the comic, the purveyors of vaudeville are now treating their patrons to liberal doses of the tragic, and giving them "variety" in the most literal sense of the word. One might always enjoy a good laugh at the vaudeville houses, but never a good cry, and the music hall managers have evidently decided to repair the defect in their programmes without further delay. At the Colonial Theatre last week a one-act tragedy called The Submarine was enacted by Mr Frank Mills, formerly with Miss Olga Nethersole, and a company of four. It was adapted from the French of MM. E. H. Laumann and Paul Oliver, and is said to have had a long run in Paris. The submarine boat "Feu Follet" is engaged in naval manœuvres. Commander Leroux is addicted to opium, and he takes a larger dose than usual, with the result that he sinks the boat to an unusual depth. The two compartments reserved for the sailors are flooded, and the boat goes to the bottom. The "sweating" of the steel plates forms a noxious and deadly gas, generated by the action of the salt water on the electric apparatus, and in the frenzied struggle against certain death discipline is forgotten, and a mad fight is carried on until the entire crew is suffocated and drowned like rats in a trap. The next scene shows a dry dock with funeral services for the dead in progress. The play was described by one newspaper as "realistically ghastly," and by another as "a horrible nightmare."

Mr. Arnold Daly has gone into vaudeville, and is appearing in the one-act play Becoming an Editor, by Mark Twain and Gabriel Timmons. This is a dramatisation of one of Mark Twain's old-time sketches that in its original form served many a public reader. Sam Brooker, the character assumed by Mr. Daly, is a young man who knows nothing whatever of farming, but his lack of knowledge does not deter him from becoming the editor of an agricultural paper called the Chicago Farmer. The paper has been run on conservative lines, and has had a very limited circulation. Brooker changes all that by giving nonsensical advice on farming matters, which causes the paper to be talked about and increases the sales. Trouble comes when "Old Subscriber" calls to enter a protest, and an escaped lunatic, who believes what the paper tells him, also drops in. The new editor only holds the job for a day, but in that space of time he certainly "makes things hum."

AMUSEMENTS IN AUSTRALIA.

(From our own Correspondents.)

MELBOURNE, Oct. 20.—Her Majesty's Theatre.—Lessee, Mr. J. C. Williamson; Business-Manager, Mr. E. J. Tait.—After a short season of six nights, Camille was withdrawn on Friday evening to make room for the production of Zira, a strong, emotional play which was staged on Saturday evening to a crowded house. Miss Margaret Anglin plays the woman Hester Trent with vigour and effectiveness. All the other parts loomed fitting to the eye, and had each actor and actress been in the author's mind they could not have been better suited. The play was admirably mounted and met with a cordial reception from an enthusiastic house. Zira will be staged for five more nights only, Saturday evening next being reserved for a special revival of Shakespeare's delightful comedy Twelfth Night.

Theatre Royal.—Lessee, Mr. John Wren; Business-Manager, Mr. Harry Musgrove.—Vincent Wallace's sparkling opera Maritana has been delighting large audiences for the past fortnight. The Bohemian Girl will be presented for the twelve farewell nights.

Opera House.—Proprietor, Mr. Harry Rickards; Business-Manager, Mr. Fred Aydon.—Saturday night saw the usual packed house at this popular place of amusement, when a particularly strong bill was submitted by Mr. Rickards' Tivoli company. The Marconi's sensational turn completely mystifies the audience, nevertheless the many interesting experiments performed by these clever artists call forth genuine applause. Miss Mignonette Kokin is now an established favourite, her dancing is graceful, while her stories are always amusing. Gregson and Goodfellow present a screaming farce, which keeps the audience laughing from start to finish. Galetti's dogs and baboons perform a number of clever tricks. The Miles Stavordale Quintet charm all with their remarkable performance on the banjos and harp. Miss Hulo Hodgson and Mr. Harry Lowther present a laughable absurdity, entitled Barmaids, while enjoyable turns are presented by the Reno Sisters, Fred Bluett, Jack Russell, Marlowe Sisters, Clarence Tisdale, George Bently, and that charming child artist Baby Watson.

King's Theatre.—Lessee, Mr. William Anderson; Business-Manager, Mr. Julius Grant.—The popular Drury-lane melodrama Human Nature was revived on Saturday night and served to draw a good house. Miss Eugenie Duggan was bright and pleasing as Nellie Temple. Captain Temple was ably played by Mr. George Cross; the two villains, Matthew Harker and Paul de Vigne, were well presented by Mr. Max Clifton and Mr. Lawrence Dunbar. One of the best of the many parts is that of Horatio Spoffkins, which was in the capable hands of Mr. Bert Bailey.

Bijou Theatre.—Lessee, Miss Florence Baines.—Miss Florence Baines's last week as Miss Lancashire, Limited, opened on Saturday night to a large audience. The season throughout has been a successful one. On Saturday next Miss Baines and her company leave for New Zealand, and takes with her the heartiest good wishes of the host of friends she has made during her stay in Melbourne. Miss Muriel Johnston accompanies Miss Baines as private secretary.

SYDNEY, Oct. 20.—The theatres are all doing good business. Mr. J. C. Williamson has Sunday at the Royal, with Miss Tittell Brune in her greatest part, and The Merry Widow at Her Majesty's, with Miss Florence Young, Mr. Gouriet, Mr. Reginald Roberts, and Miss Carrie Moore in the principal parts. At the Criterion Messrs. Meynell and Gunn repeat The Belle of Mayfair to crowded houses, anxious to see Ivy Salvin, the heroine of the Bigwood breach of promise case, who plays a minor part, and who "arrives" in her viceregal motor-car, with crowds to receive her. Meanwhile, the artists in the company are waiting a return of public recognition. The same firm presents Two Little Sailor Boys at the Palace to satisfactory business, Miss Lilian Meyers, Miss Maisie Maxwell, and Miss Louise Carbasse increasing their popularity with each performance.

At the Tivoli Miss Vera Buttall is singing with great acceptance, and Barnard's Mannikins create fun and evoke much applause. Abdullah's Arabs, Osborn and Brooks, Ted Kalmas, Nita Leete, Fanny Powers, and the perennial favourite, Nellie Wilson, make Mr. Harry Rickard's patrons happy and contented.

The Lyceum has prayers and hymns on Sunday, and all the rest of the week Spencer's Theatrescope is shown to large audiences. Mary Stuart's life is amongst the novelties, which include scenes depicting events grave, gay, and grotesque.

The new Bijou Picture Palace, opposite the Central Railway Station, appears to hold its own against the picture shows already mentioned, as well as the Victoria Hall, Queen's Hall, Oxford Theatre, and other film exhibitions.

Miss Esther Khan's annual concert produced quite a number of clever pianists from her studio, and they, through Mr. Lewys Scott, made the lady a valuable presentation. Miss Rose Seaton and Mr. Cyril Monk were amongst the assisting professionals.

Next week the phenomenal Cherniawski Children (three) will begin their Australian tour, under the management and direction of Mr. Edward Branscombe. Miss Mafie Horton is also in the programme.

MISS EVE TANNE'S RECITAL.

A charming young reciter made her appearance at the Steinway Hall on Tuesday evening last in the person of Miss Eve Tanne, a young lady who has already achieved some distinction in connection with the British Empire Shakespeare Society. Miss Tanne's programme was described as dramatic and humorous, and it certainly did not lack variety. A scene from the third act of Romeo and Juliet, Conan Doyle's "Confessions," Olive Schreiner's "The Hunter," a selection from "Adam Bede," one or two short poems, with musical accompaniments, and a monologue, by Lady Hugh Bell, entitled A Woman of Courage, all found a place in the evening's repertoire. Miss Tanne's style is quiet and delicate, and if one or two of the items really demanded a more vivid personality for their perfect expression, on the whole the recital was one affording much pleasure, and, gifted with an excellent voice, Miss Tanne should certainly meet with success, either as a reciter or on the regular stage. Excellent assistance was given by Mr. Jackson Byles, who contributed two or three violin solos, and by Mr. Guy Pertwee, who sang some baritone songs of a lightly humorous character.

TRINITY COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

A recital on the new organ was given by Mr. F. G. Mitford Ogbourne, organist of St. Andrew's, Holborn, and professor of the Trinity College, on Wednesday afternoon. The programme commenced with "Grand Chœur," in E flat, by Guilmant, which was followed by Best's Air, with variations in A, from the composer's "Six Concert Pieces." Bach's "Allegro (from the "Toccata," and "Fugue" in C major) was also included in the programme; and the beautiful "Allegro Cantabile" (from Widor's Fifth Symphony) was admirably played by Mr. Ogbourne, who was much applauded in this and the clever Theme, with variations, from "L'Ecole d'Orgue" (Lemmens). The recital concluded with A. Hollins's "Concert Overture in C." To add variety to the programme two songs were given by Miss Florence Griffiths, "So we'll go no more" (Maude V. White) and Sullivan's popular song, "Orpheus with his Lute." The accompanist was Mr. Leonard Gordon.

LEADING ACTRESSES AND ACTORS OF THE COMEDIE FRANCAISE AND ODEON THEATRES, AT THE ALHAMBRA IN A CINEMATOGRAPH ENTERTAINMENT.

An extremely interesting private exhibition of cinematograph art films, published by Messrs. Pathé Frères, and reproducing photographically performances by the leading actors and actresses of the Comédie Française and the Odéon Theatre, Paris, was witnessed by a privileged audience who assembled in the Alhambra on Friday afternoon, the 20th inst. Mr. Alfred Moul, the managing-director of the Alhambra, at whose invitation many ladies and gentlemen, whose names are household words in literary, artistic, theatrical, and society circles, attended the matinée, entertained his guests to tea during an interval. Mr. Cedric P. Ivatts, the manager of Messrs. Pathé's establishment in Charing Cross-road, also busied himself in one way or another. Among well-known people present were Mr. Charles Alias, Mr. G. W. Anson, Mr. Otto Beit, Miss Kate Bishop, Mr. C. Blakiston, Mr. Rutland Barrington, Miss Lilian Braithwaite, Mr G. W. Byng, Miss Fanny Brough, Mr. Alfred Brydone, Mr. Dion Boucicault, Miss Phyllis Broughton, Mr. Alfred Bishop, Miss Kate Carlyon (Forbes-Robertson's company), Viscount Curzon, Hon. Arthur Clinton, Lord Pelham Clinton, Mr. F. Holman Clark, Mr. Albert Chevalier, Miss Kate Cutler, Miss Maudi Darrell, Mr. Tom B. Davis, Mr. Dennis Eadie, Mr. G. E. Englebach, Mr. Harry Fragson, Mr. Norman Forbes, Miss Vane Featherston, Miss Rosina Filippi, Mr. George Graves, Mr. Basil Gill, Mr. A. Holmes Gore, Mr. Charles Glenny, Mr. Lawrence Grossmith, Mr. Wm. Greet, Miss Marie George, Mr. J. Hassall, Mr. Lyn Harding, Mr. J. A. Hare, Miss Margaret Halstan, Miss Ethel Irving, Miss Isabel Jay, the Earl of Kilmorey, the Earl of Kinnoul, Mr. H. A. Lytton, Mr. C. M. Lowne, Mr. Alfred Lester, Mr. W. Lestocq, Mr. Robert Loraine, Mr. Edmund Maurice, the Duchess of Marlborough, the Countess Mitsu, Mr. M. R. Morand, Miss Eva Moore, Mr. F. Mouillot, Mr. Akerman May, Mr. J. A. Fuller Maitland, the Duke of Newcastle, Mr. and Mrs. Pinero, Mr. Bernard Partridge, Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, Mr. Norman Page, Mr. E. Vivian Reynolds, Mr. Charles Rock, Miss Louie Rene, Mr. Ian Robertson, Major and Mrs. Simpson, Mr. C. W. Somerset, Mr. Aubrey Smith, the Right Hon. Sir James and Lady Sievewright, Mr. Edward Sass, Miss Lucy Sibley, Mr. E. Lyall Swete, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Miss Hilda Trevelyan, Miss Irene Vanbrugh, Mr. Henry Vibart, Mrs. Lancaster Wallis, Captain Wombwell, the Mayor of Westminster, and Mr. C. H. Workman.

Thus, a very vivid representation of Alphonse Daudet's play, L'Arlesienne, was given, the principal parts being played by Mesdames Grunbach, Marie de L'Isle, Bouquet, and Bertyl, and M. Desfontaines, all of the Odeon Theatre. This well-known love drama has been performed by the artists named in the same country of Camargue where Daudet wrote it. We see the various incidents of this tragic story pass before our eyes in the places where they happened; in the courtyard of the "Mas" flooded with the brilliant light of Provence; along the pond of Vaccarés where Frédéri runs away from the vision of the Arlesienne; in the Camargue plains where is silhouetted, on the dark background of the Alps, the tall form of old Balthazar, the shepherd, with his sheep pressed closely about his grey cape; in the antique city of Arles inside the famous arena where, after a bull fight, Frédéri met, for the first time, the proud Arlesienne, for love of whom he was to eventually kill himself These charming landscapes of the South of France add, with the poetry of their sceneries, their amusing local colouring and beautiful sun, a new and captivating interest to Daudet's masterpiece. We do not think that we can do better than give a translation of The Arlesienne, taken from Daudet's "Letters from My Mill":

"To go down to the village, one passes a 'Mas' or farmhouse, built near the road, at the end of a large courtyard planted with nettles. It is the true house of the Provençal farmer.

"Why had this house struck me? Why did this closed gate sadden my heart so? I could not have said, and yet that dwelling made me feel cold. When you passed it, dogs did not bark at you, the bantams flew away without clucking. Inside, not a sound! Nothing, not even a mule's bell. Had it not been for its white window curtains and the smoke that ascended from the chimneys, one might have believed that the place was uninhabited.

"Yesterday, on the stroke of noon, I was returning from the village, and, in order to avoid the sun, walked alongside the walls of the farmhouse, in the shadow of the nettle-trees. . . . In the road, in front of the 'Mas,' silent servants were finishing the loading of a cart of hay. . . . I had a look at it as I passed, and saw at the other end of the courtyard, with his elbows leaning on a large stone table—his head propped on his hands—a tall old man, quite white, with a jacket too short, and ragged breeches. . . . I stopped. One of the men said to me in a whisper: 'Hush! It's the Master. . . . He has been like that since his son's mishap.'

"At this moment a woman and a small boy, clad in black, passed near us with heavy gilt prayer-books, and entered the farmhouse.

"The man added: 'The Mistress and Cadet, who are coming home from Church. They attend the Mass every morning, since the boy killed himself. Ah, sir! What grief. . . . Gee up, beast.'

"The cart moved to go. I, who wanted to know more, asked the driver if I might sit near him, and it was up there in the hay that I learned all that heartrending story.

"He was called Frédéri. He was a good-looking peasant, twenty years old, as quiet as a girl, strong, and with open face. As he was very handsome, all the women eyed him. But he had only one in his heart—a little Arlesian girl, all velvet and lace, that he had seen once in the arena at Arles.

"At the 'Mas' they did not see this acquaintance with pleasure at first. The girl was said to be a flirt, and her parents were not of the place. Yet Frédéri wanted his Arlesienne at any cost. He said: 'I shall die if you do not give her to me.' It was decided that they should be married after the harvest. Then one Sunday evening, in the courtyard, the family were finishing their dinner. It was almost like a wedding breakfast. Toasts had been given in honour of the fiancée all the time. . . .

"A man appears at the door, and with a trembling voice, demands to speak to Mr. Esteve. Esteve gets up, and walks out.

"'Master,' says the man, 'you are going to marry your son to a coquette who has been my sweetheart for two years. What I say I will prove. Here are letters. Her parents know everything, and they had promised her to me, but since your son is after her, neither they nor the belle will have me. I should have thought, however, that after that she could not be another man's wife.'

"'Well,' said Esteve, after he had seen the letters, 'come in and have a glass of Muscat.'

"The man retorted, 'I have more grief than thirst,' and away he went.

"The father came back, apparently unmoved, and resumed his seat at table, and the meal finished merrily.

"That same evening Esteve and his son went together through the fields. They stayed out a long time. When they returned, the mother was still sitting up for them.

"'Wife,' said the farmer, taking his son to her, 'kiss him: he is unhappy.'

"Frédéri spoke no more of the Arlesienne. He loved her still. Yet he was too proud to say anything, and that is what killed him. Sometimes he would spend whole days in a corner motionless. At other times he would throw himself into his work. At night he would go on the Arles road, and walk straight before him, until he saw in the west the stalwart steeples of the town. Then he would come back.

"Seeing him thus continually, sad and lonely, the farm people were at a loss to know what to do. They were afraid of some mishap.

"Once at table his mother, looking at him with her eyes full of tears, said: 'Well, listen, Frédéri, if you will have her, we shall give her to you.'

"His father, red with shame, bent his head. Frédéri made a sign, 'No,' and went out.

"From that day he altered his behaviour, making a show of being always happy, in order to comfort his parents. He was even seen again at the ball, at the public-house, or at the 'ferrades.'

"His father said, 'He has recovered.' His mother was still afraid, and more than ever looked after her boy.

Frédéri used to sleep with Cadet, near the silkworm room, but the poor old woman ordered a bed to be put for her near him. . . . The worms might want her during the night.

"Then came the fête of St. Eloi, the patron saint of the farmers.

"There was a great fête at the 'Mas.' . . . There was Chateauneuf wine for everybody, also crackers and bonfires on the barn floor, and lots of coloured lanterns in the nettles. . . . 'Three cheers for St. Eloi!' They farandoled themselves in death. Cadet burned his new smock-frock. Frédéri himself looked pleased. He made his mother dance, the poor old woman wept with pleasure.

"At midnight they went to bed. Everybody needed sleep. Frédéri did not sleep, poor boy. Cadet has said since that he had sobbed the whole night. Ah! I tell you he was past recovery! The next morning at dawn his mother heard somebody run across her room. She had a sort of foreboding. 'Frédéri, is that you?'

"Frédéri does not answer, he is already on the stairs.

"Quickly his mother gets up. 'Frédéri, where are you going?' He goes up to the loft, she follows him.

"'My son, for goodness' sake!' He shuts the door, and draws the bolt. 'Frédéri, O my Frédéri, answer me, what are you going to do?' With her old trembling hands, she gropes for the bolt.

"A window is thrown open—the noise of a body on the flagstones of the courtyard, and it is all——!

"He had told himself, poor boy, 'I love her too much, I must go. Oh! these miserable hearts of ours! It is rather strange, anyway, that contempt cannot kill love!'

Photo. by Nadar.

M. LAMBERT (Duke of Guise).

Photo. by Nadar.

M. LE BARGY (Henri III.).

Photo. by Boisonnas and Taponnier.

MLLE. ROBINNE (Marchioness of Noirmoutiers).

"That morning the people in the village wondered who it was that could cry so over there, in the direction of Esteve's 'Mas.'

"It was in the courtyard, before the stone table covered with blood and dew, the half-naked mother who was moaning with her dead son in her arms."

According to this description Messrs. Pathé, assisted by the artists, have adequately carried out the author's ideas. It is altogether a beautiful piece of work, and the public will be glad to learn that it is now included in the Alhambra programme.

The Murder of the Duke of Guise is another wonderful Pathé production shown the same afternoon. This also is a play, written specially for the purposes of this art film, by M. Henri Lavedon, of the Académie Française, and it has been acted for Messrs. Pathé by some of the most eminent French artists, notably Messrs. Le Bargy and Albert Lambert, and Mlles. Robinne and Bertha Bovy, of the Comédie Française; and M. Dieudonné, of the Renaissance Theatre, Paris.

To understand the story this film tells, it will be interesting to give a few facts regarding the men and doings of the period:

"Henry of Lorraine, Duke of Guise, was a member of one of the most powerful houses in France in the sixteenth century. His rivalry with Henry of Valois, King of France, practically filled the reign of that monarch with anxiety, lest he should usurp the throne. Henry III., remembering the lessons his mother, Catherine of Medici, had taught him, to relentlessly pursue with his hate those who threatened his power, was very bitter against Henry of Guise and his partisans, the Leaguers. In 1587 Guise was the ally of the King against Henry of Navarre, the Chief of the Protestants, but Henry III.'s only thought was to be as unfaithful to Guise as he had been to Navarre. Guise was the Catholic leader, and he dared to dictate his orders to the King at the same time as he humbled himself before Philip II., King of Spain, who sent him money, and promised to assist him in his ambition. Meanwhile the sixteen delegates of the different boroughs of Paris were growing impatient at his long hesitation to strike the final blow. Guise, pressed by the Parisians, arrived in Paris on May 9, for, fearing lest his partisans should take the Louvre without him, he had left Soissons the previous night, attended by eight gentlemen only and the Mayor of Paris, Brigard. He avoided Bellièvre, the Secretary of State, sent by the King to stop his progress, and formally forbade him to come within Paris. He arrived at the Louvre under the escort of Catherine of Medici, and the next day barricades were erected in the streets. Guise's partisans summoned the mob and showed them that the King's Swiss Guards do not defend themselves. The Parisians availed themselves of this and killed them in spite of the soldiers' prayers for mercy. The streets belonging to Guise, Henry III., acting upon his mother's advice, left Paris. Guise exacted from him his appointment as Lieutenant-General of the Realm, among other vexatious conditions, such as that for the King to destroy heresy in France, and give Epernon's possessions to Guise. Paris had formed itself into a 'Commune,' and the most complete anarchy reigned supreme. Henry III. and Guise awaited with anxiety the news of the Spanish Armada, and they both understood that, if it were victorious, Philip's ambition would be boundless, and France lost to Henry III. Pending the momentous issue of this expedition, Henry III. feigned to abandon Henry of Navarre and Epernon now siding with him. Then news came that there was nothing left of the once powerful Spanish Fleet. As soon as Henry III. realised that he had no longer to fear Philip, he took courage and used with the League the same policy as his mother had used with the Protestants. He meant to withdraw from Guise during the peace all the advantages the League had extorted from him to grant it. According to Conventions entered upon in July, the Parliament was to assemble at Blois. The Duke of Guise consented to attend, for he thought that this would further his views, and give him a greater importance to the detriment of the Royal power. History relates that the Duke received at least five letters warning him of the risk he was running in staying at Blois. He never gave them a thought, and remained in the town, which his friend, the beautiful Charlotte of Beaune, Marchioness of Noirmoutiers, entreated him again to leave a few hours only before the time appointed for the murder. The members of the Council who had been summoned for six o'clock arrived. The King, as soon as he saw the Cardinal of Guise entering the Council Chamber, took his men from their hiding-places and posted them in his room and the corridor outside. The Duke eventually entered the Council Chamber. He was tired, and asked for something to eat. He was offered some prunes, which he ate while the Council continued its work. The door opened and Revol, the Secretary of State, said to Guise, 'Monsieur, the King wants to speak to you; he is in his old study.'"

And this is how the film depicts the murder:

"The Duke gets up, puts a few prunes into his comfit-box, throws his cloak over his left wrist, and as he leaves the Council Chamber he is greeted by the forty-five men who are waiting for him. A few steps away from the door of the study he turns his head in order to see why they are following him, and immediately receives in the back a sword-thrust, then several wounds with daggers and swords. He clasps several of the murderers, drags them a few paces, and falls down at the foot of the King's bed, and after a few seconds passes away. The murderers find on the dead man's body a note to the effect that about £90,000 was necessary every month to maintain war in France. The body is carried down to the guard-room covered over with a grey coat and a cross made of straw, and then burned. The Marchioness of Noirmoutiers enters and realises what has been done. Mad with despair, she wishes to flee, but she dashes against the King, realises everything, and faints."

The acting of this film was vivid in its tragic intensity, and the play compelled the attention of the audience from start to finish. The music, by M. Georges Bizet, beautifully played by the Alhambra orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Byng, the musical conductor, added an additional interest.

THE RED HAND was another extremely well-acted story presented cinematographically. It is a morbid drama in eleven tableaux exhibiting modern Paris in its night aspect, the taverns and supper rooms of Montmartre; the resorts of suspicious characters and the fashionable restaurants. Of the delineators of the principal characters, M. Severin is probably best known to English playgoers as the creator of "'Chand d'habits," while Max Dearly is equally popular in Paris in melodrama at the Porte St. Martin or at the Moulin Rouge in revues. Mlle. Mistinguette, who is another spoiled favourite of the Ville Lumière, gives a realistic representation of the danse d'Apache.

We will describe the film. While the usual customers of a night resort frequented by thieves, and known as "Caveau des Innocents," are on the point of quarrelling, on account of a girl who has two admirers, several members of the aristocracy come on a visit to the den. The girl (Mlle. Mistinguette) and her lover (Max Dearly) perform the Apache dance before an enthusiastic audience. There is no need to dwell upon this most realistic dance, already so well known in England. In order that the two rivals should not resume their quarrel, the sweetheart is kept within the premises while the other man leaves the place. He drinks so much that he is soon fast asleep. Two of the aristocrats come back into the room, and after a few angry words, one of them kills his friend, then depriving him of his valuables, puts the dead man's watch and some bank notes into the sleeper's pocket, and in order to avoid possible suspicion he besmears the boy's outstretched hand with the blood of his victim. All this is done in a very matter-of-fact manner, but when he sees the blood on his own hand he hurriedly wipes it with his handkerchief, and in his haste to leave the den he drops it unawares.

The crime is discovered on the return of some of the habitués. The sleeper is arrested and accused of the crime, all clues pointing to his culpability. The sleeper's friend (Severin) remains alone, and ponders over the murder. In a nightmare he sees his friend appealing to him on his way to the guillotine, and realises that, but for his own evidence, an innocent man will have to suffer for the culprit. On waking up he leaves the place of amusement, and the next day goes to the examining magistrate's office, where he states all he knows. This scene also is very cleverly acted, especially the part in which Severin wants his document back, and when he has to give his signature. Now he is pleased with himself, and at peace with all the world. The last tableau depicts the confrontation in the den, with Severin getting up from his stretcher and frightening the culprit out of his wits. There is no doubt now as to the identification of the murderer. Some appropriate music has been composed for this film by M. F. Le Borne.

Photo. by Reutlinger.

M. SEVERIN (in "The Red Hand").

Photo. by Paul Boyer.

M. MAX DEARLY (in "The Red Hand").

LONDON & SUBURBAN THEATRES.

THE ROYALTY.

The managerial courage with which Mr. W. H. C. Nation has been rightly credited is likely to be severely taxed unless he presents something more substantial than that with which he began a season at the Royalty on Saturday. For his opening programme he selected The Shadow of the Surplice, the "Theatre of Ideas" type of play, adapted from L'Otage, by Gabriel Trarieux, which he produced during his management of the Scala last March. As a means of a "No Popery" propaganda the piece might have served its purpose a century ago, but the days of bigotry and prejudice are happily so far gone that a play which relies upon an open attack on the religious belief of a large portion of the community cannot be relied upon to attract the general public. The plot of The Shadow of the Surplice, briefly recalled, deals with the difficulties caused by husband and wife being of an opposite faith. Ernest Brockwell, M.P., and his wife, have been married fourteen years, when the husband, who is of no particular sect, wakes up to the appalling fact that his wife, an ardent Roman Catholic, is about to have their daughter confirmed. Mistaking dogged obstinacy and prejudice for a conscientious conviction, the husband, a Cabinet Minister, rather than allow the hateful ceremony to proceed, is ready to see his wife leave him and to surrender all his political prospects. Acting on the counsel of her spiritual adviser, however, Mrs. Brockwell consents to a postponement of the confirmation for three years, during which Ernest determines to wean his wife from the thrall of her Church. He succeeds so little that a couple of years later, in Berlin, when the child is ill with typhoid, Mrs. Brockwell actually allows her sister, a nun, to pray in the sick room. On the battlefield and in the hospital ward the convent sister is looked upon as little less than a ministering angel, but in the presence of the nun at the child's bedside two quaint medical men detect a serious menace to the sufferer's recovery. Mr. Brockwell's virtuous indignation is intense, until at length, yielding to the importunities of her husband, his wife sends her sister away, thus leaving her husband to enjoy his doubtful victory over "priestcraft."

As will be gathered, the play has but little dramatic fibre, and the measure of applause which it won was due primarily to the acting. Mr. Claude King was heavily handicapped by the character of the irreconcilable Ernest Brockwell, M.P., and if he never achieved the impossible task of making him plausible, he certainly won deserved admiration for the power of his performance, and the dead-level of obstinacy which he maintained. Miss Olive Wilton made a pretty and graceful young wife of Mrs. Brockwell, of whom perhaps she took too hysterical a view, and she won sympathy from an audience but little moved throughout the evening. The part of Father Honeytones was cleverly drawn by Mr. Watty Brunton, who, as far as appearance went, was the ascetic Jesuit priest to the life, and spoke in skilfully modulated tones. Mr. T. P. Haynes strove hard to make the rôle of the Labour M.P. amusing, and often succeeded; and Miss Kitty Douglas tried equally hard, but with less success, to render reasonable the part of Mrs. Wilson, Brockwell's ally in his fanatical campaign. Miss Margaret Webster doubtless carried out the author's intention in her portraiture of the cold, automaton-like nun; and Miss Rene Ash appeared as the child Veronica. Mr. Richard Hicks gave a neat sketch of Brockwell's private secretary; Mr. Davidson did well as an electioneering agent; Mr. Terry Hurst gave an eccentric study of the family doctor; and the cast was completed by Mr. Matt Gordon, who did not add to the effect of his part of a medical specialist by being obliged to read it from a book.

The piece of the evening was preceded by a farce, adapted from a story which appeared in the Covent Garden Magazine, when conducted by Mr. Nation, entitled

"A WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING."

John Morris ..... Mr. Davidson
Mr. Price ..... Mr. W. Brunton
Mr. Crafty Trixter ..... Mr. T. P. Haynes
Mrs. Easy-to-Blind ..... Miss Kitty Douglas
Kitty Trueheart ..... Miss Margaret Webster

The farce proved indifferently humorous, and clumsy in construction, the action more than once being delayed while an anecdote, intended to illustrate the speaker's contention, was dragged in. The story is that of a "religious quack" called Mr. Crafty Trixter, who, as a clerk in a solictor's office, learns that Kitty Trueheart is about to inherit a small fortune. He accordingly repairs to her aunt's home and lays siege to Kitty's heart, which, however, is in possession of a young merchant named John Morris. Trixter gets into the good graces of the aunt, but he is soon proved to have kept in his own pocket a cheque for £20, which she had given him for philanthropic purposes, and is made to hand the money over by his master, who calls to acquaint Kitty of her good fortune. The performance was notable for a droll creation of a hypocritical fraud by Mr. T. P. Haynes, whose make-up and intonation were richly humorous. Miss Margaret Webster was an attractive and vivacious Kitty; and her lover was buoyantly played by Mr. Davidson, Miss Kitty Douglas submitting a realistic characterisation of Mrs. Easy-to-Blind. Popular prices reign at the Royalty, with a 7s. stall to a 6d. gallery, and seats to all parts are bookable in advance.

KING'S THEATRE, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Comedy, entitled
"JACK STRAW."

The King's audience—a large one—laughed immoderately on Monday evening at the comical situations created by the masquerading of the Archduke Sebastian of Pomerania as Jack Straw, and at the treatment meted out to him by the upstart Parker-Jennings family. Mr. Maugham's delightful comedy bristles with witticisms, and is so admirably interpreted by Messrs. Glenister and Wood-Ingram's company that the fun is fast and furious. Of the few comediennes who could be chosen to render the part of Mrs. Parker-Jennings, Miss Florence St. John would be among the first, and it is needless to say that this accomplished actress adapts herself admirably to the vulgarity and showiness of the snobbish woman. Her very manner and style of dress are the perfection of low comedy, and Miss St. John can be highly complimented upon her impersonation. Mr. Lionel Glenister endows the part of Jack Straw with dignity and restraint, and altogether makes a distinctly favourable impression. His Excellency Count Adrian Von Bremer, the Pomeranian Ambassador, is excellently portrayed by Mr. J. W. Wood-Ingram; and Mr. J. Edgar Stevenson plays with ability the character of the Marquis of Serio. Mr. Ernest Graham is an effective Rev. Lewis Abbott; and Mr. Christmas Grose represents Vincent Parker-Jennings inimitably as a veritable young bounder. Mr. Frederick Moyes acts capitally as Ambrose Holland; Mr. A. T. Gulliver depicts Mr. Parker-Jennings as a typical parvenu; and Mr. Wm. Moor is good as the Head Waiter at the Grand Babylon Hotel. A charming representative of Ethel Parker-Jennings is Miss Lucie Milner, who plays with much grace and sincerity; Miss Edie Graham is a handsome and beautifully-gowned Lady Wanley, and her acting is deserving of praise; Rosie Abbott is brightly undertaken by Miss Jessica Waters; and Miss Estelle Despa is a successful Mrs. Withers. The scenery and appointments are of the highest quality, and the ladies' dresses cause much admiration. The play is preceded by an "incident," by Marie Muggeridge, entitled A Long Journey, in which Miss Lucie Milner as Constance Ford scores chief honours, and is capably supported by other members of the company.

THE MARLBOROUGH.

On Monday, Nov. 23,
"THE CHRISTIAN."

The Christian, a tried and proved drama of healthy sentiment, is paying a visit here this week, and is drawing good houses. The play is capitally cast, and the artists acquit themselves in a capable manner. With a particularly good stage presence and a winning manner, Mr. Roy Redgrave is admirable as the Rev. John Storm. Mr. Wilfred Noy is eminently suited as Horatio Drake, and he accomplishes some good and useful work. Mr. Herbert Hewetson, who has made a careful study of the character of Lord Robert Ure, gives an excellent reading of the part; Mr. Fewlass Llewellyn is responsible for a capital delineation of Father Lamplugh; Mr. John J. Hooker is good as Archdeacon Wealthy; Mr. Royce Milton gives a carefully conceived and well-studied portrayal of Lord Storm; and Mr. Bruce Lindsay is effective as Parson Quayle. Miss Molly Hayden presents Mrs. Callender with charming naturalness; and the Misses Muriel Marsden and Minnie Willett are admirably suited as Betty and Letty Belmont. Miss Cora Deane achieves success as Polly Love; and Miss Kitty Symons is good as Lady Robert Ure. Of Miss Daisy Scudamore's fine portrayal of Glory Quayle it is impossible to speak too highly. Her earnestness and fascinating manner are provocative of continued applause. The mounting is exceedingly well carried out, and the stage-management of Mr. Thomas Barry is irreproachable. Mr. Jack Parson is the business-manager for Mr. Wentworth Croke.

CRYSTAL PALACE THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Play, entitled
"THE BELOVED VAGABOND."

Mr. Frederick Mouillot's No. 1 company is filling the bill in a most satisfactory manner here this week with Mr. W. J. Locke's clever adaptation of his novel. Mr. Arthur Royston, who has a fine stage presence and a powerful and sympathetic voice, as the Vagabond Paragot gave a delightful rendering of this most fantastic character, and the widely differing aspects of the representation were cleverly brought out. The villain of the play, the Comte de Verneuil, was represented in telling fashion by Mr. Warburton Gamble, with a careful make-up and a restrained portrayal of a part which might easily be over-acted. Mr. Alfred Drayton was good as the guilty Lord Rushworth, who appears only in the first act, and Miss Edith Hunter was effective as Lady Rushworth. The fine figure and pleasing appearance of Miss Kathleen Harrington as Joanna Rushworth were valuable, her emotional scenes being especially good and without effort. The somewhat difficult part of Asticot was played by Mr. Ramsey Macbeth with appropriate earnestness. Mr. Howard Leslie made a benevolent old Curé of Champigny, and Mr. Arthur Linay did well in the small part of Dubois, the police emissary in the first act. Miss Ruby Wyndham was a bustling and buxom Madame la Blanc, the innkeeper, and little Miss Hettie Kenyon as Louisette gave a pretty piece of child acting. Miss Nita Faydon as Blanquette de Veau warmed to her work as the play progressed, and gave a forceful bit of acting in the third act, which was at once recognised by her audience. All that this talented young actress did was excellent. As Père Ciboulet, the old wandering musician, Mr. Guy O'Neal was effective, and Miss Marie Rogers did well as Lisette, a peasant girl. This company and play may be reckoned among the best engagements of Mr. J. Bannister Howard's season so far.

KENNINGTON THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Romantic Comedy, entitled
"THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL."

That delightful play The Scarlet Pimpernel has been revisiting the Kennington Theatre this week, and in the hands of Mr. Fred Terry and his strong and well-balanced company it has lost none of that romantic attractiveness which has made the piece so popular among the playgoers in London and the provinces for now well on four years. The combination of artists which Mr. Fred Terry has gathered round him is the same as participated in the recent revival at the New Theatre, so that the play is seen under the best possible conditions. The staging and dressing are on a lavish scale, and quite a gay and picturesque scene is furnished in the eighteenth-century ballroom in the second act. In the "Lion d'Or, near Calais," in the last act, too, realism is carried to the point of perfection, and in this particular instance a very sordid point it is. Mr. Fred Terry, in the title-rôle is, of course, the inspiration of the play. He gives a brilliant interpretation of the part of the man who, under the guise of careless conviviality, screens his heroic feats of rescue, and in the third act he scores a great triumph in his scene with Lady Blakeney. The latter was admirably impersonated by Miss Miriam Lewes, a charming and gifted actress, who displayed a wealth of histrionic talent. Miss Lewes was seen at her best in the dramatic third act episode, when she brought into play great reserves of passionate feeling. After the two principals came Mr. Horace Hodges, who gave a remarkably effective study of the part of Chauvelin, the French Envoy. It was not an easy rôle to fill, but Mr. Hodges handled it with great skill. Mr. A. E. Anson made a dignified but affable Prince of Wales, and Mr. Alfred Kendrick was magnificent as Sir Andrew Ffoulkes, giving a fine sketch of that chivalrous gentleman and impulsive lover. As his companion in the reception of the French émigrés Lord Anthony Dewhurst was adequately delineated by Mr. Malcolm Cherry, an accomplished actor, and Mr. Fredk. Groves was excellent as Lord Grenville. Miss Claire Pauncefote was an admirable Comtesse de Tournai, and Miss Nellie Clyde made a big hit as the Comtesse's daughter Susanne. The unpleasant rôles of Brogard and Mère Brogard were enacted very vividly by Mr. J. Carter-Edwards and Miss Marion Sterling respectively, and Mr. R. E. Pickering made a lot of fun as Vicomte de Tournai. Mr. D. J. Williams was happily placed as landlord of the Fishermen's Rest, and Miss Mary Jennings was a lively Sally Jellyband. Others in the cast who deserved mention were Mr. L. R. Dunrobin, who was a manly Armand, Mr. Hermann Griffiths, a picturesque revolutionary captain, Miss Stuart Innes (Lady Portarles), and Mr. Walter Edwin (Herbert). The smaller parts were well sustained.

THE SHAKESPEARE.

On Monday Nov. 23, the Farce, in Three Acts, entitled
"WHEN KNIGHTS WERE BOLD."

Laughter holding both its sides reigns supreme at the Shakespeare Theatre this week, during which Mr. James Welch's Company, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Whittaker, has been delighting large audiences with the adventures of the very modern baronet, Sir Guy de Vere. Mr. Henry J. Ford's conception of the rôle of the Baronet was a clever one, and he kept the audience in uncontrollable laughter throughout. He has a thorough grip of the character, and, although bearing the brunt of the work, acts with unflagging energy to the end, being accorded long-sustained applause after each act. He receives considerable support from an excellent company, who are whole-hearted in their efforts to amuse. Mr. Vernon Sansbury contributes a clever character study of the Jew, Isaac Isaacson, and Mr. Cecil Clayton does well as the Hon. Charles Widdicombe with a propensity for stale jokes. Mr. William Lockhart's delineation of the Rural Dean, Rev. Peter Pottlebury, is in every way satisfactory, and the same may be said of Mr. George Rowlands as Sir Brian Ballymote, whose brogue is the only honest thing about him. Mr. Talbot Homewood as Wittle and Mr. Reginald Hunter as Barker also contribute excellent performances, and Mr. Herbert Ransom is a capable Herald. As Lady Rowena Eggington Miss Bruce Joy is seen to great advantage, the indulgence of her ladyship's ancestral pride being well depicted. Her sisters, Lady Millicent and Lady Marjorie, are charmingly enacted by Miss Violet Graham and Miss Gretchen Yates. Miss Phyllis Back does all that is possible in the part of Miss Sarah Isaacson, and Miss Ethel Royale is a stately Hon. Mrs. Waldegrave. Miss Bessie Walters does well as Alice Barker, and Miss Adrienne Yates is a naïve Kate Pottlebury. The farce is preceded by a duologue, entitled The Wrong Side of the Road, in which Miss Phyllis Back and Mr. Cecil Clayton create a good impression.

PAVILION THEATRE, E.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Drama, entitled
"ALONE IN LONDON."

Many years have passed since Alone in London was last performed here, and audiences are afforded an excellent treat this week by the all-round artistic acting of Mr. J. F. Elliston's company in Robert Buchanan and Harriet Jay's well-written play. The plot is carefully unfolded, so that several opportunities are given for the exhibition of some fine stage pictures, notably the scenes, Westminster Bridge and the Old Sluice House and Flood-gates. Mr. W. S. Hartford makes the most of his chances as the bluff John Biddlecombe, and gives a performance of sterling merit, while the Spriggins of Mr. Frank Sutherland is very commendable. As the scheming adventurer Richard Redcliffe Mr. Percy Rhodes is very good, bringing out with dramatic effect the brutal qualities necessary to the rôle. The hypocritical thief, Jenkinson, is once more enacted with a fine degree of subtle humour by Mr. Percy Bell, and Mr. Harry McClelland is well in the picture as the Banker, Mr. Burnaby, whose son Walter is rendered with ease by Mr. Blundell Fenton. The avenging Gipsy Tom is pathetically portrayed by Miss Mary Stafford Smith, and the long suffering Nan is effectively played by Miss Theresa Osborne, who is to be congratulated upon the elocution and power infused into the character. Mr. Lonnen Meadows not only is responsible for the stage-management of the piece, but also humorously depicts the humble professional Charley Johnson. Miss Nellie Lauraine as Mrs. Maloney, Miss Elsie Clarke as little Paul, Miss Gertie Douglas as Liz Jenkinson, and Miss Rose Grey as Ruth Clifton, are all competent exponents of their respective parts. The Pavilion orchestra give a good selection of music under the direction of Mr. Victor Vorzanger.

DALSTON THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Musical Comedy, entitled
"A CHINESE HONEYMOON."

Mr. Milton Bode's company at the Dalston Theatre is presenting A Chinese Honeymoon in a way which thoroughly delights an audience bent on fun. An augmented orchestra, under the directorship of Mr. Knight Pearce, renders the attractive music in efficient style, and the stage-management of Mr. P. Allerton Turner leaves nothing further to be desired in that department. Mr. Rudolph Kloss as Hang Chow, Emperor of Ylang-Ylang, imparts a good deal of dignity to the character, and the songs allotted to him are rendered in good style. Mr. P. Allerton Turner as Chippie Chop, Lord Chancellor, shows what a thoroughly submissive minister should be; while Mr. Leonard May as High Lung, Lord High Admiral, puts in some good old-fashioned comedy which is much appreciated. Mr. Harry Jennings makes a pleasing Tom Hatherton; the Mr. Pineapple of Mr. J. W. Hooper is a most amusing performance; and Miss Veronica Brady is equally good in her way as Mrs. Pineapple. As Mrs. Brown, the official mother-in-law, Miss Maud Adams impresses everyone by evidence of strong-mindedness; while the quaint pertness of Miss Gwennie Harcourt as the waitress Fi-Fi occasions much genuine merriment. Miss Nina Carlton is a decided success as Soo-Soo, taking advantage of the many opportunities which the character offers to be on the best of terms with the audience.

THE ELEPHANT AND CASTLE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Drama,
"HER LUCK IN LONDON."

The beggar girl having been married for the last time here, we now have Mr. George Kirk and Miss Mary Neil's new and original drama, entitled Her Luck in London. The drama is well staged and suitably mounted Miss Mary Neil fills the part of the much-tried heroine, Nellie, and gives a most praiseworthy performance; Mr. Douglas Cecil cuts a fine figure as the manly hero, the Hon. Fitzgerald O'Connor; Mr. Frank Strickland as the villainous Richard Lenowen plays his part in a very unostentatious manner; Mr. Douglas Tremayne, at first humorous as the curate, Lionel Strong, at the finish plays the part of the muscular Christian. The comic relief is in the capable hands of Mr. Henri Gerald as Jerry Gotobed and Miss Florrie Groves as Maud Shovepenny; Miss Amy B. Ellis makes a decided hit as Angelina Plantagenet, "a lady with a priceless thirst"; Miss Beatrice Hudson is good as the prudish Lilian Harborne; and Miss Daisie Moss, Miss Queenie Lamont, and Miss Kitty Gerald twinkle merrily as evening stars.

ARTILLERY THEATRE, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Comic Opera, entitled
"THE DANDY FIFTH."

Under the direction of Mr. Haldane Crichton, Mr. Clarence C. Corri is presenting this week, at the Artillery Theatre, his own successful military comic opera, The Dandy Fifth. The fact that he himself presides in the conductor's chair accounts, no doubt to a considerable extent, for the swing and go with which the opera runs its merry course. The tuneful melodies and the smart dialogue supplied by Mr. G. R. Sims are pleasing highly-appreciative audiences. Mr. Percy Baverstock as Colonel of the Fifth Lancers essays the part of that short-tempered military man with much gusto. Dick Darville, the hero, is ably portrayed by Mr. J. Edward Fraser, who scores in his various vocal numbers. Mr. Jack Crichton is a droll Trooper Brown, and gains popularity. Mr. George Beverley is also amusing as Sergeant-Major Milligan, and is equally successful. Mr. C. Bellard as Trooper Jones and Mr. William Henry as Trooper Robinson are diverting. Sir Victor is capably played by Mr. Phil Hart. Miss Pauline Hague depicts the character of Kate Lorrimer in a talented manner, her artistic singing being accorded a hearty reception. Miss Nora Morra makes a very lively little person of Polly, singing and dancing herself into favour. A humorous sketch of Mrs. Von Blitzen is offered by Miss Maud Nicholls. Miss Florence Spurgeon is suitably placed as Antoinette, and the remaining characters are in capable hands.

THE WEST LONDON THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Drama, in Four Acts, entitled
"A WOMAN'S REVENGE."

The old Adelphi drama above named is here this week, and it is very well played by Mr. Henry L. Osmond's talented company. Mr. H. Elmore Frith makes a distinct hit as Jephtha Grimwade, his acting being gracefully easy and his enunciation pleasingly distinct; Mr. J. C. Carlyle meritoriously portrays Robert Overstone; Mr. Harry Cooke is brightly amusing as Dick Chilton; Mr. Charles Tolcher quaintly sustains a country yokel; and Mr. Henry L. Osmond proffers one of his usually effective character studies as Frank Drummond. As the adventuress, Mabel Wentworth, Miss Lilian Burns is decidedly vindictive, and scores accordingly; Miss Mabel Tremere deserves every credit for her Lottie Bromley; Miss Victoria Maynard is full of childish intelligence as little Mary Drummond; whilst Miss Winifred Chalmers enacts Mary Lonsdale with womanly tenderness and sympathy. The rest of the company all work hard, and the all-round success obtained is well deserved.

BRIXTON THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Drama, entitled
"THE MIDNIGHT WEDDING."

Once again is Mr. Walter Howard providing the bill of fare at this successful theatre, and large and enthusiastic houses are the rule. Messrs. Walter Howard and Alfred Paumier, who are responsible for the production, have provided a very capable company, the play is well mounted, and the whole goes with smoothness. In the rôle of Paul Valmar Mr. Alfred Paumier merits great praise as the intrepid sword-master; Mr. A. Winnington Barnes is seen to advantage as Lieut. Von Strelsburg; Mr. Mayor Cooke displays ability as Captain Rudolph; Mr. Forbes Harrison must be congratulated on his effective portrait of Father Gerard; while Mr. John Nesbitt capitally realises the points of the Crown Prince Leopold. Fun is provided by Mr. Algie Spalding as Private Bobo; Mr. James E. Page as Sergeant Max, and Mr. Harry Richardson as Corporal Otto. Miss Yvonne Orchardson is a delightful impersonator of the Princess, her acting being of a high order of merit. Miss Ada Champion is a spirited representative of Kathie. Mr. Arthur Radford plays with distinction as Sub-Lieut. Kulman.

BROADWAY THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23,
"THE PRINCE OF PILSEN."

The Prince of Pilsen had a warm welcome here on Monday, and the bright and pleasing musical comedy was ably interpreted by all the members of Baron H. Harriss's clever company, at the head of which are Miss Sophie Harriss and Mr. Harry Kilburn. Miss Harriss was a delightful Mrs. Maddison Crocker, and her performance was an instant success. Mr. Harry Kilburn made a great hit as Hans Wagner and gave a very amusing rendering of the rôle. Nellie Wagner was cleverly embodied by Miss Nellie Lomas. Lieutenant Tom Wagner had a manly and handsome representative in Mr. Arthur Geary. Carl Otto, the Prince of Pilsen, was successfully played by Mr. Leslie Owen. Arthur de Willoughby Rossmore was well enacted by Mr. Charles Rogers, Mr. Ernest Gifford was an amusing François, and Mr. Maddison Rich was successful as Cook's Courier. Mr. Charles Clyde was good as Sergeant Brie, and the numerous other male parts were capitally filled. Edith Adams had an attractive and clever representative in Miss Dora Christian, Miss Mabel Dent was a charming and vivacious Sidonie, and Miss Marion Ryder played Jimmie, the bell boy, very smartly. The various "girls" had pretty and musical representatives, and the dresses and scenery were excellent. Mr. Frank Barrett is musical director, and Mr. W. E. Wilson the courteous acting-manager.

THEATRE ROYAL, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Drama, entitled
"AN UNWEDDED WIFE."

Presented by Miss Ethel van Praagh and Mr. J. Edward Whitty's company, the play of An Unwedded Wife, although intended to display the depths of human emotion, is liberally supplied with comedy, which meets with popular favour. The striking personality and powerful acting of Miss Ethel Van Praagh is of excellent service in the title-rôle, and the clever actress thoroughly deserves the recalls she receives at the end of each act. Mr. George Daiper as Frank Hawthorn provides a sound rendering of the part, and in his hands the hero is made the most of. Mr. J. E. Whitty as P.C. Runyin depicts "the pride of the force" in burlesque fashion. Mr. Charles Stirling in the character of Philip Blackstone, the Golden Falcon, makes a good villain. Napoleon B. Boomer is amusingly essayed by Mr. Will Casey. A humorous interpretation is given to the part of Christopher Lennox, a coster with a bad reputation, by Mr. Wilton Bedford. The character of Caraway Crumpet is sustained by Miss Dorothea Pearce. The boy Reggie is suitably undertaken by Little Dorris. Able assistance is also rendered by Mr. J. A. Grove, Mr. Bert Hendley, and Miss Chandos.

GREENWICH THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Play, by T. Arthur Jones, entitled
"WHEN OTHER LIPS."

Mr. Jones's capital drama is drawing good business here, and the author-manager is seen to great advantage in the character of Ted Daunton, a part he plays excellently. Mr. Juan D'Alberti is a clever representative of the unscrupulous Basil Cunningham. Mr. Cecil H. Raymond is very good indeed as Tommy Neccles. Mr. Richard Webb plays Duddle Topwash cleverly. Mr. Herbert Bentone is very amusing as Pylocrates Bombloso Jenkins. Mr. Albert H. Clarke proves himself a sound actor in the part of Robert Lingley. Mr. Jack Everton characterises Davey Phillips well, Mr. Robert Lawin is good as Sharpy, and Mr. Arthur Felton is excellent as Ginger. Master Tom Fletcher is a smart and promising Little Sam, Mr. Edwards Jeffs is a typical stage police constable, Mr. William Coventry and Mr. James Keppel do well as the Priest and Jimmy Murdock respectively. Miss Marie Daventry gives an attractive and convincing rendering of the part of Ruth Lingly, and makes herself a warm favourite. Miss Marion Wells acts with earnestness and power as "the Snare." Miss Agnes Collier is a sympathetic and clever Octavia; Miss Ivy May Clarke is a very pleasing Nancy; and Miss Lizzie Lennon is an amusing Kitty Topwash. The performance concludes with the Chronomegaphone.

FULHAM THEATRE.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Play entitled
"TWO LITTLE VAGABONDS."

Hardie and Von Leer's company in Two Little Vagabonds is doing well at Fulham. The play possesses a strong element of reality, and makes a wholesome appeal to the emotions, and well deserves its continued popularity. Mr. Richard A. Greene does well as George Thornton, and plays with excellent spirit and force. Mr. Arthur E. Melborne is quietly effective as Captain Darville; and Mr. Joseph Brandon is satisfactory as John Scarth. Mr. Benson Kleve carries through the part of the Gaffer with considerable success, and is well supported by Mr. Stanley Field as Dido Bunce and Mr. Fred Archer as the Coughdrop, the latter provoking much laughter by his quaint performance. Mr. Kent as Leeson, Mr. Dubosc as Gargoyle, and Mr. E. Flixton as Whiffin, fill in their parts satisfactorily. Miss Florence Dalton does well in the highly emotional rôle of Marion Thornton; and Miss Marion Fawcett gives good support in the quieter rôle of Barbara Scarth. The humorous part of Biddy Mullins is in the capable hands of Miss Marie Pritchard, who does not let a point escape her. The two boys Dick and Wally are well enacted by Miss Denise Zaleski and Miss Alice Leon. The former enacts the robust Dick in a bright and lively manner, with a strong sense of humour; while Miss Leon makes an effective contrast as the weaker, Wally. Miss Zaleski proved a warm favourite with the house. Altogether, the company give an excellent performance of a play that is certainly one of the most attractive of its type.

A grand concert will be given by the Dulwich Philharmonic Society on Dec. 5 at 7.30 at the Crystal Palace, when Bizet's Carmen will be given. Mr. Arthur Fagge will, as usual, conduct.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION.

Minutes of the council meeting held at 353, Strand, on Tuesday, Nov. 24. Present:—Mr. Fred Grove (in the chair), Mr. H. W. Mote (hon. solicitor), Messrs. Franklyn Walford, Richard A. Greene, F. Morland, Fewlass Llewellyn, and Jackson Wilcox, Miss Marion Lind, Miss Lucy Sibley, and Mr. Hubert Blount (secretary).

The minutes of the previous meeting held were read and confirmed.

The hon. solicitors reported interviews with, and advice to, two members. The finance report was read and accepted.

The council instructed the secretary to correct a former minute, which was wrongly published, and now reads as follows:—"Mr. Jackson Wilcox moved a resolution as to the publication of the solicitors' report, and on Miss Lind seconding the motion, it was decided to eliminate all names in the future where cases are sub judice, and in completed cases to publish names only after permission had been obtained from the member concerned."

Mr. Wilcox read a letter from a firm of insurance brokers saying that they were prepared to grant to members of the A.A. a special policy covering all risks to luggage, upon the recommendation in each case of two members of the council, and asked permission for this governing clause to appear in an advertisement, for which the insurance brokers were prepared to pay, in the Year Book for 1909, which permission was granted.

The question of insurance was discussed at great length, and the secretary was instructed to get out all the correspondence between himself and the Sun Office since the beginning of the year, and bring it before the council at the next meeting.

Ernest Young, proposed by J. P. Butler, seconded by Sylvia Morris, was elected.

The chairman read Mr. Cecil Raleigh's report of the meeting with the L.C.C., which was as follows:—

"DEPUTATION TO THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

"As chairman of the deputation invited by the County Council to wait on the Committee of Public Control with regard to the question of registering agents, I have the honour to report that, in conformity with the arrangement made by the Council, the deputation met at the offices of the Association a similar deputation from the Variety Artists' Federation, of which Mr. W. H. Clemart was the spokesman.

"After a long and very interesting conference it was found that the views of the Federation and of the Association were in complete sympathy on all fundamental points. The two deputations proceeded together to the offices of the County Council in Spring Gardens, but according to the custom of the Committee of Public Control, they were received separately.

"Speaking for the Actors' Association deputation, I urged upon the Committee that mere registration would be ineffective, and I pointed out that it would be far better for agents to be regularly licensed. I considered that this would improve the business of the well-known and reputable agents, as it would keep out the competition of undesirable persons. I placed before the Committee a number of advertisements cut from newspapers, showing the manner in which utterly inexperienced and ignorant amateurs were being constantly tempted to join our calling. I pointed out that this constant influx of raw labour was a very grave matter for a calling that was already largely overstocked. I pointed out also that these advertisements were sometimes the means of extracting money from foolish and ignorant people bitten with the desire to go on the stage. I laid before the Committee the example of a man who not long ago was sentenced to eighteen months' hard labour for swindling people out of small sums of money in the above manner. In conclusion, I again urged that all agents should be licensed.

"A number of questions were asked by the chairman and several members of the Committee, after which the deputation withdrew.

"(Signed) Cecil Raleigh."

The council passed a vote of thanks to Mr. Raleigh and the deputation.

The secretary informed the council that a member complained of the publication of the names in the agency report. The matter was discussed at considerable length and adjourned.

The secretary informed the council that Sir Anderson Critchett had called at the offices, and wished him to thank the council for their vote of congratulation on his elevation to a baronetcy.

ACTORS' UNION.

The weekly committee meeting of the Actors' Union took place at 49, Bedford-street, on the 19th inst., when the following were present:—Messrs. Leslie Arthur (chair), Henry Bedford, Cecil G. Calvert, J. W. Braithwaite, Gerald Mirrielees, F. Rawson Buckley, and Kenneth Blackmore (secretary). Communications were received from Messrs. Royce Milton, A. Maitland Stapley, Jerrold Heather, J. Hastings Batson, Orlando Barnett, James English, Oswald Marshall, Walter Rignold, and Paul Lovett.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

No reply having been received from the sanitary authorities, it was decided to hold over the matter of the insanitary theatre until next week.

A member having written to ask if the committee would allow him to pay up his arrears in January next, the secretary was instructed to inform him that, under the circumstances, they were agreeable to accept his proposal.

The secretary was instructed to express to the relatives of the late Mr. Topham the sincere sympathy of the Union in their late sad bereavement.

One member was elected.

The attention of members of the Actors' Union is drawn to the fact that a general meeting will be held on Tuesday next, at Hummums Hotel, Covent Garden, at which a resolution will be put, altering the present system of subscription, which, if carried, will come into operation next January.

A gold earring was found at Hummums Hotel after an A.U. meeting. If the lady who has lost the trinket will apply to the secretary, it will be returned.

THE CROWN, PECKHAM.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Play, by Walter Howard, entitled
"THE PRINCE AND THE BEGGAR MAID."

A welcome visit is this week being paid by Messrs. Walter Howard and Alfred Paumier's company in the Lyceum success The Prince and the Beggar Maid. The company represents the play to the best advantage, and secures a very cordial greeting. Mr. Herbert Ford soon enlists the sympathy of the house as the chivalrous hero, Prince Olaf. Mr. Ivan Cleveland contributes a skilful picture of polished villainy as Prince Hildred. Miss Annie Saker as Princess Monica looks very handsome, and acts with abundant pathos and charm. Miss Dido Drake is a sympathetic little beggar maid as Camiola, and Miss Isla Garnet-Vayne is a pretty and pert Viola. Mr. Graeme Campbell as the grim hunchback Michael contributes a fine character sketch which is of the utmost value to the success of the play. Mr. J. E. Gardner does well as the dumb servant Nathan. Mr. D. Lewin Mannering is a gallant Captain Hector, and Mr. Kendal Chalmers a manly Lieutenant Karl Stromberg. Mr. Francis Hawley is excellent as the crafty Bishop of Illyria. The scenery, mounting, and effects are most appropriate and picturesque.

FURNISHING THE CRITERION.

On the 20th inst. Sir Charles Wyndham and Mrs. Albery (Miss Mary Moore) were sued in the King's Bench Division before Mr. Justice Darling and a Special Jury for £267 6s. 7d., the balance of an account of £1,398 due under a contract for goods sold and work done at the theatre The plaintiffs were Messrs. James Shoolbred and Co., Tottenham Court-road. The defendants denied that the work was done according to the contract, and counter-claimed for damages. The plaintiffs denied there was any negligence on their part.

Mr. English Harrison, K.C., and Mr. R. J. J. Willis appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. Spencer Bower, K.C., and Mr. B. J. Albery were for the defendants. Mr. English Harrison said the contract was dated Jan. 30, 1907. The plaintiffs had done work in 1899 at Wyndham's Theatre, and they were entrusted in 1907 with work at the Criterion Theatre, which included a yellow drop-curtain, upholstering the seats of the stalls in yellow, renewing arm-rests round the dress circle, &c. It was complained that the yellow material was not satin, but crushed velvet; that the colours did not match with the samples selected; and that the carpet in the stalls was Saxony carpet, and did not match the Wilton-pile carpet in the bar. Plaintiffs contended that the satin trimmings were an excellent match, that the velvet was better than the sample, and that the carpets matched well.

The case was adjourned till Monday, when Mr. Frederick Shoolbred, senior and acting partner in the firm of Messrs. Shoolbred and Co., stated that when he first went to the theatre to investigate the causes of complaint the theatre was not lighted up or uncovered. He asked several times to be shown the blue satin that did not match, but it was not shown to him. Each time he asked to see it complaint was made about something else.

Mr. Ernest Runtz, Fellow of the Institute of British Architects, asked what was the effect of the Criterion Theatre scheme, replied: "Most excellent effect, showing the very good taste of Miss Moore—like all her judgments."

Mr. Spencer Bower (for the defence) contended there was no case to meet. The plaintiffs must prove that defendants were really satisfied, and were rejecting the work out of caprice.

His lordship held that the case must go to the jury, and, in answer to counsel, he said he was going to put the case back and front, sideways and longways, and to prepare it nicely for the Appeal Court.

Mr. Bower said defendants were asking of the law whether they had contracted with an upholsterer that work should be done according to sample, and also to their entire satisfaction—when it was provided that the money should be paid as the work proceeded, and 20 per cent. should be retained till they were completely satisfied—and whether, when they were not satisfied, they could be made to pay. The whole object of Miss Moore was to get an exact shade of a certain new colour to give éclat to the opening of the theatre. If people would contract to do things which they knew to be impossible, and did not tell the other side, they must take the consequences.

As to the question of damages claimed by defendants, Mr. Bower said that they would have to close the theatre for a fortnight, owing to the alleged defective work, and the letting value of the theatre was £200 per week.

Miss Mary Moore, one of the defendants, stated that she advised a certain colour scheme to give distinction to the reopening on her return with Sir Charles Wyndham after an absence of eight years. She said she heard of a new shade of blue when in Paris, and she procured a piece of brocade for plaintiffs to copy. Had plaintiffs not succeeded in matching it she would have reverted to the old rose colour. When the theatre was reopened, she said to Sir Charles Wyndham that it had not the bright effect that she had aimed at, and on investigation she discovered the satin was not the same as the sample, and that the velvet on the chairs was absolutely different.

Sir Charles Wyndham said he agreed to the blue colour as selected by Miss Moore He was dissatisfied with the work.

Cross-examined: The seating in the stalls was dark, and there was no brilliance of colour.

On Tuesday seven questions were put to the jury by his lordship.

On the subordinate questions the jury were not unanimous. They replied as follows:

1. Was the blue satin placed in the theatre of the same shade as the sample shown by the defendants (a) as to its face?—Yes; (b) as to its back?—No.

2. Was the yellow velvet placed in the theatre of the same shade as the sample shown by the defendants (a) as to its face?—In certain lights, yes (b) as to its back?—In certain lights, no.

3. In case the back be darker than the face does that affect the shade of the face (a) in the blue satin?—No; (b) in the yellow velvet?—Jury divided.

4. Was the tableau curtain properly made?—Two slight defects.

5. Were defendants honestly and in good faith dissatisfied with the work as done by plaintiffs?—Yes.

6. Was the dissatisfaction of defendants reasonable, having regard to the nature of the work to be done, the plaintiff's knowledge of defendants' views as to the colour of the scheme and the position and lighting of the work?—Jury divided

7. Have defendants proved any damage by reason of the work having been done as it was?—No.

Before attending court the jury made an inspection of the work in dispute at the theatre.

Mr. Alexander Francis Henderson, manager for the defendants, said he pointed out to plaintiffs' representative how particular Mrs. Albery was and witness was assured no variation in the shades of the samples would be made. Subsequently he admitted there was a variation; there was a difference of a shade or two from the samples, but he said it did not matter, as the material used was as good as the samples. Witness told him Miss Moore would certainly not accept the satin or velvet The appliqué strips were placed the wrong way, and the appearance was "dreadful." A large piece of velvet appeared to have been sewn in the middle of the tableau curtain, which made it bulge out. It was very ugly. The box-fronts were also very badly padded. In his opinion, the satin had quite a different shade to the sample, both back and front.

In summing up, his lordship alluded to the difficulty some people had in distinguishing colours. The jury had to say if the material was according to sample. According to the contract, the work was to be done to the satisfaction of the defendants, and the jury knew they were not satisfied. It was said Miss Moore was fastidious. Well, she had a perfect right to be fastidious, and if a person contracted to do the work he must satisfy her, although she was a person who would be more difficult to satisfy than most people. When a person said he would do work to satisfaction, they must read into the contract, "I undertook it on the assumption that you are a person capable of being satisfied." It was assumed Miss Moore could be satisfied. The defendants must not be dissatisfied and refuse to perform the contract simply because of something which was not material to the contract.

The jury having failed to agree on all the questions, after an hour's deliberation, his lordship said he would accept the verdict on the questions answered.

"THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT," for actor and composer, by Albert A. Strong, LL.B. (Lond.). Price 2s. 6d., post free 3s. 10d. Published at The Era Building, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

"WHEN A LASS LOVES."

New and original Melodrama, in Four Acts, written by Tom Craven; produced at the Theatre Royal, Margate, on Monday, Nov. 23.

Caleb Crass ..... MR. FRANK STONE
Dr. Allan Crass ..... MR. W. EDWYN HOLLOWAY
Anthony Greig ..... MR. A. C. THORNHILL
Bertram Bridge ..... MR. ARTHUR BURNE
Slack ..... MR. LOUIS FALGRAVE
Reggie Stapleton .... MR. REGINALD H. STEPHENS
Calvin Chase ..... MR. H. AINGER
Policeman ..... MR. LIONEL BARTON
Nina May ..... MISS JESSIE LOTHIAN
Cynthia Bridge ..... MISS RITA TREKELLE
Constance Lane ..... MISS NONA HOFFE

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

This is undobtedly one of Mr. Craven's best efforts. He sustains the interest of the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The plot is replete with sensational incidents and dramatic situations, and the humorous element agreeably relieves the heavier portions of the play.

The story opens in Caleb Crass's office. Constance Lane's father having given Caleb his start in life, Caleb in return is anxious to make provision for her. As his own son, Dr. Allan Crass, a young man who has taken his degrees but never practised, is a spendthrift, he announces his intention of making Constance Lane his heiress. Allan is in trouble. He owes £500 for gambling debts to the fascinating, but unprincipled Cynthia Bridge. This adventuress, who is also known as Mrs. Anthony Greig, is madly in love with Dr. Allan Crass, although she is already the wife of Bertram Bridge, a card-sharper and swell cracksman, and the bigamous wife of Anthony Greig, a Scotch millionaire. Allan, in asking for his father's help, states that unless he gets the money to pay his debt of honour, "a life will pay the forfeit." Constance thinks her lover could be redeemed; and, as an ex-lady detective, sees her way to win him back to favour and to herself. The son's plea is successful. The father gives him the money he requires, but makes it a sine qud non that he will hand him the bottle of poison which he has purchased with a view to taking his life. After this stormy interview, Caleb Crass is approached by Anthony Greig, who wishes him to draw up a deed of settlement in favour of his "wife," the notorious Cynthia; but Crass recognises her as the adventuress his son has been going about with, and threatens to expose her. Foolishly, he refers to his son's visit, tells the woman of his threats, and even shows her the bottle of poison. Cynthia is able to get possession of it, and drops it into the old man's tea, so that he dies, and relieves her of fear of exposure. Her husband, Bertram Bridge, unknown to her, is a witness of the murder, and uses that information later on for his own ends. But Cynthia makes out that the murder has been committed by Allan. Constance, believing in her fiancé's innocence, determines to prove it, and works with the cunning of a female Sherlock Holmes to attain that end.

In Act 2, at Dr. Allan Crass's lodgings, the son, unaware of his father's death, is visited by Mr. and Mrs. Bridge, who seek to fasten the crime upon him by leaving the key of the safe in his room. All the evidence already points to Dr. Crass being the murderer, as he was the last person known to be in company with the deceased, and other facts point to his guilt. But Constance is on the alert. When a policeman comes to arrest her lover she persuades the constable to change into civilian's clothes, and sends him off on a wild goose chase, whilst Allan gets away disguised in the officer's uniform.

In Act 3 the fugitive is being concealed by Constance at her flat in Eccentric Mansions, formerly occupied by a famous swell cracksman; and here the persistent Cynthia comes to try and blackmail Constance. She demands £5,000 as the price of her silence, otherwise she will hunt Allan down and have him arrested for the murder of his father. In her mad infatuation for the young doctor she is prepared to go to any length, but at the same time she wants a part of the money left to Constance by her godfather, Caleb Crass. Like many cunning people, she overreaches herself. Constance sees through her, adroitly circumvents her, and gets her lover away to his own place, Crass Lodge, Dulwich.

Here in Act 4 there is a novel garden roof scene. Terrified by her husband's threat to save himself even at the price of his wife's freedom, Cynthia throws herself from the roof. Her husband is arrested, the innocence of Dr. Crass is proved by a letter written by the dead man after Allan left the office, and matters terminate with the prospective union of Constance and Allan.

The cast was a good one. Miss Nona Hoffe was an interesting and altogether delightful Constance Lane. She played the heroine with dramatic force and insistence, but never for a moment overdid the part, which she rendered with calm judgment and good taste. Miss Rita Trekelle was all that could be desired as the watchful, ubiquitous, resourceful, and remorseless Cynthia Bridge. Miss Jessie Lothian, as an Anglo-American, was particularly good, playing her part with skill and a realistic "twang." Mr. Frank Stone as Caleb Crass was a typical old lawyer. Mr. Edwyn Holloway was good as Dr. Allan Crass, and Mr. A. C. Thornhill was much in evidence as Anthony Greig. Mr. Arthur Burne was cool, calculating, and cynical as Bertram Bridge, and Mr. Louis Palgrave as Slack, the office boy, and Mr. Reginald H. Stephens in the character of Reggie Stapleton, a clerk with histrionic aspirations, were both amusing. At the fall of the curtain, and in reply to vociferous calls, Mr. Tom Craven came upon the stage and bowed his acknowledgments.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

The orchestral concert of Thursday evening, Nov. 19, commenced with the late Dr. Joachim's Hamlet Overture, originally composed in 1852, and stated to be given for the first time in England on this occasion. Beyond the fact that this work was written fifty-six years ago, no special interest attaches to the overture, except that it was composed by a famous violinist, who also wrote the Hungarian Concerto. In the concert of Thursday the most important item was the first performance of Mr. A. von Ahn Carse's Symphony No. 2, in G minor, which was recommended for performance by the Committee of the Patrons' Fund. Mr. von Ahn Carse has been trained at the Royal Academy of Music, and this striking symphony proves that the young and clever composer has in no small degree the divine gift of melody. The opening movement allegro molto moderato contains a plaintive and graceful theme for wind and string, while the spirited allegro vivo shows the composer has also a keen sense of humour. In the seven variations there is much charming and delightful music, and a stately introduction leads to quite a masterly finale. The composer, who conducted his symphony with great ability, received a most enthusiastic greeting from the large audience. Dvorák's lovely violoncello solo, "Waldesruhe," was beautifully played by Mr. Felix Salmond, and Miss Winifred Gardiner greatly distinguished herself by her fine performance of Schumann's Concerto for piano and orchestra, in A minor. Mr. Ivor Walters also deserved hearty praise for his admirable singing of "Love in her eyes," from Handel's "Acis." The other vocalist was Miss Jean Fyans, who gained much applause in César Franck's "La Procession." Sir Charles V. Stanford conducted the orchestra with the exception of Mr. Carse's Symphony.

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps.

DEATH OF HARRY FISCHER.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Harry Fischer, who passed away after much suffering on the 20th inst., the cause of death being that dread malady cancer of the throat. Though he has not been before the public much of late years, the deceased actor was particularly versatile and an excellent producer. His first engagement was with Morgan Smith, coloured tragedian, at the then Theatre Royal, Mexborough. He was engaged for second low comedy, and to sing and dance between the pieces. However, they cast him for juveniles, &c., and he got his notice the first week. He next succeeded in obtaining an engagement with Mr. G. W. Vickers at the Alhambra Theatre, Castleford.

In the meantime, however, he had so much improved that he was offered a re-engagement at a reduced salary to stay at Mexborough, but with much dignity he replied, "Many thanks, but I have already settled another engagement." So at the end of three weeks Mr. Fischer left and journeyed to Castleford, expecting from the name to find a fine handsome theatre. On his arrival he ascertained that he had a mile to walk, and when he asked a yokel to direct him to the Alhambra Theatre the answer he received was, "Eh, you mean show box in Market." He at last came to a wooden building with a canvas top. He knocked at the door, asked for Mr. Vickers, and introduced himself. He said, "Oh, yes, Mr. Fischer. Well, my boy, you play John Brown in The Seven Clerks and Jack Nightingale in Jessie Vere to-night. Of course, you have played the parts before?" "Oh, yes," was the reply, "only I should like to have a look at the books." He had never heard of the pieces before, but was a wonderful study. His acting in them he regarded as an awful failure, but his songs and dances pleased everybody. They were all on share terms, and one or two objected to his taking any, calling him only a boy and a novice.

THE LATE MR. HARRY FISCHER.

"However," he used to say, "Mr. Vickers took a fancy to me, and I stayed with them six months, during which time I played as many as fourteen parts in one week." Mr. Fischer left Mr Vickers to join the late Joseph Eldred at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin. He, however, only did one dance in the burlesque of Amy Robsart. Charles Groves was the Varney at the time, and Miss Kathleen Vivian the Amy. Eldred had no one to play Uriah Heep, in Little Em'ly, and asked Mr Fischer is he could go on in that part. He consented, and from that time he played nothing but principal rôles in burlesque, musical comedy, and pantomime.

The deceased actor was with Mr. Eldred seven years, after which he had five stock seasons at the Theatre Royal, Plymouth, and two at Belfast. Then followed Randolph the Reckless (Victor Stevens's company), several tours with Mr. J. L. Shine, Don Juan, Junior, Messrs. Edouin and Brough's Babes, Lurcher, in Dorothy; Reuben Armstrong, Bells of Haslemere; Sir Augustus Harris's Venus tour; the original Ben Gay, in A Trip to Chinatown, in the provinces; also the original Tramp in the provinces, Message from Mars (North tour). In pantomime he played the principal comedian's part at the following theatres:—Twice, Queen's Theatre, Dublin; twice, Theatre Royal, Birmingham; Prince of Wales's Theatre, Liverpool; four times, Theatre Royal, Nottingham; three times, Grand Theatre, Glasgow; Theatre Royal, Birmingham; Alexandra Theatre, Sheffield; Tyne Theatre, Newcastle-on-Tyne; Prince's Theatre, Manchester; Theatre Royal, Glasgow; Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne; Prince's Theatre, Bristol; and Cassim Baba, Theatre Royal, Drury Lane. He also produced pantomimes at the Prince's Theatre, Manchester; Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne; Theatre Royal, Birmingham; and Bo-Peep, Robinson Crusoe, and Babes in the Wood at the Comedy Theatre, Manchester. At Christmas, 1901, Mr. Fischer produced three pantomimes for Mr. Pitt Hardacre—Babes in the Wood, Comedy Theatre, Manchester; Robinson Crusoe, Shakespeare Theatre, Liverpool; Bo-Peep, Theatre Royal, Sheffield; and was re-engaged by him to produce Cinderella at Manchester and Dick Whittington, Shakespeare Theatre, Liverpool.

MR. CHARLES FRY'S RECITALS.

The Court Theatre was comfortably crowded on Saturday afternoon, when Mr. Charles Fry and his company gave a performance of Much Ado About Nothing. The production, of course, as is usual at these dramatic functions, was carried out without scenery. Mr. Charles Fry appeared as Benedick, and although he looked scarcely young enough for the part, yet one could hardly complain of his acting, the delivery of his lines and his expression being practically faultless. Miss Olive Kennett was the Beatrice, and a very engaging and charming personage she brought before us in her characterisation, her elocution being entirely praiseworthy. Mr. Hughes Jones made a gallant figure as Claudio, and Miss Edith Brown successfully enacted the rôle of the maligned Hero. Dogberry had a capital representative in Mr. Patrick Munro, who showed that he fully realised the humorous possibilities of the part. Mr. C. Francis, too, proved highly entertaining in his study of Verges. Mr. J. K. Maclean was dignified in his bearing and spoke well as Leonato, and Mr. T. Rowbotham was seen in a commendable portraiture of Antonio. Mr. Stanley Leverton as Don Pedro, and Mr. Percy Varley as Don John also submitted satisfactory impersonations.

AT the Prince's Theatre, Manchester, on the 14th inst., Miss Marie Studholme through indisposition was unable to appear. Her part, however, was capably undertaken by Miss Adala Rane, who played Paulette in My Mimosa Maid for five performances.

THE DRAMA IN PARIS.

"LES REVOLTES,"

Drama, in Five Acts and Seven Tableaux, by MM. Henri Cain and E. Adenis, produced at Sarah Bernhardt's on Nov. 20.

Simon Randzew ..... M. HENRI KRAUSS
Mouratoff ..... M. CHARMEROY
Brewer ..... M. DECOEUR
Serge (Michel) ..... M. JEAN WORMS
Fedor ..... M. DUARD
Jeremy ..... M. SYDNEY
Apraxine ..... M. HERMANN
Sidorow ..... M. BUSSIERES
Sonia Randzew ..... MLLE. ROSNY-DERYS
Anissia ..... MLLE. ROSY
Fenitchka ..... MLLE. CERDA
Nadia ..... MLLE. DE CERNY

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, THURSDAY, Nov. 26.—Les Révoltés bears a family likeness to Le Grand Soir, a likeness principally due to the fact that both works play in a nihilistic milieu, and have almost the same denouement. At curtain rise we are in the cottage of Simon Randzew, foreman in the factory managed by the scoundrel Apraxine. Simon has invited his fellow-workmen to celebrate the New Year, and whilst they are feasting there is a loud knock at the door. Police officers have come to arrest Michel, a nihilist, but Simon helps him to escape. The scene of the following tableau is laid at the factory, in the office of Apraxine, a fiend in human shape. A high police official informs Apraxine that one of the workmen saved Michel from the clutches of the police, and he requests the manager to find out the culprit. Simon confesses that he is the man they want, for, although he knows that this admission means banishment to Siberia, he is too honest to let others, on whom suspicion rests, suffer in his stead. But Sonia, Simon's wife, comes to the rescue. Thus far she has indignantly repelled Apraxine's advances, but now, in order to save her husband, she sacrifices her honour. Brewer, a police spy, however, discovers Michel's hiding-place, whereupon the workmen are convinced that Simon obtained his freedom by betraying his comrade. The scene that follows is very thrilling. Simon is hauled up before the secret revolutionary tribunal. Despite his indignant denial, he is found guilty, and is on the point of paying his supposed treason with his life, when Jeremy appears upon the scene. Jeremy—the funny man in the piece—is an American amateur Nihilist. He not only proves Simon's innocence, but unmasks Brewer, to whom fearful punishment is meted out. The wretched spy is strapped upon a table, and all the men withdraw, after which a bomb is thrown into the room, wrecking the house. Simon accidentally discovers the fearful price Sonia paid for his release. Apraxine's crime cannot remain unpunished, and he is throttled by the man he so shamefully wronged. Having disposed of his enemy, Simon then throws open the window and calls upon his fellow-workmen to fight for liberty. The work was very well staged and splendidly acted. M. Krauss was an impressive Simon; M. Jean Worms supplied a manly sketch of Michel; M. Hermann showed himself at his best as the cruel Apraxine; and M. Sydney, an Australian, was an intensely amusing Jeremy. Mmes. Rosny-Derys, Rosy, Cerda, and de Cerny also rendered efficient aid.

AT Antoine's, in L'Oreille Fendue, the rôle of Mme. Charmillon, created by Mlle. Marcilly, is now played by Mlle. Alice Barton, a charming young actress of Anglo-Saxon descent. Mme. Charmillon, a millionaire American widow, with a shady past, is engaged to a lieutenant, the son of a general; and nothing could have been better than the touches introduced by Mlle. Barton in the embellishment of her impersonation, which was finished to a high degree. Mlle. Barton, a great favourite with the Paris public, and who speaks English as well as French, will no doubt soon make her appearance on a big London stage.

"KAATJE," a four-act play by M. Spaak, which has had a considerable run in Belgium, was very successfully produced at the Théâtre des Arts. The story, which plays in a small Dutch town, is simple yet full of artistic grace. Jean, a young artist, lives with his parents. Kaatje, their niece and adopted daughter, is staying with them. Jean leaves for Italy to study art, and after two years, during which his fond parents and little Kaatje have been pining after him, he returns, but not alone. He has brought Pomona, his wife, to whom he has been secretly married in Rome. Jean's parents are much disappointed, and the beautiful Pomona soon feels that her presence in that quiet Dutch household is anything but welcome. She wants to return to Rome, and as her husband refuses to follow her, she flees the house. Jean is disconsolate, until his father informs him that Pomona was not his legitimate wife, and that he ought to rouse himself and study in Antwerp under Peter Paul Rubens. Jean wavers, but Kaatje now comes forward, and in a delightful, eloquent speech urges him to follow his father's advice and become as great an artist as the famous Antwerp master. "Seek thy inspirations in thine own country," says little Kaatje, who has loved Jean all along; and it is her love for him that puts the young artist on the right road. The work was delightfully interpreted by MM. Durec and Tellegen and Mmes. Sergine, Barbiéri, and Derives.

"LES VAINQUEURS," the new four-act play by M. Emile Fabre, produced at Antoine's, is decidedly clever. As a rule political and financial questions are not easy to discuss on the stage, but the gifted author has overcome these difficulties in a masterly manner, and has introduced some intensely dramatic situations. Pierre Degrand is a famous barrister and Deputy, on the eve of becoming Minister of Justice in the new Cabinet. The day before the interpellation in the Chamber that is to overthrow the Ministry an article appears in a leading paper attacking Pierre, stating that the lawsuit he has just won was a "got-up" affair, inasmuch as the great counsel had, in order to suit the convenience of a shady financier, pleaded against a defendant who never existed The bogus case, wherein Pierre acted in absolute good faith, is too complicated to be explained here. Sufficient that Pierre, seeing himself disgraced and unable to accept office, is compelled to accept an arrangement proposed to him by the financier, an arrangement by which he is to raise £20,000 to settle the affair. Eventually Pierre's wife procures the money from a former admirer, a man who has always befriended the Degrand family, but who in a scurrilous article is now described as Mme. Degrand's lover. When Pierre hears whence the money comes he refuses to take it; but in the end his ambition gets the upper hand, and he accepts the loan. His position being assured, he is appointed Minister, and the world envies him his good fortune. But, as the title of the play implies, Pierre Degrand is a "conqueror," and the price he had to pay for his greatness is too high. His home life has been destroyed, and his son, who had to fight a duel for his mother's honour, has been killed. It would be difficult to find a stage on which such perfect acting could be seen as or that at the Théâtre Antoine. M. Gémier was truly great in his impersonation of the ambitious barrister; his movements, his expression, recalled some of the most famous counsel in England as well as France. MM. Janvier and Colas and Mmes. Cheirel and Bérangère were also excellent from every point of view.

MR. EDITOR.—Sir,—In the issue of your paper dated Nov. 14, I notice you have a paragraph stating "that I am not running the Flower Girl through Christmas," &c. This information is incorrect, as I have decided to run straight on.—Yours faithfully, C. M. BERNE.

THE DRAMA IN BERLIN.

"HOHES SPIEL."

Play, in Three Acts, by Paul Diedring, produced at the Hebbel Theatre, Nov. 21.

Richter ..... HERR NISSEN
Gunnar ..... HERR OTTO
Signe ..... FRAULEIN KERSTEN
Ivar ..... HERR KAYSSLER
Apotheker ..... HERR SCHRADER
Graf ..... HERR STAUFEN
Mädchen ..... FRAULEIN EINHODSHOFEN

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, THURSDAY, Nov. 26.—The author is a Swede, and the traces of the Ibsen cult are distinctly seen throughout the play, which is interesting and, apparently, well translated. A few words will suffice to detail the plot, the action of which passes in the author's native country. Gunnar has conceived an undying passion for his beautiful sister-in-law, Signe, the wife of his only brother, and we infer that Signe is not indifferent to Gunnar, although her husband is worthy of her love and respect. Matters go so far that the desperate lover is ready to commit murder to obtain Signe for his own. Ivar, the family friend, who sees the conflict, determines to play Providence. He entices Gunnar, who is a poet and not fond of hunting, to go shooting with him one evening; Gunnar fires at what he believes to be an elk, and the quarry falls over the precipice. It is suggested, however, to the horrified hunter that he has shot a man, and Ivar makes him believe that the innocent victim is no other than his brother. For several days Gunnar goes through the terrible tortures of remorse, feeling himself a murderer. Ivar wins the game with flying colours, for when the missing man—who is a doctor and has been called away suddenly to a patient—turns up, Gunnar finds himself cured of his passion in the overwhelming joy of a clean conscience. Signe, too, rushes to meet her husband with a cry of joy, and throws herself into his arms, declaring he is the only man she loves. The reception of the piece was very cordial, the young author being called and warmly applauded. The interpretation was individually good, but as a whole it dragged.

A SATIRICAL comedy in three acts, Moral, by Ludwig Thoma, was produced at the Kleines last week with much success. Herr Thoma is the famous "Peter Schlemihl" of the comic periodical (so frequently confiscated) Simplicissimus. His play is a broad persiflage upon the morals of a certain little provincial town; the head citizens—hypocrites all, of course—find their characters hanging in the balance by the revelations contained in the diary of an adventuress who is "wanted" by the police. The inevitable princeling being implicated, the matter is quickly hushed up, and the very moral chief magnate of the town ultimately receives an order and a title. Capital acting aided the success of the Tartuffe-like production.

THE clever Schliersee company prolonged their season at the New Royal Opera owing to the great success accorded them. Last week they produced one of their famous Tyrolean volks-plays, Der Gemeinde-Kaspar, by Rauchenegger, which gave the actor-manager, Herr Terofal, unlimited scope for his versatile talents. The piece met with an extremely cordial reception as soon as the large audience had their hold on the dialect, which, as I have said before, presents great difficulties to High Germans. On Sunday the "Schlierseers" took farewell of the Berliners in Auzengruber's admirable play, Der Meineidbauer, which they acted splendidly. The audience waxed enthusiastic, crying "Auf Wiedersehen" at the top of their voices, to which Herr Terofal replied delightedly, "Yes, next year."

UNDER the title of Der Arzt am Scheidewege, Bernard Shaw's play, The Doctor's Dilemma, was produced at the Deutsches Theatre Chamber-Play-house last Saturday. The characteristic piece being known in England, it will only be necessary to record its reception here. Mr. Shaw—the Irish Wizard, as some call him—has so many genuine admirers in Berlin that any work of his would find an attentive audience. The general opinion about The Doctor's Dilemma is that it is a considerable falling-off on previous pieces, and had it not been so well acted its success would have been still less.

HERR MAX HALBE'S latest play, a four-act comedy entitled Blaue Berge, which was produced at the New Schauspielhaus on Friday, was a complete failure, and truth compels me to say deservedly so. The author attained some degree of fame a number of years ago by a play called Jugend—considered by many poetical, by others immoral. Since that time Herr Halbe has written a series of "frosts," the climax of which was Blaue Berge, an insufferably spun-out, talky-talky inanity. Friends of the author, who insisted on calling him before the curtain, only caused the hisses and catcalls of the majority to increase in volume. The acting was so good that everyone sympathised with the artists on account of their labour in vain.

MME. META ILLING is on her way to England to make final arrangements for her English theatre in Berlin. She hopes to commence operations in February, and has a small but adequate building at her disposal.

"GOD SAVE THE KING."

Play in One Act by Junius Booth, produced at the Alhambra Theatre, Stourbridge, on Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Rawdon Wolf ..... MR. JUNIUS BOOTH
King Charles I. ..... MR. C. W. CROWE
Harding ..... MR. CONRAD HEYWOOD
Widney ..... MR. JOHN CRIMMINS
Buckley ..... MR. H. BANNISTER
Stanmore ..... MR. H. COLLEY
Mistress Marion Wolf ..... MISS ALICE WEST

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The opportunity of witnessing the first performance of a curtain-raiser by Mr. Junius Booth fell to Stourbridge on the 18th inst., when the new piece preceded the performance of Monte Cristo. Mr. Booth's one-act play depicts a stirring episode supposed to have taken place in the reign of Charles I. The single scene is laid in a country house near Oxford known as the Wolf's Den. It is the residence of Rawdon Wolf, a broken down gentleman, who forms the chief character. The curtain rises on a scene of dissipation and gambling, Wolf lounging near by in a drunken stupor. Play is interrupted by the advent of the news that the King is defeated, and that a price of a thousand pounds has been placed on his head. With the three gamblers the messenger leaves to attempt the capture of the King. Stung by the reproaches and taunts of his wife, however, Wolf begins to realise the fact that he has forfeited his honour and loyalty. The dramatic entrance of Charles I. stirs up old sentiments, and Wolf decides to aid the King, and brings about the monarch's escape in his wife's clothes. On the return of his companions, who believe the King to be concealed in the house, a violent quarrel ensues betwen them and Wolf, who lays all of them hors de combat. The King returns with a small force, and the scene is brought to a conclusion by a display of renewed loyalty. In the part of Wolf Mr. Booth brought to bear the full measure of his histrionic gifts, and gave a very impressive performance. He was admirably supported. The piece had a flattering reception, and Mr. Booth deserves congratulations upon a very successful effort.

Now ready. Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906. Effect on theatres and music halls. By Albert A. Strong, LL.B., solicitor. Price 6d. Published at The Era Offices, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

SIR CHARLES WYNDHAM was kinematographed on his way to the Law Courts last Saturday morning by Mr. Charles Urban, and the resultant pictures of the knightly comedian in one of his favourite characters made the hit of the Urbanora programme at the Eccentric Club banquet at the Hotel Cecil, on Sunday. So pleased was Sir Charles with the result, that he offered to send for other clothes and return later in the day, but Mr. Urban would not hear of this, in view of the many calls there had been on Sir Charles's time during the week.

MR. BEERBOHM TREE has completed the cast of Pinkie and the Fairies, with which he will contribute to the season's enjoyment at His Majesty's at Christmas. The company seems to consist of juveniles and "grown-ups" in equal proportion, and will include Master Philip Tonge, Miss Iris Hawkins, Miss Augusta Haviland, Miss Ellen Terry, Miss Stella Campbell, Mr. Frederick Volpe, Master Sidney Sherwood, Miss Marjorie Burgess, Miss Kathleen Yorke, Master William Parke, Miss Marie Löhr, Master Francis Walker, Master Frank Varna, Miss Viola Tree, Miss Winifred Beech, and Mr. Walter R. Creighton. It should be added that the important rôle of the Queen of the Fairies will be played by a young lady who makes her first appearance on any stage. A "repetition general" will be given on Dec. 18, the afternoon preceding the production.

AT the meeting of the L.C.C. on Tuesday a petition was presented by Mr. George Alexander from the Mayor and Council of St. Pancras against the application made to the licensing authority on Friday for the conversion of the Camden Theatre into a music hall. The petition, which was numerously signed, alleged that the recent entertainments given at that house had been a source of great annoyance to the inhabitants, from whom numerous complaints had been received; that a great number of ratepayers objected to the proposed licence; and that the existence of a music hall on the site of the Camden Theatre would tend to depreciate the value of the surrounding property and to increase the expenditure for maintaining law and order.

MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER is among the list of subscribers to the Chancellor's Fund for the further endowment of Oxford University. Mr. Bourchier's donation is the generous one of £100.

MR. H. B. IRVING has found The Lyons Mail at the Shaftesbury so attractive that he will continue the run over Christmas. On the sixtieth night, Monday, Dec. 7, Mr. Irving will produce, as a first piece, King René's Daughter, in which Miss Dorothea Baird will act the blind heroine, Iolanthe, a character in which she succeeds such renowned artists as Mrs. Stirling, Mrs. Charles Kean, Helen Faucit (Lady Theodore Martin), and Miss Ellen Terry. Henry Irving played Count Tristan to the Iolanthe of Helen Faucit and Miss Terry. The character will be represented at the Shaftesbury by Mr. Gerald Lawrence, who was entrusted by Sir Henry to act the part on his last tour, when King René's Daughter was given before The Bells.

MRS. D'OYLY CARTE will determine her tenancy of the Savoy on Feb. 27 next, the anxieties attendant upon the recent revival having told severely on her health. Regret at the severance of a connection of so long and honourable a character will be general, and Mrs. Carte will have the best wishes of all in her retirement after thirty years of arduous work. The Pirates of Penzance, which will be put on at the Savoy on Tuesday, will be the seventh revival of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas during this and the previous season.

THE speakers at the forthcoming Actors' Benevolent Fund dinner will be Sir Charles Wyndham, General Baden Powell, Mr. Cyril Maude, Mr. Alfred Sutro, and Mr. Edward Terry.

MRS. KENDAL on Saturday opened the last day of the Ice Carnival and Bazaar in aid of the new mission church at Birchfield, Birmingham. In a charming little speech she explained the absence of her husband by saying that horses could not drag Mr. Kendal to a bazaar, and nothing would induce him to make a speech. The bare thought of Mrs. Kendal herself making a speech was sufficient to make him hold up his hands with horror. Birmingham people, said Mrs. Kendal, had a very great charm for her. They had when she was young, and they had now that she was old. They were a wonderfully responsive audience, which fact always made it a pleasurable occasion to her husband and herself to come to Birmingham. With regard to the bazaar, a great American writer had said, "You will have no pockets in your shrouds," and she hoped they would remember that in going around the bazaar. They must buy absolutely everything. Let their husbands say when they return, "Well, I'm glad you are home." All the stalls must be emptied. Nothing must be left, and there must be no rummage sale afterwards.

MR. FORBES ROBERTSON has consented to give the Oration at the Shakespeare Festival to be held at the Southwark Cathedral in April next. The actor will speak from the lectern. His address will form the principal feature of the service, of which the musical portion will consist of an appropriate anthem, a Psalm, and a musical setting of words by Shakespeare.

THE funeral of the late Miss Lydia Thompson (Mrs Alex. Henderson) took place on Monday afternoon, when the remains of the deceased lady were interred in Kensal Green Cemetery. The principal mourners were Mr. Sidney Bracy (nephew), Mr. and Mrs. Smith (old friends), and Mr. and Mrs. Boehmer. Mr. Lionel Brough also attended the funeral, as well as Mr. Johnnie Morris and Mr. Arthur Mitchell. The deceased lady's daughter (Miss Zeffie Tilbury) was in America, and therefore unable to attend her mother's obsequies. The coffin bore the inscription:—

MRS. JOHN CHRISTIE TILBURY
(Miss Lydia Thompson)
(Mrs. Alex. Henderson),
Died Nov. 18, 1908,
Aged 70.

SOME beautiful floral tributes were forwarded to Miss Thompson's residence at Westminster Mansions. That from her daughter (Miss Zeffie Tilbury) consisted of a heart of chrysanthemums, with the word, "Mother," raised in violets. Miss Annie, her lifelong chum, forwarded a bunch of violets, the deceased lady's favourite flowers, while a wreath came from her brother, Mr. Herbert Thompson. Other wreaths came from Sir Squire and Lady Bancroft, Mr. Lionel Brough, the Misses May and Daisy Edouin, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Adye, Miss Violet Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, Mme. Albanesi, Mrs. Percy Gibbs, Dr. and Mrs. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and family, and Mr. A. C. Shelley.

"GRIT," Miss Lena Ashwell's latest production, is only a few nights old, but the advance booking for seats already far exceeds that of any of its predecessors at the Kingsway. The curtain now rises at 8.30 p.m., and the play, judiciously "cut," runs with sustained interest from beginning to end. The first matinée of Grit is at three o'clock this afternoon.

THE unanimity with which distinguished members of the theatrical profession in this country have combined to promote the matinée at His Majesty's Theatre next Monday in honour of the famous Italian actress Ristori has so touched the actors of Italy, that, headed by the celebrated tragedian, Tomaso Salvini, they are now arranging a performance, supported by all Italian actors and actresses, for the purpose of providing an artistic memorial to Sir Henry Irving, whose genuis was no less esteemed in Italy than that of Ristori in England. Meanwhile the arrangements for the memorial to the celebrated actor, which were started here with such éclat a couple of years ago, appear to have languished, and it seems that the foreign confrères of Irving are to be the first in the field with a tribute to his greatness.

THE West London Theatre was offered at auction at the Mart on Wednesday by Mr. Bousfield, of Messrs. Fox and Bousfield. The theatre is held for a period of about thirteen years, at rents amounting to £169 per annum. Its auditorium is estimated to accommodate about 1,600 persons, and the stage is reputed to be one of the longest in the United Kingdom. An offer of £500 was made, but this the auctioneer declined, declaring that neither that sum nor twice the amount would buy it. The property was withdrawn.

MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER has sent a further sum of 16s. 6d. to the Actors' Benevolent Fund, and Mr. C. H. Workman 6s. 6d., both amounts having been collected by means of their autographs. Sir Charles Wyndham and Mr. H. Beerbohm Tree send on daily the postal orders they receive in exchange for their autographs.

MISS MARY MOORE, who is Mrs. James Albery in private life, had her own son for junior counsel in the lawsuit in which she figured at Mr. Justice Darling's Court. It will be remembered that another of the famous actress's sons took part in the South African campaign, and she went out there to nurse him when he fell ill.

MISS ELLALINE TERRISS's appearance at the head of her own company will be made at the Hicks Theatre, under Mr. Charles Frohman's management, on Feb. 17, in a play to be produced by Mr. Seymour Hicks. Such a combination of talent and administrative ability should result in a triumph, and the popular actress who thus takes up a position to which her rare accomplishments entitle her, may well look forward to a prolonged season of success.

LONDON is, however, to welcome Miss Terriss at an earlier date than that mentioned above, for she is to appear with her husband at the Palace in a new sketch, which at present bears the title of The Aeroplane. The action of the playlet, which is written and composed by Mr. Paul Rubens, passes on the roof of a tall building situated in the heart of the Metropolis, and the principal character is that of a crazy inventor, who is competing for a prize offered for successful aviation. Attached to the story is a graceful love romance which contains a sentiment prettily worked out despite the high altitude of its surroundings. The engagement at the Palace begins on Dec. 14.

MR. FRED FARREN will be the lecturer at the O.P. Club to-morrow (Sunday), and will deliver an address on "Ballet and the Ballet Public," at the Criterion. Mr. T. McDonald Rendle will be in the chair.

ANOTHER fancy dress ball was brought to a successful issue at Covent Garden on Saturday morning last. Mr. W. Clarkson was again to the fore, and took first prize for a lady's domino, and second for a gentleman's comic costume à la T. E. Dunville.

THE many friends of Mrs. Gordon, late Miss Ada Wilson, will be sorry to hear she passed away peacefully at her home, 61, Marloes-road, Kensington, on Friday, Nov. 20, from heart failure. Miss Wilson will be remembered as one of the most charming and graceful dancers of modern times. She leaves two sons to mourn her loss.

A NEW number, entitled "Ring a Ding-Dong," has been introduced into the first act of The Belle of Brittany at the Queen's Theatre. This charming addition to the musical score has been composed by Marie Horne specially for Miss Ruth Vincent and full chorus. The effect of the "Brittany chimes," running through the refrain immediately caught the fancy of the audience, and the song was vociferously encored. Mr. Percy Greenbank is responsible for the pretty lyric and Mr. Sidney Ellison has arranged some effective stage business in unison with the idea. It should be added that Miss Maud Boyd—happily recovered from her illness—has resumed the rôle of Madame Poquelin, which, during her absence, was charmingly played by Miss Poppit McNally.

MESSRS. HERBERT SKARDON AND H. SHERWOOD MARTIN'S Way of the World company is meeting with wonderful success at the Star Theatre, Liverpool, this week, "House full" boards being exhibited at every performance, and hundreds being turned away nightly. These enterprising and popular managers are now busy on their new production, Her Kingdom of Love, written by Mr. Herbert Skardon, for which important bookings have already been made.

MR. H. HERMAN CHILTON, the author of Grit, which was produced at the Kingsway on Tuesday, is a partner in a firm of lock manufacturers at Wolverhampton. He was born in Brussels in 1863, and spent the early part of his life in Milan. At fourteen he came to England, and was sent to Wolverhampton Grammar School. After leaving school he was put into an engineer's office, but his father died in 1878, and he then came to London and went into the Civil Service, business eventually taking him back to the Midland town.

MR. WILLIAM LOCKHART, who terminates his engagement with When Knights Were Bold at the Theatre Royal, Chatham, next week, has been engaged by Miss Mouillot to play his old part of Hobbs during her revival of Little Lord Fauntleroy at the Court at Christmas.

"THE LAST OF THE DE MULLINS," the new three-act play by Mr. St. John Hankin, will be produced on Dec. 6 and 7 at the Haymarket Theatre, which Mr. Frederick Harrison has very kindly placed at the disposal of the Incorporated Stage Society for their performances. The play will be produced by Mr. Graham Browne, and the cast will include Miss Amy Lamborn, Mr. Nigel Playfair, Miss Adela Measor, Miss M'Aimée Murray, Mr. Ernest Young, Mr. H. A. Saintsbury, Miss Jean Bloomfield, Miss Lillah McCarthy, Bobbie Andrews, Miss Clare Greet, Mr. Vernon Steel, and Miss Jean Harkness.

MR. ESME PERCY has been engaged to play the Knight in the forthcoming production of The Knight of the Burning Pestle at the Gaiety Theatre, Manchester.

MISS ALEXANDRA CARLISLE and Mr. Joseph Coyne are returning to London from New York, where they finished their season on the 14th inst. They have played The Mollusc for thirteen weeks at the Garrick, New York, thus achieving an unprecedented run there. On her return to this country Miss Carlisle will appear in a new play. The popular artists have made hosts of friends in the States and are anxious to thank all who have written to them and sent cables of good wishes.

MR. JAMES MACREADY CHUTE, the proprietor and manager of the Prince's Theatre, Bristol, has received from Dr. J. Perry Worden, the American Consul, a unique testimonial in the form of a photographic reproduction of one of Longfellow's letters, referring to a meeting between the poet and the uncle of Mr. Chute. In 1842, when Longfellow was on his way to Bristol to sail for New York in the Great Western, Longfellow became the guest of Dickens in London, and while there met Cruikshank, whom he styles "a very original genius," Macready, the actor, and Maclise, who painted, among other notable works, a fine study of Macready, and together they cracked jokes and "drank Schloss-Johannisberger and cold punsch."

BENEATH the fascimile of this famous letter, which is to be hung in the Prince's Theatre, is the following inscription in choice Everard letterpress:—

LONGFELLOW AND MACREADY
AT THE HOME OF DICKENS:
Facsimile of the American's Narrative Written to his Beloved Friend
FERDINAND FREILIGRATH, THE POET
at St. Goar am Rhein, from Cambridge, Massachusetts, Jan. 6, 1843.
One Copy Only: Made for Macready's Nephew
MR. JAMES MACREADY CHUTE,
Possessor of Maclise's Portrait of Macready,
With kind permission of FRAU LUISE WIENS, Freiligrath's Daughter.
Presented by
DR. J. PERRY WORDEN,
American Consul,
Bristol, 1908. Copyright.

MISS MARIE PEACOCK, daughter of Mr. W. Peacock, managing-director of the Opera House, Harrogate, the Empire, York, and the Hippodrome, Scarborough, made her theatrical début at the Opera House, Harrogate, in an amateur production of Dr. Wake's Patient, in aid of the Harrogate Infirmary on Nov. 12. Miss Peacock, who was the recipient of numerous bouquets, is to be complimented on her performance, and proved a credit to her clever mother, née Miss Addie Blanche.

MISS EFFIE D. CRAWFORD, who is concluding a long engagement under the management of Mr. W. H. Hallatt, will on Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Brixton Theatre, reach her 1,050 performance in her original part of Cyril in the Two Little Sailor Boys, the third of Mr. Walter Howard's popular plays that Miss Crawford has been associated with.

MESSRS. TAYLOR PLATT AND TREVOR LOWE'S company have just finished at Newport, Mon., a successful twenty-one weeks' tour of Bernard Shaw's You Never Can Tell, Mr. Trevor Lowe making a decided hit in the part of William, the lovable old waiter. The company will commence a spring tour in February next.

MISS ELIZABETH DEXTER distinguished herself in the title-rôle of Mrs. Ponderbury's Past at the performance given by the Edward Terry Dramatic Club, in aid of the funds of the League of Mercy (Hammersmith Branch). Miss Dexter had evidently given careful study to the part of Mrs. Ponderbury, and it was clear from her work on Tuesday evening that she had arrived at a correct realisation of how the character should be played. Her Mrs. Ponderbury was the strong-minded mistress of her husband's household and complete master of that gentleman, and yet, withal, it could not be denied that the lady, as represented by Miss Dexter, had her charms. Altogether it was a clever and interesting piece of histrionic work upon which Miss Dexter is to be congratulated.

MR. ARTHUR W. JONES announces that he has changed his professional name, and will in future be known as Mr. Russel Davis.

MISS PHYLLIS RELPH, who to-night concludes a long autumn engagement as leading lady in Messrs. H. Armitage and Arthur Leigh's With Edged Tools company, has been engaged by Mr. Richard Flanagan for his Christmas production of Antony and Cleopatra at the Queen's Theatre, Manchester. Miss Relph will play the part of Charmian, and will understudy Miss Darragh, who will be the Cleopatra. It will not be the first time Miss Relph has appeared in this play, as she was in Mr. F. R. Benson's revival at the London Lyceum some years ago.

THE full cast of Mr. Gerald Lawrence's new play, Into the Light, which Mrs. Mouillot will present for six nights and four matinées at the Court, beginning on Monday evening next, will consist of Messrs. J. Fisher White, Gerald Lawrence, Kenyon Musgrave, Duncan Yarrow, Henry Stevenson, Walter Cross, George H. Liot, Lionel Brough, Oliver Gwent, and Misses Elaine Inescourt, Joan Ritz, Polly Brough, Beryl St. Leger, and Madge Snell. Into the Light is best described as a comedy of sentiment, and a musical atmosphere pervades the play. The leading part, that of a young violinist, will be sustained by the author.

"PETER'S MOTHER" is due at the Crystal Palace Theatre next week, and will be presented by the Hutchison management, a sure guarantee for excellence in mounting and representation. The company engaged is a powerful one, including, as it does, Miss Violet Ley, Mr. Ellie Norwood, and Mr. Vivian Gilbert.

THE advance booking for Mr. George Edwardes's Merry Widow company, which goes to the Crystal Palace for the week commencing Dec. 7, is extremely satisfactory. There is to be no increase in prices, and all the tickets except the 6d. will include admission to the Palace one hour before the play commences. Matinées will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

LOVERS of a fine Shakespearean performance should on no account miss Mr. Oscar Asche's Othello, in which character he will appear on Wednesday and Friday evenings next week at the King's Theatre, Hammersmith. During other parts of the week this gifted actor and his talented wife, Miss Lily Brayton, will present The Taming of the Shrew.

MR. CHARLES FROHMAN has secured a new play from the prolific pen of Mr. W. Somerset Maugham for production at an early date. The title of the novelty is to be that of Smith.

MISS ETHEL KAY, who has been playing Mabel, in Mr. Percy Williams' Fatal Wedding company, so successfully, has been re-engaged by him to sustain the same part in his forthcoming tour, which commences on Boxing-day. Miss Kay will thus reach her fifth engagement under Mr. Williams' management.

MESSRS. GARSIDE AND KNOWLES' Her Marriage Vow company, which was playing last week, at the Opera House, Wakefield, had the distinction of a visit on the Friday from the "Wallabies," the Australian Rugby football team, who were to play Yorkshire on the following day. At the end of the third act of Her Marriage Vow, which is always received with great enthusiasm, there was a demonstration which extended over five minutes. Then someone called for the "Wallabies' war-cry," with which the visitors obliged in regulation style.

MISS IRENE MONCRIEFF, we regret to learn, has for the last fortnight been suffering from intercostal neuralgia, but hopes in a short while to resume work. We join the many friends of Miss Moncrieff in wishing her a speedy recovery.

MR. LEWIS WALLER fulfilled his "command" performance at Windsor Castle on the 20th inst., when The Duke's Motto was performed in the Waterloo Chamber. The august assemblage included his Majesty King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the King and Queen of Sweden, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess Victoria, Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, Princess Louise (Duchess of Argyll) and the Duke of Argyll, Princess Beatrice (Princess Henry of Battenberg), the Duchess of Albany, Prince Arthur and Princess Victoria Patricia of Connaught, Princess Alexander of Teck and Prince Alexander of Teck, and Princess Victoria and Princess Louise-Augusta of Schleswig-Holstein.

AN interesting member of the cast was Mr. Waller's little daughter Nancy, who made her début as a page. The company also consisted of Messrs. Tom Heslewood, Owen Roughwood, Franklin Dyall, Shiel Barry, J. V. Henry, Geoffrey Saville, James Harrison, Patrick Digan, Herbert Jarman, Alec F. Thompson, A. E. George, Hubert Druce, J. H. Irvine, Caton Woodville, Reginald Dane, Frank Ridley, Cronin Wilson, George Harrington, and Charles Cecil, Master Harry Duff, and Misses Sybil Carlisle, Valli Valli, Gwendolin Floyd, Maude Digan, May Chenery, and Dorothy Minto.

MR. EDWIN PALMER received a hearty welcome from many old friends last Monday on his reappearance in Middlesbrough after an absence of thirty-seven years, most of which he has spent in the Colonies. After the fall of the curtain on Monday, Mr. Blake Adams, on behalf of The Sins of Society company, of which Mr. Palmer is a member, asked him to accept a gold bar, appropriately inscribed, to attach to a gold medal that was presented to him in 1871 by Mr. John Imeson and friends. Mr. Palmer, taken by surprise at the gift, thanked his fellow artists with evident deep feeling.

MISS LOUISA PEACH has been engaged by Mr. Ernest Norris to star with him in The Education of Elizabeth at the Theatre Royal, Lincoln, next week.

MR. A. N. VINCE has been engaged by Mr. George Dance to represent him as agent in advance in one of his chief companies on tour in the North at Christmas.

MR. FRED GRANVILLE was so appreciative of Mr. Alfred Northway and Mr. W. V. Garrod's production of A Country Girl in London, which had its first performance in Liverpool at the Queen's Theatre last week, that he invited several of the leading citizens to witness the play on Friday night. The result was a large and distinguished audience that filled the boxes, stalls, and circle to overflowing, and accorded the play an enthusiastic reception.

MR. EDWARD DE VERE has been engaged by Mr. Lester Collingwood to stage-manage his forthcoming pantomime, Babes in the Wood, at the Elephant and Castle Theatre.

THE proprietorship of the Grand Theatre, Brighton, has been transferred from Carpenter's Theatres, Ltd., to a local company, with Mr. Ernest Gates as managing-director. Mr. Ernest Carpenter, who retains an interest in the theatre, was presented, last Monday evening, by Mr. Ben Court on behalf of the staff, with a pair of massive gold links as a token of their appreciation of his kindness and consideration as an employer. Mr. Ben Court will continue to carry out the duties of acting-manager.

MISS LILY IRIS, who has made a pronounced success on her first appearance in musical comedy as Denise at the Queen's Theatre, Shaftesbury Avenue, will have to desert the cast of The Belle of Brittany shortly in order to play the principal boy at the Tyne Theatre, Newcastle, pantomime.

THE distinguished audience at the Lyric Theatre for the first performance of Henry V. on Wednesday included the Duke and Duchess of Abercorn and Lady Alexander Hamilton, the Duchess of Rutland and Lady Marjorie Manners, Mr. Sidney Lee, Lord Howard de Walden, and the Princess of Monaco.

"A REFORMED RAKE," of which we gave a detailed notice in our last issue, was produced under its original title of A Bachelor of Arts on Nov. 23, 1853, at the Lyceum Theatre, with Mr. Charles Matthews as Harry Jasper and Frank as Andrew Wylie.

GREAT enthusiasm is being shown amongst naval and yachting circles at Plymouth this week over the visit of Brewster's Millions, the elaborate production by Mr. Percy Hutchison. Seldom have so many naval men congregated to hunt for technical deficiencies, but the search has been in vain; only one matter, that of signals, being in dispute. Brewster's Millions in its entirety will be transferred with its marvellous ship scene and additional scenic and atmospheric effects, to the Coronet Theatre next week, and will then pay a visit to the Kennington Theatre previous to opening an extended tour, commencing Christmas week at Hastings.

ANOTHER successful tour of Leah Kleschna is about to end. Next week the drama will be presented at the Liverpool Star Theatre, and then proceed to the Prince's, Portsmouth. Mr. Arthur H. Yolland, the advance representative, who has been with the play during two tours, and is well known for his work with Moody-Manners Opera Company, Carl Rosa Company, and Mr. F. R. Benson's productions, will then sever his connection with Messrs. Armitage and Leigh.

"THE SINS OF SOCIETY" has been playing to bumper houses at the Grand Opera House, Middlesbrough, during the present week, and each evening numerous patrons have been unable to obtain admission to this palatial building, all the popular parts being packed at early doors. The magnificent stage settings which are the feature of this costly production have been the talk of the district.

MR. CHARLES FROHMAN'S North company of The Hypocrites finish their autumn tour at Southport to-night. A spring tour of Mr. Henry Arthur Jones's play has been arranged, and Mr. H. Lawrence Leyton, who has made such a success in the leading part of the Rev. Edgar Linnell, has been re-engaged.

"HANNELE," the dream-poem translated by Mr. William Archer from the German of Gerhart Hauptmann, with which the Afternoon Theatre makes a beginning at His Majesty's on Tuesday, Dec. 8, will be produced by Mr. Tree. Miss Marie Löhr will play the title-rôle, Mr. Henry Ainley will be Gottwald, Mr. Edward Sass will be Mattern, and the other parts are allotted to Miss Clare Greet, Miss Muriel Alexander, Mr. Norman Page, Mr Halliwell Hobbes, Miss Marie Linden, Mr. Robert Atkins, Mr. Charles Quartermaine, Mr. J. Fisher White, and Mr. Compton Coutts. Preceding Hannele will be a one-act play by Miss Margaret Mack, entitled Emily, with Miss Sydney Fairbrother, Miss Agnes Thomas, and Mr. A. Holmes Gore in the cast.

MR. HERBERT FORD, who is well remembered by suburban playgoers for his Wilfred Denver, which he played with Messrs. Melford and Polini's company for seven years, is concluding a highly successful suburban engagement as Prince Olaf, in Walter Howard's The Prince and the Beggar Maid.

MISS MARIE DRESSLER, the popular comedienne, whose exhilarating methods secured something of a sensational success during her recent engagement at the Palace, has acquired the Aldwych wherewith to embark on her theatrical enterprise. The theatre will be re-christened the Marie Dressler Aldwych Theatre, and will be inaugurated on or about Feb. 1, with a musical comedy at present called Little Minna. The piece, which is in two acts, and passes in Switzerland and in Paris, is written by Mr. Edgar Smith, and composed by Mr. Maurice Levy, two gentlemen who have been responsible for many of the amusing skits produced at Weber and Fields', New York. The company, with one or two exceptions, will be entirely English.

MR. CHAS. ROAD-NIGHT has been engaged as stage-manager for Mr. Stanley Roger's production of Cinderella, at the Grand Theatre, Fulham, opening on Boxing-night.

MR. BERNARD A. LESLIE, assistant stage-manager for Baron Harriss's Prince of Pilsen company, undertook the part of Hans Wagner at the Broadway Theatre on Monday night at a minute's notice, owing to the sudden illness of Mr. Harry Kilburn, and the unpreparedness of the understudy, and has continued playing it throughout the week in a manner which has won the warm congratulations of his fellow-artists, and a tangible recognition from Miss Sophie Harriss.

MR. BARON HARRISS'S three years' continuous tour of The Prince of Pilsen ends at the Broadway, New Cross, to-night. Last night Miss Sophie Harriss made the following presentations to the members of her staff, in recognition of their services: to Mr. Hugh Fleming, the advance-director, an ormolu travelling clock; to Mr. Frank Barrett, musical-director, a solid silver flask; to Mr. Bernard A. Leslie, assistant stage-manager, a silver cigarette case and cheque; and to Mr. Charles Clyde, drill instructor, a handsome cigarette holder in silver case.

IT may interest the older school of musicians, and many artists who have served under the wide-spreading banner of Mr. George Edwardes in Africa and on tour in this country, to hear that Mr. Tuttle, the admirable drummer and tympanist, is doing well in China, where he is bandmaster of a crack Indian regiment, the 13th Rajputs. It appears, writes a correspondent, that his practical knowledge of comic operas has been most useful, and everywhere his band has earned unusual distinction for their playing of musical comedies. Our correspondent heard the band in the Opera House, Hong Kong, on Empire Day, when an ovation greeted the conductor and his men. The band is fifty strong, and was complimented recently by His Excellency the Governor.

THE Actors' Association gave a most successful and enjoyable Cinderella dance last Tuesday. The company, which numbered about a hundred, included several well-known actors and actresses. Dancing was indulged in most spiritedly. Miss Marion Lind acted as hostess, and it is to her untiring efforts that the success of the evening was mainly due. The hope was expressed on all sides that the evening was the forerunner of several others equally pleasant.

THE Ben Greet Players, now touring in the States, recently gave open-air performances at the White House, Washington. It was the first dramatic representation ever given at the Presidential residence, and the profession at home and Mr. Greet's numerous friends should feel gratified at so unique a compliment paid by President and Mrs. Roosevelt. The performances, which were attended by over 6,000 persons, consisted of the Hawthorne "Wonder Book" plays, dramatised by Mrs. Edward O'Neill (Rose Meller O'Neill). Mr. Ben Greet has now begun a series of representations of A Midsummer Night's Dream in the large halls and opera houses of America in conjunction with the Boston Symphony, the Damrosch Orchestra, the Russian and Pittsburg Symphony, and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

THE licence of the Haymarket Theatre, Liverpool, which was allowed to lapse at the recent sessions, was renewed at the sitting held on the 17th inst. It was explained that the owners of the theatre had let it to a company, who apparently got into difficulties, and did not apply for the renewal of the licence. The company had surrendered the lease of the premises, which the owners were now desirous of carrying on themselves. They had secured a properly qualified and competent manager in Mr. Frank Emery, who had been connected for some ten years with the Prince of Wales's. The licence was granted on the same conditions as formerly—namely, that no dring permit should be applied for.

THE new Dramatic Productions Club, of which Miss Mouillot is the organiser, will begin operations at the Court on Dec. 6, with the production of Isaac's Wife, a three-act play, by Mr. F. D. Bone and Mr. W. Teignmouth Shore. The cast is a strong one, and will consist of Messrs. Henry Stephenson, C. Leveson Lane, Charles Rock, Arthur Holmes Gore, Ashton Pearse, John Cabourn, Basil Mercer, Wallet Waller, and H. Atley, Miss Margaret Yarde, and Miss Lucy Wilson.

AT the Court Theatre on Tuesday was produced a British opera, in two acts, book by Ernest Rhys, music by Vincent Thomas, entitled Enid. The libretto was adapted by Mr. Ernest Rhys from the Celtic romance of "Geraint, the Son of Erbin." The Knight Geraint takes up the challenge of Earl Dwrm, holder of the Sparrowhawk, and wins Enid, the daughter of Ynwl, an ex-monarch. Geraint is sorely wounded; but in the end the lovers are united. The music by Mr. Vincent Thomas showed a decided advance upon his previous efforts, and the leading parts in the opera were well performed by Miss Laura Evans, Mr. Gwynne Davies, and Mr. Joseph Payne.

A SCHEME for the establishment of a Shakespeare Memorial National Theatre is being prepared by the executive committee. The details of the scheme are not to be divulged until a general meeting in January, but it may be said that a public fund is contemplated, and that the committee believe it possible that someone will endow the proposed theatre with whatever sum may be required afterwards. Two sub-committees appointed to work out the details of the new scheme include among their members Lord Lytton, Lord Esher, Mr. Arthur W. Pinero, and Mr. Bernard Shaw.

THE death is announced from America of Signor Vianesi, who will be remembered as conductor at Drury Lane and Covent Garden in the fifties and sixties, wielding the bâton at the latter house for twelve years. Signor Vianesi was born at Leghorn in 1837, and conducted at many Continental capitals. He was appointed musical director at the Paris Opera in 1887, but afterwards went to America, where for a long period he was engaged at the Opera House, New York. His retirement into private life took place a few years ago.

THE dramatist M. Maeterlinck has brought an action against M. Messager and his fellow managers at the Paris Opera to prevent them producing an operatic version of "Monna Vanna," which the author declares he does not consider a fit composition to be set to music. M. Maeterlinck is asking £400 damages for every performance given.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

An Alternative.

SIR CHARLES WYNDHAM'S retorts in the King's Bench this week have, says the Sporting Times, been more worthy of the inevitable "laughter" than the regulation provocative; but then he stands alone in this respect. Once upon a time he expressed the view that any actor entrusted with the creation of a part was engaged for the run of the piece. "Then, in effect," chipped in a legal caviller, "the only way to get rid of him from the cast is to shoot him?" "I did not say so," said Sir Charles, drily. "You can, as an alternative, shoot yourself for including him in the cast."

Charity Matinées.

MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER, who at the St. James's Theatre has managed some of the most successful charity matinées ever given, has said to a representative of the Mail:—"You can depend upon it that when any recognised manager undertakes the labour and responsibility of giving a performance in aid of a charity the fund will benefit. These things, however, are far too numerous, and in many instances a great deal goes in expenses that should have gone to the charity. There have been instances when the only person who got nothing was the artist who gave his name and his services.

"MANAGERS and artists, as well as the public, ought to be sure that the receipts go to the charity. I think that in every case the committee interested in the charity should pay the expenses out of their own pockets, and thus make it a certainty that every penny of the receipts shall go to the object to be benefited. There are cases where organisers of charity performances take as much as 10 per cent. commission from the gross receipts for their trouble. But in certain circumstances, where, for instance, a man has carried the whole thing through on his own shoulders, it would perhaps be fair to allow him, say, 5 per cent. on the profits. These men are quite entitled to it. It is a commission earned for obtaining funds, but they are not either directly or indirectly connected with the stage."

Van Biene's Adventures.

MR. AUGUSTE VAN BIENE, the famous actor-musician, who on every 18th of November for the last forty years has played in the streets in fulfilment of a vow made when he was rescued from the gutter by Sir Michael Costa, has related some of his experiences to an Evening News representative. "When on Wednesday I went round with my old hat," he said, "I offered it to my taxi-cab driver, who, to my surprise, dropped two shillings into it. I have not been recognised very often when playing in the gutter. Once a certain titled lady, whom I knew well by sight, stopped before me, and saying, 'Poor man; what a shame such a good player should come to this,' put a half-sovereign in my hand. The most curious incident happened about twenty years ago. After I had finished playing a rough-looking man touched me on the arm and said, 'Cully, if you'll come and play for us at our smoker to-night you shall have five bob and a good feed.' He mentioned the name of a public-house in the East End, and invited me to have a drop of 'something short' to seal the compact. Of course I didn't go, and I afterwards ascertained that the same man was one of the most dangerous burglars in London. He was arrested soon afterwards, and had a heavy sentence."

Mr. Collins's Correspondents.

"WEEKS before Boxing Night," writes Mr. Arthur Collins to the Chronicle, "I get no end of letters, especially from people living in the provinces, asking me what sort of fun we are going to provide them with at Drury Lane. Here is a typical letter I had this year from an old gentleman residing in Devon:—'Dear Sir,—We are all looking forward to seeing your pantomime at Drury Lane; "we" includes self, two sons, one daughter, and four grandchildren. We want plenty of fun of the wildly hilarious sort, you understand, and I hope you have got a lot in store for us—something that will make us forget fogs, damp, colds, chills, and bills.'

Big Booking.

"RECENTLY, three tiny little mites, each holding a fist tightly clenched, came into the hall at Drury Lane; one asked an attendant to show them the box-office, towards which the three advanced. The box-office counter was far above their heads, so the attendant lifted one of the trio to a level with the counter, who asked in a very tiny voice for 'a seat where I can see everything,' and put down a little pile of silver. He was duly given a ticket for a stall seat, and then the next was lifted up in the same way, and asked for 'a seat next to Jimmy," which he got. Finally, the third, a girl, was lifted up, and demanded two seats, one for herself 'on the other side of Jimmy,' and one for Uncle Tom, and added the information that 'Uncle Tom was coming from Australia, and had not seen a pantomime for twenty years.' Then the little trio walked off, after thanking the attendant."

Judges and Critics.

MR. ROY HORNIMAN writes:—"A new terror has been added to dramatic authorship, for Mr. Justice Darling has joined the ranks of the dramatic critic. I notice that in the course of a case he remarked, with reference to the Court scene in Idols, now running at the Garrick Theatre, that people who represent these things on the stage should see them properly done, or they would make mistakes. May I venture most respectfully to point out where the learned judge is in error? When preparing the Court scene—for the arrangement and production of which I am responsible—I discovered that those who invented the procedure in our Law Courts had omitted to reckon with the ultimate production of Idols, and they had been singularly lacking in dramatic insight. It was necessary, therefore, to correct this deficiency by producing a court of law as it should be, in order to ensure a great theatrical success. I can assure Mr. Justice Darling that it is far more difficult to get effects in a theatre than in a court of law—for this reason, that in the first case the performer is expected to please his audience, whilst in the second case the audience are only too anxious to please the performer."

"GRIT."

Play, in Four Acts, by H. Herman Chilton, produced at the Kingsway Theatre on Tuesday, Nov. 24.

Erith Winter	MISS LENA ASHWELL
Dick Travers	MR. C. M. HALLARD
Mrs. Winter	MISS FRANCES IVOR
Mr. Winter	MR. H. ATHOL FORDE
William	MR. DOUGLAS WEST
Mr. Norreys	MR. ERNEST COSHAM
Jim Barr	MR. NORMAN MCKINNEL
Mr. Percival	MR. DENNIS EADIE
Nora	MISS MERCIA VAUCELLE
Sarah	MISS OLIVIA
Mrs. Percival	MISS KATE RORKE
Miss King	MISS MARGARET MURRAY
Charles	MR. W. LEMMON WARDE
Suzanne	MISS NANNIE BENNETT
Nelson	MR. PATRICK BEBY

"I confess," says Miss Lena Ashwell, in her little manifesto in the new programme at the Kingsway, "that I had thought a longer period would have elapsed before it became necessary to launch another production on the uncertain sea of public favour; but The Sway Boat, though it attracted favourable attention and achieved an undoubted success artistically, was perhaps scarcely of the texture to appeal to those who sustain a rooted objection to being forced to dive deeply into psychological problems. I now present Grit, a play in four acts by Mr. H. Herman Chilton, for your approval. It is no longer a novelty at this theatre for you to be called upon to judge the first work of a new author, and my past experience tells me that Mr. Chilton could not possibly be called upon to face a more impartial and kindly tribunal."

Miss Ashwell's confidence in the impartiality and kindliness of her patrons was quite justified by the reception of Grit. As a maiden effort it deserves every encouragement. The piece is a good example in a style which is a little old-fashioned; and though neither story nor treatment are novel, both are interesting. So much may be said for Mr. H. Herman Chilton's work, and much more cannot be said in its favour without flattery. The theme is that of a "flighty" female aristocrat married to a noble-minded plebeian from motives of convenience, and being eventually broken-in and tamed down by his intrinsic superiority. The excuse for the marriage in this case is an eccentric will by which if Jim Barr, a carpenter, and Erith Winter, daughter of Mr. Winter, of Seacombe Towers, desire to inherit a fortune they must marry and live together. Mr. Winter is sorely in want of cash, and Barr desires wealth that he may devote it to assisting the poor and unfortunate of his class. So the marriage is "arranged" after a good deal of argument, and after objections on the part of a "detrimental" named Dick Travers, an old friend of Erith's. The first act is occupied with the exposition of these incidents. In the second the newly-married pair are at a cottage, which they have taken for the honeymoon. Erith is anxious as to the attitude which Barr will take up; but it proves to be a very chivalrous one. He refuses to take advantage of the powers given him by his position of husband, and suggests that they shall be man and wife only in appearance. Erith gladly consents to this, and goes off to bed alone.

In the next act we find Mr. and Mrs. Barr living in their London house on the terms settled. Barr is occupying himself with philanthropy, and Erith is amusing herself with an innocent flirtation with Travers. People, however, are beginning to talk, and when Mrs. Barr proposes that her husband shall use his influence to get the empty-headed young cicisbeo elected as M.P. for Bermondsey, he refuses, and forbids Travers the house. Mrs. Barr is irritated, and calls her husband a "plebeian," but she sends Travers away, nevertheless. He conceals himself in the conservatory, and, late at night, enters Mrs. Barr's dressing-room and locks the door behind him. She is entreating him to go away when Barr knocks at the door, and Erith puts Travers into her bedroom. Barr comes to tell her that he has found a new will, leaving to her all the property; that he has been strongly tempted to destroy it, but has resisted the temptation, and that he has decided to leave her and assist her in obtaining a divorce. He departs, and Erith, after turning Travers out, goes down into Barr's study and burns the newly-discovered will. Husband and wife meet, and there is a pretty scene, in which she lets him know that she has learned to love him. He takes her in his arms, and the curtain falls.

The performance would have been all the better for a few more rehearsals, but the occasional sound of the prompter's voice did not affect the favourable result. Miss Ashwell played Erith Winter with the ease and grace which come from capacity for more difficult and exacting creations when applied to a comparatively shallow and conventional character. She was particularly good in the scene in the third act in which Erith behaves with irritating unreasonableness when annoyed by her husband's refusal; and she handled with great tact the delicate situation in the last scene. Mr. Norman McKinnel, without making Dick Barr impossibly polished, and while retaining many suggestions of class and character, gave to his performance an elevation and an earnestness which quite accounted for the final subjugation of the aristocrate; and Miss Nannie Bennett made an excellent impression as a talkative French maid. Mr. C. M. Hallard did all that was possible with the part of Dick Travers; but the rest of the cast had to content themselves with thinly-drawn characters of "support." All their performances were careful and conscientious. Miss Mary Rorke did excellent work as a common-sense confidante; and Miss Frances Ivor as a mock-sentimental mother and Mr. H. Athol Forde as a fussy father were irreproachable. Mr. Ernest Cosham contributed a sound piece of acting as the family lawyer, and Mr. Dennis Eadie was efficient as Mr. Percival, whose two little girls were played with inoffensive sprightliness by Miss Mercia Vaucelle and Miss Olivia. Miss Margaret Murray as a comic governess was well made up, and the servants' parts were all neatly played. Mr. W. Johnstone's scenery was good, especially the interior for the third act, and the piece was liberally and tastefully dressed and mounted. Grit had a cordial reception, and the author was called before the curtain at the conclusion.

CHARLES WYNDHAM AND THE ECCENTRICS.

The eighteenth annual dinner of the Eccentric Club at the Hotel Cecil last Sunday was a more than usually interesting one. Sir CHARLES WYNDHAM, the newly-elected president of the Club, was in the chair, with the evergreen and much-beloved veteran "Lal" Brough at his right hand, and among those who accepted invitations were Mr. H. Montague Bates (vice-chairman), and Messrs. Carl Hentschel, R. Golden, F. Bishop, T. Honey, A. E. Gatcombe, F. Callingham, F. Boor, A. Ellis, W. H. White, W. Beard, F. Fraser, H. Slater, J. W. Lethbridge, H. Armitage, J. Woodhouse, Denby Hare, J. D. Langton, T. Fraser, Carl Hertz, George Graves, Walter de Frece, Osman Edwards, W. H. Clemart, W. Clarkson, George Mozart, John Le Hay, Harry Relph, E. Carpenter, Horace Goldin, C. Cruikshanks, Frank Desprez, C. P. Levilly, Sinclair Mantell, Ben Nathan, J. O'Gorman, A. Aldin, Robert Bates, Jocelyn Brandon, Carlton, H. Claff, Percy Clifton, Major W. F. Dick, Selwyn Driver, Captain R. B. England, Herman Finck, Alfred Hurley, A. Hyman, H. Jacoby, A. Kenealey, Jay Laurier, Dr. Lloyd, Herbert Lyndon (chairman of the Green Room Club), Bert Levy, W. O'Brien, Louis de Reeder, Ernest Rees, Standen Triggs, Albert Whelan, Bransby Williams, Joseph Wilson, Percy Yorke, Harry Randall, Charles Urban, Howard Wyndham, Richard Warner, and Colonel Henry Mapleson.

The health of the King having been proposed by the chairman, that of "The Visitors" was proposed by the vice-chairman, Mr. H. Montague Bates, and responded to by Mr. Richard Golden.

Sir CHARLES WYNDHAM, in proposing the health of the Eccentric Club, referred to the great pleasure it had given him to find at his right hand that evening one of the best and oldest of his friends, Mr. Lionel Brough. Sir Charles continued:—"When your representative did me the honour to ask me to preside at this gathering, I had reluctantly to explain that it would be impossible, as a neglected cold of last winter had put my throat and general health into such a condition that my doctors extracted a promise from me to devote Sunday, whilst acting, to what Sundays were appointed—rest, and rest especially after a week of nine performances and a day in the Law Courts. It was, however, urged in reply that if I would merely preside they promised that I need not feel called upon to speak, but promises of this sort, like Berlin Treaties, athletic records, and Sèvres china, are often made to be broken. So here am I, disobeying those doctors' orders, playing the devil with my vocal chords, and boring you. The last, however, owing to the circumstances, will not be a long bore. It is my pride and pleasure to propose the toast of the evening, the Eccentric Club, of which, by your special grace and favour, I have recently been made president. My sense of gratitude for the compliment paid me is heightened, not reduced, by the difficulty of ascertaining what the duties of your president are. The uncertainty which besets me on this point only serves, however, to raise my office to even greater heights, and invest it with a mysterious magnificence which is all its own. Like Jacob's ladder, your club has now its feet on earth and its head in the clouds. No such nebulous altitude can be attained by any other president that I know of. The President of the United States, for instance, or the President of the dis-united States (I mean the Divorce Court) can claim no such call for exultation. I single out these two gentlemen because their status most nearly approaches mine in respectability, if not in glory. No doubt these gentlemen perform most useful duties. As the advertisements often say, they fill a long-felt want. The one calls attention to the strenuous life in public—the other bids us wear the white flower of a blameless life in private. United we stand, cries my brother across the [redacted] divided we fall, cries my other brother here at home. But, after all, these officials, whom, as they are presidents, I am bound to recognise as belonging to my rank, occupy a much lower grade in it than does your president. Their instructions are grossly defined—chalked out, as it were, on paper, with head-lines 'a Constitution' or 'a statute,' headlines for all the world like a child's copy-book; but the duties of your president are in the air, and he is left there to discharge them, as the Scotsman discharged his blasphemous volleys—at large. Therefore, I hold that my office towers high above that of any other president in the world, in that special and unique grandeur that surrounds the unknown. Having got this lengthy exordium off, I think the right thing I can do now, in the interests of my long-suffering chords and your long-suffering ears, is to go straight to the peroration, leaving you to fill in the interspace with your own playful fancy, and piece out my imperfections with your thoughts.

"The club is now getting on in years—eighteen dinners have now passed away. In a short time, if eccentricity can ever be discreet, it will have arrived at years of discretion. How has it spent its eighteen years of life? In such a way, I venture to think, as to justify not only its existence and the expectations of its founders and members, but also the hearty approval and affection of those who have enjoyed its hospitality and profited by its deeds of beneficence. It has as a club been everything that a club should be and nothing that it should not. It has been the home of good-fellowship, geniality, high spirits, and high hopes, brightening toil and softening trial. But it has been even more. It has not merely confined its energies within the limits of its own clubhouse; it has fed the imagination hunger—a hunger as real, as physical, as that of children with recreation and delight. It has helped along the stranger, and what it is capable of in the name of patriotism no one can testify better than myself. I should say the bulk of you come from the City. How well I remember going eastward to your haunts to plead the interests of our soldiers—when in a single afternoon I brought away with me £1500 you had poured into my pocket. Shall I ever forget coming to dine with you a few weeks later, when happening to express, without any intention to beg, what England should do for our defenders in their hour of conflict, you set the noble example of sending me away with £1,700 collected round your dinner table? These noble deeds speak for themselves. They endear you all to those that know of these acts; need I say especially to myself, who was honoured in being the vehicle of your generous contributions. Therefore, not only in discharge of my duties to-night, but in a spirit of deep gratitude for such assistance and co-operation, I express my sentiments from this place as your president, and in all conviviality and sincerity I propose the toast of 'The Eccentric Club.'"

The toast of "The Visitors" was proposed by Mr. H. MONTAGUE BATES, and replied to by Mr. W. BEARD, who reassured the members as to the illness of Mr. J. A. Harrison, which, he said, was only a temporary breakdown that would soon yield to rest and care. Mr. Beard also mentioned that the Club in the past year had dispersed £3000 in charity. The evening concluded with an entertaining programme of song and jest under the management of Mr. Frank Boor and Mr. John Le Hay, which was contributed to by Miss José Collins, Miss Violet Elliott, Miss Kitty Gordon, Miss Josephine La Bart, Miss Millie Legarde, Miss Annie Purcell, Miss Kate Traill, Miss Madge Vincent, and Messrs. Driver, Goldin, Golden, Grover, Hurley, Levy, Laurier, Mozart, Nott, Rea, Rees, Russell, Thomas, Williams, Whelan, and Wood. Mr. "Lal" Brough told some of his funniest stories, which were keenly appreciated. Some interesting Cinematograph films were also shown, by permission of Mr. Charles Urban, on a sheet at one end of the room. They included a moving portrait of Sir Charles Wyndham, a screamingly comic film, "The Near-sighted Bicyclist," and a series of beautiful depictions of wild-bird life. An excellent programme of music—including, of course, the "classical" "Eccentrics" March—was supplied by Mr. Norfolk Megone's orchestra.

THE PLAYHOUSE.

MATINEE IN AID OF INFANTS' HOSPITAL.

An exceedingly interesting and well-attended matinée was given at the Playhouse—kindly lent for the purpose by Mr. Cyril Maude—on Thursday afternoon in aid of the funds of the Infants' Hospital, Vincent-square, S.W. The afternoon opened with a performance of the one-act play French as He is Spoke, in which Mr. Cyril Maude once more appeared in his amusing chraracterisation of Peter, supported by Messrs. Daniel McCarthy, A. G. Onslow, John Harwood, Charles Hampden, C. B. Keston, and the Misses Rosalie Toller and Emma Chambers. Mr. Forbes-Robertson's fine elocutionary powers were heard to advantage in the recitation "The Passing Singer," by Ethel Clifford; and Miss Ruth Vincent delighted the house with her rendering of "The Dawn of Love," from The Belle of Brittany. Mr. Cosmo Hamilton's "episode," Soldiers' Daughters, was admirably presented by Miss Winifred Emery in the rôle of the self-sacrificing Helen Meredith, Miss Beryl Faber as Pamela, and Miss Pollie Emery as the old servant. Then followed a scene from the third act of Tom Taylor's Still Waters Run Deep, in which Sir Charles Wyndham submitted a skilful portraiture of the imperturbable John Mildmay, Mr. Robert Loraine appearing as Capt. Hawksley and Mr. Reginald Walter as Dunbilk. Mr. Henry Ainley recited in magnificent style, to his own pianoforte accompaniment, "The Lesson of the Water-Mill," and Miss Marie Dainton proved highly entertaining in a series of impersonations of well-known actresses in various parts.

The novelty of the afternoon was

"THE TOYSHOP OF THE HEART,"
A Play, in One Act, by Ella Hepworth-Dixon.

Philip Altanmore	MR. HARCOURT WILLIAMS
Edward Poyning	MR. LESLIE FABER
Danvers	MR. P. BLUNT
Rosie Rosalba	MISS LILIAN BRAITHWAITE

Miss Hepworth-Dixon has a pretty command of language, and writes nicely. It is the story of the woman who, on the verge of being led to the altar, is deprived of a husband by the interference of a third party, who has been somewhat painfully made aware of an unpleasant incident in her past life. Philip Altanmore, a member of an aristocratic family, who claims to be a poet, has fallen desperately in love with Rosie Rosalba, a music hall dancer, and she, we are led to believe, loves him with all her heart. In his apartments at the Faubourg St. Honoré, Paris, Philip promises to marry her, and we learn that his intentions are to find a home for her in a country cottage in England. He delicately hints that his mother and his family will not approve of the marriage. During his temporary absence from his rooms a friend comes in the person of Edward Poyning, who is described as the First Secretary of the British Embassy at Paris. He recognises Rosie as a woman who, under another name, had been a few years previously the mistress of an acquaintance of his. The conversation between the two is spun out to a tiresome length, and Rosie bursts forth into the usual illogical excuses of her class for her conduct. However, Poyning tells her that Philip has only agreed to marry her from a sense of honour, and that she ought not, in view of certain circumstances, to take advantage of him. The marriage must not take place, and she herself must break off the relationship in the best way she can. It is not his (Poyning's) intention to say anything to Philip on the matter or to appear to have figured in it at all, and there need be no reference to her past. When Philip returns Rosie informs him that her love for her profession will not permit her to live in a damp cottage in the country, and that she has realised he has only asked her to become his wife from a sense of honour. Philip, in surprise and grief, accepts the inevitable, packs his belongings and departs, and the curtain falls upon Rosie weeping bitterly.

The little piece was capitally acted. Miss Lilian Braithwaite furnished a pathetic portraiture of Rosie Rosalba, and the tragic note of it struck deeply into the hearts of the audience. The rôle of the dreaming Philip with the artistic temperament proved an interesting study in the hands of Mr. Harcourt Williams, and Mr. Leslie Faber was a dignified and matter-of-fact personage as Poyning. We think, however, that The Toy-shop of the Heart would be better as a magazine story than as a play.

THE LYRIC.

On Wednesday, Nov. 25, revival of Shakespeare's Play,

"KING HENRY V."

King Henry V.	MR. LEWIS WALLER
Duke of Gloucester	MR. PATRICK DIGAN
Duke of Bedford	MR. J. H. NAPPER
Duke of Exeter	MR. FRANKLIN DYALL
Duke of York	MR. HUGH CUNNINGHAM
Earl of Westmoreland	MR. REGINALD DANE
Archbishop of Canterbury	MR. HALLIWELL HOBBES
Bishop of Ely	MR. J. H. IRVINE
Earl of Cambridge	MR. H. CRONIN WILSON
Lord Scroop	MR. SHIEL BARRY
Sir Thomas Grey	MR. CECIL DU GUE
Sir Thomas Erpingham	MR. H. CRONIN WILSON
Captain Gower	MR. FRANK RIDLEY
Captain Fluellen	MR. A. E. GEORGE
Captain McMorris	MR. HERBERT MAULE
Captain Jamy	MR. J. H. IRVINE
John Bates	MR. CATON WOODVILLE
Alexander Court	MR. ST. A. BENTLEY
Michael Williams	MR. HERBERT JARMAN
Boy	MASTER HARRY DUFF
Nym	MR. ALEC F. THOMPSON
Bardolph	MR. ROBERT BOLDER
Pistol	MR. LOUIS CALVERT
Charles VI.	MR. HUBERT DRUCE
The Dauphin	MR. OWEN ROUGHWOOD
Duke of Burgundy	MR. CECIL DU GUE
Duke of Orleans	MR. J. R. SINCLAIR
Duke of Bourbon	MR. A. J. GADE
The Constable of France	MR. WILLIAM DEVEREUX
A French Soldier	MR. SHIEL BARRY
Montjoy	MR. HALLIWELL HOBBES
Governor of Harfleur	MR. C. BRANSCOMBE
Isabel	MISS MAY CHEVALIER
Katherine	MISS MADGE TITHERADGE
Alice	MISS DORA HOLE
Hostess of Tavern	MISS MINNIE GRIFFIN
Chorus	MISS FAY DAVIS

Mr. Lewis Waller has already twice revived Henry V.—once in association with Mr. William Mollison at the Lyceum Theatre, in the December of 1900, and again at the Imperial in the January of 1905. The part of Henry V. suits Mr. Waller's style exactly, and he is an ideal representative of the rôle. In the 1905 production there were some memorable performances, and it is not easy to forget the Fluellen of Mr. A. E. George, the Bardolph of Mr. William Calvert, the Pistol of Mr. William Mollison, the Hostess of Miss Mary Griffin, or the Chorus of Miss Mary Rorke. Fortunately, several members of this strong cast were available for the revival at the Lyric on Wednesday, and the performance of Shakespeare's play was, taken as a whole, remarkably fine, bold, and picturesque. We are almost tired of praising Mr. Waller's Henry V.; indeed, it is so complete and clearly cut a inception that one can only describe it as "unimpeachable." Its strength has not declined since 1900, nor has its interest in any way abated. The central figure in Shakespeare's play strongly predominates, and has not only no rival, but no competitor of importance. Next in influence on the effect of the drama is the "comic relief" of those three droll scamps, Nym, Bardolph, and Pistol. Mr. Waller was fortunate in being able to engage Mr. Louis Calvert for the last-named character. Mr. Calvert gives a luxuriantly free and grotesquely extravagant reading of the rôle; in other words, he plays the spouting swashbuckler just as the part should be played—in a large, broad, and expansive manner—and makes a real success in it. Mr. Robert Bolder is a massive and authoritative Bardolph, and Mr. Alec F. Thompson contributes a highly-finished and original reading of the rôle of Nym. Miss Minnie Griffin repeats her natural and effective interpretation of the character of the "quondam Quickly," and the quartette thus cleverly completed furnish plenty of amusement throughout the progress of the play. The incident of the arrest of the traitors at Southampton is made deeply dramatic by the really fine and subtle acting of Mr. Shiel Barry, Mr. Cecil du Gue, and Mr. H. Cronin Wilson. Mr. A. E. George repeats his admirable performance of the part of Fluellen, so full of humour and character; and Mr. Halliwell Hobbes and Mr. J. H. Irvine deliver the dialogue between the scheming clerical magnates in the opening with remarkable ability. A thoroughly sound rendering of the rôle of John Bates is contributed by Mr. Caton Woodville, and another commendable performance is the Michael Williams of Mr. Herbert Jarman. Charles VI. is expressively impersonated by Mr. Hubert Druce; Mr. Owen Roughwood supplying a vivid and active impersonation of the Dauphin. Miss Madge Titheradge gives a charmingly piquant impersonation of Katherine, and Mr. Halliwell Hobbes is a most dignified Montjoy. An agreeable feature of this revival is the remarkably able manner in which the numerous rôles of the second order are embodied, and warm praise is merited by the Duke of Gloucester of Mr. Patrick Digan, the Duke of Bedford of Mr. J. H. Napper, the Duke of Exeter of Mr. Franklin Dyall, the Duke of York of Mr. Hugh Cunningham, and the Earl of Westmoreland of Mr. Reginald Dane. Nor must we omit to mention the good work done by Mr. Frank Ridley as Captain Gower, nor the Captain McMorris of Mr. Herbert Maule and the Alexander Court of Mr. St. A. Bentley. Evident pains had been taken, and valuable results were attained by the efforts of Mr. Cecil du Gue as the Duke of Burgundy, Mr. J. R. Sinclair as the Duke of Orleans, Mr. A. J. Gade as the Duke of Bourbon, Mr. William Devereux as the Constable of France, and Mr. C. Branscombe as the Governor of Harfleur. Miss May Chevalier is an agreeable exponent of the character of Isabel, and Miss Dora Hole is very acceptable as Alice. Miss Fay Davis not only looks quite classical as the Chorus, but speaks her lines well, audibly, and expressively. Mr. R. C. McCleery's scenery is finely artistic and Mr. Herbert Jarman's assistance in the production has done much to secure its smoothness and completeness Mr. Raymond Roze's incidental music is appropriate and descriptive.

"THE ARTHURIAN ANNUAL," an elaborately printed booklet containing the portraits of the principal artists concerned in Mr. Robert Arthur's pantomimes in London and the provinces, will be again issued this year. The designing, compiling, and editing will, as before, be in the hands of Mr. Rade Montefiore, one of Mr. Arthur's lieutenants, who will publish it from the Coronet Theatre, where he is now in command.

HAZLITT ON ACTORS.

"It has been considered as the misfortune of first-rate talents for the stage that they leave," writes Hazlitt in his essay on "Actors and Acting," "no record behind them except that of vague rumour, and that the genius of a great actor perishes wth him, 'leaving the world no copy.' This is a misfortune, or at least an unpleasant circumstance, to actors; but it is, perhaps, an advantage to the stage. It leaves an opening to originality. The stage is always beginning anew; the candidates for theatrical reputation are always setting out afresh, unencumbered by the affectation of the faults or the excellences of their predecessors. In this respect we should imagine that the average quantity of dramatic talent remains more nearly the same than that in any other walk of art. In no other instance do the complaints of the degeneracy of the moderns seem so unfounded as in this; and Colley Cibber's account of the regular decline of the stage, from the time of Shakespeare to that of Charles II., and from the time of Charles II. to the beginning of George II., appears quite ridiculous. The stage is a place where genius is sure to come upon its legs, in a generation or two at furthest. In the other arts (as painting and poetry) it has been contended that what has been well done already, by giving rise to endless vapid imitations, is an obstacle to what might be done well hereafter; that the models or chefs-d'œuvre of art, where they are accumulated, choke up the path to excellence; and that the works of genius, where they can be rendered permanent and handed down from age to age, not only prevent, but render superfluous, future productions of the same kind. We have not, neither do we want, two Shakespeares, two Miltons, two Raphaels, any more than we require two suns in the same sphere. Even Miss O'Neill stands a little in the way of our recollections of Mrs. Siddons. But Mr. Kean is an excellent substitute for the memory of Garrick, whom we never saw. When an author dies it is no matter, for his works remain. When a great actor dies there is a void produced in society, a gap which requires to be filled up. Who does not go to see Kean? Who, if Garrick were alive, would go to see him? At least one or the other must have quitted the stage. We have seen what a ferment has been excited among our living artists by the exhibition of the works of the old masters at the British Gallery. What would the actors say to it if, by any spell or power of necromancy, all the celebrated actors for the last hundred years could be made to appear again on the boards of Covent Garden and Drury Lane, for the last time, in all their most brilliant parts? What a rich treat to the town, what a feast for the critics, to go and see Betterton, and Booth, and Wilks, and Sandford, and Nokes, and Leigh, and Penkethman, and Bullock, and Estcourt, and Dogget, and Mrs. Barry, and Mrs. Montfort, and Mrs. Oldfield, and Mrs. Bracegirdle, and Mrs. Cibber, and Cibber himself, the prince of coxcombs, and Macklin, and Quin, and Rich, and Mrs. Clive, and Mrs. Pritchard, and Mrs. Abington, and Weston, and Shutter, and Garrick, and all the rest of those who 'gladdened life, and whose deaths eclipsed the gaiety of nations!' We should certainly be there. We should buy a ticket for the season. We should enjoy our hundred days again. We should not lose a single night. We would not, for a great deal, be absent from Betterton's Hamlet or his Brutus, or from Booth's Cato, as it was first acted to the contending applause of Whigs and Tories. We should be in the first row when Mrs. Barry (who was kept by Lord Rochester, and with whom Otway was in love) played Monimia or Belvidera; and we suppose we should go to see Mrs. Bracegirdle (with whom all the world was in love) in all her parts. We should then know exactly whether Penkethman's manner of picking a chicken and Bullock's mode of devouring asparagus answered to the ingenious account of them in the Tatler; and whether Dogget was equal to Dowton—whether Mrs. Montfort or Mrs. Abington was the finest lady—whether Wilks or Cibber was the best Sir Harry Wildair—whether Macklin was really 'the Jew that Shakespeare drew,' and whether Garrick was, upon the whole, so great an actor as the world have made him out. Many people have a strong desire to pry into the secrets of futurity: for our own part, we should be satisfied if we had the power to recall the dead, and live the past over again as often as we pleased. Players, after all, have little reason to complain of their hard-earned, short-lived popularity. One thunder of applause from pit, boxes, and gallery is equal to a whole immortality of posthumous fame; and when we hear an actor, whose modesty is equal to his merit, declare that he would like to see a dog wag his tail in approbation, what must he feel when he sees the whole house in a roar! Besides, Fame, as if their reputation had been entrusted to her alone, has been particularly careful of the renown of her theatrical favourites; she forgets one by one, and year by year, those who have been great lawyers, great statesmen, and great warriors in their day, but the name of Garrick still survives with the works of Reynolds and of Johnson.

"A London engagement is generally considered by actors as the ne plus ultra of their ambition, as 'a consummation devoutly to be wished,' as the great prize in the lottery of their professional life. But this appears to us, who are not in the secret, to be rather the prose termination of their adventurous career; it is the provincial commencement that is the poetical and truly enviable part of it. After that, they have comparatively little to hope or fear. 'The wine of life is drunk, and but the lees remain.' In London they become gentlemen, and the King's servants; but it is the romantic mixture of the hero and the vagabond that constitutes the essence of the player's life. It is the transition from their real to their assumed characters, from the contempt of the world to the applause of the multitude, that gives its zest to the latter, and raises them as much above common humanity at night, as in the daytime they are depressed below it. 'Hurried from fierce extremes, by contrast made more fierce'—it is rags and a flock-bed which give their splendour to a plume of feathers and a throne. We should suppose that if the most admired actor on the London stage were brought to confession on this point, he would acknowledge that all the applause he had received from 'brilliant and overflowing audiences' was nothing to the light-headed intoxication of unlooked-for success in a barn. In town, actors are criticised; in country-places, they are wondered at, or hooted at; it is of little consequence which, so that the interval is not too long between. For ourselves, we own that the description of the strolling player in Gil Blas, soaking his dry crusts in the well by the roadside, presents to us a perfect picture of human felicity."

Mrs. Henry De La Pasture, the talented authoress of Peter's Mother has been the recipient of widespread sympathy on the terrible bereavement which she sustained early this month by the death of her husband, who passed away suddenly from heart failure after a few days' illness. Mr. De La Pasture was the third son of the late Marquis De La Pasture, 18th Hussars, and was for many years a well-known figure in London society, while in Catholic circles he will be especially mourned. The funeral took place very quietly at Llandogo, the deceased's home in Monmouthshire, and he was borne to the grave by his own tenants there, his brother, the Rev. Charles De La Pasture, S.J., officiating. Mr. De La Pasture, who was in his sixty-seventh year, leaves two daughters.

RUSSIAN REALISM.

"Nearly all European dramatic art," writes Mr. Maurice Baring in the New Quarterly, "with the exception of certain German and Norwegian work, strikes the Russian public as stagey and artificial. If a Russian had written Mrs. Warren's Profession he would never have introduced the scene between Crofts and Vivy which occurs at the end of Act III., because such a scene, to a Russian, savours of melodrama. On the other hand, he would have no hesitation in putting on the stage (at the Imperial State-paid Theatre) the interior with all its details of one of the continental hotels from which Mrs. Warren derived her income. But, as I have already said, what interests the Russian dramatist most keenly is not the huge catastrophes that stand out in lurid pre-eminence, but the incidents, sometimes important, sometimes trivial, and sometimes ludicrous, which happen to every human being every day of his life. And nowhere is this so clearly visible as in the work of Tchekov, for although the plays of Tchekov (which have not yet been discovered in England and which will soon be old-fashioned in Russia) are not a reflection of the actual state of mind of the Russian people, yet as far as their artistic aim is concerned, they are more intensely typical and more successful in the achievement of their aim than the work of any other Russian dramatist.

"Tchekov has written in all eleven plays, out of which six are farces in one act, and five are serious dramas. The farces are not important; it is in his serious dramatic work that Tchekov really found himself, and gave to the world something new and entirely original. The originality of Tchekov's plays does not lie in the fact that they are realistic. Other dramatists (Ibsen, for instance) have written absorbingly interesting and dramatic plays dealing with poignant situations, happening to real people in real life. Tchekov's discovery is this, that real life, as we see it every day, can be made just as interesting on the stage as the catastrophes or difficulties which are more or less exceptional, but which are chosen by dramatists as their material because they are dramatic. Tchekov discovered that it is not necessary for real life to be dramatic in order to be interesting. Or rather that ordinary everyday life is as dramatic, if by dramatic one means interesting on the stage, as extraordinary life. He perceived that things which happened to us every day, which interest us, and affect us keenly, but which we would never dream of thinking or of calling dramatic when they occur, may be as interesting on the stage as the most far-fetched situations or the most terrific crises. For instance, it may affect us keenly to leave for ever a house where we have lived for many years. It may touch us to the quick to see certain friends off at a railway station. But we do not call these things dramatic. They are not dramatic, but they are human.

"Tchekov has realised this, and has put them on the stage. He has managed to send over the footlights certain feelings, moods and sensations which we experience constantly, and out of which our life is built. He has managed to make the departure of certain people from a certain place and the staying on of certain others in the same place, as interesting behind the footlights as the tragic histories of Œdipus, Othello, or Mrs. Alving, and a great deal more interesting than the complicated struggles and problems in which the characters of the modern French dramatists are enmeshed. Life as a whole never presents itself to us as a definite mathematical problem which needs immediate solution, but rather it is composed of a thousand nothings which together make something vitally important. Tchekov has understood this, and given us glimpses of these nothings, and has made whole plays out of these nothings.

"At first sight one is tempted to say that there is no action in the plays of Tchekov. But on closer study one realises that the action is there, but it is not the kind usually sought after and employed by men who write for the stage. Tchekov is, of course, not the first dramatic writer who has realised that the action which consisted in violent things happening to violent people is not a whit more interesting, perhaps a great deal less interesting, than the changes and the vicissitudes which happen spiritually in the soul of man. Molière knew this, for Le Misanthrope is a play in which nothing in the ordinary sense happens. Rostand's L'Aiglon is a play where nothing in the ordinary sense happens. But in these plays in the extraordinary sense everything happens. A violent drama occurs in the soul of the Misanthrope, and likewise in that of the Duke of Reichstadt. So it is in Tchekov's plays. He shows us the changes, the revolutions, the vicissitudes, the tragedies, the comedies, the struggles, the conflicts, the catastrophes that happen in the souls of men, but he goes a step further than the other dramatists in the way in which he shows us these things. He shows us these things as we ourselves perceive or guess them in real life, without the help of poetic soliloquies or monologues, without the help of a Greek chorus, or a worldly raisonneur, and without the aid of startling events which strip people of their masks. He shows us bits of the everyday life of human beings as we see it, and his pictures of ordinary human beings, rooted in certain circumstances, and engaged in certain avocations, reveal to us further glimpses of the life that is going on inside these people. The older dramatists, even when they deal exclusively with the inner life of man, without the aid of any outside action, allow their creations to take off their masks and lay bare their very inmost souls to us.

"Tchekov's characters never, of their own accord, take off their masks for the benefit of the audience, but they retain them in exactly the same degree as people retain them in real life, that is to say, sometimes we guess by a word, a phrase, a gesture, the humming of a tune, or the smelling of a flower, what is going on behind the mask; at other times we see the mask momentarily torn off by an outbreak of inward passion, but never by any pressure of an outside and artificial machinery, the demands of a plot, or the exigencies of a problem; in fact, never by any forces which are not those of life itself. In Tchekov's plays, as in real life, to use Meredith's phrase, 'Passions spin the plot,' he shows us the delicate webs that reach from soul to soul across the trivial incidents of every day."

Miss Alys Bateman will give a grand concert this afternoon at the Crystal Palace, and will be assisted by several talented artists. Miss Bateman will sing recit. and aria, "The Bell Song" (Lakmé) (Delibes), and song "No, no, no" (Mattei); Miss Ethel Hook, sister of Mme. Clara Butt, will sing "Hindoo Song" and "Life's Recompense"; Mr. Henry Beaumont will sing "Two Days" and the aria "La donna e mobile"; Mr. Albert Archdeacon will sing "Wilt thou take me for thy slave?" and "I will give you the keys of Heaven"; Miss Ruth Clarkson will be the solo violin; and Mr. Eduard Parlovitz will be solo pianoforte.

The Crystal Palace Orchestral Society and Choir will this evening give a concert under the conductorship of Mr. Walter W. Hedgcock. The programme will include "Suite Algerienne" (Saint-Saëns), Welsh rhapsody (German), and "Lord Ullin's Daughter" (McCunn); "Triumphal Entry of the Bozards" (Halvorsen), overture, "The Land of the Mountain and the Flood" (McCunn), &c. There will be as many as 300 performers. Miss Gladys Honey will be the vocalist and Mr. Joseph Schofield the solo violoncellist. Mr. Fred Holloway will be at the piano.

LAMB'S LITTLE HEROINE.

"The parents of Barbara S——" says Charles Lamb in his story of "Barbara S——" "had been in reputable circumstances. The father had practised, I believe, as an apothecary in the town; but his practice, from causes which I feel my own infirmity too sensibly that way to arraign—or perhaps from that pure infelicity which accompanies some people in their walk through life, and which it is impossible to lay at the door of imprudence—was now reduced to nothing. They were in fact in the very teeth of starvation, when the manager, who knew and respected them in better days, took the little Barbara into his company. At the period I commenced with, her slender earnings were the sole support of her family, including two younger sisters.

"This was the little starved, meritorious maid, who stood before old Ravenscroft, the treasurer, for her Saturday's payment.

"Now Barbara's weekly stipend was a bare half-guinea. By mistake he popped into her hand a whole one. Barbara tripped away. She was entirely unconscious at first of the mistake: God knows, Ravenscroft would never have discovered it. But when she had got down to the first of those uncouth landing places, she became sensible of an unusual weight pressing her left hand.

"Her first impulse was to go back to the old treasurer, and explain to him his blunder. He was already so confused with age, besides a natural want of punctuality, that she would have had some difficulty in making him understand it. She saw that in an instant. And then it was such a bit of money! and then the image of a larger allowance of butcher's meat on their table next day came across her, till her eyes glistened, and her mouth moistened. But then Mr. Ravenscroft had always been so good-natured, had stood her friend behind the scenes, and even recommended her promotion to some of her little parts. But again the old man was reputed to be worth a world of money: he was supposed to have fifty pounds a year clear of the theatre. And then came staring upon her the figures of her little stockingless and shoeless sisters. And when she looked at her own neat white cotton stockings, which her situation at the theatre had made it indispensable for her mother to provide for her, with hard straining and pinching from the family stock, and thought how glad she would be to cover their poor feet with the same—and how then they could accompany her to rehearsals, which they had hitherto been precluded from doing, by reason of their unfashionable attire—in these thoughts she reached the second landing-place—the second, I mean, from the top—for there was still another left to traverse.

"Now virtue, support Barbara!

"And that never-failing friend did step in; for at that moment a strength not her own, I have heard her say, was revealed to her—a reason above reasoning—and without her own agency, as it seemed (for she never felt her feet to move), she found herself transported back to the individual desk she had just quitted, and her hand in the old hand of Ravenscroft, who in silence took back the refunded treasure, and who had been sitting (good man) insensible to the lapse of minutes, which to her were anxious ages, and from that moment a deep peace fell upon her heart, and she knew the quality of honesty.

"I have heard her say that it was a surprise, not much short of mortification to her, to see the coolness with which the old man pocketed the difference, which had caused her such mortal throes."

COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON.

On Monday, Nov. 23, the Romantic Drama, in Four Acts, entitled

"A WHITE MAN."

Following upon an experimental fortnight of varieties at the Kingston playhouse, which proved most successful, there was a return to "the legitimate" on Monday night, when A White Man was produced before a numerous audience. The pictures of cowboy life in the Wild West of America were most faithfully portrayed by a capable all-round company, captained by Mr. Herbert Sleath, and afforded evident enjoyment to the onlookers. The story of Jim Carston, subsequently the Earl of Kerhill, who voluntarily banishes himself from the luxuries of civilised life to lead the rough existence of a ranchman on a lonely prairie, is followed with close attention, and that it was appreciated was shown by the recall of the company at the close of the acts. Chief honours are earned by Mr. Frank E. Petley as Jim Carston, and a great success was also scored by Mr. Eric Hudson in the rôle of the Chief of the Red Indian tribe, Tab-y-wana. Miss Dorothy Fairleigh, who plays the part of the Chief's daughter, Nat-u-rich, also acquitted herself well. Breezy and typical impersonations of wild cowboys were given by Messrs. Henry Hare, Thomas Lewen, Martin Henry, and J. W. H. Sarll, whilst Mr. Gerald Earle made a deep impression by his picture of the reckless ranchman, Cash Hawkins. Miss Eleanor May wins many friends by her charming impersonation of the part of the Countess of Kerhill. Others deserving of notice were Mr. H. A. C. Hardie as Bud Hardy, Mr. Lewis Broughton as the Earl of Kerhill, Mr. H. Wilmott Jackson as Sir John Applegate, Mr. William Dempsey as Malcolm Petrie, and Miss Rosina White as Little Hal. The play was splendidly staged.

Kean and Wills.

Mr. H. W. Lucy says, in continuing his reminiscences in the Cornhill, referring to the late Sir Henry Irving:—"Irving used to tell with dramatic effect a story about W. G. Wills, the dramatist, who, among other services, wrote for him the play, Charles I. When Wills was a boy ten years old he was taken to see Edmund Kean play Macbeth. In the murder scene he was so affected by the realistic power of the actor that, seized with a severe attack of nausea, he hurried from the box. Ten years later he was lunching at a chop-house in Fleet-street when a man entered, sat down at a table near him, and ordered a meal. He was a perfect stranger to Wills, who after a few minutes' propinquity was again seized with a fit of nausea, from which he had not suffered since as a boy he was at the theatre on the occasion mentioned. He was obliged to leave the room. When some minutes later he paid his bill, the waiter said to him: 'Did you see that gentleman at the table near you? That's Edmund Kean.'"

The Board of Education have received information through the Foreign Office of the International Theatrical Exhibition, which, as we announced in a recent issue, is to be held at Milan in 1913 in commemoration of the first centenary of the birth of Verdi. The exhibition has been planned on the initiative of the Society Esposizione Industriale Permanente of Milan, and is to receive the assistance of the Italian Government. The exhibition will be divided into three main sections, comprising the theatre, music, and artists and theatrical literature.

Fulham meets Barnsley in the Second Division League at Barnsley this afternoon, the kick-off being at 2.30. Fulham's team will be selected from Skene, Charlton, Lindsay, Collins, Parsonage, Millington, Dalrymple, Harrison, Brown, Lipsham, and Carter. Fulham Res. will be opposed to Millwall Res. in the London League this afternoon at Fulham. Cronthwaite or Fryer, Harper, Leigh, Rogers, Waterson, Goldie, Threlfall, Freeman, Barton, Bradshaw, and Lee will constitute the team.

HALL CAINE'S FIRST NOVEL.

"When I began to think of a theme for a novel," says Mr. Hall Caine in "My Story," "I found four or five subjects clamouring for acceptance. There was the story of the Prodigal Son, which afterwards became 'The Deemster'; the story of Jacob and Esau, which in the same way turned into 'The Bondman'; the story of Samuel and Eli, which after a fashion moulded itself finally into 'The Scapegoat'; as well as half-a-dozen other stories, chiefly Biblical, which have since been written, or are still on the forehead of the time to come.

"My first visit was to J. S. Cotton, a close friend (at that time editor of the Academy), and to him I detailed the lines of my story. His rapid mind saw a new opportunity.

"'You want peine forte et dure,' he said.

"'What's that?' I asked.

"'An old punishment, a beautiful thing,' he answered. 'Where's my dear old Blackstone?'

"And the statute containing the punishment for standing mute was read to me. It was just the thing I wanted for my hero, and I was in rapture. But I was also in despair; to work this fresh interest into my theme, half of what I had written would need to be destroyed!

"It was destroyed, the interesting piece of ancient jurisprudence took a leading place in my scheme, and after two months more I got well into the third volume. Then I took my work down to Liverpool, and showed it to my friend, John Lovell. After he had read it he said:

"'I suppose you want my candid opinion?'

"'Well, ye—s,' I said.

"'It's crude,' he said. 'But it only wants sub-editing.'

"Sub-editing!

"I took it back to London, began again at the first line, and wrote every page over again. At the end of another month the story had been reconstructed, and was shorter by some fifty pages of manuscript. It had drawn my heart's blood to cut my 'best' passages, but they were gone, and I knew the book was better. After that I went on to the end and finished with a tragedy. Then the story was sent back to Lovell, and I waited for his verdict.

"My home (or what served for it) was now on the fourth floor of New Court, in Lincoln's Inn, and one morning Lovell came puffing and blowing and steaming (the good fellow was a twenty-stone man) into my lofty nest. He had re-read my novel coming up in the train.

"'Well?' I asked, nervously.

"'It's splendid!' he said.

"That was all the favourable criticism he offered. All save one practical and tangible bit.

"'We'll give you £100 for the serial right of the story for the Weekly.'

"He offered one unfavourable criticism.

"'The death of your hero will never do,' he said. "If you kill that man, you'll kill your book. What's the good? Give no more than the public will take from you to begin with; and by-and-by they'll take what you give them.'

"With much diffidence I altered the catastrophe, and made my hero happy."

BEGGING LETTER FRAUD.

An attempt to victimise Mr. Ernest Carpenter by means of a begging letter has been smartly frustrated by the astute co-manager of the Lyceum. Mr. Carpenter was in his office the night of the 20th inst., when he was handed a letter which he was told had been delivered by a woman who was waiting at the stage-door for an answer. The letter stated that the writer had just secured an engagement at £3 from Mr. Duckworth, of the Opera House, Northampton, to play in The Nameless Child. The writer went on to say that he would have called upon Mr. Carpenter himself, but he was without boots, which had been pawned for food. He said, too, that his wife had pawned her wedding-ring, and as their little boy was ill they were in great distress. The writer enclosed a letter purporting to come from the Opera House, Northampton, confirming the story as to the engagement at £3 a week, and asked for a loan of 12s. 6d. to enable him to take his boots out of pawn and pay his fare to Northampton.

Mr. Carpenter came to the conclusion that both letters were in the same handwriting, and on telephoning to Northampton found that there was no truth in the writer's story. The woman who had taken the letter to the theatre was told to request the writer to call on Saturday. On that morning an individual called at the Lyceum, and told Mr. Carpenter that he was the man who had applied for the loan. Mr. Carpenter told him he had ascertained that there was no truth in his story, and gave him into custody.

The sequel was reached at Bow-street Police Court on Saturday, when Henry Watson, aged 40, of Sayer-street, New Kent-road, described as an agent, was charged, before Mr. Curtis Bennett, with attempting to obtain money by false pretences. The prisoner admitted that he had written both letters, and said, "What was I to do? My wife and child are starving." While the charge was being taken at the police-station, he took the letters from a desk and tore them into several pieces. The prisoner was remanded.

DRESSES AT THE PLAY.

Empire gowns hold sway in Grit, the new production at the Kingsway. To Miss Lena Ashwell, with her tall and slender figure, the Empire style of dress is peculiarly becoming. Most noteworthy is an evening dress composed of the softest satin in a delicate shade of pink. This is veiled with a kind of tunic of chiffon to match, embroidered in an elaborate design in white silk and enriched with pearls. The embroidery forms a wide border round the tunic, and is repeated on the low Empire bodice in the form of a deep band with a central pearl ornament. Chains of pearls caught up to a cabochon of pearls ornament the décolletage, and droop over the arms so as to form a kind of falling sleeve.

Miss Ashwell's second gown is of soft white satin. The skirt with its sweeping train is absolutely unadorned, thus allowing the beautiful sheen of the material to be seen to full advantage; but the bodice is enriched by a broad band thickly embroidered with glittering white bugles, and this band has long scarf ends finished with bugle fringe, which fall nearly to the hem of the skirt. Another beautiful frock worn by Miss Ashwell is an afternoon gown of fine champagne-coloured charmeuse, with a band of embroidery and rich lace revers and ruffles carried out in the Empire style.

A handsome Empire gown in mauve charmeuse is worn by Miss Kate Rorke as Mrs. Percival. The low bodice is composed of pale pink silk, embroidered thickly with silver sequins and crossed by broad bands of gold and amethyst passementerie.

Ornamentation of heavy black chenille fringe is a feature in one of the handsome gowns worn by Miss Frances Ivor as Mrs. Winter The gown is composed of black charmeuse, and the style recalls to some extent the old fashion of the polonaise; while the petticoat is trimmed with black velvet ribbon sewn on in an elaborate design. An exquisite trimming of silk and gold embroidery forms the special attraction in another of Miss Ivor's gowns, which is entirely composed of chestnut brown chiffon. It is made in a novel style with a draped bodice and long tucked sleeves.

"The Era" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

ON THE ROAD, NOV. 30.

An Unwedded Wife.—Theatre Royal, Brighton.
Ascot, Oscar.—King's T., Hammersmith.
Assassin, The.—Colosseum, Oldham.
At Duty's Call.—Gaiety T., Leith.
Beau Brocade.—P. O. W., Grimsby.
Benson, Mr. and Mrs. F. R.—T. R., Bradford
Benson, The F. R. (N.).—Victoria T., Kettering.
Benson, The F. R. (S.).—Salisbury & Basingstoke.
Bondman, The (Croke).—Empire T., Oldham.
Bourchier, Arthur.—P. O. W., Birmingham.
Boyne, Leonard, Mr.—O. H., Coventry.
Breed of the Treshams.—T. R., Bath.
Brewster's Millions.—Coronet Theatre, W.
Broken Heart, A.—T. R., West Bromwich.
Bulmer, Mr.—Irving T., Seacombe.
Carl Rosa Opera Co.—T. R., Manchester.
Charley's Aunt (No. 1).—O. H., Crewe.
Christian, The (Croke, N.).—Queen's T., Manchester.
Christian, The (Croke, S.).—Crown T., Peckham.
Christian, The (Croke, No. 3).—Teignmouth and Andover.
Claudian.—Paisley T., Paisley.
Coal King, The.—Empire T., Southend.
Compton Comedy Co.—New T., Cardiff.
Conscience of a Judge.—Queen's T., Farnworth.
Convict's Daughter.—Lyric T., Hammersmith.
Country Girl in London.—T. R., Glossop.
Dairymaids (Courtneidge) (S.).—T. R., Bournemouth.
Dairymaids (Macdonald's).—O. H., St. Helens.
Dare-Devil Dorothy.—Grand T., Walsall.
Diana of Dobson's (M.).—Bury St. Edmunds.
Diana of Dobson's (N.).—T. R., Bolton.
Diana of Dobson's (S.).—T. R., Norwich.
Dorothy.—Gaiety Theatre, Dublin.
Eve of Her Wedding.—King's Lynn and Grantham.
Face at the Window.—T. R., Ton-y-Pandy.
Fatal Wedding.—Barry Dock.
Fight for a Throne.—Prince's T., Blackburn.
Flag Lieutenant (N.).—Grand T., Southampton.
For Love and the King.—Camb. T., Spennymoor.
From Shop Girl to Duchess.—Vic. T., Broughton.
Gay Gordons (Miss Ash).—Castle T., Stockton.
Gay Gordons (Miss Dare).—Marlboro' T., Holloway.
Gay Gordons (Terriss and Hicks).—T. R., Birmingham.
Geoffrey Langdon's Wife.—Theatre, Saltley.
Girl's Cross Roads.—Star T., Swansea.
Girls of Gottenberg.—Prince's T., Bristol.
Girl with the Angel Face.—T. R., Leicester.
Glossop-Harris, Miss F.—Lyceum T., Newport.
Great Awakening.—Palace T., Newcastle.
Great White Chief, The.—Alexandra T., Hull.
Guilty Gold.—Lyceum T., Ipswich.
Her Love Against the World.—T. R., Middlesbro'.
Her Marriage Vow.—Palace T., Ramsgate.
Her Nameless Child.—T. R., Macclesfield.
His House in Order.—T. R., Huddersfield.
Home, Sweet Home.—T. R., Jarrow.
Honeymoon, The.—Central T., Altrincham.
Horniman's, Miss.—Gaiety T., Manchester.
Hughes, Annie.—O. H., Cheltenham.
Irene Wycherley.—Grand T., Derby.
Jack Straw.—Grand T., Hull.
Kendal, Mr. and Mrs.—Broadway T., New Cross.
Kiss of Judas.—Eastbourne and Hastings.
La Comedie Anglaise.—Navan and Balbriggan.
Lady Frederick.—Grand T., Wolverhampton.
Lady Frederick (Potter).—King's T., Sunderland.
Leah Kleschna.—Star T., Liverpool.
Little Breadwinner.—Metropole T., Manchester.
London with the Lid Off.—T. R., Wednesbury.
Love of the Princess.—Rotunda T., Liverpool.
Lucky 'Liza.—Stourbridge.
Man and Wife.—T. R., Sunderland.
Man to Man.—Metropole T., Birmingham.
Manxman.—Victoria T., Burnley.
Merry Widow (S.).—T. R., Halifax.
Merry Widow.—Grand T., Leeds.
Midnight Mail.—T. R., Merthyr.
Midnight Wedding.—T. R., Northampton.
Moody-Manners Opera (A.).—T. R., Hanley.
Moody-Manners (B.).—Torquay.
Moore, Miss Decima.—Grand T., Swansea.
Moths.—Queen's Park, Manchester.
Mrs. Ponderbury's Past.—Hastings & Eastbourne.
Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.—Lyceum T., Edinburgh.
My Mimosa Maid.—Court T., Liverpool.
Mystery of Edwin Drood.—Queen's T., Longton.
New East Lynne.—H. M. T., Aberdeen.
Nihilist, The.—New T., Consett.
Old Folks at Home.—Crown T., Eccles.
Otto the Outcast.—Gaiety T., Methil.
Peter's Mother.—Crystal Palace Theatre, S.E.
Power of the King.—T. R., Castleford.
Power of the Cross.—Queen's T., Liverpool.
Prodigal Parson.—Hippodrome, Todmorden.
Prodigal Son (Croke).—County T., Reading.
Prodigal Son (Day).—T. R., Rochdale.
Royal Divorce.—Metropole T., Glasgow.
Sailor's Wedding.—T. R., Leeds.
Second to None.—T. R., North Shields.
Send Him Victorious.—East Oxford T., Oxford.
Sergeant Brue.—Hippodrome, West Bromwich.
Sherlock Holmes.—King's T., Glasgow.
Sign of the Cross.—Court T., Warrington.
Silver King.—Dalston Theatre, N.E.
Soldier of France.—Grand T., Radcliffe.
Soldier's Honour.—O. H., Dudley.
Still Alarm.—T. R., Aston.
Straight from the Shoulder.—T. R., Smethwick.
Sunday.—T. R., Barnsley.
Sutton and Raynor's Repertoire.—O. H., Harrogate.
Terry, Edward.—Prince's T., Manchester.
Terry, Fred.—T. R., Portsmouth.
Thief, The (N.).—Lyceum T., Sheffield.
Thief, The (S.).—T. R., Brighton.
Tom Jones.—Kennington Theatre, S.E.
Two Lancashire Lasses in London.—Elephant and Castle T.
Two Little Drummer Boys.—P. O. W., Mexboro'.
Two Little Vagabonds (N.).—T. R., Wolverhampton.
Two Little Vagabonds (S.).—T. R., Batley.
Tyrant, The.—T. R., Bristol.
Uncle Tom's Cabin.—T. R., Sheffield.
Vedrenne-Barker.—Shakespeare T., Liverpool.
Village Blacksmith.—Grand T., Nottingham.
Warner, Grace.—T. R., Pontypool.
Warning to Women.—T. R., South Shields.
What a Woman Did.—Sutton-in-Ashfield.
When It Was Dark.—Empire T., Blaina.
When Knights Were Bold.—T. R., Chatham.
When Knights Were Bold.—T. R., Newcastle.
When London Sleeps.—P.O.W., Nuneaton.
When Other Lips.—St. James's T., Long Eaton.
White Man, A (N.).—Borough T., Stratford.
Who Is She?—T. R., Dewsbury.
Why Men Love Women.—T. R., Rotherham.
Wilkie, Allan, and Co.—T. R., Stockport.
Woman Pays, The.—Alexandra T., Birmingham.
Woman Who Gambles.—Grand T., Lancaster.
Worst Woman in London.—Prince's T., Bradford.
Wrecker of Men.—T. R., Bury.
£1,000 Reward.—T. R., Edmonton.
10.30 Down Express.—Lyceum T., Ipswich.

"The Love That Conquers," a play, in four acts, by Dudley Beresford, was produced by Mrs. Walter Bentley for copyright purposes at the Bijou Theatre, Bayswater, on Monday.

The little Dutch violinist, Haidée Voorzanger, who made a first appearance here last year, gave a recital at St. James's Hall on the afternoon of the 18th inst., with decided success. The little artist is only thirteen, but her rendering of Max Bruch's G minor Concerto, Wilhelmj's transcription of Schubert's "Ave Maria," and Beethoven's Romance in G was marked by a fluency and beauty of tone which would have been highly creditable in an instrumentalist of twice her age.

The drama is apparently flourishing in Kalgoorlie, "where the gold comes from." Mr. Walter Everard, who went out to Western Australia in the early spring, and is now acting-manager for Mr. Julius Knight, reports excellent business with The Scarlet Pimpernel, The Prisoner of Zenda, A Royal Divorce, The Lady of Lyons, and Brigadier Gerard. The company returns to Melbourne in time for the racing event of the year, the Melbourne Cup, and Mr. Everard expects to be back in England early next year. "I have paid a visit to Coolgardie, which is twenty-five miles away," writes Mr. Everard, "purposely to inspect a mine in which, some years back, I dropped a cool thou.; that's why it is, I presume, designated 'Coolgardie.' The town is a quiet spot, all mining and nought else. The redeeming feature is its invigorating atmosphere and altitude, 1,500ft. above sea level."

"THE ERA" NEWSPAPER.

Notice to Contributors.

All communications intended for publication should be sent to "THE EDITOR," and be accompanied by the Writer's Name and Address, not necessarily for insertion, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The Editor will not undertake to be responsible for any rejected MSS., nor to return any Contribution unaccompanied by a stamped and directed envelope.

Notice to Subscribers.

"The Era" is sold by all Newsagents in all the leading English, Irish, and Scotch towns, every Saturday Morning. Price Sixpence.

TERMS, POSTAGE FREE.

Home Subscriptions.		Foreign Subscriptions.
One Year	£1 6 0	One Year	£1 12 0
Six Months	0 13 0	Six Months	0 16 0
Three Months	0 6 6	Three Months	0 8 0

Cash must accompany order.

Notice to Advertisers.

Advertisements should reach the Office early in the week, and not later than Thursday, 7 p.m. Remittances, payable to "THE ERA," LTD., and crossed Lloyd's Bank.

Communications.

Business Communications should be addressed to The MANAGER,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, LONDON, W.C.
(two doors off Wellington-street).
Telegrams, "The Era, London." Telephones, 4747 and 1433. Central.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

[We cannot undertake to answer the inquiries of correspondents by post. In all letters names and addresses must be given as a guarantee of good faith. Initials only or pseudonyms will be used in the replies if so desired.]

CONSTANT READER.—Tom Craven's Gag Book would answer your purpose. Francis, Day, and Hunter, 142, Charing Cross-road, W.C., also have several on their list.

L. GRUBB.—Miss Edna May was married to Mr. Oscar Lewisohn on June 4, 1907.

QUERIBUS.—The business management articles are now in the press.

VIOLETTA.—A Japanese play entitled The Mirror was written by Miss Rosina Filippi, and produced at the Criterion, Sept. 15, 1903.

LAURA (Teddington).—La Mascotte was revived at the old Gaiety, Sept. 9, 1893, and was transferred to the Criterion, Oct. 16, 1893. Lakmé was produced at the Gaiety on June 6, 1885.

VIOLET.—In the Babes in the Wood pantomime at the Coronet, Christmas, 1899, Miss Phyllis Dare played Dorothy. She is to be at the Adelphi this Christmas as Cinderella.

E. JOYNT.—Miss Julia Neilson was the Rosalind in the St. James's revival of As You Like It, Dec. 2, 1896. A Gaiety Girl was produced at the Prince of Wales's, Oct. 14, 1893.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE WEEK.

We wish Many Happy Returns of the Day to the following ladies and gentlemen :—

Sir F. C. Burnand—Sunday, Nov. 29.
Joe Elvin—Sunday, Nov. 29.
Hiram Henton—Sunday, Nov. 29.
Lydia Donovan—Sunday, Nov. 29.
Surtees Corne—Sunday, Nov. 29.
Lina Nazeby—Monday, Nov. 30.
H. V. Esmond—Monday, Nov. 30.
Ben Brown—Monday, Nov. 30.
Irene Vanbrugh—Wednesday, Dec. 2.
Hamilton Deane—Wednesday, Dec. 2.
F. W. Millis—Wednesday, Dec. 2.
Walter Munroe—Thursday, Dec. 3.
Austin Rudd—Thursday, Dec. 3.

MR. ARTHUR BLOUNT opens at the County Theatre, Kingston, on Monday in his new patter act.

MR. HARRY ELLIOTT has secured two winners in "I'm all right" and "The Follow-my-leader Boys." Both have rattling good choruses.

MISS LENA WILLARD, who has been ordered complete rest, is now trying the open-air cure for lung affection for a few months at the Royal National Hospital, Ventnor, Isle of Wight.

MR. H. SCOREY, JUN., of the Four Scoreys, has been specially engaged by Mr. Waller Jeffs to play "The Lost Chord" cornet solo at his sacred concert to-morrow at the Drill Hall, Derby.

MR. FRANK HARRISON will produce Dick Whittington for Mr. Robert Arthur at the Coronet this year. This gentleman was responsible for one of Mr. Arthur's pantomimes at Nottingham last year, and did such clever work that it was at once recognised that his proper sphere was London

MISS FLORA CROMER, contralto, has been engaged by the management of the Princess's Theatre, Glasgow, as principal boy in the forthcoming pantomime there. She will feature the song she has made so popular, "Do you want to buy any lavender?" Miss Cromer is solidly booked for the next five years, and will appear not only in England, but also in Scotland, Ireland, Australia, Africa, Ceylon, and Egypt.

MRS. JOHN LAWSON will produce Why the Third Floor Passed at two halls at Christmas, and is now busily engaged rehearsing the travesty. A strong cast of comedians has been engaged, and the situations evolved by the efforts "to do good" are more than funny. There will be two scenes. Scene I: St. James's Theatre; Scene II: Mrs. Leach's Boarding-house, Camberwell. Mrs. Lawson will play "The Arranger."

FOR many years now roller-skating at the Crystal Palace has been one of the great attractions during the winter months. With the opening of rinks in all directions in London it would seem as if this pastime is to once again become the rage. The Crystal Palace management are therefore wise in determining to do things on a gigantic scale. They will open to-day (Saturday) what is undoubtedly the largest rink in the world, the area being over half an acre. An army of workmen have been busy during the past week laying a perfect surface with a special preparation of asphalte which has been found to be particularly suitable for skating purposes. Preparations are being made for gymkanas, fancy dress skating carnivals, and dances. The Palace is the headquarters of the Amateur Rink Hockey Association, whose games, together with the very exciting Rugby matches, always draw a great crowd. Round the rink there is seating accommodation for about 1,000, while 10,000 persons can comfortably see all that is going on free of charge.

INDISPENSABLE! Rayne's "Pocket Date Book." Contents: Map (19in. by 10in.), showing the distance betwixt the various music halls at a glance. Will tell if one hall is within the barring radius of the other, thus saving fears, worry, and anxiety. All about artists' luggage, list of clubs, information about stamping contracts, foreign money table, London music halls and theatres, their telephone numbers, list of brougham proprietors, list and address of photographers, size of theatrical printing paper, names and addresses of theatrical railway managers, &c. Price 1s., post free. The proceeds from the sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the dramatic and musical professions, the Actors' Benevolent Fund and the Music Hall Home Fund. "THE ERA" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, & DEATHS.

The charge for inserting in "The Era" an announcement of a Birth, a Marriage, or a Death, or an "In Memoriam" notice, not exceeding twenty-four words, is One Shilling and Sixpence.

As a guarantee of good faith, the name and address of the sender must accompany each notice.

BIRTHS.

REAY.—Nov. 13, 1908, at Gateshead, to Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Reay (née Miss Cissy Brooks), a son.

WILSON-JACKSON.—Nov. 18, at Abergavenny, the wife of C. Wilson-Jackson (Miss Agnes Snape) of a bonny daughter. Both doing well.

MARRIAGES.

CORNELL—MARTINI.—To-day (Sat., Nov. 28, '08), at All Saints', Alfred G. Cornell to Gertrude Martini. This week, Argyle Theatre, Birkenhead.

HOLZAPFEL—TRAVERS.—Nov. 12, at St. Nicholas' Cathedral, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Theodore W. Holzapfel, merchant, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, to Daisy Lindon Travers, daughter of Mr. Lindon Travers.

DEATHS.

BARKER.—Nov. 23, at 34, Queen's-road, Liverpool, Annie Alpha, the dearly-beloved mother of Florence Palmer.

CARLYON.—Nov. 22, at Maldon, Frank Carlyon, theatrical manager, aged 36.

CRANE.—Nov. 25, suddenly, at 360, Upland-road, East Dulwich, Jessie, wife of Harry J. Crane.

FISCHER.—On the 20th inst., after a very painful illness, borne with great patience, Harry Fischer, comedian and producer. At rest.

GORDON.—Nov. 20, at her residence, 51, Marloes-road, Kensington, of heart failure, Mrs. Gordon (Miss Ada Wilson), dancer.

MOSEDALE.—Nov. 17, at his residence, the Lord John Russell, Queensbury-street, N., Edward Mosedale ("Teddy"), retired comedian, aged 70.

PRICE.—On Nov. 21, 1908, at his residence, 10, Oberstein-road, London, S.W., Henry Perkins Price, the dear father of Gertrude and Kate Price.

IN MEMORIAM.

CARLOS.—In ever-loving memory of my dear father, Fred Carlos, who died Nov. 25, '04. Deeply mourned by his sorrowing daughter, LOUIE BRIGHT (Mrs. W. Sultan).

AMUSEMENTS IN SOUTH AFRICA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

JOHANNESBURG, OCT. 28.—STANDARD THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Leonard Rayne; Manager, Mr. Grant Fallowes.—A White Man was produced on Thursday for the first time in Johannesburg to a good house. The scenery was some of the finest that has been seen on the Rand, and the staging, under the management of Mr. Chas. Howit, left nothing to be desired. A fine piece of acting was the Jim Carston of Mr. Leonard Rayne, who brought out the many fine points of the rôle in masterly style. A realistic study was that given by Miss Freda Godfrey as Nat-u-Ritch. For such a young actress, who is barely out of her teens, it was a marvellous piece of work. Miss Gertrude Godart as Diana Countess of Kerhill gave a fine representation. Big Bill was well accounted for by Mr. H. C. Paine. Mr. Chas. Howit as Cash Hawkins gave an admirable study of a difficult rôle. A clever child actress is Miss Bertha Cheality, who appeared as Little Hal All the minor parts were in capable hands, and the piece bids to have as good a run as its predecessor, The Flag Lieutenant.

HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. B. and F. Wheeler, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. W. F. Woodman.—The Wheeler Edwardes Gaiety company presented Miss Hook of Holland on Monday night. In the title-rôle Miss Maud Aston was charming, her acting and singing being of a high standard. Much merriment was caused by Mr. Foster Courtenay as Mr Hook. In Miss Crissie Ralland the part of Mina had a charming interpreter. Mr. Alf. Beers as Simon Sinks kept the audience highly amused. Mr. Roy Cathie was quite a favourite as Van Eck; Mr. Arthur Cartright was excellent as Captain Adrian Paap, making good use of his fine voice in all the numbers that fell to him; Mr. H. E. Pearce (Schnapps) and Mr. Hearne (Lieut. De Coop) performed their respective parts successfully. Mr. Florence Vie as Gretchen sang and danced in taking style. The chorus showed careful training, and the staging and scenery were all that could be desired. The production promises to enjoy a good run.

EMPIRE.—Proprietor, Empire Theatres, Ltd., S.A.; Manager, Mr. Sydney Hyman.—The same bill still runs at this house, the most prominent turn being La Belle Tortajada, who meets with unstinted applause.

THE Woods-Williamson company are meeting with good receptions at the Cape of Good Hope Theatre, Capetown.

B. AND F. WHEELER'S No. 2 Gaiety company paid a short visit to Natal this week, when they visited Dundee, Ladysmith, and Newcastle.

EARLY DELIVERY.

SPECIAL NEWSPAPER EXPRESS SERVICES now running on the London and North-Western, Great Northern, Midland, and Great Central Railways carry The Era to the following important cities and towns at the times named. Newsvendors and subscribers obtain their papers at a much earlier hour than was previously possible :—

	a.m.
RUGBY	4.30
COVENTRY	4.54
BIRMINGHAM	5.20
CREWE	6. 5
MANCHESTER	6.50
LIVERPOOL	7. 0
CHESTER	9. 3
DONCASTER	6.10
YORK	7. 0
HULL	8.20
DARLINGTON	8.58
SCARBOROUGH	10. 5
NEWCASTLE	10.10
LEEDS (Central)	6.58
HUDDERSFIELD	7.37
BRADFORD (Exchange)	7.47
HARROGATE	7.50
HALIFAX	8.17
BURNLEY	9.28
LEICESTER	4.36
NOTTINGHAM	5.10
DERBY	5.35

THE managers of the Vienna theatres and music halls have been informed by the police that henceforward no allusions to the Balkan peoples, particularly the Servians, are admissible. Two actors of the Carl Theater were forbidden to reappear on the stage in masks made to resemble King Peter and the Servian Crown Prince. The managers of the Theater an der Wien, at which is being given Strauss's new operetta Brave Soldier, based on Mr. George Bernard Shaw's Arms and the Man, were forced to immediately suppress all references to Servia and Bulgaria. Kalmuecks and Tartars replaced the Servians and Bulgarians, of which the characters consist, and the librettists hurriedly changed parts of the book.

IN the Court of Chancery on the 20th inst. an injunction was asked for on behalf of Mr. George Edwardes to restrain Miss Kitty Gordon from singing any song or musical piece taken from The Merry Widow, or otherwise infringing the copyright of the play, of which he is the owner. Counsel for the defendant did not resist the application, but explained that the defendant when going abroad understood from the plaintiff's representative or manager that she had permission to sing the particular song now in question. There appeared to have been a mistake, or else someone had changed their mind. At any rate, the lady did not assert any right to sing the song, and she was willing to give an undertaking not to do so pending the trial of the action. An undertaking as suggested was given and agreed to.

"THE ERA" LETTER-BOX.

A Stamped Envelope, plainly addressed, must be enclosed with application for each Letter. Letters, after lying at this Office for One Month, are forwarded to the Postal Authorities, to be returned to the Senders.

No Circulars or Parcels admitted to this list.

Alberto Troupe
Alsace and Lorraine
Anger, Mr. Geo.
Anslie, Mr. Theo.
Anthony, Mr. Henry
Arnte, Mr. B.
Austin, Mr. T.
Ball, Mrs. F.
Banks, Miss Flo
Beaufort, Miss G.
Bebb, Mr. J.
Bellonini, Mr. W.
Bernard, Mr. Bert
Bishop, Mr. Will
Bosco, Mr. A. P.
Boyne, Mr. L.
Brasque, Mr. Albert
Brennan, Miss Maude
Brewer, Mr. Joseph
Britt, Mr. Jim
Brown, Mr. D. G.
Brown, Mr. Tom
Callan, Mr. John
Carey, Mr. W. G.
Carr, Miss P.
Carter, Mr. Dave
Cecil, Miss M.
Chard, Mr. Chas.
Chippendale, Mr. Jas.
Chipperfield, Mr. J. W.
Chirgwin, Miss Clara
Collings, Mr. Chas. W
Clifford, Mr. H. M.
Cohen, Miss Bessie
Collins, Mr. Albert
Conover, Mr. T. E.
Corri, Mr. Clarence
Corri, Mr. Will
Coyle, Mr. J. E.
Coyne, Mr. E. J.
Crispin, Miss D.
Culeen, Mr. James H.
Cunliffe, Mr. Whit
Currie, Mr. Byden
D'Albert, Mr. Alan
Denham, Mr. G.
Dennis, Miss Maud
Deomer, Mr. H.
Desormes, Mr. Jean
Donaldson Brothers
Dornau, Mr. F.
Doyle, Mr. C. M.
Drinkwater, Miss L.
Dryden, Mr. Leo
Du Bois, Mr. Ed.
Duncan, Mr. Orr
Ebrahim, Mr.
Eckhert, Miss K.
Edwards, Mr. Karl H.
Ellanger, Mr. W. F.
Ellis, Mr. Jay
Emerald, Miss Nell
Fellows-Basset, Mr. A.
Flexmore, Miss Marie
Flood, Mr. Alex.
Foy, Mr. T.
Frasetty, Mlle.
Frazer, Mr. Chas.
Galino, Mr. Percy
Gilbert, Mr. Lewis
Gilmore, Mr. Rob
Glennie, Mr. L.
Gray, Miss E.
Gregg, Mr. R. V. S.
Grenville, Miss H.
Grey, Miss Marian Gruber, Captain Max
Gwynn, Miss D.
Hall, Miss F.
Hall, Mr. G. E.
Hamilton, Mr. W.
Handel and Lee
Hargreaves, Mr. W.
Helmer, Mr. Tom
Holding, Mr. Thomas
Howard, Mr. Stanley
Hudsais Vaudeville
Hudson, Mr. T.
Hunt, Mrs.
Jerald, Mr. Frank
Jerome, Mr. Ernest
Jones, Miss Grace
Jordan, Mr. Jules
Kavanagh, Mrs.
Kenneth, Mr. R.
Keppel, Mr. S.
King, Mr. Claud
King, Miss Hetty
Kirk, Mr. Frank
Kopski, Mrs.
Krone, Mr. J. W.
Lafayette, The Great
Langton, Miss H.
Leicester, Miss Kate
Leo, Mr. Frank
Levante, Miss M.
Lewis, Miss V. B.
Leybourne, Mr. Arthur
Lillian, Miss
Loftus, Miss Ethel
Lomas, Mr. Robert
Luba-de-Saremea, Mrs.
Lupina, Mr. G.
Mackay, Mr. W. J.
Macdonald, Mr. J.
Mackintosh, Miss M.
Mackintosh, Mr. G.
Magrath, Mr. Chas.
Marritt, Mr. Chas.
Marvels, The Merry
McKinnel, Mr. L.
McLellan, Mr. C. M. S.
Melville, Mr. W.
Merriman, Mr. Walter
Miller, Mrs. Lena
Millwood, Mr. W. H.
Morra, Miss Nora
Movatts, The Five
Murry, Mr. W.
Myers, Miss Tessa
Neill, Mr. S.
Nethersole, Miss Olga
Neville, Mr. J.
Nolan, Mr. H.
Norman and Norman
Nott, Mr. Will
O'Connor, Miss Vera
Oxley, Mr. Gus
Paine, Mrs. E.
Palfrey, Miss May
Parsons, Mr. Phil
Partridge, Mr. N. E.
Pauli, Miss E. G.
Perman, Miss Ida
Phillips and Merritt
Plant, Mr Harry
Pook, Mr. J.
Powell, Mr. A.
Probin, Mr. W.
Purchase, Mr. A.
Ralph and Pedley
Ray, Miss Belle
Read and Wright
Reynolds, Mr.
Roberts, Mr. Arthur
Robins and Collier
Rogers, Mr. Harry
Romer, Mr. Adrian
Rowley, Mr. J. W.
Roy, Miss Gracie
Royce, Mr. Arthur
Rudd, Mr. Austin
Scanlan, Mr. Stephen
Sago, Miss Lillie
Sansbury, Mr. V.
Seymour, Mr. George
Shine, Mr. W. E.
Sims, Miss Violet
Smith, Mr. Cecil G.
Staig, Mr. Fred
Stanhope, Mr. Frank
Stanislaus, Mr. Louis
St. Clair, Mr. F. V.
Stebbings, Mr. Edwin
Stevens, Mr. Victor
Stewart, Miss Nellie
St. George, Miss Jenny
Trappenell, Mr. P.
Van Biene, Mr. A.
Vanderbilt, Miss Rita
Vaughan, Miss Susie
Verzen, Mr. Herman
Vincent, Miss C.
Vokes, Mrs. Fred
Walsh, Mr. H. A.
Ward, Miss W.
Waterfield, Mr. C.
Weston, Mr. Bert
White, Miss Kitty
Whitehouse, Mr. J. H.
Williams, Mr. E.
Williams, Mr. Robert
Willsher, Mr. F. J.
Woulfe, Mr. J. B.
Wynne, Mr. George
Yamagata, Mr T.
Zancigs, The Zargono

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

A FIRE broke out on Tuesday in the wooden theatre in the gardens of the Casino at Dax, which was to have been opened this week, and the building was completely destroyed. It is believed that incendiaries are responsible for the outbreak.

PRESENTATION.—Mr. George Antley, on his leaving The Love of the Princess company last Saturday, was presented by Mr. T. E. Ward and all the "boys" with a very handsome silver-mounted calabash pipe.

THERE will be no pantomime at the Crown, Peckham, this year. In its stead there will be a music hall show on and after Boxing Day on the two-houses-a-night system.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR COUGHS, COLDS, AND other Lung Troubles is Owbridge's OLD ORIGINAL and WORLD-FAMOUS LUNG TONIC.
Ask for "Owbridge." Take no other.
Sold everywhere at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d. 4s. 6d., and 11s.

BUREAU DE CHANGE | SPECIALLY RECOMMENDED. HANDS and CO., 16, STRAND, CHARING-CROSS RAILWAY STATION, LONDON, W.C.

"I'll swear upon that bottle."—TEMPEST, Act ii.; Scene ii.

WHITBREAD'S BOTTLED BEERS

maintain their popularity because they are brought into condition by MATURING IN BOTTLE; the Natural method, without the aid of carbonating or other artificial process.

The largest Beer Bottlers in the World.

APPLY TO CHIEF OFFICES,
BRITANNIA ST., KING'S CROSS, LONDON, W.C.
(Telephones: Nos. 2510 and 2511 North. Telegraphic Address, "Beerseller, London.")
FOR NAME OF NEAREST AGENT.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.
For Sustaining the Voice.
Invaluable for ACTORS and SINGERS.
Indispensable for PUBLIC SPEAKERS
GENTLEMEN,—For sudden affections of the Bronchial Organs I use and most cheerfully recommend "Brown's Troches." They are regarded as most eligible, convenient, and indispensable by numerous artists of my acquaintance, BOTH IN EUROPE AND AMERICA. They seem to act specially on the organs of the voice, and produce a clear enunciation.—Yours truly (Signed), MARIE ROSE MAPLESON.
SOLD EVERYWHERE AT 1/1½ PER BOX.

DINNEFORD'S MAGNESIA.
The Best Remedy for Acidity of the Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion.
A Safe and most effective Aperient for regular use.

INDIGESTION
Is the primary cause of most of the ills to which we are subject. WHELPTON'S VEGETABLE PURIFYING PILLS arouse the stomach to action, Headache flies away, Biliousness, Kidney Disorders, and Skin Complaints disappear.
Ask for WHELPTON'S PURIFYING PILLS,
And remember there is NO PILL "JUST AS GOOD."
By post, 14 stamps.
WHELPTON & SON, 4, Crane Court, London, E.C.

Ask for "EVANS' PASTILLES" and see you get them

Beware of the numerous imitations.

TYPEWRITING.
MRS. MARSHALL, 126, STRAND, W.C.
PROMPT BOOKS and ACTORS' PARTS TRANSLATIONS FROM and INTO ALL LANGUAGES.
ADAPTATIONS of FRENCH and GERMAN PLAYS UNDERTAKEN.
SHORTHAND DICTATION in FRENCH or ENGLISH. REFERENCES to MANY LEADING AUTHORS and MANAGERS.

A. BLACKFORD.
the BEST HOUSE in LONDON,
For LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S High Grade BOOTS and SHOES.
The FINEST ENGLISH and FOREIGN MAKES.
At Cutting Prices,
3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN, W.C.
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

DRESS CLOTHES LENT.—BLACKFORD has for SALE or HIRE the Finest of CLOTHES for Theatres, Balls, Parties, Weddings, Dinners, Funerals, &c. Clothes sent to any part of England. Perfect Fit guaranteed. 3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN (one door from Market), and 31, WELLINGTON-STREET, STRAND.
Telegraphic Address, "Misfits, London."
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

BIRKBECK BANK.
ESTABLISHED 1851.
SOUTHAMPTON BUILDINGS, HIGH HOLBORN, W.C.
2½ PER CENT. INTEREST allowed on Deposits repayable on demand.
2 PER CENT. INTEREST on Drawing Accounts with Cheque Book.
All general Banking Business transacted.
ALMANACK, with full particulars, POST FREE.
C. F. RAVENSCROFT, Secretary.

Messrs. PYKE, PYKE, and HOWLAND, ESTATE AGENTS and SURVEYORS, have a FUND
AT THEIR DISPOSAL TO LEND
on MORTGAGES, REVERSIONS, and also WITHOUT SECURITY.
Offices—47, CHARING-CROSS-ROAD, W.C.
Telephone: No. 2164 City.
Telegrams: "Charentons," London.

BE SLENDER!!
Madame DANAË'S new and original system
RESTORES THE SPREADING FIGURE
TO THE SLENDERNESS OF YOUTH
Without the aid of Drugs, Dieting, and Exercises.
TEA, 4 to 6 on TUESDAYS.
SPECIAL TERMS TO THE PROFESSION.
Hours 11 to 4, excepting Saturdays.
60, NEW BOND STREET
Telephone Gerrard 3797.

NOW IN PREPARATION.
FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
A World-wide Circulation, therefore an Excellent Medium for Advertisers.
1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
Advertisements should be Forwarded at once to the Office: 5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For Scale of Charges see Leader Page.

NEW PIECES PRODUCED AT THE PROVINCIAL THEATRES. See THE ERA ANNUAL 1909.

NEW PIECES PRODUCED AT THE PARIS THEATRES. See THE ERA ANNUAL, 1909.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL CALENDAR. See THE ERA ANNUAL, 1909.

THEATRICAL, MUSICAL, AND EQUESTRIAN OBITUARY FOR 1908. See THE ERA ANNUAL 1909.

LONDON THEATRES.

GAIETY THEATRE.
Manager, Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.
Every Evening at 8,
Matinée every Saturday at 2.
Mr. George Edwardes's Production,
"HAVANA,"
a Musical Play.
Box Office Open Daily, 10 to 10.

ST. JAMES'S.
"THE BUILDER OF BRIDGES."
A New Play, by Alfred Sutro.
EVERY EVENING, at 8.30 sharp.
MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER and
MISS IRENE VANBRUGH.
Matinée, Every Saturday, at 2.30 (except Sat., Dec 5). Special Wednesday Matinées, Dec. 2, 9, and 16.
ST. JAMES'S. Box Office, 10 to 10. Tel., 3903 Ger.

DALY'S THEATRE,
LEICESTER-SQUARE.
Every Evening at 8.15.
Matinée Every Saturday at 2.30.
A New Play, with Music,
entitled
"THE MERRY WIDOW"
("Die lustige witwe").
Produced by Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.

LYCEUM THEATRE.
Nightly at 8.
Hall Caine and Louis N. Parker's Great Drama,
"PETE,"
MATHESON LANG as PETE.
HUTIN BRITTON as KATE.
Matinées Every Wednesday at 2.30.
Box-Office, 10 to 10. Stalls, 5s. and 3s. Dress Circle, 4s. and 2s. 6d. Tel., 7,617 and 7,618, Gerrard.

ADELPHI.
—Mr MARTIN HARVEY'S Autumn Season.
To-day at 2.30 and 8.15.
"THE CONSPIRACY," followed by
"THE CORSICAN BROTHERS."
Last Nine Performances.

KINGSWAY THEATRE,
GREAT QUEEN-STREET.
Proprietress, Miss LENA ASHWELL.
Every Evening, at 8.30. Mats., Weds. and Sats., 3.
"GRIT,"
By H. Herman Chilton.
MISS LENA ASHWELL
AND THE KINGSWAY THEATRE CO.
Preceded at 8.15 by the Kingsway Orchestra.
All seats may be booked.
'Phone, 4032, Gerrard (two lines).

SHAFTESBURY. THE LYONS MAIL.
Every Evening
at 8.45,
Mr. H. B. IRVING. Miss DOROTHEA BAIRD.
"The Sergeant of Hussars," at 8.15.
Telephone, 6,867, Gerrard.
Matinées, Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2.15.

DUKE OF YORK'S THEATRE.
Sole Lessee and Manager, CHARLES FROHMAN.
Every Evening, at 8.30.
CHARLES FROHMAN
presents
"WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS,"
A Comedy, in Four Acts,
J. M. Barrie.
Matinée Every Thursday and Saturday, at 2.30.

COMEDY THEATRE
PANTON STREET, HAYMARKET.
Sole Lessee and Manager, ARTHUR CHUDLEIGH.
Every Evening, at 8.35.
CHARLES FROHMAN & ARTHUR CHUDLEIGH present
MISS MARIE TEMPEST
in a New Play, in Three Acts, entitled
"MRS. DOT."
by W. Somerset Maugham.
Matinées, Wednesdays and Saturdays, 2.30.

KING'S THEATRE, W.
Telephone, 119 HAMMERSMITH.
Owner and Resident-Manager, J. B. MULHOLLAND.
This week, "Jack Straw"; next week, OSCAR ASCHE and LILY BRAYTON.
For Dates at Marlborough and King's Theatres address Mr. MULHOLLAND, King's Theatre, Hammersmith. Entire Pantomime Production, "Red Riding Hood" (equally suitable Babes), to Let.

MARLBOROUGH THEATRE
Managing-Directors,
Mr. ERNEST STEVENS and Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN.
Nov. 30,
"THE GAY GORDONS."
Address all communications re dates to Mr. J. B Mulholland, King's Theatre, Hammersmith, W
All other communications to Messrs. Stevens and Buchanan, Marlborough T., N. 'Phone 131 North

ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE
KINGSTON-ON-THAMES.
VARIETY SEASON, TWICE NIGHTLY.
All communications to be addressed to
Mr. PETER DAVEY, Managing-Director.
Telephone, No. 58, Kingston-on-Thames. Telegrams, "Theatre, Kingston-on-Thames."

SHAKESPEARE THEATRE, S.W.
MONDAY, Nov. 30, for six nights,
Messrs. DUDLEY BENNETT and T. C. WRAY'S CO., in "THE CATCH OF THE SEASON."
All communications re Dates for:—
Opera House, Coventry.
Opera House and New Hippo., Burton-on-Trent.
Opera House and New Hippo., Crewe.
To H. G. DUDLEY-BENNETT,
Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham, London, S.W.

TOWN HALL, ROTHERHITHE.
Licensed by the Lord Chamberlain.
Dates can be Booked.
Very low prices.
No other Theatre within two miles.
Apply Town Clerk, Town Hall, Bermondsey.
Telephone, No. 1442 Hop.

CRYSTAL PALACE.
SKATING.
Monster Asphalt Rink. Entirely New Surface.
Theatre, "PETER'S MOTHER."
Matinée Wed., 3 p.m.
Variety Shows, Twice Daily. Organ, Bands, Zoo &c.
Wed. and Thurs., Chrysanthemum Show.
Sat., Marie Hall Concert.

MASKELYNE AND DEVANT'S
MYSTERIES.
St. George's Hall, W.
Daily, at 3 and 8.
Grand Programme, "WITCHES OF 'MACBETH,'" also Mr. Maskelyne's Comedy of Marvels, "THE PHILOSOPHER'S DIAMOND."
The Times says: The fun is, in truth, delightful.
Seats, 1s. to 5s. Children half-price. 'Phone, 1545 Mayfair.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

QUEEN'S PALACE OF VARIETIES,
HIGH-STREET, POPLAR. Tel. 714 East.
Proprietors, Messrs. F. and M. ABRAHAMS.
Joint Managers, M. Abrahams and C. Hector.
Twice Nightly, at 6.30 and 9.10. Matinée Thursday. Fred Karno's Co., in "Early Birds," Harry Harris, May Marton, Cestria, Frank Blythe, Bioscope, Walker and May, Rita and Roma, Florrie Grant, Four Breens.
Bill matter must be sent in fourteen days before opening, in accordance with Clause 18, same to be sent to Manager, Queen's. Artists please note rehearsal must be attended Mondays, 1.0 o'clock, according to contract.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

ALHAMBRA.
MDLLE. BRITTA in "PAQUITA,"
"THE APACHE DANCE,"
By M. VOLBERT and MLLE. SYLVE,
L'ARLESIENNE,
TEN JI TROUPE, HENRY HELME,
MULLER, CHUNN, and MULLER, LEONARD RUSSELL, "TWO FLAGS" Divertissement,
THE WHEELERS, JURY'S PICTURES, &c.
ALFRED MOUL, Managing Director.

EMPIRE (Leicester-square).
"A DAY IN PARIS,"
By Lieut.-Col. N. Newnham-Davis.
The APACHE DANCE is the Talk of London.
LYDIA KYASHT, FRED FARREN, B. COLLIER,
MR. HYMACK, "AFTER THE OPERA,"
The Great Le Pages, Cornalla and Eddie, Pichel and Scali, Miss Barley's Dogs.
Evenings at 8. Manager, Mr. H. J. HITCHINS.

PALACE.
MAURICE FARKOA, BERNARDI, BERT LEVY, MARIE DAINTON, PALACE GIRLS, THE LATEST TOPICAL PICTURES on URBANORA BIOSCOPE, &c.
Evenings at 8.
Matinée, Full Programme, Saturdays, at 2.0.
Managing-Director, Mr. ALFRED BUTT.

OXFORD.
Victoria Monks, Dale and O'Malley, Sam Mayo, Zona Vevey, Eight Welsh Miners, Herbert Lloyd and Co., H. A. Moore, John Beauchamp, Gertie Gitana, Fred Land, S. and G. Auer, Duncan and Godfrey, Helen Trix, Daisy Dormer, Harry Leybourne, Max Gruber's Performing Elephont, Horse, and Pony, Frank Leon, Ruffell's Bioscope. Open, 7.20. Sat Matinées, 2.15. Manager, Mr. Blyth Pratt.

TIVOLI
Fragson, Neil Kenyon, Winifred Ward, Harry Tate and Co., Sanford and Lyons, Aida Martine, The Borellis, Victoria Monks, Bioscope, G. H. Elliott, Radford and Valentine, Dan Crawley, Venie Clements, Les Marbas, Bowden and Stol, and W. T. Ellwanger and Co. Open 7.30; Sat. Matinées, 2.15.

MIDDLESEX.
Nov. 30.—Clasen's Art Bronzes, Josh Dixon, Merton and Rydon, Tom Dunmore, Idento Brothers, Twin Andersons, Lieut Travis, Melbourne and McCarthy, Aggie Nolan, Estrella, Four Blackbirds, Ida Brophy, New Bioscope, May Clifton and Co. in "Jack in Japan." Doors open at 6.45; Saturdays and Holidays One Hour Earlier. A Change Every Week.

METROPOLITAN.
At 6.45 and 9.10.
"Chums Till Death," by Albert Marsh's Co., Chas. R. Whittle, Flo Cecil, Kurkamp, The Xentrix, Alick Lauder and Co. in "The Christening," Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope, The Scarleteers, Cruikshanks, Ernest Shand, Russell Wallett.

CHELSEA PALACE.
At 6.40 and 9.10.
Kate Carney and Co. in "The Yiddisher Boy," Rex Fox, Dan Thomas, Madoline Rees, Dainty Daisy Dormer, E. S. Kempton, Katie Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilde, Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope, and Ernest Shand.

THE NEW BEDFORD
PALACE OF VARIETIES, LTD.
Twice Nightly, at 6.10 and 9.0.
Monday, Nov. 30: John Henderson and Co, in 'Amid Northern Lights," Charles Wartoun, Lucy Gillett, Raie Walters, Ccram, Bros. Werds, Frank Seeley, The Melbournes, Shrillo, Eileen Douglas, Estrella, The Bioscope, Carlotta Levey, Bros. Fay, Danton and Doyle.
Artists are notified that they must send their full Bill Matter in two clear weeks before opening. Rehearsal, 1 o'clock Mondays. All must attend. Artists not complying with the above rules are subject to having their Contracts cancelled at option of Management.

EMPIRE, Camberwell Green.
Managing-Director, Jesse Sparrow; Manager, Percy Ford; Acting-Manager, Gus Danter.
Herbert Coltesmore's Co. in Dramatic Episode, 'The Espada," Fatmah Diard, Elmo and Rego, Herbert Rule, Lilian Lea in Scena, "Primrose Farm," Charles Craston, Sisters Hampel, Maggie Rimmer, Kenneth and Kane, Jeape's Animated Graphic, Rivington & Grange, Hemsley & Ambrose, in Motor-car Absurdity, "The Coster's Honeymoon."

ROYAL STANDARD MUSIC HALL
(facing Victoria Station).—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. T. S. DICKIE. One House Nightly.
Monday, Nov. 30: The Gothams, Daisy Jerome, G. H. Elliott, John Ridding and Co., in "The Duchess of Deptford," Lilian Lea, Tom Wootwell, Josh Dixon, Dover and Deane, Elmo and Rego, The Abbotts, Fred Pollard, Edisonograph. Rehearsal, Monday, 1 o'clock. Open 7.30 (Saturday 7 o'clock), commence 7.40 (Saturday 7.15). Tele. 503. Westminster. Asst.-Manager, Mr. MAURICE VOLNY.

HAMMERSMITH PALACE.
Proprietor, Mr. J. COE; Manager, LEWIS VINCENT. Doors open 7.15; commence 7.30. Phone, 106 Hammersmith. Monday, Nov. 30, 1908, Harry Randall, Boyd and Gilfain, Rell and Butt, May Edgar and Co., F. Feeley, Peggy Pryde, Freda Sharlotte in "Is Life Worth Living?" Carlotta Levey, Sergeant Munford, Edisonograph, Daisy Jerome, Cruikshank, Edward E. Ford, Fred Eustace in "The Family Name." The management beg to announce that on and after Dec. 10 there will be a matinée every Thursday at 2.30. Reduced Prices.

COLONIAL THEATRES.

AUSTRALIA.
MELBOURNE, SYDNEY, BRISBANE, WELLINGTON, N.Z.
Mr. J. C. WILLIAMSON,
Manager of the Leading Australasian Theatres.
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, MELBOURNE;
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, SYDNEY;
THEATRE ROYAL, SYDNEY;
HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE, BRISBANE.
London Representative.
J. A. E. MALONE, Daly's Theatre.

AUSTRALIA.
MR. HARRY RICKARDS,
Sole Proprietor and Manager,
GRAND OPERA HOUSE, MELBOURNE.
PRINCE OF WALES' HOTEL, MELBOURNE,
TIVOLI THEATRE, SYDNEY,
TIVOLI HOTEL, SYDNEY,
TIVOLI THEATRE, ADELAIDE,
PALACE THEATRE AND GARDENS, PERTH.
Address all communications, Head Office, Tivoli Theatre, Sydney. Cable Address, "Tivolian, Sydney. General-Manager, JOHN C. LEETE.

AUSTRALIA.
THE HERBERT FLEMMING COMEDY CO.
Under the Sole Direction of
Miss BEATRICE DAY.
All arrangements complete for 1908.
Australian address,
c/o Blake and Riggall, 120 William-st., Melbourne.
London Representative
R. GOLDING BRIGHT, 20, Green-st., Leicester-sq.

NEW ZEALAND.
FULLER'S THEATRICAL CIRCUIT.
Props. JOHN FULLER AND SONS.
AUCKLAND OPERA HOUSE, capacity 1,400.
WELLINGTON THEATRE R., capacity 1,200.
CHRISTCHURCH OPERA H., capacity 1,500.
DUNEDIN, HIS MAJESTY'S, capacity 1,600.
Open treat, Share or Certainty, any Attractions. Season, all the year round. Average pop. 60,000. Tastes, Cosmopolitan.
Australian Tours also arranged.
Head Office Wellington.

COLONIAL THEATRES.

THE ABERDEEN DIRECT LINE
offers Special Low Rates
to Theatrical or Concert Companies going on Tour in
SOUTH AFRICA.
Full information can be obtained from
JOHN T. RENNIE, SON, AND CO.,
4, East India-avenue, E.C.

INDIA AND THE FAR EAST.
BANDMANN'S EASTERN CIRCUIT.
Maurice E. Bandmann
Controls the only Circuit of Theatres in the East.
Proprietor and Joint-Proprietor of the Albany Hotel, Calcutta,
Empire Theatre,
Empire Rink and Hippodrome,
Calcutta.
Empire Buildings, Calcutta,
Theatre Royal, Calcutta,
Bandmann's Theatre, Bombay,
Empire Theatre, Malta.
Maurice E. Bandmann
Holds for the West Indies, Mediterranean, India, and the Far East
the Sole and Exclusive Rights of all
Mr. George Edwardes's
and the Gaiety Theatre Company's Plays,
the Gilbert and Sullivan Operas,
and all other Leading London Productions.
Companies Touring,
The Bandmann Opera Co.,
The Bandmann Comedy Co.,
Mrs. Bandmann Palmer and Shakespearean Co.,
The Ellis Opera Co.,
The London Frivolity Co.,
Alfred West's "Our Navy,"
The London Bioscope Co.,
The Marvellous Grossi.
Required, Companies, Artists, Novelties, and
Attractions of all Descriptions.
Rent, Share, or Certainty.
Manager in London:
JAS. BURY.
Coms., "Sherbourne," Wendover-road, Bromley, Kent. Tele. address, "Rameses, London."

INDIA, CALCUTTA.
EMPIRE THEATRE.
Sole Proprietors,
Maurice E. Bandmann and A. Stephen.
Will open in November; the premier theatre of the East, a perfectly and most elegantly equipped four-tier house, built on the cantilever principle; absolutely up to date. Stage capable of any production. Holding capacity at ordinary prices more than any other theatre in India or the Far East.
A Few Advantages of this Theatre:
No columns to obscure the view; not situated in a side lane; not a corrugated iron roof, but an up-to-date patent concrete roof, 12in. thick; not lit by gas, but modern installation of electricity throughout. Line of sight and acoustics perfect. Audience not cramped up but a 2ft. space allowed to each seat.
THEATRE ROYAL, CALCUTTA
Sole Proprietors,
Maurice E. Bandmann and A. Stephen.
Holds at ordinary prices £250.
The largest stage in the East.
At both theatres resident scenic artist, full band, and permanent staff.
Required, attractions; rent, share, or certainty.
Address, THEATRE ROYAL, CALCUTTA.
Cables, "Svengali, Calcutta."

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

ALDERSHOT.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Only Vacant Dramatic Dates, Dec. 7 and Jan. 18. The third Grand Variety Season will commence Feb. 1, 1909.
Add., CLARENCE SOUNES, Woodlawn, Blackheath, S.E.

BARROW.—ROYALTY THEATRE and OPERA HOUSE; JARROW, THEATRE ROYAL; CONSETT, NEW THEATRE; SPENNYMOOR, CAMBRIDGE THEATRE. Lessee and Manager, Mr. HUGH ROBERTSON. Vacant Dates:—Jarrow, Dec. 14 and 28; Barrow, Dec. 7, Feb. 8, on, with exceptions; Consett, Dec. 7, and on, with exceptions; Spennymoor, Jan. 18, March 15, 22. Apply, re dates, HUGH ROBERTSON, T. R., JARROW

BLACKPOOL.
HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE,
WINTER GARDENS,
The PRINCIPAL THEATRE.
Holds MORE MONEY at ORDINARY PRICES, and has better average business throughout the Year than any Theatre in the Town.
The Most Comfortable, Elegant, and Best-Equipped Theatre. Large and Well Electric Lighted Stage and First-class Orchestra.
All visitors to the Theatre have Free Admission to the Winter Gardens, Floral Hall, Empress Ballroom, and Pavilion Entertainments; thus Companies visiting Her Majesty's Opera House have this additional attraction, which no other Theatre can offer. Only best No. 1 Companies Booked.
For Dates, address, JNO. R. HUDDLESTONE, Manager, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

BOLTON. — THEATRE ROYAL.
Will be closed June and July, 1909, for extensive alterations and enlargement. Architect, Frank Matcham and company. Rapidly filling for Autumn Season with the best companies the kingdom produces.
All communications, J. F. ELLISTON.

BLYTH-BY-SEA.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Lessee, A. C. MOODY.
Monday, Nov. 30, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Mackey "Rollicking Rory."
Professional Houses of Call.
Adelphi Hotel, opposite Stage Door, Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Waterloo Hotel, facing Tyne Theatre, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
Proprietors, Messrs. Evans, Beadling, and Moody.
Special intimation.—Mr. Moody will be in attendance at the Adelphi Hotel every Sunday Evening after 6 o'clock, where he will be pleased to meet his patrons and friends.

CAMBRIDGE.—NEW THEATRE (Ltd.).
Man.-Director, Mr. W. B. REDFERN, J.P., D.L.
A theatre among the most beautiful in England.—Sunday Times.
All Autumn Dates Filled.
Now Booking Spring, 1909, and onwards.
Silence a polite negative.

CORK. — OPERA HOUSE.
Vacant dates,
Jan. 4,
March 1, 8,
and onwards,
with various exceptions.
Applications to R. J. BELL, Manager.

DOUGLAS. — GRAND THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre in the Isle of Man.
A few Dates Open for the Season of 1909.
First-class Attractions only.
Add., JAS. BUCK, Sec., 30, Brown-st., Manchester.

EPSOM PUBLIC HALL.—To Let for Theatrical Touring Companies, Variety Entertainments, and Concerts; recently re-decorated; Proscenium and Drop; Dressing Rooms; Electric Light; Tariff on application. LEMMON.

GLASGOW CORPORATION HALLS.
(located in ten different parts of the City).
Available for Dramatic and Concert Purposes.
Apply, WALTER FREER, Responsible Manager, City Hall, Glasgow.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE, LTD.
Established 1884.
Managing-Director, JOSEPH H. CURRY.
Open all the Year Round.
Telegraphic add., "Curry, Grimsby." Tel. No. 240.

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

HANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.
The Staffordshire Potteries
for all
Dramatic Purposes
must be considered as one large town.
Accommodation for 3,700 People.
Electric Trams and Trains after Performance to all ends of the District.
Vacant Dates,
Feb. 15,
March 15, 29,
April 5,
and onwards with exceptions,
For First-class Companies only.
CHAS. E. ELPHINSTONE, Managing-Director.

HASLINGDEN PUBLIC HALL.
Newly Redecorated, Open for Daily and Weekly Lettings. Seating for 1,200, 16 miles from Manchester. Population 19,000. Size of Platform 50ft. by 12ft, Extended Platform 44ft. by 8ft. For Terms, &c., apply to Town Clerk, Haslingden.

LEYLAND PUBLIC HALL,
LANCASHIRE. Stage, 30ft. by 20ft. Proscenium. Seats 800. Balcony. District population, 8,000. Small stock scenery. No sharing.
Vacant Dates for Companies or Entertainers.
Apply, Managing-Director, Park House, Leyland.

NOTTINGHAM.—GRAND THEATRE.
For Vacant Dates,
Address,
Cranbourn-mansions,
Cranbourn-street, London.

OLDHAM.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
Will be Opened next Xmas.
Vacant March 22, April 5, 12, 19.
No. 1 Companies only entertained.
A Stage that will be capable of producing the biggest Attractions Touring.
One of the finest Theatres in the Provinces.
Address, E. DOTTRIDGE, EMPIRE THEATRE.

OLDHAM. — ROYAL THEATRE.
Twice Nightly.
Matinée every Tuesday.
HIPPODROME, Twice Nightly,
Matinée every Monday.
EMPIRE, from Xmas will be run
Twice Nightly.
All communications to ERNEST DOTTRIDGE, EMPIRE.

OXFORD. — NEW THEATRE.
Managers of First-class Companies are invited to apply for Dates to
Mr. C. C. DORRILL,
Managing-Director,
Silence a polite negative.

PORTSMOUTH. — NEW THEATRE ROYAL.
Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. BOUGHTON.
Open throughout the year.
First-class Companies.
Weekly Matinées.

SHEERNESS. — Correspondent Required, to Supply Theatre and Music Hall Reports weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, c/o "The Era," 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

SOUTH SHIELDS. — THEATRE ROYAL.
Lessees and Managers, J. and F. COULSON.
Now Booking Autumn, 1909.
All communications as above.

SUDBURY. — Correspondent Required to supply Theatrical Reports Weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, c/o "The Era," 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WEYMOUTH. — ROYAL VICTORIA JUBILEE HALL (Central position). Large Stage, fitted complete (take 18ft. Scenery). Stock Scenery, good Dressing-rooms, seat up to 1,100 (can be curtained off to seat less). Theatricals, Concerts, Exhibitions, Circuses, &c.; population 23,000; rental only. Apply, J. J. ROBERTS, Managing Secretary.

SCALE OF CHARGES FOR PROVINCIAL THEATRES
AND
PROVINCIAL MUSIC HALLS.
Five Lines, TWO and SIXPENCE.
Thirteen Insertions (Including a Copy of "The Era" Weekly), THIRTY SHILLINGS.
For Each Additional Line, Sixpence.
Address, the PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4747, Central.

FUNDS, &c.

ROYAL GENERAL THEATRICAL FUND.
FOR MEMBERS BECOMING INCAPACITATED EITHER BY OLD AGE OR INFIRMITY.
Hon. Treasurer, EDWARD TERRY, Esq., J.P.,
CHARLES J. DAVIES, Secretary, Savoy House, Strand.

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND.
8, ADAM-STREET, STRAND.
C. I. COLTSON, Secretary.

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND.
The ANNUAL DINNER of the Actors' Benevolent Fund will be held at the HOTEL METROPOLE on SUNDAY, Dec. 13.
CYRIL MAUDE, Esq., in the Chair.
Donations will be most gratefully received by Cyril Maude, Esq., The Playhouse, W.C., and Mr. C. I. Coltson, the Secretary of the Fund, from whom Dinner Tickets (One Guinea) may be obtained.
A selection of music under the direction of Mr. J. H. Maunder will be given.
Offices: 8, Adam-street, Strand, W.C.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION.
Telegrams, "Actoris, London."
Telephone, 1753 Gerrard.
353, STRAND, W.C.
Subscriptions, 4s. 6d. Quarterly, or 15s. Annually.
Entrance Fee, 5s.

MUSIC HALL SICK FUND.
Founded in 1867.
Committee Meetings second Wednesday in the month at 2 p.m.
Sick Payments—£1 for 6d. per week, £1 10s. for 9d. per week. £10 paid to nearest relative on death of member. President, Mr. FRED KARNO. Hon. Auditors, Messrs. H. E. HIGH and W. BRISCO; Trustees, Messrs. H. JENNINGS, JESSE SPARROW, and DOUGLAS WHITE; Vice-President, Mr. W. J. WAINRATTA; Treasurer, Mr. FRANK HEATH; Secretary, Mr. R. T. BAINES. Address all communications, the Crown Hotel, Charing Cross-road, W.C.

TOURING MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION LTD.,
AND THE MANAGERS' CLUB,
SAVOY-MANSIONS, STRAND, W.C.
For particulars of Membership, apply to THE SECRETARY. Telegraphic address, "Playwright, London." Telephone, 8458 Gerrard.

NOW IN PREPARATION.
FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
A World-wide Circulation, therefore an Excellent Medium for Advertisers.
1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
Advertisements
should be Forwarded at once to the Office,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For Scale of Charges see Leader Page.

ACADEMIES AND SCHOOLS.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF MUSIC,
TENTERDEN-STREET, W.
Instituted 1822 Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1830.
The Academy offers to Pupils of both sexes an opportunity of receiving a thorough education in Music in all its branches, the Drama, and Dramatic Elocution under the most eminent Professors.
For terms and all other information, apply to
F. W. RENAUT, Secretary.

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC
(Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1883).
PRINCE CONSORT-ROAD, SOUTH KENSINGTON, S.W.
Patron: HIS MAJESTY THE KING.
President, H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G.
Director, Sir C. HUBERT H. PARRY, Bart., C.V.O., D.C.L., M.A., Mus. Doc.
Hon. Sec., CHARLES MORLEY, Esq.
Syllabus and Official Entry Forms may be obtained from FRANK POWNALL, Registrar.

THE GUILDHALL SCHOOL OF MUSIC,
VICTORIA EMBANKMENT, LONDON, E.C.
VIOLONCELLO SCHOLARSHIP.
Tuition and Maintenance, £75 per annum. Open to all British-born subjects under 21 years of age. Entries close Dec. 19.
Form of Application, apply to
H. SAXE WYNDHAM.
Secretary.

TRINITY COLLEGE OF MUSIC
(Inst. 1872).
Chairman of Board:—
SIR FREDERICK BRIDGE, M.V.O.
Director of Studies:—
G. E. BAMBRIDGE, F.T.C.L.
Director of Examinations, C. W. PEARCE, Mus.D.
Students are received at any time. Day and evening tuition. Also by correspondence.
Prospectus of the Teaching Department and Examination Syllabuses post free on application.
By order, SHELLEY FISHER, Secretary.
Mandeville Place, London, W.

TILLER SCHOOLS OF DANCING,
143, CHARING CROSS-RD., LONDON, W.C.
Autumn Term.
Every kind of Dancing Taught.
French and Italian, Orthodox Ballet, Graceful Dances, and Deportment, by Mme. Sismondi.
Special Solo Lessons by Mme. Stichel by arrangement (Maitress de Ballet of the Opera and Chatelet Theatre, Paris).
English, American, Fancy and Special Dances taught and arranged by competent teachers.
Classes for Beginners:—
Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, 11 to 2.
Special Department for the Production, Teaching, and Rehearsing of Acts, Sketches, or Scenas, for Amateurs and Professionals, under the direction of Billy McClain.
Terms and Particulars on Application.
All lessons (private or otherwise) under the personal supervision of JOHN TILLER.

STEDMAN'S SCHOOLS OF SINGING,
VOICE PRODUCTION and STAGE DANCING.
Famous for thirty-one years for successful high-class Tuition, known all over the world. Three months' day or evening tuition, 1 guinea. Entire satisfaction guaranteed to each pupil. Head Offices, 58, BERNERS-STREET, OXFORD-STREET, W. School of Dancing, 9, ARGYLL-PLACE, W. (quite close to Oxford-circus Tubes). 'Phone, 8194 Central, 6655 Gerrard.

ALPHABETICAL LIST OF ILLUSTRATED BIOGRAPHIES.

Adeson, Mr. Charles	April 25, 1908
Allen, Mr. Frank	Feb. 22, 1908
Ames, Miss Emmie	Jan. 4, 1908
Anson, Miss Carlotta	June 13, 1908
Atwill, Mr. Lionel	June 27, 1908
Bailey, Mr. Gordon	May 30, 1908
Bandurria, Late Mr. George	Dec 14, 1907
Barber, Mr. Alfred S.	Nov. 21, 1908
Barrasford, Mr. Thomas	Feb. 29, 1908
Barwell, Miss Edith	April 11, 1908
Bateman, Miss	March 14, 1908
Beck, Mr. Fred	April 4, 1908
Beckwith, Late Mr. J. W.	Nov. 21, 1908
Beresford, Mr. Frank	July 18, 1908
Berte, Late Mr. Charles	May 30, 1908
Booker, Late Mr. George A.	April 4, 1908
Boulton, Mr. Matthew	April 4, 1908
Brett, Mr. Edwin	Feb. 22, 1908
Brickwell, Miss Maimie	Nov. 21, 1908
Brodie, late Mr. Mattnew	Jan. 11, 1908
Brydon-Phillips, Mr. G.	Jan. 4, 1908
Buxton, Mr. Fred	June 27, 1908
Carnegy, Miss Mary	March 7, 1908
Carpenter, Mr. Ernest	Feb. 22, 1908
Chambers, Miss Lizzie	June 6, 1908
Clinton, Late Mr. Dudley	Oct. 10, 1908
Cole, Mr. E. W. Maule	Feb. 1, 1908
Collins, Mr. George	March 21, 1908
Cookson, Mr. S. A.	April 11, 1908
Corlass, Miss Georgie	Sept. 5, 1908
Cory-Thomas, Late Mr. L.	Nov. 21, 1908
Corri, Mr. William	July 25, 1908
Craven, Late Mrs. H. T	March 28, 1908
Crewe, Mr. Bertie	March 28, 1908
Croke, Mr. Wentworth	Sept. 5, 1908
Cromwell, Mr. William	Jan. 25, 1908
Crouch, Mr. Herbert	Oct. 31, 1908
Davis, Miss Lallah	March 7, 1908
Dean, Mr. Walter	May 16, 1908
De Banzie, Mr. E. T.	Oct. 3, 1908
Denton, Mr. C. St. John	Jan. 4, 1908
Derry, Miss Joan	Feb. 8, 1908
Dexter, Miss Elizabeth	Feb. 15, 1908
Dickeson, Mr. Herbert	June 13, 1908
Donegan, Mr. James E.	July 11, 1908
Dorgere, Mlle. Arlette	May 30, 1908
Doyle, Mr. C. Milley	Nov. 7, 1908
Draycott, Mr. Charles	June 13, 1908
Drewry, Miss Maude Stewart	April 4, 1908
Dunville, Mr. T. E.	April 11, 1908
Dyas, Late Miss Ada	March 21, 1908
Edgar, Mr. Marriott	Oct. 10, 1908
Edis, Miss Anita	May 9, 1908
Edmonds, Mr. E. Vivian	June 27, 1908
Edouin, Late Mr. Willie	April 18, 1908
Edwards, Late Mr. G. H.	April 11, 1908
Empress, Miss Marie	Feb. 8, 1908
Feldman, Mr. Bert	Dec. 14, 1907
Fenton, Mr. Frank	June 6, 1908
Firmin, Miss Dorothy	Sept. 12, 1908
Fisher, Mr. Charles	Sept. 12, 1908
Fitzgibbon, Mr. H. B.	July 25, 1908
Forde, Miss Florrie	March 21, 1908
Francis, Late Mr. William	Jan. 25, 1908
Francks, Mr. Hawley	Nov. 7, 1908
Frank, Miss Ada	July 25, 1908
Gay, Mr. Walter	July 11, 1908
Gibbons, Mr. Arthur	July 4, 1908
Gilbart, Miss Eleanor	Nov. 21, 1908
Gilmore, Mr. Paul	July 18, 1908
Godfrey, Mr. Dan	Aug. 29, 1908
Goldston, Mr. Will	Feb. 22, 1908
Goodall, Miss Edyth	June 13, 1908
Grant, Mr. Christie	Feb. 29, 1908
Gregory, Late Mr. John	Dec. 28, 1907
Gribben, Mr. Harry A.	March 7, 1908
Grimes, Mr. W. J.	May 23, 1908
Hamilton, Miss Rose	April 18, 1908
Hanbury, Late Miss Lily	March 7, 1908
Hansard, Late Mr. J. B.	Feb. 8, 1908
Hardacre, Miss Ethel	July 4, 1908
Harding, Mr. Alfred	May 2, 1908
Harker, Mr. Frederick	Oct. 3, 1908
Harmer, Miss Dolly	Nov. 7, 1908
Harvey, Miss Rose	July 25, 1908
Haviland, Mr. William	Nov. 14, 1908
Hawthorne, Miss Lil	Feb. 15, 1908
Holding, Mr. Thomas	Jan. 18, 1908
Holland, Mr. Arthur E.	May 16, 1908
Holmes-Dallimore, Mr. A.	Sept. 12, 1908
Homewood, Mr. A. S.	Nov. 21, 1908

Copies of the above can be obtained, price 6d. each for any issue 1908; other dates double price.
Address, THE PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

THEATRICAL SHOE AND HOSIERY MANUFACTURERS.
MAKERS TO THE PRINCIPAL LONDON THEATRES.

Louis Heel Dancing Shoes a Speciality.
Sixty Art Shades of Linen Back Satin, Specially Woven for the Manufacture of Dancing Shoes, kept in Stock.
This Satin has a Fine Lustre, and is almost as Strong as Leather.

Large Stock of Pure and Spun Silk Tights, Worsted and Cotton Tights, Opera Hose, Stockings, &c.
A Special Study made of Symmetrical Paddings.
The most Up-to-Date Stock of Stage Requisites and Sundries.
Everything of the Best and at Store Prices.

H. and M. RAYNE,
115, 117, and 119, WATERLOO-ROAD, LONDON, S.E.
(Opposite Electric Tram Terminus).
Tel., 7,978 Central.
And at 49, Charing Cross-rd., W.C., nr. Hippodrome.

1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
EARLY APPLICATION
should be made for space in the 1909 issue of "THE ERA" ANNUAL, which is now in active preparation.
A world-wide circulation, therefore THE BEST MEDIUM for Advertisements of every description.

FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
Circulates in every town in the world where there is a place of amusement. It is therefore the best medium for those who require world-wide publicity.

Scale of Charges
For Professional Advertisements.

FULL PAGE	£4 4 0
HALF PAGE	2 2 0
QUARTER PAGE	1 1 0

A few Special Positions at present vacant.
Blocks supplied if required.

Address the Publisher,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK ST., COVENT GARDEN, W.C.

'Phones 4747 and 1433 Central.

TO OUR READERS.
A SINGLE COPY OF "THE ERA."
Post-free to any Address in the United Kingdom for SIX STAMPS.
Telegraphic Address, "The Era," London.
Address, THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W C

THE ERA

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1908.

THE AFTERNOON THEATRE.

On December 8 an admirable experiment in dramatic art will be tried by Mr. BEERBOHM TREE at His Majesty's Theatre, when the initial production of the Afternoon Theatre will take place. The problem of how to please themselves and please the public at the same time has vexed artist-souls from time immemorial. Most of them have concluded with a compromise. Even the grandiose and combative HAYDON painted portraits to make the pot boil, though he consoled himself with the reflection that he painted them very badly. It is the same, to a greater or a less extent, with dramatists. After experimenting with their highest, and finding that it does not pay, they often give us not of their worst, but of their best second best. Upon dramatists, however, there is always a check in the critical opinion of the manager. But the manager is free as air. He is responsible only to himself for his choice of attractions, and if they fail to attract he is the chief, if not the only, sufferer. And consequently, for the sake of his very existence as a manager, he has to exercise a certain amount of caution.

Our leading actor-managers are essentially artists; and the artistic temperament in them must often be at war with the business instinct without which they would not exist as solvent speculators. The artist is always an experimentalist, a dreamer of dreams, a seer, and an innovator. He has visions of beauties too ethereal for the popular taste, of poetry which is over the heads of the masses, and of new lights exchangeable for old. But the unanswerable argument of the box-office is continually leaving him without a reply. The manager who tries IBSEN at a matinée may have no reason to repent his enterprise; it is only when he transfers the play to the evening bill that he realises how far we are from the time when the commercial success of the "Master's" works shall be a fait accompli. Mr. TREE is one of the most irrepressible of experimentalists. There is an attractive wilfulness about his career which fascinates. He has put his very best work into a couple of financial failures, Business is Business and An Enemy of the People. Only those who saw his marvellous impersonation of the brutal, terribly vital financier in the first play, or his extraordinarily exuberant embodiment of Dr. Stockmann in the second, can have any idea of how great an artist Mr. TREE is when supplied with scope. But things are at such a pass in the England of the present day that none but a millionaire can afford to be purely artistic. Ways and means have to be considered, and the best we can attain to is a representation of minorities.

This is what Mr. TREE is going to aim at in his Afternoon Theatre. The idea is, as COBBETT said of the pig, an entirely good thing. The only way in which we can achieve first-rate representations of high-class or exotic plays is by the assistance of first-rate artists. One of the weak points of the ecletic societies is that, for many reasons, they can only command second-class talent, and can only afford third-rate accessories. It is all very well to sneer at "mere mounting," but a great composer like WAGNER did not despise it at Bayreuth, and its influence on the best literary work is considerable.

In Hannele, the piece which Mr. TREE has selected for performance at His Majesty's on the 8th prox., there are certain unobtrusive but important "effects" which absolutely demand adequate machinery and equipment. Nor would it have been wise to attempt a revival of this beautiful and intensely imaginative play without an artist of Miss MARIE LÖHR'S charm and capacity to fill the part of the poor little maiden whose sad story is so poignantly and pathetically told.

In all probability, however, the production of Hannele will not involve any great monetary risk; and there is every likelihood that Mr. TREE will, at any rate, "get his money back." The real expenditure will be in trouble, work, and worry; but we believe that, apart from the reward which, to a man of Mr. TREE'S active temperament, these supply, there will be other advantageous returns. A tolerable standard of excellence in mediocre work can only be attained by practice in the higher grades of the art. The distinctness and correct inflexion of the delivery of the artists of the old school were due to the fact that the stock actor of the last generation, and of the generation before it, was "trained" on SHAKESPEARE. And in these days of long runs there are faculties in the individual artist that are apt to be atrophied if never exercised. The labours of the members of Mr. TREE'S company at these Afternoon Theatre matinées will have a very beneficial effect on their ordinary work; and we wish him every success in his bold, courageous, and characteristic experiment. We expect to see very important and agreeable results from it. There are no limits which can be placed to the effect of a "theatre" having all the advantages of an established playhouse, and practically freed from the yoke of mercenary considerations. Many a fine idea for a drama has been rejected by the dramatist as being too poetical, or too ethereal, or too eccentric to be suited to the "practical politics" of ordinary management. Here we shall have the management freeing itself from commercial considerations, and offering an "open door" to all kinds of imaginative work, provided only it be good of its kind. The performances by the Stage Society and the other associations of the same sort have been more or less of the "hole-and-corner" class. Their promoters have been handicapped in many ways, and have laboured under disabilities from which a leading London manager of Mr. TREE'S calibre is almost entirely exempt.

A Theatrical Barber.

MANY of the older actors must retain a lively recollection of the late Mr. Alexander Steel, one of the oldest and best-known citizens of South Shields, who died a few days ago in his seventy-ninth year. As a youth he was apprenticed to a flourishing Newcastle hairdresser, and it was at this establishment that he was brought into frequent contact with famous actors of the forties and fifties. Macready, the great tragedian, became interested in the barber's youthful assistant, and a companionship sprang up between actor and valet—for such young Steel became—which lasted many years.

ALTHOUGH he never trod the boards as an actor himself, the stage always possessed a great fascination for Alexander Steel, and he was a devoted admirer of all the famous dramatic stars of his day, with many of whom he was on the most intimate terms of friendship. The late Sims Reeves numbered him amongst his personal friends. They were companions in youth, and it was always with pardonable pride that in later years, when the great tenor had reached the pinnacle of his fame, Mr. Steel recalled the many occasions when they sang duets in public. He also enjoyed a close friendship with the late Osmond Tearle. His mind, in fact, was a veritable storehouse of stage lore and personal reminiscences of fabous actors, Sam Beverley, Charles Dillon, Barry Sullivan, J. L. Toole, and Sir Henry Irving among them. He supplied for years some of these stage notabilities with wigs, but his association with them was not merely a professional one. He is survived by a widow and three daughters.

Lord and Lady Roberts.

"OUR company was specially engaged for the Theatre Royal, Dublin," writes Mr. Butler Stanhope, "to celebrate the second anniversary week of the opening of the theatre. It was a most memorable occasion, for the week was set apart for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the Irish soldiers killed in the Boer War. The patronage was very liberal, as all the nobility of Ireland worked hard for the cause, and secured a good result. Their Excellencies the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland and Countess Cadogan, Field-Marshal Lord Roberts and Lady Roberts, the Duchess of St. Albans, the Duchess of Abercorn, the Earl and Countess of Meath, the Earl and Countess of Fingall, the Earl and Countess of Drogheda, the Earl and Countess of Mayo, the Countess of Wicklow, Lord and Lady Powerscourt, Lord and Lady Bellew, and Lord and Lady Iveagh attended nightly, accompanied by a party of friends. There was a change of performance each evening, and Saturday, our last night, was under the special patronage of Lord and Lady Roberts. The Colleen Bawn being 'commanded' to be played, with Mr. E. C. Matthews as Myles Na Coppaleen and Miss Lalla Stanhope as Eily O'Connor (the Colleen Bawn), supported by a talented company. During the day (Saturday) sad news arrived from the seat of war, and Lord Roberts was summoned to London to depart at once for Africa. Lady Roberts accompanied her husband to the boat at Kingstown, saw him off, and then, surrounded by a most distinguished party, came to the theatre and witnessed The Colleen Bawn."

BOURCHIER ON SHAKESPEARE.

On Tuesday evening, at the Birmingham University, Mr. Arthur Bourchier delivered a lecture to the members of the Birmingham Branch of the British Empire Shakespeare Society and of the University Library and Dramatic Society on "Shakespeare: Maker of Men." He said he came to talk of Shakespeare as a preacher and as a teacher. The actor saw him as the greatest dramatist; the author as the greatest poet. But others who could neither act nor write acknowledged him as a great moral force, able to help and to guide us. Upon the moral aspect of Shakespeare's teaching, Mr. Bourchier—with the help of familiar passages declaimed in a stimulating manner—proceeded to elaborate several points of view. He described Macbeth as depicting, with a livid power which no one else had ever approached, the supreme tragedy of ambition. Shakespeare taught us plainly not to seek power, and to be tolerant of those whose doubtful fortune it is to have it. Seeing that he lived so soon after the Reformation, his tolerance was remarkable. It would probably never be known whether he was Protestant or Catholic, so little had he to say on either side. He was courteous to foreigners, but never courteous to the point of weakness. "It is always a puzzle to me," added Mr. Bourchier, "why the man who praises foreign people and foreign things should think that he must at the same time belittle English people and English things. Shakespeare, although he could admire other countries, never for a moment supposes or suggests that England is not the best country of all. He teaches us that a man can be courteous to and friendly with foreigners without being disloyal to his own King. Like all true poets, Shakespeare loved his native land, and never was he more happily inspired than when he proclaimed her beauty or implored these in authority to keep her inviolate." The dramatist's hatred of tyranny was illustrated by Mr. Bourchier with a recital of Shylock's impassioned speech for his race. Here again there were many lessons for the present age. The individual tyrant might be dead, but much social tyranny still existed. "We have nowadays," said the speaker, "a craze for systems, which come very near to being bullies. Not a single one of us is so mild and harmless in this time of enlightenment that there is not a system specially organised to watch what he is doing, and to tell him that he musn't." Panic legislation was piling up to prevent human nature manifesting itself. In another matter Shakespeare was not quite so bold. He could lecture women, but only on three occasions did he mention the critics, and even then he did not refer to the professional critics. Perhaps there were no theatrical critics in those days. Pursuing this thought, Mr. Bourchier advanced the idea that the modern critic ought to have a greater knowledge of stage technique—a greater desire to appreciate the difficulties of the actor's craft. "Very often," he continued, "an actor is lauded to the skies for his performance of a part which may be said to play itself; but the same man will get little praise for a performance of a less showy character which nevertheless has required more study, more care, more intelligence. For instance, the actor who plays Romeo is often unfavourably contrasted with him who plays the volatile, showy part of Mercutio; and the tremendous demands which Othello makes both upon the physical and intellectual powers of the player are too often forgotten in admiration of the brilliance and incisiveness of the soliloquies which Shakespeare has put into the mouth of Iago. Many a clever young actor or actress is ruined by indiscriminate praise at the outset or his or her career; many a one is disheartened by imperfect appreciation."

Sir Oliver Lodge, who was in the chair, added a few remarks after Mr. Bourchier had brought his lecture to a close with an impressive reading of a eulogy on Shakespeare delivered by the Bishop of Ripon. The Principal defined the science of good acting as the power of the actor to put himself in other people's places, to realise how exactly they would feel and speak. That faculty was, he thought, the crown of education. It was an extension of ordinary sympathy to be able to realise how certain things would be said under certain circumstances, and he fancied that people who did not realise this must lose a great deal of the interest in life. It was not a faculty that was sufficiently cultivated. It ought to be, and he hoped such a society as the University Literary and Dramatic Society would set itself energetically to the task. The stage was a great instrument of education. In conclusion, Sir Oliver touched upon Mr. Bourchier's reference to society's great machinery for dealing with the evil which men do. It had often struck him as a strange thing. We were more prone to look for and deal with the evil than to study and to reward the good. If we looked for the worst in men we should find it. If we looked for the best we should find that, too.

An enthusiastic vote of thanks was passed to the lecturer, on the motion of Professor Kirkaldy, seconded by Mr. Drinkwater. In his reply, Mr. Bourchier told the story of a waggish actor-manager, who described Shakespeare not as the "maker," but as the "breaker" of men. For his own part, he believed that Shakespeare properly presented never spelt financial failure.

"THE NEW GOVERNESS."

At the Malvern Assembly Rooms on Thursday, the 19th inst., took place the production of a farcical comedy entitled The New Governess, founded by Mr. Walter Frith upon a short story written by Mr. G. S. Layard. A youthful Peer impersonates the new governess expected by his cousin, with whom, of course, he falls in love, and when the several characters have been rescued from the complications which arise all ends happily. Mr. Leon M. Lion as Rupert, who dons female attire, excelled in a part which suited him admirably, and Miss Ina Pelly as cousin Dollie was delightfully natural and engaging. Mr. Clarence Derwent as Sir John Pomfret was responsible for a clever character-study; Mr. Rudge Harding as Horton Davenport acted consistently well; Miss Ethel St. Barbe was well suited as Miss Cavalier, the real governess; Mr. E. H. Kelly was inimitable as an exponent of a dude creation as Delapoer; Mr. Hubert Harben was successful as Dick Dodington, the detective; and Mr. A. Phillips as Pawley, landlord of the Red Lion, Miss Florence Harcourt, Miss Rosey Barton, Miss Phyllis Goddard, and Miss Vivienne Whitaker each contributed to the success of the production.

"THE MAN FROM MEXICO."

Farcical Comedy, in Three Acts, by H. A. Souchett, originally produced in America, first production in London at the Coronet Theatre on Monday, Nov. 23.

Benjamin Fitzhugh .....MR. STANLEY COOKE
Roderick Majors ....MR. GEORGE WILLOUGHBY
William Loveall .....MR. WALTER GAY
Von Bulow Bismark Schmidt ..MR. FRED LEWIS
Edward Farrar .....MR. HUGH ARDALE
Richard Dornton .....MR. RUPERT STUTFIELD
Timothy Cook .....MR. ERNEST A. DOUGLAS
O'Mullins .....MR. JAMES SCHNAPPER
Googan .....MR. ARTHUR CORNELL
Louis .....MR. WALTER CHAMPNEY
Clementine Fitzhugh .....MISS EMILY FITZROY
Sally Grace .....MISS FYFE ALEXANDER
Hettie Majors .....MISS AMY FRANCIS
Miranda .....MISS DORIS DIGBY

The Man from Mexico, which is billed as America's laughing limit, having been played over 2,000 times throughout that country and Australia, completely fulfilled its mission at the Coronet on Monday, when a large audience gave itself up to hearty laughter, which was excited by a series of wildly farcical incidents. But the plot and the incidents are by no means new to the London stage, for they resemble in every important particular those of the farce Fourteen Days, which was produced as far back as March 4, 1882, at the Criterion by Sir Charles (then Mr.) Wyndham, as an adaptation by Henry J. Byron of Un Voyage d'Agrément, by the favourite Parisian farce writers Gondinet and Bisson. Benjamin Fitzhugh, of New York, in The Man from Mexico, does very much the same thing as Peregrine Porter, of London, in Fourteen Days. He gets into questionable company at a shady restaurant—the Cleopatra, to wit—becomes intoxicated, and, a raid being made on the place, is arrested and taken before a magistrate, whom he insults. Though he gets away, he is shadowed by a detective, and there is no escape. He hopes to propitiate the district judge by favouring the suit of Edward Farrar, a young attorney, for the hand of his wife's sister, who has already accepted the attentions of Richard Dornton, an architect. Dornton is snubbed in his suit by Fitzhugh—who in the first act is only just recovering from his spree—because, forsooth, his professional work is mostly to do with the planning of hotels, an occupation that has far too many temptations. Notwithstanding his subterfuges, Fitzhugh cannot escape durance vile, and in the second act we find him at Blackwell Island Gaol, where he is no longer a man but a number, "97." To avoid giving any shock to his wife, Fitzhugh had announced his departure for Mexico, and the missus, anxious to get away with him, because of her presence at the Cleopatra on the night of the raid, had been somehow persuaded to let her "hubby" go alone. The chief warden of the gaol, Loveall, being susceptible to the tender passion, has fallen over head and ears in love with a lady whose identity he fails to discover until Roderick Majors, Fitzhugh's best friend, recognises her portrait as that of Mrs. Fitzhugh. That lady calls, with the other lady characters, as members of a society for brightening the lives of prisoners with bouquets, and Loveall makes violent love to her, No. 77—otherwise Fitzhugh—being a witness of his transports. Majors, whose "fixing-up" of things is always a dismal failure, dons prison clothes, and as there is a mutiny of the prisoners just at the moment he is ordered into a cell.

Loveall had been kind to Fitzhugh—who, by the way, is known to the prison authorities as John Martin—and had regaled him with cigars and soda and brandy, and in the last act we are not surprised to find him with the other characters at Fitzhugh's house awaiting the return of that adventurous hero. The walls are decorated with Mexican flags, and the ladies have donned the gayest of dresses. At last Fitzhugh arrives, resplendent in the dress of a Mexican grandee. He has to give explanations, and enlarges on the delights of travel in that country, but cannot quite clear up the mystery of a certain letter sent Mrs. Fitzhugh from the chief hotel of the town, forwarded to her through the agency of Loveall. Eventually the dénouement is reached by Fitzhugh owning up that he has done thirty days. Mrs. Fitzhugh also confesses, and the matrimonial difficulties of the young people of the piece being straightened out, the curtain falls on a merry conclusion.

Mr. Stanley Cooke, a comedian of infinite resource, plays Fitzhugh with all that appreciation of the humorous, all that power to "rattle" through ludicrous incidents that have won him fame in farce. Mr. Cooke grasps all the possibilities, not only of comic situations, but of comic dialogue, and he is a comedian who should never be absent from the London stage. The worry of Fitzhugh in the first act, and the nervous manner in which he reveals to Richard Dornton the news that his marriage must be broken off, are only less amusing than the arguments against the marriage. To the fun of the second act, again, is Mr. Cooke the principal contributor. He is well seconded by Mr. George Willoughby as Roderick Majors. Without exaggeration of any kind Mr. Willoughby contrives to be very whimsical. Mr. Walter Gay does exceedingly well as the dilettante prison warden in love, and Mr. Fred Lewis as the impossible German of farce evokes laughter in a character that is more familiar on the stage of New York than that of London. A great deal of the success of the piece is due to the acting of Miss Emily Fitzroy—who looked exceedingly smart in some pretty costumes—as Mrs. Fitzhugh. This is an impersonation of great refinement and charm, and Mrs. Fitzhugh's dry utterance of her dialogue does not fail to evoke laughter. Miss Fyfe Alexander makes a graceful and piquant Sally Grace; Miss Amy Francis gives a good notion of the forward American girl (of farce), who does not allow reticence to interfere with her chances of marriage to an eligible partner; Mr. Hugh Ardale and Mr. Rupert Stutfield adequately realise the necessities of good breeding and gentlemanly demeanour in the characters of Edward Farrar and Richard Dornton; Mr. Ernest A. Douglas's fierceness and seriousness as Detective Cook supplied a strong contrast to the more farcical characters; and small but important parts are well handled by Mr. James Schnapper as O'Mullins, of the New York Police, Mr. Arthur Cornell as Googan, a prison warder, and Mr. Walter Champney as Louis. The production is by Robert Arthur and George Willoughby's company, and the piece has been well produced by the last-named gentleman, who has as business representative in front Mr. Fred R. Yeulett.

The Man from Mexico is preceded by an original Dutch playlet, in one act, written by Stanley Cooke, music by Arthur Wood, entitled

"HIS LIVING IMAGE."

The Figure and Jan .....MR. LYTTON GREY
Jake .....MR. FRED LEWIS
Gretchen .....MISS AMY FRANCIS

Mr. Stanley Cooke has written one more play in which the plot revolves round a mechanical figure. Hilarius perfected a life-sized doll in La Poupée; Gretchen's father had modelled a lifelike figure, and when the curtain rises on a pretty Dutch interior we learn from her that the dummy to whom she talks, and whom she pretends to feed, has been left as a legacy to her by her father, who had adjured her to make it her husband. The mad-brained parent had modelled it as the living image of Jan, Gretchen's real lover, and the rest may be easily guessed. After smashing his "dummy" rival Jan takes its place, and enables Gretchen to give the life that love can only supply. It is pointed out to her that the figure is destroyed, but Gretchen, after a little outburst of grief, is quite content to become the vrouw of Jan, who has won the first prize in the national lottery. Miss Amy Francis is a fascinating Gretchen, singing both with archness and point. The success of the doll dance is shared by Mr. Lytton Grey, whose quaint movements and comicality of expression are of considerable value in the part of Jan. Mr. Fred Lewis is amusing in the part of Jake, a fisherman. Mr. H. M. Thorburn is the courteous acting-manager for the company, and Mr. Arthur Cornell is responsible for the stage-management.

"PETE'S" 100th NIGHT.

The scoring of centuries is a growing habit at the Lyceum, and most, if not all, of Messrs. Smith and Carpenter's productions there have attained that distinction. It was the turn of Pete on Wednesday, when a house packed in every part welcomed Hall Caine and Louis N. Parker's enthralling play for the hundredth time. The piece palpitates with human sentiment, and the audience is thrilled again and again with the effect of the powerful situations and dialogue. The members of the cast play their parts with the finish which comes of long practise in rôles suited to their personalities.

Mr. Matheson Lang's Pete is the dominant force, and he makes a picturesque figure of the noble-hearted Manxman, who in his nature so thoroughly combines the attributes of the lion and the lamb. With his rollicking gaiety of the earlier scenes he is the life of the piece, while in the latter his pathos is so effective as frequently to force the fitful tear. Pete's dictation of the letter to his wife is perhaps the most moving portion of the play, and when at its conclusion he breaks out into a succession of suppressed sobs it is safe to say he is joined in many parts of the house. Mr. Lang is taken to the hearts of all, and is not only recalled at the end of each act, but receives an encouraging cheer at every appearance.

Miss Hutin Britton passes through the complex phases of the part of Kate Cregeen with the ability of an accomplished actress. Her emotional gifts are fully tested in the part, which, however, necessitates a certain restraint which Miss Britton exercises artistically. Her appearance throughout excites sympathy, and with the sentiments of the rôle expressively enunciated by the actress the audience are in complete agreement.

Mr. Eric Mayne as Philip Christian has a part less sinister than those in which we are accustomed to see him, but he emphasises the craven attributes of Philip, and makes him sufficient of a villain to satisfy all requirements. The dignity of the Deemster is in acute contrast with his faltering at the call of duty, and throughout Mr. Mayne's various modulations of tone add appreciably to the effect of his rendition.

The Ross Christian of Mr. Wilfred E. Payne is a clever assumption marked by touches of comedy which are eagerly appreciated by the audience. Dramatic ability is, moreover, present in the performance, to which the highest praise is due.

Mr. Frederick Ross as Cæsar Cregeen submits a sterling rendering of a forbidding part. Cæsar's aggressive self-righteousness is pictured with artistic colouring, and his vindicative denunciation of his daughter is the climax of a painstaking performance which gathers in dramatic force throughout.

Mr. S. Major Jones, who again discharges the duties of stage-management, gives an effective rendering of the burly Black Tom, the rolling tones of his sonorous voice sounding with telling effect. The duties of policeman and postman in the Isle of Man are discharged by Mr. Joseph O'Brien and Mr. H. K. Ayliff. Mr. Sidney Vautier is the Doctor Mylechreest; Mr. Henry Brooks is an imposing Lieut.-Governor; and among the motley crowd who figure in Pete's cottage are Mr. Charles L. Ludlow as Jonaique Jelly, Mr. Ernest Cresfan as Adam Quirk, and Mr. Charles Terric as Johnny Dumbell. Mr. Sidney Young as William and Mr. Henry Armstrong as Clerk of the Court render excellent service.

Miss Rita Tomkins is a diverting Nancy, whose various moods she depicts with complete sense of humour and much droll byplay. Grannie is quaintly portrayed by Miss Blanche Stanley, who succeeds in arousing a roar of laughter whenever she opens her mouth. Miss Dora Clements as Meg, and Miss Lillian Tweed as Sarah are a couple of merry Manx maidens; and the Mary of Miss Lillian Digges is a quaint exposition of character.

Mr. Ernest Carpenter has put his best work into the production of Pete, and the result could not be more gratifying. The exigencies of pantomime make it imperative that the present career of the piece at the Lyceum shall be cut short at Christmas, but there can be no doubt that the play will continue its sway over audiences in many other parts of the kingdom.

Advice to Aspirants.

MISS LILY BRAYTON, in an article in Cassell's Saturday Journal on "The Girl Who Should Go on the Stage—and the Girl Who Shouldn't," writes:—"Without a natural taste for acting as the foundation, plenty of pluck, high ambition, great patience, and unending perseverance, you would make a very great mistake, my dear girls, in seeking your living behind the footlights. If you feel that you possess these, and if the fine clothes have ceased to occupy your mind, then, perhaps, you may be fitted for this profession. But even so, there is yet one more essential, which I had almost overlooked; I mean good health. The constant rehearsals, the travelling, and the late hours incident to a stage career demand a strong constitution; and unless you have that, you really should not think of the stage."

VARIETY GOSSIP.

MISS MARIE LLOYD has been unable to appear at the Empire, Liverpool, this week, She caught a severe cold the latter end of last week in Leicester, but left there on Sunday in order to fulfil her engagement, but unhappily she was unable to leave her bed on Monday. On Tuesday evening, against her doctor's orders, she appeared, and pluckily struggled through both houses, but collapsed when she returned to the hotel, and has had to rest for the remainder of the week. She hopes to resume her professional duties at the Hippodrome, Southampton, on Monday.

THE London County Council, sitting on Friday, as the licensing authority, in respect of music, music and dancing, and stage plays licenses, received and considered the report of the Theatres and Music Halls Committee, which recommended that a provisional license should be granted to the White City. The Council decided, "That a provisional license for music and dancing shall be granted to Mr. Imre Kiralfy for the Franco-British Exhibition, subject to an undertaking that no intoxicating liquor shall be sold or consumed in any building used as a music-hall or for variety performance; and that adequate free lavatory accommodation shall be provided to the satisfaction of the Council for the public and all persons employed at the Exhibition." In the matter of the London Hippodrome, the committee recommended that a music and dancing license should be granted to Sir Horace Edward Moss, subject to an undertaking that no intoxicating drinks should be sold or consumed in the auditorium, and the Council decided by fifty-eight votes to twenty-five that intoxicating drink should not be sold or consumed on the premises. A music and dancing license was granted the London Coliseum, subject to an undertaking that no intoxicants should be sold or consumed on the premises.

MISS JESSIE PRESTON left Southampton on Wednesday by the Kaiser Wilhelm II. en route for New York, where she will open on Dec. 7. at the Colonial, under Percy Williams's management. According to present arrangements, she will stay in the States for six weeks, but she has the option of extending her contract.

THE Water Rats' matinée, which generally takes place in November at the London Pavilion, is temporarily postponed this year in consequence of the Cinematinée performances which have become so popular at that house. It will be early in the new year that the fraternity and its host of friends will foregather in the cause of charity at the Piccadilly Circus establishment.

MR. GEORGE ROBEY, who finished his London season on Saturday, has commenced rehearsals of Cinderella, to be produced at the Theatre Royal, Glasgow, on Dec. 3. In that production he will feature a new number entitled "The village blacksmith," in which he has many opportunities for parody.

THOUGH Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Hicks have excellent playlets in which to exploit their talents in the lightest and most agreeable comedy, their début at the Palace Theatre on Monday, Dec. 14, is to be marked by a brand new musical sketch, which has been written and composed by Mr. Paul Rubens, who gave us Mr. Popple of Ippleton, and has had much to do with the continued popularity of musical comedy. The comedy will reach a higher "plane" than usual—in fact, it will be aeroplaned—the scene being like that of a famous French pantomime, "on the roofs."

A "FLIGHTY" inventor has entered a competition as an air navigator, and his machine, hovering over the housetops in the heart of London, is being watched by his sweetheart and friends from the roof of the house. Running short of petrol, he descends, and here we may leave the two to tell their own story, which we may be sure will be scored prettily, and have the daintiest setting from Mr. Alfred Butt.

MISS MARIE DRESSLER'S "great big girl like me" is not yet forgotten at the Palace Theatre, where the American comedienne's success was really great; and, now that she has taken the Aldwych Theatre, the mere Britisher will be able to appreciate at their full value her comedy powers in a production giving her the fullest opportunities for exploiting her gifts. Her opening piece has been tentatively named Little Minna. It is in two acts, and has been written by Mr. Edgar Smith, the music being by Mr. Maurice Levy.

MISS DRESSLER'S own character in the piece is that of the daughter of a German, played by a popular American comedian. The first engagement effected by her is that of a well-known French prima-donna, who for two years has sung in grand opera at Hemmerstein's, in New York. The company, consisting of some sixty artists, will be mostly English. Miss Dressler proposes to introduce parodies of popular attractions, and in this way will follow the example of Mr. Arthur Roberts. Miss Dressler will commence her management in February next.

BEAUTIES of all nations will compete on Dec. 9, 10, and 11 at the Rinkeries, Earl's Court, when Mr. Max Cowper, Mr. Seymour Hicks, Mr. Mostyn Piggott, Mr. John Hassall, Mr. Tom Browne, and Mr. Albert Toft will award money prizes varying from £50 to a five-pound note to the ladies who, by popular vote, are acclaimed the winners of the competition. Any young lady over sixteen may enter, and all names will be kept secret, competitors only being distinguished by a number.

MISS EVIE GREENE, who is singing "The Philippine Islands" from Florodora at the Coliseum, as all true playgoers know, has been under Mr. George Edwardes' management for nearly ten years. She made her début as a dancer at the Yarmouth Aquarium in Marjorie at the age of fourteen. A year later she was to be found on tour in musical comedy, and with such success, too, that at the early age of seventeen she was sustaining the title-rôles in The Gay Parisienne, The New Barmaid and Billy.

IN 1899 she made her first appearance in London, in L'Amour Mouillé, and later as Dolores in Florodora at the Lyric Theatre. Then followed a remarkable series of creations for so young an actress whilst under contract with Mr. George Edwardes, these being the title-part in Kitty Grey, Nan in The Country Girl, the leading rôle in The Duchess of Dantzic, and the principal part in Les Merveilleuses.

THE death is announced at the age of fifty-two of Miss Florence Hayes, who in the nineties was popular in songs of sentiment and patriotism. Her intense earnestness of style was employed in wholesome songs in praise of the domestic virtues, and she became a favourite at the smaller halls of the metropolis. Miss Hayes was born at Sheerness, and began her stage career at the age of fourteen, when she became a member of a travelling dramatic company. After a short experience on the legitimate boards she joined the ranks of music-hall artists, and soon became a favourite. At the age of eighteen she met Mr. A. P. Boswell, known as the "furniture shifter," whom she afterwards married. There was nothing namby-pamby about the deceased lady's methods, and her robust style and telling voice admirably answered the purpose of eliciting the enthusiasm of a popular crowd.

THE HIPPODROME, Spennymoor, will again open its doors in a few days under the management of a former lessee in the person of Mr. C. Algie.

THE tenth annual benefit of Mr. Arthur B. Wilkes, manager of the Manchester Tivoli, is announced for Dec. 2.

AT the half-yearly meeting on Monday the directors of the Newcastle Pavilion declared an interim dividend at the rate of five per cent. for the year.

MR. JAMES BAGGS, vice-chairman of the Portsmouth Empire Palace company, who was recently elected Mayor, had the honour to be presented to the King and Queen of Sweden, to whom he handed an address.

THE People's Palace at Bridlington has just been sold by the Official Liquidator. The purchaser is said to be a London gentleman, and the price paid for the Palace, grounds, and shops is stated to be £9,500.

MR. F. A. LUMLEY, one of the directors of the Pavilion Theatre, Glasgow, has secured a very prominent site in Leith for the purpose of erecting a variety theatre, which he hopes to have ready for opening in the autumn of next year.

THE population of Leith is close upon 100,000, and has the advantage of being attached to Edinburgh with a population of 400,000. The bookings will be made in conjunction with the Glasgow Pavilion, and there is every reason to believe the undertaking will be a big success.

WE regret to hear Mr. Fred Leighton has, owing to ill health, been compelled to relinquish his position of manager at the Palace of Varieties, Manchester. Mr. A. J. Carter, late assistant-manager, has succeeded him.

MISS CORA CASSELLI, the attractive comedienne and dancer, was suddenly taken ill at the Hastings Hippodrome on Saturday evening, and could not appear. Mr. Walter Norman, the assistant-manager, stepped into the breach, and sang three songs to the delight of a crowded house.

IT has been decided to give only one performance nightly at the New Hippodrome at Scarborough during the winter months. Mr. John Tully, brother-in-law of Mr. Peacock, of York, who is well known in the Ridings, has been appointed resident-manager.

MR. S. MCINTOSH, the popular manager of the Palace Theatre, Dundee, was on Saturday night last the recipient of a silver-mounted umbrella from the artists performing there. Miss Rose Elliott, in a neat speech, made the presentation, to which Mr. McIntosh suitably replied.

SOUTHEND-ON-SEA is to have its Hippodrome, and a well-known syndicate has secured a site in the South Church-road, one of the main thoroughfares, close to the tramway and railway termini. Extensive premises and two large houses will have to be razed to make way for a sumptuous palace of pleasure.

MISS ELSIE FORSTER, the bonny North Country lass, at half an hour's notice deputised most successfully for the Clarkes at the Empire, South Shields, last week. This enterprising young artist is engaged for pantomime as Boy Babe at the King's Theatre, Hammersmith, W.

THE recent Brighton Hippodrome matinée in support of the police-aided scheme for clothing destitute children resulted in £187 0s. 6d. being handed over to the charity. The committee (through Mr. W. B. Gentle, chief constable) extended their grateful thanks to both Mr. and Mrs. Barrasford for their kindness, and to the artists who appeared.

CHARCOT played last week to enormous business at Rochdale, hundreds being turned away on Saturday night. This week at Oldham he has repeated his successes, houses being packed to suffocation. Charcot starts the De Frece circuit on Monday, and the London Syndicate halls early in the New Year.

MARIE LLOYD, who was starring at the Leicester Palace Theatre last week, generously handed to Mr. C. Finch-Hatton, the acting-manager, on Saturday evening last a cheque for seven guineas, so as to make the collections taken at the doors on behalf of the distressed up to £20 for the week. The Palace management again fed on Sunday another 300 families, all genuine and deserving cases, making a total for the three weeks of 900.

THE New Hippodrome, Rochdale, which was opened on Monday, the 16th inst., stands on the site of the old wooden structure, the Circus of Varieties, which was run for years by Messrs. Smith (Steeplejack Smith), Lee, and Hargreaves. The final performance was given in the old building on May 30. The licence has been granted to Mr. James Jackson, of the Jackson Family, who are the proprietors. The new house will have a short frontage to the proposed thoroughfare from Lord-street to the Esplanade, Rochdale. It is a two-tier house, and was built by Peters and Woolfenden within twenty-one weeks.

AT the annual meeting of the Palace and Derby Castle, Ltd., proprietors of the three principal pleasure resorts in Douglas, on the 18th inst., the chairman said that, considering the character of the season Douglas had had, the balance-sheet was the most favourable in the history of the company. August had been a bad month, but September, despite wet weather, had been more favourable to the company. The directors' report was adopted, and dividends of 5 per cent. on preference shares and a like amount on the ordinary shares were declared. John A. Brown and Robert Stott, retiring directors, were re-appointed.

THE second performance at the New Hippodrome, Rochdale, on the 20th inst., was attended by several of Rochdale's prominent citizens. In one box were Lady Duckworth and two lady friends, and in another Colonel Healey and several officers of the 6th Battalion Lancashire Fusiliers. Sir James Duckworth, who was unable to be present, sent the following telegram, which was read by Mr. George Leyton to the audience: "Regret unable to be present to-night at the Hippodrome, but wish you and the veterans every success."

MR. LEYTON, in his song entitled "Lucknow," had an enthusiastic reception. Several of Rochdale's veteran soldiers were again on the stage, and at the close of the song the band of the Fusiliers played "The boys of the old brigade." The boxes and several portions of the building were draped with flags. There was a full house.

THE statutory first meeting of creditors under the failure of Henry Ford, of Brixton-road, S.W., was held before the senior Official Receiver in Bankruptcy on Thursday. Mr. Ford, it appeared, began trading as a butcher twenty-two years ago. His business was acquired by a company. In September, 1905, when he had a capital of £22,000, he began the erection of the "Palace-by-the-Sea," Clacton, which was opened by George R. Sims on June 2, 1906. He expended some £33,000 on the venture, and carried it on at a loss for two months, and then, with the sanction of creditors, sold his interest to a company.

THE directors of the Variety Theatres Consolidated, Ltd., announce a dividend on the ordinary shares at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum.

THE Music Hall and Theatrical Football League matches on Sunday last resulted in victories for the Fulham Theatre and Stratford Empire teams, the former beating Broadway Theatre by 6 to 2, and the latter King's, Hammersmith, by 7 to nil.

ALTERATIONS now being made to the interior of the Vaudeville Club will provide more room for the members and at the same time add to their accommodation and convenience. It is expected that the workmen will have left the premises by to-night.

MISS BESSIE BUTT has undoubtedly secured one of the prettiest coon songs ever written in "Sunshine Soo." So many have applied to her personally for permission to sing this number in pantomime that she has decided to give the right for a small fee. Particulars are advertised on our back page.

WE sincerely regret to hear that Mr. George Bastow has been unable to appear this week at the Manchester Hippodrome, in consequence of serious indisposition. It is but a few months since the comedian returned to the variety stage on his recovery from a long illness.

WE regret having to record the sudden death of Mr. Frank Carlyon from phthisis on Sunday morning, the 22nd inst. He had for the past four months acted as manager for Messrs. Feldman and Little at Maldon, Essex, and became the lessee of the Hippodrome there only one week before death deprived him of the fruits of his labours.

MR. CARLYON was only thirty-six years of age, and had been connected with the Coronet, Notting Hill; the Grand, Woolwich; Alexandra, Stoke Newington; and the King's Theatre, Hammersmith, at the last-mentioned with Mr. J. B. Mulholland for four years.

FEW artists have produced so many sketches, or of such good quality, as Mr. John Lawson since he first staged Humanity; and it is because of the uniform goodness of each that the management have engaged him to appear next week at the Hackney Empire in a repertory of these.

MR. GEORGE BARRASFORD received such a large number of letters and telegrams of congratulation upon his coming of age (Nov. 24), that he finds it impossible to reply individually, and takes this means of thanking the senders for their kind wishes upon this memorable occasion.

MISS MAY AUDREY is meeting with great success this week at the Canterbury and Crouch End with Shapiro, Von Tilzer's "Waiting—all I want is the man," and Bennett Scott and Mills's "Have you got another girl at home like Mary?" Miss Audrey has just purchased a new song by the latter writers. She will appear at the Coliseum on Monday.

ROMA AND ROMANI conclude to-night their London season. These classical musicians have played five weeks at the Tivoli and Oxford, together with suburban halls, and have everywhere been highly appreciated. They are re-booked for nearly every hall in town, including the Oxford, Tivoli, Coliseum, and Hippodrome, and all by their pilot, Will Oliver.

MR. JOHN ABBOTT, who has for a long time now been aide-de-camp to Mr. Fred Day (of T. B. Harms and Francis, Day, and Hunter) in New York, is enjoying a well-earned holiday, in company with Mr. Abbott, in his native land, and a day or two since received a hearty welcome from his old companions and co-workers in Charing Cross-road and Denmark-street.

A VERY plucky thing was done by Miss Annie Braddan on Monday last at Charing Cross. An old lady crossing the greasy road slipped and fell. Miss Braddan ran to her aid at once, and dragged her out of the way of a hansom cab just in time. She slipped down herself in doing so, her skirt and coat being ruined by the petrol-grease in the roadway at this spot. This is but one of many similar escapes, and it is high time the authorities took steps to abate the danger.

M. JULES CHARMETTES, who has been playing M. Maurice Farkoa's musical comedy parts in the provinces, is announced to give French versions of Mr. Harry Lauder's songs, more especially of "Stop your tickling, Jock." Mr. Corney Grain did the same in the nineties with Mr. Albert Chevalier's melodious coster lyrics, an example that has been followed by Mr. Maurice Farkoa, who, earlier in the year, delighted audiences at the Palace Theatre with a piquant Gallic version of "The future Mrs. Hawkins."

AN amusing little episode occurred during the turn of the Palace Girls at the Cambridge Circus house at Saturday's matinée. In the course of their parasol dance the girls plunge the points of their sunshades into the floor of the stage and then pirouette gracefully around them. Curious to relate the point of one of the parasols became firmly wedged betwixt the junction of two traps. First one dancer and then two essayed to withdraw the peccant article, and in the end with success, but the trap remained upturned, and all their efforts to restore its level were useless, while the equally futile attempts of a stage footman caused considerable merriment. Ultimately the trap was seen to be mysteriously attacked from the lower regions, and sank once more to rest.

AT the Brompton County Court on Thursday a remitted action from the High Court came before Sir William Selfe, the plaintiffs being Messrs. W. Goodacre and Sons (Limited), Ceylon Mills, Victoria Docks, E., and the defendant Mr. Imre Kiralfy, described as organising superintendent of the Franco-British Exhibition, Shepherd's Bush. The action arose out of the supplying and laying down at the Franco-British Exhibition a quantity of carpet matting.

MR. DRUCQUER, counsel for Mr. Kiralfy, said the action ought never to have been brought against that gentleman at all, but against the Franco-British Exhibition Incorporated Company. Considerable correspondence having been read, and legal arguments advanced, the Judge said the plaintiffs had brought the wrong defendant before the Court. There would be judgment for Mr. Kiralfy, but without costs.

IN correction of Mr. Ernest J. T. Bagnall, secretary to the London Primitive Methodist Council, Mr. Oswald Stoll, after pointing out that Sir Edward Moss is the applicant for the full licence to the London Hippodrome, goes on to say:—"Assuming the L.C.C. policy in regard to no more stimulants in further variety houses to be 'general,' and to date back twenty instead of eight years, and on the ground that the Council, having arrived at a decision, should consistently carry it out, then the strength of the claim of the Hippodrome is by no means weakened. For in the face of a general policy of (then) ten years' standing the full Council granted and re-granted an unrestricted provisional licence to the Hippodrome covering the whole period of the construction of that property, and only within a few weeks of its completion, in accordance with all the requirements of that Council, did this body go back upon its word."

MR. ALBERT MARSH'S successful playlet, Chums till Death, tops the bill at the Metropolitan for the coming week. Managers of variety theatres would do well to see this complete and interesting production.

"WHAT WOMEN DO FOR MEN," Mr. F. W. Purcell's latest successful Sicilian miniature drama, by Luke Jellings, commences the Moss and Stoll Tour on Monday at Manchester. The company includes Miss Margaret Murch, Mr. Robert Faulkner, Mr. J. Boyd Pearson, and Mr. Fred Hunter.

THE second Bohemian smoking concert of the season will be held at the Vaudeville Club on Sunday, Dec. 6, at 9.30. Mr. W. W. Sampson will occupy the chair.

THE Fun City, under the management of Mr. C. B. Cochran, will be opened in the Annexe at Olympia, West Kensington, on Dec. 7, and will remain open for ten weeks. It will surpass everything of a similar character ever seen in London, and will be, as the management describe it, "one big scream."

THE whole of the annexe at Olympia will be packed with fresh novelties from Coney Island and other parts of the world. A special feature is to be a grand variety entertainment to be given three times a day.

AT the close of the Motor Show 500 workmen commenced erecting all the attractions—"human roulette board, "cakewalks," "helter skelter," &c.—and an entirely new entrance to the annexe will be built from Blythe-road.

MLLE. LEONORA, whose "Sal-oh!-my" dance ran for about seven months at the Alhambra, is to revisit that house in the early part of next month, when she will revive her "Narcissus" sketch, and later on will appear in a musical sketch, in which she will sing as well as dance. In January next Leonora will appear with Mlle. Britta in the new classical ballet.

MR. ARTHUR RIGBY, the hon. treasurer of the M.H.A.R.A., presided at the 586th meeting of the Executive Committee, held on Wednesday afternoon at the offices. There were also present Messrs. F. W. Millis (V.P.), Bernard Stavordale, H. Herald, W. H. Atlas, Alf. Herald, John Alexander, T. C. Callaghan, G. B. Sinclair, C. Douglas Stuart (secretary), and Lieut. Albini.

IN consequence of the proximity of Devonport and Plymouth it was decided that the agent in the former town must not place names on the list after 12 noon on Fridays, at which hour he must send his list to the Plymouth agent. The secretary presented the report of his visit to Newcastle. The weekly financial statement showed twenty-nine new members and a cash total of £38 10s. 6d.

ARRANGEMENTS have now been completed for the representation at Christmas of Bolossy Kiralfy's spectacular production, entitled To-morrow, or the Story that Never Grows Old. The principal characters are Little Willie—who, whenever he wants anything, is always told that he "will get it to-morrow"—Mildred (Willie's sister), Albert (Mildred's lover), Fairy Happy, Red Pot, and Fairy Snowflake.

MILDRED, a girl of seventeen, is telling, on Christmas Eve, to the children guests invited, "the story that never grows old," finally reminding them that as to-morrow will be Christmas Day they may expect some nice presents. Willie, of course, grumbles at this promise of to-morrow, which he considers to be the old excuse. Among other incidents, Albert, Mildred's lover, is accepted by her father as his future son-in-law, and says he will announce the engagement to-morrow. It is late, so they all retire, except Willie, who falls asleep on a couch.

IN his dreaming even Willie's young brain harps on "to-morrow," and in bitter disappointment he cries out "Why can't to-morrow be to-day?" Father Time appears, and explains that he should not wish to hasten the flying minutes; that the happiest hours are always to-day, and besides, we never know what to-morrow may bring forth. Willie, however, is far from satisfied with this logic, and says so. The Fairy Happy now comes on the scene, and assists Willie in getting his wishes fulfilled.

IN scene two we are introduced to "The Land of Happy-ever-after," an Elysium where children know no sorrow, where a most interesting ballet is introduced. The next scene shows us Santa Claus on his mission, overloaded with toys for all good boys and girls. The fourth scene—"The Land where Snowflake Never Melts"—is full of brightness and action.

THE familiar sight of the children happy over their well-filled stockings provides the subject for the next scene. Willie, now quite contented, believes he was right in thinking that "to-day" is "to-morrow." The final scene is an allegorical representation of a New Year's Eve fête, and in this will be utilised to the full the many mechanical resources of the London Hippodrome. The stage and arena will be occupied by the entire company, and, in addition to equestrian and other features, will include a grand ballet. Singing will also be made a feature, the principals being supported by a huge chorus of specially selected voices.

WHILE the Hippodrome stage itself is by no means the largest in London, the enormous space in front of the curtain and the arena more than make up for the deficiency, and, in addition, give the producers, Mr. Bolossy Kiralfy and Mr. Frank Parker, greater scope for their stage pictures than would be possible in any other theatre. The final tableau is intended by them to be the most marvellous and surprising ever seen, and will be certain to add a great deal to the success of the production, which, while designed to suit and please children in particular, will contain enough art and beauty to satisfy even the most exacting "grown-ups."

THE following is the cast of the principal characters:—Willie (a little boy who cannot wait till "to-morrow"), Master James Hollom; Mildred (Willie's sister), Miss Beatrice Willey; Albert (Mildred's lover), Mr. Stuart Alexander; Fairy Happy-ever-after, Miss Grace Gray; Fairy Snowflake, Miss May Hollom; and Red Pot, Mr. Octavius E. Lennon.

MISS IRENE ROSE, in her speech at the Oxford on Wednesday on the occasion of the general meeting of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, spoke of the children—"our" children. "I say our children because while they are on our books we are responsible to a certain extent for their welfare. We had a letter yesterday from a lady we are helping in which she thanked us for our kindness, and said that her children on returning from school thought Father Christmas had been there, because they found a fire in the grate. Now, ladies and gentlemen, I want you to look on the Ladies' Guild as the Father Christmas of many poor homes—homes, I might truthfully say, that have only the Ladies' Guild and Benevolent Fund to look to, and I want you out of the goodness of your hearts to help us to fill the large bag we have at our backs with coal, food, and clothing, and thereby enable us to bring a little pleasure and comfort into the lives and homes of 'our' babies."

MR. LEOPOLD WENZEL, the popular composer, who for many years was associated with the late Katti Lanner in most of the successful and popular ballets of her time, sent a gorgeous wreath of choice flowers, with the following inscription, to his old friend:—"A Katti Lanner, son collaborateur ému, Léopold Wenzel; profonds regrets, Stéphanie Wenzel."

MR. CHARLES COBORN has just concluded a series of successful engagements in London, where large audiences have been so delighted with the inimitable renderings of his truly humorous songs that he has had to respond again and again to repeated calls. At his second visit, within a few weeks, to the Walthamstow Palace, the enthusiastic reception accorded him showed how firm a hold he has on the public favour. He is this week winning fresh laurels at the King's Theatre, Manchester.

"CHUMS TILL DEATH, which was most successfully produced at the Canterbury on Monday, is a reduced version of My Partner, by the late Bartley Campbell, author of Siberia. This drama was produced at the Olympic on April 10, 1884, with George Rignold as Joe Saunders and the late Philip Beck as Ned Singleton. Alma Murray played Mary Brandon, and the late Laura Linden was the Grace Brandon. The late W. H Stephens acted the father of the girls, and Howard Russell impersonated the villain. The piece in its condensed form tells an enthralling human story in a truly dramatic style.

LA MILO seems to be winning a great reputation for her conquests of prejudice. Leaving Middlesbrough, where the magistrates were converted from critics to admirers—a conversion accentuated by plaudits and cheers—she left behind her a reputation as a profit record breaker. On this result it is no wonder that the following week found her at Signor Pepi's house at Darlington.

BEFORE appearing at Darlington she, through the manager, invited the Watch Committee or other responsible authorities to witness her exhibition, and so great was the box-office value of La Milo that Mr. Pepi would not rest till he had booked her for his place in Carlisle.

MR. HENRY LUDLOW, who is at present touring the Moss and Stoll halls, in Cecil Raleigh's sketches, The Doom of Delilah and Nance Arden, has been kindly released by Miss Lilian Dundas for Nov. 30 and week in order to support M. Auguste Van Biene in his old part, General Ivanoff, in The Broken Melody.

AN early turn at the London Pavilion is filled by Brüll and Hemsley, who exploit humour in their neat and attractive sketch, Fun in a Music Shop. Mr. Hemsley is one of the sons of Mr. W. T. Hemsley, the popular scene-painter, whose brush was so artistically employed in productions at the Grand Theatre, Islington. Miss Brüll (Mrs. Hemslay) is a Viennese lady, and possesses all the gaiety and charm that are associated with the Austrian capital.

THE statements made by Professor Ramsey Muir at Liverpool concerning pantomimes have prompted Mr. Wilkie Bard, who will figure prominently at Drury Lane shortly, to join issue. Pantomime Mr. Bard believes to be a very necessary form of entertainment. "It comes in the depth of winter to brighten the minds of those who are in need of the change from the drab outside.

"AGAIN, what may appear to be inane to one so filled with profound knowledge as Professor Muir, may not appear so to others less gifted. Would he have us all spend the winter months working out sex problems, and trying to find out what George Bernard Shaw means exactly? If Professor Ramsey Muir will undertake to visit Drury Lane I will provide the seats, and I will forfeit a good sum to charity if he finds a single objectionable element in the show.

"PANTOMIME as an institution not only is firmly established as a wholesome institution for good, but for two and three months of the year finds honourable employment for thousands of men, women, and girls who would be otherwise unemployed."

MR. FRED SINCLAIR (of Sinclair and Whiteford), in addition to collecting at the Vaudeville Club the sum of £2 1s. for the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, gave a donation of five guineas on his own account.

THE committee of the Music Hall Home desires to thank the directors of the Empress, Brixton, and Mr. Nelson Francis for a donation of £2 10s.; Mr. E. H. Bostock, of the Zoo and Hippodrome, Glasgow, for box collection; Mr. Geo. F. Thompson, New Empire Palace Theatre, South Shields, for box collection; Miss Melinda May for papers, and Mr. and Mrs. Royston-Dene for parcel of books and papers. Men's old clothes and boots are always acceptable. A great coat is badly needed for one well-known old performer. The secretary, Mr. Ben Woodger, would be glad to send an Era New Year subscription card to any lady or gentleman who would kindly help the home fund by a postcard to 31, Wilson-road, London, S.E. The next committee meeting will be held at the Palace, Camberwell, on Thursday next, at twelve noon.

ON behalf of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, of 61, New Oxford-street, W.C., Miss Melinda May (secretary) wishes to thank the following:—Mme. Haydee (collection), 10s.; Miss Maggie Bowman (collection), 2s. 6d.; Miss Dora Gregory, St. George and the Dragon company (collection), 2s. 6d.; Miss Ettie Albert (collected through Mr. Houdini), 2s.; Miss Lottie Albert (donation), 5s.; Miss Maude Dunedin (collection), 8s. 8d.; Miss Kate Vulcana (collection), 6s.; Mrs. Vernon Cowper (collection), 4s. 6d.; also the Rev. Arthur Brinckman, St. Saviour's Hospital, for his generous gift of £1 10s. towards helping a poor sufferer into a home for consumptives; and Mrs. Bransby Williams, for useful parcel of clothing; Mrs. C. Collins, for parcel; Miss Lottie Albert, for her gift of coals to an old pensioner of the Guild, aged seventy-nine, all the winter; and the following ladies for coals, an extra gift, to our current cases—Miss Irene Rose, Mrs. Eugene Stratton, Mrs. Vernon Cowper, Miss Freda Sharlotte, and Miss Kate Vulcana; Miss Alma Shelley, for wool balls for the children's Christmas tree. Friends of the charity are heartily welcome to the tea and reception held every Wednesday, four to five o'clock.

MISS MAY has several women with excellent references on her books, and she hopes that with the approach of Christmas, and the attendant extra work, occupation can be found in the direction indicated; also sewing work in the pantomime wardrobes.

AFTER a brilliant two years in Australia and New Zealand, with Mr. J. C. Williamson, Harry Phydora had not been in London two weeks before business took him to America, where a most deplorable motor accident happening to his principal, he was quite unexpectedly free for Christmas; but not for long. Immediately it became known, Mr. Brammall, acting for his syndicate, put the cables at work, the result being Phydora engaged at a very large salary to play the Nurse in Babes in the Wood at the Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham, making his third (not consecutive) season at this house.

SONGS, WRITERS, AND SINGERS.

In addition to "Bombardier," Messrs. Francis and Day's great pantomime march song, which has been secured with avidity by prominent producers everywhere, Mr. Leonard Bellamy, of the orchestral department at 142, Charing Cross-road, has been inundated for band parts of likely marches for Palace scenes, and two in particular—"The British Empire," by Karl Kaps, and "England's Crown," by Max Darewski—appear to be dead-heaters for first honours. T. W. Thurban's "Dreams of Ragtime" and "Mandy on the Mash" are also greatly in request, as the daily dwindling piles of printed band parts testify.

Mr. Whit Cunliffe at the Coliseum on Monday had quite a reception, and the song "Exercise," written and composed by Penton Hook and the comedian himself, was one of the hits of the evening. Messrs. Francis and Day have secured the song for publication, and it will be issued in a few days.

The sketch which has now appeared for some weeks past in these columns attached to the advertisement of Messrs. Francis and Day's song, "Oh! oh! Antonio!" has set the fashion and clinched the matter in scores of instances as to how one of the greatest songs of the year for principal boys is to be staged. Miss Florrie Forde has continued nightly in town to repeat this her great triumph amid acclamations, and author, composer, and publisher alike are to be congratulated on having so splendid an exponent of a great chorus song.

Mr. Lester Barrett's department at Messrs. Francis and Day's establishment has been thronged daily throughout the current week by "beauty in distress," or, in commonplace everyday English, by charming ladies afraid they might be too late to secure the pantomime rights of George Lashwood's enormous success, "Hang out the front-door key," a song in which the air of the verse equals the tunefulness of the chorus, both verses and chorus enshrining a capital story written in words easy to sing. In no case were the fair supplicants "sent empty away."

At the great smoking concert on Tuesday at Queen's Hall, organised to benefit the Middlesex Hospital Cancer Charity, and at which function Sir A. Conan Doyle was chairman, one of the greatest "hits" of the night was Mr. G. H. Elliott's "Sue, Sue, Sue, I'm very much in love with you," the chorus of which was taken up by the large audience as though by one man. The "Chocolate-Coloured Coon" was in fine form, and the tuneful number was heard to the best advantage. It behoves the laggards who have not yet applied to Messrs. Francis and Day for permission to remember the title of another charming song in "Dorothy" and "Be wise in time."

Wallis Arthur's duet, "Do you remember?" has apparently not been forgotten by the multitudinous henpecked barons of pantomime, judging by the number of "permits" issued by Messrs. Francis and Day this year. Mr. Fred Wyndham reproachfully asked its author a day or two since if there was anything "fishy" about it, thereupon the catcher of the Grateful Crab immediately "hooked it." The duet was issued in "Sixpenny Pop" form during the week.

The printers and engravers are busy on Miss Kitty Colyer's new songs, which Messrs. Francis and Day are about to place on the market—"Oh, Dolly!" and "My little snow horse."

Miss Winifred Hare's "Carnegie" number has been steadily growing in popularity ever since the gifted artist first essayed it, and it will be heard in quite a number of "annuals" all over the country, Herman Darewski's chorus having the swing beloved by the denizens of Olympus. In quite a different vein is the same composer's "£ s. d.," the lyric by Chas. Wilmott, and the knowledge that Mr. R. G. Knowles made a hit with it has caused numbers of prominent pantomime folk to hear it, and, hearing it, to secure rights. Yet another song by this favourite author and composer which has caught managerial eyes is "Come, be my rainbow," popularised by Miss Madge Temple, a composition which gives the electrician his great chance. All three are published by Messrs. Francis and Day.

Fairy Queens are right royally served this year by Messrs. Francis and Day, those pretty ballads "Shadowland" and "Let me but hope" possessing in large measure that daintiness and melodious charm—inseparable from Henry E. Pether's compositions—so essential in songs emanating from the good genius of the pantomime.

Among the multifarious new songs and dances secured for publication by Messrs. Francis and Day are "Rosie had a very rosy time" (sung by Miss Marie Lloyd), by Fred Murray and Chas. Hilbury; "Pomponette" (Miss Vesta Tilley), by R. P. Weston, F. J. Barnes, and Kenneth Lyle; "After the Opera" waltz, by Cuthbert Clarke; "I'm always doing something silly!" (sung by Jay Laurier), by Frank Leo; "Wives" (Arthur Lennard), by Harry Adams and Ernée Woodville; "The jolly old Irish pensioner" and "Goodbye, Canada" (Pat Rafferty), by F. W. Carter; "In the Isle of Sicily," by Stanley Damerill and Harry Lane; "Well!" (Miss Marie Kendall), words and music by Steve McCarthy; "Darling little Teddy Bear!" (Miss Marjorie Carpenter), by Mrs. Ernest Carpenter and Hubert Sullivan-Brooke; "Winnie from Winnipeg" (Miss Luna Love), by Albert Bagley and Will E. Haines; "Shake hands!" by Edward Elliott and Linton Nevitt, and "Umti Tumti," by Frank Wood (both sung by Bernard Russell); "You're wearing the hat poor father wore," by Fred Murray and Charles Collins, and "Keep on jogging along," by Fred Murray, Fred Zerry, and Chas. Collins (both sung by Joe Archer); and last, but by no means least, "Study those who study you" (Miss Carlotta Levey).

Miss Maidie Scott produced last Monday at Southampton a new song, called "Holidays," by Alfred Wood and George Ess. After Miss Scott had responded to several calls, shouts were raised for "Carrots." This song, by the same writers, has proved universally popular. It is published by Messrs. Price and Reynolds.

Miss May Moore Duprez has scored a big success with her two new songs, "Jeremiah" and "Beautiful Brittany." These numbers are just published in Price and Reynolds' Sixpenny Series, and are being well booked for pantomime.

Miss Jessie Preston's "Dear Loch Lomond," Miss Annie Purcell's "Jessie, the flower o' Inverness," Miss Marie Blythe's "The old love's the best of all," Whit Cunliffe's "Ten little toes," and Ambrose Thorne's "If I were a Member of Parliament," have been secured by Price and Reynolds, and will be heard in many of the leading pantomimes this season.

Pantomime producers on the look-out for pretty production numbers should secure Mellor, Lawrence, and Gifford's "Run away from old man goblin" and Miss Maidie Scott's latest success, "Maidie and her little Teddy bear." Price and Reynolds are the publishers.

(Continued on page 26.)

THE AGENCY QUESTION.

A REPLY TO W. H. CLEMART.

Sir,—"Some are born great; others have greatness thrust upon them." The latter is evidently the fate of the undersigned, as the letter to you of Saturday last has been the subject of the leading article in the current issue of The Performer. The use of a nom de plume is to avoid the opinions of the author being invested with his personality, and also to safeguard cheap notoriety. I will endeavour to answer W. H. Clemart seriatim.

(1) The clause that the office copy should refer to contracts playable only in Great Britain and Ireland was inserted, after some discussion, at the suggestion of those agents who did Continental business, they arguing that they increased the artist's salary proportionately, and the extra commission payable was always taken into consideration when computing the salary. It was further explained that the English agents had to "share" their commission with the Continental house agent.

(2) The right of managers to deduct commission and pay same to the agent, less a sum for such services, was provisionally permitted in Award Contracts at the conference before the Arbitrator at the Board of Trade on Oct. 18, 1907. This deduction was specifically mentioned in the office copy as drawn up by the V.A.F. and submitted to the agents for their approval, it being argued that in any event the artist had to pay the commission, and there was no apparent objection. In fact, this clause was never seriously discussed, so unanimous were both parties. The vitality of the clause became apparent only when the "pay-nothing" order was given.

(3) It is true the agents explained they had no power to force managers into giving the Award contracts, that being a Federation matter; but as they (the agents) dealt with "world-wide" proprietors, the clause as then suggested would have to be amended in order to be logical, the Award only applying to Great Britain and Ireland. Further, the agents pointed out that 98 per cent. of the managers were, and are, using the Askwith Award model. To say the reason managers are refusing to book through the V.A.F. and the W.R. agencies is because they know they cannot evade the Award is an accusation of mala fides against a great majority of honest managers, and we venture to state cannot be substantiated, or even justified.

(4) The V.A.F. sub-committee agreed to a three months' bar on direct booking, and the whole question of direct booking to the detriment of the agent was fully discussed. The clause was inserted as a result of the deliberations of the agents in private, whilst the V.A.F. delegates withdrew in order to allow the agents the fullest discussion. On the return to the committee-room this clause was approved, the simile then used being Tom Shaw booking W. H. Clemart at the Gaiety, Chatham, and W. H. C. on the following morning applying to any one of the seventy agents for his returns, presuming he desired to change his agent. It was put in, not against the honest artist, but as a check against the dishonest artist, who, despite the legalities of the office copy, never intended to act fairly to his agent. It was further pointed out that an artist getting, say, £10, less 10 per cent., would offer to go back for 10, and sometimes 20, per cent. less, thus creating a doubt in the minds of the management that the agent was inflating the salary in a corresponding manner.

As to artists signing office copies on re-engagements, that is doubtless the fault of the artist, and sometimes the cupidity of the agent. En passant, many, many re-engagements are now being offered and accepted without signing the office copy, as the agent is quite satisfied with the artist's signature on the original office copy.

The freedom of agency clause is the best that could happen for the industry. The original agent would of necessity have to look after his clients' interests more closely, and doubtless we would find a clearing-house for acts established, as an adjunct to the Agents' Association.

We ask W. H. C. to prove that the situation is other than a deadlock. The deputation to the L.C.C. is merely a side issue, and nothing more than a ruse de guerre. The smaller members, aye, and the middle-class members are feeling the pinch. The fact is apparent by your emergency fund. The less money paid out proves that members are signing contracts "sub rosa"—that contracts are being signed we have no hesitation in saying, and if your loyal members are not signing then others are less scrupulous. The challenge of £50 offered by the Executive Committee was fully expected, but even agents have a sense of honour. (By the way, from which fund would this money be paid, and under what rule?) The word "star" was never mentioned in our letter, and they are entirely outside this dispute; but we venture to state that were they not members of the G.O.W.R. their interest in the V.A.F. would be less than it is at present. Fully seventy-five per cent. of the members of the V.A.F. are committed for many years to come to the ten per cent. office copy, together with the re-engagement clause. Of this seventy-five per cent. fully thirty per cent. are dateless till Christmas, and many for ever, and through this boycott are suffering more severely than many know.

W. H. Clemart makes the following statement in the third column of his criticism:—

"And yet the situation is now in its eleventh week, simply because an agents' majority allows itself to be dictated to by a distinct, but much more intelligent, intellectual, desperate minority."

The italics are ours. So the minority who refused the V.A.F. office copy are a distinct, but much more intelligent, intellectual minority! Ipsissima verba.

We assert boldly, and without fear of contradiction, that the whole of the Federation did not vote for five per cent. The whole of the members present at the seventy meetings in the country including the London mass meeting), with about eight dissentients may have voted for the five per cent., and we challenge the committee to produce 600 signatures, or even 1000 records of attendances, for any given Friday during the crisis. Thus we have a body of 2,750 members who did not attend the meetings, and did not record their votes. Hence the call for a secret ballot.

So much for W. H. C.'s remarks. Now for a few further points. Your general meeting in December, 1907, voted for five per cent., yet your general meeting on Sept. 6, 1908, voted unanimously for ten per cent. Then soon after a series of London mass meetings (in other words, an expanded London meeting, with no more power than a V.A.F. meeting at West Stanley) proceed on a policy of diminution by the process of the guillotine until we find ourselves faced with the present deadlock. Then the Performer points out that an addendum has been tacked on to the effect that all law costs incurred by the V.A.F. must be paid by the agents. The V.A.F., by their retrospective claim on office copies, are asking for the wiping out of thousands and thousands of pounds commission for which the agents have a claim perfectly clear in law. Surely this point wants considering. The question at issue now is only concerned with the legal status, and that cannot be denied. The retrospective demand should have some consideration for a man who has acted honestly. Should the above demand be persisted in, we can see all the legal claims on the old office copies being enforced, and the artist who finds himself paying 30 and even 40 per cent. on one engagement will then regret the position into which he has been forced. This does not affect those acts who have only used one agent, but again falls heavily on the "smaller fry," who are forced to utilise the service of all and sundry.

The financial aspect is gargantuan, but the deadlock has been arrived at in a most haphazard manner.

As none of these "five per cent.," "no re-engagement," either prospective or retrospective, or "piling up the costs" resolutions, have been passed at special general meetings regularly convened after three weeks' statutory notice in the Performer, it necessarily follows that the whole of the resolutions are illegal and null and void. Therefore, carpe diem.

In conclusion, we venture to remind W. H. C. that sarcasm is a very poor form of wit, and were we to indulge in a sarcastic display W. H. C. might think we were rude to brutality. Still, it is good to see the artists combined. They are artists—they are now agents, they are managers in embryo; let us hope they will not have to be their own audience.—Yours truly,

JANUS.

London, Nov. 26, 1908.

Miss Elsie Earle's song-scena, "A Garden of Flowers," has a pretty and elaborate setting, enhanced by electric effects, and it deserves all the praise that has been lavished on it. She sings it with much charm, and also displays dash and vigour in her military song, "March, march away!"

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER,

142, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.

"OH! OH! ANTONIO!"

Miss FLORRIE FORDE'S LATEST SENSATION.

THE SONG OF THE YEAR.

OH! OH! ANTONIO!

The following will Positively be Featured in the Principal Pantomime Productions in the Kingdom:—

"SHE SELLS SEA SHELLS."

"HANG OUT THE FRONT DOOR KEY."

"I'M AFRAID TO COME HOME IN THE DARK."

"COME, BE MY RAINBOW."

"MANDY'S WEDDING."

"ARE YOU THE LITTLE GIRL I MET THE OTHER EVENING."

"SUE, SUE, SUE."

"EVERY FELLOW'S IN LOVE WITH A GIRL."

"BOMBADIER."

"WHO SAID HE DON'T LIKE GIRLS."

"SHADOWLAND."

"IN THE LAND OF THE KANGAROO."

"L.S.D."

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER.

"CHUMS TILL DEATH."

A Dramatic Sketch, Written by Albert Marsh, Produced at the Canterbury Music Hall, on Monday, Nov. 23.

Joe Saunders ..... Mr. Albert Marsh
Ned Singleton ..... Mr. Frank Tennant
Josiah Venables ..... Mr. William Brandon
Billy ..... Mr. Harry Buss
Bob ..... Mr. Douglas Payne
Mary Brandon ..... Miss Grace Mortimer

Chums till Death, an interesting and powerful playlet dealing with life in the Californian goldfields, met with a decidedly cordial reception on its production at the Canterbury on Monday. In the first scene, the exterior of the Golden Gate, we are quickly introduced to Mary Brandon, the sorrowful heroine, and her lover, Ned Singleton, a gentleman miner, who, however, has not fulfilled his promise to marry her. His "chum" and partner, Joe Saunders, a "rough diamond," has also silently worshipped the girl ever since her arrival in the district, and when he learns the position of affairs he threatens to shoot Ned if he does not wed Mary. The villainous Josiah Venables, a mine speculator, also professes to an affection for the girl, and determines that Ned shall not marry her if he can prevent it. In the last scene, the chums' hut, Joe comes to the conclusion he can no longer live with his partner in the altered circumstances, and, after sharing their little store of wealth, bids his chum good-bye, saying he will shake hands with him when he (Ned) has married Mary. When Joe has departed, Josiah enters, and, insinuating that Mary has not been true to her lover, is struck by Ned, who, in the fight which ensues, receives a knife wound at the hands of Josiah, and is left for dead, the villain departing after pocketing the gold that has been left on the table. Joe Saunders returns—he cannot leave his chum in anger—and is, of course, accused of the murder, the knife found in the hut belonging to him; but the comedy man, Cockney Bill, who has been in hiding under a seat, is able to clear his character. Josiah is captured and taken away to be lynched; Ned is not dead, and will recover and marry Mary; and Joe will stay on with his chum. The sketch was admirably enacted throughout, Mr. Albert Marsh being a most convincing and in every way excellent exponent of the justly indignant but kindly miner, Joe Singleton, especially well played being the scene where he learns from Mary that Ned is her lover, and also the episode where he decides to part from his chum. Mr. Frank Tennant did the little he had to do as Ned Singleton quite satisfactorily; Mr. William Brandon indicated effectively the evil nature of Josiah; an alert and amusing Billy was supplied by Mr. Harry Buss; Miss Grace Mortimer was a refined and natural Mary Brandon; and the cast was completed by Mr. Douglas Payne, who fulfilled all requirements as Bob, a digger known as "the doctor." The sketch was admirably staged, Mr. Alfred Terraine being responsible for the three realistic stage pictures.

A welcome appearance at the Canterbury on Monday was that of the incomparable juggler, Paul Cinquevalli, who performed his numerous difficult feats with all his well-known ease and sureness, and was acclaimed with much cordiality. His concluding exhibition of dexterity, where he balances his assistant seated on a chair at a table on his chin and juggles at the same time, particularly appealed to the audience. There is just sufficient comedy in the act, the behaviour and facial expression of his assistant being really funny. Another popular interlude in the strong bill is Billiards, so comically exploited by the clever comedian, Mr. Harry Tate and his companions; and much laughter is also forthcoming during the presentation of the comedy sketch, The Peacemaker, by Mr. W. T. Ellwanger and his company. La Devo, a quick-change artist, gives a smart impersonation of a lady conjurer, and also appears with success as a Japanese damsel and a prima donna; and Karr and Kooney, a couple of scarlet-suited comedians, have an excellent number in "Tra-la-la," their cross-talk and song made up of the titles of familiar plays and songs being also very amusing. There is much that is laughable in "The lass that loved a sailor," a comic nautical satire presented by the Walcotts (Marie and Bert); the Romps, a number of juvenile entertainers, present a dainty musical scena with undoubted success; and S. and G. Auer submit a novel and smartly-worked turn that includes some wonderful tumbling and jumping by the male of the duo, the couple fashioning some rag-pictures with considerable skill.

Dick Tubb, an eccentric comedian with a very droll style, evoked some of the heartiest laughter and applause heard during the evening for his funny song, "Any coke"; Miss Jessie Buckle tendered excellent advice in "What you've got, look after," a song that evidently appealed to her auditors; Miss May Audrey, a smart comedienne, delighted greatly with her two numbers, "I'm waiting" and "Have you got another girl at home like Mary?" Miss Lena Wylie was heard with pleasure in "Because" and "Il Bacio"; and there was applause in abundance for the Three Royal Dreadnoughts, rifle shots. Other entertaining items in the bill are contributed by Ruffell's Bioscope, Mr. Pen Happy, Miss Minnie Mace, and the Brothers Hannaway.

Mr. H. E. High, the skating comic, was presented on Saturday last at the close of the usual performance by Mr. Herbert William Evans, at the Regent Theatre, Salford, with a beautiful travelling bag.

Mr. Editor,—Sir,—Your representative, in noticing the Palace, Reading, in your current issue, attributes clever imitations and characters from Dickens to another performer on the bill. The credit should go to, yours faithfully, Harry Braham ("The man with a hundred faces"). Hotel Cecil, London, Nov. 24.

Miss Carrie de Mar, the popular American comedienne, who has been styled the American Vesta Victoria, will depart from her usual line of work at the Coliseum next week, and will present a new type of American girl. The songs she will sing are catchy and the ideas novel. The act is under the personal direction of Joseph Hart. The repertoire of songs includes, among others, "Lonesome Flossie," which will be preceded by artistic poses.

La Devo, a charming young artist, is making a big success this week at the Canterbury with her novel song-scena, in which she introduces the sensational expanding cube. A small die measuring not over six inches instantaneously grows to fifty inches, and when this monster die is removed a pretty maiden is seen seated on a narrow platform. No drapery whatever is used in this illusion. We hear several of our most important magicians are anxious to obtain the secret of this sensational effect, and have offered La Devo tempting sums, which have not been entertained.

A remarkable development of a strike has occurred in Cork. During the dispute, Messrs. Dobbin, Ogilvie, and Co., extensive general merchants, had some perishable goods lying on the quayside. Two of the firm's carters were dispatched to draw the goods, but the strikers made them return without their load. They declined to go again, and were dismissed. Sir Alfred Dobbin, the head of the firm, is proprietor of the local music hall, the Palace. The late strikers, in sympathy with the dismissed men, have been picketing the hall during the week, with the result that large crowds assemble nightly outside the hall hissing and hooting anyone who enters.

SONGS, WRITERS, AND SINGERS.

(Continued from page 25)

Frank Cass's two great songs, "Vanity Fair" and "Which is the sinner and which is the saint?" have both been secured by Price and Reynolds.

Messrs. B. Feldman and Co. have just received a letter from Mr. Stanley E. Mullen, music publisher, of Melbourne. The following is a verbatim quotation:—"At the present moment I am holding back from everybody 'Tiny seed of love.' For your personal edification I may state that I heard this song sung on the way out at the first concert on board, and the girl singing it was compelled to sing it four times over before they would let the next item come on, and at the finish they wound up by recalling her and made her sing it twice; and at every concert they never broke up at the end without singing the chorus twice in conjunction with 'God save the King.'" Nuf said!

A song entitled "Harrigan," published by Messrs. Feldman and Co., promises to be one of the most popular comedy songs of the year. It has a rousing chorus, can be "dressed" in any style, and the catch-words "Harrigan—that's me" will shortly sweep the country. There are still a few towns where rights for production in pantomime may be obtained; the number of such, however, are lessening every day.

Mr. Charles Whittle is still simply "tearing up" his audiences with his latest and greatest success, "I want you to see my girl." This week at the Tivoli, the Empress, Brixton, and at Crouch End he is making, if possible, an even bigger success than during previous weeks. Messrs. Feldman and Co. inform us that although this song has only been produced a few weeks, it is as popular as "Put me amongst the girls" at the zenith of its fame, and that they are having as many applications for this year's great "girl" song as they had for last year's hit.

Principal girls have been taking Messrs. Feldman and Co.'s advice freely regarding their big production number, "The bubble and the Sunbeam." This song has such an ear-haunting refrain that, even without the effects, it is an instantaneous "winner"; but all the principal managers in the country are so enamoured with the startling effects—which were described in this paper a few weeks back—that audiences all over the country will at Christmas time be charmed by this novelty.

Messrs. B. Feldman and Co. have yet another novelty song in their unparalleled list of successes for the fast-approaching pantomime season. It is entitled "Come round on Sunday," written and composed by Mellor, Lawrance, and Gifford. It is an ideal "schoolroom" song, and principal girls and "babes," to say nothing of the managers, are scrambling to secure it for pantomime.

The inevitable song anent this popular pastime comes hot foot on the revival of the roller-skating craze. A tuneful waltz-time chorus number entitled "Come on the rink" has just been completed by Alfred Davies for the directors of the Earl's Court rink, and will be published by them during next week. It is intended that "Come on the rink" shall be a "free" song, and permission will be granted to all singers who write enclosing their professional card to "The Rinkeries," Earl's Court, where the melody, by its catchy lilt, is unconsciously being hummed by all who have once heard it on the band there.

M. Witmark and Sons, the cosmopolitan music publishers, are well to the fore with bright and breezy melodies for the coming pantomimes. The successful ballads "Love me and the world is mine" and "Will you love me in December as you do in May?" are too well known to require comment. The composer of these numbers has still another success, "As long as the world rolls on," which bids fair to rival his earlier productions. This number will be heard in every pantomime.

Mr. Charles Warren, the manager of Witmark's popular house, pins his faith on "Way down in Colon Town" as a big winner among the pantomime songs. This, to quote Mr. Warren, "is the most tuneful catchy melody, when properly sung, we have had since the famous 'My Tiger Lily.' It was only in one pantomime last year, as it was published too late, but its success was phenomenal. Many managers have secured it for this year, and its success is assured."

Miss Rachel Lowe emerges from her temporary retirement by appearing at Kingston-on-Thames next week. Miss Lowe has been utilising her leisure in perfecting herself in a new répertoire of novelty songs. "My Boy Bill," written by John W. Bratton, the composer of "My Cosy Corner Girl," will doubtless be as popular as Mr. Bratton's former songs, and is admirably adapted to Miss Lowe's peculiar type of comedy.

Frigson is still singing "Billy Brown" at the Tivoli. The song becomes more popular every day. The publishers, M. Witmark and Sons, are correspondingly happy.

Miss Margaret Cooper has secured from M. Witmark and Sons "Take me some place with you, Johnny." Miss Cooper saw the song for the first time on Saturday and produced it the following Monday with the greatest possible success. This quaint number, with its tricky chorus, will doubtless be heard all over Great Britain during the pantomimes.

Mr. Harry Freeman, who has been too long absent from the programmes of the West End halls, has arranged with M. Witmark and Sons for the music hall singing rights of a catchy song entitled "Don't forget to write me every day." Mr. Freeman has perhaps had more popular successes than any other legitimate comic singer, and ought to be a good judge of a song to suit his requirements, hence his choice of this number is highly complimentary to the cosmopolitan song merchants the Witmarks.

Miss Ouida Macdermott, who is playing the title-rôle in Mr. Chute's forthcoming pantomime at Bristol, has been delighting the Palace audiences with her rendering of that dainty song "My pretty little piece of Dresden china." Many of the principal pantomime producers will specially feature this number. The Star Music Co. are the publishers.

"Salome; or, A tin-tack here and a tin-tack there," is the quaint title of Harry Bedford's latest stormer. He has made a sensational hit with the above ditty at Nottingham this week. Pantomime artists who wish to secure the same must apply to the Star Music Co.

"Have you got another girl at home like Mary?" will be the question asked by many of the principal boys and girls this year. The above ditty has been a big favourite with variety artists and alfresco programmes all the season, and cannot fail to be one of the real good things for pantomime. The Star Music Co. are the publishers.

FELDMAN

. . THE . .

PANTOMIME MASCOT

FORECASTS

BOXING NIGHT TRIUMPHS.

CHARLES R. WHITTLE'S

"I WANT YOU TO SEE MY GIRL."

GEORGE LASHWOOD'S

"A WHITE MAN."

MISS MAUDE MORTIMER'S

"A TINY SEED OF LOVE."

"CONNEMARA."

"IT'S GOOD-BYE TO MAUDIE."

"THE BUBBLE AND THE SUNBEAM."

"I LIKE YOUR OLD FRENCH BONNET."

"PEGGY, THE PRIDE OF THE MILL."

"SHINE LITTLE MOONFLOWER."

MISS FLORRIE FORDE'S

"GIRLS, STUDY YOUR COOKERY BOOK."

PHIL RAY'S

"TRAMCAR."

"IT'S NOT SO MUCH THE WALTZ DREAM AS HER DREAMY, DREAMY EYES."

"WHAT YOU'VE GOT LOOK AFTER."

GREAT TOPICAL DUET FOR COMEDIANS,

"ICE CREAM! BAKED CHESTNUTS!"

"COME ROUND ON SUNDAY."

"HARRIGAN."

"GRETNA GREEN."

Artistes who are singing "White Man" in Pantomime can have extra verses by applying for same, giving place of production.

B. FELDMAN & CO.,

2 & 3, ARTHUR STREET, NEW OXFORD STREET, LONDON, W.C.

Telegrams, "Humfriy, London." Telephone, No. 4447 Gerrard.

SONGS, WRITERS, AND SINGERS.

Mr. Whit Cunliffe, who will sing "I don't care if there's a girl there" in pantomime at Glasgow this season, gave the ditty a trial at Southport last week, and wired the Star Music Co., "Song enormous hit, a certainty for pantomime."

Messrs. Sheard are receiving so many letters from artists informing them that they have decided on "Little silver moonbeam" as their principal number in the Dick Whittingtons, Robinson Crusoes, Aladdins, Sinbads, and other pantomimes, that its future popularity appears to be almost as assured as Queen Alexandra's Christmas Gift Book.

Two of the best and most popular pathetic songs published by Sheards are "Tying the leaves"—relating how an innocent child ties the leaves on the trees, thus hoping to delay the dreaded hour of her little playmate brother's voyage to the great beyond. The second is "I've grown so used to you," and is of the "Darby and Joan" order:—

"When your eyes so bright have lost their light
Your voice, so dear, no longer here
When you're called home and I'm alone
I won't know what to do.
If the Master knew how I'd miss you
I wonder if He'd call me too.
'Twould break my heart if we should part,
For I've grown so used to you."

Another song of the class that has proved most acceptable is that among which "When the sunset turns the ocean's blue to gold" and "When the fields are white with daisies" stand out so prominently. The best and latest of this order are Marcus Hope's "When the primrose comes again," "In the vale of Shenandoah," and "When the sunrise paints the distant hills with rose."

The humorous musical duologue Tell me, Dusky Maiden, that was so much in vogue with pierrot and alfresco troupes during the recent seaside season, is, so Messrs. Sheard inform us, in much demand for the approaching pantomime season. It will be remembered that this duet made a hit in a recent Drury Lane pantomime.

Miss May de Sousa, at the recent Playgoers' Club concert at His Majesty's Theatre, charmed the house with Messrs. Sheard's popular song "The sweetest story ever told." The sequel to this song entitled "A sweeter story still" is meeting with great success with the Lovelaces, the well-known song illustrators, on their Welsh tour.

"Girly girls" is the title of a new set of Lancers just published by Messrs. Charles Sheard and Co. In it are introduced the melodies of the catchy songs, "I can't get away from the girls," "Girls, girls, nothing else but girls," "Little silver moonbeam," "Hurrah for the old-age pension," "My limelight Lou," and a lot of other pantomime favourites.

"Don't wear your loving heart away for me" is the title of the sequel to Messrs. Sheard's popular song "I'm wearing my heart away for you." Those vocalists who have done well with the latter song should write Messrs. Sheard for a copy without delay. Messrs. Sheard, by the way, are the publishers of Tom Wootwell's last volume of songs.

Miss Ella Shields, who was so exceedingly successful at the Holborn last week with the Von Tilzer's company song, "Do you want any coal?" is also featuring at the Hammersmith Palace this week with huge success another song of the same publishers, entitled "When you've got no money in your pocket," a very melodious number.

The Von Tilzer Music Co.'s slide songs are proving very effective. Miss Ethel Sheffer is meeting with great success on the Macnaghten tour with a pathetic ballad, entitled "Since daddy's been taken away," the slides of which are really magnificent. Miss Helen Guest will produce on Monday next another of the same publishers' illustrated songs, "You're my girl in the springtime." These publishers, in a day or two, will have ready another excellent slide-song, entitled "In the village by the sea," which is also arranged for quartette.

It seems that "I'm wait-wait-waiting" (All I want is the man) will be featured by either the dame or principal girl in almost every pantomime. This song, with its quaint melody, swinging chorus, and strong vein of comedy, has already proved itself an assured success. Miss May Audrey, who featured it as her principal song in South Africa, is working it this week at the Canterbury. The publishers are Von Tilzer Music Co.

Wilkie Bard has secured half pantomime and music-hall rights with George Campbell for "I rattled my money-box." This song, which Mr. Bard will feature at Drury Lane, is written by Worton David, and composed by Alf. Ellerton, jun., and is to be published shortly by the Von Tilzer Music Co.

Miss Gertie Gitana is again scoring with that charming ballad by Andrew B. Sterling and Harry Von Tilzer, "In the evening by the moonlight, dear Louise," at the Holborn this week. This song is on the Von Tilzer catalogue.

The National Musical Publishing Company should indeed be highly pleased this year, for, in addition to their fine list of pantomime numbers, they have the two latest songs for comedians now in the market, viz., "Put me upon an island where the girls are few," which Mr. Wilkie Bard is definitely producing in the forthcoming pantomime at Drury Lane Theatre, and "You all want something to cuddle," for which Mr. George Lashwood predicts a great future. Needless to say he is working it in the Dublin pantomime.

"You all want something to cuddle" has been secured by Neil Kenyon for Old Drury pantomime, and Mr. Arthur Collins promises a special production to this number, as he is keenly interested in it. Mr. George Elliott, the chocolate-coloured coon, is producing it at the Prince of Wales's Theatre, Birmingham.

Mr. Tom Foy has secured Will Godwin's chorus hit, "When I've a hundred pounds," for Birmingham pantomime.

Mr. J. F. Elliston has secured the National Music Publishing Company's budget, and is specially featuring "Sal O! Sal O! Salome" and "I don't want to go on the Flip-flap," Miss Edith Fink's chic success.

The National Music Publishing Company are charging no fee for any of their pantomime numbers this year. Among them are the following: Lowenwirth and Cohan's chorus song, "My little Eva"; Fred Eiton's 100-guinea song, "When the leaves are tinged with gold"; George Lashwood's latest, "If it's a lady"; and Victoria Monks' two winners, "I wish I had a pal" and "Call round any old time."

Will Hyde is very busy just now, both selling and publishing songs. His two latest winners are "Good-bye, Jenny," sung by Kitty Colyer, and "Single and Married," Arthur Croxon's great chorus song.

MUSIC HALL LADIES' GUILD.

The second general meeting of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Oxford Music Hall, kindly lent for the purpose by the directors of that establishment. Mrs. Fred Ginnett, the president, occupied the chair, and she was supported on the stage by Mrs. H. Maud Gamble, the Mayoress of Chelsea, Miss Irene Rose, Miss Vulcana, Miss Belle Elmore, Mrs. Eugene Stratton, Miss Lottie Albert, Miss Freda Sharlotte, and Miss Melinda May (secretary). Amongst others present were Mesdames Bruce Low, Elsie Mitchell, Flo Blanks, Camp, Sadezki, Eve, Wilkinson, Northcote, H. M. Walker, Pope, Bell, Bennett, Gamble, Clarke, Toole, Hodgson, Agnes Boarfield, Kidson, Crowther, and Bourne, the Sisters Atlas, the Revs. Donald Hole, Stephen Barrass, and W. Cree, and Messrs. Bourne, Fred Ginnett, Lieut. Albini, C. D. Stuart, Arthur Rigby, Fred Sinclair, and Pat Carey.

The MAYORESS of CHELSEA, to whom Mrs. Ginnett presented a handsome bouquet, briefly opened the meeting, remarking that the Guild deserved the practical sympathy of everybody connected with the music hall profession. She thought that the committee deserved all praise for their untiring exertions in the cause of sweet charity, and she particularly eulogised the services of Mrs. Ginnett and Miss May.

The SECRETARY (Miss May) read the report and balance-sheet, which were as follow:—

REPORT FROM OCT. 1, 1907, TO JUNE 30, 1908.

The Music Hall Ladies' Guild, although progressing slowly, as it is still in its infancy, is to-day on a more firm foundation than a year ago, as will be seen by our financial report, which the committee now have pleasure in placing before you. £413 6s. 5d. was received from subscriptions, special donations, entrance fees, matinée profits, bazaar profits, and sundry other sources, in nine months, compared with £420 3s. 11d. received in the previous twelve months. Special notice is drawn here to the fact of this being a nine months' report, which was decided upon by the Executive Committee owing to the change in the secretaryship on July 1, 1908, and the opening of a new set of books on that date by Miss Melinda May.

The general expenses show an increase, being £194 against £126 of the previous year, the increase being for extra clerical assistance, fares for secretary's investigation of cases, and extra house expenses paid to Messrs. Spiers and Pond for washing and cleaning of garments, window cleaning, and charwoman. The amount of £5 10s. for collecting boxes is a permanent investment which will show wonderful results in our next report. This amount may seem rather enormous for collecting boxes, but they have already been more than twice paid for in the receipts obtained through them. The committee take this opportunity in giving grateful thanks to those people who have some of these boxes and are rapidly filling them over and over again. Some of them are being filled for Christmas, and the result is sure to be gratifying. The item of £11 2s. 10d. for badges is for badges for members of the Guild, that are being sold at a small profit, a good many of which we have on hand.

The figures £180 11s. 4d. show the great good work the Guild is doing, considering this sum has been spent in nine months in providing food, clothing, and general assistance to poor artists, as compared with the assistance given last year during twelve months, namely, £114 17s. 1d. Over 300 cases of distress and illness have been helped, many of which have been maternity cases. In these cases all clothing for mother and child are provided, all necessary food, and the medical attendance, including the nurse, for which the Guild pays. Many of the above cases have been helped with clothes and shoes. Again, others have had employment found for them by the Guild, such as programme sellers, dressers, supers, &c. Some have been placed as maids and housekeepers, and the necessary clothes to fulfil these positions supplied. In one instance—an incurable cancer case—a poor lone widow was placed in a cancer hospital, where she would be comfortable to the last. A private collection was made among a few of the committee to enable her to buy a few garments, as she was absolutely penniless.

The committee are always receiving letters of grateful thanks, such as the following:—

"Ladies of the Guild,—Thank you for your goodness during my trying time. One of the three pairs of boots you so kindly gave me (for the two children and one pair for my husband) is for a child whom only the greatest care can save from consumption. You can imagine how glad and grateful I feel for this gift, as it is his very life that is saved by being free from wet feet. Their last words to-night going to bed in their prayer were, 'God bless the ladies of the Music Hall Guild,' in which prayer I can only join.

"A GRATEFUL MOTHER."

"Dear Ladies,—I wish to thank the committee for their great kindness to me. The boots were a veritable God-send, and I am reminded of the ladies' kindness every time I put them on.—I beg to remain, &c., "C. V."

"To the Committee,—I am sure what you have done for us and our dear little babies has been truly a God-send, for I am sure we have passed many a hungry day; but for your kindness we would still have had to suffer.—Yours faithfully,

"MRS. J. G."

"To the Ladies of the Committee,—We thank the ladies for their great kindness to us during the last three months in sending us food and providing me with a doctor and nurse for my confinement, also parcel of baby's clothes. We are most truly thankful.—Believe me, yours, &c.,

"G. W."

The committee of the Guild give grateful thanks to all those who have helped us in this noble charity, including Dr. Morley Ager, Dr. Inglis Taylor, Dr. Walker, 93, Camberwell-road, Dr. J. Wilson, and Dr. Reed, who have continued their gratuitous services and have been most patient in their endeavours; the Rev. Arthur Brinckman for letters to enable us to place patients in hospitals and homes; Messrs. Roberts, Seyd, and Co., 312, Regent-street, hon. solicitors; Mr. F. H. Farey, A.C.A., 3, Love-lane, Eastcheap, hon. accountant, for preparing our balance-sheet; the M.H.A.R.A. for their generous donation; the Grand Order of Water Rats for their special donation; Mr. Phil Ray for his promise of yearly donation; the directors and Mr. Blyth Pratt, the manager of the Oxford Music Hall; and Mr. Morris Angel, costumier.

SUMMARY OF CASH ACCOUNT FOR THE NINE MONTHS ENDING JUNE 30, 1908.

Receipts.

	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
To Balance at Sept. 30, 1907, at Bank	113 19 2
In hand	5 0 0
		118 19 2
Music Hall Railway Association's Donation		50 0 0
The Water Rats' Donation		50 0 0
Special Matinée, Profit		102 4 0
Special Donations—
Mr. Eugene Stratton	5 5 0
Mr. Phil Ray	5 5 0
Mr. Joe Elvin	5 5 0
Mrs. George Page	5 5 0
		21 0 0
Sundry donations, subscriptions, membership fees, sale of badges, profit on Bazaar, and other receipts		190 2 5
		£532 5 7

Payments.

	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
By Stationery and Printing	7 15 11
Postages and Telegrams	30 4 0
Newspapers and Advertisements	13 19 3
Secretary's Fares	11 11 6
Secretary's Salary and Clerical Assistance	57 6 0
Rent of Office, paid in advance to June 24, 1909	32 0 6
Gas, Gas Fittings, and Coal	6 8 4
Press Cuttings	1 1 0
House Expenses	33 6 1
		193 12 7
Collecting Boxes		5 10 0
Badges		11 2 10
Food, Clothing, and Assistance to poor artists	173 19 9
Christmas Dinners	6 11 7
		180 11 4
Balance at June 30, 1908, at Bank		141 8 10
		£532 5 7

FRANK H. FAREY, A.C.A.,
Chartered Accountant.

The report and balance-sheet were passed by the meeting.

Miss IRENE ROSE made an appeal on behalf of the Guild, and asked her hearers to give a special thought to the children. The Guild wanted food and clothing so that they could help others in their distress.

Miss VULCANA and Miss CLARKE (of the Actors' Church Union) also spoke in similar strain.

Miss BELLE ELMORE then read the committee's appeal, which runs as follows:—

The ladies of the committee of this charity beg you to help us continue our good work. Now that Christmas draws near us we want your help more than ever, if possible. There are hundreds of poor children of the profession to whom we would like to give a good substantial Christmas dinner, a Christmas tree, and a small present. Last year this Guild entertained over 100 little children to a good dinner, a nice tree, and each happy child went home in the evening hugging a large parcel in his or her arms. How many of these, and, alas! how many more, are looking forward to the Guild Christmas dinner and parcel as the only Christmas joy they will know. In fact, not only the children look forward to the Guild for their Christmas happiness, and real Christmas dinner, but also several helpless and aged pensioners, some of whom are nearly eighty years old.

This Guild helps in many ways: in assisting the wives of artists who through lack of employment, illness, or misfortune, are in want of help, by supplying proper medical aid, food, coal, and other necessaries as may be required.

In maternity cases we especially provide all clothing for mother and child; food, medical attendance, and nurse being supplied for a stipulated time.

In this dread hour of need the Guild is a true friend indeed.

If you cannot give a large donation, please give a small one. We beg for your discarded garments of all sorts, men's, women's, and children's; they will help to make others presentable and obtain employment. All ladies are invited to join this Guild, and so help us to build up a very noble cause.

Mr. CHARLES D. STUART announced that the Variety Artists' Federation would be pleased to give a donation of five guineas towards the Christmas dinner. Mr. Fred Sinclair also promised five guineas, and Dr. Griffin handed in a cheque for one guinea.

The PRESIDENT (Mrs. Ginnett), in the course of her address, said: I, as President of this Guild, have great pleasure in briefly addressing you. I wish first of all to tender the thanks of the committee and myself to the directors of the Oxford Music Hall for so kindly putting this house at our disposal for our second general meeting. I also wish to thank Mr. Blyth Pratt. He has been most kind and courteous. I wish also to thank the ladies and gentlemen who have assembled here, and although there are not as many people here as I should like to have seen, it at least gives me great pleasure, and I must say courage, to find you all so appreciative of the good work we are trying to accomplish. Of course you must know this work takes up a great deal of our time. People say to me, "What do you all get in return?" I tell them there is only one thing we look for in return—gratitude. I would like to see every lady music hall artist a member of the M.H.L.G. We have a right to help provide for our own poor. We all know that all charities get imposed upon—that we must expect. I now want to point out to you one of our most stringent rules. We never give money, only the equivalent, when a family applies to us for help. The applicant is asked to fill up a form, saying how many are dependent upon him or her. If satisfactory, we then go to the nearest grocer, butcher, and coal merchant, and order sufficient for their present wants. We give boots, clothes, and try to find suitable employment. Immediate help is always given. We don't wait until the committee meet. We know that while the grass is growing the horse is starving. Ladies and gentlemen, I must now conclude.

The Rev. DONALD HOLE spoke of the good work done by the Guild, and proceedings terminated with a collection for the Christmas dinner.

THE PRIMROSES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—Would you kindly permit me to appeal through The Era columns to my ever good-hearted brother and sister artists to subscribe just as much as they can afford towards the most distressing case of the Primroses, otherwise known as the Sisters Worth? The details of the recent lawsuit will be fresh in the minds of your readers, and I need not therefore allude to it further than by stating that it will be a long time before the appeal which I understand the Variety Artists' Federation is taking up on behalf of these performers can be heard, and in the meantime they have absolutely nothing to live upon but the small weekly grant allowed them by our fund. Edith Worth will probably never be able to walk again—certainly she will never be able to perform on the stage, while her sister is recovering from an attack of brain fever. To be given £700 one day, and have it taken away a couple of days later—think what that means! Boys and girls, when I have asked you before to aid me in helping those in need and in suffering, right royally have you rallied round and handed over cheques, gold, and silver. I feel justified in asking you now for a case so thoroughly deserving of your sympathy and your subscriptions. I herewith enclose a donation to start the fund. Thanking you in anticipation,

Yours faithfully,
JOE ELVIN,
President V.A. Benevolent Fund.

Gaiety, Birmingham, Nov. 25.

[We have much pleasure in opening a fund, as Mr. Elvin wishes. Subscriptions sent to Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, Hon. Treasurer, at The Era Offices, will be duly acknowledged in these columns.]

ENORMOUS business is being done at the Hippodrome, Lowestoft. Ella's Lions, Garden's Royal Quintette of Scottish singers, dancers, and pipers, Tray and Rich, Eileen Bernard, the sweet Irish colleen, Everard, the gymnast, and Little Violet Melrose all score heavily.

THE LICENSING OF AGENTS.

DEPUTATIONS TO THE L.C.C.

On Friday afternoon, the 20th inst., a deputation consisting of Messrs. O'Gorman, W. H. Clemart, Wal Pink, Chas. Coborn, C. C. Bartram, G. B. Sinclair, Allison, George D'Albert, Fred Herbert, and D. Tribune attended before a Sub-Committee of the Public Control Committee of the London County Council for the purpose of recommending that all music hall agencies be registered.

Mr. W. H. Clemart read a long detailed statement of the case of the artists, represented by the V.A.F. The following is a summary of the statement:—

After a reference to the fact that some years ago certain of the music hall agents formed an Association and were successful through their appeal to the L.C.C. in avoiding the threatened registration which that body contemplated applying to all agencies, it was stated that at that time there did not exist any organised body of variety artists, or possibly the result might have been different. The L.C.C. was now asked to institute such registration as will make it impossible for any man or woman to act as a theatrical or music hall agent until he or she has proved to the L.C.C. that they are fit and proper persons to do so, and, further, that their businesses shall be conducted on principles which will recommend themselves to business men as fair and just.

"Our first claim," said Mr. Clemart, "is that we see very little, if any, difference between the agent who demands a fee before securing an engagement, and the agent who having secured an engagement is not content with a fair commission for having done so, but further forces the artists to sign an agreement that he will pay a like commission on the next engagement, whether made by the same agent or not."

Various copies of agents' commission notes were submitted for the Committee's consideration; and it was pointed out that the artist earning the larger salary was taxed less than the artist earning a small salary, an injustice so palpable that it needed no explanation. The rate of interest charged was as a rule 10 per cent., not, however, on the profits of the artist, but on the gross salary he received, out of which he had to find all his dresses, purchase songs, band parts, properties, make-up, tips to stage hands, subscriptions to agents and managers' testimonials, railway fares, &c. It was also pointed out that simple as the commission on the first or next engagement might look, it was in reality a perpetual claim on the artist owing to the manner in which it was manipulated.

Comparison was made with the commission charged in the theatrical business. The theatrical agent's terms are 10 per cent. weekly up to the amount of one week's salary each year the engagement may continue. Thus the actor ceases to pay commission after the first ten weeks, and pays nothing on the following thirty weeks, but the music hall artiste must pay on the full forty weeks. It was pointed out that the actor had practically nothing to find, and the music hall artist everything.

For two years the Variety Artists' Federation had endeavoured to bring about an amicable settlement with the agents, but without any satisfactory results. On two separate occasions the agents had broken off negotiations by refusing to meet and confer with the artists' representatives further.

Complaint was also made that many of the managers had thrown their weight on to the side of the agents, for the very obvious reason that they shared in the commission paid by the artists, generally to the extent of 25 per cent., and in many cases 50 per cent. of the commission in question. These managers and proprietors are refusing to do any business with those agents who have accepted the artists' conditions of commission, viz., 5 per cent. and no re-engagement.

Permission had been given to a number of V.A.F. members to transact agency business at 5 per cent., and they, too, were meeting refusals from most of the managers and proprietors.

"We claim," said Mr. Clemart, "that the division of commission between the agent and the manager is not a legitimate method of carrying on a business, and that no man, in whose power it is to say whether an artist shall be engaged or not should be allowed to take commission from the artist for a service he is rendering the proprietor."

The statement also contained the terms of registration of music hall agents in Germany and America; and reference was made to the complaints made by lady artists of the insulting conduct of certain agents. "It is a difficult matter, as can be easily understood, to get a woman to speak openly of her experiences in this direction, but so incensed have some of our members become that several have volunteered to give evidence on this point if it could be arranged."

It was suggested that a sub-committee of ladies might be appointed who would receive this evidence, and report to the Council afterwards.

"At the present moment owing to there being no authority to say who shall, or who shall not act in the capacity of a music hall agent, the business is open to any man, however black and disreputable his character may be.

"In conclusion, we feel certain that no honest agent will fear registration, as it will be a guarantee that his business is being conducted on fair and proper principles, and that his lady clients may freely enter his office without fear of meeting insults or being molested in any way.

"It should be understood that the members of the Variety Artists' Federation do not object to the existence of agents, but, on the contrary, welcome the services of those who will assist them on fair and reasonable terms to procure business.

"What they do object to is the unfairness of the methods at present in use, and will gladly assist the London County Council in arriving at a conclusion which shall tend to put the conduct of the music hall business upon a more soundly honest and moral basis than has hitherto obtained."

At the conclusion of the statement some of the members of the Committee asked questions, which were replied to by Messrs. Clemart, O'Gorman, and Chas. Coborn.

The chairman informed the deputation that the matter would receive further consideration, and the members comprising it then withdrew.

AN OLD SONG.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—Can any of your elderly readers inform me where I could get the complete words of the following old song, sung at a Glasgow pantomime some twenty or twenty-five years ago, in Mr. Bernard's time:—

"Oh, run for the doctor, there's a dear,
For I am really so awfully queer;
Run for the doctor—Doctor Jupp,
If you fall down don't stop to get up.
Tell him I've got the old attack,
Thingamy up and down my back."

It made a rare good comic song for Christmas.—Yours faithfully,

R. HUNTLEY.

Crosland Union, Huddersfield.
Nov. 22.

A CROWDED meeting was held at the Barry Hippodrome on Friday, the 20th. Among the speakers were the Right Hon. Geo. Wyndham, M.P., the Duke of Rutland, Mr. Walter Long, and Lord Ninian Stuart. The theatre was artistically decorated by Mr. Arthur Carlton, and the general arrangements were well carried out by Mr. Arthur Brogden. Selections by the Hippodrome orchestra, under Mr. Chas. Dunworth, were well received.

PRICE & REYNOLDS'
PANTOMIME SONGS.

"MAIDIE AND HER LITTLE TEDDY BEAR."
"RUN AWAY FROM OLD MAN GOBLIN."
"LITTLE MONEY SPIDER."
"BEAUTIFUL BRITTANY." "JEREMIAH."
"SHARE MY PAGODA." "FUNNIOSITIES."
"JESSIE THE FLOWER O' INVERNESS."
"MISS CARNATION." "MR. GOLLYWOG."
"IF I WERE A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT."
"MY WORD! IF I CATCH YOU BENDING."

CALL OR WRITE.
Professional Copies, Threepence each.
PRICE & REYNOLDS, 41, BERNERS STREET, LONDON, W.

FUNERAL OF KATTI LANNER.

"Of your charity pray for the soul of Katti Lanner." So ran the pious supplication of those left behind her, and on Saturday morning last, in St. Mary's, Clapham Park-road, S.W., the beautiful Church of the Redemptorist Fathers, was solemnised the Requiem Mass for the repose of the soul of this gentle lady—one whose chief mission in a strenuous and useful life has been the administration of hours of joy and comfort to her less-gifted fellow-creatures—amidst a large congregation of sorrowing relatives and friends. The celebrant of the mass was the Rev. Father McCabe, C.S.S.R., and during its progress some beautifully devotional music was rendered at the organ by Mr. Thos. F. Gale, L.R.A.M.. The whole ceremony was marked by a simplicity of style in true accordance with the sweet personality of the dead artist. This, however, did not prevent the large attendance of sympathisers in person to render their last pious tribute of affection to her they loved, and the almost endless succession of wreaths bore testimony to the still larger number of those with her in thought and prayer.

Amongst the mourners who sat in the church were Miss Lanner (a daughter) and Mlle. Lopez, and Mr. H. J. and Mrs. Hitchins, the popular Empire manager, representing the Empire Theatre proprietary, Messrs. F. and A. White, Mr. S. L. Bensusan, Mr. George Capel, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. F. Britton, formerly of Her Majesty's Opera, Mr. Chas. Wilson, Mr. R. R. Crompton, Mr. Thos. Barker, Mr. Rivers, and Dr. Howard F. G. Hughes. Many followed the cavalcade to the cemetery on foot and in vehicle, and on arrival at West Norwood a large concourse of fresh faces awaited the mourners. Here could be seen fellow-artists, pupils, chorus singers, stage hands, and others, many bearing traces of fatigue from their professional duties of a few hours earlier, but one and all assembled to take a last loving farewell of their lost friend and mistress. Nor, indeed, were the children missing.

Amidst a veritable wealth of exquisite floral mementoes were tokens from the following:—The Empire Directorate (an artistically touching tribute), the Empire Staff, the Empire Ballet, the German Dancing Masters, the Children of the National School of Dancing, the Members of the Family and Household, Mr. Rudolph Knoll, Mlle. Adeline Genée, Miss Topsy Sinden, Mr. Charles Wilson, and Mr. C. Wilhelm. The last concluding comforting prayer of the Church being uttered, the little crowd dispersed, and left her sleeping, with flowers for her pillow and a bird-song a lullaby. A pathetic coincidence may be chronicled in conclusion. Katti Lanner breathed her last at nine o'clock on Sunday morning (15th). Worn out, too, with the fatigue of years of devotional attendance, her old dog predeceased her by a few hours. She never knew this.

THE approach of winter will no doubt bring to the minds of our fair readers the fact of the necessity of extra warmth of clothing, and, what is more comforting than a fur stole and muff, to say nothing of the improvement in the appearance of any lady by such an adornment? To all and sundry lady professionals we say, should they so desire to add to their wardrobe, send to The Wellworth Manufacturing Co., 105, Cheapside, London, E.C., for their illustrated catalogue, and they will find, we think, the best of value in all kinds of furs offered at very moderate prices.

THE HIPPODROME.

In the programme now being presented under the able direction of Mr. Fred Trussell in the fine arena of the Hippodrome we encounter the Meteors, a trio of trapeze performers—two gentleman and a lady—whose feats on swinging trapezes in mid-air remind one of similar exhibitions in the palmy days of the Canterbury, when audiences were roused to the greatest enthusiasm by the daring and intrepidity of the Hanlon-Voltas. Aerial shows, for some cause or other, went out of fashion for a time; and their revival at the home of acrobatism in Leicester-square revives memories of the Ostaras, the Flying Eugenes, Cee Mee, the Leamy Girls, and other celebrities. The two male members of the Meteors accomplish all the more difficult flying feats of their predecessors, and change bars while swinging over the central arena from opposite sides, sometimes pirouetting in their flight, at others turning a somersault, and as a tour de force one of them turns a double somersault and catches the bar that is floating towards him with unerring accuracy. The exact timing of the swinging requires the greatest nicety of judgment; but any failure in the accomplishment of the feat only results in a graceful dive into the splendid net which is spread beneath the trio, who are rewarded with very hearty applause.

Mr. Horace Goldin, the lightning conjurer, is fulfilling a most successful engagement, and is exploiting a number of new tricks. Of course, as all those who have seen him know, with Horace "silence is Goldin," and he holds the attention of an audience without the spoken word. In an empty space surrounded by curtains he contrives to introduce a bedroom suite and the pretty and piquante Jeanne Fransioli, who acts later the part of the disappearing lady, whose escamotage puzzles everybody, even the curious gentleman in the balcony who insists on Goldin opening both doors of a remarkable cabinet to disclose emptiness, and a minute afterwards to reveal his fascinating partner.

Alexandre and Hughes, favourite jesters at this house, evoke considerable merriment by their patter, and show themselves to be good concertina players by their rendering of "Asleep on the deep." The Four Holloways accomplish the seemingly impossible on the tight wire, the lady doing some remarkable feats; and the Achmed Ibrahim troupe of Arabs form wonderful pyramids, and somersault with untiring energy and spirit. The music of the Spanish orchestra has a character of its own. The brass instruments are softened by the tones of a stringed bass, and the tone of an instrument resembling the Swiss picco is not altogether unpleasing. The precision and attack, too, are beyond praise, the selections being highly characteristic.

AT the New Hippodrome, Exeter, during this week, the famous prima donna Mme. Alice Esty has been delighting crowded houses with her exceptional vocalism; Gustave Fasola, the Indian Fakir, provides a delightfully mystifying turn; Fred Russell, with his automaton, "Coster Joe," justifies his claim to the title of premier ventriloquist; Lozelle contributes a remarkably smart acrobatic display; Jack Barker is a clever musical comedian; and Fergusson and Mack are well received in their diverting and humorous skit The Acrobatic Ballet Girls. Miss Dolly Denton's songs are much appreciated; and the usual up-to-date Hippodrome pictures complete.

VARIETY THEATRES.

DIRECTORS and MANAGERS
PLEASE NOTE.
A GENUINE SUCCESS.
"CHUMS TILL DEATH."
THE METROPOLITAN THEATRE OF VARIETIES.
Week Commencing November 30th.

Telegrams, "Playlet, London."
'Phone, 909 P.O., Croydon.
ALBERT MARSH,
St Margaret's,
Birchanger Road,
South Norwood

THE SHOWMAN WORLD.

FAIRS, FEASTS, AND WAKES IN ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, AND WALES FOR DECEMBER.

ENGLAND.

5. Portsmouth (Arcadia Drill Hall) (189,000)
10. Fun City (Olympia)
11. Boston (15,700)
11. Cobham (2,300)
11. Ringwood (4,400)
12. Liskeard (5,028)
15. Leighton Buzzard (6,400)
18. Rochdale (74,000)
21. Bilston (24,000)
21. Birkenhead (111,000)
21. Deptford (110,122)
21. Southport (48,400)
21. South Shields (97,300)
24. Bath (49,712)
24. Bristol (329,849)
24. Hendon (Welsh Harp) (17,000)
24. Jarrow-on-Tyne (31,000)
24. Middlesbrough (91,300)
24. Morecambe (12,000)
24. New Brighton (10,000)
24. Newcastle-on-Tyne (214,803)
24. Northampton (87,000)
24. Rushden (12,500)
24. Salford (Trinity Markets) (221,000)
24. Kirkby Lonsdale (1,600)
24. North Shields (50,000)
24. Preston (113,000)
24. Rowthorne (67)
24. Southampton (104,911)
24 Wellington (7,300)
24. World's Fair (Islington)
27. Uttoxeter (5,200)
28. Nantwich (7,700)
28. Sandbach (5,500)
29. Newport (Salop) (3,200)
29. Sheffield (361,000)
31. Rugeley (7,181)

SCOTLAND.

19. Govan (76,351)
21. Edinburgh (208,000)
21. Glasgow (622,355)
23. Motherwell (54,274)

WALES.

22. Caerphilly (16,000)
22. Morriston (15,025)
22. Pontypridd (23,000)
22. Swansea (54,275)
24. Cardiff (164,000)
24. Merthyr Tydfil (26,500)
24. Newport (Mon.) (67,000)

Kendal Hirings.

The principal concerns at this fair were those of W. H. East, E. W. Helm, J. Humphries, S. J. Rostron, W. Holland, and W. H. Taylor, and consisted of galloping horses, bicycle track, big boats, Winchester ranges, bottle batteries, and throwing games.

News from Warwickshire.

Our Midland correspondent writes:—"We have had at Studley Mr. C. Herbert's pony roundabouts, park swings, shooting saloons, and varieties and throwing games."

Millom November Hirings.

The pleasure fair at these hirings had for its entertainers, Fossett with circus, Ray with cinematograph theatre, Murphy with motor-cars, Emmerson and Hazzard with steam roundabouts, and all the other fun of the fair by various caterers.

Showmen's Social Gathering at Bolton.

Mr. T. Hurst, honorary secretary to the Showmen's Guild, has, in conjunction with Mr. Superintendent Pike, market inspector, made preliminary arrangements for the annual United Kingdom Showmen and Vandwellers' Protection Association's ball and supper at Bolton Fair. This social gathering is always marked by great local interest. The Mayor, the chairman of the Markets and Fairs Committee, and a number of the councillors of the borough have given it their patronage and presence. It will take place as usual in the Empress ballroom, and it will be on Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1909. Fuller particulars of this interesting event will be advertised nearer the time in our columns.

News from South Africa.

Paget's combined circus and menagerie paid a visit to Pietermaritzburg on Oct. 29, and stayed three days. Mme. Paget's daring performance with wild beasts provoked great astonishment. Willie Roya's dogs also gave surprising performances, and Bud Snyder's trick cycle act was a most acceptable turn. His marvellous somersault on a motor-car was witnessed with breathless silence. This concern is having a triumphant tour in the South African States.

York Great Fair.

As an indication of the abiding popularity of the fairs of the kingdom, the November Fair at York was a striking example. Every inch of available space is fully occupied, and the fair is only limited by the difficulty of extension. The big shows were Chipperfield's menagerie, and the three superb cinematograph theatres of Captain Payne, Tuby and Sons, and B. Howden and Sons. The high-class side-shows were Pattison's mechanical promenade, E. Ball's Princess Lilliput exhibition, Lewis's snake jungle, Westray's miniature menagerie, and Morley's novelty booth. The big machine novelties were motor-car and switchback sets by B. Howden and Sons, P. Collins, and A. Payne, and cakewalk machines by Richards and Monte Brothers.

Amongst the minor novelties were the rifle galleries and throwing games of George Cornwell, Messrs. Steward, Bass, Harrison, Lees, Leet, and Mrs. Johnson, and pannum stalls by Wright and Co. The fair was excellently set out under the expert management of Mr. George Woollens, Markets and Fairs Superintendent.

Ripon City Fair.

For the amusement of the citizens there were riding machines, swings, shooting concerns, and throwing games provided by Messrs. C. Marshall, C. Culline, Edwards, Mapplebeck, and stalls by local caterers.

Notes from Wales.

The chief attraction at Bridgend Fair was Messrs. Crecraft's Coliseum, which drew immense crowds during the fair, and remained at its conclusion for a week's private business. Messrs. Crecraft presented each night an admirably-arranged programme of up-to-date films, and dramatic and vocal turns by an excellent company of variety artists.

Messrs. Hagger and Sons have unfortunately provoked considerable opposition by a Sunday performance (of a religious character) given in their show on the Sunday during Carmarthen Fair. After considerable discussion of the Borough Council, when the question of the legality of these performances was raised, it was finally agreed that the clerk be instructed to draw up a new form of agreement for the letting of the Corporation land, such agreement to contain a clause prohibiting any entertainment of the kind taking place on the Sundays on the fairground or the Market-place.

News from Ireland.

Buff. Bill's circus and menagerie, now on tour in the Sister Isle, visited Sligo on Tuesday and Wednesday last week. So great was the success of the up-to-date programme submitted at each performance and so large the patronage given, the management determined very wisely to extend their stay. The house was packed to overflowing at each performance. The splendid horsemanship of Mr. Thomas Baker won great admiration, and the performance of the trained animals was a much-appreciated turn. A grand procession, headed by the cowboys' band, paraded the town each day, and was of course a big advertisement. Mr. Fred Lewis, the well-known and popular advance-manager, is booming the show, and he has had some very exciting adventures in piloting the show through some of the disturbed districts where cattle-driving is sometimes in evidence.

Guild Subscriptions, 1908.

Mr. George Green, £5; Hibbert and Sons, £5; Mr. John Green, £2 2s.; Mr. E. Geoghegan, 10s. 6d.; Mr. G. H. Prideaux (hon. mem.), 5s.; Mr. G. H. Cornwell, 10s. 6d.; Mrs. J. Cornwell, 5s.; Mr. S. Mercer, 10s. 6d.

CHURCH WORK ON THE FAIR-GROUNDS.

THE CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

PART I.

My itinerary of British fairs in 1908 took me wide afield. I visited fairs as far away as Glasgow and Greenock in Scotland, Redruth and Penzance in Cornwall, Darlington in the North of England, and Porth in the Rhondda Valley in Wales; the great provincial fairs of Birmingham, Manchester, Leeds, Hull, Leicester, Blackburn, Gloucester, Wrexham, Lincoln, Boston, and Oldham; the London great holiday fairs at Hampstead Heath, Wormwood Scrubs, Blackheath, and Wanstead Flats, and the old Charter fairs at Mitcham and Barnet.

I have been engaged in safeguarding the interests of showpeople threatened by inimical bye-laws at Reading, Hereford, Peterborough, Buxton, Manchester, Ealing, Dartford, Chester, and Ripon. In all, I have travelled over six thousand miles as Itinerant Missioner to the showmen of Great Britain.

Work in London.

During twelve weeks of the winter a great number of showpeople are stationed in London. Over two thousand of them make the Metropolis their business centre, and the great majority of them have permanent homes as well as their homes on wheels. They may be found, for the most part, under the great roof of the Royal Agricultural Hall, Islington, where they assemble for the World's Fair, or under cover at Olympia as entertainers at the Fun City.

Other settlements, or winter quarters, of showpeople may be found at Deptford, Stratford, E., Mile End-road, Shoreditch, Bermondsey, Fulham, Tottenham, Hounslow, Tooting, Lewisham, Sydenham, and Pinner.

It is whilst the London showpeople are thus settled and at home in winter quarters for three months that the best consecutive spiritual work can be attempted. It is then that I can minister directly amongst them. Besides van-to-van visitation, I am able to conduct Sunday evening services in show booths, hold conferences with the men, and have a Sunday School for children. Here, I venture to submit, as a significant proof of the general acceptance of my work by the showpeople, that the whole of the expenses attending the organisation and the carrying out of this work is gladly borne by the showmen. It is a self-contained and self-supporting mission; we never beg or take a subscription from outside friends.

In 1908 I held services on the Sunday nights in Mr. P. Collins's show at Olympia during the ten weeks' season of the Mammoth Fun City. These services were well attended, and when the last Sunday came round I was overwhelmed with expressions of gratitude. I co-operated in the scheme for providing an emergency day school at Olympia for the children of the shows. On the Sunday afternoons I held bright catechetical services for the children, and at the end of the time finished up with a festival service and distribution of prizes. To this service the parents of the children came in great numbers.

Speaking of this part of my work, the Rev. J. S. S. Shields, D.D., Vicar of St. Matthew's, West Kensington, writes:—

"During the winter before last I had the pleasure of attending some of the services for showpeople held in Olympia in this parish. These services were carried on with great reverence and earnestness by the hon. chaplain of the Showmen's Guild, the Rev. T. Horne, and I was much struck with the large number of showpeople that attended, and with the heartiness and reverence with which they joined in the services.

"Mr. Horne has won the affections of a large number of these people, whom it is impossible to reach by the ordinary parochial operations, and his earnestness and devotion to the work have made him a great power for good amongst them."

The Sunday School Chronicle, in its issue of Jan. 23, 1908, thus speaks of the work amongst the children:—

A Sunday School in the "Fun City."

"I paid a visit on Sunday afternoon (writes a correspondent) to the strangest Sunday-school I have ever attended. It was by no means a model school. Neither environment nor atmosphere was conducive to very thorough teaching, and no attempt had been made to 'grade' the scholars. These defects, however, can easily be pardoned in view of the special circumstances of the school. It is situated at Olympia, the 'Mammoth Fun City,' the school building being one of the booths used for side-shows of the variety entertainment character.

"The building wore its accustomed garb, and was brilliantly lit up with electric light. Here I found the Rev. T. Horne, the superintendent, at work. His scholars were children of all ages, sizes, and nationalities, and of more than one colour. They were children of the showmen and performers at the Fun City, and some of them were performers themselves. Here were tiny tots of the nomad race with their elder brothers and sisters, children from sunnier climes in their native costume, with shining black faces and bare legs, and a brother and sister whose gigantic proportions are a special attraction at the 'Fun City.' This pair are surely the biggest Sunday-school scholars of their ages on record! With such a mixed school class teaching is almost impossible, and Mr. Horne usually gives elementary catechetical instruction to the assembled scholars. On Sunday there were between thirty and forty scholars, all eager to respond to the questions asked and to join in the singing.

"This school, Mr. Horne told me, is connected with the Showmen's Guild. It was started in January of last year, and is meeting with great success. The parents are very keen that the children should attend Sunday-school, and they render all possible assistance. The children themselves take great interest in the services. Three lads, who arrived just after the conclusion of the school session last Sunday, were greatly disappointed at having missed the meeting."

It is during these winter months that the great gatherings of showpeople from all parts of the Empire take place at London, Manchester, and King's Lynn. At these great gathering-grounds of showlife I come into intimate touch with thousands of my people. I have at these general meetings of the Guild most valuable opportunity of touching and guiding the life of the whole body of travelling entertainers who maintain our national fairs, feasts, and wakes.

The Bishop of London takes a keen interest in my work, and recognises that his diocese is the natural centre for many departments of its endeavour. The Bishop of Manchester is also in thorough accord with the work of the Guild, and I hold his full authority to carry it forward in his great industrial diocese. The Bishop of Manchester has warmly commended my work both to the Archbishop of Canterbury and to the Bishop of London.

Starting My Itinerary.

The great fairs of England begin with the old charter fair, held on Feb. 14, at King's Lynn (locally known as Lynn Mart). It is at this fair that I begin my yearly itinerary. The Rev. R. Gordon Roe, Vicar of Lynn and Rural Dean, is the honorary local chaplain to the Guild, and the whole machinery of his parish is readily placed at my disposal during my visit to the fair.

In a commendatory letter the Vicar of Lynn says:—"I have known Mr. Horne for several years in connection with the annual mart [illegible] town, and I heartily commend his work as chaplain of the Showmen's Guild. I have long felt that Mr. Horne is doing a very valuable work with the showmen and travelling companies which no one else is doing. At the annual mart he usually preaches for us in our churches, and takes services in the shows on Sunday. I heartily commend this work, which has the advantage of being a definitely Church one."

I attended Wrexham Fair on Palm Sunday, and with the assistance of the parish clergy held an afternoon conference for showmen only and a Guild service at night, both meetings in a show on the fairground. The senior curate of Wrexham, the Rev. W. S. Probert, acts as Honorary Local Chaplain, and in the conduct of the service I received extremely valuable help from the choir and workers connected with the Parish Church branch of the Church Army.

On Easter Day I was at Blackburn Fair, one of the largest Easter Week fairs in the United Kingdom. During my stay at Blackburn I was the guest of Bishop and Mrs. Thornton at the Vicarage. I had the privilege of taking an Early Celebration at one of the outlying churches. I preached at Holt Trinity Church at the Morning Service, I held a conference for showmen only in the afternoon on the fairground, assisted at Evensong at the Parish Church, and after that took the Guild service and preached in a crowded show booth on the fairground. At this service I was assisted by the parish clergy and choir. Towards the end of the service Bishop Thornton arrived, and in a very kindly appreciation of the Guild work observed that he had come to the service in a double capacity—as Vicar of Blackburn and also as the assistant Bishop of the diocese.

A Bishop on the Work of the Guild.

He wished them to understand that behind the work of the Showmen's Guild was the power and authority of the Church of God. Not only did he warmly welcome the Guild chaplain, and most readily joined in the chaplain's effort at Blackburn Fair, but the Bishop of Manchester himself had warmly commended the work of the Guild, and had given the organising chaplain full authority to carry on the work in the diocese.

As Vicar of Blackburn he heartily welcomed the showpeople who came to them at the fair. There were no reasons (at least, none that he knew) why showpeople should not do their work in life upheld and sustained by the grace of God. If they provided wholesome amusement for the people of the busy centres of life at fairtime, and in doing that kept their hearts and life in touch with the grace of God, then he knew no reason why showfolk should not enjoy to the full the blessings and privileges of Holy Faith and Religion.

On Low Sunday my centre of work was Lincoln Fair. There, with the Bishop's blessing and the hearty co-operation of the Vicar and assistant clergy of the parish of the fairground, I held a successful afternoon conference for men only on the fairground, and the Guild service after Evensong. The choir of the church and a zealous band of churchpeople did yeoman service in maintaining the singing of the hearty congregational hymns. I took the service and preached. The Rev. B. W. Hancock, Vicar of St. Swithin's and hon. local chaplain, read the lesson, and at the end of the service, in a short address, warmly welcomed the showpeople, and expressed an earnest hope that they would not forget to call upon him for any spiritual necessity during their stay in his parish. He was very glad to have his brother worker, the honorary chaplain, with them, and he and the clergy of St. Swithin's were only too glad to assist in any possible way the very important work of the Showmen's Guild. He prayed God's fullest blessing upon the showmen and upon their life, and he begged them to remember, what the Guild chaplain had so well put before them in his sermon, that no matter what might be their business and calling in life, they must seek for and claim all the means of grace to enable them with a good conscience to do their work in the world.

The Venerable Bishop of Lincoln, who takes a keen interest in the welfare of showpeople, paid a visit to Lincoln Fair on the Friday of the fair week, accompanied by his chaplain, Canon Wilgress. They were evidently much interested in the capital array of popular shows, &c., provided for the amusement of the people. In an interview with the Bishop, the organising chaplain fully explained the aims and objects of the Showmen's Guild, and the right reverend prelate sent his blessing to the showmen, and an expression of his own wish that the Guild work might grow and prosper.

In response to a request from the Vicar of Boston I attended the annual pleasure fair. In preparation for my visit the parish clergy visited every show and van on the fairground and distributed notices of the services at the grand old Minster Church, and a special Guild service, after Evensong, in a show on the fairground. I preached in the morning at St. James's Church, in the evening at the Parish Church. I held the usual afternoon conference, and after Evensong conducted the Guild Service in a show booth at the fair. At this service I was assisted by the parish clergy, the organist and choirmaster, and the choir boys from the Minster.

A very interesting note about Boston Fair is, that the showman and his family in whose booth we held our service are Boston people. The children have all been educated at the Parish Church schools, and when the family are at home (in winter quarters), diligently attend their Parish Church. The Vicar, the Rev. R. T. Heygate, is our honorary local chaplain. During my week-end at Boston I was most kindly entertained at the Vicarage.

At Leicester Fair.

My next place was Leicester, where a fair is held about the middle of the month of May. The fairground is in the parish of St. Mark, and the Vicar, the Rev. F. L. Donaldson, is honorary local chaplain to the Guild. I held a business chapter of the Guild for the Midland Circuit, and delivered an address on the work of the Guild at the afternoon conference for men on the fairground. I preached at St. Mark's at Evensong, and again at the Guild service in a show booth at the fair. The clergy and choir and mission workers from St. Mark's took part in the service.

At the earnest request of the leading showmen of the North of England, I went to Darlington Fair, and held two splendid meetings in a show at the fair, open to showpeople only, to inaugurate the Guild work on the great North Round of fairs. Time did not permit the organisation of a service, but I intend to communicate with the Vicar of Darlington in order to bring the Church on to the fairground in 1909. I must here observe that I never attempt spiritual ministrations on a fairground without the consent of the parish priest.

I fully recognise that, although in its widest sense my parish is the whole of showland, I am, for the time being, only an assistant priest to the parish church during my time at the fair, and that the show-booth is for the time being a chapel-of-ease to the parish church.

It is a far cry from Darlington, in the north, to Redruth, in the west. It was at this quaint old Cornish town that I kept the Feast of Whitsun with my people. The Rector of Redruth (the Rev. J. W. Lane) threw himself most heartily into the work on the fairground, and the church choir rendered valuable assistance. I preached at the parish church at Evensong, and again at my own service in a show on the fairground. My afternoon conference for showpeople only was largely attended, and great interest in the work of the Guild was shown by the West of England showpeople.

(To be continued.)

"FAMOUS PICTURES OF THE WORLD."

Under the above title Messrs. W. Butcher and Sons, Ltd., Farringdon-avenue, London, E.C., have produced a series of eighty lantern slides chosen from the greatest artists from the most famous galleries. This set of slides marks a new era in the production of slides by mechanical means. The slides appeal especially to cinematographists, as they make a most interesting show for use in conjunction with picture entertainments.

MRS. SIDDONS (GAINSBOROUGH).

In selecting the subjects for this magnificent series of lantern slides, the endeavour has been to make the title, Famous Pictures of the World, a true description of them.

Much thought has been given in choosing from the great number of masterpieces available, that they should represent the art of many periods and schools, and that the pictures should be such that especially lend themselves to their projection on the screen.

REMBRANDT AND HIS WIFE (REMBRANDT).

No trouble or expense has been spared in the production of these slides, and a comparison of them with the pictures in the various galleries will be a convincing proof that in their colouring and technique they faithfully follow the originals. Price, complete with readings, 4s. per set of eight, 40s. per set of eighty.

ROLLER SKATING.

Three hundred skilled carpenters and joiners are engaged in constructing the largest roller-skating floor surface in the world. The mammoth Olympia exhibition hall, Addison-road West, will be opened Dec. 7 for a period of three months by Messrs. C. P. Crawford and Fred A. Wilkins, who have leased the Olympia for the months of December, January, and February during the years 1909, 1909, and 1910. It is the intention of the general-manager, Mr. C. P. Crawford, to operate Olympia on a high-class plane, and at all times maintain the best moral tone, on similar lines to the largest roller-rinks in America, which Mr. Crawford, who is an American, has exploited. Messrs. Crawford and Wilkins have built, and are at present successfully operating, a dozen rinks in the United Kingdom, every one of which is prospering beyond their most sanguine expectations. The indomitable energy and perseverance of this American pioneer of the rink game has proved a valuable asset and adjunct in innovating roller-skating rinks throughout the United Kingdom all in the last twelve months. The building of 100,000ft. of floor surface in less than a week is an apparently insurmountable task, and will require great effort and the utilising of the full twenty-four hours' time daily to consummate, necessitating the skilled carpenters working in eight-hour shifts, under the personal supervision of Bert Crump, who has constructed every skating surface in all rinks operated by Messrs. Crawford and Wilkins. Much care is necessary in the laying of the hard maple wood floor, especially imported from America for the purpose. The skating area must be as level and smooth as glass to offer the least resistance to the skaters' effort. Ball-bearing skates, the most modern make, the product of the Samuel Winslow Skate Manufacturing Co., of Worcester, Mass., U.S.A., will be used, and the skaters will be enabled to glide through space with little apparent effort and with great speed; no turning of abrupt corners as prevails in small skating areas, as once around the Olympia rink means a quarter of a mile has been traversed. H.M. 87th Royal Irish Fusiliers Band from Aldershot, under the directorship of Bandmaster A. J. Dunn, will furnish the best music at the morning, afternoon, and evening sessions. The aim of Messrs. Crawford and Wilkins will be at all times to maintain a high-class place of amusement for the best social element of London, who are patrons of refined institutions of amusement. Patrons of Olympia will be forcibly impressed with the perfect system and non-confusion attendant. This perfection of the essential details will necessarily conduce to the peaceful enjoyment of the great pleasures to be derived from the healthful athletic diversion of roller-skating. Numerous social functions during the season will be held in the form of full-dress Cinderellas, gymkhanas, or sports on skates. Barnyard and other grotesque carnivals and numerous novel and unique entertainments will be given from time to time. The closing weeks of February will witness the greatest six-day race on roller skates ever before put on between the best-known contestants in the racing world. The opening weeks, beginning Dec. 7, Professor H. A. Simmons, from America, will give exhibitions of his marvellous skill on rollers. Professor Simmons enjoys the distinction of being indisputably the most phenomenal and versatile roller-skater in existence, an artist without a peer in the profession. The immense sum of £10,000 will have been expended before a pound has been taken in. Olympia is the largest undertaking in the twenty years' skating career of Mr. C. P. Crawford, and Messrs. Crawford and Wilkins are most sanguine of the immediate and signal success of the new venture.

The "Bubble Fountain," a very pretty pantomime effect, which was described in this journal a few weeks ago, seems to have been taken up with great favour by pantomime producers. It will be seen at the Theatre Royal, Edinburgh, and five of Mr. Elliston's pantomimes, at the Prince of Wales's Theatre, Birmingham, at Glasgow, and at the Coronet and Kennington Theatres.

STORIES OF SHOWMAN LIFE.

By the Rev. Thomas Horne
(Chaplain the Showmen's Guild).

[Copyright.]

CARAVANNERS.

The first scene in this short drama of life is laid in the cosy corner of a somewhat infamous house of call for members of the criminal class. "Corney" Cooke, well known to the police as apt to "go a burgling," is enjoying the perusal of the daily papers with an eye to business, or as he was wont to phrase it, "Looking aht for a jolly good mark, colly." Suddenly he became absorbed in a special article under the title, "Going a Caravanning," when all and sundry were told the romantic advantages of life on the road in a gipsy van. The article was illustrated by pictures of the happy (and rich) disciples of the simple life, showing my Lady Lydia Pertinax and the Hon. Gilbert Pewdley in their most picturesque costumes as the amateur gipsies. The article gave the details of the hiring of the caravan from the Queen of the Gipsies in Epping Forest—of course, regardless of cost. The expensive and luxurious addenda to its normal outfit, and, amongst other proper things, a staid and discreet chaperone for the Lady Gipsy, lest the wine of the free life disturbed the excitable brain of the Hon. Gilbert. There were scenes of the Caravanners on the March—Outspanning for the Night—Lady Lydia on the Steps of the Caravan—the Hon. Gilbert erecting his separate tent at a respectful distance away from the sanctuary of the ladies. The whole party were shown at idyllic meals by the roadside. In fact, everything was done by word and picture to impress the million and one readers of The Daily Gossip with a due sense of the joy of being my Lady Lydia Pertinax and the equally entrancing—perhaps more so—delight of being that dashing squire of dames, the Hon. Gilbert Pewdley.

As the enterprising burglar read on, his face betrayed somewhat—he had an expressive "dial"—the workings of the mind it tried to mask. With a stub of pencil he carefully wrote out the route of the caravanners for the next ten days, most obligingly supplied by the writer of the special article, doubtless moved thereto by the amateur gipsies, who, although experimenting in the simple life, were not averse to having the encouragement of an occasional audience. What is the value of a pose if no one be nigh to see you do it?

With the cryptic remark, "It looks like good biz," Corney Cooke pocketed his few notes and departed.

We now ask you to pay attention to the second scene in our play. The background is the shelter of a well-wooded plantation by the roadside in a lonely part of Norton, near Chipping Ongar. An ideal spot for idyllic events. Here were the caravan, the tent, the open-air cooking range, and the tables and chairs in ordered array, and with these things the happy caravanners—My Lady, her chaperone, and the useful attendant cavalier. Here they were after exciting adventures and much social distinction, and many more press notices, half-way through their projected tour in a gipsy van, tanned by the sun and full of rude health, getting nearer and nearer day by day to mother earth, and more and more away from the artificialities of a somewhat over-rated civilisation.

The wine of life had indeed reached the brain of the Hon. Gilbert, but the effect had been to stimulate the better man in the conventional gentleman. He was already beginning to understand the saner elements of a closer touch with Nature that the simple life is meant to secure.

My Lady Lydia, too, had tired of posing, tired of pressmen and photographers, and had suggested breaking faith with the public, and really taking an unknown route for the rest of their time. It was a pleasant renaissance of real life in a character already marred by indulgence in an artificial one.

At Chipping Ongar Fair they had had most delightful experiences of the life of real caravanners; the showpeople had been charmed by the friendly overtures of the amateur vanners. The knight, the lady fair, and the necessary she dragon had been taken into the fellowship of the road with a genuineness and warmth that surprised and delighted them. You will notice that they had, in fact, succeeded at this stage of their journey in getting nearer to the heart of things.

. . . . . .

Within a few minutes of closing time at the village inn of Norton, three men arrived in a trap. After hastily partaking of refreshment, they drove away, with the remark that they must put up for the night in their regular quarters at Ongar.

Curiously enough they either lost their way, or, as Handy Andy expresses it, "They went the roundabout road for the nearest," and under the cover of the night did a desperate and most dastardly deed. The inwardness of this deed of despite in the dark of the night will be understood when we tell you that Corney Cooke, the cracksman, who had the centre of the stage in our first scene, was the leader of the midnight band of three.

. . . . . .

The third scene is the same as the second. The time is the early morning. The rising sun is calling all Nature to carol its Matin song. There is an ominous silence at the wayside camp of the amateur gipsies.

A significant disorder marks both the tent of the Hon. Gilbert and the van of the ladies. All is silent—too silent—in that scene of vocal life, with birds singing on the wing, and the "little beasties of the field" seeking their food in the wild abandon of their early morning security from ravening man.

There breaks upon the air a merry sound of fast-speeding horses, of jingling bells, of happy, human voices. Past the bend of the open road appears rapidly in sight the racing cavalcade of a circus en route for Chipping Ongar for one day's performance. Hardly noticing the campers by the wayside the leading carriage passes it by. The circus proprietor smoking his morning pipe in the open doorway of his caravan is attracted by the ominous look of things by the wayside. He quickly sounds a halt, and the whole concern is stayed whilst he and a few others make a rapid investigation.

"Good God!" was the affrighted exclamation, as he staggered back from the tent door. "Quick, this way. Foul murder, I fear, has been done."

Immediately a dozen ready helpers were at work, and out of the tent, still reeking with the fumes of ether, the body of Pewdley was carried. He was tightly bound in a roll of matting, so tightly bound that the poor fellow was livid with the hue of death. As the showmen were dealing with him, the proprietor and his wife ran to the living van, and there an equally terrifying sight met their view. Both the ladies, bound and gagged, were found prone upon the bed. At once they were liberated and restoratives applied. Both sufferers were too hysterical for a time to tell any coherent tale of the dark deed of the night. The first to recover was the unfortunate man, who, in a few disjointed words, told the story of the attack upon him in his sleep. How after a valiant fight he was overcome more by the ether than by brute force.

The end of the play is the capture and the just punishment of the Corney Cooke gang; joy bells and music for the wedding of the knight and the lady; and the pensioning off of the she dragon. The stage crowd includes the merry men and the equally merry women and children of Forecette's Imperial Cirque and Hippodrome.

FILM GOSSIP.

Showmen and Managers throughout the United Kingdom, and in every English-speaking country, will find in this column particulars of some of the best and newest Films in the Market. Many of these Films we have seen ourselves, and can confidently recommend showmen to add them to their list of attractions.

Pathé Frères.

THE ROAD OF LIFE.—This is a simple and touching story of two orphans, taken care of by their grandmother, and living a free and happy life, full of the pleasures and healthy exercises the country affords. They are a perfect picture of youth and strength, and a striking contrast to the old woman, who bends more and more towards the earth as each day comes to a close, thus giving the impression of a beautiful evening—that long evening which must come for each of us, with no morrow and no future that those left behind can see. Granny dies, but the remembrance of her kindness will live for ever in the hearts of her grandchildren.

SPANISH BLOOD.—This is a vivid picture of the manners and customs of Spain, taken amongst a marvellous landscape. The beautiful Carmen is courted by two dashing young men, and the one she prefers is a married man. On learning this, the rejected lover goes and warns the wife of his rival, who now has only one desire, that of killing the girl. She goes and searches for her, and as soon as she has found her there takes place between the two women a savage duel with navajas. At last the wife is fatally wounded, and as her husband bends over her in a dejected attitude, Carmen takes him under her arm and carries him away, without stopping smoking her usual cigarette.

THE SERVANT OF AN ACROBATIC FAMILY.—In the house of the Pawsups one cannot move without getting out of joint or losing one's balance. They have just engaged a new maid, whom they train to their peculiar ways. The mistress of the house shows her how to fold up a tablecloth without disturbing the balance of the things which are placed on it, to make the bed by means of successive capers, and to clean the floor at the same time as performing some clever acrobatic turn. The maid does her utmost to follow the example set to her by her new masters, but if she finds it difficult to walk on her head, she thinks it very easy to turn everything upside down, and when her masters see the mess she runs away. There ensues a very comical chase through every room, after which the acrobats, having made the servant come out of a cupboard, get up a magnificent apotheosis, which forms a really good finish for this subject of a good cinematographic effect.

THE VAGABOND.—In the dusty road a tramp entreats a few peasants to give him shelter for the night; but with the usual prejudice of those who have a home against the wanderer, whom they look upon as an intruder, they drive him away. As he passes through the village he overhears a quarrel between two peasants, but having found a large stone he prepares to rest his head on this hard pillow. Presently one of the two opponents comes to him and offers him a small sum of money to kill his enemy. The tramp refuses to listen to him; but, after a moment's thought, he makes up his mind to warn the threatened farmer. Arrived at the latter's house, he calls him loudly. The farmer, hearing the noise, takes his hunting gun from the wall and fires at the figure outside. The tramp is severely wounded, but he braces himself for the effort of telling the object of his coming. Thanks to him, the farmer can avoid the resentment of his enemy, and the tramp is cared for at the farmhouse, where everybody soon loves him for his kindness and courage. In spite of his host's entreaties, the tramp goes away one fine morning with his bag on his shoulders and his stick in his hand, for the attraction of the high road is too great for him.

THE LOCKET.—The little boy in this picture has been kidnapped by gipsies, who beat him and illtreat him in order to make him perform all sorts of acrobatic turns. One day their wanderings bring the whole gang to the town where the boy's mother is staying, and the kindly lady takes an interest in him because he is of the same age as her lost boy would have been. The gipsies, thinking she must be rich, assault her in order to rob her, but the boy defends her, and after a time he is so exhausted that he faints in the arms of his mother, who recognises him on account of the locket he still wears round his neck.

THE DOINGS OF MR. EASYFED.—This is a most laughable subject. Mr. Easyfed is possessed of many and sundry tricks which enable him to eat at the expense of simpletons. A policeman is sent after the unseizable Easyfed, who slips through his hands like an eel, but goes and falls into the outstretched arms of two gendarmes, who happen to be there on their way to some other errand. Easyfed is marched off to the police station to the abashment of the policeman, who looks rather miserable and dejected at not having been able to capture his quarry.

Edison Manufacturing Co., Ltd.

THE JESTER.—A beautiful young queen, having arrived at a marriageable age, her councillors decide that she must marry. Proclamation is made, and suitors are invited to contest for her hand. The queen's jester—an ugly dwarf with a heavenly voice—is passionately in love with her. He pours forth his love in a melodious strain under her balcony window. The queen, entranced, begs him to reveal himself; but he refuses, whereupon she drops her scarf to him as a token, and retires to dream of a mysterious prince who will come to claim her. The "prince" not forthcoming, couriers are sent far and near to hasten the errant one's arrival, and announcement made that no one but he who can produce the scarf may claim her. On the day that the couriers are to report, the Court is assembled in grand array. The queen is disappointed at their failure and is about to dismiss them, when the dwarf produces the scarf and avows his love. He is cast into prison for his effrontery, and pines away, until the gods, pitying his plight, transform him into a beautiful youth, and set him free in resplendent attire. Wandering disconsolate at the queen's behaviour, he sings a farewell song under her window, is captured by the guards, and brought before the queen, who acknowledges her love, and they are united amid universal rejoicing.

SAVED BY LOVE.—Love is the greatest power in the world: it "rules the Court, the camp, the grove, and men below and saints above; for love is heaven, and heaven is love." This picture illustrates the influence of love in moulding a man's life. A crusty old uncle whose niece refuses to marry the man he selects leaves a clause in his will requiring that she marry on a certain day or be disinherited. Confronted with the loss of a fortune or immediate marriage, reluctant to forgo her freedom, being as yet "heart-whole" and "fancy-free," she decides on a plan that allows a loophole. A homeless man—drifting, discouraged—is induced to become her husband, and paid a large amount on condition that he absent himself for a legal period, and then submit to a divorce. After the marriage he decides on a fitting celebration. Comfortably seated in a saloon, he muses over the strange adventure. In a reverie he sees again the woman he has wed. Amused at first, the "man within" awakes, and he resolves to meet Fate's jest with one to match—to earn a name and fortune and return and win the love of the woman he has wed. In the West, seeking gold, he prevents a stage-coach hold-up. Among the passengers is an Eastern banker, from whom he receives an invitation to call when in New York. "Striking it rich," he returns East at the time appointed. He meets his wife at the banker's under an assumed name. It is a case of love at first sight, but her happiness is shadowed by the memory of her hasty marriage. Her lawyer advises that her husband will be on hand at the time agreed. Of course, what happens can be imagined.

ON the subject of the giving of cinematographic entertainments, and particularly in respect of the objections that have been raised by certain people to them, the Carmarthen Weekly Reporter offers some very sensible comments. This is what the editor says:—

"There has been a great searching of hearts over a bioscope entertainment given at the Fair-ground on Sunday. The circumstance that the pictures exhibited were of a religious character has no bearing on the legal aspect of the case. The display was not a religious service; indeed the use of pictures in connection with religion is contrary to the theological views of the majority of the Carmarthen people. In Austria the bioscope is recognised as a means of piety just as the stage is used at Ober-Ammergau. In this country, however, both stage and bioscope are not regarded as being in any way connected with religion, and must be regarded as purely secular.

"The sole question which then faces those concerned is 'Is it legal to exhibit animated photographs on Sunday?' There is nothing in Sabbatarian legislation forbidding entertainments I believe. A good deal of the Sabbatarianism of England during the past two or three centuries has been due not to any statute laws but to the customs and the sentiments of the people. There is nothing to prevent a proprietor of a bioscope giving an entertainment except a statement in the Act that no 'workman, artificer, or . . . or any other person shall pursue his ordinary occupation on the Sunday.' It has been held in the High Court that 'any other person' only means persons of the same class as those already mentioned, and a case against a barber was dismissed on that ground. It certainly would not include the proprietor of a cinematograph.

"It is quite within the rights of those who believe that such entertainments are a violation of the Sabbath to use their influence to prevent others attending them. It is quite within the rights of those who believe in keeping Lent to use their influence to induce their fellow-men to become vegetarians for that period. There is a kind of Sabbath-breaking which is illegal; there is another kind which is simply contrary to the religious ideas of many good people in this country. The Town Council have considered the matter, and the Town Clerk has not been able to advise them that they had power to stop this entertainment.

"Nothing is more fatal to religion than an attempt to invoke the aid of the police to make the nation religious. There is one thing which Sabbatarians should never forget, and that is—whether they are right or wrong, they are calling in the arm of the State to enforce their religious ideas on those who differ from them. This is never a wise policy at any time. The strict British Sabbath is unknown on the Continent, either in Lutheran or Catholic countries. There is a good deal to be said in favour of one whole day a week being devoted to complete rest, but that is an object which can best be obtained by the influence of the churches and not of the policeman. The Corporation might prevent a recurrence of the entertainment on Sunday at the Pleasure Ground by having a covenant with the lessee to that effect. If they really desire to prevent such things, that is a practical way—and the only practical way."

CINEMATOGRAPH FIRE-EXTINGUISHING APPARATUS.

On October 6th last the Cinematograph Operators' Union was invited to send a deputation to inspect an apparatus for extinguishing fires in connection with cinematograph machines. It was shown at the offices of Messrs. Barrasford and Fulton, the inventors. The invention was exhibited and explained to a considerable gathering of experts and others on Thursday, in the ring at the Hippodrome, under the auspices of Mr. Walter Reynolds, who takes such a deep interest in this important question. The apparatus consists of a tank supported on four legs and containing two or three gallons of water. A semicircular "sprinkler" is suspended above the cinematograph machine by a pipe which is connected with the tank. When the film is ignited, a thread which restrains a valve in the tank from opening is consumed, and a shower of water descends from the "sprinkler" and puts out the flames.

Mr. Walter Reynolds explained that the apparatus had been chosen by him from a number of other inventions which he had examined.

A practical demonstration of the working of the invention was given; after which it was severely criticised by several of the experts present, including Mr. A. C. Bromhead, of Gaumont's, Mr. S. J. Henry, Secretary of the National Association of Cinematograph Operators, Mr. J. Brandon Medland, of Vitascope fame, and Mr. Leo Kamm, scientific engineer, all of whom found serious fault with the apparatus.

It was complained that it was not exhibited under working conditions, that there would be a difficulty in obtaining sufficient water to extinguish a big blaze 4ft. wide, and that it could not be fixed in a small hall; and it was stated that far better appliances were now on the market. Mr. Reynolds vigorously combated the criticisms passed on the machine which he "fathered," and there was a warm and energetic debate, which ended in Mr. Reynolds announcing to the meeting that Mr. Stoll had kindly offered to lend the Hippodrome on some date within a fortnight for an exhibition of all the inventions which had been made for the purpose of extinguishing cinematograph fires. It was suggested, and agreed, that the inventions should be tested under actual working conditions. This announcement, was received with applause, and the meeting separated.

THE adjourned inquest was held at Swansea on Saturday on Wallace Bridger, forty-five, better known as Prof. Wallace, a variety artist, who, after shooting at his wife, committed suicide. The jury returned a verdict of "Suicide whilst temporarily insane."

AT the Empire Theatre, Cradley Heath, we have Gustave's Royal Pierrots. The Columbia Comedy Quartette win encores for their capital songs; Mr. Will Parkin has a powerful voice, and pleases the audience; Miss Bessie Farrell does a smart turn; Miss Trixie Simmons dances well; Mr. Chas. Bradley possesses a sweet tenor voice; Miss Marion Collins sings in good style; Miss Fannie Collins gives a smart entertainment; Miss Lizzie Levaine gives a graceful exhibition of terpsichorean art; Mr. Fred Terry and Mr. Louis Vanse are capital comedians; Miss Ida Conway's voice has compass and sweetness; Mr. Victor Silvernie deserves mention for his capable act; Miss Edith Levaine, as an adroit instrumentalist, would be difficult to equal; and Little Charley Terrors is a droll comedian.

Visit of the King and Queen of Sweden.

A fine portrayal of the Royal journey to the Guildhall has been obtained by our operators, who were stationed at Oxford Circus and Guildhall.

A unique motion picture secured from the best possible positions.

ORDER AT ONCE.

Our Indian Empire.

Owing to the great success that attended our first series of this production we have now prepared a

SECOND SERIES.

Beautiful Photographic quality, and full of interesting views of travels and of the great cities of this vast section of our great Empire.

Write now for particulars. Enquiries dealt with in rotation.

NOW READY.

Telegrams—Chronophone, London. Telephone—2430 Gerrard.

THE GAUMONT FILM HIRING SERVICE,

The Cinematograph Specialists,

CHRONO HOUSE, 5 & 6, SHERWOOD STREET, and 18, DENMAN STREET, PICCADILLY CIRCUS, LONDON, W.

Tel.: Bioscope, Glasgow. Glasgow Office—142, TRONGATE. Phone: 787 Tron.

AND AT

PARIS, BERLIN, BARCELONA, BRUSSELS, MILAN, MOSCOW, & NEW YORK.

KINEMATOGRAPH REGULATIONS

RESPECTING THE USE OF THE

KINEMATOGRAPH

IN

THEATRES & HALLS,

ALSO THE

REGULATIONS

RESPECTING THE USE OF

LIMELIGHT

CAN BE HAD,

Price ONE PENNY (by post 1½d.)

FROM

"THE ERA" OFFICES,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, W.C.

Telephones No. 4747 and 1433 Central.
Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

All those who handle the Cinematograph or Limelight should possess a copy of these Regulations.

KINEMATOGRAPH COPYRIGHT.

THE LAW AFFECTING THE SAME.

BY

WILLIAM JAGO, F.I.C., F.C.S.,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW.

Price SIXPENCE.

Address, THE PUBLISHER,

"THE ERA" OFFICES,
5, TAVISTOCK-ST., LONDON, W.C.

Telephones: Nos. 4747 and 1433 Central.
Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

EDISON FILMS

NOW READY FOR SHIPMENT FROM THE FACTORY, ORANGE, N.J., U.S.A.

SAVED BY LOVE.

Love is the greatest power in the world, and its power to mould a man's life is the basis of this dramatic subject. It is a wordless story of a dead man's will, a young girl's marriage with a homeless, discouraged man to gain the inheritance of her uncle, and finally falling in love with the man she has wed.

No. 6391. Code, "Vendicom." Approximate Length, 900ft.

THE JESTER.

The Queen's Jester, an ugly dwarf, is in love with his regal mistress. His love becoming known, he is cast into prison. The gods take pity and transform him into a beautiful youth. Again he sings to the Queen, and is brought before her. She acknowledges her love, and they are married.

No. 6392. Code, "Vendidico." Approximate Length, 930ft.

LATEST SUBJECTS.

No. 6383 THE LOVER'S GUIDE.
No. 6384 A VOICE FROM THE DEAD.
No. 6385 THE BRIDGE OF SIGHS.
No. 6386 EX-CONVICT NO. 900.
No. 6387 MINSTREL MISHAPS.
No. 6388 A FOOL FOR LUCK.
No. 6389 THE ARMY OF TWO.
No. 639 FOOTBALL WARRIOR.

EDISON KINETOSCOPES.

UNDERWRITER'S MODEL Latest Type B (One Pin Movement) price £47 5s.

(WILL IMPROVE YOUR EXHIBITION 50 PER CENT).

Improved Take-up, Rheostat, Automatic Shutter, Revolving Shutter, Arc Lamp Adjustable Stand, Metal Cabinet, Film Guard, Film Protector, Motion Picture Lens, Metal Slide Carrier, Film Rewinder, Steel Faced Fibre Gears, Star Wheel, Cam, Cam Pin, Shaft, &c.

EDISON IMPROVED EXHIBITION MODEL (One Pin Movement), price £32 11s.

EDISON UNIVERSAL MODEL, price £15 15s.

EDISON MANUFACTURING CO., Ltd.,

Edison Works, 200, Victoria Rd., Willesden, London, N.W.

LONDON VARIETY THEATRES.

THE BEDFORD.

There is an excellent bill at this popular resort for the current week, and capital business is the result, a satisfactory state of things that must be very gratifying to Mr. B. Pearce Lucas, who may be complimented on his catering. At the head of the programme is Mr. Leonard Mortimer, a great favourite here, who is paying a very welcome return visit in his great bank sensation sketch, Captain Cash. In this most thrilling episode he gives his clever impersonation of the daring swindler, and is supported by a capital company, who unite in a performance of much merit. The sketch is lavishly staged and is entirely successful.

An early turn is Mr. Low Peterman, who, we believe, was in the recent singing contest. As a Hebrew comedian he makes a decided hit, his idea of a Yiddisher coon song being distinctly funny. Miss Madge Ainsley, a dainty young lady, sings and dances herself into favour, and gets a capital reception. A display of expert banjo-playing is given by Elton and Edwin, who, in a varied selection, prove themselves to be first-rate musicians, and fully deserve the applause their efforts elicit. Fyne and Fayne, described as a confabulating couple, are amusing in their songs and patter. A very novel turn is that given by Grogie, whose sketches of a country yokel and of the "oldest inhabitant" are exceedingly clever.

Constance Mori, in a pretty Japanese costume, scores heavily with her dancing, which is out of the common, and very neatly executed. The Eva Lumley and Freda Ettrick comedy company appear in an amusing skit, Jimmy All-of-a-Twist, which is as mirth-provoking as ever. Karr and Kooney, comedians, rattle off an endless flow of cross-talk which causes shouts of laughter, and the medley song which concludes their turn goes excellently. Matthews and Brown give a fine display of eccentric dancing; and in Marion Armitage is to be found a comedy actress who is certain to make her way. Her comic Scotch ditty scores a success which is well deserved.

Always a popular favourite here is May Henderson, who keeps all in fine humour with her lively songs and dances. Miss Henderson fairly bubbles with merriment, which is quite infectious. She is accorded a big reception, and her visit has only served to increase her enormous popularity in Camden Town. The Doreen Girls, a sprightly couple of young ladies, dance and sing with much energy, and their acrobatic dancing meets with much approbation. The Bioscope completes with up-to-date pictures. Mr. Geo. R. Hatley's orchestra add much to the evening's enjoyment, and the acting-manager, Mr. Donald Brown, is as energetic and courteous as ever.

BALHAM HIPPODROME.

The pretty hall which nestles at the foot of Balham Hill was one of the earliest acquisitions of the ever-increasing Gibbons circuit, and has proved as prosperous as any. Under the expert management of Mr. E. W. Hancorne James the house is kept spruce and clean, and retains its elegant appearance, while for comfort and cosiness it is unexcelled. Large numbers of the best people of the thriving suburb patronise the place regularly, and this week crowds have extended a hearty reception to the artists who constitute the bill. In his customary place of honour is Mr. R. A. Roberts, the famous Protean actor, who is astounding the house with his marvellous series of impersonations in Ringing the Changes. The gallery of portraits which Mr. Roberts presents is a unique one, and each character—whether it be that of the testy old Major, the dapper young lawyer, the antique housekeeper, the flighty barmaid, the cockney cabby, the old-school actor, or the Hibernian carman—is a finished personality. Laughter has resounded throughout the performance, and at the end the accomplished artist is enthusiastically called.

Mirth in large quantities is made by the sketch, Man, the Brute, in which the drolleries of Mr. Harry Gratton are effectively employed. He is supported by Miss A. E. E. Edwards as the strong-minded wife, and by Mr. Tom Taylor as the burly burglar. An episode in which humour is delicately shaded by sentiment is presented in 'Arf a Quid, in which Shirley and Ransome repeat their wonderfully realistic embodiments of a coster couple. The little sketch is one of the best to be found in the line, and is appreciated at its true worth. Miss Florrie Forde is welcomed with heartiness when she comes to sing "Oh, oh, Antonio!" and the tuneful tale of the recreant organ-grinder amuses all. The fun extracted from "Study your cookery book" is as piquant as ever, and is highly relished.

A diverting ten minutes are spent in the company of Mr. Tom Woottwell, who, with his song, "What did I do?" sung in a most eccentric military uniform, awakens loud merriment. No less effective is his appearance as a gentleman of doubtful reputation, who sings "Keep it as quiet as you can," a number equal in drollery to the popular comedian's former effort "Owd yer rah." Its effect on the audience is irresistible. Barton and Franklin make a smart appearance in Scottish kilt and scarlet dress-coats, and, in company with a lady similarly attired, render harmonious selections on various instruments, excerpts from operas being played on cornet and trombone. The handbells are employed in combination with an instrument played like a piano with a weird interior, which is in full view of the audience. The artists are vocalists also, and in answer to a recall the men give a neat step-dance. The oddities with which Cole and Rags embellish their juggling display are productive of laughter; Haig and Novel do a refined comedy act; and the programme, which is also contributed to by Mr. Cyrus Dare, the marvellous child mimic, is interspersed at intervals by pictures on Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope, which furnishes a series of amusing and exciting films.

CAMBERWELL EMPIRE.

"Moments with the masters" may be profitably spent at Camberwell, at whose Empire, where Mr. Jesse Sparrow holds sway, Mr. W. D. Mackenzie's company is heard in excerpts from opera. The vocalists are boys and girls attired in Georgian costume, who make a picturesque group, and render such exacting pieces as the Grand March from Tannhäuser, the Soldiers' Chorus from Faust, and Balfe's "Excelsior" in parts. Variety is introduced by a gracefully-danced minuet, and by the performance of the "human ocarina," a youth who "coos" "Killarney" in tones which can scarcely be distinguished from those of the quaint instrument referred to. The youthful voices are fresh and vigorous—perhaps occasionally too vigorous—but a high degree of excellence is reached, and Mr. Mackenzie, who conducts from his post in the orchestra, is loudly cheered. The vocal art has agreeable representatives also in Stewart and Morgan, who win much applause for their duets, in which popular airs are combined melodiously.

A melodramatic sketch, entitled A Rolling Stone, is presented by Mr. Maurice Hoffmann and company. The audience become engrossed in the story of Jim Hastings, who is falsely accused of forgery and sent to penal servitude, while the real culprit amasses a fortune in America. In due course the forger is seized with remorse, and would make atonement, but Hastings has found another enemy in the villainous Dorrison North, who secures the confession that would clear Jim. A waif whom Hastings had befriended, however, secures the evidence and conceals it in a cottage loaf, which he hands to Hastings, who has sought refuge in a thieves' kitchen in New York. Here Hastings's sweetheart is lured by the villain, who intends to possess himself of her jewels, but her lover is happily at hand, and the downfall of the scoundrel is secured. Mr. Maurice Hoffmann acts the hero with much dash and fire, and his elocutionary skill is of great value in the stirring lines he has to deliver. He receives good support from Miss Vera Saracen, who makes a typical and well-spoken waif of Spot; from Miss Rita Moore, a prepossessing and accomplished actress; from Mr. Will Thorne, as a detective; from Mr. C. C. Calvert as the villain; and from Mr. F. H. Fox as the repentant forger.

A diverting juggling act is submitted by Mr. Harry Frisky, who has innumerable methods of creating laughter. He juggles skilfully with clubs, plates, and other articles, but chief entertainment is derived from some of the most comic antics and falls imaginable. Crockery is smashed galore, chairs give way, and tables collapse continuously, and the last that is seen of the performer is when he emerges from beneath the débris fully equipped with crutch and bandages. A comic display is also made by the Kimberley Boys, who indulge in many mirth-making manœuvres, which win uproarious laughter. Miss Billee Barlow, who receives a warm welcome, sings in her well-known vivacious style of "The girl in the cigarette shop," and adds some piquant patter to the song, "The poor girl didn't know what to do." The eccentricities of Mr. Harry Conlin are greatly appreciated; Mr. Frank Gee gains abundant favour for his song and stories; and the programme is also contributed to by Mr. Mark Leslie, swell comedian; Irene and Morton, and Johnson and De Vere, Jeapes's Animated Graphic concluding the evening with a capital fire picture.

ROTHERHITHE HIPPODROME.

This popular house retains its hold on the affection of the public, who filled it to repletion on Monday night. The genial and enterprising manager, Mr. A. F. Vernal, always on the look out for fresh attractions for his numerous patrons, has given this week a more than usually strong programme. A romantic episode, entitled The Beggar and the Maid, made its first bow here, and met with a hearty reception. It is a distinctly interesting and pretty sketch, and was marred only by the apparent nervousness of the performers. Miss Sabine Anderson sang with much sweetness, and was loudly applauded. Will Evans kept the house in a roar with his farcical nonsense the entire time he occupied the stage; Irene Meldon, a neat and accomplished dancer, met with well-deserved recognition; Dennis and Morris, with their amusing patter, kept everybody laughing; as did Harry Thurston, who as "The Merry Widow" was ridiculously funny; Rotherhithe would like to see him again. There is no better child mimic than Miss Jenny Alexander, her imitation of Harry Lauder being perfect. The Sisters St. Julian are responsible for a pretty turn. They are not only the possessors of good voices, but dance most attractively. J. G. Grahame and Zerlina Harrington present a very dramatic little sketch entitled A Daughter of Pleasure. This is the kind of playlet which Rotherhithe loves, and the "gods" were not slow to show their keen approval of it. Georgina Leno, a dainty burlesque actress and a clever comedienne, met with a hearty reception, and in her turn she displayed the talent and versatility that we should expect from the clever daughter of the lamented King's jester. The Bioscope, as it always is here, was fresh and amusing; whilst the orchestra, under the able guidance of Mr. Harold Fisher, rendered well-chosen and pretty selections throughout the evening.

EMPIRE LIFEBOAT MATINEE.

The matinée at the Empire on Tuesday in aid of the National Lifeboat Institution attracted a large house, and the bronzed and sturdy heroes of the sea, in their red fishermen's caps and pneumatic life-belts, it is safe to assume, netted a considerable sum for programmes from an audience as generous as it was enthusiastic. Proceedings commenced with an interlude by Miss Mary Barley's bulldogs, which are seen in a droll realisation of a canine orchestra. Miss Josephine La Barte gave her pleasant musical entertainment, the Le Pages Troupe contributed their clever jumping turn, and Mr. Hymack gave his marvellous quick-change attire act, a performance as puzzling as it is clever. Of all these very attractive turns we spoke very fully in our last week's notice of Mr. H. J. Hitchins's excellent general programme, and all we need do now is to chronicle their complete success with the matinée audience. Miss Kate Cutler, in her own charming fashion descanted in a monologue on the impossibility of driving into the pate of a provokingly dull boy the story of George Washington and the apple tree; Miss Lily Elsie, looking her prettiest in a cream dress and black hat, with a rich ermine stole, sang in impressive fashion "Vilia," from The Merry Widow, and was encored. Franz Lehar's music was conducted by Mr. Harold Vicars.

The special nature of the matinée was reflected in the song, "Man the lifeboat," given with great spirit by Mr. Gordon Cleather, who was supported by the crew of the Southend lifeboat, which was out on the night that the pier was broken in two. Earlier in the afternoon Miss Maudi Darrell recounted in song the adventures of the Brittany butter-maid, from The Belle of Brittany, the composer conducting; Miss Valli Valli sang a couple of songs, and Miss May de Sousa gave "Don't let any lady know" and "The sweetest story ever told."

Mr. Harry Fragson had a rousing reception in his two popular and famous songs, "The employment agency" and "The Licensing Bill," which "went" to an accompaniment of hearty laughter. The Anglo-French artist was in his very best form, and the house expressed its delight with him in no uncertain fashion. Some numbers from the new and highly successful ballet, A Day in Paris, were given, and among these was introduced the Dance des Apaches, danced with wonderful dramatic power by Mr. Fred Farren and Miss Beatrice Collier. Miss Collier has become famous, and it is a well-deserved recognition of remarkable ability. Mlle. Lydia Kyasht again enchanted every one with her Russian dance, and Miss Phyllis Bedells repeated her pretty skipping-rope dance. The dance of the nurses was another piquant terpsichorean number, and Miss Elise Clerc's comic dance with Mr. Fred Farren again took the fancy of the house. The pictures of the Italian Cavalry, who ride down chasms with a reckless disregard of being unhorsed, are most sensational, and evoked considerable astonishment. The orchestra under Mr. Cuthbert Clark played a selection of sea songs, and added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

The old Park Theatre, in Brooklyn, was practically destroyed by fire on Nov. 12. Fortunately the fire occurred between the matinée and the evening performance.

At the meeting of the L.C.C. on Tuesday a petition was presented by Mr. George Alexander from the Mayor and Council of St. Pancras against the application made to the licensing authority on Friday for the conversion of the Camden Theatre into a music hall. The petition, which was numerously signed, alleged that the recent entertainments given at this house had been a source of great annoyance to the inhabitants, from whom numerous complaints had been received; that a great number of ratepayers objected to the proposed licence; and that the existence of a music hall on the site of the Camden Theatre would tend to depreciate the value of the surrounding property and to increase the expenditure for maintaining law and order.

SHOT ON THE STAGE.

Just before ten o'clock on Monday Mme. Clementine, described as "the Queen of Firearms," was nearing the close of her rifle-shooting act at the Middlesex, and went into the circle, while her assistant, a young man named Lee, stood on the stage, 50ft. away, with a glass ball balanced on his head. It was a feat called "The William Tell Act" Aiming at the glass ball, Mme. Clementine fired from a saloon rifle.

Instead of seeing the ball shivered as usual, the audience were horrified to see Lee suddenly throw up his arms, and with a cry of pain fall on the stage. The bullet had entered the unfortunate man's forehead just over the left eye.

Mr. Graydon, who was standing near the stage-door, hurried behind the scenes and ordered the curtain to be lowered. Behind the lowered curtain Dr. Bremner, who had been quickly fetched, examined the injured man, who was unconscious. After attending to his wound, the doctor ordered his removal to King's College Hospital, where he died on Tuesday.

As a result of the accident Mme. Clementine (Clementini Dolcini) was charged at Bow-street Police Court on Tuesday afternoon with the manslaughter of Herbert Lee by shooting him in the head.

Prisoner, a short, stout woman, was wearing a long black cloak over her stage clothes. She was obviously very much upset, and at the close of the proceedings, which only lasted a few minutes, she collapsed altogether, and had to be assisted from the Court by the police matron and some of her friends. Mr. Lloyd Humphreys appeared for the defence.

Prisoner was remanded, and upon the magistrate offering to accept bail in £100 a surety was at once forthcoming.

MASONS AT WORK.

The companions of the Chapter of Asaph assembled at Freemasons' Hall on Monday last for the purpose of holding their first meeting since the installation of Mr. E. W. Whitmore as the first principal, and that gentleman was ably assisted in the performance of his duties by Messrs. Clarence T. Coggin (H.), T. de B. Holmes (acting as J.), James Weaver (Scribe E.), Edward Humphrey (Scribe N.), Frank Stewart (P.S.), and others. The Supreme Grand Chapter of England was represented by Messrs. Harry Nicholls, P.D.G.D.C., J. Weaver, P.A.G.D.C., and Charles Cruikshanks, P.A.G.D.C. There were also present Messrs. J. Powell, A. E. George, Herbert Chenery, W. J. Keen, C. R. Stephens, B. J. Muskett, Ernest H. Paterson, A. Oxley, Tom Clare, A. G. Duck, and J. Gilbert. Among the visitors were the Rev. W. Cree and Messrs. Francis G. Sanders and John L. Goldstein.

The ceremony of elevation to the supreme degree was rehearsed with due observance of the ancient rites, and those present were afforded the opportunity of witnessing an excellent exhibition of the perfect working of the Chapter and the qualifications of the various companions acting as the officers.

The proceedings being ended, the companions and their guests adjourned to the Hotel d'Italie, where an excellent dinner was provided, and the company afterwards thoroughly enjoyed a pleasant hour or two in post-prandial observances.

The next convocation of the Chapter will be held at the Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen-street, on the fourth Monday in February, 1909.

Stockton November Hirings.

A grand charity night was held last Friday, the leading amusements being provided by Messrs. William Murphy, Relph, and Pedley (electric automobiles), Harry Carriss's galloping horses, Baker's twin-yachts, William Murphy's cinematograph show, and others. A handsome sum of £90 was handed over to the Relief and Children's Breakfast funds.

South Wales Notes.

Mr. E. Danter visited Neath for four nights, and had a successful time, in spite of the inclement weather. The pictures were remarkably good, and much enjoyed by the large audiences. Mr. Danter is to be complimented on his juvenile performance on Saturday afternoon. A more suitable lot of subjects could not have been chosen for the youngsters. Messrs. Crecraft are on the Neath ground this week. Many new subjects are on the programme since last visit. Great credit is due to the management for putting on a good, clean performance. Mr. S. White and his Coliseum are in the Rhondda, where he is exhibiting a good series of pictures. Mr. Wm. Haggar in Carmarthenshire has a smart show for his many friends. Always up to date in all things has made the genial proprietor a universal favourite everywhere he visits.

Neath.

Mme. Smith, the society lady palmist, who is well known for her clever reading of the palm, is on a visit here, and is consulted by hermany old patrons and many new clients.

Crowle, Lincs.

Here were Ball and Eva's cinematograph theatre, T. Harniess's roundabout, Ball and Ingham's park swings, bottle battery, and throwing games, J. Ball with rifle saloons, and Gilliat and other caterers, with variety stalls and throwing games.

An auspicious send-off was given on the 19th inst. to Bradford Skating Rink, erected by the American Roller Skate Company in Manningham-lane, where it was a perfect sight to see the crowds and the long queues waiting for admission. The building is 300ft. by 110ft., and, with the exception of a narrow promenade on three sides and a gallery of seats on the fourth, the whole space is at the disposal of skaters. The flooring is of maple wood, which has been laid with the greatest care. Electric arc lights are provided in abundance, the decorations are elaborate, and nothing is wanting to complete a properly-equipped rink. The management are confident of the Bradford establishment becoming—as in the case of Leeds, Liverpool, Sunderland, Dublin, Glasgow, and other centres—"a wonderful success."

There will be variety shows in the centre transept of the Crystal Palace twice daily next week. The performers include:—The Balzens, Japanese jugglers, balancers, wonder workers, and their performing pigeons; Tokio, the Royal entertainer, in a high-class entertainment, consisting of up-to-date conjuring and lightning paper-tearing; the Deroneys, novel comedy artists, wire walkers, patterers, tumblers, spade dancers, &c.; Durney, hero of the long distance globe walk of 150 miles from Dublin to Belfast; Gilbert's troupe of performing dogs; and Sylveno, assisted by Mlle. Florence, novel and refined equilibrists.

A benefit was accorded Mr. Jas. Tyrer, of the Palace, Oldbury, on Wednesday, Nov. 18, when a programme of twenty turns constituted the bill. The house was packed. Amongst the artists who assisted were Mark Brue, Ray Sun, Dave Sands, Harry Hendricks, Mons. Savaro, Miss Lillian, Jack Lennard, Jack Judge, the Birkenhead Family, and the Sterling Trio, &c. The augmented band, under the direction of Mr. H. B. Kimberley, rendered valuable assistance. Mr. Jackson Tyrer (Sam Voss) introduced the turns, and also gave his well-known act, The Street Doctor, which caused much fun.

INVENTIONS.

[The particulars furnished below of recent applications for patents are taken from the official records. Correspondence is invited with our readers on all matters relating to new ideas and inventions, with a view to affording them advice and assistance. Letters should be addressed to the Manager, Inventions Department, "The Era," 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, London.]

Inventors and others who have no business representative are invited to communicate with the Manager of the Inventions Dept. as above.

APPLICATIONS.

24,032.—Eyre Crowe, of Farnham. Improvements in home-practicers for golf.

24,071.—Samuel Jenkinson, of London. New or improved game of skill and chance.

24,080.—William Joseph Riley, trading as The Yote Manufacturing Company, of Birmingham. Improvements relating to mechanical players for musical instruments and in the music for use therewith.

24,102.—Emil Schipper, of London. Improved ball game device.

24,132.—Percy James Goodwin and Elizabeth Susan Steer, of London. Improved miniature fountain for decorative purposes.

24,266.—Alexander Crutchley Beech, of Newcastle, Staffordshire. Device to furnish aid or amusement to skaters.

24,275.—William Millward, of Manchester. Improvements in or relating to punch-balls.

24,349.—Samuel Meyer Friede and Harry David Mercer, of London. Improvements in amusement apparatus.

24,350.—Samuel Meyer Friede and Harry David Mercer, of London. Improvements in and relating to revolving towers for recreative and the like purposes.

24,351.—Samuel Meyer Friede and Harry David Mercer, of London. Improvements in and relating to amusement apparatus.

24,352.—Samuel Meyer Friede and Harry David Mercer, of London. Improvements in see-saw swings and the like.

24,353.—Samuel Meyer Friede and Harry David Mercer, of London. Improved construction of car and track for what are known as scenic railways, switchbacks, and the like.

24,354.—Samuel Meyer Friede and Harry David Mercer, of London. Improvements in and relating to revolving towers for amusement purposes.

24,363.—Harry Sandeman Fieldwick, of London. Improvements in and in appliances for use in playing the game of poker and other games.

24,411.—James Dodgson and James William Sykes, of Oldham. Adjustable boot sole and studs for outdoor sports.

24,433.—William Thomas Pugh, of London. Means for relieving the hands of a sportsman of the weight of his gun when not firing.

COMPLETE SPECIFICATIONS ACCEPTED.

26,231.—Connor. Apparatus for raising and lowering curtains in music halls, theatres, and like places.

3,102.—Faulkner. Instrument to be attached to a firearm to mark by a spot of light the point aimed at on a target.

6,676.—Roberts, Roberts, and Bolton. Apparatus for playing "Ludo" or similar games.

16,115.—Soc. Anon des Plaques et Papiers Photographiques A. Lumière et ses fils. Method of renovating or repairing worn cinematograph films.

16,272.—Belin. Apparatus for reproducing at a distance pictures or designs.

19,605.—John. Banjoes.

ABRIDGMENTS OF SPECIFICATIONS.

14,493.—Kinematographs. Brown, B. K., and Brown, T., of London.

Reduced kinematograph pictures are formed by photographing with a microscope on a sensitive, structureless emulsion successive pictures of an ordinary kinematograph film. The pictures are taken on a sensitised disk, to which motion is imparted, so that they are either in spiral form or in concentric rings. The apparatus used is shown in Fig. 1. Rotary motion is imparted to the shaft 1, which through the gearing shown causes a crank 6 to move the kinematograph film 7 intermittently past the lens of the projecting apparatus 8. The shaft 11 in which is a slot 12, is also caused to rotate, and by means of a pin 16 on the boss 14 slidingly keyed to it, causes intermittent rotation of a Maltese cross 17, which imparts motion to the shaft 20, carrying the sensitised plate 21, and also, through the gearing shown, to the carriage 23, on which it is mounted. By this means the disk 21 has an intermittent motion of rotation and translation imparted to it, and this motion is caused to take place during the motion of the film 7. The pictures are taken by the microscope 22. Apparatus which may be used for viewing the pictures is shown in Fig. 4, and is similar to the apparatus described above, excepting that the microscope 41 is given a longitudinal motion and the disc 21 only a rotary motion.

14,600.—War Games. Berg (née Moller), of Reval, Russia.

The game is played with folded cards having illustrations a, such as pictures of ships, on their front faces, and a map e divided into oblongs to represent the sea, with small islands d in the centre to form narrow passages c. The cards are arranged on the map so that each player sees only the plain backs b of his opponent's cards, and can only guess the kind of ship which is attacking him. The game can also be arranged as a military war game, the map e representing two plains joined by narrow valleys between mountains, &c.

14,645.—Musical instruments. Block, E. H., of Paris.

Violins and like instruments.—A rod 9 is fixed at its ends under the middle of the belly of the instrument. The side wall 3 is formed in one piece, the ends of which are secured together between the reinforcing block and the finger-board, the wall being curved as shown in Fig. 2. The belly and back are secured to the wall 3 by glued tongue-and-groove joints, thus dispensing with reinforcing strips. The belly and back are of similar form, except for the sound-holes. The whole instrument can be made by machinery.

14,740.—Games, &c. Hultin, J. H., and Göthe, B., both of Falun, Sweden.

Scoring and marking.—A scoring device for Bridge and like games consists of a rod, tube, or the like marked with numerals and fitted with one or more indicating-rings. The tube may take the form of a pencil-case 1, which is provided with a holder 6 for a pencil, and is formed with an end-plate 3 provided with a flat 4 to prevent the case from rolling. In the form shown, numerals from 1 to 10 are marked on the case, and a ring 7 is used for scoring the points, the periphery of the ring 7 being divided into six marked spaces, which are in turn moved along the case to score. In a modification, the case 1 is oval and two rings are used. Two sets of numerals may be marked on the case 1.

15,048.—Scenic exhibitions. Hicks, C.E., of London.

In moving-picture travelling-illusion apparatus, the rolling and pitching movements of a ship at sea are produced by two pairs of links b, pivoted under the deck or platform a and to two transverse horizontal links c, which are mounted on rollers *b*3 on rails h, and are moved to and fro by crank discs d and connecting-rods *b*2 operated by a motor or other driving mechanism. Guide-pins *a*2 at the ends of the platform move in vertical slots *i*1 in end guide-plates i.

To Stage Machinists and Electricians.—The Manager will be pleased to receive particulars of any new stage appliances or ideas for same for illustration in this column.

Can You Invent?—Do you wish to know of prizes offered to inventors valued at £10,000, £5,300, £5,000, £4,000, £1,000, £400, £300, £200, £100, and £50? If so, then get a copy of Patents and Designs, a newspaper called into existence by Mr. Lloyd George's Patents and Designs Act, 1907, which lately came into operation. Patents and Designs, price 2d., can be had at all bookstalls, newsagents', and at the Publishing Office, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C

CANONBURY TOWER CLUB.

A very successful Bohemian concert was given at King Edward's Hall, Canonbury Tower Club, Canonbury, on the evening of the 19th inst., about 150 members and their friends being present. The artists specially engaged included Miss Bertha Bird, the popular Australian contralto, who was heard to great advantage in "Lo, here the gentle lark," with flute obbligato by Mr. Ernest J. Spink. Later Miss Bird and Mr. Robert Anthony admirably sang the duet, "A Venetian song," and in the second part she gave "Because," again meeting with a most flattering reception. Mr. R. Anthony, a young baritone vocalist, who has done exceedingly well on a tour through Scotland just completed, sang "My old shako" and "Falmouth Town" with marked ability, his voice being of excellent quality and showing evidence of careful cultivation. Flute solos, "Saltavello" and "Shepherd's Idylle," by Mr. E. G. Spink, were greatly appreciated. Miss Jessie Jolly's humorous songs at the piano were very favourably received, and so too were the musical sketches of Mr. Francis Howard and Mr. Herbert Francis. Mr. Percy Tarling, a capital comic singer, scored with "The daily rag," "My eye-glass," and other ditties. Mr. Louis Nicola, the wonderful conjuror from Messrs. Maskelyne and Devant's, St. George's Hall, also appeared, and his tricks, executed with remarkable neatness, were enthusiastically applauded by the audience. Mr. Nikola was deservedly recalled. Messrs. W. W. Meadows and J. W. Francis were the accompanists, and the duties of musical directors were ably carried out by Messrs. Will Clinch and Arthur D. Sturley. Mr. G. Andrew-Marshall, chairman of the Entertainments Committee, presided.

Tony Iveson, "the Ragman at the Piano," is scoring a prodigious hit at the Palace Theatre, Dundee, this week. He is now assisted by his brother, who, like himself, has been gifted with a very fine voice, his excellent articulation being also a noteworthy feature of his singing.

TOOLE'S PRACTICAL JOKE.

"Perhaps the secret of Toole's charm," says Mr. J. Comyns Carr in his "Reminiscences," "lay in an entire absence of pretence either social or intellectual. Something deeply human in his nature left him always at his ease in whatever society he might find himself; and, in a sense of humour which appreciated and detected without resentment the foibles of all whom he encountered, I think there are few men of his generation who could claim to be his equal. He laid no claim to any largeness of education, and I suppose there were few men who had read less, but in that knowledge that could be won without the aid of literature he was a genuine scholar. He read life truly and swiftly, genially, and humorously. He knew it well because he loved it well. Put him where you would, in any company, however divergent their claims, and not an hour could pass before Toole had seized with quick enjoyment upon the separate characteristics of nearly every man at the table.

"What he loved most, I think, outside of that part of his life which was spent in the theatre, was an aimless ramble in search of fun. Many and many such a vagrant day have I passed in his company, and not a barren one of them all. One such in particular I recall which may stand as a sample of many more. He had called for me quite early in the morning in his victoria, armed with only the naked suggestion that we should pay a visit to the city. For the city, therefore, we started, with no settled plan of operation, and it was only when we had reached the narrowest part of Thames-street that Toole seemed suddenly possessed with the outline of his programme for the day.

"The portly figure of a uniformed porter standing at the gateway of some wholesale warehouse arrested his attention, and calling upon the driver to stop, he hobbled out of the carriage with his quaint lame walk, and at once engaged this forbidding-looking official in friendly converse. It was the time when the wheel-and-van tax had lately been imposed, and Toole drawing a note-book from his pocket declared to the amazed individual he was addressing that we had come down to the city to collect opinions on the subject. The man at first was stubbornly reluctant to enter into conversation, but Toole's insinuating amiability of manner was not to be withstood, and he at last drew from this unfortunate individual an opinion, the purport of which I scarcely now remember, but which apparently, as Toole's enthusiasm declared, clinched the subject.

"'If that's your opinion,' he said, 'will you kindly see to it, as my friend and I are busy,' and with that enigmatic declaration he hobbled back to the victoria, leaving the unfortunate porter with a blank look of puzzled amazement on his face.

"'To the Tower,' cried Toole to the coachman, 'and as quickly as possible, for we have a lot of work to do.'

"Arrived there, Toole at once, in tones of confidential secrecy, addressed the first Beefeater who stood by the gateway.

"'What have you done?' he inquired in an anxious voice.

"'What do you mean, sir?' said the man.

"'I mean,' said Toole in a still more confidential tone, 'what crime have you committed? You need not keep it from me and my friend.'

"'Crime!' was the indignant answer. 'I have committed no crime.'

"'Come! come!' said Toole, suddenly assuming the air of a cross-examining counsel. 'Do not dare to tell me that. You must have committed some crime, you know, or they would never have put you into a dress like that.'

"Before the unfortunate man had recovered his self-possession we passed on into the Tower itself, and swiftly found ourselves among a party of eager sightseers in the chamber where the Crown jewels are disposed.

"It was a woman who, as I remember, was explaining to the eager throng the history of the different articles displayed, and when at the end of a long catalogue, she at last said, 'And this is Ann Boleyn's crown,' Toole, apparently suddenly overcome, burst into a flood of tears and leant against the wall in seemingly uncontrollable grief.

"'Oh, sir,' inquired the poor woman in distress, 'what's the matter?'

"'Nothing! nothing!' replied Toole in broken accents. 'Don't mind me, but the fact is I have known the family so long.'"

SKETCH LITIGATION.

Mr. Frank Macnaghten, music-hall proprietor, appealed, on Tuesday, from his Honour Judge Bacon, sitting at Bloomsbury County Court, who decided in favour of Mr. George Scott, late manager of the Alhmabra, in an action arising out of the refusal to allow Matthew Brodie's company, in which Mr. Scott was interested, to perform The Trumpeter of the 76th, at Sadler's Wells music-hall, on Dec. 23 last.

Appellant was represented by Mr. Hugo Young, K.C., and Mr. Martin O'Connor (instructed by W. B. Blackwell and Co.), and respondent by Mr. Montague Lush, K.C., and Mr. Henn Collins (instructed by Stanley Woodhouse and Co.).

Mr. Hugo Young said it was admitted by plaintiff that The Trumpeter of the 76th was a stage play, and this was an important matter. The contract, dated Nov. 1, 1907, entered into by the parties arranged that the piece should be performed at Sadler's Wells during the week commencing Dec. 23. It turned out, however that another sketch had been billed for that week, and Mr. Macnaghten seemed to have thought that if two were on the same programme it might lead to a prosecution, because they were only performed, as it were, on sufferance. They were, in fact, illegal, their performance in music-halls being an infringement of the Theatres Act. Mr. Macnaghten accordingly suggested that instead of appearing at Sadler's Wells during the week in question, the company should go to Southampton. Mr. Scott was agreeable, but Mr. Brodie declined to fall in with the suggestion, hence the action. Counsel submitted that plaintiff could not recover, inasmuch as it was illegal for The Trumpeter of the 76th to be performed at a music-hall, and that the consent to appear at Sadler's Wells was not unreasonably withheld.

Mr. Montague Lush contended, on the other side, that, under the circumstances, plaintiff was debarred from setting up the plea of illegality. On the face of this contract there was nothing to make it unlawful; it was not a contract to do what was unlawful, though the performance of it might to a certain extent be unlawful at times. It was plaintiff's business to do that which would have made the contract lawful.

Mr. Justice Bigham said that both parties knew well enough that they were entering into a contract to perform a stage play in certain music-halls, and he was quite satisfied that both knew that such performances were illegal. There must accordingly be judgment for defendant.

Mr. Justice Walton concurred, and the appeal was allowed.

Mr. Lush observed that he understood that a large number of cases depended upon this, and asked for leave to appeal.

The application was granted.

The latest quotations for music hall shares are as follow:—Alhambra, 1 9-16; Canterbury, ½; Empire (15s. paid), 1⅛; Empire (10s. paid), 1⅛; London Pavilion Ordinary, 4⅛; London Pavilion Preference, 5⅛; Metropolitan, 15s.; Moss Empire, 6⅛; Moss Empire 5 Per Cent. Preference, 4⅛; Oxford, 6⅛; Palace, 15-16; Tivoli, 5⅛; Variety Consolidated Theatres, 12s.

REVISED SCALE OF CHARGES FOR

ARTISTS WANTING ENGAGEMENTS, MANAGERS WANTING ARTISTS,

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

This Scale does not apply to "Trade" Advertisements in these Columns.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION (Post Free).

	UNITED KINGDOM.	FOREIGN.
One Quarter	6s. 6d.	8s.
Half Year	13s. 0d.	16s.
One Year	26s. 0d.	32s.

The Offices of "The Era" are
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For the convenience of Advertisers, Replies to Advertisements are received. They can remain until called for, or be forwarded by Post if postage be arranged.

NO STAMPS.

Advertisers and subscribers are politely requested to forward Cheques or Postal Orders in payment of their Advertisements and Subscriptions, crossed "Lloyd's Bank, Ltd." Remittances should be made payable to "The Era," Limited, and addressed,

THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4747 or 1433 Central.

IN case of the non-delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers with the time of delivery marked upon them.

COMPANIES WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

MILTON BODE AND EDWARD COMPTON'S THEATRES.
WANTED, First-class Companies, for THEATRE ROYAL, BRIGHTON.
Dec. 7, 14, Feb. 15, 22, March 8, 15, 22, 29, on
DALSTON THEATRE, LONDON N.E.
Jan 25, March 8, 22, April 5, May 10, 17, 24, on.
COUNTY THEATRE, READING.
Feb. 15, March 1, 8, April 5, 12, 19, May 3, 10, on.
OPERA HOUSE, LEICESTER.
April 5, 12, 26, May 10, 17, 24, 31, Aug. 2, 9, on.
ROYALTY THEATRE, CHESTER.
Varieties, Twice Nightly, 7 and 9 p.m.
GRAND THEATRE, WOLVERHAMPTON.
Feb. 1, March 1, 8, April 5, 12, May 3, 10, 17, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, HUDDERSFIELD.
Feb. 8, 15, 22, April 5, 26, May 17, 24, 31, on.
OPERA HOUSE, NORTHAMPTON.
March 29, April 5, Sept. 6, 20, 27, Oct. 4, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEICESTER.
April 12, 19, May 17, 24, 31, June 7, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEAMINGTON.
Nov. 30, Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 1, 8, 15, on.
Address, MILTON BODE, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED First-class Attractions, for COUNTY THEATRE, BEDFORD,
Dec. 7, Jan. 11, 18, Feb. 1, 15, March 8, onwards.
GRAND THEATRE, LUTON.
Jan. 4, 18, 25, Feb. 8, March 8, 29, onwards.
THEATRE ROYAL, CANTERBURY.
Dec. 7, 14, Jan. 4, 25, Feb. 1 (3 nights only); and Xmas. Add., E. G. FALCON, County T., Bedford.

THREE PROGRESSIVE THEATRES.
WANTED High-class Companies,
DEVONSHIRE PARK T., EASTBOURNE,
Dec. 7, Jan. 18, and March dates.
GAIETY THEATRE, HASTINGS,
March 1, 15, 29.
PLEASURE GARDENS T., FOLKESTONE.
Feb. 1, March 1, 8, 15, 22.
Apply for all above,
ROWLAND, Theatre, Folkestone.

METROPOLE, GLASGOW, LTD.
WANTED, Pay-box Attractions,
April 10, various, onwards.
Open to Arrange First-class Panto, or Musical Comedy for Holiday Season, '09 and '10.
Coms., ARTHUR JEFFERSON.

GRAND THEATRE, LANCASTER.
WANTED, First-class Drama,
Dec. 10, three nights.
STANLEY ROGERS, Theatre Royal, North Shields.

OPERA HOUSE, KIDDERMINSTER.
WANTED, Attractive Companies; holding capacity £100; Vacant Feb. 4, 11, 18, March 1, 15, 22, and Easter. Bookings: "Merry Widow," "Dairymaids," "Prince of Pilsen," "Prodigal Son," "The Christian," &c. J. P. MOORE, King's Hall, Birmingham.

METROPOLE THEATRE, GATESHEAD.
WANTED, First-class Musical or Strong Dramatic Attraction,
Christmas week (Dec. 21).
Share or Certainty.
Address,
R. G. ELDER, Gen.-Man., Metropole T., Gateshead.

ROYALTY THEATRE, MORECAMBE.
WANTED, Musical Comedy, April 12. Note.—The Conference of the National Teachers' Union is held in Morecambe during Easter. Also few vacant dates in July, Aug., and Sept.
Address,
CHAS. M. JULIAN, General-Manager.

HULL.
WANTED, First-class Companies,
THEATRE ROYAL, Jan. 11, 18, Feb. 1 and 8.
ALEXANDRA, March 1 and Easter.
Address, Alexandra Theatre.
Cannot Book Pantomime for Either Theatre.
Three days' silence a respectful negative.

PIER THEATRE, EASTBOURNE.
WANTED, First-class Companies,
Dec. 7, Jan. 11, 18, Feb. 8, 22,
and various dates onward.
Apply, G. HAYES.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE, GREENOCK.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, for the following Dates:—
Dec. 7 14, 28 (New Year's week), Jan. 11.
Apply, R. C. BUCHANAN, 102, Bath-street, Glasgow.

NEW GAIETY THEATRE, LEITH.
WANTED, through Alteration in Arrangements, First-class Pantomime for Dec. 28, two, three, or four weeks. First-class Musical and Dramatic Attractions may also write for other dates.
Apply, R. C. BUCHANAN, 102, Bath-street, Glasgow.

GRAND THEATRE, FALKIRK.
WANTED, First-class Musical or Dramatic Attractions, for Dec. 21 (six nights) and Feb. 15, 16, and 17 (three nights).
Apply, R. C. BUCHANAN, 102, Bath-street, Glasgow.

DEVONSHIRE PARK T., EASTBOURNE.
WANTED, First-class Company,
Dec. 7, Dec. 7, Dec. 7.
Apply, ROWLAND, Theatre, Folkestone.

THEATRE ROYAL, PLYMOUTH.
WANTED, Strong Musical Attractions for Feb. 15, March 22, April 5, May 10, 17, 24, and 31. First-class Companies only.

EMPIRE THEATRE, SWINDON.
WANTED, First-class Musical Comedy and Dramatic Attractions; also Big Variety Combinations. Managers with First-class Companies only apply, direct, to ALFRED MANNERS, as above. Silence a polite negative. Wanted, Strong Dramatic Attraction, Feb. 1, 2 and 3, 1909.

WANTED, Good Companies, through transfers, for Dec. 7 and 14.
Wire, MANAGER, Opera House, Southport.

WANTED, for the Prince of Wales's Theatre, Salford, First-class Companies, for Jan. 4, 11, 25, and onwards. Address, E. B. GOULDEN.

PALACE THEATRE, BOSTON.
Lessees HOLLOWAY and FOUNTAIN.
WANTED, good Drama, Panto., or Musical Productions, Jan. 4, onwards. MANAGER.

WANTED, for the Londesboro' Theatre, Scarborough, First-class Attraction, for Boxing Day, Dec. 26. Apply, WADDINGTON, Stonegate, York.

WANTED, Known, West End Pier, Morecambe, is open to engage Musical, Opera, and Comedy Companies, for last two weeks in July and all August, 1909.

COMPANIES WANTED.

WANTED, First-class Companies,

ROYAL ARTILLERY THEATRE, WOOLWICH.
General-Managers, ARTHUR CARLTON and SAM DUCKWORTH.
High-class Attractions Only entertained
Vacant Dec. 7, Jan. 11, Feb. 1,
onward with exceptions.
All communications re dates,
ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre, Worcester.

THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
Vacant April 5, June 14, 28, July 5,
onward with exceptions.

THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
Vacant Dec. 28, April 12, May 24, 31, June 7,
onward with exceptions.

THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME, BARRY DOCK.
Vacant June 7, 21, Aug. 2, Nov. 29,
onward with exceptions.

KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH.
Vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 2, 14, 21,
onward with exceptions.
(First three nights best for Musical Pieces; last three nights Drama.)

Pantomime, "ALADDIN," Jan. 25, 1909, onward.
Pantomime, "CINDERELLA,"
Jan. 18, 1909, onward.
Pantomime, "PUSS IN BOOTS,"
Jan. 25, 1909, onward.
To Let on Royalty, several good Dramas, with excellent Plants of Printing, with or without Scenery, including "IN SIGHT OF ST. PAUL'S," "PRAIRIE FLOWER," &c.

ARTHUR CARLTON,
Theatre Royal, Worcester.

Telegrams: "Carlton, Worcester."

WANTED, good Company, three or six nights, Nov. 30, King's Theatre, Gainsborough.
Wire, "Carlton, Worcester."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, MIDDLESBROUGH.
Seating capacity 3,500.
Acknowledged to be one of the largest, best-equipped, and most handsome Theatres in Great Britain.
The Premier and Central Theatre of the District
Now Booking Spring and Autumn, 1909.
WANTED, First-class Attractions only.
We are prepared to guarantee
Really Big Star Attractions.
All communications, JNO. ED. JOWSEY,
Grand Opera House, Middlesbrough.
Telegrams, "Magnet."
'Phones 413, 425, 500.

THEATRE ROYAL, LINCOLN
WANTED, good Companies, Dec. 7 and 14, Jan. 21, 22, 23, and Feb. 1.

THEATRE ROYAL, LOUGHBOROUGH.
Vacant Dec. 7 and 14.

NEW GAIETY THEATRE, WORKSOP.
Jan. 4 and on.
Last three days only.

TOWN HALL, RUGBY.
Vacant Xmas, Jan. 4 and 25.

DUMFRIES AND HAWICK.
One or two Vacancies in 1909.

OPERA HOUSE, LONDONDERRY.
Vacant Jan. 11 and 18.

THE SPA, WHITBY.
Now Booking Autumn, 1909.
W. PAYNE SEDDON,
Theatre Royal, Loughborough.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE, WIDNES.
WANTED, High-class Attractions, for
Feb. 1 (?), 22,
March 22,
April 5,
and onwards, with exceptions.
Address, THOS. SWINTON.

WEYMOUTH.—NEW PAVILION THEATRE.
Erected by the Corporation at a cost of nearly £20,000. Seating, Decorating, and Furnishing by Messrs. Dean and Sons. Dimensions, stage to flies 21ft., stage to grid 43ft. 6in. Weymouth being the headquarters of the Channel Fleet, good Business can always be relied upon.
WANTED, First-class Companies, Spring and Autumn, 1909. All communications,
WALTER R. WALLIS, Municipal Offices, Weymouth.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 14, good Drama Companies (change of bill). Give share or small certainty. JAMES ELPHINSTONE, Lyceum T., Stafford.

WANTED, Sound Attractions, Dec. 14, March 1, 29 (?), April 19, onwards. Apply, SHERWOOD and Co., Opera House, Wakefield.

VICTORIA THEATRE, KETTERING.
WANTED, Attractions, for above. Now booking Dates, Sept., onwards. Only really First-class Companies need apply. ALF BAILEY and Co., Managers.

WANTED, for Theatre, King's Lynn, big Attraction for Dec. 7 (three nights), unexpectedly vacant. Address, B. PARKINER, Lessee and Manager.

WANTED, for Empire, Greenock, Dramatic and Musical Comedy Attractions, also Pantomimes, twice nightly, January, February, and March dates. Sharing terms.

WANTED, Attractions, Dec. 14, March 22, April, on, and Autumn, Grand, Chorley; also March 15, on, and Autumn, Grand, Radcliffe. Address, SANTE, Radcliffe.

PARDOE'S THEATRE, MIDDLETON, LANCS.
WANTED, good Drama, Dec. 14. Letters, with fullest particulars, W. PARDOE.

QUEEN'S THEATRE, PEMBROKE DOCK.
WANTED, Musical Attractions,
Dec. 14, Dec. 14,
Xmas, Xmas.
Address, NORMAN H. BARGER.

WANTED, for Theatre Royal, Barnstaple, Companies, for two nights, Musical or Comedy preferred. Apply, H. ASHTON, Strand, Barnstaple.

COLISEUM, ABERYSTWYTH.
WANTED, Companies, Dec. 7, 8, 9, 21, 22, 23, also Dates in Jan. and Feb. Apply, PHILLIPS.

WANTED, First-class Pantomime, Drama, or Picture Show, Dec. 26, 28, and 29, for Public Hall, Slough; good business certain; no opposition. SEATON, 69, Randolph-street, Jarrow-on-Tyne.

WANTED, High-class Attraction, for Xmas, also Companies, Dec. 8 (5 nights), Dec. 14, a few Dates early January and Feb. 8. All other Spring Dates Booked. EDGAR LEA, Public Hall Theatre, Runcorn.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BLAINA, MON.
WANTED, Sound Attraction, Dec. 14, January, February, and March, with exceptions. LEE, Manager.

KESWICK, ENGLISH LAKES.
WANTED, good Companies, for New Year, Spring, and Autumn; good dates for superior Shows. MCKAIG, Fitz Arcade, Keswick.

WANTED, First-class Company, Public Hall, Treharris, Dec. 17, 18, and 19; also Dec. 21, 22, 23, and 24; pay week, best dates of the year. Apply, BILLPOSTER, Treharris, South Wales.

COMPANIES WANTED.

Booked by
MOSS' EMPIRES, LIMITED.

BORDESLEY PALACE THEATRE,
GRAND THEATRE, NOTTINGHAM,
BROADWAY THEATRE, NEW CROSS,
and
GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW.

WANTED, No. 1 Attractions only.

BROADWAY THEATRE, NEW CROSS.
Vacant Dates, May 3, 10, 17, 24, 31, June 7, 14, 21, 28, Aug. 9, 16, 23.

BORDESLEY PALACE THEATRE.
Vacant Dates, March 22, May 10, 17, 24, June 14, 21, 28, July 5, 12, 19, 26, Aug. 2, 16, 23.

GRAND THEATRE, NOTTINGHAM.
Vacant March 1, 15, 29, April 19, 26, May 3, 10, 24, June 14, 21, 28, Aug. 2, 9, 23.

GRAND, GLASGOW.
Vacant, April 5, 19, 26, May 3, 10, 17, 24, 31, June 7, 14, 21, 28.

Address,
with full particulars, terms, &c.
where can be seen, to
Moss' EMPIRES, LIMITED,
Cranbourn-mansions, Cranbourn-street,
London, W.C.
Envelopes marked "Theatres."

ROYALTY THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, BARROW-IN-FURNESS.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. HUGH ROBERTSON.
The Premier Theatre in the Furness District, with a holding capacity of £90 at ordinary prices.
WANTED, really First-class London Successes, for Nov. 30, also Dec. 7, and Feb. 8, on, with exceptions.
Season's Bookings include among others: J. W. Turner's Grand Opera Company (return), Mr. Wentworth Croke's "The Bondman," "Amasis," Mr. Charles Frohman's "Raffles," Mr. George Dance's Company in "Miss Hook of Holland," Mr. Wilfred Cotton's Company in "Butterflies," Mr. Seymour Hicks' Company in "The Gay Gordons," and Mr. George Edwardes's Company in "The Merry Widow," &c.
All applications for dates to
HUGH ROBERTSON,
Theatre Royal, Jarrow-on-Tyne.

WANTED, Wanted, Wanted,
Powerful Dramatic Attraction,
Monday, Jan. 11, 1909.
Share or Certainty.
Communications, by letter only,
HARRIS FINEBERG,
Star Theatre,
Liverpool.

QUEEN'S THEATRE, FARNWORTH.
WANTED, Powerful Attractions, Dec. 28, Jan. 25, Feb. 1.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

THEATRE ROYAL, WEDNESBURY.
WANTED, First-class Company, Dec. 14.
Address, HARRY BATTERSBY.

THEATRES WANTED.

"THE BEGGAR GIRL'S WEDDING."
WALTER MELVILLE'S NEW PRODUCTION.
WANTED, April 5, Aug. 9, Nov. 29.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C

"THE GIRL WHO WRECKED HIS HOME."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Dec. 14, Jan. 4.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"THE GIRL WHO TOOK THE WRONG TURNING."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Wanted, Theatres
Dec. 14, 21.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"THE SOLDIER'S WEDDING."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 14, April 5, 12.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C.

"A GIRL'S CROSS ROADS."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Feb. 15, 22.
WALTER MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-st., W.C

FREDERICK MELVILLE'S COMPANIES.
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 21, Jan. 11, 18, Feb. 8.
FREDERICK MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE WORST WOMAN IN LONDON."
WANTED, Wanted, Theatres
Dec. 21, Jan. 4.
TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"AS MIDNIGHT CHIMES."
WANTED, Wanted, Theatres
Feb. 15, March 22, April 12.
TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE FEMALE SWINDLER."
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 26 (seven nights).
TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE GIRL WHO LOST HER CHARACTER."
WANTED, Dec. 21, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, April 5 Aug. 2.
DOUGLAS BRUCE, Junction Theatre, Manchester.

"DRIVEN FROM HOME."
WANTED, Dec. 28, Jan. 4, 11, 18
ANDREW MELVILLE, Met. T., Birmingham.

"THE DIVER'S LUCK."
WANTED, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, March 1
ANDREW EMM, Metropole T., Birmingham.

"THE EDUCATION OF ELIZABETH,"
from the Haymarket and Apollo Theatres.
WANTED, Dec. 7, between Lincoln and Ipswich.
Address, C. H. BOWMAKER, Theatre Royal, Lincoln.

"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
WANTED, Wanted, Wanted,
for this Phenomenal Success,
Weeks of
Jan. 11 and 25.
Jan. 11 and 25.
Jan. 11 and 25.
Wire or write to
W. W. KELLY,
New Theatre Royal, Birkenhead.

"THE NEW EAST LYNNE."
WANTED, Weeks of
Dec. 28, Jan. 4, and Feb. 8,
Dec. 28, Jan. 4, and Feb. 8,
Dec. 28, Jan. 4, and Feb. 8,
for this Remarkable Success, which in a fortnight at Dublin played to £1,400, and at Belfast turned hundreds away nightly.
Wire or write to W. W. KELLY,
New Theatre Royal, Birkenhead.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."
WANTED, Theatres, Feb. 22,
March 22, April 5, 12, on.
CHARLES HARRINGTON,
Theatre Royal, Sheffield.

"DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY."
"DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY."
WANTED, Jan. 4,
Jan. 4,
March 15, 22,
March 15, 22,
All communications, J. W. CORDINER,
Nov. 30, GRAND THEATRE, WALSALL.

"SILVER KING."
POLINI and MELFORD'S COMPANY.
WANTED, Dates, as follows:
Dec. 26 (7 nights), April 19, May 3.
Now Booking Autumn, 1909.
Address, POLINI, 93, Penge-road, London, S.E.

M. RUSSELL ROSSE'S TOURS.
WANTED, for Repertory, Dec. 26 (7 or 13 nights). RUSSELL ROSSE, Managers' Club, Savoy-mansions, W.C.

WANTED, for "The Woman Pays," Jan. 18, April 5, Nov 1, 8, 15, 22, 1909.
FRANK M. THORNE, Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham.

THEATRES WANTED.

MORTON POWELL ENTERPRISES.
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
"WHEN IT WAS DARK."
Jan. 4, 11, 18, Feb. 1, 8, 15.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"GREED OF GOLD."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Dec. 24, Jan. 11, 25.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"THE WOMAN WHO GAMBLES."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Dec. 21, Jan. 4, 11, 18, 25.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
Dec. 21, 28.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

"THE LITTLE OUTCAST."
WANTED, Wanted, Dates,
March 1, 8, 15, April 12.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

NEW PLAY,
by
MRS. MORTON POWELL.
WANTED, Dates, for this Superb Production.
Will Draw the Million.
Feb. 1 (through transfer),
March 1, 15.
MORTON POWELL, Queen's T., Farnworth, Bolton.

ALFRED B. CROSS'S TOUR.
"THE MANXMAN."
"THE MANXMAN."
By Hall Caine and Wilson Barrett.
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 7, 21, and 28. Nov. 30, Victoria T., Burnley.
Mr. A. B. Cross as Pete. Miss Watersford as Kate.

MISS MARY NEIL,
in her Great Successes,
"FROM SHOP GIRL TO DUCHESS,"
by Charles Darrell,
and
"HER LUCK IN LONDON,"
by Charles Darrell.
WANTED, Theatres.—Only vacant dates for either play: Dec. 28, Jan. 4, 11, 18, Feb. 1 and 8, March 29, April 5, May 10 and 24.
Coms. to GEORGE KIRK,
This, Elephant and Castle, S.E.
Next, Victoria, Broughton, Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. CHALMERS MACKEY'S CO.
"ROLLICKING RORY."
WANTED, Jan. 18 (north), Feb. 1, 8, 15, March 1 (?).
H. M. Opera House, Blackpool;
next, T. R., Blyth.

CHARLES ROGERS' TOUR.
"£1,000 REWARD."
"£1,000 REWARD."
Owing to the Enormous Success of this Money-maker, a Grand Reproduction will take place next Feb.
WANTED, Feb. 1, 8, 22, March 1, and on, with exceptions. Apply, CHAS. ROGERS, 16, Crosby-road, Forest Gate, London, E.

HARDIE and VON LEER'S COYS.
WANTED Wanted, Theatres,
"TWO LITTLE VAGABONDS,"
Vacant Jan. 11, Feb. 1.
"TWO LANCASHIRE LASSES IN LONDON."
Vacant Feb. 1, 8, 15, April 19, 26.
"THE SAILOR'S WEDDING."
Vacant Jan. 4, Feb. 8, 22.
"THE GIRL I LOVE."
Vacant Nov. 30, Dec. 7, Jan. 4.
E. P. CLIFT, 110, St. Martin's-lane, W.C.
Wires, "Vagancy, London." Tel. No. 7504 Gerrard.

WANTED, First-class Theatre, for JAMES KIDDIE'S
Latest and Greatest Pantomime Production,
"ALADDIN."
"ALADDIN."
Vacant Feb. 1.
Vacant Feb. 1.
Only Vacant Date.
Can play twice nightly.
Address,
JAMES KIDDIE, Alexandra Theatre, Widnes.

"THE GREAT AWAKENING."
WANTED, good Theatres, Dec. 25 (seven nights), and Easter week (South).
MAUD HILDYARD, Palace T., Newcastle-on-Tyne.

MR. CHARLES M. BESTIC'S COMPANY,
in the Enormously Successful Musical Comedy,
"THE FLOWER GIRL."
Powerful Cast and Chorus.
WANTED, Dec. 7, 14 (near London, wires), Xmas, and onwards, with exceptions. All coms. re dates, address, J. J. STANFORD, 1, Sidney-road, Stockwell, S.W.

"THE CRIMES OF PARIS."
MRS. FRANK BATEMAN and GEORGE CONQUEST'S COMPANY.
WANTED, Feb. 1, Aug. 9, Sept. 6, 20, 27, Oct. 4, 11, Nov. 1 and 22.
Apply, E. DOTTRIDGE, Empire, Oldham.

"THE LOVE OF THE PRINCESS."
by C. Watson Mill.
WANTED, Theatres, Feb. 1, April 5, May 3, '09.
Coms., T. E. WARD, Rotunda, Liverpool.

"HIS SISTER'S HONOUR."
WANTED, Jan. 11, 18, Feb. 1, April 12, May 2, on. Record Business everywhere. There is not a finer all-round played, staged, and dressed piece touring.
E. A'DELL, Queen's, Fleetwood (third visit).

"THE PRIVATE SECRETARY."
EUGENE C. STAFFORD'S No. 1 CO.
WANTED, Nov. 30, Xmas week (7 nights), also Spring and Autumn
E. C. S., Bishopsdale, Biddenden, Kent.

"THE GREAT WHITE CHIEF."
WANTED, Theatres, Dec. 28, and Jan. 4, Feb. 1, March 8, 15, 22. Forty People on Stage. L. Carson in Cast. Wire for the above Great Attraction.
All coms., L. CARSON, Alex. Theatre, Hull.

WANTED, Jan. 18, 25, April 19, for "The Cingalee" Company of 40. Wire, HARMAN CRICHTON, Artillery Theatre, Woolwich; next, Aldershot.

"THE GIRL WHO WENT ASTRAY."
The Drama that Booms itself.
Receipts for four weeks exceed £1,600.
Cast of Recognised Artists. Each Member with not less than 10 years' experience.
Magnificent printing. Beautifully mounted.
WANTED, Easter (Only 1909 Holiday Date Vacant). FRED BULMER, Irving T., Saccombe.

"LUCKY LIZA."
The Laughing Success.
WANTED, Theatres, Feb. 15 and 22.
DICKIE CLARE, Alhambra, Stourbridge.

ROSE MONCRIEFF'S CO.
"THE BELLS OF OLD YORK."
By Rass Challis.
WANTED, Good Theatres, Feb. 1, April 5 and 12 (Wales), June 14 (to follow Stratford).
Address, MAURICE, Brixton Theatre, London.

"I DEFY THE WORLD."
By Arthur Shirley and B. Hill-Mitchelson.
WANTED, Good Theatres,
Jan. 11 and 25.
CHAS. M. JULIAN, R. T., Morecambe.

CHARLES FREEMAN'S TOUR.
WANTED, Dates, Dec. 14 and on, for "Current Cash" and "A White Demon." First-class Company, new Scenery and Effects.
Wire or write,
CHARLES FREEMAN, Drill Hall, Falmouth.

"THE 10.36 DOWN EXPRESS"
and
"GUILTY GOLD."
WANTED, Jan. 4, 18, 25 (Midlands).
HORACE STANLEY,
To-day, Stratford;
next, Lyceum Theatre, Ipswich.

MR. E. H. KNIGHT'S No. 1 CO.
"THE LIGHTHOUSE ROBBERY."
A Thrilling Spectacular Play. A Solid Success.
WANTED, Jan. 4 (Midlands or North), Jan. 11 (North), Feb. and March Dates, with exceptions. Thanks to many Managers for Contracts. Apply, E. H. KNIGHT, 7, The Crescent, Barnes, S.W.

THEATRES WANTED.

Miss HILDA BEVERLEY,
in
"A DESTROYER OF MEN."

Fast Booking Up 1909.

WANTED, Good Theatre, August Bank Holiday, 1909.

Wanted, Sept. 27.

Wanted, Nov. 1 and 8, 1909.

Managers wanting a good- well-managed Production,
apply, Miss HILDA BEVERLEY,
"A Girl's Cross Roads" Co., Star, Swansea.

MR. AND MRS. F. G. KIMBERLEY'S COS.
"A SOLDIER'S HONOUR."
"A SOLDIER'S HONOUR."
WANTED, Dec. 21, Dec. 21, Dec. 21. One of the greatest successes ever toured.
"BOUND TO WIN."
"BOUND TO WIN."
Wanted, Dec. 21, 28, can arrange seven nights. Racehorses toured, new Scenery and Costumes. Wire for these two great money-makers to KIMBERLEY, Scotlands, Wolverhampton.

"WHY MEN LOVE WOMEN,"
By Walter Howard.
Owing to Extension of Tour.
WANTED, Good Theatres, for
Dec. 21,
Jan. 11,
Jan. 18,
and various on.
ELLEN SNOW, to-day, Alex., Birmingham; next, T. R., Rotherham.

Messrs. ARMADALE and WARREN'S CO.
"THE FACE AT THE WINDOW."
"THE FACE AT THE WINDOW."
WANTED, Theatres, Christmas, Jan. 11, Feb. 8, 15, May 17, 24, 31, onwards, for the above Attraction. Address, ARMADALE and WARREN, Theatre Royal, Tonypandy.

"THE POWER OF THE CROSS."
"A FIGHT FOR A THRONE."
By Geo. A. De Gray.
WANTED, Wanted Dates,
"A FIGHT FOR A THRONE."
Wanted, Jan. 18, 25, March 1, 8.
"THE POWER OF THE CROSS."
Wanted, Feb. 8, March 15, 22, 29.
Re both plays,
GEO. A. DE GRAY, this T. R., Hyde; next, Queen's T., Liverpool.

S. RENNEF'S and G. M. COPPING'S PRODUCTIONS.
WANTED, Wanted, for "LOVE RULES THE WORLD" CO.
Xmas and New Year, Jan. 4, 11, onward.
"HOW WOMEN RUIN MEN,"
Xmas and New Year, Jan. 4, 11, onward.
Splendid Casts. Good Printing and Production.
G. M. COPPING, T. R., Sunderland.
Monday, T. R., Crook, Durham.

ARMITAGE and LEIGH'S COMPANIES.
Only One Company of Each Play—the Best.
The Triumph of the Artistic.
Wilson Barrett's last and greatest play.
"LUCKY DURHAM"
(fourth year of continuous tour).
WANTED, Dec. 28, and few onwards,
Charles Frohman's Greatest Success,
"LEAH KLESCHNA."
Ran one year London, third year of tour.
Vacant Dec. 21 (S), Jan. 4, Feb. 8, 15, March 29, April 12,
Henry Seton's Merriman's Greatest Work,
"WITH EDGED TOOLS,"
Adapted from the Great Novel, which has been read by over 2,000,000 people. Passed the 200th performance, and recognised as one of the best plays sent out. Vacant Dec. 28, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, March 15. All communications, H. ARMITAGE, Manager for Sir Charles Wyndham, New Theatre, St. Martin's-lane, London, W.C.

FRANK J. PITT'S COMPANY,
"A VICTIM OF VILLAINY."
"A VICTIM OF VILLAINY."
A Powerful Domestic Drama, in four Acts, by Walter Howe.
WANTED, Jan. 25, Feb. 1, 22, March 1, & 29, April 26, May 3, 17, on.
Splendid plants of pictorials by David Allens and Moody Bros.

Nov. 30, T. R., Edmonton, N.

WANTED, "Under Two Flags," Jan. 18, 25, Feb. 15, 22, March 22, 29.
MARK BLOW, 6, Selsea-avenue, Herne Bay.

WANTED, Mark Blow's Latest Success, "At Roaring Camp," Jan. 18, Feb. 15, March 1, 22, 29. MARK BLOW, 6, Selsea-avenue, Herne Bay.

WANTED, "Cripple Creek," Jan. 25, Feb. 22, May 17, 24.
MARK BLOW, 6, Selsea-avenue, Herne Bay.

"THE CRIMES OF PARIS."
WANTED, Feb. 1, Aug. 9 and 30.
Address, E. DOTTRIDGE, Empire, Oldham.

WANTED, Known, "Was She to Blame?" by Mrs F. G. Kimberley. Grand Production at the Junction, Manchester, Easter; all Holiday Dates booked up to Whit, 1910; no vacant dates in 1909. Write for 1910 to KIMBERLEY, GREEN and HINTON, Scotlands, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Jan. 4, 11, for "Dandy Fifth." Wire, CLARENCE CORRI, Artillery Theatre, Woolwich; next, Aldershot.

"WHEN A LASS LOVES," by Tom Craven. This entirely new Melodrama having proved such a huge success as produced this week at Margate, Mr. Tom Craven has decided to Tour it.
WANTED, for "When a Lass Loves," Xmas week and onwards. Apply, W. W. KEENE, Theatre Royal, Margate.

"THE MASTER CRIMINAL."
WANTED, Good Theatres, Dec. 7, 14, and 21, for this Great Success.
HENRY L. OSMOND, West London Theatre, N.W.

FRANK C. MARDELL'S "CINDERELLA."
First-class Scenery, Dresses, and Printing, Full Cast, Twenty Chorus, Conductor, Advance Agent.
WANTED, First-class Theatres, Scotland, Dec. 14, onwards. Address all Communications, FRANK C. MARDEL, 46, Grindlay-street, Edinburgh.

WANTED, Theatres, from Aug. next, for the Most Successful American Drama (full American cast). No old story: the Jew Comedian is the Hero. A Novelty. A Sure Draw. Send terms and particulars, RITCHIE-HEARN, Kembury-st.-mansions, Camberwell.

THE GIPSIES AND THEIR JESTER.
WANTED, Pier Pavilions, Winter Gardens, &c. The Directors of the Leas Pavilion, Folkestone, have re-engaged them for seventeen weeks next summer. Their returns showed another 40 per cent. advance over their previous season, which was 50 per cent. over any preceding year.
Only Vacancies Next Summer:
Week commencing Monday, April 19, 26,
May 3, 10, 17, June 7, 14, 21, 28, Sept. 20, onward.
Mr. D'ARCY CLAYTON,
23, Brockman-road, Folkestone.

WANTED, First-class Halls, Theatres, &c., Fontainbleau's Franco-British Hippodrome Co., Eight Turns, including Four Specialities. The only Troupe of Russian Performing Poodles. Public Hall, Rhos, Ruabon.

ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, for Short Stock, Christmas, Artists in all Lines, including Child. Lowest terms and photos., JAMES ELPHINSTONE, Lyceum Theatre, Stafford.

WANTED, Principals, Chorus Manager, Advance Agent. Call, Grosvenor Arms, Sidney-rd., Stockwell, Mon., 11 o'clock. C. BESTIC.

WANTED, Gentlemanly Heavy, Juvenile Leading Lady and Chambermaid. State terms and particulars, TOM H. TAYLOR, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

WANTED, Tall Character Heavy (Mexican part), Juvenile Gentleman, Advance Agent, Spring Tour, opening Xmas. State terms, height, references. MARK BLOW, 6, Selsea-avenue, Herne Bay.

WANTED, Boy Chorister, also Baritone Chorister for Music Halls. Full particulars, ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre, Worcester.

ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines. If not known, send photographs, ANDREW MELVILLE, Metropole T., Birmingham.

WANTED, Artists for "Ticket of Leave," Special week, Dec. 14, H. M. T., Dundee. Apply, with photos. and particulars, to LOUIS KARPS, H. M. T., Dundee.

WANTED, Artists, for Music Hall Sketch, Gentlemen for Light Comedy and Willie Edouin Part, Leading Lady for Grecian Character. Apply, with full particulars, terms, &c., Box 5,203, "The Era."

WANTED, Tall Lady, not less than 5ft. 9in., for small comedy part, able to sing if necessary, rehearse immediately. Photos. (in tights, if possible), age, lowest terms, &c., to ELLEN SNOW, to-day, Alex., Birmingham; next, T. R., Rotherham.

WANTED, Rough, Active Chambermaid, Sketch, one that can sing preferred. Age, height, experience, references, photo. (stamp imperative), G. REX, Post Office, Dumfries.

WANTED, Juvenile Leading Man, with First-class Stylish Wardrobe, to rehearse next week. Applicants please state age, height, experience, lowest terms, and enclose recent photo., with stamped envelope for return. Address, STEPHEN PRITT, Theatre Royal, Preston.

WANTED, Heavy Gentleman, Touring to open Dec. 14. Rehearse prior.
State terms and full particulars,
W. E. MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

WANTED, tall young Gent, for Dude part in Comedy Sketch for the Music Halls. A long, comfortable Engagement to the right man. Apply, ACTORS, c/o Tom Shaw, 18, Adam-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, for Production of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at Xmas, Refined and Educated Boy (10-14), for title-rôle. Previous experience not absolutely essential. Apply by letter only, with photo.,
MANAGER, Court Theatre, S.W.

WANTED, Top Tenors and Deep Bassos; must have exceptional voices. Apply next Tuesday, 12 o'clock, JONES, Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham.

WANTED, Young Dancers, dark, not too tall. Apply at once,
1, Gloucester-mansions, Cambridge-circus, W.C.

WANTED Wanted Known,
THE GRENFELL CLUB,
FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,
23 Bedford-street, Strand.
Cosy Tea Rooms, Luncheons, Dinners, &c.
Open on Sundays.
No Entrance Fee.
Residential Terms, Ladies only.
from 18s. 6d. inclusive.

ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Dec. 7, by Arthur Royce, the Popular Entertainer at the Piano. Wire to-day, Palace, Gloucester; Monday, Palace, Porth.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Pantomime Artists, Specialities, Acrobatic Dancers, Conductor, Acting-Manager, Carpenter, and Baggage-man. Absolute lowest terms, ADRIM, 19, Trelawn-road, Brixton.

WANTED, Full Company, for Fit-up Panto., including Agent and Wardrobe Mistress. Long, comfortable Tour. Photos. and full particulars to TARBET, 8, Kerr-street, Northampton.

WANTED, First-class Comedian, for Abanazar, and good Speciality for Palace Scene. Age, height, references, lowest terms, E. G. FALCON, County Theatre, Bedford.

WANTED, First-class Comedian, for Pantomime; must sing and dance well; also good Second Boy. Silence a polite negative. Terms and references, MILTON BODE, County Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, smart Knockabout Tumbler, Comedian, for Pantomime Speciality. Photo., experience, terms first letter, SAVAGE, Trinity-street, West Bromwich.

WANTED, Girl Babe, for "Babes in the Wood" Pantomime. Age not over 15. Apply by letter, A. E. ABRAHAMS, 26, Great Eastern-road, Stratford, E.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, by Crissie Cross, smart Singer and Dandy Dancer, at Liberty for Panto., Principal or Second Girl. Address, c/o 7, Loughborough-road, Brixton, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Ada Twibell, Disengaged Panto., Principal Boy. Offers invited. 39, Gateley-road, Brixton, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Miss Louie Hurman, at Liberty for Panto., Principal Boy, last year Alex., Sheffield. Permanent, 7, Canonbury-avenue, Highbury, London, N.

WANTED, Panto., by the smartest Child Actress on the Stage, Parts and Speciality. Offers invited.
Address after Saturday,
19, Austral-street, West-square, S.E.

WANTED, Panto., Second Boy and Girl, by Sisters Bronson, Duettists and Dancers. This week, Empire, Battersea, 7.40 and 10.40; next, County Theatre, Kingston.

WANTED, Known, The Harkers, Harker Nicholls and Miss Dorothy, The World's Greatest Concertinists and Novelty Instrument Performers; just returned from India. The most Varied and High-class one hour's show extant. Monologues, Ballads, Sketches, Indian Mysteries, Piano, Banjo, Xylophone, Concertina, &c., and the Ever-famous "Jam-pots." Open for Pictures or Panto., Baron or Atkins. Miss Dorothy, Understudy Principal. Address, "St. Eval," Church-rd., Leyton.

WANTED, Known, Will Owen, the Inimitable Dame Comedian and Comedy Dutch Vocalist, Vacant for Panto. (Dame), also Monday next, Nov. 30. This, King's Hall, Farnworth; next, 60, Denmark-road, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Fred Hallam still at Liberty for Panto. Many thanks for offers.
Address, 7, Barclay-road, Fulham, S.W.

WANTED, Panto., by Sam Leo, Cat, Dog, any Animal or Knockabout part, Leaps, Traps, &c. This, Emp., Portsmouth; next, H., Colchester.

WANTED, by Leroni, the Boneless Baritone, Demon King or Chorus, or Music Halls. Address, 22, Bidborough-street, King's Cross, W.C.

WANTED, Known, Tom Poole (Poole and Poole), Comedian and Quaint Acrobatic Dancer, Vacant Panto. This, Palace, Attercliffe; next, Hippo., Stoke-on-Trent (a winner).

WANTED, Known, Jack Foley, at Liberty for Panto., Dame or P. Comedy.
Perm., 7, Canonbury-avenue, Highbury, London, N.

WANTED, Known, Jack Heath, Eccentric Comedian, Liberty for Pantomime, Comedian or Dame and Stage-Management. Address, Palace, Battersea, London.

WANTED, Known, Cleland, still Vacant for Pantomime. The laughing success of the Crown, Peckham, last year.—Vide Cecil Paget, Esq. Letters or Wires, this, Hippo., Lancaster; next, Hippo., Rotherham; Dec. 7, Hippo., Oldham.

WANTED, Engagement, by First-class Pantomimist and Knockabout Comedian; used to Animal parts, Leaps, &c. M. D., 31, Trinity-square, Brixton.

WANTED, Known, Knockabout Pantomimist and Animal Impersonator, Liberty for Panto. Last with Fredk. Mouillot, Esq. Add., KNOX, 8, Perth-street, West Hartlepool.

WANTED, Pantomime, by Nash and Noel.
This, Pavilion, Glasgow; next, Empire, Bristol.

WANTED, Known.—Vacant, a Big Panto. Attraction, Lumiere's Original Electric Fairy Grotto Dances. Share or salary. Write to Inventor, J. BERTINO, Monday return, Winter Gardens, Southport, Dec. 7, return, Hippo., Wigan. This week, again packing Empire, Dudley.

SCENIC ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Scenic Artists, Theatre Managers, &c., to write for Leete's Catalogue of colours, varnishes, painting brushes, and every requisite for scene painting and theatre decoration. The fullest range of colours in the trade. A. LEETE and Co., 129, London-road, Southwark, S.E.

WANTED, First-class Scenic Artist, for several weeks at Theatre Royal, Brighton.
Apply, with terms and references,
MILTON BODE, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, good Scenic Artist, for a few weeks, with own brushes. Send absolute lowest terms and references to F. G. KIMBERLEY, The Scotlands, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Scenic Artist, Special fortnight. Will Artist working last July Empire, Southend, write? Interview Saturday.
J. EDWARD WHITTY, T. R., Woolwich.

SCENIC ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Contracts, for Painting Scenery, First-class Work guaranteed. CECIL E. HICKS, Painting Room, Princess's Theatre, Oxford-street, London, W.

WANTED, Scenery Contracts, Productions, Our Paint Frames, 40 by 24; Theatres completely fitted with Scenery, Ropes, Blocks, Cleats, &c. Estimates and Designs submitted free. Scenery bought and exchanged. FRED WILKINS and BRO., LTD., 54, Whitechapel, Liverpool. Telegrams, "Theatrical."

WANTED, Contracts for Scenery, Pantomime, Productions, or Stock; good, effective work, cheap. JACKS, Scenic Artist, 46, Holloway-road, London, N.

WANTED, Contracts for Scenery; Effective, Artistic Work, Good Joinery, Moderate Prices. Large Studio and Workshop. CHARLES SAYER, Scenic Artist, 2, Clarendon-road, Croydon.

WANTED, Contracts for every description of Scenery, Pantomime, Stock, &c.
SCENIC STUDIO, Gaiety, Blyth.

WANTED, Known, K. J. McLennan, Scenic Artist, can arrange Engagement for First-class Theatre, or accept Contracts. Prince of Wales' Theatre, Birmingham.

WANTED, Wanted, Known,
W. BERNASCONI, Scenic Artist,
53, St. James's-place, Liverpool.

WANTED, Engagement, by Fred Stafford, Scenic Artist; highest references and designs forwarded. 24, Shearer-road, Portsmouth.

WANTED, by Philip Small, Scenic Artist, Engagement or Contract; Town or Provinces. Address, 26, Elgin-terrace, Maida Vale, London.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED, Gentleman, to thoroughly learn Stage, Acting, and Business-Management, in First-class Operatic and Comedy Company, well established; must be a gentleman in every way. Premium required £100; salary paid £3 per week for 20 weeks, and all fares paid. Proprietor holds first-class position in theatrical circles.
Write, Box 5,144, "The Era."

WANTED, First-class Acting Manager,
Send references to
W. E. POTTS, Theatre, Dunfermline.

WANTED, Young Gentleman, to learn duties of Acting-Management, under experience Management. Premium required. A. B., 1, Westmorland-street, New Cavendish-street, W.

WANTED, smart young man, thoroughly experienced in Cinématograph Shows, for Advertising Manager and Lecturer, must be total abstainer. Apply, with latest references, by letter only, to W. NORTON, care Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope Syndicate, Ltd., 12, Little Newport-st., London, W.C. Those only in London at present need apply.

WANTED, smart Electrician and Operator; must be used to direct an dalternating current; must be steady and reliable. State age, experience, references, and wages required in first letter to A. E. PICKARD, Britannia T., Glasgow.

WANTED, Carpenter, for Pantomime; one who can work Flying Ballet preferred. Full particulars, ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, for "Man or Beast" Co., Carpenter to combine Baggage and Small Part; reliable, to open Monday. Apply to ERNEST VAUGHAN, 4 Grove-crescent-road, Stratford, E., between 7 and 8, Sunday evening.

HARRY STARR'S CO.
WANTED, smart and steady Carpenter, capable small parts. Height, age, and full particulars, BEN SYDNEY, Gaiety, Methil, Fifeshire.

WANTED, Carpenter, for Fit-up Tour; one who can paint scenery preferred; also Strong Baggage-man. Absolute lowest terms. HARGREAVES, Town Hall, Oakengates, Salop.

WANTED, strong Young Man, 18 to 25, to learn working part of First-class Company, with thoroughly practical man, in one of the largest Companies travelling, London season each year; only First-class Theatres visited. Premium £50 required (returned in salary, £2 weekly); must be thoroughly respectable, and R.C. preferred. Box 5,204, "The Era."

WANTED, Re-Engagement, as Stage Manager and Carpenter, by practical man, steady and reliable; used to quick programmes. Address, Box 5,193, "The Era."

WANTED, Re-engagement as Assistant Acting-Manager, formerly with well-known Circuit, Variety or Pictures; excellent references; small salary. Box 5,195, "The Era."

WANTED, at Liberty, Smart Experienced Variety, Stage, and General-Manager, combine both; used to lightning programme, twice nightly. L., 13n, Gladstone-street, Abertillery.

WANTED, by Advance Agent or Manager, a Shop, for India and East; good Shows only; 30 years' experience here; cheap. Address, BABINGTON and Co., Post-master, Bombay.

WANTED, Known, Mr. Albert King, Manager, Organiser, Portsmouth Exhibition, 1908, at Lib. Nov. 28; thorough smart business man. 75, Pearl-buildings, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Known, W. H. Grieves, Carpenter, Disengaged, Resident, Tour, or Stage-Manager in Music Halls. Gaiety, Hastings (3), Devonshire Park, Eastbourne (3).

WANTED, a Situation as a Billposter, or to take charge of a plant, with 7 years' experience in England, Canada, and United States; sober and reliable; can produce good refs.
Box 5,183, "The Era."

WANTED, Position, in Billposter's, ten years' experience in office and works; could take control. T., 5, Thirsk-road, Mitcham, Surrey.

WANTED, Engagement, by Young Man, 24, as Baggage Biller, and assist generally; capable of few lines; smart; reliable. H. ROBERTS, 54, Beardsall's-row, Retford.

WANTED, Known, Amy Samwells, First-class Wardrobe Mistress, Costumier, and Renovator. Dis. Good refs. 8a, Electric-avenue, Brixton, London.

WANTED, Situation as Costumier, Wardrobe Mistress, thoroughly experienced either Ladies' or Gentlemen's Costumes; any period; excellent references. Address, Box 5,196, "The Era."

WANTED, Evening Employment, by Lady; permanent, would give bonus. Good references. MILLS, c/o Fancourt, 48, Victoria-rd., Chalk Farm.

WANTED, Known, Lady's Maid and Wardrobe Mistress; good refs., last four years. Dis. early Dec. DUKE, 28, St. Paul's-road, Kennington.

WANTED, by Lady (tall) position as Attendant or Barmaid in Hall or Theatre; small salary. N. P., 87, Chestnut-grove, Balham, S.W.

MUSICIANS WANTED.

WANTED, First-class Conductor, for Pantomime.
Address,
MILTON BODE, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, Musical Director (Pianist), for Musical Comedy. Terms and references, GLIDDON, 30, Aytoun-road, Stockwell, London, S.W.

WANTED, Leader, for Music Hall, in Bristol.
Apply through Branch Secretary to Bristol Branch Sec.
Wanted, First Violin, for Music Hall, Derby.
Apply through Branch Secretary to General Secretary, A.M.U.
Wanted, two good Cornets, for Theatre Work, Darlington and Warrington. Apply to General Secretary, through Branch Secretary.
Wanted, Leader, Variety Business. Apply, with endorsement of Branch Secretary, to RICHARDSON, Musical Director, Hippodrome, Rotherham.
Terms and conditions to be obtained from Branch Secretaries.

PARAGON THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LONDON, E.
WANTED, First and Second Violins, Brilliant Players, with powerful tone, and well up in Variety Business; also Trombone and Euphonium combined, and Double Drummer, with Tymp. and all Effects.
Terms and references to CONDUCTOR.

WANTED, excellent Leader (Lady), Solo and Orchestral, must be well experienced and good appearance; only first-class players should apply (permanency). Terms, reference, to Box 5,206, "The Era."

HIPPODROME, ROTHERHAM.
WANTED, First-class Leader; must be used to Variety (A.M.U.), to open Monday, Dec. 7. Evening dress. State age and references to RICHARDSON, Conductor, Hippodrome, Rotherham.

WANTED, to open immediately, Good Leader and First Cornet; permanency. Terms, age, and refs. to CHAS. ELPHINSTONE, Grand T., Hanley, Staffs.

WANTED, Smart Leader, or First Violin, Varieties, Open Monday week. Terms, age, &c., A. E. HUNT, Mus. Dir., Temperance Hall, Merthyr.

WANTED, First-class Rép. First Violin, strictly sober, for Pavilion Theatre, Glasgow; no deputies allowed (except two weeks for holidays). Salary, £2 0s. 10d.; commence Dec. 7. Application and testimonials to HOWARD GALPIN, Mus.-Director.

WANTED, First-class Reliable Leader, also 'Cello, Crown Theatre, Eccles. None but good men, used to Variety, need apply. MANAGER.

WANTED, for the Exmouth Professional Town Band, First Violin, to act as Leader. Terms shares. SMITH, 10, Halsdon-road, Exmouth.

WANTED, First Violin, to Open Immediately, experienced in varieties essential. Lowest terms, references, T. A. EDWARDES, Palace, Derby.

T. ALLAN EDWARDES' THEATRES.
WANTED, open Monday, Nov. 30, First Violin, as Leader, also good Variety Pianist. State terms and all particulars first letter.
HARRY HUNTER, Manager, Grand Theatre, Blackpool.

BRIGHTON MUNICIPAL ORCHESTRA.
WANTED, First-class Solo Clarionet to write in immediately; two performances daily; permanency. Good salary to really fine experienced Player. JOSEPH SAINTON, Musical-Director, Brighton.

WANTED, an experienced Clarionet, to open Dec. 7. Apply, with references and terms, to MUSICAL-DIRECTOR, Gilbert's Palace, Exeter.

WANTED, at Once, good Euphonium Player, for Town Band. Permanent. Terms, shares. BANDMASTER, 4, Richmond-av., High-street, Southend.

WANTED, Soprano and Tenor B flat Saxophones for Voorzanger's Quintette. 61, Warwick-avenue, Maida Vale, London, W.

WANTED, 'Cello, used to Variety Business. Terms, 30s., half salary for matinées. Apply, E. FARRAR, Mus. Dir., Hippodrome, Hull.

WANTED, Flautist, Young Man or Lady, for abroad, twelve months certain, fares both ways. Apply, 11 to 5,
NATIONAL MUSICAL AGENCY, 119, Regent-street, London, W., or by letter.

WANTED, experienced Dramatic Pianist; able to arrange Long Tour for reliable man. Age, refs., and actual terms, J. B. CARRICKORD, Oxmantown Hall, Parsonstown, Ireland.

WANTED, Pianist, and Wife, for Bodie's Hippodrome, Ferndale; must be well up in variety and dramatic music, and assist billing, wife to assist cleaning. Apply, with lowest terms, to TOM N. MILLS, Hippodrome, Ferndale, South Wales.

WANTED, Pianist and Vocalist, must be used to Variety, open Mon., wire FONTAINBLEAU, P. H., Chirk, Ruabon. Proprietors and Managers requiring something up-to-date secure Fontainbleau's finest and greatest Troupe of Performing Dogs. On Tour; vacant Dec. 21. Com., Public Hall, Rhos, Ruabon.

WANTED, good Picture Pianist, Lecture, and assist generally,
Box 5,199, "The Era."

W. HAMILTON'S EXCURSIONS
WANTED, to commence Dec. 28, at Dundee, Double Drummer, with all Effects; must be of good appearance, wear evening dress, and be absolutely reliable. Terms and references, Coliseum, Leeds.

WANTED, Double Drummer and Effects, for small Military Band, permanent. Send references and particulars to ALEX. CORRISON, Conductor, Penzance Military Band, Penzance.

WANTED, Teacher for Mandoline and Violin Classes. State experience and salary required. 2, Shaw-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, the following First-class Musicians: Leader (Solo Violin and Conductor), Pianist, 'Cellist and Bass, for Booth Line, Jan. 1, permanency to suitable Musicians; Répétiteur and 'Cellist, for Mauretania, Jan. to April; Leader (Solo Violin), Répétiteur, Pianist, 'Cellist, and Contrabassist, for Cunard Line, Jan., 1909.

Audition necessary in London or Liverpool before engagement.
Applicants state age and give two references as to character and ability, to
CHAS. WM. BLACK,
14, Castle-street, Liverpool.

CO. ASYLUM, WHITTINGHAM, PRESTON.
WANTED, Musician Attendants, First Violin and Viola, not over 35 years of age, and single, must be competent players. Wages commencing at £33 per annum, increasing to £38 in the first year, then by annual instalment up to £45, and according to promotion, to £50 and £65, with board, lodging, washing, and uniform.
Apply to THE MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT.

WANTED.—Musicians "Out of Shop" and Bandmasters requiring Instrumentalists will do well to try an advertisement in the "Wanted" Columns of "The Era." One Shilling expended on Twenty Words (each additional Six Words Sixpence) is likely to bring successful results, as explained in the following letters from grateful Advertisers:—

FROM A MUSICIAN:—
To the Manager of "The Era" Advert. Dept., "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.
Re Advertisement
"'WANTED, ENGAGEMENT BY CORNET.'
"Thanks for inserting above in the last number of your paper. I have obtained a comfortable shop. Had seventeen replies. You need not put in the second insertion.
"Yours truly, 'A GRATEFUL MUSICIAN.'"

FROM A BANDMASTER."
"Re Advertisement, 'WANTED, DRUMMER.'
"Please do not insert my advt. for the second insertion, as I am pleased to say I have had twenty replies, and secured a Drummer.
"Yours truly, PHILIP GERMANN, Bandmaster,
"Littlehampton."

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Engagement, by Michael Connelly, Musical Director (Violin), large and valuable library. Pantomimes, Dramas, &c., composed and arranged. Victoria Theatre Ramsgate.

WANTED, Engagement, by Ed. Landor, Musical-Director, Brilliant Pianist, Arranger, Composer; also Florence De Vere, Principal or Character Parts. Last year, Andie Caine's "Goody Two-Shoes." Previous, Walters', St. John Denton's, &c. Perm. address, 39, Station-road, Woodhouse, near Sheffield.

WANTED, Engagement, Musical-Director (Violin), Variety or Theatre. References, Stoll Tour, &c. Good Library of Music. Liberty. Open Dec. 7. ALFRED HENRY TOWELL, 20, William-street, Bradford.

WANTED, Engagement, as Conductor, any Business; 3 years T. Allan Edwards, Esq.; previous 3 years T. Barrasford, Esq. GEO. ROBERTSHAW, 30, West-street, Penkhull, Stoke-on-Trent.

WANTED, Engagement by experienced Conductor (Violin), Variety or Dramatic. Terms moderate; excellent refs.; good arranger. MUSICUS, 32, Osborne-road, Pontypool, Mon.

WANTED, Known, good Variety Leader, at Liberty, brilliant Violinist; experienced and reliable. Wire for Monday, 5, Gilbert-st., Seedley, Manchester.

WANTED, Engagement, by Leader, or First Violin or Viola; experienced; Disengaged Dec. 7. PRITCHARD, 30, Church-road, Gorleston, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, Known, Hetty Austin, Violinist, just finished five months' engagement; Ada Austin, Pianist and Accompanist. 152, Herbert-road, Plumstead, S.E.

WANTED, by Lady Violinist, Engagement as First Violin or Leader; experienced; good reader. Apply, C. W., 451, York-road, Wandsworth, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement (through termination of Dramatic Season), by Violin (Leader), Clarionet, Cornet, and Double Bass, together or separately; any business. CONDUCTOR, 32, Osborne-road, Pontypool, Mon.

WANTED, by Violinist, young, good Répétiteur or Leader, Situation, Hotel preferred; excellent references. Address, Box 5,185, "The Era."

WANTED, by experienced Violinist, combined Viola, Engagement, any Business; excellent references. Box 5,189, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by Second Violin. Only moderate wage desired.
Box 5,194, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, as First or Second Violinist; steady, experienced, and reliable player. Box 5202 "The Era."

WANTED, an Engagement, Violin or Viola, for Nov. 28. A. N., 7, St. Stephens-crescent, Bayswater.

WANTED, Engagement, First-class Violinist; good library music; wife highly trained Vocalist; joint preferred. State terms. Address, VIOLINIST, c/o McFall, Wellington-street, Ballymena, Co. Antrim.

WANTED, Engagement, as Violin or Viola. Write or wire, H. S. KIRKMAN, 64, Lauderdale-street, Preston.

WANTED, Engagements, by First-class Solo Cornet and Trombone; well up any Répertoire; good credentials; permanent preferred.
Box 5,184, "The Era" Office.

WANTED, Engagement, by Cornet, Military or Orchestral; just completed 12 years Army Bandsman (Solo Cornet). A. WARNER, 38, Cambridge-road, Hammersmith.

WANTED, by Cornet, Engagement, Music Hall or Theatre. Highest reference.
G. L., 100, Eversleigh-road, Battersea.

WANTED, by Cornet, First or Second, Engagement; experienced any business; good references. Box 5,206, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagements, by experienced Clarionet. Good refs.
B., 5, Burr-street, Minories, E.

WANTED, Engagement, by Contra Bass, Conductors wanting a thoroughly experienced, steady, reliable man, please apply. Box 5,200, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, reliable Contra Bass, Disengaged Dec. 7; experienced all Lines.
FRED HANDEL, Theatre Royal, Pontypool.

WANTED, Engagement, Bassoon, Pantomime, Variety, or any other business. Excel. refs. Address, Box 5,173, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by Lady Double Bass, well experienced, orchestral or variety business. Box 5,178, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by Lady Double Bass, or Drummer.
E. S., 83, Westmoreland-street, Pimlico, London.

WANTED, Known, Bassoonist, at Lib., Panto., Variety or other bus.; excel. refs.; term, season Worthing Borough Band. 7, Sutton-street, Holloway Head, Birmingham.

WANTED, Known, Bassoonist, at Liberty, fully experienced Musical Comedy, Varieties, Oratorios. C. E. SHAW, 7, Woodthorpe-terrace, Bankfield-road, Huddersfield.

WANTED, First-class Engagement, by reliable experienced Trombonist, at Liberty shortly; excellent references. DEAKIN, 14, Middlebourne-street, Seedley, Manchester.

WANTED, by Trombone, Engagement, Music Hall. Highest reference. A. A., 49, Ashbury-road, Shaftesbury Estate, Battersea.

WANTED, Engagement, Trombonist; experienced and reliable; Theatre or Music Hall; could join at once. PEEL, 20, Warley-street, Parkinson-lane, Halifax.

WANTED, by Euphonium, Engagement in any Band; willing to work; good references. J. WILLIAMS, Oxford View, Junction-rd., Cowley, Oxford.

WANTED, Engagement, as Bombardon, any Business, steady and reliable. Friends note address, HARRY WOODAGE, 30, Lower Cavendish-place, Eastbourne.

WANTED, Known, French Horn (Second) at Liberty for Theatre, Pantomime, or any Bus.; 15 years' experience, G. and C. Opera, Symphonies, Concerts, &c. A1 testimonials (English). Apply, MUSICIAN, 70, Meanly-road, Manor Park, E.

WANTED, Engagement, permanency, First Horn, 6 years' experience in Orchestral work, commence at once. Write, FRENCH HORN, 86, Richmond-road, Dalston, N.E.

WANTED, by good 'Cellist, permanent Engagement, West End preferred; good references.
41, Dyne-road, Kilburn, N.W.

WANTED, Known, Viola requires Engagement, Theatre; good bonus for permanency; hard worker; moderate wage. Address, Box 5,187, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement as Oboe or String Bass, any business; experienced.
J. CRABTREE, 7, Manchester-road, Blackpool.

WANTED, by Oboe, Flute, and Piccolo, age 21, excellent musician, little experience, job, any capacity. Low salary to gain experience. 13, Baythorne-street, Burdett-road, Bow, E.

WANTED, Engagement, by thoroughly experienced Flautist, Disengaged Dec. 9.
Apply, New Theatre, Oxford.

WANTED, Engagement, Lady Pianist, good Sight-reader; experienced; highest references; free Dec. 19. Miss BOWDEN, 1, Haldon-road, Exeter.

WANTED, Engagement, Lady Pianist, good sight reader and accompanist, or Ladies' Orchestra; well recommended. M. SCULLEY, 12, Stockwell Park-road, S.W.

WANTED, by Pianist, Engagement; thoroughly experienced in Variety and Dramatic Business. L., MAJOR HORNSBY, 9, Temperance-terrace, Ushaw Moor, Durham.

WANTED, Engagement, Orchestral Pianist, combining Violin; experienced any business; good refs. MANLEY, 96, Cemetery-rd., Southport.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Picture Engagement, by Brilliant Pianist; experienced; Disengaged London district. MARIE MORTIMER, 67, Arthur-road, Wimbledon Park.

WANTED, Engagement, as Double Drummer, any business, four seasons with Sir Robert Fossett's Circus. Wolverton, Saturday; after, Post Office. FRANK LAKE, Drummer.

WANTED, Engagement, as Drums, own Tymps. Glockenspiel, E flat Tubular Bells. NEVILL, 163, St. Leonard's-road, Windsor.

WANTED, Engagement, by Amy Vetta, as Double Drummer, for one month. Salary £1 10s. weekly. Address, c/o "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by Hungarian Czimbalist. Letters to BENE JOZSEF, 84, Farleigh-road, Stoke Newington, N.

WANTED, Engagement, by Mandolinist, good Musician; quick reader and memoriser; also Violin, Viola, Banjo, Guitar, Piano. Address, 5,188, "The Era."

WANTED, by Miss Winnie Watson's Ladies' Poppy Orchestra and Vocalists, from Franco-British, Palace Pier, Brighton, Edinburgh Exhib. 14, Gladstone-terrace, Brighton.

WANTED, Known, Algernon Clarke's Orchestras and Ladies' Bands, Exhibitions, Concerts, Dinners, Dances. Uniforms and Music for Sale or Hire. 28, Lonsdale-road, Barnes. Telephone 109 Putney.

WANTED, Known, Madame H. E. Angless's Ladies' Orchestra, vacant Dec. Address, 33, Arodene-road, Brixton Hill, S.W. Please note change of address.

WANTED, Engagement, any Bus., a Smart Family Band of Six; through closing. Terms moderate. RUSSELL, 16, Albert-road, Long Eaton, Notts.

CIRCUS ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Circus Artist, Performing Ponies, Dogs, Small Riding Acts, suitable for Stage Circus, 26ft. ring; also would Hire two or three Performing Ponies, for winter season. CIRCUS PROPRIETOR, P.O., Bolton.

WANTED, immediately, a good Thrower and Catcher, to join well-known Troupe of Acrobats. State weight and full particulars to A. B., General Post Office, Sheffield.

WANTED, at Once, Top-mounter and a Tumbler. Send full particulars to FRANK STEBBING, Metropole, Manchester.

CIRCUS ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Known, that the Three Royal Ohmys, Wonderful Acrobatic Bareback Riders, have made the Greatest Success ever known at the Grand Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth. Everyone that has seen this Act declares that it is the Greatest and Only Act of the Kind ever seen in a Circus Ring. Note.—Through altering date The Royal Ohmys will be at Liberty at Christmas with six good acts and three or five horses. For particulars, address, ROYAL OHMYS, Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, by Paun Bujor, the late Buffalo Bill's Rough Rider, who presents his thoroughbred Mare in her Novelty Act, Racing Tricks. Apply, Maerdy, Glam., South Wales.

WANTED, Known, Robert Davies, Bareback Equestrian, at Liberty after a season of twenty-seven weeks with First-class Acts. Add., Circus, Drogheda, Ireland.

A Sound Speciality of Value
Draws its Own and Other's Salaries.
Open Dates, Pantomime &c.

WANTED, by Quinette's Perfect Animal Show, Pony and Ten Dogs; Two Acts, Ring or Stage, Touring or Resident. Communications, Bryntirion Farm, Rhyl, Wales.

WANTED, Known, "The Human Aeroplanes," Etherdo, Pugh, and Olrac, received a Flattering Reception at the Grand Opening of Cooke's Royal Cirque, Edinburgh.

WANTED, Engagements, for Airship Flights, Balloon Ascents, Captive Balloons, Balloon Races, Parachute Descents, gas or hot-air balloons, by Lady or Gentlemen Aeronauts. SPENCER BROS., LTD., 45B, Aberdeen-park, Highbury, London, N.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

HARMONIC ASSOCIATION.

WANTED, Known, these Concerts ceased Oct. 31, 1908. Artists please note, and cancel dates

WM. BIGGAM, Sec., 397, Paisley-road West, Glasgow.

WORCESTER PALACE OF VARIETIES;

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, Twice Nightly; also WORCESTER EMPIRE, (twice nightly). Wanted, Artists doing Double Turns, used to Picture Shows. No wires, please. ARTHUR CARLTON, Palace, Worcester.

KING'S THEATRE, EDINBURGH.

WANTED, First-class Variety Star Artists, all Lines. Nothing too Big.
A. MASCARD, Manager.

KING'S, KILMARNOCK.
Lessee and Manager, J. CUMMINGS.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines. Big Star Attractions. Nothing too Big.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, Comedians, Serios, Specialities. Hall small, so no fancy prices. Lowest terms, particulars, LOUDEN, Hippodrome, Airdrie, N.B.

HARROGATE OPERA HOUSE.

WANTED, Variety Artists, Thursday next, Dec. 3 (3 nights).
Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK,

WANTED, Variety Artists in all Lines, Acts with Drawing Powers (Nothing too Big), Nov. 30, onwards. CLAGGERS, Gaiety, Blyth.

HARROGATE, SCARBOROUGH, and YORK.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists (nothing too big), for Monday next and onwards. Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK, Opera House, Harrogate. Silence a polite negative.

BRITANNIA, GLASGOW.

WANTED, Variety Artists in all Lines, Dec. 14 and onwards. Hall small, so terms must be in proportion. Apply to A. E. PICKARD, Sole Proprietor and Manager.

WANTED, Star Variety Artists, Immediate and Future Dates.
Bookings and lowest terms first letter.
Fête and Galas, Season, 1909.
Sensational and Big Novelties.
Send lithos., terms, and permanent address,
EDGAR STEBBINGS,
23, Egerton-street, Manchester.
Telegrams, "Stebbing, Manchester." 'Phone 9251.

WANTED, Refined Variety Artists, three nights Dec. 3; may have Tour if suitable.. LE COURT, 23, Watling-street, Llanwrst, N. Wales.

HARROGATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, nothing too big, for Thursday next (three nights), Harrogate. Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK.
Silence a polite negative.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines, Sensations, Wrestlers, Knockabouts, Double Comedians, and Comedy of all Kinds. Wire lowest for Dec. 7, South Wales.
Address,
MANAGER, Treglyn House, Redruth, Cornwall.

WANTED, Variety Artists all Lines, Big Top for Dec. 7. for Midlands and North.
No Act too big.
Artists all Lines for all dates, address
CLIQUOT, 46, Brunswick-street, Manchester.

DREW BAYLEY'S AGENCY,
170, Saltmarket, Glasgow.

WANTED, Artists in every Line, big and small. Artists coming North will do well to write me for immediate and later dates.

WANTED, Known, Munroe's Agency. Artists must send me full list of bookings (not vacant dates). Nov. 30, Palace, Bath.
Note.—I am not Walter Munroe, the Irish Comedian.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Artists, of Note.
Wanted, Wanted, Wanted,

DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY,
DALTON'S AGENCY — I can book you
DALTON'S AGENCY — Immediate Dates,
DALTON'S AGENCY — and
DALTON'S AGENCY — Dates onward.
DALTON'S AGENCY — No Guessing.
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY — Send full list
DALTON'S AGENCY — and very lowest
DALTON'S AGENCY — (this essential),
DALTON'S AGENCY — and permanent addresses,
DALTON'S AGENCY — also
DALTON'S AGENCY — weekly apartments
DALTON'S AGENCY — address.
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY — 29, Mauldeth-road West,
DALTON'S AGENCY — Withington,
DALTON'S AGENCY — Manchester.
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
DALTON'S AGENCY
I said "Agency."

N.B.—State where never played.

GEORGE SMYTHSON'S AGENCY.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, Good Acts known to me please send full list of Bookings (including Engagements played throughout 1908), must have list of Bookings, or useless writing.
Kindly remember I know your real market value, so no "tricks on travellers," but actual lowest London and Provincial terms in each instance.
Good Novel Acts not known to me state when and where can be seen.
No Acts submitted unless seen and approved.
Silence a polite negative pro tem.

Permanent address,
38, Craster-road, Brixton Hill, London, S.W.
Week commencing Nov. 30. Address,
Jessamine House, Lady-lane, Norwich.

PALACE, DERBY;
PALACE, ATTERCLIFFE, SHEFFIELD;
HIPPODROME, STOKE;
GRAND THEATRE, BLACKPOOL.

WANTED, Artists, in all Lines, for Present and Future Dates. Combinations with real Drawing Star Tops, or First-class Pantomimes Playing Twice Nightly can be entertained for a few dates in January, February, and March. Full particulars in first instance to T. ALLAN EDWARDES, Palace, Derby.

WANTED, Star Artists all Lines, for Immediate and Future Dates.
WILLIAM MOULD, Central Palace, North Shields.

VICTORIA T., STANLEY, CO. DURHAM.

WANTED, Star Artists for immediate and Future Dates. T. C. RAWES, Proprietor.

WANTED, Artists, Double Turns, Sketches, &c., doing Singles, two weeks, Dec. 14, 21, 28, Jan. 4. CHARLES A. JAMES, Waxworks and Varieties, Dublin. Good Freaks write at once.

WANTED, Artists, all Lines, now and on. Lowest,
AUBREY, Lesser Town Hall, Pontypridd.

WANTED, Artists, Various, to open Dec. 26. Rehearse prior.
State terms and full particulars,
W. E. MELVILLE, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, from now onwards.
Apply, Mr. J. J. SCOTT, Empire, Wrexham.

FRED DURHAM'S AGENCY.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, Dec. 7, on. 1A, Loughboro'-rd., Brixton. 'Phone 15 Brixton

PAVILION, NORTHWICH.

Proprietress, Mrs. FLETCHER.
General-Manager, Mr. TOWYN THOMAS.
Assistant-Manager, Mr. REGINALD FLETCHER.

WANTED, Artists, Dec. 14, onwards. Call for Monday next, Frank Coyle, The Hazards, Uty, The Dewars, Jack Ford, Phil Royston, Bioscope.
Gen-Man., TOWYN THOMAS.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, Dec. 14, 21, and three following nights; also 28th, near London.
CADLE'S Agency, 105-6, Strand.

WANTED, Wanted, for the NEW PALACE OF VARIETIES, WATFORD,
Open Dec. 14,
Artists in every Branch of the Variety Profession, Good Top-liners, Comedians, Musical Scenas, Dramatic Sketches,
Big Novelties, and Sensational Attractions.
Anything that will draw and please the Public.
First-class Animal Shows, Ballets, Military and Equestrian Spectacles can be entertained.
All must be New to Watford.
State also terms in first instance, as the town is small, and no fancy prices can be entertained.
T. M. SYLVESTER,
217, Piccadilly, London, W.

WANTED, Artists, for Picture Show, Clever Lady Pianist, thirty weeks' tour, week towns. State lowest in first letter. WILL KNOTT, Town Hall, Kirkcudbright, N.B.

WANTED, Monday, Dec. 7, and onwards, Variety Artists, all Lines, good Specialities. Particulars, KITCHINGMAN, Aquarium, Scarborough.

WANTED, all Clients to Send full Bookings. Important. FRANK LYNNE'S Agency, 77, Angell-road, Brixton, S.W. 'Phone 1,303, Brixton.

VERNO'S AGENCY,
16, Elizabeth-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, for Dec. 7, onwards, Stars, Specialists, Novelties, and Artists of every description.
Telegrams, "Merriment." Telephone 2076 Royal.

WANTED, Big Variety and Speciality Stars, willing to share, Dec. 7 or 14.
JAMES ELPHINSTONE, Lyceum Theatre, Stafford.

WANTED, all the Stars and Novelties, Big Comedy Acts, immediate and future dates. Send list of bookings and terms to YATES, Agent, Gaiety, Dundee.

WILL SLEY,
WILL SLEY,
WILL SLEY,
180, Oxford-road, Manchester.

WANTED, for Dec., Jan., and on, Star Turns,
Comedians,
Serios,
Gymnasts,
Acrobats,
Bar Performers,
and
Any New and Novel Acts,
also Comedy Sketches.

Those not willing to pay usual 10% commission save stamps.

Telegraphic address, "Variety, Manchester."
Telephone, 09144.

WANTED, one or two good Turns, for Picture Shows, Long Eaton and Worksop,
Dec. 7 and 14.
W. PAYNE SEDDON, Theatre Royal, Loughboro'.

NEW LEIGH GRAND THEATRE AND HIPPODROME.
Grand Opening, Dec. 14, 1908.

WANTED, Star Specialities, all Lines, First-class, Dec. 14, and onwards. Quote absolute lowest terms, and where Act can be seen. Communications, WILLIAM BENSON, Man.-Dir., Hippodrome, Leigh.

THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPO., ALDERSHOT.

WANTED, Feb. 1, 1909, First-class Varieties. Novelties, and Specialities. Lowest terms and particulars to J. GLADWIN (Mgr. for Mr. C. Soanes).

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

Want of Luck generally means Want of Pluck.
PACEY'S AGENCY,
186, Brixton-road, London, S.W.
TOM PACEY, Sole Proprietor.

WANTED, Artists of all Kinds.
None too Big for this Firm.
Artists of all Grades treated fairly.
My terms are 10 per cent.
and no objectionable Re-engagement clause.
Pay only for work done.
PACEY'S AGENCY
can book everywhere.
Never mind what you hear.
Pacey is barred nowhere.
But still, remember,
the man without an enemy is a nonentity.
If you want dates,
send your full list of bookings and price,
PACEY'S AGENCY.
Sole Proprietor, TOM PACEY,
186, Brixton-road, London.
'Phone, 87 Brixton.
Telegrams, "Pacey's, London."

Manager, F. C. FRANCIS.

ALHAMBRA, BRIGHTON.
Lessee, A. SMITH.

WANTED, Talent in all Lines, from Dec. 7, onwards.
Price no object for the Right Stuff.
PACEY'S Agency,
186, Brixton-road, London.
'Phone, 87 Brixton.
Telegrams, "Pacey's, London."

STALYBRIDGE HIPPODROME.

WANTED, Talent, all Lines, Dec. 7, 14, 21, later.
JAMES FIONI'S Agency,
21, Norton-street, Liverpool.

NEW LYCEUM, TILBURY DOCKS.

WANTED, Music Hall Talent during the Season. Write particulars, lowest terms, and Vacant Dates in first letter to A. BALL, Proprietor.

WANTED, Acts of all Kinds for South Wales and District. Present and future dates. Send bookings, actual lowest. MARTINO'S Agency, 125, Barcroft-street, Grimsby.

WANTED, for Empire, Greenock, twice nightly; Star Acts. Nothing too Big. Salary or sharing terms; also Pantomimes and Combinations.

WANTED, Nov. 30, onwards, for Everywhere, Variety Acts, all Lines, Dec. 28, Animated Pictures, Latest Films, Electric Light. GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

WANTED, Dec. 21, onwards, First-class Novel Acts, of every description. Nothing is too big. Will following communicate immediately:—
Sim Maree, Lily Butler, and Henrietta and Selina.
GEO. ZALVA,
General-Manager, Gilbert's Palace, Exeter.

WANTED, Nov. 30, on, Star and Top of the Bill Acts. I can fix you. Brinn write.
Full Bookings, GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

HIPPO, SPENNYMOOR, under new Management.

WANTED, Funny Acts, Comedians, Sketch Artists, Ballet Troupes, &c., &c., nothing too big, must be new to the above town, to open Nov. 14, 1908. Hippo., Spennymoor, under new Management. Address, C. ALGIE, care of Brown, 132, Mains-street, off Sauchiehall-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, for Dec. 7, onward,
Star Acts, in all Lines.
Star Acts, in all Lines.
Full up for Smaller Items.
CADLE'S Agency, 105 and 106, Strand, W.C.

NEW HIPPODROME, SCARBOROUGH.
Managing-Director, WILLIAM PEACOCK.
One of the most Luxurious Theatres in the North.
Now running one house nightly at 8.
Holding capacity 2,000. Popular prices, 3d. to 1s. 6d.

WANTED, Star Variety Combinations, Musical, Dramatic, and Pantomime Companies, on sharing terms.
Vacant Dec. 14, onwards. Only First-class Attractions.
Address, WILLIAM PEACOCK,
Opera House, Harrogate.

ALBERT THEATRE, BRIGHOUSE.
QUEEN'S THEATRE, CASTLEFORD.

WANTED, Star Attractions of every Description. Nothing too Big; Bigger the Better. Star Novelties, Star Comedians, Star Comedy Acts, Star Specialities. Big Acts, share or salary. Full particulars, BEANLAND and EMERSON, Albert Theatre, Brighouse.

SYLVESTER'S THIRTY-FIRST GALA SEASON,
Commencing Easter Monday, 1909, onwards.

WANTED, Latest Novelties, Aerial or Stage, nothing too big. If any lithos., send specimen, stating lowest terms per day (not week), vacant dates. Letters only, no callers, 271, Clapham-road, London, S.W.

WANTED, for Palace Theatre, Reading, Tops and Bottoms of Bills, Several Dates, this and next year. Letters only, STANHOPE and Co., Ltd., 12, Buckingham-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Top and Bottom Liners. Address, with Bookings, GEO. AYTOUN, 103, Kennington Park-road, London, S.E.

HARROGATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, nothing too big, for Thursday next (three nights), Harrogate. Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK.
Silence a polite negative.

WANTED, for Bognor Pier during August, 1909. High-class Concert Parties. Apply, stating terms (sharing or otherwise) and open dates, to M. W. SHANLY, 33, King Henry's-road, South Hampstead, N.W.

FINLAY DUNN'S CONCERT PARTY.

WANTED, for Southend Al-fresco Concerts, Season 1909, Soprano for Concerteds, Comedian, Tenor, Baritone, and Pianist. All communications, ERNEST MITCHELL, 74H, Peckham-road, S.E.

WANTED, Knockabout Pantomimist, used to Clogs, also ditto for Dude, for Production of Pantomime Sketch. IDA HETHERINGTON, 49, Willington-road, Stockwell.

WANTED, for Picture Show, three Young Ladies. Sing, Dance, also useful Lads; long Tour. Lowest terms, live in; vacancy for smart Girl beginner. MANAGER, Hippodrome, Bridgwater.

WANTED, a Woman (Liliputian); must not be over 4ft. in height, and perfect in proportion. Write terms, experience (if any), and salary to GEORGE AUGER, Empire Music Hall, Holloway, London, N.

WANTED, good Comedian and Dancer, for Minstrel Troupe, also a good High Tenor. Apply, Monday, 12 o'clock, 11, Leicester-place, Leicester-square.

WANTED, Monday next, a Good, Funny Comedian, for Castleford, new to the town. Wire absolute lowest, BEANLAND and EMERSON, Albert Theatre, Brighouse.

WANTED, Child, to look about 10, for part in Sketch, must be pretty. Photo., letter only. HAYMAN, 50, Leith-mansions, Maida Vale, W.

WANTED, immediately, Bioscope, complete, with Operator, Films, &c., on Sharing Terms, for large shop, fitted with seats, electric and gas, complete in the most crowded thoroughfare in Brighton, big business; no other Picture Shop in town. Wire, 28, Gardiner-street, Brighton.

WANTED, Operator, with own Machine and Iron House, used to electric and gas.
Box 5,198, "The Era."

HARROGATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

WANTED, First-class Variety Artists, nothing too big, for Thursday next (three nights), Harrogate. Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK.
Silence a polite negative.

WANTED, Bioscope Operator, own latest machine, best iron house, resident, advertiser finds films; comfortable shop. Terms, MANAGER, 18, Royal-mans., Croydon.

WANTED, Operator, with Machine, Screen, Gas, Box, and Films, for two hours' show, Dec. 7, week; wife to sing to Slides. WAMBA, 167, Knutsford-road, Warrington.

WANTED, thoroughly efficient Kinématograph Operators, also combined Operator and Electrician. State experience, age, and salary required. Box 5,207, "The Era."

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Monday, Lydia Raie (Banjo Queen), Trick Mandolinist, with Pictures.
Last week, East Theatre, Oxford;
this Victoria Hall, Batley. Wire.

WANTED, by Connie Mascot, the Dainty Comedienne with a voice, Monday and Dec. 7. Wire, 150, Great Brunswick-street, Dublin; or CLAXTON.

WANTED, Known, Dorothy Hammerton is Disengaged, Refined Vocalist, Comedienne, and Clog Dancer. Sure draw for Picture Show. Write, C. H., G. P. O., Mossley, Yorks.

WANTED, by Miss Alice Oakley, Comedienne, Monday, Nov. 30, also Dec. 7, 14, 21.
Wire, 31, Ellison-street, Gateshead-on-Tyne.

WANTED, 30th, 7th, and 14th, by Marie Colmore (The Comedienne).
Wire, 17, Waterford-road, Fulham.

WANTED, Known, Leo Ville, Lady Conjurer and Jester, Liberty 30th, Great Success Gaiety Theatre, Clydebank. Coms., KLEE, Conductor, Empire, Greenock.

WANTED, Monday next, Cissie Torr, Serio Comedienne and Speciality Song and Dance Artist, just finished twelve months' tour through India. Good Agent required. 1, Holden-square, St. James-st., Nottingham.

WANTED, by Young Lady, well-known Musical Comedy Artist, Engagement as Sketch, Musical or otherwise, or Double Turn. Tall, fair. Ex. refs. 8, Brandon-mansions, West Kensington.

WANTED, Known, Emma Don, now working her 16th consecutive week in London. Vacant March 15, 1909. Permanent, 15, Kensington Court-gardens, London, W.

WANTED, Known, Lolo and May, Liberty Monday, 30th, Lady Gymnasts and Contortionists and Dancing Artist. Dec. 7, New Empire, Barnsley. Wire this week, Crystal Palace, London.

WANTED, Known, Rubie and Elsie Redfern, Refined Drawing-room Act, Banjoes, Piano, Singing, Dancing, &c., vacant Nov. 30, 1908, and Jan. 11, 1909. 60, Denmark-road, Manchester.

WANTED, Dec. 28, Jan. 11, March 1, Jean Macdun (the Lady Lauder), Peggy Lyndon's Musical Act, Sure Success. Wire, MELVILLE, Rathbone, Portobello.

WANTED, by the Two Beatrices, Duettists and Expert Dancers, Dec. 7, 14, 21. Wire or write, Temperance Hall, Merthyr Tydfil, S. Wales. Offers invited.

WANTED, Known, the Clever and Popular Sisters Terry, at Lib. Dec. 14, 21, 28.
Address, Hippodrome, Dewsbury, Nov. 30.

WANTED, Nov. 30 and Dec. 7, by Sid Stanto, in his up-to-date Musical Pot-Pourri Act; elaborate Electric Fit-up. Wire or write, 152, Trevelyan-road, Tooting, London.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 21, 28, Bu-Val, Happy Dutchman, Concertina.
Next week, Palace, Shipley.

WANTED, Monday, also Dec. 7, by Ryder Davis, Smart Comedian. Wire, Empire, Hull; after, 41, Cambridge-st., Camberwell, S.E.

WANTED, by Ben Jackson, the Banjo Magician, Dec. 7, also Jan. 18. This, Hippo., Preston; Nov. 30, Pavilion, L'pool. Wire.

WANTED, Known, Musical Silvo was called again and again. His performance on the glasses is the best seen in Cardiff.—South Wales Echo. Vacant next week, also Dec. 14. Wire, Hippo., Ton-y-Pandy.

WANTED, Engagement, by Cade Burnett, successful Actor-Vocalist, Liberty Dec. 7 and 14. This week and next, Market Hall, Whitehaven.

WANTED, Nov. 30, by Alf Brookes, Burlesque Comedian. Wire, Pavilion, Northwich; after Sunday, 86, Rusholme-road, Manchester.

WANTED, Monday next, by Harry Leaton, Refined and Up-to-date Unaracter Vocalist. Wire, 2, Priory-place, Ipswich.

WANTED, by Fred Hadley, Comedian and Dancer, at Liberty Monday next. Wire, 20, Rosamond-place, Upper Brook-street, Manchester.

WANTED, Monday, onwards, by Barney Stuart, Character Actor, Vocalist, and Mimic.
Wire, Wire, Wire,
4, Canterbury-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Nov. 30 and Dec. 7, by Bosanquet, for his Novel Act, the Human Violin, with Sensational Surprises. A star line and sure draw. Wire, Palace, Carlisle. Permanent, 31, Hermitage-rd., Finsbury Park, London.

WANTED, by Komical Kristo, the Original Comic Juggler, but not Mad, First-class Act, Vacant Monday next, Nov. 30. Wire, Public Hall, Hindley, Lancs.

WANTED, by Morimura, Marvellous Japanese Illusionist, Dec. 7 and 14, for his Original Act of Oriental Illusions, including Beautiful Illuminated Stage Effects. Concludes to-night, Gaiety Theatre, Ayr; next week, Theatre Royal, Coatbridge.

WANTED, Dec. 7 and 21, to precede and follow Gaiety, Glasgow, by Li-Chang-Hi, Chinese Conjurer; next week, Albert Hall, Jarrow.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 14, 21, the Great Kyoto, Japanese Comedy Act, Contortionist, Conjurer, Juggler, and Clever Pug Dog; also Miss May Geraldine. Refined Chic Comedienne and Dancer. Enormous Success, Queen's, Castleford. Nov. 30, Albert Theatre, Brighouse. Two distinct turns.

WANTED, Nov. 30, Dec. 7, 14, 28, Sardows, Illusionists, Mystifiers; also Marie Riviers, Popular Chorus Songstress. Wire, 40, Garden-lane, Conisboro', Yorks.

WANTED, Dec. 7 and 14, by Wyllie, Tramp Musician; also Miss Telka, Ballad Vocalist. WYLLIE, Palace, Exeter, Nov. 30.

WANTED, Known, Chas. and May Dana, Comedy Duo, Liberty Monday and onwards. A Certain Success. Wire, 4, St. James'-street, Leicester.

WANTED, Known, Stylo, Wonderful Hoop Juggling Effects; and Beatrice Bonnie, Artistic Comedienne; have immediate vacancies. Wire, Hippodrome, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Dec. 7, Jan. 4, The Monckton's (the Popular Comedy Duo), in their screaming Farcical Successes. Nov. 30, Sadler's Wells Theatre, London.

WANTED, Known, Ernie Myers and Lily Lonsdale are unexpectedly Vacant next Monday, Nov. 30. Wires, Empire, Greenock; afterwards, Sat., 448, Osmaston-road, Derby.

WANTED, Known, the Two Le Bruns (Edgar and Edie), the Great and Only Child Juggler and Vocalist, are at Liberty Dec. 7, 14, Jan. 4.

Thanks to Leoni Clarke, Esq., for comfortable week at the Hippo., Burton, and Re-engagement with him at the Hippo., Gainsboro'.

WANTED, Monday next, Two Martins, America's Dancing Marvels, Duettists and Speciality Song and Dance Experts. Two of the Best. Wire, 1, Holden-square, St. James-street, Nottingham.

WANTED, Dec. 28 and Jan. 4, Stuart and Evans, Comedians.
Next, Palace, Gloucester.

WANTED, by Braund and Davies, late Melville (Earl and Melville), Comedians, Patterers, Dancers, Monday next, Dec. 7. Wire, Hip., Preston. Perm. add., 17, Chorlton-road, Manchester.

WANTED, by Barfoot and Carson, Comedy Act, Musicians, Vocalists, Dancers, Patterers, Dec. 14, 21, twelve minutes' laughter. Address, Hippodrome, Salford.

WANTED, Known, Wills and Warlock, Great Comedy and Dancing Act, Liberty Nov. 30 and Dec. 7. Wire, Public Hall, Darwen, Lancs.

WANTED, Monday next, by Chant and Chant, the Original Comedy Vocalists. Wire for a sure Laughing Hit. Workmen's Hall, Pentre.

WANTED, Known, The Two Daniels, Negro Comedians and Stilt Dancers, soon made themselves popular, for their act is exceedingly smart.—Burton Daily Mail, Nov. 24. Vacant, Monday. Wire, Hippodrome.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, by France and Francis, Acrobatic Comedians, Monday next, also Dec. 7, Wire; also Panto. Theatre Royal, Workington.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 14 by Foley and Francis, Comedians. Terrific Success, this week, Empire, Dudley. Nov. 30, Palace, Northampton; or DALTON'S Agency.

WANTED, by Les Rallis, the Artist and his Monkey, Dec. 7, between Lowestoft and Blackpool. Add., E. RALLIS, 25, Horsedge-street, Oldham.

WANTED, The Musical Palmers, Vacant Dec. 7, Dec. 7, between Palace, Grimsby, and Empire, Bolton. Wire, Grand Theatre, Chorley. Letters Grimsby.

WANTED, Monday next, by Billy Ross and Co., greatest Boxing Act before the Public. Starring, Hippodrome, Hastings. Competitions nightly; big draw.

WANTED, by Munroe's Comedy Team, Dec. 7, 14, 21, 1908. Big Hit and a Sure Draw.
Nov. 30, Palace, Bath.

WANTED, Known, Four Cecilians are storming Hippodrome, Macclesfield, this week. Make enquiries. Next, Alexandra, Pontefract. Vac. Dec. Don't want the earth.

WANTED, 30th, 7th, and 14th, by Atlas and Vulcana Troupe.
Wire, 17, Waterford-road, Fulham.

WANTED, Known, De Ora, the Great Gymnastic Sensation. Enormous Success, Opera House, Workington. This week, Palace, Carlisle; next, Guildhall, Carnarvon. Vacant Dec. 7, 14, 21, and 28, also New Year, for Music Halls, Circuses, Carnivals, Skating Rinks, Exhibitions, or Picture Halls. Wire to-day, Carlisle; then, Guildhall, Carnarvon.

WANTED, Nov. 30, on, La Dor Troupe, six in number. Male and Female Acrobats, with three distinct Speciality Acts. 30, Harrow-street, Grantham.

WANTED, Dates, Wonderful Trampolin Comedy Act, own hotel scene, two Acts for Pantomime, Prince, talk of every town, and Tom, the cat wonder. PEPS, 64, Upper Sutton-st., Aston, Birmingham.

WANTED, by The Floriss, Novelty Equilibrists, and Comedy Slack-wire Artists. Vac. Dec. 7 and 14. Wire, Hippodrome, Darlington.

WANTED, Dec. 7, 14, 28, by Gulliver, Ventriloquist par excellence, always original, can follow anything. Thanks D. Gardner-Brown, Esq., — Truscott, Esq., and R. Pringle, Esq., for offers this week.
Address, Queen's, Castleford.

WANTED, Jan. 4, Feb. 1, by Hulbert, Ventriloquist, and De Lil, Illusionist. Two Smart Acts. Offers invited. Monday, Hippo., Salford.

WANTED, Known, Valvo, Ventriloquist, is vacant Dec. 7 and 14, Smart Act. Wire, this week, Grand, Blackpool; next, Empire, Southport.

WANTED, Dec. 7 and 14, by Leo, the Popular Singing Ventriloquist; the most refined and enjoyable Vent. Act in existence. This week, Palace, Exeter; next, Palace, Grimsby.

WANTED, by Miss Ella's Educated Lion Show, most Elaborate in the Profession,
Dec. 7 (between Yarmouth and Scarborough),
Jan. 11, onwards, with exceptions.
Coms.,
Week Nov. 30, Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, J. A. Wilson and Private Towser, in "The Troubles of a Recruiting Sergeant," at Liberty Dec. 7, at Liberty between Coventry and Brighton, only vacant date till next April. This week, Starring at Hippodrome, Lancaster; next week (Nov. 30), Hippodrome, Coventry, where wire or write for terms.

WANTED, Known, Williams' Dogs, in their Sensational Military Act, "The Deserter," the most marvellous exhibition of Canine intelligence ever witnessed; Liberty Nov. 30, onward. South View Cottage, Rothwell, Haigh, Leeds.

WANTED, at Liberty, Feb. 1, onwards, Rodin, Eccentric Knockabout and Acrobatic Cycle Act, and Comedy Juggling Speciality, own company, at Okehampton. Address, G. P. O., Okehampton.

WANTED, Dec. 7 (through transferring), Henry and Tyler, Comedy Cyclists. No other Vacancies. Wire, Palace, Gloucester. Monday, Pavilion, Ebbw Vale.

WANTED, Nov. 30, onwards, Swift Duo, Novel Cycling Speciality. Wire, Hippo., Gainsboro'; after Sat., 89, Bristol-st., Hulme, M'chester.

WANTED, Known, Pauletti, the Eccentric Cyclist, is vacant April, 1909, onwards. Per., 106, Bigland-street, Salford, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Youth, 16 years old, height 5ft., weight 7st; knowledge of Tumbling; would join Troupe of Acrobats or Comic Assistant to Juggler. JAMES SHAW, c/o Post Office, Newcastle-under-Lyme.

WANTED, Known, Prof. Lenton's Bioscope Entertainments; Change of Pictures Nightly or Weekly; Machines, Films, and Accessories Bought, Sold, or Hired Out to any amount. 2, Capener's-yard, Knightsbridge, S.W.

WANTED, Engagements, First-class Operator, with or without machine, lime and electric, and films; three years' references; vacant Dec. 7. OPERATOR, 69, Randolph-street, Jarrow-on-Tyne.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

Established 1899.

WANTED, Known, Tom Norman (Silver King, registered), Showman's Auctioneer, Expert and Authority, Valuer, Commission and Variety Agent. If you want to Buy or Sell anything connected with the business (privately or publicly), send to TOM NORMAN, Auction Dept., "The Era" Office

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known,
The Public put Pennies in the Slots, but
I take Sovereigns from the Cash Boxes.

The above was the recent remark of an operator of "The Magical Mills Machines."
"The Marvellous Mills Machines."
"The Money-making Mills Machines."

Send to Sole Agents for Illustrated Catalogue,

MINERVA AUTOMATIC CO.,
14, Charterhouse-buildings, London, E.C.

WANTED, Known, .22 Cartridges, "E," "H," "D," "P" brands, Winchester repeaters, Globes, Targets, Water Balls. GREENE, 74, Falmouth-road, London, S.E.

WANTED, Known, all over the Kingdom, to the best house for Hooplar prizes, large variety of new lines, Fancy Goods, Perfumery, Toilet Soap, Chocolate and Confectionery, Boxes, &c.; also suitable Novelties for Market and Fair Workers. Write for sample and list. KEN-DY'S Wholesale Depôt, 28, Houndsditch, E.C.

WANTED, Known, Hooplar Packets, Fancy Boxes Confectionery, from 7s. per gross to 10s. gross. A. BUNN, 16, Dagnall-place, Brady-street, Whitechapel-road

CAKE WALK. Regd. Trade Mark. CAKE WALK.
WANTED, Known, TAYLOR, PLUMSTON, BROS., and Co., Sole Makers and Patentees of the Only Cake-Walk Riding Machine in the World. Royal Letters Patent, No. 17402, Jy. 30, 1907, and No. 25150, Nov. 13, 1907. Improvements Protected, No. 2649, Feb. 6, 1908. In the Chancery Court, Jy. 3, 1908, Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady Granted an Injunction against defendants for infringement of our Patent No. 17402.
This Machine is a Triumph of Engineering Skill for Simplicity, Lightness, and Durability.
It is a Record Money-maker.
Write or call on the Sole Makers and Patentees, Farncombe-street,
and 94-98, Bermondsey-wall, London, S.E.
CAKE WALK. Regd. Trade Mark. CAKE WALK.

WANTED, for the Skating Carnival, Camborne, full winter season, Side Shows, Amusements, Stalls, Wire-worker, Lady Palmist, Slot Machines, &c. Apply, H. BURROW, Picturedrome, Camborne.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED, Freaks, Novelties, and Attractions to know I can offer eight to twelve weeks at my American Museum. Send full particulars, lithos., photos., &c., in first letter, to A. E. PICKARD, American Museum, Glasgow.

WANTED, Freaks, or good Novelty. Lucy Moore write. One month, New Year. Apply, FRED BURNETT, 55, Argyle-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, Sensational Freaks and Novelties, for Dec. 14 and Xmas and New Year. Fanning's Marionettes write. Waxworks, Castle-street, Inverness.

WANTED, Lady Palmist. State age, experience, and salary in first letter. Enclose photo if possible. A. E. PICKARD, American Museum, Glasgow.

WANTED, Tattooist, Photographer, Wire-working (Jewellery), Palmist, prominent main road shop; Share or Rent. MANAGER, 104, High-street, Walthamstow.

WANTED, a good Auctioneer, to sell Jewellery, Fancy Goods, &c., in good Liverpool shop; constant situation. Apply, 25, Bedford-st. North, Liverpool.

WANTED, competent Doorsman and Lecturer, to commence Dec. 21. State particulars, and apply to EBRAHIM, Pavilion Theatre, Buxton.

WANTED, Known, Rollo, King of the Air. Great Success, Collins' Fun City, Gill-street, Liverpool. Liberty Xmas and New Year. Address, above.

WANTED, Auctioneers and Market-workers to send for my new list with over 2,000 illustrations of Jewellery, Watches, Clocks, Field Glasses, Bazaar and Fancy Goods; every line right for price. SIMONS, 100, 101, 102A, Houndsditch, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Cinématograph Exhibitor's Outfit, comprising the following: 1 Gaumont Professional Chrono (1908 model), with combined Trunk, and all accessories, as listed in Gaumont's Catalogue £50; 1 Elge Arc Lamp, model B, Gaumont's, £5 6s.; 1 High Voltage Resistance, up to 240 volts, £7 10s.; 1 large Brass Ammeter, £3; 1 extra large collapsible Iron House, £8; 1 large White Screen, 24ft. by 20ft., £4 4s.; 1 large Arc Lamp, for outside show, £3 3s.; 1 Resistance for same, £3 12s.; 2 Gas Cylinders; 1 Double Switch; 2 extra 2,000ft. Spools; 1 Spool Box, to hold 4 Spools; length of Cable, for coupling up; 4 Ticket Boxes.
The whole Outfit costing from £90 to £100.
Only been in use six weeks.
Can be seen any day by appointment.
What offers?
Address,
CLAUDE ALEXANDER, 231, St. Helens-rd., Bolton.

WANTED, to Sell, 6 horse power Portable Engine, also Dynamo, cheap.
Apply, M. RICHARDSON, Olympia, Sunderland.

WANTED, to Sell, Hot Air Engine, £6 and 60s., one-third cost, used in Shooting Jungle; small Organ, 35s. STACEY, 510, Kingsland-road, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Caravans, Touring, splendid condition, conveniently fitted, 9ft. £25, 13ft. £40; or exchange good cinematograph (lime) outfit. C., The Caravan, Lymington-road, Stevenage.

WANTED, to Sell, Helter Skelter, as now erected at Gorleston, Great Yarmouth, immediate delivery. For full details apply, J. W. NIGHTINGALE, Aquarium, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, to Sell, Gold-mounted Photos., Husbands, Wives, Babies, X-rays, latest sensation, marvellous value, your profits doubled. MEURICE, Argyle-square.

WANTED, to Sell, Love Letters, Palmistry, Fair and Dark, Comic Cards, Eyes, Marriage, Liars', Lunatics' Licences. MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Machines, New and Secondhand, Card Delivery, Mother Shiptons, marvellous money-takers, enormous profits. MEURICE, Argyle-square.

WANTED, to Sell, Guess Your Weight Weighing Machines, and other Novelties in Slots, money-takers. WORMALD, 123, Blythe-road, West Kensington, London.

WANTED, to Sell, the Largest Slot Machine in the Country, being a complete show by itself, suitable for either good-class shops or exhibitions. The machine is 21ft. long, breadth 5ft., height 6ft. to 7ft., it has twenty-one 1d. slots, all slots can be worked together or separately, as no one slot will work without penny is inserted, each slot shows (revolving) twenty stereoscopic slides, at the same time music can be heard in each and every slot where penny has been inserted. This only wants seeing. Can be seen in full work at KEAST'S Sports and Pastimes Saloon, 217, Commercial-road, Portsmouth. Purchasers could open in a few days. Reason for selling, space required. No reasonable offer refused.

WANTED, to Sell, Slot Machines, Sweetmeat (iron), 10s.; Electrics, 30s.; Loops, 30s.; Punch Ball, £8; Lung-testers, 20s.; Cigarette, 7s. ADVANCE, 510, Kingsland-road, London.

Special offer.
WANTED, to Sell, Mutoscopes, as new, from £2 15s., or instalments. Reels, from 7/6; or on hire from 4d. per week (New Pictures every week). Electric Banjos placed out on commission. Large Stock of New Music. BIO-AUTOMATICS, LTD., 11 and 13, Princeton-street, Holborn.

WANTED, to Sell, one of Mills' Ball Punching Machines. Cost £20; take £7, in good working condition. COGGER, Pandy Field, Ton-y-Pandy, South Wales.

WANTED, to Sell, Seventeen Gross Penny Puzzles, suitable competitions, opening new show. First £4 clears. Samples 2d. TOYS, 103, Gauden-road, Clapham, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Large Distorting Mirrors, or will Let same on Hire.
Box 5,191, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Oxygen Cylinders and fittings, Arc Lamps, Jets, Resistances, also various Skill Machines. LE CLAIR, 9, Rosoman-st., Clerkenwell, E.C.

WANTED, to Sell, 12 life-size Wax Models of Salome, Odalisk, Black Venus, Fatimeh, Group, Busts, &c. No reasonable offer refused. Unique chance for Showmen. Write, WILSON, 63, Galloway-road, Shepherd's Bush.

WANTED, Buy, Rent, Share, good Waxworks, Spacious Premises, London; Bioscope, Let Rights Shooting Gallery, Hoop-la, Games. Box 5,106, c/o "Era."

WANTED, to Buy, a Covered-in Truck, 18ft. by 8ft.; must be in good condition. Particulars, PRINCE SAMOUDA, 4, Ducie-grove, Oxford-street, Manchester.

WANTED, Wanted, Known,
PLEASURE BEACH, BLACKPOOL.
Greatest Combination of Open-air Attractions in the Country. For concessions for Real Novelties for Summer Season, 1909, address, PROPRIETORS, Pleasure Beach, Blackpool.

WANTED, Known, to all Roundabout Proprietors, Showmen, Stallholders, and others, that I open Rochdale Cattle Market for the Christmas Fair, commencing Dec. 18 to Dec. 26, 1908. N.B.—I still have that large plot of land that I had last Easter, behind the Victoria Baths, Rusholme, Manchester, to hold a Great Easter Fair for 1909.
All applications to
WM. MITCHELL, SEN.,
83, Hindhill-street, Heywood.

WANTED, Showmen and Travellers generally to Know we have Spaces to Let for Shows, Riding, Machinery, &c., in well-known grounds, High-street, Stratford, London; best position in London, complete with electricity on ground. Address, PETTIGROVE SIMPSON, as above.

WANTED, to Let, Space for Cinématograph or other Side Shows, 24ft. by 40ft. Proprietor, ARTHUR BURGESS, 128, Wandsworth-rd., Lambeth.

WANTED, to Let, Spaces to Wire-workers, Engravers, Tattooist Palmist, Jewellery, &c. Best position in Argyle-street, Glasgow. FRED BURNETTE, 55, Argyle-street, Glasgow.

ARCADIA, DRILL HALL, PORTSMOUTH.
WANTED, to Let, Spaces, Games, Novelties, Stalls, Shooting Range, &c., open Dec. 5. LESLIE, 5, Wiltshire-street, Portsmouth.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE BIGGEST THING IN WALES.
THE BIGGEST THING IN WALES.
THE BIGGEST THING IN WALES.
WORLD'S FAIR,
WORLD'S FAIR,
WORLD'S FAIR,

CARDIFF.
CARDIFF.
CARDIFF.

In the Magnificent
ANDREW'S HALL.
ANDREW'S HALL.
ANDREW'S HALL.
Opens Christmas Eve.
FOUR WEEKS CERTAIN.

Absolutely the finest position in the town.

Brilliantly Illuminated.

Nearly 200ft. by 100ft.

THE SNIP OF THE SEASON.
THE SNIP OF THE SEASON.

Big Attractions Already Booked.
Big Attractions Already Booked.

WANTED, Wanted, Known,

HUSTLE UP!
HUSTLE UP!

Only Few Spaces Left.
Only Few Spaces Left.
Only Few Spaces Left.

F. G. ROLLASON,
10, Throgmorton-avenue, London, E.C.

NEAR THE HAYMARKET,
NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

Just an opportunity that can occur when you are not in a hurry.

WANTED, Showmen to Know, Messrs. Relph and Pedley have leased the building known as Ginnett's Circus and Olympia, also the plot of land adjoining, right in the hub of Newcastle, where they intend to hold their ANNUAL FUN CITY AND CARNIVAL, commencing on or about Dec. 5, and will continue through the Winter Season.

Spaces can now be arranged; Rental or Sharing terms, for Novel Riding Devices and Attractions of a Modern Kind;
also a First-class Display of good Money-taking Automatic Machines.

All applications to
Messrs. RELPH and PEDLEY,
Autodrome, Market-place, Darlington, until Nov. 27; then, Olympia, London.

PORTSMOUTH and SOUTHSEA.
WANTED, to Let, Ground, having frontages to two roads of 105ft. and 145ft. with 120ft. depth; centre of town, just outside railway station and Town Hall. Apply, ESTATE AGENT, 6, Hampshire-terrace, Southsea.

WANTED, Known, Spaces to Let in Christmas Exhibition, in thickly populated district in South Wales; one month certain. Automatics, Sideshows, Mirrors, and Working Novelties, &c. Anything good for Xmas and New Year. Open Dec. 9. Rental moderate. SETON and Co., Garfield House, Regent-road, Lowestoft.

FUN CITY DRILL HALL, BATH.
Dec. 24, 1908, to Jan. 16, 1909. Situated in thickly populated district, over 2,000 population within half-mile radius.
WANTED, to Let, a Few Spaces for Novelties. Fast filling up. Apply, with full particulars, CARL FREDERICKS, Fun City Office, Drill Hall, Bath.

GRAND CHRISTMAS CARNIVAL AND TRADES EXHIBITION.
THE PAVILION, CARNARVON,
Dec. 24 to Jan. 9.
WANTED, Known, some Good Spaces Available for First-class Exhibits, moderate terms; also First-rate Side-show, sharing terms. Address, TOURING EXHIBITION COMPANY, Anglo-American Exchange, 23, Craven-st., London, W.C.

WANTED, Known, two good Stalls vacant, in old-established Touring Trades Exhibition. Advantageous terms to good permanent Exhibitors. No rubbish or games. Address, MANAGER, Exhibition, Drill Hall, Denbigh.

WANTED, to Let, Rent, or Share, Shops in good positions, Brighton, suitable for all kinds of Novelties, Automatic Machines, Darts, Shooting Ranges, Tattooist, &c., also Space for Bioscope, Shares, and Photos.; no opposition in town, good Marionette Show (Living or otherwise), also Ventriloquist with good Fit-up wire; will also Buy Self-acting or Piano Organ, cheap; Shops fitted gas and electric. 21, Edward-street, Brighton.

WANTED, to Let, Temporary, Good Shop, in Best and Busiest Street in Doncaster; splendid position; rent £4 per week. ALFRED STUBBS, Askern.

WANTED, Space in Trades Exhibition, Distorting Mirrors, &c.
Address, Box 5,192, "The Era."

WANTED, to Hire, a smart Bioscope Show, with or without Organ, must have Tilt.
PAYNE, Brewery-st., Wandsworth-rd., London.

WANTED, Known, the Seventy Thousand Showmen who use the Columns of "The Era" and are moving about should know that they can make "The Era" Offices their Permanent London Address. Letters received will be held till called for, or immediately re-addressed according to instructions. Address all communications respecting the Letter Department to the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, every Showman who uses the railway to send to "The Era" for a copy of the article on the new Railway Rates. This will be sent on application, free of charge, to any Showman in the United Kingdom.

WANTED, Showmen who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any Railway Bookstall to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED TO SELL.

WANTED, to Sell,
Urban Bioscope,
in perfect working order, Gwyer Jet Lantern, and travelling case, ready for use, £9.
J. ADKIN, Guild Hall, Carnarvon.

WANTED, to Sell, Films, cheap, and Films for Hire, up-to-date.
THE BENDON TRADING CO., 75, Jamaica-st., Glasgow.

WANTED, to Sell, Films, as new, Robbing Mail, 340ft.; Unfair Exchange, 90ft.; Making Musical Instruments, 100ft.; 1d. foot. List. LESLIE, Arcadia, Brighton.

WANTED, to Sell, one 100 ampère Cinématograph arc lamp, brand new. Cost £7.10; sacrifice £2 10s. WM. POLLARD, 1, Colmore-buildings, Henrietta-street, Birmingham.

WANTED, to Sell, Beautiful Sets of 10ft. Fit-up Drawing-room, Palace, Kitchen, splendid 20ft. Proscenium, green. 19, Leith-road, Lordship-lane, Wood Green.

WANTED, to Sell, Cramer Portable Piano, 5 octaves, listed £21, good condition. Seen by appointment. £10 cash. F. W. B., 45, Mysore-road, Clapham.

Jugglers and Conjurers.
WANTED, to Sell, Bengal Light Torches, à la Salerno, Selma Brasts, also Conjuring Apparatus, cheap. Address, 95, Charlotte-street, Fitzroy-square, London, W.

WANTED, to Sell, or would be Let on Hire, two Shetland Ponies, suitable for "Cinderella" Pantomime, or Advertising Purposes; also Small Trap, for use with Ponies.
For full details apply,
J. W. NIGHTINGALE, Aquarium, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, to Sell, Pretty Little Pair of Chestnut Shetland Ponies, only 29in. high.
G. STEPHEN, Brachead, Ferryhill, Aberdeen.

WANTED TO SELL.

WANTED, to Sell,
Pure Black Pedigree Shetland Pony, handsome as a mole, 36in. high, 4½ years old quiet to ride or drive, perfect with children, may be taken into a drawing-room or on the stage.
Price £15.
JAYNE, Woodside Court Stables, Woodside, Croydon.

WANTED, to Sell, Smallest Piebald Pony Living, also other Novelties in Midget Ponies and Pure White Stallion. CLARK, Ashbank, Aberdeen.

WANTED, to Sell, good Circus Pony, been used for Joey Pony and Bull Fight, very smart, and in good condition, price £12; also a pair of 100ft. Gas Cylinders and Covers, in first-class condition, price £4; one nearly new Gwyer Jet, £1. Chipperfield's Modern Show, Golden Hillock-road, Green, Birmingham.

WANTED, to Sell, handsome Whippet Dog, does Front and Hind Legs, other Tricks, age 18 months. CHARD, Town Hall, Wellington, Somerset.

WANTED, to Sell, good Trick and High-Leaping Hound, under 18 months old.
JOHNSON, 6, Middleton-road, Dalston, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Beautiful Male Chocolate Pomeranian Puppy, three months old, 2½lb., splendid pedigree, 45s.; Female, Chocolate, touched little white toes, breast, 35s.; good bushy coats. Approval. Sharples, 12, Wareham-street, Little Harwood, Blackburn.

WANTED, to Sell, Musical Novelties for Stage Purposes, Electric and otherwise. Try Lisle's Resonated Xylophones and Resonaphones. Sole British Manufacturer of Stage Instruments. LISLE, 5, Cuthill-road, Camberwell.

WANTED, to Sell, Handsome New Fur-lined Overcoat. Bargain. No dealers. W. H. T., 4, Wyatt Park-rd., Streatham Hill, S.W.

WANTED, to Sell, Twenty-one Tip-up Chairs, splendid iron frames.
Apply, H. BURROW, Picturedrome, Camborne.

WANTED, to Sell, Flying Lady Fit-up, complete, £10.
Box 5,209, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Drama, by well-known Author. Reason for selling, owner has other Business. A. B., 1, Westmorland-street, New Cavendish-street, W.

WANTED, to Sell, two New Plays, "Babes," Panto., and Parts, Stock Dramas, Sketches, Duos. HAL COLLIER, Public Hall, Oswestry.

WANTED, to Sell, several good Comic Songs (Sole Rights) by well-known writers; with Band Parts. Apply, A. T., 43, Lifford-st., Putney.

The Publisher, "The Era."
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, London, W.C.
"Dear Sir,—I ordered the following advertisement to appear in your paper for two insertions:—

"'WANTED, to Sell, Self-acting Pianoforte two barrels, twenty tunes, perfect condition. Cost £44; what offers? MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square, W.C.'

"Kindly do not insert my advertisement again, as the self-acting piano which I had to sell has been sold to Mr. Jack Woolf, of Wonderland fame, Whitechapel-road, E. I had also ten other applicants through my advertisement in 'The Era.'
Yours faithfully,
J. H. MEURICE.
"39, Argyle-square, W.C. Oct. 9, 1906."

WANTED TO BUY.

WANTED, to Buy, Films, Railway Journeys, best and latest, American, Canadian, Switzerland, Norway, South Africa, Japan, in fact anything interesting, new or secondhand, but must be in first-class condition.
Apply,
Box 5,208, "The Era."

WANTED, to Buy, Bioscope, Operating Box. State price, size, and if lined; must be forwarded on approval.
MARVIN, 15, Chester-street, Birkenhead.

WANTED, to Buy or Hire, cheap, complete Fit-up Panto., scenery dresses, script, 5t-up frame, &c. ("Aladdin" preferred); must be in good condition. Lowest price, size, and full particulars to TARBET, 8, Kerr-street, Northampton.

WANTED, to Buy, Ladies' and Gentlemen's Cast-off Clothing, for abroad, at highest possible prices. Trial parcel solicited.
Bankers: Lloyd's Bank, Limited.
MME. MARION,
23, Bridge-street, Southampton.

WANTED, to Buy, a good Secondhand Serpentine Dress, for cash. Chipperfield's Modern Show, Golden Hillock-road, Green, Birmingham.

WANTED, to Purchase, two large extra strong Travelling Hampers, in good condition. Apply, stating size and lowest price, W. ROWE, Auctioneer, 16 Talbot-st., Maesteg, South Wales.

WANTED, to Buy at Once, cheap, in good condition, Black Cloth for Stage, height 21ft., and 40ft. wide; also Cloth, for Stage. Particulars, HENRY, Palace, Bristol.

WANTED, two Gas Battens, about 30ft., Tollerton's preferred.
WEATHERSBY'S Agency, 3, Bedford-st., Strand, London.

WANTED, Good Strong Dramatic Sketches, for Music Halls; six characters; plenty of scope for Mounting, &c. Royalty, or Buy Outright. All scripts carefully read and considered, and returned in a reasonable time.
ROY COCHRANE, Manager, Surrey Theatre.

To Authors.
WANTED, Comic Sketches, for a host of Juveniles, also Sensational Military Playettes and Songs, must be good. WALLIS, 55, Southdean-gardens, Southfields, London, S.W.

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

WANTED, to Let, Dates in Oct. and onwards, Byculiah Athenæum, Enfield, any kind entertainment Scenery, Electric lighting. MANAGER.

WANTED, to Let, Xmas, 7 nights, fine hall, Leigh, Lancs.; seating over 1,000; balcony, elec. light, mod. rent. Box 5,182, "The Era."

WANTED, to Let, Hall or Large Rooms, rehearsals with piano, 1s. per hour. Clapham Assembly Rooms, facing Clapham-road Station.

WANTED, to Let, Office, for Agency, splendid position, rehearsal room on premises, moderate rent. References. COTTLE'S, 229, Camberwell-road, S.E.

To CINDERELLA PANTOMIME PRODUCERS.
WANTED, Known, Cinderella Ponies of all Colours and Sizes, and Coaches and Harness, on Hire.
FRASER HAY and Co., Jackson's-row, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Films for Hire, 15s. per 1,000ft. per week. Send for new lists. Films for sale, from 1d. foot. Cross, Gloucester House, Grays, Essex.

WANTED, to Let, from Jan. 4, 1909, full Rights of Advertising Curtain, Empire Variety Theatre, Greenock. Particulars from MANAGER.

WANTED, to Let, New One-act Play, suit West-end Theatre for First Piece; three characters; strong, dramatic situation; fully licensed. Apply, AIMEE ASHTON, Springfield House, Spring-gardens, Stockport.

WANTED, Hall, permanently, to seat not less than 400; electric light, seaside town preferred. Banker's and solicitor's references given.
Write first instance,
MANAGER, 3A, Lebanon Park-mansions, Twickenham.

WANTED, Hall, for Skating, in Fashionable Winter Resort or Big Town, Winters only. Reply, full particulars, to Box 5,197, "The Era."

WANTED, by London and Provincial Entertainment Co., Al Fresco Pitch, 1909, preferably South Coast. Coms. to FRED VALENTINE, 66, Dangan-road, Wanstead.

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

To Proprietors and Managers.
WANTED, Advertising Curtains and Programmes any part of the country. FAWLEY, Globe Advertising Co, Sheffield. Established 1896.

WANTED, a Fairy Fountain, in good working order, with coloured light effects, to Hire or Buy. Must be cheap.
Apply, L. A. COOKE,
1, Lochrin-place, Edinburgh, N.B.

PARTNERS WANTED.

WANTED, Known, opportunity occurs for well-known Manager accept Partner, £250, splendid investment, share profits, touring Scotland and North England. Could learn acting-management, or, if prefer, play a part. Apply, without delay, UNIVERSAL BUREAU, 50, George-street, Edinburgh.

WANTED, Partner, with £50, to join Gentleman in Refined, Money-making Musical and Scenic Sketches; well tried and profitable. To manage or play. Handy to London. Would suit good Amateur engaged in business during day. Write for particulars, in confidence, first to Box 5,190, c/o "The Era."

WANTED, Lady Partner, Vocalist, or Smart Lady Gymnast, to join well-known performer. Add., JOHN WATSON, Post Office, Bishop Auckland.

WANTED, Known, Advertiser Holding One-third Share in Suburban Picture Show, but unable to give it necessary attention, wishes to dispose of same. Accept £30. Box 5,202, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Amateur Gentleman seeks Berth with Music Hall Artist, Lady or Gentleman, with view to Partnership.
Box 5,186, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Youth, age 22, will join Partner, or Troupe Acrobats, or Musical, expert saxophonist, trombone, euphonium, and mandoline. MONTAGUE, 17, Fernshaw-rd., Brompton, London.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, F. G. Wright, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Electrical Engineer, and Theatrical Blacksmith. 66 and 68, Kennington-road, S.E.

WANTED, Known, C. Kinch, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Theatrical and General Blacksmith. 17, St. Mary-square, Kennington-road, London, S.E. Large Hall for Practice.

WANTED, Known, for Ventriloquial and Marionette Figures and Specialities, LE MARE and SON, 28, Coupland-st., Oxford-rd., Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Tip-up Chairs and Seating of Every Description supplied on the shortest notice at prices that will suit all. LEWIS and DRAKIN, Empire Works, 12½, Cleveland-street, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Known, to Theatre and Music Hall Managers, the Cheapest, Simples, and Most Effective Patent Electric Lime for Stage Purposes on the Market. For quotations, apply to J. WEBSTER, 10, Randallwell-street, Bradford.

WANTED, Known, that we do the very best Postcards from Your Photos. at Prices which will surprise you. Memos. also. Send for samples. SENIOR and Co., Cotham Hill, Bristol.

WANTED, Known, Authors' MSS., Typewritten copies, 6d. per 1,000 words; Plays 2d. per page. Accuracy guaranteed. BUREAU, 64, Basinghall-street, London. 'Phone, 7522 Wall.

WANTED, Known, Cottle's Bureau, 229, Camberwell-road, S.E. Band Parts, 3s. 6d.; Composing, &c.; Band Books, 4s. 7d. Lists. Rehearsal rooms, 1s. hour.

WANTED, Known.—Uniforms. Cheapest House in the Trade for Band Uniforms, Attendants', Page Boys', and Military Uniforms, &c., &c., new and part worn. Special for the great Reano's Band. Send for list to UNIFORM CLOTHING AND EQUIPMENT Co., 5, Clerkenwell-green, London, E.C.

WANTED, Known, Frock Frills, Leno Plain with Ruche, 3s. 11d. per dozen; Accordion Pleated, 5s. 6d. Samples free. KING, 2, Dysart-road, Grantham.

WANTED, Known, Tights, Paddings, and Animal Dresses made to measure on the premises. C. ANDREWS, 23, Betterton-street, Drury-lane.

WANTED, Known, to Authors, Plays Copyrighted and Produced on most moderate terms; can refer to Authors. Address, PLAYS, Box 5,210, "The Era."

WANTED, Advertisement Canvasser, to obtain Advertisements for Pantomime Books, on commission. Send full particulars, ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, Known, I, George Edmunds, wish to thank A. E. Pickard, Esq., Britannia Panopticon, Glasgow, for two years' comfortable engagement, and still continuing. Good old Panopticon.

WANTED, Known, would kind friends kindly write to E. Bellinger any information of Mr. Frank Delaine Leete? 55, Platt's-lane, West Hampstead.

WANTED, Winona V. King, Rifle Expert, to communicate with 26, Agnes-terrace, Grantham.

WANTED, Harry Mars to please send his address to Thos. Eugene, 20, Medusa-road, Catford. (The Four Eugenes).

WANTED, Known, Miss Edith St. Clare wishes to Thank the Gentlemen who Answered the Advt. for Manager. The Vacancy is now Filled.

WANTED, Known, Edie Charnley (The Charnleys), will in future be Known as Mamie Morris.

WANTED, Known, that Arthur Elvy will in future be known as Harry Elliott.

Price 1s., post free.

SHOWMAN'S YEAR BOOK, 1908.

Edited by the Rev. T. HORNE.

Entirely Re-arranged, Corrected and Enlarged. 100 pages.

Issued at "THE ERA" Publishing Offices,
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

Telephones: 4,747 and 1,433 Central.
Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

NOW IN PREPARATION.
FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION.
A World-wide Circulation, therefore an Excellent Medium for Advertisers.

1909—THE ERA ANNUAL—1909
Advertisements
should be Forwarded at once to the Office,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For Scale of Charges see Leader Page.

CALLS FOR PANTOMIME.

CALLS FOR PANTOMIME.
LONDON AND PROVINCIAL PANTOMIMES CO., LTD.,
"CINDERELLA,"
GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW,
MONDAY, Nov. 30,
PRINCIPALS, 12 o'clock,
CHORUS, 11 a.m.
"CINDERELLA,"
FULHAM THEATRE,
CHORUS LADIES, MONDAY, Dec. 14, at 11 a.m.,
PRINCIPALS and CHORUS GENTLEMEN, Thursday, Dec. 17, at 11 a.m.
"FAIR ONE WITH GOLDEN LOCKS,"
GRAND THEATRE, HULL,
CHORUS LADIES, WEDNESDAY, Dec. 16, at 11 a.m.,
PRINCIPALS, MONDAY, Dec. 21, at 11 a.m.
"JACK THE GIANT KILLER."
ALL CONCERNED, MONDAY, Dec. 21, at 11 a.m.
No excuse accepted for absence.
Special train arrangements will be made from London to Hull, and Motherwell.
Signed, STANLEY ROGERS,
General Manager.

PRINCE OF WALES' THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
CALL FOR PANTOMIME.
"BOY BLUE,"
THURSDAY, Dec. 10, at 12 noon.
EVERYBODY CONCERNED. No excuses.
J. F. GRAHAM,
Manager.

HOWARD AND WYNDHAM, LTD.,
CALL FOR PANTOMIME.
TYNE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE, Dec. 10.
THEATRE ROYAL, MANCHESTER, Dec. 10.

CALLS FOR PANTOMIME.
Season 1908-1909.
JAMES KIDDIE'S PANTOMIMES.
"ALADDIN."
EVERYBODY, MONDAY, Dec. 14, at 10.30 a.m.,
ALEXANDRA THEATRE, WIDNES.
"CINDERELLA,"
EVERYBODY, MONDAY, Dec. 21st, at 10.30 a.m.,
NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
"DICK WHITTINGTON."
EVERYBODY, MONDAY, Dec. 21, at 10.30 a.m.
AVENUE THEATRE, SUNDERLAND.
No Excuses Entertained.
Signed, JAMES KIDDIE.
N.B.—Artists who have not received parts please send present addresses.
TRAIN CALL.
A special train will leave Widnes on Sunday, Dec. 20, for Sunderland. Artists engaged for "Dick Whittington," and who are desirous of availing themselves of the three-quarter fare, please communicate with Mr. Kiddie's secretary, Mr. THOS. SWINTON, Alexandra Theatre, Widnes.

CALLS FOR PANTOMIME.
DOTTRIDGE AND LONGDEN'S
"ROBINSON CRUSOE."
Rehearsals 10 a.m. sharp, THURSDAY, Dec. 17.
At the ALEXANDRA THEATRE, SHEFFIELD.

DOTTRIDGE AND LONGDEN'S
"DICK WHITTINGTON."
Rehearsals 10 a.m. sharp, THURSDAY, Dec. 17.
At THEATRE ROYAL, ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.

DOTTRIDGE AND LONGDEN'S
"ALADDIN."
Rehearsals 10 a.m. sharp, THURSDAY, Dec. 17.
At NEW GRAND THEATRE, OLDHAM.

CALLS FOR PANTOMIME.
Wanted, all Artists engaged for Pantomime who have not received Call or Part, to at once communicate with J. F. ELLISTON, Theatre Royal, Bolton.
Brunsden, property man, send address.

"THE LAST, BUT NOT THE LEAST."
THE CREAM OF THE SEASON.

EARL'S COURT
FUN FAIR,
TOY EXHIBITION,
AND DOLL PAGEANT.

A FAIRY PANTOMIME.
FREE. FREE. FREE.
A GRAND CIRCUS.
FREE. FREE. FREE.

Manager of the Fair Department,
Mr. A. C. BEECH.
No Money, no Effort, no Time, has, or will be, spared to make this the Greatest Draw in London. This will be for Showmen absolutely IT.
Keep this before your mind:—
A Novel Scheme has been organised to draw people from all parts of London, and ensure a daily attendance of at least 10,000 PEOPLE DAILY.
The past daily average of ANY Fun City never exceeded 6,000 daily.
Mr. P. Collins has received concessions for his New Patent Jumping and Waltzing Horses, Motor Cars, Haunted Castle, &c., &c.
We have been deluged with applications, but except for the Hoop-La nothing has been set. Nothing will be set in the Queen's Hall, where the Machines and Circus are going, until after Tuesday Morning's Post.
DATE OF OPENING, DECEMBER 10.
DATE OF CLOSING, FEBRUARY 9.
There will only be about 500ft. of Games in the Queen's Hall, not 5,000. No Gallery. Every position good.
Preference will be given to Variety.
There will be a few select sites at £2 per foot; the rest will be 30s. a foot. There will also be a bit of ground in the open air at £1 a foot.
Offers are invited for the sole right of Queen's Hall for Fish Ponds, Buffet, La Bague, Shooters, Sheets, Emmas, Ring Boards, Dart Boards.
Remember this Fair is going to be fed by a constant stream of new people daily, and the quantity of stuff is so limited that everything will have a "raker."
All applications for space must arrive at the latest by Tuesday Morning's Post, Dec. 1, and made to Mr. A. C. BEECH, Fun Fair Syndicate, Ltd., Warwick-road Entrance, Earl's Court Exhibition, London, W.

Price 3s. 6d., 8vo., Cloth. By Post, 3s. 9d.

SECOND EDITION.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW,

Being a Digest of the Law relating to Theatres and Music Halls, and containing Chapters on Theatrical Contracts, Theatrical, Music and Dancing and Excise Licences, Dramatic and Musical Copyright, &c.

With an Appendix containing the Acts of Parliament relating thereto, and the Regulations of the London County Council and Lord Chamberlain.

By A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (London), Solicitor.

"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C

LONDON, PROVINCIAL & CONTINENTAL VAUDEVILLE COMBINATION.

TELEPHONES: 1668 Gerrard. 1669 Gerrard. 3182 Gerrard. 3183 Gerrard.

CO-MANAGING DIRECTORS - - - - - - - WALTER GIBBONS and THOMAS BARRASFORD.

OFFICES: ADELPHI TERRACE HOUSE, ROBERT STREET, ADELPHI, LONDON.

TELEGRAMS: "Randvoll, London." "Barrasford, London."

THE PALLADIUM, LONDON

(late Hengler's Circus), will be open August Bank Holiday, 1909.

THE ALHAMBRA, PARIS.

H. de Serris, Tom Tit and Tit Bit, Mons. Daras, Pat and Shoot, C. Prelle, Daunton Troupe, Cattiancos, Mac Walten, F. De Marco, Trois Carleus, Pictures, La Rois. Minar's Quartette.

HIPPODROME, BIRMINGHAM.

Grace Langley, Dan Fitmer, H. Grattan and Co., Dusty Rhodes, Tony Black, Hackenschmidt, Ausonias, Pictures, My Fancy.

HIPPODROME, BRIGHTON.

Haley's Juveniles, Helen Martine, Hinton and Wooton, Lawrence Barclay, Hanid Alexander J. Friedman and Co., Jan Rodenyi and Co., Pictures.

HIPPODROME, SHEFFIELD.

Leslie Brothers, Sammy Shields, M. M. Dupres, Mike Cray, Harry Rogerson, Three Orros, Four Aces, Pictures, Brilliant and Brilliant, Austins.

HIPPODROME, LEEDS.

Hall and Hall, Geo. Rapley, Lanos and Montes, Rastus and Banks, F. L. Gregory Troupe, H. Pollock and Co., Sisters Ford, Pictures, Munstedt's Colibris.

PAVILION, NEWCASTLE.

Jay Laurier, Princess Trixie, Thorne and Coe, Henry Bekker, Pictures, Hilgart-Arkas Troupe, Three Panamas, Williams and Warden, Harmony Four, Maid and Moon.

HIPPODROME, ST. HELENS.

Chas. Norton, Ivy Aberdare, Russell Brandon, Emmie Aymes, Harry Bancroft, Mlle. Pollo, Harry Conlin, Barrascope, Beau Ideals.

HIPPODROME, EALING.

Will Johnson, Kurkamp, Curtis Leo, Alice Hollander, Queenie May, Pictures, Bert Woodward, Walton and Lester, Frances and Stewart.

EMPRESS, BRIXTON.

Phil Ray, Harry Russon, George Newburn, Chas. Bignell, Fontaine, Mabel Thorne, Victoria Monks, Kathleen Gray, Kitty Upton, Daisy James, Irene Rose, Henry and Frances, Pictures, Radford and Valentine, Lucile, O'Gorman Brothers.

PALACE, HAMMERSMITH.

Roll and Butt, Freda Sharlotte, Frank Seeley, Boyd and Gilfain, Peggy Pryde, Tom Foy, Ed. Ford, Daisy Jerome, Cruikshank, Carlotta Levey, Harry Randall, Fred Eustace and Co.

THE WEEK'S CALLS

THE EMPIRE, HOLBORN.

Herbert La Martine, Frank Seeley, L. Bradfield, Cassie Walmer, Venie Clements, Lena Verdi, Millie Hylton, Pictures Farr and Farland, Ray and Calden, Barton and Franklyn, F. Karno's "G.P.O.," Borghetti Troupe, Ethel Beech and Girls.

HIPPODROME, WILLESDEN.

Billy French, Will Driscoll, Tom Edwards, Dorothy Gould, Eileen Douglas, Sisters Pine, Chas. Austin and Co., in "Parker, P.C.," Pictures, Haig and Novel, Linden's Vaudevilles, The Leonards, The Rompa, Victoria Monks.

OLYMPIA, SHOREDITCH.

Larry Lewis, Max Waldon, Harry Ford, Edie Anderson, Violet Stockelle, Dolly Golden, Pictures, The Fimans, Bradley and Barnes, Union Jack Boys, F. Ginnett and Co., in "St. George and the Dragon," Geo. Mozart.

EMPIRE, CROYDON.

Nipper Lupino Lane, Nora Guy, Tiger Lily, Madge Grey, Daisy James, Pictures, Texas Hattie, Frank and Free, Selbini Troupe, Pender Troupe, Chanti.

ISLINGTON EMPIRE.

Dan Crawley, Fred Land, Geo. Cairncross, Harry Brown, Lena Verdi, Twin Andersons, Pictures, Lew Lake and Co., in "Bloomsbury Burglars," Wilson and Waring, Pete and Juno, Cecile François and Co., Geo. Bonhair Troupe, Chas. Harvey and Co.

HIPPODROME, BALHAM.

Austin Rudd, Geo. Collins, L. Bradfield, Alice Pierce, Six Roma Girls, Madge Grey, Georgina Middleton, Pictures, Albert and Edmunds Troupe, Billy McClain and Co., Maxwell and Francis.

HIPPODROME, PUTNEY.

Tom Edwards, Claude Gardner, Witty Wattie Walton, Olga Doré, Nellie Lunelle, Raymond Trio, Pictures, Albert and Edmunds Troupe, Ara, Zebra, and Vora, Chas. Austin and Co., in "Parker, P.C."

HIPPODROME, POPLAR.

Arthur Penrose, Jas. Fawn, Chas. Sloman, Jenny Hartley, Eva Lewis, Pictures, Graham and Harrington, Lew Lake's Vocalists, The Garricks, Max Goldburg and Co., Geo. D'Albert and Co., The Rawsons.

HIPPODROME, ROTHERHITHE.

Tom Stuart, Martin Conway Madge Beresford, Stone and Tracey, Nellie Norah, Player's Co., Pictures, Howe and Ardie, Alec Hurley and Co., in "The Costers' Beano."

ILFORD HIPPODROME
(IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION).

THE LONDON CASINO

will be open at the end of November, 1909.

THE ALHAMBRA, BRUSSELS.

Tiller's Eight New Cocktails, C. Lynn, C. Rosine, Hanvarr and Lee, Ted E. Box, Tafance, Powell's Marionettes, Garganis Troupe, Wright and Lawson, W. Van Allen, Lafaille Troupe, Pictures, Ray Maskell, Piccolinos.

EMPIRE, COVENTRY.

Topsy Sinden, Fred Curran, Blake and Amber, Gerrard, F. Edwardes' Co., Rob Roy, Pictures, Mike Nono.

HIPPODROME, LIVERPOOL.

F. Sinclair's Co., in "Poor Arthur," Three Cumerfords, Leonard and Vereker, Karr and Mooney, Brins, Geo. S. Melvin, Keen and Waller, W. Heriot and Co., Arthur Prince, Aribos, Pictures.

HIPPODROME, RICHMOND.

F. Dunlop, Angus Strong, Gladys Seman Sisters Mansley, Cissy Lupino, Johnny Fuller, U.S.A. Boys, Pictures, A. Rigby and Co., in "The Isle of Ooma," Laserne.

EMPIRE, SWINDON.

Musical Comedy and Dramatic Season.
Bill matter for this hall to be sent direct to Mr. Manners, Empire, Swindon.

HIPPODROME, NOTTINGHAM.

J. Peterman and Co., in "Singing Servants," Addie Dorina, Fred Hastings, Dave Carter, Heeley and Meeley, Yay's Juveniles, Pictures, Ritter and Foster, Les Barrois, Simms and Simms, Harry Taft.

KING'S THEATRE, SOUTHSEA.

Minnie Love, Kragga Trio, Tray and Rich, Sinclair and Parr, W. L. Sline and Co., Edouard José and Co., Roze and Calvert, Pictures.

HIPPODROME, WOOLWICH.

Chas. Cardow, L. W. Harris, Edna Latonne, Luna Love, Pictures, Voldam Bros., The Garricks, Cribb and Cribb, W. Reynolds and Co., F. and A. Conquest, The Rawsons.

GRAND, CLAPHAM JUNCTION.

Cyrus Dare, F. Harwood, F. Karno's "G.P.O.," Haley's "Girls of the Garden," Ida Brophy, Pictures, Sanford and Lyons, Jordan and Harvey, Edwards and Edwards, Wilman.

BRITANNIA, HOXTON.
Twice Nightly Drama.

PALACE, ISLINGTON.
Pictures Twice Nightly.

KILBURN EMPIRE
(IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION).

All communications, bill matter, &c., for London Halls to be sent to Mr. Walter Gibbons at above address. Those for Continental and Provincial Halls to Mr. T. Barrasford at above address.

INTERVIEWS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY BAND PARTS ARE REQUIRED FOR AT LEAST 14 DIFFERENT INSTRUMENTS. OFFICE HOURS: 10 to 5 p.m.

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER'S SONG SUCCESSES.

Hear
MISS FLORRIE FORDE
sing
"OH! OH! ANTONIO!"
(Murphy and Lipton),
At the OXFORD, LONDON, next week.

"VESUVIUS"
(Douglas Townshend and H. E. Haines).
Sung by Chas. Brown in "The Hon'ble Phil" at the Hicks Theatre.

"EXERCISE"
(Penton Hook and Whit Cunliffe).
Sung by Whit Cunliffe.

Hear
G. H. ELLIOTT,
the Famous Chocolate-coloured Coon, sing
"SUE, SUE, SUE"
at the TIVOLI, LONDON, next week.

Hear the Great
GEORGE LASHWOOD,
in His Greatest Success,
"HANG OUT THE FRONT DOOR KEY."

"L. S. D."
(Wilmott and Darewski).
Sung by R. G. Knowles.

"THE IDOL OF THE GIRLS"
(Murray, Hilbury, and Lyle),
and "NO GIRL'S A FAIRY"
(Leigh and Lyle),
Sung by Miss Vesta Tilley.

"SO, WHAT'S THE USE?"
(Fred Day), and
"I DON'T WANT NUTHIN' BUT YOU"
(Jas. Brachman).
Sung by Miss Helen Trix.

"THE JOLLY OLD IRISH PENSIONER"
(F. W. Carter).
Sung by Pat Rafferty.

"LET ME BUT HOPE"
(Percy Edgar and H. E. Pether),
Sung by Miss Ethel Hayden.

"SHE SELLS SEA SHELLS" (Gifford and Sullivan), and "I'M HERE—IF I'M WANTED."
(F. Lee).
Sung by Wilkie Bard.

"FAR AWAY IN AUSTRALIA"
(Wilmott and Darewski).
Sung by Miss Annie Bradden.

"A HEART FULL OF LOVE AND A POCKET FULL OF MONEY"
(Lester Barrett and H. E. Darewski).
Sung by Miss Carlotta Levey and Miss Florrie Forde.

"WON'T YOU COME TO ME IN CANADA?"
(Fortescue Harrison and John Neat).
Sung by Miss Kitty Rayburn.

"THE PREACHER AND THE BEAR."
Albert Whelan's Great Hit.

Professionals and Entertainment Managers visiting America are cordially invited to avail themselves of the use of the offices of our New York Agency: T. B. HARMS and FRANCIS, DAY, and HUNTER, 1431 and 1433, Broadway, New York.

FRANCIS, DAY & HUNTER,
142, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.

Telephone, 3425 Gerrard.
Telegraphic address, "Arpeggio, London."

INDISPENSABLE!

RAYNE'S
POCKET DATE BOOK.

Price ONE SHILLING.

Five Shillings' worth of information for One Shilling. Purchasers of this work will not only be making a good investment, but will also be adding to the funds of two deserving charities. The above work, got up in a convenient size for the waistcoat pocket, should be in the possession of every actor, every music hall artist, and every entertainer, in fact.

CONTENTS.

Map (19in. by 10in.), showing the distance betwixt the various Music Halls at a glance. Will tell if one Hall is within the barring radius of the other, thus saving fears, worry, and anxiety.

All About Artists' Luggage.
Lists of Clubs.
Information about stamping Contracts.
Foreign Money Tables.
London Music Halls and Theatres.
Their Telephone Numbers.
List of Brougham Proprietors.
List and Address of Photographers.
Size of Theatrical Printing Paper.
Names and Addresses of Theatrical Railway Managers, &c., &c.

RAYNE'S
POCKET DATE BOOK.

THE BOOK WILL BE SOLD AT ONE SHILLING
Post Free.

The proceeds from the sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the Dramatic and Musical Professions,

THE ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND
AND
THE MUSIC HALL HOME FUND.

Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Garrick Theatre, writes: "I thank you for the little book, which I am sure will be very useful."
Mr. George Scott (Manager), Alhambra, W.C., writes: "Many thanks for the little book to hand, which will prove of valuable assistance to me."
Mr. Seymour Hicks, Aldwych Theatre, writes: "I thank you for the Telephone Book, which I find most useful."

Send 12 Stamps to the Publisher.
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
6, TAVISTOCK STREET, W.C.
'Phones: 4747 and 1433 Central.
Telegraphic Address: "The Era, London."

TOM PACEY,

THE FAMOUS BOOKER
OF STAR LINES.

BOOKS ARTISTS
FOR THE
STOLL, GIBBONS, BARRASFORD, AND MACNAGHTEN TOURS.
ALSO SYNDICATE HALLS,
AUSTRALIA, AMERICA, AND AFRICA,
in fact, everywhere.

Postal Address:—
186, BRIXTON ROAD, LONDON, S.W.
Telegraphic Address:—
"PACEY'S LONDON."
'Phone:—87, BRIXTON.

THE THEATRES MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

Directors.
Mr. GEORGE ALEXANDER, Chairman.
Mr. J. F. ELLISTON, Vice-Chairman.
Mr. H. BEERBOHM TREE.
MR. J. MACREADY CHUTE.
Mr. JOHN HART.
Mr. FREDERICK MOUILLOT.
Mr. F. W. WYNDHAM.
Secretary,
Mr. E. W. BUCKLEY.

This Company being purely mutual, the whole of the Profits are apportioned amongst the Members, and, after building up substantial reserves and the Payment of Dividends upon the paid-up Capital, more than 50 per cent. of the total premiums paid has been apportioned amongst the Policy-holders, the actual cost of the Insurance thus being less than one-half of the premiums paid.
For Particulars apply to
E. W. BUCKLEY, Secretary,
The Theatres Mutual Insurance Co., Ltd.,
6, Bowlalley-lane, Hull.
Telegraphic Address, "Lynx, Hull."
Telephones: National, 417; Corporation, 517.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1908.
The Star, Jan. 16:—
Mr. Leanox Pawle's appearance in pantomime at Drury Lane gives point to some correspondence, now published by "The Era" Annual for the first time. As an example in brevity it should commend itself to managers and actors.

ENTERTAINERS.

WILL BENTLEY, Original, Humorous, Refined. 73, Oakley-square, N.W. 'Phone 307 North.

HARRY BROOKS, Refined Humorist. For Concerts, Dinners, &c. 45, Fairfoot-road, Bow, E.

MR. EDOUARD BRUHNER, Bass Vocalist and Teacher of Singing. 64, Christie-road, South Hackney, N.E.

EDGAR H. BRYAN, Baritone, for Oratorios, Concerts, Dinners, &c. 37, Highlever-road, N. Kensington, W.

MISS DORA CLARE, Light Songs at Piano. A Clever Young Musical Sketch Artist, whose Dainty Songs at the Piano are greatly appreciated.—Vide "Era." 48, Nightingale-lane, S.W.

ALGERNON CLARKE'S ORCHESTRAS and LADIES' BANDS. Concerts, dinners, dances. Illustrated circulars. Terms, 28, Lonsdale-rd., Barnes. 'Phone, 109, Putney.

MR. HARRY COLLMAN, Accompanist and Coach (Musical Arrangements). Address, 22, Clifton-villas, Maida Hill, W.

MASTER FRED CROOK, Famous Boy Soprano. 5, Stanley-st., Queen's-rd., Lavender Hill, S.W.

STUART DEBNAM, Refined Humorist. Churchfield-avenue, North Finchley, N.

MR. ROBERT DENNANT (Baritone) has removed to 91, Finsbury Park-road, N. 'Phone, 3060 North.

GAIETY ENTERTAINERS, Smart Costume Concert Party. Refined. Moderate Fees. FRED VALENTINE, 66, Dangan-rd., Wanstead.

MR. HAROLD W. GREATHEAD, Humorous and Dramatic Recitals, Monologues, Character Sketches. Open for Concerts, Dinners, &c. 7, Brackley-terrace, Chiswick.

HAND-BELLS and GLEES or SOLOS. Royal Criterion Hand-bell Ringers. Mr. HARRY TIPPER, 35, The Grove, Hammersmith.

HILDA HUDSON, "Versatility," Soprano and Comedienne. 122, High-road, Peckham, S.E. 'Phone 1433 Hop.

HOWARD'S UNRIVALLED ANIMATED PICTURES, Up-to-Date Fireproof Machine. Terms, J. C. HOWARD, 25, Southampton-street, Strand.

BEAUFORT H. IRVING, Songs and Monologues from Mr. Albert Chevalier's Repertoire. Open for Masonic Banquets, Concerts. 16, Nightingale-mansions, Clapham Common.

REGINALD JECKS, Baritone Vocalist. Vacant till Opening at London Hippo., Xmas. Vide Press.—"Possessing marvellous musical ability." 25, Franciscan-road, Tooting, S.W.

DICK LOYD, Baritone, 21, Denman-street, Piccadilly. Also Light Comedy Duets with HILDA HUDSON.

EDWARD MORTIMER, Art Humorist, for Concerts. 67, Arthur-road, Wimbledon Park. Telephone 694, P. O., Wimbledon.

MR. R. VERNON PIERSON, Flute and Piccolo Soloist. "The Era" says: Largely known as the Paderewski of the Flute. 3, Kensington Park-road, W.

MR. DUDLEY STOW, Bass-Baritone. Concerts, Dinners, &c. 9, Hilldrop-road, N.

MR. ALFRED THOMAS, A Very Clever Humorist.—The Era. Perm. address, 58, Truro-road, Wood Green, N.

MISS FANNY WENTWORTH, Musical Sketches and Original Songs at Piano. Late Palace, London Pavilion, Tivoli. 12, Belgrave-road, Abbey-road, N.W.

BOROUGH OF TORQUAY.

THE TORQUAY TOWN COUNCIL

INVITE TENDERS

for the supply of a

FIRST-CLASS MILITARY BAND

consisting of seventeen performers (sixteen men and conductor), to play in the Princess Gardens for a period of ten weeks commencing Monday, July 5th, 1909, five hours per week-day, except on a few special occasions, when six hours will be required.

Tenders, endorsed "Military Band," together with copies of three recent testimonials, and containing list of the instruments to be played by each member of the band, should reach the undersigned not later than Thursday, December 3rd, 1908.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

FREDK. S. HEX, Town Clerk.
Town Hall, Torquay,
November 19th, 1908.

TOURING and WARDROBE HAMPERS.
TOURING and WARDROBE HAMPERS.

Turn Baskets,
Theatrical Properties, Hobby Horses, and Animals in Wicker and Cane-work.

A. COOK and CO., late of 25, Waterloo-road, S.E.,
Removed to more Central Premises,
39, GERRARD-ST., SHAFTESBURY-AVENUE, W.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1908.
Morning Advertiser, Jan. 20:—
That very useful, one might with truth add indispensable, publication, "The Era" Annual, has once again made its welcome appearance, and once again it is crowded with information concerning the theatrical doings of the past year. Those who purchase it (it is sold at the modest price of 1s.) will have in their possession a complete and succinct history of the year's drama in this country, and a record of the plays produced in Paris and Berlin. As an appetising hors d'œuvre to the solid information, the book contains a number of interesting short stories and amusing anecdotes by well-known actors and theatrical managers.

MOSS' EMPIRES, LTD & STOLL COMPANIES SUBSEQUENT

(Moss, Stoll, Thornton & Allen Theatres, Amalgamated) — Chairman: SIR EDWARD MOSS

WORKING IN CONJUNCTION

Capital £2,086,000.

Managing Director: OSWALD STOLL.

(Including Coliseum Syndicate, Ltd.) — Chairman OSWALD STOLL.

Assisting Director and Chief of Staff: FRANK ALLEN.

Departmental Superintendents: W. S. GORDON MICHIE & ALAN W. YOUNG.

Co-Operative Offices: CRANBOURN MANSIONS CRANBOURN STREET, LONDON, W. C.

INTERVIEWS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY.

CALLS FOR MONDAY, NOV. 30, 1908.

Telephone: 1050 & 1051 GERRARD. Wires: "TWIGSOME, LONDON."

THE LONDON HIPPODROME

"The Sands o' Dee," Carl Reinsch, Achmed Ibrahim Troupe, Five Kaytons, Reichen's Dogs, Four Holloways, Antigua Pep's Spanish Orchestra, Alexandre and Hughes, Three Meteors, Fratellinis, Pathégraph, Horace Goldin and Jeanne Fransioli.

EMPIRE PALACE, EDINBURGH.

Rehearsal at 1.30 for :—

Clark and Hamilton, Fred Keeton, Percy Honri, John Warren and Co., Henry Coutts and Co., Olive Armadale, Jeannie Mackay, Bioscope, Harry Grey, Jack Pleasants.

EMPIRE THEATRE, GLASGOW.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

Marie Dressler, Hartley Wonders, Will English, Caicedo, Maggie Walsh, Three Sisters Lee, Frank Mortimer, Bioscope, Bransby Williams.

COLISEUM, GLASGOW.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

The Master Mystery, Ray Wallace, Sisters Morgan, Naughton and Gold, Hayes and Wynne, Horace White, Madge Temple, Alice Blandford, Bioscope, The Gaudsmidts.

GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW.

Closed for Rehearsals of "Cinderella" Pantomime.

ARDWICK THEATRE, MANCHESTER.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Frank A. Gotch and Co., Leo Tell, Carina Sisters, "What Women Do for Men," Three Delaries, Chas. Chard, Leonie Dixon, Annie Casey, Bioscope, The Boissets, in "Bricklayers."

HIPPODROME, MANCHESTER.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

"The Volcano," Carney and Armstrong, Gus Garrick, Joe Almasio, Eadie and Ramsden, Marie Santoi and Co., Glenroy Troupe, Arthur Gill, Bioscope, Anna Hickish.

EMPIRE PALACE, LEEDS.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Mike S. Whallen, Hymack, New York Nippers, Bert Harrow, Spry and Austin, Mendel, Lauder's Chronomegaphone, Ruth Lytton, Nellie Martell, Bioscope, Laurie and Beatty.

EMPIRE PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Eugene Stratton, Tom Lloyd, "Fun on a Tramcar," The Brewsters, Pat Rafferty, Leo Stormont; Marie Empress, E. J. Sheldon, Bioscope, Hermann Melot.

BORDESLEY PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Tom H. Taylor's Company in "The Female Swindler."

GRAND, BIRMINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Joseph Hart's "Futurity Winner," Victor Newman, Mabel Fairchild, Dare's Minstrels, Conway and Leland, G. W. Hunter, Frisbey, Tom Jones, Bioscope, W. J. Churchill.

PALACE, LEICESTER.

Rehearsal at 2.30 for :—

Fisher White's Co., in "A Royal Heart," Lil Hawthorne, Johnny Walker, Millie Payne, Bros. Egbert, Theo Bouwmeester, Dunedin Troupe, George Young, Bioscope, Nell Emerald.

EMPIRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Wilkie Bard, Ida Kathrina, Harry Bedford, Dumond Trio, Syd May, The Delevines, Alf Chester, Nellie Stratton, Bioscope, Miss "Teddy" Edmunds and Co. in "The Lady Jockey."

EMPIRE PALACE, LIVERPOOL.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Hubert Carter and Co., Machnow, Prince Milner Trio, Watson's Dogs Lilian Dundas and Co., Coloured Meisters, Ben Albert, James Stewart, Sisters Jerome, Bioscope, Guyer and Valli.

OLYMPIA, LIVERPOOL.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Courtice and Louie Pounds, Morris Harvey, Tom Moore, Eight Lancashire Lads, John Humphries and Co., Ted and May Hopkins, Crown Trio, Madge Osmond, Bioscope, Lottie Lennox.

EMPIRE, HACKNEY.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

The Bioscope, J. P. Ling, Three Welsh Girls, Howell and Scott, Bellonini, Alexandra Dagmar, Phil Parsons, Florence Smithers and Co., Jessie Lee, John Lawson and Co., in Repertoire.

EMPIRE, HOLLOWAY.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

George Auger and Co., Dick Tubbs, Tom Child, May Edouin, Bernard Crooke, Lily Burnand, Jessie Buckle, Edie Endon, Bioscope, George Leyton and Co., in "The Last Muster."

EMPIRE, NEW CROSS.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Fred Karno's "The Casuals," Jack Smiles, Harrison Bros., The Robertys, W. F. Frame, Grosvenor Sisters, Walter Aubrey, Lottie Govell, Bioscope, Maud Rochez's Monkeys.

BROADWAY THEATRE, NEW CROSS.

Rehearsal at 11 o'clock for :—

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal and Company, in "The Elder Miss Blossom" and "The Whirlpool."

THE LONDON COLISEUM

Rehearsal at 10 a.m. for :—

Miss Cecelia Loftus, Miss Evie Greene, Three Cape Girls, May Audrey, Kitts and Windrum, Arthur Saxon Trio, Jackson Family, Rohda Bros. Takio, Daisy Mayer, Bioscope, Carrie De Mar.

EMPIRE, STRATFORD.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Zeynardt's Lilliputians, Dennis Drew and Boys, May Brilliant, Griffiths Bros., Imperial Russian Troupe, George Brooks, Vanando, Lizzie Daniels, Bioscope, Fred Edwards and Co., in "Kleptomaniacs."

EMPIRE THEATRE, BRADFORD.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Reano's Band, Fred Lincoln, Bros. Redmond, "That Brute Simmons," Phil and Nettie Peters, Mason and Bart, John Macaulay, Marion Scott, Bioscope, Bros. Horne.

EMPIRE, SWANSEA.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Fred Ginnett's "Dick Turpin," Bessie Butt, Burnetti, Adams and Ward, The Kirbys, Frank Sylvo, Little Keeno, Bioscope, Lancashire Singers.

EMPIRE, CARDIFF.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Hetty King, Alf Holt, Stein Eretto Troupe, Ginnett's Lion and Horse, Chronomegaphone, Ethel Newman, Maudie Francis, Bioscope, Olga and Elgar.

PHILHARMONIC HALL, CARDIFF.

Until Further Notice.

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Fred D. Jones, Bert Williams, Hetty Hocking, Bioscope, &c.

EMPIRE NEWPORT

Rehearsal at 3 for :—

Herbert Darnley's "Brigands of Tarragona," Enzer, Walter King, Nina Wood, Goodwin's Piccaninnies, Arthur Astill, Kitty Clinton, Bioscope, Ten Zerbinis.

EMPIRE, NOTTINGHAM.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Arthur Roberts and Co., in "Till Sunday," Katie Cohen, Albert Christian, Florence and Lillian, Les Martineks, Sidney Lee, Lil O'Gorman, Alf Maynall, Bioscope, Terry and Lambert.

EMPIRE PALACE, SHEFFIELD.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Ye Colonial Septette, Kent and Keith, Strolling Players, Eight of Hearts, Fred Wilkinson, Lyric Quartette, Kisbey, Adey Spencer, Bioscope, Brown and Le Clerq Co.

PALACE THEATRE, HULL.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

The Craggs, Four Jumels, Tennyson and Wallis, Herbert Shelley, Lukushimas, The Maples, Les Voces, Blanche Vincent, Bioscope, Gitten's Opera Co.

EMPIRE, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Gus Elen, Sybil St. Elmo, Lauder's Chronomegaphone, Eight Stella Girls, Campbell and Barber, Harry Herbert, Nora Emerald, Nettie Starr, Bioscope, Donaldson Bros. and Co.

The following are booked in conjunction with the above:

EMPIRE THEATRE, DUBLIN.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Frank Lister and Co., in "No. 99," Minnie Wheaton, La Belle Nello, Three Rochesters, Eight Sunrays, Ella Dean, Chas. Stevens, Pictures, J. W. Rowley.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BELFAST.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

Elliott Savonas, Nelly Bly, Carl Howard, Huxter Bros., Ethel Dove, Bert Terrell, Pictures, Lambeth and Robertson.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, WALSALL.

Rehearsal at 12 for :—

King and Benson, Nance Elder, Athlones, Lord, Murray, and Lord, Cliff Ryland, Ernest Clifford, Bioscope, Bob Hanlon Troupe.

IMPERIAL HALL, WALSALL.

Company as booked.

THE PALACE, CAMBERWELL.

Rehearsal at 1 for :—

The Gothams, Austin Rudd, Cissie Dryden, Maud Vera, Tom Leamore, Gertie Gitana, Frank Leon, Terry and Bentley, Otto and Olga, Pictures, Laurie's Kindergarten.

EMPIRE, SUNDERLAND.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

Laurence Irving, Mabel Hackney and Co., in "The King and the Vagabond," Jack Hayworth, Sisters Grovini, Ross and Lewis, Charlene and Charlene, Creo Bros., Goggin and Davis, Little Pam Ross, Bioscope, L'Incognita.

EMPIRE PALACE, SOUTH SHIELDS.

Rehearsal at 2 for :—

"The Belle of The Orient," Bertha Winder, Jack Crawley, The Mayvilles, Victor Travers, Gladys Witton, Pictures, Chas. Vincent.

IMPORTANT NOTICES.

RE APPLICATIONS FOR ENGAGEMENTS.

All applications by either Artists or their Agents must be made to the Head Office. Lowest terms must be stated, and distinction made between salaries required for larger and smaller towns. Vacant dates should be stated. If a list of existing bookings be sent, it will render selection easier.

Artists employing Agents should accredit one only at one time, as the friction arising when several Agents are employed at the same time, all expecting the one booking to go through each of them, often renders it expedient to avoid that booking altogether rather than give undeserved offence to several Agents.

New Acts seeking Engagements, or turns not rebooked (possibly because they have played a series of dates without introducing new business), will facilitate matters by having their acts seen by our District Managers. Their Districts and Postal Addresses are as follow :—

EDINBURGH, GLASGOW, NEWCASTLE, AND DISTRICT.
MR. S. GETHING, Empire Theatre, Glasgow.

BIRMINGHAM, NOTTINGHAM, LEICESTER, AND DISTRICT.
MR. HATTON WHARTON, Empire Theatre, Nottingham.

SOUTH WALES DISTRICT.
MR. ALBERT MITCHELL, Empire Theatre, Cardiff.

LEEDS, SHEFFIELD, HULL, BRADFORD, AND DISTRICT.
MR. T. GERALD MORTON, Empire Palace, Leeds.

LIVERPOOL, MANCHESTER, AND DISTRICT.
MR. ALBERT BULMER, The Empire, Liverpool.

LONDON DISTRICT.
MR. J. CHRISTIE, Empire Theatre, Shepherd's Bush, W.

N.B.—Mr. OSWALD STOLL or Mr. FRANK ALLEN can be seen by appointment on all matters arising out of the above, and for the discussion of entirely new Numbers.

All Artists or Agents who communicate with our District Representatives must have made definite applications, in accordance with above directions, to the Head Office, at the same time, or just previously.

Artists are requested to note that the Alexandra Theatre, Stoke Newington, comes within the area absolutely barred by us. Artists and Agents are requested to note that the Standard Theatre, Shoreditch, and the Terriss Theatre, Rotherhithe, also come within the area absolutely barred by us.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ARTISTS.

Artists must have at least Fourteen Band Parts for English Orchestrations, and Seventeen Band Parts for Foreign Orchestrations. Matter of Bill, Blocks, and Specimens of Pictorials FOR ALL THE ABOVE THEATRES must be sent to Co-operative Offices, at above address, THREE WEEKS before Opening, failing which Artists will run the risk of having their Engagements cancelled.

IMPORTANT.—Artists must forward Copies of Songs to the STAGE DEPARTMENT, ABOVE ADDRESS, TWO WEEKS previous to opening, with Assignments for same, which will be returned. Artists are requested to note carefully that the clause in their contracts relating to rehearsals will in future be strictly enforced. Artists' Scenery, Properties, &c., MUST be fireproofed in accordance with the regulations of the Licensing Authorities.

ARTISTS WILL CLEARLY UNDERSTAND THAT THEIR BUSINESS MUST BE FREE FROM ALL VULGARITY.

No order or contract for goods or services must be accepted for any of the foregoing theatres except upon receipt of an Official Form, issued from the Co-operative Offices, London, and signed by either Mr. Oswald Stoll, Mr. Frank Allen; or the Chief Accountant, otherwise the Company concerned will not be responsible for same, and will refuse payment. In special cases, where goods are required at once, suppliers must look to the individual placing the order, who will be personally liable, unless an official confirmatory order, signed as above, is received within forty-eight hours. Invoices must be sent to the Theatre, but monthly statements should be sent to the Co-operative Offices. The individual Company on whose behalf orders are signed is solely responsible for payment. The Management will not hold themselves responsible in the event of loss of or damage to any MSS., Songs, &c., submitted for consideration.

The Greatest Aggregation of Variety Theatres in the World

THE STAR MUSIC Co.

By far the Greatest Success since "Zuyder Zee" swept the country is Charles Whittle's

HIT OF HITS

I DON'T CARE IF

THERE'S A GIRL THERE

UNDOUBTEDLY THE SUCCESS OF THE YEAR.

Already secured for Pantomime by Ada Reeve, Hetty King, May Mars, George Lashwood, Whit Cunliffe, Mark Sheridan and Twenty-four other Star Artists.

Our other Great Winners for Panto. include:

"HAVE YOU GOT ANOTHER GIRL LIKE MARY?"
"WON'T YOU WALTZ THE MERRY WIDOW WALTZ?"
"CAROLINA BROWN OF CHINATOWN."
"AYESHA, MY SWEET EGYPTIAN."
"MY PRETTY PIECE OF DRESDEN CHINA."
"DON'T PUT YOUR UMBRELLA UP BEFORE IT STARTS TO RAIN."
HARRY BEOFORD'S "SALOME," etc., etc.
"MOLLY MALONEY" (JUMP ON MY JAUNTING CAR).

COME & HEAR THESE BIG WINNERS.

Send for our GREAT PANTOMIME BOOK. Postage 6d. Mention theatre and part.

9, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.
(FACING GARRICK THEATRE.)

Phone 8446 Gerrard. Tels., "Songonia, London."

JOSEPH WILLIAMS (LIMITED)

RECOMMEND THE FOLLOWING:

"THE SONG OF THE GARGOYLE."

A Bass-Baritone Song for "DEMON KING," by Sidney Ellen.

"YPSILANTI."

(Pélissier.) An Unqualified Success. Be sure and secure it.

'I WANT SOMEBODY TO LOVE ME.'

Last Year's Hit. (H. G. Pélissier.) Band Parts in F, 1/6 net.

'THE CURATE AND THE MAIDEN.'

Sung by everybody. (G. H. Stone.) Band Parts in F, 1/6 net.

"Pro" Copies of the above supplied, post free, 6d. each (with card) or three selected for 1/- Also apply for

PANTOMIME SONG BOOK, ETC.

Dept. 6. London: JOSEPH WILLIAMS (Ltd.), 32, Great Portland St., W.

VON TILZER MUSIC CO., LTD.

PANTOMIME SONGS.

"LET'S HAVE A SONG ABOUT THE BOYS."

"SATURDAY AFTERNOON."

"PUT ME A GIRL INSIDE."

"I'M WAIT-WAIT-WAITING." (All I want is the Man.)

Principal Girl and Dame Song.

"IN A LITTLE WOODEN HOUSE IN NORWAY."

"WHAT A TERRIBLE THING THAT WOULD BE."

TOPICAL SONG already secured by Dan Rolyat for the Adelphi and for Twenty-five other Principal Pantomimes.

"KEEPSAKES."

FOR FAIRY QUEEN AND PRINCIPAL GIRL.

Postage for our Budget for Principal Boy, Principal Girl, Comedian, 6d. each.

☞ Write for our Slide Song List. ☜

CALL OR WRITE,

Von Tilzer Music Co., Ltd., 100, Charing Cross Rd., London, W.C.

THE MACNAGHTEN VAUDEVILLE CIRCUIT.

Proprietor and Director General:
Mr. FRANK MACNAGHTEN.

SPECIAL AND IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Artists engaged will please note that rehearsals at ALL Halls take place at 12 o'clock noon each Monday.

No excuses whatever for non-attendance will be entertained.

All billing matter and notification of appearance, accompanied by samples of pictorial printing, must be sent to the London Offices, Oakley House, Bloomsbury-street, W.C., fourteen clear days prior to opening, or contract may be cancelled at the option of the Management.

All Scene and Property Plots of Sketches, Scenas, &c., must be sent to Foresters' fourteen clear days before opening.

All Artists carrying scenery must have same fire-proofed, in accordance with L.C.C. regulations, otherwise it will not be allowed in the Halls.

Artists please note that when stage staff are required on Sunday, according to the "award," their time must be reckoned from that given in "call."

In cases of emergency after office hours, Mr. Baugh may be consulted at the Foresters' Theatre, Cambridge-road, E.

Telephone 5954 Avenue.
Telegraphic address, "Stageyness, London."

CALLS

FOR WEEK COMMENCING

MONDAY, NOV. 30, 1908.

PALACE, BRADFORD.

Helen Roberts, Tom Yorke, The Waltons, Les Belles Américaines, Three Temples, Jamie Piper, Marguerite Ismay and Coons, Singing Competition, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, BLACKBURN.

The Motramos, Alfonzo, August and September, Bowman and Morton, Beaty and Blanche, Marion Fletcher, Jackley Trio, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, The Waldrons.

PALACE, HALIFAX.

Johnstown Flood, The Evalos, The Donatos, Mr. F., Marguerite Radcliffe, Ford and Barras, Alice Maydue, Nat Clifford, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, W. HARTLEPOOL.

The Carmos, Archie Pitt, Annie Heath, Johnny Dwyer, Milton Trio, Gracie Hunt, Jim Cheetham, Clown Barker, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, SOUTHAMPTON.

Six Bros. Luck, Clifton and Gibson, Three Prestons, Cissie Curlette, Phil Bransby, Steve Bartle, McCann's Dogs, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PAVILION, LEICESTER.

Pictures, Francis O'Flynn, Harry Wright, Nellie Gannon, Daisy Hurdle, Orbosany, Hearne Champion, Minnie Kirby.

THEATRE ROYAL, ROTHERHAM.

"Why Men Love Women."

THEATRE ROYAL, CHESTERFIELD.

"The Diver's Luck."

THEATRE ROYAL, LEEDS.

"The Sailor's Wedding."

THEATRE ROYAL, ATTERCLIFFE.

Picture Entertainment.

KING'S, NOTTINGHAM.

Picture Entertainment.

PALACE THEATRE, BATH.

Bernard Mervyn and Co., Cliff and Kean, Sisters Brenton, Stidder and Dunbar, Virto, Munroe's Team, Annie Schuberth, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE THEATRE, LINCOLN.

Tiller's "Trip to Paris," Walter Clyde, Julian Ross, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, CARDIFF.

Olga Audre and Co., Star Picture, Woodhouse and Wells, Norah Desmond, Queenie Essex, Leonas, The Betsons, Dan Whitley, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, WARRINGTON.

Gunner Moir, Yettmah, Two Rubies, Sidy Nirvanah, Two Kays, Rabussio Bros., Chass Lewis, Chris Richards, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, BURNLEY.

Florrie Forde, Webb and Branston, Cosgrove and Burns, Dan Merrett, Chas. Banks and Dog, Lyons Trio, Edith Chantler, The Bensons, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PIER PAVILION, SOUTHPORT.

Matinée Monday.

Venturini, Gertie Lewis, Bernardo, Bi Bo Bi, Frank Cass, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, The Nicholsons, Harry Royde, Newco and Sullo, Devereux Dogs.

PALACE, BOW.

Matinée, every Monday.

Herbert Rule, Sisters Edwards, Raymond's, Zelovas, Gold and Sterling, Harry Luck, E. W. Selman, Freda Fern, Lew Lake and Co., Eva Roslyn, Violet Clare.

FORESTERS'.

Matinées Monday and Thursday.

Tom Collins, Fred Maxwell and Co., Nat Watkins, Sable Fern, Raymond, Leo and Roland, Rose D'Aulby, Zetta Russell, Alex Lofton, Ethel Scheffer, E. D. Nicholls, Sivronis.

SADLER'S WELLS.

Matinée, every Monday.

First Stop London, Harry Champion, Fred Moule and Co., Burns and Bentley, Raymond, Norman Osborne, Hilda Mascott, Jack Heath, Daisy Silcott, Dora Daly.

PALACE, BATTERSEA.

Matinée, Monday, at 2.30 o'clock.

Raymond, Hansell and Foster, Marie Neilson, George Campbell, J. C. Jimson's Pets, The Arntes, The Three Gartis, The Three Rolands, Josephine Crook, Lloyd Phillips, Two Missouris, "The Experiment."

SURREY THEATRE.

All Artists engaged for Surrey Theatre must bring 14 Band Parts.

Matinée every Monday.

Ernest Rees, Raymond, Bernard and Weston, Cassie Walmer, The Cromwells, Flo Burnett, Vera Crackles, Albert St. Clair, Ayax and George, "Paul Kauvar," Miss Marquiss, Flo Inman.

FRANCIS & DAY'S PANTOMIME SONGS.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"OH! OH! ANTONIO!"

Miss FLORRIE FORDE'S LATEST SENSATION.
Sung also by Miss EDITH FINK.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"HANG OUT THE FRONT DOOR KEY."

GEORGE LASHWOOD'S LATEST CHORUS SONG.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"SHADOWLAND."

A Charming Number for Cinderella or Fairy Queen.

"SUE, SUE, SUE."

G. H. ELLIOTT'S GREATEST SUCCESS.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"I'M AFRAID TO COME HOME IN THE DARK."

Sung by Miss HETTY KING and R. G. KNOWLES.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"BOMBADIER."

A GREAT PANTOMIME MARCH NUMBER.

"L. S. D."

R. G. KNOWLES'S LATEST FURORE.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"COME, BE MY RAINBOW."

(FOR RAINBOW AND LIGHTING EFFECTS.)
Which will be featured by Miss MADGE TEMPLE at the London Coliseum.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"MY GIRL'S A YORKSHIRE GIRL."

A GREAT CHORUS SONG, Sung by Miss FLORRIE GALLIMORE.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"MANDY'S WEDDING."

THE GREAT SUMMER SUCCESS. SOLO AND CHORUS.

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"EVERY FELLOW'S IN LOVE WITH A GIRL."

SOMETHING NEW FOR PRINCIPAL BOYS

WE WANT YOU TO HEAR:

"WHO SAID HE DON'T LIKE GIRLS?"

Sung by HARRY SIMMS.

When you have heard the above you will have no difficulty in deciding which are THE BIG HITS FOR THE COMING PANTOMIMES.

PANTOMIME BOOKS NOW READY:

No. 1. PRINCIPAL BOY. No. 3. LOW COMEDIAN AND DAME.
No. 2. PRINCIPAL GIRL. No. 4. FREE SONGS FOR ALL LINES.

SUPPLIED FOR PANTO. USE ONLY. COST OF DISPATCH, SIXPENCE EACH BOOK.

FRANCIS, DAY, & HUNTER,

142, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.

Telephone, 5425, Gerrard. Telegraphic Addresses: "Arpeggio, London," and "Playtime, New York."

M. WITMARK & SONS

Take pleasure in presenting another bunch of Novelties for

PICKERS OF PANTOMIME PLUMS.

Keep your mind alert and your eyes open for

"TAKE ME SOME PLACE WITH YOU, JOHNNY."

One of those songs that "Happen."

A FIRST NIGHT HIT, as Sung by Miss MARGARET COOPER, Palace, London.

The sure-fire Pantomime hit will be

"WAY DOWN IN COLON TOWN."

For novelty, melody, and originality this charming number has never been equalled. If you have not heard it make haste and do so.

An Egyptian Ideal.

"CLEOPATRA."

Words by CHARLES WILMOTT. Music by HARRY WELMON.
Sung with great success by Miss ETHEL RA-LESLIE.

Three absolutely new and novel March Songs. The current New York Song Success

"BONNIE MY HIGHLAND LASSIE."

"DO AS THE SOLDIERS DO."

"THE GIRLS WHO MAKE LONDON GAY."

The Comedy Song of the year,

"BILLY BROWN."

Sung by FRAGSON, Tivoli, London, Every Evening.

"DON'T FORGET TO WRITE ME EVERY DAY."

"EVERYBODY KNOWS IT'S THERE,"

with extra verses by Mr. EDGAR BATEMAN.

Two Beautiful Harmonising Ballads.
"WAKE LITTLE ROBIN" and "BY THE OLD WOOD FIRE."

Two Charming Duets.
"KISS, KISS, KISS" and "YOU'VE MADE A HIT WITH ME."

Four Great Songs for Fairy Queen or Principal Girl.
"AS LONG AS THE WORLD ROLLS ON." "I'D LIVE OR I WOULD DIE FOR YOU."
"ALL FOR LOVE OF YOU." "TAKE ME WITH YOU IN YOUR DREAMS."

Send for Complete List of Pantomime Songs.

Our Pantomime Books are now ready, and will be sent only to bona fide Pantomime Artists on receipt of 1/-

JUST PUBLISHED.

"THE WITMARK AID TO ENTERTAINERS."

Everyone interested in stage, club, and home amusements should send for this encyclopædia of information relating to all and every kind of entertaining.
Sent post paid on receipt of two penny stamps.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

ALL APPLICATIONS for professional copies must be accompanied by recent programmes and seven penny stamps to ensure attention. No postcard applications considered.

Address all Communications to the Firm

M. WITMARK & SONS

186 & 188, Shaftesbury Avenue, LONDON, W.C.
58, Rue du Faubourg Montmartre, PARIS.

Telegraphic Address, HUBECULA, London.
Telephone, 1430 Gerrard.

CHARLES WARNER—Manager

For continuation of Song Advts., see page 40.

Telegraphic Address:
"PHONOFILM," London.

Telephones:
No. 3037 Central. 3239 Gerrard.

PATHÉ FRÈRES, LONDON.

31-33, CHARING CROSS ROAD, W.C.

THE LARGEST FILM MANUFACTURERS IN THE WORLD.

ACTUAL OUTPUT OF FILMS PER DAY, 80 MILES.

THIS WEEK'S NOVELTIES.

THE ROAD OF LIFE.

Code Word, "FICHE."

This simple and touching story is that of two orphans, adopted by their grandmother, and living a free and happy life in the country. They are a perfect picture of youth and strength, and a contrast to the old woman, who bends more and more towards the earth as each day comes to a close, thus giving the impression of a beautiful evening—that long evening which must come for each of us, with no morrow and no future that those left behind can see.

610ft. The Subject, £10 3s. 4d.

THE HOLIDAY FUND FOR CHILDREN OF PARIS SCHOOLS.

Code Word, "FIBRE."

Titles of Pictures: With a small bundle in their hands the children gather at the Town Hall—Everyone for himself—Let us go!—Arriving at the farm—How the little ones spend the time—Eating, drinking, sleeping, and especially playing—Waking up—The morning toilet—Little girls are making themselves useful already, and they take earnestly their duties as little mothers—News from father and mother—The four o'clock meal.

460ft. The Subject, £7 13s. 4d.

SPANISH BLOOD.

Code Word, "FENETRE."

This beautiful Spanish girl is courted by two dashing young men, and the one she prefers is married. On learning this, the rejected suitor goes and warns the wife of his rival, who now wishes to kill the girl. As soon as she has found her, there takes place between the two women a savage duel with navajas. At last the wife is fatally wounded, and as her husband bends over her in a dejected attitude, Carmen takes him away by force, without stopping smoking her usual cigarette.

280ft. The Subject, £4 13s. 4d. Col. and Ton., £3 3s. 0d.

THE DOINGS OF MR. EASYFED.

Code Word, "FLAGEOLET."

Mr. Easyfed is trying a wonderful recipe for eating at the expense of simpletons. A policeman is sent after him, but Easyfed slips through his hands like an eel. Finally, he falls into the hands of two gendarmes, who happen to be on their way to some other errand. Easyfed is marched off to the police-station, to the abashment of the policeman, who looks rather small and miserable at not having been able to capture his quarry.

412ft. The Subject, £6 17s. 4d.

THE SERVANT OF AN ACROBATIC FAMILY.

Code Word, "FILETAGE."

In the house of the Pawsup one cannot move without getting out of joint or losing one's balance. They have just engaged a new maid, whom they train to their peculiar ways. The mistress of the house shows her how to fold up a tablecloth without disturbing the balance of the things which are on it, to make the bed by means of a series of capers, &c. The maid does her utmost to follow the example set to her by her new masters, but if she thinks it difficult to walk on her head, she finds it very easy to turn everything upside down, and when her masters discover the mess she runs away. The film ends with a beautiful apotheosis.

528ft. The Subject, £8 16s. 0d.

THE LOCKET.

Code Word, "EXQUIS."

The little boy in this picture has been kidnapped by gipsies, who beat and ill-treat him in order to make him perform all sorts of acrobatic turns. One day their wanderings bring the whole gang to the town where the boy's mother is staying, and the kindly lady takes an interest in him because he is of the same age as her lost boy would have been. The gipsies, thinking she must be rich, assault her and try to rob her, but her son defends her, and after a time he is so exhausted that he faints in the arms of his mother, who recognises him on account of the locket he still wears round his neck.

610ft. The Subject, £10 3s. 4d. Toning £1 5s. 0d.

ELASTIC TRANSFORMATIONS.

Code Word, "FILAMENT."

A magician offers us, under the above heading, a series of disguises, which multiply, lengthen, and vanish all of a sudden, then come into sight again, and mix in an indescribable confusion.

297ft. The Subject, £4 19s. 0d. Colouring, £3 2s. 0d.

THE VAGABOND.

Code Word, "FIEF."

In the dusty road a tramp asks some peasants for a shelter for the night, but they drive him away. As he passes through the village he overhears a quarrel between two farmers, and soon finds a large stone, on which he stretches himself for the night. Presently one of the two opponents comes and offers him money for killing his enemy. The tramp refuses to listen to him, but, after a moment's thought, he makes up his mind to go and warn the threatened peasant. Arrived at the latter's house, he calls him loudly. The farmer, thinking he is being attacked, fires at the figure in the courtyard. The tramp is severely wounded, but he braces himself for the effort of telling the object of his coming. Thanks to him, the peasant can avoid the resentment of his enemy, and the tramp is cared for at the farmhouse. One fine morning, however, the tramp leaves his new friends, in spite of their entreaties, for the fascination of boundless space is too much for him, and he must resume his wandering life.

545ft. The Subject, £9 1s. 8d. Toning, £1 1s. 0d.

DIFFICULT ARREST.

Code Word, "FLACON."

Thanks to the indiscretions of a telegraph boy, we are allowed to see through the keyholes what is going on in each flat. On the first floor a gentleman is making love to the maid; on the second floor two young scapegraces are tying Bob, their little dog, to their grandmother's wig. &c.; on the fourth floor false coiners are surprised by the police at their dishonest work. They jump on the roof, and, after an exciting chase, they are marched off to the police-station.

379ft. The Subject, £6 6s. 4d.

IRON MINES AT KIRUNA (LAPLAND).

Code Word, "FAMILLE."

Titles of Pictures: Panoramic view of the mines—Laying the charge—Waving the flag and sounding the alarm before exploding the mine—Firing the fuse—The explosion—Trucks for carrying away the ore—Filling the trucks, 15cwt. of ore yielded at one haul; &c.

460ft. The Subject, £7 13s. 4d.

Pathé's Films

UNEQUALLED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

PATHÉ FRÈRES AHEAD OF ALL OTHER FIRMS.

LAST WEEK'S NOVELTIES.

THE MARTYRDOM OF LOUIS XVII.

Code Word, "FOC."

When bringing out this subject we felt sure that it would appeal to everybody, and we may say now that we were not mistaken. What is more pathetic than the sad history of that little Dauphin of France, who had been so carefully and tenderly brought up, and who might have lived to be a king had it not been for the Revolution, which broke out so unexpectedly? The Revolution wrought an immense amount of mischief and unnecessary suffering; but when it is a child who has to submit to the ill-treatments so faithfully depicted in this film one cannot help feeling extremely sorry for the small victim of those troubled times.

676ft. The Subject, £11 5s. 4d. Toning, £6 15s. 0d.

VENICE IN A GONDOLA.

Code Word, "FLEURISTE."

Who does not know Venice, at least through the brilliant descriptions which can be found of that city in so many books and newspapers? It is much better, however, to see the beautiful monuments and buildings of that famous town projected on the screen, for it depicts its magnificent palaces and churches much more accurately than any written description.

412ft. The Subject, £8 17s. 4d. Toning, £1 0s. 0d.

MR. GIDDY WISHES TO ENJOY HIMSELF.

Code Word, "FAROUCHE."

Mr. Giddy wishes to enjoy himself. Will he succeed? It is doubtful, for he seems to have very bad luck. At last he goes and courts a young and pretty shrimper, who laughs at him and pushes him into a bucketful of water, and this cold bath is likely to put an end to his adventurous mood.

412ft. The Subject, £6 17s. 4d.

AN UNWILLING SERVANT.

Code Word, "FESTON."

The plight in which Mr. Arthur finds himself when the husband of the lady he is flirting with orders him to follow him to Birmingham as his servant may well be imagined; and when Mrs. Arthur, in order to find out what her husband's hurried telegram means, boards the same train as Mr. Hubby and Arthur, the latter's temper is not very sweet. Then, after seeing that his wife is laughing at him when he has to serve her at table, as well as his new master, he thinks out a plan to finish this little comedy. He succeeds eventually in leaving Mr. Hubby in the hands of the police, while he goes away with Mrs. Arthur, after swearing softly to himself never to flirt again with anybody.

626ft. The Subject, £10 8s. 8d.

PATHÉ'S FILMS ARE EXCLUSIVELY EXHIBITED AT THE LONDON HIPPODROME, and have met with Great Success at THE PATHÉ BUILDING, FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION.

WORKS AND STUDIOS.

VINCENNES.
JOINVILLE LE PONT.
MONTREUIL s/BOIS.

BRANCHES.

BRUSSELS.	VIENNA.	ALEXANDRIA.	SHANGHAI.
NEW YORK.	MILAN.	BUENOS AYRES.	TOKIO.
BERLIN.	AMSTERDAM.	RIO DE JANEIRO.	SYDNEY.
MOSCOW.	CALCUTTA.	MEXICO.	BARCELONA
		SINGAPORE.

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

Telephone: 6478 Central.

FILMS FOR HIRE

FILMS FOR HIRE

Our Speciality is

LONG PICTURE SHOWS.

All Our Customers are Doing Well. The Pick of ALL Manufacturers' Films.

We do not push any Firm's Films in particular; but we buy the CHOICE of the WORLD'S PRODUCTIONS.

You may leave your Billing to us.

WE ARE SHOWMEN.

YOUR SUCCESS IS OURS.

DO NOT RUSH TO THE WASTE BUTT TO SAVE 5/- —IT IS NOT POLICY.

How can you expect the same result from an Inferior Programme as you would a First Class one?

You would not expect the same result from a £2 a week Comedian as you would a £60 one. This class of saving is PENNY WISE and POUND FOOLISH.

Repeating Our Motto:

THE BEST IS NOT TOO GOOD FOR YOU.

Please Note

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE address:
65, Thornton Street, Westgate Road.

LONDON address:
1 TO 5, CECIL COURT, W.C.

Telegrams: "Newbio, London."

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

RUFFELL'S PICTURES

Hold your Audience.

RUFFELL'S PICTURES
Hold their Own.

RUFFELL'S PICTURES
Hold the Name.

Try "Ruffell's" in your Billing, and the result will be a Success and a Draw.
Place your Date with us, the Reliable

STAR PICTURE EXHIBITORS.

We collect and use nothing but the very best Films of the highest photographic quality of all the leading British and Continental Manufacturers, besides Original Subjects of our own, hence our standard of efficiency is always TIP-TOP.

Complete Weekly Changes.
Terms Moderate.

RUFFELL'S IMPERIAL BIOSCOPE SYNDICATE, LTD.,
12, LITTLE NEWPORT-STREET, W.C.
(Opposite the Hippodrome.)
New Second-Hand List now Ready.

FILMS FOR HIRE.

SPECIAL HIRE DEPARTMENTS

FIRST-CLASS FILMS ONLY.

R. R. BEARD'S

Improved Type
RHEOSTAT or RESISTANCE

Fitted with Six Switch Contacts, Off Position, and Terminals for 250 and 120 Volt Circuit, and Fuse Terminals, giving 25 to 60 Amps.

Patent Perfect and Imperial BIOSCOPE.

ARC LAMPS, CARBONS, AUTOMATIC REGULATOR JETS, LIMES, and Every Requisite for Cinematograph work. Full Catalogues post free. 'Phone Hop 1964.

R. R. BEARD,
10, TRAFALGAR ROAD, OLD KENT ROAD, LONDON, S.E.

The No. 1 "Empire"

THE IDEAL MACHINE FOR THE SHOWMAN.

A machine at a figure that commands attention. An example of mechanical ingenuity combined with sound commercial ideas. It contains all the most important EMPIRE improvements and principles which are indispensable to the first-class exhibitor.

EMPIRE List Free.

Price, complete in case, with Cinematograph and Lantern Lens,
£18 18;
With Patent Cut-off Shutter, as illustrated,
£21.

W. BUTCHER & SONS, Ltd.,
Farringdon Avenue,
LONDON.
E.C.

TO SHOWMEN, ENTREPRENEURS, AND CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW EXPLOITERS.

A CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW.

ALFRED WEST'S

"OUR NAVY."

ONE THOUSAND POUNDS

FOR

TWENTY-FIVE SHILLINGS.

TO THE PUBLISHER, "THE ERA."

Sir,—

It may possibly interest you to learn that a Quarter-Column Advertisement in "The Era" (One Insertion) resulted in over £1,000 Bookings for an Entertainment with which I was connected some little time ago. The Entertainment was entitled

ALFRED WEST'S "OUR NAVY,"

and the Bookings were effected within a week.

Yours faithfully,
H. GOLDSMITH-WHITTON,

Late Manager, West's "Our Navy," Ltd. &c.
London, May 19, 1908.

PHOTOS

with Individuality, with Style, and with Distinction

MEAN SUCCESS.

MODERN PHOTOGRAPHIC WORK FOR ARTISTES.

The well-known establishment of THE Hana STUDIOS, Ltd., place at your service a thorough knowledge and experience of artistes' requirements.

WE CAN PLEASE YOU AND OUR PRICES WILL SATISFY YOU TOO.

We gladly answer any inquiries.

THE HANA STUDIOS, Ltd.,
22, Bedford-street, Strand.

STAFFORD & CO., LTD.,

NETHERFIELD, NOTTS.

Write for Catalogue of

PANTOMIME PRINTING.

WILLSONS

Supply STREAMER LETTERS, Mammoth Posters, Day Bills, in First-class Style, and the General Run of Show Printing, Streamers—the largest Assortment in the United Kingdom—Day Bills, &c., at our Usual Low Rates.

NEW-WALK PRINTING WORKS, LEICESTER.

ADMISSION TICKETS In ROLLS or PACKETS for Checking the Drawings.

Printed & Numbered to suit all requirements.

THE GLASGOW NUMERICAL TICKET AND CHECK BOOK PRINTING CO.,
Write Dept. "E" for Prices.
31, Finnieston Street, GLASGOW.

MOODY BROTHERS, Theatrical Printers, Birmingham, for PICTORIALS.

New Machinery to print 60 by 40. Write for Illustrated Catalogues, containing illustrations of all Mackenzie's Pictorials, which we have lately bought; also Culliford's Catalogue for Bargains. 'Phone, 1206 Central. Tel., "Moody's, Birmingham."

TROEDEL & CO.

THEATRICAL PRINTERS,
MELBOURNE, VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA.

COMPANIES TOURING THE COMMONWEALTH AND NEW ZEALAND CAN GET ALL PICTORIAL PRINTING THEY REQUIRE SPECIALLY PREPARED AT ABOVE ADDRESS, AND SAVE ALL EXPENSES OF FREIGHT AND AGENTS' PROFIT.

THE T. M. HARTON CO.

PITTSBURG, Pa, U.S.A.,

Builders of the Famous

FIGURE 8 RAILWAY,

WANT CONCESSIONS AND CONTRACTS.

GEO. A. LAZEAR,
Sole Representative,
21, VERNON ST., BROUGHTON, MANCHESTER

SPENCER BROS., Ltd.,
Aeronauts to the Crystal Palace, &c.
45B, Aberdeen Park, Highbury, N.
Terms upon Application.

C. G. SPENCER & SONS,
Airship, Balloon, and Parachute Manufacturers,
66A, Highbury Grove, London, N.
Price List, one Stamp.
Telegrams, "Aeronaut, London."
'Phone, 1893 Dalston.

SCENERY.
Best Work and Materials only.
Bazaars Fitted.
Models. Estimates.
WALMSLEY'S, Rivers-street Studios, Portsmouth.

T. CRAVEN & SONS

The largest Professional Hamper Establishment in the world

The best by test, test the best

Illustrated Catalogue T.17. of Stock Sizes Post free

19 MARSDEN COURT FENNEL ST.

MANCHESTER

BRANCH 8 Queen St. BELFAST.

NEW HIPPODROME, NEWGATE, ROCHDALE.

Photo by South Street Studio, Rochdale.

NEW HIPPODROME, NEWGATE, ROCHDALE.

Built by PETERS AND WOOLFENDEN, Limited, Builders and Contractors, Crossfield, Rochdale. The old building on the site of this Hippodrome was pulled down and the new building was RE-ERECTED COMPLETE WITHIN TWENTY-ONE WEEKS.

Estimates given for similar work in any part of the country.

Price 3s. 6d., post free 3s. 10d.

THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT FOR ACTOR AND COMPOSER,

BY

ALBERT A. STRONG, LL.B. (Lond.).

Copyright confusion is, like the poor, always with us, and as it seems likely to remain so until at least the crack of doom, it were well for all concerned, or likely to be concerned, to take immediate steps to secure a copy of Mr. Albert A. Strong's new work, entitled "The Law of Copyright." Mr. Strong is already favourably known to the profession for his textbook on "Dramatic and Musical Law," which, like his latest production, is published at "The Era" Office. "The Law of Copyright for Actor and Composer" essays to make clear to the non-legal mind what is—or, in some cases what probably is—the law as to musical and dramatic copyright. The chapters on the Berne Convention and on the Chase Act, passed by the United States Congress last March are full of interest.—Referee.

Published at "The Era" Offices, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

Price 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

THE LAW OF MUSICAL COPYRIGHT,

BY

ALBERT A. STRONG, LL.B. (Lond.).

CONTENTS.

Act of Paris.
Adaptation.
" copyright in.
Assignment.
Author, meaning of.
Berne Convention.
British Museum.
Composer entitled to copyright.
Copyright.
" assignment.
" duration of.
" infringement.
" international.
" in United States.
" performance.
" registration of.
" union.
Dance music, registration of.
Dramatic piece, meaning of.
Entry at Stationers' Hall.
" false.
" order to vary or expunge.
" Published at "The Era" Offices, 6, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

ROLLER SKATING ALL THE RAGE IN EVERY PROMINENT AMERICAN CITY.

Convert your OPERA HOUSE or MUSIC HALL into a ROLLER RINK, and derive full benefit from the investment in your building. A Roller Rink can be successfully operated in any good size hall, and skating will not interfere with its use for other purposes.

RICHARDSON CUSHION FRAME, ANTI-JAR BALL BEARING . . . . . ROLLER SKATES

should be your equipment; used exclusively in all of the largest and most successful Rinks in America, and by all the leading skaters of the world.

(Cable Address: "Levant.") RICHARDSON BALL BEARING SKATE CO., 501, Wells Street, CHICAGO, U.S.A.

EUROPEAN BRANCH: NEW BRIGHTON, CHESHIRE. Fred W. Nall, Manager.

MUSIC PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENTS.

CHARLES SHEARD & CO.'S

PANTO WINNERS! PANTO HITS!

Every Artiste, Author, or Manager should examine them. There are a lot of "down the course" songs offered this year, but THESE are the only REAL CERTAIN SURE WINNERS.

PRINCIPAL BOY—
"I CAN'T GET AWAY FROM THE GIRLS."
"MY LIMELIGHT LOU."

PRINCIPAL GIRL—
"HOLD ME TIGHTER, MR. LIGHTER."
"WHO'D LIKE TO PAY FOR MY HOLIDAY."

BOY or GIRL (very effective)—
"JENNIE, DON'T SWING ON THE GATE."

COMEDIAN
"GIRLS, GIRLS, NOTHING ELSE BUT GIRLS."

CHORUS SONGS (beautifully harmonised)—
* "LITTLE SILVER MOONBEAM."
(Great for staging purposes. The best since "Pansy Faces.")
* "WHEN THE SUNRISE PAINTS THE DISTANT HILLS WITH ROSE."
* "SWEET BELLS OF HOME."

Band Parts can be had of those marked *, price 1/- per set.

PLEASE ENCLOSE SIX STAMPS FOR POSTAGE. These are the only songs that "stand out" on their merits. They are bound to keep you in the front rank if you are there already, or, if not, are certain to place you there right away.

CHARLES SHEARD & CO., 196, SHAFTESBURY AVENUE, W.C.

EMPRESS ROLLER SKATING RINK,

EMPRESS HALL, EARL'S COURT.

EQUIPPED WITH THE CELEBRATED "PHANTOM" SKATE,

Manufactured by BOOMEY & BERRY.

The Best Roller Skate ever placed on the English Market. Will Revolutionise the whole Business.

Demonstrations of this unique Patent on the Rink at any time.

Persons who anticipate opening Rinks are seriously advised to see these Skates in use, as their superiority is so pronounced that one demonstration will at once convince the most sceptical.

All enquiries (wholesale or retail) to MANAGING DIRECTOR, as above.

THE SONG OF THE YEAR.

"ESKIMO LOVE SONG."

Words by NEWMAN HARDY. Music by HOWARD FISHER.

SING IT IN YOUR - PANTOMIME. -

In Two Keys, F, G.
PROFESSIONAL COPIES FREE.
BAND PARTS, 6d.

LEONARD & CO., 311, Oxford Street, W.

EARLY TRAINS.

The Railway Companies are despatching many morning trains earlier than hitherto. This will enable subscribers and advertisers in the provincial towns to get copies of "The Era" in time for the breakfast table. Advertisers are requested to forward their advertisements as early in the week as possible, and not later than 7 p.m. on Thursday.

Address:
THE PUBLISHER, The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock Street, W.C.

FOR PANTOMIME HITS. National MUSIC PUBLISHING COMPANY.

LOOK! what did we tell you?

Two Drury Lane Winners:

"PUT ME UPON AN ISLAND WHERE THE GIRLS ARE FEW."
(Will be Sung in the Drury Lane Panto. by WILKIE BARD.)

"YOU ALL WANT SOMETHING TO CUDDLE."
(To be Sung in the Drury Lane Panto. by NEIL KENYON.)

The above numbers will also be used by GEORGE LASHWOOD, G. H. ELLIOTT, TOM FOYE, JACK PLEASANTS, HARRY GREY BARNEY ARMSTRONG, PETE BIRMINGHAM, WILL LETTERS, CULLEN & CARTHY, and a host of others.

NEARLY EVERY PANTO. USING THIS WONDERFUL NUMBER.
"MY LITTLE EVA." Lowenwirth & Cohan's Great Chorus Song. Suit any style singer.

THE 100 GUINEA SONG:—
"WHEN THE LEAVES ARE TINGED WITH GOLD."
(Sung by FRED ELTON.)
Placed with Robert Arthur and all the Leading Pantos.

"IF IT'S A LADY." (GEORGE LASHWOOD'S Latest Success).
This is also placed with Robert Arthur and a host of others.

Miss VICTORIA MONKS' Two Big Hits:—
"I WISH I HAD A PAL LIKE YOU"
AND
"CALL ROUND ANY OLD TIME."
We need say nothing about these Chorus numbers. They speak for themselves.

WILL GODWIN'S Pippin:—
"WHEN I'VE A HUNDRED POUNDS."
(This will be worth more than £100 to any Panto. Artist this year.)

Roller Skating will be the big craze this year. So will our Latest Song—
"KATE, WON'T YOU ROLLER SKATE."
(This is being placed in all the Pantos.)

"NICOLO, NICOLO, PLAY ON YOUR PICCOLO."
(What a Novelty! don't fail to get this big number.)

We can give you March Songs, Ballads, Coon Songs, Comedy Songs, in fact, any style song you want. Call round any old time and hear them played over. If not in town, send SIXPENCE FOR BUNDLE OF PROFESSIONAL SONGS.

THE NATIONAL MUSIC PUBLISHING COMPANY
132, CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C.
KARL F. HOOPER. J. CHAS. MOORE.

At Last. Won by Waiting.

STARSHINE. THE PRINCIPAL BOY SONG.
STARSHINE. THE PRINCIPAL GIRL SONG.
STARSHINE. THE FAIRY QUEEN SONG.
STARSHINE. EVERYONE WILL SING.
STARSHINE. EVERY PANTO. WILL WANT.
STARSHINE. EVERY PANTO. WILL HAVE.

By Edith Fortescue.

BUY THIS SONG. SING THIS SONG.

VALSE REFRAIN—
Starshine, Starshine,
Come back once more into the sky,
Tell me, tell me,
All that you told me that night gone by.
I am not lonely-hearted,
For when the clouds have parted,
After the shadow beyond the rain
Starshine will come again!

B flat, C (D to F), and D. Special Pro. Copy, with Harmonised Chorus and Band Parts in D.
Price 6d. net. Lantern Slides Now Ready.
To be had of FULLAGAR & CO., price 21/- To be had of JAMES BAMFORTH, price 22/6.

W. MORLEY & CO., 6, Great Portland Street, LONDON, W.

TO SKATING RINK PROPRIETORS.

MAPLE FLOORING FOR SALE.

Upwards of 1,000 Squares 1in. MAPLE FLOORING for SALE.

Immediate delivery, Carriage Paid, to any Station in the UNITED KINGDOM.

Enquiries solicited for large or small quantities at a greatly reduced price for cash.

Apply—
Messrs. T. PARKINGTON & SON, St. Margaret's Works, Ipswich, near London.

"THE ERA" IN AMERICA.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS & SUBSCRIBERS

NEW YORK.

"THE ERA" IS ON SALE
OUTSIDE THE
KNICKERBOCKER THEATRE BUILDING, 1402 BROADWAY,
AND AT
BRENTANO'S, FIFTH AVENUE, CORNER TWENTY-SEVENTH-ST.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
1 Year, 32/-; 6 Months, 16/-; 3 Months, 8/-

INQUIRIES & COMMUNICATIONS MAY BE SENT TO
"THE ERA," P.O. BOX 492, NEW YORK CITY.

American Artistes visiting the Metropolis use The Era Offices as their Permanent London Address.

"THE ERA" IN SOUTH AFRICA.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

THE CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY, LTD.

Apply or Address,
The CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY, Ltd.,
Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria, Durban, Bloemfontein, &c., &c.

WINSLOW'S Skates

THE BEST ICE AND ROLLER SKATES.

Winslow's Rink Skates are used exclusively in Tournament Hall, Liverpool; Exhibition Hall, Newcastle; American Roller Rinks, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Leeds, Dublin, and 15 others, including London Olympia, to be opened soon, all under the management of C. P. Crawford, Esq. Experience has taught all Rink Managers that the best is none too good. Winslow's Skates have been the standard of the world for more than fifty years.

We are prepared to make immediate deliveries from our London Office, 8, Long Lane, Aldersgate Street, E.C., where we at all times carry a large and complete stock of Skates. Send for New Catalogues and full information.

THE SAMUEL WINSLOW SKATE MFG. CO. (Of WORCESTER, MASS., U.S.A.)
LONDON OFFICE: 8, Long Lane, Aldersgate Street, E.C. 'Phone, 8947 Central.

WINSLOW'S Skates
THE BEST ICE AND ROLLER SKATES

MR. PERCY MARSHALL,
"Dairymaids." Vacation.
Address, Royalty Theatre, Glasgow.

MR. H. SHERWOOD MARTIN,
Royal, Manchester.
Next, Empire, Oldham.

MR. CYPRIAN H. MATTHEWS,
All arrangements complete.
Address, 19, Prince's-avenue, Liverpool.

MR. ERIC MAYNE,
Philip Christian,
The Lyceum Theatre, W.C.

MR. MAYOR - COOKE,
"Midnight Wedding."
T. R., Norwich.

MR. ARTHUR McCULLOCH,
Ibsen Répertoire Co.
West Pier, Brighton, Dec. 7 (six nights).

MR. GEORGE MILLER,
Address,
409, Edgware-road, W.

MR. G. M. MONTANINI.
Address all communications,
The Grand Theatre, Luton.

MR. HUGH MONTGOMERY,
Marie Harcourt, Margaret, and Magnus,
"Prodigal Son" Co. Opera House, Northampton.

MR. G. MORETON - WILLIAMS,
Thanks H. Foxwell, Esq., for Offer.
Letters, c/o "The Era."

MR. AUSTIN MORTIMER,
Heavy Lead, Mr. James Willard's Co.
Dec. 5, Theatre Royal, Wolverhampton.

MR. FRED MOULE,
Dis. Dec. 7, three weeks, Town, Sketch or Drama. 153, Capworth-street, Leyton.

MR. LEONARD MUDIE,
Miss Horniman's company.
Dec. 7, Gaiety Theatre, Dublin.

MR. ARTHUR B. MURRAY,
Comedy, Character. Disengaged.
73, Mysore-road, Clapham Common, S.W.

MR. ALFRED NORTHWAY,
"The Prodigal Parson" Tour.
Dec. 7, Queen's Theatre, Farnworth.

MR. NORMAN A. OVERTON,
Baron Cratziaw, "The Woman Who Gambles." Metropole Theatre, Glasgow.

MR. GUS OXLEY.
J. C. Riddock's Co.
Palace, Aberdeen.

MR. LEONARD PAGDEN,
Disengaged.
28, Dinsmore-road, Balham, S.W.

MR. DOUGLAS PAYNE,
Disengaged. Business or Stage Management.
1, Elmfield-road, Bromley, Kent.

MR. WILFRED E. PAYNE,
Ross Christian, in "Pete."
At Lib. Dec. 14. Address, Lyceum T., W.C.

MR. HERBERT PEARSON,
Disengaged, Leading Business.
73, Saltoun-road, Brixton, S.W.

MR. F. W. PEDGRIFT,
Baritone, M. de St. Brioche,
"The Merry Widow" Tour. Dec. 7, Crystal Palace.

MR. F. PENNINGTON - GUSH,
Disengaged Dec. 14.
Opera House, Wakefield.

MR. and MRS. FRED W. PERMAIN
(Miss Florence Le Clerq), at Liberty.
Address, 118, Southampton-row, W.C.

MR. EDWARD S. PETLEY,
"The Flag Lieutenant" Co.
Next week, T. R., Bournemouth.

MR. and MRS. FRANK E. PETLEY,
Dis. 7th and 14th Dec.; Town only.
10, Oberstein-road, New Wandsworth, S.W.

MR. RULE PYOTT,
Disengaged.
Stanley Lodge, Ravensbourne Park, Catford, S.E.

MR. ARTHUR S. RADCLIFF,
Dick Darville, "The Dandy Fifth."
Dec. 7, T. R., West Bromwich.

MR. J. NELSON RAMSAY,
Plumgarth House,
Kendal.

MR. GERALD RANSLEY invites Offers for Rights of his Mus. Com., "Earl of Iona." 30, Overton-st., Liverpool.

MR. PERCY RHODES,
Disengaged Dec. 14.
Address, 7, Dorncliffe-road, Fulham, S.W.

MR. W. E. RICHARDSON,
Disengaged for Christmas.
Address, 114, Latchmere-road, Lavender Hill, S.W.

MR. ARTHUR RICKETTS, termination of tour. Disengaged for Panto. or otherwise. Address, A. A., 353, Strand, W.C.

MR. LEONARD ROBSON,
Lead and General-Manager,
Mrs. Lewis Waller. 44, Lamb's Conduit-st., W.C.

MR. BASSETT ROE,
At Liberty.
95, St. George's-road, Warwick-square, S.W.

MR. STANLEY ROGERS.
Address all Communications,
Theatre Royal, North Shields.

MR. & MRS. CALVERT ROUTLEDGE
(Mary Jocelyn),
His Majesty's Theatre, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. JAMES SALTER,
Principal Comedian. Disengaged.
14, Upper Tooting-road, London, S.W.

MR. FREDERICK SANDY,
Resident-Manager, Messrs. Karno and Edwards' New Hippodrome, Exeter.

MR. WILLIE SCOTT,
Offers invited Pantomime.
Address, Theatre, Long Eaton.

MR. ARCHIE SELWYN,
Engaged by Oswald Brooks, Esq., for Xmas.
123 St. George's-rd., Belgravia, S.W.

MR. and MRS. JOHN B. SHINTON
(Ada M. Ryder), Leading Business.
Address, 44a, Morat-street, Brixton, S.W.

MR. JAMES SKEA,
Disengaged for Drama, Comedy, Panto, Sketches. Theatre Royal, Wakefield.

MR. E. STANTON - SHARP.
Dec. 7
Theatre Royal, Hanley.

MR. GORDON STARKEY,
Re-engaged by Mr. George Robertson as Horace Parker, "Message from Mars."

MR. CHARLES STIRLING,
Leading and Heavy Business.
Dec. 7, Lyric Theatre, Hammersmith.

MR. GEORGE STONE,
Resident-Manager (fifteenth year).
Royalty T. and Opera House, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. STORY - GOFTON
Productions, Parts, Recitals, &c.
Disengaged. Address, C/o "The Era."

MR. WALLACE STRANACK,
Business Manager for G. P. Huntley.
The Hicks Theatre, W.

MR. DUDLEY STUART,
Re-engaged for Spring Tour of "His House in Order." Add., 39, Connaught-mans., Brixton, S.W.

MR. HENRY SWINERD,
Mr. J. W. CORDINER.
Dec. 7, Theatre Royal, Ton-y-Pandy.

MR. RICHARD F. SYMONS,
At Liberty. Management or Character Part.
Managers' Club, Savoy Mansions, W.C.

MR. GEORGE TAWDE,
Charlie Gayfly, "When It Was Dark."
Macstag.

MR. ALFRED A. TAYLOR,
Resident Manager,
Batley Theatre, Batley.

MR. HODGSON TAYLOR,
Hardie and Von Leer's "The Sailor's Wedding" Co. Empire Theatre, Oldham.

MR. and MRS. J. MILNE TAYLOR.
Arrangements complete. "Woman and Wine" Co. Alexandra Theatre, Widnes.

MR. MALCOLM TEARLE.
2nd year with the L. Rayne Dramatic Co., South Africa.

MR. E. HOWARD TEMPLETON,
Lead. Dis. Dec. 12.
This, Gaiety, Hastings; next, Folkestone.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD THANE
(Louise Hampton). H. T. Disengaged.
15, Mount Pleasant-lane, Upper Clapton, N.E.

MR. FOWLER THATCHER, producing "Aladdin" for Messrs. Glenville and Osmond. Irving Theatre, Seacombe.

MR. E. W. THOMAS,
Curtis Bedford, in "Raffles." Dis. Dec. 12.
Mr. Leonard Boyne's Co. Dec. 7, T. R., Nottingham.

MR. VYVIAN THOMAS, Dis., Light Com., Dudes. Thanks Ernest Chesney, Esq., second engt, the Hon. Billy. 93, St. Mark's-rd., W.

MR. LLOYD TOWNROW,
Vacant Dec. 7 and 14, Special Comedy Character. Address, 21, Saltoun-rd., Brixton, S.W.

MR. and MRS. HOWARD L. TRACY.
(Babs Stuart). H. L. T. producing Operetta for Amateurs. 25, Dollar-st., Cirencester.

MR. GEORGE TRAILL.
Disengaged. To-night, Theatre Royal, Bath; after, Actors' Association, 363, Strand, W.C.

MR. and MRS. CHAS. B. VAUGHAN
(Miss M. Lewes). Mr. Vaughan at Liberty.
12, Mentone-mansions, Fulham, S.W.

MR. PERCY H. VERNON.
Talleyrand, "A Royal Divorce" Co.
King's Theatre, Sunderland.

MR. FREDERICK VICTOR,
Bill Stephens, "The Sands of Dee."
The Hippodrome, London.

MR. A. N. VINCE,
Advance Manager, Engaged by George Dance, Esq. 6, Ranelagh-gardens, Hurlingham, S.W.

MR. ALBERT WARD,
as the Prodigal Son, and Stage-Manager, Mr. George D. Day's Co. Dec. 7, Grand, Nelson.

MR. HYLTON WARDE, Spec. Engaged by Crofton and Salisbury, Prin. Comedian, Tour, S.A. 17, Doris-road, Norwich, or A.A.

MR. W. LEMMON WARDE,
Kingsway
Theatre.

MR. FRANK WEATHERSBY,
Theatrical Agency. 3, Bedford-st., Strand. 'Phone, 3781 Central. Tel., "Frivolous, London."

MR. CHARLES WEIR,
at Liberty.
45, Powis-square, Bayswater, W.

MR. C. A. WHITE,
at Lib. Dec. 7, Character, Comedy, or Stage-Management. 1, Harewood-road, Merton, S.W.

MR. WILL WHITE, F.O.S.,
General Manager,
Alhambra, Belfast.

MR. & MRS. TOWNSEND WHITLING
(Miss Violet Ley),
Opera House, Chatham.

MR. AYLMER J. WILLIAMS, as The Pastor in "The Prodigal Son" (Day). Dec. 7, Grand, Nelson; 14th, Royal, Bury.

MR. LEONARD WILLIAMS,
Lead, "Second to None."
Palace Theatre, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

MR. BREMBER WILLS and FLORENCE WYNN, H. F. Maltby's Plays.
At Liberty Dec. 13. A.A.

MR. FENTON WINGATE,
Concluded with Mr. Robert Hilton.
At Liberty. 15, Claverton-street, S.W.

MR. and MRS. DICK WINSLOW
(Evelyn Shaw). "Two Lancashire Lasses in London" Co. To-day, Elephant and Castle T., S.E.

MR. GRAHAM WOODS,
At Lib. Dec. 7 and 14. Re-eng. Lead, "Who is She?" 15, Kinnaird-road, Liscard, Cheshire.

MR. STEWART D. WRIGHT,
Business-Manager, at Liberty. Immediate offers to 34, Buccleuch-street, Glasgow.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LITTLE WINNIE CRISP Concludes "Little Breadwinner," Dec. 5.
Per. Address, 497, Wandsworth-rd., London, S.W.

APPLICATIONS FOR POSITIONS on the FRONT PAGE of "The Era" should be addressed to the PUBLISHER.

"THE ERA" IN AMERICA.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS & SUBSCRIBERS

NEW YORK.

"THE ERA" IS ON SALE
OUTSIDE THE
KNICKERBOCKER THEATRE BUILDING,
1402 BROADWAY,
AND AT BRENTANO'S,
FIFTH AVENUE,
CORNER TWENTY-SEVENTH-ST.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
1 Year, 32/-; 6 Months, 16/-; 3 Months, 8/-

INQUIRIES & COMMUNICATIONS MAY BE SENT TO
"THE ERA," P.O. BOX 492, NEW YORK CITY.

American Artistes visiting the Metropolis use The Era Offices as their Permanent London Address.

THE WORLD'S THEATRE DECORATORS & FURNISHERS

A. R. DEAN & SONS
BIRMINGHAM.

THEATRE DECORATORS, THEATRE CABINET MAKERS,
THEATRE FURNISHERS, THEATRE UPHOLSTERERS,
FIBROUS PLASTER MANUFACTURERS,
HOTEL CONTRACTORS and CONTRACTORS TO H.M.'s GOVERNMENT.

A. R. DEAN & SONS
Have had upwards of 30 years' experience in this class of work.

A. R. DEAN & SONS'
Managers have had great practical knowledge in Theatre Fittings.

NO THEATRE TOO LARGE. NO THEATRE TOO SMALL. NO THEATRE TOO FAR AWAY

England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, France, Belgium, Italy, and Spain have all placed Contracts with A. R. DEAN & SONS. Managers will at all times wait on Architects, Proprietors, and Managers, free of all cost. Distance no object. The Largest Theatre, the Smallest Booth, all have prompt attention.

A. R. DEAN & SONS
For every description of TIP-UP CHAIR, from 4/6.
For every description of RUNNING SEATING, from 1/- per Seat.
For every description of FLOOR COVERING, from 1/- per Yard.
For every description of DRAPERIES, from £2 per Box.
For every description of TABLEAU CURTAINS, from £25 per Pair.
For any and everything you may require in the Complete Fitting of Theatres Halls, Hotels, and Restaurants, &c.

CONTRACTS BOOKED AND IN HAND FOR THIS YEAR, 1908.

1. NEW HIPPODROME, DOVER.
Complete Reseating and Refurnishing.
2. NEW QUEEN'S THEATRE, LEEDS.
Complete Seating, New Pit, with upwards of 500 New Design Tip-up Chairs.
3. NEW METROPOLE THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
Complete Reseating Pit with Patent Tip-up Seats.
4. ROTUNDA CONCERT HALL, DUBLIN.
Complete Reseating with our Portable Tip-up Chairs.
5. NEW ST. GEORGE'S THEATRE, KENDAL.
Complete Redecorations, New Fibrous Plaster, and Entire Reseating with Tip-up Chairs and Seats.
6. NEW TOWN HALL, ILKLEY.
Complete Furnishing and Seating, upwards of 700 New Portable Tip-up Chairs.
7. NEW TOWN HALL, NEAR MANCHESTER.
200 Morocco Tip-up Chairs (Trade).
8. BEAR HOTEL, SMETHWICK, BIRMINGHAM.
Whole Decorations, Fibrous Plaster, Mahogany Bath Fittings and Fitments, and complete Seating and Furnishing.
9. NEW WING OF QUEEN'S HOSPITAL, BIRMINGHAM.
Oak Bedroom Suites, &c., &c., &c.
10. CLARENCE THEATRE, PONTYPRIDD, S. WALES.
Reseating.
11. NEW EMPIRE PALACE, BARNSLEY.
Complete Furnishing, including 700 Tip-up Chairs.
12. NEW INFIRMARY, SELLY OAK.
Oak Bedroom Suites.
13. MONYHULL ASYLUM.
Oak Bedroom Suites.
14. FRED KARNO'S MAGNIFICENT PRODUCTION OF "MUMMING BIRDS."
Tableau Curtain and Box Draperies, and Equipment, complete.
15. PIER PAVILION, HASTINGS.
Reseating with Tip-up Chairs, &c.
16. BIJOU THEATRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.
Tip-up Chairs and Complete Seating.
17. THE KURSAAL, BEXHILL-ON-SEA.
Complete Reseating, Tip-up Chairs, &c.
18. PARKHURST THEATRE, HOLLOWAY N.
600 Tip-up Chairs, Seating and Furnishings.
19. BARRASFORD'S NEW HIPPODROME, BIRKENHEAD.
Tip-up Chairs, Seating, and Magnificent Silk Plush Embroidered Tableau Curtains, &c.
20. THEATRE ROYAL, SCARBOROUGH
Complete Reseating.
21. ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON-ON-THAMES.
Entirely refurnishing throughout.
22. NEW ALEXANDRA THEATRE, PONTEFRACT.
The whole of the Magnificent Plastic work and Decorations, also Entirely Furnishing with Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableau Curtains and Draperies, &c.
23. NEW HIPPODROME, MIDDLESBROUGH.
Complete Furnishing throughout, whole of Carpets, Tableau and Box Curtains and Draperies, upwards of 1000 Tip-up Chairs and Patent Pit Seating; also the whole of the magnificent Fibrous Plaster and Artistic Decorations, at a cost of several thousands of pounds, &c., &c.
24. OXFORD BILLIARD SALOON, DUBLIN.
Settees and Tip-up Chairs, &c.
25. NEW HIPPODROME, ROTHERHAM.
Whole of Wilton Pile Carpets, and also Silk Plush Tableau Curtains and Box Draperies, Furnishings, &c.
26. THE PAVILION, GORLESTON-ON-SEA.
New Tip-up Chairs, Divided Seating, &c.
27. ALFRESCO ENTERTAINERS, SCARBORO'
400 Tip-up Seats, &c.
28. THE PAVILION, CHORLTON-CUM-HARDY
200 Tip-up Chairs, Seating, &c.
29. ST. GEORGE'S HALL, BELFAST.
Complete Furnishing and Tip-up Chairs, Seating, &c.
30. PIER PAVILION, SOUTHAMPTON.
Magnificent Tableau Curtains and Draperies in Silk Plush, &c.
31. THE HIPPODROME, OLDHAM.
Tip-up Chairs, &c.
32. THEATRE ROYAL, DEWSBURY.
Complete Refurnishing, New Tip-up Chairs, Curtains, Draperies, and Wilton Carpets, &c.
33. NEW THEATRE, HOUGHTON-LE-SPRINGS.
Complete Furnishing throughout, Tip-up Chairs, Patent Pit, Running Seating, Carpets, Curtains, Tableau, &c.
34. NEW CENTRAL HALL, COLNE.
400 New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
35. VICTORIA OPERA HOUSE, BURNLEY.
Complete Refurnishing, &c.
36. NEW CASTLE THEATRE, STOCKTON-ON-TEES.
Magnificent Tableau Curtains, and Box Draperies and Curtains, and General Furnishings, &c.
37. NEW HIPPODROME, DEVONPORT.
Complete Furnishing throughout, Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableau and Box Curtains and Draperies, &c.
38. THE HIPPODROME, BOSCOMBE.
The whole of the Magnificent New Plastic work and Decoration, also Complete Refurnishings throughout, Magnificent Wilton Carpets, Silk Plush Tableau Curtains and Box Draperies, &c., upwards of 1000 New Design Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, &c., at a cost of several thousands of pounds.
39. BARRASFORD'S NEW PALACE HIPPODROME, OLDHAM.
The whole of the Complete Furnishings throughout, comprising Wilton Carpets, Magnificent Tableau and Box Curtains and Draperies, Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, and General Furnishings.
40. NEW PAVILION, FOR COUNCIL OF WEYMOUTH.
Whole of Magnificent Fibrous Plaster and Decorations, &c., &c.
41. NEW HIPPODROME, GREENOCK.
Complete Refurnishing, &c., &c.
42. THE NEW GEM PALACE, GT. YARMOUTH
Entire Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, &c.
43. THE NEW PALACE, GORLESTON-ON-SEA
Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, &c.
44. NEW MARINE PAVILION (for Rhyl Corporation).
Entire Furnishings, including 700 Tip-up Chairs and Seating for 2,000 people.
45. TYNE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE
Tip-up Chairs and Handsome Wilton Pile Carpets.
46. THEATRE ROYAL, RICHMOND.
Magnificent New Tableau Curtains and Border, Upholstery Seatings, &c., &c.
47. DR. WALFORD BODIE'S NEW HIPPODROME AND OPERA HOUSE, FERNDALE.
Entire Furnishing throughout, Carpets, Curtains, Chairs, Seatings, &c.
48. NEW OPERA HOUSE, SINGAPORE.
New Tableau Curtains, Draperies, &c.
49. NEW PAVILION COUNCIL OF WEYMOUTH.
Upwards of 1,000 Tip-up Chairs and Entire Furnishings.
50. THEATRE ROYAL, MACCLESFIELD.
Patent Tip-up Pit Seating.
51. NEW ELECTRIC EXHIBITION HALL, PLATT PARK, MANCHESTER.
Tip-up Chairs.
52. NEW ELECTRIC THEATRE, PECKHAM.
600 New Tip-up Chairs and Complete Furnishing.
53. BRIXTON THEATRE, LONDON.
New Seating, &c.
54. NEW CORN EXCHANGE, BASINGSTOKE.
Patent Portable Tip-up Chairs.
55. NEW GAIETY THEATRE, WORKSOP.
Tip-up Chairs, &c.
56. NEW GRAND THEATRE, LANCASTER.
Handsome Tableau Curtains, Box Curtains and Draperies, O. Rail and Curtains, Settees, and Box Chairs, and Whole of Magnificent Wilton Carpets, &c.
57. NEW PICTURE HALL, NELSON, LANCS.
Tip-up Chairs, &c.
58. THE KING'S HALL, BIRMINGHAM.
New Tip-up Chairs, Carpets, Curtains, &c.
59. NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BLYTHE-BY-SEA.
New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
60. NEW PALACE THEATRE, DARLINGTON.
New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
61. GRAND THEATRE, WOLVERHAMPTON.
Entire Pit Reseated in Railway Rep.
62. NEW TEMPERANCE HALL, LYE.
New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
63. L. AND N.-W. RAILWAY INSTITUTE, BANGOR.
Seating, &c.
64. EXCHANGE PAVILION, KIRKCALDY.
New Chairs, Seating, &c.
65. SPREAD EAGLE ASSEMBLY HALL, WANDSWORTH, LONDON.
New Tip-up Chairs and Complete Furnishing.
66. NATIONAL HALL, HORNSEY, N.
New Tip-up Chairs, Furnishing, &c.
67. THE FOREGATE HALL, WORCESTER.
New Tip-up Chairs and Automatic Tip-up Seating throughout.
68. LOCHGELLY PUBLIC HALL AND OPERA HOUSE, N.B.
General Furnishings.
69. NEW THEATRE, OXFORD.
Mahogany Counters and Bar Fitments throughout.
70. PALACE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.
New Tip-up Chairs, &c.
71. THE VICTORIA HALL, WALTHAMSTOW.
Complete Redecorations and Entirely Refurnishing throughout, at a Cost of upwards of a Thousand Pounds.
72. NEW HIPPODROME, ASTON.
Complete Furnishings throughout, Whole of Carpets, Tableaux Curtains and Draperies, Tip-up Chairs, Seating, &c., &c.
73. NEW HIPPODROME, BLACKBURN.
The Whole of the Magnificent Plastic Work and Decorations; also entirely Furnishing with Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableaux Curtains, and Draperies, &c.
74. NEW HIPPODROME, ACCRINGTON.
Complete Furnishings throughout, with Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Carpets, Tableau Curtains and Draperies, &c.
75. BROADHEAD'S NEW PAVILION, ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.
Complete Furnishing, Tip-up Chairs, 2,000ft. of Seatings, 1,000ft. Cork Carpet, &c., &c.
76. NEW EMBER HALL, PRESTON.
New Tip-up Chairs in Velvet and Pegamoid.
77. NEW OFFICES, PHŒNIX INSURANCE CO., BIRMINGHAM.
Whole of Mahogany Fittings, Counters, Desks, &c.
78. NEW HIPPODROME, DUNDEE.
The Whole of the Magnificent New Furnishings throughout, Tip-up Chairs, Seatings, Tableaux Curtains, Draperies, Carpets, &c., throughout, at a Cost of several thousands of pounds.

A. R. DEAN & SONS still retain the services of Mr. A. F. WINDIBANK as Manager of Department, who has superintended the Furnishing of 1,500 Theatres and Halls; MR. C. BARDELL, N.S., Manager of Decoration Department; Mr. L. BECK, Manager and Director of Works.

Telephone: Showrooms, 224 Birmingham. Telephone: Factory, 3834 Birmingham
Telegrams: Carpets, Birmingham.

A. R. DEAN & SONS,
Corporation Street, BIRMINGHAM.

IRVING'S EXPOSE.

"Another opportunity for good acting came to Henry Irving," says Mr. Austin Brereton in his "Life," "in April of this year, 1865. He had returned, for a brief engagement, to his old manager, Charles Calvert, who was then in the first flush of his Shakespearean success at the Prince's Theatre. But the reason for his leaving the Royal was forced upon him; it was not of his own inclining. Indeed, it was closely connected with the high ideal which he had already set himself to attain for the stage. Two tricksters, who called themselves the Davenport Brothers, had succeeded in gulling the susceptible people of England—or, at any rate, a large proportion of them—with so-called spiritualistic séances. In an unhappy moment for them, their agent had the audacity to offer a hundred pounds to any person who could perform their feats. This tempting bait appealed very strongly to a certain needy actor called Henry Irving, to a fellow player, Phillip Day, and to Frederick Maccabe, who subsequently became extremely popular as an entertainer. It is not recorded that the trio ever obtained the hard cash, but they had the satisfaction of completely annihilating as impudent a pair of charlatans as ever existed. On the afternoon of Saturday, Feb. 25, 1865, the Library Hall of the Manchester Athenæum was filled with some five hundred ladies and gentlemen in response to an invitation issued by the performers to a display of 'preternatural philosophy,' in a 'private séance à la Davenport.' The exposure was complete, and Irving obtained a vast amount of notoriety through his share in the unmasking of the adventurers. The daily papers devoted columns to the affair. Process for process, phenomena for phenomena, trick for trick, the new 'brothers' rivalled their prototypes and amazed and delighted their audience. After some people of position had been chosen to superintend the binding of the 'brothers,' Irving stepped forward, and in a modest, gentlemanly address, stated the object of the meeting. He said that, in common with others of his friends, his attention had been called to the so-called manifestations of the notorious Davenports; that two gentlemen believed themselves capable of doing—under precisely similar conditions—all that the 'brothers' did; that the entire affair was the result of skill, tact, and clever manipulation; and that the Davenports were no better than showmen. Having read several extracts from a pamphlet in which it was alleged that spiritualism had been part and parcel of the inheritance of the Davenports, he proceeded to introduce the new 'brothers.' In so doing, he made great capital by his burlesque of a certain Dr. Ferguson, who had taken part in the original séance. The rapid assumption of a wig and beard, a few adroit facial touches, a neckerchief of the approved sort, and a lightly-buttoned surtout, soon changed the actor into an admirable 'double' of the renowned 'doctor.' The resemblance was so faithful that it was immediately greeted with applause and amusement. He addressed the audience with all the serious demeanour of the original, reproducing the exact tone, accent, expression, and gesture so accurately as to be 'irresistible in their ludicrous likeness to nature.' His speech was as follows:—

"'In introducing to your notice the remarkable phenomena which have attended the gentlemen who are not brothers, who are about to appear before you, I do not deem it necessary to offer any observations upon the extraordinary manifestations. I shall therefore at once commence a long rigmarole—for the purpose of distracting your attention, and filling your intelligent heads with perplexity. I need not tell this enlightened audience of the gigantic discoveries that have been made and are being made in the unfathomable abyss of science—I need not tell this enlightened audience (because if I did they wouldn't believe me)—(laughter)—I say I need not tell this enlightened audience that the manifestations they are about to witness are produced by an occult power (the meaning of which I don't clearly understand)—(laughter)—but we simply bring before your notice facts, and from these facts you must form your own conclusions. (Hear, hear, and renewed applause.) Concerning the early life of these gentlemen columns of the most uninteresting description could be written. (Laughter.) I will mention one or two interesting facts connected with these remarkable men, and for the truth of which I personally vouch. In early life one of them, to the perfect unconcern of everybody else, was instantly and most unconsciously floating about his peaceful dwelling in the arms of his amiable nurse—(laughter)—while, on the other occasions, he was frequently, with invisible hands, tied to his mother's apron strings. (Renewed laughter.) Peculiarities of a like nature were exhibited by his companion, whose acquaintance with various spirits commenced many years ago, and has increased to the present moment, with pleasure to himself and profit to others. (Roars of laughter.) These gentlemen have not been celebrated throughout the vast continent of America—they have not astonished the whole civilised world, but they have travelled in various parts of this glorious land—the land of Bacon—(laughter)—and are about to appear in a new phase in your glorious city of Manchester. (Laughter.) Many really sensible and intelligent individuals seem to think that the requirement of darkness seems to infer trickery—(laughter)—so it does. (Cheers.) But I will strive to convince you that it does not. (Hear, hear.) Is not the dark chamber necessary to the process of photography? and what would we reply to him who would say, "I believe photography to be a humbug—do it in the light, and we will believe otherwise"? It is true, we know why darkness is essential to the production of the sun picture, and if scientific men will subject these phenomena to analysis they will find why darkness is essential to our manifestations—(laughter)—but we don't want them to find—(laughter)—we want them to avoid a common-sense view of mystery. (Laughter.) We want them to be blinded by our puzzle, and to believe with implicit faith in the greatest humbug of the nineteenth century.' (Loud applause and laughter.)

"The papers were eloquent in their praise of Irving's personation. The Guardian was moved to unwonted eulogy, 'for the happiness of Mr. Irving's burlesque, the smartness of his art, and his readiness of repartee went far to make the entertainment the most enjoyable that has been given in Manchester for a long time. Again and again the room resounded with the heartiest laughter at Mr. Irving's humorous sallies, whose fun was heightened by the mock gravity with which they were delivered. Mr. Irving thus supplied a great intellectual gratification, which, combined with the skilful exposure of the Davenport humbug by his confrères, made one feel that it was a privilege to be one of the invited guests."

INDISPENSABLE! Rayne's "Pocket Date Book." Contents: Map (19in. by 10in.), showing the distance betwixt the various music halls at a glance. Will tell if one hall is within the barring radius of the other, thus saving fears, worry, and anxiety. All about artists' luggage, list of clubs, information about stamping contracts, foreign money table, London music halls and theatres, their telephone numbers, list of brougham proprietors, list and address of photographers, size of theatrical printing paper, names and addresses of theatrical railway managers, &c. Price 1s., post free. The proceeds from the sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the dramatic and musical professions, the Actors' Benevolent Fund and the Music Hall Home Fund. "THE ERA" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

On their Garments not a Blemish,
But Fresher than before.—The Tempest.

'Phone: 1911 Gerrard. Telegrams: "Cleaning, London."

SPECIAL NOTE.

At the cost of many Thousands of Pounds, we have installed an entirely New Plant for Spirit or Dry Cleaning, which has proved an IMMENSE SUCCESS.

AUTUMN TOURS & PANTOMIME

By Special Arrangement TOURING MANAGERS can have their Wardrobes Cleaned between Shows by the CHEMICAL CLEANING & DYEING CO.

(T. HARRIS, Manager),

Original Theatrical Cleaners and Dyers,

6, ARGYLL STREET, REGENT STREET, W.

UP-TO-DATE TESTIMONIALS.

Lyric Theatre. November 26th, 1908.—Dear Sir,—The cleaning of the dresses for the Windsor command performance was in every way satisfactory, and I should like to thank you for personally looking after it. Yours faithfully, CHARLES LATROBE, Stage Manager.

Daly's Theatre, Cranbourn Street. November 21st, 1908.—Dear Mr. Harris,—I am writing to tell you that I was very pleased indeed with the pink dress that was cleaned; also with the prompt way it was sent in. Yours faithfully, F. FIELD.

The Leading American Theatrical Weekly.

THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR.

HARRISON GREY FISKE, Editor and President.

121, WEST FORTY-SECOND-STREET, NEW YORK, N.Y., U.S.A.

All the American Theatrical News.

For Sale in London at PALL MALL AMERICAN EXCHANGE; Carlton-street; Regent-street; Daw's S.S. Agency, Green St., Leicester-square, W.C.; and Murray's Exchange, 3, Northumberland-avenue, W.C.

"THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN THEATRICAL PROFESSION."
On Sale wherever there is a Place of Amusement.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS.

ISSUED WEEKLY with from 24 to 28 Pages, handsomely Illustrated, with Reports from over 1,000 Cities and Towns in the United States and the Foreign Stage, covered by Special Correspondents.

Has the exclusive patronage of Messrs. CHARLES FROHMAN, KLAW and ERLANGER, LIEBLER and CO., WILLIAM GILLETTE, NIXON and ZIMMERMAN, GEORGE EDWARDES, NAT C. GOODWIN, HENRY W. SAVAGE, and, in fact, every prominent Theatrical Manager.

Foreign Subscription, ONE POUND A YEAR. Advertising Rates, One Shilling per Line.

London Office, Clarence House, King William-street, E.C. John Parker, Manager.

Communications may be addressed to MAX ELIOT, Special London Correspondent, 3, Queen's Gate Terrace, S.W.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS,
BROADWAY THEATRE BUILDINGS, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

L'ECHO DRAMATIQUE

is the most important and best-informed Theatrical Review in Paris.—Special London Chronicle.

ORGANISES ITS GREAT DRAMATIC AND LITERARY ANNUAL COMPETITION.
For all particulars apply:
The Editor of "L'ECHO DRAMATIQUE," 37, RUE DE TREVISE, PARIS.

Yearly Subscription, 4 francs.

In every Issue the "ECHO DRAMATIQUE" publishes in extenso a New One Act Play, by the best Authors, as a Supplement.

Depot in London:
At Messrs. BARRIERE and CO., 17, Green Street, Leicester Square, W.C.

"THE ERA" ORDER FORMS.

ORDER FORM TO PUBLISHER

SUBSCRIPTIONS.

12 Months	£1 6s. 0d.
6 "	13s. 0d.
3 "	6s. 6d.

Fill up and send, with remittance, to—
The Publisher, "The Era,"
5, Tavistock Street, London, W.C.

Sir,—Please place my name on your list of Subscribers, and send copy of "The Era" every Saturday until Countermanded. I enclose remittance for £ s. d.

Name _____

Address _____

_____

Date _____

Cheques, &c., should be made payable to "The Era," Ltd.

ORDER FORM TO NEWSAGENTS

EVERY SATURDAY. Price 6d.

Fill up and forward to local Bookstall or Newsagent.

To Mr. _____

Please supply me every Saturday, until countermanded, with one copy of "The Era," published at 5, Tavistock Street, London, W.C.

Name _____

Address _____

_____

Date _____

EARLY TRAINS.

The Railway Companies are despatching many morning trains earlier than hitherto. This will enable subscribers and advertisers in the provincial towns to get copies of "The Era" in time for the breakfast table. Advertisers are requested to forward their advertisements as early in the week as possible, and not later than 7 p.m. on Thursday.

Address:
THE PUBLISHER, The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock Street, W.C.

PROVINCIAL THEATRICALS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

[Provincial correspondents are requested to forward with their next week's reports a full list of the theatres and music-halls in their respective towns; also the names of the present lessees and managers, for insertion in "The Era" Annual, 1909.]

ABERDARE.—New Theatre, Ltd.—Manager, Mr. Z. Andrews; Acting-Manager, Mr. B. Richards.—The Heart of a Hero is being presented here this week by Mr. Lingford Carson's company. The leading characters are capably portrayed by Mr. Ernest J. Fare, Mr. James Mailey, Miss Madge Steeple, and Miss Mabel Fare.

ABERDEEN.—His Majesty's Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Adair Nelson.—The New East Lynne was produced this week by Mr. J. W. Kelly's company. Murty O'Flynn is really admirably played by Mr. Richard Nugent; Miss Reth Elliott makes a graceful and pathetic figure as Lady Isabel, and Mr. Frederick Harker is a manly and dignified Archibald Carlyle; while the parts of Cornelia and Barbara Hare are most capably acted by Miss Sophy Shenton and Miss Josephine Gwynne. The piece in its new form was exceedingly well received.

Palace Theatre. — Lessees, The United County Theatres, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Walter Gilbert.—The Sisters Sprightly are as vivacious, if not more so, than ever; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lucas give some capital impersonations of Dickens' characters; the "Enchanted Iona" figures in a sparkling comedy illusion, and she receives excellent support from Mr. Charles Frazer; Mooney and Holbein appear in a first-rate comedy sketch; the Brothers St. Clair show marvellous dexterity as cycling experts; Mr. Roy Beavis displays much resource as a conjuror; Mr. Alec B. Thorne is popular as a Scotch comedian; and Keno ranks as a very smart juggler.

Alhambra Music Hall.—Proprietor, Mr. John Sinclair; General-Manager, Mr. George B. Lee.—Miss Rosie Dawn gives a remarkably clever and graceful exhibition of dancing; the Whimsical Wilberts contribute a very clever and amusing comedy act, A Musical Rehearsal, in the course of which Little Madge appears with success as a singer and dancer; the Sisters Warner are enthusiastically applauded for their Highland dances; and Mr. Davie Gunn, a tenor with an excellent voice, renders a number of popular songs most sympathetically.

Empire Music Hall.—Proprietors, Messrs. R. Calder and J. Montague.—A highly amusing sketch, The Mummy, is played by Mr. George Spence and company; and among the other members of a good all-round combination are Miss Marie Kire, Mr. James Montague, Mr. Arthur Bright, Mr. Will Roberts, and Gilroy and Gross.

ABERTILLERY.—Metropole Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. J. Seaborn.—The Executioner's Daughter, presented by Messrs. Little and Darcy's company, has proved a strong attraction here this week. Miss Enid Edoni impersonated Annette, the executioner's daughter, with excellent effect; Mr. J. B. Murray handled the part of the Executioner with tact and considerable effect; Felix Marius found a capital exponent in Mr. S. Leigh Courtney; and Miss Madge Seymour made a good Sally King; Miss N. Howitt gave an able rendition of Felice; and Christine, a cripple, was naturally performed by Little Prudence Ayrton. Excellent comedy is provided, and the work is staged in admirable fashion.

Pavilion.—Lessees, E. and H. Tilney; Manager, Mr. E. Pryce.—Fred Karno's powerful company is appearing in His Majesty's Guests, which is full of merriment from start to finish. Special praise should be given to Mr. George Hester for his drolleries as Sergeant Lightning; Miss Aggie Morris is very successful as Lady Maud Easem; and Mr. E. Freshwater adds strength to the performance by his portrayal of Lord Easem; Mr. Miffin, the universal provider, is handled by Mr. Charles Usher in realistic style. Bright music and good choruses and effects add to the success secured.

ACCRINGTON.—Prince's Theatre.—Proprietor, and Manager, Mr. J. B. Ormerod; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. E. Barnes.—Mr. Walter Melville's company in The Soldier's Wedding forms the attraction here. Mr. Wingold Lawrence makes a vigorous and manly Jack Brown; Mr. Beresford Whitcomb is responsible for a capital portrayal of Colonel James Graham; Mr. Gerald Jordon is good as the unscrupulous nephew, Charles Courtney; and he is ably assisted by Miss Marie Macauley, who supplies a bold portraiture of the cruel and vindictive Julie; Mr. Fred Yarnold is to be commended for his admirable character study of Nathaniel Lee; Mr. Frederick Biron makes a good impression as David Munroe; and Little Albert is a precocious Teddy Munroe. Miss Dorothy Richardson gives an excellent rendering of the part of Nancy Lee; Miss Mabel Lowe acts with grace and distinction as Peggy Munroe; and Lizzie Walker is played on vivacious lines by Miss Mattie Everett; whilst Mr. Johnny Chippendale adds his share to the humour as Tommy Spratt. All the minor characters are in safe hands and the drama is well staged.

ALDERSHOT.—Royal and Hippodrome.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Clarence Sounes; Resident-Manager, Mr. Jack Gladwin.—The Dandy Fifth, which is on a return visit here, has the particular quality of being realistic from a military point of view, which to an Aldershot audience is a most important feature. There are several old favourites in principal rôles, each repeating their former successes. Some clever speciality dancing is given by Miss Nora Morra (Polly), Jack Crichton, and Harry Ray. As the irascible old Colonel Percy Baverstock is excellent; George Beverley looks and acts well as Milligan; and Jack Crichton "keeps the pot boiling" as a fun-provider. J. Edward Fraser as Dick Darville does well; and Miss Pauline Hague and Miss Maud Nichols are capital in their respective rôles. Others in smaller parts help to make the performance a success. The opera is capitally staged.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—Theatre Royal.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill, jun.—This week's "bill" is a play by G. Carlton Wallace, entitled, The Lancashire Lad. David Elmore, the Lancashire lad, has a very suitable exponent in Mr. Alec Alexander; his sweetheart is sympathetically interpreted by Miss Stanley Bart.; a shameless adventuress is depicted with moving power by Miss Nell Oliver; and a confederate in vice is vividly portrayed by Mr. T. G. Vane, a wronged husband seeking revenge, being effectively presented by Mr. Percy Maitland; a village carpenter, a simple-minded Lancashire lad, is admirably hit off by Mr. Bob Anderson; and two assertive Lancashire women are happily portrayed by Miss M. Monaghan as Mother Wardle and Miss Jennie Hallworth as Jane Alice Clitheroe.

Empire Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Son; Resident-Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Leech.—The "bill" for the week specially makes prominent the Bouncing Dillons, Hild and Willie, comedy gymnasts. They are full of fun. Percy Farrimond is another name to conjure with. He is a Lancashire singing collier, of considerable artistic eminence, and his voice production is excellent; Jimmy Shields, the one-legged comedian and dancer; Lavelle Bros., acrobatic comedians; Forrest and King, comedians and dancers; Mark Henton, the mirthful one; Evelyn and Norrie (Herbert and Ethel), in a novel sketch, Set a Thief; Mr. and Mrs. Will Pettitt, banjo and vocal entertainers; and the Rangers, in a cycle act, are marvels. The Bioscope is shown at the two houses.

Picturedome.—Lessees, Messrs. Weisker Bros.—This pleasure resort continues attractive. First-class pictures are shown, and there is plenty of variety in every fresh series.

ATTERCLIFFE.—Palace Theatre of Varieties.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Bert Dent; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Harry Sanders.—This week's programme is headed by the popular local favourite comedienne, Miss Florrie Gallimore, who on making her appearance on Monday night had a rousing reception from the large audience assembled, and her songs, including "My Girl is a Yorkshire Girl," were given in her best style. Rozel gives a thrilling and original performance as a gymnast; versatile Miss Ada Catley juggles most cleverly, and also gives a graceful and smart performance on the slack wire; a turn of much merit is that of the Forsyths, in a musical and dancing act; Mr. Harry Webber, Hebrew comedian; Miss Ailsa Douglas, vocalist; Lambert and Butler, cross-talk comedians and dancers; and the Attergraph pictures complete an attractive bill.

BACUP.—New Court Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Denman-Wood.—Boswell's Royal Stage Circus is here this week, and on Monday evening opened to a well filled house. Karna Yasuda gave an exciting performance entitled "A Slide for Life," and a clever exhibition of top spinning.

BARNSLEY.—Theatre Royal.—Manager, Mr. A. C. Mitchell.—Mr. Louis Calvert's company is the attraction here, in Sunday. The production is under the direction of Mr. T. Norman Walter. Miss Jessie Winter wins her audience with her charming and natural personality; Mr. Pennington Gush does exceedingly well as Colonel Brinthorpe; Mr. George Marriott, jun., a satisfactory Arthur Brinthorpe; Mr. T. Norman Walter is excellent in the part of Tom Oxley; the "Boys," Towzer, Davy, Lively, and Jacky, are cleverly represented by Mr. James Skea, Mr. A. Cotton Holmes, Mr. James Hussey, and Mr. Alec Alves. Miss Helen G. Edwins does well as Mrs. Naresby; and Miss Lila Barclay as a nun makes the most of her small part.

New Empire Palace.—Proprietors, the Barnsley Empire Palace, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Will Smithson.—Fred Cary, the inimitable comedian; Bonnetti and Corrie, eccentric jugglers; Argo, eccentric farmyard mimic; V. L. Granville, in a Protean playlet, entitled 'Twixt Dawn and Daylight; Lyster and Cooke, novelty musical entertainers; Probyn and Bates, in a comedy skit, The Dude and Soubrette; and Burke, Andrus, and 'Frisco, in a spectacular absurdity, all meet with a cordial reception. The Palacescope pictures maintain their usual excellence.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS.—Tivoli.—Lessee and Manager, Signor Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. Edgar G. Laban.—Herbert Clifton is the top turn here this week; the Great Northern Troupe give an excellent exhibition of dancing; Madison and Webb are a very amusing pair; Alma contributes a clever juggling and balancing act; Harris and Worth have some capital patter; and Sim Maree, a contortionist, performs some grotesque antics. The pictures by Vernon's Bioscope are much appreciated.

His Majesty's Theatre.—Lessees and Managers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Routledge.—Mr. Russell Rosse's company is here in A Pair of Spectacles. Mr. David James as Mr. Benjamin Goldfinch is as brilliant as ever; Mr. Augustus Wheatman is a typical Uncle Gregory; Dick and Percy are well done by Mr. Cecil Woodhouse and Mr. Edward Crompton respectively; Miss Ida Chapman is capital as Mrs. Goldfinch; and Miss Helena Parson is a charming Lucy. Mr. George N. Williams is a capable Bartholomew. His Last Legs concludes.

BARRY DOCK. — Theatre Royal and Hippodrome.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur Brogden.—Mr. Percy Williams has presented The Fatal Wedding to well-filled houses here. Mr. Cecil A. Melton scored a great success as Howard Willson, the wealthy clubman; and as Mabel Wilson Miss Ethel Kay did exceptionally well; Mr. Frank Harrison made a typical man about town; and as Cora Williams Miss Elaine Vanbrough was successful. Bridget, in the hands of Miss Ethel Sargient, pleased the house immensely; and was ably assisted by Mr. Charles Locke (Toto). Mr. Cyril Melton ably doubled the parts of Schwartz and O'Rielly. The success of the evening was the Jessie of Miss Lulu Wohlmaun, whose singing and dancing were capital. Popular songs were well sung by Misses Sarah Rich, Hilda Malhert, Edith Dews, Violet Dupre, Marie Wilson, Dorrene Aberdare, Dorothy Pain, and Dot Jeffries. The dancing of Master Tom Grice was also much enjoyed.

New Empire.—Lessee, Mr. John Dooner.—A crowded house witnessed the opening show. A fine programme of pictures and varieties was given.

BATH.—Theatre Royal.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Egbert Lewis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lewis A. Long.—The romantic and thrilling play The Breed of the Treshams is forming the final engagement of the autumn season. The character of Lieut. Keresby (the Rat) dominates the piece, and Mr. Frank Bertram, whose company it is, is fortunate in having Mr. Sydney Bland to impersonate so popular and picturesque a hero. Miss Grace Harlington enacts Batty with convincing skill. The other ladies in the cast have but little to do, but Miss Mildred Hodson deserves mention for her careful rendering of Margaret Hungerford. Mr. Alfred Holles is fairly good as Viscount Dorsington, as is Mr. W. R. Winning as Clement Hungerford; Mr. Howard Brenan showed ability as Francis Tresham.

Palace Theatre. — Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Charles Schuberth.—Mr. Geo. R. Sims' playlet, The White Hand of a Woman, admirably staged and exceedingly well acted by Mr. Bernard Mervyn, Miss B. Doyle, and others, is drawing large audiences here this week. A warm welcome is accorded Miss Annie Schuberth, the gifted songstress, in her scena The Deputy. Her fine vocalism is always worth hearing. Munroe's youthful quartette of vocalists come in for a big reception; Cliff and Kean are a popular turn, the slate dancing of the gentleman being a feature. Virto's musical act goes as well as ever; the Sisters Brenton score in their sabot and skipping-rope dancing. Raymond's Bio-tableaux give their usual pleasure to the house generally; Wright's orchestra play exceedingly well a czarda, besides sustaining their reputation in assisting the artists in their efforts to amuse.

BATLEY.—Theatre.—Proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Whitty; Manager, Mr. Alfred A. Taylor.—Two Little Vagabonds is successfully played here this week by Hardie and Von Leer's company. There was a good house on Monday night, and the show was greatly enjoyed. The company is one of all-round ability, the principal parts being ably portrayed by Mr. George Denham as George Thornton, Mr. Herbert Standing, jun., as Captain Darville, Mr. Harry Reynolds as John Scarth, Mr. Herbert Russell as Bill Mullins, Miss Leonora Castella as Marion, Miss Mabel Cooke as Barbara, and Misses Chrissie Francess and Ethel Frances Greene as the two little vagabonds.

BEDFORD.—Royal County Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. E. Graham Falcon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter R. Wilson.—Dear Old Charlie is staged this week, and is well patronised. As "dear old Charlie" Mr. Geo. Lestocq is gay and humorous; Mr. C. Douglas Cox and Mr. R. S. Trelawney respectively impersonate Gabriel Peploe and Thomas Dumphie in an excellent manner; the part of Agnes is prettily played by Miss E. G. Forde; and Miss Leonora Braham is amusing as Mrs. Fishbourne, Captain Fishbourne finds a capable exponent in Mr. Duncan Young; and the remaining parts are in capable hands. The curtain-raiser is The Cause.

BELFAST. — Theatre Royal. — Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; Acting-Manager, Mr. James M. McCann.—The famous Irish Players, from the Abbey Theatre, Dublin, are paying their first visit to Belfast. On Monday three pieces were produced, the principal item being Lady Gregory's translation of Molière's three-act comedy, The Rogueries of Scapin. Chief praise must be accorded Mr. Arthur Sinclair's impersonation of Scapin, which created much laughter. The rôles of the two fathers, Argante and Geronte, were well filled by Messrs. J. A. O'Rourke and Sydney Morgan; Miss Maire O'Neill gracefully portrayed the small part of Zerbinette; and other characters were capitally sustained by Miss M. McCarthy, Miss E. O'Doherty, and Messrs. Fred O'Donovan, J. M. Kerrigan, and Ambrose Power. In the Shadow of the Glen, a one-act play, by J. M. Synge, furnished Miss Maire O'Neill, a clever actress, with much scope in the rôle of Nora Burke, and she was most successful; Mr. J. M. Kerrigan played a tramp in a faultless manner; and other parts were sustained by Messrs. Arthur Sinclair and J. A. O'Rourke. The Rising of the Moon was also produced; and during the week The Man Who Missed the Tide (in which Miss Sara Allgood appeared to much advantage), Kathleen Ni Houlihan, The Hour Glass, Hyacinth Halvey, Riders to the Sea, and Spreading the News have also been performed.

Palace Theatre of Varieties.—Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. A. Salmond.—The star here is Mr. T. E. Dunville, whose comic songs have been hugely enjoyed. Much laughter greets Stratton Mills and company in their absurdity, entitled Ananias II., by Herbert C. Sargent; and the remarkably smart dancing of the Four Amaranths, described as "whirlwind dancers," has been enthusiastically received; the Three Cunarders, vocalists and speciality dancers, have made a hit; and the Wateman Quintette deserve praise for their capital vocalism. Also here are Gicardo, juvenile juggler; Miss Leah Arden, comedienne; Mlle. Renee, refined instrumentalist; and the Palace pictures.

Royal Hippodrome.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Will Sley and Fred Willmott; Resident-Manager, Mr. Henry T. Downs.—Mr. John Tiller's pantomime, Red Riding Hood, is the chief attraction here, and has been most successful. The title-rôle was charmingly filled by Miss Decima Brooke, who sang in good style "Garden of my heart"; the part of Prince Charming was cleverly sustained by Miss Maisie Jerrard, whose song, "Are you the little girl" was well received. As Dame Crump Mr. Howard Ward was very droll; and Mr. Will Lytton was inimitable as Johnny Stout. Mr. Fred Russell must be commended for his able impersonation of the Baron; Miss Florrie Page delightfully impersonated Fairy; and the difficult rôle of the Wolf was skilfully sustained by Mr. David Laird. Mr. Walter Watson kept the fun going merrily as Johnny Green; and other rôles were well sustained by Miss Emie Franks, Miss Margery Daw, &c. The Poppy Quartette furnish a capital exhibition of the terpsichorean art; and the Excelsior Troupe of Children assist materially. Mr. Peter Flitcroft acts efficiently as musical conductor. The Hipposcope, with some up-to-date pictures, is also included in the programme.

Empire Theatre of Varieties, Ltd.—General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager, Mr. John A. Walker.—The chief feature of this week's bill is the wonderfully clever musical act produced by the Elliott Savonas, so beautifully staged, entitled "The Palace of Orpheus," which has been accorded a great reception. The leaping feats of Huxter Bros. are remarkable; and Miss Florence Lambeth and Robert Robertson appear to advantage in Scots Folks' Wooing; Miss Ethel Dove is a charming comedienne, with good songs; and Mr. Carl Howard supplies an entertainment consisting of mirth and magic, which has been favourably received. Mr. Bert Terell, Dutch comedian, sings excellently; and also appearing here are Miss Nelly Bly, comedienne; and the Bioscope, with some up-to-date subjects.

New Alhambra Theatre.—General-Manager, Mr. Will White.—Capital houses are the rule here. The filmograph presents Kathleen Mavourneen, 10.40 Express, Curate's Honeymoon, Vengeance is Mine, Then There Was a Row, Quick-change Mesmerist, Diamond Thieves, &c. Douglas and Gordon, a capital comedy duo, quickly instal themselves favourites. Baddow, ventriloquist, was unable to appear on Monday, having missed the connection to this city through fog, but Miss Alice Ferndale, a good vocalist, deputised successfully.

St. George's Hall.—General-Manager, Mr. Robert Wilson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred L. Arthur.—A fine series of pictures has been presented here, including A Son's Crime, Wanted, a Son-in-Law, Parks of Paris, Jane Shore, On Roller Skates, Drama of Country Life, Scent of Police Dogs, &c. In addition, Madame Mabel Roberts, American songstress, has been accorded a flattering reception; and Mr. Tom Crowe, a local comedian, whose funny character songs create much laughter. The enterprising manager introduced a competition on Monday for lady professionals, and another on Thursday for gentleman professionals.

Cliftonville Hall.—Resident-Manager, Colonel Frederick T. Cummins.—Roller skating here is all the rage, and the pastime has drawn crowded houses daily.

BILSTON.—New Theatre Royal.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. John M. Dawson; Business-Manager, Mr. S. Hadakiss Dawson.—Lena Stanton and Harry Joseph's company in The Bluecoat Boy forms a successful attraction this week. Miss Stanton makes a vivacious Billy, and Miss Gertie Lovedale wins approval as Dolly; Mr. Sid Dean is clever as Dame Diccory, and introduces some novel eccentric dancing. Specialities are supplied by the Sabot Girls, vocalists and dancers; Bros. Shepherd, vocalists; and J. and Ginger, ventriloquist.

BIRKENHEAD. — New Theatre Royal. — Sole Lessee, Mr. W. W. Kelly; Acting-Manager, Mr. Reginald Grant; Secretary, Miss Isabel Morris.—The Birkenhead Dramatic Society commenced one of their periodical seasons here on Monday last, when Sir Conan Doyle's Waterloo preceded Mr. Sydney Grundy's well-known comedy, A Pair of Spectacles.

Argyle Theatre of Varieties.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. D. J. Clarke.—Bella and Bijou are popular vaudeville artists; Mr. George Formby is a sterling comedian; Mr. Carl Hertz and Mlle. Emmeline D'Alton appear in their well-known mystifying and illusionary entertainment; Rich and Rich are amusing patterers; Miss Harriette Green is a talented vocalist; Cling and Clancy are good comedians and dancers; Miss Elsie Roby is a talented comedienne and pianist; Mr. Bert Williams is a smart ventriloquist; and Brown's Royal Bioscope completes the bill. Enormous business is the rule.

BIRMINGHAM.—Theatre Royal.—Managing-Director, Mr. Tom B. Davis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Philip Redway.—Crowded houses have been the rule here all the week to witness the return of Miss Ellaline Terris and Mr. Seymour Hicks. This time the piece is The Gay Gordons. Miss Terriss in her present rôle, Peggy Quainton, shows all her accustomed freshness and sweetness, filling the audience with the highest delight; while Mr. Hicks, in his character of the impressionable Angus Graeme, plays in the true vein of comedy, besides displaying all the tenderness of the young lover; Mr. E. Lugg displays the characteristics of the American, Andrew Quainton; Messrs. Johnny

TO REMIND THE PROFESSION!

The Only "BODEGA" Addresses in BIRMINGHAM are:—
Café Royal, 62, New-street
(late of Temple-street), opposite Theatre Royal.
All Theatrical Papers Taken. Billiards, &c.
Also at High-street,
and Great Hampton-street. [Advt.]

Danvers and Geo. Carroll hit off the humours of Nervy Nat and Edmund Siddons admirably; and the Misses Sidney Farebrother and Coralie Blythe are very good as Charlotte and Victoria Siddons. Miss Maud Milton stands out strongly as Janet.

PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Rodgers, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. F. Graham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry Johnston.—Mr. Arthur Bouchier and Miss Violet Vanbrugh and company, in their second week, continue to draw "house full." On Monday Mr. Bourchier's "trumpet-tongued" denunciation as Jack Frobisher in The Walls of Jericho again made the theatre ring with applause, and his general treatment of the character left nothing to be desired; Miss Vanbrugh triumphed over the difficulties of her rôle as Alethea with all her usual distinction and excellence, quite enrapturing the audience; Mr. Leon Quartermaine proves a manful and altogether agreeable Hankey Bannister; Mr. Arthur Whitby bears the rôle of the ignoble Marquis with fine skill; Miss Pamela Gaythorne reflects the character of Lady Lucy with complete fidelity; and the general support is beyond reproach. The Arm of the Law and Dr. Johnson appeared on Wednesday.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Lester Collingwood; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. T Guest.—Great interest has been evoked this week by Mr. Frank M. Thorne's company in The Woman Pays. Mr. Phil Harper's powerful rendition of the hero's rôle, Sid Armstrong, has elicited general admiration; Mr. John Davidson has borne his burden well as the false friend and unjust steward, Roger Marchant; Mr. Frank M. Thorne makes welcome diversion with his comicalities as Micky Maloney; Mr. Beresford Innes as Cyrus Treadgold, Mr. Dunlop Stewart as Luke Morland, and Mr. Chas. Arthur as Dr. Trevor have acquitted themselves of their respective tasks well; Miss Maud Russell shows commendable taste and power as Madge; and another pathetic rôle, played with much power, is that of Nell Morland by Miss Kate Blair. The Misses Lily Beverly and Florence Thorne also shine.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Andrew Melville; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Hindle Taylor.—Excellent business has attended the visit of Man to Man, which, with the capital acting of Messrs. Edward Lloyd and Frank Adair's company, goes as well as ever. Specially commendable is the acting of Mr. Adair as Richard Ellerton; Mr. Lloyd's part as George Gordon is also very well sustained. Mr. H. Holland acts capably as Matthew Ellerton; Mr. Wilfred Beckwith's rôle as the mad Parson is marked with many clever touches; Miss Louie Adair has a special charm and ability, which well fit her for the part of Ethel Maythorne; and every success attends the essays of Messrs. H. Bruce Williams, Clifford Bown, and the Misses Phyllis Oakeley and Evelyn Warde.

CARLTON THEATRE, SALTLEY.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. James Alexander.—Mr. Fred C. Somerfield's company has met with a very pleasant reception in Geoffrey Langdon's Wife. Mr. Paul Beckett as Felix Beverley commands the attention of the audience with his weird style of acting; Miss Cissie Bellamy adds materially to the success by her clever portrayal of Mrs. Sands; Miss Mary Lovatt plays the part of Mary, Langdon's wife, with just the proper air; Mr. Wilson Summers furnishes an effective portrayal of Jack Stirling; Miss Kate Lever is an excellent portrayer of Sweet Nancy; and Messrs. Robin Sheills, Harland Brookes, Percy Brown, and Newton Pearse are very material to the play.

THEATRE ROYAL, ASTON.—Lessee, Mr. Charles Barnard; General-Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Lake.—The Still Alarm is once more proving its great drawing powers here, with Messrs. aMthew H. Glenville and Mr. Osmond's company. Mr. Glenville's personation of Jack Manley is again the general theme and admiration; Mr. Osmond's comic creation of Doc Wilber is more popular than ever; Mr. Gerald Kennedy wins general execration with his clever acting as the villain, Bird; Mr. Lewis Gordon gives a clever presentment of Franklyn Fordham; Mr. Tom Beasley aids effectively as Willie Manley; Miss Beatrice Shirley makes a charming picture of the heroine, Elinor Fordham; Miss Hetty Zillwood continues in her cleverly-rendered rôle of Carrie Wilber; and Miss Mabel Veriton shows true skill as Mrs. Manley.

PALACE THEATRE, BORDESLEY.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Goodwin Woodward.—Mr. Tom H. Taylor's company is drawing another splendid week's business here with The Female Swindler. Mr. Stanley Radcliffe continues to excel in his oft-repeated rôle of the villain, Geoffrey Warden; Miss Violet Ellicott fills the title-rôle with dramatic surprises which come with startling realism; Mr. Fred Rignold plays up well as Mikestein; Mr. John Hitchings plays a variety of rôles with much humour and perfect sang-froid; Mr. Jerrold Heather makes the character of John Coulson one of much importance; Miss Bella Moody acts in a bright manner as Mary Ann Mee; Miss Beatrice Hone invests the heroine's rôle, May Andrews, with the charm of true womanhood; and Mr. Guy P. Ellis as Harold Travers acts in a true lover's manner.

GRAND THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Edward Foster.—An excellent programme has been submitted here for Cattle Show Week The Futurity Winner, a racing sketch which is full of rush and excitement, is very American; W. J. Churchill is applauded for his songs, as also are G. W. Hunter and Tom Jones. Conway and Leland, one-legged comedy acrobats, are highly amusing; Charles Dare's Minstrels are appreciated; Mabel Fairchild, Victor Newman, and Frisby complete the bill.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. A. W. Matcham.—Chief among a host of attractions at this house is Eugene Stratton. Hermann Melot is one of the smartest conjurers of the day, and Pat Rafferty, Leo Stormont, Marie Empress (comedienne) E. J. Sheldon, Plummer's company in Fun on a Tramcar, and the Brewsters in their musical entertainment are appreciated.

HIPPODROME.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Harry Lyons.—Hackenschmidt is paying a return visit here, and offers big prizes to anyone who can defeat him—not a very easy matter, and unlikely to happen. There is a funny sketch presented by Harry Gratton and company entitled Man, the Brute; the Three Ansonias are expert hand balancers and acrobats; the Three Comedy Chanters are also an excellent turn; Dusty Rhodes is as amusing as ever.

GAIETY THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Albert Bushell.—Park's Eton Boys and Girls are the prominent turn here. Wilson Hallett's imitations, Anthony, a smart conjurer, Foreman and Fannan, in song and patter, Lily Langtry, as sparkling as ever, Vivian and company, Ross and Grayson, and the Findons are other attractions.

BISHOP AUCKLAND. — EDEN THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. R. Addison, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. Huntley.—This week Mr. James Bell's company is here, including Miss Annie Bell in The Idol of Paris. Mr. Gordon Robey plays admirably as Prince Sergius; Mr. Wilson Howard is a capable Philippe; every credit is due to Mr. Christopher Roberts as Theo; and Mr. Leonard Aarrdale is an excellent Victor Cashelle. Miss Pharo Anderson portrays the part of Rachael in good style, and the same may be said of Miss Phena Powell (Mme. Sancterre) and Miss Annie Megson (Ann Sancterre); Miss Bell is charming in the title-rôle.

BLACKPOOL.—HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE.—General-Manager, Mr. J. R. Huddlestone.—The Blackpool Shakespearean Society is in possession here this week, and, under the stage direction of Mr. George Munro (late of Mr. Allan Wilkie's company), is producing Julius Cæsar and The Merchant of Venice in the most satisfactory manner. The costumes and wigs are supplied by Messrs. C. and W. May, London.

GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Sergenson; Responsible Tenant and Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry Hunter.—The advent of Mme. Albani to the variety stage, which has taken place here this week, is responsible for the large audiences which have assembled twice nightly to hear the gifted songstress in some of her most popular numbers. She is accompanied by Herr Zakovsky, violinist, with Mr. Victor Marmont at the piano. Other attractive items on the programme are supplied by Dot Hardy, a clever character comedienne; Matt Wilkinson and company, in a sketch; Musical Keiths, novelty instrumentalists; Cara Magda, gymnast; Harry Sims, comedian; Diamond and Hart, in a sketch; and Astley's American Circus.

PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. G. H. Harrop; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Waller.—The most attractive turn here this week is provided by Master Edward Garratt in a racy sketch entitled An Outside Chance. Billy Williams, the popular Australian comedian, also meets with a most cordial reception; and the Harmony Boys are appreciated in a vocal act. Walter Barrett, character vocalist; the Gascoignes, jugglers; Richard Finberg, impersonator; Nellie Montague, burlesque actress; Archie Royer, in a startling comedy act; and the Lyric Mummers also find favour.

BLYTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur C. Moody.—Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Mackey have paid a successful visit with the musical play, entitled Rollicking Rory, in which the above clever comedian undertakes the title-rôle, and wins hearty applause. Mrs. Mackey, Miss Constance Bellamy, and Miss Nana Flensberg are prominent in their respective parts, and adequate support is rendered by the remaining members of the company.

GAIETY.—Lessees, Messrs. Claggers.—Alfred Wellesley and company have a good sketch in Uncle's Courtship. The Vaudevilles (Theodore Jones, Fred Conway, Lilian de Laur, and Barney Vox) also appear with success, and a fine display of pictorials is well received.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Tom Doyle.—The picture show at the "Drome" continues to prove attractive amongst the new arrivals. T. W. Barrett is the star turn.

BOURNEMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietors, David Allen and Sons; Sole Lessee, Mr. Mouillot; Manager, Mr. Hubert Dunbar.—On Monday there was a crowded house to witness Mr. Robert Courtneidge's company in The Dairymaids. Mr. Johnny Osborne's undoubted ability enables him to enact the part of Joe Mivens to the delight of all present; and Miss Gladys Silvani as Eliza is admirable. Miss Clare Marsden sings and acts well as Peggy; Miss Clarice Lockstone sings the music of Winifred really well; Mr. Nelson Keys makes the character of Sam Brudenell stand out prominently; as Dr. O'Bryen Mr. J. A. Warden has a part which gives him excellent opportunities to display his undoubted humour, and a very finished performance of Lady Brudenell is given by Miss Mabel Younge.

BRADFORD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. T. F. Doyle; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Richardson.—Mr. F. R. Benson is on a return visit here, presenting during the week's engagement seven Shakespearean plays. On Monday Twelfth Night was the comedy, with Mr. Benson as Malvolio, a performance rich in dignity and humour. Mrs. Benson sustained the character of Viola admirably; and Miss Helen Haye charmingly portrayed the part of Olivia. As the roystering Sir Toby Belch, Mr. G. R. Weir scored a genuine success; and Mr. H. G. Nicholson was capital as Sir Andrew Aguecheek. The play had a fine reception. On Tuesday evening Mr. Benson presented Coriolanus, and the other plays billed for representation during the engagement are The Merchant of Venice, Hamlet, The Taming of the Shrew, Henry V., and Macbeth.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Councillor Francis Laidler; Acting-Manager, Mr. N. Hepworth.—We have a return visit of Mr. T. H. Taylor's company here this week in Mr. Walter Melville's hotly-spiced drama The Worst Woman in London, and its reception has again been very enthusiastic. Miss Edith Blande is the exponent of the character of the vile Frances Vere, and her acting is powerful; Jack Felton is capitally played by Mr. G. Gaisford; and as Vincent Lyle Mr. A. Preston is good. Mr. Cass as Fred Thornborough, Mr. Vernon Travers as James Melford, Mr. W. Scott as Bob Goldfinch, and Mr. H. W. Monte as Hugh Drayton are also particularly noticeable in the representation, which is well staged.

THE EMPIRE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Percival Craig.—Under distinguished patronage the celebration of the redecorations (which are of a beautiful and costly description) was held on Monday evening last, when a fine performance was presented. Reano and his celebrated band topped the bill, and, à la Sousa, gave a stirring and clever rendering of overtures and original compositions, which elicited great applause. The Brothers Horne, on a return visit, won applause and laughter in their comical boxing act; Marion Scott submitted a dainty comedienne turn; very hearty marks of appreciation greeted the wonderfully clever and very novel horizontal bar performances given by Mason and Bart; the Brothers Redmond, quaint and agile as ever, elicited laughter with their acrobatic work; Fred Lincoln's character song, "My pal Jemmy," was humorously rendered; Phil and Nettie Peters elicited much laughter in a versatile and clever burlesqued Dutch sketch; John Macauley as an old Chelsea pensioner was convincing and sang well; as deputy for Charlene and Charlene, drawing-room entertainers, Miss Oliph Webb and Messrs. Julian Cross and Delaforce gave a capital performance of the old farce That Brute Simmons; and the American Bioscope showed some capital pictures.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. F. Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. Harrison.—Miss Helen Roberts, with very marvellous grace and expressive gesture, is presenting here this week the weird Salome dance and her fascinating interpretation of Mendelssohn's Spring Song dance to great applause. The Three Temples submit excellent vocalism; Jamie Piper gives an acceptable performance on a variety of wind instruments; Les Belles Americaines are a pretty quartette of acrobatic dancers; the Waltons submit a quaint turn as Chinese acrobats; Tom Yorke's character comedy is acceptable; Marguerite Ismay and her White Coons dance well, and furnish a bright bustling turn. There is a singing contest for amateur ladies, and Raymond's Bio-tableaux are particularly entertaining.

BRIDLINGTON.—SPA OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. Harry Tunbridge.—A season of animated picture entertainments and variety opened here on Monday, when the British Biograph Company showed a fine selection of excellent films, one of the best being a very dramatic scene, For the Sake of His Uniform. The singing of Miss Emilie Tait was greatly enjoyed, her finely-trained soprano voice being heard to great advantage in well-chosen songs; Mr. Tom Drew is a clever comedian.

PALACE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Delmar.—The Electric Animated Pictures are a source of delight, and constant changes are made. In addition the manager has arranged a series of weekly competitions, in which members of the audience take part.

BRIGHOUSE.—ALBERT THEATRE.—Proprietors, Beanland and Emerson; Manager, Chas. H. Beanland.—The place of honour this week is occupied by the Four Watsons, in a capital entertainment, comprising vocalism, dancing, music, and comedy; Kyoto is a smart contortionist, conjuror, and juggler, and introduces a well-trained pug dog; Rex and Ford patter to the amusement of all; and the Bros. Curran give some laughable burlesque boxing; Belrose and De Velin render excellent duets, and were loudly encored; Dan Hendry, very good in acrobatic song and dance; Arneth, a man of many instruments, and May Geraldine, coon vocalist and dancer, also contribute. Animated pictures by the Loyal Dominion Co. give an entirely new series, including Baby's Companion, Missionary's Daughter, Black and White, Raised from the Ranks, &c.

BRIGHTON.—GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Gates; General-Manager, Mr. Ben Court.—Miss Ethel Van Praagh and Mr. J. E. Whitty's company is here this week with An Unwedded Wife, and is attracting crowded houses. The drama is superbly staged and mounted. Miss Van Praagh wins very enthusiastic applause for her charming and emotional acting as Marion, "the unwedded wife"; Mr. George Daiper gives an admirable impersonation of Frank Hawthorne; Mr. Charles Stirling is forcible and convincing as the villainous Philip Blackstone; Mr. J. A. Grove is powerfully effective as Martin Hallett, alias Dick Drummond; little Doris plays with intelligence as Reggie; Mr. R. Wilton Bedford is well suited as Christopher Lennox; and the humorous element is ably sustained by Mr. Will Casey as Napoleon B. Boomer, Miss Dorothea Pearce as Caraway Crumpet, and Mr. J. Edward Whitty as P.C. O'Runyin.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. Barrasford and Smith; Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Resident-Manager, Mr. B. J. Brown.—Jan Rudenyi, an accomplished violinist, appears with distinct success in a musical romance, The Power of Music, and is admirably supported by Miss Dora De Winton and Mr. J. D. Saunders; Jake Friedman's company win hearty applause for their performance of the Dutch comedy opera, Happy Holland; George Ridgwell, vocalist, cornet soloist, and conductor, is well received; Haley's Juveniles display delightful singing and dancing in a carnival scene, the little duettists "Dot" and "Spot" being especially effective; Lawrence Barclay is a capital eccentric comedian; Hinton and Wooton are very clever in a football match on bicycles; Hanid Alexander is a versatile entertainer at the piano; the Hectors are highly successful in a speciality act, which includes balancing and juggling; Helen Martine is a charming vocalist; and the Barrascope pictures are interesting.

WEST PIER.—Secretary, Mr. A. W. Scholey.—Mr. Herbert Greville's company is here this week with Merely Mary Ann. Miss Jessica Solomon submits a charming and delightful enactment of Mary Ann; Mr. Martin Roland gives an artistic portrayal of Lancelot; Miss Violet Greville is highly successful as Mrs. Leadbatter; Miss Florence Radcliffe is well placed as the simpering daughter Rosie; Mr. Stephen Wentworth presents a good character study as Peter; Mr. Herbert Greville's Herr Brahmson merits warm praise; and, among others who render able assistance, Miss Enid Hall and Miss Vera Lisle (the Sisters Trippet) and Mr. Robert Entwhistle are noteworthy.

COURT THEATRE.—Lessee and Manageress, Mrs. M. Barrasford; Secretary and Manager, Mr. Fred Bauer.—The exhibitions of animated pictures here this week are excellent. Very dramatic stories are conveyed by The Love of a Gipsy, The Poacher's Daughter, and Raised from the Ranks; Cultivating and Gathering Rice at Piedmont is interesting; and much amusement is afforded by I'm Going to My Aunt, Shocking Shockers, The Sausage Stealers, and Tribulations of a Nephew. Vocal selections are contributed by Mr. George Pearce, a pleasing alto; warm praise is due to Mr. Arthur Briggs for his highly descriptive pianoforte accompaniments to the pictures.

BRISTOL.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. James Macready Chute.—Mr. George Edwardes's company is here with The Girls of Gottenberg, the scenery, dresses, and uniforms, and staging generally being very commendable. Mr. Edmund Payne scores an immense success in his original part of Max; Miss Fanny Fields makes a charming Mitzi—she plays the part for all it is worth, and dances in her accustomed admirable style, and is really amusing throughout; Miss Thelma Raye is charming as Elsa; Miss Maisie Gay is sufficiently vivacious as Clementine; Mr. Leslie Holland acts in good style as Otto; Mr. Fred Allandale is successful as Albrecht; Mr. Fred Payne is sharp and soldierlike as Sergeant Brittlbotti; and the remaining parts are all carefully played. An athletic dance is cleverly executed by Miss Florence Phillips, assisted by Mr. Fred Allandale. The chorus is strong and tuneful, and the augmented orchestra does good work under the direction of Mr. Philip Braham.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter; Resident-Manager, Mr H. C. Alty.—Miss Marie Dagmar and company are successfully appearing here in the interesting drama, The Tyrant, the play being well performed and capitally staged. Miss Dagmar presents an excellent exposition of Tisbe; Mr. Roy Fortescue evinces considerable power as Angelo; Lady Katherine and Rudolph have very effective impersonators in Miss Margaret Frame and Mr. Edward Louis; and Mr. James Sherwin makes a clever character study of the part of Homodei. The comic parts of Reginella, Victor, and Nobbo are taken in amusing style by Miss Nellie Freeman, Mr. Frank Etheridge, and Mr. Willie Barrett, and the rest of the cast is in competent hands.

PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Livermore; Manager, Mr. F. J. V. Welchman.—Mr. George Dance's company, in the knockabout sketch, The Burglars' Ball, secures great appreciation; Maude Mortimer, comedienne, presents an attractive turn, obtaining much applause for her latest successful songs; Albert Wyndham and company score with their Roman episode, Cæsar's Trust; Doody and Write amuse with their speciality dancing act, &c.; the Fordyces (Jenny and Will) do well in song and dance; Little Frankie is a capable juvenile vocalist; Harry Varden is a good ventriloquist; and Helm and Cozens obtain appreciation for their duologue, "The Doctor and the Patient." Interesting animated pictures conclude the entertainment.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. B. Pearce Lucas; Resident-Manager, Mr. Sid Macaire.—Leonard Mortimer and company amuse with their comedy sketch, The Little Captain; Dora Lyric, comedienne, is popular here, all her songs going capitally; the Rizarlis are attractive lady performers on the revolving trapeze; Naish and Noel amuse with song, patter, and dancing; the Redcar Trio (three little girls) are capable gymnasts; Barlee and Smith score with a musical comedy duologue; Phillips and Bristow are smart wooden shoe dancers; Charles Santon, male soprano vocalist, obtains applause; and the performance concludes with up-to-date animated pictures.

BROUGHTON.—VICTORIA THEATRE, LTD.—Manager and Licensee, Mr. J. Fred Watson.—Mr. George Kirk and Miss Mary Neil are presenting Her Luck in London to good houses. Miss Mary Neil as Nellie gives a charming personation of the heroine; Mr. Douglas Cecil makes a fine, manly hero of the Hon. Fitzgerald O'Connor; the villainous Richard Lenowen is well played by Mr. Frank Strickland; Mr. Douglas Tremayne as the muscular Rev. Lionel Strong does well; Mr. Henri Gerald as Jerry Gotobed and Miss Florrie Groves as Maud Gladys capably furnish comic relief; Miss Amy B. Ellis as Angelina is successful; the prudish Lilian Harborne is well sustained by Miss Beatrice Hudson; and Mr. T. Lionel Ellis is well placed as Stephen Harborne.

BURNLEY.—VICTORIA OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. C. Horner.—Mr. Alfred B. Cross and company are here again, presenting Mr. Wilson Barrett's version of The Manxman. Mr. Cross as Pete gives a vivid portrayal of the part; Miss Minnie Watersford ably sustains her old rôle of Kate; and Mr. Fred Mace is a capital exponent of Cæsar Christian. Mr. Fred Charles is good as Ross Christian, and other parts are in capable hands.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. C. Horner.—The Habergham Choir (50 voices), who, with their classical programme, have brought forth tremendous applause here; the Paolias, in their athletic act and posing, are greatly appreciated; and the Havannas perform a number of smart and highly-diverting feats. Fremel and Fremel are excellent in cross-talk and patter, and Harry Brayne and Bert Lloyd create much laughter with their absurdity, The Tree of Truth; Chas. J. Johnson is good in coon songs, and Flo Warner pleases with "London Girl." A beautiful scenic picture is shown by the Empire Theatrescope, entitled The Lake of the Four Cantons.

PALACE THEATRE AND HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. Julius Simpson.—Florrie Ford, with her singing chorus songs, is pleasing greatly here; Harry Tate's company introduce the absurdity Fishing, which is productive of endless laughter; Dan Merritt is a remarkably clever drum soloist; and the Lyons Trio provide a comical pantomimical sketch, full of good fun; Cosgrove and Burns are responsible for some pretty duets; and Charles Banks has a well-trained dog, which provokes applause. Webb and Branston, duettists, are most acceptable, and Dick Carter, Detective, is shown by Raymond's Bio-Tableaux; Edith Chantler, a girl soprano with an unusually good and strong voice, renders a difficult solo with good taste.

BURTON-ON-TRENT.—NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Bennett; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. de Hague Body.—Mr. J. W. Turner's English Opera company is here for the week, and opened on Monday to a good house with a fine representation of Faust. In the name-part Mr. Charles le Sueur, an actor of undoubted ability, was well placed; Mephistopheles, as depicted by Mr. Tom Griffiths, was a fine character study, and his deep bass voice was heard to advantage; Valentine was represented by Mr. Frank Clarke with spirit and dash; and Mr. J. Cummings did well as Wagner; Miss Jessie Dennis sang sweetly as Siebel, and Miss Sarah Williams met with the greatest possible success as Marguerite, her Jewel Song fairly bringing down the house. The chorus was strong and vigorous.

BURY (LANCS.).—THEATRE ROYAL AND PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Assistant-Acting-Manager, Mr. H. H. Potter.—A Wrecker of Men is being played here by Mr. C. Watson Mill's company. Mr. Eric Campbell is a typical Jim Murley; Guise Strange is effectively presented by Mr. Arthur Robinson; Miss Florence Melrose Millett in the rôle of Risca Mallison submits an artistic portrayal; Miss Gwendoline Talbot is successful as Doris; Pharosaphus is capably impersonated by Mr. Milner Noble; Miss Beatrice Reynolds is responsible for merriment as Vavasole Slopper; and Mr. Charles E. Lovell gives a painstaking portrayal of Ezekiel Isaacs and Karnaphus.

CIRCUS OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Assistant-Acting-Manager, Mr. H. H Potter.—An excellent evening's entertainment is provided, with the Columbia Comedy Trio as chief attraction. Their burlesque is of a high order. May Lilian Levey is popular in her male impersonations, and her songs are much enjoyed; a capital item is that submitted by the Sisters Dorrell, speciality dancers; a good ventriloquial sketch, The Lady and the Page, is given by Thora; Sid Bandon, actor vocalist, shines in a song scena; and Vandinoff, assisted by Mlle. Louie, is a clever lightning sketch artist. The New Macs keep the audience in good humour with their smart dances and patter; Agnes Molteno is very successful in an original scena, An Old-time Story, being admirably assisted by T. T. Edwards and Little Dolly; a number of interesting films are shown on the Ottograph.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. S. Garner.—In vocal and instrumental comedy the Merrions' quaint methods cause much hilarity; Herma's splendid physique enables him to lift huge weights; McCann is prominent as an acrobatic and skate dancer; Lena Selwyn is a sparkling comedienne; and other comedy turns are those of Chas. Rowen and Fred Curran. E. Morrisey gives an original performance as a musical equilibrist; and Adams and Dale, acrobats, and the Bioscope Pictures complete.

BURY ST. EDMUNDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—General-Manager, Mr. Auguste A. Peuleve.—Miss Lena Ashwell's company in Diana of Dobson's is nightly filling the house. Mr. Briscoe Owen is an acceptable Capt. Bretherton; Mr. Philip Sanders gives a good performance of Sir Jabez; Diana is played by Miss Violet Vorley with spirit; Miss Hilda Franch's is well suited to the rôle of Mrs. Cantelupe; Miss Pamela Hope acts well as Mrs. Whyte Fraser; and Diana's fellow-assistants at Dobson's are capably represented by Miss Violet Joyce, Miss Dorothy Bell, Miss Cicely Oates, and Miss Margaret Dudley. The play is preceded by a smartly-acted comedietta, entitled A Fire of Straw.

CAMBRIDGE.—NEW THEATRE.—Managing Director, Mr. W. B. Redfern, J.P., D.L.—The patrons of this establishment have been well catered for this week, and the result has been crowded houses. On Monday night Mr. Geo. Edwardes's company opened with The Merry Widow, and every seat had been taken. Miss Mysie Devine quite captivated the audience in the title-rôle, her dancing being much admired; Mr. Frank Greene was entirely successful as Prince Danilo, his representation being very artistic; Miss Katie May as Frou Frou danced splendidly; Miss Ada Thomas (Natalie) revelled in the part, singing and dancing with charm; Mr. Ripley Evans (Viscomte Camille de Jolidon) was excellent; Mr. Edward D'Arcy (Baron Popoff) and Mr. Fred Fowler (Nisch) were very humorous; Mr. William Allison as the Marquis de Cascada and Mr. F. Pedgrift as M. de St. Brioche showed ability.

CARDIFF.—NEW THEATRE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Robert Redford.—Mr. Edward Compton and company opened on Monday night, presenting Davy Garrick to a large and appreciative audience. In the title-rôle Mr. Compton was as histrionically brilliant as ever, and won enthusiastic applause.; Mr. Henry Crocker was again seen in his really admirable delineation of Alderman Gresham; Mr. Henry Worrall was a particularly fine Tom Tallyhaut; and the other male characters were in capable hands; Miss Kathleen Leigh as Violet gave an impersonation which captured all hearts; two clever renderings were those of Miss Marie Hassell as Mrs. Rumbelow and Miss Constance Merton as Selina. The comedy was staged with the elaborate care always associated with Mr. Compton's productions. In The Desperate Lover, which preceded, Miss Viola Compton gave a charming and delightful impersonation of Mistress Prue, and was capably supported by Mr. Henry Worrall. The Rivals, The School for Scandal, A Reformed Rake, and She Stoops to Conquer were also in the bill.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. S. Dring.—At the head of an excellent programme is Hetty King, the bright and gifted male impersonator, who, with new songs, adds to her previous successes here. A capital turn is that provided by Olga and Elgar, who win hearty applause for their admirably-rendered musical items; the Stein-Eretto Troupe once more astound everybody by their remarkable hand-jumping and acrobatic performance; quite an exceptional turn is given by Ethel Newman, who appears in a clever monologue, entitled Her Wedding Day; a wonderful performance is presented by Mons. and Mlle. Gaillard, their equestrian lion D'Artagnan and a clever poodle called Chocolat gaining applause for a marvellous display of animal sagacity; Alf. Holt, a clever imitator of birds; Maudie Francis in a smart Dutch dance; the Chronomegaphone with acceptable pictures; and the Bioscope with an interesting film, are the other attractions at the Empire.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Under the Management of Mr. Rollo Balmain.—After a considerable absence we have a return visit of Mr. Charles March and company in The Gamester of Mets. The piece is capitally staged, and the uniforms are characteristic. Mr. March is seen again in the trying rôle of Paul Baldot, and carries out his quick changes and different impersonations in a clever manner; Miss Edith Crawford is distinctly pleasing as Lucia Baldot; and Miss Una Lane is effective as Countess Baldot. No better portrayal of the part of Captain Badaire could be given than that by Mr. Wm. Bradford; while Mr. Haviland Allworth is good as Louis Badaire; Miss Lizzie Prescott is very amusing as Gwendoline Pearson. The visit has been most popular.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Arthur Burton.—The Crimson Stain is played by Miss Olga Audre's company. The chief rôle of Enid is undertaken by Miss Audre with remarkable skill; Dan Whitley's witticisms keep the house roaring with laughter; Queenie Essex, a chic comedienne, renders her numbers in a style quite her own; the Leonas are expert banjoists, and also give a capital exhibition of fencing; Woodhouse and Wells, comedians and dancers, are the quaintest couple imaginable; the Betson's execute some remarkable cycling tricks in their comedy sketch, The Tramp's Holiday; Norah Desmond delights her audience with pleasing songs and beautifully-tinted illustrations, and the Bioscope completes with a most instructive film.

CARLISLE.—H.M. THEATRE.—Lessees, Mr. Thos. Courtice and Mrs. R. Stewart M'Kim; Manager, Mr. Thos. Courtice.—The popular drama Her Road to Ruin occupies the boards here this week. Miss Beatrice Edwards gives a powerful and artistic rendering of the part of Jess Willoughby; Miss Alice Bowes is delightfully sweet and winsome as May Willoughby; Nelly Bonser is well placed as Mary Dawson; Miss Marie Wright as Jennie Crackling proves herself a comedy actress of great merit; Mr. Henry Woolston is excellent as Frank Temple; Mr. Alex Bradley depicts the villainies of Philip Hardy to perfection. That sound actor Mr. Dane Clark never misses a point as the Bishop, and Mr. V. R. C. Moors does good work as Tom Wells.

THE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Signor Rino Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. F. Morgan.—La Milo, in representations of ancient and modern statuary, is the principal attraction this week. Crowded houses have been showing their appreciation of her art by hearty applause and numerous curtain calls. She gives representations of the Venus of Milo, Ceres, and Diana, the details of the originals being so faithfully reproduced that the effect is most vivid and realistic. The scenic effects are exceedingly good. Of the other artists, Jennie Johns, who is an old favourite here, scores an enormous success. Special mention should be made of Violet King's musical performance, which is remarkably clever. Harrigan and Holt patter amusingly; Walter Stanley as a comedian makes a decided success; the Ellimans are clever musical entertainers; Sandy McNab, in a sketch, The Mummy, is funny. The Bioscope completes.

CASTLEFORD.—ROYAL.—Sole Proprietor and Licensee, Mr. Chas. Gadsby; Business-Manager, Councillor Henry Masterman, J.P.—Mr. and Mrs. Kimberley and Messrs. Travis Green and Arthur Hinton's company are here with The Power of the King. Mr. Travis Green's work is realistic, as he invests the profligate Crown Prince Oscar with a sufficiency of bombast and brutality; Mr. Gerald Blake gives a manly and convincing portrait of Captain Landgrave; Mr. Charles Whitlock, with a commanding appearance, is fully equal to all the demands made upon him as the King; the unfaithful General Stenovie is played with distinction by Mr. P. Morton Wright; Mr. John Campling plays effectively the part of Alberta; Miss Dorothy Clifton is an attractive Lady Anastasia, and she plays in a graceful and becoming manner; the spiteful and vindictive Lady Florina is vigorously portrayed by Miss Georgina V. France; Miss Ruby Sutherland is a pretty and engaging Phillipe; while Miss Grace Barton as Margot, Mr. Wilton Drury as Fritz, and Mr. Fred Hughes as Capella supply the lighter elements that keep the fun rolling merrily with their love scenes.

QUEEN'S THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. Chas. Beanland and W. H. Emerson; General-Manager, Mr. Will. H. Emerson.—Mlle. Von Etta is mystifying and entertaining densely-packed audiences with her series of illusions, electrical dances, protean and quick changes; Barrett and Knowles are comedians, and the originality and humour of their songs and patter is amply testified by the continuous roars of laughter from a thoroughly amused audience; Berrill, in a speciality act, will take some excelling, and the house is not slow in showing appreciation; the Bohemians give a number of pleasing selections on a variety of brass and other instruments; Les Henris exhibit many feats of skill and strength as gymnasts and equilibrists; Gulliver's ventriloquial turn is much appreciated; the Woellhafs, knockabouts, with songs, dances, and patter, work hard, and meet with their due share of applause; D. W. Watson, with cornet and coach horn, is very favourably received. The animated pictures by the Loyal Dominion Co. are as good as ever.

CHATHAM. — Theatre Royal. — Proprietors, Messrs. C. and L. B. Barnard; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lionel Barnard.—Here we have Mr. James Welch's company in When Knights Were Bold. Mr. Henry J. Ford is deserving of the highest commendation for his clever representation of Sir Guy de Vere; Mr. Vernon Sansbury gives a good character sketch of Isaac Isaacson; Mr. Cecil Clayton is sufficiently foppish as the Hon. Charles Widdicombe; Mr. William Lockhart is admirably suited to the rôle of the Rev. Peter Pottleberry; Sir Brian Ballymote has a fine representative in Mr. George Rowlands; and Miss Bruce Joy makes a great impression as Lady Rowena Eggington. The farce is preceded by F. Howell Evan's duologue, The Wrong Side of the Road, presented in telling and amusing manner by Miss Phyllis Back and Mr. Cecil Clayton.

Gaiety Theatre of Varieties.—Proprietor, Capt. H. E. Davis; Manager, Mr. F. Warden Reed.—The Ten Loonies top the bill here and create any amount of fun with their musical absurdity, entitled Dotty; Ted Young is welcomed back again; the Sisters Hall prove pleasing duettists; Prince Narharam's illusions mystify the audience; Duncan and Brasque, in My Lancashire Wife, are very cordially received; Teresa Da Silva is a great favourite, her choruses being very readily taken up; Kitty Beverley appears as a comedienne; and the Edisonograph has an amusing film, Fido's Taking Way.

CHELTENHAM.—Opera House.—General-Manager, Mr. H. Oswald Redford.—Miss Annie Hughes presented The Mollusc on Monday. Miss Hughes, in the title-part Mrs. Baxter is simply delicious, her acting being most realistic and convincing; Mr. Alick Chumley's study of the part of Richard Baxter is a work of art in its absolute naturalness; Mr. Athol Stewart as Tom Kemp realises the bright, normal humanity of the part, being notably good when wrestling with the confirmed "molluscry" of his exasperating sister; and Miss Lillias Waldegrave makes a distinct and attractive personality of the indispensable governess, Miss Roberts. A Bit of Old Chelsea precedes the comedy.

CHESTER. — Royalty Theatre.—Proprietors, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Resident-Manager, Mr. C. B. Fountaine.—An excellent variety company is here this week. Maurin's fountains delight the audience with their prismatic effects; Jan Vaubert introduces a novel act of magic and art; Will E. Stopit is an eccentric comedian; Kitty Kennedy Allen shines as a comedienne; Alpho, the ventriloquist, is a pleasing turn; Jack North is a comedian of merit; Blancho J. White dances smartly; the Colonials in their musical scena Unexpected Guests give a pretty and realistic picture of life in the Wild West; and some startling pictures by the Premier Imperial Biograph complete the bill.

CHORLEY (Lancs.).—Grand Theatre.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. G. T. Santé; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Santé.—Mr. G. Carlton Wallace's capital company is here in The Love that Women Desire. Mr. J. C. Stewart is a good Squire Abingdon, and is capitally backed up by Mr. Morris Maud as Richard Abingdon; Mr. Sydney Leyton gives a fine exposition as Philip Carnaby; Mr. John Hignett wins approbation as Dennis O'Rourke; and Mr. J. W. Wilkinson is capable as P.C. Sowerbury. Miss Aimee Grattan Clyndes gives an emotional rendering of Sybil Thornburn; Miss Jessie Elvin embodies Madge Abingdon with undeniable strength; and Miss May Neilson is exceptionally good as Patty Swift.

COATBRIDGE.—Theatre Royal.—Proprietors, The Coatbridge Theatre Co., Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. John Commins.—Yukio Tani, the emperor of ju-jitsu wrestlers, delights the house here with his skill and agility; Mr. Harry Carlton, comedian and dancer, displays ability; Morimura mystifies the audience with his Oriental illusions; Jack Ramsay deserves the applause accorded him as a Scotch comedian; Alix Lukos as a quick-change artist is well received; Jack McCormack, comedian, is clever with his patter; the Sisters Lotus, vocalists, render their songs with good effect; the Acmes, musical grotesques, are much admired; Harry Bennett and Nellie Sterling, American comedy entertainers, delight the house; Hennessy and Martell, vocalists, patterers, and dancers, provide an excellent treat; Colvil and Tate, comedy artists, are recalled for their clever dancing and patter; and from an American Bioscope the latest pictures are shown.

COLCHESTER.—Theatre Royal.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. Charles Macdona; Lessee and Manger, Mr. F. Graham Macdona.—Mr. Lewis Waller's principal company in Robin Hood, under the direction of Mr. F. Clive Ross, opened a week's engagement here on Monday. In the title-rôle Mr. Ethelbert Edwards presented a picture quite to one's taste and imagination; Miss Lilian Stennis portrayed Lady Marion with captivating grace; Mr. H. Elliott Ball sustained the part of Prince John with a keen sense of its scheming and selfishness; the small but important part of Richard was ably depicted by Mr. J. N. Briant; Mr. F. Clive Ross and Mr. Bruce Winston introduced the drollest comedy into the cheery and popular characters of Little John and Friar Tuck respectively; Miss Laurie Flockton was delightfully naïve as the ingenious Adela; whilst the excellent voice of Mr. Spencer Lloyd made him a most welcome Allan a'Dale.

Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Colchester Hippodrome Co.; Directors, Messrs. Fredk. Mouillot and Walter de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. Ben de Frece.—Speedwell, the lightning artist and portrait painter is popular; Charles Baldwin is responsible for two items on the bill, viz., First Night and The Merry Wives, in both of which his company of comedians and knockabout artists are seen to advantage; Jenny Lynn, character comedienne, goes well with her songs; Friscari, the tall-hat juggler, is clever and effective; Nina St. Elmo is heard to advantage in a low comedy song; and the Pathé film on the 'scope is a happy conclusion.

CONSETT.—New Theatre.—Lessee, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Lloyd Clarance.—Messrs. O. Silverstone and H. Wright's company is here with The Nihilist. Mr. Joseph Millane plays with power as Ivan Nowasky; as Karl Orloff Mr. Cowell Clark is effective; Prince Alexander is ably sustained by Mr. Wm. Carriden; and Mr. O. Silverstone is well suited as Petoff; Mr. Henry Wright is a funny Bobbie, being ably assisted by Miss Jessica Ford as Katrina; Miss Florrie Kelsey created a favourable impression as the Princess Olga; and as Alexina Orloff Miss Edna Clare is quite successful.

CORK.—Palace Theatre, Ltd.—Manager, Mr. Thos. F. O'Brien.—The excellent programme here includes the 'Varsity Girls, capital singers; Fred Arthur, comedian; the Gentrys, a lady and gentleman, who are amusing from start to finish; Fioretti and Billy, in a barrel and spade-jumping act; Coverdale, in songs and monologue; McAskell, conjurer; the Four Eugenes on the horizontal bars; and the Palascope.

Opera House.—Manager, Mr. R. J. Bell.—The Irish Animated Picture Company is showing here new living pictures, which are up to date and interesting.

COVENTRY.—Opera House.—Proprietor, Mr. W. Bennett.—Mr. Leonard Boyne is paying a visit to the above house this week, and presents, for the first time in Coventry, Raffles. In the title-rôle Mr. Leonard Boyne gives a polished rendering. He is ably supported by Miss Hilda Moore, a charming Gwendoline; Miss Beatrice Fitzgerald, an effective Lady Ethel; and Mr. E. W. Thomas, who is seen to advantage as Curtis Bedford. Others who add to the success are Mr. Harold West as Harry Manders; Mr. Arthur Willoughby as the Earl of Amersteth; and Miss Dorothy Gordon as the French Maid.

Hippodrome Theatre.—Manager, Mr. S. T. Newsome; Resident-Manager, Mr. G. E. Wright.—The top turn on the bill is given by Mr. Edwin Boyde, who is encored again and again; Mr. J. A. Wilson, comedian and dancer, causes plenty of amusement with his well-trained dog "Private Towser"; a very good turn is given by Hayes and Merritt, bounding trampolinists, their acrobatic somersaults being exceedingly clever; Shirley and Ransome's episode, 'Arf a Quid, makes a decided hit; Miss Helen Charles, an artist of exceptional merit, gives a novel drawing-room entertainment; Miss Ray Ford is good as a singer and dancer; a very smart turn is given by Mr. Alfred Graham's Premier Juveniles; and Ruffell's Bioscope finishes the performance with some excellent pictures of Mr. Wilbur Wright's aeroplane flights.

The Empire.—Proprietor, Mr. Geo. Dance; Manager, Mr. K. Draco.—An interesting programme is presented at the above house this week. The chief item is a quartette of Serenaders, who appear in a quaint old Venetian scene; Blake and Amber reappear in an amusing musical act; Gerrard is a juggler of the strong man type; Fred Edwards's company appears in an amusing comedy, A Nice Quiet Morning; and other artists who capably assist are Rob Roy, a Scotch comedian; Mike Nono, comedian and dancer; Fred Poplar, comedian; and Fred Hastings, comedian.

CRADLEY HEATH.—Empire Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Jno. H. Morton.—Mr. Chas. H. Lester's company is here with A Life for a Life. Senorita Bianca Fernandez as Eulalie gives us a good piece of emotional acting; Little Irene does well as Venetia; Miss Dorothy Riddell deserves special mention for her Kate Evelyn; Mr. Richard Bosco as Pedro gives a finished presentment; Mr. Chas. H. Lester as Don Leon has fine scope for his histrionic power; Miss Lydia Hart as Nancy Dorn and Mr. Edmond O'Grady as Tim McCarthy keep the fun rolling along; and Mr. Harry T. Wood as Kit Oswald is successful.

CREWE.—Opera House.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. G. Dudley Bennett; Resident-Manager, Mr. Chas. Howard.—Mr. Brandon Thomas's company, in Charley's Aunt, is a strong attraction here. Mr. T. McCausland Stewart makes a capital Sir Francis; Mr. Hastings Lynn is an excellent Jack Chesney; and Mr. Basil Lynton a highly effective Charley Wykeham. As Lord Fancourt Babberley, Mr. G. A. Seager is perfectly at home and thoroughly amusing; Mr. Roy Byford gives a good rendition of Stephen Spettigue; and Mr. Sydney Compton is suitably placed as Brasset. Miss Vere Gerald is a charming Donna Lucia; Miss Olivia Glynne a fresh and natural Kitty; and Miss G. Denbeigh-Russell a delightful Amy; Miss Evelyn Gray being a graceful and pleasing Ela Delahay.

CROYDON. — Grand Theatre. — Manager, Mr. Roland Daniel; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Ernest Archer.—Mr. Charles M. Bestic's company is being well received here in The Flower Girl. Mr. Norman Bowyer is full of life and spirit as Reginald Rackit, and keeps the fun at high pressure. His performance is an admirable one, and he wins the warmest applause. Mr. Alfred Donohoe is very droll as Johnny Wheeler; Mr. Robert H. Howard deserves congratulations on his acting and singing as the Honourable Billy Greenhill; Mr. Henry Adnes contributes to the success as Alphonse de Racquet; and Messrs. P. Prujean, Arthur Carter, and F. Williams do well as a policeman, Mr. Bunker, and Bertie. Miss Dorothy Firmin is delightfully fresh and charming as Lily; Miss Florence Wilton is smart and enchanting as Lizette de Racquet; Miss Jennie Holmes just touches the right note as Miss Greenhill; Miss Townley Laurence is good as Maisie Flirtington; and Misses Cassie King, Alice King, Phyllis Leslie, and Kitty Hyde dance neatly as Jessie, Maudie, Kate, and Dot. Mr. Roland Daniel is an energetic and courteous manager.

Empire Palace of Varieties.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Walter Gibbons and Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Eustace Jay.—There is an admirable bill of fare at this popular house. The Selbinis, acrobatic trick cyclists, give a brilliant turn; Chanti, the modern Proteus, receives quite an ovation for his smart act; Pender's giants are very good; Ruffell's pictures are worth seeing, as usual; Tiger Lily is a neat acrobatic dancer; Texas Hattie gives a commendable performance on the tight rope; Frank and Free, comedy artists, are much enjoyed; Nora Grey, a first-class comedienne and mimic; Daisy James's bewitching style is always acceptable; and Nipper Lupino Lane scores a success in song and dance. Mr. Sydney R. Axford is an exceptionally clever musical-director.

DARLINGTON.—Theatre Royal.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. James Bell; Acting-Manager, Mr. Hal Cummings.—Mr. John Leopold's company is here with his musical absurdity New Frivolity, preceded each evening by his latest production, The Houseboat. Mr. Watson Hume as Oliver Buckwheat is very funny; Mr. John Leopold, jun., as Daniel Teething suits the part admirably; Mr. Charles Goff makes much of the rôle of Jules Vermiglio; Mr. Willie Leopold as Samuel Vermiglio provides plenty of comedy; Mr. Tom Leopold is excellent as Professor Fumble; and Mr. Ernest Leopold as Tickle is a success. Miss Amy Hall as Lucy Buckwheat is charming, her dancing and singing being excellent; Mme. Cobweb is acceptably played by Miss Cathleen Cavanagh. The Houseboat, and the Café Grounds, Paris, are creditable examples of scenic art.

New Hippodrome, Ltd.—Managing-Director, Signor Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. Hersee.—The chief item in an attractive bill is Chung Ling Soo, who fairly baffles the audience with his clever conjuring; an interesting performance is given by Ted Karno and company in the absurdity Dinner Hour. Other good turns are provided by Fred Spencer, novelty comedian; the Florias, in their comedy wire act; Arthur Slater, the whistling man in white; Florence Yaymen, with her coon songs; and Baker and Balfe, with eccentric dancing. The Pepiscope brings an entertaining bill to a finish.

DERBY.—Grand Theatre and Opera House.—Sole Proprietor and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Charles Denley.—The Monckton-Hoffe comedy company is here this week with Irene Wycherley. Miss Maude Henderson, who figures in the title-rôle, is a charming and delightful actress; Mr. Clifton Boyne, who plays Harry Chesterton, acquits himself admirably; and another striking character study is given by Mr. Ralph Hutton, whose portrayal of Sir Peter Wycherley, Bart., is remarkable. Mr. Charles Garry makes the utmost of the rôle of Philip Wycherley; and Charles Summers is in the capable hands of Mr. Claude Haviland, who also discharges the duties of stage-manager. Mrs. Lily Summers is cleverly impersonated by Miss Marjorie Devonport; Miss Grace Illingworth, Miss Evelyn Cecil, Miss Emmie Creamer, Miss Muriel Carmel, Miss Beatrice Mervyn, and Miss Phyllis Stuckey are all as capable as they are charming. The play is preceded by a clever little curtain-raiser, entitled Petticoat Perfidy, in which Miss Grace Illingworth, Miss Beatrice Mervyn, and Miss Evelyn Cecil appear with conspicuous success.

Palace.—Lessee and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes.—As the star turn here this week George Marriott and company are presenting a short, dramatic representation of Oliver Twist. The characters are all in good hands, and the production is a distinct success. Orpheus, described as a master of melody, plays a number of musical instruments; Denby and Dent, a couple of smart comedians, are amusing; the Four Netherlands are pleasing lady vocalists and dancers; the Cheers appear in a novel scena, entitled Dick Whittington, and their cleverly trained cats go through an interesting performance; Mabel le Roy is a charming chorus comedienne; and Al and Lal, eccentric entertainers, provide a good ventriloquial number. The Bioscope contributes a dramatic film to an entertaining programme.

DEVONPORT.—Theatre Metropole.—Manager, Mr. Geo. S. King.—Mr. Ian Maclaren and his well-balanced company, in Shakespearean répertoire, furnish an appreciable change to melodrama. On Monday Hamlet was admirably portrayed. Mr. Maclaren's delineation of the Prince was excellent, the speeches and assumed madness being performed in a fashion deserving the highest commendation; Mr. Matthew Boulton was a hard-working Claudius; Miss Marion L'Estrange was dignified and aristocratic as Queen Gertrude; and Miss Muriel Dole as Ophelia was both fascinating and pathetic. Mr. George Ralph make a manly Laertes; Mr. Guy Hamlet was particularly well suited to the part of Horatio; and Mr. J. Stafford Dawson aroused much merriment as the First Gravedigger. The week's contributions have also included The Merchant of Venice, Romeo and Juliet, David Garrick, and Othello.

Hippodrome.—Manager, Mr. Herbert Taylor.—George Bastow, with his catchy songs, is a source of great attraction; Frank Long, Omoyo San, and company furnish some interesting exhibition wrestling and ju-jitsu; while Mr. Long has had some tough encounters with local aspirants; Paul Vandy performs some mystifying conjuring, whilst his jugglery would be difficult to beat; and Henry Hilton is also a finished exponent of the same class of business; Vasey and Ramsey present an entertaining sketch, entitled The German and His Butler, in which some well-executed step-dances occupy a prominent position; Bertha Norwood is an attractive soubrettist and dancer; and Lambert and Hands (vocal duettists) and Marion Armitage (the Comedy Girl) also furnish some well-received numbers.

DONCASTER.—New Grand Theatre and Empire.—Manager, Mr. J. W. Chapman.—The Four Maisanos, scientific musicians, are clever and entertaining; Alice Maude is a promising child mimic and male impersonator; Napoli Singers, in vocal scena, An Evening at Home, give the audience a refined musical treat; Rosa Tilley, comedienne and burlesque actress, is engaging; Tom Joy, comedian, gives of his best; the Sisters Kilner, vocalists and acrobatic dancers, sing well and are neat dancers; Bert Allen, Liliputian comedian, is a feature of the bill; and mystery and dexterity are the characteristics of Mozzetto, juggler.

DOVER. — Royal Hippodrome. — Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. S. W. Winter; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. W. Holford.—A very bright and attractive programme is presented this week, the star turn being the Courtiers, in a refined vocal and dancing act; Gwyer and Morley patter and sing well. The excellent acting of An Extra Turn makes that little comedy-drama most interesting; Selby and Myers' smart patter and smarter dancing win them popularity; "Sleigh Bells," a pretty song, is admirably rendered by Nelly Neil; Arthur Weaver is humorous in his songs, and an extra turn is given by two comedians. Last Saturday afternoon a Bioscope matinée was given for the benefit of the children.

DUBLIN.—Gaiety Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mrs. Michael Gunn; General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. Charles Hyland.—Mr. Hayden Coffin and John Coates's company are here this week with the delightful musical play Dorothy, which was enthusiastically received on Monday night. Miss Ruth Davenport acted well and sang sweetly in the title-rôle; Mr. Hayden Coffin was particularly successful as Harry Sherwood; Miss Primrose Harding sang and acted exceedingly well as Lady Betty; Mr. John Coates's fine voice proved an immense advantage as Geoffrey Wilder; Mr. Arthur Williams made a distinct hit as Lurcher, and Miss Hebe Bliss as Lydia Hawthorne, Miss Aimee Roberts as Philliss Tuppitt, and Miss Emily Spiller as Mrs. Privett are all to be commended for excellent portrayals; Mr. Colin Coop sustained the part of Squire Bantam to perfection, and the rôles of Tom Strutt, John Tuppitt and the Parson are satisfactorily filled by Messrs. Tim Ryley, Fred J. Vigay, and E. Neville respectively. The staging and scenery were perfect, and the choruses and orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Frederick Rosse, all that could be desired.

Theatre Royal.—Managing-Director, Mr. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Parrington.—Florodora occupies the boards here this week. Mr. Fred Eastman gives a capital enactment of Anthony Tweedlepunch causing laughter from start to finish; Miss Edith Housley portrays the rôle of Lady Holyrood in a charming manner; Cyrus W. Gilfain is cleverly interpreted by Mr. Stanley White, and Mr. H. V. Croton makes a good deal of the part of Frank Abercoed; Mr. Herbert St. John does ample justice to the rôle of Captain Arthur Donegal, and Miss M. Van Diemay makes a good impression as Valeda. The minor parts are well filled, and the choruses and orchestra, under the conductorship of Mr. J. Morton Hutcheson, excellent.

Queen's Theatre.—Lessee, Mr. W. S. Pearce; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. Hereford Jones.—The new series of pictures presented here this week, and which are attracting large audiences, includes A Dramatic Escape from a Harem, Married for Nothing, Vestal, A Yacht Race, The Cabby's Sweetheart, The Angel of the Village, A Lover of Dogs, The Pumpkin Race, Whimsical People, The Sentimental Thief, &c. The variety artists appearing are La Sympeth in a spectacular dance, the Two Dents, refined entertainers and dancers, and Bob Pearson, humorist and guide.

Empire. — General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager and Secretary, Mr. George H. Marsh.—A capital bill of fare is presented here this week, headed by Fred Kitchen and Frank Lister in the American dramatic sketch, No. 99, which has been nightly applauded. The reception accorded Mr. J. W. Rowley proves that this clever comedian has lost none of his popularity, and Ella Dean, vocalist and comedienne, wins cordial applause; a clever turn is contributed by the Eight Sunrays, who sing and dance with artistic finish; La Belle Nello, Queen of Equipoise, makes a big success; the Three Rochesters, society entertainers, are deservedly popular, and Minnie Wheaton, a bright and vivacious comedienne, sings and dances in capital style; Charles Stevens character vocalist, receives marked appreciation, and the Empire pictures are up to the usual standard.

Tivoli.—General-Manager, Mr. Charles M. Jones; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. A. Murphy.—The Three Donals are at the top of the bill here this week, and they give an exceedingly fine gymnastic performance; Walter Roxbury and company submit with success a clever dramatic sketch entitled What Women Do; in their comedy duologue Betsy's Blunder Mr. and Mrs. Shelley provoke much laughter, and Shang Hia, Chinese conjurer, gives a mystifying performance; Sandle and Somers score heavily as comedians and dancers, and Anileda and her Eccentric are highly amusing in their comedy act; Gravetta and Parr, novelty artists, are well received, and Lina Leslie, comedienne, provides a pleasing turn. The Bioscope depicting Fido's Taking Way completes a good programme.

World's Fair and Music Hall.—Proprietor, Mr. C. A. James.—The company engaged here this week includes:—The Morrisons, vocal duettists; Tony Regan, comedian; Miss Amy Bayne, ballad vocalist; Jolly Jack Murray, quaint comedian; Charles Redd, light comedian; Dandie and Danby, comedians and patterers, and the cinematograph.

DUDLEY.—Opera House.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. Maurice Clement; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. W. Tilley.—A Soldier's Honour is well received here this week. The soldier-like qualities of Captain Deane are ably brought out by Mr. Millar Anderson, a similar compliment applying to Mr. T. Arthur Ellis as Captain Gerald Temple; Mr. Andrew Money gives a sound representation of the villainous Henry Thornton; Miss Ruth Zillwood, well gowned and of good figure, as Cora Lee roused the feelings of her audience by the intensity and fervour of her acting; Miss Edie Macklin as Jemima Eliza, the slavey, was amusing with quaint and original humour; and Miss Mabel Mannering quickly won sympathy for a gentle and pathetic rendering of Doreen Illingworth. All other parts are ably filled.

Empire.—Managing-Director, Mr. Fred H. Anderson; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. H. Waters.—An attractive programme is headed by the Three Calbas, acrobatic funniosities, a turn exceptionally clever and amusing; the Thompson Trio score heavily in a comedy act entitled Watch the Chalk; the Three Tivoli Girls, vocalists and dancers, are old favourites, who are always welcome; Morrin and Cardiff, comedians and dancers, are very smart; Bert Lytton, swell comique, has a very good style; and Walter Buxton is a powerful baritone. The Empire pictures are always enjoyable.

DUNDALK.—Town Hall Theatre.—Proprietors, Urban Council.—Mr. Geo. Mallin's clever pantomime company is appearing here this week in Robinson Crusoe. Miss G. Lovel is seen to great advantage in the title-rôle, and wins frequent applause for her singing; Miss Lily Richardson is charming as Susan, and gains approval for her clever dancing; Mr. Geo. Mallin as Billy Crusoe causes unlimited fun; and Mr. C. Spencer, in the part of Will Atkins, is exceedingly droll. Dame Crusoe is in the capable hands of Mr. Sydney Ernest, who is provided with some capital songs; Mr. Ebbsworth ably portrays the character of Davy Jones; and Miss Maud Harvey essays the rôle of Queen White Heather artistically, alike in a dramatic and vocal sense. The other parts are all adequately cast.

DUNDEE.—Her Majesty's Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Manager, Mr. Louis Karpe.—The Walls of Jericho pays its third visit here. Mr. Alfred Goddard gives an admirable study of the straight-speaking young millionaire Jack Frobisher; Mr. Russell Barry makes a big impression by his fine performance of the part of Hankey Bannister; Mr. Ben Lewin is an excellent Marquis of Steventon; Lord Drayton is effectively played by Mr. Christopher Steele; Harry Dallas is cleverly impersonated by Mr. Henderson Bland; and Lord Marchmont, the Hon. Wilfred Renton, and Bertram Hannaford are presented in capable fashion by Messrs. O. Gee, Francis Drake, and George Percy respectively. Miss Nancy Beresford gives a convincing delineation of the Lady Alethea; Miss Elsie Ross scores a success as Lady Lucy Derenham; Miss Ormonde Wynne is an effective Lady Westerby; and the Duchess of Skye, Lady Porchester, Miss Wyatt, and Miss Morning are well sustained by Misses Millie Emden, Gladys Meyrick, Mabel Mears, and Pauline Strauss.

Palace Theatre. — Lessees, the United County Theatres, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. S. McIntosh.—At the head of affairs are Charles Majilton and company in their laughter-provoking sketches The Trippers and Round the Clock; Harry Pleon causes great merriment with his absurdities; Allsopp and Beckwith are a clever comedy couple; the Two Clares score a success in their song scena Trouble on a Motor-car; Harry Nelson makes a hit with "My Wife's a Suffragette"; the Bryan Troupe of dancers are much appreciated; Ondra, the juggling comedian, provides an enjoyable turn; Johnny Holland and company create roars of laughter with The Boatbuilders; Maxford and O'Neill win applause for their patter; and the Bioscope concludes.

Gaiety Theatre.—Lessee, Mrs. Lillie Williams; Licensee and Manager, Mr. W. E. Potts; Business-Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—Lillie Williams' gorgeous pantomime Robinson Crusoe and His Man Friday was produced here on Monday evening. A full notice is found in another column.

Empire Theatre.—Lessee and Manageress, Mrs. Lillie Williams; Business-Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—At the head of the variety programme is Elsie Earle, who repeats her success at the Gaiety last week; Max Allen, a Scottish ventriloquist, is accorded a hearty reception; John E. West is repeatedly encored. The rest of the programme consists of Prince Edward's pictures, among them being a fine production of the well-known story Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Newmann's Picture Palace.—A very excellent picture programme is provided by Mr. Fred Newmann this week. A very popular dramatic picture is Zulu's Heart; Vampire's Boast and The Vacquoror's Vow prove very exciting, while others which meet with much approval are The Circus, The Day's Fishing, and a very fine dramatic film entitled Benveneto. Bandoni displays extraordinary ability in his playing of a large selection of musical instruments.

EASTBOURNE. — Pier Pavilion Theatre.—Manager, Mr. George Hayes. — Miss Violet Osmund's company is here in The Belle of the Ball. Upon Mr. Johnny Schofield falls a large share of the work, and endless fun is at his command as Tibbs; Mr. Philip Williams does able work as Sir Francis; Mr. Johnny Schofield, jun., helps cleverly as Bobbie Fletcher; Mr. L. C. Hughes is a satisfactory Gussie; Mr. F. Morris works hard as Farmer Jones; and Mr. E. Lette does well as Foster. Miss Christine Roy sings daintily and acts prettily as Poppy; Miss Freda Morris is a charming Queenie; Miss May Hawthorne a picturesque San Toi; and Miss Vera Grafton a spirited and effective Lucy.

Devonshire Park Theatre.—Sole Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Murray King and Clark.—Messrs. Hardie and Von Leer's company is appearing here in The Girl I Love. Mr. E. Howard Templeton plays with feeling as Philip Dunree; Mr. Clinton Baddeley makes a success of the strong part of Silas Brandon; Mr. Herbert Leonard is a happy and natural Jake Long; Mr. Charles V. Sandford is full of animation as Frank Sudley; Mr. Henry C. Morton helps the fun along in a pleasing manner as Timothy Parkiss; and Mr. H. de Ville helps well as the Rev. Dillon. Miss Ida Millais is a sympathetic Dorothy Marlow; Miss Katherine Clark plays with refinement and feeling as Nancy Nollid; Miss Bertha Hanbury very prettily enacts the part of Little Jack; Miss Isabel de Cresse is a realistic Indian girl, Myama; and Miss Laura Dyson does capital work as Daisy Virginia. On Wednesday afternoon Sir John Hare and company paid a farewell visit in A Pair of Spectacles. Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company was billed to appear on Thursday in Mrs. Ponderbury's Past.

Royal Hippodrome.—Managing-Director, Mr. Sidney W. Winter; District-Manager, Mr. George Egbert; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Holloway.—At the head of an excellent bill here are Conn and Conrad, in a funny act; in the sketch Ferdie's Ma-in-Law Messrs. A. Richardson, H. Flockton Forster, and Miss Rita Vincent create much genuine laughter; the Rose Trio are neat and accomplished acrobats; Miss Maud Beaumont, beautifully gowned, is a very clever burlesque artist; Grogie is a popular yokel and old man impersonator; the Sisters Allen are bright singers and dancers; Miss Connie Mori is an exceptionally gifted dancer; and new pictures are shown.

ECCLES.—Crown Theatre.—Proprietors, Messrs W. H. Broadhead and Son; Manager, Mr. Albert Rogers.—Mr. J. A. Campbell is presenting The Old Folks at Home. Miss Maud Warburton plays Dorothy Robin with great feeling; Miss Katie Froude gives a clever rendering of Patricia Bathurst; Miss Lillian Francis does full justice to the part of Dinah; Miss Helen Cronie makes a good nurse; much fun is caused by the joint efforts of Miss Nellie Hook and Mr. Frank Caffery in the respective characters of Susan Giles and Ben Jolley; Mr. Frank Liston is smart as Lord Howard Kenilworth, a dissolute young nobleman; Mr. Aidan Lovett gives a strong representation of Andrew Ross; Hugh Lovell is ably depicted by Mr. Vernon Proctor.

EDINBURGH.—Royal Lyceum Theatre.—Proprietors, Messrs. Howard and Wyndham, Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Minshull; Acting-Manager, Mr. Wm. M. Downie.—Mr. Gaston Meyer has brought his company to Edinburgh with Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch. The play, with its quaint glimpses of rural life in America, has aroused much interest, for although the types of character are somewhat outside the experience of the average British playgoer, they appeal to a common humanity. It is fortunate for the piece that the leading rôle is in the hands of such a fine artist as Mrs. Madge Carr Cook. The actress possesses a rich gift of humour, and her impersonation of Mrs. Wiggs is a thing to remember, not only because of the broad effects of comedy it contains, but for the tender vein of feeling that touches the audience at times to deep emotion. Miss Rita Carlyle is exceedingly droll as the Miss Hazy; Miss Mary Deverell is a bright and pleasing Lovey Mary; and Miss Violet Vivian an amusing Mrs. Schultz. A notable character sketch is contributed by Mr. Frederick Forrest in his clever performance of Mr. Stubbins; and the remaining actors give valuable support, the work of the children being particularly intelligent.

King's Theatre.—General-Manager, Mr. Amand Mascard.—A strong programme, without a weak spot, is presented here this week. The Countess Romanoff, a beautiful woman and graceful dancer, heads the bill, and performs several classical dances with skill. A piece full of clever farcical effects, entitled The Collar Stud, is played with immense go and drollery by Miss Edith Muir, Mr. Hubert Bland, and company; Mr. George Langdon and company give with real dramatic power a number of scenes from popular plays, and are loudly applauded for their efforts; the Tennessee Coloured Guards perform various lightning drill evolutions with great smartness; and Mr. Jules Kiaro proves himself a dexterous equilibrist. It is a treat to hear the singing of Miss Mildred Bryan, a cultured vocalist, whose rendering of several delightful ballads earns her an enthusiastic recall; the charming turn of the Cecilias is notable for good singing and admirable ensemble playing; Miss Marion Van Hymen makes a successful appearance as a reciter; La Belle Greta is a bright comedienne and capital dancer; and the Bioscope, with films serious nd amusing, rounds off the bill.

Empire Palace Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. Aynsley Cook.—Clark and Hamilton are prominent here this week with their singing, music, and dancing entertainment; and Mr. Henry Coutts, assisted by Miss Edith Cornish, presents a remarkably clever quick-change sketch entitled Outflanked, in which the pair impersonate nearly a dozen different characters; while John Warren and company appear with conspicuous success in a military mystery, The Magic Carpet. Of the single-handed turns, Fred Keeton is very amusing; Percy Honri proves a most skilful concertina player, and his organ and bagpipe imitations are quite admirable; Harry Grey, always amusing, brings down the house with a Suffragette ditty; and Jack Pleasants, Olive Armidale, and Jeanie Mackay all give characteristic comedy contributions to the bill; which is completed, as usual, by American Bioscope pictures.

Cooke's Circus. — Proprietor, Mr. John Henry Cooke; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. C. Burns.—Another capital programme, with many fresh and agreeably diversified performances, has drawn large audiences to Mr. Cooke's popular place of amusement. A very charming member of the Cooke family, Miss Edina Marion Cooke, delighted everyone by the grace and skill which she displays in the introduction of a clever pony and poodle; Colquitt, who is entitled "the human kangaroo," is a surprisingly agile jumper, and calls forth abundant applause; the Maltressos are heartily recalled after going through a remarkable trampoline act; and those extremely dashing artists, Ethardo, Pugh, and Obrac, with other smart performers, remain from last week. The work of the large staff of clowns is, as usual, conspicuously good.

EXETER. — Theatre Royal.—Chairman and Managing-Director, Mr. Edward J. Domville, J.P.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy M. Dunsford.—The boards are occupied this week by a successful amateur production of Veronique, on behalf of the West of England Eye Infirmary, a well-deserving charity.

Gilbert's Palace of Varieties, Victoria Hall.—General-Manager, Mr. George Zalva.—Before a good house on Monday Dira, the one-legged acrobat, opened the performance with some clever feats; Mlle. Telka submits two charming songs; Wyllie is an interesting musical tramp; Charlton introduces his magic kettle; Little Dando is an extremely funny midget comedian; Mueller and Cailler, American eccentrics, are good; Will Douglas's Jolly Bakers are responsible for excellent acrobatics; and the Palace pictures complete.

New Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Messrs. F. Karno and A. H. Edwards; Resident-Manager, Mr. Y. Sandy.—An excellent programme this week is headed by Harry Tate's No. 1 Company in Motoring; Carlton presents the mysterious cross illusion; Taree, the musical Bushman, adds a novel contribution to the programme; Clive Watts, swell comedian, is well received; Fred Maitland contributes a mirth-provoking song and sketch; and Miss Winnie Derson and Harry Anderson also contribute to the bill, in which there are some good pictures.

FALKIRK.—Grand Theatre and Opera House.—Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. W. Ebbutt.—This week Miss Ada Frank's company appears in the powerful drama A Fight for Life. Miss Ada Frank has quite a strong part in that of Susanne, and she acts it throughout with much power; Miss Lena Lewis gives a capital presentment of the blind girl, Marie; and Miss Florence M. Daly plays the difficult part of La Cardell with much effectiveness. Mr. Clifton Earle, Mr. William Matthews, and Mr. Courtney Robinson play their respective parts very ably.

FLEETWOOD.—Queen's Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. J. Snelson.—An attraction far above the ordinary run is being staged this week in His Sister's Honour. Mr. Evelyn A'Dell sustains the part of Frank Stanley in a powerful manner; Mr. Walter Wilson as Sir Richard Redvers gives an excellent rendering of a difficult part;

Makes the

Miss Flora Leslie enacts the part of Dora Stanley cleverly; as Ivy Merton, Miss Ethel Ashleigh earns sympathy; Mr. J. R. Tyrell has ample opportunities as Timothy Timid to display his abilities as a comedian, and is ably supported by Miss Maudie Vincent.

FOLKESTONE. — PLEASURE GARDENS THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland. — Mr. Walter Melville is presenting for six nights a very powerful company in The Beggar Girl's Wedding. As the hero Jack Cunningham Mr. Otto Minster acts extremely well in an exacting part; Miss V. Wynne earns much sympathy with her rendering of Bessie Webster; Mr. Herbert Morgan is most effective, and receives capital support from Miss Olive Warne as Maude Villiers; a fine piece of character acting is given by Mr. Harry Playfair in the part of Dodger. All the other parts are excellently portrayed.

GAINSBOROUGH.—KING'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. H. Stear.—A strong variety company is headed by Leoni Clarke, who gives his clever exhibition with trained cats, mice, canaries, &c.; Whisper is an interesting eccentric; the Le Bruns introduce a skilful child juggler; the Dunlops (cyclists), Beattie Bloom (comedienne), Fish and Fish, the Two Daniels, and Sivado Allen (a charming lady gymnast) complete the bill. Pictures by Turner's Bioscope.

EMPIRE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, the Gainsborough Empire Syndicate.—The Lizette Troupe, a clever quartette of lady acrobats, and Tom Bassett, comedian, are the principal turns; Jack Sheppard and Ruby Vesta give a handcuff exhibition; and the bill also includes two sketches, Apartments for Two and The Bank Robbery, well played by Mr. Cecil Dashwood, Mr. Fd. Romer, Mr. Chas. Aldworth, and Miss N. Aldworth. The Marathon race is showing on the Animatograph.

GATESHEAD. — KING'S THEATRE. — Lessees, United County Theatres; Local Manager and Licensee, Mr. Harold Arnold.—Miss Violet Hope in classical dances heads the list here; Margit and Lener, Continental eccentrics, show many original novelties; George Prince positively compels laughter; Austin and Cowan, vocal entertainers, on a return visit, are warmly welcomed; the Three Orleans are tuneful singers and clever dancers; Carl Colyer, a juggling comedian, is popular; and the bill also includes the Katos, with their miniature theatre, and Erom and Charlotta in the cabinet mystery entitled "She at the Stake."

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. F. W. Bolam; General-Manager, Mr. R. G. Elder; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ernest Dixon.—Mr. Walter Melville's company is appearing here in The Girl Who Took the Wrong Turning. Mr. Raymond Wood vividly portrays James Harcourt; Mr. Sidney Sarl is quite at home in the part of Bill Slater; Willie Mason is well looked after by Mr. F. Ronald Adair; Jack Fenton receives capital treatment at the hands of Mr. Frank R. Robertson; Miss Jessie Belmore is a dainty Sophie Coventry; and Miss Zoe Davis's Lucy Coventry is remarkable for its tenderness. Miss Nannie Reade gives a realistic impersonation of Vesta Le Clere.

GILLINGHAM (Kent).—HIPPODROME.—Lessees, The Electric Vaudeville Co.; General-Manager, Mr. W. H. White.—The pictures continue to find favour at this house, and the series this week includes dramatic and humorous films, which are equally interesting. The chronophone is as popular as ever, the most pleasing being that depicting Mr. Will Evans in "The Invasion of 1910." Variety is also added by Miss Marie Elmore with songs and dainty dances.

GLASGOW.—KING'S, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Hugh Macfarlane.—Mr. H. Hamilton Stewart and his company in Sherlock Holmes are proving a great attraction here this week. Mr. H. Hamilton Stewart thoroughly enters into the spirit of the character, and presents a meritorious study of the famous detective; in the part of Alice Faulkner Miss Betty Fairfax's graceful acting is most refreshing; Professor Moriarty finds a powerful exponent in Mr. Robert Gilbert; some particularly good work is done by Mr. Arthur Shelton, who gives a typical impersonation of Dr. Watson; as Billy Master Thomas Russell shows considerable ability; as James Larrabee Mr. Mark D. Draper plays with dramatic force; and Miss Edith Vogne gives a praiseworthy reading of Madge Larrabee; Mr. Douglas Murray is capital as Sidney Prince.

ROYALTY, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Carpenter.—The D'Oyly Carte Répertoire company opened its second week with a specially good performance of The Yeoman of the Guard. Mr. Charles R. Walenn was a great success as Jack Point, and the Shadbolt of Mr. Fred Billington was as grimly humorous as ever; Miss Clara Dow made a charming Elsie Maynard; Miss Beatrice Meredith sang and acted with piquancy as Phœbe; Dame Carruthers had a good exponent in Miss Ethel Morrison; and Miss Mabel Graham sang well as Kate; Colonel Fairfax was particularly well portrayed by Mr. Strafford Moss; Mr. Leicester Tunks as Sergeant Meryll, Mr. Sydney Granville as the Lieutenant, and Mr. Hugh Blackmore as Leonard Meryll, completed an excellent cast. Iolanthe, Mikado, Pirates of Penzance, and The Gondoliers were given later in the week.

METROPOLE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Gordon Jefferson.—Mr. W. W. Kelly's principal company is once again visiting this popular house in A Royal Divorce. Miss Margaret Watson is the Josephine, and gives a touching portrayal of the character; as Napoleon Mr. Keith Fraser looks the part well, and his acting is convincing; Mr. Percy H. Vernon shows a thorough grasp of the rôle of Talleyrand; Mr. Stanley Harrison gives distinction to that of Beaumont; and a dashing Augerean is seen in Mr. Walter T. Clifford; the haughty Marie Louise is well represented by Miss Winnie Tempest; Miss Maud Lacy is a lively Stephanie; the Blanche of Miss Nellie Lucas and the Angelique of Miss Violet Hudson are attractive young ladies; and the King of Rome is smartly played by Miss Ethel Love. Mr. Harold S. Standing's Murat is a dignified figure, and a clever study of Grimaud is given by Mr. George Hudson.

LYCEUM.—Proprietor, Mr. Rich. Waldon; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. H. Oakden.—A good attraction is provided here this week in the new play From Slave to Princess, by Miss Ida Molesworth and Mr. Mark Blow's company, which appeared at the Royal Princess's last week. For Friday evening Under Two Flags was announced.

EMPIRE.—District-Manager, Mr. S. Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Manners.—Bransby Williams is again starring here, giving clever monologues in the earlier evenings of the week, and later his Dickens's impersonations; Marie Dressler has made a decided hit on her first visit, and her "Great big girl," and other diversified impersonations were enthusiastically received; the Hartley Wonders again give a marvellous display of jumping; Maggie Walsh, the singing mill-girl, charms the audience with her sweet voice; the Great Caicedo once more proves his right to the title of king of the wire; Will English is one of the most popular of coloured comedians, and his typical "walks" are very humorous; Three Sisters Lee give a daring acrobatic turn which goes well; Frank Mortimer, comedian, and the Bioscope complete a good programme.

Zoo-HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Councillor E. H. Bostock; Assistant-Manager, Mr. E. H. A. Bostock.—Tarro Miyake, the ju-jitsu champion, is paying a return visit, and takes on all comers; in a comedy trick-cycling act Lotto, Lilo, and Otto are capital; Uncle Obadiah, a sketch produced by Chas. Dixton's company, proves laughable; Benson and Rose are successful in their duologue Elizabeth and the Baby; the sporting sketch, Clever Mr. Fugg, is amusingly presented by the Damerell and Rutland company; Minnie D'Aubyn takes well in a song scena; Sam Dalton is a good comedian; Lilian Travellie, American soubrette, is popular; the comicalities and eccentricities of the Hyde and Cody Trio are much enjoyed; Ada Cerito takes well in her football song; and the Bioscope terminates a good all-round programme.

PAVILION, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Evan Good.—The inimitable Little Tich is crowding this popular house to its utmost capacity, and he comes provided with a budget of new songs, rendered in his own quaint style; Margaret Cooper is paying a quick return visit here. On Monday and Tuesday evenings she was off duty owing to a severe cold, but was expected to appear later in the week. Sterling and Love give a smart musical and vocal comedy item; Cull-Pitt as a conjurer and patterer is equally successful; Ethel Loftus contributes a clever low-comedy sketch; Foy Bros. and company cause roars of laughter in their knockabout farce, The Tea House; the Bains-Reed combination give a clever acrobatic turn; Cassell's Geisha Entertainers take well in their seaside business; and the Mitchelson Troupe of singers and dancers also give a smart show.

PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. Rich. Waldon; General-Manager, Mr. Harry M'Kelvie.—A good all-round company includes Morny Cash, the Lancashire lad, who is warmly welcomed; Effie White presents a smart turn in The Spirit of the Cave; Nancy Thornton is a sprightly and vivacious artist; Humpsti Bumpsti is an original act of comic tumbling, which evokes plentiful fun; the Florodoras appear in a comedy sketch, Two's Company, Three's None, in which they convert their trio into a quartette in a highly-amusing manner; Bob Hamilton is a comedian who gets immediately into favour with his witty jokes and Scotch humour; Nightingale and Stigant enact two ladies who quarrel and make it up again, much to the merriment of the audience. The Palacecope fills up any gaps with moving pictures.

COLISEUM.—District-Manager, Mr. S. Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. Harry Burdette.—The top of the bill is occupied by the Master Mystery, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Thomson, and is a really mystifying act. The inability, through illness, of Ray Wallace, lady mimic, to appear was regretted, but an able deputy was found in Will English, coloured comedian; Madge Temple, "the musical comedy queen," was flatteringly received; the Original Gaudsmidts, acrobats, gave a clever display; and Eddie Hayes and Mona Wynne's dancing well earned the applause with which it was greeted. Other items of the bill include Alice Blandford, a pleasing soprano; Horace White, ventriloquist; Sisters Morgan, duettists and dancers; Naughton and Gold, comedians and patterers; and the Bioscope, with interesting pictures.

GAIETY, LTD.—Manager, Mr. Harry Bowerman.—Welda and Wann, in their comedy juggling act, are popular; a word of praise is merited by the comedy act supplied by Corrie and Foote; Dukes and Earl are duettists and dancers above the average; the Melroses, musical comedy duo, meet with hearty approval; and a series of pictures on the Bioscope concludes the programme. On Tuesday and Wednesday a wrestling tournament was in progress.

PANOPTICON.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. A. E. Pickard.—The variety artists are headed by Whittet and Joseph, expert gymnasts and Indian club manipulators, whose display on the opening night was greatly appreciated by a large audience; Frank Stannett, comedy instrumentalist, was specially favoured; and Belle Ray sang several songs in capital voice, the illustrated slides during their rendering being a pleasing feature; Dave Summerhill, Scotch comedian, made a good appearance. The Bioscope forms a pleasing part of the entertainment, and the pictures displayed are both interesting and amusing.

GLOSSOP. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Sydney Spenser.—A Country Girl in London is being presented here by Mr. Alfred Northway and Mr. W. V. Garrod's company. Mr. John H. Sheridan makes a dignified John Hamilton; Mr. W. V. Garrod does well in the rôle of Frank Gordon; Mr. G. Moreton Williams makes a strong character of Godfrey Clinton; Mr. Clifford Marle is eminently suited in the part of Job Smithers; Mr. E. W. Avery makes a typical Heinrich; and Mr. Seymour Perry is a quaint Puddyphat. Miss Bertha Kingston in the title-rôle is both sympathetic and dignified; Miss Josephine Colona strongly portrays Gwendoline Gordan; and Miss Leslie Adair is successful in a humorous character.

GLOUCESTER. — PALACE.—Owners, Messrs. Poole's Theatres, Ltd.; Director, Mr. C. W. Poole.—The Martelloni Family are talented tumblers and acrobats; and Miss Dora Barrington is an excellent soprano vocalist; Mr. R. H. Douglass makes a hit in his love-making skit; the Goldinis are entertaining with carpet spinning, &c.; Jack Barker does a novel quick-change; and the Lovelaces have a nice illustrated picture show; a dramatic sketch, The Little Colonel, is capitally presented by Mr. E. Montefiore and company; Messrs. Stewart and Evans patter and sing; and Miss Florence Schuberth is a good chorus vocalist. The Palacescope concludes.

KING'S HALL.—Messrs. Poole's Theatre, Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Rea.—Good living pictures and illustrated songs draw capital houses here nightly.

GRAVESEND.—GRAND THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—Manager, Mr. T. W. Wright.—For the week we have here Cissie Ferndale, a bright comedienne; the Dunlops, in a screaming absurdity, My Friend Cuthbert; Lillian Savado, in a novel trapeze act; the Sisters Herbert, a successful combination of juvenile vaudeville artists; Ben Williams, a good comedian; and Alice Hughes and company, in The Star of the Bazaar.

NEW PUBLIC HALL AND THEATRE.—Secretary and Manager, Mr. R. Feaver Clarke, J.P.—Alfred West, with his famous animated entertainment, illustrating life in Our Navy and Our Army, is here for the week, and is proving itself an attractive and popular entertainment.

GREAT YARMOUTH.—ROYAL AQUARIUM.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Nightingale.—Messrs. Travis Green and Arthur Hinton's company, in Home, Sweet Home, is here. As Stephen Armitage, the hero, Mr. Arthur Hinton displays marked ability; Mr. Fred G. Kay gives a clever character sketch as David Armitage; Miss Lydia Audre is excellent as Joan; and Miss Laura Wright cleverly depicts Sybil Fay. The Duke of Ancaster is in the able hands of Mr. Charles Clifford; and Mr. Victor G. Mullard is humorous as the Hon. Percy.

HIPPODROME.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. George Gilbert.—Madame Ella is creating quite a sensation here with her wonderful performing lions; the Sisters Olarc are well received; Eileen Bernard is a charming comedienne; Tamamoto appears in an exceptionally clever wire and rope performance; Sam Shipley is very popular with his humorous songs; the Royal Ohmys are both graceful and daring equestrians; the Royal Quintette of dancers are clever exponents of the Terpsichorean art; Hugo and Mit are very amusing as comedy gymnasts; Doodles continues to delight everyone with his absurdities.

GREENOCK. — ALEXANDRA THEATRE, LTD. — Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Directors and Managers, Messrs. A. B. and J. J. Wright.—Jeanie Deans is played to good houses in excellent style by Mr. John Clyde's talented company. The title-rôle is excellently portrayed by Miss Lena Levenstone, who receives high appreciation from the audience; Effie Deans is realised effectively by Miss Ellen Sennett; and Miss Belle Cecil deserves a special word of praise for her clever impersonation of Madge Wildfire; Mr. Ed. Valentine submits a powerful representation of Geordie Robertson; the ripe experience of Mr. John Clyde makes him particularly suited to the dual rôle of Counsel for the Defence and John, Duke of Argyle; as the Laird o' Dumbiedykes Mr. Wm. George Robb is exceptionally good; Mr. George Hunter is capital as David Deans; and the rest of the cast lend valuable support.

EMPIRE.—Lessees, the Greenock Empire Syndicate; Responsible-Manager, Mr. Edward McCormick; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. J. Colquhoun.—Mr. J. C. Piddock and company, in the musical fantasy The Capture of Venus, are proving an excellent attraction here; some clever juggling is submitted by Marlo; and as triple bar comedians the Maro Duo are a decided success. Coram, a capital ventriloquist; Devon and Earle, the wooden shoe wonders; the Cosman Couple, speciality artists; and Nancy Renshaw, bone soloist, appear with success. An exhibition of the Bioscope is also given.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Harry L. Skivington.—Rose Elliott heads the bill this week, and is heartily welcomed; Frank Elliston and company submit an admirably-acted sketch, entitled My Lady Betty, which is much enjoyed; and entertaining turns are also provided by Marcel and Boris, who contribute some wonderfully clever balancing feats; the Brothers Dean, expert dancers; W. H. Smart, Irish comedian; Kitty Lavigne, comedienne; and Dacey and Lewis, an eccentric comedy couple; while the Dromoscope shows an excellent series of pictures.

TOWN HALL.—Proprietors, the Greenock Corporation. — Bennell's B.B. Picture Company entered upon their concluding week here on Monday, when another fine series of pictures was presented. The films include The French Cupboard, My Ma-in-law Breaks the Record, The Prize Camel, Animated Matches, The Reconciliation, Lost at Sea, &c. Vulcaris, described as the Scottish Grossmith, also appears.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. H. Curry; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. W. North.—Beau Brocade is being presented by Mr. Reginald Dance's company. Mr. Dance himself appears as the bold highwayman, whom he impersonates in admirable fashion; Miss Ruth Mackay invests the part of Lady Patience Gascoyne with pleasing charm; Mr. Dalziell Heron gives a vigorous representation of the blacksmith, John Stitch; Mr. Frank Powell fully realises the scheming character of Sir Humphrey Challoner; Mr. Frank Darch plays the part of the Earl of Stretton with good effect; Mr. Edward Irwin is amusing as the simple shepherd, Jock Miggs; Mr. H. Asheton Tonge also causes amusement as the quaint parish beadle, Jeremiah Inch; Mr. A. E. Mayne is good as Squire West, and the same may be said of Mr. Stanley Lathbury as Mr. Mittachip; whilst Miss May Brooke acts gracefully as Betty.

THE PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. G. Rhodes Parry.—The Orange Girl is a capital dramatic episode, in which Miss Dolly Elsworthy gives an admirable study of Nell Gwyn, and is assisted by a capable company; Lowenwirth and Cohan's Hebrew comedy is greatly enjoyed; the Five M.P.'s (Musical Palmers) are clever instrumentalists; Rousby and Rene appear in a sketch, Fine Feathers, and are capital exponents of the Lancashire dialect; Joe Humphries is a vocal comedian, with good songs; Geo. Blakeney possesses a fine tenor voice; and Leo gives an original ventriloquial act.

GUERNSEY. — THEATRE ST. JULIAN'S. — Lessee, Mr. Ed. Marris; Acting-Manager, Mr. Stanley Hope.— Mr. J. Morton-Powell's company is here, in Day to Day. Mr. Alfred Stretton appears to decided advantage as Paul Inglewood; Charles Neal is in the able hands of Mr. James Jarrett; Mr. H. C. Ward's Drinkworth, Mr. Sid Bryant's Billy, and Mr. Frank Medhurst's Fontebras are all good performances. Miss Elma C. Turner displays ability as Nell Pentacost; Miss J. D. Hicks is highly suitable as Agnes Calthorpe; and Miss Mary Watts Knight is amusing as Nancy Whey.

HALIFAX.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling.—The Merry Widow is paying a return visit to the Royal this week. Mr. Lionel Victor is again delighting audiences with his quaint comedy as Baron Popoff; Mr. Haigh Jackson (Jolidon) has a fine tenor voice, which he uses with effect; Mr. Tom Redmond's excellent interpretation of Nisch, the Prince Danlio of Mr. George Grundy, and the waiter of Mr. Ernest Spalding are excellent. Miss Mary Grey adds a charm of manner to a fine stage presence and a good voice as Natalie; Miss Dora Langham makes an arch Frou Frou, and contributes some pretty dances; Miss Norah Barry is a pretty Olga; Miss Susanne Selbourne is a success as Slyvanie; and Miss Clara Evelyn makes a fascinating Sonia.

GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. S. Winks.—Pictures still attract big audiences here. Celeste is a clever slack-wire performer and gymnast; and Blanche Leslie scores a success as a ballad vocalist.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Reg. H. Foster.—The Donatos, two comical one-legged clowns, capable tumblers and wonderful jumpers, give an amusing turn; The Johnstown Flood is a clever mechanical and electrical exhibition direct from the Franco-British Exhibition; Margaret Radcliffe is successful with illustrated songs; the Evalos give a burlesque juggling act combined with good work on the flying rings; Ford and Barras, "the boys in white and gold," were well received (Ford is a smart dancer); Mr. E. introduces some pictures on the screen with stones and putty; Nat Clifford meets with approval; Elroy, the armless wonder, does some wonderful things with his feet, and is heartily encored. Alice Maydue, character comedienne, and the pictures complete the bill.

HAMILTON, N.B.—HIPPODROME.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. R. H. Bostock; Resident-Manager, Mr. René Clayton.—Miss Harriet Vernon in her charming scena, Sunshine and Shadow, is topping the bill here this week and is proving a big favourite; Frances Letty, styled America's greatest lady wooden shoe dancer, is deservedly popular both in songs and dances; Howard and St. Clair are vastly amusing in a medley of song, dance, and patter; Leslie Race is excellent as a comedian of the swell order, and Cedar and Elgar keep the house in a roar of laughter in their burlesque, Ye Days of Olde; Louis Kerno is a good coon impersonator and dancer; The Burnells are popular in their comedy-sketch Playmates; Little Zola, an old favourite here, has a hearty reception; and the Bioscope concludes a good programme

HANLEY.—ROYAL.—Proprietors, Hanley Theatres and Circus Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. G. Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Douglas Elphinstone.—The Moody-Manhers Opera Company this week visit the music-loving district of the potteries, and are attracting splendid houses. The répertoire presented consists of Faust, The Meistersingers, The Star of the North, Il Trovatore, Tannhäuser, Aida, and Bohemian Girl. On Tuesday The Meistersingers was given, and Miss Kate Anderson as Eva made a great hit. She was in grand voice. Mr. Lewis James was also in his best form, and won great applause. Mr. Philip Brozel added to his laurels by a perfect rendering of the music scored for Walter; Miss Toni Seiter was a charming Magdalene; Mr. Wm. Dever both acted and sang splendidly the rôle of Sixtus; Mr. Chas. Magrath was a fine Pogner; Mr. F. Davis was very good as David. This was the first time the opera has been produced here by this company, and it was closely followed and keenly enjoyed. It is staged most elaborately. The chorus is splendidly trained, and the large orchestra, so excellently directed by Herr Richard Eckhold, is a treat. Mr. J. MacCabe is general manager for the company.

GRAND.—Proprietors, Hanley Theatres and Circus Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. G. Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Arthur Rand.—The programme is headed by Fred Karno's company in A Football Match. The laughter is spontaneous and irresistible, and it is attracting big houses. Joe Archer is a comical creature; A-Ba-Be's postcard album is very pretty; Jack and Evelyn are smart; the Two Woodwards are wonder-workers with wheels; the Spanish Juanitos are astounding acrobats; Florence Esdaile sings several sweet songs; the Grand pictures are A Story of the French Revolution and The Wrong Medicine, and Mr. Tom Moore, the operator, deserves great praise for the clear and steady way they are "screened."

KING'S.—Lessees, Messrs. B. Kennedy and J. Moore; Manager, Mr. Harry Kennedy.—A smart series of pictures are shown again this week, the top-liner easily being Nick Carter, the Detective. The chief of the remainder are Polly Parrot's Excursion, The Man in Overalls, The Boy Magician, Brigands of Calabria, The Squire's Rights, and Mystical Love-making. Mr. Weatherburn operates splendidly, and the patrons are well looked after by Mr. H. Kennedy. Teddy Lennon, comedian, also appears.

HARROGATE.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Peacock; Acting-Manager, Mr. Eric Fielding-Smith.—For the first three nights of this week Moths and Camille were presented by Messrs. Sutton and Raynor's company, the former being in the bill on Monday. Mr. Cecil Wynne was good as the melodramatic Prince Zouroff, and Mr. Raynor as Lord Jura delivered his smart lines with point; Mr. Leonard Lawrence did what little he had to do as Correze well; and Mr. Lodge Percy played the Duke of Mull; Miss Frances Waring was the heartless Dolly Vanderdecken; Miss Lisa Coleman was well placed as the vivacious Fuchsia Leach; Miss Henrietta Schrier was the evil Duchess de Sonnaz; and Miss Dorothy West-Symes was the conventional prig Vere Herbert. For the remainder of the week variety held the stage.

ST. JAMES'S HALL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Sydney H. Carter; General-Manager, Mr. F. D. Sunderland; Resident-Manager, Mr. Fred Parker.—A fine selection of pictures is on view here, notably the Gordon-Bennett Balloon Race and Bostock's arena. Several good comic films are shown and the players appear in song, sketch, and dance; Miss Susie Belmore is a clever young artist.

HARTLEPOOL.—EMPRESS.—Lessee and General Manager, Mr. Albert Mathams.—Splendid pictures are again being shown by Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope, considerable interest being centred upon the film showing Wilbur Wright's Aeroplane. Bear Hunting in Russia and the Discoverers are also very interesting.

HASTINGS. — GAIETY THEATRE. — Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles E. Scutt.— Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company gave performances for the first half of the week of the amusing farce Mrs. Ponderbury's Past. Miss Annie Stalman made an ideal representative of the imperious Mrs. Ponderbury, her demonstrative virtue being irresistibly amusing, and with Mr. George Mudie as her subdued husband, in his descriptive eulogy of her, the house was speedily convulsed with laughter, their changed submissions brought about in the third act being thoroughly enjoyable. Miss Florence Wix gave an animated and pleasing performance as Madame Polaca Modjeski; Miss Florence Wellesley was very pleasing as Ethel Penniston; and an excellent character impersonation of Mr. Mervyn Thorpe was played by Mr. Drew Mackintosh, who also stage-managed with his accustomed ability. The eccentric butler, Peter, had a good farcical exponent in Mr. Alfred Ibberson, the remainder of the cast being well presented. His Landlady preceded the farce. On Thursday, and for the remainder of the week, Messrs. Hardie and Von Leer's company was billed, in The Girl I Love.

HIPPODROME.—General-Manager, Mr. H. Vivian-Fisher; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Walter Norman.—A good programme is opened by the attractive comedienne and dancer Miss Kate Avey; the Sprees (Dorothy and Joe) engage in an amusing scena, Twickenham Ferry; Marco is remarkably smart as an illusionist; some Alhambra pictures on the Bioscope are effective and quite dramatic; the Frances Harrold company introduce a laughable comedy sketch, My Son's Wife; George Antill, comedian, provides excellent amusement for his listeners. Another successful turn is given by Fancourt and Rubie in an interesting comedy act. The songs and business of A. G. Spry are very entertaining. Miss Leah Marlborough presents the historical episode Nell Gwynne, which is well staged. Miss Marlborough depicts the character of Margaret Treherne; Mr. Harry Miller takes the part of Charles II.; Nell Gwynne is gracefully represented by Miss Edith Hall. Other actors in the drama are Messrs. Mackay, Will Smith, and Richard Beaton.

ROYAL CONCERT HALL.—An excellent rendering of the music of Gounod's grand opera Faust was given on Wednesday of last week by the members of the St. Cecilia Musical Society, under the direction of Mr. Herman Brearley, Mus.Bac., F.R.C.O. Chorus and orchestra numbered 250 performers. The impressive music was finely played, and the choir sang with good effect. The solo vocalists gained much applause. Miss Luneta Truscott's rendering of the part of Margarita was very artistic; Mr. A. H. Crouch was notably good as Valentine; Miss Winifred Dixon sang sweetly as Siebel; Mr. James Coleman did well as Mephistopheles; Mr. Harold Wilde sang with refinement as Faust; and Miss Beatrice Root acquitted herself well as Martha.

PUBLIC HALL.—Sub-Lessees, The People's Picture Palace Co.; Managing-Director, Mr. F. R. Griffiths; Local-Manager, Mr. Harry W. James.—The animated pictures this week maintain a high level of excellence. Among others The Cowboy and the Schoolmistress and The Greed of Gold provide dramatic pictures of the Wild West, and the Beautiful Falls of the Zambesi are delightful pictures of waterfall scenery.

HEREFORD.—GARRICK THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. Barnsley.—The play The Youngest of Three, by Mr. H. F. Maltby's company, is proving its attractiveness. As Lucy Dalley, Miss Mara Maltby endows the character with charm and tenderness; Mr. H. F. Maltby gives a capital study of George Wendover; great praise is due to Miss Lizzie Maddocks for her clever impersonation of Annie Dulley; and Miss Florence Wynn portrays with marked care and attention the part of her sister, Florence. Gerald Wendover is well depicted by Mr. A. Claremont. The remaining characters are capably filled by Messrs. James Willoughby, Frank Hudspith, and Miss Kathleen St. George.

HORWICH.—PRINCES' THEATRE.—Lessees, The Horwich Theatre Co.; Manager, Mr. R. H. White.—Mr. F. E. Chabot and his company opened in Only a Woman on Monday with great success. Miss Violet Cranford's impersonation of Marie Lestoc (the ill-fated wife of the scoundrel, Lieut. Rodney Summerfield) is artistic; Miss Lily Lewis as Violet Redgrave gives a very sympathetic rendering of the part; Miss Rosie Fields as the child Grace is pleasing; Miss May Colburn, who is possessed of a musical voice, plays the boy Harold in excellent style; Miss Flo Bevan has a comic part in Eliza Jane; Courtney Wallace as depicted by Mr. Leslie K. Manton is a very distinctive type of villain, and is capitally rendered; Mr. Fred Green is a fine manly young Lieut. Richard Summerfield; Mr. Charles Wilton's Lieut. Rodney Summerfield is a powerful rendering of an unprincipled scoundrel; Mr. Geo. Whillis as Bill Bumkins sings and dances himself into the affections of the audience; Mr. A. Silvernie gives a capital display as the consequential flunkey James Dobson; and the minor characters are in good hands.

HUDDERSFIELD.—HIPPODROME, LTD.—Resident-Manager, Mr. N. M. Robinson.—At the top of the bill this week is Rauschle, whose mobile countenance is effectively used in his impersonations of historical celebrities; Willie Gardner is an easy master of the difficult feat of dancing in skates. Sid Cotterill and company in their sketch entitled The Substitute, Bromley and Fontein in a humorous musical medley, Ryder Slone, character comedian, Harry Bent, comedian, the Cameo troupe of comedy acrobats, and a new lot of pictures on the Bioscope complete the bill.

HULL.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Mortons, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. W. Morton.—Jack Straw has quite hit the public taste in Hull, and no wonder, for, apart from the sparkling character of the comedy, it is so pleasingly acted by Miss Florence St. John, who makes a charming Mrs. Parker-Jennings, and Mr. Lionel Glenister succeeds beyond measure in a clever reading of the title-rôle. The husband is well portrayed by Mr. A. T. Gulliver; the Marquis of Serlo is acted with skill by Mr. J. Edgar Stevenson; the Lady Wanley of Miss Edith Graham is a good piece of work. The comedy is preceded by A Long Journey, in which Miss Estelle Despa, Miss Jessica Waters, with Mr. Christmas Grose and Mr. Ernest Graham take part.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. W. Morton; Manager, Mr. Tom Bogue.—M. Aug. Van Biene and his company are here in the ever-welcome Broken Melody. Miss Rose Ralp is in an engaging Countess; Mr. Ludlow and Mr. C. Hartopp help towards a pleasing performance.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Mortons, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Geo. Morton.—A strong play is The Great White Chief, presented for the first time in Hull. It has all those elements that go towards a successful drama, and the acting no less than the story is to the patrons' taste. The play is from the pen of Mr. Lingford Carson, who finds a strong part in the rôle of Reindeer. The heroine, Lalika, allows Miss Pollie Denville her opportunity. The comic relief is in the hands of Miss Amy Ross Clyde and Mr. Leonard Maitland, and they treat it very effectively; Miss Dulcie Lawrence is a striking Hester Stafford, and Hartley Deane is taken by Mr. Geo. Butler.

ILKESTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. L. F. A. Rogers.—Mr. Harry Battersby's company in The King of Crime is visiting here this week, the title-rôle being taken in a most excellent manner by Mr. F. B. Woulfe. Miss Mildred Eversleigh plays feelingly as Henriette; Mr. William Melvyn is well received as Louis Mascorot; whilst Miss E. Ellis is successful as Mathilde. Mr. Dan Mining (Taberet), Mr. Sam Wilford (Mick Maloney), and Miss Edith Loraine (Clarisse) are praiseworthy; Mr. Walter Hinton makes an active Toto Chupin; and Mr. Claude Aymond is entrusted with the rôle of Simon Grandelu.

IPSWICH. — LYCEUM THEATRE. — Mr. Horace Stanley's company in the sensational drama The 10.30 Down Express is playing this week to good houses, Mr. Stanley impersonating the part of Sam Wagstaffe, A.B., a most excellent character, in excellent style. Lieut. Jack O'Malley, the hero, is well played by Mr. Arthur T. Plummer, and James Inderwick is forcibly acted by Mr. Fred Wilberforce. Mr. Arthur E. Francis makes an amusing bailiff; Bessie Leigh, a somewhat exacting part, is well played by Miss Cora Linda; Letitia Leigh, "a maiden of fifty," as presented by Miss Evelyn M. Walton, excites much amusement; Miss Kate Kilpack has an acceptable part in Peggy Potts, the protégée of Sam Wag-

YOUR SOILED BLOUSE CLEANED

TO ARTISTS ON TOUR! MANAGERS PREPARING FOR PANTO!!

NOW IS THE TIME TO RENOVATE.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST.

AND RETURNED LOOKING LIKE NEW.

Carriage Paid One Way.

FOR 1/3

DRESSES Dry Cleaned for 4/-

CLARK & CO., 24, HALLCROFT ROAD, RETFORD.

staffe; and Olive Coombes is carefully acted by Miss Josephine Lee.

Hippodrome.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—The Brooklyn Four, accomplished musicians, head this week's bill, and are deservedly popular; a protean entertainment by Charley, a French artist, who impersonates ten different characters in dumb show, is one of great cleverness; Ernie Mayne makes a welcome reappearance, and "the simple one" is most amusing; the Arthur Gallimore Trio have a very funny comedy act, with some good dancing; Cline and Clark are expert dancers; May Fallowfield is a talented comedienne; Ada Parker scores both in singing and dancing; Bliss and Bliss have some smart patter work; and the Bioscope concludes.

JARROW.—Theatre Royal.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. Locke.—The attraction this week is Mr. Frank Lindo's company with Home, Sweet Home. Mr. F. Lindo is a manly Stephen Armitage; Mr. A. Sefton a forcible Lucas Lyle; Mr. D. L. Doyle is well placed as David Armitage; and Mr. Norton Shields gives a good account of the Duke of Ancaster; the Hon. Percy being carefully handled by Mr. Rogers. Mr. T. B. Lewis is very good indeed as Solomon Keary; Mr. L. Ray is a droll Lord Silvermore; Miss Maud Leslie Cudd looks and plays the part of Sybil Fay, the music hall artist, to perfection, and Miss Marion Wakeford is a charming Joan.

Royal Albert Hall.—Lessee and Manager, Dr. Seaton.—This hall continues to draw excellent audiences with pictures and variety turns. This week's artists include Tom Berrick, the Black Tit-Bit, and Li-Chang-Hi, illusionist.

KEIGHLEY.—Queen's Theatre.—Proprietor, Mr. R. Kendall; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Carson.—Mr. Percy Norman's company is here in the stirring Russian drama A Woman Worth Winning. Mr. A. B. Mackay, the author of the play, is very successful as General Borinski; Mr. Gilbert Standing ably impersonates Amos Pauloff; Mr. G. Edwin Clive is very good as Fergus Lovinski; Mr. Wilfred E. Clark acts with power as Ivan Bardoff; Mr. Fred Danvers, who is a local favourite, scores as Peter Popples; Mr. Louis Newman is a humorous Bertie Scribbles; and Mr. Jack Corlass is well placed as Colonel Mashemoff.

KETTERING.—Avenue Theatre.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Payne.—Mr. Eustace Day's company is here with For Love of a Woman. Mr. Jerrold Ord is a manly Ned Merrick; Mr. Fredk. Garratt a successful Guy Manor; and Mr. Fred Ramsdale a very amusing Sam Holland. Miss May Day presents the part of Nance Manor most capably; and Miss Eva St. Vincent gives a fine character study of Jane Manor.

Victoria Theatre.—Managers, Messrs. A. Bailey and company.—This week the F. R. Benson (North) company is paying a welcome return visit. Romeo and Juliet was presented on Monday. Mr. Henry Herbert gives a masterly interpretation of Romeo; and Miss Gladys Vandersee is a most charming Juliet. The School for Scandal, Richard the Third, and Julius Cæsar are billed for the remainder of the visit.

KIDDERMINSTER.—New Opera House.—Licensee and Managing-Director, Mr. Jas. T. Moore; Acting-Manager, Mr. R. C. Gudgeon.—We have a return visit this week from Mr. Montague Beaudyn and his company in The Power of a Wicked Woman. In the rôle of Philip Carez Mr. Montague Beaudyn gives a powerful display of acting; Mr. Gordon E. Kingsley ably portrays the character of Horace Winter; and Mr. Arthur Creswell that of Guy Oliphant. Miss Irene Munro in the rôle of Helen Terraire is artistic and realistic The play is well mounted.

KIRKCALDY.—Hippodrome.—Lessee, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—This house is occupied by the local amateurs this week in The Mikado.

Pavilion.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. G. W. Walker.—The Pavilion presents a pretty spectacle now after the elaborate alterations, and it was a large and enthusiastic audience which greeted the reopening on Monday night. A particularly strong picture show is being given, and capital turns are provided by Mr. Sam Thomson, comedian; Miss Lillie Belle, comedienne and dancer; and Keir and Kempton, entertainers.

LANCASTER.—Grand Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Stanley Rogers; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. C. Howitt.—Mr. Morton Powell's company is here this week with The Woman Who Gambles. As Count Otto Steinbach Mr. Clifford Rean plays with dignity and power, Miss Laura Walker presenting a fine exposition of the Countess Natalie Steinbach. Mr. Norman A. Overton as the villain, Baron Cartzlaw, fully maintains his high reputation as an actor; Lieut. Karl Ctzartoviski is exceedingly well played by Mr. Reginald Fox; Mr. Victor T. Raymond is good as the Hon. Bertie Bray; Miss E. Conway admirably fills the port of Cora Gouldhart; and Miss Brenda May submits a humorous portrayal of Zanette. The staging is capital.

The Hippodrome.—Proprietor and Manager, Messrs. John Porter and W. J. Fergusson.—Walter Ellis and company head the bill this week with a funny sketch, The Sleepwalker; Herbert and Lindon, eccentrics, give a clever display of dancing; Mark Stuart, comedian, has plenty of patter, as also has Mr. Frank F. Street; and Miss Ouida Macdermott sings well. Les Trois Hesses gives a remarkable wire act; and the Hippograph, depicting Her Flowers and What's the Matter with Willie? complete a varied and interesting programme.

LEAMINGTON.—Theatre Royal.—Lessees, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Manager, Mr. George Anthony.—An exceptional treat was provided during the earlier part of the week, Mr. Norman V. Norman's company appearing in two costume plays. On Monday and Tuesday evenings The Adventure of Lady Ursula was performed. Miss Beatrice Wilson was charming as Lady Ursula, and Mr. Norman strikingly romantic as Sir George Sylvester; Mr. Alfred Gray was excellent as the fiery and impulsive Lord Vassenden; whilst the quarrelsome Mr. Dent was ably impersonated by Mr. Reginald P. Lamb. The young Guardsmen were played by Messrs. Norman Leslie, Frederick Lock, F. A. Flower, and J. Ashford with distinct merit, and other characters were in the efficient hands of Mr. Sam Wilkinson, Miss V. M. Barnett, Miss Ethel Coleridge, and Mr. C. C. Freer. On Wednesday evening an admirable representation of Nell Gwyn of Old Drury was given. During the latter part of the week Mr. George Edwardes's company is appearing in The Merry Widow, for which there is a heavy booking.

LEEDS.—Grand Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. Wynn Miller.—The Merry Widow shows no falling off in popularity, its second visit to this theatre proving as big an attraction as before. Mr. Eric Thorne is largely responsible for this happy state of things, for he has elaborated his Baron Popoff to some purpose, and is the never-ending source of uncontrollable merriment. Miss Constance Drever is the Sonia on this occasion, and her impersonation is a charming one, her vocal work being specially well-liked; Prince Danilo is represented in commendable style by Mr. Leonard Mackay; that old favourite Mr. W. H. Rawlins gets a warm and well-deserved reception nightly for his rendering of the humorous part of Nische; Miss Ethel Cadman sings and acts well as Natalie; whilst Mr. W. Talleur Andrews, Miss Sylvia May, and Miss Vivienne Talleur are also to be commended for specially good work.

Theatre Royal.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; General-Manager, Mr. R. Ernest Liston.—The Sailor's Wedding is the title of an attractive piece at this theatre this week. Mr. C. W. Standing is vociferously applauded nightly for a fine portrayal of Lieut. Drake; the villain is an Italian, one Giovanni Ferici, and this rôle is depicted with power by Mr. Hodgson Taylor. A charming delineation of the heroine is to be credited to Miss Dulcie Greatwick; a popular effort is that of Mr. F. Finch-Smiles as Giacomo; and Miss Winifred Pearson also wins distinction in the somewhat difficult rôle of Lenore de Gresac.

Queen's Theatre.—Proprietor, Mr. F. W. Wood; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Bush.—A dramatic playlet His Brother's Keeper, cleverly conceived and well acted, leads the bill here. An enjoyable singing and dancing turn is done by Harvey's Boys and Girls; Ruhart submits a novel turn with good success; Godfrey James, a good vocalist, is described as the singing collier; Jack Hylton, eccentric comedian, does well; and a successful appearance is also made by the Bros. Zenary and Nora Stockelle.

Empire Palace.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—District-Manager, Mr. T. Gerald Morton; Resident-Manager, Mr. Alex. Galley.—A particularly strong programme is provided for patrons this week, the wonderful Hymack, in his lightning change scena, being perhaps first favourite; Edward Lauri and May Beatty, in that dainty sketch In Her Boudoir, prove a very pleasing turn; Mendel, the wonderful blind musician, entertains in inimitable style; Mike S. Whallen, the raconteur, is scoring his usual success; and Spry and Austin do a neat comedy turn. Ruth Lytton is a comedienne of merit; the Chronomegaphone is an entertaining contrivance; whilst the New York Nippers, Nellie Martell, and Bert Harrow are also to the fore with good turns.

Hippodrome.—Proprietor, Mr. Thos. Barrasford.—The clever Colibri's Midgets are this week introduced as executants in a novel miniature circus, and the turn is very successful; Simms and Simms are provocative of much merriment with a musical burlesque; the Athos Troupe make a name with expert and novel acrobatics; in a similar line Rastus and Banks earn the plaudits of their audience; whilst Horace Pollock and company appear with success in a comedy sketch. The Haydons do well with burlesque business, and there are also good turns by Sisters Ford, Lanos and Montes, and Geo. Rapley.

City Varieties.—Proprietor, Mr. F. W. Wood; General-Manager, Mr. J. C. Whiteman; Acting-Manager, Mr. S. Jones.—That popular vocalist Arthur Lennard is having a big week; Arthur Woodville, on similar lines, also does well. The Anartos provide an amusing encounter; Fred Bamford, a juvenile who can whistle, has a great reception; Wee Mona Vivian lives up to a big reputation as vocalist and dancer; and a novelty by Cordite and Buffalo is a much-applauded feature.

LEICESTER.—Theatre Royal.—Sole Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Business-Manager, Mr. E. R. Beaumont.—We are being entertained this week with a first visit of Messrs. Dottridge, Longden, and Willard's company with The Girl with the Angel Face, which is both well played and staged. In the name-part Miss Florrie Green is deserving of high praise for a clever portrayal; Mr. H. Naylor Grimson scores a success in the dual rôle of Sir John Wentworth and Thomas Wentworth; Miss Phyllis Dailley plays especially well as Ena Wentworth; Mr. Austin Mortimer is most effective as the villainous Stephen Arkwright; Miss Mildred Carr maintains her popularity with a smart and vivacious performance as Mollie Maitland; Mr. Fred C. Evison is very good as Jasper Death; Mr. Dobell Lyle is excellent as the Rev. Gordon Cross; and Mr. Allen Charles, Mr. Dicky Bird, Miss Winifred Delevanti, Mr. James Rodd, and Mr. J. L. Mann should be commended for portrayals of merit.

Palace Theatre, Ltd.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; District-Manager, Mr. Hatton Wharton; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. Finch-Hatton; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. S. Buccleuch.—As handsome and vivacious as ever, Lil Hawthorne is captivating the audiences with her new songs, given in a style for which this popular artist is renowned. A thoroughly interesting and well-played dramatic episode entitled A Royal Heart, is being presented with the greatest success by Mr. Fisher White's company. Mr. Scott Craven, who is part author, scores a conspicuous success as the Grand Duke Vassili, and the other parts are in the capable hands of Mr. Chris Walker, Mr. Frederick James, Miss Margaret Omar, and Mr. A. Corney Grain. Nell Emerald, aptly termed the "cheer-up girl," scores with a bright turn, her dancing and jokes being especially good; Millie Payne is a particularly smart low comedy artist; the Bros. Egbert, the happy dustmen, evoke spontaneous laughter; Theo. Bouwmeester is well received in a cleverly-enacted dramatic sketch entitled Who is Guilty? the whole of the eight characters being enacted by himself; he is ably assisted by Mr. J. Montague as the coroner. The Dunedin Troupe of artistic acrobatic cyclists perform many remarkable feats in a show of all-round excellence; Jolly Johnny Walker, a spirited comedian, and George Young, blind concertina player, are also entertaining. The making of a Raleigh cycle is depicted on the Bioscope.

Pavilion Theatre.—Proprietor and Director General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. Joe. Lawrence.—Miss Carlotta De Yonson and her popular company are retained over another week in consequence of the success attending The Red Triangle. This week they are again presenting another detective drama entitled The Case of the Neva Brotherhood, which is followed throughout with rapt attention. Irma Orbasany's cockatoos show the perfection of training, their performance of a complete vaudeville entertainment being of a remarkable character; Watt Moore, comedian and extempore vocalist, and Helen Guest, a spirited singer of chorus songs, so well known in Leicester, are heartily welcomed; Daisy Hurdle is a capital character comedienne; Francis O'Flynn is a smart performer on the banjo; Minnie Kirby is an entertaining comedienne; and Ernie Champion, comedian, a local trial turn, also appears. Walter H. Pallister's Bioscope shows clearly The Queen's Love and The Guardian of the Bank.

Empire.—Lessees, the New Bioscope Trading Company; District Manager, Mr. Gerald Hunt; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. R. Craig.—The popularity of this place of entertainment is well maintained by the new acting-manager, Mr. Craig, who is placing a number of large radiators in various parts of the hall for the comfort of the numerous patrons. The principal films this week include Snatched from a Terrible Death, A Double Suicide, Don Juan, Orders are to Snore, The Harmless Lunatic, Maria Martin, or the Murder in the Red Barn, Tommy's Trip to Morocco, and His Sweetheart's Birthday, all of which are clearly depicted. Willie Hicks, Irish and descriptive vocalist, is making a successful first appearance, and William Stewart, mouth whistler and bird imitator, the winner of the last competition, is accorded a week's engagement.

Temperance Hall.—Manager, Mr. Geo. Stanyon.—Mr. Will Catlin's Royal Pierrots entered on the third week of a most successful season here on Monday, when they produced for the first time on any stage a thoroughly amusing and entertaining musical extravaganza by Mr. Will Catlin entitled Artists' Academical Antics, which allows for the introduction of boisterous merriment, good songs, and capital dancing by the various members of this smart troupe. Mr. Sid Frere is particularly funny in all he does; Mr. Will Catlin as the old farmer makes up well, and is most popular; Mr. George Houghton sings with his accustomed ability; Mr. Jackson Browne is very good as the servant; Mr. Will Ambro is an excellent coon singer and expert dancer; and Mr. Tom Catlin, Mr. Harry Glynn, and Mr. Charles Paulson aid and abet in making Mr. Will Catlin's new venture a thorough success. A word of praise should be extended to Mr. Catlin on the pretty stage set which he has introduced for the first time at Leicester.

LEIGH.—Theatre Royal and Opera House.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Cragg; Manager, Mr. W. Heath.—A capital house assembled on Monday to witness Florodora, presented here by Mr. Charles Constant's company. Miss Daisy Lake is highly successful as Dolores; Lady Holyrood has a fascinating impersonator in Miss Lillie Blythe; Mr. Martin W. Pitt gains much appreciation as Frank Abercoed; Mr. Jack Parker as Cyrus G. Gilfain is entirely successful; and Mr. Stanley Bartram is distinctly good as Capt. Arthur Donegal. Miss Louie Danby is a pleasing Angela Gilfain, and as Anthony Tweedlepunch Mr. Gus Danby is the life of the piece.

LEITH.—New Gaiety Theatre.—Licensee and Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Manager, Mr. John Darlison. In At Duty's Call the author-actor, Mr. John Gerant, provides an interesting drama on the story of Gordon and Khartoum, with a striking rôle for himself as a scheming Anglo-Egyptian, and the part of a slave girl, Salema, forcibly played by Miss Ada Roscoe. Mr. Ernest St. John comes through the ordeal of representing General Gordon with considerable success; Mr. Charles C. Calvert and Miss Beatrice Western are in every way commendable as the hero and heroine of the play; and the comedy element is well sustained by Mr. J. Forrester as Terry O'Hallovan, Mr. Frank P. Morton as Jack Spencer, Miss Eva Belle as Mary, and Mr. Roy Denham as Joey Trott. A song and dance by this quartet is very vociferously encored. Minor parts are carefully filled, and scenery and stage-setting are appropriate and effective.

LIVERPOOL.—Royal Court Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur Lawrence.—My Mimosa Maid, given here this week, closed the dramatic season prior to that devoted to pantomime. The merry musical comedy was received with every pleasure, and to Miss Marie Studholme, who held the title-rôle, a most cordial welcome was extended. Her winsomeness and spirited acting found general favour, and encores were demanded of her songs "What's the matter with the men just now?" and "We're simply sorry for you, that's all." A pillar of strength was Mr. Charles McNaughton, whose assumption of the millionaire sweep provoked incessant laughter; Mr. Charles E. Paton helped tremendously with the fun-making, his Max being an admirable low comedy part; another quaint figure was that of the youthful sweeper's assistant, capitally given by Master Archie McCaig, who deservedly earned the appreciation that was bestowed upon him; a very ably-presented character sketch of an antiquated waiter came from Mr. Arthur Jackson; the haughty Captain of the Zouaves was most fittingly undertaken by Mr. John H. Goldsworthy; Mr. Percy Carr sang and acted well as Gerrard; Miss Eva Sandford was a pretty Popitte; and Miss Ruby Gray in the part of Marcelle sang tastefully, being particularly recognised for her rendering of the number "Sweet Caporal." The mounting of the work was in every way perfect.

Shakespeare Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wentworth Croke; Manager and Secretary, Mr. John Gaffney.—Here this week we have had a visit from the Vedrenne-Barker combination with Bernard Shaw's plays. On Monday evening Man and Superman was staged, when Mr. Frederick Lloyd, in the absence of Mr. Granville Barker, gave a fine rendering of the difficult rôle of Jack Tanner. A lifelike picture of Roebuck Ramsden came from Mr. Michael Sherbrooke; Mr. David Powell distinguished himself as Octavius Robinson; Miss Frances Dillon delightfully impersonated Ann Whitefield; good support came from Miss Helen Rous as Mrs. Whitefield; and other well-held parts were Violet Robinson (Miss Auriol Lee), Hector Malone (Mr. Hubert Harben), and Henry Straker (Mr. Richard Haigh). Other works given during the week were The Convict on the Hearth and Arms and the Man.

Rotunda Theatre.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery.—The Love of the Princess is a play which found favour here during the week, Mr. T. Edward Ward's company presenting it in good style. Miss Maisie Hanbury played Idalia in a manner that deservedly earned much commendation; Mr. Wilson Coleman made a spirited and manly Prince Conrad, his efforts being particularly appreciated; credit was certainly due to Mr. Ernest E. Imeson for his powerful portrayal of the villainous Count Danillo; justice was done to the part of Duke Scarfe by Mr. Francis Serle; Mr. E. H. Dobell gave a good interpretation of the rôle of Josef; Miss Nellie Garside pleased greatly as Lady Ramona; and others who afforded satisfaction were Messrs. Beckett Bould (Lieut. Orlans), W. F. Stirling (Prince Regent), Graham Winsford (Lieut. Zaroff), and Miss Helen Elmar (Constantia).

Star Theatre.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Harris Fineberg.—Liverpool audiences never seem to tire of Leah Kleschna, and every time it visits the popular Star crowded houses, as during this week, are the rule. A matinée had to be given on Thursday. The fine company sent by Messrs. Armitage and Leigh did every justice to the play. Mr. William Clayton as Kleschna, Miss Bessie Rignold as Leah, Mr. Hamilton Deane as Paul, Mr. Gilbert Heron as Schram, Mr. Algernon J. Hicks as Raoul, all repeated their fine performances. Also in the cast were Messrs. Charles Barrett (Valentine) and F. Bannerman (Baptiste), Miss Dorrie Turner (Sophie), Miss Ethel Russell (Mme. Berton), and Miss Edith Summers (Charlotte).

Empire.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Cole.—Machnow, the Russian giant, has been an attraction here this week; a capital tabloid form of Davy Garrick was given by Hubert Carter and company; Guyer and Valli had a laughable trifle, Wait for the Finish; great applause was bestowed upon the coloured meisters for their vocal efforts; Watson's fox terriers showed a high degree of training; a particularly smart turn of acrobatic hoop manipulation and wire-walking was gone through by the Prince Milner Trio; Lilian Dundas and company were warmly commended for the dramatic episode Nance Arden; James Stewart as the tramp at the piano proved as funny as ever; and contributions also came from Ben Albert, comedian; and the Three Sisters Jerome, with the lively act, Aunty's Maid.

Queen's Theatre.—Managing-Director, Mr. Fred Granville.—A return visit of The Power of the Cross has met with acceptance here. Mr. George de Gray (the author) was seen to advantage in the rôle of Baron Curzola.

Lyric.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Henry C. Arnold.—Foremost here this week has been Joe Elvin with his latest, The King of the Castle, which was richly enjoyed. Barney Armstrong proved as merry as ever; some remarkable work as gymnasts was gone through by Botella and Virginia; C. D. Reekie had some amusing songs and patter; Victor Courtney as "boots at the piano" provoked great laughter; and othere in the list were Lena Brunton, comedienne and mimic; Minnie Mace, comedienne; and Les Muiques. Thursday evening was set apart for the benefit of Mr. Arnold, who has been sole lessee and manager of this popular resort for eleven years.

Royal Hippodrome.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Walter Hassan.—Heading the programme here this week was Arthur Prince, "the Prince of Ventriloquists," who gave a show that was keenly appreciated. Fred Sinclair's company caused shouts of laughter with their funny sketch Poor Arthur; a remarkable exhibition of strength was shown by Brinn, who supported on his chin a heavy machine gun, from which thirty rounds were fired; Keen and Waller proved themselves a most brilliant pair of eccentrics; George S. Melvin sang and danced in capital fashion; the pictorial songs of Lennard and Vereker were thoroughly enjoyed; Wilton Heriot and company presented a clever protean comedy sketch, An Anglo-American Alliance; as comedy acrobats the Three Comerfords gave general satisfaction and aroused much laughter; and the Aribos, with a sensational novelty, also appeared.

Royal Palace of Varieties.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank O'Toole.—A commendable performance of Othello was given this week by the stock company. The title-part found in Mr. David G. Noble an able exponent, he speaking his lines with good effect; Mr. Sydney Grant acquitted himself as Iago; the Cassio of Mr. R. Seath Innes was full of earnestness, and marked by judgment; Miss Florence Palmer pleased as Desdemona; Miss Lilian Radbourne gave a most intelligent rendering of the rôle of Emilia; Mr. E. D. Allen was the Duke of Lodovico; Mr. Cecil Ravenswood held the parts of Brabantio and Gratiano; and Mr. Leo Montgomery did well as Montano. Mr. Anthony Brown's Bioscope showed some excellent films.

Westminster.—Lessee, Mr. Fred E. Weisker; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Montgomery.—In addition to the Bioscope pictures given here, the following artists appeared during the week:—Eddie and Emmie, with a neat comedy act; Violet Macfarlane, child burlesque artist; and Alec. Robertson, comedian.

Olympia.—District-Manager, Mr. Albert Bulmer; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ernest Wighton.—Heading the bill here this week have been Courtice and Louie Pounds and company, who gave a delightful sketch, entitled Charles—His Friend; Lottie Lennox has a rousing reception for her latest songs, which included "Put on your old green bonnet" and "There'll be no war"; John Humphries and company caused endless laughter with Ancient Britons; Ted and May Hopkins brought their merry comedy act, Wedding Bells; the Eight Lancashire Lads earned loud applause for their clever clog-dancing; Morris Harvey gave talented imitations of actors and music-hall artists; Tom Moore sang with taste; as speciality vocalists the Crown Trio proved particularly pleasing; and Madge Osmond looked well as a male impersonator.

Pavilion.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Manager, Mr. Henry Hearn.—This new place is now receiving great public support, and crowded houses are a nightly occurrence. Heading an attractive bill this week were Charles Parker's Six Aeolians, who gave a charming vocal and dancing act; the brilliant youthful couple, Beatie and Babs, with their Pavement Rehearsal, fairly brought down the house; Harrison Brockbank had a flattering reception for his popular songs; roars of laughter followed the sketch, Those Troublesome Slaveys, given by the L. V. O. Trio; Ben Jackson as banjo magician and trick solist was a capital turn; the Wedburns were very amusing; Rikona provided an artistic and clever entertainment as smoke painter, &c.; and likewise in the list were George Acre, vocalist; Cecilia Gold, comedienne; and Jack Waller, comedian, &c.

LLANDUDNO.—Prince's Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. Ritson.—Some excellent animated pictures are shown here, interspersed by solos by Mr. Clement Brown, a tenor with a voice above the average. Good houses are the order.

LLANELLY.—Royalty Theatre.—Proprietor, Mr. Z. Andrews; Resident-Manageress, Miss Alice Rocheforte.—We have this week Mr. Roland Yorke's company in The Old Home. The company includes that well-known and successful Welsh actor Mr. Harding Thomas, who takes the part of Daddy Dean in a very able manner. As Hazel Dean Miss Gertrude Bonser is most sympathetic; the Rev. Eric Armstrong is well taken by Mr. T. W. Dunscombe; Mr. Roland York as Lord Avondale is exceedingly good; Mrs. Braithwaite makes a good Bridget; and Miss Mattie Crawford as Pollie Pop is very successful.

LOUGHBOROUGH.—Theatre Royal.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. Payne Seddon and George Robertson; Resident Business-Manager, Mr. W. Payne Seddon.—Mr. Hubert Woodward's company in David Garrick, with Mr. E. Glossop Such in the title-rôle, has been playing to large houses. Mr. E. Glossop Such's assumption of the title-rôle was a masterly conception finely played; Mr. Hubert Woodward as Simon Ingot played with commendable ability; Mr. Maurice Woolley as Squire Chivey made a great impression; Mr. Edward Ellis as Mr. Smith, Mr. Edward Munk as Mr. Jones, Mr. Cecil Ash as Mr. Brown, Mr. Charles Shum as George, and Mr. Allen Yearsley as Thomas gave valuable assistance. Miss Winifred Gardner as Ada Ingot won golden opinions by her charming personality and excellent acting; Miss Lucy Hodson as Mrs. Smith played in her usual excellent manner; and Miss Betty Rowland was well suited as Miss Araminta Brown. The dresses and scenery were of an elaborate nature. The comedy was preceded by the Trial scene from The Merchant of Venice, Mr. Robert Woodward excelling as Shylock and Miss Augusta Hamilton making a great impression by her dignified acting as Portia.

LOWESTOFT.—Marina.—Managing-Director, Mr. E. A. Smith.—The bill this week include the Arthur Bedina Trio, Les Rallis, Carl and Carr, Lill Elfreda, Elton Black, Eugene and Willie, and Millie Engler.

Hippodrome.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. George Gilbert; Manager, Mr. Frank Freeland.—Extraordinary business is the rule here, and the huge building is nightly packed. Tom Costello presents his latest successes, and is recalled again and again. Datas, who is rightly described as "the human almanac," is highly successful, and creates a sensational success, his correct answers to local queries of more than thirty or forty years ago being really marvellous. Other turns include Geo. Bernard, descriptive vocalist; Lailie Brookes; Jessica Brookes, &c. The British Biograph Co. present a remarkable series of living pictures.

LUTON.—Grand Theatre.—Proprietor, Mr. E. Graham Falcon; Manager, Mr. Louis J. Beard.—A welcome visit is being paid by Mrs. Bateman and Mr. Stuart Lomath's company in a version of Sapho. The Fanny Legrande of Miss Montague (Mrs. Bateman) is an able representation; the Jean of Mr. Stuart Lomath is a finished piece of acting; and humour is well contributed by Mr. Percy Shaw as Cesaire and Mr. Harry Momber at Hettemer. The mounting and dresses are in excellent taste. Last Sunday an excellent Bioscope entertainment was given, amongst the pictures being the film representing Joseph and His Brethren. Miss Constance St. Bride rendered "The Children's Home" and "The Holy City" in accomplished style, to the accompaniment of illustrated slides.

MACCLESFIELD.—Theatre Royal.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. W. K. Gatley.—Her Nameless Child is being presented here by Mrs. Sam Duckworth's company. Miss Pattie Hastings is conspicuous with a portrayal of merit as Phillis Ford; Mr. J. W. Evelyn as Anthony Ford is excellent; Mr. Arthur E. Pringles displays an ample sense of villainy as Lord Henry Woodville; Lady Sybil Woodville is embodied in capital style by Miss Mona Gray; and Mr. Frank Thompson as Mongrole and Mr. Sydney C. Cranston as Arthur Ford are both capable; Miss Renie Douglas as Bessie Brooks and Mr. Larry Clements as Tom Rivers undertake the comic element with complete success; and Miss Geraldine Verner does full justice to the rôle of Crayon.

MAIDENHEAD.—The Pavilion.—Proprietor, Mr. Geo. Gude.—The pictures this week are well selected and varied, and include The Child's Prayer, The Lazy Man, and The Physican of the Castle. In place of the usual variety artists, Mr. Gude is for a short time accepting local talent, in the hope of "giving a chance" to some worthy aspirant for the honours of the boards. The most noticeable candidate this week is Mr. W. Parkes, the possessor of an excellent soprano voice.

Town Hall.—Secretary, the Town Clerk.—Under the direction of Messrs. Baring Bros., Miss Marie Hall paid us a visit on the 27th ult., when the hall was well filled. The Provincial Electric Animated Picture Co. have the Town Hall for a week, and submit an excellent series of pictures. That illustrating the sport of Ski-ing in Switzerland is particularly fine, the escapades of The Reckless Horseman cause roars of laughter, When the Devil Drives is a marvellous trick film, and The Kelly Gang is very clearly depicted. Mr. Harry E. Berry is the manager.

MAIDSTONE.—Palace.—Manager, Mr. S. Baskerville.—Ben Hur, in a novel athletic act, heads the bill here this week, and is deservedly popular in the spectacle Pompeii; Edward Cranston and Mrs. Bennett's company in the sketch, Poor Master, do well; Ted Saunders mimics popular music-hall artistes; and Miss Crissie Leonard sings popular songs; Miss Queenie West, comedienne and dancer; Hal Best, comedian; Mr. Fred Russell, ventriloquist; and the Bioscope complete the bill.

MANCHESTER.—Theatre Royal.—Lessees, The United Theatres, Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Edmonstone Shirra.—The Royal Carl Rosa Opera Company opened a fortnight's répertoire here on Monday with a fine performance of Bizet's Carmen, under the conductorship of Mr. Walter Van Noorden. Miss Doris Woodall sang with splendid effect in the title-part, and Mme. Ina Hill as Micaela contributed an excellent rendering; while Mr. Edward Davies played José in the spirited and cultured style that usually distinguishes his work, and Mr. Hebden Foster as Escamillo added appreciably to the success. The smaller parts were all admirably filled. On Tuesday Mr. Eugene Goossens conducted an impressive performance of Tannhäuser, with Mr. Hanne Robert in the title-rôle and Miss Beatrice Miranda as Elizabeth; while on Wednesday Faust was offered to a large and appreciative house. The Marriage of Figaro, Il Trovatore, Cavalleria Rusticana, and Pagliacci, and The Merry Wives of Windsor complete the week's bill; and an equally fine array is promised for next week.

Prince's Theatre.—Proprietors, The United Theatres Co, Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Lee.—A visit of Mr. Edward Terry is always welcomed by playgoers who delight in genuine comedy, and on Monday the patrons of this house were treated to an admirable depiction of an old Dorsetshire farmer by Mr. Terry in his new play, Fiander's Widow, presented to Manchester for the first time. Next to Isaac Sharpe, the non-marrying farmer in question, the rôle of Mrs. Fiander is the most important, and this was nicely played by Miss Edith Coleman. Mr. Edmund Hollick as Richard Marshall and Miss Sophie Lingwood as Mrs. Belvin had most to do of the remainder, among whom Mr. William Dexter was particularly good as Abel Hunt. An excellent performance of Liberty Hall was given on Wednesday, followed, on succeeding nights, by Sweet Lavender and The Magistrate.

Grand Junction Theatre.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Hewitt.—The attraction here is The Girl Who Lost Her Character, presented by Mr. Douglas Bruce's company. The play was well received at the Royal Osborne Theatre last week.

Gaiety Theatre.—Proprietress, Miss A. E. F. Horniman; Manager, Mr. B. Iden Payne.—A second week of Windmills, or, The Amateur Socialist is the attraction here.

Royal Osborne Theatre.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr J. Mason.—Mr. Fredk. Melville's company is here this week in The Ugliest Woman on Earth. The title-part is in the hands of Miss Beatrice Homer, who acts with skill and sympathy, while Mr. Philip Darien gives a powerful rendering of Jack

EARLY APPLICATION should be made for space in the 1909 ISSUE
of
"THE ERA"
ANNUAL,
which is now in active preparation.
A world-wide circulation,
therefore
THE BEST
MEDIUM
for Advertisements of every description.

FORTY-SECOND YEAR OF PUBLICATION
Circulates in every Town in the World where there is a Place of Amusement. It is therefore the Best Medium for those who require World-wide Publicity.

SCALE OF CHARGES
FOR PROFESSIONAL ADVTS.

FULL PAGE	£4	4	0
HALF-PAGE	2	2	0
QUARTER-PAGE	1	1	0

A few Special Positions at present vacant.
Blocks supplied if required.

Address the Publisher,
"The Era" Buildings,
5, Tavistock Street,
Covent Garden, W.C.

'Phones 4747 & 1483 Central.

Merriman; Mr. Leyton Cancellor as Hubert Gold is very good, and has a capable assistant in Miss Gertrude Harrison as Rose Courtenay. Mr. Gerald Nolan supplies an excellent study of Dr. Carr, a scientist; and others who do well are Miss Violet Macaree, Mr. Freddie Bentley, and Miss Nellie Jackson.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Dry.—The Little Bread-Winner, excellently presented by Mr. J. A. Campbell's principal company, is the attraction here this week, and is well staged. Mr. H. B. Peppin as Lord Dorrington, the Quaker, plays with dignity; Mr. R. Brown as Richard Lawrence and Miss May Richardson as Margaret Daventry acquit themselves well; Miss Millie Ford gives a good account of herself as Kate Cherry; Mr. Alfred Maurice scores a big success as the villain, Joseph Prior; and Mr. Sydney Lynn does well as Charles Prior; little Winnie Crisp shows great talent, and her song, "Daddy," and her dancing are well received; the vocal effort of Miss Lissa Young is also appreciated. The other parts are in good hands.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Hall.—The big turn here this week is provided by Frank A. Gotch in All About a Bout, supplemented by pictures of the Gotch v. Hackenschmidt match. The Boisset Troupe appear in The Bricklayers with their usual success; and other good turns were added by F. W. Purcell's company (including Margaret Murch, in What Women Do for Men; Leo Tell, the musical and animal mimic; Carina Sisters, in a refined musical act; the Three Delaries, expert demon athletes; Chas. Chard, comedian; Leoni Dixon, a neat comedienne and speciality dancer; and Annie Casey, comedienne.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Manager, Mr. Nelson Barry.—The Volcano, with Janet Alexander, Lauderdale Maitland, and Edward Sorley in the cast, is still the chief attraction here. Marie San Toy and company are seen to advantage in a delightful Japanese musical comedy, entitled A Japanese Tea Garden; Gus Garrick makes a big hit with his music hall tit-bits; Anna Hickish, ballad vocalist, has a good voice, and is well received; James Eadie and Cissie Ramsden are capital in Charlie's Visit; Joe Almasis, the jumping juggler, and his funny assistant, provide a good turn; the Glenway Troupe of dancers are excellent, as usual; Arthur Gill, the man of many voices, sings well; and Carney and Armstrong have some good patter. Pictures complete.

PALACE. — Managing-Director, Mr. Walter de Frece; Manager, Mr. A. J. Carver.—Vesta Tilley is the attraction here this week, and meets with a splendid reception, her popularity being greater, if possible, than ever. Sydney Mason and Theresa Moore, very ably assisted, are seen to advantage in a dramatic episode, The Usurer; Phillips and Merritt, a versatile couple, are excellent dancers; Elsa Joel, operatic vocalist, is well received; Ernest Powell is highly successful at the piano; the Hiatts, in a comedy, dancing, musical mélange, are capital; Vincent scores as an acrobatic table expert; and Ted Cowan is a quaint comedian; an extra turn by Bellman and Moore, character comedy duo, was received with great acclamation.

TIVOLI. — Managing-Director, Mr. Charles A. Wilkes; Manager, Mr. Arthur B. Wilkes.—Excellent turns are provided here this week by Mabel Green, musical comedy artist; Kitty Loftus, comedienne; and Aimee De Leska, who sings well. A Pair of Lunatics is presented in excellent style by Dixon Moffatt, ably assisted; Barbara Babington, vocal comedienne, is pleasing; and other good turns are those of Kenway and Emery in She Would Have a Soldier; Vere and Royal, vocal comedy artists; Chris Baker, comedian; Winston Weir, vocalist; the Summersons, comedy duettists; and Rose Lyndon, comedienne. Ruffell's Bioscope pictures are first-rate.

KING'S, LONGSIGHT.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. James R. Trippett.—Caban's French Circus is the top attraction here, and is followed with interest and amusement. Another capital turn is the Three Coopers, comedy and harmonising vocalists; while Harry Zetter, comedian and dancer, is very well received, and Chris Van Bern, eccentric comedian, is distinctly amusing. Other enjoyable items are W. G. Wesley, character comedian; the Miners' Quartet of vocalists; Dolly Ross, expert dancer and comedienne; Edwin Adeler, comedian; and Horace Sadie, a smart dancer.

QUEEN'S PARK HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. W. Meek.—Joe Peterman presents here this week with great success The Singing Servants, a bright operatic burlesque in two scenes; Ritchie-Heron's company, including Dick Harcourt, cause no end of amusement with The Village Fire Brigade; W. G. Webber, bass vocalist, is deservedly well received; Arthur Albert is a descriptive vocalist of more than average merit; Frank Solbey is a clever child mimic and capital dancer; J. C. Scatter is highly entertaining with patter and songs; George Phillips, swell comedian and dancer, is good; and Joe Conway, comedian, completes an excellent programme. The Bioscope subject, Broken Hearts, is exceptionally good.

HULME HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Broadhead and Son; Acting-Manager, Mr. Thomas Baker.—An entertaining programme here this week comprises The Deuchars, duettists and dancers; Jim Cunliffe, comedian; Tom Morris, sifleur; The Protector, a scena by Will Letters; Little Tichbourne, a comical fellow, in song and dance; Willard's Merry Mannikins, a smart variety combination; Barrie and Wood, comedians and dancers; James and Jennie Lee (who top the bill) in their expert dancing and cycling act; Emil and Ediss, clever banjoists; and Cyril Jephson, character comedian.

MANSFIELD. — GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Capt. Clayton; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Mark Lowe.—Mr. George Robertson's company is here this week with A Message from Mars. The important part of Horace Parker is capitally undertaken by Mr. Gordon Starkey; the messenger is effectively represented by Mr. Lionel Yaldwyn; Mr Percy Taylor did well as the tramp; Mr. N. H. Jessop was a conspicuous success as Arthur Dyson; the Minnie Templer of Miss Edith King was a capital performance; and the other parts were well impersonated.

MARGATE. — HIPPODROME. — Managing-Directors, Messrs. F. Mouillot and W. de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. C. F. Bawtree.—Heading the bill this week is Fred Karno's new sketch, The Yapp Yapps, which has had a particularly successful run and a wonderfully hearty reception. Selbo, the King of Clubs, proves himself a remarkably smart juggler and plate thrower; and Mersano, comedy conjuror and coin and card manipulator, also gives a good turn. Daisy Hicks sings pleasingly; Fred Clements, comedian, gives an acceptable turn; and Odeyne Spark sings and dances with great success.

METHIL.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietors, the Methil Theatre Co., Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Sydney Arnold.—On Monday Mr. Harry Starr opened a welcome return visit with Otto, the Outcast. In the name-part Mr. Harry Starr displayed considerable versatility, and made himself popular; Mr. Will Hee was excellent as Roderique d'Estalier, alias Vidocq, &c.; Mr. Walter Kenion showed a clever study of Daddy Bruneau; the priest was well done by Mr. Tom Crawford; Mr. Edwin Firth was a dignified Marquis; and Wally was well played by Mr. Wm. Gossett. As Susette Miss Emmeline Roselle scored a success; Miss Cissie Harding played Mme. de Chaumont with decided appreciation of the character; Miss Kate Norris was excellent as Lorna; and Miss Madge Blundell was capital as Corinne Jarbeau.

MEXBOROUGH.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr W. H. Melton.—Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kimberley are this week presenting Two Little Drummer Boys. Mr. Harry Scott plays with distinct ability as Capt. Carsdale; Capt. Darrell has a capable exponent in Mr. Oswald Douglas; Mr. Geoff. Sutherland makes the most of the part of Lieut. Kingsley; Mr. Ed. Bikker is a soldierly figure as General Kingsley; a sympathetic and intelligent rendering of the part of Alma Kingsley is given by Miss Violet Ainslie; and the unthankful part of Margaret Rivers (drunken Meg) is skilfully sustained by Miss Violet Ingram. The title-rôles are capitally played by Misses Maggie English and Maude Douglas. Enjoyable comedy is provided by Mr. Will Percy and Mr. Dick Seddon.

NEW PICTURE HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. Will Hunter; Manager, Mr. E. H Jones.—The programme here this week includes, amongst others, the following pictures:—Patriots; or, the Horrors of War, A Young Protector, Little Cabin Boy, Pleasant Side of a Soldier's Life, A Stitch in Time, Separation Wanted, &c.

MIDDLESBROUGH.—OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. E. Jowsey; Manager and Licensee, Mr. W. Ker Chatto.—Mr. John M. East is this week presenting Sexton Blake. Mr. Horace Denton is very successful in the title-rôle; as Tinker Mr. Billy Ross supplies the necessary touch of humour; Miss East Robertson is good as Philadelphia Kate; Miss Bertha Francis gives a pleasing portrayal of Marjorie; Mr. Brian Daly as Farmer Blackburn and Mr. William Felton as Rodger are well placed; and Miss Lena Delphine does well as Euphemia.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Charles Imeson.—Walter Howard's new romantic play Her Love Against the World is being presented here by Messrs. W. H. Hallatt and Walter Howard's principal company. The rôle of Eric is excellently portrayed by Mr. Fred Emery; Miss Rossie St. John sustains the part of Lionel in excellent style; the character of Iris is charmingly represented by Miss Grace Heywood; Mr. Lewis Gilbert is remarkably fine as the Prince of Ravensbury; Mr. W. H. Hallatt is clever as Prince Othmar; and Mr. V. Rowland acts with ability as Prince Maurice.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Brill; Manager, Mr. Charles G. Rembges.—The Bijou Juveniles give a refined musical scena here entitled Pansy's Birthday. The Nettas sing most acceptably; Jack Lane, the Yorkshire rustic, is very entertaining; the Norman and Leonard Trio in a musical item are successful; the Sisters Varley sing duets; the Dayton Family give a most daring and clever entertainment; and Gladys Mavius is a pleasing comedienne. Fred Earle, comedian, causes much amusement; and Lee-Tung-Foo and the Three Milfords also contribute.

HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Signor Rino Pepi; Manager, Mr. C. E. Nicholls.—Lockhart's troupe of elephants give a remarkable display here this week; Shaun Glenville is laughable in a sketch, The Art of Deception; Tom E. Hughes sings in excellent style; the Cabiacs are smart acrobats, as are also Burley and Burley. Lee and Lee, musical eccentrics, are good; and Rich Taylor is a clever whistling ventriloquist.

OXFORD PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. Alf Graham; Manager, Mr. Ormesby French.—A capital programme is submitted here this week, some singing of a first-class order being provided by Mlle. de Rose and J. H. Hawtrey. The Bros. Sydamore give some good patter and dancing; the Maddisons also prove themselves excellent comedians; and Tom Gott, comedian, Mr. D. Donaldson and Miss F. Serina, and Tom Parker also do well.

MOTHERWELL.—NEW CENTURY THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. Buchanan; Resident-Manager, Mr. Arthur Hales.—Miss Bonwin Carlton's company is this week appearing in The Old, Old Story. Grimshaw, the detective is finely played by Mr. Edward Surrey, and a capable bit of character-acting is contributed by Mr. J. P. Dryden as John Hazel; Nettie Hazel, the farmer's wife, is capably sustained by Miss Bernice Fielding; and Miss Esther Lamont does well in the pathetic rôle of Marlow's supposed wife; Miss Bonwin Carlton is excellent as the good-hearted and sprightly Tilly; and mention should be made of Miss Kitty Maynard as little Jessie.

MUSSELBURGH.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Hugh Ritchie; Lessee, Mr. A. W. B. Kingston.—The stock company opened this week with a new Russian play for the first time in Scotland, By Command of the Czar. Dimitri Karatieff was played by Mr. Kingston with powerful effect; Mr. A. B. Croucher put in some good work as Boris Marne; Farmer Borinski was well played by Mr. Haydn C. Osborne; and the comedy part of Popoff received full justice from Mr. Harry Leonard; Messrs. Addison Thomas and Richard Asche did well as Captain Nicholai and Captain Onloff respectively; Kintinka, the female spy, was in the hands of Miss Vera Moseley; and Miss E. Colville as the heroine, Olga, was well placed.

NEW BRIGHTON.—WINTER GARDENS.—Lessees and Managers, Messrs. H. E. Jones and A. Douglass.—Laughter loud and long is the order of the night here, and Mr. Pip Powell and Miss Katie Vesey in a wonderfully clever sketch are responsible for most of the fun. The sketch A Perfect Woman is cleverly acted, whilst the singing, dancing, and general business cause much enthusiasm. Mr. W. B. Raby scores in his excellent songs; Miss Sybil Lester, child vocalist, comes in for prolonged applause; Mr. Charles W. Anson makes a decided success in monologues; Mr. Arthur Bearle is well received in his eccentric contributions; Miss Bessie Willow has a strong voice and good presence; and the animated pictures are, as usual, of a highly educational nature, with one or two humorous films. The new conductor of the orchestra, Mr. C E. Parsons, has made an excellent impression.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. Teale Lingham.—It is a long while since so much laughter was heard in the Royal as on Monday evening, when Mr. James Welch and his talented company appeared in the screamingly funny farce When Knights Were Bold. Mr. Welch plays the principal rôle of Sir Guy de Vere, and throughout the play the versatile comedian keeps the audience in a continuous state of laughter. Miss Audrey Ford as Lady Rowena contributes a thoroughly convincing study which is greatly appreciated; and Miss Maev O'Lea as Lady Millicent Eggington, Miss Gwendoline Rayne as Lady Majorie Eggington, Miss Helen Palgrave as the Hon. Mrs. Waldegrave, Mr. Arthur Grenville as Isaac Isaacson, Mr. George Desmond as the Hon. Charles Widdicombe, Mr. Guy Lane as the Rev. Pottlebury, and Mr. Cecil Kinnaird as Sir Bryan Ballymote all lend excellent support to a most enjoyable entertainment. As a curtain-raiser The Changeling, by W. W. Jacobs, is presented, Miss Helen Palgrave, Mr. J. H. Carson, and Mr. George Tully appearing to advantage.

TYNE THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Lessees, Messrs. Howard and Wyndham; Manager, Mr. Fred C. Sutcliffe.—Mr. F. W. Bolam this week presents The Sins of Society, and on Monday a crowded audience was enthusiastic in its appreciation. Miss Grace E. Leslie gives a fine impersonation of the imperious Lady Marion; and a charming representation of Lady Gwendolen is submitted by Miss Dorothy Giles. Miss Pattie Browne gives a bright and amusing study of the vivacious Lady Goldburg, and her persistent admirer, James Hogg, is skilfully portrayed by Mr. Blake Adams; Mr. Noel Ferrers (the society villain) has an adequate representative in Mr. C. F. Collings; and Mr. Vassall Vaughan sustains the part of the hero (Sir Dorian) with much success. Excellent support is rendered by the rest of the company, including Mr. Frederick Annerley as Mr. Morris, Miss Janet Hodson and Miss Mabel Murray. The staging is good, and the dresses are tasteful.

PALACE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. T. W. Rowe.—Miss Maud Hildyard is making her first appearance here since her return from Australia in The Great Awakening, which proves a strong attraction. Miss Hildyard gives an accomplished personation of the leading part of Lola Selby; Miss Elsie Capel pleases everybody with her sweetly pathetic Molly Merton; and a finely-drawn double part is that of Sir Henry Merton and Jack Merton by Mr. Cecil Gray. Mr. Herbert Roberson ably enacts Guy Rogan; Mr. Manning Spororton does well as Captain Lambert; Mr. Tracey Barrow and Miss Cissie Podmore add considerably to the fun.

GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. F. W. Bolam.—Convict 99 is drawing capital houses here this week. Mr. Frank Beresford as Lawrence Gray gives a fine rendering of the part; and Mr. Benson North is an excellent Ralf Vickers, whilst Miss Dorothy Milne as Geraldine Lucas acts with good dramatic force; and the other characters are ably sustained.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Resident-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; Manager, Mr. W. Parham Wells.—Wilkie Bard heads an acceptable bill here this week, and his quaint songs and patter arouse roars of laughter. Another clever turn is that provided by Miss Teddy Edmonds' company in the sporting farce The Lady Jockey, in which Mr. Jimmy Rouse works off any amount of humour in the rôle of a tipster. The Delevines provide acceptable entertainment with their breezy sketch Flipp and Flopp, in which Miss Minnie Delevine appears in the Scarecrow dance. As an impersonator, Syd May would be difficult to beat; a very pleasing turn is provided by the Dumond Trio, vocalists and instrumentalists; and others on the programme are Harry Bedford (comedian), Alf Chester (comedian), and Ida Kathrena, the human doll, the Bioscope completing.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thos. Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Will H. Boardman.—Heading the bill this week are the Harmony Four, and other clever and amusing turns are contributed by Henri Bekker, Hilgert and Arkas, Thorpe and Co. (in My Burglar), Jay Laurier, Three Panamas, Maid and Moon, and Williams and Warden.

NEWPORT.—LYCEUM.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Sidney Cooper.—A Royal Oak is being played to good houses here this week. Miss Glossop Harris invests Mildred Clavering with grace, dignity, and emotional power; Mr. Frank Cellier as Charles II. bore himself royally, yet with humour; as Dorian Cholmondeley Mr. Percival Madgwick does excellently; and Miss Gertrude Tate's Patty Woodroofe is a charming performance. Mr. E. Stuart Vinden is humorous as Walk-in-the-Hay-Dear-Love; Miss Janet Warden's Lady Cholmondeley is emotional; Miss Mary Goulden's Sir Bevis Cholmondeley is a pretty performance; and Mr. Arthur Goodsall's Colonel Aucketill is vigorous in its villainy.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll.—Miss Kitty Clinton sings well; Enzer, a juggler, performs some wonderful feats, and is assisted by Miss Clarice in a jiu-jitsu performance; Bonnie Goodwin's Piccaninnies (assisted by Miss Lilly Vine) delight the audience; Walter King, a droll comedian, cause much laughter; and Arthur Astill, a whistling mimic, shows considerable ability. A fine spectacular performance is provided by the Ten Zerbenas in the gorgeous scena The Enchanted Glen; and exceedingly attractive are the Herbert Darnley Comedy Co. in the spectacular Spanish musical production, The Brigands of Tarragona. The Bioscope complete the bill.

NORTHAMPTON.—TEMPERANCE HALL.—Proprietors, the Company.—Charles W. Poole's Myriorama is doing good business here this week. In addition to the effective dioramic pictures a good variety entertainment is provided by the Banzai Family of Japanese jugglers and equilibrists, who are loudly applauded; Sydney Bach as the Welsh landlady at the piano gives a clever and entertaining turn, his Welsh humour being well appreciated; Willie Dean, a comedian—and a good one too—has made himself a favourite. Illustrated songs were ably rendered by Eileen Russell; Harry Raymond is up to date in song and dance; the Seven Bramusas, a juvenile brass band, aided by the orchestra, are extremely good; and Mr. John R. Poole is an accomplished and gentlemanly guide.

NORTH SHIELDS. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Stanley Rogers; Acting-Manager, Mr. Horace Lee.—Second to None is here through the medium of Mr. T. Edward Ward's capable company. Mr. Theo. Balfour in the part of Sir Reginald Greystone, V.C., is admirably Mr. Frederick F. Loyd makes a capital Captain Philip; Mr. Arthur D. Layland, ably sustains the rôle of Lieut. Archer Ballater; Mr. J. G. Maine is good as Sergeant Jack Horseman; Messrs. Leonard Williams and Charles Halling deserve praise as the Brothers Wilding; Mr. Allan Carruthers makes a hit as Private Flutter; Mr. George H. Davis is well placed as Joe Ruggles; Miss Ward gives an excellent portrayal of Nell Greystone; Miss Maud Merrick acts with distinction as Mary Greystone; and Miss Clarrie Yandell makes a smart Norah.

CENTRAL PALACE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Wm. Mould.—The Santeron Wonders, jumpers, top the bill here; Captain Ellis and son give an enjoyable musical act; Messrs. Dalemo and Stream, singing comedians, dancers, &c., are smart; Clive and Vera, in The Squire and the Dairymaid, are much appreciated; Messrs. Dale and Vale, duettists and dancers, meet with favour; Mr. Arthur Stacey, eccentric comedian and dancer, has made a hit; and the Mouldoscope is as entertaining as ever NORTHWICH.—CENTRAL THEATRE.—Proprietress, Mrs. S. Golden.—A musical play entitled Dainty Lady Dorothy occupies the boards this week. Mr. W. H. Montgomery undertakes the part of Lord Arnold with much ability, and his musical numbers are very pleasing; Mr. Frank Lester constitutes a capital Jew, Solomon Hawkstein, and Mr. Edgar Dereve gives a humorous portrayal of Joseph Jinks. Miss Ida Ernest has a capital voice, and delineates Lady Dorothy in a charming manner.

THE PAVILION.—Proprietress, Mrs. Fletcher; Manager, Mr. Towyn Thomas.—Mr. Frank Coyle is undoubtedly a quaint comedian and causes much merriment; the Hazards, comedy and character duettists, do well; Uty is versatile, and keeps his audience in roars of laughter; the Dewars present an absurdity entitled The New Barman; Jack Ford, Irish comedian and dancer, has a good reception; Phil Royston's comedy sketch company in Cut Off are extremely funny; and the Ruffell's Bioscope pictures are decidedly good.

NORWICH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Fred Morgan.—Miss Lena Ashwell's company is here with Diana of Dobson's. Miss Dorothy Green in the title-rôle fairly captivates the audience, and Miss Mary Stuart is good as Mrs. Cantelupe; Miss Nannie Hume deserves every praise for her humour as Miss Jay and as the old vagrant in the last act; Mr. Alfred Harris does well as Sir Jabez; Mr. H. Grindon admirably renders the part of Capt. Victor Bretherton; and Mr. Albert Wainwright shows ability as P.-C. Fellowes.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. E. H. Bostock and F. W. Fitt; Manager, Mr. Councillor F. W. Fitt.—The management provides a capital programme this week. The Smythsons are very amusing in the sketch Love Germs; Phil Rees' Stable Boys are equally entertaining; Radie Furman obtains a good reception for her dancing; Fred Barnes continues a favourite; Alman Correze is a clever juggler; and Reg Bolton in a comedy scena, The Editor's Imp, Maudie Ford, comedienne and dancer, and the Hippo Bio complete a pleasing entertainment.

NOTTINGHAM. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Managing Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Howard Finney.—The Man from Mexico is staged this week, and audiences have laughed boisterously over its comicalities. An excellent cast is headed by the inimitable comedian Mr. Stanley Cooke, who as Benjamin Fitzhugh has a rôle well suited to his powers of resource and humour; Mr. George Willoughby adds greatly to the fun as Roderick Majors; and a good character study of a German is supplied by Mr. Fred Lewis; Miss Emily Fitzroy looks dainty and acts with charming naïvete as Mrs. Fitzhugh; Miss Amy Francis makes a typical New Yorker in the part of Nettie Majors; and Miss Fyfe Alexander proves an attractive Sally Grace. Minor rôles are excellently filled by Messrs. Walter Gay, Hugh Ardale, Rupert Stutfield, E. A. Douglas, and James Schnapper. A smart little curtain raiser, entitled His Living Image, is well played by Miss Amy Francis, Mr. Lytton Grey, and Mr. Fred Lewis. On Friday, the 27th ult., Mr. Cyril Maude paid a flying visit with a matinée of Toddles, and a crowded audience gave them a rousing reception.

GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Harry Upton.—The Village Blacksmith pays another return visit here. Mr. Sam Livesey retains his part as John Strong, and his fine physique and earnest interpretation beget rapturous applause; Mr. Albert Sinclair evokes hearty execration as the villainous Captain Leo; and Lucas Marler is well played by Mr. Edwin Maydew. Miss Maggie Edwards makes an admirable exponent of Kate Strong, evincing sympathy and feeling; Miss Cassie Le Grande proves resourceful as Ruth Parkins; and Mrs. T. C. Livesey gives an excellent character study of a tinker's wife; the Tinker is a clever piece of work by Mr. T. E. Marshall, and Mr. George Wilton is an admirable St. John Harman; as Billy Twig Mr. Fred Haming keeps the house in constant laughter, and he has valuable help from Miss Edith Giddens in the part of Martha Mopps.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. Albert C. Duncan.—Arthur Roberts heads the bill this week with his sketch, Till Sunday, in which he receives valuable assistance from Miss Ruby Celeste and Mr. H. J. Worth; Terry and Lambert have an excellent skit on American methods, which compels unproarious merriment; no more charming turn appears on these boards than that of Florence and Lilian, and they deservedly receive an enthusiastic reception; the Mattineks give an amusing dancing performance; Sydney Lee supplies some clever conjuring tricks; and Albert Christian vocalises in his usual breezy style; a song by Kate Cohen is pleasantly rendered; Lil O'Gorman dances well; Alf. Maynall, comedian; and pictures on the Bioscope close the programme.

ROYAL HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. V. Carnell.—The comedy, 61, Prospect Street, is a typical example of American humour, and is well played by Caryl Wilbur's company. The hand-balancing of the Barrois is a dexterous and interesting performance; Addie Dorina gives examples of quick-changes in costume; and Heeley and Meeley create roars of laughter by their comicalities; John Grun Marx demonstrates his great strength; Dave Carter sings agreeably; and merry moments are afforded by Ferris and May in a musical sketch. Another pleasurable item is The Singing Servants, in which a goodly company submit some agreeable harmony and smart dancing; Will Vay's Juveniles are well received; Ritter and Foster dance and chatter to the delight of their audience, and interesting films are shown on the Barrascope.

NUNEATON.—PRINCE OF WALES'S.—Proprietors, Theatre and Entertainments Co.; Managing-Director, Mr. A. F. Cross; Acting-Manager, Mr. Joseph Coyle.—Mr. Lester Collingwood's company is paying a return visit here in When London Sleeps. Mr. James Hare is a distinct success as the relentless villain Captain Rodney Haynes; Mr. Edward E. Ashby ably plays the part of the hero David Englehart; Mr Ernest C. Edwards as Mr. Furnaby Fuller does well; Mr. Douglas Campbell as Sammy and Mr. Frank Howard as the Hon. Bertie Broomhead succeed in creating a good deal of amusement. Miss Mabel Scudamore finds much favour in her charming portrayal of Queenie Carruthers; Miss Lilla Wilde is good as Hilda Carode; Miss Bella Power as the Signorina is very humorous; and Miss Mona Hall is lively and attractive as Carrie Jones.

OLDBURY.—PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. Jas. Tyrer.—This week's programme includes Rex Grahame, comedian, who is very droll; Serpento, a first-rate contortionist; Miss Grahame, a clever comedienne; Miss Vera Mayne, who has a good voice; Mr. Fred Hovis in some very catchy chorus songs; and the pictures.

OLDHAM.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Hulme.—Mr. Wentworth Croke's company in The Bondman opened here before a large audience. As Michael Mr. Lionel Atwill acted in a masterly manner, and Mr. R. Scrope Quentin as Jason played in powerful and decisive style; Miss Georgina Wynter appeared with great success as Greeba; Miss Emilie Mayhew made a charming Christian Ann, and Miss Madge Lamerton was very good as Mrs. Fairbrother; Mr. Oswald Lingard as Adam Fairbrother did very well, and Mr. W. H. Rotherham in the dual rôle of Grandfather and Father Ferrati was excellent; Miss Gertrude Helene and Master Walter Neville as Mona and Danny were equally praiseworthy; Mr. George E. Austin as the Marshal was very good; Messrs. Alfred Fisher and Fred J. Waller as Governor Testa and Doctor Boni were capable, and the remaining characters were ably impersonated.

COLOSSEUM THEATRE.—General Manager, Mr. Wm. Eastwood.—The Assassin is being played here by Mr. Augustine Knight and company. Miss Ella Vane acts the name part, as the Countess Wanda, using her powerful voice with telling effect; Mr. H. B. Wilson makes a manly Ivan Ipanoff, and Mr. Knight makes much of the villainy of Prince Demetri; Mr. Edwin Lever makes an aristocratic Duke Carl; Mr. Edward Swinton is very amusing as Baron Alphonse, and Mr. Edwin Jenner is smart as Capt. O'Neil; Miss Hettie Senior acts cleverly as Connie, and Miss Eva Trevenna is a sympathetic Nita; Miss Marie E. Robertson as Katrina, and Mr. Tom J. Taylor as Peter infuse much comedy into their acting; Mr. Edward Fryer as General Nicol and Mr. J. Abbott as Evangie are very good.

ROYAL THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry Kilrow.—Chas. T. Aldrich successfully tops the bill in his versatile act; the Peerless Mowatts present some most marvellous juggling; Julian Mack keeps the house in a merry humour with his funny patter; Jewel St. Leger sings exceedingly well, and the Three Royal Dreadnoughts exhibit some clever marksmanship; Sara Roseberry has a capital reception for Easr Folk's Party; Nell Cotter is popular with her singing, and the Brothers Narrow are clever in their comedy cycling act. The Dottoscope portrays a very amusing film.

HIPPODROME.—General-Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Nuttall.—The Bros. Bright are marvellous athletes; Will Musgrave is entertaining with his songs; Primavesi provides some capital juggling, and Ina Lorimer sings and dances smartly; Les Marsumas are clever in their comedy on wheels; J. P. Carroll plays the tambourine in a capital manner, and gets much applause; Ralph and Nellie Howard are good in their musical act, and the Dottoscope depicts a good picture.

PALACE THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. F Thorne.—In the Globe of Life, which heads the bill, Wizard and Irene Stone appear in a sensational act with success; Hal Forde is heartily received for his capital singing; Starr and Leslie in their smart speciality do very well; Diana Hope and company appear with success in a society episode, Her Good Name; Horace Day is smart in his songs and patter; Alice Maple sings and dances with excellent results, and Dot Moss sings capitally; Paulton and Dooley create roars of laughter with their clever cycle act. The Palace Pictures conclude.

CENTRAL HALL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Lester King.—The pictures this week are very good, and include Tale of the Revolution, Fido's Taking Way, Fantastical Airship, Fight for Honour, Polly's Excursion, His Wedding Morn, Percy's Moustache, Jilted Woman's Revenge, Night Alarm, and the illustrated song, "A Letter from Heaven," sung in good style by Mr. F. Walker.

OXFORD.—NEW THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. C. C. Dorrill; Assistant-Manager, Mr. G. T. Lucas.—The latter half of last week Charley's Aunt proved as attractive as ever here. This week Mr. Mouillot's No. 1 company in the comic opera, Tom Jones, is proving a great attraction; Mr. Cyril Thompson gives a natural and effective rendering of Tom Jones; Mr. A. H. Majilton is well suited as Blifil; Mr. Allworthy and Squire Western find most capable exponents in Messrs. A. J. Nicholls and Fred Seymour; and Mr. George Elton keeps the house in roars of laughter as Benjamin Partridge; Miss Alice Moffatt sings delightfully as Sophia; Miss O. Eltone makes a handsome and seductive Lady Bellaston; and Miss Florence Saunders' vivacious acting as Honour meets with complete approval.

EAST OXFORD THEATRE.—Lessees, East Oxford Theatre Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Stuart.—Mr. Montague Beaudyn's company is here with Send Him Victorious. Mr. Wm. Allington makes an attractive hero as Captain Frank Allison; Mr. Jerold E. Reed plays convincingly as Colonel Kauffman; and Mr. John Baxter supports them as Major Carl Strauss; Mr. Edward Lowrie is successful as Sergeant Max; and Mr. Frank Holyoake is seen to advantage as the King of Raomia; Mr. Arthur Tomlin is funny as Geordie Walker; Miss Cecilia Crawford gives a bright portrayal of Gretchen; Miss Isabelle Hunt does well as Ethel Hardinge; and Miss Marie Robson is a powerful countess.

PAISLEY.—PAISLEY THEATRE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. H. Savile.—Mr. William Maclaren and Miss Lily C. Bandmann, in Claudian, both play with power and skill and in convincing style, the former as Claudian and the latter as Almida. In the prologue Mr. G. Edward Dunstan's embodiment of Theorus is both interesting and impressive; Miss Amy Hardcastle plays with taste in her presentment of Serena; Mr. George Best successfully undertakes the part of Sesiphon; Mr. George Roberts as the Holy Clement is earnest throughout; and Mr. Stanley

Globe-Wernicke

OFFICE FURNITURE.

THE first place of call for anyone requiring a high-class desk at a reasonable price should be at one of the "Globe-Wernicke" Show-rooms. People are beginning to realise that "Globe-Wernicke" Office and Library Furniture is quite different from the ordinary type—more artistic in build, more conveniently arranged, and far better in construction.

WE ARE ALWAYS PLEASED TO SHOW BONA-FIDE INQUIRERS OUR SELECTION OF HIGH-CLASS OFFICE AND LIBRARY FURNITURE.

PACKING FREE. Orders of £2 CARRIAGE PAID to any goods station in the BRITISH ISLES. Send for Catalogue No. 203D post free from

CASH OR DEFERRED PAYMENTS.

The Globe-Wernicke Co LTD

OFFICE AND LIBRARY FURNISHERS,

44, HOLBORN VIADUCT, LONDON, E.C. 82, VICTORIA STREET, LONDON, S.W.

Vine as Zosimus, Mr. Robert Borlande as Volpas, Mr. W. H. Pointon as Symachus, and Mr. A. Nuttall as Demos contribute excellent embodiments. In the play proper Mr. Bernard Elliott submits an admirable interpretation of Thariogalus Tetrarch; Agazil is represented by Mr. Douglas Earle with an outspoken earnestness; Mr. Weston Hubbard gives a capital portrayal of Alcares; Mr. Chal. T. Chaloner provides merriment with his impersonation of Belos; and a bright mad captivating portrait of Edessa is supplied by Miss Ruth Trafford.

Hippodrome.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Bostock; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. Stead.—George Lashwood is this week paying his second visit to Paisley, after nearly a score years' absence. He provides the star turn, and has to sing four or five songs at each performance. Comedy business extraordinary is a term which might well be applied to the Three Pirmans in their pot-pourri act; Maxey and Pete perform some very smart feats in their clever trick and comedy cycling act; Picton Roxburgh and Fanny Wright, in their farcical tabloid, My Little One, cause great amusement; Bert Weston, comedian, is a capable artist; Edith Fink, comedienne, scores with her chorus songs; Kloof and Ramsay submit a very entertaining comedy and musical act; Dorothy Dundas sings sweetly; and the Bioscope finishes an interesting bill.

PEMBROKE DOCK.—Queen's Theatre.—Proprietor, Mr. Tom Barger; Business-Manager, Mr. Norman Barger.—Mrs. F. Wybert Clive's company pays its first annual visit here in presenting The Conscript, The Outcast of the Family, and The Branded Woman. In the first-named drama, Mr. Chas. H. Coleman fills the title-rôle well, being ably supported by Miss Lilian Ross as Nadia. Mr. Bert Atherton as the postman is funny, and finds a capital assistant in Miss Dot Morella. Mr. Walter Steele as Count Paul Hardiski, the villain of the piece, gives a good character study.

PENTRE.—Tivoli Palace and Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Poole's Theatres, Ltd.; District-Manager, Mr. W. Bynorth; Acting-Manager, Mr. James Gunn.—Topping a good programme this week are the Five Whiteleys; La Sattour, comedienne, is an excellent turn.

Workmen's Hall.—Manager, Mr. Edgar Harper.—Will Stone's animated pictures still hold their own. The specialities include Hooper and Shave, popular character comedians; and Miss Constance Labordes continues to be a favourite in her illustrated songs.

PERTH.—Theatre.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. H. Savile; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Aldridge.—Messrs Neville and Carnaby's company in Napoleon's Divorce is the attraction here. Mr. F. H. Neville gives an excellent portrayal of the title-rôle; Mr. J. Soden is to be commended for his performance as Joseph Bonaparte; Mr. Terence Nerry meets with much success as Colonel D'Arville; Mr. J. Holt distinguishes himself as Sergeant Baton; as Josephine Miss Kate Randolph scores a distinct success; Miss A. Beddard is good as Duchess St. Everard; Miss Marion Mayne gives satisfaction as Jeannette, and Miss Veronica Clinton displays ability as Marie Louise.

PETERBOROUGH.—New Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Messrs. Fred Karno and A. H. Edwards; Manager, Mr. Frank Gallagher.—Chief place is occupied by Fred Winn and company in a thrilling dramatic episode, The Light in the Window. Mr. Fred Winn takes the part of Jim Wishart with success, and is well supported by Kate Kearney, Agnes Paulton, and C. H. Maxwell. Other interesting turns are those of Amy Saville, dainty comedienne; Bugler Carr, cornet soloist; the Stowe Bros., extraordinary equilibrists; Ernest Ball, actor-vocalist; Cora Casselli, vivacious dancer; and Leonard Teel, the "suffering dame."

PLYMOUTH.—Theatre Royal.—Manager, Mr. J. Langdon Lee.—Mrs. Dot forms a strong attraction, and large audiences have nightly enjoyed the cynical epigrams with which the play abounds. Miss May Palfrey is entrusted with the title-rôle, and her delineation of the shrewd, business-like little brewer widow is all that can be desired; Mr. F. Kinsey Peile as James Blenkinsop furnishes an admirable study, and forcibly drives home the witty satire which permeates his part; Mr. Basil Hallam strikes a very original line with his conception of Freddy Perkins; Mr. H. C. Buckler is a manly Gerald Halstane; and Mr. McIntyre Wickteed as Charles arouses much hearty laughter. Miss Aida Jenoure as Lady Sellenger gives an ideal rendering of a match-making mother; and Miss Evelyn Beaumont is particularly fascinating as Nellie Sellenger. A cleverly-written little curtain-raiser, entitled A Lively Dinner, in which the respective parts are taken by Messrs. F. Denton, H. Kennedy, G. Morgan, and Miss Annie Hill, precedes the principal production.

Palace of Varieties.—Manager, Mr. Jack Field.—Mark Sheridan's reception proves that the well-known comedian has lost none of his powers of attraction and amusement, his satire of the Licensing Bill being greatly enjoyed; Frank Hartley, a youthful juggler, is a past-master in his art; the Four Figaros entertain with some pretty and well-executed national dances, while their ability as vocalists is an additional source of attraction; and Gus Harris is a popular Hebrew delineator. The Warsaw Bros. furnish an attractive musical number; Lisbon and Barker work hard in the sketch, Extemporising; and Cissie Thompson (comedienne) and Woolmer Young (comedian) both supply popular numbers.

PORTH. — The Palace. — Proprietors, Poole's Theatres Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. C. W. Poole; Manager, Mr. Walter Bynorth.—Topping an excellent and varied programme we have Marguerite Broadfoote, the charming comedienne; Albert Letine is capital in his female impersonations; U. C. Ugo, in mirthful mysteries, is exceedingly clever; Nell Brough is a charming burlesque actress and whistling comedienne; Arthur Royce, a popular entertainer at the piano; Morander and Darius are exceptionally smart gymnasts; Alice May and Co. are well received in the amusing farce, Tranquillity; Johnson and Bert deserve praise for their novel act, A Queer Customer; Robins and Collier make a hit in Fun at a Railway Station; and the Palascope has some good films.

PORTSMOUTH.—Theatre Royal.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Bell.—The Scarlet Pimpernel is being presented here by Mr. Fred Terry and company. Mr. Terry in the rôle of Sir Percy gives a fascinating impersonation; Miss Miriam Lewes is a charming and delightful Lady Blakeney; Mr. Horace Hodges in the part of Chauvelin is excellent; Mr. A. E. Andon is a dignified Prince of Wales; Mr. Alfred Kendrick an interesting Sir Andrew Ffoulkes; and Lord Anthony Dewhurst and Lord Grenville have able impersonators in Messrs. Malcolm Cherry and Frederick Groves respectively. Miss Claire Pauncefort makes a capable Comtesse de Tournal; Miss Nellie Clyde a successful Susanne; and Miss Mary Jennings as Sally Jellyband is brisk and lively.

Prince's Theatre.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. E. Agate.—Her Forbidden Marriage is staged here by Mr. Frederick Melville's company. Mr. Henry Lonsdale plays effectively the part of George Madison; Charles Devereux is acted forcibly by Mr. Louis Hector; Mr. C. Davidson deserves mention as Geoffrey Broughton; Mr. Conrad Stratford ably fills the rôle of the Rev. Mr. Dean; Mr. Vincent Loraine submits a capital study of Joe Lambkin; and Mr. Fred de Vere as Timothy Tuttut is popular. Miss Geraldine le Sage gives an excellent portrayal of Lucy; Miss Kitty Merrick is an amusing Patty Lovejoy; and Miss Agnes Imlay a successful Molly. Superior.

King's Theatre.—Licensee and Manager, Mr J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Clance Marner; Director of Entertainments, Mr. Thomas Barrasford.—Edouard Jose heads the programme here with his English version of The Strike, a dramatic episode of much intensity. Minnie Love is a sweet singer of sweet songs; the Krags in an acrobatic act are smart and up to date; Sinclair and Parr are responsible for a capital entertainment; Wilfred E. Shine and company in a farcical financial fragment, Money for Nothing, are capable and amusing; Rose and Calvert are smart as a comedy pair; and Tray and Rice, comedians and dancers, the Quality Quartet, the Gregory Troupe of hoop rollers and jugglers, and animated pictures complete the bill.

Empire Palace.—Managing-Director, Captain Warren Wright; Secretary, Mr. W. Pratt.—Arthur Dandoe's company in the amusing burletta The Phonograph Belle head the programme here; Fred Dunstone, comedian, has a taking style; the Delomes, clog dancers, give an exceedingly-able turn; the Sisters St. Julian are expert dancers; Frank Maura is a marvel of pedal equipoise; Harry Thurston, burlesque comedian, is popular with his patter; and Stewart and Morgan in a vocal speciality gain hearty approval. Excellent pictures conclude.

Hippodrome.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Harris; Acting-Manager, Col. Roberts, V.D.—The most popular turn here this week is Mr. "Consul," the almost human chimpanzee, who made his initial appearance to a Portsmouth audience on Monday evening, and gained a decidedly good reception for his marked docility and intelligence, showing the sympathetic patience of his trainer, Mr. F. C. Bostock. Ike and Will Scott are a pair of smart comedians and dancers; Harry Nation, comedian, in his contribution of topical songs, does well; Stevens and Hennior prove acceptable as eccentric dancers; Maidie Scott, "just a comedienne," and a very good one at that, is an attractive turn; and Stelling and dog, the Falcons (comedy equilibrists), the Denwartz Troupe of lady acrobats, and the Hippo. pictures complete.

PRESTON.—Theatre Royal.—Proprietors, the Executors of the late W. Johnson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Stephen Pritt.—Mr. William Mollison, supported by Miss Evelyn McNay and a strong company, are paying a welcome visit here. On Monday a large audience gave them an enthusiastic reception in Macbeth. Mr. Mollison as Macbeth fully sustained his high reputation as a tragedian, while Miss Evelyn McNay gave a no less finished impersonation of Lady Macbeth, which calls for the highest praise. Mr. William Calvert's Macduff was also a fine bit of acting; Messrs. Henry Deas and Leslie Newton were most capable as Malcolm and Donalbain; and Mr. Harold Neville was an excellent Banquo. The rest of the cast was in the very capable hands of the Misses Blair Staples, Josephine Woodward, Brandon Gower, Freda Wright, Hermina Black, and Messrs. Leslie Lingham, Kane, Jenner, Owen Taylor, Rutherford Mayne, Ellis, Drysdale, Graham, and Laurence, each and all of whom acquitted themselves in a manner that showed a careful and close acquaintance with their parts. The tragedy was well staged, and the whole production is entitled to the highest praise. During the week Hamlet and Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush are to be staged.

Prince's Theatre.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Sawyer and Woodruff.—Woman and Wine, as presented by Miss Austin and Mr. Edmund's company, is drawing good houses this week. Miss C. St. Elmo gives a powerful portrayal of Marcel Rigadout; Miss Octavia de Noel is good as La Colombe; Miss Violet Sims gives an excellent rendition of Mary Andrews; Miss Ethel Vinroy is to be complimented on her part of Janet Marlow; Mr. Edwin Kisby as the repulsive Pierre Crucru is most successful; Mr. J. Milne Taylor is an excellent Hugh Seymour; Mr. E. Vivian Edmonds has a heavy part to play as Dick Seymour and plays it well; Mr. J. Milne Taylor as Professor Sauter and Mr. Harry Harrop as Charles, his son, do much towards sustaining the humorous portions, with which the play is judiciously interspersed; and all the other characters are in good hands. In the bal masque scene in the third act the Lottie Stone Troupe of whirlwind dancers introduce their specialities with marked effect. The mounting of the play is good throughout.

Royal Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Son; Resident-Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank E. Burdett.—A capital programme is again presented to the patrons this week, who are not slow in showing their appreciation. Miss Ada Colley, the world-renowned prima donna, brought down the house by her magnificent rendering of "The Nightingale," and had to respond to a vociferous encore; the Six Brothers Luck in the pantomime The Demon of the Cellar, needless to say, meet with the greatest success; Slyvia is a clever dancer, and gives a clever exposition of acrobatic, Dutch, and buck dancing; Charters and Clare give some very funny mock-dramatic scenas, and score well; Randolph King, "the one-man programme," is exceedingly clever, and his quick changes are certainly marvellous, and he fully deserves the applause he receives; Pueblo and Cropp, the versatile Creole artists, have a good turn in their up-to-date act, The Swell and the Belle; George Edney is a character vocalist and comedian who pleases; Mark Merry is decidedly funny both in his songs and make-up; and In a Stone Quarry on the Bioscope concludes a programme with which the audience seems thoroughly satisfied.

RADCLIFFE. — Grand Opera House. — Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Sante; Acting-Manager, Mr. Jas. Bootham.—Messrs. M. H. Glenville and F. Osmond's company is producing the military drama, A Soldier of France. At the head of the company is Mr. Percy Ballard, who does a good deal of acceptable work as Father Jean. Miss Carlotta Anson also acts successfully as Pauline Lorraine. Mr. Albert Guyon; as the designing Count, Mr. Fred Edwards, in a humorous character, and Miss Jennie Clare (Margot) also take their parts well.

RAMSGATE.—Royal Palace Theatre.—Proprietor, Lord George Sanger; Resident-Manager, Mr. Dan Forrest; Lessee, Mr. E. Mansell.—Mr. Ernest Mansell has auspiciously commenced his term of lesseeship of the above theatre with fine presentations of animated pictures representative of The King's Service, Afloat and Ashore. There has been large and delighted crowds each evening, and it is generally admitted that the films are among the best ever exhibited in the town. They depict in most graphic manner life in the Army, Navy, and Territorial Forces, and pictures of humorous and topical interest are also introduced. Admirable variety turns are supplied by Miss Ada White (impersonator) and Mr. Vic Verney (siffleur).

RAWTENSTALL.—Grand Theatre.—Lessee, Mr. Fred Granville; General Business-Manager, Mr. A. R. Feather.—This week we have an excellent variety company. The Sisters Kebble, harmony duettists, thoroughly deserve the title; Les Mortaldos, slack wire artists, present an enjoyable number, introducing cockatoos and maccaws; Bonetta, prima donna, submits some good songs; and the Sisters Dunville are charming in Dutch songs. Mr. Harry Kirk is termed on the bill the "funny comedian with the funny face," and the list of attractions includes the Bioscope.

READING.—Royal County Theatre.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Benton.—Hall Caine's great drama The Prodigal Son is being presented here in first-rate style, by Mr. Wentwork Croke's special company. Mr. Hugh Montgomery gives a fine conception of the part of Magnus Stephenson; Mr. Gordon Macintosh is a very powerful representative of the Prodigal, Oscar; Miss Valerie Crespin doubles the parts of Thora and Elin in excellent style; Miss Mildred Cottell plays very effectively as Helga; Mr. Charles Cooper gives a dignified rendering of the character of the Governor; Miss Marie Harcourt is highly amusing as Margaret Neilson; and all the other parts are adequately filled. The scenery is very elaborate, and the play is splendidly mounted.

The Palace.—Managing-Director, Mr. Geo. Howard Watson; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. E. Draco. The Great Lumars appear with much success in a novel and sensational acrobatic act; Rowland Hill, comedian, makes a welcome re-appearance; Walter Munroe gives some excellent Irish impersonations; Mlle. Haydee introduces her miniature vaudeville theatre, and gives a very clever marionette performance; Boden and Bell, juvenile vocalists and dancers provide a good turn; Josie Mooney, comedienne, is well appreciated; Sinclair and Whiteford afford much amusement in their comedietta, Getting Even; Daisy Morell sings very vivaciously; and the Bioscope pictures show the Reedham boys at drill in a very natural manner.

REDDITCH.—Public Hall.—Lessee, Mr. W. Treadgold.—The Universe Animated Picture Co. opened here on Tuesday for five nights. The World in Motion, with newer pictures and songs, and Collin and Croft make up the show, which has met with success.

ROCHDALE.—Theatre Royal.—Proprietors, the Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. W. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. S. Burton.—The Prodigal Son is once again drawing good houses. Mr. Albert Ward as Oscar Stephensson again submits a fine and impassioned portrayal; Mr. H. L. Crane acts with histrionic ability as Magnus Stephensson; Mr. Jackson Hayes is powerful in his impersonation os Stephen Magnusson; Mr. James English is most effective as Oscar Neilsen; and Mr. A. J. Williams is heard to advantage as the Pastor; Miss Pearla Gardner enacts with distinction the part of Helga Neilsen; Miss Florence Lovell makes the most of Anna Magnusson; Mis Kate Osborne enlivens the play by a spirited embodiment of Margaret Neilsen; and Miss Pauline Emeric acts with telling effect in the dual rôle of Thora and Elin.

Empire.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Thomas Hargreaves; General-Manager, Mr. Frank Hargreaves.—Thos. E. Finglass tops the bill here with some well-rendered coon songs and dances; Wyndham and Waters create roars of laughter in The Professor and his Pupil; Bros. Durant are amusing in their burlesque aeroplane act; and Sheila Mcneil, Scotch comedienne; Oliver Conroy, comedian; Edie Veno, eccentric comedienne; Victoria Dagmar on the horizontal bar and rope; and the Empire Bioscope pictures complete an enjoyable entertainment.

New Hippodrome. — Proprietors, The Jackson Family; Business-Manager, Mr. Jno. Jackson; Resident-Manager, Mr. James Jackson, sen.—The bill of fare submitted here is one of all-round excellence. Corbin's dogs manifest a high degree of animal training; the Musical Johnsons fairly bring down the house with their performance on the xylophones; Leslie's Comedy Cadets in After Lights Out contribute a most enjoyable entertainment; and other attractions include The Itrams, in a pot-pourri act; Chas. Rose, comedian and dancer; a farce entitled Are You a Socialist? by four ladies and gentlemen whose names do not transpire; Vena Valma, musical comedy maid; Fred Herbert, topical vocalist; and the Hippodrome pictures.

ROTHERHAM.—Theatre Royal, Ltd.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. Holbery Hardy.—Miss Ellen Snow and company are here this week with Why Men Love Women. Mr. Oliver Rogers is a manly Gerald Fielding, and Mr. Lionel Gadsden a highly successful Captain Staniloff, the villain; Lieutenant Tommy Fitzherbert is capably enacted by Mr. N. Carter Slaughter; Mr. Ernest Griffin scores as the Maharajah; Miss Florence Nelson is deserving of mention as Muriel Zoluski; Miss Beresford-Glynn does well as Mrs. Figgins, and Miss Ellen Snow gives a very effective rendition of the part of Violet Livingstone.

Hippodrome, Ltd. — Managing-Director, Mr. T. Edgar Fox; Resident-Manager, Mr. Claude Shayler.—Another good bill is being presented at this house. Miss Mabelle May is a clever song and dance artist; Bert and Dora are responsible for a finished comedy turn; the Two Lilies give a smart duet and dance; Cullen and Carthy, with Little Cluley, are well received; Monty Walker scores with a comedy turn; Billy Hobbs is a capital dancer; Irve Hayman, assisted by little Marie Montague, is responsible for the episode Christmas Eve; and Stanley and Vandyke create amusement in A Broken Promise; Cleland is rightly described as the maddest of mad jugglers; and pictures by the Hipposcope are excellent.

SALFORD.—Prince of Wales's.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. B. Goulden; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Goulden.—Mr. Ernest R. Abbott's company is here, and opened on Monday with A Wife's Triumph, in which Mr. Frank Stephens cleverly plays Frank Wilton; Miss Ada Abbott ably sustains the part of the loving wife, Bessie; the young Yorkshire squire has an excellent exponent in Mr. Ernest R. Abbott; the villains, Ellis Jordan and Julius Hartman, are respectively in the capable hands of Mr. Douglas B. Watson and Mr. W. H. Davis-Brown; Mr. Edwin Keene as Ben Bradford, assisted by Miss Isabel Singleton as Margery, contributes a good amount of humour, and sings some comic songs very cleverly; Miss Florence North makes a charming Alice Wilton. The son, Little Frank, is smartly presented by Miss Doris Graham. East Lynne, Sapho, and The Unknown were also announced for presentation during the latter part of the week.

Regent Theatre of Varieties, Ltd.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Herbert Raymond; Secretary, Mr. J. C. Patterson.—Miss May Mars has some pleasant catchy songs, with which she makes a hit; Joey Sterling is a comical character comedian; Baby Vi Davis is a pretty child vocalist, who gives evidence of clever training; Mack Ollive, assisted by Daisy Baldry, gives his whistling act, The Candy Store; Harry Taylor is very comical with his songs. The other turns include The Students' Concert by King's College Boys (six); Gertrude Moore, clever dancer and singer; Phil Goldie, Dutch character comedian; Carlo Bianchi, foot equilibrist; and Rosie Archer, smart mimic of famous music hall artists.

Royal Hippodrome.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Son; General-Manager, Mr. H. Winstanley; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. Geo. F. Stattler.—The Master Card, presented by Thompson Carruthers, is much enjoyed, Dunningarto being very smart in manipulating the cards; Satani, in his novel scena the mysterious Raffles, gives some acceptable magical surprises; Frances Haskell is much applauded for her songs, which are illustrated; the Three Krakes raise merry laughs with their Electric Car Conductor. Other acceptable turns are given by Geo. Griffen, comedian; Herr Karoly Czinski, Hungarian musical expert; Three Sisters Three, in their Hunting act; Hulbert, ventriloquist; Mons. De Lil, smart illusionist; Mike and Lena, in The Dutch Lovers; Will Walton, comedian; and Barfoot and Carson, comedians.

Opera House and Assembly Rooms, Ltd.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Lester King.—Some very good animated pictures are shown, including A Day in a Kentish Hop Garden, Champion House Dog, Dumb Witness, Wanted, a Nice Young Man, Wages of Sin is Death, The Persistent Lover, Music Hath Charms, Sunshine after Shower, Moscow Fire Brigade, &c. The chorus of "Good-bye, Lily Bell" (sung by Mr. Lester King), is joined in with gusto by the audience.

SALISBURY.—County Hall.—Proprietor, Mr. Arthur Whitehead; Business-Manager, Mr. T. Brinsmead.—After an absence of three years one of Mr. F R. Benson's Shakespearean companies is paying a welcome visit here. The Merry Wives of Windsor was presented on Monday. Mrs. Page and Mrs. Ford were enacted by Miss Rosa Burgess and Miss Mary Webb, whose clever studies call for the highest praise; Miss Agnes Ray as Anne Page was charming; Miss Regina Laurence as Mistress Quickly gave a clever rendering; as Sir John Falstaff Mr. R. Shore was a host in himself; as Ford and Page Mr. Charles Warburton and Mr. John Cairns proved themselves very capable; Mr. Burgess-Barratt made a characteristic Dr. Caius; and the rôle of Sir Hugh Evans was well filled by Mr. Herbert Lester. On Tuesday She Stoops to Conquer was given. The Merchant of Venice and Julius Cæsar are also included in the bill. Miss Nellie Harding's Orchestra kindly gave their services.

SCARBOROUGH.—The Aquarium.—Secretary and Manager, Mr. Walter Kitchingman.—The Smart Set Entertainers, seven in number, head the bill here this week, and give a very smart entertainment, which embraces solos, quartettes, and dances. The Four Original Kellys are exceptionally clever acrobats, and Lilian Neville is the possessor of a good soprano voice; a musical farce entitled Bubbles the Dodger includes in the cast Mr. F. S. Gilbert, the famous operatic tenor, who takes the leading part, assisted by four other capable artists; the Milstead Bell Trio in the comedietta Three Sharps in A Flat are highly successful; Glen Alva, comedian, and Les Pat à Lars, in a novel somersault act, are very good.

The New Hippodrome.—Managing-Director, Mr. Wm. Peacock; Resident-Manager, Mr. John Tully.—The programme for this week includes the following excellent turns:—Carl and Mary Ohm's circus; Dave Samuels, Hebrew comedian; the Sisters Brand, dancers; Chas. M. Daly's company in the sketch I Must Have It; the Brothers Brooks; Victor and Louis; and Mostal, in a musical act. Pictures on the Kinematograph conclude.

SEACOMBE.—Irving Theatre.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. James Kiernan.—Lovers of the melodramatic are well catered for here this week with a powerful play bearing the somewhat unhappy title of The Girl Who Went Astray. Mr. John B. Shinton presents a dignified and convincing Captain Frank Julian, and Rupert Murdock, the villain, is strongly and cleverly acted by Mr. Fred Lloyd; Mr. Evan Ronald gets some excellent effects as Adolphus Boomer, and his personation of the Parisian belle causes great laughter. The comic element is well looked after by Mr. Ted Squires as James Mellowsocks and Miss Mary Dalby as Molly Smart; Sergt. John Harvey, V.C., is conscientiously portrayed by Mr. Edgar P. Melrose, and Gussie Seymour is ably handled by Mr. Edward Williams; General Sir Hugh Finnigan, Doctor George Wilson, and Eleanor Morton are well looked after by Mr. A. Mainwaring, Mr. R. Ashton, and Miss Sybil Haughton respectively; Miss Ada M. Ryder sustains the exacting rôle of Violet Harvey with great ability; and the fine presence and powerful voice of Miss Gwennie Warren render her an ideal exponent of Madge Harvey.

SEAHAM HARBOUR.—New Theatre Royal.—Proprietor, Mr. A. C. Harrison; Manager, Mr H. D. Lyle.—A large audience gave a flattering reception to John H. Tomkinson's Royal Gipsy company on Monday. In the first portion songs and dances and comedy combine to keep the house thoroughly interested. The second half of the evening's entertainment is devoted to varieties, in which La Vie, in electrical art poses, presents a series of beautiful pictures. The Four Louberts in a comedy acrobatic act are popular; a graceful wire performance is contributed by Elsie Rubina; Wee Winnie wins all hearts with her singing and dancing; Cissie Madcap gives a smart dancing turn; pleasing duets and dances are contributed by the Sisters Leshmere; Dan Lawley proves a comedian of talent; Sam Paul, actor-vocalist, and James Carr, descriptive, are admirable in their respective lines; Irene Lyne as a vocalist, is very popular.

SHEFFIELD. — Lyceum Theatre. — Managing Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager and Treasurer, Mr. J. E. B. Beaumont.—The Thief was presented to a good audience on Monday by Mr. George Alexander's company. Miss May Congdon looked charming in her exquisite confections, and acted gracefully as Mrs. Chelford; Mr. Stephen T. Ewart made the best use of his opportunities as Richard Chelford; and other characters were cleverly represented by Miss Mary Dibley, Mr. Gerald Ames, Mr. Alfred Lugg, Mr. Cyril Cattley, and Mr. Frank Elton. The curtain-raiser was Too Happy by Half, in which Mr. Percy Marmont and Miss Irene Leonard appeared.

Theatre Royal.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager and Treasurer, Mr. J. E. B. Beaumont; Assistant-Manager, Mr. A. Henfrey Aldred.—Uncle Tom's Cabin, under the direction of Mr. Charles Harrington, is being played here. Mr. Carr acts with simple dignity and natural pathos as Uncle Tom, and the other parts are all creditably played. In the fourth act the usual interlude of "darkey revels" is given with comic songs, banjo solos, negro ditties, and the time-honoured "breakdown."

Alexandra Theatre. — Managing-Director, Mr William D. Forsdike; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. W. Ramsay.—The Girl Who Wrecked His Home is being presented here by Mr. Walter Melville's company, the artists including Messrs. Fred Goddard, Paul B. Lewers, Norman Cannon, Francis Hope, Geo. P. Lester, Geo. Huxter. Frank Hartley, C. Carter, Dick Evans, H. Goddard, F. Nelson, and Misses Louise Hampton, Ida Thompson, A. Burdette, Lily Belding, Lulu Bowes, and Georgie De Lara. The scenery and effects were up to the high artistic standard of the Melville productions.

Empire Palace Theatre.—The Moss Empires Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Alan D. Dunbar.—Engaged here this week are Miss Julia Kent and Mr. Alex. Keith, in a lively musical comedy skit; the Lyric Quartette, with illustrated songs; Mr. Kisbey, the "call-boy," in a mirth-provoking protean entertainment; Miss Adey Spenser, a pleasing mimic, pianist, and character impersonator; the mirthful delineators of burlesque black-face drollery, Messrs. Brown, Newland, and Le Clerq, in the good old comic sketch, Black Justice; Mr. Fred Wilkinson and his graceful lady assistant, in original illusions; the Strolling Players, vocalists, &c.; and the Eight of Hearts, in a statue clog-dance. The pièce de résistance is the eighteenth-century sketch, in three scenes, Ye Olde Halloween, in which a talented troupe of vocalists and instrumentalists appear. Pleasing Bioscope Pictures conclude.

The Hippodrome. — Managing-Director, Mr Thomas Barrasford; Resident-Manager, Mr. P. D Elbourne.—The clever and original musical entertainers, the Original Leslie Brothers, are starring this week; and others appearing to large houses are Brilliant and Brilliant, novelty artists; the Austins; the Four Aces; Mr. Harry Rogerson, eccentric comedian and dancer; Mr. Mike Cray; Mr. Jim Shields; and the vivacious and popular Dutch comedienne, Miss May Moore Duprez, in new songs and old favourites. Some artistic moving pictures are received with loud applause.

Grand Theatre.—Manager, Mr. A. W. Turpin.—Animated Photos. by the Raymond Bio-tableaux Company constitute the main factors in the popular programme at this cosy picture theatre.

Central Theatre.—Lessees, the Jasper Redfern Co., Ltd.—Here are appearing Sydney Brandon, "the boy Barry Sullivan," in a clever mimetic sketch; Marlow and Manton, burletta artists; and Miss Lillie Hales, soubrette.

The Pavilion.—Manager, Mr. Peach.—Good business is the rule here, with up-to-date films by the noted firms.

SHREWSBURY.—Theatre Royal and Hippodrome.—Lessee and Director, Mr. W. Yates Gregory; General-Manager, Mr. Thos. Baugh; Licensee and Resident-Manager, Mr. W. C. Dornton.—There is a capital vaudeville show (twice nightly) here this week. The Paul Kramer Troupe of gymnasts give an artistic turn, the balancing and supporting feats of the trio being little short of marvellous; the Musical Morellis (Sid and Minnie) give an original and clever comedy musical and vocal act; Agnes and Arthur Lynch contribute a novel and highly pleasing picture show with praiseworthy vocal accompaniment, treating of romantic Indian life and ballads; J. H. Milburn works hard in his burlesque turn, and his mimicry is highly diverting; Indiania, the flexible Venus, gives a smart contortionist exhibition; the Camerons contribute a witty sketch, The Boy and the Lady Guide; and the programme closes with a capital show of pictures worked with interesting dramatic effects.

SMETHWICK. — Theatre Royal. — Proprietor, Mr. C. Barnard; Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson.—The attraction this week is a drama, entitled Straight from the Shoulder, produced by a company under the direction of Mr. R. A. Roberts, and capably managed by Mr. Charles Boult. Mr. Henry Herne makes a capital hero as Dr. Bedford, an East End surgeon, afterwards Harry Bletchley, a land steward, and in the latter character displays a most "useful right," well in keeping with the title of the piece; as the heroine, Millicent Grant, Miss Beatrice Burdett is very charming; Mr. Leonard Clarke is a powerful villain; and Miss Frances Bruce gives a pathetic rendering of the character of Mary Gleeson; Miss Beatrice Moore makes a vivacious Gladys.

SOUTHAMPTON. — Grand Theatre. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Fredk. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. Arthur Weston.—Messrs. Lyn Harding and Sidney Cooper's company is this week presenting The Flag Lieutenant. It is an engrossing play, and from the moment the curtain rises on the first act until it finally descends the interest of the audience never wanes. The scenery is very fine, and the acting admirable. Chief interest is centred in the brave Flag-Lieutenant, and Mr. Langhorne Burton gives a breezy reading of the part. He is seldom off the stage, and wins a warm corner in the hearts of the audience. Mr. H. Montagu Love does extremely well as Major Thesiger, and Mr. George Mallett makes a typical Vice-Admiral; Mr. Edward S. Petley is particularly successful as the ship's surgeon; Miss Florence Jackson as Mrs. Cameron and Miss Marjorie Chard as Lady Hermione Wynne are first favourites, and both acquit themselves admirably, acting throughout with great charm. Others who lend efficient aid are:—Messrs. Hugh Wakefield, Lyonel Watts, Herbert Gallop, W. S. Stevenson, W. J. Yeldam, John Wheatman, and the Misses Viva Birkett, Stella Leigh, and Evelyn Robson.

Palace.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. Trussell.—The Six Brothers Luck are responsible for considerable mirth with their sketches Lift 'Em's, Ltd., and The Demon of the Cellar; the Three Prestons score in their absurdity, The Liftman's Rise; Steve Bartle excels as a concertina soloist; McCann's performing Irish terriers and champion leaping dogs are wonderfully clever; and others who entertain are Cissie Curlette, mimetic vocalist, Clifton and Gibson, comedians, and Phil Bransby, comedian.

Hippodrome.—Joint Managing-Directors, Messrs. Fredk. Mouillot and W. de Frece; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Yardley.—Marie Lloyd is prevented from appearing through indisposition, but capable substitutes are found in W. D. Mackenzie's juvenile company, who appear in musical scenas from grand opera with success. The staging is perfect, and the act is well appreciated. Bessie Slaughter, contralto, sings effectively; Phillips and Terry are capital in their Dummy speciality; Ruby Dahl presents The Merry Mannikins; Frank Gee, comedian, Tate and Tate, The Barmaid and Her Eccentric Customer, Honors and Le Prince, acrobatic comedians, and Dolly Harmon, a successful local vocalist, also appear.

Empire Theatre.—Lessees, The Walturdaw Co., Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Auguste Denton.—Twice nightly capital pictures are attracting good houses. The films are excellent, steadiness and clearness being particularly noticeable. The Sunday concerts are also well patronised.

Philharmonic Hall.—Messrs. H. and A. Andrews' pictures are still going strong, and the illustrated songs by Miss McPherson, soprano, are quite a feature.

SOUTHEND-ON-SEA.—Empire Theatre, Ltd.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Geo. Conquest and Richard H. Nerney; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. Lingham Power.—The Coal King is a popular attraction, and on Monday a large audience welcomed Mr. A. Clifton Alderson's company. Mr. Alderson makes good use of his talents as Tom Roberts; Mr. Ulick Burke acts the title-rôle successfully; Mr. Leslie Vyner plays the villainous part of Walter Hartford with ease and ability, having good assistance from Mr. Frank Dalton as the submanager, Dick Shirley; Miss Winifred Love displays both naturalness and cleverness in a dignified impersonation of Grace Shirley; and Miss Joan Wellman creditably enacts the difficult character of Mad Ann. Good comedy by Mr. Sam Roberts as Jim Williams and Miss Max Hinton as Araminta Green also gets recognition.

SOUTHPORT.—Opera House, Winter Gardens.—Proprietors, The Southport Opera House and Winter Gardens Co., Ltd.; Secretary and General-Manager, Mr. R. Singleton.—Mr. Edmund Tearle's répertoire company, including Miss Kate Clinton, opened here on Monday, with The Three Musketeers. Mr. Edmund Tearle gave a brilliant impersonation of D'Artagnan; Miss Kate Clinton depicted the difficult rôle of Miladi with artistic effect; Richelieu was well played by Mr. Bernhardt Turner; Mr. Arthur W. Jones as the Duke of Buckingham was also very acceptable. Other good character sketches were supplied by Miss Mary Campbell, in the part of Anne Austria; Miss Vera George as Constance, and Miss Ethel Story as Kitty. During the week Macbeth, Jeanie Deans, East Lynne, and Julius Cæsar are billed.

SOUTH SHIELDS. — Theatre Royal. — Lessees and Managers, Messrs. John and Fred Coulson.—Good audiences give a warm welcome to a return visit of Mr. C. Watson Mill's powerful play, A Warning to Women. Miss Blanche St. Albans as Moira Kennion acts with much depth of feeling and self-restraint; Dr. Marcus Dread is ably interpreted by Mr. Harry C. Robinson. Other prominent characters are entrusted to Mr. Charles O'Connor, Mr. Henry Rutland, Mr. W. Palliser Acock, Mr. Leicester Jackson, and Mr. William Vane, Miss Edith Rutland, Miss Elmo, who are welcomed in their knockabout bar act; Patrick Playfair, papierographist; Dolly Robson, comedienne; the Perriers, comedy couple; Revill Hall, humorist; the Three Rubys, lady gymnasts; Knit Stern, comedian, &c.

ST. HELENS.—THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. A. McLeod Loader; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. E. Johnson.—The Dairymaids, presented by Mr. Robert Macdonald's company, is a capital attraction here. Miss Empsie Bowman makes a pretty and dainty Peggy; Mr. Dan Agar as Joe Mivens is full of fun and high spirits; the drollery of Eliza, played by Miss Edie Martin, is responsible for hearty laughter; Lady Brudenell has a charming and stately exponent in Miss Carrie Lacey; and Mr. Bernard Vaughan is a typical sea-dog of a Doctor. Miss Vera Crichton and Miss Doris Dickens are both sweet as Winifred and Helen, and sing nicely; and there is a good deal of humour about the acting of both Mr. Richard Telford and Mr. Scott Melville, who assume the parts of Lieutenants Sam Brudenell and Frank Meredith.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Barrasford, Sley, and Willmot; Resident-Manager, Mr. Walter Mould.—The bill this week is headed by Charles Norton, who gives his much-appreciated sketch The Old Firm. Claude Feldman's beau-ideal troupe of juveniles are pleasing in song and dance; Russell Brandon dances in an eccentric manner; Ivy Aberdare also dances expertly; Harry Conlin is amusing; Emmie Ames's turn is applauded; Mlle. Pollo excels on the trapeze; and Harry Bancroft is encored for his songs.

STOCKTON-ON-TEES.—CASTLE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Chas. Imeson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Cecil Imeson.—Mr. Seymour Hicks' company is here with The Gay Gordons. Miss Maie Ash gives a delightful representation of Peggy Quainton, her singing and dancing being most captivating; Mr. Frank Lincoln as Angus Graeme has a very pleasing and breezy style; Nellie Lonnen makes a charming Victoria Siddons; Mr. Tom Graves as Nervy Nat, the showman, is excellent; Ida Laurie makes a typical Charlotte Siddons; Mr. Edward Nainby as Edmund Siddons is droll; and Miss Ida Mann makes a natural Janet McLeod. Miss Gladys Deane is a good Mary McLeod, her singing being worthy of praise; Andrew Quainton was in the able hands of Mr. Edward Beecher; and as Corporal John Smith Mr. Norman Forrest is amusing.

GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. John Batty; Manager, Mr. Walter Batty.—Mr. M. Montgomery's stock company is playing A Fisherman's Daughter. Payne's Bioscope concludes.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Harry Burns; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. Stainton.—Nellie Wallace is the leading attraction here this week, her return visit being well received. Francis and Alfred are clever jugglers; the Four Kurios cause laughter in a funny concoction; Harold Mitschke, elocutionist, is good; the McAleavy Marvels, trick jumpers, are daring; Les Rubens, the fortune-tellers, sing well; and Little Eileen is a dainty child comedienne. The Bioscope shows new films

STOCKPORT.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Charles Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Wm. Revill.—A cordial reception has been bestowed upon Mr. Allan Wilkie on his reappearance here this week in a répertoire of plays. Hamlet was presented on Tuesday night, Mr. Wilkie impersonating the title-rôle in capital style, being adequately supported by a talented company, among whom were Mr. Frank Royde, a capable Laertes; Mr. Ian Fleming, who made an amusing Gravedigger; Miss Haidee Gunn, who gave a clever interpretation of the part of Ophelia; Miss Mildred Surrey, a charming and effective Gertrude; and Mr. John Paley, who portrayed the King of Denmark with ability. Romeo and Juliet, The Merchant of Venice, The Sleigh-Bells, David Garrick, and Macbeth are in the week's bill.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, The Stockport Empire Theatre Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Black.—H. O. Wills, the popular comedian, should have appeared here this week as the chief attraction, but on Monday he telegraphed his inability to do so through illness. A capital evening's enjoyment was provided, however, by those appearing on the programme, which included the De Breans in their clever Japanese entertainment; Athas and Collins in their laughable comedy act, The Scarecrow and the Charmer; Lily Hayes, a pleasing comedienne and dancer; the Musical Schafers, who display their musical ability in their comedy act The Garden of Melody; Cliff Rock, a capable baritone; Edwards and Dacre in their amusing duologue "What a Life"; Master May, a boy tenor who sings sweetly; and the Three Laurels in their smart speciality act.

STOKE-ON-TRENT.—HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; General-Manager, Mr. H. F. Miller; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. Moroney.—Mephisto, the Mysterious, is very smart in his illusions; Ada Fawn's contributions are popular; the Sisters Transfield are clever instrumentalists; Clarke and Glenny cause roars of laughter in the skit The Haunted House; St. Ruth and Conyers render operatic selections and ballads charmingly; Steel and Laing, Poole and Poole, and Jack Rae are also billed. The Bioscope depicts a very funny barrow race.

STOURBRIDGE. — ALHAMBRA THEATRE. — General-Manager, Mr. Douglas C. Phelps.—A crowded audience gave a hearty reception to the musical farcical absurdity, Lucky 'Liza, on Monday. Roars of laughter greeted the efforts of Mr. Dicky Clare and his company of comedians. Mr. Clare, who appears in three disguises, was soon a warm favourite; as also was Miss Vesta Brownie, as the versatile Lucky 'Liza. The whole of a big company rendered efficient support.

SUNDERLAND.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; General-Manager, Mr. Henry Esden.—Mr. Laurence Irving and Miss Mabel Hackney have been greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences in a fine little play, entitled The King and the Vagabond. The play was admirably presented, Mr. Irving giving a most effective interpretation of the King, while Miss Hackney, in the predominant part of the vagabond, Gringore, was admirable in every phase of the character. L'Incognita pleased all with her beautiful soprano voice, which she used with fine effect; Creo Bros. are good in their original acrobatic act; and Ross and Lewis create roars of laughter in their idiosyncrasy Fits and Misfits. Charlene and Charlene give an interesting turn as juggler and xylophonist, and others who largely contribute to the success of an exceptionally good programme are Jack Hayworth, Scotch comedian, Goggin and Davis, versatile comedy acrobats, Three Sisters Govini, lightning tumblers and acrobats, and Little Pam Ross, comedian.

KING'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. S. F. Davidson; General-Manager, Mr. Alexander Telford; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Sydney Reach.—Miss Emma Hutchison and Mr. Percy Hutchison's principal company, in Lady Frederick, is having an excellent reception here this week. Mrs. Brown-Potter achieved a triumph in every way as Lady Frederick. Her style is quite original and unconventional, and her Hibernian accent is charmingly appropriate. Mr. Philip Cunningham's personation of Paradine Foulds is marked by those erudite qualities which have raised it to a plane of its own; and Mr. W. B. Parker was excellent as Sir Gerald O'Mara. Miss Madeline du Val is strikingly effective as Lady Mereston, and Mr. Herbert Garthorn presents with much discretion the difficult part of Lord Mereston; Miss Edith Deverell adequately portrays the part of Rose; Mr. Cecil Beavan, Mr. Shirley Lea, and Miss Phyllis Manners are all excellent in their respective parts of Capt. Montgomerie, Admiral Carlisle, and Mme. Claude; and the remaining parts are well filled by Mr. C. T. Doe, Mr. Dudley Walton, Mr. F. Trumper, and Miss Nolan O'Connor. The play is preceded by The Peacemaker, the various parts being capably taken by Miss E. Nolan O'Connor, Miss Edith Deverall, Miss Phyllis Manners, Mr. Cecil Beavan, and Mr. W. Barnett Parker.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. Richard Thornton; General-Manager, Mr. Henry Esden; Acting Manager, Mr. George Dunn.—Messrs. Van Beine and Traynor's company, in Man and Wife, is this week playing to crowded houses. The part of Paul Reveere, the "Man," is in the capable hands of Mr. John F. Traynor, who plays the part to perfection; while the "Wife" (Marcelle) is exceedingly well rendered by Miss Kate Hallam; Mr. Edward M. Hamilton gives a capital portrayal of the rascally Captain D'Esparre; Jean finds a clever exponent in Mr. Geo. Overs; Mr. Ambrose Horton is a capable Sergeant Jacques; and as Colonel Latour Mr. Geo. Pammel does well. Ruth Reveere, Paul's blind mother, had a good representation at the hands of Miss Violet Temple. The comic side is well looked after by Miss Millie Doris and Messrs. E. Hall-Eldon and George Vinning as Rosette, Bimbo, and Bambo.

PALACE THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Lennox Barry; Treasurer, Mr. Harry Curry.—A capital panoramic display is given this week by Rousby's company in Greater London, the luminous effects being specially fine; the Faludy Troupe of Hungarian acrobats is one of the most interesting turns, their feats all being of great daring; Bert Danson creates great amusement in his humorous Suffragette song; the Kimberley Boys are most diverting. Ryan and Hall are very funny in their eccentric wrestling act; the Ramsey Trio contribute some lively knockabout work; and Edith St. Clair, comedienne, and the Sisters Showell, duettists, complete an attractive bill.

SWANSEA.—THE GRAND.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. E. Oswald Brooks; Acting-Manager and Treasurer, Mr. Walter Dean.—There was no half-heartedness about the reception given to Miss Decima Moore at the Grand this week, where she is appearing in the title-rôle of Mrs. Dot. A more delightful reading of a part has not been seen locally. Mr. James Gelderd plays Gerald Halstane with distinction. An interesting performance is that of Mr. Frank Lacey as James Blenkinsop; Miss Emma Hutchison plays Lady Sellenger with all the aplomb given by experience; Mr. Philip Leslie (Freddie Perkins) and Miss Ethel Graham (Nellie Sellenger) make a really delightful pair.

THE STAR.—Manager, Mr. William Coutts; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. J. Powell.—Mr. Walter Melville's company is here in A Girl's Cross Roads. Miss Hilda Beverley as Barbara Wade appeals to the sympathy of the audience.

EMPIRES, LTD.—Manager, Mr. P. C. Rowe; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. H. Lennon.—An excellent bill at the Empire this week is headed by Fred Ginnett's company in Dick Turpin's Ride to York. The Lancashire Singers, eighteen in number, give a robust rendering of the march from Tannhäuser. The Kirbys are a talented couple; Adams and Ward are amusing acrobatic comedians; Burnetti, in a quick-change musical turn, impersonates well-known musicians. Bessie Butt does not give the audience a dull moment during her turn; and Little Keeno is a distinctly promising boy comedian. Frank Sylvo's comedy juggling is effective.

THE PALACE.—Manager, Mr. William Coutts; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. J. Powell.—Another excellent Bioscopic entertainment is given this week.

SWINDON.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Proprietors, The Wiltshire Entertainments Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Alfred Manners.—The management have here this week the Egyptian comic opera, Amasis. Mr. W. H. Denny's interpretation of Pharaoh is excellent, his dry humour being fully appreciated; a capital Prince Anhotep is found in Mr. Edward McKeourn; Mr. Arthur Stroud scores a success as Cheiro; Nebenchari is capably taken by Mr. J. Hawkes; Mr. Frank Attree presents the part of Ptolemy to perfection; and Mr. Walter D. Brodie is most amusing as Sebak; Amasis is charmingly taken by Miss Mabel Burnage; Miss Elsie Don has a pleasing voice and ably enacts Natis; and Mr. Frank Wood as Psamtik, Mr. R. Thomas as Zopyrus, and Mr. John Bennet as Second High Priest, all do well.

TON-Y-PANDY.—ROYAL.—Proprietors, Messrs. Carlton and Duckworth; General-Manager, Mr. Sam Duckworth; Acting-Manager, Mr. Ridgewood Barrie.—Messrs. Armadale and Warren's company is here in The Face at the Window. Mr. E. Hoggan Armadale is well suited as Lucio Delgado; as Paul Gouffet Mr. Scott Leighton is eminently successful; Lucian Cortier is capably played by Mr. A. Beverley; Miss E. Marriott-Watson makes a sympathetic Marie de Brisson; and Miss R Glynn is a vivacious Babette.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee and General-Manager, Mr. Will Stone.—Heading the bill here are Fame and Fortune in a comedy act; and Charles Leighton, a humorous entertainer; Pietro, an agile contortionist; Leon Herculein in feats of strength; and the Sisters Hula also entertain. Some fine films are shown.

TORQUAY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Managing-Director, Mr. W. H. Mortimer; Secretary, Mr. Arthur Pearse.—The annual visit of the Moody-Manners Opera Company, which has been so eagerly anticipated, is taking place this week, and crowded houses are assembling each evening. On Monday night Puccini's Madame Butterfly was accorded a great reception. Miss Enriqueta Crichton in the title-rôle fairly brought down the house by her admirable representation, and was loudly applauded at the close of each act; no less successful was Mr. Charles Carter as B. F. Pinkerton, his powerful tenor voice being much appreciated; Mr. Marshall Vincent appeared as Sharples, and did exceedingly well; whilst Mr. R. Brookes was a clever Goro. Miss M. Dennis sang sweetly and effectively as Susuki; and Miss V. Barry also did well as Kate Pinkerton. All the lesser characters are excellently sustained. Lohengrin, Faust, Carmen, Cavalleria Rusticana, Pagliacci, and Tannhäuser are also in the bill.

TREHERBERT. — OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Poole's Theatres; District-Manager Mr. Walter Bynorth; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. H. Stephens.—Miss Inez Howard's company in Her Love Against the World is under the direction of Mr. Henry Chattell, who impersonates with judgment and effect the difficult rôle of Prince Ulric. His efforts are ably seconded by Miss Katherine Herbert as Shulah Countess of Rasselyn; Eric, in the hands of Mr. Leonard Yorke, leaves nothing to be desired; and a capital Princess Iris is found in Messrs. Margaret Saville Each and every member of the cast contributed to the general success.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS.—OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Welton Dale.—Hippodrome season. Mouillot and De Frece circuit. Charcott and his automatic man are the great attraction this week, and on Tuesday a big sensation was caused by the "automatic man," while under "the influence," performing the feat of driving blindfold round the town. An enormous crowd witnessed the start from the theatre. The programme for the week also includes Addie Adell, in a charming Irish scena; Mr. C. in humorous monologue; Maude Courtney, the American comedienne; Wyotti, a clever juggler; and the Louisiana Troupe, coloured vocalists and dancers. For the farewell appearance on Thursday of Sir John Hare, in A Pair of Spectacles, the advanced booking was a record, and the stalls had to be extended far into the pit, to meet the demand for reserved seats.

TYLDESLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. W. Brierley.—Mr. Harry Foxwell's company is presenting An Abandoned Woman. Miss Nellie Thorne Hallam supplies a graphic sketch of Ninon Malvoisin; Miss Lily Annesley wins approval as Eleanor Deane; Miss Queenie Fraser Brunner is a sprightly Sally; Mr. Herbert M. Kings deserves praise for his manly impersonation of Captain Herbert Seaton; Mr. W. Fraser Brunner creates a good impression as Philippe Malvoisin; Sammy Sharp is in the safe hands of Mr. V. Garnet Vayne; Mr. Arthur Curzon gives a capital study of Robert Saunders; Mr. Teddy Myles as Paddy Boyle convulses the house with his humour; and the minor parts are in capable hands.

WAKEFIELD. — OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Sherwood and Co.—Married to the Wrong Man is presented here this week by Mr. Frederick Melville's company. Mr. Oswald Cray gives a powerful representation of Jack Gladwin; Mr. H. Lane Bayliff is seen to advantage as Captain Deering; Mr. Charles Vivian submits a capital study as Jasper Skinner; Mr. Ray Raymond is effective as Sergeant Manners; and Mr. Paige Lawrence merits praise as Archie Bird. Mr. Sid Claydon causes plenty of amusement as Timothy; Miss Gertrude Boswell's clever conception of the part of Ruth, the dumb girl, wins warm approval; Miss Mary Pemberton adequately fills the rôle of Rose O'Connor; and Dolly is given in vivacious style by Miss May Davis.

HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. Sydney Tolfree.—Tom Foy and company head the bill this week in the sketch A Yorkshire Lad in London, which is a huge success; Miss Marie Blyth, descriptive vocalist, receives quite an ovation with her taking songs; Cronow gives a smart protean act; Arthur Metz and Jack Metz, comedians, dance well; Zenora is a clever hand-balancer; Mr. W. H. Gatty, baritone vocalist, and Lytton and Blind, sketch artists, are also successful.

WARRINGTON. — ROYAL COURT.—Proprietor, Mr. Joseph Beecham; General-Manager, Mr. A. M. Loader; Assistant-Manager, Mr. S. Smiley.—Mr. William Greet's company is here this week, and have entertained large audiences with The Sign of the Cross. A faithful interpretation of the Prefect of Rome is submitted by Mr. Cyril Austen-Lee, and a clever study of Nero is that of Mr. C. Yorke; Mr. Charles Aldred is an excellent Tigellinus, and Mr. J. Weatherall is well placed as Licinius; as the patricians Glabrio and Philodemus, Messrs. Frank Wood and Harry Jones score; Miss Constance Little imparts much pathos into her rendering of Mercia; and as Stephanus Miss Edith Drayson's realistic acting appeals to all; Miss Lily Ward is a delightful Berenice, and Miss Beryl Hamilton a dignified Poppœa. The chorus is excellent, the rendering of "Shepherd of Souls" being exceptionally good. The staging is effective.

ROYAL THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. W. Johnson; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Waters.—The Percys are scoring a big success here this week, and their comedy duets and up-to-date business is responsible for hearty laughter; Ernesto is an expert juggler; whilst the pictures in themselves form a delightful entertainment.

PALACE AND HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; General-Manager, Mr. G. D. Bradbury.—Lovers of the noble art have a rare treat this week, and the engagement of Gunner Moir, the British champion, has been responsible for increased business. The pictures showing his contest with Burns are very realistic. Chris. Richards is a most eccentric comedian; Chas. Lewis is a capital ventriloquist; and the Babusio Brothers clever acrobats; the Two Rubies are delightful vocalists; and Yattmah supplies a good turn as an impressionist; Mlle. Sidy Nirvana poses beautifully; and the Two Kays score in their vocal scena, The Cuckoo. The pictures are good.

WEDNESBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. Harry Battersby; Acting-Manager, Mr. Tom Kuner.—London with the Lid Off is being successfully produced here this week by Mr. Stanley Carlton's company. Mr. Stanley Carlton in the important part of the Rev. Allen Gordon acts convincingly; the rôle of Gratton Gale is admirably played by Mr. W. G. Marshall; and an interesting representation of Mr. Templeton is given by Mr. Marshall Meade. Mr. James Hart is an effective Collini, and as Percy Plunker Mr. Lancelot Usher leaves little to be desired. A characteristic rendering of Astra Bell, an orphan, is given by Miss Rubie Maude; as Madge Rendall, a lady detective, Miss Amy Ellam acquits herself admirably; Miss R. Hamilton Belasco displays excellent talent as Mrs. Glandale; and Miss Charlotte E. Ballinger as Sarah Shafto is equally praiseworthy. The scenery and effects add greatly to the success of the play.

WEST BROMWICH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Mr. R. Nightingale.—Large audiences have greatly appreciated the production by Mr. Harry Foxwell's company of A Broken Heart. As John Barnard, the master blacksmith, Mr. Foxwell has a fine part, which he fills with much success; and Miss Sheila Walsh gives a finished study of Mary Barnard. Mr. Frank Eaglesfield is capital as Stephen Raylton; Mr. Henry Carliss makes an excellent clergyman; and Miss Margaret Horne as Mrs. Barnard has a part admirably suited to her. The play is well staged.

NEW HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. Archie Ainsleigh.—Mr. Harry Benet's company is here in Sergeant Brue of the "C" Division. The title-rôle is filled with great success by Mr. Denis Lyndon; Miss Ray Anderson is very charming as Lady Bickenhall; Mr. Harry Benet himself fills the part of Crookie Scrubbs, and fills it well; and the other parts are capably sustained. The orchestra and full chorus is remarkably good.

WEST HARTLEPOOL.—GRAND.—Lessee, Mr. Fred Granville; Manager, Mr. H. E. Feather.—Mr. A. Melville's company is appearing here in Driven from Home. Mr. Felix Pit, always popular here, is admirably suited in the rôle of Anthony Raybrook; and Miss Nancy Roberts does well with the part of Laura Raybrook.

PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. A. E. Dobney.—The performance here of the Carmos in herculean and novelty juggling is particularly clever and interesting; Archie Pitt, comedian, has a quaint style; Clown Barker, in a refined animal comedy act, assisted by Miss Rozsika, gives a wonderfully clever performance; the paper-tearing by the Milton Trio is particularly effective; Johnny Dwyer, in versatile comedy, is thoroughly enjoyed; and others deserving praise are Gracie Hunt, chorus comedienne; Jim Cheetham, whistler and mimic, and Annie Heath, comedienne and dancer. Raymond's Bio-tableaux form an interesting finish to the programme.

WEST STANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Mark H. Lindon; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. Kelly.—A Merry Maid, which is Messrs. Levy and Cordwell's latest production, is played here this week to capital houses. Larry O'Hooligan is portrayed by Mr. Vivian Wakeman; Mr. Neill Hardy does justice to the part of the Hon. Cecil Toft; Mr. H. Learder is excellent as Van Swank; Master Wee George Wood is all that can be desired as Bertie Vere de Vere; and the other parts are all in capable hands. The scenery and dresses are excellent.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. T. C. Rawes; Stage-Manager, Mr. G. W. Montrose.—The Musical Tritons head a fine bill here with their elegantly staged act; J. J. Mannix, coon artist, is excellent; O'Malley and Brown are entertaining in You're Still a Friend of Mine; Wyndham and Kitty's performance on the wire is a marvel of skill; and Cavella, ventriloquist, and the Ashley team of skaters complete a good programme.

WHITEHAVEN.—MARKET HALL.—Lessees, The Edison Picture Co.; Manager, Mr. Victor Branford.—The chief pictures shown here this week include The Promise, The Dancing Girl, the Old Shepherd, The Pretty Girl Farmer, Our Banana Supply, and The Prize Camel. Cade Burnett, actor vocalist, is retained for another week; and the Zonophone, with illustrated songs, continues to be an attraction.

WHITSTABLE. — Whitstable was visited on Friday, the 27th ult. by one of Miss Inez Howard's companies in A Warning to Women. Miss Edith Knight as the heroine was capital; and Mr. Stephen Crossley as Dr. Marcus Dread was sufficiently villainous to satisfy a most exacting audience.

WIDNES.—ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Jas. Kiddie.—Lucky Durham, the late Wilson Barrett's last play, has been well received here this week. Mr. S. Herbert Humber wins golden opinions upon his capable work in the part of John Durham; Mr. T. Renaud Lockwood is an aristocratic Lord Mountfallon; Mr. Arthur Leigh plays a "dude" part on original lines; Mr. William Heilbron as Mr. Vallerton plays with commendable naturalness; Mr. J. H. Gerald gives a sound performance in the part of Arthur Walcombe; Mr. W. F. Clitheroe is responsible for a smart sketch of a Jew; and Mr. John Hartt plays Tasker acceptably. Miss Alice Esther Belmore wins all hearts by her pleasing study of Helen Vallerton; Miss Rosabel Dodd infuses a good deal of mild humour into the character of Lady Mountfallon; Miss Florence Dulhunty is an unsophisticated Margaret Steighton; and Miss Beatrice Sinclair makes the part of Durham's mother very agreeable. The play is nicely staged.

WIGAN. — ROYAL COURT THEATRE.—Proprietors, The Wigan Entertainments Co.—Mr. J. Rice Cassidy's powerful company in In Holy (?) Russia and The World and the Woman is billed here. On Monday In Holy (?) Russia was played. Mrs. J. Rice Cassidy achieves eminent success as Rence Rubinoff, and Miss Amy McNeil as Catska also acts well; Mr. J. Rice Cassidy in the humorous part of Micky Nolan makes the most of his opportunities; and Colonel Richard Forrest finds an able exponent in Mr. Henry Compton. Other parts are well portrayed.

THE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, The Wigan Entertainments Co. —A welcome return visit is being paid here by the Royal Tokios, who perform some wonderful feats with great ability; Charles Hera is a juggler above the ordinary; David Poole deserves special mention as a ventriloquist; Alec Kendal causes much mirth as a comedian; and "This" Quartette, in a comedy and dancing act, is highly successful; the Hughes Trio, in a comedy cycle act, is popular; and Palette gains much applause for his sketch, A Busy Time in the Studio; Edwin Garth causes quite an ovation with his song and patter; Little Don and George Lawrence, comedians, conclude.

THE EMPIRE PALACE.—Lessees, the New Bioscope Trading Co.; District-Manager, Mr. Gerald Hunt; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. C. Woon.—A welcome reception is given to Jack Monks, who sings in pleasing style; and an acceptable exhibition of concertina playing is submitted by Walter Heyes. Interesting pictures are screened, the chief being The Squawman's Daughter, An Automatic Domestic, and Cinematograph.

WOLVERHAMPTON.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Charles Barnard; Resident-Manager, Mr. Gerald Spencer.—Hardie and Von Leer's No. 1 company is appearing here this week in Two Little Vagabonds. Mr. Richard A. Greene enacts the part of George Thornton with ability; Mr. Arthur E. Melborne is easy and natural as Captain Darville; the villainy of Bill Mullins is vividly portrayed by Mr. Herbert Russell, who is ably supported by Mr. Stanley Field as Dido Bunce and Mr. Fred Archer as the Coughdrop; John Scarth has an able representative in Mr. Joseph Brandon; Miss Florence Dalton as Marion Thornton enlists the sympathy of her audience; Miss Marion Fawcett is well placed as Barbara Scarth; and Miss Marie Pritchard causes amusement as Biddy Mullins. Miss Denise Zaleski as Dick and Miss Alice Leon as Wally, the two little vagabonds, work hard throughout, and well merit the applause that greets their efforts.

EMPIRE PALACE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. Frank Weston.—An exceptionally strong bill is headed by Mr. Harry Roxbury's company in The Prince of Monte Carlo. Tubby Edlin is responsible for the principal character, and he proves remarkably versatile; Jack Lorimer is in the front rank of Scotch comedians; Arthur Reece, an old favourite here, meets with a hearty welcome; Arthur Hickman, tenor vocalist, sings pleasingly; Sydney and Partner, cyclists, give a smart and daring act of trick riding; and entertaining turns are contributed by Wyze and Adna, and Amy Sullivan.

WORCESTER. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. Le Warde.—A capital variety programme is being provided this week by the Deer Family of North American Indians in a series of tableaux in two scenes; Shenton and Chicks, in the Children's Birthday Party; the Sisters Judge with their clever birds; Sandy and Carl, comedians; Hadie and Holt; the Melbahs in a good musical turn; Martinett and Wallace, coloured artists; Dolly, Agnes, and Maud, in their box-making act; Bert Rayburn, comedian; Viola May, vocalist; and Miss Leoline, shadowgraphist.

WREXHAM.—EMPIRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. John J. Scott.—This week the attractions are the Orchids, speciality artists; Petro and Leon, sensational and comedy gymnasts; the Mannikins, with an electric miniature variety theatre; the Terrys, comedy duettists; and Harry Mantle, descriptive and coon vocalist; together with some amusing and entertaining pictures.

THE DRAMA IN BERLIN.

"IRMINGARD,"

Drama, in Four Acts, by Herbert von Berger, produced at the Friedrich Wilhelm Städtisches, Nov. 26.

Irmingard	FRAULEIN KORN
Flaminius	HERR WERNER
Sempronius	HERR KAUFMANN
Riger	HERR LETTINGER
Veranius	HERR CORNELIUS
Irmin	HERR HOLTHAUS
Sigurd	FRAULEIN IMPEKOVEN
Segimund	FRAULEIN STOLPE
Ingo	HERR DE NOLTE
Julia	FRAULEIN MALLINGER
Petron	HERR KORNER

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, THURSDAY, Dec. 3.—This is the work of a novice, and as such is deserving of much praise. The talent for play-writing is evident throughout, while the faults are those of inexperience, which time should, and no doubt will, eliminate. The action passes at the time of the ancient Germans and Romans. Flaminius, commander of the Roman forces on the frontier, attacks the stronghold of Irmingard's husband, who is slain. Irmingard, on account of her beauty, Flaminius carries off prisoner. The rough warrior—who has hitherto only associated with worthless women—now falls a victim to the gentle charm of the German Irmingard, and beseeches her to try to love him in return. After some time she yields, for Flaminius has many lovable qualities, and ultimately they are happily wedded. Then Irmin, an old German Prince, and father of Irmingard, comes upon the scene. He considers his daughter outraged and his race humiliated, and vows vengeance. Approaching Flaminius with overtures of peace, he leaves his two sons in the castle as hostages. These, however, are in the plot, which is then divulged to Irmingard by her father. She endeavours by signs to warn her husband against the approaching danger, but he remains oblivious. The castle is surrounded by Irmin's soldiers, and Flaminius, with his followers, is killed. Irmingard, disregarding her father's attempts at reconciliation, takes her own life, and follows her beloved husband to the shades. Many of the scenes are of poetic beauty, and the interpretation was a good all round one. The author was heartily applauded, being called before the curtain repeatedly.

EYSLER'S operetta Künstlerblut, which was given here some two years ago, was revived at the Thalia on Tuesday last, affording the clever Viennese comedian, Herr Girady, another opportunity for the display of his versatile talents. There is not very much to be said in favour of either music or book; but the star carried everything on his capable shoulders, and made a success of the whole. Herr Girady was called and recalled by his enthusiastic admirers, and compelled to repeat a number of his songs. The Thalia company proper supported the guest in excellent fashion, the chorus being especially good.

"MADAME FLIRT," three-act comedy by MM. Gavault and Beer, translated and adapted by Grete von Schönthau, met with a cordial reception at the Lustspielhaus last week. It is a "dress" piece, and therefore a novelty to Berlin audiences, our managers and artists laying usually little stress upon the importance of beautiful modern gowns. This naturally appealed to the ladies, who applauded the new "creations" vociferously. The piece was well acted and mounted, and is still holding the boards successfully.

LEONCAVALLO'S Zaza was produced with unquestionable success on Saturday at the Komische Oper. Although the play of the same name is well known here, the opera has never yet been done in Berlin, and the thanks of the public are due to Herr Gregor for another interesting novelty. The enterprising manager will assuredly have a substantial recompense for his pains, for Zaza will enjoy a lengthy run. It was remarkably well interpreted, Fräulein Eva von der Osten, from the Dresden Royal Opera, giving the difficult name-part in first-rate style; her beautiful voice captivated the audience, who applauded enthusiastically. Herr Naval (Dufresne) was unfortunately indisposed and slightly hoarse, but he struggled heroically against obstacles, and the remainder of the cast was excellent, a word of unstinted praise falling to the youthful Rosa Dibbern for her clever rendering of Toto, Dufresne's daughter. Under the admirable guidance of Kapellmeister Tango the orchestra played brilliantly, and Director Gregor excelled himself in tasteful mounting. Signor Leoncavallo was present, and was called times innumerable before the curtain, and with him artists and manager. The composer states this was the best Zaza production he has yet witnessed.

HERR SIEGFRIED LUTZ'S German version of Brook Warren's sensational play, The Face at the Window, has, I hear, attained phenomenal success at the Volks Theatre, Nuremberg, the critics pronouncing it the best detective piece they have seen for years. So good, indeed, is the business with Das Gesicht am Fenster that Herr Lutz intends to star a touring company with it at Christmas, commencing at the Albert Theatre, Leipzig.

Aubrey Villa,
72, Croydon Road, Anerley.
Aug. 18th, '08.

Dear Sir,—I have much pleasure in recommending the STONE SALVE which you advised me to try for my sister, who had for two years suffered with acute rheumatism in her back—in fact, so severe that once, lying down, she had the greatest difficulty to rise. Now, after using three jars, it seems almost impossible, the pains have disappeared altogether. Trusting this testimony of wonderful cure will be an inducement for those suffering the same to give it a trial,

I am, yours truly,
R. MAYNARD.

STONE'S SALVE

The Great Cure for

RHEUMATISM,

SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, NEURALGIA, AND GOUT.

This Famous Remedy may not be known to you, but it is known to thousands on the Continent—including leading doctors in private practise and on hospital staffs—as an almost infallible cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, and Gout. Stone's Salve has relieved and cured when hope has been given up. An application of the Salve on the part affected brings quick relief, and the Salve, working its way into the System, dissolves the uric-acid, which is the cause of rheumatism.

FOR EXTERNAL TREATMENT ONLY.

Pamphlets, with many testimonials, free. Price 2/9 per large jar, of Chemists, Stores, &c. If any difficulty in obtaining, sent post free in the United Kingdom on receipt of 2/9, with the name of your nearest chemist or store.

Address,

JOHN T. BURDEN,
12, Little Britain, Aldersgate Street, London, E.C.

Manufactured by the STONE CHEMICAL CO., LTD., LONDON.

PANTOMIME GOSSIP.

The principal characters in Dick Whittington at Drury Lane have been allotted as follows:—Dick (the new apprentice), Miss Queenie Leighton; Alderman Fitz-Warren (the universal provider), Mr. Neil Kenyon; Miss Sarah Slapp (his housekeeper), Mr. Arthur Conquest; Jack Idle (the weary apprentice), Mr. Wilkie Bard; Will Worthless (the shop-walker), Mr. Aubrey Fitzgerald; Alice Fitz-Warren (the alderman's only child), Miss Marie Wilson; Pedro (Prince of Phantasia), Miss Truly Shattuck; Mouser (the cat), Mr. G. Ali; Captain Keel (of the Merrymaids), Mr. Bert Monks; the Good Fairy, Miss Doris Trevelyan; and Katrina (a Dutch mannequin), Miss Marie George. The scenery for Part I. will consist of East Chepe (St. Valentine's Morning), Department for Food and Clothes, Department for Fancy Attire, Apprentices' Grotto, and Highgate Hill—Dick's Dream. Part II. will reveal the Port of Phantasia, the Basement in Fitz-Warren's House, Outside the Court of Hustings, the Justice Hall, and State Entry of the Lord Mayor. A harlequinade follows.

Mr. H. G. Dudley Bennett is making arrangements for this year's pantomime at the Shakespeare, Clapham Junction. A new subject, so far as this district is concerned, has been selected, the story of The Babes in the Wood having been interwoven with scenes in the life of that always-popular hero, bold Robin Hood. A strong company has been engaged, prominent in which is Miss Nancy Hearne, already a local favourite, who, as principal boy, will play Robin Hood. Miss Lena Brickwell, who has just returned from a successful visit to Australia, will be the principal girl, and the Babes are to be presented by Baby Hutt and Dorothy Miller. Mr. Will Harris, a fine comedian new to London, is to play Adolphus, and the Missouris will have opportunities for fun as the Robbers, the Two Miltons also providing amusement. Mr. Nat Clifford will be the Baron's servant. Other prominent artists engaged include Miss Eva Colton as Fairy Queen, Mr. Harry Phydora, Mr. Jack Denton (one of the last year's Ugly Sisters), Mr. Glanmore Jones and his troupe of Glee Singers, and Miss Mignon Tremaine. A special feature of the scenery will be a moving panorama in the Wood scene and a ball-room pageant, in which no fewer than 2,500 electric lights will be used. The production will take place on Christmas Eve.

For some years the Lyric, Hammersmith, has not had a pantomime of its own, but this year Mr. Wentworth Croke has wisely decided to revert to the old order of things. Mr. Croke has arranged with Mr. George Brydon-Phillips to produce Little Red Riding Hood on Boxing Day, but three weeks only can be spared for pantomime owing to previous bookings.

The King's, Hammersmith, pantomime is likely to give a good account of itself, the advance booking being very heavy and far ahead of previous years. This may be due to the presence of Mr. George Mozart in the cast, as he is well known to be quite capable of acting all the characters in the pantomime, and most comically too. This will not, however, be necessary, as he has many able artists to assist him, of whom we gave some particulars last week. The pantomime will be divided into two parts. The Asturias Troupe of national dancers have been retained, and Miss Bessie Royce is the premier danseuse. M. Alias, Baruch, Simmons, and Mme. Julia Beaumont are responsible for the costumes, and they are not likely to spoil their reputations. Every publisher of popular music in London has been called upon to contribute for the songs and dances. In one of the scenes a beautiful and variegated waterfall will be seen, and the Bubble Fountain will be a novelty.

For the first time for four years—since the association, indeed, of the theatre with Yiddish drama—the Pavilion, Mile End, is this year to have a pantomime. The subject will be Cinderella, the book being written by "Jonathan Jones," while the music is the work of the Pavilion Theatre's chef d'orchestre, Mr. Victor Vorzanger.

The Pavilion pantomime will be produced on Christmas Eve. A strong company has been engaged, and the principal parts are thus cast:—Cinderella, Miss Dorothy Rundell; Prince Charming, Miss Adele Levey; Baron Hardup, Mr. Frank Lilliput; Baroness Hardup, Mr. Johnny Johnston; Araminta and Sophonista (ugly sisters), Mr. Gus Danby and Mr. James Danvers; Jock (buttons), Mr. Syd Benson; Dandini, Miss Ida Lawrence; Fairy Queen, Miss Fay Reyne; Selina, Miss Constance Coopman; Count Kinkey, Miss Winifred Spencer; Countess Kinkey, Miss Mildred Parr; Demon King (who will be a chauffeur), Mr. Gray Langston. Among the novelties will be a very fine scenic display, entitled, The Palace of Light, while much fun is anticipated from the comedians in the village scene and the ballroom. In the latter, a troupe of Russian dancers have been engaged. The whole will be produced under the direction of Mr. George Taylor.

"Boy Blue," at the Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, will be written by J. Hickory Wood, with music composed and arranged by Wm. Southworth and C. W. Chambers. The principal boy will be Miss Hetty King, the principal girl Miss Gladys Ivery (Princess Gloria), the dame Mr. Horace Mills, the Baron, Mr. Tom E. Murray, while Mr. G. H. Elliott will appear as Chocolate, Mr. Jay Laurier as Jiggory, Miss Rita Everard as Prince Opulent, and Miss Connie Emerald as Margery. The principal dancers will be the Eight Stella Girls, and specialities will be contributed by the Lyric Quartette. The chief scenes will be The Village of Whare, The Harvest Field, Roseland, The Mermaid's Haunt, In the Heart of the Forest, and The Bal Masque. The pantomime will be produced under the sole direction of J. F. Graham, on Dec. 24.

Liverpool this year is to have a number of pantomimes, some of which are to be specially produced and others provided by well-known travelling combinations. Mr. Robert Arthur promises to present a most elaborate affair at the Royal Court, the title chosen being that of Humpty Dumpty, which, so far as the city on the Mersey is concerned, is a new one to present to youthful playgoers.

A capital company has been engaged, and there is every reason to believe that Mr Arthur's thirteenth annual, which is to be submitted on Wednesday, the 23rd inst., will prove a big success. The work, which is written by Mr. Frank Dix, with music composed by Messrs. Jullien H. Wilson and J. O. Shepherd, commences the story of Humpty Dumpty's adventures in Sefton Park, Liverpool, and continues it through Humptiland, Rainbowland, Twinklestar, on to Mars, some charming scenery depictive of those spots having been painted by G. E. W. McKie, Stafford Hall, and J. Fowler Hogg.

The cast will be constituted as follows:—Miss Lily Morris (title-rôle), Miss Mabel Green (Curly-locks), Mr. R. H. Douglass (King), Mr. Arthur Rigby (Queen), Miss Emmie King (Jack), Miss Lily Black (Jill), Moon and Morris, Mr. E. Thrilby (Old Woman of the Shoe), Mr. Arthur Creek, Mr. Geo. W. Cockburn, Miss Elsie Evelyn Hill, Master Bobbie Andrews, and Mr. T. A. Shale (King of Rainbowland and Uncle Patrick). The Eight Sunbeams are to be the principal dancers. Several surprises are promised.

Should the success which attended his pantomime last year be repeated, Mr. Wentworth Croke will have no reason to complain of the result of Jack and the Beanstalk, which, on the afternoon of the 26th inst., he intends to submit at the Liverpool Shakespeare. Following the wise course adopted on former occasions, several artists who have won strong positions in public favour have been engaged, these including Misses Ada Reeve (principal boy), Florence Imeson (principal girl), Nora Brocklebank, Marie Vere, Jessie Lonner, and Messrs. Dan Crawley, Arthur Poole, Fred Allendale, Edwin Adeler, Laurie de Frece, the Bros. Griffiths, and Griffin and Ardell. The work is to be produced for Mr. Tom B. Davis by Mr. E. T. Steen; the book has been written by J. Hewson, the music by Guy Jones; and T. Holmes, Stafford Hall, C. F. Young, and Ernest Howard are responsible for the scenery.

The Star Theatre, Liverpool, is to have a specially-written pantomime, under the title of Babes in the Wood, and Mr. J. Gar Kiddie has promised an exceedingly funny one. The work will be staged for three weeks, from Dec. 21, and five matinées are to be given. Although success attends this "home of melodrama" all the year round, the enterprising proprietor, Mr. Harris Fineberg, has, at the wish of many, made a break this Christmas in his customary style of entertainment, and, as stated, promises a seasonable attraction.

Pantomimes will also be presented at the Rotunda, Queen's, and Messrs. Broadhead's new building, the Pavilion, in Lodge-lane.

Mr. Robert Arthur presents Cinderella for his twelfth annual pantomime at the Theatre Royal, Nottingham, on Boxing Night. The "book" is by Mr. Frank Dix, and the music from the pen of Mr. Julien H. Willson, with additional numbers by Mr. John Armstrong. Under the supervision of the acting-manager of the theatre, Mr. Howard Finney, the production is well advanced, and a good caste, including Misses Chrissie Leonard, Madge Vincent, and Marie Empress, with Messrs. Harry Brayne, Johnnie Schofield, and Alexandra and Hughes, will undoubtedly uphold the high reputation of the house. Mr. J. Fowler Hogg's scenery will again form a feature, and the stage management is in the capable hands of Mr. T. Blacklock.

At the Grand Theatre, Nottingham, Mr. J. F. Elliston is responsible for the production. Aladdin has been chosen for the attraction, and amongst others engaged are Misses Mabel Carr, Molly Wynne, Elsie Robey, Gertrude Lytton, Ada Tilley, and Messrs. Tom Kelso and Will Fullbrook.

The Tyne Theatre, Newcastle, pantomime, Humpty Dumpty, promises to add one more success to the credit of Messrs. Howard and Wyndham. The company, amongst whom are Miss Ida Rene, Arthur Prince, Carlton, Shaun Glenville, Jock Walker, J. E. Nightingale, and Miss Lily Iris, are actively preparing for the opening, which will take place on Christmas Eve.

At the Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Mr. Robert Arthur's twelfth pantomime, Aladdin, is now in active preparation. Amongst those engaged for principal parts are Mr. Malcolm Scott, Happy Fanny Fields, Harry Tate, and Violet Lloyd. The opening night will be Saturday, Dec. 26.

At the Grand Theatre, Brighton, the pantomime will be Aladdin, from the pen of Mr. Ernest Carpenter. The principal boy and girl will be Miss Aimee Roberts and Miss Blanche Marion respectively; and the following have also been engaged:—Mr. Edwin Garth (Widow Twankey), Mr. Frank Dunlop (Abanazar), the Sisters Albert (Pekoe and Pitti Sing), Miss Addie Love (Slave of the Lamp), Mr. Leo Sterling (Emperor), Messrs. Bennett and Martell (Tip-Pit and Wot-Toe), and the Lottie Stone Quartet of dancers. The production will be under the supervision of Mr. Ben Court.

Mr. Rowland Hill will play Mrs. Sinbad in Mr. John Hart's Christmas production at the Grand Theatre, Leeds.

At the Theatre Royal, Glasgow, Miss Violet Lorraine is now announced for the part of the Prince in Cinderella. This pantomime was down for production on Thursday, but our notice is reserved for our next issue.

The pantomime this year at Paisley Theatre will be Puss in Boots, which Mr. J. H. Savile will produce on Dec. 19. Miss Daisie Morell plays Colin, principal boy.

Miss Dorothy Frostick has been engaged by Mr. John Hart to appear as principal dancer in his pantomime, Sinbad the Sailor, at the Grand Theatre, Leeds.

Two musical festivals are to be inaugurated next year—one at Brighton and one at Newcastle-on-Tyne. They will take place respectively at the beginning and towards the end of the year.

Miss Marie Hall will give a concert this (Saturday) afternoon at the Crystal Palace, assisted by several talented artists. The items include:—Sonata for piano and violin in E major (Bach), Miss Marie Hall and Miss L. Basche. Miss Hall will also play Max Bruch's Concerto in G minor, and (a) Aria (Bach), (b) Bereceuse (Cesar Cui), (c) Serenade (Oskar Nedbal), and (d) Saltarello (Leone Sinigaglia). Mr. John Savile will sing Recit and Air from "Irene" (La Reine de Saba), "She alone charmeth my sadness" (Gounod), (a) "O cessate di Piagarmi" (Scarlatti), (b) "The sands of the Dee" (Frederick Clay). Miss Basche will play the following pieces by Schumann "Des Abends," "Grillen," "Warum," "Aufschwung" (a) Study in D flat (Liszt) and (b) "La Campanella" (Paganini-Liszt).

Mr. M. J. C. Wellard, chief of the Industrial Department of the Crystal Palace Company, retired from active service on Monday last. The occasion was marked by a pleasant gathering of the whole staff, at which Mr. Wellard was presented with a handsome tea service and spirit flagon. Mr. Geo. O. Starr, at the request of the staff, handed the gifts to Mr. Wellard, expressing the general regret that he was leaving. Mr. Starr referred to the fact that during the forty-four years of Mr. Wellard's service he had always commanded the respect of directors, managers, tenants, and all with whom he had been associated. Honesty, sobriety, strict attention to duty were all embodied in Mr. Wellard. That he was so situated that he could enjoy in comfort restful leisure was the delight of all who knew him. There was only one thing to regret, and that was he was leaving before they could celebrate his golden anniversary of service. Mr. Wellard, in thanking his associates, expressed himself most feelingly, and gave a short résumé of his forty-four years' service. The staff then wished Mr. Wellard good luck and long life, and before the company separated all joined in singing "For he's a jolly good fellow," and gave most hearty cheers for the veteran.

A Copy of "The Era" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. "The Era" is posted on Saturday in time to reach London subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London post. Address, the Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

FIRST OF THE PANTOMIMES.

"ROBINSON CRUSOE" AT DUNDEE.

The first pantomime to be produced in Britain this season made a most auspicious start on Monday at the Gaiety, Dundee. The theme of Mrs. Lillie Williams' pantomime is Robinson Crusoe and His Man Friday, and this clever lady has reason to feel proud of the brilliant reception accorded by Monday's packed and delighted houses. As an entertainment of sheer delight, free from the slightest tinge of vulgarity, and calculated to amuse both young and old alike, Robinson Crusoe would be hard to beat. It is staged, mounted and dressed on a lavish scale of magnificence, and outdoes anything previously attempted at this theatre, renowned though it is for the gorgeousness of its pantomime productions. The book follows the familiar story very nicely, and is yet instinct with modern fun. The music, arranged by Mrs. Lillie Williams herself, includes all the latest and most popular songs, which are treated by the powerful company in a way that adds to the delight of the listeners. The pantomime is played in ten scenes, viz., Scene 1, The Port of Hull; Scene 2, Under the Sea; Scene 3, 'Tween Decks, "The Pretty Polly"; Scene 4, The Raft; Scene 5, The Sea Shore; Scene 6, A Palm Grove; Scene 7, Another Part of the Island; Scene 8, Interior, Crusoe's Hut; Scene 9, On the Way to the Palace; and Scene 10, The Palace. The Port of Hull is a very fine and effective setting; the Palm Grove scene is a masterpiece of the scene-painter's art; while the Palace scene is a picture of dazzling beauty and artistic colouring.

Amy Randolph, who plays Crusoe in dashing style, caught on at once, and made a great hit in her songs, "I couldn't go home in the dark," "Green Fields of Scotland," and the tuneful "Connemara," which were all rendered very tastefully. Miss May Carter made a truly charming and graceful principal girl. She displayed a cultivated voice and pleasing manner, and scored a decided hit in her song, "Oh, Oh, Antonio," in which she was assisted by a chorus of ten, and two Italian organ-grinders. She was also vociferously applauded for her song, "In the land of the Kangaroo," which she followed up with a very dainty dance. Along with Miss Amy Randolph (Crusoe) she also took part in the duet, "Come over the garden wall," which also proved an attractive number. The Sisters Selwin (Tom Bowling and Bessie Barr), and the Sisters Poole Pelham (Jack Tatfrail and Sally Sauce) also deserve a word of praise for their tasteful singing and sprightly acting. Miss Dora Lindsay, a dainty artist, who figures as the Fairy, is possessed of a very strong and cultured voice, which was heard to much advantage in her fine song, "In Shadowland." The Ten Dixie Girls furnished some tricky and smart dancing, and in the Palm Grove scene completely brought down the house by their singing of "My Little Silver Coon" and other ear-haunting ditties. The company is very strong in comedians. As Mrs. Crusoe, Mr. J. Telly Dillson simply revelled in the part, his odd ways and exuberant comic business being of the type calculated to make the proverbial cat go into paroxysms of laughter. Mr. Fred Davies (Will Atkins) is another comedian whose drolleries, quaint mannerisms, and clever acting made each of his appearances the occasion of unrestrained merriment. Mr. Tom Gilmore as Captain Skuttle, and later on as Friday, was a great favourite. Mr. Brete Harte was a huge success in his amusing caricature of a Doric-speaking Emperor, and along with Miss Dora Lindsay (Fairy) scored a great hit in a clever medley of Scotch comic songs. Mr. Edward Benson was an excellent Davey Jones, and sang "Asleep on the Deep" in fine style. Messrs. Justin and Mantell as Bailiffs supplied abundance of laughable business, and also presented a remarkably clever contortionist and tumbling act. A very smart topical quartette, "In the year 1910," proved one of the tit-bits of the pantomime.

In the Palace scene, in response to repeated calls, Mrs. Lillie Williams appeared on the stage, along with her energetic and courteous business-manager, Mr. Frank Percival. After thanking the audience for their appreciation of her pantomime, and the artists for their splendid work, Mrs. Williams introduced Mr. Edward Benson, the stage-manager and producer; Mr. Robert Miller, the resident scenic artist, whose facile brush has painted the whole of the magnificent scenery; Mrs. Tom Verney, designer of the elaborate costumes; and Mr. Robert Beaumont, R.C.M., the new musical-director of the Gaiety. Mr. W. E. Potts, the new licensee and manager, was also on view in the front of the house, and we wish him every success in his new sphere.

MR. ROLAND JACKSON'S RECITAL.

At Bechstein Hall on Wednesday evening a large and fashionable audience assembled. Mr. Jackson, who was assisted by Mr. Korbay and Herr Emil Krall, was first heard in "Che fiero costume," a song well suited to his powerful and dramatic tenor voice. In a fervent rendering of "Cielo è mar," the romance from Ponchielli's La Gioconda, Mr. Roland Jackson received warm tokens of approval, while he was equally successful in the beautiful song of Schumann, "Die Lotosblume." Two songs of Brahms', "Komm Bald" and "Wee die Wolke," were sung by Mr. Jackson, who also greatly distinguished himself in the graceful "Murmeludes Lüftchen" of Jensen. "Du bist ein kind" (Weingärtner), "Am Rhein," by Liszt, and Tschaikowsky's "Sonne ging zur Ruhe," were also included in the first portion of the programme. The second part consisted mainly of English songs, pleasing in themselves, but hardly important enough for Mr. Jackson's fine voice and operatic method. Perhaps the most effective of the English works was a pretty and refined song, "Sorrow and Spring," by Graham Peel. The others were "Bright is the ring of words" (W. H. Hadow), "After" (Elgar), "Midsummer Love Song," by Godfrey Nutting, "Mary of Allendale," arranged by H. Lane Wilson, and "The ways are green" (Mary Carmichael). Later on in the concert Mr. Jackson sang three Hungarian melodies, arranged by F. Korbay, "Far and high," "See the star that shines afar," and "Do not go." Some excellent 'cello solos were given by Herr Emil Krall, who played the slow movement from Dvorak's Concerto, Saint-Saëns's "Allegro Appassionato," and "Chant d'Automne" (Tschaikowsky). Mr. Roland Jackson made a most favourable impression, and was well received by the large audience.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—Sir Henry Irving.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star.

A memorial tablet is to be fixed by the London County Council to the front of the house in Kensington, where the famous singer, Jenny Lind, lived when in England.

Princess Christian, Princess Henry of Battenberg, and Princess Louise Augusta of Schleswig-Holstein were present at the performance of The Builder of Bridges, at the St. James's Theatre last night.

"SALVATION NELL."

Drama, in Three Acts, by Edward Sheldon. Produced at the Hackett Theatre, New York, on Nov. 17.

(From our New York Correspondent.)

Mrs. Fiske has played many parts during the years that she has been before the public, and the most critical playgoer could hardly mention anything that this gifted artist has done that failed to make a deep impression. Perhaps her Tess, in the dramatic version of Thomas Hardy's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" is—or was—the most memorable of all her stage creations. One has to use the past tense after seeing her embodiment of Salvation Nell, which certainly equals, even if it does not excel, any one of her previous characterisations. It is a sympathetic and moving portrayal of a woman of the underworld, who frees herself from the bondage of vice and vulgarity, and, under the right influence, devotes herself to the beneficent purpose of leading other unfortunates out of the path of destruction. As Jim Platt, another experienced player who does all things well, namely, Mr. Holbrook Blinn, whose Defarge in The Only Way Londoners have not forgotten, represents in a manner that is strikingly true to life the brutal, skulking paramour of Salvation Nell, and others among the cast of forty who distinguish themselves in important rôles are Messrs. David Glassford, W. T. Clarke, and Eugene Reed; and Misses Mary Madison, Hope Latham, and Mary Maddern.

The opening scene shows the bar-room of Sid McGovern's saloon in Tenth-avenue on Christmas Eve. Here is realism with a vengeance. In thirty years of playgoing the writer has seen nothing to equal it, and if this play is presented in London there will be no excuse for not knowing what low life in New York really means. Londoners may not thirst for knowledge of this kind, seeing that there is a sufficiency of dramatic material in the low life of their own city to spread before those who like that sort of thing. But the world has become so small, and the intercourse of the nations has increased to such an extent, that one cannot expect, even if one wishes, to remain totally ignorant nowadays of the manners and customs of any people on earth, no matter how strange and unfamiliar they may be. Opinions may differ as to the advisability of presenting ultra-realistic depictions of low life upon the stage; in fact, this very difference has cropped up in the newspaper discussions of the play under notice; but there is no denying the superiority of a true picture over a false one, and one certainly realises this while gazing at the scene to be described. Critical observation fails to detect anything about it that is artificial or stagy, and one looks and listens in vain for the bit of business or dialogue that will dispel the illusion and remind the observer that, after all, it is "only a play." It is as if one of the low resorts that abound in certain parts of this city had been transferred bodily to the stage. The bar-room is filled with roughs and loafers. Nell Sanders scrubs the floor, washes the glasses, and cleans the spittoons. She sleeps in the cellars and earns "two-and-a-half" a week, and this miserable pittance she has to give up to the surly, bull-necked bruiser, Jim Platt, who refers to her as "my girl," and owns her as completely as any man can own a woman. Platt has lately discovered a rival in "Squirt" Kelly, a jeering brute as low as himself, and when Kelly embraces Nell against her will a fight occurs between the two men. Platt fells his enemy, and the police are called. A hospital ambulance is backed up to the door, a stretcher is brought in, and the surgeon says that Kelly is dead. Platt is handcuffed and taken away, and the ambulance drives off with its burden. The bartender turns out the window-lights, accentuating the squalor and sordidness of the scene, and the saloon-keeper, threatened with the loss of his licence, falls into an ugly mood, which finds quick expression when he notices Nell Sanders, paralysed with grief and fear, leaning against the wall and staring at vacancy. For being the cause of the disturbance he orders her into the street forthwith, and the wretched creature gathers her few belongings into a bundle and prepares to obey. But Nell finds a "friend" in Myrtle Odell, whose gaudy attire and loose tongue proclaim what manner of girl she is. Mme. Croquette's disorderly house next door is raided by the police, and everything that happens, in what used to be an ordinary everyday occurrence in this city, is conveyed to the eye and ear in an exceedingly vivid and realistic manner. Myrtle Odell eludes the police and escapes into the small room partitioned off from the bar-room, where customers may sit and drink. Here she encounters Nell, to whom she pictures the delightfully easy existence the poor drudge can have for the asking, and how the "madame" will welcome her with open arms. But Nell, with all her faults, has never done anything of that kind, and whilst she stands wavering in comes "Lieutenant" O'Sullivan, otherwise known as "Hallelujah Maggie," from the Salvation Army hall near by. Maggie is tall and gaunt, and has a determined manner. She mingles fearlessly with the low ruffians that frequent McGovern's saloon, and they respect her. She has already pleaded with Nell to join the Army, but Nell has shaken her off. It is the old story. Jim is her Bill Sykes and she is his Nancy. But Jim has been taken from her, and "Hallelujah Maggie" pleads with her again until she finally prevails. "She's coming with me!" cries the Salvation Army girl as she takes Nell in her arms. Myrtle loses a recruit, and Maggie plucks another brand from the burning.

In the second act eight years have elapsed, and the scene is Nell's living-room in a Cherry-street tenement. Jim Platt is "doing time" in Sing-Sing for killing "Squirt" Kelly, while Nell has become a full-fledged Salvation Army lass and a credit to "Lieutenant" O'Sullivan. She has a boy of seven, Jim's child, and for the sake of appearances is known as "Mrs." Sanders. Word is brought to her that Jim has been seen near his old haunts, and she remembers that his term could be shortened by good behaviour. "Major" Williams, who admits that his own past has not been above reproach, and is plainly in love with Nell, is with her when the returned convict quietly opens the door and sneaks in. The "Major" is for putting the intruder out, but Nell asks him to leave her with Jim, and he obeys. About the first thing she tells Jim is that he is a father—a piece of information that makes not the least impression upon him. To escape his amorous advances she goes out to buy some food, and whilst she is gone he takes a look around, noting the furniture and Nell's other possessions with a critical eye. He finds some milk in the ice-box and drinks it. Moving about the room he comes across a small suit of clothes and a pair of shoes. He opens the bedroom door and peeps in. A child's voice asks who is there, and the man shuts the door quickly. But the youngster comes out in his nightdress and makes for the milk that should be in the ice-box. Jim Platt is visibly embarrassed, and confesses that he has drunk it. "What's your name?" asks the nipper. "Jim," says the convict. "So mine," the child rejoins, and they become so friendly that when Nell returns Jim is awkwardly holding his son in his arms.

He tells Nell that she must leave New York and accompany him to Denver on the morrow. When he talks of soon having plenty of money she elicits the fact that he and several others intend to commit a burglary that night, and that he has no idea of reforming. She refuses to comply with his wishes, and threatens to inform the police. But he seizes her, tells her that she is his, and must do his bidding, and that he has not kissed a woman for eight years. She agrees to take him back if he will give up the burglary, and he promises, but with his first kiss there comes a revulsion of feeling and she tries to resist him. When she calls for help he strikes her down and flees down the fire-escape. During the struggle a thunderstorm rages, the rain beats in at the open windows, the curtains are blown about by the wind, and the room door being locked a neighbour vainly tries to get in. As the curtain falls, Nell is lying senseless on the floor.

Another wonderful scene is disclosed in the third act. It represents Cherry Hill, one of the toughest neighbourhoods in New York. At the left and rear are four-storey tenements of the poorest class, with iron fire-escape ladders and balconies outside each window, filled with various articles, and the usual display of bed-clothing. The inevitable corner saloon and Italian fruit stand are there, of course, and not a detail is omitted. On the right is the Salvation Army hall, where "Hallelujah Maggie," "Salvation Nell," and other members of the "blood-and-fire" brigade hold forth every evening. The Army band, playing a popular air, marches through the street and into the hall. An organ-grinder plays and children dance. An Italian woman, looking into the street from an upper window, sees her husband with a flashily-dressed girl, and threatens her rival, who refuses to be frightened and stands her ground until the Italian comes down. A crowd gathers to see the two women fight, and a policeman appears just in time to arrest the husband for striking his wife. When the policeman promises his prisoner two months in gaol the wife turns on the officer and gives him "the length of her tongue." Whilst they are arguing it out, the husband goes off with the girl that has aroused his wife's jealousy. The crowd laughs and jeers at the Italian woman and leaves her crying on her doorstep. Jim Platt slinks in and asks if this is the place where the Salvation Army meetings are held. He has not joined the gang in committing the burglary, it appears, and he tries once more to persuade Nell to go away with him, but she refuses, although she is sympathetic and kind, and tries to turn his thoughts to higher things; recalling their one day in the country together long ago, when things were different. But Jim is a hopeless case it seems.

At the open-air meeting Nell's simple but telling words touch the heart of every man and woman in the crowd. She passes around her tambourine for contributions, and Jim Platt, who has slunk back again to the fringe of the crowd to hear her speak, feels in his tattered clothes for a coin. As he drops it into the tambourine Nell sees a new expression in his eyes that tells her he has seen the light and can be reclaimed. Her fellow-workers sing "Abide with me," and with her cry of joy the play ends.

ROBERTSON AS A PIONEER.

"It is impossible even to think of the early Victorian theatre without a yawn," says Mr. A. B. Walkley in "Drama and Life," "so 'unidea'd' was it, so ephemeral, so paltry and jejune. One shrinks from dwelling on this tedious theme. Our concern here is not with the imitators, the adapters, the mere purveyors, but with the elect few who have done something new—no matter whether good or bad, so long as it is new to drama—the Fortschrittsmänner as the Germans call them, the men who give a new lead in art. The first of these men, in the history of the modern English theatre, was T. W. Robertson. In the Robertsonian drama—which includes not merely the author of Caste and Society and School, but minor and coarser Robertsons like H. J. Byron and James Albery—is to be found the first intelligent employment in England of the picture-stage. A plausible representation of actual life and manners and speech, with all rhetoric and rhetorical conventions abolished, with no aim but the aim of illusion, was for the first time presented to an English playhouse audience. The world of the sixties is now so remote from us—are not the humours of its remoteness the very point of Mr. Pinero's Trelawny of the Wells?—that it is odd to think of Robertson as a realist; nevertheless, a realist he was in his day. I am not referring to the 'real door-handles' of Society or the 'real snow' of Ours, or the other novelties of accurate mise-en-scène of which the history is written in the annals of the old Prince of Wales's Theatre under the régime of the Bancrofts. These mechanical details were bound in time to be invented for the new requirements of the picture-stage, though that consideration does not detract from the credit of the actual inventors. Still less am I referring to the structure of the Robertsonian drama, the 'motivation' of its plot. It is here, of course, that realism can best justify itself—in the action and the springs of action—so that the impression produced on the spectator's mind may be the exact opposite of Judge Brack's, the impression that 'these are the very things people do.' Robertson was no realist in this sense. His plots are always feeble, often merely silly, and the motives of his character have little in common with those of live people. Nevertheless Robertson was a true realist in aim, and more often than not he did succeed in transferring to the stage certain types of character, the current ideals and ambient atmosphere of so much of the outside world as he had the opportunity of studying. That was a limited opportunity, no doubt; Robertson's was a cockney and a middle-class world; but then so much of England in the sixties was cockney and middle-class This was the new, the 'forward,' element in Robertson's plays that ranks him among our Fortschrittsmänner; he did, however imperfectly, bring the stage into some sort of relation to life. As with all new developments, the method was a method of exaggeration. Hawtrey and Eccles and Polly and Sam Gerridge are caricatures, but the basis of observed fact underlies them all. Hawtrey is a caricature which might have been signed 'John Leech,' as Eccles or Sam Gerridge might have been signed 'Charles Keene.' Robertson, then, accomplished something. The Robertsonian drama counts. It gave a lead, and a fairly good one, for the picture-stage. But, English in its many good qualities, it was English also in its chief defect; it was 'unidea'd.' Happily no quotation in proof of this statement is called for—happily, because Robertsonian prose is absolutely unreadable. School and Ours and Caste have been revived in quite recent years, so that the present generation of playgoers has had ample opportunity of acquaintance with some typical Robertsonian plays. They show that, while Robertson observed his time and responded to its pressure, he had no critical ideas about it. By ideas one does not, of course, mean the puerile commonplaces of the copybook."

EARLY DELIVERY.

Special newspaper express services now running on the London and North-Western, Great Northern, Midland, and Great Central Railways carry The Era to the following important cities and towns at the times named. Newsvendors and subscribers obtain their papers at a much earlier hour than was previously possible:—Rugby, 4.30 a.m.; Coventry, 4.54 a.m.; Birmingham, 5.20 a.m.; Crewe, 5.5 a.m.; Manchester, 6.50 a.m.; Liverpool, 7 a.m.; Chester, 9.3 a.m.; Doncaster, 6.10 a.m.; York, 7 a.m.; Hull, 8.20 a.m.; Darlington, 8.58 a.m.; Scarborough, 10.5 a.m.; Newcastle, 10.10 a.m.; Leeds (Central), 6.58 a.m.; Huddersfield, 7.37 a.m.; Bradford (Exchange), 7.47 a.m.; Harrogate, 7.50 a.m.; Halifax, 8.17 a.m.; Burnley, 9.28 a.m.; Leicester, 4.36 a.m.; Nottingham, 5.10 a.m.; Derby, 5.35 a.m.

"AMASIS" IN COURT.

In the King's Bench Division on Monday, before Mr. Justice Jelf and a common jury, the hearing was commenced of an action for alleged infringement of dramatic copyright brought by Mr. William Hermann Scholz (professionally known as W. Gunn Gwennett) against Amasis (Ltd.) and Mr. Frederick Fenn. The plaintiff alleged that the comic opera Amasis was in a great many respects a copy of a composition of his own, entitled The Son of the Sun, and asked for damages and an injunction.

Mr. Scholz was represented by Mr. Lawrence Hales and Mr. Whitfield Hales (instructed by Mr. H. A. Fitzmaurice), and defendants by Mr. Norman Craig and Mr. Spence (instructed by Braby and Macdonald.

Mr. Lawrence Hales explained that in 1897 his client completed a comic opera, to which he had given the title of The Son of the Sun. It was based upon the well-known Egyptian legend that whoever took away the life of a cat would be in danger of sudden death. The play was sent round to various managers, by whom it was returned more or less politely. The first time Mr. Scholz saw Amasis he exclaimed, "This is my play!"

The counsel proceeded to indicate some of the alleged similarities between the two pieces.

The plaintiff, in giving evidence, said in 1894 he decided to write a play, taking as the general idea the old Egyptian law that it was death to anybody who slew a cat. He submitted his production to Mr. William Greet, Mr. George Edwardes, Messrs. Webster and Norcross, Mr. Charles Manners, and others.

Amasis was produced in 1906. At the first performance a book of words was presented to him, and he came to the conclusion that Amasis was to all intents and purposes his play. Amasis had a very long run at the New Theatre, and subsequently at the Criterion.

On Tuesday his lordship resumed the hearing, without a jury, counsel having agreed that much time would be saved if the matter were left to his lordship alone.

Mr. Spence suggested that the real plot of plaintiff's play had nothing to do with the sacred cat.

Witness: It has.

Counsel: The real plot of the play has practically very little to do with the cat. It is the old story about brigands carrying off a princess. About nine-tenths of the play is occupied by the brigands, and has nothing to do with the cat. That is what I complain of in this particular instance.

His Lordship: A plot which deals with brigands carrying somebody off is not particularly original. One about a cat may be.

Re-examined by Mr. Lawrence Hales, witness said he thought Amasis was Mr. Fenn's first attempt at comic opera writing. On the hundredth night of its performance a special verse was introduced in which Mr. Fenn was referred to as "a beginner" who had backed "a winner." It was not a fact that nine-tenths of The Son of the Sun was made up of the brigand plot. It was rather the reverse. He had taken no part of his play from "An Egyptian Princess." The plot of "The Cat of Bubastes" was different from that of Amasis or that of his play.

Mr. Hjorbard, musician and composer, who composed the music for The Son of the Sun, stated that when plaintiff showed him the libretto, in 1905, he formed the opinion that it was the finest he had ever read.

This concluded the case for the plaintiff.

Mr. Spence assured his lordship that when Mr. Fenn wrote Amasis he knew nothing about plaintiff's book, but had a particularly extensive knowledge of Egyptology, having for some time been acquainted with "The Cat of Bubastes," "An Egyptian Princess," "The Scarlet Beetle," and other publications bearing on the subject. He submitted that there was not in connection with the plot and the whole of the mass of alleged resemblances anything like enough to point to anything beyond the inevitable resemblance between two people of the same class of thinking starting with the idea of killing a sacred cat.

On Wednesday, resuming his address on behalf of defendants, Mr. Spence said it was admitted that the mishap to the sacred cat referred to in both plays was common ground, which anyone was entitled to make use of. Plaintiff, however, alleged that Mr. Fenn's treatment of the subject matter was taken from his play, but counsel submitted that it was not so. Mr. Fenn had made his hero actually kill the cat, while plaintiff made the brigand Mentoli steal the animal after the accident and keep it alive. Mr. Fenn got out of the difficulty occasioned by introducing what was known as a Sydney Carton character. Seeing the Princess in great distress because of the threatened execution of her lover, a man of humble situation hopelessly in love with the lady said that he had done the deed, there was, however, a further development of the plot which showed the invention of Mr. Fenn. The self-accused man was sentenced to be beheaded, but Mr. Fenn got him out of his dilemma in an ingenius way. His case was that Mr. Fenn went directly to a book entitled "An Egyptian Princess" for the idea of killing the sacred cat.

Mr. L. de Frece, who said he had just finished an engagement as one of the principal comedians in Butterflies, was the first witness called for the defence. He played the comic part of Sebac in Amasis. He stated that on the first night the part was a very small one, but he "played it up."

Was the crocodile introduced on the first night?—Oh, no.

Counsel: Your idea was to bring on to the stage not a crocodile, but a "practicable" crocodile.

His Lordship: A "practicable" crocodile! I am learning something as we go on.

Counsel (to witness): Do you call it a "practicable" crocodile?—It was really a property crocodile.

Whose was it?—The property of the management.

Who invented the comic business connected with the crocodile?—I had no idea originally of anything beyond a "wheeze" that I wanted to introduce. I desired to parody a widespread advertisement having reference to a certain article. The "wheeze" was:

"Why does the cat the crocodile mock so?
One gets the milk, and the other gets—hungry."

Witness added that the property people made such an excellent crocodile that the idea occurred to him of making it sit up like a dog and balance a lump of sugar on its nose.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lawrence Hales, witness said that the idea of putting a lump of sugar on the crocodile's nose came to him when the "animal" was in process of making.

Mr. Frederick Fenn said he began to write Amasis about December of 1903, and completed it in about three months. He took the idea of killing the sacred cat from "An Egyptian Princess." He did not know of plaintiff's existence in May of 1906, and previous to that had never been shown his book or part of his book.

On Thursday Mr. William Archer, in evidence, said, in his opinion, to a very great extent the germ idea of Amasis came from An Egyptian Princess, with a good many details in no sense essential to the plot, but connected with it.

His lordship reserved judgment.

PRINCESS CHRISTIAN and Princess Henry of Battenberg witnessed the fifty-third performance of The Lyons Mail at the Shaftesbury Theatre on Tuesday evening.

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps.

DEATH OF HARRY KILBURN.

We have to record the death on Sunday last of Mr. Harry Kilburn, whose passing away will occasion sincere regret both in theatrical and music-hall circles. His last engagement was with Mr. Baron H. Harriss and Miss Sophie Harriss in The Prince of Pilsen, in which he played Hans Wagner, a part in which he was pre-eminently successful. The deceased gentleman's early career on the stage was in the halls, where a very valuable experience was gained—an experience, indeed, that added much to his versatility and comic resources. He achieved considerable success on what is termed the lesser stage, and toured the Continent, playing in all the principal towns of France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, and Spain, acting also in sketches and as a pantomimist and dancer, of which latter art he was very fond. He then returned to England to fulfil a pantomime engagement at the Tyne Theatre, Newcastle, under the management of the late Sir Augustus Harris, where he was fortunate enough to be so successful with the part entrusted to him that he was re-engaged for the two following Christmas pantomimes, making three consecutive seasons, the latter two years playing the parts made popular by the late Dan Leno at Drury Lane the preceding year under the same management. Other pantomime engagements included Avenue Theatre, Sunderland, Comedy, Manchester, Tyne, Newcastle (this time under the management of Messrs. Howard and Wyndham), two seasons Opera House, Leicester, then Empire, Edinburgh, Alexandra, Sheffield, Gaiety, Dublin (with Mr. Robert Courtneidge), Grand Theatre, Leeds (with Mr. John Hart), and also three consecutive seasons with Mr. Fredk. Mouillot at Opera House, Belfast, Theatre Royal, Dublin, and King's Theatre, Hammersmith.

Mr. Kilburn also created several parts in musical comedy, prominent amongst them being Robert White (the policeman) in Mr. Arthur Roberts' Dandy Dan, and Samuel Peashooter in Mr. George Dance's Ladies' Paradise. Amongst other engagements was one of eighteen months at the Duke of York's Theatre in The Gay Parisienne and A Day in Paris (with Messrs. Frank Wheeler and W. J. Holloway). Then a season at the Lyric Theatre, playing Sancho Panza with Arthur Roberts in Don Quixote. Then came a long tour of the provinces with Hardie and Von Leer's Dandy Fifth, in the part of Sergeant-Major Milligan. He next joined Mr. George Dance's company in A Chinese Honeymoon, playing Hi-Lung on the autumn tour and the following spring playing Mr. Pineapple in the same piece. In the autumn he was engaged by Mr. H. C. Beryl to play Major O'Neill in The Lady Slavey. Then followed a short tour of the music halls in conjunction with his wife (Miss Ruth Grosvenor). Then came an offer from Baron H. Harriss to play the part of Hans Wagner (the Dutchman) in The Prince of Pilsen, which part he played for two years, and which, he declared, fitted him like a glove. Owing to his success, Mr. Harriss arranged with him to play the part through the Christmas seasons of 1906-7 and 1907-8, and he completed one tour in June and another in November. The cause of death was pneumonia supervening on a chill. The deceased gentleman was 42 years of age.

[Photo by Sawyer.

THE LATE MR. HARRY KILBURN.

TRINITY COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

A most interesting organ recital was given on Monday afternoon, at Trinity College, by Mr. Edward d'Evry, organist of the Brompton Oratory and Professor of the Pianoforte at the College. The programme was admirably varied, and displayed the delicate tones of the new organ to great advantage. The talented organist was first heard in choral preludes, "Good Christian Men, Rejoice" and "Have Pity on me, O Lord God" (J. S. Bach), and the same composer's fine Fugue in G major (12-8). In strong contrast to this was the cleverly written Elegy (MS.), by Arthur Barclay; Mr. d'Evry was also much applauded in Lemare's artistic Theme, Variations, and Finale Fugato, and the quaint Musette by E. H. Turpin. E. T. Chipp's lively Intermezzo, Bambridge's graceful Idyll, and a Spring Song by C. W. Pearce were also pleasing features of the recital. The beautiful Prayer and Angel Scene from Humperdinck's Hansel and Gretel, and a melodious Meditation composed by Mr. d'Evry (and given by desire), received great applause. Besides the Meditation, Mr. d'Evry's song "Oculi Omnium" ("The eyes of all wait") was sung on Wednesday by Miss Hilda Felstead, whose fine contralto voice was heard in this to much advantage. Miss Felstead's second song was "Se tu m'ami" (Pergolesi). Mr. Ernest Palser was the accompanist.

AMUSEMENTS IN BOMBAY.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BANDMANN THEATRE.—Carter, the American magician, has been here recently, and has drawn crowded houses every night. Undoubtedly the great draw of the show was the clever work in answering questions propounded by the audience by the American medium, Miss Price, who proved fully equal to the demands made. Carter himself is a clever magician, with quaint American patter. Tom E. Liddiard's Bijou Troubadours are popular. Baby Liddle and Little Lily Clarke are remarkable child artists; the comedian of the troupe, Paul Jeagle, gains encores nightly.

THE DULWICH PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY will give a concert this (Saturday) evening of Bizet's Carmen in the concert room of the Crystal Palace. The artists will include Miss Norah Newport, Miss Edith Miller, Miss Sylvia Yarra, Miss Isabel Champion, Mr. Frank J. Webster, Mr. Hector Lightfoot, Mr. Thorold Waters, Mr. Reginald Gould, and Mr. John Prout. Mr. Arthur Fagge will conduct.

THEATRE AND MUSIC-HALL EMPLOYEES' ANNUAL CONCERT.

An enthusiastic audience assembled on Sunday evening in His Majesty's Theatre (kindly lent by Mr. H Beerbohm Tree), on the occasion of the sixth annual concert in aid of the Benevolent Funds of the London branches of the National Association of Theatrical Employees, comprising the Heads of Departments, Carpenters, General Staff, and Cinematograph Operators' Branches. Every part of the house was crowded, all the tickets being sold before the day; a large number of applications for tickets prior to, and on, the day could not be supplied.

The concert was under the patronage of Sir Charles Wyndham, Sir H. E. Moss, Miss Lena Ashwell, Mr. George Alexander, Mr. Alfred Butt, Mme. Ada Colley, Mr. Arthur Collins, Mr. Arthur Chudleigh, Mr. James Carew, Mr. Frank Glenister, Mr.

[Photo by Hana.

MR. WILLIAM JOHNSON.

Hon. Sec.

J. Martin Harvey, Mr. Charles Hawtrey, Miss Ethel Irving, Mr. H. B. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal, Miss Marie Löhr, Mr. Eric Lewis, Mr. Matheson Lang, Mr. Cyril Maude, Mr. Gerald du Maurier, Miss Julia Neilson, Mr. Cecil Raleigh, Mr. Alfred de Rothschild, Mr. Forbes-Robertson, Mr. Oswald Stoll, Mr. Edward Terry, Mr. Fred Terry, Mr. H. Beerbohm Tree, Miss Irene Vanbrugh, Miss Ruth Vincent, Mr. Sydney Valentine, and Mrs. Henry Wood.

Among those well known in the profession who had taken tickets were Mr. Arthur Collins, Miss Lena Ashwell, Miss Ruth Vincent, Mrs. Henry Wood, Miss Ethel Irving, Mr. Cecil Raleigh, Mr. Lyn Harding, Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, and many others

The orchestra, supplied by the A.M.U., conducted by Meyer van Praag, commenced the long and attractive programme with Elgar's march, "Pomp and Circumstance," which was admirably rendered.

A dainty and talented child, Miss Nora Roylance, followed with two pretty dances, a veil dance and a coon dance, a very graceful performance, which was well received. Miss Eva Lewis sang Löhr's "Eyes that gazed in mine," and was succeeded by the ever-popular Chirgwin, the original white-eyed kaffir, who received a most hearty welcome, his funny songs, puns, and stories creating much amusement. Chirgwin was up-to-date with his allusions to the Suffragettes, although the audience did not immediately grasp the point of the pun, "out of the frying-pan into the fire, and the pan-curst" (Pankhurst). This artist brought his entertainment to a close by playing "She wore a wreath of roses" on a wonderful and melodious instrument.

Mr. John Philips sang very feelingly "Even bravest heart," from Faust. Miss Alexandra Dagmar sang and told stories with Connie Ediss-like humour, and was encored. Mr. Dutch Daly, who was enthusiastically cheered, came next, and, after he had related to the audience many amusing experiences and stories, he played Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" on the concertina, and secured an artistic triumph. Mr. Daly's playing on the concertina is inimitable, and the "Spring Song" was exquisitely rendered. Mr. Harry Claff, assisted by Miss Alice Tremayne, gave their original pantomimic burlesque. Mr. Claff's fine voice and robust style did credit to the Demon King, and Miss Tremayne's dainty acting and sweet singing secured a fine tribute from the audience. One of the great successes of the evening was Mr. Alfred Lester's "skit," "The Scene-shifter's Lament," which has probably never before been given before so many "experts." For once a scene-shifter—to the manner born, of the old school, let it be said in justice to the new school—appeared "in sight," and told of blighted hopes and fruitless ambitions. Roars of laughter punctuated Mr. Lester's droll talk and actions, and his dialogue with his "pal" 'Arry, the limelight man, on "the perch," whom he asked for a limelight "'alf cream and 'alf rassburry." The concert committee are to be congratulated on securing the assistance of this talented artist for their concert. Mr. Lester was ably supported by Miss Tessie Hackney.

MR. MEYER VAN PRAAG.

Musical Director.

Mr. Thorold Waters, an Australian tenor, sang "Take a pair of sparkling eyes" in good style. Mr. and Mrs. Marriott provided one of the most exciting items on the programme, during their sensational exhibition of silent telepathy. Two gentlemen in the audience shuffled a pack of cards, and dealt two hands for nap; Madame Marriott told which held the best hand, and gave the value of each card held by both gentlemen, and said which would win, a truly wonderful performance.

Miss Dorothea Baird recited the "Day Dream," from Tennyson's "Legend of the Sleeping Beauty." The recitation was beautifully rendered, Miss Baird's pure and sympathetic voice giving full effect to the poem, to which Miss Mary Carmichael played a most expressive accompaniment on the pianoforte. Miss Baird was cheered again and again. Miss Ida Rene sang "The Rake's Progress" in a fine dramatic style, and, in reponse to the insistent applause, gave an encore. Mr. Tom Clare gave his humorous "recipe for musical comedy," and he also was persuaded to give an encore. Mr. George Mozart gave his popular song "On and off," his very clever imitation of well-known members of the profession creating great laughter. Mr. Cyril Clensy also gave some excellent imitations, those of Mr. Martin Harvey and Mr. G. P. Huntley being very good. Miss Emilie Hayes' beautiful voice was heard with fine effect in German's "Waltz song," from Tom Jones, and delighted the audience. Miss Jessie Broughton was also well received.

The pictures came next, the first being a photograph of Mr. Tree, which was heartily cheered, showing appreciation of his generosity in lending the theatre for the purpose of the concert. Next followed some exciting feats of Italian horsemanship, followed by some extremely funny incidents. The slide showing Mr. Tree's photo was kindly supplied by Mr. C. Vandyk (Court photographer), and the animated pictures, with all necessary apparatus, were supplied by the Raymond Bio-Tableaux, the operator being Mr. E. Catlin, president of the Cinematograph Operators' branch of the N.A.T.E. The programme terminated at 10.45, most of the audience remaining until the curtain fell.

Mr. Frank Mummery was the accompanist, and Mr. G. H. Dyball, the stage-manager of the London Pavilion, was stage-manager for the concert, and it follows that the successful conduct of such a programme, under the special circumstances that arise in benefit performances, says much for his tact, ability, and popularity.

All the members of the theatre staff required in

MR. G. H. DYBALL.

Stage Manager.

the stage, flies, properties, and lights departments, during the concert, gave their services; Mr. Digby, who is the limelight contractor for the theatre, kindly sent two of his men to assist, free of charge. The committee also desire to thank Mr. Price, the chief attendant at His Majesty's, and his assistants, for their courtesy and attention, and also the manageress of Messrs. Westy and the housekeeper for the theatre, all of whom were most kind and helpful.

The following announcements appeared in the programme:—

The committee have much pleasure in announcing the following donations to the "Open" Benevolent Fund:—

	£	s.	d.
Sir H. E. Moss	1	1	0
Mr. George Alexander	2	2	0
Mr. Alfred Butt (for the Palace Theatre Directors)	1	1	0
Mme. Ada Colley	2	2	0
Mr. Arthur Chudleigh	1	0	0
Mr. James Carew	1	1	0
Mr. Charles Hawtrey	2	2	0
Miss Ethel Irving	0	10	0
Mrs. Kendal	1	1	0
Miss Marie Löhr	1	1	0
Mr. Eric Lewis	1	0	0
Mr. Matheson Lang	1	1	0
Mr. Cyril Maude	2	2	0
Mr. Gerald du Maurier	2	2	0
Miss Julia Neilson	1	0	0
Mr. Alfred de Rothschild	5	5	0
Mr. Oswald Stoll	3	3	0
Mr. Edward Terry	1	1	0
Mr. Fred Terry	1	1	0
Miss Irene Vanbrugh	1	0	0

Miss Lena Ashwell, Mr. Arthur Collins, Mr. Cecil Raleigh, Miss Ruth Vincent, and Mrs. Henry Wood took tickets for a box or other seats.

The committee have much pleasure in acknowledging the kindness of Mr. Tree in lending the theatre for this concert, and also the courtesy of Mr. Frank Glenister, Mr. Walter Gibbons, and Mr. George Edwardes in giving permission for artists under their management to appear. They have also to acknowledge the kindness of the Variety Artists' Federation in giving permission for their members to appear, and in foregoing the 2½% levy usually required in such circumstances.

The committee also have much pleasure in acknowledging the assistance of the Raymond Bio-tableaux Co. (who have kindly supplied the apparatus and films for the exhibition of pictures), Mr. Thomas Warrington, Messrs. Partington and Co., Ltd., The Motor 'Bus Advertising Co., Ltd., Walter Hill, Ltd., Messrs. Chappell and Co., Ltd., Messrs. Goodwin and Tabb (for loan of band parts), and of the heads of departments and staff of His Majesty's Theatre who are giving their services.

The members of the concert committee were:—James Cullen (chairman), master carpenter, St. James's Theatre.
G. H. Dyball, stage manager, London Pavilion.
C. T. Cory, master carpenter, Vaudeville Theatre.
H. J. Powell, property master, Hicks Theatre.
Philip Sheridan, electrician, The Waldorf Theatre.
Wm. Barbour, electrician, St. James's Theatre.
A. Palmer, master carpenter, Comedy Theatre.
A. Jones, Royal Opera House.
Ed. Stow, Savoy Theatre.
J. Hunt, New Theatre.
G. Pickering, Stage Department, Duke of York's Theatre.
Charles Thorogood.
J. H. Radford, Comedy Theatre.
J. Reid, H. Lane, and A. Spaull.

The committee were assisted by the following, who acted as stewards, selling programmes:—Messrs. J. Atterton, H. Bowmer, J. Phelps, G. Palmer, R. Rogers, T. Swift, H. Porter, R. J. Carter, W. Beavington, P. Barry, H. Brooke, J. Sinkins, W. C. Weaver, J. Finnigan, G. T. Dalgarno, G. Dyer, C. Terry, E. Sturgess, and W. J Burge, all of whom worked enthusiastically for the good of the concert.

The following is a list of the ticket-sellers and the amounts sold by each:—

	£	s.	d.
J. Cullen (St. James's)	3	7	0
G. H. Dyball (London Pavilion)	11	15	0
W. Barbour (St. James's)	1	14	0
C. Thorogood	1	14	0
P. Sheridan (Waldorf)	1	4	0
H. J. Powell (Hicks)	5	4	0
E. Stow (Savoy)	1	15	6
G. Pickering (Duke of York's)	4	3	6
C. T. Cory (Vaudeville)	5	12	0
A. Jones (Covent Garden)	0	12	6
J. Hunt (New)	0	13	0
J. Atterton	1	12	0
H. Bowmer (Gaiety)	1	7	0
T. Honour (Wyndham's)	0	10	6
J. Phelps (Drury Lane)	0	15	0
D. Sheridan (Scala)	2	6	6
T. Swift (Alhambra)	2	16	6
W. Yates (Britannia)	0	18	0
P. Barry (Collins's)	1	9	0
G. Dyer (Drury Lane)	5	14	0
G. T. Dalgarno (Empire, Leicester-square)	6	2	0
R. Rogers (Holborn Empire)	0	17	6
A. Sturges (Grand, Clapham)	1	1	6
G. Palmer (Paragon)	0	11	0
C. Terry (Lyceum)	2	16	0
A. Hepden (Wyndham's)	0	15	0
W. Grant (Adelphi)	0	19	6
A. George (Lyceum)	0	14	0
G. P. Applebee (Gaiety)	2	19	0
A. E. Wood (Shaftesbury)	0	7	6
H. G. Brooke (Paragon)	1	2	6
W. C. Weaver (Shaftesbury)	3	11	6
H. J. Kemp (His Majesty's)	0	9	6
J. Sinkins (Waldorf)	0	13	6
H. Porter (Criterion)	0	17	6
E. Catlin (Surrey)	0	3	0
J. Haley (Alhambra)	0	15	0
	79	18	6
Sold by hon. sec. at office..	49 7 0
Donations (less value of tickets supplied)	29 6 0
Programmes sold	6 13 2
	85	6	2
	165	4	8

It is expected that the balance available for the Benevolent Funds will be over £100, which result would exceed that of previous concerts.

STAGE STAFF GOSSIP.

READERS of this column will be glad to know that the annual concert in aid of the Benevolent Funds for Stage Employees was an unqualified success. A full report appears in another column. It was no mean achievement to sell the whole of the tickets for His Majesty's Theatre before the day, and all those who helped in such a loyal and energetic way are to be congratulated on the result.

THE Concert Committee hope to be able to publish a statement of accounts next week, and those who have not paid in their ticket receipts are requested to do so as soon as possible.

THE Executive Committee of the N.A.T.E. are now arranging to organise the Sick, Funeral, and Share-Out Fund, in connection with which applications are being received every day. A circular will shortly be issued giving full particulars, and it is intended to call a meeting as soon as possible of those who have sent in applications to join. At most theatres and halls a large percentage of the entire staff back and front have agreed to join.

THE Cinematograph Operators' Committee representatives meet on Tuesday to examine the papers sent in by a number of members who are applying for certificates, and the result will be made known next week. There are also many applications for membership, which will be dealt with on that day. Mr. Catlin and Mr. Henry represented the Association at the trial of the new fire-extinguishing appliance tested at the Hippodrome last week.

THE Birmingham branch of the National Society of Theatrical Employees is making progress. A meeting was held last Sunday evening in the Crown Hotel, Broad-street, at which eighteen applications for membership were received. The speakers at the meeting were Mr. F. J. Lees, secretary to the local branch of the A.M.U., and Messrs. Berry and Hughes, of the Trades Council, and Mr. George, of the Tin Plate Workers Union. It was reported that a stage-manager of one of the local halls had threatened to dismiss any of his men who joined, but the manager of the house had repudiated such alleged intention on the part of his stage-manager.

THE General Staff Branch of the N.A.T.E. is making considerable additions to its membership. At the last meeting forty-five applications were dealt with. It was decided to recommend the members of the branch to join the proposed Share-out Fund, and those who subscribe to the Branch Sick or Funeral Fund will be guaranteed their benefits in those funds until they are in benefit of the new fund. Notice is also being given for the nomination of officers for the ensuing year, and for amendments of rules and by-laws at the annual general meeting. The committee will meet on Wednesday next.

THE first anniversary dinner of the staff of the King's Theatre, Hanley, took place on the stage there on Tuesday, when upwards of fifty sat down to an excellent repast. Mr. H. Kennedy, the manager, presided. The health of the proprietors was drank with acclamation and song; as also were toasts to "The Public Officials," "Local Managers," "Visitors," and "Staff Generally." Dancing was indulged in, and at the conclusion Auld Lang Syne was sung, followed by hearty cheers for the proprietors and promoters.

DAVIES gives the following illustration of Quin's acting:—"When Lothario gave Horatio the challenge, instead of accepting it instantly, with the determined and unembarrassed bow of superior bravery, Quin made a long pause, and dragged out the words, 'I'll meet thee there!' in such a manner as to make is appear absolutely ludicrous. He paused so long before he spoke, that somebody, it was said, called out to him from the gallery, 'Why don't you tell the gentleman whether you'll meet him or not?'"

LONDON & SUBURBAN THEATRES.

KING'S THEATRE, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday, Nov. 30, the Comedy by Shakespeare, entitled

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW."

Quite in the true Shakespearean spirit is Mr. Oscar Asche's production of the famous comedy The Taming of the Shrew. As played on Monday evening to a large and appreciative audience, the rollicking comedy proved most acceptable, and curtain calls were enthusiastic as well as numerous. In the Induction, in which Christopher Sly, the drunken tinker, is deluded into believing himself a noble lord, Mr. Oscar Asche as the tinker displayed his exceptional comedy powers. In the play which followed his efforts as Petruchio were greatly to the satisfaction of the audience, his ripe delivery of his lines being admirable, and proclaiming him as one of the foremost of our few Shakespearean actors. Miss Lily Brayton's Katharina was a magnificent impersonation, her shrewishness and uncurbed temper in the earlier acts, followed by the toning-down process which leads to her becoming the loving and obedient wife, being delightfully portrayed and receiving the warmest praise. Baptista was exceedingly well handled by Mr. Herbert Grimwood; and Mr. J. Fritz Russell made a capable Vincentio. Mr. G. Kay Souper rendered Lucentio in proper lover-like style; and Tranio was excellently played by Mr. Tripp Edgar. Gremio was capitally enacted by Mr. Caleb Porter; and Mr. R. Ian Penny cleverly depicted the light-hearted Hortensio. Mr. R. F. Anson was Biondello, his comical acting earning for him rounds of applause. Grumio was ably undertaken by Mr. Henry Kitts; Mr. Arthur Trantom was good as a pedant; Miss Muriel Ashwynne was a delightful Bianca, and Miss Constance Robertson was a successful Curtis. The scenery, costumes, and appointments were alike perfect, and in no small degree contributed to the complete enjoyment of the evening's entertainment. Othello was announced for several representations during the week, with Mr. Oscar Asche as the Moor and Miss Lily Brayton as Desdemona. The orchestra at this theatre is now under the direction of Mr. Horace Middleton, whose selections indicate that great care is exercised in the choice of the music to be performed.

THE MARLBOROUGH.

On Monday, Nov. 30, the Musical Play, entitled

"THE GAY GORDONS."

Large audiences have welcomed at Holloway, Mr. Seymour Hicks' company, in comical situations, attractive dancing, and capital singing, which all serve to make The Gay Gordons a most enjoyable and mirth-provoking entertainment. The part of Angus Græme is admirably sustained by Mr. Stanley Brett, whose drollery meets with plenty of appreciation. His numbers are capitally sung, "Now that my ship's come home" and "Be careful" evoking repeated encores. A very diverting performance is contributed by Mr. Edward Lewis, who gives a most humorous impersonation of the old showman, Nervy Natt. In Act 2 he has the stage to himself for about fifteen minutes, and the house is in one continual roar the whole time. He has one particularly funny song, "If the missus says its black, its black." Mr. Wilfred Norman very cleverly makes the most of his opportunities as Edmund Siddons; and Mr. Ernest Torrence gives an excellent representation of the American millionaire, Andrew Quainton. Miss Zena Dare, the possessor of a very pleasing voice, makes a fascinating Peggie Quainton. She plays the part throughout in a most attractive style, and her songs, notably "See-saw," "Humpty and Dumpty," "You, you, you," and "Everybody loves me up in London," are encored again and again. Miss Madge Vincent as Victoria Siddons is to be commended for her vivacity and versatility. She has a good song in "'Liza, from Saffron-hill," which is warmly encored. A special word of praise is due to Miss Connie St. Clair, who as Mary McLeod does excellent service. Roars of laughter are caused by Miss Nellie Dade as Charlotte Siddons, wife of the old showman, her portrayal of the part being worthy of the highest praise. Miss Eugenie Vernie makes a bright and interesting Janet McLeod; and Miss Ada Fraser is admirably suited to the part of Lady Millicent Græme. Mr. J. Sims Woolley is loudly applauded for his eccentric Scotch dance, in the character of Jack McPhrisky, in the first act; and another successful item is an echo duet, "I love you," contributed by a lady and gentleman of the chorus, which wins a well-deserved encore. The stage-management is admirably conducted by Mr. Mervyn Dene, with the valuable assistance of Mr. Edward Leith, and Mr. Arthur Spittle, the musical-director, conducts the performance with much pains and skill.

THE CORONET.

On Monday, Nov. 30, the Comedy entitled

"BREWSTER'S MILLIONS."

